¹ Manasses was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem. ² And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord destroyed from before the face of the children of Israel. ³ And he returned and built the high places, which his father Ezekias had pulled down, and set up images to Baalim, and made groves, and worshipped all the host of heaven, and served them. ⁴ And he built altars in the house of the Lord, concerning which the Lord said, In Jerusalem shall be my name for ever. ⁵ And he built altars to all the host of heaven in the two courts of the house of the Lord. ⁶ He also passed his children through the fire in the valley of Benennom; and he divined, and used auspices, and sorceries, and appointed those who had divining spirits, and enchanters, and wrought abundant wickedness before the Lord, to provoke him. ⁷ And he set the graven [image], the molten [statue], the idol which he made, in the house of God, of which God had said to David and to Solomon his son, In this house, and Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, I will put my name for ever; ⁸ and I will not again remove the foot of Israel from the land which I gave to their fathers, if only they will take heed to do all things which I have commanded them, according to all the law and the ordinances and the judgments [given] by the hand of Moses. ⁹ So Manasses led astray Juda and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, to do evil beyond all the nations which the Lord cast out from before the children of Israel. ¹⁰ And the Lord spoke to Manasses, and to his people: but they listened not. ¹¹ And the Lord brought upon them the captains of the host of the king of Assyria, and they took Manasses in bonds, and bound him in fetters, and brought him to Babylon. ¹² And when he was afflicted, he sought the face of the Lord his God, and was greatly humbled before the face of the God of his fathers; ¹³ and he prayed to him: and he listened to him, and listened to his cry, and brought him back to Jerusalem to his kingdom: and Manasses knew that the Lord he is God. ¹⁴ And afterward he built a wall without the city of David, from the southwest southward in the valleys and at the entrance through the fish-gate, as men go out by the gate round about, even as far as Opel: and he raised it much, and set captains of the host in all the fortified cities in Juda. ¹⁵ And he removed the strange gods, and the graven [image] out of the house of the Lord, and all the altars which he had built in the mount of the house of the Lord, and in Jerusalem, and without the city. ¹⁶ And he repaired the altar of the Lord, and offered upon it a sacrifice of peace-offering and thank-offering, and he told Juda to serve the Lord God of Israel. ¹⁷ Nevertheless the people still sacrificed on the high places, only to the Lord their God. ¹⁸ And the rest of the acts of Manasses, and his prayer to God, and the words of the seers that spoke to him in the name of the God of Israel, ¹⁹ behold, [they are] in the account of his prayer; and [God] listened to him. And all his sins, and his backslidings, and the spots on which he built the high places, and set there groves and graven images, before he repented, behold, they are written in the books of the seers. ²⁰ And Manasses slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the garden of his house: and Amon his son reigned in his stead. ²¹ Amon was twenty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem. ²² And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, as his father Manasses did: and Amon sacrificed to all the idols which his father Manasses had made, and served them. ²³ And he was not humbled before the Lord as his father Manasses was humbled; for his son Amon abounded in transgression. ²⁴ And his servants conspired against him, and killed him in his house. ²⁵ And the people of the land killed the men who had conspired against king Amon; and the people of the land made Josias his son king in his stead.

In the parallel passage it is, "a graven image of the grove," or rather, Asherah or Astarte. Manasseh, as Bp. Patrick observes, seems to have studied to find out what God had forbidden in his law, that he might practice it. In one point of view Manasseh was defective, although it cannot be supposed that it affected his eternal state; for when he cast out the images, he did not utterly deface and destroy them, according to the law in, which required, moreover, that the graven images should be burnt with fire. How necessary that law was, this instance shows; for the carved images being only thrown aside, and not burnt, Amon knew where to find them, soon set them up, and sacrificed to them. ²³ humbled, ; trespassed more and more Heb. multiplied trespass

Chronicles II 34

¹ Josias was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem.

² And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the ways of his father David, and turned not aside to the right hand or to the left. ³ And in the eighth year of his reign, and he [being] yet a youth, he began to seek the Lord God of his father David: and in the twelfth year of his reign he began to purge Juda and Jerusalem from the high places, and the groves, and the ornaments for the altars, and the molten images. ⁴ And he pulled down the altars of Baalim that were before his face, and the high places that were above them; and he cut down the groves, and the graven images, and broke in pieces the molten images, and reduced them to powder, and cast [it] upon the surface of the tombs of those who [had] sacrificed to them. ⁵ And he burnt the bones of the priests upon the altars, and purged Juda and Jerusalem. ⁶ And [he did so] in the cities of Manasse, and Ephraim, and Symeon, and Nephthali, and the places round about them. ⁷ And he pulled down the altars and the groves, and he cut the idols in small pieces, and cut off all the high places from all the land of Israel, and returned to Jerusalem. ⁸ And in the eighteenth year of his reign, after having cleansed the land, and the house, he sent Saphan the son of Ezalias, and Maasa prefect of the city, and Juach son of Joachaz his recorder, to repair the house of the Lord his God. ⁹ And they came to Chelcias the high priest, and gave the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Levites who kept the gate collected of the hand of Manasse and Ephraim, and of the princes, and of every one that was left in Israel, and of the children of Juda and Benjamin, and of the dwellers in Jerusalem. ¹⁰ And they gave it into the hand of the workmen, who were appointed in the house of the Lord, and they gave it to the workmen who wrought in the house of the Lord, to repair and strengthen the house. ¹¹ They gave [it] also to the carpenters and builders, to buy squared stones, and timber for beams to cover the houses which the kings of Juda had destroyed. ¹² And the men [were] faithfully [engaged] in the works: and over them were superintendents, Jeth and Abdias, Levites of the sons of Merari, and Zacharias and Mosollam, of the sons of Caath, [appointed] to oversee; and every Levite, and every one that understood [how] to play on musical instruments. ¹³ And [overseers were] over the burden-bearers, and over all the workmen in the respective works; and of the Levites [were appointed] scribes, and judges, and porters. ¹⁴ And when they brought forth the money that had been brought into the house of the Lord, Chelcias the priest found a book of the law of the Lord [given] by the hand of Moses. ¹⁵ And Chelcias answered and said to Saphan the scribe, I have found a book of the law in the house of the Lord. And Chelcias gave the book to Saphan. ¹⁶ And Saphan brought in the book to the king, and moreover gave an account to the king, [saying, This is] all the money given into the hand of your servants that work. ¹⁷ And they have collected the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and given it into the hand of the overseers, and into the hand of them that do the work. ¹⁸ And Saphan the scribe brought word to the king, saying, Chelcias the priest has given me a book. And Saphan read it before the king. ¹⁹ And it came to pass, when the king heard the words of the law, that he tore his garments. ²⁰ And the king commanded Chelcias, and Achicam the son of Saphan, and Abdon the son of Michaias, and Saphan the scribe, and Asia the servant of the king, saying, ²¹ Go, enquire of the Lord for me, and for every one that is left in Israel and Juda, concerning the words of the book that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord [which] has been kindled among us, because our fathers have not listened to the words of the Lord, to do according to all the things written in this book. ²² And Chelcias went, and [the others] whom the king told, to Olda the prophetess, the wife of Sellem son of Thecoe, son of Aras, who kept the commandments; and she lived in Jerusalem in the second [quarter]: and they spoke to her accordingly. ²³ And she said to them, Thus has the Lord God of Israel said, Tell the man who sent you to me, ²⁴ Thus says the Lord, Behold, I bring evil upon this place, [even] all the words that are written in the book that was read before the king of Juda: ²⁵ because they have forsaken me, and burnt incense to strange gods, that they might provoke me by all the works of their hands; and my wrath is kindled against this place, and it shall not be quenched. ²⁶ And concerning the king of Juda, who sent you to seek the Lord, —thus shall you□ say to him, Thus says the Lord God of Israel, [As for] the words which you have heard, ²⁷ forasmuch as your heart was ashamed, and you were humbled before me when you heard my words against this place, and against the inhabitants of it, and you were humbled before me, and did rend your garments, and did weep before me; I also have heard, says the Lord. ²⁸ Behold, I [will] gather you to your fathers, and you shall be gathered to your grave in peace, and your eyes shall not look upon all the evils which I am bringing upon this place, and upon the inhabitants of it. And they brought back word to the king. ²⁹ And the king sent and gathered the elders of Juda and Jerusalem. ³⁰ And the king went up to the house of the Lord, [he] and all Juda, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the priests, and the Levites, and all the people great and small: and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant that were found in the house of the Lord. ³¹ And the king stood at a pillar, and made a covenant before the Lord, to walk before the Lord, to keep his commandments and testimonies, and his ordinances, with all [his] heart and with all [his] soul, so as to perform the words of the covenant that were written in this book. ³² And he caused all that were found in Jerusalem and Benjamin to stand; and the inhabitants of Jerusalem made a covenant in the house of the Lord God of their fathers. ³³ And Josias removed all the abominations out of the whole land which belonged to the children of Israel, and caused all that were found in Jerusalem and in Israel, to serve the Lord their God all his days: he departed not from following the Lord God of his fathers.

Chronicles II 35

¹ And Josias kept a passover to the Lord his God; and sacrificed the passover on the fourteenth day of the first month. ² And he appointed the priests at their charges, and encouraged them for the services of the house of the Lord. ³ And he told the Levites that were able [to act] in all Israel, that they should consecrate themselves to the Lord: and they put the holy ark in the house which Solomon the son of David king of Israel built: and the king said, You ☐ must not carry anything on your shoulders: now then minister to the Lord your God, and to his people Israel. ⁴ And prepare yourselves according to the houses of your families, and according to your daily courses, according to the writing of David king of Israel, and [the order] by the hand of his son Solomon. ⁵ And stand you ☐ in the house according to the divisions of the houses of your families for your brethren the sons of the people; [so] also let there be for the Levites a division of the house of your family. ⁶ And kill you ☐ the passover, and prepare [it] for your brethren, to do

according to the word of the Lord, by the hand of Moses. ⁷ And Josias gave as an offering to the children of the people, sheep, and lambs, and kids of the young of the goats, all for the passover, [even for] all that were found, in number [amounting to] thirty thousand, and three thousand calves, these [were] of the substance of the king. ⁸ And his princes gave an offering to the people, and to the priests, and to the Levites: and Chelcias and Zacharias and Jeiel the chief men gave to the priests of the house of God, they even gave for the passover sheep, and lambs, and kids, two thousand six hundred, and three hundred calves. ⁹ And Chonenias, and Banaeas, and Samaeas, and Nathanael his brother, and Asabias, and Jeiel, and Jozabad, heads of the Levites, gave an offering to the Levites for the passover, of five thousand sheep and five hundred calves. ¹⁰ And the service was duly ordered, and the priests stood in their place, and the Levites in their divisions, according to the command of the king. ¹¹ And they killed the passover, and the priests sprinkled the blood from their hand, and the Levites flayed [the victims]. ¹² And they prepared the whole burnt offering to give to them, according to the division by the houses of families, [even] to the sons of the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses. ¹³ And thus [they did] till the morning. And they roasted the passover with fire according to the ordinance; and boiled the holy [pieces] in copper vessels and caldrons, and [the feast] went on well, and they quickly served all the children of the people. ¹⁴ And after they had prepared for themselves and for the priests, for the priests [were engaged] in offering the whole burnt offerings and the fat until night, then the Levites prepared for themselves, and for their brethren the sons of Aaron. ¹⁵ And the sons of Asaph the psalm-singers [were] at their post according to the commands of David, and Asaph, and Aeman, and Idithom, the prophets of the king; also, the chiefs and the porters of the several gates; —it was not for them to stir from the service of the holy things, for their brethren the Levites prepared for them. ¹⁶ So all the service of the Lord was duly ordered and prepared in that day, for keeping the passover, and offering the whole burnt sacrifices on the altar of the Lord, according to the command of king Josias. ¹⁷ And the children of Israel that were present kept the passover at that time, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days. ¹⁸ And there was no passover like it in Israel from the days of Samuel the prophet, or any king of Israel: they kept not such a passover as Josias, and the priests, and the Levites, and all Juda and Israel that were present, and the dwellers in Jerusalem, kept to the Lord. ¹⁹ In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias this passover was kept, after all these things that Josias did in the house. And king Josias burnt those who had in them a divining spirit, and the wizards, and the images, and the idols, and the sodomites which were in the land of Juda and in Jerusalem, that he might confirm the words of the law that were written in the book which Chelcias the priest found in the house of the Lord. There was no [king] like him before him, who turned to the Lord with all his heart, and all his soul, and all his strength, according to all the law of Moses, and after him there rose up none like him. Nevertheless the Lord turned not from the anger of his fierce wrath, wherewith the Lord was greatly angry against Juda, for all the provocations wherewith Manasses provoked him: and the Lord said, I will even remove Juda also from my presence, as I have removed Israel, and I have rejected the city which I chose, [even] Jerusalem, and the house of which I said, My name shall be there. ²⁰ And Pharaoh Nechao king of Egypt went up against the king of the Assyrians to the river Euphrates, and king Josias went to meet him. ²¹ And he sent messengers to him, saying, What have I to do with you, O king of Juda? I am not come today to war against you; and God has told me to hasten: beware of the God that is with me, lest he destroy you. ²² However, Josias turned not his face from him, but strengthened himself to fight against him, and listened not to the words of Nechao by the mouth of God, and he came to fight in the plain of Mageddo. ²³ And the archers shot at king Josias; and the king said to his servants, Take me away, for I am severely wounded. ²⁴ And his servants lifted him out of the chariot, and put him in the second chariot which he had, and brought him to Jerusalem; and he died, and was buried with his fathers: and all Juda and Jerusalem lamented over Josias. ²⁵ And Jeremias mourned over Josias, and all the chief men and chief women uttered a lamentation over Josias until this day: and they made it an ordinance for Israel, and, behold, it is written in the lamentations. ²⁶ And the rest of the acts of Josias, and his hope, are written in the law of the Lord. ²⁷ And his acts, the first and the last, behold, [they are] written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

N: ¹ Josiah The whole solemnity was performed with great exactness according to the law, and upon that account there was none like it since Samuel's time; for even in Hezekiah's passover there were several irregularities. Bp. Patrick observes, that in this also it exceeded the other passovers which preceding things had kept, that though Josiah was by no means so rich as David, or Solomon, or Jehoshaphat, yet he furnished the congregation with beasts for sacrifice, both paschal and eucharistical, at his own proper cost and charge, which was more than any king ever did before.; the fourteenth; Josiah's solemnization of the passover, which is merely alluded to at, is very particularly related her, while the destruction of idolatry is largely related in the Kings, and here only touched upon. The feasts of the Lord God, appointed by the ceremonial law, were very numerous; but the passover was the chief. It was the first which was solemnized in the night wherein Israel came out of Egypt, and ushered in those which were afterwards instituted, and it was the last great feast which was held in the night wherein Christ was betrayed, before the veil of the temple was rent in twain. Be means of this feast, both Josiah and Hezekiah revived religion in their day. ³ the Levites; Put, in the house not be; serve now ⁴ the houses; after your courses The regulations formed by David, and established by Solomon, concerning the courses of the priests and Levites, were committed to writing, and preserved, for them to refer to continually. Josiah, as well as Hezekiah, required the priests and Levites to attend to their several duties, and encouraged them therein, but he neither added, altered, not retrenched anything. He merely enforced what had been established in the law, and in the regulations made by David and the contemporary prophets: "the commandment of the king...was by the word of the Lord." 1Chr. 23:1-26:32 and according ⁵ And stand, families of the fathers Heb. house of the fathers people Heb. sons of the people. ⁷ Josiah; gave Heb. offered, thirty thousand According to the calculation, that not fewer than ten, nor more than twenty persons, were to join for one kid or lamb, the numbers given on this occasion would suffice for above 400, 000 persons. the king's substance ⁸ his princes; , gave Heb. offered willingly, Hilkiah rulers ¹³ roasted; sod; divided them speedily Heb. made them run ¹⁵ place Heb. station according,, *titles the porters ¹⁷ present Heb. found the feast ¹⁸ there was no passover Not one on purer principles, more heartily joined in by the people present, more literally or exactly consecrated, according to the law, or more religiously observed. But Scripture no where condemns him; and Pharaoh, in marching through Josiah's territories, against his will, certainly committed an act of hostility. It is evident that Josiah was in possession of the whole land of Israel (); and probably he held the northern parts of it as a grant from the king of Babylon; and was not only in alliance with him, but bound to guard his frontiers against hostile invaders. He may, therefore, be fairly justified from the charge of unjustly meddling in a war that did not belong him. It is true the ambassadors assured Josiah, that "God had commanded Pharaoh to make haste; " and he is therefore said not to have "hearkened to the words of Necho, from the mouth of God." But Necho produced no proof that he was a prophet of Jehovah; and the word he employed, elohim, may denote gods or idols; and critics have noticed that the expression, "from the mouth of God, " is not used when the true God is meant. but disguised; the mouth; Megiddo; Megiddon, Armageddon ²³ the archers; wounded Heb. made sick ²⁴ the second they died; in one of the or, among the, Judah ²⁵ Jeremiah; all the singing; and made them

¹ And the people of the land took Joachaz the son of Josias, and anointed him, and made him king over Jerusalem in the room of his father. ² Joachaz [was] twenty-three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Amital, daughter of Jeremias of Lobna. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his fathers had done. And Pharaoh Nechao bound him in Deblatha in the land of Aemath, that he might not reign in Jerusalem. ³ And the king brought him over to Egypt; and imposed a tribute on the land, one hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold. ⁴ And Pharaoh Nechao made Eliakim the son of Josias king over Juda in the room of his father Josias, and changed his name [to] Joakim. And Pharaoh Nechao took his brother Joachaz and brought him into Egypt, and he died there: but [he] had given the silver and gold to Pharaoh. At that time the land began to be taxed to give the money at the command of Pharaoh; and every one as he could borrowed the silver and the gold of the people of the land, to give to Pharaoh Nechao. ⁵ Joachim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name [was] Zechora, daughter of Nerias of Rama. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his fathers did. In his days came Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon into the land, and he served him three years, and [then] revolted from him. And the Lord sent against them the Chaldeans, and plundering parties of Syrians, and plundering parties of the Moabites, and of the children of Ammon, and of Samaria; but after this they departed, according to the word of the Lord by the hand of his servants the prophets. Nevertheless the wrath of the Lord was upon Juda, so that they should be removed from his presence, because of the sins of Manasses in all that he did, and for the innocent blood which Joakim shed, for he had filled Jerusalem with innocent blood; yet the Lord would not utterly destroy them. ⁶ And Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon came up against him, and bound him with brazen fetters, and carried him away to Babylon. ⁷ And he carried away a part of the vessels of the house of the Lord to Babylon, and put them in his temple in Babylon. ⁸ And the rest of the acts of Joakim, and all that he did, behold, [are] not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? And Joakim slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in Ganozae: and Jechonias his son reigned in his stead. ⁹ Jechonias [was] eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem, and did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord. ¹⁰ And at the turn of the year, king Nabuchodonosor sent, and brought him to Babylon, with the precious vessels of the house of the Lord, and made Sedekias his father's brother king over Juda and Jerusalem. ¹¹ Sedekias [was] twenty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. ¹² And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord his God: he was not ashamed before the prophet Jeremias, nor because of the word of the Lord; ¹³ in that he rebelled against king Nabuchodonosor, which he adjured him by God [not to do]: but he stiffened his neck, and hardened his heart, so as not to return to the Lord God of Israel. ¹⁴ And all the great men of Juda, and the priests, and the people of the land transgressed abundantly in the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lord which [was] in Jerusalem. ¹⁵ And the Lord God of their fathers sent by the hand of his prophets; rising early and sending his messengers, for he spared his people, and his sanctuary. ¹⁶ Nevertheless they sneered at his messengers, and set at nothing his words, and mocked his prophets, until the wrath of the Lord rose up against his people, till there was no remedy. ¹⁷ And he brought against them the king of the Chaldeans, and killed their young men with the sword in the house of his sanctuary, and did not spare Sedekias, and had no mercy upon their virgins, and they led away their old men: he delivered all things into their hands. ¹⁸ And all the vessels of the house of God, the great and the small, and the treasures of the house of the Lord, and all the treasures of the king and the great men; he brought all to Babylon. ¹⁹ And he burnt the house of the Lord, and broke down the wall of Jerusalem, and burnt its palaces with fire, and [utterly destroyed] every beautiful vessel. ²⁰ And he carried away the remnant to Babylon; and they were servants to him and to his sons until [the establishment of] the kingdom of the Medes. ²¹ That the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremias might be fulfilled, until the land should enjoy its sabbaths in resting [and] sabbath keeping all the days of its desolation, till the accomplishment of seventy years. ²² In the first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, after the fulfillment of the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremias, the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and told him to make proclamation in writing throughout all his kingdom, saying, ²³ Thus says Cyrus king of the Persians to all the kingdoms of the earth, The Lord God of heaven has given me [power], and he has commanded me to build a house to him in Jerusalem, in Judea. Who [is there] of you of all his people? His God shall be with him, and let him go up.

Ezra Introduction

Author and Attribution. Ezra

Authorship Basis. The book's first-person sections and priestly-scribal perspective support Ezran authorship, with possible final compilation of Ezra-Nehemiah materials.

Jesus / NT Attribution. Ezra's role as priest and scribe is affirmed within the book itself; later Scripture receives the restoration account as true sacred history.

Composition Date. 5th century BC in the Persian period

MT Timeline. MT chronology begins with Cyrus's decree and spans the return, temple rebuilding, and Ezra's reform mission.

LXX Timeline. The Greek tradition preserves the same Persian-period restoration frame, though 1 Esdras witnesses a related alternate Greek arrangement of some material.

Historical Setting. Return from Babylon, temple restoration, and covenant reform under Persian rule.

Purpose. To show the LORD's faithfulness in restoring His people, temple, and law after exile.

Key Themes. return; temple; law; reform; covenant restoration; providence under empire

Outline. First return and temple rebuilding 1-6; Ezra's mission and reform 7-10.

Earliest Witnesses. Frag. 4Q Ezra material is limited and often overlaps the broader Ezra-Nehemiah tradition Second Temple period | Subst. Early Hebrew evidence for Ezra is limited; comparison with Greek 1 Esdras is especially important n/a | Heb. Leningrad Codex AD 1008 | Gk. Codex Vaticanus and Alexandrinus preserve Ezra/Esdras material in Greek 4th-5th century AD

Earliest External Attestation. Use of Persian restoration history by Josephus (1st century AD)

Textual Notes. Ezra is text-critically important because 1 Esdras sometimes preserves material parallel to canonical Ezra with differences in order and wording.

Conservative Notes. This edition receives Ezra as true post-exilic history under God's providence, with Greek parallels used to illuminate, not unsettle, the canonical book.

Ezra and Nehemiah

Ezra and Nehemiah 1

¹ Now in the first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, that the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremias might be fulfilled, the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and he issued a proclamation through all his kingdom, and that in writing, saying, ² Thus said Cyrus king of the Persians, The Lord God of heaven has given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and he has given me a charge to build him a house in Jerusalem that is in Judea. ³ Who [is] there among you of all his people? for his God shall be with him, and he shall go up to Jerusalem that is in Judea, and let him build the house of the God of Israel: he [is] the God that is in Jerusalem. ⁴ And [let] every [Jew] that is left [go] from every place where he sojourns, and the men of his place shall help him with silver, and gold, and goods, and cattle, together with the voluntary offering for the house of God that is in Jerusalem. ⁵ Then the chiefs of the families of Juda and Benjamin arose, and the priests, and the Levites, all whose spirit the Lord stirred up to go up to build the house of the Lord that [is] in Jerusalem. ⁶ And all that were round about strengthened their hands with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods, and with cattle, and with presents, besides the voluntary offerings. ⁷ And king Cyrus brought out the vessels of the house of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had brought from Jerusalem, and put in the house of his god. ⁸ And Cyrus king of the Persians brought them out by the hand of Mithradates the treasurer, and he numbered them to Sasabasar, the chief man of Juda. ⁹ And this [is] their number: thirty gold basins, and a thousand silver basins, nine and twenty changes, thirty golden goblets, ¹⁰ and four hundred [and] ten double silver [vessels], and a thousand other vessels. ¹¹ All the gold and silver vessels were five thousand four hundred, [even] all that went up with Sasabasar from the [place of] transportation, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

N: ¹ Now in the Cyrus is said to have been the son of Cambyses, king of Persia, and Mandane, daughter of Astyages, king of Media. He was born about 600 years before Christ, and died at the age of 70, after a reign of 30 years. He was mentioned by name, and his conquests foretold, by the prophet Isaiah, about a century before his birth. Josephus states the partiality he evinced towards the Jews, arose from the circumstance of these prophecies being shown him, probably by Daniel. by the mouth, the Lord, ; made a proclamation Heb. caused a voice to pass ² Lord God; , hath given; all the kingdoms According to the testimony of ancient writers, Cyrus, at this time, reigned over the Medes, Persians, Hyrcanians, Syrians, Assyrians, Indians, etc., and all lesser Asia. he hath charged ³ his God; he is the God ⁴ let the men; help him Heb. lift him up; the freewill ⁶ strengthened their hands that is, helped them, willingly offered ¹¹ the vessels; five thousand Instead of 5, 400, the enumeration of the articles in, only amounts to 2, 499. This last circumstance, which seems to render all hope of reconciling them impossible, Mr. Altting thinks is the very point by which they can be reconciled; for, if we add Ezra's surplus to the sum in Nehemiah, and Nehemiah's surplus to the number in Ezra, they will both amount to 31, 583; which subtracted from 42, 360, leaves a deficiency of 10, 777, which are not named because they did not belong to the tribes of Judah and Benjamin, or to the priests, but to the other Israelitish tribes. ⁶⁸ offered freely; ; in his place

¹ And the seventh month came on, and the children of Israel [were] in their cities, and the people assembled as one man at Jerusalem. ² Then stood up Jesus the [son] of Josedec, and his brethren the priests, and Zorobabel the [son] of Salathiel, and his brethren, and they built the altar of the God of Israel, to offer upon it whole burnt offerings, according to the things that were written in the law of Moses the man of God. ³ And they set up the altar on its place, for there was a terror upon them because of the people of the lands: and the whole burnt offerings was offered up upon it to the Lord morning and evening. ⁴ And they kept the feast of tabernacles, according to that which was written, and [offered] whole burnt offerings daily in number according to the ordinance, the exact daily rate. ⁵ And after this the perpetual whole burnt offering, and [offering] for the season of new moon, and for all the hallowed feasts to the Lord, and for every one that offered a free will offering to the Lord. ⁶ On the first day of the seventh month they began to offer whole burnt offerings to the Lord: but the foundation of the house of the Lord was not laid. ⁷ And they gave money to the stone-hewers and carpenters, and meat and drink, and oil, to the Sidonians, and Tyrians, to bring cedar trees from Libanus to the sea of Joppa, according to the grant of Cyrus king of the Persians to them. ⁸ And in the second year of their coming to the house of God in Jerusalem, in the second month, began Zorobabel the [son] of Salathiel, and Jesus the [son] of Josedec, and the rest of their brethren the priests and the Levites, and all who came from the captivity to Jerusalem, and they appointed the Levites, from twenty years old and upward, over the workmen in the house of the Lord. ⁹ And Jesus and his sons and his brethren stood, Cadmiel and his sons the sons of Juda, over them that wrought the works in the house of God: the sons of Enadad, their sons and their brethren the Levites. ¹⁰ And they laid a foundation for building the house of the Lord: and the priests in their robes stood with trumpets and the Levites the sons of Asaph with cymbals, to praise the Lord, according to the order of David king of Israel. ¹¹ And they answered [each other] with praise and thanksgiving to the Lord, [saying], For [it is] good, for his mercy to Israel [endures] for ever. And all the people shouted with a loud voice to praise the Lord at the laying the foundation of the house of the Lord. ¹² But many of the priests and the Levites, and the elder men, heads of families, who had seen the former house on its foundation, and [who saw] this house with their eyes, wept with a loud voice: but the multitude shouted with joy to raise a song. ¹³ And the people did not distinguish the voice of the glad shout from the voice of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loud voice, and the voice was heard even from afar off.

Ezra and Nehemiah 4

¹ And they that afflicted Juda and Benjamin heard, that the children of the captivity were building a house to the Lord God of Israel. ² And they drew near to Zorobabel, and to the heads of families, and said to them, We will build with you; for as you ☐ [do], we seek [to serve] our God, and we do sacrifice to him from the days of Asaradan king of Assur, who brought us hither. ³ then Zorobabel, and Jesus and the rest of the heads of the families of Israel said to them, [It is] not for us and you to build a house to our God, for we ourselves will build together to the Lord our God, as Cyrus the king of the Persians commanded us. ⁴ And the people of the land weakened the hands of the people of Juda, and hindered them in building, ⁵ and [continued] hiring [persons] against them, plotting to frustrate their counsel, all the days of Cyrus king of the Persians, and until the reign of Darius king of the Persians. ⁶ And in the reign of Assuerus, even in the beginning of his reign, they wrote a letter against the inhabitants of Juda and Jerusalem. ⁷ And in the days of Arthasastha, Tabeel wrote peaceably to Mithradates and to the rest of his fellow-servants: the tribute-gatherer wrote to Arthasastha king of the Persians a writing in the Syrian tongue, and [the same] interpreted. ⁸ Reum the chancellor, and Sampsas the scribe wrote an epistle against Jerusalem to King Arthasastha, [saying,] ⁹ Thus has judged Reum the chancellor, and Sampsas the scribe, and the rest of our fellow-servants, the Dinaeans, the Apharsathachaeans, the Tarphalaeans, the Apharsaeans, the Archyaeans, the Babylonians, the Susanachaeans, Davaeans, ¹⁰ and the rest of the nations whom the great and noble Assenaphar removed, and settled them in the cities of Somoron, and the rest [of them] beyond the river. ¹¹ This [is] the purport of the letter, which they sent to him: Your servants the men beyond the river to king Arthasastha. ¹² Be it known to the king, that the Jews who came up from you to us have come to Jerusalem the rebellious and wicked city, which they are building, and its walls are set in order, and they have established the foundations of it. ¹³ Now then be it known to the king, that if that city be built up, and its walls completed, you shall have no tribute, neither will they pay [anything], and this injures kings. ¹⁴ And it is not lawful for us to see the dishonor of the king; therefore have we sent and made known [the matter] to the king; ¹⁵ That examination may be made in your fathers' book of record; and you shall find, and you shall know that city [is] rebellious, and does harm to kings and countries, and there are in the midst of it from very old time refuges for [runaway] slaves: therefore this city has been made desolate. ¹⁶ We therefore declare to the king, that, if that city be built, and its walls be set up, you shall not have peace. ¹⁷ Then the king sent to Reum the chancellor, and Sampsa the scribe, and the rest of their fellow-servants who lived in Samaria, and the rest beyond the river, [saying,]Peace; and he says, ¹⁸ The tribute-gatherer whom you sent to us, has been called before me. ¹⁹ And a decree has been made by me, and we have examined, and found that city of old time exalts itself against kings, and that rebellions and desertions take place within it. ²⁰ And there were powerful kings in Jerusalem, and they ruled over all the [country] beyond the river, and abundant revenues and tribute were given to them. ²¹ Now therefore make a decree to stop the work of those men, and that city shall no more be built. ²² [See] that you be careful of the decree, [not] to be remiss concerning this matter, lest at any time destruction should abound to the harm of kings. ²³ Then the tribute-gatherer of king Arthasastha read [the letter] before Reum the chancellor, and Sampsa the scribe, and his fellow-servants: and they went in haste to Jerusalem and through Juda, and caused them to cease with horses and an [armed] force. ²⁴ Then ceased the work of the house of God in Jerusalem, and it was at a stand until the second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

¹ And Aggaeus the prophet, and Zacharias the [son] of Addo, prophesied a prophesy to the Jews in Juda and Jerusalem in the name of the God of Israel, [even] to them. ² Then rose up Zorobabel the [son] of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedec, and began to build the house of God that was in Jerusalem: and with them [were] the prophets of God assisting them. ³ At the same time came there upon them Thanthanai, the governor on this side the river, and Satharbuzeanai, and their fellow-servants, and spoke thus to them, Who has ordained a decree for you to build this house, and to [provide] this preparation? ⁴ Then they spoke thus to them, What are the names of the men that build this city? ⁵ But the eyes of God were upon the captivity of Juda, and they did not cause them to cease till the decree was brought to Darius; and then was sent by the tribute-gatherer concerning this ⁶ the copy of a letter, which Thanthanai, the governor of the part on this side the river, and Satharbuzanai, and their fellow-servants the Apharsachaeans who were on this side of the river, sent to king Darius. ⁷ They sent an account to him, and thus it was written in it: All peace to king Darius. ⁸ Be it known to the king, that we went into the land of Judea, to the house of the great God; and it is building with choice stones, and they are laying timbers in the walls, and that work is prospering, and goes on favorably in their hands. ⁹ Then we asked those elders, and thus we said to them, Who gave you the order to build this house, and to [provide] this preparation? ¹⁰ And we asked them their names, [in order] to declare [them] to you, so as to write to you the names of their leading men. ¹¹ And they answered us thus, saying, We [are] the servants of the God of heaven and earth, and we [are] building the house which had been built many years before this, and a great king of Israel built it, and established it for them. ¹² But after that our fathers provoked the God of heaven, he gave them into the hands of Nabuchodonosor the Chaldean, king of Babylon, and he destroyed this house, and carried the people captive to Babylon. ¹³ And in the first year of king Cyrus, Cyrus the king made a decree that this house of God should be built. ¹⁴ And the gold and silver vessels of the house of God, which Nabuchodonosor brought out from the house that was in Jerusalem, and carried them into the temple of the king, them did king Cyrus bring out from the temple of the king, and gave them to Sabanasar the treasurer, who was over the treasurer; ¹⁵ and said to him, Take all the vessels, and go, put them in the house that is in Jerusalem in their place. ¹⁶ Then that Sabanazar came, and laid the foundations of the house of God in Jerusalem: and from that time even until now it has been building, and has not been finished. ¹⁷ And now, if it [seem] good to the king, lest search be made in the treasure-house of the king at Babylon, that you may know [if it be] that a decree was made by king Cyrus to build that house of God that was in Jerusalem, and let the king send to us when he has learned concerning this [matter].

place where they sacrifice the sacrifices. (Also he appointed its elevation, in height sixty cubits; its breadth [was] of sixty cubits.) ⁴ And [let there be] three strong layers of stone, and one layer of timber; and the expense shall be paid out of the house of the king. ⁵ And the silver and the gold vessels of the house of God, which Nabuchodonosor carried off from the house that was in Jerusalem, and carried to Babylon, let them even be given, and be carried to the temple that is in Jerusalem, and put in the place where they were set in the house of God. ⁶ Now, you□ rulers beyond the river, Satharbazanai, and their fellow-servants the Apharsachaeans, who [are] on the other side of the river, give [these things], keeping far from that place. ⁷ Now let alone the work of the house of God: let the rulers of the Jews and the elders of the Jews build that house of God on its place. ⁸ Also a decree has been made by me, if haply you□ may do somewhat in concert with the elders of the Jews for the building of that house of God: to wit, out of the king's property, [even] the tributes beyond the river, let there be money to defray the expenses carefully granted to those men, so that they be not hindered. ⁹ And whatever need [there may be], you□ shall give both the young of bulls and rams, and lambs for whole burnt offerings to the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, oil:—let it be given them according to the word of the priests that are in Jerusalem, day by day whatever they shall ask; ¹⁰ that they may offer sweet savours to the God of heaven, and that they may pray for the life of the king and his sons. ¹¹ And a decree has been made by me, that every man who shall alter this word, timber shall be pulled down from his house, and let him be lifted up and slain upon it, and his house shall be confiscated. ¹² And may the God whose name dwells there, overthrow every king and people who shall stretch out his hand to alter or destroy the house of God which is in Jerusalem. I Darius have made a decree; let it be diligently [attended to]. ¹³ Then Thanthanai the governor on this side beyond the river, Satharbazanai, and his fellow-servants, according to that which king Darius sent, so they did diligently. ¹⁴ And the elders of the Jews and the Levites built, at the prophecy of Aggaeus the prophet, and Zacharias the son of Addo: and they built up, and finished [it], by the decree of the God of Israel, and by the decree of Cyrus, and Darius, and Arthasastha, kings of the Persians. ¹⁵ And they finished this house by the third day of the month Adar, which is the sixth year of the reign of Darius the king. ¹⁶ And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the rest of the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of the house of God with gladness. ¹⁷ And they offered for the dedication of the house of God one hundred calves, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs, twelve kids of the goats for a sin-offering for all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel. ¹⁸ And they set the priests in their divisions, and the Levites in their separate orders, for the services of God in Jerusalem, according to the writing of the book of Moses. ¹⁹ And the children of the captivity kept the passover on the fourteenth day of the first month. ²⁰ For the priests and Levites were purified, all were clean to a man, and they killed the passover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves. ²¹ And the children of Israel ate the passover, [even] they that were of the captivity, and every one who separated himself to them from the uncleanness of the nations of the land, to seek the Lord God of Israel. ²² and they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days with gladness, because the Lord made them glad, and he turned the heart of the king of Assyria to them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the house of the God of Israel.

It was situated in a mountainous region at the foot of mount Orontes, or Jasonius, according to Ammianus, on the southern confines of Media and Persia, and according to Pliny, 750 miles from Seleucia the Great, 20 miles from the Caspian passes, 450 miles from Susa, and the same from Gaze Atropatene, and in lat. 37 degrees 45 min., long. 88 degrees, according to Ptolemy. The building of the city is ascribed to Semiramis by Diodorus, but to Deioces by Eusebius (in Chron.), and Herodotus, who states that it was surrounded by seven walls, strong and ample, built in circles one within another, rising each above each by the height of their respective battlements; each being distinguished by a different colour, the first white, the second black, the third purple, the fourth blue, the fifth orange, the sixth plated with silver, and the seventh with gold. The largest of these was nearly the extent of Athens, i.e., 200 furlongs, according to Dion Chrysostom; but Diodorus Siculus states the circumference of Ecbatana to be 250 furlongs. Within the inner circle stood the king's palace and the royal treasury, so much celebrated for its splendour and riches by Polybius. It is highly probable, as D'Anville and Major Rennel suppose, that the present Hamadan, whose ruins attest its former splendour, occupies the site of Ecbatana. ¹ Now after these things, in the reign of Arthasastha king of the Persians, came up Esdras the son of Saraia, the son of Azarias, the son of Chelcias, ² the son of Selum, the son of Sadduc, the son of Achitob, ³ the son of Samarias, the son of Esria, the son of Mareoth, ⁴ the son of Zaraia, the son of Ozias, the son of Bokki, ⁵ the son of Abisue, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the first priest. ⁶ This Esdras went up out of Babylon; and he was a ready scribe in the law of Moses, which the Lord God of Israel gave: and the king gave him [leave], for the hand of the Lord his God was upon him in all things which he sought. ⁷ And [some] of the children of Israel went up, and [some] of the priests, and of the Levites, and the singers, and the doorkeepers, and the Nathanim, to Jerusalem, in the seventh year of Arthasastha the king. ⁸ And they came to Jerusalem in the fifth month, this [was] the seventh year of the king. ⁹ For in the first [day] of the first month he began the going up from Babylon, and in the first day of the fifth month, they came to Jerusalem, for the good hand of his God was upon him. ¹⁰ For Esdras had determined in his heart to seek the law, and to do and teach the ordinances and judgments in Israel. ¹¹ And this [is] the copy of the order which Arthasastha gave to Esdras the priest, the scribe of the book of the words of the commandments of the Lord, and of his ordinances to Israel. ¹² Arthasastha, king of kings, to Esdras, the scribe of the law of the Lord God of heaven, Let the order and the answer be accomplished. ¹³ A decree is made by me, that every one who is willing in my kingdom of the people of Israel, and of the priests and Levites, to go to Jerusalem, [be permitted] to go with you. ¹⁴ [One] has been sent from the king and the seven councillors, to visit Judea and Jerusalem, according to the law of their God that is in your hand. ¹⁵ And for the house of the Lord [there have been sent] silver and gold, which the king and the councillors have freely given to the God of Israel, who dwells in Jerusalem. ¹⁶ And all the silver and gold, whatever you shall find in all the land of Babylon, with the free will offering of the people, and the priests that offer freely for the house of God which is in Jerusalem. ¹⁷ And as for every one that arrives [there], speedily order him by this letter [to bring] calves, rams, lambs, and their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings; and you shall offer them on the altar of the house of your God which is in Jerusalem. ¹⁸ And whatever it shall seem good to you and to your brethren to do with the rest of the silver and the gold, do as it is pleasing to your God. ¹⁹ And deliver the vessels that are given you for the service of the house of God, before God in Jerusalem. ²⁰ And as to the rest of the need of the house of your God, you shall give from the king's treasure-houses, ²¹ and from me, whatever it shall seem [good] to you to give. I king Arthasastha have made a decree for all the treasuries that are in the [country] beyond the river, that whatever Esdras the priest and scribe of the God of heaven may ask you, it shall be done speedily, ²² to [the amount of] one hundred talents of silver, and one hundred measures of wheat, and one hundred baths of wine, and one hundred baths of oil, and salt without reckoning. ²³ Let whatever is in the decree of the God of heaven, be done: take heed lest any one make an attack on the house of the God of heaven, lest at any time there shall be wrath against the realm of the king and his sons. ²⁴ Also this has been declared to you, with respect to all the priests, and Levites, the singers, porters, Nathinim and ministers of the house of God, let no tribute be [paid] to you; you shall not have power to oppress them. ²⁵ And you, Esdras, as the wisdom of God [is] in your hand, appoint scribes and judges, that they may judge for all the people beyond the river, all that know the law of the Lord your God; and you shall make it known to him that knows not. ²⁶ And whoever shall not do the law of God, and the law of the king readily, judgment shall be taken upon him, whether for death or for chastisement, or for a fine of his property, or casting into prison. ²⁷ Blessed [be] the Lord God of our fathers, who has put it thus into the heart of the king, to glorify the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem; ²⁸ and has given me favor in the eyes of the king, and of his counsellors, and all the rulers of the king, the exalted ones. And I was strengthened according to the good hand of God upon me, and I gathered chief men of Israel to go up with me.

¹ And these [are] the heads of their families, the leaders that went up with me in the reign of Arthasastha the king of Babylon. ² Of the sons of Phinees; Gerson: of the sons of Ithamar; Daniel: of the sons of David; Attus. ³ Of the sons of Sachania, and the sons of Phoros; Zacharias: and with him a company [of] one hundred and fifty. ⁴ Of the sons of Phaath-Moab; Eliana the son of Saraia, and with him two hundred that were males. ⁵ And of the sons of Zathoes; Sechenias the son of Aziel, and with him three hundred males. ⁶ And of the sons of Adin; Obeth the son of Jonathan, and with him fifty males. ⁷ And of the sons of Elam; Isaacas the son of Athelia, and with him seventy males. ⁸ And of the sons of Saphatia; Zabadias the son of Michael, and with him eighty males. ⁹ And of the sons of Joab; Abadia the son of Jeiel, and with him two hundred and eighteen males. ¹⁰ And of the sons of Baani; Selimuth the son of Josephia, and with him one hundred and sixty males. ¹¹ And of the sons of Babi; Zacharias the son of Babi, and with him twenty-eight males. ¹² And of the sons of Asgad; Joanan the son of Accatan, and with him one hundred and ten males. ¹³ And of the sons of Adonicam [were the] last, and these [were] their names, Eliphalat, Jeel, and Samaea, and with them sixty males. ¹⁴ And of the sons of Bagueae, Uthai, and Zabud, and with him seventy males. ¹⁵ And I gathered them to the river that comes to Evi, and we encamped there three days: and I reviewed the people and the priests, and found none of the sons of Levi there. ¹⁶ And I sent men of understanding to Eleazar, to Ariel, to Semeias, and to Alonam, and to Jarib, and to Elnatham, and to Nathan, and to Zacharias, and to Mesollam, and to Joarim, and to Elnathan. ¹⁷ And I forwarded them to the rulers with the money of the place, and I put words in their mouth to speak to their brethren the Athinim with the money of the place, that they should bring us singers for the house of our God. ¹⁸ And they came to us, as the good hand of our God was upon us, even a man of understanding of the sons of Mooli, the son of Levi, the son of Israel, and at the commencement came his sons and his brethren, eighteen. ¹⁹ And Asebia, and Isaia of the sons of Merari, his brethren and his sons, twenty. ²⁰ And of the Nathinim; whom David and the princes had appointed for the service of the Levites [there were] two hundred and twenty Nathinim; all were gathered by [their] names. ²¹ And I proclaimed there a fast, at the river Aue, that [we] should humble ourselves before our God, to seek of him a straight way for us, and for our children, and for all our property. ²² For I was ashamed to ask of the king a guard and horsemen to save us from the enemy in the way: for we had spoken to the king, saying, The hand of our God [is] upon all that seek him, for good; but his power and his wrath [are] upon all that forsake him. ²³ So we fasted, and asked of our God concerning this; and he listened to us. ²⁴ And I gave charge to twelve of the chiefs of the priests, to Saraia, to Asabia, and ten of their brethren with them. ²⁵ And I weighed to them the silver, and the gold, and the vessels of the first fruits of the house of our God, which the king, and his councillors, and his princes, and all Israel that were found, had dedicated. ²⁶ I even weighed into their hands six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and one hundred silver vessels, and one hundred talents of gold; ²⁷ and twenty golden bowls, [weighing] about a thousand drachmas, and superior vessels of fine shining brass, [precious] as gold. ²⁸ And I said to them, You ☐ [are] holy to the Lord; and the vessels [are] holy; and the silver and the gold are free will offerings to the Lord God of our fathers. ²⁹ Be watchful and keep them, until you ☐ weigh [them] before the chief priests and the Levites, and the chiefs of families in Jerusalem, at the chambers of the house of the Lord. ³⁰ So the priests and the Levites took the weight of the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, to bring to Jerusalem into the house of our God. ³¹ And we departed from the river of Aue on the twelfth day of the first month, to come to Jerusalem: and the hand of our God was upon us, and delivered us from the hand of the enemy and adversary in the way.³² And we came to Jerusalem, and abode there three days.³³ And it came to pass on the fourth day that we weighed the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, in the house of our God, into the hand of Merimoth the son of Uriah the priest; and with him [was] Eleazar the son of Phineas, and with them Jozabad the son of Jesus, and Noadia the son of Banaia, the Levites.³⁴ All things [were reckoned] by number and weight, and the whole weight was written [down].³⁵ At that time the children of the banishment that came from the captivity offered whole burnt offerings to the God of Israel, twelve calves for all Israel, ninety-six rams, seventy-seven lambs, twelve goats for a sin-offering; all whole burnt offerings to the Lord.³⁶ And they gave the king's mandate to the king's lieutenants, and the governors beyond the river: and they honored the people and the house of God.

¹ And when these things were finished, the princes drew near to me, saying, The people of Israel, and the priests, and the Levites, have not separated themselves from the people of the lands in their abominations, [even] the Chananite, the Ethite, the Pherezite, the Jebusite, the Ammonite, the Moabite, and the Moserite and the Amorite. ² For they have taken of their daughters for themselves and their sons; and the holy seed has passed among the nations of the lands, and the hand of the rulers [has been] first in this transgression. ³ And when I heard this thing, I tore my garments, and trembled, and plucked [some] of the hairs of my head and of my beard, and sat down mourning. ⁴ Then there assembled to me all that followed the word of the God of Israel, on account of the transgression of the captivity; and I remained mourning until the evening sacrifice. ⁵ And at the evening sacrifice I rose up from my humiliation; and when I had torn my garments, then I trembled, and I bow myself on my knees, and spread out my hands to the Lord God, ⁶ and I said, O Lord, I am ashamed and confounded, O my God, to lift up my face to you: for our transgressions have abounded over our head, and our trespasses have increased even to heaven. ⁷ From the days of our fathers we have been in a great trespass until this day: and because of our iniquities we, and our kings, and our children, have been delivered into the hand of the kings of the Gentiles by the sword, and by captivity, and by spoil, and with shame of our face, as at this day. ⁸ And now our God has dealt mercifully with us, so as to leave us to escape, and to give us an establishment in the place of his sanctuary, to enlighten our eyes, and to give a little quickening in our servitude. ⁹ For we are slaves, yet in our servitude the Lord our God has not deserted us; and he has extended favor to us in the sight of the kings of the Persians, to give us a quickening, that they should raise up the house of our God, and restore the desolate places of it, and to give us a fence in Juda and Jerusalem. ¹⁰ What shall we say, our God, after this? for we have forsaken your commandments, ¹¹ which you have given us by the hand of your servants the prophets, saying, The land, into which you go to inherit it, is a land subject to disturbance by the removal of the people of the nations for their abominations, wherewith they have filled it from one end to the other by their uncleanness. ¹² And now give not your daughters to their sons, and take not of their daughters for your sons, neither shall you seek their peace or their good for ever: that you may be strong, and eat the good of the land, and transmit it as an inheritance to your children for ever. ¹³ And after all that is come upon us because of our evil deeds, and our great trespass, [it is clear] that there is none such as our God, for you have lightly visited our iniquities, and given us deliverance; ¹⁴ whereas we have repeatedly broken your commandments, and intermarried with the people of the lands: be not very angry with us to [our] utter destruction, so that there should be no remnant or escaping one. ¹⁵ O Lord God of Israel, you [are] righteous; for we remain [yet] escaped, as at this day: behold, we [are] before you in our trespasses: for we can't stand before you on this account.

Ezra and Nehemiah 10

¹ So when Esdras [had] prayed, and when he [had] confessed, weeping and praying before the house of God, a very great assembly of Israel came together to him, men and women and youths; for the people wept, and wept aloud. ² And Sechenias the son of Jeel, of the sons of Elam, answered and said to Esdras, We have broken covenant with our God, and have taken strange wives of the nations of the land: yet now there is patience [of hope] to Israel concerning this thing. ³ Now then let us make a covenant with our God, to put away all the wives, and their offspring, as you shall advise: ⁴ arise, and alarm them with the commands of our God; and let [it] be done according to the law. Rise up, for the matter [is] upon you; and we [are] with you: be strong and do. ⁵ Then Esdras arose, and caused the rulers, the priests, and Levites, and all Israel, to swear that they would do according to this word: and they swore. ⁶ And Esdras rose up from before the house of God, and went to the treasury of Joanan the son of Elisub; he even went there: he ate no bread, and drank no water; for he mourned over the unfaithfulness [of them] of the captivity. ⁷ And they made proclamation throughout Juda and Jerusalem to all the children of the captivity, that they should assemble at Jerusalem, [saying], ⁸ Every one who shall not arrive within three days, as [is] the counsel of the rulers and the elders, all his substance shall be forfeited, and he shall be separated from the congregation of the captivity. ⁹ So all the men of Juda and Benjamin assembled at Jerusalem within the three days. This [was] the ninth month: on the twentieth day of the month all the people sat down in the street of the house of the Lord, because of their alarm concerning the word, and because of the storm. ¹⁰ And Esdras the priest arose, and said to them, You ☐ have broken covenant, and have taken strange wives, to add to the trespass of Israel. ¹¹ Now therefore give praise to the Lord God of our fathers, and do that which is pleasing in his sight: and separate yourselves from the peoples of the land, and from the strange wives. ¹² Then all the congregation answered and said, This your word [is] powerful upon us to do it. ¹³ But the people [is] numerous, and the season [is] stormy, and there is no power to stand without, and the work is more than enough for one day or for two; for we have greatly sinned in this matter. ¹⁴ Let now our rulers stand, and for all those in our cities who have taken strange wives, let them come at appointed times, and with them elders from every several city, and judges, to turn away the fierce wrath of our God from us concerning this matter. ¹⁵ Only Jonathan the son of Asael, and Jazias the son of Thecoe [were] with me concerning this; and Mesollam, and Sabbathai the Levite helped them. ¹⁶ And the children of the captivity did thus: and Esdras the priest, and heads of families according to [their] house were separated, and all by their names, for they returned in the first day of the tenth month to search out the matter. ¹⁷ And they made an end with all the men who had taken strange wives by the first day of the first month. ¹⁸ And there were found [some] of the sons of the priests who had taken strange wives: of the sons of Jesus the son of Josedec, and his brethren; Maasia, and Eliezer, and Jarib, and Gadalia. ¹⁹ And they pledged themselves to put away their wives, and [offered] a ram of the flock for a trespass-offering because of their trespass. ²⁰ And of the sons of Emmer; Anani, and Zabdia. ²¹ And of the sons of Eram; Masael, and Elia, and Samaia, and Jeel, and Ozia. ²² And of the sons of Phasur; Elionai, Maasia, and Ismael, and Nathanael, and Jozabad, and Elasa. ²³ And of the Levites; Jozabad, and Samu, and Colia (he [is] Colitas,) and Phetheia, and Judas, and Eliezer. ²⁴ And of the singers; Elisab: and of the porters; Solmen, and Telmen, and Oduth. ²⁵ Also of Israel: of the sons of Phoros; Ramia, and Azia, and Melchia, and Meamin, and Eleazar, and Asabia, and Banaia. ²⁶ And of the sons of Helam; Matthania, and Zacharia, and Jaiel, and Abdia, and Jarimoth, and Elia. ²⁷ And of the sons of Zathua; Elionai, Elisub, Matthanai, and Armoth, and Zabad, and Oziza. ²⁸ And of the sons of Babei; Joanan, Anania, and Zabu, and Thali. ²⁹ And of the sons of Banui; Mosollam, Maluch, Adaia, Jasub, and Saluia, and Remoth. ³⁰ And of the sons of Phaath Moab; Edne, and Chalel, and Banaia, Maasia, Matthanias, Beseleel, and Banui, and Manasse. ³¹ And of the sons of Eram; Eliezer, Jesia, Melchia, Samaia, Semeon, ³² Benjamin, Baluch, Samaria. ³³ And of the sons of Asem; Metthanias, Matthatha, Zadab, Eliphalet, Jerami, Manasse, Semei. ³⁴ And of the sons of Bani; Moodia, Amram, Uel, ³⁵ Banaia, Badaia, Chelkia, ³⁶ Uvania, Marimoth, Eliasiph, ³⁷ Matthanias, Matthanai: ³⁸ and [so] did the children of Banui, and the children of Semei, ³⁹ and Selemia, and Nathan, and Adaia, ⁴⁰ Machadnabu, Sesci, Sariu, ⁴¹ Ezriel, and Selemia, and Samaria, ⁴² and Sellum, Amaria, Joseph. ⁴³ Of the sons of Nabu; Jael, Matthanias, Zabab, Zebennas, Jadai, and Joel, and Banaia. ⁴⁴ All these had taken strange wives, and had begotten sons of them.

According to a passage in Justin Martyr's Dialogue with Trypho, a Jew, Ezra offered a paschal lamb on this occasion, and addressed the people thus: "And Ezra said to the people, This pass-over is our Saviour and our Refuge; and if ye will be persuaded of it, and let it enter into your hearts, that we are to humble to Him in a sign, and afterwards shall believe in Him, this place shall not be destroyed forever, saith the Lord of hosts; but, if ye will not believe in Him, nor hearken to his preaching, ye shall be a laughing-stock to the Gentiles." This was probably a marginal note added by some early Christian.

Ezra and Nehemiah 1

the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem. ³ And they said to me, The remnant, [even] those that are left of the captivity, [are] there in the land, in great distress and reproach: and the walls of Jerusalem [are] thrown down, and its gates are burnt with fire. ⁴ And it came to pass, when I heard these words, [that] I sat down and wept, and mourned for [several] days, and continued fasting and praying before the God of heaven. ⁵ And I said, Nay, I pray you, O Lord God of heaven, the mighty, the great and terrible, keeping your covenant and mercy to them that love him, and to those that keep his commandments: ⁶ let now your ear be attentive, and your eyes open, that you may hear the prayer of your servant, which I pray before you at this time, this day [both] day and night, for the children of Israel your servants, and make confession for the sins of the children of Israel, which we have sinned against you: both I and the house of my father have sinned. ⁷ We have altogether broken [covenant] with you, and we have not kept the commandments, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which you did command your servant Moses. ⁸ Remember, I pray you, the word wherewith you did charge your servant Moses, saying, If you ☐ break covenant [with me], I will disperse you among the nations. ⁹ But if you ☐ turn again to me, and keep my commandments, and do them; if you ☐ should be scattered under the utmost [bound] of heaven, thence will I gather them, and I will bring them into the place which I have chosen to cause my name to dwell there. ¹⁰ Now they [are] your servants and your people, whom you have redeemed with your great power, and with your strong hand. ¹¹ [Turn] not [away], I pray you, O Lord, but let your ear be attentive to the prayer of your servant, and to the prayer of your servants, who desire to fear your name: and prosper, I pray you, your servant this day, and cause him to find mercy in the sight of this man. Now I was the king's cupbearer.

To be in such a place of trust he must have been in the king's confidence; for no eastern potentate would have a cup-bearer to whom he could not trust his life, poison being often administered in that way. It was an office much desired, because it gave access to the king in those seasons of hilarity when men are most disposed to grant favours.

Ezra and Nehemiah 2

¹ And it came to pass in the month Nisan of the twentieth year of king Artahasatha, that the wine was before me: and I took the wine, and gave [it] to the king: and there was not another before him. ² And the king said to me, Why is your countenance sad, and do you not control yourself? and now this is nothing but sorrow of heart. Then I was very much alarmed, ³ and I said to the king, Let the king live for ever: why should not my countenance be said, forasmuch as the city, even the home of the sepulchres of my fathers, has been laid waste, and her gates have been devoured with fire? ⁴ And the king said to me, For what do you ask thus? So I prayed to the God of heaven. ⁵ And I said to the king, If [it seem] good to the king, and if your servant shall have found favor in your sight, [I ask] that [you] would send him into Juda, to the city of the sepulchres of my fathers; then will I rebuild it. ⁶ And the king, and his concubine that sat next to him, said to me, For how long will your journey be, and when will you return? and [the proposal] was pleasing before the king, and he sent me away, and I appointed him a time. ⁷ And I said to the king, If [it seem] good to the king, let him give me letters to the governors beyond the river, so as to forward me till I come to Judah;⁸ and a letter to Asaph the keeper of the garden which belongs to the king, that he may give me timber to cover the gates, and for the wall of the city, and for the house into which I shall enter. And the king gave to me, according as the good hand of God [was upon me].⁹ And I came to the governors beyond the river, and I gave them the king's letters. (Now the king had sent with me captains of the army and horsemen.)¹⁰ And Sanaballat the Aronite heard [it], and Tobia the servant, the Ammonite, and it was grievous to them that a man was come to seek good for the children of Israel.¹¹ So I came to Jerusalem, and was there three days.¹² And I rose up by night, I and a few men with me; and I told no man what God put into my heart to do with Israel; and there was no beast with me, except the beast which I rode upon.¹³ And I went forth by the gate of the valley by night, and to the mouth of the well of fig trees, and to the dung-gate: and I mourned over the wall of Jerusalem which they were destroying, and her gates were devoured with fire.¹⁴ And I passed on to the fountain gate, and to the king's pool; and there was no room for the beast to pass under me.¹⁵ And I went up by the wall of the brook by night, and mourned over the wall, and passed through the gate of the valley, and returned.¹⁶ And the sentinels knew not why I went, nor what I was doing; and until that time I told [it] not to the Jews, or to the priests, or to the nobles, or to the captains, or to the rest [of the men] who wrought the works.¹⁷ Then I said to them, You see this evil, in which we are, how Jerusalem is desolate, and her gates have been set on fire: come, and let us build throughout the wall of Jerusalem, and we shall be no longer a reproach.¹⁸ And I told them of the hand of God which was good upon me, also about the words of the king which he spoke to me: and I said, Let us arise and build. And their hands were strengthened for the good [work].¹⁹ And Sanaballat the Aronite, and Tobia the servant, the Ammonite, and Gesam the Arabian, heard [it], and they laughed us to scorn, and came to us, and said, What [is] this thing that you are doing? are you revolting against the king?²⁰ And I answered them, and said to them, The God of heaven, he shall prosper us, and we his servants are pure, and we will build: but you have no part, nor right, nor memorial, in Jerusalem.

N: ¹ Nisan the twentieth; I took up ² Why is thy sorrow Then I Probably the king spoke as if he had some suspicion that Nehemiah harboured some bad design, and that his face indicated some conceived treachery, or remorse; and, indeed, the words rendered sad, and sorrow of heart, might be rendered evil, and wickedness of heart. ³ Let the king Far from wishing ill to my master, I wish him to live forever.; the city; the place ⁴ For what; So I prayed ⁵ If it please.; and if thy ⁶ the queen Heb. the wife. It was probably Esther who was present at this time, and who seconded Nehemiah's request. If he purposed any good, it was because God put it into his heart; if he did or received any good, it was because the good hand of his God was upon him; if he expected any good, it was because he earnestly prayed God to remember him for good. ¹³ the gate; the dung port This was the gate on the eastern side of the city, through which the filth was carried to the brook Kidron and valley of Hinnom.; the walls ¹⁴ the gate of the fountain The gate leading either to the fountain of Siloam, on the east of the city, or to that of Gihon, on the west.; the king's pool Probably the aqueduct made by Hezekiah to bring the waters of Gihon to the city of David. ¹⁵ the brook The brook Kidron; the gate The gate leading to the valley of Jehoshaphat, east of the city, through which the brook Kidron flows. It was by this gate he went out; so that he went round the whole of the city, and entered by the same gate. ¹⁷ Ye see, come; a reproach ¹⁸ the hand So they strengthened ¹⁹ Sanballat, Geshem, Gashmu they; will ye rebel ²⁰ The God.; ye have no; memorial; When Nehemiah had prayed for the relief of his countrymen, and perhaps in David's words, he did not sit still and say, "Let God now do his own work, for I have no more to do;" but set himself to do what he could towards it, and here we find that the people were of one heart with Nehemiah. Our prayers must be seconded with our serious endeavours, or else we mock God. Nearly four months had passed, namely, from Chisleu to Nisan (November to March), before Nehemiah made his application to the king for leave to go to Jerusalem; either because the winter was not a proper time for such a journey, and he would not make a motion till he could pursue it, or because it was so long before his month of waiting upon the king came, and there was no coming into his presence until called for. We are not thus limited to certain moments in our addresses to the King of kings, but have liberty of access to him at all times; to the throne of grace we never come unseasonably.

Samaca son of Sechenia, guard of the east-gate. ³⁰ After him repaired Anania son of Selemia, and Anom, the sixth son of Seleph, another portion: after him Mesulam the son of Barachia repaired over against his treasury. ³¹ After him repaired Melchia the son of Sarephi as far as the house of the Nathinim, and the chapmen over against the gate of Maphecad, and as far as the steps of the corner. ³² And between [that and] the sheep-gate the smiths and chapmen repaired.

N: ¹ Eliashib, the sheep gate This gate is supposed to have immediately communicated with the temple, and to have been called the sheep gate, because the sheep intended for sacrifice passed through it. But, after all which learned men have written on this subject, which is but of little interest, we scarcely know anything about these gates. For Sir J. Chardin, describing a splendid tent erected by the king of Persia, says "that there was an inscription wrought upon the cornice of the anti-chamber, which gave it the appellation of the throne of the second Solomon." Sitting upon a throne has, however, sometimes been granted to governors. ⁸ the goldsmiths; of the apothecaries; fortified or, left the broad wall ¹¹ Harim Pahathmoab; other piece Heb. second measure the tower ¹² the ruler, he and his daughters ¹³ the valley gate Zanoah There were two towns of the name of Zanoah in the tribe of Judah. Dr. Pococke conjectures that the Mountain of the Franks, called also the Mount of Bethulia, from a village of that name near it, west-north-west of Tekoa, is the ancient Beth-hacerem; the position of which seems to agree with the citadel of Herodium, built by Herod, on a moderate-sized hill, sixty furlongs from Jerusalem. ¹⁵ the gate; the ruler, Mizpah; Mizpeh, Siloah was situated under the eastern wall of Jerusalem, between that city and the brook Kedron, and is described by Chateaubriand as lying at the foot of Mount Zion. From the remotest period of the history of the Jews, they had artists in all the elegant and ornamental trades; and it appears that goldsmiths, apothecaries, and merchants were formed into companies in the time of Nehemiah.

¹ Now it came to pass, when Sanaballat heard that we were building the wall, that it was grievous to him, and he was very angry; and railed against the Jews. ² And he said before his brethren (that [is] the army of the Samaritans) [Is it true] that these Jews are building their city? do they indeed offer sacrifices? will they prevail? and will they this day restore the stones, after they have been burnt and made a heap of rubbish? ³ And Tobias the Ammanite came near to him, and said to them, Do they sacrifice or eat in their place? shall not a fox go up and pull down their wall of stones? ⁴ Hear, O our God, for we have become a scorn; and return you their reproach upon their head, and make them a scorn in a land of captivity, ⁵ and do not cover [their] iniquity. ⁷ But it came to pass, when Sanaballat and Tobia, and the Arabians, and the Ammanites, heard that the building of the walls of Jerusalem was advancing, [and] that the breaches began to be stopped, that it appeared very grievous to them. ⁸ And all of them assembled together, to come to fight against Jerusalem, and to destroy it utterly.⁹ So we prayed to our God and set watchmen against them day and night, because of them.¹⁰ And Juda said, The strength of the enemies is broken, yet [there is] much rubbish, and we shall not be able to build the wall.¹¹ And they that afflicted us said, They shall not know, and they shall not see, until we come into the midst of them, and kill them, and cause the work to cease.¹² And it came to pass, when the Jews who lived near them came, that they said to us, They are coming up against us from every quarter.¹³ So I set [men] in the lowest part of the place behind the wall in the lurking-places, I even set the people according to their families, with their swords, their spears, and their bows.¹⁴ And I looked, and arose, and said to the nobles, and to the captains, and to the rest of the people, Be not afraid of them: remember our great and terrible God, and fight for your brethren, your sons, your daughters, your wives, and your houses.¹⁵ And it came to pass, when our enemies heard that it was made known to us, and God had frustrated their counsel, that we all returned to the wall, [every] man to his work.¹⁶ And it came to pass from that day [that] half of them that had been driven forth, wrought the work, and half of them kept guard; and [there were] spears, and shields, and bows, and breastplates, and rulers behind the whole house of Juda,¹⁷ even of them that were building the wall:—and those who carried the burdens [were] under arms: [each] with one hand wrought his work, and with the other held his dart.¹⁸ And the builders [wrought] each man having his sword girded upon his loins, and so they built: and the trumpeter with his trumpet next to him.¹⁹ And I said to the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The work [is] great and abundant, and we are dispersed upon the wall, each at a great distance from his brother.²⁰ In whatever place you□ shall hear the sound of the cornet, there gather yourselves together to us; and our God shall fight for us.²¹ So we [continued] laboring at the work: and half of them held the spears from the rising of the morning until the stars appeared.²² And at that time I said to the people, Lodge you□ every man with his servant in the midst of Jerusalem, and let the night be a watch-time to you, and the day a work-time.²³ And I was [there], and the watchmen behind me, and there was not a man of us that put off his garments.

Ezra and Nehemiah 5

¹ And the cry of the people and their wives [was] great against their brethren the Jews. ² And some said, We [are] numerous with our sons and our daughters; so we will take corn, and eat, and live. ³ And some said, [As to] our fields and vineyards and houses, let us pledge [them], and we will take corn, and eat. ⁴ And some said, We have borrowed money for the king's tributes:—our fields, and our vineyards, and houses [are pledged]. ⁵ And now our flesh [is] as the flesh of our brethren, our children [are] as their children: yet, behold, we are reducing our sons and our daughters to slavery, and some of our daughters are enslaved: and there is no power of our hands, for our fields and our vineyards [belong] to the nobles. ⁶ And I was much grieved as I heard their cry and these words. ⁷ And my heart took counsel within me, and I contended against the nobles, and the princes, and I said to them, Should every man demand of his brother what you□ demand? And I appointed against them a great assembly, ⁸ and I said to them, We of our free-will have redeemed our brethren the Jews that were sold to the Gentiles; and do you□ sell your brethren? and shall they be delivered to us? And they were silent, and found no answer. ⁹ And I said, The thing which you□ do [is] not good; you□ will not so walk in the fear of our God because of the reproach of the Gentiles our enemies. ¹⁰ Both my brethren, and my acquaintances, and I, have lent them money and corn: let us now leave off this exaction. ¹¹ Restore to them, I pray, as at this day, their fields, and their vineyards, and their olive yards, and their houses, and bring forth to them corn and wine and oil of the money. ¹² And they said, We will restore, and we will not exact of them; we will do thus as you say. Then I called the priests, and bound them by oath to do according to this word. ¹³ And I shook out my garment, and said, So may God shake out every man who shall not keep to this word, from his house, and from his labors, he shall be even thus shaken out, as an outcast and empty. And all the congregation said, Amen, and they praised the Lord: and the people did this thing. ¹⁴ From the day that he charged me to be their ruler in the land of Juda, from the twentieth year even to the thirty-second year of Arthasastha, twelve years, I and my brethren ate not [provision] extorted from them. ¹⁵ But as for the former acts of extortion wherein [those who were] before me oppressed them, they even took of them their last money, forty didrachmas for bread and wine; and the [very] outcasts of them exercised authority over the people: but I did not so, because of the fear of God. ¹⁶ Also in the work of the wall I treated them not with rigor, I bought not land: and all that were gathered together [came] there to the work. ¹⁷ And the Jews, to [the number of] one hundred and fifty men, besides those coming to us from the nations round about, [were] at my table. ¹⁸ And there came [to me] for one day one calf, and I had six choice sheep and a goat; and every ten days wine in abundance of all sorts: yet with these I required not the bread of extortion, because the bondage was heavy upon this people. ¹⁹ Remember me, O God, for good, [in] all that I have done to this people.

Here the bey's twelve sheep are equal to Nehemiah's one ox and six choice sheep; and probably the mode of living between the two was nearly alike. Ezra and Nehemiah 6

¹ Now it came to pass, when Sanballat, and Tobias, and Gesam the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies, heard that I had built the wall, and [that] there was no opening left therein; ([but] hitherto I had not set up the doors on the gates;) ² that Sanballat and Gesam sent to me, saying, Come and let us meet together in the villages in the plain of Ono. But they [were] plotting to do me mischief. ³ So I sent messengers to them, saying, I am doing a great work, and I shall not be able to come down, lest the work should cease: as soon as I shall have finished it, I will come down to you. ⁴ And they sent to me [again] to this effect; and I sent them [word] accordingly. ⁵ Then Sanballat sent his servant to me with an open letter in his hand. ⁶ And in it was written, It has been reported among the Gentiles that you and the Jews are planning to revolt: therefore you are building the wall, and you will be a king to them. ⁷ And moreover you have appointed prophets to yourself, that you might dwell in Jerusalem as a king over Juda: and now these words will be reported to the king. Now then, come, let us take counsel together. ⁸ And I sent to him, saying, It has not happened according to these words, [even] as you say, for you frame them falsely out of your heart. ⁹ For all were trying to alarm us, saying, Their hands shall be weakened from this work, and it shall not be done. Now therefore I have strengthened my hands. ¹⁰ And I came into the house of Semei the son of Dalaia the Son of Metabeel, and he was shut up; and he said, Let us assemble together in the house of God, in the midst of it, and let us shut the doors of it; for they are coming by night to kill you. ¹¹ And I said, Who is the man that shall enter into the house, that he may live? ¹² And I observed, and, behold, God had not sent him, for the prophecy was a fable [devised] against me: ¹³ and Tobias and Sanballat had hired against me a multitude, that I might be frightened, and do this, and sin, and become to them an ill name, that they might reproach me. ¹⁴ Remember, O God, Tobias and Sanballat, according to these their deeds, and the prophetess Noadiah, and the rest of the prophets who tried to alarm me. ¹⁵ So the wall was finished on the twenty-fifth day of the [month] Elul, in fifty-two days. ¹⁶ And it came to pass, when all our enemies heard [of it], that all the nations round about us feared, and great alarm fell upon them, and they knew that it was of our God that this work should be finished. ¹⁷ And in those days letters came to Tobias from many nobles of Juda, and those of Tobias came to them. ¹⁸ For many in Juda were bound to him by oath, because he was son-in-law of Sechenias the son of Herae; and Jonan his son had taken the daughter of Mesulam the son of Barachia to wife. ¹⁹ And they reported his words to me, and carried out my words to him: and Tobias sent letters to terrify me.

¹ And it came to pass, when the wall was built, and I had set up the doors, and the porters and the singers and the Levites were appointed, ² that I gave charge to Ananias my brother, and Ananias the ruler of the palace, over Jerusalem: for he was a true man, and one that feared God beyond many. ³ And I said to them, The gates of Jerusalem shall not be opened till sunrise; and while they are still watching, let the doors be shut, and bolted; and set watches of them that dwell in Jerusalem, [every] man at his post, and [every] man over against his house. ⁴ Now the city [was] wide and large; and the people [were] few in it, and the houses were not built. ⁵ And God put [it] into my heart, and I gathered the nobles, and the rulers, and the people, into companies: and I found a register of the company that came up first, and I found written in it as follows: ⁶ Now these [are] the children of the country, that came up from captivity, of the number which Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon carried away, and they returned to Jerusalem and to Juda, [every] man to his city; ⁷ with Zorobabel, and Jesus, and Neemia, Azaria, and Reelma, Naemani, Mardochaeus, Balsan, Maspharath, Esdra, Boguia, Inaum, Baana, Masphar, men of the people of Israel. ⁸ The children of Phoros, two thousand one hundred and seventy-two. ⁹ The children of Saphatia, three hundred and seventy-two. ¹⁰ The children of Era, six hundred and fifty-two. ¹¹ The children of Phaath Moab, with the children of Jesus and Joab, two thousand six hundred and eighteen. ¹² The children of Aelam, a thousand two hundred and fifty-four. ¹³ The children of Zathuia, eight hundred and forty-five. ¹⁴ The children of Zacchu, seven hundred and sixty. ¹⁵ The children of Banui, six hundred and forty-eight. ¹⁶ The children of Bebi, six hundred and twenty-eight. ¹⁷ The children of Asgad, two thousand three hundred and twenty-two. ¹⁸ The children of Adoniam, six hundred and sixty-seven. ¹⁹ The children of Bagoi, two thousand and sixty-seven. ²⁰ The children of Edin, six hundred and fifty-five. ²¹ The children of Ater, [the son] of Ezekias, ninety-eight. ²² The children of Esam, three hundred and twenty-eight. ²³ The children of Besei, three hundred and twenty-four. ²⁴ The children of Ariph, one hundred and twelve: the children of Asen, two hundred and twenty-three. ²⁵ The children of Gabaon, ninety-five. ²⁶ The children of Baethalem, one hundred and twenty-three: the children of Atopha, fifty-six. ²⁷ The children of Anathoth, one hundred and twenty-eight. ²⁸ The men of Bethasmoth, forty-two. ²⁹ The men of Cariatharim, Caphira, and Beroth, seven hundred and forty-three. ³⁰ The men of Arama and Gabaa, six hundred and twenty. ³¹ The men of Machemas, one hundred and twenty-two. ³² The men of Baethel and Ai, one hundred and twenty-three. ³³ The men of Nabia, one hundred and fifty-two. ³⁴ The men of Elamaar, one thousand two hundred and fifty-two. ³⁵ The children of Eram, three hundred and twenty. ³⁶ The children of Jericho, three hundred and forty-five. ³⁷ The children of Lodadid and Ono, seven hundred and twenty-one. ³⁸ The children of Sanana, three thousand nine hundred and thirty. ³⁹ The priests; the sons of Jodae, [pertaining] to the house of Jesus, nine hundred and seventy-three. ⁴⁰ The children of Emmer, one thousand and fifty-two. ⁴¹ The children of Phaseur, one thousand two hundred and forty-seven. ⁴² The children of Eram, a thousand and seventeen. ⁴³ The Levites; the children of Jesus the son of Cadmiel,

What follows, however, seems to relate to a distinct oblation from that recorded in Ezra; and was probably made after the people were registered by Nehemiah, who was the Tirshatha, or governor, at this time, as Zerubbabel had been at the first return of the Jews from captivity. Blessed be God that our faith and hope are not built upon the niceties of names and numbers, genealogy and chronology, but on the great things of the law and gospel. Ezra and Nehemiah 8

drink the sweet, and send portions to them that have nothing; for the day is holy to our Lord: and faint not, for the Lord is our strength. ¹¹ And the Levites caused all the people to be silent, saying, Be silent, for [it is] a holy day, and despond not. ¹² So all the people departed to eat, and to drink, and to send portions, and to make great mirth, for they understood the words which he made known to them. ¹³ And on the second day the heads of families assembled with all the people, [also] the priests and Levites, to Esdras the scribe, to attend to all the words of the law. ¹⁴ And they found written in the law which the Lord commanded Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in booths, in the feast in the seventh month: ¹⁵ and that they should sound with trumpets in all their cities, and in Jerusalem. And Esdras said, Go forth to the mountain, and bring branches of olive, and branches of cypress trees, and branches of myrtle, and branches of palm trees, and branches of [every] thick tree, to make booths, according to that which was written. ¹⁶ And the people went forth, and brought [them], and made booths for themselves, each one upon his roof, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the streets of the city, and as far as the gate of Ephraim. ¹⁷ And all the congregation who had returned from the captivity, made booths, and lived in booths: for the children of Israel [had] not done so from the days of Jesus the son of Naue until that day: and there was great joy. ¹⁸ And [Esdras] read in the book of the law of God daily, from the first day even to the last day: and they kept the feast seven days; and on the eighth day a solemn assembly, according to the ordinance.

Ezra and Nehemiah 9

Rise up, bless the Lord our God forever and ever: and let them bless your glorious name, and exalt it with all blessing and praise. ⁶ And Esdras said, You are the only true Lord; you made the heaven, and the heaven of heavens, and all their array, the earth, and all things that are in it, the seas, and all things in them; and you quicken all things, and the hosts of heaven worship you. ⁷ You are the Lord God, you did choose Abram, and brought him out of the land of the Chaldeans, and gave him the name of Abraam: ⁸ and you found his heart faithful before you, and did make a covenant with him to give to him and to his seed the land of the Chananites, and the Chettites, and Amorites, and Pherezites, and Jebusites, and Gergesites; and you have confirmed your words, for you [are] righteous. ⁹ And you saw the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and you heard their cry at the Red Sea. ¹⁰ And you showed signs and wonders in Egypt, on Pharaoh and all his servants, and on all the people of his land: for you know that they behaved insolently against them: and you made yourself a name, as at this day. ¹¹ And you did cleave the sea before them, and they passed through the midst of the sea on dry land; and you did cast into the deep them that were about to pursue them, as a stone in the mighty water. ¹² And you guided them by day by a pillar of cloud, and by night by a pillar of fire, to enlighten for them the way wherein they should walk. ¹³ Also you came down upon mount Sina, and you spoke to them out of heaven, and gave them right judgments, and laws of truth, ordinances, and good commandments. ¹⁴ And you did make known to them your holy sabbath; you did enjoin upon them commandments, and ordinances, and a law, by the hand of your servant Moses. ¹⁵ And you gave them bread from heaven for their food, and you brought them forth water from a rock for their thirst; and you bade them go in to inherit the land over which you stretched out your hand to give [it] them. ¹⁶ But they and our fathers behaved proudly, and hardened their neck, and did not listen to your commandments, ¹⁷ and refused to listen, and remembered not your wonders which you wrought with them; and they hardened their neck, and appointed a leader to return to their slavery in Egypt: but you, O God, [are] merciful and compassionate, longsuffering, and abundant in mercy, and you did not forsake them. ¹⁸ And still farther they even made to themselves a molten calf, and said, These [are] the gods that brought us up out of Egypt: and they wrought great provocations. ¹⁹ Yet you in your great compassions did not forsake them in the wilderness: you did not turn away from them the pillar of the cloud by day, to guide them in the way, nor the pillar of fire by night, to enlighten for them the way wherein they should walk. ²⁰ And you gave your good Spirit to instruct them, and you did not withhold your manna from their mouth, and gave them water in their thirst. ²¹ And you did sustain them forty years in the wilderness; you did not allow anything to fail them: their garments did not wax old, and their feet were not bruised. ²² Moreover, you gave them kingdoms, and did divide nations to them: and they inherited the land of Seon king of Esebon, and the land of Og king of Basan. ²³ And you did multiply their children as the stars of heaven, and brought them into the land of which you spoke to their fathers; ²⁴ And they inherited it: and you did destroy from before them the dwellers in the land of the Chananites, and you gave into their hands them and their kings, and the nations of the land, to do to them as it pleased them. ²⁵ And they took lofty cities, and inherited houses full of all good things, wells dug, vineyards, and olive yards, and every fruit tree in abundance: so they ate, and were filled, and grew fat, and rioted in your great goodness. ²⁶ But they turned, and revolted from you, and cast your law behind their backs; and they killed your prophets, who testified against them to turn them back to you, and they wrought great provocations. ²⁷ Then you gave them into the hand of them that afflicted them, and they did afflict them: and they cried to you in the time of their affliction, and you did hear them from your heaven, and in your great compassions gave them deliverers, and did save them from the hand of them that afflicted them. ²⁸ But when they rested, they did evil again before you: so you left them in the hands of their enemies, and they ruled over them: and they cried again to you, and you heard [them] from heaven, and did deliver them in your great compassions. ²⁹ And you did testify against them, to bring them back to your law: but they listened not, but sinned against your commandments and your judgments, which if a man do, he shall live in them; and they turned their back, and hardened their neck, and heard not. ³⁰ Yet you did bear long with them many years, and did testify to them by your Spirit by the hand of your prophets: but they listened not; so you gave them into the hand of the nations of the land. ³¹ But you in your many mercies did not appoint them to destruction, and did not forsake them; for you are strong, and merciful, and pitiful. ³² And now, O our God, the powerful, the great, the mighty, and the terrible, keeping your covenant and your mercy, let not all the trouble seem little in your sight which has come upon us, and our kings, and our princes, and our priests, and our prophets, and our fathers, and upon all your people, from the days of the kings of Assur even to this day. ³³ But you [are] righteous in all the things that come upon us; for you have wrought faithfully, but we have greatly sinned. ³⁴ And our kings, and our princes, and our priests, and our fathers, have not performed your law, and have not given heed to your commandments, and [have not kept] your testimonies which you did testify to them. ³⁵ And they did not serve you in your kingdom, and in your great goodness which you gave to them, and in the large and fat land which you did furnish before them, and they turned not from their evil devices. ³⁶ Behold, we are servants this day, and [as for] the land which you gave to our fathers to eat the fruit of it and the good things of it, behold, we are servants upon it: ³⁷ and its produce [is] abundant for the kings whom you did appoint over us because of our sins; and they have dominion over our bodies, and over our cattle, as it pleases them, and we are in great affliction. ³⁸ And in regard to all these circumstances we make a covenant, and write [it], and our princes, our Levites, [and] our priests, set their seal to [it].

of Joad, son of Phadaia, son of Coleia, son of Maasias, son of Ethiel, son of Jesia. ⁸ And after him Gebe, Seli, nine hundred and twenty-eight. ⁹ And Joel son of Zechri [was] overseer over them: and Juda son of Asana was second in the city. ¹⁰ Of the priests: both Jadia son of Joarib, and Jachin. ¹¹ Saraia, son of Elchia, son of Mesulam, son of Sadduc, son of Marioth, son of Aetoth, was over the house of God. ¹² And their brethren doing the work of the house were eight hundred and twenty-two: and Adaia son of Jeroam, son of Phalalia, son of Amasi, son of Zacharia, son of Phassur, son of Melchia, ¹³ and his brethren, chiefs of families, two hundred and forty-two: and Amasia son of Esdriel, son of Mesarimith, son of Emmer, ¹⁴ and his brethren, mighty men of war, one hundred and twenty-eight: and [their] overseer [was] Badiel son of [one of the] great men. ¹⁵ And of the Levites; Samaia, son of Esricam, ¹⁷ Matthanias son of Micha, and Jobeb son of Samui, ¹⁸ two hundred and eighty-four. ¹⁹ And the porters; Acub, Telamin, and their brethren, one hundred and seventy-two. ²² And the overseer of the Levites [was] the son of Bani, son of Ozi, son of Asabia, the son of Micha. Of the sons of Asaph the singers [some were] over the house of God, ²³ For so was the king's commandment concerning them. ²⁴ And Phathaia son of Baseza was in attendance on the king in every matter for the people, ²⁵ and with regard to villages in their country district: and [some] of the children of Juda lived in Cariatharhoc, ²⁶ and in Jesu, ²⁷ and in Bersabee: ³⁰ And their villages [were] Lachis and her hands: and they pitched their tents in Bersabee. ³¹ And the children of Benjamin [lived] from Gabaa [to] Machmas. ³⁶ And of the Levites there were divisions to Juda [and] to Benjamin.

A: ¹ the rulers; east lots Jerusalem certainly had many inhabitants at this time, but not sufficient to preserve the city, which was now encompassed with a wall, the building of which was going on fast. Nehemiah, therefore, obliged one-tenth of the country people to come and dwell in it, that the population might be sufficient for the defence of the city. Some volunteered their services, which was at that time considered a sacrifice to patriotism; as Jerusalem then afforded very few advantages, and was a place of considerable danger. ¹ Now these [are] the priests and the Levites that went up with Zorobabel the son of Salathiel and Jesus: Saraia, Jeremia, Esdra, ² Amaria, Maluch, ³ Sechenia. ⁷ These [were] the chiefs of the priests, and their brethren in the days of Jesus. ⁸ And the Levites [were], Jesus, Banui, Cadmiel, Sarabia, Jodae, Matthanias: he [was] over the bands, ⁹ and his brethren [were appointed] to the daily courses. ¹⁰ And Jesus begot Joakim, and Joakim begot Eliasib, and Eliasib [begot] Jodae, ¹¹ and Jodae begot Jonathan, and Jonathan begot Jadu. ¹² And in the days of Joakim, his brethren the priests and the heads of families [were, belonging] to Saraia, Amaria; to Jeremia, Anania;¹³ to Esdra, Mesulam; to Amaria, Joanan;¹⁴ to Amaluch, Jonathan; to Sechenia, Joseph;¹⁵ to Are, Mannas; to Marioth, Elcai;¹⁶ to Adadai, Zacharia; to Ganathoth, Mesolam;¹⁷ to Abia, Zechri; to Miamin, Maadai; to Pheleti, [one];¹⁸ to Balgas, Samue; to Semia, Jonathan;¹⁹ to Joarib, Matthanai; to Edio, Ozi;²⁰ to Salai, Callai; to Amec, Abed;²¹ to Elkia, Asabias; to Jedeiu, Nathanael.²² The Levites in the days of Eliasib, Joadai, and Joa, and Joanan, and Idua, [were] recorded heads of families: also the priests, in the reign of Darius the Persian.²³ And the sons of Levi, heads of families, [were] written in the book of the chronicles, even to the days of Joanan son of Elisue.²⁴ And the heads of the Levites [were] Asabia, and Sarabia, and Jesu: and the sons of Cadmiel, and their brethren over against them, were to sing hymns of praise, according to the commandment of David the man of God, course by course.²⁵ When I gathered the porters,²⁶ [it was] in the days of Joakim son of Jesus, son of Josedec, and in the days of Neemia: and Esdras the priest [was] scribe.²⁷ And at the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem they sought the Levites in their places, to bring them to Jerusalem, to keep a feast of dedication and gladness with thanksgiving, and they sounded cymbals with songs, and [had] lutes and harps.²⁸ And the sons of the singers were assembled both from the neighbourhood round about to Jerusalem, and from the villages,²⁹ and from the country: for the singers built themselves villages by Jerusalem.³⁰ And the priests and the Levites purified themselves, and they purified the people, and the porters, and the wall.³¹ And they brought up the princes of Juda on the wall, and they appointed two great [companies] for thanksgiving, and they passed on the right hand on the wall of the dung-gate.³² And after them went Osaia, and half the princes of Juda,³³ and Azarias, and Esdras, and Mesollam,³⁴ and Juda, and Benjamin, and Samaias and Jeremia.³⁵ And [some] of the sons of the priest with trumpets, Zacharias son of Jonathan, son of Samaias, son of Matthanai, son of Michai, son of Zacchur, son of Asaph:³⁶ and his brethren, Samaia, and Oziel, Gelol, Jama, Aia, Nathanael, and Juda, Anani, to praise with the hymns of David the man of God; and Esdras the scribe [was] before them,³⁷ at the gate, to praise before them, and they went up by the steps of the city of David, in the ascent of the wall, above the house of David, even to the water-gate³⁹ of Ephraim, and to the fish-gate, and by the tower of Anameel, and as far as the sheep-gate.⁴² And the singers were heard, and were numbered.⁴³ And in that day they offered great sacrifices, and rejoiced; for God had made them very joyful: and their wives and their children rejoiced: and the joy in Jerusalem was heard from afar off.⁴⁴ And in that day they appointed men over the treasures, for the treasures, the first fruits, and the tithes, and [for] the chiefs of the cities who were assembled among them, [to furnish] portions for the priests and Levites: for [there was] joy in Juda over the priests and over the Levites that waited.⁴⁵ And they kept the charges of their God, and the charges of the purification, and [ordered] the singers and the porters, according to the commandments of David and his son Solomon.⁴⁶ For in the days of David Asaph was originally first of the singers, and [they sang] hymns and praise to God.⁴⁷ And all Israel in the days of Zorobabel, and in the days of Neemias, gave the portions of the singers and the porters, a daily rate: and consecrated them to the Levites: and the Levites consecrated them to the sons of Aaron.

Ezra and Nehemiah 13

¹ In that day they read in the book of Moses in the ears of the people; and it was found written in it, that the Ammonites and Moabites should not enter into the congregation of God for ever; ² because they met not the children of Israel with bread and water; but hired Balaam against them to curse them: but our God turned the curse into a blessing. ³ And it came to pass, when they heard the law, that they were separated, [even] every alien in Israel. ⁴ And before this time Eliasib the priest lived in the treasury of the house of our God, connected with Tobias; ⁵ and he made himself a great treasury, and there they were formerly in the habit of bestowing the offerings, and the frankincense, and the vessels, and the tithe of the corn, and the wine, and the oil, the ordered portion of the Levites, and singers, and porters; and the first fruits of the priests. ⁶ But in all this [time] I was not in Jerusalem; for in the thirty-second year of Arthasastha king of Babylon I came to the king, and after a certain time I made my request of the king; ⁷ and I came to Jerusalem, and I understood the mischief which Eliasib had done in the case of Tobias, in making for him a treasury in the court of the house of God. ⁸ And it appeared very evil to me: so I cast forth all the furniture of the house of Tobias from the treasury. ⁹ And I gave orders, and they purified the treasuries: and I restored there the vessels of the house of God, [and] the offerings, and the frankincense. ¹⁰ And I understood that the portion of the Levites had not been given: and they had fled every one to his field, the Levites and the singers doing the work. ¹¹ And I strove with the commanders, and said, Therefore has the house of God been abandoned? and I assembled them, and set them in their place. ¹² And all Juda brought a tithe of the wheat and the wine and the oil into the treasuries, ¹³ to the charge of Selemia the priest, and Sadoc the scribe, and Phadaea of the Levites: and next to them [was] Anan the son of Zacchur, son of Matthanias; for they were accounted faithful: [it was] their office to distribute to their brethren. ¹⁴ Remember me, O God, in this, and let not my kindness be forgotten which I have wrought in [regard to] the house of the Lord God. ¹⁵ In those days I saw in Juda [men] treading wine presses on the sabbath, and carrying sheaves, and loading asses with both wine, and grapes, and figs, and every [kind of] burden, and bringing them into Jerusalem on the sabbath-day: ¹⁶ and I testified in the day of their sale. Also their lived in it [men] bringing fish, and selling every [kind of] merchandise to the children of Juda and in Jerusalem on the sabbath. ¹⁷ And I strove with the free children of Juda, and said to them, What [is] this evil thing which you□ do, and profane the sabbath-day? ¹⁸ Did not your fathers thus, and our God brought upon them and upon us and upon this city all these evils? and do you□ bring additional wrath upon Israel by profaning the sabbath? ¹⁹ And it came to pass, when the gates were set up in Jerusalem, before the sabbath, that I spoke, and they shut the gates; and I gave orders that they should not be opened till after the sabbath: and I set [some] of my servants at the gates, that none should bring [in] burdens on the sabbath-day. ²⁰ So all [the merchants] lodged, and carried on traffic without Jerusalem once or twice. ²¹ Then I testified against them, and said to them, Why do you□ lodge in front of the wall? if you□ do so again, I will stretch out my hand upon you. From that time they came not on the sabbath. ²² and I told the Levites who were purifying themselves, and came and kept the gates, that they should sanctify the sabbath-day. Remember me, O God, for these things, and spare me according to the abundance of your mercy. ²³ And in those days I saw the Jews who had married women of Ashdod, of Ammon, [and] of Moab: ²⁴ and their children spoke half in the language of Ashdod, and did not know how to speak in the Jewish language. ²⁵ And I strove with them and cursed them; and I struck some of them, and plucked off their hair, and made them swear by God, [saying,]You□ shall not give your daughters to their sons, and you□ shall not take of their daughters to your sons. ²⁶ Did not Solomon king of Israel sin thus? though there was no king like him among many nations, and he was beloved of God, and God made him king over all Israel; yet strange women turned him aside. ²⁷ So we will not listen to you to do all this evil, to break covenant with our God, —to marry strange wives. ²⁸ and Elisub the high priest, [one] of the sons of Joada, [being] son-in-law of Sanballat the Uranite, I chased him away from me. ²⁹ Remember them, O God, for their [false] connection with the priesthood, and [the breaking] the covenant of the priesthood, and [for defiling] the Levites. ³⁰ So I purged them from all foreign connection, and established courses for the priests and the Levites, [every] man according to his work. ³¹ And the offering of the wood-bearers [was] at certain set times, and in the [times of the] first fruits. Remember me, O our God, for good.

Esther Introduction

Author and Attribution. Mordecai or a near-contemporary Jewish witness (traditional conservative view)

Authorship Basis. The book itself points to court knowledge and written records; Jewish tradition often linked it with Mordecai or a witness close to the events.

Jesus / NT Attribution. Though God's name is not explicit in the Hebrew form, the canonical narrative is received as true providential history preserving the covenant people.

Composition Date. Persian period

MT Timeline. likely 5th century BC or soon after LXX Timeline. MT chronology places Esther in the reign of Ahasuerus/Xerxes I within the Persian dispersion.

Historical Setting. The Greek Esther tradition is much fuller than the MT, adding prayers, letters, and explicit references to God; this edition's OT base uses the Greek Esther tradition in the LXX stream.

Purpose. Jewish preservation in Persia during the reign of Ahasuerus, between return waves to Judah.

Key Themes. To show God's providential preservation of His covenant people under foreign rule and the origin of Purim.

Outline. providence; preservation; reversal; covenant people in exile; Purim

Earliest Witnesses. Frag. Royal court crisis 1-4; Esther's intervention 5-7; Deliverance and Purim 8-10. 4Q Proto-Esther? evidence is debated and no certain Qumran Esther manuscript is widely accepted | Subst. uncertain No certain Hebrew Qumran Esther witness is securely established | Heb. n/a Leningrad Codex | Gk. AD 1008 Codex Vaticanus and Alexandrinus preserve Greek Esther with additions

Earliest External Attestation. 4th-5th century AD by Retelling of Esther traditions (Josephus)

Textual Notes. 1st century AD

Conservative Notes. Esther is a major MT/LXX divergence point because the Greek tradition contains substantial additions absent from the MT; this study edition should note those differences clearly.

¹ [In the second year of the reign of Artaxerxes the great king, on the first [day] of Nisan, Mardocheaus the [son] of Jarius, the [son] of Semeias, the [son] of Cisaus, of the tribe of Benjamine, a Jew dwelling in the city Susa, a great man, serving in the king's palace, saw a vision. Now he was of the captivity which Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had carried captive from Jerusalem, with Jachonias the king of Judea. And this was his dream: Behold, voices and a noise, thunders and earthquake, tumult upon the earth. And, behold, two great serpents came forth, both ready for conflict, and there came from them a great voice, and by their voice every nation was prepared for battle, even to fight against the nation of the just. And, behold, a day of darkness and blackness, tribulation and anguish, affection and tumult upon the earth. And all the righteous nation was troubled, fearing their own afflictions; and they prepared to die, and cried to God: and from their cry there came as it were a great river from a little fountain, [even] much water. And light and the sun arose, and the lowly were exalted, and devoured the honorable. And Mardocheaus who had seen this vision and what God desired to do, having awoke, kept it in his heart, and desired by all means to interpret it, even till night. And Mardocheaus rested quiet in the palace with Gabatha and Tharrha the king's two chamberlains, eunuchs who guarded the palace. And he heard their reasoning and searched out their plans, and learned that they were preparing to lay hands on king Artaxerxes: and he informed the king concerning them. And the king examined the two chamberlains, and they confessed, and were executed. And the king wrote these things for a memorial: also Mardocheaus wrote concerning these matters. And the king commanded Mardocheaus to attend in the palace, and gave gifts for this service. And Aman the son of Amadathes the Bugean was honorable in the sight of the king, and he endeavored to hurt Mardocheaus and his people, because of the two chamberlains of the king.] And it came to pass after these things in the days of Artaxerxes, —(this Artaxerxes ruled over one hundred and twenty-seven provinces from India)—² in those days, when king Artaxerxes was on the throne in the city of Susa,³ in the third year of his reign, he made a feast to his friends, and the other nations, and to the nobles of the Persians and Medes, and the chief of the satraps.⁴ And after this, after he had shown to them the wealth of his kingdom, and the abundant glory of his wealth during one hundred and eighty days,⁵ when, [I say], the days of the marriage feast were completed, the king made a banquet to the nations who were present in the city six days, in the court of the king's house,⁶ [which was] adorned with [hangings] of fine linen and flax on cords of fine linen and purple, fastened to golden and silver studs, on pillars of Parian marble and stone: [there were] golden and silver couches on a pavement of emerald stone, and of pearl, and of Parian stone, and open-worked coverings variously flowered, [having] roses worked round about;⁷ gold and silver cups, and a small cup of carbuncle set out of the value of thirty thousand talents, abundant and sweet wine, which the king himself drank.⁸ And this banquet was not according to the appointed law; but so the king would have it: and he charged the stewards to perform his will and that of the company.⁹ Also Astin the queen made a banquet for the women in the palace where king Artaxerxes [lived].¹⁰ Now on the seventh day the king, being merry, told Aman, and Bazan, and Tharrha, and Barazi, and Zatholtha, and Abataza, and Tharaba, the seven chamberlains, servants of king Artaxerxes,¹¹ to bring in the queen to him, to enthrone her; and crown her with the diadem, and to show her to the princes, and her beauty to the nations: for she was beautiful.¹² But queen Astin listened not to him to come with the chamberlains: so the king was grieved and angered.¹³ And he said to his friends, Thus have Astin spoken: pronounce therefore upon this [case] law and judgment.¹⁴ So Arkesaeus, and Sarsathaeus, and Malisear, the princes of the Persians and Medes, who were near the king, who sat chief [in rank] by the king, drew near to him,¹⁵ and reported to him according to the laws how it was proper to do to queen Astin, because she had not done the things commanded of the king by the chamberlains.¹⁶ And Muchaeus said to the king and to the princes, Queen Astin has not wronged the king only, but also all the king's rulers and princes:¹⁷ for he has told them the words of the queen, and how she disobeyed the king. As then, [said he], she refused [to obey] king Artaxerxes,¹⁸ so this day shall the other ladies of the chiefs of the Persians and Medes, having heard what she said to the king, dare in the same way to dishonor their husbands.¹⁹ If then it seem good to the king, let him make a royal decree, and let it be written according to the laws of the Medes and Persians, and let him not alter [it]: and let not the queen come in to him any more; and let the king give her royalty to a woman better than she.²⁰ And let the law of the king which he shall have made, be widely proclaimed, in his kingdom: and so shall all the women give honor to their husbands, from the poor even to the rich.²¹ And the saying pleased the king and the princes; and the king did as Muchaeus had said,²² and sent into all his kingdom through the several provinces, according to their language, in order that men might be feared in their own houses.

Aminadab the brother of Mardocheaus' father to go in to the king, she neglected nothing which the chamberlain, the women's keeper, commanded; for Esther found grace in the sight of all that looked upon her. ¹⁶ So Esther went in to king Artaxerxes in the twelfth month, which is Adar, in the seventh year of his reign. ¹⁷ And the king loved Esther, and she found favor beyond all the [other] virgins: and he put on her the queen's crown. ¹⁸ And the king made a banquet for all his friends and great men for seven days, and he highly celebrated the marriage of Esther; and he made a release to those who were under his dominion. ¹⁹ But Mardocheaus served in the palace. ²⁰ Now Esther had not revealed her kindred; for so Mardocheaus commanded her, to fear God, and perform his commandments, as when she was with him: and Esther changed not her manner of life. ²¹ And two chamberlains of the king, the chiefs of the body-guard, were grieved, because Mardocheaus was promoted; and they sought to kill king Artaxerxes. ²² And the matter was revealed to Mardocheaus, and he made it known to Esther, and she declared to the king the matter of the conspiracy. ²³ And the king examined the two chamberlains, and hanged them: and the king gave orders to make a note for a memorial in the royal records of the good offices of Mardocheaus, as a commendation.

fourteenth [day] of the month which is Adar. ⁸ And he spoke to king Artaxerxes, saying, There is a nation scattered among the nations in all your kingdom, and their laws differ from [those of] all the [other] nations; and they disobey the laws of the king; and it is not expedient for the king to let them alone. ⁹ If it seem good to the king, let him make a decree to destroy them: and I will remit into the king's treasury ten thousand talents of silver. ¹⁰ And the king took off his ring, and gave it into the hands of Aman, to seal the decrees against the Jews. ¹¹ And the king said to Aman, Keep the silver, and treat the nation as you will. ¹² So the king's recorders were called in the first month, on the thirteenth [day], and they wrote as Aman commanded to the captains and governors in every province, from India even to Ethiopia, to one hundred and twenty-seven provinces; and to the rulers of the nations according to their [several] languages, in the name of king Artaxerxes. ¹³ And [the message] was sent by posts throughout the kingdom of Artaxerxes, to destroy utterly the race of the Jews on the first day of the twelfth month, which is Adar, and to plunder their goods. [And the following is the copy of the letter; The great king Artaxerxes writes thus to the rulers and inferior governors of one hundred and twenty-seven provinces, from India even to Ethiopia, who hold authority under [him]. Ruling over many nations and having obtained dominion over the whole world, I was minded (not elated by the confidence of power, but ever conducting [myself] with great moderation and gentleness) to make the lives of [my] subjects continually tranquil, desiring both to maintain the kingdom quiet and orderly to [its] utmost limits, and to restore the peace desired by all men. But when I had enquired of my counselors how this should be brought to pass. Aman, who excels in soundness of judgment among us, and has been manifestly well inclined without wavering and with unshaken fidelity, and had obtained the second post in the kingdom, informed us that a certain ill-disposed people is mixed up with all the tribes throughout the world, opposed in their law to every [other] nation, and continually neglecting the commands of the king, so that the united government blamelessly administered by us is not quietly established. Having then conceived that this nation [alone of all others] is continually set in opposition to every man, introducing as a change a foreign code of laws, and injuriously plotting to accomplish the worst of evils against our interests, and against the happy establishment of the monarchy; we signified to you in the letter written by Aman, who is set over [the public] affairs and is our second governor, to destroy them all utterly with their wives and children by the swords of the enemies, without pitying or sparing any, on the fourteenth day of the twelfth month Adar, of the present year; that the people aforesaid and now ill-disposed [to us] having been violently consigned to death in one day, may hereafter secure to us continually a well constituted and quiet [state of affairs.]] ¹⁴ And the copies of the letters were published in every province; and an order was given to all the nations to be ready against that day. ¹⁵ And the business was hastened, and [that] at Susa: and the king and Aman began to drink; but the city was troubled.

These servants were probably officers who here waited the king's call; and it is likely that Mordecai was one of them; bowed; bowed not Yichra welo yishtachaweh, "bowed not down, nor prostrated himself, " or worshipped him. Had this meant only civil reverence the king would not have had need to command it; nor would Mordecai have refused it; there was, therefore, some kind of divine honour intended, such as was paid to the Persian kings, and which even the Greeks refused, as express adoration. ⁴ when they spake that they told, he had told ⁵ that Mordecai, full of wrath ⁷ the first month in the twelfth, they cast Pur; Adar ⁸ scattered abroad; their laws; for the king's profit to Heb. meet, or equal for the king to, etc ⁹ that they may be destroyed Heb. to destroy them and I will pay Heb. and I will weigh; Here Haman is obliged to acknowledge that there would be a loss to the revenue, which he was willing to make up out of his own property. Ten thousand talents of silver, counted by the Babylonish talent, amount to 2, 119, 000£.; but reckoned by the Jewish talent, they amount to double that sum. In those days, silver and gold were more plentiful than at present; and we have many instances of individuals possessing almost incredible riches. Herodotus relates, that when Xerxes went into Greece, Pythius the Lydian had 2, 000 talents of silver, and 4, 000, 000 of gold darics, which unitedly amount to nearly 5, 500, 000£. Plutarch tells us, that after Crassus had dedicated the tenth of all he had to Hercules, he entertained the Roman people at 10, 000 tables, and distributed to every citizen as much corn as was sufficient for three months; and, after all these expenses, he had 7, 100; Roman talents left, which amount to more than 1, 500, 000£. Lentulus the augur is said to have possessed no less than 3, 333, 333£. 6s. 8d. Apicius was worth more than 916, 671£ 13s. 4d.; and, after having spent in his kitchen 833, 333£ 6s. 8d. he considered the remainder too little for his support, and poisoned himself! ten thousand ¹² Then were scribes or, secretaries according, in the name; sealed ¹³ by posts; both young, in one day; the spoil ¹⁵ hastened, sat down; the city that we may live and sing praise to your name, O Lord; and do not utterly destroy the mouth of them that praise you, O Lord. And all Israel cried with [all] their might, for death [was] before their eyes. And queen Esther betook herself for refuge to the Lord, being taken [as it were] in the agony of death. And having taken off her glorious apparel, she put on garments of distress and mourning; and instead of grand perfumes she filled her head with ashes and dung, and she greatly brought down her body, and she filled every place of her glad adorning with the [torn] curls of her hair. And she implored the Lord God of Israel, and said, O my Lord, you alone are our king: help me [who am] destitute, and have no helper but you, for my danger [is] near at hand. I have heard from my birth, in the tribe of my kindred that you, Lord, took Israel out of all the nations, and our fathers out of all their kindred for a perpetual inheritance, and have wrought for them all that you have said. And now we have sinned before you, and you have delivered us into the hands of our enemies, because we honored their gods: you are righteous, O Lord. But now they have not been contented with the bitterness of our slavery, but have laid their hands on the hands of their idols, [in order] to abolish the decree of your mouth, and utterly to destroy your inheritances, and to stop the mouth of them that praise you, and to extinguish the glory of your house and your altar, and to open the mouth of the Gentiles to [speak] the praises of vanities, and [in order] that a mortal king should be admired for ever. O Lord, do not resign your sceptre to them that are not, and let them not laugh at our fall, but turn their counsel against themselves, and make an example of him who has begun [to injure] us. Remember [us], O Lord, manifest yourself in the time of our affliction, and encourage me, O King of gods, and ruler of all dominion. Put harmonious speech into my mouth before the lion, and turn his heart to hate him that fights against us, to the utter destruction of him that consent with him. But deliver us by your hand, and help me [who am] destitute, and have none but the, O Lord. You know all things, and know that I hate the glory of transgressors, and that I abhor the couch of the uncircumcised, and of every stranger. You know my necessity, for I abhor the symbol of my proud station, which is upon my head in the days of my splendor: I abhor it as a menstruous cloth, and I wear it not in the days of my tranquility. And your handmaid has not eaten [at] the table of Aman, and I have not honored the banquet of the king, neither have I drunk wine of libations. Neither has your handmaid rejoiced since the day of my promotion until now, except in you, O Lord God of Abraam. O god, who has power over all, listen to the voice of the desperate, and deliver us from the hand of them that devise mischief; and deliver me from my fear.]

Esther (Greek) 4

She was therefore bound in gratitude to do this service for God, else she would not have answered the end of her elevation, and she need not fear the miscarriage of the enterprise, for if God designed her for it, he would surely bear her through and give success. It appeared by the event that Mordecai spoke prophetically, when he modestly conjectured that Esther came to the kingdom that she might be the instrument of the Jews' deliverance. Mordecai thoroughly believed that it was a cause which one way or other would certainly be carried, and which, therefore, she might safely venture upon. Instruments might fail, but God's covenant cannot. Esther (Greek) 5

¹ And it came to pass on the third day, when she had ceased praying, that she put off her mean dress, and put on her glorious apparel. And being splendidly arrayed, [and] having called upon God the Overseer and Preserver of all things, she took her two maids, and she leaned upon one, as a delicate female, and the other followed bearing her train. And she [was] blooming in the perfection of her beauty; and her face [was] cheerful, and [it were] benevolent, but her heart [was] straitened for fear. And having passed through all the doors, she stood before the king; and he was sitting upon his royal throne, and he had put on all his glorious apparel, [covered] all over with gold and precious stones, and was very terrible. And having raised his face resplendent with glory, he looked with intense anger: and the queen fell, and changed her color as she fainted; and she bowed herself upon the head of the maid that went before [her]. But God changed the spirit of the king to gentleness, and in intense feeling he sprang from off his throne, and took her into his arms, until she recovered: and he comforted her with peaceful words, and said to her, What is [the matter], Esther? I [am] your brother; be of good cheer, you shall not die, for our command is openly declared [to you], Draw near. ² And having raised the golden sceptre he laid it upon her neck, and embraced her, and said, Speak to me. And she said to him, I saw you, [my] lord, as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of your glory; for you, [my] lord, are to be wondered at, and your face [is] full of grace. And while she was speaking, she fainted and fell. Then the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her. ³ And the king said, What will you, Esther? and what is your request? [ask] even to the half of my kingdom, and it shall be yours. ⁴ And Esther said, To-day is my great day: if then it seem good to the king, let both him and Aman come to the feast which I will prepare this day. ⁵ And the king said, Hasten Aman hither, that we may perform the word of Esther. So they both come to the feast of which Esther had spoken. ⁶ And at the banquet the king said to Esther, What is [your request], queen Esther? [speak], and you shall have all that you require. ⁷ And she said, My request and my petition [are]: ⁸ if I have found favor in the sight of the king, let the king and Aman come again to-morrow to the feast which I shall prepare for them, and to-morrow I will do the same. ⁹ So Aman went out from the king very glad [and] merry: but when Aman saw Mardocheus the Jew in the court, he was greatly enraged. ¹⁰ And having gone into his own house, he called his friends, and his wife Zosara. ¹¹ And he showed them his wealth, and the glory with which the king had invested him, and how he had caused him to take precedence and bear chief rule in the kingdom. ¹² And Aman said, The queen has called no one to the feast with the king but me, and I am invited to-morrow. ¹³ But these things please me not, while I see Mardocheus the Jew in the court. ¹⁴ And Zosara his wife and his friends said to him, Let there be a gallows made for you of fifty cubits, and in the morning do you speak to the king, and let Mardocheus be hanged on the gallows: but do you go in to the feast with the king, and be merry. And the saying pleased Aman, and the gallows was prepared.

With them was served up excellent Shiraz wine. After an hour's time, the sweetmeats were removed, to make way for the more substantial part of the entertainment, such as rice, boiled and roast mutton, etc. When the company had been at table an hour and a half, warm water was brought, in a ewer of gold, for washing; and grace being said, they began to retire without speaking a word, according to the custom of the country." ⁸ perform Heb. do let the king Esther probably wished another interview, that she might ingratiate herself more fully into the king's favour, and thus secure the success of her design. ¹ But the Lord removed sleep from the king that night: and he told his servant to bring in the books, the registers of daily events, to read to him. ² And he found the records written concerning Mardocheaus, how he had told the king concerning the two chamberlains of the king, when they were keeping guard, and sought to lay hands on Artaxerxes. ³ And the king said, What honor or favor have we done to Mardocheaus? And the king's servants said, You have not done anything to him. ⁴ And while the king was enquiring about the kindness of Mardocheaus, behold, Aman [was] in the court. And the king said, Who [is] in the court? Now Aman was come in to speak to the king, that he should hang Mardocheaus on the gallows, which he had prepared. ⁵ And the king's servants said, Behold, Aman stands in the court. And the king said, Call him. ⁶ And the king said to Aman, What shall I do to the man whom I wish to honor? And Aman said within himself, Whom would the king honor but myself? ⁷ and he said to the king, As for the man whom the king wishes to honor, ⁸ let the king's servants bring the robe of fine linen which the king puts on, and the horse on which the king rides, ⁹ and let him give [it] to one of the king's noble friends, and let him array the man whom the king loves; and let him mount him on the horse, and proclaim through the street of the city, saying, Thus shall it be [done] to every man whom the king honors. ¹⁰ Then the king said to Aman, You have well said: so do to Mardocheaus the Jew, who waits in the palace, and let not a word of what you have spoken be neglected. ¹¹ So Aman took the robe and the horse, and arrayed Mardocheaus, and mounted him on the horse, and went through the street of the city, and proclaimed, saying, Thus shall it be to every man whom the king wishes to honor. ¹² And Mardocheaus returned to the palace: but Aman went home mourning, and having his head covered. ¹³ And Aman related the events that had befallen him to Zosara his wife, and to [his] friends: and his friends and his wife said to him, If Mardocheaus [be] of the race of the Jews, [and] you have begun to be humbled before him, you will assuredly fall, and you will not be able to withstand him, for the living God [is] with him. ¹⁴ While they were yet speaking, the chamberlains arrived, to hasten Aman to the banquet which Esther had prepared.

¹ So the king and Aman went in to drink with the queen. ² And the king said to Esther at the banquet on the second day, What is it, queen Esther? and what [is] your request, and what [is] your petition? and it shall be [done] for you, to the half of my kingdom. ³ And she answered and said, If I have found favor in the sight of the king, let [my] life be granted to my petition, and my people to my request. ⁴ For both I and my people are sold for destruction, and pillage, and slavery; [both] we and our children for bondmen and bondwomen: and I consented not to it, for the [is] not worthy of the king's palace. ⁵ And the king said, Who [is] this that has dared to do this thing? ⁶ And Esther said, the adversary [is] Aman, this wicked man. Then Aman was troubled before the king and the queen. ⁷ And the king rose up from the banquet to go into the garden: and Aman began to entreat the queen; for he saw that he was in an evil case. ⁸ And the king returned from the garden; and Aman had fallen upon the bed, intreating the queen. And the king said, Will you even force [my] wife in my house? And when Aman heard it, he changed countenance. ⁹ And Bugathan, one of the chamberlains, said to the king, Behold, Aman has also prepared a gallows for Mardocheaus, who spoke concerning the king, and a gallows of fifty cubits high has been set up in the premises of Aman. And the king said, Let him be hanged thereon. ¹⁰ So Aman was hanged on the gallows that had been prepared for Mardocheaus: and then the king's wrath was appeased.

Esther (Greek) 8

is not lawful to gainsay them. ⁹ So the scribes were called in the first month, which is Nisan, on the three and twentieth day of the same year; and [orders] were written to the Jews, whatever [the king had] commanded to the local governors and chiefs of the satraps, from India even to Ethiopia, one hundred and twenty-seven satraps, according to the several provinces, according to their dialects. ¹⁰ And they were written by order of the king, and sealed with his ring, and they sent the letters by the posts: ¹¹ wherein he charged them to use their [own] laws in every city, and to help each other, and to treat their adversaries, and those who attacked them, as they pleased, ¹² on one day in all the kingdom of Artaxerxes, on the thirteenth [day] of the twelfth month, which is Adar. ¹³ And let the copies be posted in conspicuous places throughout the kingdom, and let all the Jews be ready against this day, to fight against their enemies. And the following is the copy of the letter of the orders. [The great king Artaxerxes sends greetings to the rulers of provinces [in] one hundred and twenty-seven satrapies, from India to Ethiopia, even to those who are faithful to our interests. Many who have been frequently honored by the most abundant kindness of their benefactors have conceived ambitious designs, and not only endeavor to hurt our subjects, but moreover, not being able to bear prosperity, they also endeavor to plot against their own benefactors. And they not only would utterly abolish gratitude from among men, but also, elated by the boastings of men who are strangers to all that is good, they supposed that they shall escape the sin-hating vengeance of the ever-seeing God. And oftentimes [evil] exhortation has made partakers of the guilt of shedding innocent blood, and has involved in irremediable calamities, many of those who had been appointed to offices of authority, who had been entrusted with the management of their friends' affairs; while [men], by the false sophistry of an evil disposition, have deceived the simple candour of the ruling powers. And it is possible to see [this], not so much from more ancient traditionary accounts, as it is immediately in your power [to see it] by examining what things have been wickedly perpetrated by the baseness of men unworthily holding power. And [it is right] to take heed with regard to the future, that we may maintain the government in undisturbed peace for all men, adopting [needful] changes, and ever judging those cases which come under our notice, with truly equitable decision. For whereas Aman, a Macedonian, the son of Amadathes, in reality an alien from the blood of the Persians, and differing widely from our mild course of government, having been hospitable entertained by us, obtained so large a share of our universal kindness, as to be called our father, and to continue the person next to the royal throne, revered of all; [he however], overcome by the pride [of his station], endeavored to deprive us of our dominion, and our life: having by various and subtle artifices demanded for destruction both Mardochaeus our deliverer and perpetual benefactor, and Esther the blameless consort of [our] kingdom, with their whole nation. For by these methods he thought, having surprised us in a defenceless state, to transfer the dominion of the Persians to the Macedonians. But we find that the Jews, who have been consigned to destruction by the most abominable of men, are not malefactors, but living according to the justest laws, and being the sons of the living God, the most high and mighty, who maintains the kingdom. to us as well as to our forefathers, in the most excellent order. You□ will therefore do well in refusing to obey the letter sent by Aman the son of Amadathes, because he that has done these things, has been hanged with his whole family at the gates of Susa, Almighty God having swiftly returned to him a worthy recompence, [We enjoin you] then, having openly published a copy of this letter in every place, to give the Jews permission to use their own lawful customs, and to strengthen them, that on the thirteenth of the twelfth month Adar, on the self-same day, they may defend themselves against those who attack them in a time of affliction. For in the place of the destruction of the chosen race, Almighty God has granted them this [time of] gladness. Do you□ therefore also, among your [notable] feasts, keep a distinct day with all festivity, that both now and hereafter it may be a day of deliverance to us and who are well disposed toward the Persians, but to those that plotted against us a memorial of destruction. And every city and province collectively, which shall not do accordingly, shall be consumed with vengeance by spear and fire: it shall be made not only inaccessible to men, but most hateful to wild beasts and birds for ever.] And let the copies be posted in conspicuous places throughout the kingdom and let all the Jews be ready against this day, to fight against their enemies. ¹⁴ So the horsemen went forth with haste to perform the king's commands; and the ordinance was also published in Susa. ¹⁵ And Mardochaeus went forth robed in the royal apparel, and wearing a golden crown, and a diadem of fine purple linen: and the people in Susa saw [it] and rejoiced. ¹⁶ And the Jews had light and gladness, ¹⁷ in every city and province wherever the ordinance was published: wherever the proclamation took place, the Jews had joy and gladness, feasting and mirth: and many of the Gentiles were circumcised, and became Jews, for fear of the Jews.

¹ For in the twelfth month, on the thirteenth day of the month which is Adar, the letters written by the king arrived. ² In that day the adversaries of the Jews perished: for no one resisted, through fear of them. ³ For the chiefs of the satraps, and the princes and the royal scribes, honored the Jews; for the fear of Mardochaeus lay upon them. ⁴ For the order of the king was in force, that he should be celebrated in all the kingdom. ⁶ And in the city Susa the Jews killed five hundred men: ⁷ both Pharsannes, and Delphon and Phasga, ⁸ and Pharadatha, and Barea, and Sarbaca, ⁹ and Marmasima, and Ruphaeus, and Arsaeus, and Zabuthaeus, ¹⁰ the ten sons of Aman the son of Amadathes the Bugaeon, the enemy of the Jews, and they plundered [their property] on the same day: ¹¹ and the number of them that perished in Susa was rendered to the king. ¹² And the king said to Esther, The Jews have slain five hundred men in the city Susa; and how, think you, have they used them in the rest of the country? What then do you yet ask, that it may be [done] for you? ¹³ And Esther said to the king, let it be granted to the Jews so to treat them tomorrow as to hand the ten sons of Aman. ¹⁴ And he permitted it to be so done; and he gave up to the Jews of the city the bodies of the sons of Aman to hang. ¹⁵ And the Jews assembled in Susa on the fourteenth [day] of Adar, and killed three hundred men, but plundered no property. ¹⁶ And the rest of the Jews who were in the kingdom assembled, and helped one another, and obtained rest from their enemies: for they destroyed fifteen thousand of them on the thirteenth [day] of Adar, but took no spoil. ¹⁷ And they rested on the fourteenth of the same month, and kept it as a day of rest with joy and gladness. ¹⁸ And the Jews in the city Susa assembled also on the fourteenth [day] and rested; and they kept also the fifteenth with joy and gladness. ¹⁹ On this account then [it is that] the Jews dispersed in every foreign land keep the fourteenth of Adar [as] a holy day with joy, sending portions each to his neighbor. ²⁰ And Mardocheus wrote these things in a book, and sent them to the Jews, as many as were in the kingdom of Artaxerxes, both them that were near and them that were afar off, ²¹ to establish these [as] joyful days, and to keep the fourteenth and fifteenth of Adar; ²² for on these days the Jews obtained rest from their enemies; and [as to] the month, which was Adar, in which a change was made for them, from mourning to joy, and from sorrow to a good day, to spend the whole of it [in] good days of feasting and gladness, sending portions to their friends, and to the poor. ²³ And the Jews consented [to this] accordingly as Mardocheus wrote to them, ²⁴ [showing] how Aman the son of Amadathes the Macedonian fought against them, how he made a decree and cast lots to destroy them utterly; ²⁵ also how he went in to the king, telling [him] to hang Mardocheus: but all the calamities he tried to bring upon the Jews came upon himself, and he was hanged, and his children. ²⁶ Therefore these days were called Phrurae, because of the lots; (for in their language they are called Phrurae;) because of the words of this letter, and [because of] all they suffered on this account, and all that happened to them. ²⁷ And [Mardocheus] established it, and the Jews took upon themselves, and upon their seed, and upon those that were joined to them [to observe it], neither would they on any account behave differently: but these days [were to be] a memorial kept in every generation, and city, and family, and province. ²⁸ And these days of the Phrurae, [said they,] shall be kept for ever, and their memorial shall not fail in any generation. ²⁹ And queen Esther, the daughter of Aminadab, and Mardocheus the Jew, wrote all that they had done, and the confirmation of the letter of Phrurae. ³¹ And Mardocheus and Esther the queen appointed [a fast] for themselves privately, even at that time also having formed their plan against their own health. ³² And Esther established it by a command for ever, and it was written for a memorial.

[And Mardocheus said, These things have been done of God. For I remember the dream which I had concerning these matters: for not one particular of them has failed. And the nations are those [nations] that combined to destroy the name of the Jews. But [as for] my nation, this is Israel, [even] they that cried to God and were delivered: for the Lord delivered his people. And the Lord rescued us out of all these calamities; and God wrought such signs and great wonders as have not been done among the nations. Therefore did he ordain two lots. One for the people of God, and one for all the other [nations]. And these two lots came for an appointed season, and for a day of judgment, before God, and for all the nations. And God remembered his people, and vindicated his inheritance. Job Introduction

Author and Attribution. Job or an early inspired patriarchal-era recorder (conservative options vary)

Authorship Basis. Conservative scholarship differs on the exact human writer, but commonly treats the book as preserving very early patriarchal wisdom history under inspiration.

Jesus / NT Attribution. James 5:11 treats Job as a real historical exemplar of endurance.

Composition Date. patriarchal-era setting; composition date debated

MT Timeline. MT places Job in wisdom literature without explicit historical anchoring, but many conservative readers place the events in the patriarchal period.

LXX Timeline. The LXX of Job is notably shorter than the MT and can reflect a different Greek Vorlage or abridgment history.

Historical Setting. A wisdom dialogue set in the land of Uz around the suffering of a righteous man under God's sovereignty.

Purpose. To vindicate God's wisdom and sovereignty in suffering and to expose the limits of merely human explanations.

Key Themes. suffering; sovereignty; wisdom; righteousness; endurance; divine speeches

Outline. Prologue 1-2; Dialogues 3-31; Elihu 32-37; The LORD's answer 38-42; Epilogue 42.

Earliest Witnesses. Frag. 4Q Job and 11Q Targum Job witness early circulation of the book Hasmonean period | Subst. Qumran Job fragments preserve early Hebrew evidence, though the Greek Job tradition is especially significant Second Temple period | Heb. Leningrad Codex AD 1008 | Gk. Codex Vaticanus and Alexandrinus preserve Greek Job 4th-5th century AD

Earliest External Attestation. Job used as historical example by James (1st century AD)

Textual Notes. Job is a major MT/LXX comparison point because the Greek text is materially shorter than the MT; the difference should be noted regularly in apparatus work.

Conservative Notes. This edition receives Job as truthful wisdom history with originally inerrant wording, even where witness traditions differ substantially in extent or phrasing.

Job

Job 1

¹ There was a certain man in the land of Ausis, whose name [was] Job; and that man was true, blameless, righteous, [and] godly, abstaining from everything evil. ² And he had seven sons and three daughters. ³ And his cattle consisted of seven thousand sheep, three thousand camels, five hundred yoke of oxen, five hundred she-asses in the pastures, and a very great household, and he had a great husbandry on the earth; and that man was [most] noble of the [men] of the east. ⁴ And his sons visiting one another prepared a banquet every day, taking with them also their three sisters to eat and drink with them. ⁵ And when the days of the banquet were completed, Job sent and purified them, having risen up in the morning, and offered sacrifices for them, according to their number, and one calf for a sin-offering for their souls: for Job said, Lest perhaps my sons have thought evil in their minds against God. Thus, then Job did continually. ⁶ And it came to pass on a day, that behold, the angels of God came to stand before the Lord, and the devil came with them. ⁷ And the Lord said to the devil, Whence are you come? And the devil answered the Lord, and said, I am come from compassing the earth, and walking up and down in the world. ⁸ And the Lord said to him, Have you diligently considered my servant Job, that there is none like him on the earth, a man blameless, true, godly, abstaining from everything evil? ⁹ Then the devil answered, and said before the Lord, Does Job worship the Lord for nothing? ¹⁰ Have you not made a hedge about him, and about his household, and all his possessions round about? and have you not blessed the works of his hands, and multiplied his cattle upon the land? ¹¹ But put forth your hand, and touch all that he has: verily he will bless you to [your] face. ¹² Then the Lord said to the devil, Behold, I give into your hand all that he has, but touch not himself. So the devil went out from the presence of the Lord. ¹³ And it came to pass on a certain day, that Job's sons and his daughters were drinking wine in the house of their elder brother. ¹⁴ And, behold, there came a messenger to Job, and said to him, The yokes of oxen were plowing, and the she-asses were feeding near them; ¹⁵ and the spoilers came and took them for a prey, and killed the servants with the sword; and I having escaped alone am come to tell you. ¹⁶ While he was yet speaking, there came another messenger, and said to Job, Fire has fallen from heaven, and burnt up the sheep, and devoured the shepherds like wise; and I having escaped alone am come to tell you. ¹⁷ While he was yet speaking, there came another messenger, and said to Job, The horsemen formed three companies against us, and surrounded the camels, and took them for a prey, and killed the servants with the sword; and I only escaped, and am come to tell you. ¹⁸ While he is yet speaking, another messenger comes, saying to Job, While your sons and your daughters were eating and drinking with their elder brother, ¹⁹ suddenly a great wind came on from the desert, and caught the four corners of the house, and the house fell upon your children, and they are dead; and I have escaped alone, and am come to tell you. ²⁰ So Job arose, and tore his garments, and shaved the hair of his head, and fell on the earth, and worshipped, ²¹ and said, I myself came forth naked from my mother's womb, and naked shall I return there; the Lord gave, the Lord has taken away: as it seemed good to the Lord, so has it come to pass; blessed be the name of the Lord. ²² In all these events that befell him Job sinned not at all before the Lord, and did not impute folly to God.

Job 2

¹ And it came to pass on a certain day, that the angels of God came to stand before the Lord, and the devil came among them to stand before the Lord. ² And the Lord, said to the devil, Whence come you? Then the devil said before the Lord, I am come from going through the world, and walking about the whole earth. ³ And the Lord said to the devil, Have you then observed my servant Job, that there is none of [men] upon the earth like him, a harmless, true, blameless, godly man, abstaining from all evil? and he yet cleaves to innocence, whereas you have told [me] to destroy his substance without cause? ⁴ And the devil answered and said to the Lord, Skin for skin, all that a man has will he give as a ransom for his life. ⁵ Nay, but put forth your hand, and touch his bones and his flesh: verily he will bless you to [your] face. ⁶ And the Lord said to the devil, Behold, I deliver him up to you; only save his life. ⁷ So the devil went out from the Lord, and struck Job with sore boils from [his] feet to [his] head. ⁸ And he took a potsherd to scrape away the discharge, and sat upon a dung-heap outside the city. ⁹ And when much time had passed, his wife said to him, How long will you hold out, saying, Behold, I wait yet a little while, expecting the hope of my deliverance? for, behold, your memorial is abolished from the earth, [even your] sons and daughters, the pangs and pains of my womb which I bore in vain with sorrows; and you yourself sit down to spend the nights in the open air among the corruption of worms, and I am a wanderer and a servant from place to place and house to house, waiting for the setting of the sun, that I may rest from my labors and my pangs which now beset me: but say some word against the Lord, and die. ¹⁰ But he looked on her, and said to her, You have spoken like one of the foolish women. If we have received good things of the hand of the Lord, shall we not endure evil things? In all these things that happened to him, Job sinned not at all with his lips before God. ¹¹ Now his three friends having heard of all the evil that was come upon him, came to him each from his own country: Eliphaz the king of the Thaumans, Baldad sovereign of the Sauchians, Sophar king of the Minaeans: and they came to him with one accord, to comfort and to visit him. ¹² And when they saw him from a distance they did not know him; and they cried with a loud voice, and wept, and tore every one his garment, and sprinkled dust upon [their heads], ¹³ and they sat down beside him seven days and seven nights, and no one of them spoke; for they saw that his affliction was dreadful and very great.

Job 3

them away; let it not come into the days of the year, neither let it be numbered with the days of the months. ⁷ But let that night be pain, and let not mirth come upon it, nor joy. ⁸ But let him that curses that day curse it, [even] he that is ready to attack the great whale. ⁹ Let the stars of that night be darkened; let it remain [dark], and not come into light; and let it not see the morning star arise: ¹⁰ because it shut not up the gates of my mother's womb, for [so] it would have removed sorrow from my eyes. ¹¹ For why died I not in the belly? and [why] did I not come forth from the womb and die immediately? ¹² and why did the knees support me? and why did I suck the breasts? ¹³ Now I should have lain down and been quiet, I should have slept and been at rest, ¹⁴ with kings [and] councillors of the earth, who gloried in [their] swords; ¹⁵ or with rulers, whose gold was abundant, who filled their houses with silver: ¹⁶ or [I should have been] as an untimely birth proceeding from his mother's womb, or as infants who never saw light. ¹⁷ There the ungodly have burnt out the fury of rage; there the wearied in body rest. ¹⁸ And the men of old time have together ceased to hear the exactor's voice. ¹⁹ The small and great are there, and the servant that feared his lord. ²⁰ For why is light given to those who are in bitterness, and life to those souls which are in griefs? ²¹ who desire death, and obtain it not, digging [for it] as [for] treasures; ²² and would be very joyful if they should gain it? ²³ Death [is] rest to [such] a man, for God has hedged him in. ²⁴ For my groaning comes before my food, and I weep being beset with terror. ²⁵ For the terror of which I meditated has come upon me, and that which I had feared has befallen me. ²⁶ I was not at peace, nor quiet, nor had I rest; yet wrath came upon me.

¹ Then Eliphaz the Thaanite answered and said, ² Have you been often spoken to in distress? but who shall endure the force of your words? ³ For whereas you have instructed many, and have strengthened the hands of the weak one, ⁴ and have supported the failing with words, and have imparted courage to feeble knees. ⁵ Yet now [that] pain has come upon you, and touched you, you are troubled. ⁶ Is not your fear [founded] in folly, your hope also, and the mischief of your way? ⁷ Remember then who has perished, being pure? or when were the true-hearted utterly destroyed? ⁸ Accordingly as I have seen men plowing barren places, and they that sow them will reap sorrows for themselves. ⁹ They shall perish by the command of the Lord, and shall be utterly consumed by the breath of his wrath. ¹⁰ The strength of the lion, and the voice of the lioness, and the exulting cry of serpents are quenched. ¹¹ The old lion has perished for lack of food, and the lions' whelps have forsaken one another. ¹² But if there had been any truth in your words, none of these evils would have befallen you. Shall not my ear receive excellent [revelations] from him? ¹³ But [as when] terror falls upon men, with dread and a sound in the night, ¹⁴ horror and trembling seized me, and caused all my bones greatly to shake. ¹⁵ And a spirit came before my face; and my hair and flesh quivered. ¹⁶ I arose and perceived it not: I looked, and there, was no form before my eyes: but I only heard a breath and a voice, [saying], ¹⁷ What, shall a mortal be pure before the Lord? or a man be blameless in regard to his works? ¹⁸ Whereas he trust not in his servants, and perceives perverseness in his angels. ¹⁹ But [as for] them that dwell in houses of clay, of whom we also are formed of the same clay, he smites them like a moth. ²⁰ And from the morning to evening they no longer exist: they have perished, because they can't help themselves. ²¹ For he blows upon them, and they are withered: they have perished for lack of wisdom.

¹ But Job answered and said, ² Oh that one would indeed weigh the wrath that is upon me, and take up my griefs in a balance together! ³ And verily they would be heavier than the sand by the seashore: but, as it seems, my words are vain. ⁴ For the arrows of the Lord are in my body, whose violence drinks up my blood: whenever I am going to speak, they pierce me. ⁵ What then? will the wild ass bray for nothing, if he is not seeking food? or again, will the ox low at the manger, when he has a fodder? ⁶ Shall bread be eaten without salt? or again, is there taste in empty words? ⁷ For my wrath can't cease; for I perceive my food as the smell of a lion [to be] loathsome. ⁸ For oh that he would grant [my desire], and my petition might come, and the Lord would grant my hope! ⁹ Let the Lord begin and wound me, but let him not utterly destroy me. ¹⁰ Let the grave be my city, upon the walls of which I have leaped: I will not shrink from it; for I have not denied the holy words of my God. ¹¹ For what is my strength, that I continue? what is my time, that my soul endures? ¹² Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brass? ¹³ Or have I not trusted in him? but help is [far] from me. ¹⁴ Mercy has rejected me; and the visitation of the Lord has disregarded me. ¹⁵ My nearest relations have not regarded me; they have passed me by like a failing brook, or like a wave. ¹⁶ They who used to reverence me, now have come against me like snow or congealed ice. ¹⁷ When it has melted at the approach of heat, it is not known what it was. ¹⁸ Thus I also have been deserted of all; and I am ruined, and become an outcast. ¹⁹ Behold the ways of the Thaemanites, you□ that mark the paths of the Sabaeans. ²⁰ They too that trust in cities and riches shall come to shame. ²¹ But you□ also have come to me without pity; so that beholding my wound you□ are afraid. ²² What? have I made any demand of you? or do I ask for strength from you, ²³ to deliver me from enemies, or to rescue me from the hand of the mighty ones? ²⁴ Teach you□ me, and I will be silent: if in anything I have erred, tell me. ²⁵ But as it seems, the words of a true man are vain, because I do not ask strength of you. ²⁶ Neither will your reproof cause me to cease my words, for neither will I endure the sound of your speech. ²⁷

Even because you $\square$ attack the fatherless, and insult your friend. ²⁸ But now, having looked upon your countenances, I will not lie. ²⁹ Sit down now, and let there not be unrighteousness; and unite again with the just. ³⁰ For there is no injustice in my tongue; and does not my throat meditate understanding?

Job 7

¹ Is not the life of man upon earth a state of trial? and his existence as that of a hireling by the day? ² Or as a servant that fears his master, and one who has grasped a shadow? or as a hireling waiting for his pay? ³ So have I also endured months of vanity, and nights of pain have been appointed me. ⁴ Whenever I lie down, I say, When [will it be] day? and whenever I rise up, again [I say] when [will it be] evening? and I am full of pains from evening to morning. ⁵ And my body is covered with loathsome worms; and I waste away, scraping off clods of dust from my eruption. ⁶ And my life is lighter than a word, and has perished in vain hope. ⁷ Remember then that my life is breath, and my eye shall not yet again see good. ⁸ The eye of him that sees me shall not see me [again]: your eyes are upon me, and I am no more. ⁹ [I am] as a cloud that is cleared away from the sky: for if a man go down to the grave, he shall not come up again: ¹⁰ and he shall surely not return to his own house, neither shall his place know him any more. ¹¹ Then neither will I refrain my mouth: I will speak being in distress; being in anguish I will disclose the bitterness of my soul. ¹² Am I a sea, or a serpent, that you have set a watch over me? ¹³ I said that my bed should comfort me, and I would privately counsel with myself on my couch. ¹⁴ You scare me with dreams, and do terrify me with visions. ¹⁵ You will separate life from my spirit; and yet [keep] my bones from death. ¹⁶ For I shall not live for ever, that I should patiently endure: depart from me, for my life [is] vain. ¹⁷ For what is man, that you have magnified him? or that you give heed to him? ¹⁸ Will you visit him till the morning, and judge him till [the time of] rest? ¹⁹ How long do you not let me alone, nor let me go, until I shall swallow down my spittle? ²⁰ If I have sinned, what shall I be able to do, O you that understand the mind of men? why have you made me as your accuser, and [why] am I a burden to you? ²¹ Why have you not forgotten my iniquity, and purged my sin? but now I shall depart to the earth; and in the morning I am no more.

¹ Then Baldad the Sauchite answered, and said, ² How long will you speak these things, [how long shall] the breath of your mouth [be] abundant in words? ³ Will the Lord be unjust when he judges; or will he that has made all things pervert justice? ⁴ If your sons have sinned before him, he has cast them away because of their transgression. ⁵ But be you early in prayer to the Lord Almighty. ⁶ If you are pure and true, he will listen to your supplication, and will restore to you the habitation of righteousness. ⁷ Though then your beginning should be small, yet your end should be unspeakably great. ⁸ For ask of the former generation, and search diligently among the race of [our] fathers: ⁹ (for we are of yesterday, and know nothing; for our life upon the earth is a shadow;) ¹⁰ shall not these teach you, and report [to you], and bring out words from [their] heart? ¹¹ Does the rush flourish without water; or shall the flag grow up without moisture? ¹² When it is yet on the root, and [though] it has not been cut down, does not any herb wither before it has received moisture? ¹³ Thus then shall be the end of all that forget the Lord: for the hope of the ungodly shall perish. ¹⁴ For his house shall be without inhabitants, and his tent shall prove a spider's web. ¹⁵ If he should prop up his house, it shall not stand: and when he has taken hold of it, it shall not remain. ¹⁶ For it is moist under the sun, and his branch shall come forth out of his dung-heap. ¹⁷ He lies down upon a gathering of stones, and shall live in the mist of flints. ¹⁸ If [God] should destroy [him], his place shall deny him. Have you not seen such things, ¹⁹ that such is the overthrow of the ungodly? and out of the earth another shall grow. ²⁰ For the Lord will by no means reject the harmless man; but he will not receive any gift of the ungodly. ²¹ But he will fill with laughter the mouth of the sincere, and their lips with thanksgiving. ²² But their adversaries shall clothe themselves with shame; and the habitation of the ungodly shall perish.

Job 9

¹ Then Job answered and said, ² I know of a truth that it is so: for how shall a mortal man be just before the Lord? ³ For if he would enter into judgment with him, [God] would not listen to him, so that he should answer to one of his charges of a thousand. ⁴ For he is wise in mind, and mighty, and great: who has hardened himself against him and endured? ⁵ Who wears out the mountains, and [men] know it not: who overturns them in anger. ⁶ Who shakes the [earth] under heaven from its foundations, and its pillars totter. ⁷ Who commands the sun, and it rises not; and he seals up the stars. ⁸ Who alone has stretched out the heavens, and walks on the sea as on firm ground. ⁹ Who makes Pleias, and Hesperus, and Arcturus, and the chambers of the south. ¹⁰ Who does great and unsearchable things; glorious also and excellent things, innumerable. ¹¹ If ever he should go beyond me, I shall not see him: if he should pass by me, neither thus have I known [it]. ¹² If he would take away, who shall turn him back? or who shall say to him, What have you done? ¹³ For [if] he has turned away [his] anger, the whales under heaven have stooped under him. ¹⁴ Oh then that he would listen to me, or judge my cause. ¹⁵ For though I be righteous, he will not listen to me: I will entreat his judgment. ¹⁶ And if I should call and he should not listen, I can't believe that he has listened to my voice. ¹⁷ Let him not crush me with a dark storm: but he has made by bruises many without cause. ¹⁸ For he suffers me not to take breath, but he has filled me with bitterness. ¹⁹ For indeed he is strong in power: who then shall resist his judgment? ²⁰ For though I should seem righteous, my mouth will be profane: and though I should seem blameless, I shall be proved perverse. ²¹ For even if I have sinned, I know it not [in] my soul: but my life is taken away. ²² Therefore I said, Wrath slays the great and mighty man. ²³ For the worthless die, but the righteous are laughed to scorn. ²⁴ For they are delivered into the hands of the unrighteous [man]: he covers the faces of the judges [of the earth]: but if it be not he, who is it? ²⁵ But my life is swifter than a post: [my days] have fled away, and they knew it not. ²⁶ Or again, is there a trace of [their] path [left] by ships? or is there one of the flying eagle as it seeks [its] prey? ²⁷ And if I should say, I will forget to speak, I will bow down my face and groan; ²⁸ I quake in all my limbs, for I know that you will not leave me alone [as] innocent. ²⁹ But since I am ungodly, why have I not died? ³⁰ For if I should wash myself with snow, and purge myself with pure hands, ³¹ you had thoroughly plunged me in filth, and my garment had abhorred me. ³² For you are not man like me, with whom I could contend, that we might come together to judgment. ³³ Would that [he] our mediator were [present], and a reprover, and one who should hear [the cause] between both. ³⁴ Let him remove [his] rod from me, and let not his fear terrify me: ³⁵ so shall I not be afraid, but I will speak: for I am not thus conscious [of guilt].

Job 10

¹ Weary in my soul, I will pour my words with groans upon him: I will speak being straitened in the bitterness of my soul. ² And I will say to the Lord, Do not teach me to be impious; and therefore have you thus judged me? ³ Is it good before you if I be unrighteous? for you have disowned the work of your hands, and attended to the counsel of the ungodly. ⁴ Or do you see as a mortal sees? or will you look as a man sees? ⁵ Or is your life human, or your years [the years] of a man, ⁶ that you have enquired into my iniquity, and searched out my sins? ⁷ For you know that I have not committed iniquity: but who is he that can deliver out of your hands? ⁸ Your hands have formed me and made me; afterwards you did change [your mind], and strike me. ⁹ Remember that you have made me [as] clay, and you do turn me again to earth. ¹⁰ Have you not poured me out like milk, and curdled me like cheese? ¹¹ And you did clothe me with skin and flesh, and frame me with bones and sinews. ¹² And you did bestow upon me life and mercy, and your oversight has preserved my spirit. ¹³ Having these things in yourself, I know that you can do all things; for nothing is impossible with you. ¹⁴ And if I should sin, you watch me; and you have not cleared me from iniquity. ¹⁵ Or if I should be ungodly, woe is me: and if I should be righteous, I can't lift myself up, for I am full of dishonor. ¹⁶ For I am hunted like a lion for slaughter; for again you have changed and are terribly destroying me; ¹⁷ renewing against me my torture: and you have dealt with me in great anger, and you have brought trials upon me. ¹⁸ Why then did you bring me out of the womb? and why did I not die, and no eye see me, ¹⁹ and I become as if I had not been? for why was I not carried from the womb to the grave? ²⁰ Is not the time of my life short? suffer me to rest a little, ²¹ before I go whence I shall not return, to a land of darkness and gloominess; ²² to a land of perpetual darkness, where there is no light, neither [can any one] see the life of mortals.

Job 11

¹ Then Sophar the Minaean answered and said, ² He that speaks much, should also hear on the other side: or does the fluent speaker think himself to be righteous? blessed [is] the short lived offspring of woman. ³ Be not a speaker of many words; for is there none to answer you? ⁴ For say not, I am pure in my works, and blameless before him. ⁵ But oh that the Lord would speak to you, and open his lips to you! ⁶ Then shall he declare to you the power of wisdom; for it shall be double of that which is with you: and then shall you know, that a just recompence of your sins has come to you from the Lord. ⁷ Will you find out the traces of the Lord? or have you come to the end [of that] which the Almighty has made? ⁸ Heaven [is] high; and what will you do? and there are deeper things than those in hell; what do you know? ⁹ Or longer than the measure of the earth, or the breadth of the sea. ¹⁰ And if he should overthrow all things, who will say to him, What have you done? ¹¹ For he knows the works of transgressors; and when he sees wickedness, he will not overlook [it]. ¹² But man vainly buoys himself up with words; and a mortal born of woman [is] like an ass in the desert. ¹³ For if you have made your heart pure, and lift up [your] hands towards him; ¹⁴ if there is any iniquity in your hands, put it far from you, and let not unrighteousness lodge in your habitation. ¹⁵ For thus shall your countenance shine again, as pure water; and you shall dive yourself of uncleanness, and shall not fear. ¹⁶ And you shall forget trouble, as a wave that has passed by; and you shall not be scared. ¹⁷ And your prayer [shall be] as the morning star, and life shall arise to you [as] from the noonday. ¹⁸ And you shall be confident, because you have hope; and peace shall dawn to you from out of anxiety and care. ¹⁹ For you shall be at ease, and there shall be no one to fight against you; and many shall charge, and make supplication to you. ²⁰ But safety shall fail them; for their hope is destruction, and the eyes of the ungodly shall waste away.

Job 12

¹ And Job answered and said, ² So then you□ [alone] are men, and wisdom shall die with you? ³ [But] I also have a heart as well as you. ⁴ For a righteous and blameless man has become a subject for mockery. ⁵ For it had been ordained that he should fall under others at the appointed time, and that his houses should be spoiled by transgressors: let not however any one trust that, being evil, he shall be [held] guiltless, ⁶ even as many as provoke the Lord, as if there were indeed to be no inquisition [made] of them. ⁷ But ask now the beasts, if they may speak to you; and the birds of the air, if they may declare to you. ⁸ Tell the earth, if it may speak to you: and the fishes of the sea shall explain to you. ⁹ Who then has not known in all these things, that the hand of the Lord has made them? ¹⁰ Whereas the life of all living things is in his hand, and the breath of every man. ¹¹ For the ear tries words, and the palate tastes meats. ¹² In length of time is wisdom, and in long life knowledge. ¹³ With him are wisdom and power, with him counsel and understanding. ¹⁴ If he should cast down, who will build up? if he should shut up against man, who shall open? ¹⁵ If he should withhold the water, he will dry the earth: and if he should let it loose, he overthrows and destroys it. ¹⁶ With him are strength and power: he has knowledge and understanding. ¹⁷ He leads counselors away captive, and maddens the judges of the earth. ¹⁸ He seats kings upon thrones, and girds their loins with a girdle. ¹⁹ He sends away priests into captivity, and overthrows the mighty ones of the earth. ²⁰ He changes the lips of the trusty, and he knows the understanding of the elders. ²¹ He pours dishonor upon princes, and heals the lowly. ²² Revealing deep things out of darkness: and he has brought into light the shadow of death. ²³ Causing the nations to wander, and destroying them: overthrowing the nations, and leading them [away]. ²⁴ Perplexing the minds of the princes of the earth: and he causes them to wander in a way, they have not known, [saying], ²⁵ Let them grope [in] darkness, and [let there be] no light, and let them wander as a drunken man.

¹ Behold, my eye has seen these things, and my ear has heard [them]. ² And I know all that you□ too know; and I have not less understanding than you. ³ Nevertheless I will speak to the Lord, and I will reason before him, if he will. ⁴ But you□ are all bad physicians, and healers of diseases. ⁵ But would that you□ were silent, and it would be wisdom to you in the end. ⁶ But hear you□ the reasoning of my mouth, and attend to the judgment of my lips. ⁷ Do you□ not speak before the Lord, and utter deceit before him? ⁸ Or will you□ draw back? nay do, you□ yourselves be judges. ⁹ For [it were] well if he would thoroughly search you: for though doing all things [in your power] you□ should attach yourselves to him, ¹⁰ he will not reprove you at all the less: but if moreover you□ should secretly respect persons, ¹¹ shall not his whirlpool sweep you round, and terror from him fall upon you? ¹² And your glorying shall prove in the end to you like ashes, and your body [like a body] of clay. ¹³ Be silent, that I may speak, and cease from [my] anger, ¹⁴ while I may take my flesh in my teeth, and put my life in my hand. ¹⁵ Though the Mighty One should lay hand upon me, forasmuch as he has begun, verily I will speak, and plead before him. ¹⁶ And this shall turn to me for salvation; for fraud shall have no entrance before him. ¹⁷ Hear, hear you ☐ my words, for I will declare in your hearing. ¹⁸ Behold, I am near my judgment: I know that I shall appear evidently just. ¹⁹ For who is he that shall plead with me, that I should now be silent, and expire? ²⁰ But grant me two things: then I will not hide myself from your face. ²¹ Withhold [your] hand from me: and let not your fear terrify me. ²² Then shall you call, and I will listen to you: or you shall speak, and I will give you an answer. ²³ How many are my sins and my transgressions? teach me what they are. ²⁴ Therefore hide you yourself from me, and deem me your enemy? ²⁵ Will you be startled [at me], as [at] a leaf shaken by the wind? or will you set yourself against me as against grass borne upon the breeze? ²⁶ for you have written evil things against me, and you have compassed me with the sins of my youth. ²⁷ And you have placed my foot in the stocks; and you have watched all my works, and have penetrated my heels. ²⁸ [I am as] that which waxes old like a bottle, or like a moth-eaten garment.

hands. ¹⁶ But you have numbered my devices: and not one of my sins shall escape you? ¹⁷ And you have sealed up my transgressions in a bag, and marked if I have been guilty of any transgression unawares. ¹⁸ And verily a mountain falling will utterly be destroyed, and a rock shall be worn out of its place. ¹⁹ The waters wear the stones, and waters falling headlong [overflow] a heap of the earth: and you destroy the hope of man. ²⁰ You drive him to an end, and he is gone: you set your face against him, and send him away; ²¹ and though his children be multiplied, he knows [it] not; and if they be few, he is not aware. ²² But his flesh is in pain, and his soul mourns.

¹ Then Eliphaz the Themanite answered and said, ² Will a wise man give for answer a [mere] breath of wisdom? and does he fill up the pain of his belly; ³ reasoning with improper sayings, and with words wherein is no profit? ⁴ Have not you moreover cast off fear, and accomplished such words before the Lord? ⁵ You are guilty by the words of your mouth, neither have you discerned the words of the mighty. ⁶ Let your own mouth, and not me, reprove you: and your lips shall testify against you. ⁷ What! are you the first man that was born? or were you established before the hills? ⁸ Or have you heard the ordinance of the Lord? or has God used you as [his] counsellor? and has wisdom come [only] to you? ⁹ For what know you, that, we know not? or what understand you, which we do not also? ¹⁰ Truly among us [are] both the old and very aged man, more advanced in days than your father. ¹¹ You have been scourged for [but] few of your sins: you have spoken haughtily [and] extravagantly. ¹² What has your heart dared? or what have your eyes [aimed at], ¹³ that you have vented [your] rage before the Lord, and delivered such words from [your] mouth? ¹⁴ For who, being a mortal, [is such] that he shall be blameless? or, [who that is] born of a woman, that he should be just? ¹⁵ Forasmuch as he trusts not his saints; and the heaven is not pure before him. ¹⁶ Alas then, abominable and unclean is man, drinking unrighteousness as a draught. ¹⁷ But I will tell you, listen to me; I will tell you now what I have seen; ¹⁸ things wise men say, and their fathers have not hidden. ¹⁹ To them alone the earth was given, and no stranger came upon them. ²⁰ All the life of the ungodly [is spent] in care, and the years granted to the oppressor are numbered. ²¹ And his terror is in his ears: just when he seems to be at peace, his overthrow will come. ²² Let him not trust that he shall return from darkness, for he has been already made over to the power of the sword. ²³ And he has been appointed to be food for vultures; and he knows within himself that he is doomed to be a carcass: and a dark day shall carry him away as with a whirlwind. ²⁴ Distress also and anguish shall come upon him: he shall fall as a captain in the first rank. ²⁵ For he has lifted his hands against the Lord, and he has hardened his neck against the Almighty Lord. ²⁶ And he has run against him with insolence, on the thickness of the back of his shield. ²⁷ For he has covered his face with his fat, and made layers of fat upon his thighs. ²⁸ And let him lodge in desolate cities, and enter into houses without inhabitant: and what they have prepared, others shall carry away. ²⁹ Neither shall he at all grow rich, nor shall his substance remain: he shall not cast a shadow upon the earth. ³⁰ Neither shall he in any wise escape the darkness: let the wind blast his blossom, and let his flower fall off. ³¹ Let him not think that he shall endure; for his end shall be vanity. ³² His harvest shall perish before the time, and his branch shall not flourish. ³³ And let him be gathered as the unripe grape before the time, and let him fall as the blossom of the olive. ³⁴ For death is the witness of an ungodly man, and fire shall burn the houses of them that receive gifts. ³⁵ And he shall conceive sorrows, and his end shall be vanity, and his belly shall bear deceit.

¹ But Job answered and said, ² I have heard many such things: poor comforters are you ☐ all. ³ What! is there any reason in vain words? or what will hinder you from answering? ⁴ I also will speak as you ☐ [do]: if indeed your soul were in my [soul's] stead, ⁵ then would I insult you with words, and I would shake my head at you. ⁶ And would there were strength in my mouth, and I would not spare the movement of my lips. ⁷ For if I should speak, I shall not feel the pain of my wound: and if I should be silent, how shall I be wounded the less? ⁸ But now he has made me weary, and a worn-out fool; and you have laid hold of me. ⁹ My falsehood has become a testimony, and has risen up against me: it has confronted me to my face. ¹⁰ In his anger he has cast me down; he has gnashed his teeth upon me: the weapons of his robbers have fallen upon me. ¹¹ He has attacked me with the keen glances of his eyes; with his sharp [spear] he has struck me [down] upon my knees; and they have run upon me with one accord. ¹² For the Lord has delivered me into the hands of unrighteous men, and thrown me upon the ungodly. ¹³ When I was at peace he distracted me: he took me by the hair of the head, and plucked it out: he set me up as a mark. ¹⁴ They surrounded me with spears, aiming at my reins: without sparing [me] they poured out my gall upon the ground. ¹⁵ They overthrew me with fall upon fall: they ran upon me in [their] might. ¹⁶ They sewed sackcloth upon my skin, and my strength has been spent on the ground. ¹⁷ My belly has been parched with wailing, and darkness is on my eyelids. ¹⁸ Yet there was no injustice in my hands, and my prayer is pure. ¹⁹ Earth, cover not over the blood of my flesh, and let my cry have no place. ²⁰ And now, behold, my witness is in heaven, and my advocate is on high. ²¹ Let my supplication come to the Lord, and let my eye weep before him. ²² Oh that a man might plead before the Lord, even [as] the son of man with his neighbor! ²³ But my years are numbered and [their end] come, and I shall go by the way by which I shall not return.

¹ I perish, carried away by the wind, and I seek for burial, and obtain [it] not. ² Weary I entreat; and what have I done? and strangers have stolen my goods. ³ Who is this? let him join hands with me. ⁴ For you have hid their heart from wisdom; therefore you shall not exalt them. ⁵ He shall promise mischief to [his] companions: but [their] eyes have failed for [their] children. ⁶ But you have made me a byword among the nations, and I am become a scorn to them. ⁷ For my eyes are dimmed through pain; I have been grievously beset by all. ⁸ Wonder has seized true men upon this; and let the just rise up against the transgressor. ⁹ But let the faithful hold on his own way, and let him that is pure of hands take courage. ¹⁰ Howbeit, do you all strengthen [yourselves] and come now, for I do not find truth in you. ¹¹ My days have passed in groaning, and my heart-strings are broken. ¹² I have turned the night into day: the light is short because of darkness. ¹³ For if I remain, Hades is my habitation: and my bed has been made in darkness. ¹⁴ I have called upon death to be my father, and corruption [to be] my mother and sister. ¹⁵ Where then is yet my hope? or [where] shall I see my good? ¹⁶ Will they go down with me to Hades, or shall we go down together to the tomb?

¹ Then Baldad the Sauchite answered and said, ² How long will you continue? forbear, that we also may speak. ³ For therefore have we been silent before you like brutes? ⁴ Anger has possessed you: for what if you should die; would [the earth] under heaven be desolate? or shall the mountains be overthrown from their foundations? ⁵ But the light of the ungodly shall be quenched, and their flame shall not go up. ⁶ His light [shall be] darkness in [his] habitation, and his lamp shall be put out with him. ⁷ Let the meanest of men spoil his goods, and let his counsel deceive [him]. ⁸ His foot also has been caught in a snare, [and] let it be entangled in a net. ⁹ And let snares come upon him: he shall strengthen those that thirst for his destruction. ¹⁰ His snare is hid in the earth, and that which shall take him is by the path. ¹¹ Let pains destroy him round about, and let many [enemies] come about him, ¹² [vex him] with distressing hunger: and a signal destruction has been prepared for him. ¹³ Let the soles of his feet be devoured: and death shall consume his beauty. ¹⁴ And let health be utterly banished from his tabernacle, and let distress seize upon him with a charge from the king. ¹⁵ It shall dwell in his tabernacle in his night: his excellency shall be sown with brimstone. ¹⁶ His roots shall be dried up from beneath, and his crop shall fall away from above. ¹⁷ Let his memorial perish out of the earth, and his name shall be publicly cast out. ¹⁸ Let [one] drive him from light into darkness. ¹⁹ He shall not be known among his people, nor his house preserved on the earth. ²⁰ But strangers shall dwell in his possessions: the last groaned for him, and wonder seized the first. ²¹ These are the houses of the unrighteous, and this is the place of them that know not the Lord.

¹ Then Job answered and said, ² How long will you vex my soul, and destroy me with words? only know that the Lord has dealt with me thus. ³ You speak against me; you do not feel for me, but bear hard upon me. ⁴ Yes verily, I have erred in truth, (but the error abides with myself) in having spoken words which it was not right [to speak]; and my words err, and are unreasonable. ⁵ But alas! for you magnify yourselves against me, and insult me with reproach. ⁶ Know then that it is the Lord that has troubled [me], and has raised his bulwark against me. ⁷ Behold, I laugh at reproach; I will not speak: [or] I will cry out, but [there is] nowhere judgment. ⁸ I am fenced round about, and can by no means escape: he has set darkness before my face. ⁹ And he has stripped me of my glory, and has taken the crown from my head. ¹⁰ He has torn me around about, and I am gone: and he has cut off my hope like a tree. ¹¹ And he has dreadfully handled me in anger, and has counted me for an enemy.¹² His troops also came upon me with one accord, liars in wait compassed my ways.¹³ My brethren have stood aloof from me; they have recognized strangers [rather] than me: and my friends have become pitiless.¹⁴ My nearest of kin have not acknowledged me, and they that knew my name, have forgotten me.¹⁵ [As for] my household, and my maidservants, I was a stranger before them.¹⁶ I called my servant, and he listened not; and my mouth entreated [him].¹⁷ And I implored my wife, and earnestly entreated the sons of my concubines.¹⁸ But they rejected me for ever; whenever I rise up, they speak against me.¹⁹ They that saw me abhorred me: the very persons whom I had loved, rose up against me.²⁰ My flesh is corrupt under my skin, and my bones are held in [my] teeth.²¹ Pity me, pity me, O friends; for it is the hand of the Lord that has touched me.²² Therefore do you□ persecute me as also the Lord [does], and are not satisfied with my flesh?²³ For oh that my words were written, and that they were recorded in a book forever,²⁴ with an iron pen and lead, or graven in the rocks!²⁵ For I know that he is eternal who is about to deliver me,²⁶ [and] to raise up upon the earth my skin that endures these [sufferings]: for these things have been accomplished to me of the Lord;²⁷ which I am conscious of in myself, which my eye has seen, and not another, but all have been fulfilled to me in [my] bosom.²⁸ But if you□ shall also say, What shall we say before him, and [so] find the root of the matter in him?²⁹ Do you□ also beware of deceit: for wrath will come upon transgressors; and then shall they know where their substance is.

¹ Then Sophar the Minaean answered and said, ² I did not suppose that you would answer thus: neither do you□ understand more than I. ³ I will hear my shameful reproach; and the spirit of my understanding answers me. ⁴ Have you [not] known these things of old, from the time that man was set upon the earth? ⁵ But the mirth of the ungodly is a signal downfall, and the joy of transgressors is destruction: ⁶ although his gifts should go up to heaven, and his sacrifice reach the clouds. ⁷ For when he shall seem to be now established, then he shall utterly perish: and they that knew him shall say, Where is he? ⁸ Like a dream that has fled away, he shall not be found;

and he has fled like a vision of the night. ⁹ The eye has looked upon him, but shall not [see him] again; and his place shall no longer perceive him. ¹⁰ Let [his] inferiors destroy his children, and let his hands kindle the fire of sorrow. ¹¹ His bones have been filled with [vigour of] his youth, and it shall lie down with him in the dust. ¹² Though evil be sweet in his mouth, [though] he will hide it under his tongue; ¹³ though he will not spare it, and will not leave it, but will keep it in the midst of his throat: ¹⁴ yet he shall not at all be able to help himself; the gall of an asp is in his belly. ¹⁵ [His] wealth unjustly collected shall be vomited up; a messenger [of wrath] shall drag him out of his house. ¹⁶ And let him suck the poison of serpents, and let the serpent's tongue kill him. ¹⁷ Let him not see the milk of the pastures, nor the supplies of honey and butter. ¹⁸ He has laboured unprofitably and in vain, [for] wealth of which he shall not taste: [it is] as a lean thing, unfit for food, which he can't swallow. ¹⁹ For he has broken down the houses of many mighty men: and he has plundered an habitation, though he built [it] not. ²⁰ There is no security to his possessions; he shall not be saved by his desire. ²¹ There is nothing remaining of his provisions; therefore his goods shall not flourish. ²² But when he shall seem to be just satisfied, he shall be straitened; and all distress shall come upon him. ²³ If by any means he would fill his belly, let [God] send upon him the fury of wrath; let him bring a torrent of pains upon him. ²⁴ And he shall by no means escape from the power of the sword; let the brazen bow wound him. ²⁵ And let the arrow pierce through his body; and let the stars be against his dwelling-place: let terrors come upon him. ²⁶ And let all darkness wait for him: a fire that burns not out shall consume him; and let a stranger plague his house. ²⁷ And let the heaven reveal his iniquities, and the earth rise up against him. ²⁸ Let destruction bring his house to an end; let a day of wrath come upon him. ²⁹ This is the portion of an ungodly man from the Lord, and the possession of his goods [appointed him] by the all-seeing [God].

Job 21

¹ But Job answered and said, ² Hear you□, hear you□ my words, that I may not have this consolation from you. ³ Raise me, and I will speak; then you□ shall not laugh me to scorn. ⁴ What! is my reproof of man? and why should I not be angry? ⁵ Look upon me, and wonder, laying your hand upon your cheek. ⁶ For even when I remember, I am alarmed, and pains seize my flesh. ⁷ Therefore do the ungodly live, and grow old even in wealth? ⁸ Their seed is according to [their] desire, and their children are in [their] sight. ⁹ Their houses are prosperous, neither [have they] any where [cause for] fear, neither is there a scourge from the Lord upon them. ¹⁰ Their cow does not cast her calf, and their [beast] with young is safe, and does not miscarry. ¹¹ And they remain as an unfailing flock, and their children play before [them], taking up the lute and harp; ¹² and they rejoice at the voice of a song. ¹³ And they spend their days in wealth, and fall asleep in the rest of the grave. ¹⁴ Yet [such a man] says to the Lord, Depart from me; I desire not to know your ways. ¹⁵ What is the Mighty One, that we should serve him? and what profit is there that we should approach him? ¹⁶ For their good things were in [their] hands, but he regards not the works of the ungodly. ¹⁷ Nevertheless, the lamp of the ungodly also shall be put out, and destruction shall come upon them, and pangs of vengeance shall seize them. ¹⁸ And they shall be as chaff before the wind, or as dust which the storm has taken up. ¹⁹ Let his substance fail [to supply] his children: [God] shall recompense him, and he shall know it. ²⁰ Let his eyes see his own destruction, and let him not be saved by the Lord. ²¹ For his desire is in his house with him, and the number of his months has been suddenly cut off. ²² Is it not the Lord who teaches understanding and knowledge? and does not he judge murders? ²³ One shall die in his perfect strength, and wholly at ease and prosperous; ²⁴ and his inwards are full of fat, and his marrow is diffused [throughout him]. ²⁵ And another dies in bitterness of soul, not eating any good thing. ²⁶ But they lie down in the earth together, and corruption covers them. ²⁷ So I know you, that you ☐ presumptuously attack me: ²⁸ so that you ☐ will say, Where is the house of the prince? and where is the covering of the tabernacles of the ungodly? ²⁹ Ask those that go by the way, and do not disown their tokens. ³⁰ For the wicked hastens to the day of destruction: they shall be led away for the day of his vengeance. ³¹ Who will tell him his way to his face, whereas he has done [it]? who shall recompense him? ³² And he has been led away to the tombs, and he has watched over the heaps. ³³ The stones of the valley have been sweet to him, and every man shall depart after him, and [there are] innumerable [ones] before him. ³⁴ How then do you ☐ comfort me in vain? whereas I have no rest from your molestation.

¹ Then Eliphaz the Thaanite answered and said, ² Is it not the Lord that teaches understanding and knowledge? ³ For what matters it to the Lord, if you were blameless in [your] works? or is it profitable that you should perfect your way? ⁴ Will you maintain and plead your own cause? and will he enter into judgment with you? ⁵ Is not your wickedness abundant, and your sins innumerable? ⁶ And you have taken security of your brethren for nothing, and have taken away the clothing of the naked. ⁷ Neither have you given water to the thirsty to drink, but have taken away the morsel of the hungry. ⁸ And you have accepted the persons of some; and you have established those [that were already settled] on the earth. ⁹ But you have sent widows away empty, and has afflicted orphans. ¹⁰ Therefore snares have compassed you, and disastrous war has troubled you. ¹¹ The light has proved darkness to you, and water has covered you on your lying down. ¹² Does not he that dwells in the high places observe? and has he not brought down the proud? ¹³ And you have said, What does the Mighty One know? does he judge in the dark? ¹⁴ A cloud is his hiding-place, and he shall not be seen; and he passes through the circle of heaven. ¹⁵ Will you [not] mark the old way, which righteous men have trodden? ¹⁶ who were seized before their time: their foundations [are as] an overflowing stream. ¹⁷ Who say, What will the Lord do to us? or what will the Almighty bring upon us? ¹⁸ Yet he filled their houses with good things: but the counsel for the wicked is far from him. ¹⁹ The righteous have seen [it], and laughed, and the blameless one has derided [them]. ²⁰ Verily their substance has been utterly destroyed, and the fire shall devour what is left of their [property]. ²¹ Be firm, I pray you, if you can endure; then your fruit shall prosper. ²² And receive a declaration from his mouth, and lay up his words in your heart. ²³ And if you shall turn and humble yourself before the Lord, you have [thus] removed unrighteousness far from your habitation. ²⁴ You shall lay up for yourself [treasure] in a heap on the rock; and Saphir [shall be] as the rock of the torrent. ²⁵ So the Almighty shall be your helper from enemies, and he shall bring you forth pure as silver that has been tried by fire. ²⁶ Then shall you have boldness before the Lord, looking up cheerfully to heaven. ²⁷ And he shall hear you when you pray to him, and he shall grant you [power] to pay your vows. ²⁸ And he shall establish to you again a habitation of righteousness and there shall be light upon your paths. ²⁹ Because you have humbled yourself; and you shall say, [Man] has behaved proudly, but he shall save him that is of lowly eyes. ³⁰ He shall deliver the innocent, and do you save yourself by your pure hands.

Job 23

¹ Then Job answered and said, ² Yes, I know that pleading is out of my reach; and his hand has been made heavy upon my groaning. ³ Who would then know that I might find him, and come to an end [of the matter]? ⁴ And I would plead my own cause, and he would fill my mouth with arguments. ⁵ And I would know the remedies which he would speak to me, and I would perceive what he would tell me. ⁶ Though he should come on me in [his] great strength, then he would not threaten me; ⁷ for truth and reproof are from him; and he would bring forth my judgment to an end. ⁸ For if I shall go first, and exist no longer, still what do I know [concerning] the latter end? ⁹ When he wrought on the left hand, then I observed [it] not: his right hand shall encompass me but I shall not see [it]. ¹⁰ For he knows already my way; and he has tried me as gold. ¹¹ And I will go forth according to his commandments, for I have kept his ways; and I shall not turn aside from his commandments, ¹² neither shall I transgress; but I have hid his words in my bosom. ¹³ And if too he has thus judged, who is he that has contradicted, for he has both willed [a thing] and done it. ¹⁵ Therefore am I troubled at him; and when I was reprov'd, I thought of him. Therefore let me take good heed before him: I will consider, and be afraid of him. ¹⁶ But the Lord has softened my heart, and the Almighty has troubled me. ¹⁷ For I knew not that darkness would come upon me, and thick darkness has covered [me] before my face.

and took no notice, and they knew not the way of righteousness, neither have they walked in their [appointed] paths? ¹⁴ But having known their works, he delivered them into darkness: and in the night one will be as a thief: ¹⁵ and the eye of the adulterer has watched [for] the darkness, saying, Eye shall not perceive me, and he puts a covering on his face. ¹⁶ In darkness he digs through houses: by day they conceal themselves securely: they know not the light. ¹⁷ For the morning is to them all [as] the shadow of death, for [each] will be conscious of the terror of the shadow of death. ¹⁸ He is swift on the face of the water: let his portion be cursed on the earth; and let their plants be laid bare. ¹⁹ [Let them be] withered upon the earth; for they have plundered the sheaves of the fatherless. ²⁰ Then is his sin brought to remembrance, and he vanishes like a vapor of dew: but let what he has done be recompensed to him, and let every unrighteous one be crushed like rotten wood. ²¹ For he has not treated the barren woman well, and has had no pity on a feeble woman. ²² And in wrath he has overthrown the helpless: therefore when he has arisen, [a man] will not feel secure of his own life. ²³ When he has fallen sick, let him not hope to recover: but let him perish by disease. ²⁴ For his exaltation has hurt many; but he has withered as mallows in the heat, or as an ear of corn falling off of itself from the stalk. ²⁵ But if not, who is he that says I speak falsely, and will make my words of no account?

¹ Then Baldad the Sauchite answered and said, ² What beginning or fear is his—even he that makes all things in the highest? ³ For let none think that there is a respite for robbers: and upon whom will there not come a snare from him? ⁴ For how shall a mortal be just before the Lord? or who that is born of a woman shall purify himself? ⁵ If he gives an order to the moon, then it shines not; and the stars are not pure before him. ⁶ But alas! man is corruption, and the son of man a worm.

¹ But Job answered and said, ² To whom do you attach yourself, or whom are you going to assist? is it not he that [has] much strength, and [he] who has a strong arm? ³ To whom have you given counsel? is it not to him who has all wisdom? whom will you follow? is it not one who has the greatest power? ⁴ To whom have you uttered words? and whose breath is it that has come forth from you? ⁵ Shall giants be born from under the water and the inhabitants thereof? ⁶ Hell is naked before him, and destruction has no covering. ⁷ He stretches out the north wind upon nothing, and he upon nothing hangs the earth; ⁸ binding water in his clouds, and the cloud is not torn under it. ⁹ He keeps back the face of his throne, stretching out his cloud upon it. ¹⁰ He has encompassed the face of the water by an appointed ordinance, until the end of light and darkness. ¹¹ The pillars of heaven are prostrate and astonished at his rebuke. ¹² He has calmed the sea with [his] might, and by [his] wisdom the whale has been overthrown. ¹³ And the barriers of heaven fear him, and by a command he has slain the apostate dragon. ¹⁴ Behold, these are parts of his way; and we will listen to him at the least intimation of his word: but the strength of his thunder who knows, when he shall employ [it]?

¹ And Job further continued and said in his parable, ² [As] God lives, who has thus judge me; and the Almighty, who has embittered my soul; ³ verily, while my breath is yet in [me], and the breath of God which remains to me is in my nostrils, ⁴ my lips shall not speak evil words, neither shall my soul meditate unrighteous thoughts. ⁵ Far be it from me that I should justify you till I die; for I will not let go my innocence, ⁶ but keeping fast to [my] righteousness I will by no means let it go: for I am not conscious to myself of having done any thing amiss. ⁷ Nay rather, but let my enemies be as the overthrow of the ungodly, and they that rise up against me, as the destruction of transgressors. ⁸ For what is the hope of the ungodly, that he holds to it? will he indeed trust in the Lord [and] be saved? ⁹ Will God hear his prayer? or, when distress has come upon him, ¹⁰ has he any confidence before him? or will [God] hear him as he calls upon him? ¹¹ Yet now I will tell you what is in the hand of the Lord: I will not lie concerning the things which are with the Almighty. ¹² Behold, you□ all know that you□ are adding vanity to vanity. ¹³ This is the portion of an ungodly man from the Lord, and the possession of oppressors shall come upon them from the Almighty. ¹⁴ And if their children be many, they shall be for slaughter: and if they grow up, they shall beg. ¹⁵ And they that survive of him shall utterly perish, and no one shall pity their widows. ¹⁶ Even if he should gather silver as earth, and prepare gold as clay; ¹⁷ All these things shall the righteous gain, and the true-hearted shall possess his wealth. ¹⁸ And his house is gone like moths, and like a spider's web. ¹⁹ The rich man shall lie down, and shall not continue: he has opened his eyes, and he is not. ²⁰ Pains have come upon him as water, and darkness has carried him away by night. ²¹ And a burning wind shall catch him, and he shall depart, and it shall utterly drive him out of his place. ²² And [God] shall cast [trouble] upon him, and not spare: he would fain flee out of his hand. ²³ He shall cause [men] to clap their hands against them, and shall hiss him out of his place.

¹ And Job continued and said in his parable, ² Oh that I were as in months past, wherein God preserved me! ³ As when his lamp shone over my head; when by his light I walked through darkness. ⁴ [As] when I steadfastly pursued my ways, when God took care of my house. ⁵ When I was very fruitful, and my children were about me; ⁶ when my ways were moistened with butter, and the mountains flowed for me with milk. ⁷ When I went forth early in the city, and the seat was placed for me in the streets. ⁸ The young men saw me, and hid themselves: and all the old men stood up. ⁹ And the great men ceased speaking, and laid their finger on their mouth. ¹⁰ And they that heard [me] blessed me, and their tongue clave to their throat. ¹¹ For the ear heard, and blessed me; and the eye saw me, and turned aside. ¹² For I saved the poor out of the hand of the oppressor, and helped the fatherless who had no helper. ¹³ Let the blessing of the perishing one come upon me; yes, the mouth of the widow has blessed me. ¹⁴ Also I put on righteousness, and clothed myself with judgment like a mantle. ¹⁵ I was the eye of the blind, and the foot of the lame. ¹⁶ I was the father of the helpless; and I searched out the cause which I knew not. ¹⁷ And I broke the jaw teeth of the unrighteous; I plucked the spoil out of the midst of their teeth. ¹⁸ And I said, My age shall continue as the stem of a palm tree; I shall live a long while. ¹⁹ [My] root was spread out by the water, and the dew would lodge on my crop. ²⁰ My glory was fresh in me, and by bow prospered in his hand. ²¹ [Men] heard me, and gave heed, and they were silent at my counsel. ²² At my word they spoke not again, and they were very glad whenever I spoke to them. ²³ As the thirsty earth expecting the rain, so they [waited for] my speech. ²⁴ Were I to laugh on them, they would not believe [it]; and the light of my face has not failed. ²⁵ I chose out their way, and sat chief, and lived as a king in the midst of warriors, as one comforting mourners.

¹ I made a covenant with my eyes, and I will not think upon a virgin. ² Now what portion has God given from above? and is there an inheritance [given] of the Mighty One from the highest? ³ Alas! destruction to the unrighteous, and rejection to them that do iniquity. ⁴ Will he not see my way, and number all my steps? ⁵ But if I had gone with scorners, and if too my foot has hastened to deceit: ⁶ (for I am weighed in a just balance, and the Lord knows my innocence:) ⁷ if my foot has turned aside out of the way, or if my heart has followed my eye, and if too I have touched gifts with my hands; ⁸ then let me sow, and let others eat; and let me be uprooted on the earth. ⁹ If my heart has gone forth after another man's wife, and if I laid wait at her doors; ¹⁰ then let my wife also please another, and let my children be brought low. ¹¹ For the rage of anger is not to be controlled, [in the case] of defiling [another] man's wife. ¹² For it is a fire burning on every side, and whoever it attacks, it utterly destroys. ¹³ And if too I despised the judgment of my servant or [my] handmaid, when they pleaded with me; ¹⁴ what then shall I do if the Lord should try me? and if also he should at all visit me, can I make an answer? ¹⁵ Were not they too formed as I also was formed in the womb? yes, we were formed in the same womb. ¹⁶ But the helpless missed not whatever need they had, and I did not cause the eye of the widow to fail. ¹⁷ And if too I ate my morsel alone, and did not impart [of it] to the orphan; ¹⁸ (for I nourished [them] as a father from my youth and guided [them] from my mother's womb.) ¹⁹ And if too I overlooked the naked as he was perishing, and did not clothe him; ²⁰ and if the poor did not bless me, and their shoulders were [not] warmed with the fleece of my lambs; ²¹ if I lifted my hand against an orphan, trusting that my strength was far superior [to his]: ²² let them my shoulder start from the blade-bone, and my arm be crushed off from the elbow. ²³ For the fear of the Lord constrained me, and I can't bear up by reason of his burden. ²⁴ If I made gold my treasure, and if too I trusted the precious stone; ²⁵ and if too I rejoiced when my wealth was abundant, and if too I laid my hand on innumerable [treasures]: ²⁶ (do we not see the shining sun eclipsed, and the moon waning? for they have not [power to continue]:) ²⁷ and if my heart was secretly deceived, and if I have laid my hand upon my mouth and kissed it: ²⁸ let this also then be reckoned to me as the greatest iniquity: for I [should] have lied against the Lord Most High. ²⁹ And if too I was glad at the fall of my enemies, and my heart said, Aha! ³⁰ let then my ear hear my curse, and let me be a byword among my people in my affliction. ³¹ And if too my handmaids have often said, Oh that we might be satisfied with his flesh; (whereas I was very kind: ³² for the stranger did not lodge without, and my door was opened to every one that came:) ³³ or if too having sinned unintentionally, I hid my sin; ³⁴ (for I did not stand in awe of a great multitude, so as not to declare boldly before them:) and if too I permitted a poor man to go out of my door with an empty bosom: ³⁵ (Oh that I had a hearer;) and if I had not feared the hand of the Lord; and [as to] the written charge which I had against any one, ³⁶ I would place [it] as a chaplet on my shoulders, and read it. ³⁷ And if I did not read it and return it, having taken nothing from the debtor: ³⁸ If at any time the land groaned against me, and if its furrows mourned together; ³⁹ and if I ate its strength alone without price, and if I too grieved the heart of the owner of the soil, by taking [anything] from [him]: ⁴⁰ then let the nettle come up to me instead of wheat, and a bramble instead of barley. And Job ceased speaking.

¹ And his three friends also ceased any longer to answer Job: for Job was righteous before them.

² Then Elius the son of Barachiel, the Buzite, of the kindred of Ram, of the country of Ausis, was angered: and he was very angry with Job, because he justified himself before the Lord. ³ And he was also very angry with [his] three friends, because they were not able to return answers to Job, yet set him down for an ungodly man. ⁴ But Elius had forbore to give an answer to Job, because they were older than he. ⁵ And Elius saw that there was no answer in the mouth of the three men; and he was angered in his wrath. ⁶ And Elius the Buzite the son of Barachiel answered and said, I am younger in age, and you ☐ are elder; therefore I kept silence, fearing to declare to you my own knowledge. ⁷ And I said, It is not time that speaks, though in many years [men] know wisdom: ⁸ but there is a spirit in mortals; and the inspiration of the Almighty is that which teaches.

⁹ The long-lived are not wise [as such]; neither do the aged know judgment. ¹⁰ Therefore I said, Hear me, and I will tell you what I know. ¹¹ Listen to my words; for I will speak in your hearing, until you ☐ shall have tried [the matter] with words: ¹² and I shall understand as far as you; and, behold, there was no one of you that answered Job his words in argument, ¹³ lest you ☐ should say, We have found that we have added wisdom to the Lord. ¹⁴ And you ☐ have commissioned a man to speak such words. ¹⁵ They were afraid, they answered no longer; they gave up their speaking. ¹⁶ I waited, (for I had not spoken,) because they stood still, they answered not. ¹⁷ And Elius continued, and said, I will again speak, ¹⁸ for I am full of words, for the spirit of my belly destroys me. ¹⁹ And my belly is as a skin of sweet wine, bound up [and] ready to burst; or as a brazier's laboring bellows. ²⁰ I will speak, that I may open my lips and relieve myself. ²¹ For truly I will not be awed because of man, nor indeed will I be confounded before a mortal. ²² For I know not how to respect persons: and if otherwise, even the moths would eat me.

¹ Howbeit hear, Job, my words, and listen to my speech. ² For behold, I have opened my mouth, and my tongue has spoken. ³ My heart [shall be found] pure by [my] words; and the understanding of my lips shall meditate purity. ⁴ The Divine Spirit is that which formed me, and the breath of the Almighty that which teaches me. ⁵ If you can, give me an answer: wait therefore; stand against me, and I [will stand] against you. ⁶ You are formed out of the clay as also I: we have been formed out of the same [substance]. ⁷ My fear shall not terrify you, neither shall my hand be heavy upon you. ⁸ But you have said in my ears, (I have heard the voice of your words;) because you say, I am pure, not having sinned; ⁹ I am blameless, for I have not transgressed. ¹⁰ Yet he has revealed a charge against me, and he has reckoned me as an adversary. ¹¹ And he has put my foot in the stocks, and has watched all my ways. ¹² For how say you, I am righteous, yet he has not listened to me? for he that is above mortals is eternal. ¹³ But you say, Why has he not heard every word of my cause? ¹⁴ For when the Lord speaks once, or a second time, ¹⁵ [sending] a dream, or in the meditation of the night; (as when a dreadful alarm happens to fall upon men, in slumberings on the bed;) ¹⁶ then opens he the understanding of men: he scares them with such fearful visions: ¹⁷ to turn a man from unrighteousness, and he delivers his body from a fall. ¹⁸ He spares also his soul from death, and [suffers] him not to fall in war. ¹⁹ And again, he chastens him with sickness on his bed, and the multitude of his bones is benumbed. ²⁰ And he shall not be able to take any food, though his soul shall desire meat; ²¹ until his flesh shall be consumed, and he shall show his bones bare. ²² His soul also draws near to death, and his life is in Hades. ²³ Though there should be a thousand messengers of death, not one of them shall wound him: if he should purpose in his heart to turn to the Lord, and declare to man his fault, and show his folly; ²⁴ he will support him, that he should not perish, and will restore his body as [fresh] plaster upon a wall; and he will fill his bones with morrow. ²⁵ And he will make his flesh tender as that of a babe, and he will restore him among men in [his] full strength. ²⁶ And he shall pray to the Lord, and his prayer shall be accepted of him; he shall enter with a cheerful countenance, with a full expression [of praise]: for he will render to men [their] due. ²⁷ Even then a man shall blame himself, saying, What kind of things have I done? and he has not punished me according to the full amount of my sins. ²⁸ Deliver my soul, that it may not go to destruction, and my life shall see the light. ²⁹ Behold, all these things, the Mighty One works in a threefold manner with a man. ³⁰ And he has delivered my soul from death, that my life may praise him in the light. ³¹ Listen, Job, and hear me: be silent, and I will speak. ³² If you have words, answer me: speak, for I desire you to be justified. ³³ If not, do you hear me: be silent, and I will teach you.

Job 34

³ For the ear tries words, and the mouth tastes meat. ⁴ Let us choose judgment to ourselves: let us know amount ourselves what is right. ⁵ For Job has said, I am righteous: the Lord has removed my judgment. ⁶ And he has erred in my judgment: my wound is severe without unrighteousness [of mine]. ⁷ What man is as Job, drinking scorning like water? ⁸ [saying], I have not sinned, nor committed ungodliness, nor had fellowship with workers of iniquity, to go with the ungodly. ⁹ For you should not say, There shall be no visitation of a man, whereas [there is] a visitation on him from the Lord. ¹⁰ Therefore hear me, you ☐ that are wise in heart: far be it from me to sin before the Lord, and to pervert righteousness before the almighty. ¹¹ Yes, he renders to a man accordingly as each of them does, and in a man's path he will find him. ¹² And think you that the Lord will do wrong, or will the Almighty who made the earth wrest judgment? ¹³ And who is he that made [the whole world] under heaven, and all things therein? ¹⁴ For if he would confine, and restrain his spirit with himself; ¹⁵ all flesh would die together, and every mortal would return to the earth, whence also he was formed. ¹⁶ Take heed lest he rebuke [you]: hear this, listen to the voice of words. ¹⁷ Behold then the one that hates iniquities, and that destroys the wicked, who is for ever just. ¹⁸ [He is] ungodly that says to a king, You are a transgressor, [that says] to princes, O most ungodly one. ¹⁹ [Such a one] as would not reverence the face of an honorable man, neither knows how to give honor to the great, so as that their persons should be respected. ²⁰ But it shall turn out vanity to them, to cry and beseech a man; for they dealt unlawfully, the poor being turned aside [from their right]. ²¹ For he surveys the works of men, and nothing of what they do has escaped him. ²² Neither shall there be a place for the workers of iniquity to hide themselves. ²³ For he will not lay upon a man more [than right]. ²⁴ For the Lord looks down upon all men, who comprehends unsearchable things, glorious also and excellent things without number. ²⁵ Who discovers their works, and will bring night about [upon them], and they shall be brought low. ²⁶

And he quite destroys the ungodly, for they are seen before him. ²⁷ Because they turned aside from the law of God, and did not regard his ordinances, ²⁸ so as to bring before him the cry of the needy; for he will hear the cry of the poor. ²⁹ And he will give quiet, and who will condemn? and he will hide his face, and who shall see him? whether [it be done] against a nation, or against a man also: ³⁰ causing a hypocrite to be king, because of the waywardness of the people. ³¹ For [there is] one that says to the Mighty One, I have received [blessings]; I will not take a pledge: ³² I will see apart from myself: do you show me if I have done unrighteousness; I will not do [so] any more. ³³ Will he take vengeance for it on you, whereas you will put [it] far [from you]? for you shall choose, and not I; and what you know, speak you. ³⁴ Because the wise in heart shall say this, and a wise man listens to my word. ³⁵ But Job has not spoken with understanding, his words are not [uttered] with knowledge. ³⁶ Howbeit do you learn, Job: no longer make answer as the foolish: ³⁷ that we add not to our sins: for iniquity will be reckoned against us, if [we] speak many words before the Lord.

¹ And Elius resumed and said, ² What is this that you think to be according to right? who are you that you have said, I am righteous before the Lord? ³ I will answer you, and your three friends. ⁴ Look up to the sky and see; and consider the clouds, how high [they are] above you. ⁵ If you have sinned, what will you do? ⁶ and if too you have transgressed much, what can you perform? ⁷ And suppose you are righteous, what will you give him? or what shall he receive of your hand? ⁸ Your ungodliness [may affect] a man who is like to you; or your righteousness a son of man. ⁹ They that are oppressed of a multitude will be ready to cry out; they will call for help because of the arm of many. ¹⁰ But none said, Where is God that made me, who appoints the night-watches; ¹¹ who makes me to differ from the four-footed beasts of the earth, and from the birds of the sky? ¹² There they shall cry, and none shall listen, even because of the insolence of wicked men. ¹³ For the Lord desires not to look on error, for he is the Almighty One. ¹⁴ He beholds them that perform lawless deeds, and he will save me: and do you plead before him, if you can praise him, as it is [possible] even now. ¹⁵ For he is not [now] regarding his wrath, nor has he noticed severely any trespass. ¹⁶ Yet Job vainly opens his mouth, in ignorance he multiplies words.

¹ And Elius further continued, and said, ² Wait for me yet a little while, that I may teach you: for there is yet speech in me. ³ Having fetched my knowledge from afar, and according to my works, ⁴ I will speak just things truly, and you shall not unjustly receive unjust words. ⁵ But know that the Lord will not cast off an innocent man: being mighty in strength of wisdom, ⁶ he will not by any means save alive the ungodly: and he will grant the judgment of the poor. ⁷ He will not turn away his eyes from the righteous, but [they shall be] with kings on the throne: and he will establish them in triumph, and they shall be exalted. ⁸ But they that are bound in fetters shall be holden in cords of poverty. ⁹ And he shall recount to them their works, and their transgressions, for such will act with violence. ¹⁰ But he will listen to the righteous: and he has said that they shall turn from unrighteousness. ¹¹ If they should hear and serve [him], they shall spend their days in prosperity, and their years in honor. ¹² But he preserves not the ungodly; because they are not willing to know the Lord, and because when reproved they were disobedient. ¹³ And the hypocrites in heart will array wrath [against themselves]; they will not cry, because he has bound them. ¹⁴ Therefore let their soul die in youth, and their life be wounded by messengers [of death]. ¹⁵ Because they afflicted the weak and helpless: and he will vindicate the judgment of the meek. ¹⁶ And he has also enticed you out of the mouth of the enemy: ¹⁷ [there is] a deep gulf [and] a rushing stream beneath it, and your table came down full of fatness. Judgment shall not fail from the righteous; ¹⁸ but there shall be wrath upon the ungodly, by reason of the ungodliness of the bribes which they received for iniquities. ¹⁹ Let not [your] mind willingly turn you aside from the petition of the feeble that are in distress. ²⁰ And draw not forth all the mighty [men] by night, so that the people should go up instead of them. ²¹ But take heed lest you do that which is wrong: for of this you have made choice because of poverty. ²² Behold, the Mighty One shall prevail by his strength: for who is powerful as he is? ²³ And who is he that examines his works? or who can say, he has wrought injustice? ²⁴ Remember that his works are great [beyond] those which men have attempted. ²⁵ Every man has seen in himself, how many mortals are wounded. ²⁶ Behold, the Mighty One is great, and we shall not know [him]: the number of his years is even infinite. ²⁷ And the drops of rain are numbered by him, and shall be poured out in rain to form a cloud. ²⁸ The ancient [heavens] shall flow, and the clouds overshadow innumerable mortals: he has fixed a time to cattle, and they know the order of rest. [Yet] by all these things your understanding is not astonished, neither is your mind disturbed in [your] body. ²⁹ And though one should understand the outspreadings of the clouds, [or] the measure of his tabernacle; ³⁰ behold he will stretch his bow against him, and he covers the bottom of the sea. ³¹ For by them he will judge the nations: he will give food to him that has strength. ³² He has hidden the light in [his] hands, and given charge concerning it to the interposing [cloud]. ³³ The Lord will declare concerning this [to] his friend: [but there is] a portion also for unrighteousness.

¹ At this also my heart is troubled, and moved out of its place. ² Hear you a report by the anger of the Lord's wrath, and a discourse shall come out of his mouth. ³ His dominion is under the whole heaven, and his light is at the extremities of the earth. ⁴ After him shall be a cry with a [loud] voice; he shall thunder with the voice of his excellency, yet he shall not cause men to pass away, for one shall hear his voice. ⁵ The Mighty One shall thunder wonderfully with his voice: for he has done great things which we knew not; ⁶ commanding the snow, Be you upon the earth, and the stormy rain, and the storm of the showers of his might. ⁷ He seals up the hand of every man, that every man may know his own weakness. ⁸ And the wild beasts come in under the covert, and rest in [their] lair. ⁹ Troubles come on out of the secret chambers, and cold from the mountain-tops. ¹⁰ And from the breath of the Mighty One he will send frost; and he guides the water in whatever way he pleases. ¹¹ And [if] a cloud obscures [what is] precious [to him], his light will disperse the cloud. ¹² And he will carry round the encircling [clouds] by his governance, to [perform] their works: whatever he shall command them, ¹³ this has been appointed by him on the earth, whether for correction, [or] for his land, or if he shall find him [an object] for mercy. ¹⁴ Listen to this, O Job: stand still, and be admonished of the power of the Lord. ¹⁵ We know that god has disposed his works, having made light out of darkness. ¹⁶ And he knows the divisions of the clouds, and the signal overthrows of the ungodly. ¹⁷ But your robe is warm, and there is quiet upon the land. ¹⁸ Will you establish with him [foundations] for the ancient [heavens? they are] strong as a molten mirror. ¹⁹ Therefore teach me, what shall we say to him? and let us cease from saying much. ²⁰ Have I a book or a scribe my me, that I may stand and put man to silence? ²¹ But the light is not visible to all: it shines afar off in the heavens, as that which is from him in the clouds. ²² From the [north] come the clouds shining like gold: in these great are the glory and honor of the Almighty; ²³ and we do not find another his equal in strength: [as for] him that judges justly, do you not think that he listens? ²⁴ Therefore men shall fear him; and the wise also in heart shall fear him.

¹ And after Elius had ceased from speaking, the Lord spoke to Job through the whirlwind and clouds, [saying], ² Who is this that hides counsel from me, and confines words in [his] heart, and thinks to conceal [them] from me? ³ Gird your loins like a man; and I will ask you, and do you answer me. ⁴ Where were you when I founded the earth? tell me now, if you have knowledge, ⁵ who set the measures of it, if you know? or who stretched a line upon it? ⁶ On what are its rings fastened? and who is he that laid the corner-stone upon it? ⁷ When the stars were made, all my angels praised me with a loud voice. ⁸ And I shut up the sea with gates, when it rushed out, coming forth out its mother's womb. ⁹ And I made a cloud its clothing, and swathed it in mist. ¹⁰ And I set bounds to it, surrounding it with bars and gates. ¹¹ And I said to it, Hitherto shall you come, but you shall not go beyond, but your waves shall be confined within you. ¹² Or did I order the morning light in your time; and [did] the morning star [then first] see his appointed place; ¹³ to lay hold of the extremities of the earth, to cast out the ungodly out of it? ¹⁴ Or did you take clay of the ground, and form a living creature, and set it with the power of speech upon the earth? ¹⁵ And have you removed light from the ungodly, and crushed the arm of the proud? ¹⁶ Or have you gone to the source of the sea, and walked in the tracks of the deep? ¹⁷ And do the gates of death open to you for fear; and did the porters of hell quake when they saw you? ¹⁸ And have you been instructed in the breadth of the [whole earth] under heaven? tell me now, what is the extent of it? ¹⁹ And in what kind of a land does the light dwell? and of what kind is the place of darkness? ²⁰ If you could bring me to their [utmost] boundaries, and if also you know their paths; ²¹ I know then that you were born at that time, and the number of your years is great. ²² But have you gone to the treasures of snow? and have you seen the treasures of hail? ²³ And is there a store [of them], for you against the time of [your] enemies, for the day of wars and battle? ²⁴ And whence proceeds the frost? or [whence] is the south wind dispersed over the [whole world] under heaven? ²⁵ And who prepared a course for the violent rain, and a way for the thunders; ²⁶ to rain upon the land where [there is] no man, the wilderness, where there is not a man in it; so as to feed the untrodden and uninhabited [land], ²⁷ and cause it to send forth a crop of green herbs? ²⁸ Who is the rain's father? and who has generated the drops of dew? ²⁹ And out of whose womb comes the ice? and who has produced the frost in the sky, ³⁰ which descends like flowing water? who has terrified the face of the ungodly? ³¹ And do you understand the band of Pleias, and have you opened the barrier of Orion? ³² Or will you reveal Mazuroth in his season, and the evening star with his rays? Will you guide them? ³³ And know you the changes of heaven, or the events which take place together under heaven? ³⁴ And will you call a cloud with your voice, and will it obey you with a violent shower of much rain? ³⁵ And will you send lightnings, and they shall go? and shall they say to you, What is [your pleasure]? ³⁶ And who has given to women skill in weaving, or knowledge of embroidery? ³⁷ And who is he that numbers the clouds in wisdom, and has bowed the heaven [down] to the earth? ³⁸ For it is spread out as dusty earth, and I have cemented it as one hewn stone to another. ³⁹ And will you hunt a prey for the lions? and satisfy the desires of the serpents? ⁴⁰ For they fear in their lairs, and lying in wait couch in the woods. ⁴¹ And who has prepared food for the raven? for its young ones wander and cry to the Lord, in search of food.

The tides are marvellously limited and regulated, not only by the lunar and solar attraction, but by the quantum of time required to remove any part of the earth's surface, by its rotation round its axis, from under the immediate attractive influence of the sun and moon. Hence the attraction of the sun and moon, and the gravitation of the sea to its own centre, which prevent too great a flux on the one hand, and too great reflux on the other, are some of those bars and doors by which its proud waves are stayed, and prevented from coming farther; but, thy proud waves Heb. the pride of thy waves ¹³ take, ends Heb. wings, *marg. the wicked ²⁰ it to or, it at the bound ²⁶ To cause It is well known that rain falls copiously in thunder storms. The flash is first seen, the clap is next heard, and last the rain descends; though in fact they all take place at the same time. The lightning traverses all space in no perceivable succession of time. Sound is propagated at the rate of 1, 142 feet in a second. Rain travels still more slowly, and will be seen sooner or later according to the weight of the drops, and the distance of the cloud. Now as water is composed of two elastic airs or gases, called oxygen and hydrogen, in the proportion of 88+ of the former and 11, 3/4 of the latter in 100 parts, the electric spark, or matter of lightning, passing through the atmosphere, ignites and decomposes those gases, which explode; and the water falls down in the form of rain. This explosion, as well as the rushing in of the circumambient air to restore the equilibrium, will account for the clap and peal; and thus by the lightning of thunder God causes it to rain on the earth. on the wilderness ³⁰ the face frozen Heb. taken ³¹ Pleiades or, the seven stars, Heb. ¹ [Say] if you know the time of the bringing forth of the wild goats of the rock, and [if] you have marked the calving of the hinds: ² and [if] you have have numbered the full months of their being with young, and [if] you have relieved their pangs: ³ and have reared their young without fear; and will you loosen their pangs? ⁴ Their young will break forth; they will be multiplied with offspring; [their young] will go forth, and will not return to them. ⁵ And who is he that sent forth the wild ass free? and who loosed his bands? ⁶ whereas I made his habitation the wilderness, and the salt land his coverts. ⁷ He laughs to scorn the multitude of the city, and hears not the chiding of the tax-gatherer. ⁸ He will survey the mountains [as] his pasture, and he seeks after every green thing. ⁹ And will the unicorn be willing to serve you, or to lie down at your manger? ¹⁰ And will you bind his yoke with thongs, or will he plow furrows for you in the plain? ¹¹ And do you trust him, because his strength is great? and will you commit your works to him? ¹² And will you believe that he will return to you your seed, and bring [it] in [to] your threshing floor? ¹³ The peacock has a beautiful wing: if the stork and the ostrich conceive, [it is worthy of notice], ¹⁴ for [the ostrich] will leave her eggs in the ground, and warm them on the dust, ¹⁵ and has forgotten that the foot will scatter them, and the wild beasts of the field trample them. ¹⁶ She has hardened [herself] against her young ones, as though [she bereaved] not herself: she labors in vain without fear. ¹⁷ For God has withholden wisdom from her, and not given her a portion in understanding. ¹⁸ In her season she will lift herself on high; she will scorn the horse and his rider. ¹⁹ Have you invested the horse with strength, and clothed his neck with terror? ²⁰ And have you clad him in perfect armor, and made his breast glorious with courage? ²¹ He paws exulting in the plain, and goes forth in strength into the plain. ²² He laughs to scorn a king as he meets him, and will by no means turn back from the sword. ²³ The bow and sword resound against him; and [his] rage will swallow up the ground: ²⁴ and he will not believe until the trumpet sounds. ²⁵ And when the trumpet sounds, he says, Aha! and afar off he smells the war with prancing and neighing. ²⁶ And does the hawk remain steady by your wisdom, having spread out her wings unmoved, looking toward the region of the south? ²⁷ And does the eagle rise at your command, and the vulture remain sitting over his nest, ²⁸ on a crag of a rock, and in a secret [place]? ²⁹ Thence he seeks food, his eyes observe from far. ³⁰ And his young ones roll themselves in blood, and wherever the carcasses may be, immediately they are found. ³¹ And the Lord God answered Job, and said, ³² Will [any one] pervert judgment with the Mighty One? and he that reproves God, let him return it for answer. ³³ And Job answered and said to the Lord, ³⁴ Why do I yet plead? being rebuked even while reproving the Lord: hearing such things, whereas I am nothing: and what shall I answer to these [arguments]? I will lay my hand upon my mouth. ³⁵ I have spoken once; but I will not do so a second time.

¹ And the Lord yet again answered and spoke to Job out of the cloud, [saying], ² Nay, gird up now your loins like a man; and I will ask you, and do you answer me. ³ Do not set aside my judgment: and do you think that I have dealt with you in any other way, than that you might appear to be righteous? ⁴ Have you an arm like the Lord's? or do you thunder with a voice like his? ⁵ Assume now a lofty bearing and power; and clothe yourself with glory and honor. ⁶ And send forth messengers with wrath; and lay low every haughty one. ⁷ Bring down also the proud man; and consume at once the ungodly. ⁸ And hide them together in the earth; and fill their faces with shame. ⁹ [Then] will I confess that your right hand can save [you]. ¹⁰ But now look at the wild beasts with you; they eat grass like oxen. ¹¹ Behold now, his strength is in his loins, and his force is in the navel of his belly. ¹² He sets up his tail like a cypress; and his nerves are wrapped together. ¹³ His sides are sides of brass; and his backbone is [as] cast iron. ¹⁴ This is the chief of the creation of the Lord; made to be played with by his angels. ¹⁵ And when he has gone up to a steep mountain, he causes joy to the quadrupeds in the deep. ¹⁶ He lies under trees of every kind, by the papyrus, and reed, and bulrush. ¹⁷ And the great trees make a shadow over him with their branches, and [so do] the bushes of the field. ¹⁸ If there should be a flood, he will not perceive it; he trust that Jordan will rush up into his mouth. ¹⁹ [Yet one] shall take him in his sight; [one] shall catch [him] with a cord, and pierce his nose. ²⁰ But will you catch the serpent with a hook, and put a halter about his nose? ²¹ Or will you fasten a ring in his nostril, and bore his lip with a clasp? ²² Will he address you with a petition? softly, with the voice of a suppliant? ²³ And will he make a covenant with you? and will you take him for a perpetual servant? ²⁴ And will you play with him as with a bird? or bind him as a sparrow for a child? ²⁵ And do the nations feed upon him, and the nations of the Phoenicians share him? ²⁶ And all the ships come together would not be able to bear the mere skin of his tail; neither [shall they carry] his head in fishing vessels. ²⁷ But you shall lay your hand upon him [once], remembering the war that is waged by his mouth; and let it not be done any more.

¹ Have you not seen him? and have you not wondered at the things said [of him]? Do you not fear because preparation has been made by me? for who is there that resists me? ² Or who will resist me, and abide, since the whole [world] under heaven is mine? ³ I will not be silent because of him: though because of his power [one] shall pity his antagonist. ⁴ Who will open the face of his garment? and who can enter within the fold of his breastplate? ⁵ Who will open the doors of his face? terror is round about his teeth. ⁶ His inwards are as brazen plates, and the texture of his [skin] as a smyrite stone. ⁷ One [part] cleaves fast to another, and the air can't come between them. ⁸ They will remain united each to the other: they are closely joined, and can't be separated. ⁹ At his sneezing a light shines, and his eyes are [as] the appearance of the morning star. ¹⁰ Out of his mouth proceed as it were burning lamps, and as it were hearths of fire are cast abroad. ¹¹ Out of his nostrils proceeds smoke of a furnace burning with fire of coals. ¹² His breath is [as] live coals, and a flame goes out of his mouth. ¹³ And power is lodged in his neck, before him destruction runs. ¹⁴ The flesh also of his body is joined together: [if one] pours [violence] upon him, he shall not be moved. ¹⁵ His heart is firm as a stone, and it stands like an unyielding anvil. ¹⁶ And when he turns, [he is] a terror to the four-footed wild beasts which leap upon the earth. ¹⁷ If spears should come against him, [men] will effect nothing, [either with] the spear or the breast-plate. ¹⁸ For he considers iron as chaff, and brass as rotten wood. ¹⁹ The bow of brass shall not wound him, he deems a slinger as grass. ²⁰ Mauls are counted as stubble; and he laughs to scorn the waving of the firebrand. ²¹ His lair is [formed of] sharp points; and all the gold of the sea under him is an immense [quantity of] clay. ²² He makes the deep boil like a brazen caldron; and he regards the sea as a pot of ointment, ²³ and the lowest part of the deep as a captive: he reckons the deep as [his] range. ²⁴ There is nothing upon the earth like to him, formed to be sported with by my angels. ²⁵ He beholds every high thing: and he is king of all that are in the waters.

¹ Then Job answered and said to the Lord, ² I know that you can do all things, and nothing is impossible with you. ³ For who is he that hides counsel from you? or who keeps back his words, and thinks to hide them from you? and who will tell me what I knew not, great and wonderful things which I understood not? ⁴ But hear me, O Lord, that I also may speak: and I will ask you, and do you teach me. ⁵ I have heard the report of you by the ear before; but now my eye has seen you. ⁶ Therefore I have counted myself vile, and have fainted: and I esteem myself dust and ashes. ⁷ And it came to pass after the Lord had spoken all these words to Job, [that] the Lord said to Eliphaz the Thaemanite, You have sinned, and your two friends: for you□ have not said anything true before me, as my servant Job [has]. ⁸ Now then take seven bullocks, and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and he shall offer a burnt offering for you. And my servant Job shall pray for you, for I will only accept him: for but his sake, I would have destroyed you, for you□ have not spoken the truth against my servant Job. ⁹ So Eliphaz the Thaemanite, and Baldad the Sauchite, and Sophar the Minaean, went and did as the Lord commanded them: and he pardoned their sin for the sake of Job. ¹⁰ And the Lord prospered Job: and when he prayed also for his friends, he forgave them [their] sin: and the Lord gave Job twice as much, even the double of what he had before. ¹¹ And all his brethren and his sisters heard all that had happened to him, and they came to him, and [so did] all that had known him from the first: and they ate and drank with him, and comforted him, and wondered at all that the Lord had brought upon him: and each one gave him a lamb, and four drachmas' weight of gold, even of unstamped [gold]. ¹² And the Lord blessed the latter end of Job, [more] than the beginning: and his cattle were fourteen thousand sheep, six thousand camels, a thousand yoke of oxen, a thousand she-asses of the pastures. ¹³ And there were born to him seven sons and three daughters. ¹⁴ And he called the first Day, and the second Casia, and the third Amalthaea's horn. ¹⁵ And there were not found in comparison with the daughters of Job, fairer [women] than they in all the world: and their father gave them an inheritance among their brethren. ¹⁶ And Job lived after [his] affliction one hundred and seventy years: and all the years he lived were two hundred and forty: and Job saw his sons and his sons' sons, the fourth generation. ¹⁷ And Job died, an old man and full of days: and it is written that he will rise again with those whom the Lord raises up. This man is described in the Syriac book [as] living in the land of Ausis, on the borders of Idumea and Arabia: and his name before was Jobab; and having taken an Arabian wife, he begot a son whose name was Ennon. And he himself was the son of his father Zare, one of the sons of Esau, and of his mother Bosorrha, so that he was the fifth from Abraam. And these were the kings who reigned in Edom, which country he also ruled over: first, Balac, the son of Beor, and the name of his city was Dennaba: but after Balac, Jobab, who is called Job, and after him Asom, who was governor out of the country of Thaeman: and after him Adad, the son of Barad, who destroyed Madiam in the plain of Moab; and the name of his city was Gethaim. And [his] friends who came to him were Eliphaz, of the children of Esau, king of the Thaemanites, Baldad sovereign the Sauchaeans, Sophar king of the Minaeans.

N: ² thou; no; can be withholden from thee or, of thine can be hindered ⁸ Therefore From this it appears that Job was considered as a priest, not only to his own family, but also to others. For his children he offered burnt offerings (), and now he is to make the same kind of offerings, accompanied with intercession, in behalf of his three friends. This is a full proof of the innocence and integrity of Job. seven bullocks, ; go offer; my servant Job shall; him Heb. his face, or person; lest ⁹ did; Job Heb. the face of Job ¹⁰ turned; when,; the Lord; gave Job twice as much as he had before Heb. added all that had been to Job unto the double ¹¹ all his brethren; they bemoaned; ; every man ¹⁶ After How long he had lived before his afflictions we cannot tell: if we could rely upon the LXX, all would be plain, which adds here, τα δε παντα ετη εζησεν διακοσια τεσσαρακοντα . Psalms 1

¹ Blessed is the man who has not walked in the counsel of the ungodly, and has not stood in the way of sinners, and has not sat in the seat of evil men. ² But his pleasure is in the law of the Lord; and in his law will he meditate day and night. ³ And he shall be as a tree planted by the brooks of waters, which shall yield its fruit in its season, and its leaf shall not fall off; and whatever he shall do shall be prospered. ⁴ Not so the ungodly; —not so: but rather as the chaff which the wind scatters away from the face of the earth. ⁵ Therefore the ungodly shall not rise in judgment, nor sinners in the counsel of the just. ⁶ For the Lord knows the way of the righteous; but the way of the ungodly shall perish.

¹ Therefore did the heathen rage, and the nations imagine vain things? ² The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers gathered themselves together, against the Lord, and against his Christ; ³ [saying], Let us break through their bonds, and cast away their yoke from us. ⁴ He that dwells in the heavens shall laugh them to scorn, and the Lord shall mock them. ⁵ Then shall he speak to them in his anger, and trouble them in his fury. ⁶ But I have been made king by him on Sion his holy mountain, ⁷ declaring the ordinance of the Lord: the Lord said to me, You are my Son, today have I begotten you. ⁸ Ask of me, and I will give you the heathen [for] your inheritance, and the ends of the earth [for] your possession. ⁹ You shall rule them with a rod of iron; you shall dash them in pieces as a potter's vessel. ¹⁰ Now therefore understand, you ☐ kings: be instructed, all you ☐ that judge the earth. ¹¹ Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice in him with trembling. ¹² Accept correction, lest at any time the Lord be angry, and you ☐ should perish from the righteous way: whenever his wrath shall be suddenly kindled, blessed are all they that trust in him.

¹ For the End, a Song of David among [the] Psalms. When I called upon [him], the God of my righteousness heard me: you have made room for me in tribulation; pity me, and listen to my prayer. ² O you ☐ sons of men, how long [will you ☐ be] slow of heart? therefore do you ☐ love vanity, and seek falsehood? Pause. ³ But know you ☐ that the Lord has done wondrous things for his holy one: the Lord will hear me when I cry to him. ⁴ Be you ☐ angry, and sin not; feel compunction upon your beds for what you ☐ say in your hearts. Pause. ⁵ Offer the sacrifice of righteousness, and trust in the Lord. ⁶ Many say, Who will show us good things? the light of your countenance, O Lord, has been manifested towards us. ⁷ You have put gladness into my heart: they have been satisfied with the fruit of their corn and wine and oil. ⁸ I will both lie down in peace and sleep: for you, Lord, only have caused me to dwell securely.

Psalm 5

¹ For the end, a Psalm of David, concerning her that inherits. Listen to my words, O Lord, attend to my cry. ² Attend to the voice of my supplication, my King, and my God: for to you, O Lord, will I pray. ³ In the morning you shall hear my voice: in the morning will I wait upon you, and will look up. ⁴ For you are not a god that desires iniquity; neither shall the worker of wickedness dwell with you. ⁵ Neither shall the transgressors continue in your sight: you hate, O Lord, all them that work iniquity. ⁶ You will destroy all that speak falsehood: the Lord abhors the bloody and deceitful man. ⁷ But I will enter into your house in the multitude of your mercy: I will worship in your fear toward your holy temple. ⁸ Lead me, O Lord, in your righteousness because of my enemies; make my way plain before your face. ⁹ For there is no truth in their mouth; their heart is vain; their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit. ¹⁰ Judge them, O God; let them fail of their counsels: cast them out according to the abundance of their ungodliness; for they have provoked you, O Lord. ¹¹ But let all that trust on you be glad in you: they shall exult for ever, and you shall dwell among them; and all that love your name shall rejoice in you. ¹² For you, Lord, shall bless the righteous: you have compassed us as with a shield of favor.

Psalm 6

¹ For the End, a Psalm of David among the Hymns for the eighth. O Lord, rebuke me not in your wrath, neither chasten me in your anger. ² Pity me, O Lord; for I am weak: heal me, O Lord; for my bones are vexed. ³ My soul also is grievously vexed: but you, O Lord, how long? ⁴ Return, O Lord, deliver my soul: save me for your mercy's sake. ⁵ For in death no man remembers you: and who will give you thanks in Hades? ⁶ I am wearied with my groaning; I shall wash my bed every night; I shall water my couch with tears. ⁷ My eye is troubled because of my wrath; I am worn out because of all my enemies. ⁸ Depart from me, all you ☐ that work iniquity; for the Lord has heard the voice of my weeping. ⁹ The Lord has listened to my petition; the Lord has accepted my prayer. ¹⁰ Let all my enemies be put to shame and sore troubled: let them be turned back and grievously put to shame speedily.

Psalm 7

¹ A Psalm of David, which he sang to the Lord because of the words of Chusi the Benjamite. O Lord my God, in you have I trusted: save me from all them that persecute me, and deliver me. ² Lest at any time [the enemy] seize my soul as a lion, while there is none to ransom, nor to save. ³ O Lord my God, if I have done this; (if there is unrighteousness in my hands;) ⁴ if I have requited with evil those who requited me [with good]; may I then perish empty by means of my enemies. ⁵ Let the enemy persecute my soul, and take it; and let him trample my life on the ground, and lay my glory in the dust. Pause. ⁶ Arise, O Lord, in your wrath; be exalted in the utmost boundaries of my enemies: awake, O Lord my God, according to the decree which you did command. ⁷ And the congregation of the nations shall compass you: and for this cause do you return on high. ⁸ The Lord shall judge the nations: judge me, O Lord, according to my righteousness, and according to my innocence that is in me. ⁹ Oh let the wickedness of sinners come to an end; and [then] you shall direct the righteous, O God that search the hearts and reins. ¹⁰ My help is righteous, [coming] from God who saves the upright in heart. ¹¹ God is a righteous judge, and strong, and patient, not inflicting vengeance every day. ¹² If you ☐ will not repent, he will furbish his sword; he has bent his bow, and made it ready. ¹³ And on it he has fitted the instruments of death; he has completed his arrows for the raging ones. ¹⁴ Behold, he has travailed with unrighteousness, he has conceived trouble, and brought forth iniquity. ¹⁵ He has opened a pit, and dug it up, and he shall fall into the ditch which he has made. ¹⁶ His trouble shall return on his own head, and his unrighteousness shall come down on his own crown. ¹⁷ I will give thanks to the Lord according to his righteousness; I will sing to the name of the Lord most high.

Psalm 8

¹ For the end, concerning the wine presses, a Psalm of David. O Lord, our Lord, how wonderful is your name in all the earth! for your magnificence is exalted above the heavens. ² Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings have you perfected praise, because of your enemies; that you might put down the enemy and avenger. ³ For I will regard the heavens, the work of your fingers; the moon and stars, which you have established. ⁴ What is man, that you are mindful of him? or the son of man, that you visit him? ⁵ You made him a little less than angels, you have crowned him with glory and honor; ⁶ and you have set him over the works of your hands: you have put all things under his feet: ⁷ sheep and all oxen, yes and the cattle of the field; ⁸ the birds of the sky, and the fish of the sea, the [creatures] passing through the paths of the sea. ⁹ O Lord our Lord, how wonderful is your name in all the earth!

Psalm 9 (MT 9-10)

¹ For the end, a Psalm of David, concerning the secrets of the Son. I will give thanks to you, O Lord, with my whole heart; I will recount all your wonderful works. ² I will be glad and exult in you: I will sing to your name, O you Most High. ³ When my enemies are turned back, they shall be feeble and perish at your presence. ⁴ For you have maintained my cause and my right; you sat on the throne, that judge righteousness. ⁵ You have rebuked the nations, and the ungodly one has perished; you have blotted out their name for ever, even for ever and ever. ⁶ The swords of the enemy have failed utterly; and you have destroyed cities: their memorial has been destroyed with a noise, ⁷ but the Lord endures for ever: he has prepared his throne for judgment. ⁸ And he will judge the world in righteousness, he will judge the nations in uprightness. ⁹ The Lord also is become a refuge for the poor, a seasonable help, in affliction. ¹⁰ And let them that know your name hope in you: for you, O Lord, have not failed them that diligently seek you. ¹¹ Sing praises to the Lord, who dwells in Sion: declare his dealings among the nations. ¹² For he remembered them, [in] making inquisition for blood: he has not forgotten the supplication of the poor. ¹³ Have mercy upon me, O Lord; look upon my affliction [which I suffer] of my enemies, you that lift me up from the gates of death: ¹⁴ that I may declare all your praises in the gates of the daughter of Sion: I will exult in your salvation. ¹⁵ The heathen are caught in the destruction which they planned: in the very snare which they hid is their foot taken. ¹⁶ The Lord is known as executing judgments: the sinner is taken in the works of his hands. A song of Pause. ¹⁷ Let sinners be driven away into Hades, [even] all the nations that forget God. ¹⁸ For the poor shall not be forgotten for ever: the patience of the needy ones shall not perish for ever. ¹⁹ Arise, O Lord, let not man prevail: let the heathen be judged before you. ²⁰ Appoint, O Lord, a lawgiver over them: let the heathen know that they are men. Pause. (Psalm 9a) ²¹ Why stand you afar off, O Lord? [why] do you overlook [us] in times of need, in affliction? ²² While the ungodly one acts proudly, the poor is hotly pursued: [the wicked] are taken in the crafty counsels which they imagine. ²³ Because the sinner praises himself for the desires of his heart; and the unjust one blesses himself. ²⁴ The sinner has provoked the Lord: according to the abundance of his pride he will not seek after [him]: God is not before him. ²⁵ His ways are profane at all times; your judgments are removed from before him: he will gain the mastery over all his enemies. ²⁶ For he has said in his heart, I shall not be moved, [continuing] without evil from generation to generation. ²⁷ Whose mouth is full of cursing, and bitterness, and fraud: under his tongue are trouble and pain. ²⁸ He lies in wait with rich [men] in secret places, in order to kill the innocent: his eyes are set against the poor. ²⁹ He lies in wait in secret as a lion in his den: he lies in wait to ravish the poor, to ravish the poor when he draws him [after him]: he will bring him down in his snare. ³⁰ He will bow down and fall when he has mastered the poor. ³¹ For he has said in his heart, God has forgotten: he has turned away his face so as never to look. ³² Arise, O Lord God; let your hand be lifted up: forget not the poor. ³³ Therefore, has the wicked provoked God? for he has said in his heart, He will not require [it]. ³⁴ You see [it]; for you do observe trouble and wrath, to deliver them into your hands: the poor has been left to you; you were a helper to the orphan. ³⁵ Break you the arm of the sinner and wicked man: his sin shall be sought for, and shall not be found. ³⁶ The Lord shall reign for ever, even for ever and ever: you ☐ Gentiles shall perish out his land. ³⁷ The Lord has heard the desire of the poor: your ear has inclined to the preparation of their heart; ³⁸ to plead for the orphan and afflicted, that man may no more boast upon the earth.

Psalm 10 (MT 11)

¹ (12) For the end, A Psalm of David, upon the eighth. Save me, O Lord; for the godly man has failed; for truth is diminished from among the children of men. ² Every one has spoken vanity to his neighbor: their lips are deceitful, they have spoken with a double heart. ³ Let the Lord destroy all the deceitful lips, and the tongue that speaks great words: ⁴ who have said, We will magnify our tongue; our lips are our own: who is Lord of us? ⁵ Because of the misery of the poor, and because of the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, says the Lord, I will set [them] in safety; I will speak [to them] thereof openly. ⁶ The oracles of the Lord are pure oracles; as silver tried in the fire, proved [in] a furnace of earth, purified seven times. ⁷ You, O Lord, shall keep us, and shall preserve us, from this generation, and for ever. ⁸ The ungodly walk around: according to your greatness you have greatly exalted the sons of men.

Psalm 12 (MT 13)

¹ (13) For the end, a Psalm of David. How long, O Lord, will you forget me? for ever? how long will you turn away your face from me? ² How long shall I take counsel in my soul, [having] sorrows in my heart daily? how long shall my enemy be exalted over me? ³ Look on me, listen to me, O Lord my God: lighten my eyes, lest I sleep in death; ⁴ lest at any time my enemy say, I have prevailed against him: my persecutors will exult if ever I should be moved. ⁵ But I have hoped in your mercy; my heart shall exult in your salvation. ⁶ I will sing to the Lord who has dealt bountifully with me, and I will sing psalms to the name of the Lord most high.

Psalm 13 (MT 14)

¹ (14) For the end, Psalm of David. The fool has said in his heart, There is no God. They have corrupted [themselves], and become abominable in their devices; there is none that does goodness, there is not even so much as one. ² The Lord looked down from heaven upon the sons of men, to see if there were any that understood, or sought after god. ³ They are all gone out of the way, they are together become good for nothing, there is none that does good, no not one. Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; the poison of asps is under their lips: whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness; their feet are swift to shed blood: destruction and misery are in their ways; and the way of peace they have not known: there is no fear of God before their eyes. ⁴ Will not all the workers of iniquity know, who eat up my people as they would eat bread? they have not called upon the Lord. ⁵ There were they alarmed with fear, where there was no fear; for God is in the righteous generation. ⁶ You ☐ have shamed the counsel of the poor, because the Lord is his hope. ⁷ Who will bring the salvation of Israel out of Sion? when the Lord brings back the captivity of his people, let Jacob exult, and Israel be glad.

Psalm 14 (MT 15)

¹ (15) A Psalm of David. O Lord, who shall sojourn in your tabernacle? and who shall dwell in your holy mountain? ² He that walks blameless, and works righteousness, who speaks truth in his heart. ³ Who has not spoken craftily with his tongue, neither has done evil to his neighbor, nor taken up a reproach against them that lived nearest to him. ⁴ In his sight an evil-worker is set at nothing, but he honors them that fear the Lord. He swears to his neighbor, and disappoints [him] not. ⁵ He has not lent his money on usury, and has not received bribes against the innocent. He that does these things shall never be moved.

Psalm 15 (MT 16)

¹ (16) A writing of David. Keep me, O Lord; for I have hoped in you. ² I said to the Lord, You are my Lord; for you have no need of my goodness. ³ On behalf of the saints that are in his land, he has magnified all his pleasure in them. ⁴ Their weaknesses have been multiplied; afterward they hasted. I will by no means assemble their bloody meetings, neither will I make mention of their names with my lips. ⁵ The Lord is the portion of my inheritance and of my cup: you are he that restores my inheritance to me. ⁶ The lines have fallen to me in the best places, yes, I have a most excellent heritage. ⁷ I will bless the Lord who has instructed me; my reins too have chastened me even till night. ⁸ I foresaw the Lord always before my face; for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved. ⁹ Therefore my heart rejoiced and my tongue exulted; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope: ¹⁰ because you will not leave my soul in hell, neither will you suffer your Holy One to see corruption. ¹¹ You have made known to me the ways of life; you will fill me with joy with your countenance: at your right hand [there are] delights for ever.

¹ (17) A prayer of David. Listen, O Lord of my righteousness, attend to my petition; give ear to my prayer not [uttered] with deceitful lips. ² Let my judgment come forth from your presence; let my eyes behold righteousness. ³ You have tested my heart; you have visited [me] by night; you have tried me as with fire, and unrighteousness has not been found in me: [I am purposed] that my mouth shall not speak [amiss]. ⁴ As for the works of men, by the words of your lips I have guarded [myself from] hard ways. ⁵ Direct my steps in your paths, that my steps slip not. ⁶ I have cried, for you heard me, O God: incline your ear to me, and listen to my words. ⁷ Show the marvels of your mercies, you that save them that hope in you. ⁸ Keep me as the apple of the eye from those that resist your right hand: you shall screen me by the covering of your wings, ⁹ from the face of the ungodly that have afflicted me: my enemies have compassed about my soul. ¹⁰ They have enclosed [themselves with] their own fat: their mouth has spoken pride. ¹¹ They have now cast me out and compassed me round about: they have set their eyes [so as] to bow them down to the ground. ¹² They laid wait for me as a lion ready for prey, and like a lion's whelp dwelling in secret [places]. ¹³ Arise, O Lord, prevent them, and cast them down: deliver my soul from the ungodly: [draw] your sword, ¹⁴ because of the enemies of your hand: O Lord, destroy them from the earth; scatter them in their life, though their belly has been filled with your hidden [treasures]: they have been satisfied with uncleanness, and have left the remnant [of their possessions] to their babes. ¹⁵ But I shall appear in righteousness before your face: I shall be satisfied when your glory appears.

¹ (18) For the end, [a Psalm] of David, the servant of the Lord; [the words] which he spoke to the Lord, [even] the words of this Song, in the day in which the Lord delivered him out the hand of all his enemies, and out the hand of Saul: and he said: I will love you, O Lord, my strength. ² The Lord is my firm support, and my refuge, and my deliverer; my God is my helper, I will hope in him; [he is] my defender, and the horn of my salvation, and my helper. ³ I will call upon the Lord with praises, and I shall be saved from my enemies. ⁴ The pangs of death compassed me, and the torrents of ungodliness troubled me exceedingly. ⁵ The pangs of hell came round about me: the snares of death prevented me. ⁶ And when I was afflicted I called upon the Lord, and cried to my God: he heard my voice out of this holy temple, and my cry shall enter before him, [even] into his ears. ⁷ Then the earth shook and quaked, and the foundations of the mountains were disturbed, and were shaken, because God was angry with them. ⁸ There went up a smoke in his wrath, and fire burst into a flame at his presence: coals were kindled at it. ⁹ And he bowed the heaven, and came down: and thick darkness was under his feet. ¹⁰ And he mounted on cherubs and flew: he flew on the wings of winds. ¹¹ And he made darkness his secret place: round about him was his tabernacle, [even] dark water in the clouds of the air. ¹² At the brightness before him the clouds passed, hail and coals of fire. ¹³ The Lord also thundered from heaven, and the Highest uttered his voice. ¹⁴ And he sent forth [his] weapons, and scattered them; and multiplied lightnings, and routed them. ¹⁵ And the springs of waters appeared, and the foundations of the world were exposed, at your rebuke, O Lord, at the blasting of the breath of your wrath. ¹⁶ He sent from on high and took me, he drew me to himself out of many waters. ¹⁷ He will deliver me from my mighty enemies, and from them that hate me; for they are stronger than I. ¹⁸ They prevented me in the day of my affliction: but the Lord was my stay against [them]. ¹⁹ And he brought me out into a wide place: he will deliver me, because he has pleasure in me. ²⁰ And the Lord will recompense me according to my righteousness; even according to the purity of my hands will he recompense me. ²¹ For I have kept the way of the Lord and have not wickedly departed from my God. ²² For all his judgments were before me, and his ordinances departed not from me. ²³ And I shall be blameless with him, and shall keep myself from my iniquity. ²⁴ And the Lord shall recompense me according to my righteousness, and according to the purity of my hands before his eyes. ²⁵ With the holy you will be holy; and with the innocent man you will be innocent. ²⁶ And with the excellent [man] you will be excellent; and with the perverse you will show frowardness. ²⁷ For you will save the lowly people, and will humble the eyes of the proud. ²⁸ For you, O Lord, will light my lamp: my God, you will lighten my darkness. ²⁹ For by you shall I be delivered from a troop; and by my God I will pass over a wall. ³⁰ [As for] my God, his way is perfect: the oracles of the Lord are tried in the fire; he is a protector of all them that hope in him. ³¹ For who is God but the Lord? and who is a God except our God? ³² [It is] God that girds me with strength, and has made my way blameless: ³³ who strengthens my feet as hart's feet, and sets me upon high places.

³⁴ He instructs my hands for war: and you have made my arms [as] a brazen bow. ³⁵ And you have made me secure in my salvation: and your right hand has helped me, and your correction has upheld me to the end; yes, your correction itself shall instruct me. ³⁶ You have made room for my goings under me, and by footsteps did not fail. ³⁷ I will pursue my enemies, and overtake them; and I will not turn back until they are consumed. ³⁸ I will dash them to pieces and they shall not be able to stand: they shall fall under my feet. ³⁹ For you have girded me with strength for war: you have beaten down under me all that rose up against me. ⁴⁰ And you have made my enemies turn their backs before me; and you have destroyed them that hated me. ⁴¹ They cried, but there was no deliverer: [even] to the Lord, but he listened not to them. ⁴² I will grind them as the mud of the streets: and I will beat them small as dust before the wind. ⁴³ Deliver me from the gain sayings of the people: you shall make me head of the Gentiles: a people whom I knew not served me, ⁴⁴ at the hearing of the ear they obeyed me: the strange children lied to me. ⁴⁵ The strange children waxed old, and fell away from their paths through lameness. ⁴⁶ The Lord lives; and blessed [be] my God; and let the God of my salvation be exalted. ⁴⁷ [It is] God that avenges me, and has subdued the nations under me; ⁴⁸ my deliverer from angry enemies: you shall set me on high above them that rise up against me: you shall deliver me from the unrighteous man. ⁴⁹ Therefore will I confess to you, O Lord, among the Gentiles, and sing to your name. ⁵⁰ [God] magnifies the deliverances of his king; and deals mercifully with David his anointed, and his seed, for ever.

Psalm 18 (MT 19)

¹³ And spare your servant [the attack] of strangers: if they do not gain the dominion over me, then shall I be blameless, and I shall be clear from great sin. ¹⁴ So shall the sayings of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be pleasing continually before you, O Lord my helper, and my redeemer.

When He descended to the engagement, the very heavens bowed to render his descent more awful: His military tent was substantial darkness; the voice of His thunder was the warlike alarm which sounded to battle; the chariot in which He rode was the thick clouds of heaven, conducted by cherubs, and carried on by the irresistible force and rapid wings of an impetuous tempest; and the darts and weapons He employed were thunder-bolts, lightnings, fiery hail, deluging rains, and stormy winds! No wonder that when God arose all His enemies were scattered, and those that hated Him fled before Him; darkness

¹ (20) For the end, a Psalm of David. Pause. ⁴ Grant you according to your heart, and fulfill all your desire. ⁵ We will exult in your salvation, and in the name of our God shall we be magnified: the Lord fulfil all your petitions. ⁶ Now I know that the Lord has saved his Christ: he shall hear him from his holy heaven: the salvation of his right hand is mighty. ⁷ Some [glory] in chariots, and some in horses: but we will glory in the name of the Lord our God. ⁸ They are overthrown and fallen: but we are risen, and have been set upright. ⁹ O Lord, save the king: and hear us in whatever day we call upon you.

¹ (21) For the end, a Psalm of David. O Lord, the king shall rejoice in your strength; and in your salvation he shall greatly exult. ² You have granted him the desire of his soul, and have not withheld from him the request of his lips. Pause. ³ For you have prevented him with blessings of goodness: you have set upon his head a crown of precious stone. ⁴ He asked life of you, and you gave him length of days for ever and ever. ⁵ His glory is great in your salvation: you will crown him with glory and majesty. ⁶ For you will give him a blessing for ever and ever: you will gladden him with joy with your countenance. ⁷ For the king trusts in the Lord, and through the mercy of the Highest he shall not be moved. ⁸ Let your hand be found by all your enemies: let your right hand find all that hate you. ⁹ You shall make them as a fiery oven at the time of your presence: the Lord shall trouble them in his anger, and fire shall devour them. ¹⁰ You shall destroy their fruit from the earth, and their seed from [among] the sons of men. ¹¹ For they intended evils against you; they imagined a device which they shall by no means be able to perform. ¹² For you shall make them [turn their] back in your latter end, you will prepare their face. ¹³ Be you exalted, O Lord, in your strength: we will sing and praise your mighty acts.

¹ (22) For the end, concerning the morning aid, a Psalm of David. O God, my God, attend to me: why have you forsaken me? the account of my transgressions is far from my salvation. ² O my God, I will cry to you by day, but you will not hear: and by night, and [it shall] not [be accounted] for folly to me. ³ But you, the praise of Israel, dwell in a sanctuary. ⁴ Our fathers hoped in you; they hoped, and you did deliver them. ⁵ They cried to you, and were saved: they hoped in you, and were not ashamed. ⁶ But I am a worm, and not a man; a reproach of men, and scorn of the people. ⁷ All that saw me mocked me: they spoke with [their] lips, they shook the head, [saying], ⁸ He hoped in the Lord: let him deliver him, let him save him, because he takes pleasure in him. ⁹ For you are he that drew me out of the womb; my hope from my mother's breasts. ¹⁰ I was cast on you from the womb: you are my God from my mother's belly. ¹¹ Stand not aloof from me; for affliction is near; for there is no helper. ¹² Many bullocks have compassed me: fat bulls have beset me round. ¹³ They have opened their mouth against me, as a ravening and roaring lion. ¹⁴ I am poured out like water, and all my bones are loosened: my heart in the midst of my belly is become like melting wax. ¹⁵ My strength is dried up, like a potsherd; and my tongue is glued to my throat; and you have brought me down to the dust of death. ¹⁶ For many dogs have compassed me: the assembly of the wicked doers has beset me round: they pierced my hands and my feet. ¹⁷ They counted all my bones; and they observed and looked upon me. ¹⁸ They parted my garments [among] themselves, and cast lots upon my raiment. ¹⁹ But you, O Lord, remove not my help afar off; be ready for my aid. ²⁰ Deliver my soul from the sword; my only-begotten one from the power of the dog. ²¹ Save me from the lion's mouth; and [regard] my lowliness from the horns of the unicorns. ²² I will declare your name to my brethren: in the midst of the church will I sing praise to you. ²³ You ☐ that fear the Lord, praise him; all you ☐ seed of Jacob, glorify him: let all the seed of Israel fear him. ²⁴ For he has not despised nor been angry at the supplication of the poor; nor turned away his face from me; but when I cried to him, he heard me. ²⁵ My praise is of you in the great congregation: I will pay my vows before them that fear him. ²⁶ The poor shall eat and be satisfied; and they shall praise the Lord that seek him: their heart shall live for ever. ²⁷ All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn to the Lord: and all the kindred of the nations shall worship before him. ²⁸ For the kingdom is the Lord's; and he is the governor of the nations. ²⁹ All the fat ones of the earth have eaten and worshipped: all that go down to the earth shall fall down before him: my soul also lives to him. ³⁰ And my seed shall serve him: the generation that is coming shall be reported to the Lord. ³¹ And they shall report his righteousness to the people that shall be born, whom the Lord has made.

Psalm 22 (MT 23)

¹ (23) A Psalm of David. The Lord tends me as a shepherd, and I shall lack nothing. ² In a place of green grass, there he has made me dwell: he has nourished me by the water of rest. ³ He has restored my soul: he has guided me into the paths of righteousness, for his name's sake. ⁴ Yes, even if I should walk in the midst of the shadow of death, I will not be afraid of evils: for you are with me; your rod and your staff, these have comforted me. ⁵ You have prepared a table before me in presence of them that afflict me: you have thoroughly anointed my head with oil; and your cup cheers me like the best [wine]. ⁶ Your mercy also shall follow me all the days of my life: and my dwelling [shall be] in the house of the Lord for a very long time.

Psalm 23 (MT 24)

¹ (24) A Psalm for David on the first day of the week. The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof; the world, and all that dwell in it. ² He has founded it upon the seas, and prepared it upon the rivers. ³ Who shall go up to the mountain of the Lord, and who shall stand in his holy place? ⁴ He that is innocent in his hands and pure in his heart; who has not lifted up his soul to vanity, nor sworn deceitfully to his neighbor. ⁵ He shall receive a blessing from the Lord, and mercy from God his Saviour. ⁶ This is the generation of them that seek him, that seek the face of the God of Jacob. Pause. ⁷ Lift up your gates, you□ princes, and be you□ lifted up, you□ everlasting doors; and the king of glory shall come in. ⁸ Who is this king of Glory? the Lord strong and mighty, the Lord mighty in battle. ⁹ Lift up your gates, you□ princes; and be you□ lift up,

Psalm 24 (MT 25)

¹ (25) A Psalm of David. To you, O Lord, have I lifted up my soul. ² O my God, I have trusted in you: let me not be confounded, neither let my enemies laugh me to scorn. ³ For none of them that wait on you shall in any wise be ashamed: let them be ashamed that transgress without cause. ⁴ Show me your ways, O Lord; and teach me your paths. ⁵ Lead me in your truth, and teach me: for you are God my Saviour: and I have waited on you all the day. ⁶ Remember your compassions, O Lord, and your mercies, for they are from everlasting. ⁷ Remember not the sins of my youth, nor [my sins] of ignorance: remember me according to your mercy, for your goodness' sake, O Lord. ⁸ Good and upright is the Lord: therefore will he instruct sinners in [the] way. ⁹ The meek will he guide in judgment: the meek will he teach his ways. ¹⁰ All the ways of the Lord are mercy and truth to them that seek his covenant and his testimonies. ¹¹ For your name's sake, O Lord, do you also be merciful to my sin; for it is great. ¹² Who is the man that fears the Lord? he shall instruct him in the way which he has chosen. ¹³ His soul shall dwell in prosperity; and his seed shall inherit the earth. ¹⁴ The Lord is the strength of them that fear him; and his covenant is to manifest [truth] to them. ¹⁵ My eyes are continually to the Lord; for he shall draw my feet out of the snare. ¹⁶ Look upon me, and have mercy upon me; for I am an only child and poor. ¹⁷ The afflictions of my heart have been multiplied; deliver me from my distresses. ¹⁸ Look upon my affliction and my trouble; and forgive all my sins. ¹⁹ Look upon my enemies; for they have been multiplied; and they have hated me with unjust hatred. ²⁰ Keep my soul, and deliver me: let me not be ashamed; for I have hoped in you. ²¹ The harmless and upright joined themselves to me: for I waited for you, O Lord. ²² Deliver Israel, O God, out of all his afflictions.

Psalm 25 (MT 26)

¹ (26) [A Psalm] of David. Judge me, O Lord; for I have walked in my innocence: and hoping in the Lord I shall not be moved. ² Prove me, O Lord, and try me; purify as with fire my reins and my heart. ³ For your mercy is before my eyes: and I am well pleased with your truth. ⁴ I have not sat with the council of vanity, and will in nowise enter in with transgressors. ⁵ I have hated the assembly of wicked doers; and will not sit with ungodly [men]. ⁶ I will wash my hands in innocency, and compass your altar, O Lord: ⁷ to hear the voice of praise, and to declare all your wonderful works. ⁸ O Lord, I have loved the beauty of your house, and the place of the tabernacle of your glory. ⁹ Destroy not my soul together with the ungodly, nor my life with bloody men: ¹⁰ in whose hands [are] iniquities, [and] their right hand is filled with bribes. ¹¹ But I have walked in my innocence: redeem me, and have mercy upon me. ¹² My foot stands in an even place: in the congregations will I bless you, O Lord.

Psalm 26 (MT 27)

¹ (27) [A Psalm] of David, before he was anointed. The Lord is my light and my Saviour; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the defender of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? ² When evil-doers drew near against me to eat up my flesh, my persecutors and my enemies, they fainted and fell. ³ Though an army should set itself in array against me, my heart shall not be afraid: though war should rise up against me, in this am I confident. ⁴ One thing have I asked of the Lord, this will I earnestly seek: that I should dwell in the house of the Lord, all the days of my life, that I should behold the fair beauty of the Lord, and survey his temple. ⁵ For in the day of my afflictions he hid me in his tabernacle: he sheltered me in the secret of his tabernacle; he set me up on a rock. ⁶ And now, behold, he has lifted up my head over my enemies: I went round and offered in his tabernacle the sacrifice of joy; I will sing even sing psalms to the Lord. ⁷ Hear, O Lord, my voice which I have uttered aloud: pity me, and listen to me. ⁸ My heart said to you, I have diligently sought your face: your face, O Lord, I will seek. ⁹ Turn not your face away from me, turn not you away from your servant in anger: be you my helper, forsake me not; and, O God my Saviour, overlook me not. ¹⁰ For my father and my mother have forsaken me, but the Lord has taken me to himself. ¹¹ Teach me, O Lord, in your way, and guide me in a right path, because of my enemies. ¹² Deliver me not over to the desire of them that afflict me; for unjust witnesses have risen up against me, and injustice has lied within herself. ¹³ I believe that I shall see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living. ¹⁴ Wait on the Lord: be of good courage, and let your heart be strengthened: yes wait on the Lord.

Psalm 27 (MT 28)

¹ (28) [A Psalm] of David. To you, O Lord, have I cried; my God, be not silent toward me: lest you be silent toward me, and so I should be likened to them that go down to the pit. ² Listen to the voice of my supplication, when I pray to you, when I lift up my hands toward your holy temple. ³ Draw not away my soul with sinners, and destroy me not with the workers of iniquity, who speak peace with their neighbors, but evils are in their hearts. ⁴ Give them according to their works, and according to the wickedness of their devices: give them according to the works of their hands; render their recompense to them. ⁵ Because they have not attended to the works of the Lord, even to the works of his hands, you shall pull them down, and shall not build them up. ⁶ Blessed be the Lord, for he has listened to the voice of my petition. ⁷ The Lord is my helper and my defender; my heart has hoped in him, and I am helped: my flesh has revived, and willingly will I give praise to him. ⁸ The Lord is the strength of his people, and the saving defender of his anointed. ⁹ Save your people, and bless your inheritance: and take care of them, and lift them up for ever.

Psalm 28 (MT 29)

¹ (29) A Psalm of David [on the occasion] of the solemn assembly of the Tabernacle. Bring to the Lord, you ☐ sons of God, bring to the Lord young rams; bring to the Lord glory and honor. ² Bring to the Lord glory, [due] to his name; worship the lord in his holy court. ³ The voice of the Lord is upon the waters: the God of glory has thundered: the Lord is upon many waters. ⁴ The voice of the Lord is mighty; the voice of the Lord is full of majesty. ⁵ [There is] the voice of the Lord who breaks the cedars; the Lord will break the cedars of Libanus. ⁶ And he will beat them small, [even] Libanus itself, like a calf; and the beloved one is as a young unicorn. ⁷ [There is] a voice of the Lord who divides a flame of fire. ⁸ A voice of the Lord who shakes the wilderness; the Lord will shake the wilderness of Cades. ⁹ The voice of the Lord strengthens the hinds, and will uncover the thickets: and in his temple every one speaks [of his] glory. ¹⁰ The Lord will dwell on the waterflood: and the Lord will sit a king for ever. ¹¹ The Lord will give strength to his people; the Lord will bless his people with peace.

Psalm 29 (MT 30)

¹ (30) For the end, a Psalm and Song at the dedication of the house of David. I will exalt you, O Lord; for you have lifted me up, and not caused my enemies to rejoice over me. ² O Lord my God, I cried to you, and you did heal me. ³ O Lord, you have brought up my soul from Hades, you have delivered me from [among] them that go down to the pit. ⁴ Sing to the Lord, you□ his saints, and give thanks for the remembrance of his holiness. ⁵ For anger is in his wrath, but life in his favor: weeping shall wait for the evening, but joy shall be in the morning. ⁶ And I said in my prosperity, I shall never be moved. ⁷ O Lord, in your good pleasure you did add strength to my beauty: but you did turn away your face, and I was troubled. ⁸ To you, O Lord, will I cry; and to my God will I make supplication. ⁹ What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to destruction? Shall the dust give praise to you? or shall it declare your truth? ¹⁰ The Lord heard, and had compassion upon me; the Lord is become my helper. ¹¹ You have turned my mourning into joy for me: you have torn off my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness; ¹² that my glory may sing praise to you, and I may not be pierced [with sorrow]. O Lord my God, I will give thanks to you for ever.

Psalm 30 (MT 31)

¹ (31) For the end, a Psalm of David, [an utterance] of extreme fear. O Lord, I have hoped in you; let me never be ashamed: deliver me in your righteousness and rescue me. ² Incline your ear to me; make haste to rescue me: be you to me for a protecting God, and for a house of refuge to save me. ³ For you are my strength and my refuge; and you shall guide me for your name's sake, and maintain me. ⁴ You shall bring me out of the snare which they have hidden for me; for you, O

Lord, are my defender. ⁵ Into your hands I will commit my spirit: you have redeemed me, O Lord God of truth. ⁶ You have hated them that idly persist in vanities: but I have hoped in the Lord. ⁷ I will exult and be glad in your mercy: for you have looked upon my affliction; you have saved my soul from distresses. ⁸ And you have not shut me up into the hands of the enemy: you have set my feet in a wide place. ⁹ Pity me, O Lord, for I am afflicted: my eye is troubled with indignation, my soul and by belly. ¹⁰ For my life is spent with grief, and my years with groanings: my strength has been weakened through poverty, and my bones are troubled. ¹¹ I became a reproach among all my enemies, but exceedingly so to my neighbors, and a fear to my acquaintance: they that saw me without fled from me. ¹² I have been forgotten as a dead man out of mind: I am become as a broken vessel. ¹³ For I heard the slander of many that lived round about: when they were gathered together against me, they took counsel to take my life. ¹⁴ But I hoped in you, O Lord: I said, You are my God. ¹⁵ My lots are in your hands: deliver me from the hand of my enemies, ¹⁶ and from them that persecute me. Make your face to shine upon your servant: save me in your mercy. ¹⁷ O Lord, let me not be ashamed, for I have called upon you: let the ungodly be ashamed, and brought down to Hades. ¹⁸ Let the deceitful lips become dumb, which speak iniquity against the righteous with pride and scorn. ¹⁹ How abundant is the multitude of your goodness, O Lord, which you have laid up for them that fear you! you have wrought [it] out for them that hope on you, in the presence of the sons of men. ²⁰ You will hide them in the secret of your presence from the vexation of man: you will screen them in a tabernacle from the contradiction of tongues. ²¹ Blessed be the Lord: for he has magnified his mercy in a fortified city. ²² But I said in my extreme fear, I am cast out from the sight of your eyes: therefore you did listen, O Lord, to the voice of my supplication when I cried to you. ²³ Love the Lord, all you ☐ his saints: for the Lord seeks for truth, and renders [a reward] to them that deal very proudly. ²⁴ Be of good courage, and let your heart be strengthened, all you ☐ that hope in the Lord.

Psalm 31 (MT 32)

¹ (32) [A Psalm] of instruction by David. Blessed [are they] whose transgressions are forgiven, and who sins are covered. ² Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin, and whose mouth there is no guile. ³ Because I kept silence, my bones waxed old, from my crying all the day. ⁴ For day and night your hand was heavy upon me: I became thoroughly miserable while a thorn was fastened in [me]. Pause. ⁵ I acknowledged my sin, and hid not my iniquity: I said, I will confess my iniquity to the Lord against myself; and you forgave the ungodliness of my heart. Pause. ⁶ Therefore shall every holy one pray to you in a fit time: only in the deluge of many waters they shall not come near to him. ⁷ You are my refuge from the affliction that encompasses me; my joy, to deliver me from them that have compassed me. Pause. ⁸ I will instruct you and guide you in this way wherein you shall go: I will fix my eyes upon you. ⁹ Be you ☐ not as horse and mule, which have no understanding; [but you must] constrain their jaws with bit and curb, lest they should come near to you. ¹⁰ Many are the scourges of the sinner: but him that hopes in the Lord mercy shall compass about. ¹¹ Be glad in the Lord, and exult, you ☐ righteous: and glory, all you ☐ that are upright in heart.

Psalm 32 (MT 33)

¹ (33) [A Psalm] of David. Rejoice in the Lord, you ☐ righteous; praise becomes the upright. ² Praise the Lord on the harp; play to him on a lute of ten strings. ³ Sing to him a new song; play skillfully with a loud noise. ⁴ For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are faithful. ⁵ He loves mercy and judgment; the earth is full the mercy of the Lord. ⁶ By the word of the Lord the heavens were established; and all the host of them by the breath of his [mouth]. ⁷ Who gathers the waters of the sea as [in] a bottle; who lays up the deeps in treasures. ⁸ Let all the earth fear the Lord; and let all that dwell in the world be moved because of him. ⁹ For he spoke, and they were made; he commanded, and they were created. ¹⁰ The Lord frustrates the counsels of the nations; he brings to nothing also the reasonings of the peoples, and brings to nothing the counsels of princes. ¹¹ But the counsel of the Lord endures for ever, the thoughts of his heart from generation to generation. ¹² Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord; the people whom he has chosen for his own inheritance. ¹³ The Lord looks out of heaven; he beholds all the sons of men. ¹⁴ He looks from his prepared habitation on all the dwellers on the earth; ¹⁵ who fashioned their hearts alone; who understands all their works. ¹⁶ A king is not saved by reason of a great host; and a giant shall not be delivered by the greatness of his strength. ¹⁷ A horse is vain for safety; neither shall he be delivered by the greatness of his power. ¹⁸ Behold, the eyes of the Lord are on them that fear him, those that hope in his mercy; ¹⁹ to deliver their souls from death, and to keep them alive in famine. ²⁰ Our soul waits on the Lord; for he is our helper and defender. ²¹ For our heart shall rejoice in him, and we have hoped in his holy name. ²² Let your mercy, O Lord, be upon us, according as we have hoped in you.

Psalm 33 (MT 34)

¹ (34) [A Psalm] of David, when he changed his countenance before Abimelech; and he let him go, and he departed. I will bless the Lord at all times: his praise shall be continually in my mouth. ² My soul shall boast herself in the Lord: let the meek hear, and rejoice. ³ Magnify you ☐ the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together. ⁴ I sought the Lord diligently, and he listened to me, and delivered me from all my sojournings. ⁵ Draw near to him, and be enlightened: and your faces shall not [by any means] be ashamed. ⁶ This poor man cried, and the Lord listened to him, and delivered him out of all his afflictions. ⁷ The angel of the Lord will encamp round about them that fear him, and will deliver them. ⁸ Taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man who hopes in him. ⁹ Fear the Lord, all you ☐ his saints: for there is no lack to them that fear him. ¹⁰ The rich have become poor and hungry: but they that seek the Lord diligently shall not lack any good thing. Pause. ¹¹ Come, you ☐ children, hear me: I will teach you the fear of the Lord. ¹² What man is there that desires life, loving to see good days? ¹³ Keep your tongue from evil, and your lips from speaking guile. ¹⁴ Turn away from evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it. ¹⁵ The eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears [are open] to their prayer: ¹⁶ but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil, to destroy their memorial from the earth. The righteous cried, and the Lord listened to them, ¹⁷ and delivered them out of all their afflictions. ¹⁸ The Lord is near to them that are of a contrite heart; and will save the lowly in spirit. ¹⁹ Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but out of them all Lord will deliver them. ²⁰ He keeps all their bones: not one of them shall be broken. ²¹ The death of sinners is evil: and they that hate righteousness will go wrong. ²² The Lord will redeem the souls of his servants: and none of those that hope in him shall go wrong.

Psalm 34 (MT 35)

them; and let them fall into the very same snare. ⁹ But my soul shall exult in the Lord: it shall delight in his salvation. ¹⁰ All my bones shall say, O Lord, who is like to you? delivering the poor out of the hand of them that are stronger than he, yes, the poor and needy one from them that spoil him. ¹¹ Unjust witnesses arose, and asked me of things I new not. ¹² They rewarded me evil for good, and bereavement to my soul. ¹³ But I, when they troubled me, put on sackcloth, and humbled my soul with fasting; and my prayer shall return to my [own] bosom. ¹⁴ I behaved agreeably towards them as [if it had been] our neighbor [or] brother: I humbled myself as one mourning and sad of countenance. ¹⁵ Yet they rejoiced against me, and plagues were plentifully brought against me, and I knew [it] not: they were scattered, but repented not. ¹⁶ They tempted me, they sneered at me most contemptuously, they gnashed their teeth upon me. ¹⁷ O Lord, when will you look upon me? Deliver my soul from their mischief, my only-begotten one from the lions. ¹⁸ I will give thanks to you even in a great congregation: in an abundant people I will praise you. ¹⁹ Let not them that are my enemies without a cause rejoice against me; who hate me for nothing, and wink with their eyes. ²⁰ For to me they spoke peaceably, but imagined deceits in [their] anger. ²¹ And they opened wide their mouth upon me; they said Aha, aha, our eyes have seen [it]. ²² You have seen [it], O Lord: keep not silence: O Lord, withdraw not [yourself] from me. ²³ Awake, O Lord, and attend to my judgment, [even] to my cause, my God and my Lord. ²⁴ Judge me, O Lord, according to your righteousness, O Lord my God; and let them not rejoice against me. ²⁵ Let them not say in their hearts, Aha, aha, [it is pleasing] to our soul: neither let them say, We have devoured him. ²⁶ Let them be confounded and ashamed together that rejoice at my afflictions: let them be clothed with shame and confusion that speak great swelling words against me. ²⁷ Let them that rejoice in my righteousness exult and be glad: and let them say continually, The Lord be magnified, who desire the peace of his servant. ²⁸ And my tongue shall meditate on your righteousness, [and] on your praise all the day.

Psalm 35 (MT 36)

¹ (36) For the end, by David the servant of the Lord. The transgressor, that he may sin, says within himself, [that] there is no fear of God before his eyes. ² For he has dealt craftily before him, to discover his iniquity and hate it. ³ The words of his mouth are transgression and deceit: he is not inclined to understand [how] to do good. ⁴ He devises iniquity on his bed; he gives himself to every evil way; and does not abhor evil. ⁵ O Lord, your mercy is in the heaven; and your truth [reaches] to the clouds. ⁶ Your righteousness is as the mountains of God, your judgments are as a great deep: O Lord, you will preserve men and beasts. ⁷ How have you multiplied your mercy, O God! so the children of men shall trust in the shelter of your wings. ⁸ They shall be fully satisfied with the fatness of your house; and you shall cause them to drink of the full stream of your delights. ⁹ For with you is the fountain of life: in your light we shall see light. ¹⁰ Extend your mercy to them that know you; and your righteousness to the upright in heart. ¹¹ Let not the foot of pride come against me, and let not the hand of sinners move me. ¹² There have all the workers of iniquity fallen: they are cast out, and shall not be able to stand.

N: ⁶ their; dark and slippery Heb. darkness and slipperiness ⁸ Let destruction All the verbs in these verses (), in the original, are in the future tense, as a prediction, and should probably be so rendered; though as that tense is frequently used in Hebrew for the imperative, most translators, both ancient and modern, have considered them as an imprecation.; at unawares Heb. which he knoweth not of net, ; into ¹¹ False witnesses Heb. Witnesses of wrong; , laid etc. Heb. asked me ¹² They; spoiling Heb. depriving; my soul Or, "my life, " as the word nephesh frequently denotes.

Psalm 36 (MT 37)

¹ (37) [A Psalm] of David. Fret not yourself because of evil-doers, neither be envious of them that do iniquity. ² For they shall soon be withered as the grass, and shall soon fall away as the green herbs. ³ Hope in the Lord, and do good; and dwell on the land, and you shall be fed with the wealth of it. ⁴ Delight [yourself] in the Lord; and he shall grant you the requests of your heart. ⁵ Disclose your way to the Lord, and hope in him; and he shall bring [it] to pass. ⁶ And he shall bring forth your righteousness as the light, and your judgment as the noon-day. ⁷ Submit yourself to the Lord, and supplicate him: fret not yourself because of him that prospers in his way, at the man that does unlawful deeds. ⁸ ease from anger; and forsake wrath: fret not yourself so as to do evil. ⁹ For evil-doers shall be destroyed: but they that wait on the Lord, they shall inherit the land. ¹⁰ And yet a little while, and the sinner shall not be, and you shall seek for his place, and shall not find [it]. ¹¹ But the meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight [themselves] in the abundance of peace. ¹² The sinner will watch for the righteous, and gnash his teeth upon him. ¹³ But the Lord shall laugh at him: for he foresees that his day will come. ¹⁴ Sinners have drawn their swords, they have bent their bow, to cast down the poor and needy one, [and] to kill the upright in heart. ¹⁵ Let their sword enter into their [own] heart, and their bows be broken. ¹⁶ A little is better to the righteous than abundant wealth of sinners. ¹⁷ For the arms of sinners shall be broken; but the Lord supports the righteous. ¹⁸ The Lord knows the ways of the perfect; and their inheritance shall be for ever. ¹⁹ They shall not be ashamed in an evil time; and in days of famine they shall be satisfied. ²⁰ For the sinners shall perish; and the enemies of the Lord at the moment of their being honored and exalted have utterly vanished like smoke. ²¹ The sinner borrows, and will not pay again: but the righteous has compassion, and gives. ²² For they that bless him shall inherit the earth; and they that curse him shall be utterly destroyed. ²³ The steps of a man are rightly ordered by the Lord: and he will take pleasure in his way. ²⁴ When he falls, he shall not be ruined: for the Lord supports his hand. ²⁵ I was [once] young, indeed I am now old; yet I have not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed seeking bread. ²⁶ He is merciful, and lends continually; and his seed shall be blessed. ²⁷ Turn aside from evil, and do good; and dwell for ever. ²⁸ For the Lord loves judgment, and will not forsake his saints; they shall be preserved for ever: the blameless shall be avenged, but the seed of the ungodly shall be utterly destroyed. ²⁹ But the righteous shall inherit the earth, and dwell upon it for ever. ³⁰ The mouth of the righteous will meditate wisdom, and his tongue will speak of judgment. ³¹ The law of his God is in his heart; and his steps shall not slide. ³² The sinner watches the righteous, and seeks to kill him. ³³ But the Lord will not leave him in his hands, nor by any means condemn him when he is judged. ³⁴ Wait on the Lord, and keep his way, and he shall exalt you to inherit the land: when the wicked are destroyed, you shall see [it]. ³⁵ I saw the ungodly very highly exalting himself, and lifting himself up like the cedars of Libanus. ³⁶ Yet I passed by, and behold! he was not: and I sought him, but his place was not found. ³⁷ Maintain innocence, and behold uprightness: for there is a remnant to the peaceful man. ³⁸ But the transgressors shall be utterly destroyed together: the remnants of the ungodly shall be utterly destroyed. ³⁹ But the salvation of the righteous is of the Lord; and he is their defender in the time of affliction. ⁴⁰ And the Lord shall help them, and deliver them: and he shall rescue them from sinners, and save them, because they have hoped in him.

Psalms 37 (MT 38)

¹ (38) A Psalm of David for remembrance concerning the Sabbath-day. O Lord, rebuke me not in your wrath, neither chasten me in your anger. ² For your weapons are fixed in me, and you have pressed your hand heavily upon me. ³ For there is no health in my flesh because of your anger; there is no peace to my bones because of my sins. ⁴ For my transgressions have gone over my head: they have pressed heavily upon me like a weighty burden. ⁵ My bruises have become noisome and corrupt, because of my foolishness. ⁶ I have been wretched and bowed down continually: I went with a mourning countenance all the day. ⁷ For my soul is filled with mockings; and there is no health in my flesh. ⁸ I have been afflicted and brought down exceedingly: I have roared for the groaning of my heart. ⁹ But all my desire is before you; and my groaning is not hidden from you. ¹⁰ My heart is troubled, my strength has failed me; and the light of my eyes is not with me. ¹¹ My friends and my neighbors drew near before me, and stood still; and my nearest of kin stood afar off. ¹² While they pressed hard upon me that sought my soul: and they that sought my hurt spoke vanities, and devised deceits all the day. ¹³ But I, as a deaf man, heard not; and was as a dumb man not opening his mouth. ¹⁴ And I was as a man that hears not, and who has no reproofs in his mouth. ¹⁵ For I hoped in you, O Lord: you will hear, O Lord my God. ¹⁶ For I said, Lest my enemies rejoice against me: for when my feet were moved, they spoke boastingly against me. ¹⁷ For I am ready for plagues, and my grief is continually before me. ¹⁸ For I will declare my iniquity, and be distressed for my sin. ¹⁹ But my enemies live, and are mightier than I: and they that hate me unjustly are multiplied. ²⁰ They that reward evil for good slandered me; because I followed righteousness. ²¹ Forsake me not, O Lord my God: depart not from me. ²² Draw near to my help, O Lord of my salvation.

Psalm 38 (MT 39)

¹ (39) For the end, a Song of David, to Idithun. I said, I will take heed to my ways, that I sin not with my tongue: I set a guard on my mouth, while the sinner stood in my presence. ² I was dumb, and humbled myself, and kept silence from good [words]; and my grief was renewed. ³ My heart grew hot within me, and a fire would kindle in my meditation: I spoke with my tongue, ⁴ O Lord, make me to know my end, and the number of my days, what it is; that I may know what I lack. ⁵ Behold, you have made my days old; and my existence [is] as nothing before you: nay, every man living [is] altogether vanity. Pause. ⁶ Surely man walks in a shadow; nay, he is disquieted in vain: he lays up treasures, and knows not for whom he shall gather them. ⁷ And now what [is] my expectation? [is it] not the Lord? and my ground [of hope] is with you. Pause. ⁸ Deliver me from all my transgressions: you have made me a reproach to the foolish. ⁹ I was dumb, and opened not my mouth; for you are he that made me. ¹⁰ Remove your scourges from me: I have fainted by reason of the strength of your hand. ¹¹ You chasten man with rebukes for iniquity, and you make his life to consume away like a spider's web; nay, every man is disquieted in vain. Pause. ¹² O Lord, listen to my prayer and my supplication: attend to my tears: be not silent, for I am a sojourner in the land, and a stranger; as all my fathers [were]. ¹³ Spare me, that I may be refreshed, before I depart, and be no more.

Psalm 39 (MT 40)

¹ (40) For the end, a Psalm of David. I waited patiently for the Lord; and he attended to me, and listened to my supplication. ² And he brought me up out of a pit of misery, and from miry clay: and he set my feet on a rock, and ordered my goings aright. ³ And he put a new song into my mouth, [even] a hymn to our God: many shall see [it], and fear, and shall hope in the Lord. ⁴ Blessed [is] the man whose hope is in the name of the Lord, and [who] has not regarded vanities and false frenzies. ⁵ O Lord my God, you have multiplied your wonderful works, and in your thoughts there is none who shall be likened to you: I declared and spoke [of them]: they exceeded number. ⁶ Sacrifice and offering you would not; but a body have you prepared me: whole burnt offering and [sacrifice] for sin you did not require. ⁷ Then I said, Behold, I come: in the volume of the book it is written concerning me, ⁸ I desired to do your will, O my God, and your law in the midst of my heart. ⁹ I have preached righteousness in the great congregation; behold! I will not refrain my lips; O Lord, you know my righteousness. ¹⁰ I have not hid your truth within my heart, and I have declared your salvation; I have not hid your mercy and your truth from the great congregation. ¹¹ But you, Lord, remove not your compassion far from me; your mercy and your truth have helped me continually. ¹² For innumerable evils have encompassed me; my transgressions have taken hold of me, and I could not see; they are multiplied more than the hairs of my head; and my heart has failed me. ¹³ Be pleased, O Lord, to deliver me; O Lord, draw near to help me. ¹⁴ Let those that seek my soul, to destroy it, be ashamed and confounded together; let those that wish me evil be turned backward and put to shame. ¹⁵ Let those that say to me, Aha, aha, quickly receive shame for their reward. ¹⁶ Let all those that seek you, O Lord, exult and rejoice in you; and let them that love your salvation say continually, The Lord be magnified. ¹⁷ But I am poor and needy; the Lord will take care of me; you are my helper, and my defender, O my God, delay not.

Psalm 40 (MT 41)

mercy upon me; heal my soul; for I have sinned against you. ⁵ Mine enemies have spoken evil against me, [saying], When shall he die, and his name perish? ⁶ And if he came to see [me], his heart spoke vainly; he gathered iniquity to himself; he went forth and spoke in like manner. ⁷ All my enemies whispered against me; against me they devised my hurt. ⁸ They denounced a wicked word against me, [saying], Now that he lies, shall he not rise up again? ⁹ For even the man of my peace, in whom I trusted, who ate my bread, lifted up [his] heel against me. ¹⁰ But you, O Lord, have compassion upon me, and raise me up, and I shall requite them. ¹¹ By this I know that you have delighted in me, because my enemy shall not rejoice over me. ¹² But you did help me because of [my] innocence, and have established me before you for ever. ¹³ Blessed [be] the Lord God of Israel from everlasting, and to everlasting. So be it, so be it.

As the hart earnestly desires the fountains of water, so my soul earnestly longs for you, O God. ² My soul has thirsted for the living God: when shall I come and appear before God? ³ My tears have been bread to me day and night, while they daily said to me, Where is your God? ⁴ I remembered these things, and poured out my soul in me, for I will go to the place of your wondrous tabernacle, [even] to the house of God, with a voice of exultation and thanksgiving and of the sound of those who keep festival. ⁵ Therefore are you very sad, O my soul? and therefore do you trouble me? hope in God; for I will give thanks to him; [he is] the salvation of my countenance. ⁶ O my God, my soul has been troubled within me: therefore will I remember you from the land of Jordan, and of the Ermonites, from the little hill. ⁷ Deep calls to deep at the voice of your cataracts: all your billows and your waves have gone over me. ⁸ By day the Lord will command his mercy, and manifest [it] by night: with me [is] prayer to the God of my life. ⁹ I will say to God, You are my helper; why have you forgotten me? therefore do I go sad of countenance, while the enemy oppresses [me]? ¹⁰ While my bones were breaking, they that afflicted me reproached me; while they said to me daily, Where is your God? ¹¹ Therefore are you very sad, O my soul? and therefore do you trouble me? hope in God; for I will give thanks to him; [he is] the health of my countenance, and my God.

¹ (43) A Psalm of David. Judge me, O God, and plead my cause, against an ungodly nation: deliver me from the unjust and crafty man. ² For you, O God, are my strength: therefore have you cast me off? and why do I go sad of countenance, while the enemy oppresses [me]? ³ Send forth your light and your truth: they have led me, and brought me to your holy mountain, and to your tabernacles. ⁴ And I will go in to the altar of God, to God who gladdens my youth: I will give thanks to you on the harp, O God, my God. ⁵ Therefore are you very sad, O my soul? and therefore do you trouble me? Hope in God; for I will give thanks to him, [who is] the health of my countenance, [and] my God.

Psalm 43 (MT 44)

¹ (44) For the end, a Psalm for instruction, for the sons of Core. O God, we have heard with our ears, our fathers have told us, the work which you wrought in their days, in the days of old. ² Your hand utterly destroyed the heathen, and you did plant them: you did afflict the nations, and cast them out. ³ For they inherited not the land by their [own] sword, and their [own] arm did not deliver them; but your right hand, and your arm, and the light of your countenance, because you were well pleased in them. ⁴ You are indeed my King and my God, who command deliverances for Jacob. ⁵ In you will we push down our enemies, and in your name will we bring to nothing them that rise up against us. ⁶ For I will not trust in my bow, and my sword shall not save me. ⁷ For you have saved us from them that afflicted us, and have put to shame them that hated us. ⁸ In God will we make our boast all the day, and to your name will we give thanks for ever. Pause. ⁹ But now you have cast off, and put us to shame; and you will not go forth with our hosts. ¹⁰ You have turned us back before our enemies; and they that hated us spoiled for themselves. ¹¹ You made us as sheep for meat; and you scattered us among the nations. ¹² You have sold your people without price, and there was no profit by their exchange. ¹³ You have made us a reproach to our neighbors, a scorn and derision them that are round about us. ¹⁴ You have made us a proverb among the Gentiles, a shaking of the head among the nations. ¹⁵ All the day my shame is before me, and the confusion of my face has covered me, ¹⁶ because of the voice of the slanderer and reviler; because of the enemy and avenger. ¹⁷ All these things are come upon us: but we have not forgotten you, neither have we dealt unrighteously in your covenant. ¹⁸ And our heart has not gone back; but you have turned aside our paths from your way. ¹⁹ For you have laid us low in a place of affliction, and the shadow of death has covered us. ²⁰ If we have forgotten the name of our God, and if we have spread out our hands to a strange god; shall not God search these things out? ²¹ for he knows the secrets of the heart. ²² For, for your sake we are killed all the day long; we are counted as sheep for slaughter. ²³ Awake, therefore sleep you, O Lord? arise, and do not cast [us] off for ever. ²⁴ Therefore turn you your face away, [and] forget our poverty and our affliction?

²⁵ For our soul has been brought down to the dust; our belly has cleaved to the earth. ²⁶ Arise, O Lord, help us, and redeem us for your name's sake.

Psalm 44 (MT 45)

¹ (45) For the end, for alternate [strains] by the sons of Core; for instruction, a Song concerning the beloved. My heart has uttered a good matter: I declare my works to the king: my tongue is the pen of a quick writer. ² You are more beautiful than the sons of men: grace has been shed forth on your lips: therefore God has blessed you for ever. ³ Gird your sword upon your thigh, O Mighty One, in your comeliness, and in your beauty; ⁴ and bend [your bow], and prosper, and reign, because of truth and meekness and righteousness; and your right hand shall guide you wonderfully. ⁵ Your weapons are sharpened, Mighty One, (the nations shall fall under you) [they are] in the heart of the king's enemies. ⁶ Your throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the sceptre of your kingdom is a sceptre of righteousness. ⁷ You have loved righteousness, and hated iniquity: therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness beyond your fellows. ⁸ Myrrh, and stacte, and cassia [are exhaled] from your garments, [and] out of the ivory palaces, ⁹ with which kings' daughters have gladdened you for your honor: the queen stood by on your right hand, clothed in vesture wrought with gold, [and] arrayed in various colors. ¹⁰ Hear, O daughter, and see, and incline your ear; forget also your people, and your father's house. ¹¹ Because the king has desired your beauty; for he is your Lord. ¹² And the daughter of Tyre shall adore him with gifts; the rich of the people of the land shall supplicate your favor. ¹³ All her glory [is that] of the daughter of the king of Esebon, robed [as she is] in golden fringed garments, ¹⁴ in embroidered [clothing]: virgins shall be brought to the king after her: her fellows shall be brought to you. ¹⁵ They shall be brought with gladness and exultation: they shall be led into the king's temple. ¹⁶ Instead of your fathers children are born to you: you shall make them princes over all the earth. ¹⁷ They shall make mention of your name from generation to generation: therefore shall the nations give thanks to you for ever, even for ever and ever.

Psalm 45 (MT 46)

¹ (46) For the end, for the sons of Core; a Psalm concerning secret things. God is our refuge and strength, a help in the afflictions that have come heavily upon us. ² Therefore will we not fear when the earth is troubled, and the mountains are removed into the depths of the seas. ³ Their waters have roared and been troubled, the mountains have been troubled by his might. Pause. ⁴ The flowings of the river gladden the city of God: the Most High has sanctified his tabernacle. ⁵ God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved: God shall help her with his countenance. ⁶ The nations were troubled, the kingdoms tottered: he uttered his voice, the earth shook. ⁷ The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our helper. Pause. ⁸ Come, and behold the works of the Lord, what wonders he has achieved on the earth. ⁹ Putting an end to wars as for the ends of the earth; he will crush the bow, and break in pieces the weapon, and burn the bucklers with fire. ¹⁰ Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth. ¹¹ The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our helper.

Psalm 47 (MT 48)

¹ (48) A Psalm of praise for the sons of Core on the second [day] of the week. Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised in the city of our God, in his holy mountain. ² The city of the great King is well planted [on] the mountains of Sion, with the joy of the whole earth, [on] the sides of the north. ³ God is known in her palaces, when he undertakes to help her. ⁴ For, behold the kings of the earth were assembled, they came together. ⁵ They saw, and so they wondered: they were troubled, they were moved. ⁶ Trembling took hold on them: there were the pangs as of a woman in travail. ⁷ You will break the ships of Tharsis with a vehement wind. ⁸ As we have heard, so have we also seen, in the city of the Lord of hosts, in the city of our God: God has founded it for ever. Pause. ⁹ We have thought of your mercy, O God, in the midst of your people. ¹⁰ According to your name, O God, so is also your praise to the ends of the earth: your right hand is full of righteousness. ¹¹ Let mount Sion rejoice, let the daughters of Judaea exult, because of your judgments, O Lord. ¹² Go round about Sion, and encompass her: tell you□ her towers. ¹³ Mark you□ well her strength, and observe her palaces; that you□ may tell the next generation. ¹⁴ For this is our God for ever and ever: he will be our guide for evermore.

Psalm 48 (MT 49)

¹ (49) For the end, a Psalm for the sons of Core. Hear these words, all you□ nations, listen, all you□ that dwell upon the earth: ² both the sons of mean men, and sons of [great] men; the rich and poor [man] together. ³ My mouth shall speak of wisdom; and the meditation of my heart shall bring [forth] understanding. ⁴ I will incline my ear to a parable: I will open my riddle on the harp. ⁵ Therefore should I fear in the evil day? the iniquity of my heel shall compass me. ⁶ They that trust in their strength, and boast themselves in the multitude of their wealth— ⁷ A brother does not redeem, shall a man redeem? he shall not give to God a ransom for himself, ⁸ or the price of the redemption of his soul, though he labor for ever, ⁹ and live to the end, [so] that he should not see corruption. ¹⁰ When he shall see wise men dying, the fool and the senseless one shall perish together; and they shall leave their wealth to strangers. ¹¹ And their sepulchres are their houses for ever, [even] their tabernacles to all generations: they have called their lands after their own names. ¹² And man being in honor, understands not: he is compared to the senseless cattle, and is like to them. ¹³ This their way is an offense to them; yet afterwards men will commend their sayings. Pause. ¹⁴ They have laid [them] as sheep in Hades; death shall feed on them; and the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning, and their help shall fail in Hades from their glory. ¹⁵ But God shall deliver my soul from the power of Hades, when he shall receive me. Pause. ¹⁶ Fear not when a man is enriched, and when the glory of his house is increased. ¹⁷ For he shall take nothing when he dies; neither shall his glory descend with him. ¹⁸ For his soul shall be blessed in his life: he shall give thanks to you when you do well to him. ¹⁹ [Yet] he shall go in to the generation of his fathers; he shall never see light. ²⁰ Man that is in honor, understands not: he is compared to the senseless cattle, and is like them.

Psalm 49 (MT 50)

¹ (50) A Psalm for Asaph. The God of gods, the Lord, has spoken, and called the earth from the rising of the sun to the going down [thereof]. ² Out of Sion [comes] the excellence of his beauty. ³ God, our God, shall come manifestly, and shall not keep silence: a fire shall be kindled before him, and round about him there shall be a very great tempest. ⁴ He shall summon the heaven above, and the earth, that he may judge his people. ⁵ Assemble you□ his saints to him, those that have engaged in a covenant with him upon sacrifices. ⁶ And the heavens shall declare his righteousness: for God is judge. Pause. ⁷ Hear, my people, and I will speak to you, O Israel: and I will testify to you: I am God, your God. ⁸ I will not reprove you on account of your sacrifices; for your whole burnt offerings are before me continually. ⁹ I will take no bullocks out of your house, nor he-goats out of your flocks. ¹⁰ For all the wild beasts of the thicket are mine, the cattle on the mountains, and oxen. ¹¹ I know all the birds of the sky; and the beauty of the field is mine. ¹² If I should be hungry, I will not tell you: for the world is mine, and the fullness of it. ¹³ Will I eat the flesh of bulls, or drink the blood of goats? ¹⁴ Offer to God the sacrifice of praise; and pay your vows to the Most High. ¹⁵ And call upon me in the day of affliction; and I will deliver you, and you shall glorify me. Pause. ¹⁶ But to the sinner God has said, Why do you declare my ordinances, and take up my covenant in your mouth? ¹⁷ Whereas you have hated instruction, and have cast my words behind [you]. ¹⁸ If you saw a thief, you ran along with him, and have cast in your lot with adulterers. ¹⁹ Your mouth has multiplied wickedness, and your tongue has framed deceit. ²⁰ You did sit and speak against your brother, and did scandalize your mother's son. ²¹ These things you did, and I kept silence: you thought wickedly that I should be like you, [but] I will reprove you, and set [your offenses] before you. ²² Now consider these things, you□ that forget God, lest he rend [you], and there is no deliverer. ²³ The sacrifice of praise will glorify me: and that is the way wherein I will show to him the salvation of God.

Psalm 50 (MT 51)

¹ (51) For the end, a Psalm of David, when Nathan the prophet came to him, when he had gone to Bersabee. Have mercy upon me, O God, according to your great mercy; and according to the multitude of your compassions blot out my transgression. ² Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin. ³ For I am conscious of my iniquity; and my sin is continually before me. ⁴ Against you only have I sinned, and done evil before you: that you might be justified in your sayings, and might overcome when you are judged. ⁵ For, behold, I was conceived in iniquities, and in sins did my mother conceive me. ⁶ For, behold, you love truth: you have manifested to me the secret and hidden things of your wisdom. ⁷ You shall sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be purified: you shall wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow. ⁸ You shall cause me to hear gladness and joy: the afflicted bones shall rejoice. ⁹ Turn away your face from my sins, and blot out all my iniquities. ¹⁰ Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit in my inward parts. ¹¹ Cast me not away from your presence; and remove not your holy Spirit from me. ¹² Restore to me the joy of your salvation: establish me with your directing Spirit. ¹³ [Then] will I teach transgressors your ways; and ungodly men shall turn to you. ¹⁴ Deliver me from blood-guiltiness, O God, the God of my salvation: [and] my tongue shall joyfully declare your righteousness. ¹⁵ O Lord, you shall open my lips; and my mouth shall declare your praise. ¹⁶ For if you desired sacrifice, I would have given [it]: you will not take pleasure in whole burnt offerings. ¹⁷ Sacrifice to God is a broken spirit: a broken and humbled heart God will not despise. ¹⁸ Do good, O Lord, to Sion in your good pleasure; and let the walls of Jerusalem be built. ¹⁹ Then shall you be pleased with a sacrifice of righteousness, offering, and whole burnt sacrifices: then shall they offer calves upon your altar.

Psalm 51 (MT 52)

¹ (52) For the end, [a Psalm] of instruction by David, when Doeg the Idumean came and told Saul, and said to him, David is gone to the house of Abimelech. Why do you, O mighty man, boast of iniquity in [your] mischief? All the day ² your tongue has devised unrighteousness; like a sharpened razor you have wrought deceit. ³ You have loved wickedness more than goodness; unrighteousness better than to speak righteousness. Pause. ⁴ You have loved all words of destruction, [and] a deceitful tongue. ⁵ Therefore may God destroy you for ever, may he pluck you up and utterly remove you from [your] dwelling, and your root from the land of the living. Pause. ⁶ And the righteous shall see, and fear, and shall laugh at him, and say, ⁷ Behold the man who made not God his help; but trusted in the abundance of his wealth, and strengthened himself in his vanity. ⁸ But I am as a fruitful olive in the house of God: I have trusted in the mercy of God for ever, even for evermore. ⁹ I will give thanks to you for ever, for you have done [it]: and I will wait on your name; for [it is] good before the saints.

Psalm 52 (MT 53)

¹ (53) For the end, [a Psalm] of David upon Maeleth, of instruction. The fool has said in his heart, There is no God. They have corrupted [themselves], and become abominable in iniquities: there is none that does good. ² God looked down from heaven upon the sons of men, to see if there were any that understood, or sought after God. ³ They have all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that does good, there is not even one. ⁴ Will none of the workers of iniquity know, who devour my people as they would eat bread? they have not called upon God. There were they greatly afraid, where there was no fear: ⁵ or God has scattered the bones of the men-pleasers; they were ashamed, for God despised them. ⁶ Who will bring the salvation of Israel out of Sion? When the Lord turns the captivity of his people, Jacob shall exult, and Israel shall be glad.

Psalm 54 (MT 55)

shall be afraid, but I will trust in you. ⁴ In God I will praise my words; all the day have I hoped in God; I will not fear what flesh shall do to me. ⁵ All the day long they have abominated my words; all their devices [are] against me for evil. ⁶ They will dwell near and hide [themselves]; they will watch my steps, accordingly as I have waited patiently in my soul. ⁷ You will on no account save them; you will bring down the people in wrath. ⁸ O God, I have declared my life to you; you have set my tears before you, even according to your promise. ⁹ Mine enemies shall be turned back, in the day wherein I shall call upon you; behold, I know that you are my God. ¹⁰ In God, will I praise [his] word; in the Lord will I praise [his] saying. ¹¹ I have hoped in God; I will not be afraid of what man shall do to me. ¹² The vows of your praise, O God, which I will pay, are upon me. ¹³ For you have delivered my soul from death, and my feet from sliding, that I should be well-pleasing before God in the land of the living.

If you ☐ do indeed speak righteousness, [then] do you ☐ judge rightly; you ☐ sons of men. ² For you ☐ work iniquities in [your] hearts in the earth: your hands plot unrighteousness. ³ Sinners have gone astray from the womb: they go astray from the belly: they speak lies. ⁴ Their venom is like [that] of a serpent; as [that] of a deaf asp, and that stops her ears; ⁵ which will not hear the voice of charmers, nor [heed] the charm prepared skillfully by the wise. ⁶ God has crushed their teeth in their mouth: God has broken the cheek-teeth of the lions. ⁷ They shall utterly pass away like water running through: he shall bend his bow till they shall fail. ⁸ They shall be destroyed as melted wax: the fire has fallen and they have not seen the sun. ⁹ Before your thorns feel the white thorn, he shall swallow you up as living, as in his wrath. ¹⁰ The righteous shall rejoice when he sees the vengeance of the ungodly: he shall wash his hands in the blood of the sinner. ¹¹ And a man shall say, Verily then there is a reward for the righteous: verily there is a God that judges them in the earth.

¹ (63) A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Idumea. O God, my God, I cry to you early; my soul has thirsted for you: how often has my flesh [longed] after you, in a barren and trackless and dry land! ² Thus have I appeared before you in the sanctuary, that I might see your power and your glory. ³ For your mercy is better than life: my lips shall praise you. ⁴ Thus will I bless you during my life: I will lift up my hands in your name. ⁵ Let my soul be filled as with marrow and fatness; and [my] joyful lips shall praise your name. ⁶ Forasmuch as I have remembered you on my bed: in the early seasons I have meditated on you. ⁷ For you have been my helper, and in the shelter of your wings will I rejoice. ⁸ My soul has kept very close behind you: your right hand has upheld me. ⁹ But they vainly sought after my soul; they shall go into the lowest parts of the earth. ¹⁰ They shall be delivered up to the power of the sword; they shall be portions for foxes. ¹¹ But the king shall rejoice in God; every one that swears by him shall be praised; for the mouth of them that speak unjust things has been stopped.

Psalm 64 (MT 65)

¹ (65) For the end, a Psalm [and] Song of David. Praise becomes you, O God, in Sion; and to you shall the vow be performed. ² Hear my prayer; to you all flesh shall come. ³ The words of transgressors have overpowered us; but do you pardon our sins. ⁴ Blessed [is he] whom you have chosen and adopted; he shall dwell in your courts; we shall be filled with the good things of your house; your temple is holy. ⁵ [You are] wonderful in righteousness. Listen to us, O God our Saviour; the hope of all the ends of the earth, and of them [that are] on the sea afar off: ⁶ who do establish the mountains in your strength, being girded about with power; ⁷ who trouble the depth of the sea, the sounds of its waves. ⁸ The nations shall be troubled, and they that inhabit the ends [of the earth] shall be afraid of your signs; you will cause the outgoings of morning and evening to rejoice. ⁹ You have visited the earth, and saturated it; you have abundantly enriched it. The river of God is filled with water; you have prepared their food, for thus is the preparation [of it]. ¹⁰ Saturate her furrows, multiply her fruits; [the crop] springing up shall rejoice in its drops. ¹¹ You will bless the crown of the year [because] of your goodness; and your plains shall be filled with fatness. ¹² The mountains of the wilderness shall be enriched; and the hills shall gird themselves with joy. ¹³ The rams of the flock are clothed [with wool], and the valleys shall abound in corn; they shall cry aloud, yes they shall sing hymns.

Psalm 65 (MT 66)

¹ (66) For the end, a Song of Psalm of resurrection. Shout to God, all the earth. ² O sing praises to his name; give glory to his praise. ³ Say to God, How awful are your works! through the greatness of your power your enemies shall lie to you. ⁴ Let all the earth worship you, and sing to you; let them sing to your name. Pause. ⁵ Come and behold the works of God; [he is] terrible in [his] counsels beyond the children of men. ⁶ Who turns the sea into dry land; they shall go through the river on foot; there shall we rejoice in him, ⁷ who by his power is Lord over the age, his eyes look upon the nations; let not them that provoke [him] be exalted in themselves. Pause. ⁸ Bless our God, you ☐ Gentiles, and make the voice of his praise to be heard; ⁹ who quickens my soul in life, and does not suffer my feet to be moved. ¹⁰ For you, O God, has proved us; you have tried us with fire as silver is tried. ¹¹ You brought us into the snare; you laid afflictions on our back. ¹² You did mount men upon our heads; we went through the fire and water; but you brought us out into [a place of] refreshment. ¹³ I will go into your house with whole burnt offerings; I will pay you my vows, ¹⁴ which my lips framed, and my mouth uttered in my affliction. ¹⁵ I will offer to you whole burnt sacrifices full of marrow, with incense and rams; I will sacrifice to you oxen with goats. Pause. ¹⁶ Come, hear, and I will tell, all you ☐ that fear God, how great things he has done for my soul. ¹⁷ I cried to him with my mouth, and exalted him with my tongue. ¹⁸ If I have regarded iniquity in my heart, let not the Lord listen [to me]. ¹⁹ Therefore God has listened to me; he has attended to the voice of my prayer. ²⁰ Blessed be God, who has not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

Psalm 67 (MT 68)

¹ (68) For the end, a Psalm of a Song by David. Let God arise, and let his enemies be scattered; and let them that hate him flee from before him. ² As smoke vanishes, let them vanish: as wax melts before the fire, so let the sinners perish from before God. ³ But let the righteous rejoice; let them exult before God: let them be delighted with joy. ⁴ Sing to God, sing praises to his name: make a way for him that rides upon the west (the Lord is his name) and exult before him. They shall be troubled before the face of him, ⁵ [who is] the father of the orphans, and judge of the widows: [such is] God in his holy place. ⁶ God settles the solitary in a house; leading forth prisoners mightily, also them that act provokingly, [even] them that dwell in tombs. ⁷ O God, when you went forth before your people, when you went through the wilderness; Pause: ⁸ the earth quaked, yes, the heavens dropped [water] at the presence of the God of Sina, at the presence of the God of Israel. ⁹ O God, you will grant to your inheritance a gracious rain; for it was weary, but you did refresh it. ¹⁰ Your creatures dwell in it: you have in your goodness prepared for the poor. ¹¹ The Lord God will give a word to them that preach [it] in a great company. ¹² The king of the forces of the beloved, of the beloved, [will] even [grant them] for the beauty of the house to divide the spoils. ¹³ Even if you□ should lie among the lots, [you□ shall have] the wings of a dove covered with silver, and her breast with yellow gold. ¹⁴ When the heavenly One scatters kings upon it, they shall be made snow-white in Selmon. ¹⁵ The mountain of God is a rich mountain; a swelling mountain, a rich mountain. ¹⁶ Therefore do you□ conceive [evil], you□ swelling mountains? [this is] the mountain which God has delighted to dwell in; yes, the Lord will dwell [in it] for ever. ¹⁷ The chariots of God are ten thousand fold, thousands of rejoicing ones: the Lord is among them, in Sina, in the holy place. ¹⁸ You are gone up on high, you have led captivity captive, you have received gifts for man, yes, for [they were] rebellious, that you might dwell among them. ¹⁹ Blessed be the Lord God, blessed be the Lord daily; and the God of our salvation shall prosper us. Pause. ²⁰ Our God is the God of salvation; and to the Lord belong the issues from death. ²¹ But God shall crust the heads of his enemies; the hairy crown of them that go on in their trespasses. ²² The Lord said, I will bring again from Basan, I will bring [my people] again through the depths of the sea. ²³ That your foot may be dipped in blood, [and] the tongue of your dogs [be stained] with that of [your] enemies. ²⁴ Your goings, O God, have been seen; the goings of my God, the king, in the sanctuary. ²⁵ The princes went first, next before the players on instruments, in the midst of damsels playing on timbrels. ²⁶ Praise God in the congregations, the Lord from the fountains of Israel. ²⁷ There is Benjamin the younger [one] in ecstasy, the princes of Juda their rulers, the princes of Zabulon, the princes of Nephthali. ²⁸ O God, command you your strength: strengthen, O God, this which you have wrought in us. ²⁹ Because of your temple at Jerusalem shall kings bring presents to you. ³⁰ Rebuke the wild beasts of the reed: let the crowd of bulls with the heifers of the nations [be rebuked], so that they who have been proved with silver may not be shut out: scatter you the nations that wish for wars. ³¹ Ambassadors shall arrive out of Egypt; Ethiopia shall hasten [to stretch out] her hand readily to God. ³² Sing to God, you□ kingdoms of the earth; sing psalms to the Lord. Pause. ³³ Sing to God that rides on the heaven of heaven, eastward: behold, he will utter a mighty sound with his voice. ³⁴ Give you□ glory to God: his excellency is over Israel, and his power is in the clouds. ³⁵ God is wonderful in his holy [places], the God of Israel: he will give power and strength to his people: blessed be God.

Psalm 68 (MT 69)

¹ (69) For the end, [a Psalm] of David, for alternate [strains]. Save me, O God; for the waters have come in to my soul. ² I am stuck fast in deep mire, and there is no standing; I am come in to the depths of the sea, and a storm has overwhelmed me. ³ I am weary [of] crying, my throat has become hoarse; my eyes have failed by my waiting on my God. ⁴ They that hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of my head: my enemies that persecute me unrighteously are strengthened: then I restored that which I took not away. ⁵ O God, you know my foolishness; and my transgressions are not hidden from you. ⁶ Let not them that wait on you, O Lord of hosts, be ashamed on my account: let not them that seek you, be ashamed on my account, O God of Israel. ⁷ For I have suffered reproach for your sake; shame has covered my face. ⁸ I became strange to my brethren, and a stranger to my mother's children. ⁹ For the zeal of your house has eaten me up; and the reproaches of them that reproached you are fallen upon me. ¹⁰ And I bowed down my soul with fasting, and that was made my reproach. ¹¹ And I put on sackcloth for my covering; and I became a proverb to them. ¹² They that sit in the gate talked against me, and they that drank wine sang against me. ¹³ But I [will cry] to you, O Lord, in my prayer; O God, it is a propitious time: in the multitude of your mercy hear me, in the truth of your salvation. ¹⁴ Save me from the mire, that I stick not [in it]: let me be delivered from them that hate me, and from the deep waters. ¹⁵ Let not the waterflood drown me, nor let the deep swallow me up; neither let the well shut its mouth upon me. ¹⁶ Hear me, O Lord; for your mercy is good: according to the multitude of your compassions look upon me. ¹⁷ And turn not away your face from your servant; for I am afflicted: hear me speedily. ¹⁸ Draw near to my soul and redeem it: deliver me because of my enemies. ¹⁹ For you know my reproach, and my shame, and my confusion; all that afflict me are before you. ²⁰ My soul has waited for reproach and misery; and I waited for one to grieve with me, but there was none; and for one to comfort me, but I found none. ²¹ They gave [me] also gall for my food, and made me drink vinegar for my thirst. ²² Let their table before them be for a snare, and for a recompense, and for a stumbling block. ²³ Let their eyes be darkened that they should not see; and bow down their back continually. ²⁴ Pour out your wrath upon them, and let the fury of your anger take hold on them. ²⁵ Let their habitation be made desolate; and let there be no inhabitant in their tents: ²⁶ Because they persecuted him whom you have struck; and they have added to the grief of my wounds. ²⁷ Add iniquity to their iniquity; and let them not come into your righteousness. ²⁸ Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and let them not be written with the righteous. ²⁹ I am poor and sorrowful; but the salvation of your countenance has helped me. ³⁰ I will praise the name of my God with a song, I will magnify him with praise; ³¹ and [this] shall please God more than a young calf having horns and hoofs. ³² Let the poor see and rejoice; seek the Lord diligently, and you ☐ shall live. ³³ For the Lord hears the poor, and does not set at nothing his fettered ones. ³⁴ Let the heavens and the earth raise him, the sea, and all things moving in them. ³⁵ For God will save Sion, and the cities of Judea shall be built; and [men] shall dwell there, and inherit it. ³⁶ And the seed of his servants shall possess it, and they that love his name shall dwell therein.

Psalm 69 (MT 70)

¹ (70) For the end, by David for a remembrance, that the Lord may save me. Draw near, O God, to my help. ² Let them be ashamed and confounded that seek my soul: let them be turned backward and put to shame, that wish me evil. ³ Let them that say to me, Aha, aha, be turned back and put to shame immediately. ⁴ Let all that seek you exult and be glad in you: and let those that love your salvation say continually, Let God be magnified. ⁵ But I am poor and needy; O God, help me: you are my helper and deliverer, O Lord, delay not.

N: ¹ A Psalm It is uncertain when this Psalm was composed; though it is probable that it was written by David during the rebellion of Absalom. It is an exceedingly fine composition; it evidently refers to the advent, passion, and resurrection of our Lord, to the vocation of the Gentiles, and the reprobation of Jews. Psalm 70 (MT 71)

¹ (71) By David, [a Psalm sung by] the sons of Jonadab, and the first that were taken captive. O Lord, I have hoped in you: let me never be put to shame. ² In your righteousness deliver me and rescue me: incline your ear to me, and save me. ³ Be to me a protecting God, and a strong hold to save me: for you are my fortress and my refuge. ⁴ Deliver me, O my God, from the hand of the sinner, from the hand of the transgressor and unjust man. ⁵ For you are my support, O Lord; O Lord, [you are] my hope from my youth. ⁶ On you have I been stayed from the womb: from the belly of my mother you are my protector: of you is my praise continually. ⁷ I am become as it were a wonder to many: but you are [my] strong helper. ⁸ Let my mouth be filled with praise, that I may hymn your glory, [and] your majesty all the day. ⁹ Cast me not off at the time of old age; forsake me not when my strength fails. ¹⁰ For my enemies have spoken against me; and they that lay wait for my soul have taken counsel together, ¹¹ saying, God has forsaken him: persecute you□ and take him; for there is none to deliver [him]. ¹² O God, go not far from me, O my God, draw near to my help. ¹³ Let those that plot against my soul be ashamed and utterly fail: let those that seek my hurt be clothed with shame and dishonor. ¹⁴ But I will hope continually, and will praise you more and more. ¹⁵ My mouth shall declare your righteousness openly, [and] your salvation all the day; for I am not acquainted with the affairs [of men]. ¹⁶ I will go on in the might of the Lord: O Lord, I will make mention of your righteousness only. ¹⁷ O God, you have taught me from my youth, and until now will I declare your wonders; ¹⁸ even until I am old and advanced in years. O God, forsake me not; until I shall have declared your arm to all the generation that is to come: ¹⁹ even your power and your righteousness, O God, up to the highest [heavens, even] the mighty works which you have done: O God, who is like to you? ²⁰ What afflictions many and sore have you showed me! yet you did turn and quicken me, and brought me again from the depths of the earth. ²¹ You did multiply your righteousness, and did turn and comfort me, and brought me again out of the depths of the earth. ²² I will also therefore give thanks to you, O God, [because of] your truth, on an instrument of psalmody: I will sing psalms to you on the harp, O Holy One of Israel. ²³ My lips shall rejoice when I sing to you; and my soul, which you have redeemed. ²⁴ Moreover also my tongue shall dwell all the day upon your righteousness; when they shall be ashamed and confounded that seek my hurt.

¹ (72) For Solomon. O God, give your judgment to the king, and your righteousness to the king's son; ² [that he may] judge your people with righteousness, and your poor with judgment. ³ Let the mountains and the hills raise peace to your people: ⁴ he shall judge the poor of the people in righteousness, and save the children of the needy; and shall bring low the false accuser. ⁵ And he shall continue as long as the sun, and before the moon for ever. ⁶ He shall come down as rain upon a fleece; and as drops falling upon the earth. ⁷ In his days shall righteousness spring up; and abundance of peace till the moon be removed. ⁸ And he shall have dominion from sea to sea, and from the river to the ends of the earth. ⁹ The Ethiopians shall fall down before him; and his enemies shall lick the dust. ¹⁰ The kings of Tharsis, and the isles, shall bring presents: the kings of the Arabians and Saba shall offer gifts. ¹¹ And all kings shall worship him; all the Gentiles shall serve him. ¹² For he has delivered the poor from the oppressor; and the needy who had no helper. ¹³ He shall spare the poor and needy, and shall deliver the souls of the needy. ¹⁴ He shall redeem their souls from usury and injustice: and their name [shall be] precious before him. ¹⁵ And he shall live, and there shall be given him of the gold of Arabia: and [men] shall pray for him continually; [and] all the day shall they praise him. ¹⁶ There shall be an establishment on the earth on the tops of the mountains: the fruit thereof shall be exalted above Libanus, and they of the city shall flourish as grass of the earth. ¹⁷ Let his name be blessed for ever: his name shall endure longer than the sun: and all the tribes of the earth shall be blessed in him: all nations shall call him blessed. ¹⁸ Blessed is the Lord God of Israel, who alone does wonders. ¹⁹ And blessed is his glorious name for ever, even for ever and ever: and all the earth shall be filled with his glory. So be it, so be it. ²⁰ The hymns of David the son of Jessae are ended.

Psalm 72 (MT 73)

shall not be scourged with [other] men. ⁶ Therefore pride has possessed them; they have clothed themselves with their injustice and ungodliness. ⁷ Their injustice shall go forth as out of fatness: they have fulfilled their intention. ⁸ They have taken counsel and spoken in wickedness: they have uttered unrighteousness loftily. ⁹ They have set their mouth against heaven, and their tongue has gone through upon the earth. ¹⁰ Therefore shall my people return hither: and full days shall be found with them. ¹¹ And they said, How does God know? and is there knowledge in the Most High? ¹² Behold, these [are] the sinners, and they that prosper always: they have possessed wealth. ¹³ And I said, Verily in vain have I justified my heart, and washed my hands in innocence. ¹⁴ For I was plagued all the day, and my reproof [was] every morning. ¹⁵ If I said, I will speak thus; behold, I [should] have broken covenant with the generation of your children. ¹⁶ And I undertook to understand this, [but] it is too hard for me, ¹⁷ until I go into the sanctuary of God; [and so] understand the latter end. ¹⁸ Surely you have appointed [judgments] to them because of their crafty dealings: you have cast them down when they were lifted up. ¹⁹ How have they become desolate! suddenly they have failed: they have perished because of their iniquity. ²⁰ As the dream of one awakening, O Lord, in your city you will despise their image. ²¹ For my heart has rejoiced, and my reins have been gladdened. ²² But I [was] vile and knew not: I became brutish before you. ²³ Yet I am continually with you: you have holden my right hand. ²⁴ You have guided me by your counsel, and you have taken me to yourself with glory. ²⁵ For what have I in heaven [but you]? and what have I desired upon the earth beside you? ²⁶ My heart and my flesh have failed: [but] God [is the strength] of my heart, and God is my portion for ever. ²⁷ For, behold, they that remove themselves far from you shall perish: you have destroyed every one that goes a whoring from you. ²⁸ But it is good for me to cleave close to God, to put my trust in the Lord; that I may proclaim all your praises in the gates of the daughter of Sion.

Psalm 73 (MT 74)

have boasted in the midst of your feast; they have set up their standards for signs, ⁵ ignorantly as it were in the entrance above; ⁶ they cut down its doors at once with axes as in a wood of trees; they have broken it down with hatchet and stone cutter. ⁷ They have burnt your sanctuary with fire to the ground; they have profaned the habitation of your name. ⁸ They have said in their heart, [even] all their kindred together, Come, let us abolish the feasts of the Lord from the earth. ⁹ We have not seen our signs; there is no longer a prophet; and [God] will not know us any more. ¹⁰ How long, O God, shall the enemy reproach? shall the enemy provoke your name forever? ¹¹ Therefore turn you away your hand, and your right hand from the midst of your bosom for ever? ¹² But God is our King of old; he has wrought salvation in the midst of the earth. ¹³ You did establish the sea, in your might, you did break to pieces the heads of the dragons in the water. ¹⁴ You did break to pieces the heads of the dragon; you did give him [for] meat to the Ethiopian nations. ¹⁵ You did cleave fountains and torrents; you dried up mighty rivers. ¹⁶ The day is yours, and the night is yours; you have prepared the sun and the moon. ¹⁷ You have made all the borders of the earth; you have made summer and spring. ¹⁸ Remember this your creation: an enemy has reproached the Lord, and a foolish people has provoked your name. ¹⁹ Deliver not to the wild beasts a soul that gives praise to you: forget not for ever the souls of your poor. ²⁰ Look upon your covenant: for the dark [places] of the earth are filled with the habitations of iniquity. ²¹ let not the afflicted and shamed one be rejected: the poor and needy shall praise your name. ²² Arise, O God, plead your cause: remember your reproaches that come from the foolish one all the day. ²³ Forget not the voice of your suppliants: let the pride of them that hate you continually ascend before you.

Psalm 74 (MT 75)

¹ (75) For the end, Destroy not, a Psalm of a Song for Asaph. We will give thanks to you, O God, we will give thanks, and call upon your name: I will declare all your wonderful works. ² When I shall take a set time, I will judge righteously. ³ The earth is dissolved, and all that dwell in it: I have strengthened its pillars. Pause. ⁴ I said to the transgressors, Do not transgress; and to the sinners, Lift not up the horn. ⁵ Lift not up your horn on high; speak not unrighteousness against God. ⁶ For [good comes] neither from the east, nor from the west, nor from the desert mountains. ⁷ For God is the judge; he puts down one, and raises up another. ⁸ For [there is] a cup in the hand of the Lord, full of unmingled wine; and he has turned [it] from side to side, but its dregs have not been wholly poured out; all the sinners of the earth shall drink [them]. ⁹ But I will exult for ever: I will sing praises to the God of Jacob. ¹⁰ And I will break all the horns of sinners; but the horns of the righteous one shall be exalted.

Psalm 75 (MT 76)

¹ (76) For the end, among the Hymns, a Psalm for Asaph; a Song for the Assyrian. God is known in Judea: his name is great in Israel. ² And his place has been in peace, and his dwelling-place in Sion. ³ There he broke the power of the bows, the shield, and the sword, and the battle. Pause. ⁴ You do wonderfully shine forth from the everlasting mountains. ⁵ All the simple ones in heart were troubled; all the men of wealth have slept their sleep, and have found nothing in their hands. ⁶ At your rebuke, O God of Jacob, the riders on horses slumbered. ⁷ You are terrible; and who shall withstand you, because of your anger? ⁸ You did cause judgment to be heard from heaven; the earth feared, and was still, ⁹ when God arose to judgment, to save all the meek in heart. Pause. ¹⁰ For the inward thought of man shall give thanks to you: and the memorial of his inward thought shall keep a feast to you. ¹¹ Vow, and pay [your vows] to the Lord our God; all that are round about him shall bring gifts, [even] to him that is terrible, ¹² and that takes away the spirits of princes; to him that is terrible among the kings of the earth.

Psalm 76 (MT 77)

¹ (77) For the end, for Idithun, a Psalm of Asaph. I cried to the Lord with my voice, yes, my voice [was addressed] to God; and he gave heed to me. ² In the day of my affliction I earnestly sought the Lord; [even] with my hands by night before him, and I was not deceived; my soul refused to be comforted. ³ I remembered God, and rejoiced; I poured out my complaint, and my soul fainted. Pause. ⁴ All my enemies set a watch [against me]: I was troubled, and spoke not. ⁵ I considered the days of old, and remembered ancient years. ⁶ And I meditated; I communed with my heart by night, and diligently searched my spirit, [saying], ⁷ Will the Lord cast off for ever? and will he be well pleased no more? ⁸ Will he cut off his mercy for ever, even for ever and ever? ⁹ Will God forget to pity? or will he shut up his compassions in his wrath? Pause. ¹⁰ And I said, Now I have begun; this is the change of the right hand of the Most High. ¹¹ I remembered the works of the Lord; for I will remember your wonders from the beginning. ¹² And I will meditate on all your works, and will consider your doings. ¹³ O God, your way is in the sanctuary; who is a great God as our God? ¹⁴ You are the God that do wonders; you have made known your power among the nations. ¹⁵ You have with your arm redeemed your people, the sons of Jacob and Joseph. Pause. ¹⁶ The waters saw you, O God, the waters saw you, and feared; and the depths were troubled.

¹⁷ [There was] an abundant sound of waters: the clouds uttered a voice; for your arrows went abroad. ¹⁸ The voice of your thunder was abroad, and around your lightnings appeared to the world; the earth trembled a quaked. ¹⁹ Your way is in the sea, and your paths in many waters, and your footsteps can't be known. ²⁰ You did guide your people as sheep by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

¹ (78) [A Psalm] of instruction for Asaph. Give heed, O my people, to my law: incline your ear to the words of my mouth. ² I will open my mouth in parables: I will utter dark sayings [which have been] from the beginning. ³ All which we have heard and known, and our fathers have declared to us. ⁴ They were not hid from their children to a second generations; [the fathers] declaring the praises of the Lord, and his mighty acts, and his wonders which he wrought. ⁵ And he raised up a testimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, to make it known to their children: ⁶ that another generation might know, even the sons which should be born; and they should arise and declare them to their children. ⁷ That they might set their hope on God, and not forget the works of God, but diligently seek his commandments. ⁸ That they should not be as their fathers, a perverse and provoking generation; a generation which set not its heart aright, and its spirit was not steadfast with God. ⁹ The children of Ephraim, bending and shooting [with] the bow, turned [back] in the day of battle. ¹⁰ They kept not the covenant of God, and would not walk in his law. ¹¹ And they forgot his benefits, and his miracles which he [had] showed them; ¹² the miracles which he wrought before their fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the plain of Tanis. ¹³ He clave the sea, and led them through: he made the waters to stand as [in] a bottle. ¹⁴ And he guided them with a cloud by day, and all the night with a light of fire. ¹⁵ he clave a rock in the wilderness, and made them drink as in a great deep. ¹⁶ And he brought water out of the rock, and caused waters to flow down as rivers. ¹⁷ And they sinned yet more against him; they provoked the Most High in the wilderness. ¹⁸ And they tempted God in their hearts, in asking meat for [the desire of] their souls. ¹⁹ They spoke also against God, and said, Will God be able to prepare a table in the wilderness? ²⁰ Forasmuch as he struck the rock, and the waters flowed, and the torrents ran abundantly; will he be able also to give bread, or prepare a table for his people? ²¹ Therefore the Lord heard, and was provoked: and fire was kindled in Jacob, and wrath went up against Israel. ²² Because they believed not in God, and trusted not in his salvation. ²³ Yet he commanded the clouds from above, and opened the doors of heaven, ²⁴ and rained upon them manna to eat, and gave them the bread of heaven. ²⁵ Man ate angels' bread; he sent them provision to the full. ²⁶ He removed the south wind from heaven; and by his might he brought in the southwest wind. ²⁷ And he rained upon them flesh like dust, and feathered birds like the sand of the seas. ²⁸ And they fell into the midst of their camp, round about their tents. ²⁹ So they ate, and were completely filled; and he gave them their desire. ³⁰ They were not disappointed of their desire: [but] when their food was yet in their mouth, ³¹ then the indignation of God rose up against them, and killed the fattest of them, and overthrew the choice men of Israel. ³² In the midst of all this they sinned yet more, and believed not his miracles. ³³ And their days were consumed in vanity, and their years with anxiety.³⁴ When he killed them, they sought him: and they returned and called betimes upon God.³⁵ And they remembered that God was their helper, and the most high God was their redeemer.³⁶ Yet they loved him [only] with their mouth, and lied to him with their tongue.³⁷ For their heart [was] not right with him, neither were they steadfast in his covenant.³⁸ But he is compassionate, and will forgive their sins, and will not destroy [them]: yes, he will frequently turn away his wrath, and will not kindle all his anger.³⁹ And he remembered that they are flesh; a wind that passes away, and returns not.⁴⁰ How often did they provoke him in the wilderness, [and] anger him in a dry land!⁴¹ Yes, they turned back, and tempted God, and provoked the Holy One of Israel.⁴² They remembered not his hand, the day in which he delivered them from the hand of the oppressor.⁴³ How he had wrought his signs in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Tanes:⁴⁴ and had changed their rivers into blood; and their streams, that they should not drink.⁴⁵ He sent against them the dog-fly, and it devoured them; and the frog, and it spoiled them.⁴⁶ And he gave their fruit to the canker worm, and their labors to the locust.⁴⁷ He killed their vines with hail, and their sycamores with frost.⁴⁸ And he gave up their cattle to hail, and their substance to the fire.⁴⁹ He sent out against them the fury of his anger, wrath, and indignation, and affliction, a message by evil angels.⁵⁰ He made a way for his wrath; he spared not their souls from death, but consigned their cattle to death;⁵¹ and struck every firstborn in the land of Egypt; the first fruits of their labors in the tents of Cham.⁵² And he removed his people like sheep; he led them as a flock in the wilderness.⁵³ And he guided them with hope, and they feared not: but the sea covered their enemies.⁵⁴ And he brought them in to the mountain of his sanctuary, this mountain which his right hand had purchased.⁵⁵ And he cast out the nations from before them, and made them to inherit by a line of inheritance, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.⁵⁶ Yet they tempted and provoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies.⁵⁷ And they turned back, and broke covenant, even as also their fathers: they became like a crooked bow.⁵⁸ And they provoked him with their high places, and moved him to jealousy with their graven images.⁵⁹ God heard and lightly regarded [them], and greatly despised Israel.⁶⁰ And he rejected the tabernacle of Selom, his tent where he lived among men.⁶¹ And he gave their strength into captivity, and their beauty into the enemy's hand.⁶² And he gave his people to the sword; and disdained his inheritance.⁶³ Fire devoured their young men; and their virgins mourned not.⁶⁴ Their priests fell by the sword; and their widows shall not be wept for.⁶⁵ So the Lord awaked as one out of sleep, [and] as a mighty man who has been heated with wine.⁶⁶ And he struck his enemies in the hinder parts: he brought on them a perpetual reproach.⁶⁷ And he rejected the tabernacle of Joseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim;⁶⁸ but chose the tribe of Juda, the mount Sion which he loved.⁶⁹ And he built his sanctuary as [the place] of unicorns; he founded it for ever on the earth.⁷⁰ He chose David also his servant, and took him up from the flocks of sheep.⁷¹ He took him from following the ewes great with young, to be the shepherd of Jacob his servant, and Israel his inheritance.⁷² So he tended them in the innocency of his heart; and guided them by the skillfulness of his hands.

Psalms 78 (MT 79)

¹ (79) A Psalm for Asaph. O God, the heathen are come into your inheritance; they have polluted your holy temple; they have made Jerusalem a storehouse of fruits. ² They have given the dead bodies of your servants [to be] food for the birds of the sky, the flesh of your holy ones for the wild beasts of the earth. ³ They have shed their blood as water, round about Jerusalem; and there was none to bury [them]. ⁴ We are become a reproach to our neighbors, a scorn and derision to them [that are] round about us. ⁵ How long, O Lord? will you be angry for ever? shall your jealousy burn like fire? ⁶ Pour out your wrath upon the heathen that have not known you, and upon the kingdoms which have not called upon your name. ⁷ For they have devoured Jacob, and laid his place waste. ⁸ Remember not our old transgressions; let your tender mercies speedily prevent us; for we are greatly impoverished. ⁹ Help us, O God our Saviour; for the glory of your name, O Lord, deliver us; and be merciful to our sins, for your name's sake. ¹⁰ Lest haply they should say among the heathen, Where is their God? and let the avenging of your servant's blood that has been shed be known among the heathen before our eyes. ¹¹ Let the groaning of the prisoners come in before you; according to the greatness of your arm preserve the sons of the slain ones. ¹² Repay to our neighbors sevenfold into their bosom their reproach, with which they have reproached you, O Lord. ¹³ For we are your people and the sheep of your pasture; we will give you thanks for ever; we will declare your praise throughout all generations.

face to shine; and we shall be saved. Pause. ⁸ You have transplanted a vine out of Egypt: you have cast out the heathen, and planted it. ⁹ You made a way before it, and did cause its roots to strike, and the land was filled [with it]. ¹⁰ Its shadow covered the mountains, and its shoots [equalled] the goodly cedars. ¹¹ It sent forth its branches to the sea, and its shoots to the river. ¹² Therefore have you broken down its hedge, while all that pass by the way pluck it? ¹³ The boar out of the wood has laid it waste, and the wild beast has devoured it. ¹⁴ O God of hosts, turn, we pray you: look on [us] from heaven, and behold and visit this vine; ¹⁵ and restore that which your right hand has planted: and look on the son of man whom you did strengthen for yourself. ¹⁶ [It is] burnt with fire and dug up: they shall perish at the rebuke of your presence. ¹⁷ Let your hand be upon the man of your right hand, and upon the son of man whom you did strengthen for yourself. ¹⁸ So will we not depart from you: you shall quicken us, and we will call upon your name. ¹⁹ Turn us, O Lord God of hosts, and make your face to shine; and we shall be saved.

¹ (81) For the end, a Psalm for Asaph, concerning the wine presses. Rejoice you□ in God our helper; shout aloud to the God of Jacob. ² Take a psalm, and produce the timbrel, the pleasant lute with the harp. ³ Blow the trumpet at the new moon, in the glorious day of your feast. ⁴ For [this] is an ordinance for Israel, and a statute of the God of Jacob. ⁵ He made it [to be] a testimony in Joseph, when he came forth out of the land of Egypt: he heard a language which he understood not. ⁶ He removed his back from burdens: his hands slaved in making the baskets. ⁷ You did call upon me in trouble, and I delivered you; I heard you in the secret place of the storm: I proved you at the water of Strife. Pause. ⁸ Hear, my people, and I will speak to you, O Israel; and I will testify to you: if you will listen to me; ⁹ there shall be no new god in you; neither shall you worship a strange god. ¹⁰ For I am the Lord your God, that brought you out of the land of Egypt: open your mouth wide, and I will fill it. ¹¹ But my people listened not to my voice; and Israel gave no heed to me. ¹² So I let them go after the ways of their own hearts: they will go on in their own ways. ¹³ If my people had listened to me, if Israel had walked in my ways, ¹⁴ I should have put down their enemies very quickly, and should have laid my hand upon those that afflicted them. ¹⁵ The Lord's enemies [should have] lied to him: but their time shall be for ever. ¹⁶ And he fed them with the fat of wheat; and satisfied them with honey out of the rock.

¹ (83) A Song of a Psalm for Asaph. O God, who shall be compared to you? be not silent, neither be still, O God. ² For behold, your enemies have made a noise; and they that hate you have lifted up the head. ³ Against your people they have craftily imagined a device, and have taken counsel against your saints. ⁴ They have said, Come, and let us utterly destroy them out of the nation; and let the name of Israel be remembered no more at all. ⁵ For they have taken counsel together with one consent: they have made a confederacy against you; ⁶ even the tents of the Idumeans, and the Ismaelites; Moab, and the Agarenes; ⁷ Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalec; the Philistines also, with them that dwell at Tyre. ⁸ Yes, Assur too is come with them: they have become a help to the children of Lot. ¹ (84) For the end, a Psalm for the sons of Core, concerning the wine presses. How amiable are your tabernacles, O Lord of hosts! ² My soul longs, and faints for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh have exulted in the living god. ³ Yes, the sparrow has found himself a home, and the turtle-dove a nest for herself, where she may lay her young, [even] your altars, O Lord of hosts, my King, and my God. ⁴ Blessed are they that dwell in your house: they will praise you evermore. Pause. ⁵ Blessed is the man whose help is of you, O Lord; in his heart he has purposed to go up ⁶ the valley of weeping, to the place which he has appointed, for [there] the law-giver will grant blessings. ⁷ They shall go from strength to strength: the God of gods shall be seen in Sion. ⁸ O Lord God of hosts, hear my prayer: listen, O God of Jacob. Pause. ⁹ Behold, O God our defender, and look upon the face of your anointed. ¹⁰ For one day in your courts is better than thousands. I would rather be an abject in the house of God, than dwell in the tents of sinners. ¹¹ For the Lord loves mercy and truth: God will give grace and glory: the Lord will not withhold good things from them that walk in innocence. ¹² O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusts in you.

Psalm 84 (MT 85)

their heart toward him. ⁹ Moreover his salvation is near them that fear him; that glory may dwell in our land. ¹⁰ Mercy and truth are met together: righteousness and peace have kissed [each other]. ¹¹ Truth has sprung out of the earth; and righteousness has looked down from heaven. ¹² For the Lord will give goodness; and our land shall yield her fruit. ¹³ Righteousness shall go before him; and shall set his steps in the way.

¹ (86) A Prayer of David. O Lord, incline your ear, and listen to me; for I am poor and needy. ² Preserve my soul, for I am holy; save your servant, O God, who hopes in you. ³ Pity me, O Lord: for to you will I cry all the day. ⁴ Rejoice the soul of your servant: for to you, O Lord, have I lifted up my soul. ⁵ For you, O Lord, are kind, and gentle; and plenteous in mercy to all that call upon you. ⁶ Give ear to my prayer, O Lord; and attend to the voice of my supplication. ⁷ In the day of my trouble I cried to you: for you did hear me. ⁸ There is none like to you, O Lord, among the gods; and there are no [works] like to your works. ⁹ All nations whom you have made shall come, and shall worship before you, O Lord; and shall glorify your name. ¹⁰ For you are great, and do wonders: you are the only [and] the great God. ¹¹ Guide me, O Lord, in your way, and I will walk in your truth: let my heart rejoice, that I may fear your name. ¹² I will give you thanks, O Lord my God, with all my heart; and I will glorify your name for ever. ¹³ For your mercy is great toward me; and you have delivered my soul from the lowest hell. ¹⁴ O God, transgressors have risen up against me, and an assembly of violent [men] have sought my life; and have not set you before them. ¹⁵ But you, O Lord God, are compassionate and merciful, longsuffering, and abundant in mercy and true. ¹⁶ Look you upon me, and have mercy upon me: give your strength to your servant, and save the son of your handmaid. ¹⁷ Establish with me a token for good; and let them that hate me see [it] and be ashamed; because you, O Lord, have helped me, and comforted me.

Psalm 86 (MT 87)

¹ (87) A Psalm of a Song for the sons of Core. His foundations are in the holy mountains. ² The Lord loves the gates of Sion, more than all the tabernacles of Jacob. ³ Glorious things have been spoken of you, O city of God. Pause. ⁴ I will make mention of Raab and Babylon to them that know me: behold also the Philistines, and Tyre, and the people of the Ethiopians: these were born there. ⁵ A man shall say, Sion [is my] mother; and [such] a man was born in her; and the Highest himself has founded her. ⁶ The Lord shall recount [it] in the writing of the people, and of these princes that were born in her. ⁷ The dwelling of all within you is [as the dwelling] of those that rejoice.

Psalm 87 (MT 88)

¹ (88) A song of a Psalm for the sons of Core for the end, upon Maeleth for responsive [strains], of instruction for Aeman the Israelite. O Lord God of my salvation, I have cried by day and in the night before you. ² Let my prayer come in before you; incline your ear to my supplication, O Lord. ³ For my soul is filled with troubles, and my life has drawn near to Hades. ⁴ I have been reckoned with them that go down to the pit; I became as a man without help; ⁵ free among the dead, as the slain ones cast out, who sleep in the tomb; whom you remember no more; and they are rejected from your hand. ⁶ They laid me in the lowest pit, in dark [places], and in the shadow of death. ⁷ Your wrath has pressed heavily upon me, and you have brought upon me all your billows. Pause. ⁸ You have removed my acquaintance far from me; they have made me an abomination to themselves; I have been delivered up, and have not gone forth. ⁹ My eyes are dimmed from poverty; but I cried to you, O Lord, all the day; I spread forth my hands to you. ¹⁰ Will you work wonders for the dead? or shall physicians raise [them] up, that they shall praise you? ¹¹ Shall any one declare your mercy in the tomb? and your truth in destruction? ¹² Shall your wonders be known in darkness? and your righteousness in a forgotten land? ¹³ But I cried to you, O Lord; and in the morning shall my prayer prevent you. ¹⁴ Therefore, O Lord, do you reject my prayer, [and] turn your face away from me? ¹⁵ I am poor and in troubles from my youth; and having been exalted, I was brought low and into despair. ¹⁶ Your wrath has passed over me; and your terrors have greatly disquieted me. ¹⁷ They compassed me like water; all the day they beset me together. ¹⁸ You have put far from me [every] friend, and my acquaintances because of [my] wretchedness.

Psalm 88 (MT 89)

¹ (89) [A Psalm] of instruction for Aetham the Israelite. I will sing of your mercies, O Lord, for ever: I will declare your truth with my mouth to all generations. ² For you have said, Mercy shall be built up for ever: your truth shall be established in the heavens. ³ I made a covenant with my chosen ones, I swore to David my servant. ⁴ I will establish your seed for ever, and build up your throne to all generations. Pause. ⁵ The heavens shall declare your wonders, O Lord; and your truth in the assembly of the saints. ⁶ For who in the heavens shall be compared to the Lord? and who shall be likened to the Lord among the sons of God? ⁷ God is glorified in the council of the saints; great and terrible toward all that are round about him. ⁸ O Lord God of hosts, who is like to you? you are mighty, O Lord, and your truth is round about you. ⁹ You rule the power of the sea; and you calm the tumult of its waves. ¹⁰ You have brought down the proud as one that is slain; and with the arm of your power you have scattered your enemies. ¹¹ The heavens are your, and the earth is your: you have founded the world, and the fullness of it. ¹² You have created the north and the west: Thabor and Hermon shall rejoice in your name. ¹³ Your is the mighty arm: let your hand be strengthened, let your right hand be exalted. ¹⁴ Justice and judgment are the establishment of your throne: mercy and truth shall go before your face. ¹⁵ Blessed is the people that knows the joyful sound: they shall walk, O Lord, in the light of your countenance. ¹⁶ And in your name shall they rejoice all the day: and in your righteousness shall they be exalted. ¹⁷ For you are the boast of their strength; and in your good pleasure shall our horn be exalted, ¹⁸ for [our] help is of the Lord; and of the Holy One of Israel, our king. ¹⁹ Then you spoke in vision to your children, and said, I have laid help on a mighty one; I have exalted one chosen out of my people. ²⁰ I have found David my servant; I have anointed him by [my] holy mercy. ²¹ For my hand shall support him; and my arm shall strengthen him. ²² The enemy shall have no advantage against him; and the son of transgression shall not hurt him again. ²³ And I will hew down his foes before him, and put to flight those that hate him. ²⁴ But my truth and my mercy shall be with him; and in my name shall his horn be exalted. ²⁵ And I will set his hand in the sea, and his right hand in the rivers. ²⁶ He shall call upon me, [saying], You are my Father, my God, and the helper of my salvation. ²⁷ And I will make him [my] firstborn, higher than the kings of the earth. ²⁸ I will keep my mercy for him for ever, and my covenant [shall be] firm with him. ²⁹ And I will establish his seed for ever and ever, and his throne as the days of heaven. ³⁰ If his children should forsake my law, and walk not in my judgments; ³¹ if they should profane my ordinances, and not keep my commandments; ³² I will visit their transgressions with a rod, and their sins with scourges. ³³ But my mercy I will not utterly remove from him, nor wrong my truth. ³⁴ Neither will I by any means profane my covenant; and I will not make void the things that proceed out of my lips. ³⁵ Once have I sworn by my holiness, that I will not lie to David. ³⁶ His seed shall endure for ever, and his throne as the sun before me; ³⁷ and as the moon [that is] established for ever, and as the faithful witness in heaven. Pause. ³⁸ But you have cast off and set at nothing, you have rejected your anointed. ³⁹ You have overthrown the covenant of your servant; you have profaned his sanctuary, [casting it] to the ground. ⁴⁰ You have broken down all his hedges; you have made his strong holds a terror. ⁴¹ All that go by the way have spoiled him: he is become a reproach to his neighbors. ⁴² You have exalted the right hand of his enemies; you have made all his enemies to rejoice. ⁴³ You have turned back the help of his sword, and have not helped him in the battle. ⁴⁴ You have deprived him of glory: you have broken down his throne to the ground. ⁴⁵ You have shortened the days of his throne: you have poured shame upon him. Pause. ⁴⁶ How long, O Lord, will you turn away, for ever? shall your anger flame out as fire? ⁴⁷ Remember what my being is: for have you created all the sons of men in vain? ⁴⁸ What man is there who shall live, and not see death? shall [any one] deliver his soul from the hand of Hades? Pause. ⁴⁹ Where are your ancient mercies, O Lord, which you swore to David in your truth? ⁵⁰ Remember, O Lord, the reproach of your servants, which I have borne in my bosom, [even the reproach] of many nations; ⁵¹ wherewith your enemies have reviled, O Lord: wherewith they have reviled the recompense of your anointed. ⁵² Blessed be the Lord for ever. So be it, so be it.

Psalm 89 (MT 90)

¹ (90) A Prayer of Moses the man of God. Lord, you have been our refuge in all generations. ² Before the mountains existed, and [before] the earth and the world were formed, even from age to age, You are. ³ Turn not man back to [his] low place, whereas you said, Return, you□ sons of men? ⁴ For a thousand years in your sight are as the yesterday which is past, and as a watch in the night. ⁵ Years shall be vanity to them: let the morning pass away as grass. ⁶ In the morning let it flower, and pass away: in the evening let it droop, let it be withered and dried up. ⁷ For we have perished in your anger, and in your wrath we have been troubled. ⁸ You have set our transgressions before you: our age is in the light of your countenance. ⁹ For all our days are gone, and we have passed away in your wrath: our years have spun out their tale as a spider. ¹⁰ [As for] the days of our years, in them are seventy years; and if [men should be] in strength, eighty years: and the greater part of them would be labor and trouble; for weakness overtakes us, and we shall be chastened. ¹¹ Who knows the power of your wrath? ¹² and [who knows how] to number [his days] because of the fear of your wrath? So manifest your right hand, and those that are instructed in wisdom in the heart. ¹³ Return, O Lord, how long? and be entreated concerning your servants. ¹⁴ We have been satisfied in the morning with your mercy; and we did exult and rejoice: ¹⁵ let us rejoice in all our days, in return for the days wherein you did afflict us, the years wherein we saw evil. ¹⁶ And look upon your servants, and upon your works; and guide their children. ¹⁷ And let the brightness of the Lord our God be upon us: and do you direct for us the works of our hands.

Psalm 90 (MT 91)

¹ (91) Praise of a Song, by David. He that dwells in the help of the Highest, shall sojourn under the shelter of the God of heaven. ² He shall say to the Lord, You are my helper and my refuge: my God; I will hope in him. ³ For he shall deliver you from the snare of the hunters, from [every] troublesome matter. ⁴ He shall overshadow you with his shoulders, and you shall trust under his wings: his truth shall cover you with a shield. ⁵ You shall not be afraid of terror by night; nor of the arrow flying by day; ⁶ [nor] of the [evil] thing that walks in darkness; [nor] of calamity, and the evil spirit at noon-day. ⁷ A thousand shall fall at your side, and ten thousand at your right hand; but it shall not come near you. ⁸ Only with your eyes shall you observe and see the reward of sinners. ⁹ For you, O Lord, are my hope: you, my soul, have made the Most High your refuge. ¹⁰ No evils shall come upon you, and no scourge shall draw near to your dwelling. ¹¹ For he shall give his angels charge concerning you, to keep you in all your ways. ¹² They shall bear you up on their hands, lest at any time you dash your foot against a stone. ¹³ You shall tread on the asp and basilisk: and you shall trample on the lion and dragon. ¹⁴ For he has hoped in me, and I will deliver him: I will protect him, because he has known my name. ¹⁵ He shall call upon me, and I will listen to him: I am with him in affliction; and I will deliver him, and glorify him. ¹⁶ I will satisfy him with length of days, and show him my salvation.

Psalm 91 (MT 92)

¹ (92) A Psalm of a Song for the Sabbath-day. It is a good thing to give thanks to the Lord, and to sing praises to your name, O you Most High; ² to proclaim your mercy in the morning, and your truth by night, ³ on a lute of ten strings, with a song on the harp. ⁴ For you, O Lord, have made me glad with your work: and in the operations of your hands will I exult. ⁵ How have your works been magnified, O Lord! your thoughts are very deep. ⁶ A foolish man will not know, and a senseless man will not understand this. ⁷ When the sinners spring up as the grass, and all the workers of iniquity have watched; [it is] that they may be utterly destroyed for ever. ⁸ But you, O Lord, are most high for ever. ⁹ For, behold, your enemies shall perish; and all the workers of iniquity shall be scattered. ¹⁰ But my horn shall be exalted [as the horn] of a unicorn; and my old age with rich mercy. ¹¹ And my eye has seen my enemies, and my ear shall hear the wicked that rise up against me. ¹² The righteous shall flourish as a palm tree: he shall be increased as the cedar in Libanus. ¹³ They that are planted in the house of the Lord shall flourish in the courts of our God. ¹⁴ Then shall they be increased in a fine old age; and they shall be prosperous; that they may declare ¹⁵ that the Lord my God is righteous, and there is no iniquity in him.

Psalm 92 (MT 93)

¹ (93) For the day before the Sabbath, when the land was [first] inhabited, the praise of a Song by David. The Lord reigns; he has clothed himself with honor: the Lord has clothed and girded himself with strength; for he has established the world, which shall not be moved. ² Your throne is prepared of old: you are from everlasting. ³ The rivers have lifted up, O Lord, the rivers have lifted up their voices, ⁴ at the voices of many waters: the billows of the sea are wonderful: the Lord is wonderful in high places. ⁵ Your testimonies are made very sure: holiness becomes your house, O Lord, for ever.

Psalm 93 (MT 94)

¹ (94) A Psalm of David for the fourth [day] of the week. The Lord is a God of vengeance; the God of vengeance has declared himself. ² Be you exalted, you that judge the earth: render a reward to the proud. ³ How long shall sinners, O Lord, how long shall sinners boast? ⁴ They will utter and speak unrighteousness; all the workers of iniquity will speak [so]. ⁵ They have afflicted your people, O Lord, and hurt your heritage. ⁶ They have slain the widow and fatherless, and murdered the stranger. ⁷ And they said, The Lord shall not see, neither shall the God of Jacob understand. ⁸ Understand now, you□ simple among the people; and you□ fools, at length be wise. ⁹ He that planted the ear, does he not hear? or he that formed the eye, does not he perceive? ¹⁰ He that chastises the heathen, shall not he punish, [even] he that teaches man knowledge? ¹¹ The Lord knows the thoughts of men, that they are vain. ¹² Blessed is the man whoever you shall chasten, O Lord, and shall teach him out of your law; ¹³ to give him rest from evil days, until a pit be digged for the sinful one. ¹⁴ For the Lord will not cast off his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance; ¹⁵ until righteousness return to judgment, and all the upright in heart shall follow it. Pause. ¹⁶ Who will rise up for me against the transgressors? or who will stand up with me against the workers of iniquity? ¹⁷ If the Lord had not helped me, my soul had almost sojourned in Hades. ¹⁸ If I said, My foot has been moved; ¹⁹ your mercy, O Lord, helped me. O Lord, according to the multitude of my griefs within my heart, your consolation have soothed my soul. ²⁰ Shall the throne of iniquity have fellowship with you, which frames mischief by an ordinance? ²¹ They will hunt for the soul of the righteous, and condemn innocent blood. ²² But the Lord was my refuge; and my God the helper of my hope. ²³ And he will recompense to them their iniquity and their wickedness: the Lord our God shall utterly destroy them.

Psalm 94 (MT 95)

¹ (95) The praise of a Song by David. Come, let us exult in the Lord; let us make a joyful noise to God our Saviour. ² Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise to him with psalms. ³ For the Lord is a great God, and a great king over all gods: for the Lord will not cast off his people. ⁴ For the ends of the earth are in his hands; and the heights of the mountains are his. ⁵ For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. ⁶ Come, let us worship and fall down before him; and weep before the Lord that made us. ⁷ For he is our God; and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. ⁸ To-day, if you ☐ will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, according to the day of irritation in the wilderness: ⁹ where your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works. ¹⁰ Forty years was I grieved with this generation, and said, They do always err in their heart, and they have not known my ways. ¹¹ So I swore in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest.

¹ (96) When the house was built after the Captivity, a Song of David. Sing to the Lord a new song; sing to the Lord, all the earth. ² Sing to the Lord, bless his name: proclaim his salvation from day to day. ³ Publish his glory among the Gentiles, his wonderful works among all people. ⁴ For the Lord is great, and greatly to be praised: he is terrible above all gods. ⁵ For all the gods of the heathen are devils: but the Lord made the heavens. ⁶ Thanksgiving and beauty are before him: holiness and majesty are in his sanctuary. ⁷ Bring to the Lord, you ☐ families of the Gentiles, bring to the Lord glory and honor. ⁸ Bring to the Lord the glory [becoming] his name: take offerings, and go into his courts. ⁹ Worship the Lord in his holy court: let all the earth tremble

¹ (97) For David, when his land is established. The Lord reigns, let the earth exult, let many islands rejoice. ² Cloud, and darkness are round about him; righteousness and judgment are the establishment of his throne. ³ Fire shall go before him, and burn up his enemies round about. ⁴ His lightnings appeared to the world; the earth saw, and trembled. ⁵ The mountains melted like wax at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth. ⁶ The heavens have declared his righteousness, and all the people have seen his glory. ⁷ Let all that worship graven images be ashamed, who boast of their idols; worship him, all you ☐ his angels. ⁸ Sion heard and rejoiced; and the daughters of Judea exulted, because of your judgments, O Lord. ⁹ For you are Lord most high over all the earth; you are greatly exalted above all gods. ¹⁰ You ☐ that love the Lord, hate evil; the Lord preserves the souls of his saints; he shall deliver them from the hand of sinners. ¹¹ Light is sprung up for the righteous, and gladness for the upright in heart. ¹² Rejoice in the Lord, you ☐ righteous; and give thanks for a remembrance of his holiness.

Psalm 97 (MT 98)

¹ (98) A Psalm of David. Sing to the Lord a new song; for the Lord has wrought wonderful works, his right hand, and his holy arm, have wrought salvation for him. ² The Lord has made known his salvation, he has revealed his righteousness in the sight of the nations. ³ He has remembered his mercy to Jacob, and his truth to the house of Israel; all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God. ⁴ Shout to God, all the earth; sing, and exult, and sing psalms. ⁵ Sing to the Lord with a harp, with a harp, and the voice of a psalm. ⁶ With trumpets of metal, and the sound of a trumpet of horn make a joyful noise to the Lord before the king. ⁷ Let the sea be moved, and the fullness of it; the world, and they that dwell in it. ⁸ The rivers shall clap their hands together; the mountains shall exult. ⁹ For he is come to judge the earth; he shall judge the world in righteousness, and the nations in uprightness.

Psalm 98 (MT 99)

¹ (99) A Psalm of David. The Lord reigns; —let the people rage; [it is he] that sits upon the cherubs, let the earth be moved. ² The Lord is great in Sion, and is high over all the people. ³ Let them give thanks to your great name; for it is terrible and holy. ⁴ And the king's honor loves judgment; you have prepared equity, you have wrought judgment and justice in Jacob. ⁵ Exalt you□ the Lord our God, and worship [at] his footstool; for he is holy. ⁶ Moses and Aaron among his priests, and Samuel among them that call upon his name; they called upon the Lord, and he heard them. ⁷ He spoke to them in a pillar of cloud; they kept his testimonies, and the ordinances which he gave them. ⁸ O Lord our God, you heard them; O God, you became propitious to them, though you did take vengeance on all their devices. ⁹ Exalt you□ the Lord our God, and worship at his holy mountain; for the Lord our God is holy.

Psalm 100 (MT 101)

¹ (101) A Psalm of David. I will sing to you, O Lord, of mercy and judgment; I will sing a psalm, ² and I will be wise in a blameless way. When will you come to me? I walked in the innocence of my heart, in the midst of my house. ³ I have not set before my eyes any unlawful thing; I have hated transgressors. ⁴ A perverse heart has not cleaved to me; I have not known an evil man, forasmuch as he turns away from me. ⁵ Him that privily speaks against his neighbor, him have I driven from [me]: he that is proud in look and insatiable in heart, —with him I have not eaten. ⁶ My eyes [shall be] upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walked in a perfect way, the same ministered to me. ⁷ The proud doer lived not in the midst of my house; the unjust speaker prospered not in my sight. ⁸ Early did I kill all the sinners of the land, that I might destroy out of the city of the Lord all that work iniquity.

Psalm 101 (MT 102)

¹ (102) A Prayer for the Poor; when he is deeply afflicted, and pours out his supplication before the Lord. Hear my prayer, O Lord, and let my cry come to you. ² Turn not away your face from me: in the day [when] I am afflicted, incline your ear to me: in the day [when] I shall call upon you, speedily hear me. ³ For my days have vanished like smoke, and my bones have been parched like a stick. ⁴ I am blighted like grass, and my heart is dried up; for I have forgotten to eat my bread. ⁵ By reason of the voice of my groaning, my bone has cleaved to my flesh. ⁶ I have become like a pelican of the wilderness; ⁷ I have become like an owl in a ruined house. I have watched, and am become as a sparrow dwelling alone on a roof. ⁸ All the day long my enemies have reproached me; and they that praised me have sworn against me. ⁹ For I have eaten ashes as it were bread, and mingled my drink with weeping; ¹⁰ because of your anger and your wrath: for you have lifted me up, and dashed me down. ¹¹ My days have declined like a shadow; and I am withered like grass. ¹² But you, Lord, endure for ever, and your memorial to generation and generation. ¹³ You shall arise, and have mercy upon Sion: for [it is] time to have mercy upon her, for the set time is come. ¹⁴ For your servants have taken pleasure in her stones, and they shall pity her dust. ¹⁵ So the nations shall fear your name, O Lord, and all kings your glory. ¹⁶ For the Lord shall build up Sion, and shall appear in his glory. ¹⁷ He has had regard to the prayer of the lowly, and has not despised their petition. ¹⁸ Let this be written for another generation; and the people that shall be created shall praise the Lord. ¹⁹ For he has looked out from the height of his sanctuary; the Lord looked upon the earth from heaven; ²⁰ to hear the groaning of the fettered ones, to loosen the sons of the slain; ²¹ to proclaim the name of the Lord in Sion, and his praise in Jerusalem; ²² when the people are gathered together, and the kings, to serve the Lord. ²³ He answered him in the way of his strength: tell me the fewness of my days. ²⁴ Take me not away in the midst of my days: your years [are] through all generations. ²⁵ In the beginning you, O Lord, did lay the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of your hands. ²⁶ They shall perish, but you remain: and [they all] shall wax old as a garment; and as a vesture shall you fold them, and they shall be changed. ²⁷ But you are the same, and your years shall not fail. ²⁸ The children of your servants shall dwell [securely], and their seed shall prosper for ever.

Psalms 102 (MT 103)

¹ (103) [A Psalm] of David. Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all [that is] within me, [bless] his holy name. ² Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his praises: ³ who forgives all your transgressions, who heals all your diseases; ⁴ who redeems your life from corruption; who crowns you with mercy and compassion; ⁵ who satisfies your desire with good things: [so that] your youth shall be renewed like [that] of the eagle. ⁶ The Lord executes mercy and judgment for all that are injured. ⁷ He made known his ways to Moses, his will to the children of Israel. ⁸ The Lord is compassionate and pitiful, longsuffering, and full of mercy. ⁹ He will not be always angry; neither will he be wrathful for ever. ¹⁰ He has not dealt with us according to our sins, nor recompensed us according to our iniquities. ¹¹ For as the heaven is high above the earth, the Lord has [so] increased his mercy toward them that fear him. ¹² As far as the east is from the west, [so far] has he removed our transgressions from us. ¹³ As a father pities [his] children, the Lord pities them that fear him. ¹⁴ For he knows our frame: remember that we are dust. ¹⁵ [As for] man, his days are as grass; as a flower of the field, so shall he flourish. ¹⁶ For the wind passes over it, and it shall not be; and it shall know its place no more. ¹⁷ But the mercy of the Lord is from generation to generation upon them that fear him, and his righteousness to children's children; ¹⁸ to them that keep his covenant, and remember his commandments to do them. ¹⁹ The Lord has prepared his throne in the heaven; and his kingdom rules over all. ²⁰ Bless the Lord, all you□ his angels, mighty in strength, who perform his bidding, [ready] to listen to the voice of his words. ²¹ Bless the Lord, all you□ his hosts; [you□] ministers of his that do his will. ²² Bless the Lord, all his works, in every place of his dominion: bless the Lord, O my soul.

Psalm 103 (MT 104)

¹ (104) [A Psalm] of David. Bless the Lord, O my soul. O Lord my God, you are very great; you have clothed yourself with praise and honor; ² who do robe yourself with light as with a garment; spreading out the heaven as a curtain. ³ Who covers his chambers with waters; who makes the clouds his chariot; who walks on the wings of the wind. ⁴ Who makes his angels spirits, and his ministers a flaming fire. ⁵ Who establishes the earth on her sure foundation: it shall not be moved for ever. ⁶ The deep, as it were a garment, is his covering: the waters shall stand on the hills. ⁷ At your rebuke they shall flee; at the voice of your thunder they shall be alarmed. ⁸ They go up to the mountains, and down to the plains, to the place which you have founded for them. ⁹ You have set a bound which they shall not pass, neither shall they turn again to cover the earth. ¹⁰ He sends forth his fountains among the valleys: the waters shall run between the mountains. ¹¹ They shall give drink to all the wild beasts of the field: the wild asses shall take [of them] to [quench] their thirst. ¹² By them shall the birds of the sky lodge: they shall utter a voice out of the midst of the rocks. ¹³ He waters the mountains from his chambers: the earth shall be satisfied with the fruit of your works. ¹⁴ He makes grass to grow for the cattle, and green herb for the service of men, to bring bread out of the earth; ¹⁵ and wine makes glad the heart of man, to make his face cheerful with oil: and bread strengthens man's heart. ¹⁶ The trees of the plain shall be full [of sap]; [even] the cedars of Libanus which he has planted. ¹⁷ There the sparrows will build their nests; and the house of the heron takes the lead among them. ¹⁸ The high mountains are a refuge for the stags, [and] the rock for the rabbits. ¹⁹ He appointed the moon for seasons: the sun knows his going down. ²⁰ You did make darkness, and it was night; in it all the wild beasts of the forest will be abroad: ²¹ [even] young lions roaring for prey, and to seek meat for themselves from God. ²² The sun arises, and they shall be gathered together; and shall lie down in their dens. ²³ Man shall go forth to his work, and to his labor till evening. ²⁴ How great are your works, O Lord! in wisdom have you wrought them all: the earth is filled with your creation. ²⁵ [So is] this great and wide sea: there are things creeping innumerable, small animals and great. ²⁶ There go the ships; [and] this dragon whom you have made to play in it. ²⁷ All wait upon you, to give them [their] food in due season. ²⁸ When you have given [it] them, they will gather [it]; and when you have opened your hand, they shall all be filled with good. ²⁹ But when you have turned away your face, they shall be troubled: you will take away their breath, and they shall fail, and return to their dust. ³⁰ You shall send forth your Spirit, and they shall be created; and you shall renew the face of the earth. ³¹ Let the glory of the Lord be for ever: the Lord shall rejoice in his works; ³² who looks upon the earth, and makes it tremble; who touches the mountains, and they smoke. ³³ I will sing to the Lord while I live; I will sing praise to my God while I exist. ³⁴ Let my meditation be sweet to him: and I will rejoice in the Lord. ³⁵ Let the sinners fail from off the earth, and transgressors, so that they shall be no more. Bless the Lord, O my soul.

Psalms 104 (MT 105)

rivers ran in dry places.⁴² For he remembered his holy word, which [he promised] to Abraam his servant.⁴³ And he brought out his people with exultation, and his chosen with joy;⁴⁴ and gave them the lands of the heathen; and they inherited the labors of the people;⁴⁵ that they might keep his ordinances, and diligently seek his law.

N: ¹ Bless This sublime poem on the works of God in creation and providence, is ascribed to David in the LXX, Vulgate, Ethiopic, Syriac, and Arabic; and as it opens and closes with the same words as the preceding psalm, it is probable that it was composed on the same occasion; and it is written as part of it in nine manuscripts, O Lord; art very great; clothed; honour ⁵ Who laid the foundations of the earth Heb. It feeds on serpents, frogs, and insects, on which account it might be deemed unclean; lays four eggs, and sits thirty days; migrates about August, and returns in spring; and is remarkable for its love to its parents, whom it never forsakes, but feeds and cherishes when old; whence it had the name chaseedah, which denotes kindness or piety, and stork, from the Greek στρογγή, natural affection. ¹⁸ the wild goats The yaal, is the ibex, or rock goat, so called from alah, to ascend, because it is famous for mounting to the tops of the highest rocks. Psalm 105 (MT 106) words, and celebrated his praise. ¹³ They made haste, they forgot his works; they waited not for his counsel. ¹⁴ And they lusted exceedingly in the wilderness, and tempted God in the dry [land]. ¹⁵ And he gave them their request, and sent fullness into their souls. ¹⁶ They provoked Moses also in the camp, and Aaron the holy one of the Lord. ¹⁷ The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, and closed upon the congregation of Abiron. ¹⁸ And a fire was kindled in their congregation, and a flame burnt up the sinners. ¹⁹ And they made a calf in Choreb, and worshipped the graven image, ²⁰ and they changed their glory into the similitude of a calf that feeds on grass. ²¹ They forgot God that saved them, who had wrought great deeds in Egypt; ²² wondrous [works] in the land of Cham, and terrible things at the Red Sea. ²³ So he said that he would have destroyed them, had not Moses his chosen stood before him in the breach, to turn [him] away from the fierceness of his anger, so that he should not destroy them. ²⁴ Moreover they set at nothing the desirable land, and believed not his word. ²⁵ And they murmured in their tents: they listened not to the voice of the Lord. ²⁶ So he lifted up his hand against them, to cast them down in the wilderness; ²⁷ and to cast down their seed among the nations, and to scatter them in the countries. ²⁸ They were joined also to Beelphegor, and ate the sacrifices of the dead. And they provoked him with their devices; ²⁹ and destruction, was multiplied among them. ³⁰ Then Phinees stood up, and made atonement: and the plague ceased. ³¹ And it was counted to him for righteousness, to all generations for ever. ³² They provoked him also at the water of Strife, and Moses was hurt for their sakes; ³³ for they provoked his spirit, and he spoke [unadvisedly] with his lips. ³⁴ They destroyed not the nations which the Lord told them [to destroy]; ³⁵ but were mingled with the heathen, and learned their works. ³⁶ And they served their graven images; and it became an offense to them. ³⁷ And they sacrificed their sons and their daughters to devils, ³⁸ and shed innocent blood, the blood of their sons and daughters, whom they sacrificed to the idols of Chanaan; and the land was defiled with blood. ³⁹ and was polluted with their works; and they went a whoring with their own devices. ⁴⁰ So the Lord was very angry with his people, and he abhorred his inheritance. ⁴¹ And he delivered them into the hands of [their] enemies; and they that hated them ruled over them. ⁴² And their enemies oppressed them, and they were brought down under their hands. ⁴³ Many a time he delivered them; but they provoked him by their counsel, and they were brought low by their iniquities. ⁴⁴ You□ the Lord looked upon their affliction, when he heard their petition. ⁴⁵ And he remembered his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercy. ⁴⁶ And he caused them to be pitied in the sight of all who carried them captive. ⁴⁷ Save us, O Lord our God, and gather us from among the heathen, that we may give thanks to your holy name, that we may glory in your praise. ⁴⁸ Blessed be the Lord God of Israel from everlasting and to everlasting; and all the people shall say, Amen, Amen.

N: ¹ am 2962, bc 1042 (Title), It appears from, where the former part of this Psalm, as far as the, is found with little variation, that David composed it at the removal of the ark to Mount Zion, and he himself probably enlarged it afterwards with the glorious detail of God's merciful dealings with Abraham and his posterity till their settlement in the land of Promise. The Hallelujah, which terminates the preceding Psalm, is made the title of this by the Septuagint, Vulgate, Arabic, and Ethiopic; and the Syriac considers it a paraphrase on the words, "Fear not, Jacob, to go down into Egypt; " and teaches us spiritually not to fear when we are obliged to contend with devils; for God is our shield, and will fight for us." Psalm 106 (MT 107) and are brought low, by the pressure of evils and pain.⁴⁰ Contempt is poured upon their princes, and he causes them to wander in a desert and trackless land.⁴¹ But he helps the poor out of poverty, and makes [him] families as a flock.⁴² The upright shall see and rejoice; and all iniquity shall stop her mouth.⁴³ Who is wise, and will observe these things, and understand the mercies of the Lord?

N:¹ (Title). As part of the preceding Psalm is found in, so the first and two last verses of this are found in the same place; and it is highly probable this was composed upon the same occasion as the former, to which it seems to be a continuation; for as that celebrates the mercies of God to Israel, so this confesses and deplores the rebellions of Israel against Jehovah. Praise ye the Lord Heb. Hallelujah, O give; ; for he³ Blessed; ; keep; doeth; at all times⁹ He rebuked In the descriptions of the Psalmist, everything has life. The sea is an animated being, behaves itself proudly, is rebuked, and retires in confusion.; ; so he¹³ They soon forgot Heb. They made haste, they forgot, Three days afterwards, at the waters of Marah.;, waited¹⁴ But; lusted exceedingly Heb. lusted a lust tempted¹⁵ he gave; but sent They despised the manna, calling it light or innutritive food. God gave them flesh as they desired, but no blessing accompanied it; and, in consequence, they did not fatten, but grew lean upon it; and many, surfeited by excess, died of disease. Instead of rason, "leanness," however, Bp. Lowth supposes we should read zeraon, "nausea or loathing," which appears to be supported by several ancient versions, and by, where this portion of the history of the Israelites is recorded, and where the word zara is used, and rendered, "it be loathsome."²⁰ Thus; their glory That is, their God, who ought to have been the peculiar object of their glory. into²² Wondrous The plagues he inflicted on the Egyptians. Egypt is called the land of Ham, or rather, Cham, because it was peopled by Mizraim the son of Ham, and grandson of Noah. Plutarch informs us, that the Egyptians called their country Χημία, Chemia; and the Copts give it the name of Chemi, Χημι, terrible²³ he said; ; his chosen; stood²⁴ they despised; the pleasant land Heb. a land of desire; ; they believed²⁷ overthrow Heb. make them fall to scatter²⁸ joined; ; of the dead The word maithim signifies dead men; for the idols of the heathen were generally men - warriors, kings, or lawgivers - who had been deified after their death; though many of them had been execrated during their life.³⁷ they sacrificed However unnatural and horrid human sacrifices may appear, it is certain, that they did not only exist, but almost universally prevailed in the heathen world, especially among the Canaanites and Phoenicians; , devils⁴⁰ the wrath; inasmuch; his own⁴³ Many; with their, brought low or, impoverished, or weakened ¹ (108) Song of a Psalm by David. O God, my heart is ready, my heart is ready; I will sing and sing psalms with my glory. ² Awake, lute and harp; I will awake early. ³ I will give thanks to you, O Lord, among the people; I will sing praise to you among the Gentiles. ⁴ For your mercy is great above the heavens, and your truth [reaches] to the clouds. ⁵ Be you exalted, O God, above the heavens; and your glory above all the earth. ⁶ That your beloved [ones] may be delivered, save with your right hand, and hear me. God has spoken in his sanctuary; ⁷ I will be exalted, and will divide Sicima, and will measure out the valley of tents. ⁸ Galaad is mine; and Manasses is mine; and Ephraim is the help of my head; Judas is my king; ⁹ Moab is the caldron of my hope; over Idumea will I cast my sandal; the Philistines are made subject to me. ¹⁰ Who will bring me into the fortified city? or who will guide me to Idumea? ¹¹ Will not you, O God, who have rejected us? and will not you, O God, go forth with our hosts? ¹² Give us help from tribulation: for vain is the help of man. ¹³ Through God we shall do valiantly; and he will bring to nothing our enemies.

The author of this Psalm is unknown; but it was evidently written to commemorate the return of the Jews from the Babylonian captivity; and it may easily be perceived that it must have been sung in alternate parts, having a double burden, or two intercalary verses often recurring. Bp. Lowth considers it as written "after the method of the ancient pastorals, where, be the subject of their verse what it will, each swain endeavours to excel the other; and one may perceive their thoughts and expressions gradually to rise upon each other." "No doubt, he adds, "the composition of this Psalm is admirable throughout; and the descriptive part of it adds at least its share of beauty to the whole; but what is most to be admired is its conciseness, and withal the expressiveness of the diction, which strikes the imagination with illimitable elegance. The weary and bewildered traveller - the miserable captive in the dungeon - the sick and dying man - the seaman foundering in a storm - are described in so affecting a manner, that they far exceed anything of the kind, though never so much laboured." Psalm 108 (MT 109)

man, and [that] to kill him that was pricked in the heart. ¹⁷ He loved cursing also, and it shall come upon him; and he took not pleasure in blessing, so it shall be removed far from him. ¹⁸ Yes, he put on cursing as a garment, and it is come as water into his bowels, and as oil into his bones. ¹⁹ Let it be to him as a garment which he puts on, and as a girdle with which he girds himself continually. ²⁰ This is the dealing of the Lord with those who falsely accuse me, and of them that speak evil against my soul. ²¹ But you, O Lord, Lord, deal [mercifully] with me, for your name's sake: for your mercy is good. ²² Deliver me, for I am poor and needy; and my heart is troubled within me. ²³ I am removed as a shadow in its going down: I am tossed up and down like locusts. ²⁴ My knees are weakened through fasting, and my flesh is changed by reason of [the lack of] oil. ²⁵ I became also a reproach to them: [when] they saw me they shook their heads. ²⁶ Help me, O Lord my God; and save me according to your mercy. ²⁷ And let them know that this is your hand; and [that] you, Lord, have wrought it. ²⁸ Let them curse, but you shall bless: let them that rise up against me be ashamed, but let your servant rejoice. ²⁹ Let those that falsely accuse me be clothed with shame, and let them cover themselves with their shame as with a mantle. ³⁰ I will give thanks to the Lord abundantly with my mouth; and in the midst of many I will praise him. ³¹ For he stood on the right hand of the poor, to save [me] from them that persecute my soul.

Psalm 109 (MT 110)

¹ (110) A Psalm of David. The Lord said to my Lord, Sit you on my right hand, until I make your enemies your footstool. ² The Lord shall send out a rod of power for you out of Sion: rule you in the midst of your enemies. ³ With you is dominion in the day of your power, in the splendors of your saints: I have begotten you from the womb before the morning. ⁴ The Lord swore, and will not repent, You are a priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedec. ⁵ The Lord at your right hand has dashed in pieces kings in the day of his wrath. ⁶ He shall judge among the nations, he shall fill up [the number of] corpses, he shall crush the heads of many on the earth. ⁷ He shall drink of the brook in the way; therefore shall he lift up the head.

N: ¹ am 2942, bc 1062 (Title), It is generally supposed that this Psalm was composed by David, when persecuted by Saul, who was rendered more implacable by the base and malicious calumnies of Doeg and others; though some are of opinion, that it was written when David fled from Absalom, and that Ahithophel, rather than Doeg, is the typical person against whom it is principally directed. Horsley and others, however, render the verbs in the future tense, the first verb alone being in the imperative; justly considering the Psalmist as merely uttering prophetic denunciations of God's displeasure against sinners. and let; Satan or, an adversary ⁷ be condemned Heb. go out guilty, or wicked; and let

¹ (113) Alleluia. Praise the Lord, you ☐ servants [of his], praise, the name of the Lord. ² Let the name of the Lord be blessed, from this present time and for ever. ³ From the rising of the sun to his setting, the name of the Lord is to be praised. ⁴ The Lord is high above all the nations; his glory is above the heavens. ⁵ Who is as the Lord our God? who dwells in the high places, ⁶ and [yet] looks upon the low things in heaven, and on the earth: ⁷ who lifts up the poor from the earth, and raises up the needy from the dunghill; ⁸ to set him with princes, [even] with the princes of his people: ⁹ who settles the barren [woman] in a house, [as] a mother rejoicing over children.

N: ¹ Praise ye the Lord Heb. Hallelujah, ; This is another of the alphabetical Psalms, being formed exactly as the preceding in the division of its verses; and, like it, was probably composed for the use of the Jews, after their return from captivity. Blessed, ; delighteth ⁴ there ariseth; he is gracious, ; , righteous ⁵ good; sheweth; he will, ; discretion Heb. judgment

Psalms 113 (MT 114-115)

¹ (114) Alleluia. At the going forth of Israel from Egypt, of the house of Jacob from a barbarous people, ² Judea became his sanctuary, [and] Israel his dominion. ³ The sea saw and fled: Jordan was turned back. ⁴ The mountains skipped like rams, and the hills like lambs. ⁵ What [ailed] you, O sea, that you fled? and you Jordan, that you were turned back? ⁶ [You ☐] mountains, that you ☐ skipped like rams, and [you ☐] hills, like lambs? ⁷ The earth trembled at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob; ⁸ who turned the rock into pools of water, and the flint into fountains of water.

N: ¹ (Title), This and the following five Psalms form what is called by the Hebrews the great Hallel, or praise; which was sung on their most solemn festivals, and particularly after the celebration of the Passover. (See . . .) This and the following were probably composed after the return from the captivity. Praise ye the Lord Heb. Hallelujah, O ⁵ like; dwelleth Heb. exalteth himself to dwell ⁶ humbleth; in heaven Bp. Lowth observes that the two members of this line are to be referred severally to the two preceding lines; as if it were, "Who is exalted to dwell in the heavens; and who humbleth himself to inspect the things on earth." in the earth

Psalms 114 (MT 116:1-9)

¹ (115) Not to us, O Lord, not to us, but to your name give glory, because of your mercy and your truth; ² lest at any time the nations should say, Where is their God? ³ But our God has done in heaven and on earth, whatever he has pleased. ⁴ The idols of the nations are silver and gold, the works of men's hands. ⁵ They have a mouth, but they can't speak; they have eyes, but they can't see: ⁶ they have ears, but they can't hear; they have noses, but they can't smell; ⁷ they have hands, but they can't handle; they have feet, but they can't walk: they can't speak through their throat. ⁸ Let those that make them become like to them, and all who trust in them. ⁹ The house of Israel trusts in the Lord: he is their helper and defender. ¹⁰ The house of Aaron trusts in the Lord: he is their helper and defender. ¹¹ They that fear the Lord trust in the Lord: he is their helper and defender. ¹² The Lord has remembered us, and blessed us: he has blessed the house of Israel, he has blessed the house of Aaron. ¹³ He has blessed them that fear the Lord, both small and great. ¹⁴ The Lord add [blessings] to you and to your children. ¹⁵ Blessed are you ☐ of the Lord, who made the heaven and the earth. ¹⁶ The heaven of heavens [belongs] to the Lord: but he has given the earth to the sons of men. ¹⁷ The dead shall not praise you, O Lord, nor any that go down to Hades. ¹⁸ But we, the living, will bless the Lord, from henceforth and for ever.

Psalm 115 (MT 116:10-19)

¹ (116) Alleluia. I am well pleased, because the Lord will listen to the voice of my supplication. ² Because he has inclined his ear to me, therefore will I call upon him while I live. ³ The pangs of death compassed me; the dangers of hell found me: I found affliction and sorrow. ⁴ Then I called on the name of the Lord: O Lord, deliver my soul. ⁵ The Lord is merciful and righteous; yes, our God has pity. ⁶ The Lord preserves the simple: I was brought low, and he delivered me. ⁷ Return to your rest, O my soul; for the Lord has dealt bountifully with you. ⁸ For he has delivered my soul from death, my eyes from tears, and my feet from falling. ⁹ I shall be well-pleasing before the Lord in the land of the living. (115) Alleluia. ¹⁰ I believed, therefore I have spoken: but I was greatly afflicted. ¹¹ And I said in my amazement, Every man is a liar. ¹² What shall I render to the Lord for all the things wherein he has rewarded me? ¹³ I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord. ¹⁴ I will pay my vows to the Lord, in the presence of all his people. ¹⁵ Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints. ¹⁶ O Lord, I am your servant; I am your servant, and the son of your handmaid: you have burst my bonds asunder. ¹⁷ I will offer to you the sacrifice of praise, and will call upon the name of the Lord. ¹⁸ I will pay my vows to the Lord, in the presence of all his people, ¹⁹ in the courts of the Lord's house, in the midst of you, Jerusalem.

Psalm 118 (MT 119)

stranger in the earth: hide not your commandments from me. ²⁰ My soul has longed exceedingly for your judgments at all times. ²¹ You have rebuked the proud: cursed are they that turn aside from your commandments. ²² Remove from me reproach and contempt; for I have sought out your testimonies. ²³ For princes sat and spoke against me: but your servant was meditating on your ordinances. ²⁴ For your testimonies are my meditation, and your ordinances are my counselors. ²⁵ My soul has cleaved to the ground; quicken you me according to your word. ²⁶ I declared my ways, and you did hear me: teach me your ordinances. ²⁷ Instruct me in the way of your ordinances; and I will meditate on your wondrous works. ²⁸ My soul has slumbered for sorrow; strengthen you me with your words. ²⁹ Remove from me the way of iniquity; and be merciful to me by your law. ³⁰ I have chosen the way of truth; and have not forgotten your judgments. ³¹ I have cleaved to your testimonies, O Lord; put me not to shame. ³² I ran the way of your commandments, when you did enlarge my heart. ³³ Teach me, O Lord, the way of your ordinances, and I will seek it out continually. ³⁴ Instruct me, and I will search out your law, and will keep it with my whole heart. ³⁵ Guide me in the path of your commandments; for I have delighted in it. ³⁶ Incline my heart to your testimonies, and not to covetousness. ³⁷ Turn away my eyes that I may not behold vanity: quicken you me in your way. ³⁸ Confirm your oracle to your servant, that he may fear you. ³⁹ Take away my reproach which I have feared: for your judgments are good. ⁴⁰ Behold, I have desired your commandments: quicken me in your righteousness. ⁴¹ And let your mercy come upon me, O Lord; [even] your salvation, according to your word. ⁴² And [so] I shall render an answer to them that reproach me: for I have trusted in your words. ⁴³ And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth; for I have hoped in your judgments. ⁴⁴ So shall I keep your law continually, for ever and ever. ⁴⁵ I walked also at large: for I sought out your commandments. ⁴⁶ And I spoke of your testimonies before kings, and was not ashamed. ⁴⁷ And I meditated on your commandments, which I loved exceedingly. ⁴⁸ And I lifted up my hands to your commandments which I loved; and I meditated in your ordinances. ⁴⁹ Remember your words to your servant, wherein you have made me hope. ⁵⁰ This has comforted me in my affliction: for your oracle has quickened me. ⁵¹ The proud have transgressed exceedingly; but I swerved not from your law. ⁵² I remembered your judgments of old, O Lord; and was comforted. ⁵³ Despair took hold upon me, because of the sinners who forsake your law. ⁵⁴ Your ordinances were my songs in the place of my sojourning. ⁵⁵ I remembered your name, O Lord, in the night, and kept your law. ⁵⁶ This I had, because I diligently sought your ordinances. ⁵⁷ You are my portion, O Lord: I said that I would keep your law. ⁵⁸ I implored your favor with my whole heart: have mercy upon me according to your word. ⁵⁹ I thought on your ways, and turned my feet to your testimonies. ⁶⁰ I prepared myself, (and was not terrified,) to keep your commandments. ⁶¹ The snares of sinners entangled me: but I forgot not your law. ⁶² At midnight I arose, to give thanks to you for the judgments of your righteousness. ⁶³ I am a companion of all them that fear you, and of them that keep your commandments. ⁶⁴ O Lord, the earth is full of your mercy: teach me your ordinances. ⁶⁵ You have wrought kindly with your servant, O Lord, according to your word. ⁶⁶ Teach me kindness, and instruction, and knowledge: for I have believed your commandments. ⁶⁷ Before I was afflicted, I transgressed; therefore have I kept your word. ⁶⁸ Good are you, O Lord; therefore in your goodness teach me your ordinances. ⁶⁹ The injustice of the proud has been multiplied against me: but I will search out your commandments with all my heart. ⁷⁰ Their heart has been curdled like milk; but I have meditated on your law. ⁷¹ [It is] good for me that you have afflicted me; that I might learn your ordinances. ⁷² The law of your mouth is better to me than thousands of gold and silver. ⁷³ Your hands have made me, and fashioned me: instruct me, that I may learn your commandments. ⁷⁴ They that fear you will see me and rejoice: for I have hoped in your words. ⁷⁵ I know, O Lord, that your judgments are righteousness, and [that] you in truthfulness have afflicted me. ⁷⁶ Let, I pray you, your mercy be to comfort me, according to your word to your servant. ⁷⁷ Let your compassions come to me, that I may live: for your law is my meditation. ⁷⁸ Let the proud be ashamed; for they transgressed against me unjustly: but I will meditate in your commandments. ⁷⁹ Let those that fear you, and those that know your testimonies, turn to me. ⁸⁰ Let my heart be blameless in your ordinances, that I may not be ashamed. ⁸¹ My soul faints for your salvation: I have hoped in your words. ⁸² My eyes failed [in waiting] for your word, saying, When will you comfort me? ⁸³ For I am become as a bottle in the frost: [yet] I have not forgotten your ordinances. ⁸⁴ How many are the days of your servant? when will you execute judgment for me on them that persecute me? ⁸⁵ Transgressors told me [idle tales]; but not according to your law, O Lord. ⁸⁶ All your commandments are truth; they persecuted me unjustly; help you me. ⁸⁷ They nearly made an end of me in the earth; but I forsook not your commandments. ⁸⁸ Quicken me according to your mercy; so shall I keep the testimonies of your mouth. ⁸⁹ Your word, O Lord, abides in heaven for ever. ⁹⁰ Your truth [endures] to all generations; you have founded the earth, and it abides. ⁹¹ The day continues by your arrangement; for all things are your servants. ⁹² Were it not that your law is my meditation, then I should have perished in my affliction. ⁹³ I will never forget your ordinances; for with them you have quickened me. ⁹⁴ I am your; save me; for I have sought out your ordinances. ⁹⁵ Sinners laid wait for me to destroy me; [but] I understood your testimonies. ⁹⁶ have seen an end of all perfection; [but] your commandment is very broad. ⁹⁷ How I have loved your law, O Lord! it is my meditation all the day. ⁹⁸ You have made me wiser than my enemies [in] your commandment; for it is mine for ever. ⁹⁹ I have more understanding than all my teachers; for your testimonies are my medication. ¹⁰⁰ I understand more that the aged; because I have sought out your commandments. ¹⁰¹ I have kept back my feet from every evil way, that I might keep your words. ¹⁰² I have not declined from your judgments; for you have instructed me. ¹⁰³ How sweet are your oracles to my throat! more so than honey to my mouth! ¹⁰⁴ I gain understanding by your commandments: therefore I have hated every way of unrighteousness. ¹⁰⁵ Your law is a lamp to my feet, and a light to my paths. ¹⁰⁶ I have sworn and determined to keep the judgments of your righteousness. ¹⁰⁷ I have been very greatly afflicted, O Lord: quicken me, according to your word. ¹⁰⁸ Accept, I pray you, O Lord, the free will offerings of my mouth, and teach me your judgments. ¹⁰⁹ My soul is continually in your hands; and I have not forgotten your law. ¹¹⁰ Sinners spread a snare for me; but I erred not from your commandments. ¹¹¹ I have inherited your testimonies for ever; for they are the joy of my heart. ¹¹² I have inclined my heart to perform your ordinances for ever, in return [for your mercies]. ¹¹³ I have hated transgressors; but I have loved your law. ¹¹⁴ You are my helper and my supporter; I have hoped in your words. ¹¹⁵ Depart from me, you ☐ evil-doers; for I will search out the commandments of my God. ¹¹⁶ Uphold me according to your word, and quicken me; and make me not ashamed of my expectation. ¹¹⁷ Help me, and I shall be saved; and I will meditate in your ordinances continually. ¹¹⁸ You have brought to nothing all that depart from your ordinances; for their inward thought is unrighteous. ¹¹⁹ I have reckoned all the sinners of the earth as transgressors; therefore have I loved your testimonies. ¹²⁰ Penetrate my flesh with your fear; for I am afraid of your judgments. ¹²¹ I have done judgment and justice; deliver me not up to them that injure me. ¹²² Receive your servant for good: let not the proud accuse me falsely. ¹²³ My eyes have failed for your salvation, and for the word of your righteousness. ¹²⁴ Deal with your servant according to your mercy, and teach me your ordinances. ¹²⁵ I am your servant; instruct me, and I shall know your testimonies. ¹²⁶ [It is] time for the Lord to work: they have utterly broken your law. ¹²⁷ Therefore have I loved your commandments more than gold, or the topaz. ¹²⁸ Therefore I directed myself [according] to all your commandments: I have hated every unjust way. ¹²⁹ Your testimonies are wonderful: therefore my soul has sought them out. ¹³⁰ The manifestation of your words will enlighten, and instruct the simple. ¹³¹ I opened my mouth, and drew breath: for I earnestly longed after your commandments. ¹³² Look upon me and have mercy upon me, after the manner of them that love your name. ¹³³ Order my steps according to your word: and let not any iniquity have dominion over me. ¹³⁴ Deliver me from the false accusation of men: so will I keep your commandments. ¹³⁵ Cause your face to shine upon your servant: and teach me your ordinances. ¹³⁶ My eyes have been bathed in streams of water, because I kept not your law. ¹³⁷ Righteous are you, O Lord, and upright are your judgments. ¹³⁸ You have commanded righteousness and perfect truth, [as] your testimonies. ¹³⁹ Your zeal has quite wasted me: because my enemies have forgotten your words. ¹⁴⁰ Your word [has been] very fully tried; and your servant loves it. ¹⁴¹ I am young and despised: [yet] I have not forgotten your ordinances. ¹⁴² Your righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and your law is truth. ¹⁴³ Afflictions and distresses found me: [but] your commandments [were] my meditation. ¹⁴⁴ Your testimonies [are] an everlasting righteousness: instruct me, and I shall live. ¹⁴⁵ I cried with my whole heart; hear me, O Lord: I will search out your ordinances. ¹⁴⁶ I cried to you; save me, and I will keep your testimonies. ¹⁴⁷ I arose before the dawn, and cried: I hoped in your words. ¹⁴⁸ My eyes prevented the dawn, that I might meditate on your oracles. ¹⁴⁹ Hear my voice, O Lord, according to your mercy; quicken me according to your judgment. ¹⁵⁰ They have drawn near who persecuted me unlawfully; and they are far removed from your law. ¹⁵¹ You are near, O Lord; and all your ways are truth. ¹⁵² I have known of old concerning your testimonies, that you have founded them for ever. ¹⁵³ Look upon my affliction, and rescue me; for I have not forgotten your law. ¹⁵⁴ Plead my cause, and ransom me: quicken me because of your word. ¹⁵⁵ Salvation is far from sinners: for they have not searched out your ordinances. ¹⁵⁶ Your mercies, O Lord, are many: quicken me according to your judgment. ¹⁵⁷ Many are they that persecute me and oppress me: [but] I have not declined from your testimonies. ¹⁵⁸ I saw men acting foolishly, and I pined away; for they kept not your oracles. ¹⁵⁹ Behold, I have loved your commandments, O Lord: quicken me in your mercy. ¹⁶⁰ The beginning of your words is truth; and all the judgments of your righteousness [endure] for ever. ¹⁶¹ Princes persecuted me without a cause, but my heart feared because of your words. ¹⁶² I will exult because of your oracles, as one that finds much spoil. ¹⁶³ I hate and abhor unrighteousness; but I love your law. ¹⁶⁴ Seven times in a day have I praised you because of the judgments of your righteousness. ¹⁶⁵ Great peace have they that love your law: and there is no stumbling block to them. ¹⁶⁶ I waited for your salvation, O Lord, and have loved your commandments. ¹⁶⁷ My soul has kept your testimonies, and loved them exceedingly. ¹⁶⁸ I have kept your commandments and your testimonies; for all my ways are before you, O Lord. ¹⁶⁹ Let my supplication come near before you, O Lord; instruct me according to your oracle. ¹⁷⁰ Let my petition come in before you, O Lord; deliver me according to your oracle. ¹⁷¹ Let my lips utter a hymn, when you shall have taught me your ordinances. ¹⁷² Let my tongue utter your oracles; for all your commandments are righteous. ¹⁷³ Let your hand be [prompt] to save me; for I have chosen your commandments. ¹⁷⁴ I have longed after your salvation, O Lord; and your law is my meditation. ¹⁷⁵ My soul shall live, and shall praise you; and your judgments shall help me. ¹⁷⁶ I have gone astray like a lost sheep; seek your servant; for I have not forgotten your commandments.

I was glad when they said to me, Let us go into the house of the Lord. ² Our feet stood in your courts, O Jerusalem. ³ Jerusalem is built as a city whose fellowship is complete. ⁴ For there the tribes went up, the tribes of the Lord, as a testimony for Israel, to give thanks to the name of the Lord. ⁵ For there are set thrones for judgment, [even] thrones for the house of David. ⁶ Pray now for the peace of Jerusalem: and [let there be] prosperity to them that love you. ⁷ Let peace, I pray, be within your host, and prosperity in your palaces. ⁸ For the sake of my brethren and my neighbors, I have indeed spoken peace concerning you. ⁹ Because of the house of the Lord our God, I have diligently sought your good.

Psalm 134 (MT 135)

¹ (135) Alleluia. Praise you□ the name of the Lord; praise the Lord, [you□ his] servants, ² who stand in the house of the Lord, in the courts of the house of our God. ³ Praise you□ the Lord; for the Lord is good: sing praises to his name; for [it is] good. ⁴ For the Lord has chosen Jacob for himself, [and] Israel for his peculiar treasure. ⁵ For I know that the Lord is great, and our Lord is above all gods; ⁶ all that the Lord willed, he did in heaven, and on the earth, in the sea, and in all deeps. ⁷ Who brings up clouds from the extremity of the earth: he has made lightnings for the rain: he brings winds out of his treasures. ⁸ Who struck the firstborn of Egypt, both of man and beast. ⁹ He sent signs and wonders into the midst of you, O Egypt, on Pharaoh, and on all his servants. ¹⁰ Who struck many nations, and killed mighty kings; ¹¹ Seon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Basan, and all the kingdoms of Chanaan: ¹² and gave their land [for] an inheritance, an inheritance to Israel his people. ¹³ O Lord, your name [endures] for ever; and your memorial to all generations. ¹⁴ For the Lord shall judge his people, and comfort himself concerning his servants. ¹⁵ The idols of the heathen are silver and gold, the works of men's hands. ¹⁶ They have a mouth, but they can't speak; they have eyes, but they can't see; ¹⁷ they have ears, but they can't hear; for there is no breath in their mouth. ¹⁸ Let those who make them be made like to them; and all those who trust in them. ¹⁹ O house of Israel, bless you□ the Lord: O house of Aaron, bless you□ the Lord: ²⁰ O house of Levi, bless you□ the Lord: you□ that fear the Lord, bless the Lord. ²¹ Blessed in Sion be the Lord, who dwells in Jerusalem.

Psalm 136 (MT 137)

¹ (137) For David, [a Psalm] of Jeremias. By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat; and wept when we remembered Sion. ² We hung our harps on the willows in the midst of it. ³ For there they that had taken us captive asked of us the words of a song; and they that had carried us away [asked] a hymn, [saying], Sing us [one] of the songs of Sion. ⁴ How should we sing the Lord's song in a strange land? ⁵ If I forget you, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget [its skill]. ⁶ May my tongue cleave to my throat, if I do not remember you; if I do not prefer Jerusalem as the chief of my joy. ⁷ Remember, O Lord, the children of Edom in the day of Jerusalem; who said, Rase [it], rase [it], even to its foundations. ⁸ Wretched daughter of Babylon! blessed [shall he be] who shall reward you as you have rewarded us. ⁹ Blessed [shall he be] who shall seize and dash your infants against the rock.

N: ¹ (Title), This Psalm is little else than a repetition of the preceding, with the addition of the burden, "for his mercy endureth for ever," at the end of each verse; and it was doubtless composed on the same occasion. It seems evidently to have been a responsive song; the first part of the verse being probably sung by the Levites, and the burden by the people. Give thanks, ; for his mercy ⁵ In the contrivance of the celestial bodies - in their specific gravities, relations, connections, influences on each other, revolutions, etc.; and in the wonderful adaptation of the atmosphere for the purposes of refracting the light, forming rain, dew, snow, etc., are exhibited the most astonishing displays of the Divine wisdom. ⁸ The sun; to rule Heb. for the rulings ⁹ The moon and stars The sun is the monarch of day, the state of light; the moon of the night, the state of darkness. The rays of the sun falling on the atmosphere, are refracted and diffused over the whole of the hemisphere of the earth immediately under his orb; while those rays of that vast luminary which, because of the earth's smallness in comparison with the sun, are diffused on all sides beyond the earth, falling on the opaque disc of the moon, are reflected back on the lower hemisphere, or the part of the earth opposite the sun. But the reflected light being 50, 000 times less in intensity than that of the sun, there is a sufficient distinction between day and night, though each is ruled and determined by one of these two great lights.

Psalm 137 (MT 138)

¹ (138) A Psalm for David, of Aggaeus and Zacharias. I will give you thanks, O Lord, with my whole heart; and I will sing psalms to you before the angels; for you have heard all the words of my mouth. ² I will worship toward your holy temple, and give thanks to your name, on account of your mercy and your truth; for you have magnified your holy name above every thing. ³ In whatever day I shall call upon you, hear me speedily; you shall abundantly provide me with your power in my soul. ⁴ Let all the kings of the earth, o Lord, give thanks to you; for they have heard all the words of your mouth. ⁵ And let them sing in the ways of the Lord; for great is the glory of the Lord. ⁶ For the Lord is high, and [yet] regards the lowly; and he knows high things from afar off. ⁷ Though I should walk in the midst of affliction, you will quicken me; you have stretched forth your hands against the wrath of my enemies, and your right hand has saved me. ⁸ O Lord, you shall recompense [them] on my behalf: your mercy, O Lord, [endures] for ever: overlook not the works of your hands.

Psalm 138 (MT 139)

¹ (139) For the end, a Psalm of David. O Lord, you have proved me, and known me. ² You know my down-sitting and my up-rising; you understand my thoughts long before. ³ You have traced my path and my bed, and have foreseen all my ways. ⁴ For there is no unrighteous word in my tongue: behold, O Lord, you have known all things, ⁵ the last and the first: you have fashioned me, and laid your hand upon me. ⁶ The knowledge of you is too wonderful for me; it is very difficult, I can't [attain] to it. ⁷ Whither shall I go from your Spirit? and whither shall I flee from your presence? ⁸ If I should go up to heaven, you are there: if I should go down to hell, you are present. ⁹ If I should spread my wings [to fly] straight forward, and sojourn at the extremity of the sea, [it would be vain], ¹⁰ for even there your hand would guide me, and your right hand would hold me. ¹¹ When I said, Surely the darkness will cover me; even the night [was] light in my luxury. ¹² For darkness will not be darkness with you; but night will be light as day: as its darkness, so shall its light [be to you]. ¹³ For you, O Lord, have possessed my reins; you have helped me from my mother's womb. ¹⁴ I will give you thanks; for you are fearfully wondrous; wondrous are your works; and my soul knows [it] well. ¹⁵ My bones, which you made in secret were not hidden from you, nor my substance, in the lowest parts of the earth. ¹⁶ Your eyes saw my unwrought [substance], and all [men] shall be written in your book; they shall be formed by day, though [there should for a time] be no one among them. ¹⁷ But your friends, O God, have been greatly honored by me; their rule has been greatly strengthened. ¹⁸ I will number them, and they shall be multiplied beyond the sand; I awake, and am still with you. ¹⁹ Oh that you would kill the wicked, O God; depart from me, you ☐ men of blood. ²⁰ For you will say concerning [their] thought, [that] they shall take your cities in vain. ²¹ Have I not hated them, O Lord, that hate you? and wasted away because of your enemies? ²² I have hated them with perfect hatred; they were counted my enemies. ²³ Prove me, O God, and know my heart; examine me, and know my paths; ²⁴ and see if [there is any] way of iniquity in me, and lead me in an everlasting way.

Psalm 139 (MT 140)

¹ (140) For the end, a Psalm of David. Rescue me, O Lord, from the evil man; deliver me from the unjust man. ² Who have devised injustice in their hearts; all the day they prepared war. ³ They have sharpened their tongue as [the tongue] of a serpent; the poison of asps is under their lips. Pause. ⁴ Keep me, O Lord, from the hand of the sinner; rescue me from unjust men; who have purposed to overthrow my goings. ⁵ The proud have hid a snare for me, and have stretched out ropes [for] snares for my feet; they set a stumbling block for me near the path. Pause. ⁶ I said to the Lord, You are my God; listen, O Lord, to the voice of my supplication. ⁷ O Lord God, the strength of my salvation; you have screened my head in the day of battle. ⁸ Deliver me not, O Lord, to the sinner, according to my desire: they have devised [mischief] against me; forsake me not, lest they should be exalted. Pause. ⁹ [As for] the head of them that compass me, the mischief of their lips shall cover them. ¹⁰ Coals of fire shall fall upon them on the earth; and you shall cast them down in afflictions: they shall not bear up [under them]. ¹¹ A talkative man shall not prosper on the earth: evils shall hunt the unrighteous man to destruction. ¹² I know that the Lord will maintain the cause of the poor, and the right of the needy ones. ¹³ Surely the righteous shall give thanks to your name: the upright shall dwell in your presence.

But, could I even fly upon the wings or rays of the morning light, which diffuses itself with such velocity over the globe from east to west, instead of being beyond Thy reach, or by this sudden transition be able to escape Thy notice, Thy arm could still at pleasure prevent or arrest my progress, and I should still be encircled with the immensity of Thy essence. Psalms 140 (MT 141)

¹ (142) [A Psalm] of instruction for David, when he was in the cave, — a Prayer. I cried to the Lord with my voice; with my voice I made supplication to the Lord. ² I will pour out before him my supplication: I will declare before him my affliction. ³ When my spirit was fainting within me, then you knew my paths; in the very way wherein I was walking, they hid a snare for me. ⁴ I looked on [my] right hand, and behold, for there was none that noticed me; refuge failed me; and there was none that cared for my soul. ⁵ I cried to you, O Lord, and said, You are my hope, my portion in the land of the living. ⁶ Attend to my supplication, for I am brought very low; deliver me from them that persecute me; for they are stronger than I. ⁷ Bring my soul out of prison, that I may give thanks to your name, O Lord; the righteous shall wait for me, until you recompense me.

¹ (143) A Psalm of David, when his son pursued him. O Lord, attend to my prayer: listen to my supplication in your truth; hear me in your righteousness. ² And enter not into judgment with your servant, for in your sight shall no [man] living be justified. ³ For the enemy has persecuted my soul; he has brought my life down to the ground; he has made me to dwell in a dark [place], as those that have been long dead. ⁴ Therefore my spirit was grieved in me; my heart was troubled within me. ⁵ I remembered the days of old; and I meditated on all your doings: [yes], I meditated on the works of your hands. ⁶ I spread forth my hands to you; my soul [thirsts] for you, as a dry land. Pause. ⁷ Hear me speedily, O Lord; my spirit has failed; turn not away your face from me, else I shall be like to them that go down to the pit. ⁸ Cause me to hear your mercy in the morning; for I have hoped in you; make known to me, O Lord, the way wherein I should walk; for I have lifted up my soul to you. ⁹ Deliver me from my enemies, O Lord; for I have fled to you for refuge. ¹⁰ Teach me to do your will; for you are my God; your good Spirit shall guide me in the straight [way]. ¹¹ You shall quicken me, O Lord, for your name's sake; in your righteousness you shall bring my soul out of affliction. ¹² And in your mercy you will destroy my enemies, and will destroy all those that afflict my soul; for I am your servant.

Blessed [be] the Lord my God, who instructs my hands for battle, [and] my fingers for war. ² My mercy, and my refuge; my helper, and my deliverer; my protector, in whom I have trusted; who subdues my people under me. ³ Lord, what is man, that you are made known to him? or the son of man, that you take account of him? ⁴ Man is like to vanity: his days pass as a shadow. ⁵ O Lord, bow your heavens, and come down: touch the mountains, and they shall smoke. ⁶ Send lightning, and you shall scatter them: send forth your arrows, and you shall discomfit them. ⁷ Send forth your hand from on high; rescue me, and deliver me out of great waters, out of the hand of strange children; ⁸ whose mouth has spoken vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of iniquity. ⁹ O God, I will sing a new song to you: I will play to you on a lute of ten strings. ¹⁰ [Even] to him who gives salvation to kings: who redeems his servant David from the hurtful sword. ¹¹ Deliver me, and rescue me from the hand of strange children, whose mouth has spoken vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of iniquity; ¹² whose children are as plants, strengthened in their youth: their daughters are beautiful, sumptuously adorned after the similitude of a temple. ¹³ Their garners are full, and bursting with one kind of store after another; their sheep are prolific, multiplying in their streets. ¹⁴ Their oxen are fat: there is no falling down of a hedge, nor going out, nor cry in their folds. ¹⁵ Men bless the people to whom this lot belongs, [but] blessed is the people whose God is the Lord.

Psalm 144 (MT 145)

¹ (145) David's [Psalm of] praise. I will exalt you, my God, my king; and I will bless your name for ever and ever. ² Every day will I bless you, and I will praise your name for ever and ever. ³ The Lord is great, and greatly to be praised; and there is no end to his greatness. ⁴ Generation after generation shall praise your works, and tell of your power. ⁵ And they shall speak of the glorious majesty of your holiness, and recount your wonders. ⁶ And they shall speak of the power of your terrible [acts]; and recount your greatness. ⁷ They shall utter the memory of the abundance of your goodness, and shall exult in your righteousness. ⁸ The Lord is compassionate, and merciful; long suffering, and abundant in mercy. ⁹ The Lord is good to those that wait [on him]; and his compassions are over all his works. ¹⁰ Let all your works, O Lord, give thanks to you; and let your saints bless you. ¹¹ They shall speak of the glory of your kingdom, and talk of your dominion; ¹² to make known to the sons of men your power, and the glorious majesty of your kingdom. ¹³ Your kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and your dominion [endures] through all generations. The Lord is faithful in his words, and holy in all his works. ¹⁴ The Lord supports all that are falling, and sets up all that are broken down. ¹⁵ The eyes of all wait upon you; and you give [them] their food in due season. ¹⁶ You open your hands, and fill every living thing with pleasure. ¹⁷ The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works. ¹⁸ The Lord is near to all that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth. ¹⁹ He will perform the desire of them that fear him: and he will hear their supplication, and save them. ²⁰ The Lord preserves all that love him: but all sinners he will utterly destroy. ²¹ My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord: and let all flesh bless his holy name for ever and ever.

Psalm 145 (MT 146)

¹ (146) Alleluia, [a Psalm] of Aggaeus and Zacharias. My soul, praise the Lord. ² While I live will I praise the Lord: I will sing praises to my God as long as I exist. ³ Trust not in princes, nor in the children of men, in whom there is no safety. ⁴ His breath shall go forth, and he shall return to his earth; in that day all his thoughts shall perish. ⁵ Blessed is he whose helper is the God of Jacob, whose hope is in the Lord his God: ⁶ who made heaven, and earth, the sea, and all things in them: who keeps truth for ever: ⁷ who executes judgment for the wronged: who gives food to the hungry. The Lord looses the fettered ones: ⁸ the Lord gives wisdom to the blind: The Lord sets up the broken down: the Lord loves the righteous: the Lord preserves the strangers; ⁹ he will relieve the orphan and widow: but will utterly remove the way of sinners. ¹⁰ The Lord shall reign for ever, [even] your God, O Sion, to all generations.

Psalm 146 (MT 147:1-11)

¹ (147) Alleluia, [a Psalm] of Aggaeus and Zacharias. Praise you□ the Lord: for psalmody is a good thing; let praise be sweetly sung to our God. ² The Lord builds up Jerusalem; and he will gather together the dispersed of Israel. ³ He heals the broken in heart, and binds up their wounds. ⁴ He numbers the multitudes of stars; and calls them all by names. ⁵ Great is our Lord, and great is his strength; and his understanding is infinite. ⁶ The Lord lifts up the meek; but brings sinners down to the ground. ⁷ Begin [the song] with thanksgiving to the Lord; sing praises on the harp to our God: ⁸ who covers the heaven with clouds, who prepares rain for the earth, who causes grass to spring up on the mountains, [[and green herb for the service of men;]] ⁹ and gives cattle their food, and to the young ravens that call upon him. ¹⁰ He will not take pleasure in the strength of a horse; neither is he well-pleased with the legs of a man. ¹¹ The Lord takes pleasure in them that fear him, and in all that hope in his mercy.

¹ Alleluia, a Psalm of Aggaeus and Zacharias. Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem; praise your God, O Sion. ² For he has strengthened the bars of your gates; he has blessed your children within you. ³ He makes your borders peaceful, and fills you with the flour of wheat. ⁴ He sends his oracle to the earth: his word will run swiftly. ⁵ He gives snow like wool: he scatters the mist like ashes. ⁶ Casting [forth] his ice like morsels: who shall stand before his cold? ⁷ He shall send out his word, and melt them: he shall blow [with] his wind, and the waters shall flow. ⁸ He sends his word to Jacob, his ordinances and judgments to Israel. ⁹ He has not done so to any [other] nation; and he has not shown them his judgments.

Psalm 151 (MT no MT equivalent)

¹ This Psalm is a genuine one of David, though supernumerary, composed when he fought in single combat with Goliath. I was small among my brethren, and youngest in my father's house: I tended my father's sheep. ² My hands formed a musical instrument, and my fingers tuned a lute. ³ And who shall tell my Lord? the Lord himself, he himself hears. ⁴ He sent forth his angel, and took me from my father's sheep, and he anointed me with the oil of his anointing. ⁵ My brothers were handsome and tall; but the Lord did not take pleasure in them. ⁶ I went forth to meet the Philistine; and he cursed me by his idols. ⁷ But I drew his own sword, and beheaded him, and removed reproach from the children of Israel.

Proverbs 1

them, but turn aside your foot from their paths: ¹⁶ [For their feet run to do evil, and are swift to shed blood.] ¹⁷ for nets are not without cause spread for birds. ¹⁸ For they that are concerned in murder store up evils for themselves; and the overthrow of transgressors is evil. ¹⁹ These are the ways of all that perform lawless deeds; for by ungodliness they destroy their own life. ²⁰ Wisdom sings aloud in passages, and in the broad places speaks boldly. ²¹ And she makes proclamation on the top of the walls, and sits by the gates of princes; and at the gates of the city boldly says, ²² So long as the simple cleave to justice, they shall not be ashamed: but the foolish being lovers of haughtiness, having become ungodly have hated knowledge, and are become subject to reproofs. ²³ Behold, I will bring forth to you the utterance of my breath, and I will instruct you in my speech. ²⁴ Since I called, and you ☐ did not listen; and I spoke at length, and you ☐ gave no heed; ²⁵ but you ☐ set at nothing my counsels, and disregarded my reproofs; ²⁶ therefore I also will laugh at your destruction; and I will rejoice against [you] when ruin comes upon you: ²⁷ yes when dismay suddenly comes upon you, and [your] overthrow shall arrive like a tempest; and when tribulation and distress shall come upon you, or when ruin shall come upon you. ²⁸ For it shall be that when you ☐ call upon me, I will not listen to you: wicked men shall seek me, but shall not find [me]. ²⁹ For they hated wisdom, and did not choose the word of the Lord: ³⁰ neither would they attend to my counsels, but derided my reproofs. ³¹ Therefore shall they eat the fruits of their own way, and shall be filled with their own ungodliness. ³² For because they wronged the simple, they shall be slain; and an inquisition shall ruin the ungodly. ³³ But he that hearkens to me shall dwell in confidence, and shall rest securely from all evil.

¹ [My] son, if you will receive the utterance of my commandment, and hide it with you; ² your ear shall listen to wisdom; you shall also apply your heart to understanding, and shall apply it to the instruction of your son. ³ For if you shall call to wisdom, and utter your voice for understanding;

⁴ and if you shall seek it as silver, and search diligently for it as for treasures; ⁵ then shall you understand the fear of the Lord, and find the knowledge of God. ⁶ For the Lord gives wisdom; and from his presence [come] knowledge and understanding, ⁷ and he treasures up salvation for them that walk uprightly: he will protect their way; ⁸ that he may guard the righteous ways: and he will preserve the way of them that fear him. ⁹ Then shall you understand righteousness, and judgment; and shall direct all your course aright. ¹⁰ For if wisdom shall come into your understanding, and discernment shall seem pleasing to your soul, ¹¹ good counsel shall guard you, and holy understanding shall keep you; ¹² to deliver you from the evil way, and from the man that speaks nothing faithfully. ¹³ Alas [for those] who forsake right paths, to walk in ways of darkness; ¹⁴ who rejoice in evils, and delight in wicked perverseness; ¹⁵ whose paths are crooked, and their courses winding; ¹⁶ to remove you far from the straight way, and to estrange you from a righteous purpose. [My] son, let not evil counsel overtake you, ¹⁷ [of her] who has forsaken the instruction of her youth, and forgotten the covenant of God. ¹⁸ For she has fixed her house near death, and [guided] her wheels near Hades with the giants. ¹⁹ None that go by her shall return, neither shall they take hold of right paths, for they are not apprehended of the years of life. ²⁰ For had they gone in good paths, they would have found the paths of righteousness easy. ²¹ For the upright shall dwell in the earth, and the holy shall be left behind in it. ²² The paths of the ungodly shall perish out of the earth, and transgressors shall be driven away from it.

¹ [My] son, forget not my laws; but let your heart keep my words: ² for length of existence, and years of life, and peace, shall they add to you. ³ Let not mercy and truth forsake you; but bind them about your neck: ⁴ so shall you find favor: and do you provide things honest in the sight of the Lord, and of men. ⁵ Trust in God with all your heart; and be not exalted in your own wisdom. ⁶ In all your ways acquaint yourself with her, that she may rightly direct your paths. ⁷ Be not wise in your own conceit; but fear God, and depart from all evil. ⁸ Then shall there be health to your body, and good keeping to your bones. ⁹ Honor the Lord with your just labors, and give him the first of your fruits of righteousness: ¹⁰ that your storehouses may be completely filled with corn, and that your presses may burst forth with wine. ¹¹ [My] son, despise not the chastening of the Lord; nor faint when you are rebuked of him: ¹² for whom the Lord loves, he rebukes, and scourges every son whom he receives. ¹³ Blessed is the man who has found wisdom, and the mortal who knows prudence. ¹⁴ For it is better to traffic for her, than for treasures of gold and silver. ¹⁵ And she is more valuable than precious stones: no evil thing shall resist her: she is well known to all that approach her, and no precious thing is equal to her in value. ¹⁶ For length of existence and years of life are in her right hand; and in her left hand are wealth and glory: out of her mouth proceeds righteousness, and she carries law and mercy upon her tongue. ¹⁷ Her ways are good ways, and all her paths are peaceful. ¹⁸ She is a tree of life to all that lay hold upon her; and she is [a] secure [help] to all that stay themselves on her, as on the Lord. ¹⁹ God by wisdom founded the earth, and by prudence he prepared the heavens. ²⁰ By understanding were the depths broken up, and the clouds dropped water. ²¹ [My] son, let [them] not pass from [you], but keep my counsel and understanding: ²² that your soul may live, and that there may be grace round your neck; and it shall be health to your flesh, and safety to your bones: ²³ that you may go confidently in peace in all your ways, and that your foot may not stumble. ²⁴ For if you rest, you shall be undismayed; and if you sleep, you shall slumber sweetly. ²⁵ And you shall not be afraid of alarm coming upon you, neither of approaching attacks of ungodly men. ²⁶ For the Lord shall be over all your ways, and shall establish your foot that you be not moved. ²⁷ Forbear not to do good to the poor, whenever your hand may have [power] to help [him]. ²⁸ Say not, Come back another time, to-morrow I will give; while you are able to do [him] good: for you know not what the next day will bring forth. ²⁹ Devise not evil against your friend, living near you and trusting in you. ³⁰ Be not ready to quarrel with a man without a cause, lest he do you some harm. ³¹ Procure not the reproaches of bad men, neither do you covet their ways. ³² For every transgressor is unclean before the Lord; neither does he sit among the righteous. ³³ The curse of God is in the houses of the ungodly; but the habitations of the just are blessed. ³⁴ The Lord resists the proud; but he gives grace to the humble. ³⁵ The wise shall inherit glory; but the ungodly have exalted [their own] dishonor.

¹ Hear, you ☐ children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding. ² For I give you a good gift; forsake you ☐ not my law. ³ For I also was a son obedient to [my] father, and loved in the sight of [my] mother: ⁴ who spoke and instructed me, [saying], Let our speech be fixed in your heart, keep [our] commandments, forget them not: ⁵ and do not neglect the speech of my mouth. ⁶ And forsake it not, and it shall cleave to you: love it, and it shall keep you. ⁸ Secure it, and it shall exalt you: honor it, that it may embrace you; ⁹ that it may give to your head a crown of graces, and may cover you with a crown of delight. ¹⁰ Hear, [my] son, and receive my words; and the years of your life shall be increased, that the resources of your life may be many. ¹¹ For I teach you the ways of wisdom; and I cause you to go in right paths. ¹² For when you go, your steps shall not be straitened; and when you run, you shall not be distressed. ¹³ Take hold of my instruction; let it not go, —but keep it for yourself for your life. ¹⁴ Go not in the ways of the ungodly, neither covet the ways of transgressors. ¹⁵ In whatever place they shall pitch their camp, go not there; but turn from them, and pass away. ¹⁶ For they can't sleep, unless they have done evil: their sleep is taken away, and they rest not. ¹⁷ For these live upon the bread of ungodliness, and are drunken with wine of transgression. ¹⁸ But the ways of the righteous shine like light; they go on and shine, until the day be fully come. ¹⁹ But the ways of the ungodly are dark; they know not how they stumble. ²⁰ [My] son, attend to my speech; and apply your ear to my words: ²¹ that your fountains may not fail you; keep them in [your] heart. ²² For they are life to those that find them, and health to all [their] flesh. ²³ Keep your heart with the utmost care; for out of these are the issues of life. ²⁴ Remove from you a froward mouth, and put far away from you unjust lips. ²⁵ Let your eyes look right on, and let your eyelids assent [to] just [things]. ²⁶ Make straight paths for your feet, and order your ways aright. ²⁷ Turn not aside to the right hand nor to the left, but turn away your foot from an evil way: [for God knows the ways on the right hand, but those on the left are crooked:] and he will make your ways straight, and will guide your steps in peace.

Proverbs 5

¹ [My] son, attend to my wisdom, and apply your ear to my words; ² that you may keep good understanding, and the discretion of my lips gives you a charge. Give no heed to a worthless woman; ³ for honey drops from the lips of a harlot, who for a season pleases your palate: ⁴ but afterwards you will find her more bitter than gall, and sharper than a two-edged sword. ⁵ For the feet of folly lead those who deal with her down to the grave with death; and her steps are not established. ⁶ For she goes not upon the paths of life; but her ways are slippery, and not easily known. ⁷ Now then, [my] son, hear me, and make not my words of none effect. ⁸ Remove your way far from her; draw not near to the doors of her house: ⁹ lest you give away your life to others, and your substance to the merciless: ¹⁰ lest strangers be filled with your strength, and your labors come into the houses of strangers; ¹¹ And you repent at last, when the flesh of your body is consumed, ¹² and you shall say, How have I hated instruction, and my heart avoided reproofs! ¹³ I heard not the voice of him that instructed me, and taught me, neither did I apply my ear. ¹⁴ I was almost in all evil in the midst of the congregation and assembly. ¹⁵ Drink waters out of your own vessels, and out of your own springing wells. ¹⁶ Let not waters out of your fountain be spilled by you, but let your waters go into your streets. ¹⁷ Let them be only your own, and let no stranger partake with you. ¹⁸ Let your fountain of water be [truly] your own; and rejoice with the wife of your youth. ¹⁹ Let [your] loving hart and your graceful colt company with you, and let her be considered your own, and be with you at all times; for ravished with her love you shall be greatly increased. ²⁰ Be not intimate with a strange woman, neither fold yourself in the arms of a woman not your own. ²¹ For the ways of a man are before the eyes of God, and he looks on all his paths. ²² Iniquities ensnare a man, and every one is bound in the chains of his own sins. ²³ Such a man dies with the uninstructed; and he is cast forth from the abundance of his own substance, and has perished through folly.

Proverbs 6

¹ [My] son, if you become surety for your friend, you shall deliver your hand to an enemy. ² For a man's own lips become a strong snare to him, and he is caught with the lips of his own mouth. ³ [My] son, do what I command you, and deliver yourself; for on your friend's account you are come into the power of evil [men]: faint not, but stir up even your friend for whom you are become surety. ⁴ Give not sleep to your eyes, nor slumber with your eyelids; ⁵ that you may deliver yourself as a doe out of the toils, and as a bird out of a snare. ⁶ Go to the ant, O sluggard; and see, and emulate his ways, and become wiser than he. ⁷ For whereas he has no husbandry, nor any one to compel him, and is under no master, ⁸ he prepares food for himself in the summer, and lays by abundant store in harvest. Or go to the bee, and learn how diligent she is, and how earnestly she is engaged in her work; whose labors kings and private men use for health, and she is desired and respected by all: though weak in body, she is advanced by honouring wisdom. ⁹

How long will you lie, O sluggard? and when will you awake out of sleep? ¹⁰ You sleep a little, and you rest a little, and you slumber a short [time], and you fold your arms over your breast a little. ¹¹ Then poverty comes upon you as an evil traveller, and lack as a swift courier: but if you be diligent, your harvest shall arrive as a fountain, and poverty shall flee away as a bad courier. ¹² A foolish man and a transgressor goes in ways that are not good. ¹³ And the same winks with the eye, and makes a sign with his foot, and teaches with the beckonings of his fingers. ¹⁴ [His] perverse heart devises evils: at all times such a one causes troubles to a city. ¹⁵ Therefore his destruction shall come suddenly; overthrow and irretrievable ruin. ¹⁶ For he rejoices in all things which God hates, and he is ruined by reason of impurity of soul. ¹⁷ The eye of the haughty, a tongue unjust, hands shedding the blood of the just; ¹⁸ and a heart devising evil thoughts, and feet hastening to do evil, —[are hateful to God]. ¹⁹ An unjust witness kindles falsehoods, and brings on quarrels between brethren. ²⁰ [My] son, keep the laws of your father, and reject not the ordinances of your mother: ²¹ but bind them upon your soul continually, and hang them as a chain about your neck. ²² Whenever you walk, lead this along and let it be with you; that it may talk with you when you wake. ²³ For the commandment of the law is a lamp and a light; a way of life; reproof also and correction: ²⁴ to keep you continually from a married woman, and from the calumny of a strange tongue. ²⁵ Let not the desire of beauty overcome you, neither be you caught by your eyes, neither be captivated with her eyelids. ²⁶ For the value of a harlot is as much as of one loaf; and a woman hunts for the precious souls of men. ²⁷ Shall any one bind fire in his bosom, and not burn his garments? ²⁸ or will any one walk on coals of fire, and not burn his feet? ²⁹ So is he that goes in to a married woman; he shall not be held guiltless, neither any one that touches her. ³⁰ It is not to be wondered at if one should be taken stealing, for he steals that when hungry he may satisfy his soul: ³¹ but if he should be taken, he shall repay sevenfold, and shall deliver himself by giving all his goods. ³² But the adulterer through lack of sense procures destruction to his soul. ³³ He endures both pain and disgrace, and his reproach shall never be wiped off. ³⁴ For the soul of her husband is full of jealousy: he will not spare in the day of vengeance. ³⁵ He will not forego [his] enmity for any ransom: neither will he be reconciled for many gifts.

¹ [My] son, keep my words, and hide with you my commandments. [My] son, honor the Lord, and you shall be strong; and fear none but him: ² keep my commandments, and you shall live; and [keep] my words as the pupils of [your] eyes. ³ And bind them on your fingers, and write [them] on the table of your heart. ⁴ Say that wisdom is your sister, and gain prudence as an acquaintance for yourself; ⁵ that she may keep you from the strange and wicked woman, if she should assail you with flattering words. ⁶ For she looks from a window out of her house into the streets, at one whom she may see of the senseless ones, a young man void of understanding, ⁷ passing by the corner in the passages near her house, ⁸ and speaking, in the dark of the evening, ⁹ when there happens [to be] the stillness of night and of darkness: ¹⁰ and the woman meets him having the appearance of a harlot, that causes the hearts of young men to flutter. ¹¹ And she is fickle, and debauched, and her feet abide not at home. ¹² For at one time she wanders without, and at [another] time she lies in wait in the streets, at every corner. ¹³ Then she caught him, and kissed him, and with an impudent face said to him, ¹⁴ I have a peace-offering; today I pay my vows: ¹⁵ therefore I came forth to meet you, desiring your face; [and] I have found you. ¹⁶ I have spread my bed with sheets, and I have covered it with double tapestry from Egypt. ¹⁷ I have sprinkled my couch with saffron, and my house with cinnamon. ¹⁸ Come, and let us enjoy love until the morning; come, and let us embrace in love. ¹⁹ For my husband is not at home, but is gone on a long journey, ²⁰ having taken in his hand a bundle of money: after many days he will return to his house. ²¹ So with much converse she prevailed on him to go astray, and with the snares of her lips forced him from [the right path]. ²² And he followed her, being gently led on, and [that] as an ox is led to the slaughter, and as a dog to bonds, or as a hart shot in the liver with an arrow: ²³ and he hastens as a bird into a snare, not knowing that he is running for [his] life. ²⁴ Now then, [my] son, listen to me, and attend to the words of my mouth. ²⁵ Let not your heart turn aside to her ways: ²⁶ for she has wounded and cast down many, and those whom she has slain are innumerable. ²⁷ Her house is the way of hell, leading down to the chambers of death.

Now the pupil of the eye being essentially necessary to sight, and easily injured, it is not only, in common with the other parts, deeply entrenched in the skull, ramparted with the forehead and cheek bones, defended by the eyebrows, eyelids, and eyelashes, and placed so as to be best protected by the hands, but, by a wonderful mechanism, is contracted or dilated by the muscular power of the iris, without which an excess of light would cause instant blindness. ⁶ at the; casement Eshnav, rather a lattice, so called from the Arabic shanaba, "to be cool," because of its use in keeping the apartments cool. ⁷ the simple; the youths Heb. the sons void ⁹ the twilight; evening Heb. evening of the day, *marg. ¹³ she; with an impudent face said Heb. she strengthened her face and said ¹⁴ I have peace offerings with me Heb. The LXX, Chaldee, Syriac, and Arabic, concur in this interpretation. The circumstance of the dart, as applied to the deer, is beautiful and proper, which otherwise we are at a loss to dispose of; and this creature, of all others, was the most proper to be noticed on this occasion; for the usual representation which the Egyptians made of a man overthrown by flattery and fair speeches was the picture of a heart captivated and ensnared by the sound of music. the correction ²³ a dart as a bird; knoweth

¹ You shall proclaim wisdom, that understanding may be obedient to you. ² For she is on lofty eminences, and stands in the midst of the ways. ³ For she sits by the gates of princes, and sings in the entrances, [saying], ⁴ You, O men, I exhort; and utter my voice to the sons of men. ⁵ O you□ simple, understand subtlety, and you□ that are untaught, imbibe knowledge. ⁶ Listen to me; for I will speak solemn [truths]; and will produce right [sayings] from my lips. ⁷ For my throat shall meditate truth; and false lips are an abomination before me. ⁸ All the words of my mouth are in righteousness; there is nothing in them wrong or perverse. ⁹ They are all evident to those that understand, and right to those that find knowledge. ¹⁰ Receive instruction, and not silver; and knowledge rather than tried gold. ¹¹ For wisdom is better than precious stones; and no valuable substance is of equal worth with it. ¹² I wisdom have lived [with] counsel and knowledge, and I have called upon understanding. ¹³ The fear of the Lord hates unrighteousness, and insolence, and pride, and the ways of wicked men; and I hate the perverse ways of bad men. ¹⁴ Counsel and safety are mine; prudence is mine, and strength is mine. ¹⁵ By me kings reign, and princes decree justice. ¹⁶ By me nobles become great, and monarchs by me rule over the earth. ¹⁷ I love those that love me; and they that seek me shall find [me]. ¹⁸ Wealth and glory belong to me; yes, abundant possessions and righteousness. ¹⁹ [It is] better to have my fruit than [to have] gold and precious stones; and my produce is better than choice silver. ²⁰ I walk in ways of righteousness, and [am] conversant with the paths of judgment; ²¹ that I may divide substance to them that love me, and may fill their treasures with good things. If I declare to you the things that daily happen, I will remember [also] to recount the things of old. ²² The Lord made me the beginning of his ways for his works. ²³ He established me before time [was] in the beginning, before he made the earth; ²⁴ even before he made the depths; before the fountains of water came forth: ²⁵ before the mountains were settled, and before all hills, he begets me. ²⁶ The Lord made countries and uninhabited [tracks], and the highest inhabited parts of the world. ²⁷ When he prepared the heaven, I was present with him; and when he prepared his throne upon the winds: ²⁸ and when he strengthened the clouds above; and when he secured the fountains of the earth: ²⁹ decree. and when he strengthened the foundations of the earth: ³⁰ I was by him, suiting [myself to him], I was that wherein he took delight; and daily I rejoiced in his presence continually. ³¹ For he rejoiced when he had completed the world, and rejoiced among the children of men. ³² Now then, [my] son, hear me: blessed is the man who shall listen to me, and the mortal who shall keep my ways; ³³ [Hear wisdom and be wise, and] [be not strangers to it.] ³⁴ watching daily at my doors, waiting at the posts of my entrances. ³⁵ For my outgoing is the outgoing of life, and [in them] is prepared favor from the Lord. ³⁶ But they that sin against me act wickedly against their own souls: and they that hate me love death.

Proverbs 9

¹ Wisdom has built a house for herself, and set up seven pillars. ² She has killed her beasts; she has mingled her wine in a bowl, and prepared her table. ³ She has sent forth her servants, calling with a loud proclamation to the feast, saying, ⁴ Whoso is foolish, let him turn aside to me: and to them that lack understanding she says, ⁵ Come, eat of my bread, and drink wine which I have mingled for you. ⁶ Leave folly, that you may reign for ever; and seek wisdom, and improve understanding by knowledge. ⁷ He that reproves evil [men] shall get dishonor to himself; and he that rebukes an ungodly [man] shall disgrace himself. ⁸ Rebuke not evil [men], lest they should hate you: rebuke a wise [man], and he will love you. ⁹ Give an opportunity to a wise [man], and he will be wiser: instruct a just man, and he will receive more [instruction]. ¹⁰ The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, and the counsel of saints is understanding: for to know the law is [the character] of a sound mind. ¹¹ For in this way you shall live long, and years of your life shall be added to you. ¹² Son, if you be wise for yourself, you shall also be wise for your neighbors; and if you should prove wicked, you alone will bear the evil. He that stays himself upon falsehoods, attempts to rule the winds, and the same will pursue birds in their fight: for he has forsaken the ways of his own vineyard, and he has caused the axles of his own husbandry to go astray; and he goes through a dry desert, and a [land] appointed to drought, and he gathers barrenness with his hands. ¹³ A foolish and bold woman, who knows not modesty, comes to lack a morsel. ¹⁴ She sits at the doors of her house, on a seat openly in the streets, ¹⁵ calling to passers by, and to those that are going right on their ways; ¹⁶ [saying], Whoso is most senseless of you, let him turn aside to me; and I exhort those that lack prudence, saying, ¹⁷ Take and enjoy secret bread, and the sweet water of theft. ¹⁸ But he knows that mighty men die by her, and he falls in with a snare of hell. But hasten away, delay not in the place, neither fix your eye upon her: for thus shall you go through strange water; but do you abstain from strange water, and drink not of a strange fountain, that you may live long, and years of life may be added to you.

Proverbs 10

¹ A wise son makes [his] father glad: but a foolish son is a grief to his mother. ² Treasures shall not profit the lawless: but righteousness shall deliver from death. ³ The Lord will not famish a righteous soul: but he will overthrow the life of the ungodly. ⁴ Poverty brings a man low: but the hands of the vigorous make rich. A son who is instructed shall be wise, and shall use the fool for a servant. ⁵ A wise son is saved from heat: but a lawless son is blighted of the winds in harvest. ⁶ The blessing of the Lord is upon the head of the just: but untimely grief shall cover the mouth of the ungodly. ⁷ The memory of the just is praised; but the name of the ungodly [man] is extinguished. ⁸ A wise man in heart will receive commandments; but he that is unguarded in his lips shall be overthrown in his perverseness. ⁹ He that walks simply, walks confidently; but he that perverts his ways shall be known. ¹⁰ He that winks with his eyes deceitfully, procures griefs for men; but he that reproves boldly is a peacemaker. ¹¹ [There is] a fountain of life in the hand of a righteous man; but destruction shall cover the mouth of the ungodly. ¹² Hatred stirs up strife; but affection covers all that do not love strife. ¹³ He that brings forth wisdom from his lips smites the fool with a rod. ¹⁴ The wise will hide discretion; but the mouth of the hasty draws near to ruin. ¹⁵ The wealth of rich men is a strong city; but poverty is the ruin of the ungodly. ¹⁶ The works of the righteous produce life; but the fruits of the ungodly [produce] sins. ¹⁷ Instruction keeps the right ways of life; but instruction unchastened goes astray. ¹⁸ Righteous lips cover enmity; but they that utter railings are most foolish. ¹⁹ By a multitude of words you shall not escape sin; but if you refrain your lips you will be prudent. ²⁰ The tongue of the just is tried silver; but the heart of the ungodly shall fail. ²¹ The lips of the righteous know sublime [truths]: but the foolish die in lack. ²² The blessing of the Lord is upon the head of the righteous; it enriches [him], and grief of heart shall not be added to [it]. ²³ A fool does mischief in sport; but wisdom brings forth prudence for a man. ²⁴ The ungodly is engulfed in destruction; but the desire of the righteous is acceptable. ²⁵ When the storm passes by, the ungodly vanishes away; but the righteous turns aside and escapes for ever. ²⁶ As a sour grape is hurtful to the teeth, and smoke to the eyes, so iniquity hurts those that practise it. ²⁷ The fear of the Lord adds [length] of days: but the years of the ungodly shall be shortened. ²⁸ Joy rests long with the righteous: but the hope of the ungodly shall perish. ²⁹ The fear of the Lord is a strong hold of the saints: but ruin [comes] to them that work wickedness. ³⁰ The righteous shall never fail: but the ungodly shall not dwell in the earth. ³¹ The mouth of the righteous drops wisdom: but the tongue of the unjust shall perish. ³² The lips of just men drop grace: but the mouth of the ungodly is perverse.

Proverbs 11

¹ False balances are an abomination before the Lord: but a just weight is acceptable to him. ² Wherever pride enters, there will be also disgrace: but the mouth of the lowly meditates wisdom. ³ When a just man dies he leaves regret: but the destruction of the ungodly is speedy, and causes joy. ⁴ [Possessions will not profit in a day of wrath, but righteousness will deliver from death.] ⁵ Righteousness traces out blameless paths: but ungodliness encounters unjust dealing. ⁶ The righteousness of upright men delivers them: but transgressors are caught in their own destruction. ⁷ At the death of a just man his hope does not perish: but the boast of the ungodly perishes. ⁸ A righteous man escapes from a snare, and the ungodly man is delivered up in his place. ⁹ In the mouth of ungodly men is a snare to citizens: but the understanding of righteous men is prosperous. ¹⁰ In the prosperity of righteous men a city prospers: but by the mouth of ungodly men it is overthrown. ¹¹ [At the blessing of the upright a city shall be exalted.] ¹² A man void of understanding sneers at [his fellow] citizens: but a sensible man is quiet. ¹³ A double-tongued man discloses the [secret] counsels of an assembly: but he that is faithful in spirit conceals matters. ¹⁴ They that have no guidance fall like leaves: but in much counsel there is safety. ¹⁵ A bad man does harm wherever he meets a just man: and he hates the sound of safety. ¹⁶ A gracious wife brings glory to her husband: but a woman hating righteousness is a theme of dishonor. The slothful come to lack: but the diligent support themselves with wealth. ¹⁷ A merciful man does good to his own soul: but the merciless destroys his own body. ¹⁸ An ungodly man performs unrighteous works: but the seed of the righteous is a reward of truth. ¹⁹ A righteous son is born for life: but the persecution of the ungodly [ends] in death. ²⁰ Perverse ways are an abomination to the Lord: but all they that are blameless in their ways are acceptable to him. ²¹ He that unjustly strikes hands shall not be unpunished: but he that sows righteousness he shall receive a faithful reward. ²² As an ornament in a swine's snout, so is beauty to an ill-minded woman. ²³ All the desire of the righteous is good: but the hope of the ungodly shall perish. ²⁴ There are [some] who scatter their own, and make it more: and there are [some] also who gather, [yet] have less. ²⁵ Every sincere soul is blessed: but a passionate man is not graceful. ²⁶ May he that hoards corn leave it to the nation: but blessing be on the head of him that gives [it]. ²⁷ He that devises good [counsels] seeks good favor: but [as for] him that seeks after evil, [evil] shall overtake him. ²⁸ He that trusts in wealth shall fall; but he that helps righteous men shall rise. ²⁹ He that deals not graciously with his own house shall inherit the wind; and the fool shall be servant to the wise man. ³⁰ Out of the fruit of righteousness grows a tree of life; but the souls of transgressors are cut off before their time. ³¹ If the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?

Proverbs 12

¹ He that loves instruction loves sense, but he that hates reproofs is a fool. ² He that has found favor with the Lord [is made] better; but a transgressor shall be passed over in silence. ³ A man shall not prosper by wickedness; but the roots of the righteous shall not be taken up. ⁴ A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband; but as a worm in wood, so a bad woman destroys her husband. ⁵ The thoughts of the righteous [are true] judgments; but ungodly men devise deceits. ⁶ The words of ungodly men are crafty; but the mouth of the upright shall deliver them. ⁷ When the ungodly is overthrown, he vanishes away; but the houses of the just remain. ⁸ The mouth of an understanding [man] is praised by a man; but he that is dull of heart is had in derision. ⁹ Better is a man in dishonor serving himself, than one honouring himself and lacking bread. ¹⁰ A righteous man has pity for the lives of his cattle; but the bowels of the ungodly are unmerciful. ¹¹ He that tills his own land shall be satisfied with bread; but they that pursue vanities are void of understanding. He that enjoys himself in banquets of wine, shall leave dishonor in his own strong holds. ¹² The desires of the ungodly are evil; but the roots of the godly are firmly set. ¹³ For the sin of [his] lips a sinner falls into snare; but a righteous man escapes from them. He whose looks are gentle shall be pitied, but he that contends in the gates will afflict souls. ¹⁴ The soul of a man shall be filled with good from the fruits of his mouth; and the recompence of his lips shall be given to him. ¹⁵ The ways of fools are right in their own eyes; but a wise man hearkens to counsels. ¹⁶ A fool declares his wrath the same day; but a prudent man hides his own disgrace. ¹⁷ A righteous man declares the open truth; but an unjust witness is deceitful. ¹⁸ Some wound as they speak, [like] swords; but the tongues of the wise heal. ¹⁹ True lips establish testimony; but a hasty witness has an unjust tongue. ²⁰ [There is] deceit in the heart of him that imagines evil; but they that love peace shall rejoice. ²¹ No injustice will please a just man; but the ungodly will be filled with mischief. ²² Lying lips are a abomination to the Lord; but he that deals faithfully is accepted with him. ²³ An understanding man is a throne of wisdom; but the heart of fools shall meet with curses. ²⁴ The hand of chosen men shall easily obtain rule; but the deceitful shall be for a prey. ²⁵ A terrible word troubles the heart of a righteous man; but a good message rejoices him. ²⁶ A just arbitrator shall be his own friend; but mischief shall pursue sinners; and the way of ungodly men shall lead them astray. ²⁷ A deceitful man shall catch no game; but a blameless man is a precious possession. ²⁸ In the ways of righteousness is life; but the ways of those that remember injuries [lead] to death.

¹ A wise son is obedient to his father: but a disobedient son will be destroyed. ² A good [man] shall eat of the fruits of righteousness: but the lives of transgressors shall perish before their time. ³ He that keeps his own mouth keeps his own life: but he that is hasty with his lips shall bring terror upon himself. ⁴ Every slothful man desires, but the hands of the active are diligent. ⁵ A righteous man hates an unjust word: but an ungodly man is ashamed, and will have no confidence. ⁷ There are [some] who, having nothing, enrich themselves: and there are [some] who bring themselves down in [the midst of] much wealth. ⁸ A man's own wealth is the ransom of his life: but the poor endures not threatening. ⁹ The righteous always have light: but the light of the ungodly is quenched. Crafty souls go astray in sins: but just men pity, and are merciful. ¹⁰ A bad man does evil with insolence: but they that are judges of themselves are wise. ¹¹ Wealth gotten hastily with iniquity is diminished: but he that gathers for himself with godliness shall be increased. The righteous is merciful, and lends. ¹² Better is he that begins to help heartily, than he that promises and leads [another] to hope: for a good desire is a tree of life. ¹³ He that slights a matter shall be slighted of it: but he that fears the commandment has health [of soul]. To a crafty son there shall be nothing good: but a wise servant shall have prosperous doings, and his way shall be directed aright. ¹⁴ The law of the wise is fountain of life: but the man void of understanding shall die by a snare. ¹⁵ Sound discretion gives favor, and to know the law is the part of a sound understanding: but the ways of scorners tend to destruction. ¹⁶ Every prudent man acts with knowledge: but the fool displays his own mischief. ¹⁷ A rash king shall fall into mischief: but a wise messenger shall deliver him. ¹⁸ Instruction removes poverty and disgrace: but he that attends to reproofs shall be honored. ¹⁹ The desires of the godly gladden the soul, but the works of the ungodly are far from knowledge. ²⁰ If you walk with wise men you shall be wise: but he that walks with fools shall be known. ²¹ Evil shall pursue sinners; but good shall overtake the righteous. ²² A good man shall inherit children's children; and the wealth of ungodly men is laid up for the just. ²³ The righteous shall spend many years in wealth: but the unrighteous shall perish suddenly. ²⁴ He that spares the rod hates his son: but he that loves, carefully chastens [him]. ²⁵ A just [man] eats and satisfies his soul: but the souls of the ungodly are in lack.

¹ Wise women build houses: but a foolish one digs [hers] down with her hands. ² He that walks uprightly fears the Lord; but he that is perverse in his ways shall be dishonored. ³ Out of the mouth of fools [comes] a rod of pride; but the lips of the wise preserve them. ⁴ Where no oxen are, the cribs are clean; but where there is abundant produce, the strength of the ox is apparent. ⁵ A faithful witness does not lie; but an unjust witness kindles falsehoods. ⁶ You shall seek wisdom with bad men, and shall not find it; but discretion is easily available with the prudent. ⁷ All things are adverse to a foolish man; but wise lips are the weapons of discretion. ⁸ The wisdom of the prudent will understand their ways; but the folly of fools leads astray. ⁹ The houses of transgressors will need purification; but the houses of the just are acceptable. ¹⁰ [If] a man's mind is intelligent, his soul is sorrowful; and when he rejoices, he has no fellowship with pride. ¹¹ The houses of ungodly men shall be utterly destroyed; but the tabernacles of them that walk uprightly shall stand. ¹² There is a way which seems to be right with men, but the ends of it reach to the depths of hell. ¹³ Grief mingles not with mirth; and joy in the end comes to grief. ¹⁴ A stout-hearted [man] shall be filled with his own ways; and a good man with his own thoughts. ¹⁵ The simple believes every word: but the prudent man betakes himself to afterthought. ¹⁶ A wise man fears, and departs from evil; but the fool trusts in himself, and joins himself with the transgressor. ¹⁷ A passionate man acts inconsiderately; but a sensible man bears up under many things. ¹⁸ Fools shall have mischief for their portion; but the prudent shall take fast hold of understanding. ¹⁹ Evil men shall fall before the good; and the ungodly shall attend at the gates of the righteous. ²⁰ Friends will hate poor friends; but the friends of the rich are many. ²¹ He that dishonors the needy sins: but he that has pity on the poor is most blessed. ²² They that go astray devise evils: but the good devise mercy and truth. The framers of evil do not understand mercy and truth: but compassion and faithfulness are with the framers of good. ²³ With every one [who is] careful there is abundance:

but the pleasure-taking and indolent shall be in lack. ²⁴ A prudent man is the crown of the wise: but the occupation of fools is evil. ²⁵ A faithful witness shall deliver a soul from evil: but a deceitful [man] kindles falsehoods. ²⁶ In the fear of the Lord is strong confidence: and he leaves his children a support. ²⁷ The commandment of the Lord is a fountain of life; and it causes [men] to turn aside from the snare of death. ²⁸ In a populous nation is the glory of a king: but in the failure of people is the ruin of a prince. ²⁹ A man slow to wrath abounds in wisdom: but a man of impatient spirit is very foolish. ³⁰ A meek-spirited man is a healer of the heart: but a sensitive heart is a corruption of the bones. ³¹ He that oppresses the needy provokes his Maker: but he that honors him has pity upon the poor. ³² The ungodly shall be driven away in his wickedness: but he who is secure in his own holiness is just. ³³ There is wisdom in the good heart of a man: but in the heart of fools it is not discerned. ³⁴ Righteousness exalts a nation: but sins diminish tribes. ³⁵ An understanding servant is acceptable to a king; and by his good behavior he removes disgrace.

Proverbs 15

¹ Anger slays even wise men; yet a submissive answer turns away wrath: but a grievous word stirs up anger. ² The tongue of the wise knows what is good: but the mouth of the foolish tells out evil things. ³ The eyes of the Lord behold both the evil and the good in every place. ⁴ The wholesome tongue is a tree of life, and he that keeps it shall be filled with understanding. ⁵ A fool scorns his father's instruction; but he that keeps his commandments is more prudent. In abounding righteousness is great strength: but the ungodly shall utterly perish from the earth. ⁶

In the houses of the righteous is much strength; but the fruits of the ungodly shall perish. ⁷ The lips of the wise are bound by discretion; but the hearts of the foolish are not safe. ⁸ The sacrifices of the ungodly are an abomination to the Lord; but the prayers of them that walk honestly are acceptable with him. ⁹ The ways of an ungodly [man] are an abomination to the Lord; but he loves those that follow after righteousness. ¹⁰ The instruction of the simple is known by them that pass by; but they that hate reproofs die disgracefully. ¹¹ Hell and destruction are manifest to the Lord; how shall not also be the hearts of men? ¹² An uninstructed person will not love those that reprove him; neither will he associate with the wise. ¹³ When the heart rejoices the countenance is cheerful; but when it is in sorrow, [the countenance] is sad. ¹⁴ An upright heart seeks discretion; but the mouth of the uninstructed will experience evils. ¹⁵ The eyes of the wicked are always looking for evil things; but the good are always quiet. ¹⁶ Better is a small portion with the fear of the Lord, than great treasures without the fear [of the Lord]. ¹⁷ Better is an entertainment of herbs with friendliness and kindness, than a feast of calves, with enmity. ¹⁸ A passionate man stirs up strife; but [he that is] slow to anger appeases even a rising one. A man slow to anger will extinguish quarrels; but an ungodly man rather stirs [them] up. ¹⁹ The ways of sluggards are strewn with thorns; but those of the diligent are made smooth. ²⁰ A wise son gladdens [his] father; but a foolish son sneers at his mother. ²¹ The ways of a foolish man are void of sense; but a wise man proceeds on his way aright. ²² They that honor not councils put off deliberation; but counsel abides in the hearts of counselors. ²³ A bad man will by no means attend to counsel; neither will he say anything seasonable, or good for the common [weal]. ²⁴ The thoughts of the wise are ways of life, that he may turn aside and escape from hell. ²⁵ The Lord pulls down the houses of scorers; but he establishes the border of the widow. ²⁶ An unrighteous thought is abomination to the Lord; but the sayings of the pure are held in honor. ²⁷ A receiver of bribes destroys himself; but he that hates the receiving of bribes is safe. [By alms and by faithful dealings] [sins are purged away;] but by the fear of the Lord every one departs from evil. ²⁸ The hearts of the righteous meditate faithfulness; but the mouth of the ungodly answers evil things. The ways of righteous men are acceptable with the Lord; and through them even enemies become friends. ²⁹ God is far from the ungodly; but he hearkens to the prayers of the righteous. Better are small receipts with righteousness, than abundant fruits with unrighteousness. Let the heart of a man think justly, that his steps may be rightly ordered of God. The eye that sees rightly rejoices the heart; and a good report fattens the bones. ³⁰ He that rejects instruction hates himself; but he that mind reproofs loves his soul. ³¹ The fear of the Lord is instruction and wisdom; and the highest honor will correspond therewith.

Proverbs 16

² All the works of the humble [man] are manifest with God; but the ungodly shall perish in an evil day. ⁵ Every one that is proud in heart is unclean before God, and he that unjustly strikes hands with hand shall not be held guiltless. The beginning of a good way is to do justly; and it is more acceptable with God than to offer sacrifices. He that seeks the Lord shall find knowledge with righteousness: and they that rightly seek him shall find peace. All of the works of the Lord [are done] with righteousness; and the ungodly [man] is kept for the evil day. ¹⁰ [There is] an oracle upon the lips of a king; and his mouth shall not err in judgment. ¹¹ The poise of the balance is righteousness with the Lord; and his works are righteous measures. ¹² An evil-doer is an abomination to a king; for the throne of rule is established by righteousness. ¹³ Righteous lips are acceptable to a king; and he loves right words. ¹⁴ The anger of a king is a messenger of death; but a wise man will pacify him. ¹⁵ The son of a king is in the light of life; and they that are in favor with him are as a cloud of latter rain. ¹⁶ The brood of wisdom is more to be chosen than gold, and the brood of prudence more to be chosen than silver. ¹⁷ The paths of life turn aside from evil; and the ways of righteousness are length of life. He that receives instruction shall be in prosperity; and he that regards reproofs shall be made wise. He that keeps his ways, preserves his own soul; and he that loves his life will spare his mouth. ¹⁸ Pride goes before destruction, and folly before a fall. ¹⁹ Better is a meek-spirited [man] with lowliness, than one who divides spoils with the proud. ²⁰ [He who is] skillful in business finds good: but he that trusts in God is most blessed. ²¹ [Men] call the wise and understanding evil: but they that are pleasing in speech shall hear more. ²² Understanding is a fountain of life to its possessors; but the instruction of fools is evil. ²³ The heart of the wise will discern the [things which proceed] from his own mouth; and on his lips he will wear knowledge. ²⁴ Good words are honeycombs, and the sweetness thereof is a healing of the soul. ²⁵ There are ways that seem to be right to a man, but the end of them looks to the depth of hell. ²⁶ A man who labors, labors for himself, and drives from [him] his own ruin. ²⁷ But the perverse bears destruction upon his own mouth: a foolish man digs up evil for himself, and treasures fire on his own lips. ²⁸ A perverse man spreads mischief, and will kindle a torch of deceit with mischiefs; and he separates friends. ²⁹ A transgressor tries [to ensnare] friends, and leads them in ways [that are] not good. ³⁰ And the man that fixes his eyes devises perverse things, and marks out with his lips all evil: he is a furnace of wickedness. ³¹ Old age is a crown of honor, but it is found in the ways of righteousness. ³² A man slow to anger is better than a strong [man]; and he that governs [his] temper better than he that takes a city. ³³ All [evils] come upon the ungodly into [their] bosoms; but all righteous things [come] of the Lord.

Proverbs 17

¹ Better is a morsel with pleasure in peace, than a house [full] of many good things and unjust sacrifices, with strife. ² A wise servant shall have rule over foolish masters, and shall divide portions among brethren. ³ As silver and gold are tried in a furnace, so are choice hearts with the Lord. ⁴ A bad man hearkens to the tongue of transgressors: but a righteous man attends not to false lips. ⁵ He that laughs at the poor provokes him that made him; and he that rejoices at the destruction of another shall not be held guiltless: but he that has compassion shall find mercy. ⁶ Children's children are the crown of old men; and their fathers are the glory of children. The faithful has the whole world full of wealth; but the faithless not even a farthing. ⁷ Faithful lips will not suit a fool; nor lying lips a just man. ⁸ Instruction is to them that use it a gracious reward; and wherever it may turn, it shall prosper. ⁹ He that conceals injuries seeks love; but he that hates to hide [them] separates friends and kindred. ¹⁰ A threat breaks down the heart of a wise man; but a fool, though scourged, understands not. ¹¹ Every bad man stirs up strifes: but the Lord will send out against him an unmerciful messenger. ¹² Care may befall a man of understanding; but fools will meditate evils. ¹³ Whoso rewards evil for good, evil shall not be removed from his house. ¹⁴ Rightful rule gives power to words; but sedition and strife precede poverty. ¹⁵ He that pronounces the unjust just, and the just unjust, is unclean and abominable with God. ¹⁶ Why has the fool wealth? for a senseless man will not be able to purchase wisdom. He that exalts his own house seeks ruin; and he that turns aside from instruction shall fall into mischief. ¹⁷ Have you a friend for every time, and let brethren be useful in distress; for on this account are they born. ¹⁸ A foolish man applauds and rejoices over himself, [as he] also that becomes surety would make himself responsible for his own friends. ¹⁹ A lover of sin rejoices in strifes; ²⁰ and the hard-hearted man comes not in for good. A man of a changeful tongue will fall into mischiefs; ²¹ and the heart of a fool is grief to its possessor. A father rejoices not over an uninstructed son; but a wise son gladdens his mother. ²² A glad heart promotes health; but the bones of a sorrowful man dry up. ²³ The ways of a man who unjustly receives gifts in [his] bosom do not prosper; and an ungodly man perverts the ways of righteousness. ²⁴ The countenance of a wise man is sensible; but the eyes of a fool [go] to the ends of the earth. ²⁵ A foolish son [is a cause of] anger to his father, and grief to her that bore him. ²⁶ [It is] not right to punish a righteous man, nor [is it] holy to plot against righteous princes. ²⁷ He that forbears to utter a hard word is discreet, and a patient man is wise. ²⁸ Wisdom shall be imputed to a fool who asks after wisdom: and he who holds his peace shall seem to be sensible.

Proverbs 18

¹ A man who wishes to separate from friends seeks excuses; but at all times he will be liable to reproach. ² A senseless man feels no need of wisdom, for he is rather led by folly. ³ When an ungodly man comes into a depth of evils, he despises [them]; but dishonor and reproach come upon him. ⁴ A word in the heart of a man is a deep water, and a river and fountain of life spring forth. ⁵ [It is] not good to accept the person of the ungodly, nor [is it] holy to pervert justice in judgment. ⁶ The lips of a fool bring [him] into troubles, and his bold mouth calls for death. ⁷ A fool's mouth is ruin to him, and his lips are a snare to his soul. ⁸ Fear casts down the slothful; and the souls of the effeminate shall hunger. ⁹ A man who helps not himself by his labor is brother of him that ruins himself. ¹⁰ The name of the Lord is of great strength; and the righteous running to it are exalted. ¹¹ The wealth of a rich man is a strong city; and its glory casts a broad shadow. ¹² Before ruin a man's heart is exalted, and before honor it is humble. ¹³ Whoso answers a word before he hears [a cause], it is folly and reproach to him. ¹⁴ A wise servant calms a man's anger; but who can endure a faint-hearted man? ¹⁵ The heart of the sensible [man] purchases discretion; and the ears of the wise seek understanding. ¹⁶ A man's gift enlarges him, and seats him among princes. ¹⁷ A righteous man accuses himself at the beginning of his speech, but when he has entered upon the attack, the adversary is reproved. ¹⁸ A silent [man] quells strifes, and determines between great powers. ¹⁹ A brother helped by a brother is as a strong and high city; and is [as] strong as a [well]-founded palace. ²⁰ A man fills his belly with the fruits of his mouth; and he shall be satisfied with the fruits of his lips. ²¹ Life and death are in the power of the tongue; and they that rule it shall eat the fruits thereof. ²² He that has found a good wife has found favours, and has received gladness from God. [He that puts away a good wife, puts away a] [good thing, and he that keeps an adulteress is foolish and ungodly.]

Proverbs 19

³ The folly of a man spoils his ways: and he blames God in his heart. ⁴ Wealth acquires many friends; but the poor is deserted even of the friend he has. ⁵ A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that accuses unjustly shall not escape. ⁶ Many court the favor of kings; but every bad man becomes a reproach to [another] man. ⁷ Every one who hates [his] poor brother shall also be far from friendship. Good understanding will draw near to them that know it, and a sensible man will find it. He that does much harm perfects mischief; and he that used provoking words shall not escape. ⁸ He that procures wisdom loves himself; and he that keeps wisdom shall find good. ⁹ A false witness shall not be unpunished; and whoever shall kindle mischief shall perish by it. ¹⁰ Delight does not suit a fool, nor [is it seemly] if a servant should begin to rule with haughtiness. ¹¹ A merciful man is longsuffering; and his triumph overtakes transgressors. ¹² The threatening of a king is like the roaring of a lion; but as dew on the grass, so is his favor. ¹³ A foolish son is a disgrace to his father: vows [paid out] of the hire of a harlot are not pure. ¹⁴ Fathers divide house and substance to [their] children: but a wife is suited to a man by the Lord. ¹⁵ Cowardice possesses the effeminate [man]; and the soul of the sluggard shall hunger. ¹⁶ He that keeps the commandment keeps his own soul; but he that despises his ways shall perish. ¹⁷ He that has pity on the poor lends to the Lord; and he will recompense to him according to his gift. ¹⁸ Chasten your son, for so he shall be hopeful; and be not exalted in your soul to haughtiness. ¹⁹ A malicious man shall be severely punished, and if he commit injury, he shall also lose his life. ²⁰ Hear, son, the instruction of your father, that you may be wise at your latter end. ²¹ [There are] many thoughts in a man's heart; but the counsel of the Lord abides for ever. ²² Mercy is a fruit to a man: and a poor man is better than a rich liar. ²³ The fear of the Lord is life to a man: and he shall lodge without fear in places where knowledge is not seen. ²⁴ He that unjustly hides his hands in his bosom, will not even [bring] them up to his mouth. ²⁵ When a pestilent character is scourged, a simple man is made wiser: and if you reprove a wise man, he will understand discretion. ²⁶ He that dishonors his father, and drives away his mother, shall be disgraced and shall be exposed to reproach. ²⁷ A son who ceases to attend to the instruction of a father will cherish evil designs. ²⁸ He that becomes surety for a foolish child will despise the ordinance: and the mouth of ungodly men shall drink down judgment. ²⁹ Scourges are preparing for the intemperate, and punishments likewise for fools.

Proverbs 20

¹ Wine is an intemperate thing, and strong drink full of violence: but every fool is entangled with them. ² The threat of a king differs not from the rage of a lion; and he that provokes him sins against his own soul. ³ [It is] a glory to a man to turn aside from railing; but every fool is entangled with such matters. ⁴ A sluggard when reproached is not ashamed: so also he who borrows corn in harvest. ⁵ Counsel in a man's heart is deep water; but a prudent man will draw it out. ⁶ A man is valuable, and a merciful man precious: but [it is] hard to find a faithful man. ⁷ He that walks blameless in justice, shall leave his children blessed. ⁸ Whenever a righteous king sits on the throne, no evil thing can stand before his presence. ⁹ Who will boast that he has a pure heart? or who will boldly say that he is pure from sins? ¹⁰ A large and small weight, and various measures, are even both of them unclean before the Lord; and [so is] he that makes them. ¹¹ A youth [when in company] with a godly man, will be restrained in his devices, and [then] his way will be straight. ¹² The ear hears, and the eye sees: even both of them are the Lord's work. ¹³ Love not to speak ill, lest you be cut off: open your eyes, and be filled with bread. ¹⁴ The lamp of him that reviles father or mother shall be put out, and his eyeballs shall see darkness. ¹⁵ A portion hastily gotten at first shall not be blessed in the end. ¹⁶ Say not, I will avenge myself on my enemy; but wait on the Lord, that he may help you. ¹⁷ A double weight is an abomination to the Lord; and a deceitful balance is not good in his sight. ¹⁸ A man's goings are directed of the Lord: how then can a mortal understand his ways? ¹⁹ It is a snare to a man hastily to consecrate some of his own property: for [in that case] repentance comes after vowing. ²⁰ A wise king utterly crushes the ungodly, and will bring a wheel upon them. ²¹ The spirit of man is a light of the Lord, who searches the inmost parts of the belly. ²² Mercy and truth are a guard to a king, and will surround his throne with righteousness. ²³ Wisdom is an ornament to young men; and grey [hairs] are the glory of old men. ²⁴ Bruises and contusions befall bad men; and plagues [shall come] in the inward parts of [their] belly.

Proverbs 21

¹ As a rush of water, so is the king's heart in God's hand: he turns it wherever he may desire to point out. ² Every man seems to himself righteous; but the Lord directs the hearts. ³ To do justly and to speak truth, are more pleasing to God than the blood of sacrifices. ⁴ A high-minded man is stout-hearted in [his] pride; and the lamp of the wicked is sin. ⁶ He that gathers treasures with a lying tongue pursues vanity [on] to the snares of death. ⁷ Destruction shall lodge with the ungodly; for they refuse to do justly. ⁸ To the froward God sends froward ways; for his works are pure and right. ⁹ [It is] better to dwell in a corner on the house-top, than in plastered [rooms] with unrighteousness, and in an open house. ¹⁰ The soul of the ungodly shall not be pitied by any man. ¹¹ When an intemperate man is punished the simple becomes wiser: and a wise man understanding will receive knowledge. ¹² A righteous man understands the hearts of the ungodly: and despises the ungodly for their wickedness. ¹³ He that stops his ears from hearing the poor, himself also shall cry, and there shall be none to hear [him]. ¹⁴ A secret gift calms anger: but he that forbears to give stirs up strong wrath. ¹⁵ [It is] the joy of the righteous to do judgment: but a holy [man] is abominable with evil-doers. ¹⁶ A man that wanders out of the way of righteousness, shall rest in the congregation of giants. ¹⁷ A poor man loves mirth, loving wine and oil in abundance; ¹⁸ and a transgressor is the abomination of a righteous man. ¹⁹ [It is] better to dwell in a wilderness than with a quarrelsome and talkative and passionate woman. ²⁰ A desirable treasure will rest on the mouth of the wise; but foolish men will swallow it up. ²¹ The way of righteousness and mercy will find life and glory. ²² A wise man assaults strong cities, and demolishes the fortress in which the ungodly trusted. ²³ He that keeps his mouth and his tongue keeps his soul from trouble. ²⁴ A bold and self-willed and insolent [man] is called a pest: and he that remembers injuries is a transgressor. ²⁵ Desires kill the sluggard; for his hands do not choose to do anything. ²⁶ An ungodly man entertains evil desires all the day: but the righteous is unsparingly merciful and compassionate. ²⁷ The sacrifices of the ungodly are abomination to the Lord, for they offer them wickedly. ²⁸ A false witness shall perish; but an obedient man will speak cautiously. ²⁹ An ungodly man impudently withstands with his face; but the upright man himself understands his ways. ³⁰ There is no wisdom, there is no courage, there is no counsel against the ungodly. ³¹ A horse is prepared for the day of battle; but help is of the Lord.

Proverbs 22

¹ A fair name is better than much wealth, and good favor is above silver and gold. ² The rich and the poor meet together; but the Lord made them both. ³ An intelligent man seeing a bad man severely punished is himself instructed, but fools pass by and are punished. ⁴ The fear of the Lord is the offspring of wisdom, and wealth, and glory, and life. ⁵ Thistles and snares are in perverse ways; but he that keeps his soul will refrain from them. ⁷ The rich will rule over the poor, and servants will lend to their own masters. ⁸ He that sows wickedness shall reap troubles; and shall fully receive the punishment of his deeds. God loves a cheerful and liberal man; but [a man] shall fully prove the folly of his works. ⁹ He that has pity on the poor shall himself be maintained; for he has given of his own bread to the poor. He that gives liberally secures victory an honor; but he takes away the life of them that possess [them]. ¹⁰ Cast out a pestilent person from the council, and strife shall go out with him; for when he sits in the council he dishonors all. ¹¹ The Lord loves holy hearts, and all blameless persons are acceptable with him: a king rules with his lips. ¹² But the eyes of the Lord preserve discretion; but the transgressor despises [wise] words. ¹³ The sluggard makes excuses, and says, [There is] a lion in the ways, and murderers in the streets. ¹⁴ The mouth of a transgressor is a deep pit; and he that is hated of the Lord shall fall into it. Evil ways are before a man, and he does not like to turn away from them; but it is needful to turn aside from a perverse and bad way. ¹⁵ Folly is attached to the heart of a child, but the rod and instruction are [then] far from him. ¹⁶ He that oppresses the poor, increases his own substance, yet gives to the rich so as to make it less. ¹⁷ Incline your ear to the words of wise men: hear also my word, and apply your heart, ¹⁸ that you may know that they are good: and if you lay them to heart, they shall also gladden you on your lips. ¹⁹ That your hope may be in the Lord, and he may make your way known to you. ²⁰ And do you too repeatedly record them for yourself on the table of your heart, for counsel and knowledge. ²¹ I therefore teach you truth, and knowledge good to hear; that you may answer words of truth to them that question you. ²² Do no violence to the poor, for he is needy: neither dishonor the helpless [man] in the gates. ²³ For the Lord will plead his cause, and you shall deliver your soul in safety. ²⁴ Be not companion to a furious man; neither lodge with a passionate man: ²⁵ lest you learn of his ways, and get snares to your soul. ²⁶ Become not surety from respect of a man's person. ²⁷ For if those have not whence to give compensation, they will take the bed [that is] under you. ²⁸ Remove not the old landmarks, which your fathers placed. ²⁹ It is fit that an observant man and [one] diligent in his business should attend on kings, and not attend on slothful men.

Proverbs 23

¹ If you sit to sup at the table of a prince, consider attentively the things set before you: ² and apply your hand, knowing that it behoves you to prepare such [meats]: but if you are very insatiable, ³ desire not his provisions; for these belong to a false life. ⁴ If you are poor, measure not yourself with a rich man; but refrain yourself in your wisdom. ⁵ If you should fix your eye upon him, he will disappear; for wings like an eagle's are prepared for him, and he returns to the house of his master. ⁶ Sup not with an envious man, neither desire you his meats: ⁷ so he eats and drinks as if any one should swallow a hair, and do not bring him in to yourself, nor eat your morsel with him: ⁸ for he will vomit it up, and spoil your fair words. ⁹ Say nothing in the ears of a fool, lest at any time he sneer at your wise words. ¹⁰ Remove not the ancient landmarks; and enter not upon the possession of the fatherless: ¹¹ for the Lord is their redeemer; he is mighty, and will plead their cause with you. ¹² Apply your heart to instruction, and prepare your ears for words of discretion. ¹³ Refrain not from chastening a child; for if you beat him with the rod, he shall not die. ¹⁴ For you shall beat him with the rod, and shall deliver his soul from death. ¹⁵ Son, if your heart be wise, you shall also gladden my heart; ¹⁶ and your lips shall converse with my lips, if they be right. ¹⁷ Let not your heart envy sinners: but be you in the fear of the Lord all the day. ¹⁸ For if you should keep these things, you shall have posterity; and your hope shall not be removed. ¹⁹ Hear, [my] son, and be wise, and rightly direct the thoughts of your heart. ²⁰ Be not a wine-bibber, neither continue long at feasts, and purchases of flesh: ²¹ for every drunkard and whoremonger shall be poor; and every sluggard shall clothe himself with tatters and ragged garments. ²² Listen, [my] son, to your father which begot you, and despise not [your mother] because she is grown old. ²³ A righteous father brings up [his children] well; and his soul rejoices over a wise son. ²⁵ Let your father and your mother rejoice over you, and let her that bore you be glad. ²⁶ [My] son, give me your heart, and let your eyes observe my ways. ²⁷ For a strange house is a vessel full of holes; and a strange well is narrow. ²⁸ For such a one shall perish suddenly; and every transgressor shall be cut off. ²⁹ Who [has] woe? who trouble? who [has] quarrels? and who vexations and disputes? who [has] bruises without a cause? whose eyes are livid? ³⁰ Are not those of them that stay long at wine? [are] not [those] of them that haunt [the places] where banquets are? Be not drunk with wine; but converse with just men, and converse [with them] openly. ³¹ For if you should set your eyes on bowls and cups, you shall afterwards go more naked than a pestle. ³² But at last [such a one] stretches himself out as one struck by a serpent, and venom is diffused through him as by a horned serpent. ³³ Whenever your eyes shall behold a strange woman, then your mouth shall speak perverse things. ³⁴ And you shall lie as in the midst of the sea, and as a pilot in a great storm. ³⁵ And you shall say, They struck me, and I was not pained; and they mocked me, and I knew it not: when will it be morning, that I may go and seek those with whom I may go in company?

Proverbs 24

¹ [My] son, envy not bad men, nor desire to be with them. ² For their heart meditates falsehoods, and their lips speak mischiefs. ³ A house is built by wisdom, and is set up by understanding. ⁴ By discretion the chambers are filled with all precious and excellent wealth. ⁵ A wise man is better than a strong man; and a man who has prudence than a large estate. ⁶ War is carried on with generalship, and aid is supplied to the heart of a counsellor. ⁷ Wisdom and good understanding are in the gates of the wise: the wise turn not aside from the mouth of the Lord, ⁸ but deliberate in council. Death befalls uninstructed [men]. ⁹ The fools also dies in sins; and uncleanness [attaches] to a pestilent man. ¹⁰ He shall be defiled in the evil day, and in the day of affliction, until he be utterly consumed. ¹¹ Deliver them that are led away to death, and redeem them that are appointed to be slain; spare not [your help]. ¹² But if you should say, I know not this man; know that the Lord knows the hearts of all; and he that formed breath for all, he knows all things, who renders to every man according to his works. ¹³ [My] son, eat honey, for the honeycomb is good, that your throat may be sweetened. ¹⁴ Thus shall you perceive wisdom in your soul: for if you find it, your end shall be good, and hope shall not fail you. ¹⁵ Bring not an ungodly man into the dwelling of the righteous: neither be deceived by the feeding of the belly. ¹⁶ For a righteous man will fall seven times, and rise [again]: but the ungodly shall be without strength in troubles. ¹⁷ If your enemy should fall, rejoice not over him, neither be elated at his overthrow. ¹⁸ For the Lord will see [it], and it will not please him, and he will turn away his wrath from him. ¹⁹ Rejoice not in evil-doers, neither be envious of sinners. ²⁰ For the evil man shall have no posterity: and the light of the wicked shall be put out. ²¹ [My] son, fear God and the king; and do not disobey either of them. ²² For they will suddenly punish the ungodly, and who can know the vengeance [inflicted] by both? [A son that keeps the commandment shall escape destruction; for [such an one] has fully received it. Let no falsehood be spoken by the king from the tongue; yes, let no falsehood proceed from his tongue. The king's tongue is a sword, and not one of flesh; and whoever shall be given up to [it] shall be destroyed: for if his wrath should be provoked, he destroys men with cords, and devours men's bones, and burns them up as a flame, so that they are not [even] fit to be eaten by the young eagles. [My] son, reverence my words, and receive them, and repent.] ²³ And this thing I say to you that are wise [for you] to learn: It is not good to have respect of persons in judgment. ²⁴ He that says of the ungodly, He is righteous, shall be cursed by peoples, and hateful among the nations. ²⁵ But they that reprove [him] shall appear more excellent, and blessing shall come upon them; ²⁶ and [men] will kiss lips that answer well. ²⁷ Prepare your works for [your] going forth, and prepare yourself for the field; and come after me, and you shall rebuild your house. ²⁸ Be not a false witness against your [fellow] citizen, neither exaggerate with your lips. ²⁹ Say not, As he has treated me, so will I treat him, and I will avenge myself on him for that wherein he has injured me. ³⁰ A foolish man is like a farm, and a senseless man is like a vineyard. ³¹ If you let him alone, he will altogether remain barren and covered with weeds; and he becomes destitute, and his stone walls are broken down. ³² Afterwards I reflected, I looked that I might receive instruction. ³³ [The sluggard says,]I slumber a little, and I sleep a little, and for a little while I fold my arms across [my] breast. ³⁴ But if you do this, your poverty will come speedily; and your lack like a swift courier.

¹ These are the miscellaneous instructions of Solomon, which the friends of Ezekias king of Judea copied out. ² The glory of God conceals a matter: but the glory of a king honors business. ³ Heaven is high, and earth is deep, and a king's heart is unsearchable. ⁴ Beat the drossy silver, and it shall be made entirely pure. ⁵ Slay the ungodly from before the king, and his throne shall prosper in righteousness. ⁶ Be not boastful in the presence of the king, and remain not in the places of princes; ⁷ for [it is] better for you that it should be said, Come up to me, than that [one] should humble you in the presence of the prince; speak of that which your eyes have seen. ⁸ Get not suddenly into a quarrel, lest you repent at last. ⁹ Whenever your friend shall reproach you, retreat backward, despise [him] not; ¹⁰ lest your friend continue to reproach you, so your quarrel and enmity shall not depart, but shall be to you like death. Favour and friendship set [a man] free, which do you keep for yourself, lest you be made liable to reproach; but take heed to your ways peaceably. ¹¹ [As] a golden apple in a necklace of sardius, so [is it] to speak a [wise] word. ¹² In an ear-ring of gold a precious sardius is also set; [so is] a wise word to an obedient ear. ¹³ As a fall of snow in the time of harvest is good against heat, so a faithful messenger [refreshes] those that send him; for he helps the souls of his employers. ¹⁴ As winds and clouds and rains are most evident [objects], so is he that boasts of a false gift. ¹⁵ In longsuffering is prosperity to kings, and a soft tongue breaks the bones. ¹⁶ Having found honey, eat [only] what is enough, lest haply you be filled, and vomit it up. ¹⁷ Enter sparingly into your friend's house, lest he be satiated with your company, and hate you. ¹⁸ [As] a club, and a dagger, and a pointed arrow, so also is a man who bears false witness against his friend. ¹⁹ The way of the wicked and the foot of the transgressor shall perish in an evil day. ²⁰ As vinegar is bad for a sore, so trouble befalling the body afflicts the heart. As a moth in a garment, and a worm in wood, so the grief of a man hurts the heart. ²¹ If your enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink; ²² for so doing you shall heap coals of fire upon his head, and the Lord shall reward you [with] good. ²³ The north wind raises clouds; so an impudent face provokes the tongue. ²⁴ [It is] better to dwell on a corner of the roof, than with a railing woman in an open house. ²⁵ As cold water is agreeable to a thirsting soul, so is a good message from a land far off. ²⁶ As if one should stop a well, and corrupt a spring of water, so [is it] unseemly for a righteous man to fall before an ungodly man. ²⁷ [It is] not good to eat much honey; but it is right to honor venerable sayings. ²⁸ As a city whose walls are broken down, and which is unfortified, so is a man who does anything without counsel.

¹ As dew in harvest, and as rain in summer, so honor is not [seemly] for a fool. ² As birds and sparrows fly, so a curse shall not come upon any one without a cause. ³ As a whip for a horse, and a goad for an ass, so [is] a rod for a simple nation. ⁴ Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest you become like him. ⁵ Yet answer a fool according to his folly, lest he seem wise in his own conceit. ⁶ He that sends a message by a foolish messenger procures for himself a reproach from his own ways. ⁷ [As well] take away the motion of the legs, as transgression from the mouth of fools. ⁸ He that binds up a stone in a sling, is like one that gives glory to a fool. ⁹ Thorns grow in the hand of a drunkard, and servitude in the hand of fools. ¹⁰ All the flesh of fools endures much hardship; for their fury is brought to nothing. ¹¹ As when a dog goes to his own vomit, and becomes abominable, so is fool who returns in his wickedness to his own sin. [There is a shame that brings sin: and there is a shame [that is] glory and grace.] ¹² I have seen a man who seemed to himself to be wise; but a fool had more hope than he. ¹³ A sluggard when sent on a journey says, [There is] a lion in the ways, and [there are] murderers in the streets. ¹⁴ As a door turns on the hinge, so does a sluggard on his bed. ¹⁵ A sluggard having hid his hand in his bosom, will not be able to bring it up to his mouth. ¹⁶ A sluggard seems to himself wiser than one who most satisfactorily brings back a message. ¹⁷ As he that lays hold of a dog's tail, so is he that makes himself the champion of another's cause. ¹⁸ As those who need correction put forth [fair] words to men, and he that first falls in with the proposal will be overthrown; ¹⁹ so are all that lay wait for their own friends, and when they are revealed, say, I did it in jest. ²⁰ With much wood fire increases; but where there is not a double-minded man, strife ceases. ²¹ A hearth for coals, and wood for fire; and railing man for the tumult of strife. ²² The words of cunning knaves are soft; but they strike [even] to the inmost parts of the bowels. ²³ Silver dishonestly given is to be considered as a potsherd: smooth lips cover a grievous heart. ²⁴ A weeping enemy promises all things with his lips, but in his heart he contrives deceit. ²⁵ Though [your] enemy entreat you with a loud voice, consent not: for there are seven abominations in his heart. ²⁶ He that hides enmity frames deceit: but being easily discerned, exposes his own sins in the public assemblies. ²⁷ He that digs a pit for his neighbor shall fall into it: and he that rolls a stone, rolls it upon himself. ²⁸ A lying tongue hates the truth; and an unguarded mouth causes tumults.

N: ³ According to our notions, we should rather say, a bridle for the horse, and a whip for the ass; but it should be considered, that the Eastern asses are not only much more beautiful, but better goers than ours; and being active and well broken, they need only a bridle to guide them; whereas their horses being scarce, and often caught wild, and badly broken, are much less manageable, and need the correction of the whip. ⁵ a fool; ; lest; conceit Heb. eyes ⁷ not equal Heb. lifted up so ⁸ bindeth a stone in a sling Heb. putteth a precious stone in a heap of stones, This probably refers, as Coverdale understands it, to the custom of throwing a stone to the heap under which a criminal was buried. So the Vulgate, Sicut qui mittit lapidem in acervum Mercurii; ita qui tribuit insipienti honorem, "As he who throws a stone to Mercury's heap, so is he who gives honour to a fool." Mercury was a heathen god of highways; and stones were erected in different parts to guide the traveller: hence those lines of Dr. Young, "Death stands like Mercuries in every way; And kindly points us to our journey's end." so ¹⁰ The great etc. or, A great man grieveth all; and he hireth the fool, he hireth also the transgressors. both ¹¹ a dog; returneth to his folly Heb. iterateth his folly ¹⁵ slothful it grieveth him or, he is weary ¹⁷ passeth, ; meddleth or, is enraged ¹⁸ firebrands Heb. flames, or sparks arrows ²⁰ Where no wood is Heb. Proverbs 27

¹ Boast not of to-morrow; for you know not what the next day shall bring forth. ² Let your neighbor, and not your own mouth, praise you; a stranger, and not your own lips. ³ A stone is heavy, and sand cumbersome; but a fool's wrath is heavier than both. ⁴ Wrath is merciless, and anger sharp: but envy can bear nothing. ⁵ Open reproofs are better than secret love. ⁶ The wounds of a friend are more to be trusted than the spontaneous kisses of an enemy. ⁷ A full soul scorns honeycombs; but to a hungry soul even bitter things appear sweet. ⁸ As when a bird flies down from its own nest, so a man is brought into bondage whenever he estranges himself from his own place. ⁹ The heart delights in ointments and wines and perfumes: but the soul is broken by calamities. ¹⁰ Your own friend, and your father's friend, forsake not; and when you are in distress go not into your brother's house: better is a friend [that is] near than a brother living far off. ¹¹ Son, be wise, that your heart may rejoice; and remove you from yourself reproachful words. ¹² A wise man, when evils are approaching, hides himself; but fools pass on, and will be punished. ¹³ Take away the man's garment, (for a scorner has passed by) whoever lays waste another's goods. ¹⁴ Whosoever shall bless a friend in the morning with a loud voice, shall seem to differ nothing from one who curses [him]. ¹⁵ On a stormy day drops [of rain] drive a man out of his house; so also does a railing woman [drive a man] out of his own house. ¹⁶ The north wind is sharp, but it is called by name propitious. ¹⁷ Iron sharpens iron; and a man sharpens his friend's countenance. ¹⁸ He that plants a fig tree shall eat the fruits of it: so he that waits on his own master shall be honored. ¹⁹ As faces are not like [other] faces, so neither are the thoughts of men. ²⁰ Hell and destruction are not filled; so also are the eyes of men insatiable. [He that fixes his eye is an abomination to the Lord; and the uninstructed do not restrain their tongue.] ²¹ Fire is the trial for silver and gold; and a man is tried by the mouth of them that praise him. The heart of the transgressor seeks after mischiefs; but an upright heart seeks knowledge. ²² Though you scourge a fool, disgracing him in the midst of the council, you will [still] in no wise remove his folly from him. ²³ Do you thoroughly know the number of your flock, and pay attention to your herds. ²⁴ For a man [has] not strength and power for ever; neither does he transmit it from generation to generation. ²⁵ Take care of the herbage in the field, and you shall cut grass, and gather the mountain hay; ²⁶ that you may have [wool of] sheep for clothing: pay attention to the land, that you may have lambs. ²⁷ [My] son, you have from me words very useful for your life, and for the life of your servants.

Proverbs 28

¹ The ungodly [man] flees when no one pursues: but the righteous is confident as a lion. ² By reason of the sins of ungodly men quarrels arise; but a wise man will quell them. ³ A bold man oppresses the poor by ungodly deeds. As an impetuous and profitable rain, ⁴ so they that forsake the law praise ungodliness; but they that love the law fortify themselves with a wall. ⁵ Evil men will not understand judgment: but they that seek the Lord will understand everything. ⁶ A poor man walking in truth is better than a rich liar. ⁷ A wise son keeps the law: but he that keeps up debauchery dishonors his father. ⁸ He that increases his wealth by usuries and [unjust] gains, gathers it for him that pities the poor. ⁹ He that turns away his ear from hearing the law, even he has made his prayer abominable. ¹⁰ He that causes upright men to err in an evil way, himself shall fall into destruction: transgressor also shall pass by prosperity, but shall not enter into it. ¹¹ A rich man is wise in his own conceit; but an intelligent poor man will condemn him. ¹² By reason of the help of righteous men great glory arises: but in the places of the ungodly men are caught. ¹³ He that covers his own ungodliness shall not prosper: but he that blames [himself] shall be loved. ¹⁴ Blessed is the man who religiously fears always: but the hard of heart shall fall into mischiefs. ¹⁵ A hungry lion and a thirsty wolf [is he], who, being poor, rules over a poor nation. ¹⁶ A king in need of revenues is a great oppressor: but he that hates injustice shall live a long time. ¹⁷ He that becomes surety for a man charged with murder shall be an exile, and not in safety. Chasten your son, and he shall love you, and give honor to your soul: he shall not obey a sinful nation. ¹⁸ He that walks justly is assisted: but he that walks in crooked ways shall be entangled [therein]. ¹⁹ He that tills his own land shall be satisfied with bread: but he that follows idleness shall have plenty of poverty. ²⁰ A man worthy of credit shall be much blessed: but the wicked shall not be unpunished. ²¹ He that reverences not the persons of the just is not good: such a one will sell a man for a morsel of bread. ²² An envious man makes haste to be rich, and knows not that the merciful man will have the mastery over him. ²³ He that reproves a man's ways shall have more favor than he that flatters with the tongue. ²⁴ He that casts off father or mother, and thinks he sins not; the same is partaker with an ungodly man. ²⁵ An unbelieving man judges rashly: but he that trusts in the Lord will act carefully. ²⁶ He that trusts to a bold heart, such an one is a fool: but he that walks in wisdom shall be safe. ²⁷ He that gives to the poor shall not be in lack: but he that turns away his eye [from him] shall be in great distress. ²⁸ In the places of ungodly [men] the righteous mourn: but in their destruction the righteous shall be multiplied.

Proverbs 29

¹ A reprov^r is better than a stiff-necked man: for when the latter is suddenly set on fire, there shall be no remedy. ² When the righteous are praised, the people will rejoice: but when the ungodly rule, men mourn. ³ When a man loves wisdom, his father rejoices: but he that keeps harlots will waste wealth. ⁴ A righteous king establishes a country: but a transgressor destroys [it]. ⁵ He that prepares a net in the way of his own friend, entangles his own feet in it. ⁶ A great snare [is spread] for a sinner: but the righteous shall be in joy and gladness. ⁷ A righteous man knows how to judge for the poor: but the ungodly understands not knowledge; and the poor man has not an understanding mind. ⁸ Lawless men burn down a city: but wise men turn away wrath. ⁹ A wise man shall judge nations: but a worthless man being angry laughs and fears not. ¹⁰ Bloody men hate a holy [person], but the upright will seek his soul. ¹¹ A fool utters all his mind: but the wise reserves his in part. ¹² When a king hearkens to unjust language, all his subjects are transgressors. ¹³ When the creditor and debtor meet together, the Lord oversee them both. ¹⁴ When a king judges the poor in truth, his throne shall be established for a testimony. ¹⁵ Stripes and reproofs give wisdom: but an erring child disgraces his parents. ¹⁶ When the ungodly abound, sins abound: but when they fall, the righteous are warned. ¹⁷ Chasten your son, and he shall give you rest; and he shall give honor to your soul. ¹⁸ There shall be no interpreter to a sinful nation: but he that observes the law is blessed. ¹⁹ A stubborn servant will not be reprov^d by words: for even if he understands, still he will not obey. ²⁰ If you see a man hasty in [his] words, know that the fool has hope rather than he. ²¹ He that lives wantonly from a child, shall be a servant, and in the end shall grieve over himself. ²² A furious man stirs up strife, and a passionate man digs up sin. ²³ Pride brings a man low, but the Lord upholds the humble-minded with honor. ²⁴ He that shares with a thief, hates his own soul: and if any having heard an oath uttered tell not of it, ²⁵ [they] fearing and reverencing men [unreasonably] have been overthrown, but he that trusts in the Lord shall rejoice. Ungodliness causes a man to stumble: but he that trusts in his master shall be safe. ²⁶ Many wait on the favor of rulers; but justice comes to a man from the Lord. ²⁷ A righteous man is an abomination to an unrighteous man, and the direct way is an abomination to the sinner.

Proverbs 30

¹ These things says the man to them that trust in God; and I cease. ² For I am the most simple of all men, and there is not in me the wisdom of men. ³ God has taught me wisdom, and I know the knowledge of the holy. ⁴ Who has gone up to heaven, and come down? who has gathered the winds in his bosom? who has wrapped up the waters in a garment? who has dominion of all the ends of the earth? what is his name? or what is the name of his children? ⁵ For all the words of God are tried in the fire, and he defends those that reverence him. ⁶ Add not to his words, lest he reprove you, and you be made a liar. ⁷ Two things I ask of you; take not favor from me before I die. ⁸ Remove far from me vanity and falsehood: and give me not wealth [or] poverty; but appoint me what is needful and sufficient: ⁹ lest I be filled and become false, and say, Who sees me? or be poor and steal, and swear [vainly] by the name of God. ¹⁰ Deliver not a servant into the hands of his master, lest he curse you, and you be utterly destroyed. ¹¹ A wicked generation curse their father, and do not bless their mother. ¹² A wicked generation judge themselves to be just, but do not cleanse their way. ¹³ A wicked generation have lofty eyes, and exalt themselves with their eyelids. ¹⁴ A wicked generation have swords [for] teeth and jaw teeth [as] knives, so as to destroy and devour the lowly from the earth, and the poor of them from among men. ¹⁵ The horse-leech had three dearly beloved daughters: and these three did not satisfy her; and the fourth was not contented so as to say, Enough. ¹⁶ The grave, and the love of a woman, and the earth not filled with water; water also and fire will not say, It is enough. ¹⁷ The eye that laughs to scorn a father, and dishonors the old age of a mother, let the ravens of the valleys pick it out, and let the young eagles devour it. ¹⁸ Moreover there are three things impossible for me to comprehend, and the fourth I know not: ¹⁹ the track of a flying eagle; and the ways of a serpent on a rock; and the paths of a ship passing through the sea; and the ways of a man in youth. ²⁰ Such is the way of an adulterous woman, who having washed herself from what she has done, says she has done nothing amiss. ²¹ By three things the earth is troubled, and the fourth it can't bear: ²² if a servant reign; or a fool be filled with food; ²³ or if a maidservant should cast out her own mistress; and if a hateful woman should marry a good man. ²⁴ And [there are] four very little things upon the earth, but these are wiser than the wise: ²⁵ the ants which are weak, and [yet] prepare [their] food in summer; ²⁶ the rabbits also [are] a feeble race, who make their houses in the rocks. ²⁷ The locusts have no king, and [yet] march orderly at one command. ²⁸ And the eft, which supports itself by [its] hands, and is easily taken, dwells in the fortresses of kings. ²⁹ And there are three things which go well, and a fourth which passes along finely. ³⁰ A lion's whelp, stronger than [all other] beasts, which turns not away, nor fears [any] beast; ³¹ and a cock walking in boldly among the hens, and the goat leading the herd; and a king publicly speaking before a nation. ³² If you abandon yourself to mirth, and stretch forth your hand in a quarrel, you shall be disgraced. ³³ Milk out milk, and there shall be butter, and if you wing [one's] nostrils there shall come out blood: so if you extort words, there will come forth quarrels and strifes.

Proverbs 31

¹ My words have been spoken by God—the oracular answer of a king, whom his mother instructed. ² What will you keep, my son, what? the words of God. My firstborn son, I speak to you: what? son of my womb? what? son of my vows? ³ Give not your wealth to women, nor your mind and living to remorse. Do all things with counsel: drink wine with counsel. ⁴ Princes are prone to anger: let them then not drink wine: ⁵ lest they drink, and forget wisdom, and be not able to judge the poor rightly. ⁶ Give strong drink to those that are in sorrow, and the wine to drink to those in pain: ⁷ that they may forget their poverty, and may not remember their troubles any more. ⁸ Open your mouth with the word of God, and judge all fairly. ⁹ Open your mouth and judge justly, and plead the cause of the poor and weak. ¹⁰ Who shall find a virtuous woman? for such a one is more valuable than precious stones. ¹¹ The heart of her husband trusts in her: such a one shall stand in no need of fine spoils. ¹² For she employs all her living for her husband's good. ¹³ Gathering wool and flax, she makes it serviceable with her hands. ¹⁴ She is like a ship trading from a distance: so she procures her livelihood.¹⁵ And she rises by night, and gives food to her household, and [appointed] tasks to her maidens.¹⁶ She views a farm, and buys it: and with the fruit of her hands she plants a possession.¹⁷ She strongly girds her loins, and strengthens her arms for work.¹⁸ And she finds by experience that working is good; and her candle goes not out all night.¹⁹ She reaches forth her arms to needful [works], and applies her hands to the spindle.²⁰ And she opens her hands to the needy, and reaches out fruit to the poor.²¹ Her husband is not anxious about those at home when he tarries anywhere abroad: for all her household are clothed.²² She makes for her husband clothes of double texture, and garments for herself of fine linen and scarlet.²³ And her husband becomes a distinguished [person] in the gates, when he sits in council with the old inhabitants of the land.²⁴ She makes fine linens, and sells girdles to the Chananites: she opens her mouth heedfully and with propriety, and controls her tongue.²⁵ She puts on strength and honor; and rejoices in the last days.²⁶ But she opens her mouth wisely, and according to law.²⁷ The ways of her household are careful, and she eats not the bread of idleness.²⁸ And [her] kindness to them sets up her children for them, and they grow rich, and her husband praises her.²⁹ Many daughters have obtained wealth, many have wrought valiantly; but you have exceeded, you have surpassed all.³⁰ Charms are false, and woman's beauty is vain: for it is a wise woman that is blessed, and let her praise the fear the Lord.³¹ Give her of the fruit of her lips; and let her husband be praised in the gates.

Ecclesiastes Introduction

Author and Attribution. Solomon (Qoheleth) in conservative evangelical reading Authorship Basis. The speaker identifies himself as son of David, king in Jerusalem; conservative interpretation receives this as Solomonic.

Jesus / NT Attribution. The canonical self-presentation is the principal basis; conservative readers do not treat the Solomonic voice as literary fiction.

Composition Date. 10th century BC in Solomon's later life

MT Timeline. MT Ecclesiastes presents Qoheleth's reflections in the standard Hebrew form.

LXX Timeline. The LXX of Ecclesiastes is often quite literal but still participates in the broader Greek textual history of the book.

Historical Setting. A wisdom reflection on life under the sun, mortality, vanity, and the fear of God.

Purpose. To expose the vanity of life apart from God and to drive the reader to fear God and keep His commandments.

Key Themes. vanity; mortality; joy; wisdom; judgment; fear of God

Outline. Prologue 1:1-11; Qoheleth's investigations 1:12-12:7; Epilogue 12:8-14.

Earliest Witnesses. Frag. Qumran Ecclesiastes fragments survive, including 4Q109 1st century BC | Subst. Qumran fragments provide early Hebrew support for the book's text Late Second Temple period | Heb. Leningrad Codex AD 1008 | Gk. Codex Vaticanus and Alexandrinus preserve Greek Ecclesiastes 4th-5th century AD

Earliest External Attestation. Use in later Jewish and Christian wisdom reflection by Multiple (later Second Temple and early Christian periods)

Textual Notes. Ecclesiastes is comparatively stable textually, though interpretation and voice remain more debated than the text itself.

Conservative Notes. This edition receives Ecclesiastes as Solomonic wisdom and reads its realism as fully compatible with inspiration and inerrancy.

Ecclesiastes

Ecclesiastes 1

¹ The words of the Preacher, the son of David, king of Israel in Jerusalem. ² Vanity of vanities, said the Preacher, vanity of vanities; all is vanity. ³ What advantage [is there] to a man in all his labor that he takes under the sun? ⁴ A generation goes, and a generation comes: but the earth stands for ever. ⁵ And the sun arises, and the sun goes down and draws toward its place; ⁶ arising there it proceeds southward, and goes round toward the north. The wind goes round and round, and the wind returns to its circuits. ⁷ All the rivers run into the sea; and yet the sea is not filled: to the place whence the rivers come, there they return again. ⁸ All things are full of labor; a man will not be able to speak [of them]: neither shall the eye be satisfied with seeing, neither shall the ear be filled with hearing. ⁹ What is that which has been? the very thing which shall be: and what is that which has been done? the very thing which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun. ¹⁰ [Who is he] that shall speak and say, Behold, this is new? it has already been in the ages that have passed before us. ¹¹ There is no memorial to the first things; neither to the things that have been last shall their memorial be with them that shall at the last [time]. ¹² I the Preacher was king over Israel in Jerusalem. ¹³ And I applied my heart to seek out and examine by wisdom concerning all things that are done under heaven, for God has given to the sons of men an evil trouble to be troubled therewith. ¹⁴ I saw all the works that were done under the sun; and, behold, all were vanity and waywardness of spirit. ¹⁵ That which is crooked can't be made straight: and deficiency can't be numbered. ¹⁶ I spoke in my heart, saying, Behold, I am increased, and have acquired wisdom beyond all who were before me in Jerusalem: also I applied my heart to know wisdom and knowledge. ¹⁷ And my heart knew much—wisdom, and knowledge, parables and understanding: I perceived that this also is waywardness of spirit. ¹⁸ For in the abundance of wisdom is abundance of knowledge; and he that increases knowledge will increase sorrow.

T: ² Gk. vocab: mataiotēs (ματαιότης) = vanity; futility. Common English renderings: vanity. A major wisdom term for futility or emptiness.

N: ⁶ The wind This verse should be connected with the preceding, and rendered, "The sun also riseth, and the sun goeth down, and hasteth to his place where he arose; going toward the south, and turning about unto the north. The wind whirleth about continually," etc. Alluding, in the former part, to the apparent daily motion of the sun from east to west, and to his annual course through the signs of the zodiac. ⁷ the rivers run; return again Heb. return to go ¹³ I gave, ;, ; this sore, ; to be exercised or, to afflict them ¹⁶ communed; Lo; ;, great experience of Heb. seen much

¹ I said in my heart, Come now, I will prove you with mirth, and behold you good: and, behold, this is also vanity. ² I said to laughter, Madness: and to mirth, Why do you this: ³ And I examined whether my heart would excite my flesh as [with] wine, (though my heart guided [me] in wisdom,) and [I desired] to lay hold of mirth, until I should see of what kind is the good to the sons of men, which they should do under the sun all the days of their life. ⁴ I enlarged my work; I built me houses; I planted me vineyards. ⁵ I made me gardens and orchards, and planted in them every kind of fruit tree. ⁶ I made me pools of water, to water from them the timber-bearing wood. ⁷ I got servants and maidens, and servants were born to me in the house: also I had abundant possession of flocks and herds, beyond all who were before me in Jerusalem. ⁸ Moreover I collected for myself both silver and gold also, and the peculiar treasures of kings and provinces: I procured me singing men and singing women, and delights of the sons of men, a butler and female cupbearers. ⁹ So I became great, and advanced beyond all that were before in Jerusalem: also my wisdom was established to me. ¹⁰ And whatever my eyes desired, I withheld not from them, I withheld not my heart from all my mirth: for my heart rejoiced in all my labor; and this was my portion of all my labor. ¹¹ And I looked on all my works which my hands had wrought, and on my labor which I laboured to perform: and behold, all was vanity and waywardness of spirit, and there is no advantage under the sun. ¹² Then I looked on to see wisdom, and madness, and folly: for who is the man who will follow after counsel, in all things where in he employs it? ¹³ And I saw that wisdom excels folly, as much as light excels darkness. ¹⁴ The wise man's eyes are in his head; but the fool walks in darkness: and I perceived, even I, that one event shall happen to them all. ¹⁵ And I said in my heart, As the event of the fool is, so shall it be to me, even to me: and to what purpose have I gained wisdom? I said moreover in my heart, This is also vanity, because the fool speaks of his abundance. ¹⁶ For there is no remembrance of the wise man with the fool for ever;

forasmuch as now [in] the coming days all things are forgotten: and how shall the wise man die with the fool? ¹⁷ So I hated life; because the work that was wrought under the sun was evil before me: for all is vanity and waywardness of spirit. ¹⁸ And I hated the whole of my labor which I took under the sun; because I must leave it to the man who will come after me. ¹⁹ And who knows whether he will be a wise [man] or a fool? and whether he will have power over all my labor in which I laboured, and wherein I grew wise under the sun? this is also vanity. ²⁰ so I went about to dismiss from my heart all my labor wherein I had laboured under the sun. ²¹ For there is [such] a man that his labor is in wisdom, and in knowledge, and in fortitude; [yet] this man shall give his portion to one who has not laboured therein. This is also vanity and great evil. ²² For it happens to a man in all his labor, and in the purpose of his heart wherein he labors under the sun. ²³ For all his days [are days] of sorrows, and vexation of spirit is his; in the night also his heart rests not. This is also vanity. ²⁴ A man has nothing [really] good to eat, and to drink, and to show his soul [as] good in his trouble. This also I saw, that it is from the hand of God. ²⁵ For who shall eat, or who shall drink, without him? ²⁶ For [God] has given to the man who is good in his sight, wisdom, and knowledge, and joy: but he has given to the sinner trouble, to add and to heap up, that he may give to him that is good before God; for this is also vanity and waywardness of spirit.

^N: ¹ said, ; ; Go to; I will ² I said Solomon is not speaking here of sober enjoyment of the things of the world, but of intemperate pleasure, whose two attendants, laughter and mirth, are introduced by a beautiful prosopopeia, as two persons, whom he treats with the utmost contempt. It is ³ sought; give myself unto wine Heb. draw my flesh with wine yet; and to lay; till, all Heb. the number of ⁴ made; I builded; ; I planted ⁷ servants; and had servants born in my house Heb. sons of my house also ⁸ silver; ; men singers; musical instruments etc. Heb. musical instrument and instruments, ; The difficult words shiddah weshiddoth are variously rendered. The LXX have οινωχορον και οινωχας, "male and female cup-bearers," with which the Syriac and Arabic and Parkhurst agree; Aquila, κυλικον και κυλικια, "a cup and smaller cups;" Jerome, scyphos et urceolos, Vulgate urceos), "goblets and pots;" Targum, "warm and cold baths;" others, as M. Desvoeux, "male and female captives;" others, "cooks and confectioners;" others, "a species of musical compositions," derived from Sido, a celebrated Phoenician woman, to whom Sanchoniatho attributes the invention of music; but others, with more probability, "wives and concubines;" and shiddoth may be in this sense synonymous with the Arabic seedat, domina, conjux from sada, in Conj. V. conjugium inivit . Of the former, Solomon had three hundred, and of the latter, seven hundred; and if they are not mentioned here they are not mentioned at all, which is wholly unaccountable. ¹² I turned, even that which hath already been done, or, in those things which have been already done ¹³ I saw; that wisdom excelleth folly Heb. that there is an excellency in wisdom more than in folly, etc light ¹⁵ even to me Heb. to me even to me and why, ; Then I ¹⁸ I hated, taken Heb. laboured I should ²² hath man, ; and of the ²⁴ nothing, ; make his soul enjoy good or, delight his senses that it ²⁶ in his sight Heb. before him; wisdom; to the sinner time to heal; a time to pull down, and a time to build up; ⁴ a time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to lament, and a time to dance; ⁵ a time to throw stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to abstain from embracing; ⁶ a time to seek, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away; ⁷ a time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to be silent, and a time to speak; ⁸ a time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace. ⁹ What advantage [has] he that works in those things wherein he labors? ¹⁰ I have seen all the trouble, which God has given to the sons of men to be troubled with. ¹¹ All the things which he has made are beautiful in his time: he has also set the whole world in their heart, that man might not find out the work which God has wrought from the beginning even to the end. ¹² I know that there is no good in them, except [for a man] to rejoice, and to do good in his life. ¹³ Also [in the case of] every man who shall eat and drink, and see good in all his labor, [this] is a gift of God. ¹⁴ I know that whatever things God has done, they shall be for ever: it is impossible to add to it, and it is impossible to take away from it: and God has done [it], that [men] may fear before him. ¹⁵ That which has been is now; and whatever things [are appointed] to be have already been; and God will seek out that which is past. ¹⁶ And moreover I saw under the sun the place of judgment, there was the ungodly one; and the place of righteousness, there was the godly one. ¹⁷ And I said in my heart, God will judge the righteous and the ungodly: for there is a time there for every action and for every work. ¹⁸ I said in my heart, concerning the speech of the sons of man, God will judge them, and that to show that they are beasts. ¹⁹ Also to them is the event of the sons of man, and the event of the brute; one event befalls them: as is the death of the one, so also the death of the other; and there is one breath to all: and what has the man more than the brute? nothing; for all is vanity. ²⁰ All [go] to one place; all were formed of the dust, and all will return to dust. ²¹ And who has seen the spirit of the sons of man, whether it goes upward? and the spirit of the beast, whether it goes downward to the earth? ²² And I saw that there was no good, but that wherein a man shall rejoice in his works, for it is his portion, for who shall bring him to see any thing of that which shall be after him?

¹ So I returned, and saw all the oppressions that were done under the sun: and behold the tear of the oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of them that oppressed them was power; but they had no comforter: ² and I praised all the dead that had already died more than the living, as many as are alive until now. ³ Better also than both these is he who has not yet been, who has not seen all the evil work that is done under the sun. ⁴ And I saw all labor, and all the diligent work, that this is a man's envy from his neighbor. This is also vanity and waywardness of spirit. ⁵ The fool folds his hands together, and eats his own flesh. ⁶ Better is a handful of rest than two handfuls of trouble and waywardness of spirit. ⁷ So I returned, and saw vanity under the sun. ⁸ There is one [alone], and there is not a second; yes, he has neither son nor brother: yet there is no end to all his labor; neither is his eye satisfied with wealth; and for whom do I labor, and deprive my soul of good? this is also vanity, and an evil trouble. ⁹ Two [are] better than one, [seeing] they have a good reward for their labor. ¹⁰ For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe to him that is alone when he falls, and there is not a second to lift him up. ¹¹ Also if two should lie together, they also get heat: but how shall one be warmed [alone?]¹² And if one should prevail against [him], the two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord shall not be quickly broken. ¹³ Better is a poor and wise child than an old and foolish king, who knows not how to take heed any longer. ¹⁴ For he shall come forth out of the house of the prisoners to reign, because [he] also that was in his kingdom has become poor. ¹⁵ I saw all the living who were walking under the sun, with the second youth who shall stand up in each one's place. ¹⁶ There is no end to all the people, to all who were before them: and the last shall not rejoice in him: for this also is vanity and waywardness of spirit. ¹⁷ Keep your foot, whenever you go to the house of God; and [when you are] near to hear, let your sacrifice [be] better than the gift of fools: for they know not that they are doing evil.

Ecclesiastes 5

God, It was an error: lest God be angry at your voice, and destroy the works of your hands. ⁶ For [there is evil] in a multitude of dreams and vanities and many words: but fear you God. ⁷ If you should see the oppression of the poor, and the wresting of judgment and of justice in the land, wonder not at the matter: for [there is] a high one to watch over him that is high, and high ones over them. ⁸ Also the abundance of the earth is for every one: the king [is dependent on] the tilled field. ⁹ He that loves silver shall not be satisfied with silver: and who has loved gain, in the abundance thereof? this is also vanity. ¹⁰ In the multitude of good they are increased that eat it: and what virtue has the owner, but the right of beholding [it] with his eyes? ¹¹ The sleep of a servant is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but to one who is satiated with wealth, there is none that suffers him to sleep. ¹² There is an infirmity which I have seen under the sun, [namely], wealth kept for its owner to his hurt. ¹³ And that wealth shall perish in an evil trouble: and [the man] begets a son, and there is nothing in his hand. ¹⁴ As he came forth naked from his mother's womb, he shall return back as he came, and he shall receive nothing for his labor, that it should go [with him] in his hand. ¹⁵ And this is also an evil infirmity: for as he came, so also shall he return: and what is his gain, for which he vainly labors? ¹⁶ Yes, all his days are in darkness, and in mourning, and much sorrow, and infirmity, and wrath. ¹⁷ Behold, I have seen good, that it is a fine thing [for a man] to eat and to drink, and to see good in all his labor in which he may labor under the sun, [all] the number of the days of his life which God has given to him: for it is his portion. ¹⁸ Yes, and [as for] every man to whom God has given wealth and possessions, and has given him power to eat thereof, and to receive his portion, and to rejoice in his labor; this is the gift of God. ¹⁹ For he shall not much remember the days of his life; for God troubles him in the mirth of his heart.

and also he have no burial; I said, An untimely birth is better than he. ⁴ For he came in vanity, and departs in darkness, and his name shall be covered in darkness. ⁵ Moreover he has not seen the sun, nor known rest: there is [no more rest] to this one than another. ⁶ Though he has lived to the return of a thousand years, yet he has seen no good: do not all go to one place? ⁷ All the labor of a man is for his mouth, and yet the appetite shall not be satisfied. ⁸ For [what] advantage has the wise man over the fool, since [even] the poor knows how to walk in the direction of life? ⁹ The sight of the eyes is better than that which wanders in soul: this is also vanity, and waywardness of spirit. ¹⁰ If anything has been, its name has already been called: and it is known what man is; neither can he contend with him who is stronger than he. ¹¹ For there are many things which increase vanity.

¹ What advantage has a man? for who knows [what is] good for a man in his life, [during] the number of the life of the days of his vanity? and he has spent them as a shadow; for who shall tell a man what shall be after him under the sun? ² A good name is better than good oil; and the day of death than the day of birth. ³ [It is] better to go to the house of mourning, than to go to the banquet house: since this is the end of every man; and the living man will apply good [warning] to his heart. ⁴ Sorrow is better than laughter: for by the sadness of the countenance the heart will be made better. ⁵ The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth. ⁶ [It is] better to hear a reproof of a wise man, than for a man to hear the song of fools. ⁷ As the sound of thorns under a caldron, so is the laughter of fools: this is also vanity. ⁸ for oppression makes a wise man mad, and destroys his noble heart. ⁹ The end of a matter is better than the beginning thereof: the patient is better than the high-minded. ¹⁰ Be not hasty in your spirit to be angry: for anger will rest in the bosom of fools. ¹¹ Say not, What has happened, that the former days were better than these? for you do not enquire in wisdom concerning this. ¹² Wisdom is good with an inheritance: and [there is] an advantage [by it] to them that see the sun. ¹³ For wisdom in its shadow is as the shadow of silver: and the excellence of the knowledge of wisdom will give life to him that has it. ¹⁴ Behold the works of God: for who shall be able to straighten him whom God has made crooked? ¹⁵ In the day of prosperity live joyfully, and consider in the day of adversity: consider, [I say], God also has caused the one to agree with the other for [this] reason, that man should find nothing after him. ¹⁶ I have seen all things in the days of my vanity: there is a just man perishing in his justice, and there is an ungodly man remaining in his wickedness. ¹⁷ Be not very just; neither be very wise: lest you be confounded. ¹⁸ Be not very wicked; and be not stubborn: lest you should die before your time. ¹⁹ It is well for you to hold fast by this; also by this defile not your hand: for to them that fear God all things shall come forth [well]. ²⁰ Wisdom will help the wise man more than ten mighty men which are in the city. ²¹ For there is not a righteous man in the earth, who will do good, and not sin ²² Also take no heed to all the words which ungodly men shall speak; lest you hear your servant cursing you. ²³ For many times he shall trespass against you, and repeatedly shall he afflict your heart; for thus also have you cursed others. ²⁴ All these things have I proved in wisdom: I said, I will be wise; but it was far from me. ²⁵ [That which is] far beyond what was, and a great depth, who shall find it out? ²⁶ I and my heart went round about to know, and to examine, and to seek wisdom, and the account [of things], and to know the folly and trouble and madness of the ungodly man. ²⁷ And I find her [to be], and I will pronounce [to be] more bitter than death the woman which is a snare, and her heart nets, [who has] a band in her hands: [he that is] good in the sight of God shall be delivered from her; but the sinner shall be caught by her. ²⁸ Behold, this have I found, said the Preacher, [seeking] by one at a time to find out the account, ²⁹ which my soul sought after, but I found not: for I have found one man of a thousand; but a woman in all these I have not found. ³⁰ But, behold, this have I found, that God made man upright; but they have sought out many devices.

He here uses the language of a penitent, warning others of the errors into which he had been led; and not that of a waspish satirist, lashing indiscriminately one half of the human species. ²⁹ God, they The descendants of Adam have sought out an immense number of inventions, in order to find happiness in the world, without God, which have only proved so many variations of impiety and iniquity.

Ecclesiastes 8

shall not know an evil thing; and the heart of the wise knows the time of judgment. ⁶ For to every thing there is time and judgment; for the knowledge of a man is great to him. ⁷ For there is no one that knows what is going to be: for who shall tell him how it shall be? ⁸ There is no man that has power over the spirit to retain the spirit; and there is no power in the day of death: and there is no discharge in the day of the battle; neither shall ungodliness save her votary. ⁹ So I saw all this, and I applied my heart to every work that has been done under the sun; all the things wherein man has power over man to afflict him. ¹⁰ And then I saw the ungodly carried into the tombs, and [that] out of the holy place: and they departed, and were praised in the city, because they had done thus: this also is vanity. ¹¹ Because there is no contradiction made on the part of those who do evil quickly, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully determined in them to do evil. ¹² He that has sinned has done evil from that time, and long from beforehand: nevertheless I know, that it is well with them that fear God, that they may fear before him: ¹³ but it shall not be well with the ungodly, and he shall not prolong his days, [which are] as a shadow; forasmuch as he fears not before God. ¹⁴ There is a vanity which is done upon the earth; that there are righteous persons to whom it happens according to the doing of the ungodly; and there are ungodly men, to whom it happens according to the doing of the just: I said, This is also vanity. ¹⁵ Then I praised mirth, because there is no good for a man under the sun, but to eat, and drink, and be merry: and this shall attend him in his labor all the days of his life, which God has given him under the sun. ¹⁶ Whereupon I set my heart to know wisdom, and to perceive the trouble that was wrought upon the earth: for there is that neither by day nor night sees sleep with his eyes. ¹⁷ And I saw all the works of God, that a man shall not be able to discover the work which is wrought under the sun; whatever things a man shall endeavor to seek, however a man may labor to seek it, yet he shall not find it; yes, how much soever a wise man may speak of knowing it, he shall not be able to find it: for I applied all this to my heart, and my heart has seen all this.

But it may be regarded as a recommendation of a moderate use of worldly things, with a cheerful and contented mind; which may justly be considered as the greatest advantage which can be made of all below the sun, and amidst all changes, such a frame of mind, if the result of right principles, may and ought to be preserved; and it will be the recompence and solace of all our labours and toils. ¹⁶ When I Solomon here records the result of his perplexing inquiries into the affairs of men, and the purposes, providence, and works of God. And when he examined with great attention and diligence into the works of God, he found he could neither comprehend nor explain them; and was persuaded, that no application or capacity would enable a man to fathom the depth of the Divine dispensations in this lower world. How vain, then, are all cavils against Divine providence; when we can neither understand, nor comprehend it!, there is that

¹ [I saw] that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God: yes, there is no man that knows either love or hatred, [though] all are before their face. ² Vanity is in all: there is one event to the righteous, and to the wicked; to the good, and to the bad; both to the pure, and to the impure; both to him that sacrifices, and to him that sacrifice not: as is the good, so is the sinner: as is the swearer, even so is he that fears an oath. ³ There is this evil in all that is done under the sun, that there is one event to all: yes, the heart of the sons of men is filled with evil, and madness is in their heart during their life, and after that [they go] to the dead. ⁴ for who is he that has fellowship with all the living? there is hope [of him]: for a living dog is better than a dead lion. ⁵ For the living will know that they shall die: but the dead know nothing, and there is no longer any reward to them; for their memory is lost. ⁶ also their love, and their hatred, and their envy, have now perished; yes, there is no portion for them any more for ever in all that is done under the sun. ⁷ Go, eat your bread with mirth, and drink your wine with a joyful heart; for now God has favourably accepted your works. ⁸ Let your garments be always white; and let not oil be lacking on your head. ⁹ And see life with the wife whom you love all the days of the life of your vanity, which are given you under the sun: for that is your portion in your life, and in your labor wherein you labor under the sun. ¹⁰ Whatsoever your hand shall find to do, do with all your might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in Hades wither you go. ¹¹ I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor yet wealth to men of understanding, nor yet favor to men of knowledge; for time and chance will happen to them all. ¹² For surely man also knows not his time: as fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as birds that are caught in a snare; even thus the sons of men are snared at an evil time, when it falls suddenly upon them. ¹³ This I also saw [to be] wisdom under the sun, and it is great before me: ¹⁴ [suppose there were] a little city, and few men in it; and there should come against it a great king, and surround it, and build great mounds against it; ¹⁵ and should find in it a poor wise man, and he should save the city through his wisdom: yet no man would remember that poor man. ¹⁶ And I said Wisdom is better than power: yet the wisdom of the poor man is set at nothing, and his words not listened to. ¹⁷ The words of the wise are heard in quiet more than the cry of them that rule in folly. ¹⁸ Wisdom is better than weapons of war: and one sinner will destroy much good.

Ecclesiastes 10

¹ Pestilent flies will corrupt a preparation of sweet ointment: [and] a little wisdom is more precious than great glory of folly. ² A wise man's heart is at his right hand; but a fool's heart at his left. ³ Yes, and whenever a fool walks by the way, his heart will fail him, and all that he thinks of is folly. ⁴ If the spirit of the ruler rise up against you, leave not your place; for soothing will put an end to great offenses. ⁵ There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, wherein an error has proceeded from the ruler. ⁶ The fool has been set in very high places, while rich men would sit in a low one. ⁷ I have seen servants upon horses, and princes walking as servants on the earth. ⁸ He that digs a pit shall fall into it; and him that breaks down a hedge a serpent shall bite. ⁹ He that removes stones shall be troubled thereby; he that cleaves wood shall be endangered thereby. ¹⁰ If the axe-head should fall off, then the man troubles his countenance, and he must put forth more strength: and [in that case] skill is of no advantage to a man. ¹¹ If a serpent bite when there is no [charmer's] whisper, then there is no advantage to the charmer. ¹² The words of a wise mouth are gracious: but the lips of a fool will swallow him up. ¹³ The beginning of the words of his mouth is folly: and the end of his talk mischievous madness. ¹⁴ A fool moreover multiplies words: man knows not what has been, nor what will be: who shall tell him what will come after him? ¹⁵ The labor of fools will afflict them, [as that of one] who knows not to go to the city. ¹⁶ Woe to you, O city, whose king is young, and your princes eat in the morning! ¹⁷ Blessed are you, O land, whose king is a son of nobles, and whose princes shall eat seasonably, for strength, and shall not be ashamed. ¹⁸ By slothful neglect a building will be brought low: and by idleness of the hands the house will fall to pieces. ¹⁹ Men prepare bread for laughter, and wine and oil that the living should rejoice: but to money all things will humbly yield obedience. ²⁰ Even in your conscience, curse not the king; and curse not the rich in your bedchamber: for a bird of the air shall carry your voice, and that which has wings shall report your speech.

¹ Send forth your bread upon the face of the water: for you shall find it after many days. ² Give a portion to seven, and also to eight; for you know not what evil there shall be upon the earth. ³ If the clouds be filled with rain, they pour [it] out upon the earth: and if a tree fall southward, or if it fall northward, in the place where the tree shall fall, there it shall be. ⁴ He that observes the wind sows not; and he that looks at the clouds will not reap. ⁵ Among whom none knows what is the way of the wind: as the bones [are hid] in the womb of a pregnant [woman], so you shall not know the works of God, [even] all things whatever he shall do. ⁶ In the morning sow your seed, and in the evening let not your hand be slack: for you know not what sort shall prosper, whether this or that, or whether both shall be good alike. ⁷ Moreover the light is sweet, and it is good for the eyes to see the sun. ⁸ For even if a man should live many years, [and] rejoice in them all; yet let him remember the days of darkness; for they shall be many. All that comes is vanity. ⁹ Rejoice, O young man, in your youth; and let your heart cheer you in the days of your youth, and walk in the ways of your heart blameless, but not in the sight of your eyes: yet know that for all these things God will bring you into judgment. ¹⁰ Therefore remove sorrow from your heart, and put away evil from your flesh: for youth and folly are vanity.

N: ¹ Cast That is, says Bp. Lowth, "Sow thy seed or corn on the face of the waters;" in plain terms, sow without any hope of a harvest. Do good even to them on whom your benefactions seem thrown away. Dr. Jebb has well illustrated it by the following passages: "Vain are the favours done to vicious men; Not vainer 'tis to sow the foaming deep. The deep no pleasant harvest shall afford, Nor will the wicked ever make return. "To befriend the wicked is like sowing in the sea. These, indeed, invert this precept: Nor is it extraordinary that they should. ¹ And remember your Creator in the days of your youth, before the days of evil come, and the years overtake [you] in which you shall say, I have no pleasure in them. ² While the sun and light are not darkened, nor the moon and the stars; nor the clouds return after the rain: ³ in the day wherein the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the mighty men shall become bent, and the grinding [women] cease because they have become few, and the [women] looking out at the windows be dark; ⁴ and they shall shut the doors in the marketplace, because of the weakness of the voice of her that grinds [at the mill]; and he shall rise up at the voice of the sparrow, and all the daughters of song shall be brought low; ⁵ and they shall look up, and fears [shall be] in the way, and the almond tree shall blossom, and the locust shall increase, and the caper shall be scattered: because man has gone to his eternal home, and the mourners have gone about the market: ⁶ before the silver cord be [let go], or the choice gold be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel run down to the cistern; ⁷ [before] the dust also return to the earth as it was, and the spirit return to God who gave it. ⁸ Vanity of vanities, said the Preacher; all is vanity. ⁹ And because the Preacher was wise above [others, so it was] that he taught man excellent knowledge, and the ear will trace out the parables. ¹⁰ The Preacher sought diligently to find out acceptable words, and a correct writing, [even] words of truth. ¹¹ The words of the wise are as goads, and as nails firmly fastened, which have been given from one shepherd by agreement. ¹² And moreover, my son, guard yourself by means of them: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh. ¹³ Hear the end of the matter, the sun: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole man. ¹⁴ For God will bring every work into judgment, with everything that has been overlooked, whether [it be] good, or whether [it be] evil.

Song of Songs

Song of Songs 1

¹ The Song of songs, which is Solomon's. ² Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth: for your breasts are better than wine. ³ And the smell of your ointments is better than all spices: your name is ointment poured forth; therefore do the young maidens love you. ⁴ They have drawn you: we will run after you, for the smell of your ointments: the king has brought me into closet: let us rejoice and be glad in you; we will love your breasts more than wine: righteousness loves you. ⁵ I am black, but beautiful, you daughters of Jerusalem, as the tents of Kedar, as the curtains of Solomon. ⁶ Look not upon me, because I am dark, because the sun has looked unfavourably upon me: my mother's sons strove with me; they made me keeper in the vineyards; I have not kept my own vineyard. ⁷ Tell me, [you] whom my soul loves, where you tend your flock, where you cause [them] to rest at noon, lest I become as one that is veiled by the flocks of your companions. ⁸ If you know not yourself, you fair one among women, go you forth by the footsteps of the flocks, and feed your kids by the shepherd's tents. ⁹ I have likened you, my companion, to my horses in the chariots of Pharaoh. ¹⁰ How are your cheeks beautiful as [those] of a dove, your neck as chains! ¹¹ We will make you figures of gold with studs of silver. ¹² So long as the king was at table, my spikenard gave forth its smell. ¹³ My kinsman is to me a bundle of myrrh; he shall lie between my breasts. ¹⁴ My kinsman is to me a cluster of camphor in the vineyards of Engaddi. ¹⁵ Behold, you are fair, my companion; behold, you are fair; your eyes are doves. ¹⁶ Behold, you are fair, my kinsman, yes, beautiful, overshadowing our bed. ¹⁷ The beams of our house are cedars, our ceilings are of cypress.

¹ I am a flower of the plain, a lily of the valleys. ² As a lily among thorns, so is my companion among the daughters. ³ As the apple among the trees of the wood, so is my kinsman among the sons. I desired his shadow, and sat down, and his fruit was sweet in my throat. ⁴ Bring me into the wine house; set love before me. ⁵ Strengthen me with perfumes, stay me with apples: for I [am] wounded with love. ⁶ His left [hand shall be] under my head, and his right hand shall embrace me. ⁷ I have charged you, you □ daughters of Jerusalem, by the powers and by the virtues of the field, that you □ do not rouse or wake [my] love, until he please. ⁸ The voice of my kinsman! behold, he comes leaping over the mountains, bounding over the hills. ⁹ My kinsman is like a roe or a young hart on the mountains of Baethel: behold, he is behind our wall, looking through the windows, peeping through the lattices. ¹⁰ My kinsman answers, and says to me, Rise up, come, my companion, my fair one, my dove. ¹¹ For, behold, the winter is past, the rain is gone, it has departed. ¹² The flowers are seen in the land; the time of pruning has arrived; the voice of the turtle-dove has been heard in our land. ¹³ The fig tree has put forth its young figs, the vines put forth the tender grape, they yield a smell: arise, come, my companion, my fair one, my dove; yes, come. ¹⁴ [You are] my dove, in the shelter of the rock, near the wall: show me your face, and cause me to hear your voice; for your voice is sweet, and your countenance is beautiful. ¹⁵ Take us the little foxes that spoil the vines: for our vines put forth tender grapes. ¹⁶ My kinsman is mine, and I am his: he feeds [his flock] among the lilies. ¹⁷ Until the day dawn, and the shadows depart, turn, my kinsman, be you like to a roe or young hart on the mountains of the ravines.

Song of Songs 3

¹ By night on my bed I sought him whom my soul loves: I sought him, but found him not; I called him, but he listened not to me. ² I will rise now, and go about in the city, in the marketplaces, and in the streets, and I will seek him whom my soul loves: I sought him, but I found him not. ³ The watchmen who go their rounds in the city found me. [I said], Have you□ seen him whom my soul loves? ⁴ [It was] as a little [while] after I parted from them, that I found him whom my soul loves: I held him, and did not let him go, until I brought him into my mother's house, and into the chamber of her that conceived me. ⁵ I have charged you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the powers and by the virtues of the field, that you□ rouse not nor awake [my] love, until he please. ⁶ Who is this that comes up from the wilderness as pillars of smoke, perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, with all powders of the perfumer? ⁷ Behold Solomon's bed; sixty mighty men of the mighty ones of Israel are round about it. ⁸ They all hold a sword, being expert in war: every man [has] his sword upon his thigh because of fear by night. ⁹ King Solomon made himself a litter of woods of Lebanon. ¹⁰ He made the pillars of it silver, the bottom of it gold, the covering of it scarlet, in the midst of it a pavement of love, for the daughters of Jerusalem. ¹¹ Go forth, you□ daughters of Sion, and behold king Solomon, with the crown wherewith his mother crowned him, in the day of his espousals, and in the day of the gladness of his heart.

are as two twin fawns, that feed among the lilies. ⁶ Until the day dawn, and the shadows depart, I will betake me to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense. ⁷ You are all fair, my companion, and there is no spot in you. ⁸ Come from Libanus, [my] bride, come from Libanus: you shall come and pass from the top of Faith, from the top of Sanir and Hermon, from the lions' dens, from the mountains of the leopards. ⁹ My sister, [my] spouse, you have ravished my heart; you have ravished my heart with one of your eyes, with one chain of your neck. ¹⁰ How beautiful are your breasts, my sister, my spouse! how much more beautiful are your breasts than wine, and the smell of your garments than all spices! ¹¹ Your lips drop honeycomb, my spouse: honey and milk are under your tongue; and the smell of your garments is as the smell of Libanus. ¹² My sister, [my] spouse is a garden enclosed; a garden enclosed, a fountain sealed. ¹³ Your shoots are a garden of pomegranates, with the fruit of choice berries; camphor, with spikenard: ¹⁴ spikenard and saffron, calamus and cinnamon; with all woods of Libanus, myrrh, aloes, with all chief spices: ¹⁵ a fountain of a garden, and a well of water springing and gurgling from Libanus. ¹⁶ Awake, O north wind; and come, O south; and blow through my garden, and let my spices flow out.

kinsman [more] than [another] kinsman, that you have so charged us? ¹⁰ My kinsman is white and ruddy, chosen out from myriads. ¹¹ His head is [as] very fine gold, his locks are flowing, black as a raven. ¹² His eyes are as doves, by the pools of waters, washed with milk, sitting by the pools. ¹³ His cheeks are as bowls of spices pouring forth perfumes: his lips are lilies, dropping choice myrrh. ¹⁴ His hands are as turned gold set with beryl: his belly is an ivory tablet on a sapphire stone. ¹⁵ His legs are marble pillars set on golden sockets: his form is as Libanus, choice as the cedars. ¹⁶ His throat is most sweet, and altogether desirable. This is my kinsman, and this is my companion, O daughters of Jerusalem. ¹⁷ Whither is your kinsman gone, you beautiful among women? whither has your kinsman turned aside? [tell us], and we will seek him with you.

¹ Your steps are beautiful in shoes, O daughter of the prince: the joints of [your] thighs are like chains, the work of the craftsman. ² Your navel is [as] a turned bowl, not lacking liquor; your belly is [as] a heap of wheat set about with lilies. ³ Your two breasts are as two twin fawns. ⁴ Your neck is as an ivory tower; your eyes are as pools in Esebon, by the gates of the daughter of many: your nose is as the tower of Libanus, looking toward Damascus. ⁵ Your head upon you is as Carmel, and the curls of your hair like scarlet; the king is bound in the galleries. ⁶ How beautiful are you, and how sweet are you, [my] love! ⁷ This is your greatness in your delights: you were made like a palm tree, and your breasts to cluster. ⁸ I said, I will go up to the palm tree, I will take hold of its high boughs: and now shall your breasts be as clusters of the vine, and the smell of your nose of apples; ⁹ and your throat as good wine, going well with my kinsman, suiting my lips and teeth. ¹⁰ I am my kinsman's, and his desire is toward me. ¹¹ Come, my kinsman, let us go forth into the field; let us lodge in the villages. ¹² Let us go early into the vineyards; let us see if the vine has flowered, [if] the blossoms have appeared, if the pomegranates have blossomed; there will I give you my breasts. ¹³ The mandrakes have given a smell, and at our doors [are] all kinds of choice fruits, new and old. O my kinsman, I have kept [them] for you.

¹ I would that you, O my kinsman, were he that sucked the breasts of my mother; when I found you without, I would kiss you; yes, they should not despise me. ² I would take you, I would bring you into my mother's house, and into the chamber of her that conceived me; I would make you to drink of spiced wine, of the juice of my pomegranates. ³ His left hand [should be] under my head, and his right hand should embrace me. ⁴ I have charged you, you daughters of Jerusalem, by the virtues of the field, that you $\square$ stir not up, nor awake [my] love, until he please. ⁵ Who is this that comes up all white, leaning on her kinsman? I raised you up under an apple tree; there your mother brought you forth; there she that bore you brought you forth. ⁶ Set me as a seal upon your heart, as a seal upon your arm; for love is strong as death; jealousy is cruel as the grave, her shafts are shafts of fire, [even] the flames thereof. ⁷ Much water will not be able to quench love, and rivers shall not drown it; if a man would give all his substance for love, [men] would utterly despise it. ⁸ Our sister is little, and has no breasts; what shall we do for our sister, in the day wherein she shall be spoken for? ⁹ If she is a wall, let us build upon her silver bulwarks; and if she is a door, let us carve for her cedar panels. ¹⁰ I am a wall, and my breasts are as towers; I was in their eyes as one that found peace. ¹¹ Solomon had a vineyard in Beelamon; he let his vineyard to keepers; every one was to bring for its fruit a thousand [pieces] of silver. ¹² My vineyard, even mine, is before me; Solomon [shall have] a thousand, and they that keep its fruit two hundred. ¹³ You that dwell in the gardens, the companions listen to your voice: make me hear [it]. ¹⁴ Away, my kinsman, and be like a doe or a fawn on the mountains of spices.

Isaiah Introduction

Author and Attribution. Isaiah son of Amoz

Authorship Basis. The book repeatedly names Isaiah son of Amoz, and conservative scholarship receives the whole canonical book as Isaianic prophecy.

Jesus / NT Attribution. John 12:38-41 cites both Isaiah 53 and Isaiah 6 as Isaiah; Matthew 13:14; Acts 28:25; Romans 10:16,20 all treat Isaiah as the prophet speaking these words.

Composition Date. 8th century BC

MT Timeline. ca. 740-680 BC

LXX Timeline. MT chronology places Isaiah in the reigns of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah.

Historical Setting. The LXX preserves the same prophetic horizon, though Isaiah is one of the major books where Greek renderings can significantly shape later quotation and interpretation.

Purpose. Judah in the Assyrian crisis, with prophecy reaching far beyond to exile, restoration, and Messiah.

Key Themes. To announce the Holy One's judgment on sin and His salvation through the coming Servant-King.

Outline. holiness; judgment; remnant; Messiah; servant; Zion; new creation

Earliest Witnesses. Frag. Oracles of judgment and hope 1-39; Comfort and redemption 40-55; Restoration and consummation 56-66. 1Q Isaiah a, the Great Isaiah Scroll | Subst. 2nd century BC 1Q Isaiah a is an almost complete early Hebrew witness; 1Q Isaiah b and others also survive | Heb. 2nd-1st centuries BC Leningrad Codex | Gk. AD 1008 Codex Vaticanus and Alexandrinus preserve Greek Isaiah

Earliest External Attestation. 4th-5th century AD by Extensive use in later Jewish literature and the NT (Multiple)

Textual Notes. 2nd century BC onward

Conservative Notes. Isaiah is a premier book for MT/LXX and NT quotation study because both traditions are richly attested and frequently cited.

Esaiias

¹ The vision which Esaiias the son of Amos saw, which he saw against Juda, and against Jerusalem, in the reign of Ozias, and Joatham, and Achaz, and Ezekias, who reigned over Judea. ² Hear, O heaven, and listen, O earth: for the Lord has spoken, [saying], I have begotten and reared up children, but they have rebelled against me. ³ The ox knows his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Israel does not know me, and the people has not regarded me. ⁴ Ah sinful nation, a people full of sins, an evil seed, lawless children: you have forsaken the Lord, and provoked the Holy One of Israel. ⁵ Why should you be struck [any] more, transgressing more and more? the whole head is pained, and the whole heart sad. ⁶ From the feet to the head, there is no soundness in them; neither wound, nor bruise, nor festering ulcer [are healed]: it is not possible to apply a plaister; nor oil, nor bandages. ⁷ Your land is desolate, your cities burned with fire: your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is made desolate, overthrown by strange nations. ⁸ The daughter of Sion shall be deserted as a tent in a vineyard, and as a storehouse of fruits in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city. ⁹ And if the Lord of Sabaoth had not left us a seed, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been made like Gomorrha. ¹⁰ Hear the word of the Lord, you ☐ rulers of Sodoma; attend to the law of God, you people of Gomorrha. ¹¹ Of what [value] to me is the abundance of your sacrifices? says the Lord: I am full of whole burnt offerings of rams; and I delight not in the fat of lambs, and the blood of bulls and goats: ¹² neither shall you ☐ come [with these] to appear before me; for who has required these things at your hands? You ☐ shall no more tread my court. ¹³ Though you ☐ bring fine flour, [it is] vain; incense is an abomination to me; I can't bear your new moons, and your sabbaths, and the great day; ¹⁴ [your] fasting, and rest from work, your new moons also, and your feasts my soul hates: you ☐ have become loathsome to me; I will no more pardon your sins. ¹⁵ When you ☐ stretch forth your hands, I will turn away my eyes from you: and though you ☐ make many supplications, I will not listen to you; for your hands are full of blood. ¹⁶ Wash you, be clean; remove your iniquities from your souls before my eyes; cease from your iniquities; ¹⁷ learn to do well; diligently seek judgment, deliver him that is suffering wrong, plead for the orphan, and obtain justice for the widow. ¹⁸ And come, let us reason together, says the Lord: and though your sins be as purple, I will make them white as snow; and though they be as scarlet, I will make [them] white as wool. ¹⁹ And if you ☐ be willing, and listen to me, you ☐ shall eat the good of the land: ²⁰ but if you ☐ be not willing, nor listen to me, a sword shall devour you: for the mouth of the Lord has spoken this. ²¹ How has the faithful city Sion, [once] full of judgment, become a harlot! wherein righteousness lodged, but now murderers. ²² Your silver is worthless, your wine merchants mix the wine with water. ²³ Your princes are rebellious, companions of thieves, loving bribes, seeking after rewards; not pleading for orphans, and not heeding the cause of widows. ²⁴ Therefore thus says the Lord, the Lord of hosts, Woe to the mighty [men] of Israel; for my wrath shall not cease against my adversaries, and I will execute judgment on my enemies. ²⁵ And I will bring my hand upon you, and purge you completely, and I will destroy the rebellious, and will take away from you all transgressors. ²⁶ And I will establish your judges as before, and your counselors as at the beginning: and afterward you shall be called the city of righteousness, the faithful mother-city of Sion. ²⁷ For her captives shall be saved with judgment, and with mercy. ²⁸ And the transgressors and the sinners shall be crushed together, and they that forsake the Lord shall be utterly consumed. ²⁹ For they shall be ashamed of their idols, which they delighted in, and they are made ashamed of the gardens which they coveted. ³⁰ For they shall be as a turpentine tree that has cast its leaves, and as a garden that has no water. ³¹ And their strength shall be as a thread of tow, and their works as sparks, and the transgressors and the sinners shall be burnt up together, and there shall be none to quench [them].

² For in the last days the mountain of the Lord shall be glorious, and the house of God [shall be] on the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall come to it. ³ And many nations shall go and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will tell us his way, and we will walk in it: for out of Sion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord out of Jerusalem. ⁴ And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into sickles: and nation shall not take up sword against nation, neither shall they learn to war any more. ⁵ And now, O house of Jacob, come, [and] let us walk in the light of the Lord. ⁶ For he has forsaken his people the house of Israel, because their land is filled as at the beginning with divinations, as the [land] of the Philistines, and many strange children were born to them. ⁷ For their land is filled with silver and gold, and there was no number of their treasures; their land also is filled with horses, and there was no number of chariots. ⁸ And the land is filled with abominations, [even] the works of their hands; and they have worshipped [the works] which their fingers made. ⁹ And the mean man bowed down, and the great man was humbled: and I will not pardon them. ¹⁰ Now therefore enter you ☐ into the rocks, and hide yourselves in the earth, for fear of the Lord, and by reason of the glory of his might, when he shall arise to strike terribly the earth. ¹¹ For the eyes of the Lord are high, but man is low; and the haughtiness of men shall be brought low, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. ¹² For the day of the Lord of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and haughty, and upon every one that is high and towering, and they shall be brought down; ¹³ and upon every cedar of Libanus, of them that are high and towering, and upon every oak of Basan, ¹⁴ and upon every high mountain, and upon every high hill, ¹⁵ and upon every high tower, and upon every high wall, ¹⁶ and upon every ship of the sea, and upon every display of fine ships. ¹⁷ And every man shall be brought low, and the pride of men shall fall: and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. ¹⁸ And they shall hide all [idols] made with hands, ¹⁹ having carried [them] into the caves, and into the clefts of the rocks, and into the caverns of the earth, for fear of the Lord, and by reason of the glory of his might, when he shall arise to strike terribly the earth. ²⁰ For in that day a man shall cast forth his silver and gold abominations, which they made [in order] to worship vanities and bats; ²¹ to enter into the caverns of the solid rock, and into the clefts of the rocks, for fear of the Lord, and by reason of the glory of his might, when he shall arise to strike terribly the earth.

¹ Behold now, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, will take away from Jerusalem and from Judea the mighty man and mighty woman, the strength of bread, and the strength of water; ² the great and mighty man, the warrior and the judge, and the prophet, and the counsellor, and the elder; ³ the captain of fifty also, and the honorable counsellor, and the wise artificer, and the intelligent hearer. ⁴ And I will make youths their princes, and mockers shall have dominion over them. ⁵ And the people shall fall, man upon man, and [every] man upon his neighbor: the child shall insult the elder man, and the base the honorable. ⁶ For a man shall lay hold of his brother, as one of his father's household, saying, You have raiment, be you our ruler, and let my meat be under you. ⁷ And he shall answer in that day, and say, I will not be your ruler; for I have no bread in my house, nor raiment: I will not be the ruler of this people. ⁸ For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judea has fallen, and their tongues [have spoken] with iniquity, disobedient [as they are] towards the Lord. ⁹ Therefore now their glory has been brought low, and the shame of their countenance has withstood them, and they have proclaimed their sin as Sodom, and made it manifest. ¹⁰ Woe to their soul, for they have devised an evil counsel against themselves, saying against themselves, Let us bind the just, for he is burdensome to us: therefore shall they eat the fruits of their works. ¹¹ Woe to the transgressor! evils shall happen to him according to the works of his hands. ¹² O my people, your exactors strip you, and extortioners rule over you: O my people, they that pronounce you blessed lead you astray, and pervert the path of your feet. ¹³ But now the Lord will stand up for judgment, and will enter into judgment with his people. ¹⁴ The Lord himself shall enter into judgment with the elders of the people, and with their rulers: but why have you ☐ set my vineyard on fire, and [why is] the spoil of the poor in your houses? ¹⁵ Why do you ☐ wrong my people, and shame the face of the poor? ¹⁶ Thus says the Lord, Because the daughters of Sion are haughty, and have walked with an outstretched neck, and with winking of the eyes, and motion of the feet, at the same time drawing their garments in trains, and at the same time sporting with their feet: ¹⁷ therefore the Lord will humble the chief daughters of Sion, and the Lord will expose their form in that day; ¹⁸ and the Lord will take away the glory of their raiment, the curls and the fringes, and the crescents, ¹⁹ and the chains, and the ornaments of their faces, ²⁰ and the array of glorious ornaments, and the armlets, and the bracelets, and the wreathed work, and the finger-rings, and the ornaments for the right hand, ²¹ and the ear-rings, and the garments with scarlet borders, and the garments with purple grounds, and the shawls to be worn in the house, and the Spartan transparent dresses, and those made of fine linen, and the purple [ones], and the scarlet [ones], and the fine linen, interwoven with gold and purple, and the light coverings for couches. ²² And there shall be instead of a sweet smell, dust; and instead of a girdle, you shall gird yourself with a rope; and instead of a golden ornament for the head, you shall have baldness on account of your works; and instead of a tunic with a scarlet ground, you shall gird yourself with sackcloth. ²³ And your most beautiful son whom you love shall fall by the sword; and your mighty men shall fall by the sword, and shall be brought low. ²⁴ And the stores of your ornaments shall mourn, and you shall be left alone, and shall be levelled with the ground.

for they rejected the law of the Lord of hosts, and insulted the word of the Holy One of Israel.²⁵ Therefore the Lord of hosts was greatly angered against his people, and he reached forth his hand upon them, and struck them: and the mountains were troubled, and their carcasses were as dung in the midst of the way: yet for all this his anger has not been turned away, but his hand is yet raised.²⁶ Therefore shall he lift up a signal to the nations that are afar, and shall hiss for them from the end of the earth; and, behold, they are coming very quickly.²⁷ They shall not hunger nor be weary, neither shall they slumber nor sleep; neither shall they loose their girdles from their loins, neither shall their shoe-latchets be broken.²⁸ Whose arrows are sharp, and their bows bent; their horses' hoofs are counted as solid rock: their chariot-wheels are as a storm.²⁹ They rage as lions, and draw near as a lion's whelps: and he shall seize, and roar as a wild beast, and he shall cast [them] forth, and there shall be none to deliver them.³⁰ And he shall roar on account of them in that day, as the sound of the swelling sea; and they shall look to the land, and, behold, [there shall be] thick darkness in their perplexity.

¹ And it came to pass in the year in which king Ozias died, [that] I saw the Lord sitting on a high and exalted throne, and the house was full of his glory. ² And seraphs stood round about him: each one had six wings: and with two they covered [their] face, and with two they covered [their] feet, and with two they flew. ³ And one cried to the other, and they said, Holy, holy, holy [is the] Lord of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory. ⁴ And the lintel shook at the voice they uttered, and the house was filled with smoke. ⁵ And I said, Woe is me, for I am pricked to the heart; for being a man, and having unclean lips, I dwell in the midst of a people having unclean lips; and I have seen with my eyes the King, the Lord of hosts. ⁶ And there was sent to me one of the seraphs, and he had in his hand a coal, which he had taken off the altar with the tongs: ⁷ and he touched my mouth, and said, Behold, this has touched your lips, and will take away your iniquities, and will purge off your sins. ⁸ And I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go to this people? And I said, behold, I am [here], send me. And he said, Go, and say to this people, ⁹ You□ shall hear indeed, but you□ shall not understand; and you□ shall see indeed, but you□ shall not perceive. ¹⁰ For the heart of this people has become gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them. ¹¹ And I said, How long, O Lord? And he said, Until cities be deserted by reason of their not being inhabited, and the houses by reason of there being no men, and the land shall be left desolate. ¹² And after this God shall remove the men far off, and they that are left upon the land shall be multiplied. ¹³ And yet there shall be a tenth upon it, and again it shall be for a spoil, as a turpentine tree, and as an acorn when it falls out of its husk.

Esaias 7

¹ And it came to pass in the days of Achaz [the son] of Joatham, the son of Ozias, king of Juda, there came up Rasim king of Aram, and Phakee son of Romelias, king of Israel, against Jerusalem to war against it, but they could not take it. ² And a message was brought to the house of David, saying, Aram has conspired with Ephraim. And his soul was amazed, and the soul of his people, as in a wood a tree is moved by the wind. ³ And the Lord said to Esaias, Go forth to meet Achaz, you, and your son Jasub who is left, to the pool of the upper way of the fuller's field. ⁴ And you shall say to him, Take care to be quiet, and fear not, neither let your soul be disheartened because of these two smoking firebrands; for when my fierce anger is over, I will heal again. ⁵ And [as for] the son of Aram, and the son of Romelias, forasmuch as they have devised an evil counsel, [saying], ⁶ We will go up against Judea, and having conferred with them we will turn them away to our side, and we will make the son of Tabeel king of it; ⁷ thus says the Lord of hosts, This counsel shall not abide, nor come to pass. ⁸ But the head of Aram is Damascus, and the head of Damascus, Rasim; and yet within sixty and five years the kingdom of Ephraim shall cease from [being] a people. ⁹ And the head of Ephraim is Somoron, and the head of Somoron the son of Romelias: but if you ☐ believe not, neither will you ☐ at all understand. ¹⁰ And the Lord again spoke to Achaz, saying, ¹¹ Ask for yourself a sign of the Lord your God, in the depth or in the height. ¹² And Achaz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the Lord. ¹³ And he said, Hear you ☐ now, O house of David; is it a little thing for you to contend with men? and how do you ☐ contend against the Lord? ¹⁴ Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; behold, a virgin shall conceive in the womb, and shall bring forth a son, and you shall call his name Emmanuel. ¹⁵ Butter and honey shall he eat, before he knows either to prefer evil [or] choose the good. ¹⁶ For before the child shall know good or evil, he refuses evil, to choose the good; and the land shall be forsaken which you are afraid of because of the two kings. ¹⁷ But God shall bring upon you, and upon your people, and upon the house of your father, days which have never come, from the day that Ephraim took away from Juda the king of the Assyrians. ¹⁸ And it shall come to pass in that day that the Lord shall hiss for the flies, which [insect] shall rule over a part of the river of Egypt, and for the bee which is in the land of the Assyrians. ¹⁹ And they all shall enter into the clefts of the land, and into the holes of the rocks, and into the caves, and into every ravine. ²⁰ In that day the Lord shall shave with the hired razor of the king of Assyria beyond the river the head, and the hairs of the feet, and will remove the beard. ²¹ And it shall come to pass in that day, [that] a man shall rear a heifer, and two sheep. ²² And it shall come to pass from their drinking an abundance of milk, [that] every one that is left on the land shall eat butter and honey. ²³ And it shall come to pass in that day, [for] every place where there shall be a thousand vines at a thousand shekels, they shall become barren land and thorns. ²⁴ [Men] shall enter there with arrow and bow; for all the land shall be [barren] ground and thorns. ²⁵ And every mountain shall be certainly plowed: there shall no fear come there: for there shall be from [among] the [barren] ground and thorns that whereon cattle shall feed and oxen shall tread.

Esaias 8

¹ Drink this first. Act quickly, O land of Zabulon, land of Nephthalim, and the rest [inhabiting] the sea-coast, and [the land] beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles. ² O people walking in darkness, behold a great light: you ☐ that dwell in the region [and] shadow of death, a light shall shine upon you. ³ The multitude of the people which you have brought down in your joy, they shall even rejoice before you as they that rejoice in harvest, and as they that divide the spoil. ⁴ Because the yoke that was laid upon them has been taken away, and the rod that was on their neck: for he has broken the rod of the exactors, as in the day of Madiam. ⁵ For they shall compensate for every garment that has been acquired by deceit, and [all] raiment with restitution; and they shall be willing, [even] if they were burnt with fire. ⁶ For a child is born to us, and a son is given to us, whose government is upon his shoulder: and his name is called the Messenger of great counsel: for I will bring peace upon the princes, and health to him. ⁷ His government shall be great, and of his peace there is no end: [it shall be] upon the throne of David, and [upon] his kingdom, to establish it, and to support [it] with judgment and with righteousness, from henceforth and forever. The seal of the Lord of hosts shall perform this. ⁸ The Lord has sent death upon Jacob, and it has come upon Israel. ⁹ And all the people of Ephraim, and they that lived in Samaria shall know, who say in their pride and lofty heart, ¹⁰ The bricks are fallen down, but come, let us hew stones, and cut down sycamores and cedars, and let us build for ourselves a tower. ¹¹ And God shall dash down them that rise up against him on mount Sion, and shall scatter his enemies; ¹² [even] Syria from the rising of the sun, and the Greeks from the setting of the sun, who devour Israel with open mouth. For all this [his] anger is not turned away, but still [his] hand is exalted. ¹³ But the people turned not until they were struck, and they sought not the Lord. ¹⁴ So the Lord took away from Israel the head and tail, great and small, in one day: ¹⁵ the old man, and them that respect persons, this is the head; and the prophet teaching unlawful things, he is the tail. ¹⁶ And they that pronounce this people blessed shall mislead them; and they mislead them that they may devour them. ¹⁷ Therefore the Lord shall not take pleasure in their young men, neither shall he have pity on their orphans or on their widows: for they are all transgressors and wicked, and every mouth speaks unjustly. For all this [his] anger is not turned away, but [his] hand is yet exalted. ¹⁸ And iniquity shall burn as fire, and shall be devoured by fire as dry grass: and it shall burn in the thickets of the wood, and shall devour all that is round about the hills. ¹⁹ The whole earth is set on fire because of the fierce anger of the Lord, and the people shall be as men burnt by fire: no man shall pity his brother. ²⁰ But [one] shall turn aside to the right hand, for he shall be hungry; and shall eat on the left, and a man shall by no means be satisfied with eating the flesh of his own arm. ²¹ For Manasses shall eat [the flesh] of Ephraim, and Ephraim [the flesh] of Manasses; for they shall besiege Juda together. For all this [his] anger is not turned away, but [his] hand is yet exalted.

destroy nations not a few.⁸ And if they should say to him, You alone are ruler;⁹ then shall he say, Have I not taken the country above Babylon and Chalanes, where the tower was built? and have I [not] taken Arabia, and Damascus, and Samaria?¹⁰ As I have taken them, I will also take all the kingdoms: howl, you □ idols in Jerusalem, and in Samaria.¹¹ For as I did to Samaria and her idols, so will I do also to Jerusalem and her idols.¹² And it shall come to pass, when the Lord shall have finished doing all things on Mount Sion and Jerusalem, [that] I will visit upon the proud heart, [even] upon the ruler of the Assyrians, and upon the boastful haughtiness of his eyes.¹³ For he said, I will act in strength, and in the wisdom of [my] understanding I will remove the boundaries of nations, and will spoil their strength.¹⁴ And I will shake the inhabited cities: and I will take with my hand all the world as a nest: and I will even take them as eggs that have been left; and there is none that shall escape me, or contradict me.¹⁵ Shall the axe glorify itself without him that hews with it? or shall the saw lift up itself without him that uses it, as if one should lift a rod or staff? but it shall not be so;¹⁶ but the Lord of hosts shall send dishonor upon your honor, and burning fire shall be kindled upon your glory.¹⁷ And the light of Israel shall be for a fire, and he shall sanctify him with burning fire, and it shall devour the wood as grass.¹⁸ In that day the mountains shall be consumed, and the hills, and the forests, and [fire] shall devour [both] soul and body: and he that flees shall be as one fleeing from burning flame.¹⁹ And they that are left of them shall be a [small] number, and a child shall write them.²⁰ And it shall come to pass in that day [that] the remnant of Israel shall no more join themselves with, and the saved of Jacob shall no more trust in, them that injured them; but they shall trust in the Holy God of Israel, in truth.²¹ And the remnant of Jacob shall [trust] on the mighty God.²² And though the people of Israel be as the sand of the sea, a remnant of them shall be saved.²³ He will finish the work, and cut it short in righteousness: because the Lord will make a short work in all the world.²⁴ Therefore thus says the Lord of hosts, Be not afraid, my people who dwell in Sion, of the Assyrians, because he shall strike you with a rod: for I am bringing a stroke upon you, that [you] may see the way of Egypt.²⁵ For yet a little while, and the indignation shall cease: but my wrath shall be against their council.²⁶ And God will stir up [enemies] against them, according to the stroke of Madiam in the place of affliction: and his wrath shall be by the way of the sea, [even] to the way that leads to Egypt.²⁷ And it shall come to pass in that day, [that] his yoke shall be taken away from your shoulder, and his fear from you, and the yoke shall be destroyed from off your shoulders.²⁸ For he shall arrive at the city of Angai, and shall pass on to Maggedo, and shall lay up his stores in Machmas.²⁹ And he shall pass by the valley, and shall arrive at Angai: fear shall seize upon Rama, the city of Saul.³⁰ The daughter of Gallim shall flee; Laish shall hear; one shall hear in Anathoth.³¹ Madebena also is amazed, and the inhabitants of Gibbir.³² Exhort you □ [them] today to remain in the way: exhort you □ [beckoning] with the hand the mountain, the daughter of Sion, even you □ hills that are in Jerusalem.³³ Behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, will mightily confound the glorious ones; and the haughty in pride shall be crushed, and the lofty shall be brought low:³⁴ and the lofty ones shall fall by the sword, and the Libanus shall fall with his lofty ones.

sea, and them [that come] from the east, and Idumea: and they shall lay their hands on Moab first; but the children of Ammon shall first obey [them.] ¹⁵ And the Lord shall make desolate the sea of Egypt; and he shall lay his hand on the river with a strong wind, and he shall strike the seven channels, so that men shall pass through it dry-shod. ¹⁶ And there shall be a passage for my people that is left in Egypt: and it shall be to Israel as the day when he came forth out of the land of Egypt.

N: ¹ And there shall The prophet having described the destruction of the Assyrian army under that of a mighty forest, here takes occasion to represent the Great Person, who makes the subject of this chapter, as a slender twig, shooting out of the trunk of an old tree; which tender twig, though weak in appearance, should become fruitful and prosper.; of Jesse; a Branch ² the Spirit, ; the spirit of wisdom ³ shall make him; understanding Heb. scent, or, smell, ; and he shall not ⁴ But with; , ; reprove or, argue; for the meek; and he shall; , with the breath ¹⁰ in that day; which shall; to it shall, ; his rest; glorious Heb. glory ¹¹ set his hand Isa. 60:1-66:24; Ezek. 37:1-48:35; 12:1-14:21; from Assyria; Egypt; Pathros Cush; Elam; Shinar; Hamath; the islands ¹² set up, ; shall assemble, ; corners Heb. wings ¹⁴ the Philistines; toward; spoil; Ezek. 38:1-39:29 them of the east Heb. the children of the east, they shall lay, etc. Heb. ¹ And in that day you shall say, I [will] bless you, O Lord; for you were angry with me, but you have turned aside your wrath, and have pitied me. ² Behold, my God is my Saviour; I will trust in him, and not be afraid: for the Lord is my glory and my praise, and is become my salvation. ³ Draw you□ therefore water with joy out of the wells of salvation. ⁴ And in that day you shall say, sing to the Lord, call aloud upon his name, proclaim his glorious [deeds] among the Gentiles; make mention that his name is exalted. ⁵ Sing praise to the name of the Lord; for he has done great [things]: declare this in all the earth. ⁶ Exalt and rejoice, you□ that dwell in Sion: for the Holy One of Israel is exalted in the midst of her.

¹ THE VISION WHICH ESAIAS SON OF AMOS SAW AGAINST BABYLON. ² Lift up a standard on the mountain of the plain, exalt the voice to them, beckon with the hand, open [the gates], you $\square$ rulers. ³ I give command, and I bring them: giants are coming to fulfil my wrath, rejoicing at the same time and insulting. ⁴ A voice of many nations on the mountains, [even] like [to that] of many nations; a voice of kings and nations gathered together: the Lord of hosts has given command to a warlike nation, ⁵ to come from a land afar off, from the utmost foundation of heaven; the Lord and his warriors [are coming] to destroy all the world. ⁶ Howl you $\square$, for the day of the Lord is near, and destruction from God shall arrive. ⁷ Therefore every hand shall become powerless, and every soul of man shall be dismayed. ⁸ The elders shall be troubled, and pangs shall seize them, as of a woman in travail: and they shall mourn one to another, and shall be amazed, and shall change their countenance as a flame. ⁹ For behold! the day of the Lord is coming which can't be escaped, [a day] of wrath and anger, to make the world desolate, and to destroy sinners out of it. ¹⁰ For the stars of heaven, and Orion, and all the host of heaven, shall not give their light; and it shall be dark at sunrise, and the moon shall not give her light. ¹¹ And I will command evils for the whole world, and [will visit] their sins on the ungodly: and I will destroy the pride of transgressors, and will bring low the pride of the haughty. ¹² And they that are left shall be more precious than gold tried in the fire; and a man shall be more precious than the stone that is in Suphir. ¹³ For the heaven shall be enraged, and the earth shall be shaken from her foundation, because of the fierce anger of the Lord of hosts, in the day in which his wrath shall come on. ¹⁴ And they that are left shall be as a fleeing fawn, and as a stray sheep, and there shall be none to gather [them]: so that a man shall turn back to his people, and a man shall flee to his own land. ¹⁵ For whoever shall be taken shall be overcome; and they that are gathered together shall fall by the sword. ¹⁶ And they shall dash their children before their eyes; and they shall spoil their houses, and shall take their wives. ¹⁷ Behold, I will stir up against you the Medes, who do not regard silver, neither have they need of gold. ¹⁸ They shall break the bows of the young men; and they shall have no mercy on your children; nor shall their eyes spare your children. ¹⁹ And Babylon, which is called glorious by the king of the Chaldeans, shall be as [when] God overthrew Sodom, and Gomorrah. ²⁰ It shall never be inhabited, neither shall any enter into it for many generations: neither shall the Arabians pass through it; nor shall shepherds at all rest in it. ²¹ But wild beasts shall rest there; and the houses shall be filled with howling; and monsters shall rest there, and devils shall dance there, and satyrs shall dwell there; and hedgehogs shall make their nests in their houses. It will come soon, and will not wait.

According to Herodotus, it formed a perfect square, each side of which was 120 stadia, and consequently its circumference 480 stadia, or sixty miles; inclosed by a wall 200 cubits high, and fifty wide, on the top of which were small watch towers of one story high, leaving a space between them, through which a chariot and four might pass and turn. On each side were twenty-five gates of solid brass; from each of which proceeded a street, 150 feet broad, making in all fifty streets; which, crossing each other at right angles, intersected the city into 676 squares, extending four stadia and a half on each side, along which stood the houses, all built three or four stories high, and highly decorated towards the street; the interior of these squares being employed as gardens, pleasure grounds, etc. Its principal ornaments were the temple of Belus, having a tower of eight stories, upon a base of a quarter of a mile square; a most magnificent palace; and the famous hanging gardens, or artificial mountains raised upon arches, and planted with large and beautiful trees. Cyrus took it by diverting the waters of the Euphrates, which ran through the midst, and entering by the channel; and the river being never restored to its proper course, overflowed the whole country, and made it a morass. Darius Hystaspes afterwards depopulated the place, lowered the walls, and demolished the gates; Xerxes destroyed the temples; the building of Seleucia nearly exhausted it of its inhabitants; a king of the Parthians carried a number of them into slavery, and destroyed the most beautiful parts; so that modern travellers describe it as a mass of shapeless ruins, the habitation of wild beasts.; when God overthrew Heb. the overthrowing of ²¹ But; wild beasts Heb. Esaias 14

¹ And the Lord will have mercy on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and they shall rest on their land: and the stranger shall be added to them, yes, shall be added to the house of Jacob. ² And the Gentiles shall take them, and bring them into their place: and they shall inherit them, and they shall be multiplied upon the land for servants and handmaidens: and they that took them captives shall become captives [to them]; and they that had lordship over them shall be under [their] rule. ³ And it shall come to pass in that day, [that] the Lord shall give you rest from your sorrow and vexation, [and from] your hard servitude wherein you did serve them. ⁴ And you shall take up this lamentation against the king of Babylon, How has the extortioner ceased, and the taskmaster ceased! ⁵ The Lord has broken the yoke of sinners, the yoke of princes. ⁶ Having struck a nation in wrath, with an incurable plague, striking a nation with a wrathful plague, which spared [them] not, he rested in quiet. ⁷ All the earth cries aloud with joy: ⁸ the trees also of Libanus rejoice against you, and the cedar of Libanus, [saying], From the time that you have been laid low, no one has come up to cut us down. ⁹ Hell from beneath is provoked to meet you: all the great ones that have ruled over the earth have risen up together against you, they that have raised up from their thrones all the kings of the nations. ¹⁰ All shall answer and say to you, You also have been taken, even as we; and you are numbered among us. ¹¹ Your glory has come down to Hades, and your great mirth: under you they shall spread corruption, and the worm shall be your covering. ¹² How has Lucifer, that rose in the morning, fallen from heaven! He that sent [orders] to all the nations is crushed to the earth. ¹³ But you said in your heart, I will go up to heaven, I will set my throne above the stars of heaven: I will sit on a lofty mount, on the lofty mountains toward the north: ¹⁴ I will go up above the clouds: I will be like the Most High. ¹⁵ But now you shall go down to hell, even to the foundations of the earth. ¹⁶ They that see you shall wonder at you, and say, This is the man that troubled the earth, that made kings to shake; ¹⁷ that made the whole world desolate, and destroyed its cities; he loosed not those who were in captivity. ¹⁸ All the kings of the nations lie in honor, [every] man in his house. ¹⁹ But you shall be cast forth on the mountains, as a loathed carcass, with many dead who have been pierced with swords, going down to the grave. ²⁰ As a garment defiled with blood shall not be pure, so neither shall you be pure; because you have destroyed my land, and have slain my people: you shall not endure for ever, —[you] an evil seed. ²¹ Prepare your children to be slain for the sins of their father; that they arise not, and inherit the earth, nor fill the earth with wars. ²² And I will rise up against them, says the Lord of hosts, and I will destroy their name, and remnant, and seed: thus says the Lord. ²³ And I will make the region of Babylon desert, so that hedgehogs shall dwell [there], and it shall come to nothing; and I will make it a pit of clay for destruction. ²⁴ Thus says the Lord of hosts, As I have said, so it shall be: and as I have purposed, so [the matter] shall remain: ²⁵ [even] to destroy the Assyrians upon my land, and upon my mountains: and they shall be for trampling; and their yoke shall be taken away from them, and their glory shall be taken away from their shoulders. ²⁶ This is the purpose which the Lord has purposed upon the whole earth: and this the hand that is uplifted against all the nations. ²⁷ For what the Holy God has purposed, who shall frustrate? and who shall turn back his uplifted hand? ²⁸ In the year in which king Achaz died this word came. ²⁹ Rejoice not, all you Philistines, because the yoke of him that struck you is broken: for out of the seed of the serpent shall come forth the young asps, and their young shall come forth flying serpents, ³⁰ And the poor shall be fed by him, and poor men shall rest in peace: but he shall destroy your seed with hunger, and shall destroy your remnant. ³¹ Howl, you gates of cities; let the cities be troubled and cry, [even] all the Philistines: for smoke is coming from the north, and there is no [possibility] of living. ³² And what shall the kings of the nations answer? That the Lord has founded Sion, and by him the poor of the people shall be saved.

¹ THE WORD AGAINST THE LAND OF MOAB. By night the land of Moab shall be destroyed; for by night the wall of the land of Moab shall be destroyed. ² Grieve for yourselves; for even Debon, where your altar is, shall be destroyed: there shall you go up to weep, over Nabau of the land of Moab: howl you : baldness shall be on every head, [and] all arms [shall be] wounded. ³ Gird yourselves with sackcloth in her streets: and lament upon her roofs, and in her streets, and in her ways; howl all of you with weeping. ⁴ For Esebon and Eleale have cried: their voice was heard to Jassa: therefore the loins of the region of Moab cry aloud; her soul shall know. ⁵ The heart of the region of Moab cries within her to Segor; for it is [as] a heifer of three years old: and on the ascent of Luith they shall go up to you weeping by the way of Aroniim:

she cries, Destruction, and trembling. ⁶ The water of Nemerim shall be desolate, and the grass thereof shall fail: for there shall be no green grass. ⁷ Shall [Moab] even thus be delivered? for I [will] bring the Arabians upon the valley, and they shall take it. ⁸ For the cry has reached the border of the region of Moab, [even] of Agalim; and her howling [has gone] as far as the well of Aelim. ⁹ And the water of Dimon shall be filled with blood: for I will bring Arabians upon Dimon, and I will take away the seed of Moab, and Ariel, and the remnant of Adama.

¹ THE WORD AGAINST DAMASCUS. Behold, Damascus shall be taken away from among cities, and shall become a ruin; ² abandoned for ever, to [be] a fold and resting-place for flocks, and there shall be none to go after them. ³ And she shall no longer be a strong place for Ephraim to flee to, and there shall no longer be a kingdom in Damascus, or a remnant of Syrians; for you are no better than the children of Israel, [even] than their glory; thus says the Lord of hosts. ⁴ There shall be in that day a failure of the glory of Jacob, and the riches of his glory shall be shaken. ⁵ And it shall be as if one should gather standing corn, and reap the grain of the ears; and it shall be as if one should gather ears in a rich valley; ⁶ and [as if] there should be left stubble therein, or [as it were] the berries of an olive tree, two or three on the topmost bough, or [as if] four or five should be left on their branches; thus says the Lord, the God of Israel. ⁷ In that day a man shall trust in him that made him, and his eyes shall have respect to the Holy One of Israel. ⁸ And they shall not at all trust in their altars, nor in the works of their hands, which their fingers made; and they shall not look to the trees, nor to their abominations. ⁹ In that day your cities shall be deserted, as the Amorites and the Evaeans deserted [theirs], because of the children of Israel; and they shall be desolate. ¹⁰ Because you have forsaken God your Saviour, and have not been mindful of the Lord your helper; therefore shall you plant a false plant, and a false seed. ¹¹ In the day wherein you shall plant you shall be deceived; but if you sow in the morning, [the seed] shall spring up for a crop in the day wherein you shall obtain an inheritance, and as a man's father, you shall obtain an inheritance for your sons. ¹² Woe [to] the multitude of many nations, as the swelling sea, so shall you be confounded; and the force of many nations shall sound like water; ¹³ many nations like much water, as when much water rushes violently: and they shall drive him away, and pursue him afar, as the dust of chaff when men winnow before the wind, and as a storm whirling the dust of the wheel. ¹⁴ Toward evening, and there shall be grief; before the morning, and he shall not be. This is the portion of them that spoiled you, and the inheritance to them that robbed you of your inheritance.

¹ THE VISION OF EGYPT. Behold, the Lord sits on a swift cloud, and shall come to Egypt: and the idols of Egypt shall be moved at his presence, and their heart shall faint within them. ² And the Egyptians shall be stirred up against the Egyptians: and a man shall fight against his brother, and a man against his neighbor, city against city, and law against law. ³ And the spirit of the Egyptians shall be troubled within them; and I will frustrate their counsel: and they shall enquire of their gods and their images, and them that speak out of the earth, and them that have in them a divining spirit. ⁴ And I will deliver Egypt into the hands of men, of cruel lords; and cruel kings shall rule over them: thus says the Lord of hosts. ⁵ And the Egyptians shall drink the water that is by the sea, but the river shall fail, and be dried up. ⁶ And the streams shall fail, and the canals of the river; and every reservoir of water shall be dried up, in every marsh also of reed and papyrus. ⁷ And all the green herbage round about the river, and everything sown by the side of the river, shall be blasted with the wind and dried up. ⁸ And the fishermen shall groan, and all that cast a hook into the river shall groan; they also that cast nets, and the anglers shall mourn. ⁹ And shame shall come upon them that work fine flax, and them that make fine linen. ¹⁰ And they that work at them shall be in pain, and all that make beer shall be grieved, and be pained in their souls. ¹¹ And the princes of Tanis shall be fools: [as for] the king's wise counselors, their counsel shall be turned into folly: how will you ☐ say to the king, we are sons of wise men, sons of ancient kings? ¹² Where are now your wise men? and let them declare to you, and say, What has the Lord of hosts purposed upon Egypt? ¹³ The princes of Tanis have failed, and the princes of Memphis are lifted up [with pride], and they shall cause Egypt to wander by tribes. ¹⁴ For the Lord has prepared for them a spirit of error, and they have caused Egypt to err in all their works, as one staggers who is drunken and vomits also. ¹⁵ And there shall be no work to the Egyptians, which shall make head or tail, or beginning or end. ¹⁶ But in that day the Egyptians shall be as women, in fear and in trembling because of the hand of the Lord of hosts, which he shall bring upon them. ¹⁷ And the land of the Jews shall be for a terror to the Egyptians: whoever shall name it to them, they shall fear, because of the counsel which the Lord of hosts has purposed concerning it. ¹⁸ In that day there shall be five cities in Egypt speaking the language of Chanaan, and swearing by the name of the Lord of hosts; one city shall be called the city of Asedec. ¹⁹ In that day there shall be an altar to the Lord in the land of the Egyptians, and a pillar to the Lord by its border. ²⁰ And it shall be for a sign to the Lord for ever in the land of Egypt: for they shall presently cry to the Lord by reason of them that afflict them, and he shall send them a man who shall save them; he shall judge and save them. ²¹ And the Lord shall be known to the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day; and they shall offer sacrifices, and shall vow vows to the Lord, and pay [them]. ²² And the Lord shall strike the Egyptians with a stroke, and shall completely heal them: and they shall return to the Lord, and he shall hear them, and thoroughly heal them. ²³ In that day there shall be a way from Egypt to the Assyrians, and the Assyrians shall enter into Egypt, and the Egyptians shall go to the Assyrians, and the Egyptians shall serve the Assyrians. ²⁴ In that day shall Israel be third with the Egyptians and the Assyrians, blessed in the land which the Lord of hosts has blessed, ²⁵ saying, Blessed be my people that is in Egypt, and that is among the Assyrians, and Israel my inheritance.

As, however, heres in Arabic signifies a lion, Conrad Ikenius is of opinion that the place here mentioned is not Heliopolis, as is commonly supposed, but Leontopolis in the Heliopolitan nome, as it is termed in the letter of Onias to Ptolemy. The whole passage, from this verse to the end, contains a general intimation of the propagation of the knowledge of the true God in Egypt and Syria, under the successors of Alexander, and the early reception of the gospel in the same countries. ²⁰ for a, ; they shall, ; he shall send ²¹ Lord shall, ; and shall; shall vow ²² he shall smite; they shall ²⁵ the Lord; Blessed; and Israel would enquire, enquire, and dwell by me. ¹³ You may lodge in the forest in the evening, or in the way of Daedan. ¹⁴ You□ that dwell in the country of Thaeman, bring water to meet him that is thirsty; ¹⁵ meet the fugitives with bread, because of the multitude of the slain, and because of the multitude of them that lose their way, and because of the multitude of swords, and because of the multitude of bent bows, and because of the multitude of them that have fallen in war. ¹⁶ For thus said the Lord to me, Yet a year, as the year of an hireling, [and] the glory of the sons of Kedar shall fail: ¹⁷ and the remnant of the strong bows of the sons of Kedar shall be small: for the Lord God of Israel has spoken [it].

¹ THE WORD OF THE VALLEY OF SION. What has happened to you, that now you□ are all gone up to the housetops which help you not? ² The city is filled with shouting [men]: your slain are not slain with swords, nor are your dead those who have died in battle. ³ All your princes have fled, and [your] captives are tightly bound, and the mighty [men] in you have fled far away. ⁴ Therefore I said, Let me alone, I will weep bitterly; labor not to comfort me for the breach of the daughter of my people. ⁵ For [it is] a day of trouble, and of destruction, and of treading down, and [there is] perplexity [sent] from the Lord of hosts: they wander in the valley of Sion; they wander from the least to the greatest on the mountains. ⁶ And the Elamites took [their] quivers, and [there were] men mounted on horses, and [there was] a gathering for battle. ⁷ And it shall be [that] your choice valleys shall be filled with chariots, and horsemen shall block up your gates. ⁸ And they shall uncover the gates of Juda, and they shall look in that day on the choice houses of the city. ⁹ And they shall uncover the secret places of the houses of the citadel of David: and they saw that they were many, and that one [had] turned the water of the old pool into the city; ¹⁰ and that they [had] pulled down the houses of Jerusalem, to fortify the wall of the city. ¹¹ And you□ procured to yourselves water between the two walls within the ancient pool: but you□ looked not to him that made it from the beginning, and regarded not him that created it. ¹² And the Lord, the Lord of hosts, called in that day for weeping, and lamentation, and baldness, and for girding with sackcloth: ¹³ but they engaged in joy and gladness, slaying calves, and killing sheep, so as to eat flesh, and drink wine; saying, Let us eat and drink; for to-morrow we die. ¹⁴ And these things are revealed in the ears of the Lord of hosts: for this sin shall not be forgiven you, until you□ die. ¹⁵ Thus says the Lord of hosts, Go into the chamber, to Somnas the treasurer, and say to him, Why are you here?¹⁶ and what have you to do here, that you have here hewn yourself a sepulchre, and made yourself a sepulchre on high, and have graven for yourself a dwelling in the rock?¹⁷ Behold now, the Lord of hosts casts forth and will utterly destroy [such] a man, and will take away your robe and your glorious crown,¹⁸ and will cast you into a great and unmeasured land, and there you shall die: and he will bring your fair chariot to shame, and the house of your prince to be trodden down.¹⁹ And you shall be removed from your stewardship, and from your place.²⁰ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will call my servant Eliakim the son of Chelcias:²¹ and I will put on him your robe, and I will grant him your crown with power, and I will give your stewardship into his hands: and he shall be as a father to them that dwell in Jerusalem, and to them that dwell in Juda.²² And I will give him the glory of David; and he shall rule, and there shall be none to speak against him: and I will give him the key of the house of David [upon] his shoulder; and he shall open, and there shall be none to shut; and he shall shut, and there shall be none to open.²³ And I will make him a ruler in a sure place, and he shall be for a glorious throne of his father's house.²⁴ And every one that is glorious in the house of his father shall trust in him, from the least to the greatest; and they shall depend upon him in that day.²⁵ Thus says the Lord of hosts, The man that is fastened in the sure place shall be removed and be taken away, and shall fall; and the glory that is upon him shall be utterly destroyed: for the Lord has spoken it.

shall be utterly spoiled: for the mouth of the Lord has spoken these things. ⁴ The earth mourns, and the world is ruined, the lofty ones of the earth are mourning. ⁵ And she has sinned by reason of her inhabitants; because they have transgressed the law, and changed the ordinances, [even] the everlasting covenant. ⁶ Therefore a curse shall consume the earth, because the inhabitants thereof have sinned: therefore the dwellers in the earth shall be poor, and few men shall be left. ⁷ The wine shall mourn, the vine shall mourn, all the merry-hearted shall sigh. ⁸ The mirth of timbrels has ceased, the sound of the harp has ceased. ⁹ They are ashamed, they have not drunk wine; strong drink has become bitter to them that drink [it]. ¹⁰ All the city has become desolate: one shall shut his house so that none shall enter. ¹¹ There is a howling for the wine everywhere; all the mirth of the land has ceased, all the mirth of the land has departed. ¹² And cities shall be left desolate, and houses being left shall fall to ruin. ¹³ All this shall be in the land in the midst of the nations, as if one should strip an olive tree, so shall they strip them; but when the vintage is done, ¹⁴ these shall cry aloud; and they that are left on the land shall rejoice together in the glory of the Lord: the water of the sea shall be troubled. ¹⁵ Therefore shall the glory of the Lord be in the isles of the sea; the name of the Lord shall be glorious. ¹⁶ O Lord God of Israel, from the ends of the earth we have heard wonderful things, [and there is] hope to the godly: but they shall say, Woe to the despisers, that despise the law. ¹⁷ Fear, and a pit, and a snare, are upon you that dwell on the earth. ¹⁸ And it shall come to pass, [that] he that flees from the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that comes up out of the pit shall be caught by the snare: for windows have been opened in heaven, and the foundations of the earth shall be shaken, ¹⁹ the earth shall be utterly confounded, and the earth shall be completely perplexed. ²⁰ It reels as a drunkard and one oppressed with wine, and the earth shall be shaken as a storehouse of fruits; for iniquity has prevailed upon it, and it shall fall, and shall not be able to rise. ²¹ And God shall bring [his] hand upon the host of heaven, and upon the kings of the earth. ²² And they shall gather the multitude thereof into prisons, and they shall shut them into a strong hold: after many generations they shall be visited. ²³ And the brick shall decay, and the wall shall fall; for the Lord shall reign from out of Sion, and out of Jerusalem, and shall be glorified before [his] elders.

¹ O Lord God, I will glorify you, I will sing to your name; for you have done wonderful things, [even] an ancient [and] faithful counsel. So be it. ² For you have made cities a heap, [even] cities [made] strong that their foundations should not fall: the city of ungodly men shall not be built for ever. ³ Therefore shall the poor people bless you, and cities of injured men shall bless you. ⁴ For you have been a helper to every lowly city, and a shelter to them that were disheartened by reason of poverty: you shall deliver them from wicked men: [you have been] a shelter of them that thirst, and a refreshing air to injured men. ⁵ [We were] as faint-hearted men thirsting in Sion, by reason of ungodly men to whom you did deliver us. ⁶ And the Lord of hosts shall make [a feast] for all the nations: on this mount they shall drink gladness, they shall drink wine: ⁷ they shall anoint themselves with ointment in this mountain. Impart you all these things to the nations; for this is [God's] counsel upon all the nations. ⁸ Death has prevailed and swallowed [men] up; but again the Lord God has taken away every tear from every face. He has taken away the reproach of [his] people from all the earth: for the mouth of the Lord has spoken it. ⁹ And in that day they shall say, behold our God in whom we have trusted, and he shall save us: this [is] the Lord; we have waited for him, and we have exulted, and will rejoice in our salvation. ¹⁰ God will give rest on this mountain, and the country of Moab shall be trodden down, as they tread the floor with wagons. ¹¹ And he shall spread forth his hands, even as he also brings down [man] to destroy [him]: and he shall bring low his pride [in regard to the thing] on which he has laid his hands. ¹² And he shall bring down the height of the refuge of the wall, and it shall come down even to the ground.

hoped in your name, and on the remembrance [of you], ⁹ which our soul longs for: my spirit seeks you very early in the morning, O God, for your commandments are a light on the earth: learn righteousness, you □ that dwell upon the earth. ¹⁰ For the ungodly one is put down: no one who will not learn righteousness on the earth, shall be able to do the truth: let the ungodly be taken away, that he see not the glory of the Lord. ¹¹ O Lord, your arm is exalted, yet they knew it not: but when they know they shall be ashamed: jealousy shall seize upon an untaught nation, and now fire shall devour the adversaries. ¹² O Lord our God, give us peace: for you have rendered to us all things. ¹³ O Lord our God, take possession of us: O Lord, we know not [any] other beside you: we name your name. ¹⁴ But the dead shall not see life, neither shall physicians by any means raise [them] up: therefore you have brought [wrath] upon [them], and slain [them], and have taken away every male of them. Bring more evils upon them, O Lord; ¹⁵ bring more evils on the glorious ones of the earth. ¹⁶ Lord, in affliction I remembered you; your chastening was to us with small affliction. ¹⁷ And as a woman in travail draws near to be delivered, [and] cries out in her pain; so have we been to your beloved. ¹⁸ We have conceived, O Lord, because of your fear, and have been in pain, and have brought forth the breath of your salvation, which we have wrought upon the earth: we shall not fall, but all that dwell upon the land shall fall. ¹⁹ The dead shall rise, and they that are in the tombs shall be raised, and they that are in the earth shall rejoice: for the dew from you is healing to them: but the land of the ungodly shall perish. ²⁰ Go, my people, enter into your closets, shut your door, hide yourself for a little season, until the anger of the Lord have passed away. ²¹ For, behold, the Lord is bringing wrath from [his] holy place upon the dwellers on the earth: the earth also shall disclose her blood, and shall not cover her slain.

great body of water sweeping away the soil, he shall make rest for the land. ³ The crown of pride, the hirelings of Ephraim, shall be beaten down with the hands and with the feet. ⁴ And the fading flower of the glorious hope on the top of the high mountain shall be as the early fig; he that sees it, before he takes it into his hand, will desire to swallow it down. ⁵ In that day the Lord of hosts shall be the crown of hope, the woven [crown] of glory, to the remnant of the people. ⁶ They shall be left in the spirit of judgment for judgment, and for the strength of them that hinder slaying. ⁷ For these have trespassed through wine; they have erred through strong drink: the priest and the prophet are mad through strong drink, they are swallowed up by reason of wine, they have staggered through drunkenness; they have erred: this is [their] vision. ⁸ A curse shall devour this counsel, for this [is their] counsel for the sake of covetousness. ⁹ To whom have we reported evils? and to whom have we reported a message? [even to those] that are weaned from the milk, who are drawn from the breast. ¹⁰ Expect you affliction on affliction, hope upon hope: yet a little, [and] yet a little, ¹¹ by reason of the contemptuous [words] of the lips, by means of another language: for they shall speak to this people, saying to them, ¹² This is the rest to him that is hungry, and this is the calamity: but they would not hear. ¹³ Therefore the oracle of God shall be to them affliction on affliction, hope on hope, yet a little, [and] yet a little, that they may go and fall backward; and they shall be crushed and shall be in danger, and shall be taken. ¹⁴ Therefore hear you□ the word of the Lord, you□ afflicted men, and you□ princes of this people that is in Jerusalem. ¹⁵ Because you□ have said, We have made a covenant with Hades, and agreements with death; if the rushing storm should pass, it shall not come upon us: we have made falsehood our hope, and by falsehood shall we be protected: ¹⁶ Therefore thus says the Lord, [even] the Lord, Behold, I lay for the foundations of Sion a costly stone, a choice, a corner-stone, a precious [stone], for its foundations; and he that believes [on him] shall by no means be ashamed. ¹⁷ And I will cause judgment [to be] for hope, and my compassion shall be for [just] measures, and you□ that trust vainly in falsehood [shall fall]: for the storm shall by no means pass by you, ¹⁸ except it also take away your covenant of death, and your trust in Hades shall by no means stand: if the rushing storm should come upon you, you□ shall be beaten down by it. ¹⁹ Whenever it shall pass by, it shall take you; morning by morning it shall pass by in the day, and in the night there shall be an evil hope. Learn to hear, ²⁰ you□ that are distressed; we can't fight, but we are ourselves too weak for you to be gathered. ²¹ The Lord shall rise up as a mountain of ungodly [men], and shall be in the valley of Gabaon; he shall perform his works with wrath, [even] a work of bitterness, and his wrath shall deal strangely, and his destruction shall be strange. ²² Therefore do not you□ rejoice, neither let your bands be made strong; for I have heard of works finished and cut short by the Lord of hosts, which he will execute upon all the earth. ²³ Listen, and hear my voice; attend, and hear my words. ²⁴ Will the plowman plow all the day? or will he prepare the seed beforehand, before he tills the ground? ²⁵ Does he not, when he has levelled the surface thereof, then sow the small black poppy, or cumin, and afterward sow wheat, and barley, and millet, and bread-corn in your borders? ²⁶ So you shall be chastened by the judgment of your God, and shall rejoice. ²⁷ For the black poppy is not cleansed with harsh treatment, nor will a wagon-wheel pass over the cumin; but the black poppy is threshed with a rod, and the cumin shall be eaten with bread; ²⁸ for I will not be angry with you for ever, neither shall the voice of my anger crush you. ²⁹ And these signs came forth from the Lord of hosts. Take counsel, exalt vain comfort.

¹ Alas for the city of Ariel, which David besieged. Gather you ☐ fruits year by year; eat you ☐ , for you ☐ shall eat with Moab. ² For I will grievously afflict Ariel: and her strength and her wealth shall be mine. ³ And I will compass you about like David, and will raise a mound about you, and set up towers round you. ⁴ And your words shall be brought down to the earth, and your words shall sink down to the earth, and your voice shall be as they that speak out of the earth, and your voice shall be lowered to the ground. ⁵ But the wealth of the ungodly shall be as dust from a wheel, and the multitude of them that oppress you as flying chaff, and it shall be suddenly as a moment, ⁶ from the Lord of Hosts: for there shall be a visitation with thunder, and earthquake, and a loud noise, a rushing tempest, and devouring flame of fire. ⁷ And the wealth of all the nations together, as many as have fought against Ariel, and all they that war against Jerusalem, and all who are gathered against her, and they that distress her, shall be as one that dreams in sleep by night. ⁸ And as men drink and eat in sleep, and when they have arisen, the dream is vain: and as a thirsty man dreams as if he drank, and having arisen is still thirsty, and his soul has desired in vain: so shall be the wealth of all the nations, as many as have fought against the mount Sion. ⁹ Faint you ☐ , and be amazed, and be overpowered, not with strong drink nor with wine. ¹⁰ For the Lord has made you to drink a spirit of deep sleep; and he shall close their eyes, and [the eyes] of their prophets and of their rulers, who see secret things. ¹¹ And all these things shall be to you as the words of this sealed book, which if they shall give to a learned man, saying, Read this, he shall then say, I can't read [it], for it is sealed. ¹² And this book shall be given into the hands of a man that is unlearned, and [one] shall say to him, Read this, and he shall say, I am not learned. ¹³ And the Lord has said, This people draw near to me with their mouth, and they honor me with their lips, but their heart is far from me: but in vain do they worship me, teaching the commandments and doctrines of men. ¹⁴ Therefore behold I will proceed to remove this people, and I will remove them: and I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will hide the understanding of the prudent. ¹⁵ Woe to them that deepen their counsel, and not by the Lord. Woe to them that take secret counsel, and whose works are in darkness, and they say, Who has seen us? and who shall know us, or what we do? ¹⁶ Shall you ☐ not be counted as clay of the potter? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, You did not form me? or the work to the maker, You have not made me wisely? ¹⁷ [Is it] not yet a little while, and Libanus shall be changed as the mountains of Chermel, and Chermel shall be reckoned as a forest? ¹⁸ And in that day the deaf shall hear the words of the book, and they that are in darkness, and they that are in mist: the eyes of the blind shall see, ¹⁹ and the poor shall rejoice with joy because of the Lord, and they that had no hope among men shall be filled with joy. ²⁰ The lawless man has come to nothing, and the proud man has perished, and they that transgress mischievously have been utterly destroyed: ²¹ and they that cause men to sin by a word: and men shall make all that reprove in the gates an offense, because they have unjustly turned aside the righteous. ²² Therefore thus says the Lord concerning the house of Jacob, whom he set apart from Abraam, Jacob shall not now be ashamed, neither shall he now change countenance. ²³ But when their children shall have seen my works, they shall sanctify my name for my sake, and they sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel. ²⁴ And they that erred in spirit shall know understanding, and the murmurers shall learn obedience, and the stammering tongues shall learn to speak peace.

The hearth of the altar is expressly called ariel by Ezekiel; which is put, in the former part of the verse, for Jerusalem, the city in which the altar was. The subject of this and the four following chapters, says Bp. Lowth, is the invasion of Sennacherib; the great distress of the Jews while it continued; their sudden and unexpected deliverance by God's immediate and miraculous interposition on their behalf; the subsequent prosperous state of the kingdom under Hezekiah; interspersed with severe reproofs and threats of punishment for their hypocrisy, stupidity, infidelity, their want of trust in God, and their vain reliance on the assistance of Egypt; and with promises of better times, both immediately to succeed, and to be expected in the future age. ⁴ thou shalt, ; whisper Heb. peep, or chirp ⁵ the multitude, as chaff; at an ⁷ the multitude; that distress as a dream ⁹ and wonder; cry ye out, and cry or, take your pleasure and riot; they are ¹⁰ the Lord; hath closed; rulers Heb. heads; the seers ¹¹ book or, letter that is sealed I cannot ¹⁴ I will; proceed Heb. add for the wisdom ¹⁵ seek, ; and their works; Who seeth ¹⁶ your turning; as the potter's; or shall ¹⁷ yet a very; Lebanon, ; the fruitful ¹⁹ meek; increase Heb. add the poor, ; rejoice ²⁰ the terrible, ; the scorner,; and all ²¹ make; and lay, ; and turn ²³ the work, ; sanctify; fear the God ²⁴ also; come to understanding Heb. know understanding with wrath and anger and devouring flame: he shall lighten terribly, and [his wrath shall be] as water and violent hail. ³¹ For by the voice of the Lord the Assyrians shall be overcome, [even] by the stroke wherewith he shall strike them. ³² And it shall happen to him from every side, [that] they from whom their hope of assistance was, in which he trusted, themselves shall war against him in turn with drums and with harp. ³³ For you shall be required before [your] time: has it been prepared for you also to reign? nay, God has [prepared for you] a deep trench, wood piled, fire and much wood: the wrath of the Lord [shall be] as a trench kindled with sulphur.

up, you□ rich women, and hear my voice; you□ confident daughters, listen to my words. ¹⁰ Remember for a full year in pain, yet with hope: the vintage has been cut off; it has ceased, it shall by no means come again. ¹¹ Be amazed, be pained, you□ confident ones: strip you, bare yourselves, gird your loins; ¹² and beat your breasts, because of the pleasant field, and the fruit of the vine. ¹³ [As for] the land of my people, the thorn and grass shall come upon [it], and joy shall be removed from every house. ¹⁴ [As for] the rich city, the houses are deserted; they shall abandon the wealth of the city, [and] the pleasant houses: and the villages shall be caves for ever, the joy of wild asses, shepherds' pastures; ¹⁵ until the Spirit shall come upon you from on high, and Chermel shall be desert, and Chermel shall be counted for a forest. ¹⁶ Then judgment shall abide in the wilderness, and righteousness shall dwell in Carmel. ¹⁷ And the works of righteousness shall be peace; and righteousness shall ensure rest, and [the righteous] shall be confident for ever. ¹⁸ And his people shall inhabit a city of peace, and dwell in [it] in confidence, and they shall rest with wealth. ¹⁹ And if the hail should come down, it shall not come upon you; and they that dwell in the forests shall be in confidence, as those in the plain country. ²⁰ Blessed are they that sow by every water, where the ox and ass tread.

¹ Woe to them that afflict you; but no one makes you miserable: and he that deals perfidiously with you does not deal perfidiously: they that deal perfidiously shall be taken and given up, and as a moth on a garment, so shall they be spoiled. ² Lord, have mercy upon us; for we have trusted in you: the seed of the rebellious is gone to destruction, but our deliverance was in a time of affliction. ³ By reason of the terrible sound the nations were dismayed for fear of you, and the heathen were scattered. ⁴ And now shall the spoils of your small and great be gathered: as if one should gather locusts, so shall they mock you. ⁵ The God who dwells on high is holy: Sion is filled with judgment and righteousness. ⁶ They shall be delivered up to the law: our salvation is our treasure: there are wisdom and knowledge and piety toward the Lord; these are the treasures of righteousness. ⁷ Behold now, these shall be terrified with fear of you: those whom you□ feared shall cry out because of you: messengers shall be sent, bitterly weeping, entreating for peace. ⁸ For the ways of these shall be made desolate: the terror of the nations has been made to cease, and the covenant with these is taken away, and you⁹ shall by no means deem them men. The land mourns; Libanus is ashamed: Saron is become marshes; Galilee shall be laid bare, and Chermel.¹⁰ Now will I arise, says the Lord, now will I be glorified; now will I be exalted.¹¹ Now shall you¹² see, now shall you¹³ perceive; the strength of your breath, shall be vain; fire shall devour you.¹² And the nations shall be burnt up; as a thorn in the field cast out and burnt up.¹³ They that are afar off shall hear what I have done; they that draw near shall know my strength.¹⁴ The sinners in Sion have departed; trembling shall seize the ungodly. Who will tell you that a fire is kindled? Who will tell you of the eternal place?¹⁵ He that walks in righteousness, speaking rightly, hating transgression and iniquity, and shaking his hands from gifts, stopping his ears that he should not hear the judgment of blood, shutting his eyes that he should not see injustice.¹⁶ he shall dwell in a high cave of a strong rock: bread shall be given him, and his water shall be sure.¹⁷ You¹⁸ shall see a king with glory: your eyes shall behold a land from afar.¹⁸ Your soul shall meditate terror. Where are the scribes? where are the counselors, where is he that numbers them that are growing up,¹⁹ [even] the small and great people? with whom he took not counsel, neither did he understand [a people] of deep speech, so that a despised people should not hear, and there is no understanding to him that hears.²⁰ Behold the city of Sion, our refuge: your eyes shall behold Jerusalem, a rich city, tabernacles which shall not be shaken, neither shall the pins of her tabernacle be moved for ever, neither shall her cords be at all broken:²¹ for the name of the Lord is great to you: you²² shall have a place, [even] rivers and wide and spacious channels: you shall not go this way, neither a vessel with oars go [thereby].²² For my God is great: the Lord our judge shall not pass me by: the Lord is our prince, the Lord is our king; the Lord, he shall save us.²³ Your cords are broken, for they had no strength: your meat has given way, it shall not spread the sails, it shall not bear a signal, until it be given up for plunder; therefore shall many lame men take spoil.²⁴ And the people dwelling among them shall by no means say, I am in pain: for their sin shall be forgiven them.

N: ¹ Come This and the following chapter, as Bp. Lowth observes, form one distinct prophecy; an entire, regular, and beautiful poem, consisting of two parts; the first containing a denunciation of Divine vengeance against the enemies of the people or church of God; the second describing the flourishing state of that church consequent upon those judgments. The event foretold is represented as of the highest importance, and of universal concern; all nations are called upon to attend to the declaration of it; and the wrath of God is denounced against all the nations who had provoked to anger the Defender of the cause of Zion. By a figure frequently occurring in the prophetic writings, the cities and people mentioned here, who were remarkably distinguished as the enemies of the people of God, are put for those enemies in general,; let thee; all that is therein Heb. the fulness thereof ² the indignation; Amos 1:1-2:16,; and his ³ my sword; upon Idumea; the people ⁶ filled; the fat the Lord hath ⁷ unicorns or, rhinoceroses,; the bullocks,; soaked or, drunken ¹⁰ shall not; the smoke, from ¹³ thorns; an habitation,; owls or, ostriches, Heb. daughters of the owl ¹⁴ The wild beasts of the desert Heb. ¹ Now it came to pass in the fourteenth year of the reign of Ezekias, [that] Sennacherim, king of the Assyrians, came up against the strong cities of Judea, and took them. ² And the king of the Assyrians sent Rabsaces out of Laches to Jerusalem to king Ezekias with a large force: and he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the way of the fuller's field. ³ And there went forth to him Heliakim the steward, the [son] of Chelcias, and Somnas the scribe, and Joach the [son] of Asaph, the recorder. ⁴ And Rabsaces said to them, Say to Ezekias, Thus says the great king, the king of the Assyrians, Why are you secure? ⁵ Is war carried on with counsel and [mere] words of the lips? and now on whom do you trust, that you rebel against me? ⁶ Behold, you trust on this bruised staff of reed, on Egypt: [as soon] as a man leans upon it, it shall go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt and all that trust in him. ⁷ But if you ☐ say, We trust in the Lord our God; ⁸ yet now make an agreement with my lord the king of the Assyrians, and I will give you two thousand horses, if you ☐ shall be able to set riders upon them. ⁹ And how can you ☐ [then] turn to the face of the satraps? They that trust on the Egyptians for horse and rider, are [our] servants. ¹⁰ And now, Have we come up against this land to fight against it without the Lord? The Lord said to me, Go up against this land, and destroy it. ¹¹ Then Eliakim and Somnas and Joach said to him, Speak to your servants in the Syrian tongue; for we understand [it]: and speak not to us in the Jewish tongue: and therefore speak you in the ears of the men on the wall? ¹² And Rabsaces said to them, Has my lord sent me to your lord or to you, to speak these words? [has he] not [sent] me to the men that sit on the wall, that they may eat dung, and drink [their] water together with you? ¹³ And Rabsaces stood and cried with a loud voice in the Jewish language, and said, Hear you ☐ the words of the great king, the king of the Assyrians: ¹⁴ thus says the king, Let not Ezekias deceive you with words: he will not be able to deliver you. ¹⁵ And let not Ezekias say to you, That God will deliver you, and this city will not at all be delivered into the hand of the king of the Assyrians. ¹⁶ Listen not to Ezekias: thus says the king of the Assyrians, If you ☐ wish to be blessed, come out to me: and you ☐ shall eat every one [of] his vine and his fig-trees, and you ☐ shall drink water out of your own cisterns: ¹⁷ until I come and take you to a land, like your own land, a land of corn and wine, and bread, and vineyards. ¹⁸ Let not Ezekias deceive you, saying, God will deliver you. Have the gods of the nations delivered each one his own land out of the hand of the king of the Assyrians? ¹⁹ Where is the god of Emath, and Arphath? and where is the god of Eppharuaim? have they been able to deliver Samaria out of my hand? ²⁰ Which is the god of all these nations, that has delivered his land out of my hand, that God should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand? ²¹ And they were silent, and none answered him a word; because the king had commanded that none should answer. ²² And Heliakim the [son] of Chelcias, the steward, and Somnas the military scribe, and Joach the [son] of Asaph, the recorder, came in to Ezekias, having their garments torn, and they reported to him the words of Rabsaces.

But the Assyrian empire, the bounds of which were different at different times, in its most flourishing state, according to the descriptions of the Greek and Roman writers, comprehended all the countries and nations between the Mediterranean on the west, and the Indus on the east, and between the deserts of Scythia on the north, and the Indian ocean on the south. ¹ And it came to pass, when king Ezekias heard [it, that] he tore his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and went up to the house of the Lord. ² And he sent Heliakim the steward, and Somnas the scribe, and the elders of the priests clothed with sackcloth, to Esaias the son of Amos, the prophet. And they said to him, Thus says Ezekias, ³ To-day is a day of affliction, and reproach, and rebuke, and anger: for the pangs are come upon the travailing [woman], but she has not strength to bring forth. ⁴ May the Lord your God hear the words of Rabsaces, which the king of the Assyrians has sent, to reproach the living God, even to reproach with the words which the Lord your God has heard: therefore you shall pray to your Lord for these that are left. ⁵ So the servants of king Ezekias came to Esaias. ⁶ And Esaias said to them, Thus shall you ☐ say to your master; Thus says the Lord, Be not you afraid at the words which you have heard, wherewith the ambassadors of the king of the Assyrians have reproached me, ⁷ Behold, I [will] send a blast upon him, and he shall hear a report, and return to his own country, and he shall fall by the sword in his own land. ⁸ So Rabsaces returned, and found the king of the Assyrians besieging Lobna: for he had heard that he had departed from Lachis. ⁹ And Tharaca king of the Ethiopians went forth to attack him. And when he heard it, he turned aside, and sent messengers to Ezekias, saying, ¹⁰ Thus shall you ☐ say to Ezekias king of Judea, Let not your God, in whom you trust, deceive you, saying, Jerusalem shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of the Assyrians. ¹¹ Have you not heard what the kings of the Assyrians have done, how they have destroyed the whole earth? and shall you be delivered? ¹² Have the gods of the nations which my fathers destroyed delivered them, both Gozan, and Charrhan, and Rapheth, which are in the land of Theemath? ¹³ Where are the kings of Emath? and where [is the king of] Arphath? and where [is the king] of the city of Eppharuaim, [and of] Anagugana? ¹⁴ And Ezekias received the letter from the messengers, and read it, and went up to the house of the Lord, and opened it before the Lord. ¹⁵ And Ezekias prayed to the Lord, saying, ¹⁶ O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, who sit upon the cherubs, you alone are the God of every kingdom of the world: you have made heaven and earth. ¹⁷ Incline your ear, O Lord, listen, O Lord; open your eyes, O Lord, look, O Lord: and behold the words of Sennacherim, which he has sent to reproach the living God. ¹⁸ For of a truth, Lord, the kings of the Assyrians have laid waste the whole world, and the countries thereof, ¹⁹ and have cast their idols into the fire: for, they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone; and they have cast them away. ²⁰ But now, O Lord our God, deliver us from his hands, that every kingdom of the earth may know that you are God alone. ²¹ And Esaias the son of Amos was sent to Ezekias, and said to him, Thus says the Lord, the God of Israel, I have heard your prayer to me concerning Sennacherim king of the Assyrians. ²² This is the word which God has spoken concerning him; The virgin daughter of Sion has despised you, and mocked you; the daughter of Jerusalem has shaken her head at you. ²³ Whom have you reproached and provoked? and against whom have you lifted up your voice? and have you not lifted up your eyes on high against the Holy One of Israel? ²⁴ For you have reproached the Lord by messengers; for you have said, With the multitude of chariots have I ascended to the height of mountains, and to the sides of Libanus; and I have cropped the height of his cedars and the beauty of his cypresses; and I entered into the height of the forest region: ²⁵ and I have made a bridge, and dried up the waters, and every pool of water. ²⁶ Have you not heard of these things which I did of old? I appointed [them] from ancient times; but now have I manifested [my purpose] of desolating nations in [their] strong holds, and them that dwell in strong cities. ²⁷ I weakened [their] hands, and they withered; and they became as dry grass on the housetops, and as grass. ²⁸ But now I know your rest, and your going out, and your coming in. ²⁹ And your wrath wherewith you have been enraged, and your rancour has come up to me; therefore I will put a hook in your nose, and a bit in your lips, and will turn you back by the way by which you came. ³⁰ And this shall be a sign to you, Eat this year what you have sown; and the second year that which is left: and the third year sow, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them. ³¹ And they that are left in Judea shall take root downward, and bear fruit upward: ³² for out of Jerusalem there shall be a remnant, and the saved ones out of mount Sion: the zeal of the Lord of hosts shall perform this. ³³ Therefore thus says the Lord concerning the king of the Assyrians, He shall not enter into this city, nor cast a weapon against it, nor bring a shield against it, nor make a rampart round it. ³⁴ But by the way by which he came, by it shall he return, and shall not enter into this city: thus says the Lord. ³⁵ I will protect this city to save it for my own sake, and for my servant David's sake. ³⁶ And the angel of the Lord went forth, and killed out of the camp of the Assyrians one hundred and eighty-five thousand: and they arose in the morning and found all [these] bodies dead. ³⁷ And Sennacherim king of the Assyrians turned and departed, and lived in Nineve. ³⁸ And while he was worshipping Nasarach his country's god in the house, Adramelech and Sarasar his sons struck him with swords; and they escaped into Armenia: and Asordan his son reigned in his stead.

¹ And it came to pass at that time, [that] Ezekias was sick even to death. And Esaias the prophet the son of Amos came to him, and said to him, Thus says the Lord, Give orders concerning your house: for you shall die, and not live. ² And Ezekias turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord, saying, ³ Remember, O Lord, how I have walked before you in truth, with a true heart, and have done that which was pleasing in your sight. And Ezekias wept bitterly. ⁴ And the word of the Lord came to Esaias, saying, Go, and say to Ezekias, ⁵ Thus says the Lord, the God of David your father, I have heard your prayer, and seen your tears: behold, I [will] add to your time fifteen years. ⁶ And I will deliver you and this city out of the hand of the king of the Assyrians: and I will defend this city. ⁷ And this [shall be] a sign to you from the Lord, that God will do this thing; ⁸ behold, I will turn back the shadow of the degrees [of the dial] by which ten degrees on the house of your father the sun has gone down—I will turn back the sun the ten degrees; so the sun went back the ten degrees by which the shadow had gone down. ⁹ THE PRAYER OF EZEKIAS KING OF JUDEA, WHEN HE HAD BEEN SICK, AND WAS RECOVERED FROM HIS SICKNESS. ¹⁰ I said in the end of my days, I shall go to the gates of the grave: I shall part with the remainder of my years. ¹¹ I said, I shall no more at all see the salvation of God in the land of the living: I shall no more at all see the salvation of Israel on the earth: I shall no more at all see man. ¹² [My life] has failed from among my kindred: I have parted with the remainder of my life: it has gone forth and departed from me, as one that having pitched a tent takes it down [again]: my breath was with me as a weaver's web, when she that weaves draws near to cut off [the] thread. ¹³ In that day I was given up as to a lion until the morning: so has he broken all my bones: for I was so given up from day [even] to night. ¹⁴ As a swallow, so will I cry, and as a dove, so do I mourn: for my eyes have failed with looking to the height of heaven to the Lord, who has delivered me, and removed the sorrow of my soul. ¹⁵ [Yes], O Lord, for it was told you concerning this; and you have revived my breath; and I am comforted, and live. ¹⁶ For you have chosen my soul, that it should not perish: and you have cast all [my] sins behind me. ¹⁷ For they that are in the grave shall not praise you, neither shall the dead bless you, neither shall they that are in Hades hope for your mercy. ¹⁸ The living shall bless you, as I also [do]: for from this day shall I beget children, who shall declare your righteousness, ¹⁹ O God of my salvation; and I will not cease blessing you with the lute all the days of my life before the house of God. ²⁰ Now Esaias had said to Ezekias; Take a cake of figs, and mash them, and apply them as a plaster, and you shall be well. ²¹ And Ezekias said, This is a sign to Ezekias, that I shall go up to the house of God.

The researches of curious travellers in Hindostan, observes Bp. Stock, have lately discovered in that country, three observatories of similar form, the most remarkable of which is to be seen within four miles of Delhi, the ancient capital of the Mogul empire. A rectangled triangle, whose hypotenuse is a staircase (apparently parallel to the axis of the earth), bisects a zone, or coping of a wall, which wall connects the two terminating towers at right and left. The coping itself is of a circular form, and accurately graduated, to mark, by the gnomon above, the sun's progress before and after noon. ⁹ writing; *title, ; he had; We have here Hezekiah's thanksgiving song, which he penned by Divine direction, after his recovery. He might have used some of the Psalms of David his father, as he had appointed the Levites to praise the Lord with the words of David, but the occasion here was extraordinary. His heart being full of devout affections, he would not confine himself to the compositions he had, though of Divine inspiration, but offered up his praises in his own words. The Lord put a new song into his mouth. He put his thanksgiving into writing, that he might review it himself afterwards, for the reviving of the good impressions made upon him by the providential interference, and that it might be recommended to others also for their use upon the like occasion. ¹² is removed; , as a, have cut, ; he will cut; with pining sickness or, from the thrum ¹⁴ a crane; I did mourn; mine eyes, ; I am, undertake for me or, ease me ¹⁷ for peace I had great bitterness or, on my peace came great bitterness, ; in love to my soul delivered it from the pit Heb. loved my soul from the pit, ; thou hast cast

Lowth remarks, expressive of the tender attention of the shepherd to his flock. That the greatest care in driving the cattle, in regard to the dams and their young, was necessary, appears clearly from Jacob's apology to his brother Esau; which is set in a still stronger light by the following remarks of Sir J. Chardin: "Their flocks feed down the places of their encampments so quick, by the great numbers that they have, that they are obliged to remove them often, which is very destructive to their flocks, on account of the young ones, who have not strength enough to follow." are with young or, give suck ¹² measured; measure Heb. tierce weighed ¹³ hath directed; his counsellor Heb. man of his counsel ¹⁴ instructed him Heb. made him

you with my just right hand. ¹¹ Behold, all your adversaries shall be ashamed and confounded; for they shall be as if they were not: and all your opponents shall perish. ¹² You shall seek them, and you shall not find the men who shall insolently rage against you: for they shall be as if they were not, and they that war against you shall not be. ¹³ For I am your God, who holds your right hand, who says to you, ¹⁴ Fear not, Jacob, [and you] Israel few in number; I have helped you, says your God, he that redeems you, O Israel. ¹⁵ Behold, I have made you as new saw-shaped threshing wheels of a wagon; and you shall thresh the mountains, and beat the hills to powder, and make [them] as chaff: ¹⁶ and you shall winnow [them], and the wind shall carry them away, and a tempest shall scatter them: but you shall rejoice in the holy ones of Israel. ¹⁷ And the poor and the needy shall exult; for [when] they shall seek water, and there shall be none, [and] their tongue is parched with thirst, I the Lord God, I the God of Israel will hear, and will not forsake them: ¹⁸ but I will open rivers on the mountains, and fountains in the midst of plains: I will make the desert pools of water, and a thirsty land watercourses. ¹⁹ I will plant in the dry land the cedar and box, the myrtle and cypress, and white poplar: ²⁰ that they may see, and know, and perceive, and understand together, that the hand of the Lord has wrought these [works], and the Holy One of Israel has displayed [them]. ²¹ Your judgment draws near, says the Lord God; your counsels have drawn near, says the King of Jacob. ²² Let them draw near, and declare to you what things shall come to pass; or tell [us] what things were of old, and we will apply [our] understanding, and we shall know what are the last and the future things: ²³ tell us, declare you ☐ to us the things that are coming on at the last [time], and we shall know that you ☐ are gods: do good, and do evil, and we shall wonder, and see at the same time ²⁴ whence you ☐ are, and whence is your works: they have chosen you an abomination out of the earth. ²⁵ But I have raised up him that [comes] from the north, and him that [comes] from the rising of the sun: they shall be called by my name: let the princes come, and as potter's clay, and as a potter treading clay, so shall you ☐ be trodden down. ²⁶ For who will declare the things from the beginning, that we may know also the former things, and we will say that they are true? there is no one that speaks beforehand, nor anyone that hears your words. ²⁷ I will give dominion to Sion, and will comfort Jerusalem by the way. ²⁸ For from among the nations, behold, [there was] no one; and of their idols there was none to declare [anything]: and if I should ask them, Whence are you ☐ ? they could not answer me. ²⁹ For [these] are your makers, [as you ☐ think], and they that cause you to err in vain.

¹ And now thus says the Lord God that made you, O Jacob, and formed you, O Israel, Fear not: for I have redeemed you, I have called you [by] your name; you are mine. ² And if you pass through water, I am with you; and the rivers shall not overflow you: and if you go through fire, you shall not be burned; the flame shall not burn you. ³ For I am the Lord your God, the Holy One of Israel, that saves you: I have made Egypt and Ethiopia your ransom, and [given] Seene for you. ⁴ Since you became precious in my sight, you have become glorious, and I have loved you: and I will give men for you, and princes for your life. ⁵ Fear not; for I am with you: I will bring your seed from the east, and will gather you from the west. ⁶ I will say to the north, Bring; and to the south, Keep not back; bring my sons from the [land] afar off, and my daughters from the ends of the earth; ⁷ [even] all who are called by my name: for I have prepared him for my glory, and I have formed him, and have made him: ⁸ and I have brought forth the blind people; for [their] eyes are alike blind, and they that have ears are deaf. ⁹ All the nations are gathered together, and princes shall be gathered out of them: who will declare these things? or who will declare to you things from the beginning? let them bring forth their witnesses, and be justified; and let them hear, and declare the truth. ¹⁰ Be you ☐ my witnesses, and I [too am] a witness, says the Lord God, and my servant whom I have chosen: that you ☐ may know, and believe, and understand that I am [he]: before me there was no other God, and after me there shall be none. ¹¹ I am God; and beside me there is no Saviour. ¹² I have declared, and have saved; I have reproached, and there was no strange [god] among you: you ☐ are my witnesses, and I am the Lord God, ¹³ even from the beginning; and there is none that can deliver out of my hands: I will work, and who shall turn it back? ¹⁴ Thus says the Lord God that redeems you, the Holy One of Israel; for your sakes I will send to Babylon, and I will stir up all that flee, and the Chaldeans shall be bound in ships. ¹⁵ I am the Lord God, your Holy One, who have appointed for Israel your king. ¹⁶ Thus says the Lord, who makes a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty water; ¹⁷ who brought forth chariots and horse, and a mighty multitude: but they have lain down, and shall not rise: they are extinct, as quenched flax. ¹⁸ Remember you ☐ not the former things, and consider not the ancient things. ¹⁹ Behold, I [will] do new things, which shall presently spring forth, and you ☐ shall know them: and I will make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the dry land. ²⁰ the beasts of the field shall bless me, the owls and young ostriches; for I have given water in the wilderness, and rivers in the dry land, to give drink to my chosen race, ²¹ my people whom I have preserved to tell forth my praises. ²² I have not now called you, O Jacob; neither have I made you weary, O Israel. ²³ You have not brought me the sheep of your whole burnt offering; neither have you glorified me with your sacrifices. I have not caused you to serve with sacrifices, neither have I wearied you with frankincense. ²⁴ Neither have you purchased for me victims for silver, neither have I desired the fat of your sacrifices: but you did stand before me in your sins, and in your iniquities. ²⁵ I, [even] I, am he that blots out your transgressions for my own sake, and your sins; and I will not remember [them]. ²⁶ But do you remember, and let us plead [together]: do you first confess your transgressions, that you may be justified. ²⁷ Your fathers first, and your princes have transgressed against me. ²⁸ And the princes have defiled my sanctuaries: so I gave Jacob [to enemies] to destroy, and Israel to reproach.

Esaias 44

¹ But now hear, Jacob my servant; and Israel, whom I have chosen. ² Thus says the Lord God that made you, and he that formed you from the womb; You shall yet be helped: fear not, my servant Jacob; and beloved Israel, whom I have chosen. ³ For I will give water to the thirsty that walk in a dry land: I will put my Spirit upon your seed, and my blessings upon your children: ⁴ and they shall spring up as grass between brooks, and as willows on [the banks of] running water. ⁵ One shall say, I am God's; and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob; and another shall write with his hand, I am God's, and shall call himself by the name of Israel. ⁶ Thus says God the King of Israel, and the God of hosts that delivered him; I am the first, and I am hereafter: beside me there is no God. ⁷ Who is like me? let him stand, and call, and declare, and prepare for me from the time that I made man for ever; and let them tell you the things that are coming before they arrive. ⁸ Hide not yourselves, nor go astray: have you ☐ not heard from the beginning, and [have not] I told you? you ☐ are witnesses if there is a God beside me. ⁹ But they that framed [false gods] did not then listen; and they that graven [images] are all vain, performing their own desires, which shall not profit them, but they shall be ashamed ¹⁰ that form a god, and all that grave worthless things: ¹¹ and all by whom they were made are withered: yes, let all the deaf be gathered from [among] men, and let them stand together; and let them be ashamed and confounded together: ¹² For the artificer sharpens the iron; he fashions [the idol] with an axe, and fixes it with an awl, and fashions it with the strength of his arm: and he will be hungry and weak, and will drink no water. ¹³ The artificer having chosen a piece of wood, marks it out with a rule, and fits it with glue, and makes it as the form of a man, and as the beauty of a man, to set it up in the house. ¹⁴ He cuts wood out of the forest, which the Lord planted, [even] a pine tree, and the rain made it grow; ¹⁵ that it might be for men to burn: and having taken part of it he warms himself; yes, they burn part of it, and bake loaves thereon; and [of] the rest they make for themselves gods, and they worship them. ¹⁶ Half thereof he burns in the fire, and with half of it he bakes loaves on the coals; and having roasted flesh on it he eats, and is satisfied, and having warmed himself he says, I am comfortable, for I have warmed myself, and have seen the fire. ¹⁷ And the rest he makes a graven god, and worships, and prays, saying, Deliver me; for you are my God. ¹⁸ They have no understanding to perceive; for they have been blinded so that they should not see with their eyes, nor perceive with their heart. ¹⁹ And one has not considered in his mind, nor known in his understanding, that he has burnt up half of it in the fire, and baked loaves on the coals thereof and has roasted and eaten flesh, and of the rest of it he has made an abomination, and they worship it. ²⁰ Know you that their heart is ashes, and they err, and no one is able to deliver his soul: see, you ☐ will not say, [There is a] lie in my right hand. ²¹ Remember these things, O Jacob and Israel; for you are my servant; I have formed you [to be] my servant: and do you, Israel, not forget me. ²² For behold, I have blotted out as a cloud your transgressions, and your sin as darkness: turn to me, and I will redeem you. ²³ Rejoice, you ☐ heavens; for God has had mercy upon Israel: sound the trumpet, you ☐ foundations of the earth: you ☐ mountains, shout [with] joy, you ☐ hills, and all the trees therein: for God has redeemed Jacob, and Israel shall be glorified. ²⁴ Thus says the Lord that redeems you, and who formed you from the womb, I am the Lord that performs all things: I stretched out the heaven alone, and established the earth.

²⁵ Who else will frustrate the tokens of those that have divining spirits, and prophecies from the heart of [man]? turning the wise back, and making their counsel foolishness; ²⁶ and confirming the word of his servant, and verifying the counsel of his messengers: who says to Jerusalem, You shall be inhabited; and to the cities of Idumea, You $\square$ shall be built, and her desert places shall spring forth. ²⁷ Who says to the deep, You shall be dried up, and I will dry up the rivers. ²⁸ Who bids Cyrus be wise, and he shall perform all my will: who says to Jerusalem, You shall be built, and I will lay the foundation of my holy house.

Esaias 45

¹ Thus says the Lord God to my anointed Cyrus, whose right hand I have held, that nations might be obedient before him; and I will break through the strength of kings; I will open doors before him, and cities shall not be closed. ² I will go before you, and will level mountains: I will break to pieces brazen doors, and burst iron bars. ³ And I will give you the treasures of darkness, I will open to you hidden, unseen [treasures], that you may know that I, the Lord your God, that call you by name, am the God of Israel. ⁴ For the sake of my servant Jacob, and Israel my elect, I will call you by your name, and accept you: but you have not known me. ⁵ For I am the Lord God, and there is no other God beside me; I strengthened you, and you have not known me. ⁶ That they that [come] from the east and they that [come] from the west may know that there is no God but me. I am the Lord God, and there is none beside. ⁷ I am he that prepared light, and formed darkness; who make peace, and create evil; I am the Lord God, that does all these things. ⁸ Let the heaven rejoice from above, and let the clouds rain righteousness: let the earth bring forth, and blossom [with] mercy, and bring forth righteousness likewise: I am the Lord that created you. ⁹ What excellent thing have I prepared as clay of the potter? Will the plowman plow the earth all day? shall the clay say to the potter, What are you doing that you do not work, nor have hands? shall the thing formed answer him that formed it? ¹⁰ As though one should say to [his] father, What will you beget me? and to his mother, What are you bringing forth? ¹¹ For thus says the Lord God, the Holy One of Israel, who has formed the things that are to come, Enquire of me concerning my sons, and concerning the works of my hands command me. ¹² I have made the earth, and man upon it: I with my hand have established the heaven; I have given commandment to all the stars. ¹³ I have raised him up [to be] a king with righteousness, and all his ways are right: he shall build my city, and shall turn the captivity of my people, not for ransoms, nor for rewards, says the Lord of hosts. ¹⁴ Thus says the Lord of hosts, Egypt has laboured [for you]; and the merchandise of the Ethiopians, and the Sabeans, men of stature, shall pass over to you, and shall be your servants; and they shall follow after you bound in fetters, and shall pass over to you, and shall do obeisance to you, and make supplication to you: because God is in you; and there is no God beside you, [O Lord]. ¹⁵ For you are God, yet we knew [it] not, the God of Israel, the Saviour. ¹⁶ All that are opposed to him shall be ashamed and confounded, and shall walk in shame: you ☐ isles, keep a feast to me. ¹⁷ Israel is saved by the Lord with an everlasting salvation: they shall not be ashamed nor confounded for evermore. ¹⁸ Thus says the Lord that made the heaven, this God that created the earth, and made it; he marked it out, he made it not in vain, but formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord, and there is none beside. ¹⁹ I have not spoken in secret, nor in a dark place of the earth: I said not to the seed of Jacob, Seek vanity: I, even I, am the Lord, speaking righteousness, and proclaiming truth. ²⁰ Assemble yourselves and come; take counsel together, you ☐ that escape of the nations: they that set up wood, [even] their graven image, have no knowledge, nor they who pray to gods that do not save. ²¹ If they will declare, let them draw near, that they may know together, who has caused these things to be heard from the beginning: then was it told you. I am God, and there is not another beside me; a just [God] and a Saviour; there is none but me. ²² Turn you ☐ to me, and you ☐ shall be saved, you ☐ that [come] from the end of the earth: I am God, and there is none other. ²³ By myself I swear, righteousness shall surely proceed out of my mouth; my words shall not be frustrated; that to me every knee shall bend, and every tongue shall swear by God, ²⁴ saying, Righteousness and glory shall come to him: and all that remove them from their borders shall be ashamed. ²⁵ By the Lord shall they be justified, and in God shall all the seed of the children of Israel be glorified.

X: ¹ to his; whose; holden or, strengthened, to subdue; ;, to open All the streets of Babylon, leading on each side to the river, were secured by two leaved brazen gates, and these were provisionally left open when Cyrus's forces entered the city in the night, through the channel of the river, in the general disorder occasioned by the great feast which was then celebrated; otherwise, says Herodotus, the Persians would have been shut up in the bed of the river, as in a net, and all destroyed. The gates of the palace were also imprudently opened to ascertain the occasion of the tumult; when the two parties under Gobrias and Gadatas rushed in, got possession of the palace, and slew the king. ³ I will give; ; that thou; which call ⁴ Jacob; ; I have even, though ⁵ the Lord; ; I girded thee ⁷ form; create darkness; I make Peace ⁸ Drop down; let the earth; ; I the Lord ⁹ unto him; Shall the clay ¹¹ the Holy One, Ask; concerning my sons; ; concerning the work; ; command ¹² made the earth; ; my hands; ; all their host ¹³ raised him, in the righteousness; direct or, make straight, he shall build; let go; price ¹⁴ The labour; ; the Sabeans That the Sabeans were of a most majestic appearance is particularly remarked by Agatharchides, an ancient Greek historian quoted by Bochart; men of stature; in chains; they shall fall; ; Surely; and there ¹⁷ Israel; an everlasting; ; ye shall not ¹⁸ that created; he created; I am ²¹ Tell ye; ; and bring who hath declared, and there is, a just ²³ sworn; the word; That unto; every tongue ²⁴ Surely etc. or, Surely he shall say of me, In the Lord is all righteousness and strength in the; ; *marg. righteousness Heb. righteousnesses strength; even; and all ²⁵ the Lord; ; the seed; ; glory; *Gr.

¹ Bel has fallen, Nabo is broken to pieces, their graven images are gone to the wild beasts and the cattle: you ☐ take them packed up as a burden to the weary, exhausted, hungry, and [at the same time] helpless man; ² who will not be able to save themselves from war, but they themselves are led [away] captive. ³ Hear me, O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of Israel, who are borne [by me] from the womb, and taught [by me] from infancy, [even] to old age: ⁴ I am [he]; and until you ☐ shall have grown old, I am [he]: I bear you, I have made, and I will relieve, I will take up and save you. ⁵ To whom have you ☐ compared me? see, consider, you ☐ that go astray. ⁶ They that furnish gold out of a purse, and silver by weight, will weigh it in a scale, and they hire a goldsmith and make idols, and bow down, and worship them. ⁷ They bear it upon the shoulder, and go; and if they put it upon its place, it remains, it can't move: and whoever shall cry to it, it can't hear; it can't save him from trouble. ⁸ Remember you ☐ these things, and groan: repent, you ☐ that have gone astray, return in your heart; ⁹ and remember the former things [that were] of old: for I am God, and there is none other beside me, ¹⁰ telling beforehand the latter events before they come to pass, and they are accomplished together: and I said, all my counsel shall stand, and I will do all things that I have planned: ¹¹ calling a bird from the east, and from a land afar off, for the things which I have planned: I have spoken, and brought [him]; I have created and made [him]; I have brought him, and prospered his way. ¹² Listen to me, you ☐ senseless ones, that are far from righteousness: ¹³ I have brought near my righteousness, and I will not be slow with the salvation that is from me: I have given salvation in Sion to Israel for glory.

¹ Come down, sit on the ground, O virgin daughter of Babylon: sit on the ground, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for you shall no more be called tender and luxurious. ² Take a millstone, grind meal: remove your veil, uncover your white hairs, make bare the leg, pass through the rivers. ³ Your shame shall be uncovered, your reproaches shall be brought to light: I will exact of you due vengeance, I will no longer deliver you to men. ⁴ Your deliverer is the Lord of hosts, the Holy One of Israel is his name. ⁵ Sit you down pierced with woe, go into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldeans: you shall no more be called the strength of a kingdom. ⁶ I have been provoked with my people; you have defiled my inheritance: I gave them into your hand, but you did not extend mercy to them: you made the yoke of the aged man very heavy, ⁷ and said, I shall be a princess for ever: you did not perceive these things in your heart, nor did you remember the latter end. ⁸ But now hear these words, you luxurious one, [who are] the one that sits [at ease], that is secure, that says in her heart, I am, and there is not another; I shall not sit a widow, neither shall I know bereavement. ⁹ But now these two things shall come upon you suddenly in one day, the loss of children and widowhood shall come suddenly upon you, for your sorcery, for the strength of your enchantments, ¹⁰ for your trusting in wickedness: for you said, I am, and there is not another: know you, the understanding of these things and your harlotry shall be your shame; for you said in your heart, I am, and there is not another. ¹¹ And destruction shall come upon you, and you shall not be aware; [there shall be a] pit, and you shall fall into it: and grief shall come upon you, and you shall not be able to be clear; and destruction shall come suddenly upon you, and you shall not know. ¹² Stand now with your enchantments, and with the abundance of your sorcery, which you have learned from your youth; if you can be profited. ¹³ You are wearied in your counsels. Let now the astrologers of the heaven stand and deliver you, let them that see the stars tell you what is about to come upon you. ¹⁴ Behold, they all shall be burnt up as sticks in the fire; neither shall they at all deliver their life from the flame. Because you have coals of fire, sit you upon them; ¹⁵ these shall be your help. You have wearied yourself with traffic from your youth: every man has wandered to his own home, but you shall have no deliverance.

¹ Hear these [words], you ☐ house of Jacob, who are called by the name of Israel, and have come forth out of Juda, who swear by the name of the Lord God of Israel, making mention [of it, but] not with truth, nor with righteousness; ² maintaining also the name of the holy city, and staying themselves on the God of Israel: the Lord of hosts is his name. The former things I have already declared; ³ and they that have proceeded out of my mouth, and it became well known; I wrought suddenly, and [the events] came to pass. ⁴ I know that you are stubborn, and your neck is an iron sinew, and your forehead brazen. ⁵ And I told you of old what [should be] before it came upon you; I made it known to you, lest you should say, [My] idols have done [it] for me; and should say, [My] graven and molten images have commanded me. ⁶ You ☐ have heard all this, but you ☐ have not known: yet I have made known to you the new things from henceforth, which are coming to pass, and you said not, ⁷ Now they come to pass, and not formerly: and you heard not of them in former days: say not you, Yes, I know them. ⁸ You have neither known, nor understood, neither from the beginning have I opened your ears: for I knew that you would surely deal treacherously, and would be called a transgressor even from the womb. ⁹ For my own sake will I show you my wrath, and will bring before you my glorious acts, that I may not utterly destroy you. ¹⁰ Behold, I have sold you, [but] not for silver; but I have rescued you from the furnace of affliction. ¹¹ For my own sake I will do [this] for you, because my name is profaned; and I will not give my glory to another. ¹² Hear me, O Jacob, and Israel whom I call; I am the first, and I endure for ever. ¹³ My hand also has founded the earth, and my right hand has fixed the sky: I will call them, and they shall stand together. ¹⁴ And all shall be gathered, and shall hear: who has told them these things? Out of love to you I have fulfilled your desire on Babylon, to abolish the seed of the Chaldeans. ¹⁵ I have spoken, I have called, I have brought him, and made his way prosperous. ¹⁶ Draw near to me, and hear you ☐ these words; I have not spoken in secret from the beginning: when it took place, there was I, and now the Lord, [even] the Lord, and his Spirit, has sent me. ¹⁷ Thus says the Lord that delivered you, the Holy One of Israel; I am your God, I have shown you how you should find the way wherein you should walk. ¹⁸ And if you had listened to my commandments, [then] would your peace have been like a river, and your righteousness as a wave of the sea. ¹⁹ Your seed also would have been as the sand, and the offspring of your belly as the dust of the ground: neither now shall you by any means be utterly destroyed, neither shall your name perish before me. ²⁰ Go forth of Babylon, you that flee from the Chaldeans: utter aloud a voice of joy, and let this be made known, proclaim it to the end of the earth; say you ☐ , The Lord has delivered his servant Jacob. ²¹ And if they shall thirst, he shall lead them through the desert; he shall bring forth water to them out of the rock: the rock shall be cloven, and the water shall flow forth, and my people shall drink. ²² There is no joy, says the Lord, to the ungodly.

¹ Listen to me, you ☐ islands; and attend, you ☐ Gentiles; after a long time it shall come to pass, says the Lord: from my mother's womb he has called my name: ² and he has made my mouth as a sharp sword, and he has hid me under the shadow of his hand; he has made me as a choice shaft, and he has hid me in his quiver; ³ and said to me, You are my servant, O Israel, and in you I will be glorified. ⁴ Then I said, I have laboured in vain, I have given my strength for vanity and for nothing: therefore is my judgment with the Lord, and my labor before my God. ⁵ And now, thus says the Lord that formed me from the womb to be his own servant, to gather Jacob to him and Israel. I shall be gathered and glorified before the Lord, and my God shall be my strength. ⁶ And he said to me, [It is] a great thing for you to be called my servant, to establish the tribes of Jacob, and to recover the dispersion of Israel: behold, I have given you for the covenant of a race, for a light of the Gentiles, that you should be for salvation to the end of the earth. ⁷ Thus says the Lord that delivered you, the God of Israel, Sanctify him that despises his life, him that is abhorred by the nations that are the servants of princes: kings shall behold him, and princes shall arise, and shall worship him, for the Lord's sake: for the Holy One of Israel is faithful, and I have chosen you. ⁸ Thus says the Lord, In an acceptable time have I heard you, and in a day of salvation have I succored you: and I have formed you, and given you for a covenant of the nations, to establish the earth, and to cause to inherit the desert heritages: ⁹ saying to them that are in bonds, Go forth; and [bidding] them that are in darkness show themselves. They shall be fed in all the ways, and in all the paths [shall be] their pasture. ¹⁰ They shall not hunger, neither shall they thirst; neither shall the heat nor the sun strike them; but he that has mercy on them shall comfort [them], and by fountains of waters shall he lead them. ¹¹ And I will make every mountain a way, and every path a pasture to them. ¹² Behold, these shall come from far: [and] these from the north and the west, and others from the land of the Persians. ¹³ Rejoice, you □ heavens; and let the earth be glad: let the mountains break forth [with] joy; for the Lord has had mercy on his people, and has comforted the lowly ones of his people. ¹⁴ But Sion said, The Lord has forsaken me, and, The Lord has forgotten me. ¹⁵ Will a woman forget her child, so as not to have compassion upon the offspring of her womb? but if a woman should even forget these, yet I will not forget you, says the Lord. ¹⁶ Behold, I have painted your walls on my hands, and you are continually before me. ¹⁷ And you shall soon be built by those by whom you were destroyed, and they that made you desolate shall go forth of you. ¹⁸ Lift up your eyes round about, and look on them all; behold, they are gathered together, and are come to you. [As] I live, says the Lord, you shall clothe yourself with them all as with an ornament, and put them on as a bride her attire. ¹⁹ For your desert and marred and ruined [places] shall now be too narrow by reason of the inhabitants, and they that devoured you shall be removed far from you. ²⁰ For your sons whom you have lost shall say in your ears, The place [is too] narrow for me: make room for me that I may dwell. ²¹ And you shall say in your heart, Who has begotten me these? whereas I [was] childless, and a widow; but who has brought up these for me? and I was left alone; but whence came these to me? ²² Thus says the Lord, [even] the Lord, Behold, I lift up my hand to the nations, and I will lift up my signal to the islands: and they shall bring your sons in [their] bosom, and shall bear your daughters on [their] shoulders. ²³ And kings shall be your nursing fathers, and their princesses your nurses, they shall bow down to you on the face of the earth, and shall lick the dust of your feet; and you shall know that I am the Lord, and they that wait on me shall not be ashamed. ²⁴ Will any one take spoils from a giant? and if one should take [a man] captive unjustly, shall he be delivered? ²⁵ For thus says the Lord, If one should take a giant captive, he shall take spoils, and he who takes [them] from a mighty [man] shall be delivered: for I will plead your cause, and I will deliver your children. ²⁶ And they that afflicted you shall eat their own flesh; and they shall drink their own blood as new wine, and shall be drunken: and all flesh shall perceive that I am the Lord that delivers you, and that upholds the strength of Jacob.

¹ Thus says the Lord, Of what kind is your mother's bill of divorcement, by which I put her away? or to which debtor have I sold you? Behold, you ☐ are sold for your sins, and for your iniquities have I put your mother away. ² Why did I come, and there was no man? [why] did I call, and there was none to listen? Is not my hand strong to redeem? or can I not deliver? behold, by my rebuke I will dry up the sea, and make rivers a wilderness; and their fish shall be dried up because there is no water, and shall die for thirst. ³ I will clothe the sky with darkness, and will make its covering as sackcloth. ⁴ The Lord [even] God gives me the tongue of instruction, to know when it is fit to speak a word: he has appointed for me early, he has given me an ear to hear: ⁵ and the instruction of the Lord, even the Lord, opens my ears, and I do not disobey, nor dispute. ⁶ I gave my back to scourges, and my cheeks to blows; and I turned not away my face from the shame of spitting: ⁷ but the Lord God became my helper; therefore I was not ashamed, but I set my face as a solid rock; and I know that I shall never be ashamed, ⁸ for he that has justified me draws near; who is he that pleads with me? let him stand up against me at the same time: yes, who is he that pleads with me? let him draw near to me. ⁹ Behold, the Lord, the Lord, will help me; who will hurt me? behold, all you ☐ shall wax old as a garment, and a moth shall devour you. ¹⁰ Who is among you that fears the Lord? let him listen to the voice of his servant: you ☐ that walk in darkness, and have no light, trust in the name of the Lord, and stay upon God. ¹¹ Behold, you ☐ all kindle a fire, and feed a flame: walk in the light of your fire, and in the flame which you ☐ have kindled. This has happened to you for my sake; you ☐ shall lie down in sorrow.

¹ Listen to me, you ☐ that follow after righteousness, and seek the Lord: look to the solid rock, which you ☐ have hewn, and to the hole of the pit which you ☐ have dug. ² Look to Abraam your father, and to Sarrha that bore you: for he was alone when I called him, and blessed him, and loved him, and multiplied him. ³ And now I will comfort you, O Sion: and I have comforted all her desert places; and I will make her desert places as a garden, and her western places as the garden of the Lord; they shall find in her gladness and exultation, thanksgiving and the voice of praise. ⁴ Hear me, hear me, my people; and you ☐ kings, listen to me: for a law shall proceed from me, and my judgment [shall be] for a light of the nations. ⁵ My righteousness speedily draws near, and my salvation shall go forth as light, and on my arm shall the Gentiles trust: the isles shall wait for me, and on my arm shall they trust. ⁶ Lift up your eyes to the sky, and look on the earth beneath: for the sky was darkened like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and the inhabitants shall die in like manner: but my righteousness shall not fail. ⁷ Hear me, you ☐ that know judgment, the people in whose heart is my law: fear not the reproach of men, and be not overcome by their contempt. ⁸ For as a garment will be devoured by time, and as wool will be devoured by a moth, [so shall they be consumed]; but my righteousness shall be for ever, and my salvation for all generations. ⁹ Awake, awake, O Jerusalem, and put on the strength of your arm; awake as in the early time, as the ancient generation. ¹⁰ Are you not it that dried the sea, the water, [even] the abundance of the deep; that made the depths of the sea a way of passage for the delivered and redeemed? ¹¹ for by [the help of] the Lord they shall return, and come to Sion with joy and everlasting exultation, for praise and joy shall come upon their head: pain, and grief, and groaning, have fled away. ¹² I, [even] I, am he that comforts you: consider who you are, that you were afraid of mortal man, and of the son of man, who are withered as grass. ¹³ And you have forgotten God who made you, who made the sky and founded the earth; and you were continually afraid because of the wrath of him that afflicted you: for [whereas] he counselled to take you away, yet now where is the wrath of him that afflicted you? ¹⁴ For in your deliverance he shall not halt, nor wait; ¹⁵ for I am your God, that troubles the sea, and causes the waves thereof to roar: the Lord of hosts is my name. ¹⁶ I will put my words into your mouth, and I will shelter you under the shadow of my hand, with which I fixed the sky, and founded the earth: and [the Lord] shall say to Sion, You are my people. ¹⁷ Awake, awake, stand up, O Jerusalem, that have drunk at the hand of the Lord the cup of his fury: for you have drunk out and drained the cup of calamity, the cup of wrath: ¹⁸ and there was none to comfort you of all the children whom you bore; and there was none to take hold of your hand, not even of all the children whom you have reared. ¹⁹ Therefore these things are against you; who shall sympathize with you in your grief? downfall, and destruction, famine, and sword: who shall comfort you? ²⁰ Your sons are the perplexed ones, that sleep at the top of every street as a half-boiled beet; they that are full of the anger of the Lord, caused to faint by the Lord God. ²¹ Therefore hear, you afflicted one, and drunken, [but] not with wine; ²² thus says the Lord God that judges his people, Behold, I have taken out of your hand the cup of calamity, the cup of my wrath; and you shall not drink it any more. ²³ And I will give it into the hands of them that injured you, and them that afflicted you; who said to your soul, Bow down, that we may pass over: and you did level your body with the ground to them passing by without.

¹ O Lord, who has believed our report? and to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed? ² We brought a report as [of] a child before him; [he is] as a root in a thirsty land: he has no form nor comeliness; and we saw him, but he had no form nor beauty. ³ But his form was ignoble, and inferior to that of the children of men; [he was] a man in suffering, and acquainted with the bearing of sickness, for his face is turned from [us]: he was dishonored, and not esteemed. ⁴ He bears our sins, and is pained for us: yet we accounted him to be in trouble, and in suffering, and in affliction. ⁵ But he was wounded on account of our sins, and was bruised because of our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; [and] by his bruises we were healed. ⁶ All we as sheep have gone astray; every one has gone astray in his way; and the Lord gave him up for our sins. ⁷ And he, because of his affliction, opens not his mouth: he was led as a sheep to the slaughter, and as a lamb before the shearer is dumb, so he opens not his mouth. ⁸ In [his] humiliation his judgment was taken away: who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken away from the earth: because of the iniquities of my people he was led to death. ⁹ And I will give the wicked for his burial, and the rich for his death; for he practised no iniquity, nor craft with his mouth. ¹⁰ The Lord also is pleased to purge him from his stroke. If you ☐ can give an offering for sin, your soul shall see a long-lived seed: ¹¹ the Lord also is pleased to take away from the travail of his soul, to show him light, and to form [him] with understanding; to justify the just one who serves many well; and he shall bear their sins. ¹² Therefore he shall inherit many, and he shall divide the spoils of the mighty; because his soul was delivered to death: and he was numbered among the transgressors; and he bore the sins of many, and was delivered because of their iniquities.

you□ lawless children, the seed of adulterers and the harlot. ⁴ Wherein have you□ been rioting? and against whom have you□ opened your mouth, and against whom have you□ loosed your tongue? are you□ not children of perdition? a lawless seed? ⁵ who call upon idols under the leafy trees, slaying your children in the valleys among the rocks? ⁶ That is your portion, this is your lot: and to them have you poured forth drink-offerings, and to these have you offered meat-offerings. Shall I not therefore be angry for these things? ⁷ On a lofty and high mountain, there is your bed, and there you carried up your meat-offerings: ⁸ and behind the posts of your door you did place your memorials. Did you think that if you should depart from me, you would gain? you have loved those that lay with you; ⁹ and you have multiplied your whoredom with them, and you have increased the number of them that are far from you, and have sent ambassadors beyond your borders, and have been debased even to hell. ¹⁰ You have wearied yourself with your many ways; yet you said not, I will cease to strengthen myself: for you have done these things; therefore you have not supplicated me. ¹¹ Through dread of whom have you feared, and lied against me, and has not remembered, nor considered me, nor regarded me, yes, though when I see you I pass you by, yet you have not feared me. ¹² And I will declare your righteousness, and your sins, which shall not profit you. ¹³ When you cry out, let them deliver you in your affliction: for all these the wind shall take, and the tempest shall carry [them] away: but they that cleave to me shall possess the land, and shall inherit my holy mountain. ¹⁴ And they shall say, Clear the ways before him, and take up the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people. ¹⁵ Thus says the Most High, who dwells on high for ever, Holy in the holies, is his name, the Most High resting in the holies, and giving patience to the faint-hearted, and giving life to the broken-hearted: ¹⁶ I will not take vengeance on you for ever, neither will I be always angry with you: for my Spirit shall go forth from me, and I have created all breath. ¹⁷ On account of sin for a little while I grieved him, and struck him, and turned away my face from him; and he was grieved, and he went on sorrowful in his ways. ¹⁸ I have seen his ways, and healed him, and comforted him, and given him true comfort; ¹⁹ peace upon peace to them that are far off, and to them that are near: and the Lord has said, I will heal them. ²⁰ But the unrighteous shall be tossed as troubled waves, and shall not be able to rest. ²¹ There is no joy to the ungodly, said God.

¹ Cry aloud, and spare not; lift up your voice as with a trumpet, and declare to my people their sins, and to the house of Jacob their iniquities. ² They seek me day by day, and desire to know my ways, as a people that had done righteousness, and had not forsaken the judgment of their God: they now ask of me righteous judgment, and desire to draw near to God, ³ saying, Why have we fasted, and you regard not? [why] have we afflicted our souls, and you did not know it? Nay, in the days of your fasts you ☐ find your pleasures, and all them that are under your power you ☐ wound. ⁴ If you ☐ fast for quarrels and strifes, and strike the lowly with [your] fists, therefore do you ☐ fast to me as [you ☐ do] this day, so that your voice may be heard in crying? ⁵ I have not chosen this fast, nor [such] a day for a man to afflict his soul; neither though you should bend down your neck as a ring, and spread under you sackcloth and ashes, neither thus shall you ☐ call a fast acceptable. ⁶ I have not chosen such a fast, says the Lord; but do you loose every burden of iniquity, do you untie the knots of hard bargains, set the bruised free, and cancel every unjust account. ⁷ Break your bread to the hungry, and lead the unsheltered poor to your house: if you see one naked, clothe [him], and you shall not disregard the relations of your own seed. ⁸ Then shall your light break forth as the morning, and your health shall speedily spring forth: and your righteousness shall go before you, and the glory of God shall compass you. ⁹ Then shall you cry, and God shall listen to you; while you are yet speaking he will say, Behold, I am here. If you remove from you the band, and the stretching forth of the hands, and murmuring speech; ¹⁰ and [if] you give bread to the hungry from your heart, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall your light spring up in darkness, and your darkness [shall be] as noon-day: ¹¹ and your God shall be with you continually, and you shall be satisfied according as your soul desires; and your bones shall be made fat, and shall be as a well-watered garden, and as a fountain [from] which the water has not failed. ¹² And your old waste desert [places] shall be built up, and your foundations shall last through all generations; and you shall be called a repairer of breaches, and you shall cause your paths between to be in peace. ¹³ If you turn away your foot from the sabbath, so as not to do your pleasure on the holy days, and shall call the sabbaths delightful, holy to God; [if] you shall not lift up your foot to work, nor speak a word in anger out of your mouth, ¹⁴ then shall you trust on the Lord; and he shall bring you up to the good places of the land, and feed you with the heritage of Jacob your father: for the mouth of the Lord has spoken this.

¹ Has the hand of the Lord no power to save? or has he made his ear heavy, so that he should not hear? ² Nay, your iniquities separate between you and God, and because of your sins has he turned away [his] face from you, so as not to have mercy [upon you]. ³ For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with sins; your lips also have spoken iniquity, and your tongue meditates unrighteousness. ⁴ None speaks justly, neither is there true judgment: they trust in vanities, and speak empty [words]; for they conceive trouble, and bring forth iniquity. ⁵ They have hatched asps' eggs, and weave a spider's web: and he that is going to eat of their eggs, having crushed an addled egg, has found also in it a basilisk. ⁶ Their web shall not become a garment, nor shall they at all clothe themselves with their works; for their works are works of iniquity. ⁷ And their feet run to wickedness, swift to shed blood; their thoughts also are thoughts of murder; destruction and misery are in their ways; ⁸ and the way of peace they know not, neither is there judgment in their ways; for their paths by which they go are crooked, and they know not peace. ⁹ Therefore has judgment departed from them, and righteousness shall not overtake them: while they waited for light, darkness came upon them; while they waited for brightness, they walked in perplexity. ¹⁰ They shall feel for the wall as blind [men], and shall feel [for it] as if they had no eyes: and they shall feel at noon-day as at midnight; they shall groan as dying men. ¹¹ They shall proceed together as a bear and as a dove: we have waited for judgment, and there is no salvation, it is gone far from us. ¹² For our iniquity is great before you, and our sins have risen up against us: for our iniquities are in us, and we know our unrighteous deeds. ¹³ We have sinned, and dealt falsely, and revolted from our God: we have spoken unrighteous words, and have been disobedient; we have conceived and uttered from our heart unrighteous words. ¹⁴ And we have turned judgment back, and righteousness has departed afar off: for truth is consumed in their ways, and they could not pass by a straight [path]. ¹⁵ And truth has been taken away, and they have turned aside [their] mind from understanding. And the Lord saw it, and it pleased him not that there was no judgment. ¹⁶ And he looked, and there was no man, and he observed, and there was none to help: so he defended them with his arm, and established [them] with [his] mercy. ¹⁷ And he put on righteousness as a breast-plate, and placed the helmet of salvation on his head; and he clothed himself with the garment of vengeance, and with his cloak, ¹⁸ as one about to render a recompence, [even] reproach to his adversaries. ¹⁹ So shall they of the west fear the name of the Lord, and they [that come] from the rising of the sun his glorious name: for the wrath of the Lord shall come as a mighty river, it shall come with fury. ²⁰ And the deliverer shall come for Sion's sake, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob. ²¹ And this shall be my covenant with them, said the Lord; My Spirit which is upon you, and the words which I have put in your mouth, shall never fail from your mouth, nor from the mouth of your seed, for the Lord has spoken it, henceforth and for ever.

you brass, and instead of stones, iron; and I will make your princes peaceful, and your overseers righteous. ¹⁸ And injustice shall no more be heard in your land, nor destruction nor misery in your coasts; but your walls shall be called Salvation, and your gates Sculptured Work. ¹⁹ And you shall no more have the sun for a light by day, nor shall the rising of the moon lighten your night; but the Lord shall be your everlasting light, and God your glory. ²⁰ For the sun shall no more set, nor shall the moon be eclipsed; for the Lord shall be your everlasting light, and the days of your mourning shall be completed. ²¹ Your people also shall be all righteous; they shall inherit the land for ever, preserving that which they have planted, [even] the works of their hands, for glory. ²² The little one shall become thousands, and the least a great nation; I the Lord will gather them in [due] time.

Lowth, is the great increase and flourishing state of the church of God, by the conversion and accession of the heathen nations to it; which is set forth in such ample and exalted terms, as plainly shew that the full completion of this prophecy is reserved for future times. This subject is displayed in the most splendid colours, under a great variety of images highly poetical, designed to give a general idea of the glories of that perfect state of the church of God, which we are taught to expect in the latter times; when the fulness of the Gentiles shall come in, and the Jews shall be converted and gathered from their dispersions, and "the kingdom of this world shall become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ." thy gates; forces or, wealth, *marg. ¹³ The glory That is, the cedar; and as the choice timber of Lebanon beautified Solomon's temple, that footstool of Jehovah; so shall the peculiar advantages of every nation, and of every description of men, concur to beautify the church of Christ, which He has determined to make glorious. The language then becomes more energetic, and the images employed more grand and magnificent; and nothing can answer to the glorious description but some future exalted state of the church on earth, or the church triumphant in heaven; though several expressions seem to limit it to the church below, ; to beautify the place ¹⁶ suck the milk, thou shalt know ²¹ people, ; inherit; the branch, ; that I

¹ The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me; he has sent me to preach glad tidings to the poor, to heal the broken in heart, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and recovery of sight to the blind; ² to declare the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of recompence; to comfort all that mourn; ³ that there should be given to them that mourn in Sion glory instead of ashes, the oil of joy to the mourners, the garment of glory for the spirit of heaviness: and they shall be called generations of righteousness, the planting of the Lord for glory. ⁴ And they shall build the old waste places, they shall raise up those that were before made desolate, and shall renew the desert cities, [even] those that had been desolate for [many] generations. ⁵ And strangers shall come and feed your flocks, and aliens [shall be your] plowmen and vine-dressers. ⁶ But you□ shall be called priests of the Lord, the ministers of God: you□ shall eat the strength of nations, and shall be admired because of their wealth. ⁷ Thus shall they inherit the land a second time, and everlasting joy shall be upon their head. ⁸ For I am the Lord who love righteousness, and hate robberies of injustice; and I will give their labor to the just, and will make an everlasting covenant with them. ⁹ And their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their offspring in the midst of peoples: every one that sees them shall take notice of them, that they are a seed blessed of God; ¹⁰ and they shall greatly rejoice in the Lord. Let my soul rejoice in the Lord; for he has clothed me with the robe of salvation, and the garment of joy: he has put a mitre on me as on a bridegroom, and adorned me with ornaments as a bride. ¹¹ And as the earth putting forth her flowers, and as a garden its seed; so shall the Lord, [even] the Lord, cause righteousness to spring forth, and exultation before all nations.

¹ Who is this that is come from Edom, [with] red garments from Bosor? thus fair in his apparel, with mighty strength? I speak of righteousness and saving judgment. ² Therefore are your garments red, and your raiment as [if fresh] from a trodden winepress? ³ I am full of trodden [grape], and of the nations there is not a man with me; and I trampled them in my fury, and dashed them to pieces as earth, and brought down their blood to the earth. ⁴ For the day of recompence has come upon them, and the year of redemption is at hand. ⁵ And I looked, and there was no helper; and I observed, and none upheld: therefore my arm delivered them, and my anger drew near. ⁶ And I trampled them in my anger, and brought down their blood to the earth. ⁷ I remembered the mercy of the Lord, the praises of the Lord in all things wherein he recompenses us. The Lord is a good judge to the house of Israel; he deals with us according to his mercy, and according to the abundance of his righteousness. ⁸ And he said, Is it not my people? the children surely will not be rebellious: and he became to them deliverance ⁹ out of all their affliction: not an ambassador, nor a messenger, but himself saved them, because he loved them and spared them: he himself redeemed them, and took them up, and lifted them up all the days of old. ¹⁰ But they disobeyed, and provoked his Holy Spirit: so he turned to be an enemy, he himself contended against them. ¹¹ Then he remembered the ancient days, [saying], Where is he that brought up from the sea the shepherd of the sheep? where is he that put his Holy Spirit in them? ¹² who led Moses with his right hand, the arm of his glory? he forced the water [to separate] from before him, to make himself an everlasting name. ¹³ He led them through the deep, as a horse through the wilderness, and they fainted not, ¹⁴ and as cattle through a plain: the Spirit came down from the Lord, and guided them: thus you led your people, to make yourself a glorious name. ¹⁵ Turn from heaven, and look from your holy habitation and [from] your glory: where is your zeal and your strength? where is the abundance of your mercy and of your compassions, that you have withholden yourself from us? ¹⁶ For you are our Father; for [though] Abraham knew us not, and Israel did not acknowledge us, yet do you, O Lord, our Father, deliver us: your name has been upon us from the beginning. ¹⁷ Why have you caused us to err, O Lord, from your way? [and] has hardened our hearts, that we should not fear you? Return for your servants' sake, for the sake of the tribes of your inheritance, ¹⁸ that we may inherit a small part of your holy mountain. ¹⁹ We are become as at the beginning, when you did not rule over us, and your name was not called upon us.

Esaias 64

¹ If you would open the heaven, trembling will take hold upon the mountains from you, and they shall melt, ² as wax melts before the fire; and fire shall burn up the enemies, and your name shall be manifest among the adversaries: at your presence the nations shall be troubled, ³ whenever you shall work gloriously; trembling from you shall take hold upon the mountains. ⁴ From of old we have not heard, neither have our eyes seen a God beside you, and your works which you will perform to them that wait for mercy. ⁵ For [these blessings] shall happen to them that work righteousness, and they shall remember your ways: behold, you were angry and we have sinned; therefore we have erred, ⁶ and we are all become as unclean, and all our righteousness as a filthy rag: and we have fallen as leaves because of our iniquities; thus the wind shall carry us [away]. ⁷ And there is none that calls upon your name, or that remembers to take hold on you: for you have turned your face away from us, and have delivered us up because of our sins. ⁸ And now, O Lord, you are our Father, and we are clay, all [of us] the work of your hands. ⁹ Be not very angry with us, and remember not our sins for ever; but now look on [us], for we are all your people. ¹⁰ The city of your holiness has become desolate, Sion has become as a wilderness, Jerusalem a curse. ¹¹ The house, our sanctuary, and the glory which our fathers blessed, has been burnt with fire: and all our glorious things have gone to ruin. ¹² And for all these things you, O Lord, has withholden, yourself, and been silent, and have brought us very low.

¹ I became manifest to them that asked not for me; I was found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold, I am [here], to a nation, who called not on my name. ² I have stretched forth my hands all day to a disobedient and gainsaying people, to them that walked in a way that was not good, but after their sins. ³ This is the people that provokes me continually in my presence; they offer sacrifices in gardens, and burn incense on bricks to devils, which exist not. ⁴ They lie down to sleep in the tombs and in the caves for the sake of dreams, [even] they that eat swine's flesh, and the broth of [their] sacrifices: all their vessels are defiled: ⁵ who say, Depart from me, draw not near to me, for I am pure. This is the smoke of my wrath, a fire burns with it continually. ⁶ Behold, it is written before me: I will not be silent until I have recompensed into their bosom, ⁷ their sins and [the sins] of their fathers, says the Lord, who have burnt incense on the mountains, and reproached me on the hills: I will recompense their works into their bosom. ⁸ Thus says the Lord, As a grape-stone shall be found in the cluster, and they shall say, Destroy it not; for a blessing is in it: so will I do for the sake of him that serves me, for his sake I will not destroy [them] all. ⁹ And I will lead forth the seed [that came] of Jacob and of Juda, and they shall inherit my holy mountain: and my elect and my servants shall inherit it, and shall dwell there. ¹⁰ And there shall be in the forest folds of flocks, and the valley of Achor [shall] be for a resting-place of herds for my people, who have sought me. ¹¹ But you ☐ are they that have left me, and forget my holy mountain, and prepare a table for the devil, and fill up the drink-offering to Fortune. ¹² I will deliver you up to the sword, you ☐ shall all fall by slaughter: for I called you, and you ☐ listened not; I spoke, and you ☐ refused to hear; and you ☐ did evil in my sight, and chose the things wherein I delighted not. ¹³ Therefore thus says the Lord, Behold, my servants shall eat, but you ☐ shall hunger: behold, my servants shall drink, but you ☐ shall thirst: behold, my servants shall rejoice, but you ☐ shall be ashamed: ¹⁴ behold, my servants shall exult with joy, but you ☐ shall cry for the sorrow of your heart, and shall howl for the vexation of your spirit. ¹⁵ For you ☐ shall leave your name for a loathing to my chosen, and the Lord shall destroy you: but my servants shall be called by a new name, ¹⁶ which shall be blessed on the earth; for they shall bless the true God: and they that swear upon the earth shall swear by the true God; for they shall forget the former affliction, it shall not come into their mind. ¹⁷ For there shall be a new heaven and a new earth: and they shall not at all remember the former, neither shall they at all come into their mind. ¹⁸ But they shall find in her joy and exultation; for, behold, I make Jerusalem a rejoicing, and my people a joy. ¹⁹ And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and will be glad in my people: and there shall no more be heard in her the voice of weeping, or the voice of crying. ²⁰ Neither shall there be there any more a [child that dies] untimely, or an old man who shall not complete his time: for the youth shall be one hundred years [old], and the sinner who dies at one hundred years shall also be accursed: ²¹ and they shall build houses, and themselves shall dwell in [them]; and they shall plant vineyards, and themselves shall eat the fruit thereof. ²² They shall by no means build, and others inhabit; and they shall by no means plant, and others eat: for as the days of the tree of life shall be the days of my people, they shall long enjoy the fruits of their labors. ²³ My chosen shall not toil in vain, neither shall they beget children to be cursed; for they are a seed blessed of God, and their offspring with them. ²⁴ And it shall come to pass, [that] before they call, I will listen to them; while they are yet speaking, I will say, What is it? ²⁵ Then wolves and lambs shall feed together, and the lion shall eat chaff like the ox, and the serpent earth as bread. They shall not injure nor destroy in my holy mountain, says the Lord.

¹ Thus says the Lord, Heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: what kind of a house will you ☐ build me? and of what kind [is to be] the place of my rest? ² For all these things are mine, says the Lord: and to whom will I have respect, but to the humble and meek, and the [man] that trembles [at] my words? ³ But the transgressor that sacrifices a calf to me, is as he that kills a dog; and he that offers fine flour, as [one that offers] swine's blood; he that gives frankincense for a memorial, is as a blasphemer. Yet they have chosen their own ways, and their soul has delighted in their abominations. ⁴ I also will choose their mockeries, and will recompense their sins upon them; because I called them, and they did not listen to me; I spoke, and they heard not: and they did evil before me, and chose the things wherein I delighted not. ⁵ Hear the words of the Lord, you ☐ that tremble at his word; speak you ☐, our brethren, to them that hate you and abominate you, that the name of the Lord may be glorified, and may appear their joy; but they shall be ashamed. ⁶ A voice of a cry from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of the Lord rendering recompense to [his] adversaries. ⁷ Before she that travailed brought forth, before the travail-pain came on, she escaped [it] and brought forth a male. ⁸ Who has heard such a thing? and who has seen after this manner? Has the earth travailed in one day? or has even a nation been born at once, that Sion has travailed, and brought forth her children? ⁹ But I have raised this expectation, yet you have not remembered me, says the Lord: behold, have not I made the bearing and barren woman? says your God. ¹⁰ Rejoice, O Jerusalem, and all you ☐ that love her hold in her a general assembly: rejoice greatly with her, all that [now] mourn over her: ¹¹ that you□ may suck, and be satisfied with the breast of her consolation; that you□ may milk out, and delight yourselves with the influx of her glory. ¹² For thus says the Lord, Behold, I turn toward them as a river of peace, and as a torrent bringing upon them in a flood the glory of the Gentiles: their children shall be borne upon the shoulders, and comforted on the knees. ¹³ As if his mother should comfort one, so will I also comfort you; and you□ shall be comforted in Jerusalem. ¹⁴ And you□ shall see, and your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall thrive like grass: and the hand of the Lord shall be known to them that fear him, and he shall threaten the disobedient. ¹⁵ For, behold, the Lord will come as fire, and his chariots as a storm, to render his vengeance with wrath, and his rebuke with a flame of fire. ¹⁶ For with the fire of the Lord all the earth shall be judged, and all flesh with his sword: many shall be slain by the Lord. ¹⁷ They that sanctify themselves and purify themselves in the gardens, and eat swine's flesh in the porches, and the abominations, and the mouse, shall be consumed together, says the Lord. ¹⁸ And I [know] their works and their imagination. I am going to gather all nations and tongues; and they shall come, and see my glory. ¹⁹ And I will leave a sign upon them, and I will send forth them that have escaped of them to the nations, to Tharsis, and Phud, and Lud, and Mosoch, and to Thobel, and to Greece, and to the isles afar off, to those who have not heard my name, nor seen my glory; and they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles. ²⁰ And they shall bring your brethren out of all nations for a gift to the Lord with horses, and chariots, in litters [drawn by] mules with awnings, to the holy city Jerusalem, said the Lord, as though the children of Israel should bring their sacrifices to me with psalms into the house of the Lord. ²¹ And I will take of them priests and Levites, says the Lord. ²² For as the new heaven and the new earth, which I make, remain before me, says the Lord, so shall your seed and your name continue. ²³ And it shall come to pass from month to month, and from sabbath to sabbath, [that] all flesh shall come to worship before me in Jerusalem, says the Lord. ²⁴ And they shall go forth, and see the carcasses of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, and their fire shall not be quenched; and they shall be a spectacle to all flesh.

Jeremiah Introduction

Author and Attribution. Jeremiah with Baruch as scribal associate Authorship Basis. The book itself presents Jeremiah's prophetic ministry and Baruch's scribal role; conservative scholarship receives Jeremiah as the prophet behind the book.

Jesus / NT Attribution. Matthew 2:17; Hebrews 8:8 and other NT texts receive Jeremiah as the speaking prophet.

Composition Date. late 7th to early 6th century BC

MT Timeline. MT chronology follows Jeremiah's ministry from Josiah through Jerusalem's fall and aftermath.

LXX Timeline. The LXX of Jeremiah is substantially shorter and differently ordered than the MT, making it one of the most important textual comparison books in Scripture.

Historical Setting. Judah's final decades before exile, with prophecies of judgment, exile, and new covenant hope.

Purpose. To proclaim covenant judgment on Judah and the nations while promising restoration and the new covenant.

Key Themes. judgment; exile; new covenant; false prophecy; restoration; nations

Outline. Call and early oracles 1-25; Narrative and conflict 26-45; Oracles against the nations 46-51; Fall of Jerusalem 52.

Earliest Witnesses. Frag. 4Q Jeremiah manuscripts, some aligning more with the LXX form 3rd-2nd centuries BC | Subst. Qumran Jeremiah manuscripts provide crucial evidence for both longer and shorter textual forms 3rd-1st centuries BC | Heb. Leningrad Codex AD 1008 | Gk. Codex Vaticanus and Alexandrinus preserve Greek Jeremiah 4th-5th century AD

Earliest External Attestation. Use in later Jewish writing and heavily in the NT by Multiple (pre-Christian and 1st century AD)

Textual Notes. Jeremiah is a flagship example of MT/LXX textual divergence, with major differences in order and extent and important Qumran support for shorter forms.

Conservative Notes. This edition receives Jeremiah as the true prophet of the book and treats textual plurality in transmission as a preservation issue, not as a denial of inspired prophetic authorship.

Jeremias

¹ The word of God which came to Jeremias the [son] of Chelcias, of the priests, who lived in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin: ² [accordingly] as the word of God came to him in the days of Josias son of Amos king of Juda, in the thirteenth year of his reign. ³ And it was in the days of Joakim, son of Josias king of Juda, until the eleventh year of Sedekias king of Juda, [even] until the captivity of Jerusalem in the fifth month. ⁴ And the word of the Lord came to him, [saying], ⁵ Before I formed you in the belly, I knew you; and before you came forth from the womb, I sanctified you; I appointed you a prophet to the nations. ⁶ And I said, O Lord, you that are supreme Lord, behold, I know not [how] to speak, for I am a child. ⁷ And the Lord said to me, Say not, I am a child: for you shall go to all to whoever I shall send you, and according to all [the words] that I shall command you, you shall speak. ⁸ Be not afraid before them: for I am with you to deliver you, says the Lord. ⁹ And the Lord stretched forth his hand to me, and touched my mouth: and the Lord said to me, Behold, I have put my words into your mouth. ¹⁰ Behold,

I have appointed you this day over nations and over kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to rebuild, and to plant. ¹¹ And the word of the Lord came to me, saying, What see you? And I said, A rod of an almond tree. ¹² And the Lord said to me, You have well seen: for I have watched over my words to perform them. ¹³ And the word of the Lord came to me a second time, saying, What see you? And I said, A caldron on the fire; and the face of it is toward the north. ¹⁴ And the Lord said to me, From the north shall flame forth evils upon all the inhabitants of the land. ¹⁵ For, behold, I call together all the kingdoms of the earth from the north, says the Lord; and they shall come, and shall set each one his throne at the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all the walls round about her, and against all the cities of Juda. ¹⁶ And I will speak to them in judgment, concerning all their iniquity, [forasmuch] as they have forsaken me, and sacrificed to strange gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands. ¹⁷ And do you gird up your loins, and stand up, and speak all [the words] that I shall command you: be not afraid of their face, neither be you alarmed before them; for I am with you to deliver you, says the Lord. ¹⁸ Behold, I have made you this day as a strong city, and as a brazen wall, strong [against] all the kings of Juda, and the princes thereof, and the people of the land. ¹⁹ And they shall fight against you; but they shall by no means prevail against you; because I am with you, to deliver you, says the Lord.

¹ And he said, Thus says the Lord, ² I remember the kindness of your youth, and the love of your espousals, ³ in following the Holy One of Israel, says the Lord, Israel was the holy [people] to the Lord, [and] the first fruits of his increase: all that devoured him shall offend; evils shall come upon them, says the Lord. ⁴ Hear the word of the Lord, O house of Jacob, and every family of the house of Israel. ⁵ Thus says the Lord, What trespass have your fathers found in me, that they have revolted far from me, and gone after vanities, and become vain? ⁶ And they said not, Where is the Lord, who brought us up out of the land of Egypt, who guided us in the wilderness, in an untried and trackless land, in a land which no man at all went through, and no man lived there? ⁷ And I brought you to Carmel, that you□ should eat the fruits thereof, and the good thereof; and you□ went in, and defiled my land, and made my heritage an abomination. ⁸ The priests said not, Where is the Lord? and they that held by the law knew me not: the shepherds also sinned against me, and the prophets prophesied by Baal, and went after that which profited not. ⁹ Therefore I will yet plead with you, and will plead with your children's children. ¹⁰ For go to the isles of the Chettians, and see; and send to Kedar, and observe accurately, and see if such things have been done; ¹¹ if the nations will change their gods, though they are not gods: but my people have changed their glory, [for that] from which they shall not be profited. ¹² The heaven is amazed at this, and is very exceedingly horror-struck, says the Lord. ¹³ For my people has committed two [faults], and evil ones: they have forsaken me, the fountain of water of life, and hewn out for themselves broken cisterns, which will not be able to hold water. ¹⁴ Is Israel a servant, or a home-born slave? why has he become a spoil? ¹⁵ The lions roared upon him, and uttered their voice, which have made his land a wilderness: and his cities are broken down, that they should not be inhabited. ¹⁶ Also the children of Memphis and Taphnas have known you, and mocked you. ¹⁷ Has not your forsaking me brought these things upon you? says the Lord your God. ¹⁸ And now what have you to do with the way of Egypt, to drink the water of Geon? and what have you to do with the way of the Assyrians, to drink the water of rivers? ¹⁹ Your apostasy shall correct you, and your wickedness shall reprove you: know then, and see, that your forsaking me [has been] bitter to you, says the Lord your God; and I have taken no pleasure in you, says the Lord your God. ²⁰ For of old you have broken your yoke, and plucked asunder your bands; and you have said, I will not serve you, but will go upon every high hill, and under every shady tree, there will I indulge in my fornication. ²¹ Yet I planted you a fruitful vine, entirely of the right sort: how are you a strange vine turned to bitterness! ²² Though you should wash yourself with nitre, and multiply to yourself soap, [still] you are stained by your iniquities before me, says the Lord. ²³ How will you say, I am not polluted, and have not gone after Baal? behold your ways in the burial-ground, and know what you have done: her voice has howled in the evening: ²⁴ she has extended her ways over the waters of the desert; she was hurried along by the lusts of her soul; she is given up [to them], who will turn her back? none that seek her shall be weary; at [the time of] her humiliation they shall find her. ²⁵ Withdraw your foot from a rough way, and your throat from thirst: but she said I will strengthen myself: for she loved strangers, and went after them. ²⁶ As is the shame of a thief when he is caught, so shall the children of Israel be ashamed; they, and their kings, and their princes, and their priests, and their prophets. ²⁷ They said to a stock, You are my father; and to a stone, You have begotten me: and they have turned [their] backs to me, and not their faces: yet in the time of their afflictions they will say, Arise, and save us. ²⁸ And where are your gods, which you made for yourself? will they arise and save in the time of your affliction? for according to the number of your cities were your gods, O Juda; and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem they sacrificed to Baal. ²⁹ Therefore do you ☐ speak to me? you ☐ all have been ungodly, and you ☐ all have transgressed against me, says the Lord. ³⁰ In vain have I struck your children; you ☐ have not received correction: a sword has devoured your prophets as a destroying lion; yet you ☐ feared not. ³¹ Hear you ☐ the word of the Lord: thus says the Lord, Have I been a wilderness or a dry land to Israel? therefore has my people said, We will not be ruled over, and will not come to you any more? ³² Will a bride forget her ornaments, or a virgin her girdle? but my people has forgotten me days without number. ³³ What fair device will you yet employ in your ways, so as to seek love? [it shall] not [be] so; moreover you have done wickedly in corrupting your ways; ³⁴ and in your hands has been found the blood of innocent souls; I have not found them in holes, but on every oak. ³⁵ Yet you said, I am innocent: only let his wrath be turned away from me. Behold, I [will] plead with you, whereas you say, I have not sinned. ³⁶ For you have been so exceedingly contemptuous as to repeat your ways; but you shall be ashamed of Egypt, as you were ashamed of Assur. ³⁷ For you shall go forth thence also with your hands upon your head; for the Lord has rejected your hope, and you shall not prosper in it.

¹ If a man put away his wife, and she depart from him, and become another man's, shall she return to him any more at all? shall not that woman be utterly defiled? Yet you ☐ have gone a-whoring with many shepherds, and have returned to me, says the Lord. ² Lift up your eyes [to look] straight forward, and see where you have not been utterly defiled. You have sat for them by the wayside as a deserted crow, and have defiled the land with your fornications and your wickedness. ³ And you did retain many shepherds for a stumbling block to yourself: you had a whore's face, you did become shameless toward all. ⁴ Have you not called me as it were a home, and the father and guide of your virgin-time? ⁵ Will [God's anger] continue for ever, or be preserved to the end?

Behold, you have spoken and done these bad things, and had power [to do them].⁶ And the Lord said to me in the days of Josias the king, Have you seen what things the house of Israel has done to me? they have gone on every high mountain, and under every shady tree, and have committed fornication there.⁷ And I said after she had committed all these acts of fornication, Turn again to me. Yet she returned not. And faithless Judah saw her faithlessness.⁸ And I saw that (for all the sins of which she was convicted, wherein the house of Israel committed adultery, and I put her away, and gave into her hands a bill of divorcement,) yet faithless Judah feared not, but went and herself also committed fornication.⁹ And her fornication was nothing accounted of; and she committed adultery with wood and stone.¹⁰ And for all these things faithless Judah turned not to me with all her heart, but falsely.¹¹ And the Lord said to me, Israel has justified himself more than faithless Judah.¹² Go and read these words toward the north, and you shall say, Return to me, O house of Israel, says the Lord; and I will not set my face against you: for I am merciful, says the Lord, and I will not be angry with you for ever.¹³ Nevertheless, know your iniquity, that you have sinned against the Lord your God, and have scattered your ways to strangers under every shady tree, but you did not listen to my voice, says the Lord.¹⁴ Turn, you□ children that have revolted, says the Lord; for I will rule over you: and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you in to Sion:¹⁵ and I will give you shepherds after my heart, and they shall certainly tend you with knowledge.¹⁶ And it shall come to pass that when you□ are multiplied and increased upon the land, says the Lord, in those days they shall say no more, The ark of the covenant of the Holy One of Israel: it shall not come to mind; it shall not be named; neither shall it be visited; nor shall [this] be done any more.¹⁷ In those days and at that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of the Lord; and all the nations shall be gathered to it: and they shall not walk any more after the imaginations of their evil heart.¹⁸ In those days the house of Judah, shall come together to the house of Israel, and they shall come, together, from the land of the north, and from all the countries, to the land, which I caused their fathers to inherit.¹⁹ And I said, So be it, Lord, for [you said] I will set you among children, and will give you a choice land, the inheritance of the Almighty God of the Gentiles: and I said, You□ shall call me Father; and you□ shall not turn away from me.²⁰ But as a wife acts treacherously against her husband, so has the house of Israel dealt treacherously against me, says the Lord.²¹ A voice from the lips was heard, [even] of weeping and supplication of the children of Israel: for they have dealt unrighteously in their ways, they have forgotten God their Holy One.²² Turn, you□ children that are given to turning, and I will heal your bruises. Behold, we will be your servants; for you are the Lord our God.²³ Truly the hills and the strength of the mountains were a lying refuge: but by the Lord our God is the salvation of Israel.²⁴ But shame has consumed the labors of our fathers from our youth; their sheep and their calves, and their sons and their daughters.²⁵ We have lain down in our shame, and our disgrace has covered us: because we and our fathers have sinned before our God, from our youth until this day; and we have not listened to the voice of the Lord our God.

¹ If Israel will return to me, says the Lord, he shall return: and if he will remove his abominations out of his mouth, and fear before me, and swear, ² The Lord lives, with truth, in judgment and righteousness, then shall nations bless by him, and by him they shall praise God in Jerusalem. ³ For thus says the Lord to the men of Juda, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Break up fresh ground for yourselves, and sow not among thorns. ⁴ Circumcise yourselves to your God, and circumcise your hardness of heart, you ☐ men of Juda, and inhabitants of Jerusalem: lest my wrath go forth as fire, and burn, and there be none to quench it, because of the evil of your devices. ⁵ Declare you ☐ in Juda, and let it be heard in Jerusalem: say you ☐ , Sound the trumpet in the land; do you cry ☐ aloud: say you ☐ , Gather yourselves together, and let us enter into the fortified cities. ⁶ Gather up [your wares] and flee to Sion: hasten, stay not: for I will bring evils from the north, and great destruction. ⁷ The lion is gone up from his lair, he has roused [himself] to the destruction of the nations, and has gone forth out of his place, to make the land desolate; and the cities shall be destroyed, so as to be without inhabitant. ⁸ For these things gird yourselves with sackcloth, and lament, and howl: for the anger of the Lord is not turned away from you. ⁹ And it shall come to pass in that day, says the Lord, that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes; and the priests shall be amazed, and the prophets shall wonder. ¹⁰ And I said, O sovereign Lord, verily you have deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, There shall be peace; whereas behold, the sword has reached even to their soul. ¹¹ At that time they shall say to this people and to Jerusalem, [There is] a spirit of error in the wilderness: the way of the daughter of my people is not to purity, nor to holiness. ¹² [But] a spirit of full vengeance shall come upon me; and now I declare my judgments against them. ¹³ Behold, he shall come up as a cloud, and his chariots as a tempest: his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe to us! for we are in misery. ¹⁴ Cleanse your heart from wickedness, O Jerusalem, that you may be saved: how long will your grievous thoughts be within you? ¹⁵ For a voice of one publishing from Dan shall come, and trouble out of mount Ephraim shall be heard of. ¹⁶ Remind you ☐ the nations; behold, they are come: proclaim [it] in Jerusalem, that bands are approaching from a land afar off, and have uttered their voice against the cities of Juda. ¹⁷ As keepers of a field, they have surrounded her; because you, says the Lord, has neglected me. ¹⁸ Your ways and your devices have brought these things upon you; this is your wickedness, for [it is] bitter, for it has reached to your heart. ¹⁹ I am pained in my bowels, my bowels, and the sensitive powers of my heart; my soul is in great commotion, my heart is torn: I will not be silent, for my soul has heard the sound of a trumpet, the cry of war, and of distress: it calls on destruction;²⁰ for all the land is distressed: suddenly [my] tabernacle is distressed, my curtains have been torn asunder.²¹ How long shall I see fugitives, and hear the sound of the trumpet?²² For the princes of my people have not known me, they are foolish and unwise children: they are wise to do evil, but [how] to do good they have not known.²³ I looked upon the earth, and, behold, [it was] not; and to the sky, and there was no light in it.²⁴ I saw the mountains, and they trembled, and [I saw] all the hills in commotion.²⁵ I looked, and behold, there was no man, and all the birds of the sky were scared.²⁶ I saw, and, behold, Carmel was desert, and all the cities were burnt with fire at the presence of the Lord, and at the presence of his fierce anger they were utterly destroyed.²⁷ Thus says the Lord, The whole land shall be desolate; but I will not make a full end.²⁸ For these things let the earth mourn, and let the sky be dark above: for I have spoken, and I will not repent; I have purposed, and I will not turn back from it.²⁹ The whole land has recoiled from the noise of the horseman and the bent bow; they have gone into the caves, and have hidden themselves in the groves, and have gone up upon the rocks: every city was abandoned, no man lived in them.³⁰ And what will you do? Though you clothe yourself with scarlet, and adorn yourself with golden ornaments; though you adorn your eyes with stibium, your beauty [will be] in vain: your lovers have rejected you, they seek your life.³¹ For I have heard your groaning as the voice of a woman in travail, as of her that brings forth her first child; the voice of the daughter of Zion shall fail through weakness, and she shall lose the strength of her hands, [saying], Woe is me! for my soul faints because of the slain.
