Name-meaning notes are included only at their listed first/source occurrence to keep the physical proof shorter.

Brenton/source supplemental footnotes are excluded; this copy keeps only reviewed translation/textual notes and name meanings.

Source Basis

Daniel source basis: Daniel follows the Greek Daniel rows currently present in the OT source workspace. It is not silently replaced with Theodotion- or MT/Aramaic-shaped wording.

Canon scope: deuterocanonical and apocryphal LXX books are planned as a separate workstream, not folded into this Protestant-canon branch.

Reference Numbering Guide

Visible OT chapter and verse numbers follow the LXX source rows. Many familiar English references, especially in Psalms and Jeremiah, therefore land at different places in this edition.

Genesis

Chapter 1

1 In the beginning, God¹ made heaven and earth^{2,3}.
2 But the earth was unseen and unformed, darkness was over the abyss, and the Spirit of God⁴ moved over the water.
3 And God said, "Let light come to be⁵." And light came to be.
4 And God saw the light, that it was good. And God separated between the light and between the darkness.
5 And God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. And evening came, and morning came: day one⁶.
6 And God said, "Let a firm span⁷ come to be in the middle of the water, and let it divide water from water." And it came to be so.
7 And God made the firm span, and God separated the water below the firm span from the water above the firm span.
8 And God called the firm span Heaven. And God saw that it was good. And evening came, and morning came: second day.
9 And God said, "Let the water below Heaven be gathered into one gathering⁸, and let the dry land appear." And it came to be so. And the water below Heaven was gathered into their gatherings, and the dry land appeared.
10 And God called the dry land Earth, and the gathered bodies of the waters⁹ he called Seas. And God saw that it was good.
11 And God said, "Let the earth sprout herb of grass sowing seed according to kind and according to likeness¹⁰, and a fruit-bearing tree making fruit, whose seed is in it according to kind upon the earth." And it came to be so.
12 And the earth brought forth herb of grass sowing seed according to kind and according to likeness¹¹, and a fruit-bearing tree making fruit, whose seed is in it according to kind upon the earth. And God saw that it was good.
13 And evening came, and morning came: third day.
14 And God said, "Let light-bearers¹² come to be in the firm span of Heaven for shining upon the earth, for dividing between the day and between the night. And let them be for signs and for seasons and for days and for years."
15 And let them be for shining in the firm span of Heaven, so as to shine upon the earth. And it came to be so.
16 And God made the two great light-bearers, the great light-bearer for the dominions¹³ of the day and the lesser light-bearer for the dominions of the night, and the stars.
17 And God placed them in the firm span of Heaven, so as to shine upon the earth.
18 And to rule the day and the night and to divide between the light and between the darkness. And God saw that it was good.
19 And evening came, and morning came: fourth day.
20 And God said, "Let the waters bring forth crawling things of living souls¹⁴ and winged creatures flying upon the earth across the firm span of Heaven." And it came to be so.
21 And God made the great sea-monsters¹⁵ and every soul of living creeping things, which the waters brought forth according to their kinds, and every winged creature according to kind. And God saw that they were good.
22 And God blessed them, saying, "Increase and multiply and fill the waters in the seas, and let the winged creatures be multiplied¹⁶ upon the earth."
23 And evening came, and morning came: fifth day.
24 And God said, "Let the earth bring forth living soul¹⁷ according to kind: four-footed animals and creeping things and wild beasts of the earth according to kind." And it came to be so.
25 And God made the wild beasts of the earth according to kind, and the cattle¹⁸ according to their kind, and all the creeping things of the earth according to their kind. And God saw that they were good.
26 And God said, "Let us make man¹⁹ according to our image and according to likeness, and let them rule the fish of the sea and the birds of Heaven and the cattle and all the earth and all the creeping things creeping upon the earth."²⁰
27 And God made the man²¹; according to the image of God he made him. Male and female he made them.
28 And God blessed them, saying, "Increase and multiply and fill the earth and subdue it²², and rule the fish of the sea and the birds of Heaven and all the cattle and all the earth²³ and all the creeping things creeping upon the earth."
29 And God said, "Behold, I have given you every seed-bearing plant sowing seed²⁴, which is upon all the earth, and every tree that has in itself fruit of sowable seed. To you it shall be for food."
30 And to all the wild beasts of the earth and to all the birds of Heaven and to every creeping thing creeping upon the earth,

¹⁶ T: Greek uses a passive imperative for the winged creatures: let them be multiplied upon the earth.

¹⁷ T: Greek says living soul, using psyche. Hebrew nephesh chayyah likewise means living soul, living being, or living creature.

¹⁹ T: Greek uses singular anthron here and then shifts to plural rule language: let them rule.

²¹ T: Greek uses singular the man and him before the line shifts to them in male and female he made them.

which has in itself soul of life¹, I have given every green plant for food. And it came to be so.

31 And God saw all things, as many as he made, and behold, they were very good². And evening came, and morning came: sixth day.

Chapter 2

1 And Heaven and Earth were completed, and all their ordered array³.

2 And God completed on the sixth day⁴ his works, which he made, and he rested on the seventh day from all his works, which he made.

3 And God blessed the seventh day and made it holy, because on it he rested from all his works, the works God had begun to make⁵.

4 This is the book of the genesis⁶ of Heaven and Earth, when they came to be, on the day the Lord⁷ God made Heaven and Earth.⁸⁹¹⁰

5 And every green thing of the field was there before it came to be on the earth, and every grass of the field before it sprang up; for God had not rained on the earth, and there was no human to work it.

6 But a spring¹¹ was rising from the earth and watering the whole face of the ground.

7 And God formed¹² the human from the dust of the earth and breathed into his face the breath of life, and the human became a living soul^{13, 14}.

8 And God planted a garden¹⁵ in Eden¹⁶ toward the east, and he placed there the human whom he formed.

9 And God still caused every tree to spring up from the earth, beautiful to look at and good for food, and the tree of life in the middle of the garden, and the tree of knowing good and evil¹⁷.

10 But a river goes out from Eden to water the garden; from there it is divided into four heads¹⁸.

11 The name of the first is Pison¹⁹; this is the one that circles all the land of Havilah²⁰, where the gold is.

12 And the gold of that land is good; and there too are the carbuncle and the green stone.

13 And the name of the second river is Gihon²¹; this is the one that circles all the land of Ethiopia²².

14 And the third river is Tigris²³; this is the one that goes opposite the Assyrians²⁴. And the fourth river is Euphrates²⁵.

15 And the Lord God took the human whom he had formed and placed him in the garden of delight, to work it and to keep it.

16 And the Lord God commanded Adam, saying that from every tree in the garden he might surely eat, 17 but from the tree of knowing good and evil, he was not to eat from it; on the day he ate from it, he would certainly die.

18 And the Lord God said, "It is not good for the human to be alone. Let us make for him a helper corresponding to him²⁶."

19 And God still formed from the earth all the beasts of the field and all the birds of Heaven, and brought them to Adam²⁷ to see what he would call them. And whatever Adam called each living creature, that was its name.

20 And Adam gave names to all the livestock and to all the birds of Heaven and to all the beasts of the field. But for Adam no helper like him was found.

21 And God cast a trance²⁸ on Adam, and he slept; and he took one of his sides and filled flesh in its place.

22 And God built the side that he had taken from Adam into a woman and brought her to Adam.

23 And Adam said, "This now is bone from my bones and flesh from my flesh. She shall be called woman, because she was taken from her man."²⁹

24 Because of this, a man will leave his father and his mother and be joined to his wife, and the two will become one flesh.

25 And the two were naked, Adam and his wife, and they were not ashamed.

⁸ Heb: Yahweh (יהוה) — The LORD; He is; the Self-Existent One. Eng: LORD. The covenant name of God, often represented in English Bibles as LORD in small capitals.

⁹ Heb: Yahweh Elohim (יהוה אלהים) — LORD God. Eng: LORD God. Combines the covenant name with the general divine title, stressing both God's majesty and personal covenant relation.

¹⁰ Gk: Kyrios ho Theos (Κύριος ὁ Θεός) — Lord God. Eng: Lord God. The LXX phrase Kyrios ho Theos corresponds to Hebrew Yahweh Elohim and is translated Lord God.

¹³ T: Greek literally says "living soul." This wording is kept in the main line and stands behind Paul's citation in 1 Corinthians 15:45. English LXX witnesses also show LES and LES2 and SAAS keep living soul rather than generalizing it.

¹⁸ T: Greek speaks of the river dividing into four heads, a term used for source-points or chief branches. Hebrew also uses head-language here.

Chapter 3

1 Now the serpent was the most shrewd¹ of all the beasts on the earth that the Lord God had made. And the serpent said to the woman, "Why is it that God said, 'You shall not eat from every tree of the garden'?"
2 And the woman said to the serpent that they would eat from the fruit of the trees of the garden,
3 but from the fruit of the tree that is in the middle of the garden, God had said they should not eat from it, nor indeed touch it, lest they die.
4 And the serpent said to the woman that they would certainly not die.
5 For God knew that on the day you eat from it, your eyes will be opened and you will be like gods, knowing good and evil.
6 And the woman saw that the tree was good for food and pleasing to the eyes to look at, and that it was beautiful for understanding. And taking from its fruit, she ate; and she gave also to her husband with her, and they ate.²
7 And the eyes of the two were opened, and they knew that they were naked, and they sewed fig leaves together and made loincloths for themselves.
8 And they heard the sound of the Lord God walking in the garden at evening, and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the face of the Lord God among the trees of the garden.
9 And the Lord God called Adam and said to him, "Adam, where are you?"
10 And he said to him, "I heard your sound as you were walking in the garden, and I was afraid because I am naked, and I hid myself."
11 And God said to him, "Who told you that you are naked, unless you have eaten from the tree from which alone I commanded you not to eat?"
12 And Adam said, "The woman whom you gave with me, she gave me from the tree, and I ate."
13 And the Lord God said to the woman, "What is this you have done?" And the woman said, "The serpent deceived me, and I ate."
14 And the Lord God said to the serpent that because you did this, you are cursed above all livestock and above all the beasts on the earth. On your chest and your belly you will go, and earth you will eat all the days of your life.
15 And I will put enmity between you and between the woman, and between your seed and between her seed. He will lie in wait for your head³, and you will lie in wait for his heel.
16 And to the woman he said, "Multiplying I will multiply your pains and your groaning. In pains you will bear children, and your turning⁴ will be toward your husband, and he will rule over you."
17 And to Adam he said that because you listened to the voice of your wife and ate from the tree from which alone he commanded you not to eat, the ground is cursed in your labors. In pains you will eat from it all the days of your life.
18 It will bring forth thorns and thistles for you, and you will eat the grass of the field.
19 By the sweat of your face you will eat your bread, until you return to the earth from which you were taken; because earth you are, and to earth you will depart.
20 And Adam called the name of his wife Life, because she is the mother of all the living.⁵
21 And the Lord God made skin tunics⁶ for Adam and for his wife, and clothed them.
22 And God said, "Look, Adam has become like one of us, to know good and evil. And now, lest perhaps he stretch out his hand and take from the tree of life and eat and live forever."
23 And the Lord God sent him out from the garden of delight to work the earth from which he had been taken.
24 And he cast Adam out and settled him opposite the garden of delight, and he stationed the Cherubim and the flaming turning sword to guard the way of the tree of life.

Chapter 4

1 And Adam knew Eve his wife, and having conceived she bore Cain⁷ and said, "I have acquired a man through God."
2 And she added to bear his brother Abel⁸. And Abel became a shepherd of sheep, but Cain was working the earth.
3 And it came to be after days that Cain brought from the fruits of the earth a sacrifice to the Lord,
4 and Abel, he too brought from the firstborn of his sheep and from their fat portions. And God looked upon Abel and upon his gifts,
5 but upon Cain and upon his sacrifices he gave no heed. And Cain was greatly grieved, and his face fell.
6 And the Lord God said to Cain, "Why did you become deeply grieved, and why did your face fall?"
7 "If you offered rightly, but did not divide rightly, did you not sin? Be still. Toward you is its turning, and you shall rule it."
8 And Cain said to Abel his brother, "Let us go through into the field." And it came to be while they were in the field that Cain rose against Abel his brother and killed him.
9 And the Lord God said to Cain, "Where is Abel your brother?" And he said, "I do not know. Am I my brother's keeper?"
10 And the Lord said, "What have you done? A voice of your brother's blood cries out to me from the earth."
11 And now cursed are you from the earth, which opened its mouth to receive your brother's blood from your hand.
12 When you work the earth, it shall not continue to give you its strength. Groaning and trembling you shall be on the earth.
13 And Cain said to the Lord God, "Greater is my charge than for me to be forgiven."
14 If you cast me out today from the face of the earth and I am hidden from your face, then I shall be groaning and trembling⁹ on the earth, and everyone finding me will kill me.
15 And the Lord God said to him, "Not so. Everyone who kills Cain will pay sevenfold." And the Lord God set a sign for Cain, so that none finding him should kill him.
16 And Cain went out from the face of God and lived in the land of Nod¹⁰ opposite Eden.

² MT/LXX: Greek describes the tree as beautiful for understanding rather than using the Masoretic wisdom idiom. The translation follows the Greek description.

⁶ T: Greek and Hebrew both use concrete tunic or garment plus skin language. This draft avoids softer wording like clothes so the image stays stark and material.

⁸ Nm: Abel (Hevel) — Breath; vanity; futility. His life was short and vanished like a breath; the first martyr.

17 And Cain knew his wife, and having conceived she bore Enoch¹¹. And he was building a city, and he named the city after the name of his son, Enoch.
 18 And to Enoch was born Irad², and Irad begot Mahalaleel³, and Mahalaleel begot Methusael⁴, and Methusael begot Lamech⁵.
 19 And Lamech took two wives for himself, the name of one Adah⁶ and the name of the second Zillah⁷.
 20 And Adah bore Jabal⁸. He was the father of those dwelling in tents, herders of livestock.
 21 And the name of his brother was Jubal⁹. He was the one who introduced harp and lyre.
 22 And Zillah also bore Tubal¹⁰, and he was a hammering smith of bronze and iron. And the sister of Tubal was Naamah¹¹.
 23 And Lamech said to his wives, "Adah and Zillah, hear my voice; wives of Lamech, listen to my words. For I killed a man for a wound to me, and a young man for a welt to me."
 24 Because Cain has been avenged sevenfold¹², but Lamech seventy times seven.
 25 And Adam knew Eve his wife, and having conceived she bore a son, and named his name Seth¹³, saying, "For God raised up for me another seed instead of Abel, whom Cain killed."
 26 And to Seth there came a son, and he named his name Enos¹⁴. This one hoped to call on the name of the Lord God.¹⁵

 31 And all the days of Lamech were seven hundred and fifty-three years, and he died.
 32 And Noah was five hundred years old, and he begot three sons: Shem²², Ham²³, and Japheth²⁴.

3 And the Lord God said, "My spirit shall certainly not remain in these humans forever, because they are flesh, but their days shall be one hundred and twenty years."

4 Now giants were on the earth in those days, and after that, whenever the sons of God were going in to the daughters of humans, they were bearing to them. Those were the giants from of old, the men of renown.

5 And the Lord God, seeing that the evils of humans were multiplied on the earth, and that each one was carefully thinking in his heart upon evil things all the days,

6 considered that he had made the human on the earth, and he thought it through.

7 And God said, "I will wipe away the human whom I made from the face of the earth, from human to cattle and from creeping things to the birds of heaven, because I regret that I made them."

8 But Noah found favor before the Lord God.

9 Now these are the generations of Noah. Noah was a righteous man, complete in his generation. Noah was well-pleasing to God.

10 And Noah begot three sons: Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

11 And the earth was corrupted before God, and the earth was filled with injustice.

12 And the Lord God saw the earth, and it was corrupted, because all flesh had corrupted its way on the earth.

13 And the Lord God said to Noah, "The end of every human has come before me, because the earth is filled with injustice from them, and look, I am destroying them and the earth."

14 "So make for yourself an ark from squared timbers. You shall make nesting compartments in the ark, and you shall pitch it inside and outside with pitch."

15 And this is how you shall make the ark: the length of the ark three hundred cubits¹, and the width fifty cubits, and the height thirty cubits.

16 You shall make the ark converging together, and you shall finish it to one cubit above. And the door of the ark you shall make from the side. Lower, second, and third stories you shall make it.

17 And I, look, am bringing the flood, water upon the earth, to destroy all flesh in which is the breath of life under heaven. And whatever is on the earth will die.

18 And I will establish my covenant with you, and you shall enter into the ark, you and your sons and your wife and the wives of your sons with you.

19 And from all the cattle and from all the creeping things and from all the wild beasts and from all flesh, two by two from all you shall bring into the ark, so that you may feed them with yourself. Male and female they shall be.

20 From all the birds, the flying ones according to kind, and from all the cattle according to kind, and from all the creeping things creeping on the earth according to kind, two by two from all shall come in to you, to be fed with you, male and female.

21 And you shall take for yourself from all the foods that you eat, and gather it to yourself, and it shall be for you and for them to eat.

22 And Noah did all that the Lord God commanded him; thus he did it.

Chapter 7

1 And the Lord God said to Noah, Enter, you and all your house, into the ark, because I have seen you righteous before me in this generation.

2 And from the clean cattle bring in to yourself seven by seven, male and female, but from the cattle that are not clean, two by two, male and female,

3 and from the clean birds of heaven seven by seven, male and female, and from all the birds not clean, two by two, male and female, to keep seed alive over all the earth.

4 For still seven days, and I am bringing rain on the earth forty days and forty nights, and I will wipe out every rising thing that I made from the face of all the earth.

5 And Noah did all that the Lord God commanded him.

6 And Noah was six hundred years old, and the flood of water came upon the earth.

7 And Noah entered, and his sons and his wife and the wives of his sons with him, into the ark because of the floodwater.

8 And from the clean birds and from the birds not clean and from the clean cattle and from the cattle not clean and from all the creeping things on the earth,

9 two by two entered to Noah into the ark, male and female, just as God commanded Noah.

10 And it came to be after the seven days that the water of the flood came upon the earth.

11 In the six-hundredth year in the life of Noah, in the second month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, on that day all the springs of the abyss burst open, and the floodgates of heaven were opened.²

12 And rain came upon the earth forty days and forty nights.

13 On that day Noah entered, Shem, Ham, Japheth, the sons of Noah, and Noah's wife and the three wives of his sons with him, into the ark,

14 and every wild beast according to kind, and all the cattle according to kind, and every creeping thing moving on the earth according to kind, and every bird according to its kind,

15 entered to Noah into the ark, two by two, male and female, from all flesh in which is the spirit of life.

16 And those entering, male and female from all flesh, entered just as God commanded Noah. And the Lord God shut the ark outside him.

17 And the flood came forty days and forty nights upon the earth, and the water multiplied and lifted the ark, and it was raised from the earth.

18 And the water prevailed and multiplied greatly upon the earth, and the ark was borne along upon the water.

19 And the water prevailed very, very greatly upon the earth and covered all the high mountains that were under heaven.

20 Fifteen cubits above, the water rose and covered all the high mountains.

21 And all flesh moving on the earth died: birds and cattle and wild beasts and every creeping thing moving on the earth, and every human.

22 And everything having breath of life, and everything that was on the dry land, died.

23 And he wiped out every rising thing³ that was on the face of the earth, from human to cattle and creeping things and birds of heaven, and they were wiped from the earth. And Noah alone was left, and those with him in the ark.

24 And the water was raised over the earth one hundred and fifty days.

Chapter 8

1 And God remembered Noah and all the wild beasts and all the cattle and all the birds and all the creeping things that creep, as many as were with him in the ark, and God brought a wind upon the earth, and the water subsided.
2 And the springs of the abyss and the floodgates of heaven were covered over, and the rain from heaven was held back.
3 And the water kept withdrawing, going away from the earth, and the water diminished after one hundred and fifty days.
4 And the ark came to rest¹ in the seventh month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, on the mountains of Ararat².
5 And the water kept diminishing³ until the tenth month, and in the tenth month, on the first day of the month, the tops of the mountains appeared.
6 And it came to be after forty days that Noah opened the window of the ark that he made, and he sent out the raven to see whether the water had subsided.
7 And having gone out, it did not return until the water dried from the earth.
8 And he sent the dove after it, to see whether the water had subsided from the earth.
9 And the dove, not finding rest for its feet⁴, returned to him into the ark, because water was on all the face of the earth. And stretching out his hand, he took it and brought it in to himself into the ark.
10 And waiting still another seven days, again he sent out the dove from the ark.
11 And toward evening the dove returned to him, and had an olive-leaf fragment in its mouth. And Noah knew that the water had subsided from the earth.
12 And waiting still another seven days, again he sent out the dove, and it did not add to return to him any longer.
13 And it came to be in the six-hundred-and-first year in the life of Noah, in the first month, on the first of the month, the water failed from the earth. And Noah uncovered the roof of the ark that he made and saw that the water had failed from the face of the earth.⁵
14 And in the second month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, the earth dried.
15 And the Lord God said to Noah, saying,
16 Come out from the ark, you and your wife and your sons and the wives of your sons with you,
17 and all the wild beasts⁶ that are with you, and all flesh from birds to cattle, and every creeping thing moving on the earth, bring out with yourself. And increase and multiply upon the earth.
18 And Noah came out, and his wife and his sons and the wives of his sons with him.
19 And every wild beast and every cattle and every bird and every creeping thing moving on the earth according to their kind came out from the ark.
20 And Noah built an altar to the Lord, and took from all the clean cattle and from all the clean birds and offered up whole-burnt offerings on the altar.
21 And the Lord God smelled an aroma of sweet fragrance, and the Lord God said, having considered, Let me not continue any longer to curse the earth because of the works of humans, because the mind of the human lies carefully upon evil things⁷ from his youth. Therefore I will not continue any longer to strike all living flesh, as I have done.
22 All the days of the earth, seed and harvest, cold and heat, summer and spring, day and night shall not cease.

Chapter 9

1 And God blessed Noah and his sons and said to them, Increase and multiply and fill the earth and rule over it.
2 And your dread and your fear shall be upon all the wild beasts of the earth, upon all the birds of heaven and upon all the moving things on the earth and upon all the fish of the sea. Into your hands I have given them.⁸
3 And every creeping thing that is living shall be for you as food. As green herbs I have given you all things⁹.
4 Only flesh with the blood of life in it you shall not eat.
5 And indeed your blood of your lives I will seek out from the hand of all the wild beasts, and from the hand of a human, from the hand of a brother, I will seek out the life of the human.
6 The one pouring out human blood, in return for that blood his own shall be poured out, because in the image of God I made the human.
7 But you, increase and multiply and fill the earth and rule over it.
8 And God said to Noah and to his sons with him, saying,
9 And look, I am establishing my covenant with you and with your seed after you,
10 and with every living life with you, from birds and from cattle and with all the wild beasts of the earth, as many as are with you, from all that came out of the ark.
11 And I will establish my covenant with you, and all flesh shall not die any longer from the water of the flood, and there shall no longer be a flood of water to destroy all the earth.
12 And the Lord God said to Noah, This is the sign of the covenant that I give between me and you and between every living life that is with you for everlasting generations:
13 I place my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a sign of covenant between me and the earth.
14 And it shall be, when I cloud the earth with clouds, my bow shall be seen in the cloud,
15 and I will remember my covenant that is between me and you and between every living life in all flesh, and the water shall no longer become a flood so as to wipe out all flesh.
16 And my bow shall be in the cloud, and I will see it to remember the everlasting covenant between me and the earth and between living life in all flesh that is on the earth.
17 And God said to Noah, This is the sign of the covenant that I established between me and all flesh that is on the earth.

18 And the sons of Noah who came out of the ark were Shem, Ham, Japheth. Now Ham was the father of Canaan¹.
 19 These three are sons of Noah. From these the whole earth was scattered abroad.
 20 And Noah, a man, began to be a farmer of the earth and planted a vineyard.
 21 And he drank from the wine and became drunk and was stripped naked in his house.
 22 And Ham, the father of Canaan, saw the nakedness of his father, and going out announced it to his two brothers outside.
 23 And taking the garment, Shem and Japheth placed it on their two backs² and walked backward and covered the nakedness of their father. And their face was backward, and they did not see the nakedness of their father.
 24 And Noah sobered up from the wine and knew what his younger son did to him,
 25 and said, Cursed be Canaan. A house-servant slave shall he be to his brothers.
 26 And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Shem, and Canaan shall be his house-servant slave.
 27 May God widen Japheth, and let him dwell in the houses of Shem, and let Canaan become his servant.
 28 And Noah lived after the flood three hundred and fifty years³.
 29 And all the days of Noah were nine hundred and fifty years, and he died.⁴

Chapter 10

 2 Sons of Japheth: Gomer⁵ and Magog⁶ and Madai⁷ and Javan⁸ and Elishah⁹ and Tubal and Meshech¹⁰ and Tiras¹¹.
 3 And sons of Gomer: Ashkenaz¹² and Riphath¹³ and Togarmah¹⁴.

 7 And sons of Cush: Sheba²⁰ and Havilah and Sabtah²¹ and Raamah²² and Sabtechah²³. And sons of Raamah: Sheba and Dedan²⁴.
 8 And Cush begot Nimrod²⁵. He began to be a giant upon the earth.
 9 He was a giant hunter before the Lord God. Therefore they will say, Like Nimrod, a giant hunter before the Lord.
 10 And the beginning of his kingdom came to be Babylon²⁶ and Erech²⁷ and Accad²⁸ and Calneh²⁹ in the land of Shinar³⁰.
 11 From that land Asshur³¹ went out and built Nineveh³² and the city Rehoboth³³ and Calah³⁴, 12 and Resen³⁵ between Nineveh and Calah. This is the great city.
 13 And Mizraim begot the Ludim³⁶ and the Anamim³⁷ and the Lehabim³⁸ and the Naphtuhim³⁹ and the Pathrusim⁴⁰,
 14 and the Casluhim⁴¹, from where the Philistines⁴² came out, and the Caphtorim⁴³.

 23 And sons of Aram: Uz¹³ and Hul¹⁴ and Gether¹⁵ and Mash¹⁶.
 24 And Arphaxad begot Cainan, and Cainan begot Shelah¹⁷, and Shelah begot Eber.
 25 And to Eber two sons were born. The name of one was Peleg¹⁸, because in his days the earth was divided, and the name of his brother was Joktan¹⁹.
 26 And Joktan begot Almodad²⁰ and Sheleph²¹ and Hazarmaveth²² and Jerah²³ and Hadoram²⁴ and Uzal²⁵ and Diklah²⁶,

Chapter 11

1 And all the earth was one lip, and one voice for all.
 2 And it came to be when they moved from the east, they found a plain in the land of Shinar and lived there.
 3 And a person said to his neighbor, Come, let us make bricks and bake them with fire. And the brick became stone for them, and bitumen was clay for them.
 4 And they said, Come, let us build for ourselves a city and a tower whose top will be as far as heaven, and let us make a name for ourselves before we are scattered over the face of all the earth.
 5 And the Lord came down to see the city and the tower that the sons of men built.
 6 And the Lord said, Look, one race and one lip for all, and this they have begun to do, and now nothing will fail from them, whatever they may set themselves to do.
 7 Come, and having come down, let us confuse their tongue there, so that each may not hear the voice of his neighbor.
 8 And the Lord scattered them from there over the face of all the earth, and they stopped building the city and the tower.
 9 Because of this its name was called Confusion, because there the Lord confused the lips of all the earth, and from there the Lord scattered them over the face of all the earth.
 10 And these are the generations of Shem. And Shem was one hundred years old when he begot Arphaxad, in the second year after the flood.
 11 And Shem lived after begetting Arphaxad five hundred years, and begot sons and daughters, and died.
 12 And Arphaxad lived one hundred and thirty-five years and begot Cainan.

22 And Serug lived one hundred and thirty years and begot Nahor¹.
 23 And Serug lived after begetting Nahor two hundred years, and begot sons and daughters, and died.
 24 And Nahor lived one hundred and seventy-nine years and begot Terah².
 25 And Nahor lived after begetting Terah one hundred and twenty-five years, and begot sons and daughters, and died.
 26 And Terah lived seventy years and begot Abram³ and Nahor and Haran⁴.
 27 These are the generations of Terah. Terah begot Abram and Nahor and Haran, and Haran begot Lot⁵.
 28 And Haran died before Terah his father in the land where he was born, in the country of the Chaldeans⁶.
 29 And Abram and Nahor took wives for themselves. The name of Abram's wife was Sara⁷, and the name of Nahor's wife was Milcah⁸, daughter of Haran, father of Milcah and father of Jescha.
 30 And Sara was barren and was not bearing children.
 31 And Terah took Abram his son and Lot son of Haran, son of his son, and Sara his daughter-in-law, wife of Abram his son, and brought them out⁹ from the country of the Chaldeans to go into the land of Canaan. And they came as far as Haran, and he lived there.
 32 And all the days of Terah in the land of Haran were two hundred and five years, and Terah died in Haran.

Chapter 12

1 And the Lord said to Abram, Go out from your land and from your kin and from your father's house¹⁰, and come into the land that I will show you.
 2 And I will make you into a great nation, and I will bless you and magnify your name, and you shall be blessed.
 3 And I will bless those blessing you, and those cursing you I will curse. And in you all the tribes of the earth shall be blessed.
 4 And Abram went, just as the Lord spoke to him, and Lot went away with him. Abram was seventy-five years old when he went out from Haran.
 5 And Abram took Sarai his wife and Lot the son of his brother and all their possessions, as many as they had acquired, and every person¹¹ whom they had acquired in Haran, and they went out to go into the land of Canaan.
 6 And Abram passed through the land through its length as far as the place Shechem¹², to the high oak. And the Canaanites then inhabited the land.
 7 And the Lord appeared to Abram and said to him, To your seed I will give this land. And Abram built there an altar to the Lord who had appeared to him.
 8 And he departed from there to the mountain east of Bethel and pitched his tent there, Bethel toward the sea and Ai¹³ toward the east. And he built there an altar to the Lord and called on the name of the Lord¹⁴.
 9 And Abram set out, and going on, camped in the wilderness.
 10 And a famine came upon the land, and Abram went down into Egypt¹⁵ to live as a foreigner there, because the famine grew strong upon the land.
 11 And it happened when Abram drew near to enter Egypt, Abram said to Sarai his wife, I know that you are a woman beautiful in face.
 12 Then it will be, when the Egyptians¹⁶ see you, they will say, This is his wife. And they will kill me, but preserve you.¹⁷
 13 Say then, I am his sister, so that it may go well for me because of you, and my life will keep living because of you.
 14 And it happened when Abram entered Egypt, the Egyptians saw his wife, that she was very beautiful.
 15 And Pharaoh¹⁸'s rulers saw her and praised her to Pharaoh, and they brought her into Pharaoh's house.
 16 And they treated Abram well because of her, and he came to have sheep and calves and donkeys and male-servants and female-servants and mules and camels.
 17 And God afflicted Pharaoh with great and grievous afflictions, and his house, because of Sarai Abram's wife.
 18 And Pharaoh called Abram and said, What is this you have done to me, that you did not report to me that she is your wife?
 19 Why did you say, She is my sister? And I took her for myself as a wife. And now look, your wife before you. Take her and hurry away.
 20 And Pharaoh instructed men concerning Abram to send him on, and his wife, and all that was his.

Chapter 13

1 And Abram went up from Egypt, he and his wife and all that was his and Lot with him, into the wilderness.
 2 And Abram was very rich in livestock and silver and gold.
 3 And he went to the place from which he had come into the wilderness as far as Bethel, as far as the place where his tent had been before, between Bethel and Ai,
 4 to the place of the altar that he had made there at the beginning. And Abram called on the name of the Lord there.
 5 And Lot, who was traveling with Abram, had sheep and oxen and tents.
 6 And the land had no room for them to live together, because their possessions were many, and the land had no room for them to live together.
 7 And a conflict arose between the shepherds of Abram's livestock and the shepherds of Lot's livestock. And the Canaanites and the Perizzites¹⁹ then inhabited the land.

 10 And Lot lifted up his eyes and saw all the region around the Jordan¹, that all of it was watered before God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, like the garden of God and like the land of Egypt, as far as one comes to Zoar².
 11 And Lot chose for himself all the region around the Jordan, and Lot set out from the east, and they were separated, each from his brother.
 12 Abram dwelt in the land of Canaan, but Lot dwelt in a city of the surrounding region and pitched tents in Sodom.
 13 Now the people in Sodom were wicked and sinful before God exceedingly.³
 14 And God said to Abram after Lot had separated from him, Lift up your eyes and see from the place where you are now, toward north and south and east and sea.
 15 Because all the land that you see, I will give it to you and to your seed forever.
 16 And I will make your seed like the sand of the earth. If anyone can number the sand of the earth, then your seed also shall be numbered.

 18 And Abram, having moved his tent, came and dwelt by the oak of Mamre⁴, which was in Hebron⁵, and built there an altar to the Lord.

Chapter 14

1 And it happened in the reign of Amraphel⁶ king of Shinar, and Arioch⁷ king of Ellasar⁸, Chedorlaomer⁹ king of Elam, and Tidal¹⁰ king of nations,
 2 they made war with Bera¹¹ king of Sodom and with Birsha¹² king of Gomorrah and with Shinar king of Admah and with Shemeber¹³ king of Zeboiim and the king of Bela¹⁴, this is Zoar.
 3 All these joined together at the salt valley. This is the Salt Sea.
 4 For twelve years they served Chedorlaomer, but in the thirteenth year they revolted.
 5 And in the fourteenth year Chedorlaomer came, and the kings with him, and they cut down the giants in Ashtaroht¹⁵ and Karnaim¹⁶, and strong nations with them, and the Ommaeans¹⁷ in the city Save,
 6 and the Horites¹⁸ in the mountains of Seir¹⁹, as far as the terebinth of Paran²⁰, which is in the wilderness.
 7 And having turned back they came to the spring of judgment, this is Kadesh²¹, and they cut down all the rulers of Amalek²² and the Amorites²³ dwelling in Asasonthamar.
 8 And the king of Sodom went out, and the king of Gomorrah and the king of Admah and the king of Zeboiim and the king of Bela, this is Zoar, and they drew up against them for war in the salt valley,²⁴
 9 against Chedorlaomer king of Elam and Tidal king of nations and Amraphel king of Shinar and Arioch king of Ellasar, four kings against the five.
 10 Now the salt valley had wells of asphalt. And the king of Sodom fled, and the king of Gomorrah, and they fell there. But those left behind fled into the mountain country.
 11 And they took all the cavalry of Sodom and Gomorrah, and all their provisions, and went away.
 12 And they took Lot also, the son of Abram's brother, and his baggage, and went away, for he was dwelling in Sodom.
 13 And one of those rescued came and reported to Abram the Hebrew²⁵. He was dwelling by the oak of Mamre the Amorite, brother of Eshcol²⁶ and brother of Onan²⁷, who were Abram's allies.
 14 And Abram, hearing that Lot his nephew had been taken captive, numbered his own home-born ones, three hundred eighteen, and pursued after them as far as Dan.
 15 And he fell upon them by night, he and his servants, and struck them and pursued them as far as Hobah²⁸, which is left of Damascus²⁹.
 16 And he brought back all the cavalry of Sodom, and he brought back Lot his nephew and all his possessions and the women and the people.
 17 And the king of Sodom went out to meet him after he returned from the slaughter of Chedorlaomer and the kings with him, to the valley of Shaveh³⁰. This was the plain of the kings.

18 And Melchizedek¹ king of Salem² brought out loaves and wine. He was a priest of God³ Most High.⁴⁵
 19 And he blessed Abram and said, Blessed be Abram by God Most High, who created heaven and earth.
 20 And blessed be God Most High, who delivered your enemies under your hand. And Abram gave him a tenth of everything.
 21 And the king of Sodom said to Abram, Give me the men, but take the cavalry for yourself.
 22 And Abram said to the king of Sodom, I will stretch out my hand to the Lord, God Most High, who created heaven and earth,
 23 that I will not take anything from all that is yours, from a cord to a sandal-thong, so that you may not say, I made Abram rich.
 24 Except what the young men have eaten and the share of the men who went with me, Eshcol, Onan, Mamre. Let these take a share.

Chapter 15

1 After these words the word of the Lord came to Abram in a vision, saying, Do not fear, Abram. I shield⁶ you. Your reward shall be very great.⁷
 2 And Abram said, Master Lord⁸, what will you give me? I am being dismissed childless. And the steward of my household, this is Damascus Eliezer⁹.¹⁰¹¹
 3 And Abram said, Since you have not given me seed, my home-born one will inherit for me.
 4 And immediately a voice of the Lord came to him, saying, This one shall not inherit you, but the one coming out from you, this one shall inherit you.
 5 And he brought him outside and said to him, Look up now to heaven and count the stars, if you can fully number them. And he said, So shall your seed be.
 6 And Abram believed God, and it was reckoned to him as righteousness.
 7 And he said to him, I am God who brought you out from the land of the Chaldeans, so as to give you this land to inherit.
 8 And he said, Master Lord, by what shall I know that I will inherit it?
 9 And he said to him, Take for me a heifer in her third year and a she-goat in her third year and a ram in his third year and a turtledove and a pigeon.
 10 So he took all these for him and divided them in the middle and placed them opposite each other. But the birds he did not divide.
 11 And birds came down on the bodies, on their cut pieces, and Abram sat with them¹².
 12 And about sunset a trance fell upon Abram, and look, a great dark fear falls upon him.
 13 And it was said to Abram, Knowing you shall know that your seed will be a foreigner in a land not its own, and they will enslave them and afflict them and humble them four hundred years.
 14 But the nation to which they will serve, I will judge. And after these things they will come out here with much baggage.
 15 But you shall depart to your fathers in peace, nourished in good old age.
 16 And in the fourth generation they will return here, for the sins of the Amorites have not yet been filled up until now.
 17 And when the sun had gone down, flame came to be, and look, a smoking furnace and lamps of fire, which passed between these divided pieces.
 18 In that day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, To your seed I will give this land, from the river of Egypt as far as the great river, the Euphrates river,
 19 the Kenites¹³ and the Kenizzites¹⁴ and the Kadmonites¹⁵,
 20 and the Hittites¹⁶ and the Perizzites and the Rephaim¹⁷,
 21 and the Amorites and the Canaanites and the Hivites¹⁸ and the Girgashites¹⁹ and the Jebusites²⁰.

Chapter 16

1 Now Sarai²¹ Abram's wife was not bearing to him. She had an Egyptian²² servant-girl whose name was Hagar²³.
 2 And Sarai said to Abram, Look, the Lord has shut me up from not bearing. Go in then to my servant-girl, so that I may get children through her. And Abram listened to Sarai's voice.
 3 And Sarai, Abram's wife, took Hagar the Egyptian, her own servant-girl, after Abram had dwelt ten years in the land of Canaan, and gave her to Abram her husband as a wife for him.

4 And he went in to Hagar, and she conceived. And she saw that she was pregnant, and her mistress was dishonored before her.

5 And Sarai said to Abram, I am being wronged because of you. I gave my servant-girl into your bosom, and when she saw that she was pregnant, I was dishonored before her. God judge between me and you.

6 And Abram said to Sarai, Look, your servant-girl is in your hands. Use her as may seem good to you. And Sarai mistreated her, and she fled from her face.

7 And an angel of the Lord found her by the spring of water in the wilderness, by the spring on the way to Shur¹.

8 And the angel of the Lord said to her, Hagar, Sarai's servant-girl, where are you coming from and where are you going? And she said, I am running away from the face of Sarai my mistress.

9 And the angel of the Lord said to her, Return to your mistress and humble yourself under her hands.

10 And the angel of the Lord said to her, Multiplying I will multiply your seed, and it will not be numbered because of the multitude.

11 And the angel of the Lord said to her, Look, you are pregnant and will bear a son, and you shall call his name Ishmael², because the Lord has hearkened to your humiliation.

12 This one shall be a wild man. His hands against all, and all hands against him, and before the face of all his brothers he shall dwell.

13 And Hagar called the name of the Lord who was speaking to her, You are God who saw me³, because she said, For I have even here seen the one who appeared to me.⁴

14 Because of this she called the well, The well of the one whom I saw before me. Look, it is between Kadesh and Bered⁵.

15 And Hagar bore a son to Abram, and Abram called the name of his son, whom Hagar bore to him, Ishmael.

16 Abram was eighty-six years old when Hagar bore Ishmael to Abram.

Chapter 17

1 And Abram became ninety-nine years old, and the Lord appeared to Abram and said to him, I am your God⁶. Be well-pleasing before me and become blameless.⁷

2 And I will place my covenant between me and you⁸ and will multiply you exceedingly.

3 And Abram fell upon his face, and God spoke to him, saying,

4 And I, look, my covenant is with you, and you shall be father of a multitude of nations,

5 And your name shall no longer be called Abram, but your name shall be Abraham⁹, because I have made you father of many nations.

6 And I will increase you very exceedingly and make you into nations, and kings shall come out from you.

7 And I will establish my covenant between me and you and your seed after you throughout their generations, as an everlasting covenant, to be God to you and to your seed after you¹⁰.

8 And I will give to you and to your seed after you the land that you are living as a foreigner in, all the land of Canaan, for an everlasting possession, and I will be God to them.

9 And God said to Abraham, And you, you shall keep my covenant, you and your seed after you throughout their generations.

10 And this is the covenant which you shall keep, between me and you and your seed after you throughout their generations: every male among you shall be circumcised.

11 And you shall circumcise the flesh of your foreskin, and it shall be for a sign of covenant between me and you.

12 And a child of eight days shall be circumcised by you, every male throughout your generations, the home-born and the silver-bought, from every son of a foreigner who is not of your seed.

13 By circumcision the home-born of your house and the one bought with silver shall be circumcised, and my covenant shall be on your flesh as an everlasting covenant.

14 And the uncircumcised male, who will not circumcise the flesh of his foreskin on the eighth day, that life shall be utterly destroyed from its kind, because he has scattered my covenant.

15 And God said to Abraham, Sarai your wife, her name shall not be called Sarai, but Sarah¹¹ shall be her name.

16 And I will bless her, and I will give you a child from her. And I will bless him, and he shall become nations, and kings of nations shall come from him.

17 And Abraham fell upon his face and laughed, and said in his mind, Shall a son be born to one who is a hundred years old? And shall Sarah, being ninety years old, bear?

18 And Abraham said to God, Let this Ishmael live before you.

19 And God said to Abraham, Yes. Look, Sarah your wife shall bear you a son, and you shall call his name Isaac¹². And I will establish my covenant with him as an everlasting covenant, to be God to him and to his seed after him¹³.

20 And concerning Ishmael, look, I have heard you. And look, I have blessed him and will increase him and multiply him exceedingly. He shall beget twelve nations, and I will make him into a great nation.

21 But I will establish my covenant with Isaac, whom Sarah shall bear to you at this time in the next year.

24 Abraham was ninety-nine years old when he circumcised the flesh of his foreskin.

Chapter 18

1 And God appeared to him by the oak of Mamre, as he sat at the door of his tent at midday.

2 Looking up with his eyes he saw, and look, three men stood over him. And seeing, he ran to meet them from the door of his tent and bowed to the ground.

3 And he said, Lord, if I have found favor before you, do not pass by your servant.

4 Let water be taken, and let them wash your feet, and cool yourselves under the tree.

5 And I will take bread, and you shall eat, and after this you shall go on your way, because for this reason you turned aside to your servant. And they said, Do so, just as you have said.

6 And Abraham hurried to the tent to Sarah and said to her, Hurry and knead three measures of fine flour and make hearth-cakes.

7 And Abraham ran to the cattle and took a tender and good calf and gave it to the servant-boy, and he hurried to prepare it.

8 And he took butter and milk and the calf that he had prepared and set it before them, and they ate. But he stood by them under the tree.

9 And they said to him, Where is Sarah your wife? And answering he said, Look, in the tent.

10 And he said, Returning I will come to you at this season in due time, and Sarah your wife shall have a son. Sarah heard at the door of the tent, being behind him.

11 And Abraham and Sarah were old, advanced in days, and the things of women had ceased to be with Sarah.

12 And Sarah laughed in herself, saying, It has not happened to me until now, and my lord is old.

13 And the Lord said to Abraham, Why is it that Sarah laughed in herself, saying, Shall I truly bear? But I have grown old.

14 Shall any word be impossible with God? At this season I will return to you in due time, and Sarah shall have a son.

15 And Sarah denied, saying, I did not laugh, for she was afraid. And he said to her, No, but you did laugh.

16 And the men, rising from there, looked down toward Sodom and Gomorrah. But Abraham went with them, sending them on.

17 And the Lord said, Shall I hide from Abraham my servant what I am doing?

18 And Abraham indeed shall become a great and numerous nation, and in him all the nations of the earth shall be blessed.

19 For I know that he will direct his sons and his household after him, and they will keep the ways of the Lord, to do righteousness and judgment, so that the Lord may bring upon Abraham all that he spoke to him.²

20 And the Lord said, The outcry of Sodom and Gomorrah has been multiplied toward me, and their sins are very great.

21 So coming down I will see whether they are carried out according to their outcry that comes to me. But if not, so that I may know.

22 And the men, turning from there, came to Sodom. But Abraham was still standing before the Lord.

23 And Abraham, drawing near, said, Will you sweep away the righteous with the ungodly, and shall the righteous be like the ungodly?

24 If there are fifty righteous in the city, will you destroy them? Will you not let the whole place go because of the fifty righteous, if they are in it?

25 By no means will you do according to this word, to kill the righteous with the ungodly, and the righteous shall be like the ungodly. By no means. The one judging all the earth, will you not do judgment?

26 And the Lord said, If there are fifty righteous in Sodom in the city, I will spare the whole city and all the place because of them.

27 And Abraham answered and said, Now I have begun to speak to my Lord, and I am earth and ashes.

28 But if the fifty righteous are lessened to forty-five, will you destroy the whole city because of the five? And he said, I will certainly not destroy it if I find forty-five there.

29 And he added still to speak to him and said, But if forty are found there? And he said, I will certainly not destroy it because of the forty.

30 And he said, Let it not be so, Lord, if I speak. But if thirty are found there? And he said, I will certainly not destroy it because of the thirty.

31 And he said, Since I have it to speak to the Lord, but if twenty are found there? And he said, I will certainly not destroy it if I find twenty there.

32 And he said, Let it not be so, Lord, if I speak still once more. But if ten are found there? And he said, I will certainly not destroy it because of the ten.

33 And the Lord departed when he ceased speaking with Abraham, and Abraham returned to his place.

Chapter 19

1 And the two angels came to Sodom at evening. And Lot was sitting by the gate of Sodom. Seeing them, Lot rose to meet them and bowed with his face to the ground.

2 And he said, Look, lords, turn aside into the house of your servant and lodge and wash your feet, and rising early you shall go on your way. And they said, No, but we will lodge in the square³.

3 And he pressed them, and they turned aside to him and entered into his house. And he made a feast for them, and baked unleavened bread for them, and they ate.

4 But before they lay down, the men of the city, the Sodomites⁴, surrounded the house, from young man to old man, all the people together.

5 And they called out to Lot and said to him, Where are the men who entered to you tonight? Bring them out to us, so that we may be with them.

6 And Lot went out to them to the porch, and he shut the door after him.

² MT/LXX: The Greek says I knew him before moving to Abraham's household calling. This draft keeps that knowing-language visible rather than deciding too quickly between chose, singled out, or commanded. NETS, LES, and LES2 stay nearer this knowing-language than MT-facing chosen-language.

³ T: Greek says we will lodge in the square.

7 And he said to them, By no means, brothers, do not act wickedly.
8 Look, I have two daughters who have not known a man. I will bring them out to you, and use them as may please you. Only do no wrong to these men, because for this reason they entered under the shelter of my roof-beams¹.
9 And they said to him, Stand back there. You came in to live as a foreigner; do you also mean to judge²? Now we will mistreat you more than them. And they pressed the man Lot very hard, and they drew near to break the door.
10 And the men stretched out their hands and drew Lot into the house to themselves, and they shut the door of the house.
11 And the men at the door of the house they struck with blindness, from small to great, and they were worn out seeking the door.
12 And the men said to Lot, Do you have here sons-in-law or sons or daughters? Or if anyone else is yours in the city, bring them out from this place.
13 Because we are destroying this place, because their outcry has been lifted up before the Lord, and the Lord has sent us to wipe it out.
14 And Lot went out and spoke to his sons-in-law, those who had taken his daughters, and said, Rise and go out from this place, because the Lord is wiping out the city. But he seemed to be joking³ before his sons-in-law.
15 When dawn was coming, the angels urged Lot, saying, Rise, take your wife and your two daughters whom you have, and go out, lest you too be destroyed with the lawless acts of the city.
16 And they were troubled⁴, and the angels took hold of his hand and the hand of his wife and the hands of his two daughters, because the Lord spared him.
17 And it happened when they brought them outside that they said, Save your own life by all means. Do not look around to what is behind, and do not stand in all the surrounding region. Escape to the mountain, lest perhaps you be taken together with them.
18 And Lot said to them, I beg, lord,
19 Since your servant has found mercy before you, and you have magnified your righteousness, what you are doing toward me to keep my life alive, I will not be able to escape to the mountain, lest perhaps the evils overtake me and I die.⁵
20 Look, this city is near for me to flee there, and it is small, and there I shall be preserved. Is it not small? And my life shall live because of you.
21 And he said to him, Look, I have shown regard for you also in this matter, that I should not overthrow the city about which you spoke.
22 Hasten then to be saved there, for I will not be able to do anything until you come there. Because of this he called the name of that city Zoar.
23 The sun came out upon the earth, and Lot entered into Zoar.
24 And the Lord rained upon Sodom and Gomorrah sulfur and fire from the Lord out of heaven.
25 And he overthrew these cities and all the surrounding region and all dwelling in the cities and the things springing up from the earth.
26 And his wife looked back, and she became a pillar of salt.
27 And Abraham rose early in the morning to the place where he had stood before the Lord.
28 And he looked toward Sodom and Gomorrah and toward the surrounding region and saw, and look, flame went up from the earth like the vapor of a furnace.
29 And it happened when God destroyed all the cities of the surrounding region, God remembered Abraham⁶ and sent Lot out from the midst of the overthrow, when the Lord overthrew the cities in which Lot dwelt.
30 And Lot went up from Zoar and dwelt in the mountain, he and his two daughters with him, for he feared to dwell in Zoar. And he dwelt in the cave, he and his two daughters with him.
31 And the elder said to the younger, Our father is old, and no one is on the earth who will come in to us, as is fitting for all the earth.
32 Come and let us make our father drink wine, and let us sleep with him, and let us raise up seed from our father.
33 And they made their father drink wine in that night, and the elder went in and lay with her father in that night, and he did not know when she lay down or when she rose up.
34 And it happened on the next day that the elder said to the younger, Look, I slept yesterday with our father. Let us make him drink wine in this night also, and going in you sleep with him, and let us raise up seed⁷ from our father.
35 And they made their father drink wine in that night also, and the younger went in and slept with her father, and he did not know when she lay down nor when she arose.
36 And the two daughters of Lot conceived by their father.
37 And the elder bore a son and called his name Moab⁸, saying, From my father. This one is the father of the Moabites⁹ to the present day.
38 And the younger also bore a son and called his name Benammi¹⁰, saying, Son of my family. This one is the father of the Ammonites¹¹ to the present day.

Chapter 20

1 And Abraham moved from there toward the south land and dwelt between Kadesh and Shur, and lived as a foreigner in Gerar.
2 And Abraham said concerning Sarah his wife, She is my sister. For he feared to say, She is my wife, lest perhaps the men of the city kill him because of her. And Abimelech¹² king of Gerar sent and took Sarah.
3 And God came to Abimelech in sleep by night and said, Look, you are dying because of the woman whom you have taken, but she has lived with a husband.
4 But Abimelech had not touched her, and he said, Lord, will you destroy an ignorant and righteous nation?

5 Did he not himself say to me, She is my sister? And did she not say to me, He is my brother? In a pure heart and in the righteousness of my hands I did this.

6 And God said to him in sleep, Yes, I knew that you did this in a pure heart, and I spared you so that you should not sin against me. Because of this I did not permit you to touch her.

7 But now return the woman to the man, because he is a prophet and he will pray for you and you will live. But if you do not return her, know that you shall die, you and all that is yours.

8 And Abimelech rose early in the morning and called all his servants and spoke all these words into their ears, and all the men feared exceedingly.

9 And Abimelech called Abraham and said to him, What is this you have done to us? Did we sin against you, that you brought upon me and upon my kingdom a great sin? A deed that no one should do, you have done to me.

10 And Abimelech said to Abraham, What did you see, that you did this?

11 And Abraham said, For I said, Surely there is no reverence for God in this place, and they will kill me because of my wife.

12 And indeed she truly is my sister by my father, but not by my mother, and she became my wife.

13 And it happened when God brought me out from my father's house, that I said to her, This righteousness you shall do¹ for me: in every place where we enter there, say of me, He is my brother.

14 And Abimelech took a thousand didrachmas and sheep and calves and male-servants and female-servants and gave them to Abraham, and returned Sarah his wife to him.

15 And Abimelech said to Abraham, Look, my land before you. Wherever it pleases you, dwell.

16 And to Sarah he said, Look, I have given a thousand didrachmas to your brother. These shall be to you for the honor of your face and to all the women with you. And speak truth in all things.

17 And Abraham prayed to God, and God healed Abimelech and his wife and his female-servants, and they bore children.

18 Because in closing the Lord had closed from outside every womb in Abimelech's house, because of Sarah Abraham's wife.

Chapter 21

1 And the Lord visited Sarah, just as he said, and the Lord did for Sarah just as he spoke,

2 and conceiving, she bore to Abraham a son in old age, at the appointed time, just as the Lord spoke to him.

3 And Abraham called the name of his son who came to be for him, whom Sarah bore to him, Isaac.

4 And Abraham circumcised Isaac on the eighth day, just as God commanded him.

5 And Abraham was one hundred years old when Isaac his son came to be for him.

6 And Sarah said, The Lord made laughter for me, for whoever hears will rejoice with me.

7 And she said, Who will report to Abraham that Sarah nurses a child? For I bore a son in my old age.

8 And the child grew and was weaned, and Abraham made a great feast on the day Isaac his son was weaned.

9 And Sarah saw the son of Hagar the Egyptian, who had come to be for Abraham, playing with Isaac her son.

10 And she said to Abraham, Cast out this servant-girl and her son, for the son of this servant-girl shall certainly not inherit with my son Isaac.

12 And God said to Abraham, Let it not be hard before you concerning the child and concerning the servant-girl. In all that Sarah says to you, hear her voice, because in Isaac seed shall be called for you.

13 And I will make the son of this servant-girl into a great nation also, because he is your seed.

14 And Abraham rose early in the morning and took loaves and a skin of water and gave them to Hagar, and set the child on her shoulders, and sent her away. And departing, she wandered by the wilderness near the well of the oath.²

15 And the water failed from the skin, and she threw the child under one fir tree.

16 And departing she sat opposite him at a distance, about a bow-shot, for she said, I certainly shall not see the death of my child. And she sat opposite him, and the child cried out and wept.

17 And God heard the voice of the child from the place where he was, and an angel of God called Hagar out of heaven and said to her, What is it, Hagar? Do not fear, for God has heard the voice of the child from the place where he is.

18 Rise and take the child and hold him in your hand, for I will make him into a great nation.

19 And God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of living water and went and filled the skin with water and gave the child drink.

20 And God was with the child, and he grew. And he dwelt in the wilderness and became an archer.

21 And he dwelt in the wilderness of Paran, and his mother took a wife for him out of the land of Egypt.

22 And it happened at that time that Abimelech and Ahuzzath³ his marriage-companion and Phichol⁴ the commander-in-chief of his force said to Abraham, saying, God is with you in all that you may do.

23 Now then swear to me by God that you will not wrong me, nor my seed, nor my name, but according to the righteousness that I did with you, you shall do with me and with the land in which you have lived as a foreigner.⁵

24 And Abraham said, I will swear⁶.

26 And Abimelech said to him, I did not know who did this thing to you, nor did you report it to me, nor did I hear it except today.

27 And Abraham took sheep and calves and gave them to Abimelech, and the two made a covenant.

28 And Abraham set seven ewe-lambs of the flock by themselves⁷.

29 And Abimelech said to Abraham, What are these seven ewe-lambs of the flock that you set by themselves?

30 And Abraham said, You shall receive the seven ewe-lambs from me, so that they may be for me as a witness that I dug this well.

31 Because of this he named the name of that place, Well of Oath, because there both of them swore.

32 And they made a covenant at the well of the oath. And Abimelech rose, and Ahuzzath his marriage-companion, and Phichol the commander-in-chief of his force, and they returned to the land of the Philistines.

Chapter 22

1 And it happened after these words that God tested Abraham and said to him, Abraham, Abraham. And he said, Look, I am here.
2 And he said, Take your beloved son, whom you loved, Isaac, and go into the high land and bring him up there as a whole-burnt offering on one of the mountains that I will tell you.
3 And Abraham rose early in the morning and saddled his donkey, and took with himself two servants and Isaac his son, and splitting wood for a whole-burnt offering³, he rose and went and came to the place that God told him, on the third day.
4 And Abraham, looking up with his eyes, saw the place from afar.
5 And Abraham said to his servants, Sit here with the donkey, and I and the young one will go through as far as there, and having worshiped we will return to you.
6 And Abraham took the wood of the whole-burnt offering and laid it upon Isaac his son. And he took in his hands also the fire and the knife, and the two went together.
7 And Isaac said to Abraham his father, Father. And he said, What is it, child? And he said, Look, the fire and the wood. Where is the sheep for a whole-burnt offering?⁴
8 And Abraham said, God will see for himself a sheep for a whole-burnt offering, child. And both went on together.
9 And they came to the place that God told him. And Abraham built there the altar and placed the wood, and having bound together Isaac his son, he laid him on the altar upon the wood.
10 And Abraham stretched out his hand to take the knife to slay his son.
11 And an angel of the Lord called him from heaven and said, Abraham, Abraham. And he said, Look, I am here.
12 And he said, Do not lay your hand on the child, and do nothing to him, for now I know that you fear God, and for my sake you did not spare your beloved son.
13 And Abraham, looking up with his eyes, saw, and look, one ram caught in a thicket by the horns⁵. And Abraham went and took the ram and brought it up as a whole-burnt offering instead of Isaac his son.
14 And Abraham called the name of that place, The Lord saw⁶, so that they may say today, On the mountain the Lord was seen.⁷
15 And an angel of the Lord called Abraham a second time from heaven, saying,
16 By myself I have sworn, says the Lord, because you did this thing, and for my sake did not spare your beloved son,
17 Surely in blessing I will bless you, and in multiplying I will multiply your seed, like the stars of heaven and like the sand beside the shore of the sea, and your seed shall inherit the cities of the adversaries.
18 And in your seed all the nations of the earth shall be blessed, because you hearkened to my voice.
19 And Abraham returned to his servants, and rising they went together to the well of the oath.
20 And it happened after these words that it was reported to Abraham, saying, Look, Milcah also has borne sons to Nahor your brother,
21 Uz the firstborn and Buz⁸ his brother and Kemuel⁹ father of the Syrians¹⁰
22 and Chesed¹¹ and Hazo¹² and Pildash¹³ and Jidlaph¹⁴ and Bethuel^{15, 16}.
23 And Bethuel begot Rebekah¹⁷. These are eight sons whom Milcah bore to Nahor the brother of Abraham.
24 And his concubine, whose name was Reumah¹⁸, also bore Tebah¹⁹ and Gaham²⁰ and Tahash²¹ and Maachah²².

you, so that you may bury your dead there.

7 And Abraham rose and bowed to the people of the land, to the sons of Heth,

8 and Abraham spoke to them, saying, If it is in your mind that I should bury my dead out of my sight, hear me and speak on my behalf to Ephron¹ son of Zohar²,

9 and let him give me the double cave, which belongs to him, which is in part of his field. Let him give it to me among you for full silver as a burial holding.

10 Now Ephron was sitting in the midst of the sons of Heth. And Ephron the Hittite³ answered Abraham, speaking in the hearing of the sons of Heth and of all who entered into the city, saying,

11 Listen, lord, and hear me. I give you the field and the cave in it. Before all my fellow-citizens I have given it to you. Bury your dead.

12 And Abraham bowed before the people of the land,

13 and said to Ephron in the hearing of the people of the land, Since you are for me, hear me. Take the silver for the field from me, and I will bury my dead there.

14 And Ephron answered Abraham, saying,

15 No, lord, I have indeed heard. Land worth four hundred silver didrachms - but what is that between me and you? So bury your dead.

16 And Abraham listened to Ephron, and Abraham weighed out to Ephron the silver that he had spoken in the hearing of the sons of Heth, four hundred silver didrachms, merchant-approved.

17 And the field of Ephron, which was at the double cave⁴, which is opposite Mamre, the field and the cave in it, and every tree that was in the field, and everything that was within all its borders round about, was established

18 to Abraham as a holding, before the sons of Heth and all who entered into the city.

19 After this Abraham buried Sarah his wife in the cave of the field at the double place, which is opposite Mamre (this is Hebron) in the land of Canaan.

20 And the field and the cave in it were confirmed to Abraham as a burial holding from the sons of Heth.

Chapter 24

1 And Abraham was old, far advanced in days, and the Lord had blessed Abraham in everything.

2 And Abraham said to his servant, the elder of his house, the ruler of all that was his, Put your hand under my thigh,

3 and I will bind you by oath by the Lord, the God of heaven and the God of the earth, that you shall not take a wife for my son Isaac from the daughters of the Canaanites, among whom I dwell,

4 but you shall go instead to my land, where I was born, and to my tribe, and take a wife from there for my son Isaac.

5 And the servant said to him, Suppose the woman is not willing to come back with me to this land.⁵ Shall I return your son to the land from which you came out?

6 And Abraham said to him, Beware for yourself that you do not return my son there.

7 The Lord, the God of heaven and the God of the earth, who took me from my father's house and from the land where I was born⁶, who spoke to me and swore to me, saying, To you and to your seed I will give this land - he himself will send his angel ahead of you, and you shall take a wife for my son from there.

8 But if the woman is not willing to come with you into this land, you shall be clear from my oath. Only do not return my son there.

9 And the servant put his hand under the thigh of Abraham his lord and swore to him concerning this matter.

10 And the servant took ten camels from the camels of his lord, and from all the good things of his lord with him. And he rose and went to Mesopotamia⁷, to the city of Nahor.

11 And he made the camels lie down outside the city beside the water well toward evening, at the time when the women who draw water go out.

12 And he said, Lord, God of my lord Abraham, prosper things before me today and show mercy toward my lord Abraham.

13 Look, I am standing at the spring of water, and the daughters of those inhabiting the city are coming out to draw water,

14 and let it be that the virgin to whom I say, Lower your water jar so that I may drink, and she says to me, Drink, and I will water your camels until they stop drinking - this is the one you prepared for your servant Isaac, and by this I will know that you have done mercy with my lord Abraham⁸.

15 And it happened before he finished speaking in his mind⁹, that at once Rebekah came out, born to Bethuel son of Milcah wife of Nahor, Abraham's brother, having her water jar on her shoulders.

16 And the virgin was very beautiful in appearance. She was a virgin; a man had not known her. And she went down to the spring, filled her water jar, and came up.

17 And the servant ran to meet her and said, Give me a little water to drink from your jar.

18 And she said, Drink, lord. And she hurried and lowered the jar onto her arm and gave him drink until he stopped drinking.

19 And she said, I will draw for your camels too, until they all drink.

20 And she hurried and emptied the water jar into the trough and ran back to the well to draw again and drew for all the camels.

21 And the man was closely observing her and kept silent, to know whether the Lord had prospered his way or not.

22 And it happened when all the camels stopped drinking, the man took golden earrings, a drachm in weight each, and two bracelets for her hands, their weight ten gold pieces.

23 And he asked her and said, Whose daughter are you? Tell me whether there is room at your father's house for us to lodge.

24 And she said to him, I am daughter of Bethuel, son of Milcah, whom she bore to Nahor.

25 And she said to him, We have both much straw and fodder with us, and room to lodge.

26 And the man, being well pleased, bowed to the Lord and said,

27 Blessed be the Lord, the God of my lord Abraham, who has not withheld his righteousness and his truth from my lord. And the Lord guided me well to the house of my lord's brother.

28 And the girl ran and reported to her mother's house according to these words.

29 Now Rebekah had a brother whose name was Laban¹. And Laban ran out to the man, to the spring.

30 And it happened when he saw the earrings and the bracelets on his sister's hands, and when he heard the words of Rebekah his sister saying, Thus the man spoke to me, that he came to the man standing by the camels at the spring.²

31 And he said to him, Come in, blessed of the Lord. Why do you stand outside? I have prepared the house and a place for the camels.

32 And the man entered the house and unloaded the camels and gave straw and fodder to the camels, and water to wash his feet and the feet of the men with him.

33 And he set loaves before them to eat. But he said, I will certainly not eat until I speak my words. And they said, Speak.

34 And he said, I am Abraham's servant³.

35 And the Lord greatly blessed my lord, and he was exalted. And he gave him sheep and calves and silver and gold and male servants and female servants and camels and donkeys.

36 And Sarah, my lord's wife, bore one son to my lord after he had grown old, and he gave him all that he had.

37 And my lord made me swear, saying, You shall not take a wife for my son from the daughters of the Canaanites, among whose land I sojourn, 38 but you shall go instead to my father's house and to my tribe⁴ and take a wife for my son from there.

39 And I said to my lord, Suppose the woman will not come with me.

40 And he said to me, The Lord God, before whom I have been well-pleasing, will himself send out his angel with you⁵ and prosper your way, and you shall take a wife for my son from my tribe and from my father's house.

41 Then you shall be innocent of my curse, for whenever you come to my tribe and they do not give to you, you shall be innocent of my oath.

42 And when I came today to the spring I said, Lord, God of my lord Abraham, if you are prospering the way on which I am now going,

43 look, I am standing at the spring of water, and the daughters of the men of the city are coming out to draw water. And let it be that the virgin to whom I say, Give me a little water from your jar to drink,

44 and she says to me, Drink yourself, and I will draw water for your camels too - this is the woman whom the Lord prepared for his own servant Isaac, and by this I will know that you have done mercy with my lord Abraham.

45 And it happened before I finished speaking in my mind, at once Rebekah came out having the water jar on her shoulders, and she went down to the spring and drew water. And I said to her, Give me drink.

46 And she hurried and lowered the water jar from herself onto her arm and said, Drink, and I will water your camels too. And I drank, and she watered the camels too.

47 And I asked her and said, Whose daughter are you? Tell me. And she said, I am daughter of Bethuel son of Nahor, whom Milcah bore to him. And I put the earrings on her and the bracelets around her hands.

48 And being well pleased I bowed to the Lord and blessed the Lord, the God of my lord Abraham, who prospered me on a true way to take the daughter of my lord's brother for his son.

49 So now, if you are doing mercy and righteousness toward my lord, tell me. But if not, tell me, so that I may turn to the right or to the left.

50 And Laban and Bethuel answered and said, This command has gone out from the Lord. So we will not be able to speak against you evil or good.

51 Look, Rebekah is before you. Take her and go quickly, and let her be wife to your lord's son, just as the Lord spoke.

52 And it happened when Abraham's servant heard these words, he bowed to the ground to the Lord.

53 And the servant brought out silver vessels and gold vessels and clothing and gave them to Rebekah, and he gave gifts to her brother and to her mother.

54 And he and the men with him ate and drank and slept. And rising in the morning, he said, Send me away, so that I may go to my lord.

55 But her brothers and her mother said, Let the virgin remain with us about ten days, and after that she will depart.

56 But he said to them, Do not hold me back, for the Lord prospered my way for me. Send me away, so that I may go to my lord.

57 And they said, Let us call the girl and ask from her mouth.

58 And they called Rebekah and said to her, Will you go with this man? And she said, I will go.

59 And they sent away Rebekah their sister and what belonged to her⁶, and Abraham's servant and those with him.

60 And they blessed Rebekah and said to her, You are our sister. Become into thousands of myriads, and let your seed inherit the cities of the adversaries.

61 And Rebekah rose up and her maidens, and they mounted the camels and went with the man. And the servant, taking Rebekah, went away.

62 And Isaac was traveling through the wilderness by the well of the vision, and he was dwelling in the land toward the south.

63 And Isaac went out to muse in the field toward evening, and lifting up his eyes he saw camels coming.

64 And Rebekah lifted up her eyes and saw Isaac and sprang down from the camel.

65 And she said to the servant, Who is that man there walking in the field to meet us? And the servant said, This is my lord. And she took the veil and covered herself.

66 And the servant recounted to Isaac all the things that he had done.

67 And Isaac went into the house of his mother and took Rebekah, and she became his wife, and he loved her. And Isaac was comforted concerning Sarah his mother.

2 And she bore to him Zimran¹ and Jokshan² and Medan³ and Midian⁴ and Ishbak⁵ and Shuah⁶.
3 And Jokshan begot Teman⁷ and Sheba and Dedan. And sons of Dedan became Reuel⁸ and Adbeel⁹ and Asshurim¹⁰ and Letushim¹¹ and Leummim¹².
4 And sons of Midian were Ephah¹³ and Epher¹⁴ and Enoch and Abidah¹⁵ and Eldaah¹⁶. All these were sons of Keturah.
5 And Abraham gave all his possessions to Isaac his son,
6 but to the sons of his concubines Abraham gave gifts and sent them away from Isaac his son, while he was still alive, eastward into the eastern land.
7 And these were the years of the days of Abraham's life, as many as he lived: one hundred seventy-five years.
8 And Abraham came to his end and died in a good old age, old and full of days, and was added to his people.
9 And Isaac and Ishmael his sons buried him in the double cave, in the field of Ephron son of Zohar the Hittite, which is opposite Mamre,
10 the field and the cave that Abraham acquired from the sons of Heth. There they buried Abraham and Sarah his wife.
11 And it happened after Abraham died, God blessed Isaac his son. And Isaac dwelt by the well of the vision.
12 And these are the generations of Ishmael son of Abraham, whom Hagar the Egyptian, Sarah's servant-girl, bore to Abraham.
13 And these are the names of Ishmael's sons according to the names of their generations: firstborn of Ishmael, Nebajoth¹⁷, and Kedar¹⁸ and Adbeel and Mibsam¹⁹
14 and Mishma²⁰ and Dumah²¹ and Massa
15 and Hadar²² and Teman and Jetur²³ and Naphish²⁴ and Kedemah²⁵.
16 These are Ishmael's sons, and these are their names in their tents and in their settlements, twelve rulers according to their nations.
17 And these are the years of Ishmael's life: one hundred thirty-seven years. And coming to his end he died and was added to his people.
18 And he dwelt from Havilah to Shur, which is opposite Egypt, until one comes to the Assyrians. He dwelt in the presence of all his brothers.
19 And these are the generations of Isaac, Abraham's son.
20 Abraham begot Isaac. And Isaac was forty years old when he took Rebekah, daughter of Bethuel the Syrian²⁶ from Mesopotamian Syria²⁷, sister of Laban the Syrian, as wife for himself.
21 And Isaac was praying to the Lord concerning Rebekah his wife, because she was barren. And God heard him, and Rebekah his wife conceived in her womb.
22 And the children were leaping in her. And she said, If it is going to be like this for me, why is this happening to me? And she went to inquire from the Lord.
23 And the Lord said to her, Two nations are in your womb, and two peoples will be separated from your belly. And one people will excel the other, and the greater will serve the lesser.
24 And the days were fulfilled for her to give birth, and she had twins in her womb.
25 And the first came out reddish, all hairy like a hide, and she called his name Esau²⁸.
26 And after this his brother came out, and his hand was gripping Esau's heel, and he called his name Jacob²⁹. And Isaac was sixty years old when Rebekah bore them.
27 And the young men grew, and Esau was a man skilled in hunting, a country man, but Jacob was a straightforward man, dwelling at home.
28 And Isaac loved Esau, because his hunting was food for him, but Rebekah loved Jacob.
29 And Jacob cooked stew, and Esau came from the plain exhausted,
30 and Esau said to Jacob, Feed me from this red stew, because I am exhausted. Therefore his name was called Edom³⁰.
31 And Jacob said to Esau, Give over to me today your firstborn rights.
32 And Esau said, Look, I am going to die, and why are these firstborn rights to me?
33 And Jacob said to him, Swear to me today. And he swore to him, and Esau sold the firstborn rights to Jacob.
34 And Jacob gave Esau bread and lentil stew, and he ate and drank and rose and went away. And Esau made light of the firstborn rights.

Abimelech king of the Philistines, to Gerar.

2 And the Lord appeared to him and said, Do not go down to Egypt, but dwell in the land that I tell you.

3 And sojourn in this land, and I will be with you and bless you, for to you and to your seed I will give all this land, and I will establish my oath that I swore to Abraham your father.

4 And I will multiply your seed like the stars of heaven and give all this land to your seed, and in your seed all the nations of the earth will be blessed,

5 because Abraham your father heard my voice and kept my charges and my commandments and my ordinances and my statutes.

6 And Isaac dwelt in Gerar.

7 And the men of the place asked about Rebekah his wife, and he said, She is my sister, for he feared to say, She is my wife, lest the men of the place kill him because of Rebekah, because she was beautiful in appearance.¹

8 And it happened after a long time there, Abimelech king of Gerar leaned through the window and saw Isaac sporting with Rebekah his wife.

9 And Abimelech called Isaac and said to him, So then is she your wife? Why did you say, She is my sister? And Isaac said to him, Because I said, Lest I die because of her.

10 And Abimelech said to him, What is this you did to us? One of my people might almost have slept with your wife, and you would have brought guilt on us in ignorance².

11 And Abimelech charged all his people, saying, Everyone touching this man or his wife will be liable to death.

12 And Isaac sowed in that land and found in that year hundredfold barley. And the Lord blessed him.

13 And the man was exalted, and going forward he became greater until he became very great.

14 And he had flocks of sheep and herds of cattle and many farms. And the Philistines envied him,

15 and all the wells that his father's servants dug in his father's time, the Philistines stopped them up and filled them with earth.

16 And Abimelech said to Isaac, Go away from us, because you have become much stronger than we are.

17 And Isaac went away from there and camped in the valley of Gerar and dwelt there.

18 And Isaac dug again the wells of water that his father Abraham's servants dug and the Philistines stopped up after Abraham his father died. And he called them by the names his father had named them.

19 And Isaac's servants dug in the valley of Gerar and found there a well of living water.

20 And the shepherds of Gerar fought with Isaac's shepherds, saying the water was theirs. And he called the name of the well Injustice, because they wronged him.

21 And moving on from there, he dug another well, and they were quarreling over that one too. And he named it Enmity.

22 And moving on from there, he dug another well, and they did not fight over it. And he named it Broad Space, saying, Because now the Lord made room for us and increased us on the earth.

23 And he went up from there to the Well of Oath.

24 And the Lord appeared to him in that night and said, I am the God of Abraham³ your father. Do not fear, for I am with you, and I will bless you and multiply your seed because of Abraham your father.⁴

25 And he built there an altar and called on the name of the Lord and pitched his tent there. And Isaac's servants dug a well there in the valley of Gerar.

26 And Abimelech went to him from Gerar, and Ahuzzath his marriage-companion and Phichol the commander-in-chief of his force.

27 And Isaac said to them, Why did you come to me? You hated me and sent me away from you.

28 And they said, Seeing, we have seen that the Lord was with you, and we said, Let there be an oath-curse between us and you, and we will make a covenant with you,

29 that you not do us evil, since we did not abhor you and in the way we treated you well and sent you away with peace. And now you are blessed by the Lord.

30 And he made a feast for them, and they ate and drank.

31 And rising in the morning, each swore to his neighbor, and Isaac sent them away, and they went away from him in safety.

32 And it happened in that day Isaac's servants came and reported to him about the well that they dug, and they said, We did not find water.

33 And he called it Oath. Therefore he called the name of that city Well of Oath until this day.

34 And Esau was forty years old and took Judith⁵, daughter of Beeri⁶ the Hittite, and Basemath⁷, daughter of Helon⁸ the Hittite, as wives.

35 And they were contentious toward Isaac and Rebekah.

Chapter 27

1 And it happened after Isaac had grown old and his eyes had become dim for seeing, that he called Esau his older son and said to him, My son. And he said, Look, I am here.

2 And he said, Look, I have grown old and do not know the day of my death.

3 Now then take your gear, both quiver and bow, and go out into the plain and hunt game for me,

4 and make me dishes, as I love, and bring them to me so that I may eat, so that my soul may bless you before I die.

5 Now Rebekah heard Isaac speaking to Esau his son. And Esau went into the plain to hunt game for his father.

6 And Rebekah said to Jacob her son, the lesser one, Look, I heard your father speaking to Esau your brother, saying,

7 Bring me game and make me dishes so that I may eat and bless you before the Lord before I die.

8 Now then, my son, hear me, as I command you.

9 And go to the flock and take from there two tender good kids for me, and I will make them dishes for your father as he loves,

10 and you shall bring them to your father and he will eat, so that your father may bless you before he dies.

11 But Jacob said to Rebekah his mother, Esau my brother is a hairy man, but I am a smooth man.

12 Perhaps my father will feel me and I shall be before him as one mocking him, and I will bring a curse upon myself and not a blessing.

13 But his mother said to him, Let your curse be on me, child. Only hear my voice, and go bring them to me.

14 So he went and took them and brought them to his mother, and his mother made dishes as his father loved them.

15 And Rebekah took the fine robe of Esau her older son, which was with her in the house, and put it on Jacob her younger son,

17 and gave the dishes and the loaves she made into Jacob her son's hands.

18 And he brought them in to his father. And he said, Father. And he said, Look, I am here. Who are you, child?

19 And Jacob said to his father, I am Esau your firstborn. I have done as you told me. Rise, sit, and eat of my game, so that your soul may bless me.

20 And Isaac said to his son, What is this that you found so quickly, child? And he said, What the Lord your God handed over before me.

21 And Isaac said to Jacob, Come near to me and I will feel you, child, whether you are my son Esau or not.

22 And Jacob came near to Isaac his father, and he felt him and said, The voice is Jacob's voice, but the hands are Esau's hands.

23 And he did not recognize him, for his hands were hairy like the hands of his brother Esau. And he blessed him,

24 and said, Are you my son Esau? And he said, I am.

25 And he said, Bring it near to me, and I will eat of your game, child, so that my soul may bless you. And he brought it near to him, and he ate. And he brought him wine, and he drank.

26 And Isaac his father said to him, Come near to me and kiss me, child.

27 And he came near and kissed him, and he smelled the smell of his clothes and blessed him and said, Look, the smell of my son is like the smell of a full field that the Lord blessed.

28 And may God give you from the dew of heaven and from the fatness of the earth and abundance of grain and wine.

29 And let nations serve you, and let rulers bow down to you. And become lord of your brother, and the sons of your father shall bow to you. Cursed be the one cursing you, and blessed be the one blessing you.

30 And it happened after Isaac finished blessing Jacob his son, indeed it happened just as Jacob went out from before Isaac his father, that Esau his brother came from the hunt.

31 And he too made dishes and brought them to his father. And he said to his father, Let my father arise and eat of his son's game, so that your soul may bless me.

32 And Isaac his father said to him, Who are you? And he said, I am your firstborn son Esau.

33 And Isaac was overcome with a very great astonishment and said, Who then was the one who hunted game for me and brought it to me? And I ate from everything before you came, and I blessed him, and blessed he shall be.

34 And it happened when Esau heard the words of Isaac his father, he cried out with a great and very bitter cry and said, Bless me too, father.

35 And he said to him, Your brother came with deceit and took your blessing.

36 And he said, Rightly was his name called Jacob, for now this second time he has tripped me by the heel. He took my firstborn rights, and now he has taken my blessing. And Esau said to his father, Did you not leave a blessing for me, father?¹

37 But Isaac answered and said to Esau, If I made him your lord and made all his brothers his servants, and I strengthened him with grain and wine, what then shall I do for you, child?²

38 But Esau said to his father, Do you have only one blessing, father? Bless me too, father. And when Isaac was cut to the heart, Esau cried aloud and wept.³

39 And Isaac his father answered and said to him, Look, your dwelling shall be from the fatness of the earth and from the dew of heaven above.

40 And you shall live by your sword and serve your brother. But when you break away, then you will loosen his yoke from your neck.

41 And Esau kept anger against Jacob because of the blessing with which his father blessed him. And Esau said in his mind, Let the days of mourning for my father draw near, so that I may kill Jacob my brother.

42 And the words of Esau her older son were reported to Rebekah, and she sent and called Jacob her younger son and said to him, Look, Esau your brother is threatening you, intending to kill you.⁴

43 Now then, child, hear my voice and rise, flee to Mesopotamia to Laban my brother in Haran.

44 And dwell with him some days,

45 until the anger and wrath of your brother turn away from you and he forget what you did to him. Then I will send and bring you back from there, lest I be bereaved of both of you in one day.

46 And Rebekah said to Isaac, I am weary of my life because of the daughters of the sons of Heth. If Jacob takes a wife from the daughters of this land, why should I go on living?

Chapter 28

1 And Isaac, calling Jacob to him, blessed him and charged him, saying, You shall not take a wife from the daughters of the Canaanites.

2 Rise and flee to Mesopotamia, to the house of Bethuel the father of your mother, and take for yourself a wife from there, from the daughters of Laban your mother's brother.

3 And may my God bless you and increase you and multiply you, and you shall become gatherings of nations.

4 And may he give to you the blessing of Abraham my father, to you and to your seed after you, to inherit the land of your sojourning⁵, which God gave to Abraham.

5 And Isaac sent Jacob away, and he went to Mesopotamia to Laban son of Bethuel the Syrian, brother of Rebekah, mother of Jacob and Esau.

6 And Esau saw that Isaac blessed Jacob and sent him away to Mesopotamia of Syria to take a wife for himself from there when he blessed him, and that he charged him, saying, You shall not take a wife from the daughters of the Canaanites,

7 and that Jacob heard his father and mother and went to Mesopotamia of Syria.

8 And Esau also saw that the daughters of Canaan were evil in the sight of Isaac his father,

9 and Esau went to Ishmael and took Mahalath⁶ daughter of Ishmael son of Abraham, sister of Nebajoth, as wife in addition to his wives.

10 And Jacob went out from the Well of Oath and went to Haran.

11 And he came upon a place and slept there, for the sun had gone down. And he took one of the stones of the place and put it by his head and slept in that place.

12 And he dreamed, and look, a ladder stood fixed in the earth, and its top reached to heaven, and the angels of God were ascending and descending on it.

13 And the Lord stood fixed on it and said, I am the God of Abraham your father and the God of Isaac². Do not fear. The land on which you are sleeping, to you I will give it and to your seed.³

14 And your seed shall be like the sand of the earth, and it shall spread out to the sea and to the south and to the north and to the east, and in you and in your seed all the tribes of the earth shall be blessed.⁴

15 And look, I am with you, guarding you on every road where you may go, and I will bring you back to this land, because I will certainly not leave you until I do all that I spoke to you.

16 And Jacob awoke from his sleep and said, Surely the Lord is in this place, and I did not know it.

17 And he was afraid and said, How fearsome this place is. This is nothing other than God's house, and this is heaven's gate.

18 And Jacob rose early in the morning and took the stone he had placed there by his head and set it up as a pillar and poured oil on its top.

19 And he called the name of that place House of God, but Luz⁵ was the name of the city before.

20 And Jacob vowed a vow, saying, If the Lord God is with me and guards me on this road on which I am going and gives me bread to eat and clothing to wear,

21 and brings me back with safety to my father's house, then the Lord shall be God to me,

22 and this stone that I set up as a pillar shall be God's house, and from everything you give me, I will tithe a tenth of it to you.

Chapter 29

1 And Jacob, lifting up his feet, went to the eastern land, to Laban son of Bethuel the Syrian, brother of Rebekah, mother of Jacob and Esau.⁶

2 And he sees, and look, a well in the plain, and three flocks of sheep were lying there by it, for from that well they watered the flocks, and a great stone was on the mouth of the well,

3 and all the flocks were gathered there, and they would roll away the stone from the mouth of the well and water the sheep and set the stone back on the mouth of the well in its place.

4 And Jacob said to them, Brothers, where are you from? And they said, We are from Haran.

5 And he said to them, Do you know Laban son of Nahor? And they said, We know him.

6 And he said to them, Is he well? And they said, He is well. And look, Rachel⁷ his daughter was coming with the sheep.

7 And Jacob said, It is still much day, not yet time for the livestock to be gathered. Water the sheep, then go and pasture them.

8 But they said, We cannot until all the shepherds are gathered and they roll the stone away from the mouth of the well, then we water the sheep.

9 While he was still speaking with them, look, Rachel daughter of Laban was coming with her father's sheep, for she was shepherding her father's sheep.

10 And it happened when Jacob saw Rachel daughter of Laban, brother of his mother, and the sheep of Laban, brother of his mother, Jacob came near and rolled the stone from the mouth of the well and watered the sheep of Laban, brother of his mother.

12 And Jacob reported to Rachel that he was a relative of her father and that he was the son of Rebekah. And she ran and reported to her father according to these words.

13 And it happened when Laban heard the name of Jacob, son of his sister, he ran to meet him and embraced him and kissed him and brought him into his house. And Jacob recounted to Laban all these matters.

14 And Laban said to him, You are from my bones and from my flesh. And he was with him a month of days.

15 And Laban said to Jacob, Because you are my brother, will you serve me for nothing?⁸ Tell me, what shall your wages be?

16 Now Laban had two daughters. The name of the elder was Leah⁹, and the name of the younger Rachel¹⁰.

17 And Leah's eyes were weak, but Rachel was beautiful in form and exceedingly lovely in appearance.

18 And Jacob loved Rachel and said, I will serve you seven years for Rachel your younger daughter.^{11, 12}

19 And Laban said to him, It is better for me to give her to you than for me to give her to another man. Dwell with me.

20 And Jacob served for Rachel seven years, and they were in his sight like a few days because he loved her.

21 And Jacob said to Laban, Give me my wife, for my days are fulfilled so that I may go in to her.

22 And Laban gathered all the men of the place and made a wedding feast.

23 And it happened at evening that he took Leah his daughter and brought her to Jacob, and Jacob went in to her.

24 And Laban gave to Leah his daughter Zilpah¹³ his servant-girl as servant-girl for her.

25 And it happened in the morning, and look, it was Leah. And Jacob said to Laban, What is this you did to me? Was it not for Rachel that I served with you? And why did you trick me?

26 And Laban answered, It is not done this way in our place, to give the younger before the elder.

27 So fulfill this one's sevens, and I will give you that one too in exchange for the work that you work with me, still another seven years.

28 And Jacob did so and fulfilled this one's sevens, and Laban gave him Rachel his daughter to him as wife.

29 And Laban gave to his daughter Rachel Bilhah¹⁴ his servant-girl as servant-girl for her.
 30 And he went in to Rachel, and he loved Rachel more than Leah, and he served him another seven years.
 31 And when the Lord God saw that Leah was hated, he opened her womb, but Rachel was barren.
 32 And Leah conceived and bore a son to Jacob, and she called his name Reuben², saying, Because the Lord saw my humiliation and gave me a son. So now my husband will love me.
 33 And she conceived again and bore a second son to Jacob and said, Because the Lord heard that I am hated, he gave me this one also. And she called his name Simeon³.
 34 And she conceived yet again and bore a son and said, At this time now my husband will be with me, for I have borne him three sons. Therefore she called his name Levi⁴.
 35 And conceiving yet again she bore a son and said, Now this time I will give thanks to the Lord. Therefore she called his name Judah⁵. And she stopped bearing.

Chapter 30

1 And Rachel, seeing that she bore no children to Jacob, became jealous of her sister and said to Jacob, Give me children, but if not, I will die.
 2 And Jacob, angered at Rachel, said to her, Am I in the place of God, who deprived you of fruit of the womb?
 3 And Rachel said to Jacob, Look, my servant-girl Bilhah. Go in to her, and she will bear upon my knees, and I too will have children through her.
 4 And she gave him Bilhah her servant-girl as wife for him, and Jacob went in to her.
 5 And Bilhah, Rachel's servant-girl, conceived and bore a son to Jacob.
 6 And Rachel said, God judged for me and heard my voice and gave me a son. Therefore she called his name Dan⁶.
 7 And Bilhah, Rachel's servant-girl, conceived again and bore a second son to Jacob.
 8 And Rachel said, God joined in my struggle, and I struggled with my sister and prevailed. And she called his name Naphtali⁷.
 9 And Leah saw that she had stopped bearing, and she took Zilpah her servant-girl and gave her to Jacob as wife. And he went in to her.
 10 And Zilpah, Leah's servant-girl, conceived and bore a son to Jacob.
 11 And Leah said, In luck. And she called his name Gad⁸.
 12 And Zilpah, Leah's servant-girl, conceived again and bore a second son to Jacob.
 13 And Leah said, Blessed am I, because the women will pronounce me blessed. And she called his name Asher⁹.
 14 And Reuben went in the days of wheat harvest and found mandrake apples in the field and brought them to Leah his mother. And Rachel said to Leah her sister, Give me some of your son's mandrakes.
 15 And Leah said, Is it not enough for you that you took my husband? Will you now take my son's mandrakes too? And Rachel said, Not so¹⁰. Let him sleep with you tonight in exchange for your son's mandrakes.
 16 And Jacob came in from the field at evening, and Leah went out to meet him and said, You will come in to me today, for I hired you with my son's mandrakes. And he slept with her that night.
 17 And God heard Leah, and conceiving she bore a fifth son to Jacob.

 19 And Leah conceived again and bore a sixth son to Jacob.
 20 And Leah said, God has gifted me with a good gift at this time. My husband will choose me, for I have borne him six sons. And she called his name Zebulun¹².
 21 And after this she bore a daughter and called her name Dinah¹³.
 22 And God remembered Rachel, and God heard her and opened her womb,
 23 and conceiving she bore a son to Jacob. And Rachel said, God took away my reproach.
 24 And she called his name Joseph¹⁴, saying, Let God add another son to me.
 25 And it happened when Rachel bore Joseph, Jacob said to Laban, Send me away, so that I may depart to my place and to my land.
 26 Restore my wives and my children, for whom I have served you, so that I may depart, for you know the service with which I have served you.
 27 And Laban said to him, If I found favor before you, I would practice augury, for God blessed me at your coming in.
 28 Set your wages with me, and I will give them.
 29 And Jacob said, You know what things I have served you in and how much livestock of yours was with me,
 30 for what you had before me was little, and it increased into a multitude, and the Lord God blessed you at my foot. Now then, when shall I too make a house for myself?
 31 And Laban said to him, What shall I give you? And Jacob said to him, You shall give me nothing. If you do this thing for me, I will again shepherd your sheep and keep them.
 32 Let all your sheep pass by today, and separate from there every gray sheep among the lambs and every white-marked and speckled one among the goats. This shall be my wages.¹⁵
 33 And my righteousness will answer for me on the next day, because my wages are before you. Everything that is not speckled and white-marked among the goats and gray among the lambs will be considered stolen with me.¹⁶
 34 And Laban said to him, Let it be according to your word.

35 And he separated on that day the speckled and white-marked he-goats and all the speckled and white-marked she-goats and everything gray among the lambs and everything white among them, and gave them into the hand of his sons.
 36 And he set a journey of three days between them and Jacob. And Jacob was shepherding the remaining sheep of Laban.
 37 And Jacob took for himself a green storax rod and walnut and plane-tree, and Jacob peeled white peelings on them, stripping away the green. And the white that he peeled showed variegated on the rods.
 38 And he set the rods that he peeled in the troughs of the watering places, so that when the sheep came to drink before the rods, when they came to drink, they might conceive by the rods.
 39 And the sheep were conceiving by the rods, and the sheep bore white-marked and variegated and ash-speckled young.
 40 And Jacob separated the lambs and set before the sheep a white-marked ram¹ and every variegated one among the lambs. And he separated flocks for himself by themselves and did not mix them into Laban's sheep.
 41 And it happened at the time when the sheep that were taking in seed conceived, Jacob set the rods before the sheep in the troughs, so that they might conceive in relation to the rods.
 42 But whenever the sheep were giving birth, he did not set them there. So the unmarked were Laban's, but the marked were Jacob's.
 43 And the man grew very, very rich, and he had many flocks and cattle and male servants and female servants and camels and donkeys.

Chapter 31

1 And Jacob heard the words of Laban's sons saying, Jacob has taken all that belonged to our father, and from what belonged to our father he made all this glory.
 2 And Jacob saw Laban's face, and look, it was not toward him as yesterday and the third day.
 3 And the Lord said to Jacob, Return to the land of your father and to your family line, and I will be with you.
 4 And Jacob sent and called Leah and Rachel into the plain where the flocks were.
 5 And he said to them, I see your father's face, that it is not toward me as yesterday and the third day, but the God of my father was with me.
 6 And you yourselves know that with all my strength I served your father.
 7 But your father cheated me and changed my wages for the ten lambs, yet God did not let him harm me.
 8 If he said this, The variegated shall be your wages, then all the sheep would bear variegated. But if he said, The white ones shall be your wages, then all the sheep would bear white.
 9 So God took away all your father's livestock and gave them to me.
 10 And it happened when the sheep were conceiving and taking seed in the belly, I saw with my eyes in sleep, and look, the he-goats and rams mounting the sheep and the goats were white-marked and variegated and ash-speckled.
 11 And the angel of God said to me in sleep, Jacob. And I said, What is it?
 12 And he said, Lift up your eyes and see the he-goats and the rams mounting the sheep and the goats, white-marked and variegated and ash-speckled, for I have seen what things Laban does to you.
 13 I am the God who appeared to you in the place of God², where you anointed a pillar to me and vowed a vow to me there. So now rise and go out from this land and go to the land of your birth, and I will be with you.³
 14 And Rachel and Leah answered and said to him, Is there still a portion or inheritance⁴ for us in our father's house?
 15 Are we not counted by him as foreigners? For he sold us and by eating ate up our silver.
 16 All the wealth and the glory that God took away from our father shall be ours and our children's. So now whatever God said to you, do.
 17 And Jacob rose and took his wives and his children on the camels.
 18 And he led away all that belonged to him and all his baggage, which he acquired in Mesopotamia, all that was his, to go to Isaac his father in the land of Canaan.
 19 Now Laban had gone to shear his sheep, and Rachel stole her father's idols.
 20 And Jacob hid the matter from Laban the Syrian by not reporting to him that he was running away.
 21 And he fled, he and all that was his, and crossed the river and set out for the mountain of Gilead⁵.
 22 And on the third day it was reported to Laban the Syrian that Jacob had fled,
 23 and taking his brothers with him, he pursued after him a journey of seven days and overtook him at the mountain of Gilead.
 24 And God came to Laban the Syrian in sleep by night and said to him, Watch yourself, lest you speak evil things with Jacob.
 25 And Laban overtook Jacob. Now Jacob had pitched his tent in the mountain, and Laban stationed his brothers at the mountain of Gilead.
 26 And Laban said to Jacob, What did you do? Why did you run away in secret and carry me off by theft and lead away my daughters like captives of the sword?
 27 And if you had reported it to me, I would have sent you away with gladness and with songs and with tambourines and with lyre,
 28 and I was not counted worthy to kiss my children and my daughters. But now you acted foolishly.
 29 And now my hand has power to harm you, but the God of your father said to me yesterday, saying, Watch yourself, lest you speak evil things with Jacob.
 30 So now go on, for with desire you desired to go to your father's house. Why did you steal my gods?
 31 And Jacob answered and said to Laban, Because I was afraid, for I said, Perhaps you would take your daughters away from me and all that is mine.
 32 And Jacob said, With whomever you find your gods, he shall not live before our brothers. Recognize what of yours is with me and take it. But Jacob did not know that Rachel his wife had stolen them.
 33 And going in, Laban searched Leah's house and did not find them. And he went out from Leah's house and searched Jacob's house and the house of the two servant-girls and did not find them. Then he entered Rachel's house too.
 34 Now Rachel had taken the idols and thrown them among the camel packs and sat on them.
 35 And she said to her father, Do not take it heavily, lord. I cannot rise before you, because the custom of women is upon me.

36 And Jacob grew angry and fought with Laban. And Jacob answered and said to Laban, What is my wrongdoing and what is my sin, that you pursued after me?

37 And because you searched all the furnishings of my house, what did you find from all the furnishings of your house? Set it here before your brothers and my brothers, and let them judge between the two of us.

38 These twenty years I have been with you. Your sheep and your goats did not miscarry, and I did not eat the rams of your sheep.

39 What was torn by beasts I did not bring to you. I was making good from myself the thefts of day and the thefts of night¹.

40 By day I was being burned together by the heat and by the frost of night, and my sleep departed from my eyes.

41 These twenty years I have been in your house. I served you fourteen years for your two daughters and six years among your sheep, and you tricked my wages by ten lambs.

42 If the God of my father Abraham and the Fear of Isaac had not been mine, now you would have sent me away empty. God saw my humiliation and the labor of my hands and rebuked you yesterday.

43 But Laban answered and said to Jacob, The daughters are my daughters, and the sons my sons, and the livestock my livestock, and all that you see is mine and my daughters². What shall I do to these today or to their children whom they bore?

44 So now come, let us make a covenant, both I and you, and it shall be for a witness between me and you. And he said to him, Look, no one is with us. Look, God is witness between me and you.

45 And Jacob took a stone and set it up as a pillar³.

46 And Jacob said to his brothers, Gather stones⁴. And they gathered stones and made a heap, and they ate there on the heap.

47 And Laban said to him, This heap bears witness between me and you today.

48 And Laban called it Heap of Witness, but Jacob called it Witness Heap. And Laban said to Jacob, Look, this heap and this pillar that I set between me and you, this heap bears witness and this pillar bears witness. Therefore its name was called, Heap bears witness.

49 And Watchpost, which he said, May God look between me and you, because we will be separated from one another.

50 If you humble my daughters, if you take wives in addition to my daughters, see, no one is with us seeing. God is witness between me and you.

52 For if I should not cross over to you, and you should not cross over to me beyond this heap and this pillar for evil,

53 the God of Abraham and the God of Nahor will judge between us.

54 And Jacob swore by the Fear of Isaac his father and offered a sacrifice in the mountain and called his brothers, and they ate and drank and slept in the mountain.

Chapter 32

1 And Jacob went on his own way. And lifting up his eyes, he saw a camp of God encamped, and the angels of God met him.

2 And Jacob said when he saw them, This is God's camp. And he called the name of that place Camps.⁵

3 And Jacob sent messengers before him⁶ to Esau his brother in the land of Seir, in the country of Edom.

4 And he charged them, saying, Thus you will say to my lord Esau, Thus says your servant Jacob: I sojourned with Laban and lingered until now,

5 and there came to me oxen and donkeys and sheep and male servants and female servants, and I sent to report to my lord Esau, so that your servant may find favor before you.

6 And the messengers returned to Jacob⁷, saying, We came to your brother Esau, and look, he is coming to meet you, and four hundred men are with him.

7 And Jacob feared greatly and was perplexed. And he divided the people with him and the cattle and the camels and the sheep into two camps,

8 and Jacob said, If Esau comes to one camp and cuts it down, the second camp will be for safety.

9 And Jacob said, God of my father Abraham and God of my father Isaac, Lord, you are the one who said to me, Run back to the land of your birth and I will do you good,

10 Let there be to me a sufficiency of all the righteousness and all the truth that you wrought with your servant, for with this staff I crossed this Jordan, and now I have become two camps.

11 Deliver me from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esau, because I am afraid of him, lest he come and strike me, mother upon children⁸.

12 And you said, I will do you good⁹ and make your seed like the sand of the sea, which will not be numbered because of the multitude.

13 And he slept there that night and took from what he was carrying gifts and sent them to Esau his brother,

14 two hundred she-goats, twenty he-goats, two hundred sheep, twenty rams,¹⁰

15 thirty milk camels and their young¹¹, forty cows, ten bulls, twenty donkeys, and ten foals.

16 And he gave them to his servants, herd by itself. And he said to his servants, Go on before me, and put a gap between herd and herd.

17 And he charged the first, saying, If Esau my brother meets you and asks you, saying, Whose are you and where are you going and whose are these going before you¹², 18 you will say, They belong to your servant Jacob. He sent gifts to my lord Esau, and look, he himself is behind us.

19 And he charged the first and the second and the third and all those going before behind these herds, saying, According to this word speak to Esau when you find him,

20 and you will say, Look, your servant Jacob is coming behind us. For he said, I will propitiate his face with the gifts going before him, and after this I will see his face. For perhaps he will accept my face.

21 And the gifts went on before him, but he himself slept that night in the camp.
 22 And rising in that night, he took his two wives and his two servant-girls and his eleven children and crossed the ford of Jabbok^{1,2}.
 23 And he took them and crossed the torrent and brought over all that was his.
 24 And Jacob was left behind alone, and a man wrestled with him until morning.
 25 And he saw that he could not prevail against him, and he touched the broad part of his thigh, and the broad part of Jacob's thigh went numb³ while he wrestled with him.
 26 And he said to him, Send me away, for dawn has come up. But he said, I will certainly not send you away unless you bless me.
 27 And he said to him, What is your name?⁴ And he said, Jacob.
 28 And he said to him, Your name will no longer be called Jacob, but Israel⁵ shall be your name, because you were strong with God, and with men you will be powerful.
 29 And Jacob asked and said, Tell me your name⁶. And he said, Why is this that you ask my name? And he blessed him there.
 30 And Jacob called the name of that place Form of God⁷, for I saw God face to face, and my life was saved.
 31 And the sun rose on him when he passed the Form of God, and he was limping on his thigh.
 32 Because of this the sons of Israel shall never eat the sinew that went numb, which is on the broad part of the thigh, until this day, because he touched the broad part of Jacob's thigh, the sinew that went numb.
 33 Because of this the sons of Israel shall never eat the sinew that went numb, which is on the broad part of the thigh, until this day, because he touched the broad part of Jacob's thigh, the sinew and it went numb.

Chapter 33

1 And Jacob, lifting up his eyes, saw, and look, Esau his brother was coming and four hundred men with him. And Jacob divided the children among Leah and Rachel and the two servant-girls.
 2 And he placed the two servant-girls and their sons first, and Leah and her children behind, and Rachel and Joseph last.
 3 But he himself went before them and bowed to the ground seven times until he drew near to his brother.
 4 And Esau ran to meet him and embraced him and fell on his neck and kissed him, and both wept.
 5 And Esau lifted up his eyes and saw the women and the children and said, What are these to you? And he said, The children to whom God showed mercy to your servant.
 6 And the servant-girls and their children came near and bowed,
 7 and Leah and her children came near and bowed. And after these Rachel and Joseph came near and bowed.
 8 And he said, What are all these camps to you that I met? And he said, So that your servant may find favor before you, lord.
 9 And Esau said, I have much, brother. Let what is yours remain yours.
 10 And Jacob said, If I found favor before you, receive the gifts by my hands, because for this reason I saw your face as one might see God's face, and you were well pleased with me.
 11 Take my blessings that I brought to you, because God showed mercy to me and because I have everything. And he pressed him, and he took them.
 12 And he said, Let us set out and go straight on.
 13 But he said to him, My lord knows that the children are more delicate, and the sheep and the cattle with young are on me. So if I drive them hard one day, all the livestock will die.
 14 Let my lord go on before his servant, and I will strengthen myself on the road at the leisure of the journey before me and according to the pace of the children, until I come to my lord in Seir.
 15 And Esau said, I will leave with you some of the people with me. But he said, Why this? It is enough that I found favor before you, lord.
 17 And Jacob set out to Tents, and there he made houses for himself, and for his livestock he made tents. Therefore he called the name of that place, Tents.
 18 And Jacob came to Salem, city of Shechem, which is in the land of Canaan, when he returned from Mesopotamia of Syria, and he encamped in front of the city.
 19 And he bought the portion of the field where he set his tent there from Hamor⁸ father of Shechem for one hundred lambs.
 20 And he set up an altar there and called on the God of Israel.

Chapter 34

1 And Dinah, daughter of Leah, whom she bore to Jacob, went out to observe the daughters of the inhabitants.
 2 And Shechem son of Hamor the Hivite⁹, ruler of the land, saw her, and taking her, he lay with her and humbled her.
 3 And he was attached in soul to Dinah daughter of Jacob, and he loved the virgin and spoke to the heart of the virgin.
 4 And Shechem said to Hamor his father, saying, Take this girl for me as wife.
 5 And Jacob heard that the son of Hamor had defiled Dinah his daughter. But his sons were with his livestock in the plain. And Jacob kept silent until they came.
 6 And Hamor father of Shechem went out to Jacob to speak with him.
 7 And Jacob's sons came from the plain. And when they heard, the men were cut to the heart, and it was very grievous to them, because he had done a shameful thing in Israel by lying with Jacob's daughter, and so it will not be.
 8 And Hamor spoke to them, saying, My son Shechem chose your daughter in his soul. So give her to him as wife,
 9 and intermarry with us. Give your daughters to us and take our daughters for your sons.
 10 And dwell among us, and look, the land is broad before you. Dwell and trade on it and gain possessions in it.
 11 And Shechem said to her father and to her brothers, May I find favor before you, and whatever you say, we will give.
 12 Greatly increase the dowry, and I will give according to whatever you say to me. Only give me this girl as wife.

13 And Jacob's sons answered Shechem and Hamor his father with deceit and spoke to them, because they had defiled Dinah their sister,
 14 and Simeon and Levi, Dinah's brothers, said to them, We cannot do this thing, to give our sister to a man who has foreskin, for it is a reproach to us.
 15 Only in this will we become like you and dwell among you: if you too become as we are in every male of yours being circumcised.
 16 And we will give our daughters to you, and from your daughters we will take wives for ourselves, and we will dwell with you and become like one race.
 17 But if you do not listen to us to be circumcised, taking our daughter, we will depart.
 18 And the words were pleasing before Hamor and before Shechem son of Hamor.
 19 And the young man did not delay to do this thing, for he was attached to Jacob's daughter. And he was the most honored of all in his father's house.
 20 And Hamor and Shechem his son came to the gate of their city and spoke to the men of their city, saying,
 21 These men are peaceable with us¹. Let them dwell on the land and trade it, and look, the land is broad before them. We will take their daughters as wives for ourselves, and we will give our daughters to them.
 22 Only in this will the men become like us to dwell with us, so as to be one people, in every male of us being circumcised, just as they also are circumcised.
 23 And will not their livestock and their four-footed animals and their possessions be ours? Only in this let us become like them, and they will dwell with us.
 24 And all who traded through the gate of their city listened to Hamor and Shechem his son, and every male was circumcised in the flesh of their foreskin.
 25 And it happened on the third day, when they were in pain, the two sons of Jacob, Simeon and Levi, Dinah's brothers, each took his sword and entered the city securely and killed every male.
 26 And they killed Hamor and Shechem his son by the mouth of the sword, and they took Dinah from Shechem's house and went out.
 27 And Jacob's sons entered upon the wounded and plundered the city in which they had defiled Dinah their sister,
 28 and they took their sheep and their cattle and their donkeys, whatever was in the city and whatever was in the field.
 29 And they took captive all their persons and all their baggage and their wives, and they plundered whatever was in the city and whatever was in the houses.
 30 And Jacob said to Simeon and Levi, You made me hateful, so that I am evil to all the inhabitants of the land, both among the Canaanites and among the Perizzites. And I am few in number, and gathering against me they will cut me down, and I and my house will be destroyed.
 31 But they said, Shall they treat our sister like a prostitute?

Chapter 35

1 And God said to Jacob, Rise, go up to the place Bethel and dwell there, and make there an altar to the God who appeared to you when you fled from the face of Esau your brother.
 2 And Jacob said to his house and to all with him, Take away the foreign gods from your midst and purify yourselves and change your garments,
 3 and rising, let us go up to Bethel and let us make there an altar to the God who heard me in the day of distress, who was with me and preserved me on the road on which I traveled.
 4 And they gave Jacob the foreign gods that were in their hands and the earrings in their ears, and Jacob hid them under the terebinth in Shechem, and he destroyed them until this day.
 5 And Israel set out from Shechem, and a fear of God came on the cities around them, and they did not pursue after the sons of Israel.
 6 And Jacob came to Luz, which is in the land of Canaan, which is Bethel, he and all the people with him.
 7 And he built there an altar and called the name of the place Bethel, for there God appeared to him when he fled from the face of Esau his brother.
 8 And Deborah², Rebekah's nurse, died and was buried below Bethel under the oak, and Jacob called its name Oak of Mourning.
 9 And God appeared to Jacob again in Luz, when he came from Mesopotamia of Syria, and God blessed him.
 10 And God said to him, Your name shall no longer be called Jacob, but Israel shall be your name. And he called his name Israel.
 11 And God said to him, I am your God. Increase and multiply. Nations and gatherings of nations³ will come from you, and kings will come out from your loins.
 12 And the land that I gave to Abraham and Isaac, I have given it to you. It shall be yours, and to your seed after you I will give this land.
 13 And God went up from him from the place where he spoke with him.
 14 And Jacob set up a pillar in the place where God spoke with him, a stone pillar, and he poured a libation on it and poured oil on it.
 15 And Jacob called the name of the place where God spoke with him there, Bethel.
 16 And Jacob, setting out from Bethel, pitched his tent beyond the tower of Eder⁴. And it happened when he drew near a little way to come to Ephrathah⁵, Rachel gave birth, and she was in hard labor in the birth.
 17 And it happened in her hard labor, the midwife said to her, Take courage⁶, for this son also is yours.
 18 And it happened when her life was departing, for she was dying, she called his name Son of my pain. But his father called his name Benjamin⁷.
 19 And Rachel died and was buried on the road of the racecourse of Ephrathah (this is Bethlehem⁸).
 20 And Jacob set up a pillar over her tomb. This is the pillar over Rachel's tomb until this day.

 28 And the days of Isaac that he lived became one hundred eighty years,
 29 and failing, Isaac died and was added to his people, old and full of days. And Esau and Jacob his sons buried him.

Chapter 37

1 Now Jacob lived in the land where his father had sojourned, in the land of Canaan.
 2 And these are the generations of Jacob. Joseph was seventeen years old, shepherding his father's sheep with his brothers, being young, with the sons of Bilhah and with the sons of Zilpah, the wives of his father. And Joseph brought a bad report to Israel their father.
 3 Now Jacob loved Joseph more than all his sons, because he was a son of old age to him. And he made him a varicolored tunic.
 4 And when his brothers saw that their father loved him more than all his sons, they hated him and could not speak anything peaceful to him.
 5 And Joseph dreamed a dream and told it to his brothers.
 6 And he said to them, Hear this dream that I dreamed:
 7 I thought you were binding sheaves in the middle of the field, and my sheaf rose and stood upright, and your sheaves turned around and bowed to my sheaf.
 8 And his brothers said to him, Reigning will you reign over us, or ruling will you rule us? And they added still more to hate him because of his dreams and because of his words.
 9 And he saw another dream and told it to his father and to his brothers and said, Look, I dreamed another dream, like the sun and the moon and eleven stars bowing to me.
 10 And his father rebuked him and said to him, What is this dream that you dreamed? Shall I and your mother and your brothers truly come to bow to you on the ground?
 11 And his brothers envied him, but his father kept the saying.
 13 And Israel said to Joseph, Are not your brothers shepherding at Shechem? Come, I will send you to them. And he said to him, Look, I am here.
 14 And Israel said to him, Go and see whether your brothers are well and whether the sheep are well, and report to me. And he sent him from the valley of Hebron, and he came to Shechem.
 15 And a man found him wandering in the field, and the man asked him, saying, What do you seek?
 16 And he said, I seek my brothers. Tell me where they are shepherding.
 17 And the man said to him, They have departed from here, for I heard them saying, Let us go to Dothan²⁶. And Joseph went after his brothers and found them at Dothan.
 18 And they saw him from far away before he came near to them, and they plotted wickedly to kill him.
 19 And each said to his brother, Look, that dreamer is coming.
 20 Now then come, let us kill him and throw him into one of the pits, and we will say, An evil beast devoured him. And we will see what his dreams will become.

21 And Reuben, hearing, rescued him from their hands and said, Let us not strike him down to death.

22 And Reuben said to them, Do not shed blood. Throw him into one of these pits in the wilderness, but do not lay a hand on him, so that he might rescue him from their hands and restore him to his father.

23 And it happened when Joseph came to his brothers, they stripped Joseph of the varicolored tunic that was around him.

24 And taking him, they threw him into the pit. And the pit was empty; it had no water.

25 And they sat down to eat bread, and looking up with their eyes they saw, and look, Ishmaelite¹ travelers² were coming from Gilead, and their camels were full of aromatics and resin and stacte, and they were going to carry them down to Egypt.

26 And Judah said to his brothers, What profit is there if we kill our brother and hide his blood?

27 Come, let us sell him to these Ishmaelites³, and let not our hands be upon him, because he is our brother and our flesh. And his brothers listened.

28 And Midianite⁴ merchant men passed by, and they drew Joseph up and brought him out of the pit and sold Joseph to the Ishmaelites for twenty gold pieces. And they brought Joseph down to Egypt.

29 And Reuben returned to the pit and did not see Joseph in the pit. And he tore his garments.

30 And he returned to his brothers and said, The child is not there, and I, where shall I still go?⁵

31 And taking Joseph's tunic, they slaughtered a kid of the goats and stained the tunic with blood.

32 And they sent the varicolored tunic and brought it to their father. And they said, We found this. Recognize whether it is your son's tunic or not.

33 And he recognized it and said, It is my son's tunic. An evil beast devoured him. A beast seized Joseph.

35 And all his sons and daughters gathered and came to comfort him, but he would not be comforted, saying, I will go down mourning to my son into Hades. And his father wept for him.

Chapter 38

1 And it happened at that time, Judah went down from his brothers and came as far as a certain Adullamite⁸ man whose name was Hirah⁹.

2 And Judah saw there the daughter of a Canaanite¹⁰ man whose name was Shua¹¹, and he took her and went in to her.

3 And she conceived and bore a son, and he called his name Er¹².

4 And again she conceived and bore a son and called his name Onan.

5 And adding again, she bore a son and called his name Shelah. And she was in Chezib¹³ when she bore them.

6 And Judah took a wife for Er his firstborn, whose name was Tamar^{14, 15}.

7 And Er, Judah's firstborn, became evil before the Lord, and God killed him.

8 And Judah said to Onan, Go in to your brother's wife and perform a brother-in-law's duty for her and raise up seed for your brother.

9 And Onan, knowing that the seed would not be his, whenever he went in to his brother's wife, spilled it on the ground so as not to give seed to his brother.

10 And what he did appeared evil before God, and he put him to death also.

11 And Judah said to Tamar his daughter-in-law, Sit as a widow in your father's house until my son Shelah grows up. For he said, Lest he also die like his brothers. And Tamar went away and sat in her father's house.

12 And the days multiplied, and Shua, Judah's wife, died. And Judah, having been comforted, went up to those shearing his sheep, he and Hirah his Adullamite shepherd, to Timnath¹⁶.

13 And it was reported to Tamar, saying, Look, your father-in-law is going up to Timnath to shear his sheep.¹⁷

14 And taking off the garments of her widowhood from herself, she put on a veil and adorned herself¹⁸ and sat by the gates of Enaim¹⁹, which is on the road to Timnath, for she saw that Shelah had grown up and he had not given her to him as wife.

15 And Judah, seeing her, thought her to be a prostitute, for she had covered her face and he did not recognize her.

16 And he turned aside to her on the road and said to her, Let me come in to you, for he did not know that she was his daughter-in-law. And she said, What will you give me if you come in to me?

17 And he said, I will send you a kid of the goats from my flock. And she said, If you will give me a pledge until you send it.

18 And he said, What pledge shall I give you? And she said, Your signet and your cord and the staff in your hand. And he gave them to her and went in to her, and she conceived by him.

19 And she rose and went away and took off her veil from herself and put on the garments of her widowhood.

20 And Judah sent the kid of the goats by the hand of his Adullamite shepherd to receive the pledge from the woman, and he did not find her.

21 And he asked the men of the place, Where is the prostitute who was at Enaim by the road? And they said, There was no prostitute here.

22 And he returned to Judah and said, I did not find her, and the men of the place say there was no prostitute here.

23 And Judah said, Let her keep them, lest perhaps we become a laughingstock. I sent this kid, but you did not find her.

24 And it happened after three months, it was reported to Judah, saying, Tamar your daughter-in-law has prostituted herself, and look, she is with child from prostitution¹. And Judah said, Bring her out and let her be burned.

25 And as she was being brought out, she sent to her father-in-law, saying, By the man whose these things are, I am with child. And she said, Recognize whose signet and cord and staff these are.
26 And Judah recognized them and said, Tamar is more righteous than I, because I did not give her to my son Shelah. And he did not continue to know her.
27 And it happened when she was giving birth, that twins were in her womb.
28 And it happened while she was giving birth, one put out a hand. And the midwife took it and tied scarlet on his hand, saying, This one will come out first.

30 And after this his brother came out, on whose hand was the scarlet, and she called his name Zerah.

Chapter 39

1 And Joseph was brought down to Egypt, and Potiphar, Pharaoh's eunuch, the chief-cook, an Egyptian man, bought him from the hands of the Ishmaelites, who had brought him down there.
2 And the Lord was with Joseph, and he was a man finding success, and he came to be in the house of his Egyptian master.
3 And his master knew that the Lord was with him, and whatever he did, the Lord prospered in his hands.
4 And Joseph found favor before his master and was well-pleasing to him, and he appointed him over his house, and all that he had he gave into Joseph's hand.
5 And it happened after he appointed him over his house and over all that he had, the Lord blessed the Egyptian's house because of Joseph, and the blessing of the Lord came upon all his possessions in the house and in his field.
6 And he entrusted all that he had into Joseph's hands, and knew nothing of what belonged to him except the bread he ate. And Joseph was handsome in form and very beautiful in appearance.
7 And it happened after these things, his master's wife cast her eyes on Joseph and said, Sleep with me.
8 But he would not, and he said to his master's wife, If because of me my master knows nothing in his house, and all that is his he has given into my hands,
9 and nothing in this house is greater than I, nor has he withheld anything from me except you, because you are his wife, how shall I do this evil thing and sin before God?
10 And when she spoke to Joseph day after day, he did not heed her, to sleep with her or to be with her.
11 And it happened on such a day, Joseph entered the house to do his work, and none of the people of the house was inside.
12 And she grabbed him by his garments, saying, Sleep with me. But leaving his garments in her hands, he fled and went outside.
13 And it happened when she saw that, leaving his garments in her hands, he fled and went outside,
14 she called those in the house and said to them, saying, See, he brought in to us a Hebrew servant to mock us. He came in to me, saying, Sleep with me, and I cried with a loud voice.
15 And when he heard that I lifted my voice and cried, leaving his garments beside me, he fled and went outside.
17 And she spoke to him according to these words, saying, The Hebrew servant whom you brought in to us came in to me to mock me and said, I will sleep with you.
18 And when he heard that I lifted my voice and cried, leaving his garments beside me, he fled and went outside.
19 And it happened when his master heard the words of his wife that she spoke to him, saying, Thus your servant did to me, he became angry with wrath.
20 And Joseph's master took him and threw him into the fortress, into the place where the king's prisoners were kept, there in the fortress.
21 And the Lord was with Joseph and poured out mercy on him and gave him favor before the chief jailer.
22 And the chief jailer gave the prison into Joseph's hand, and all the prisoners, as many as were in the prison, and whatever was done there, he was the one doing it.
23 The chief jailer knew nothing because of him, for all things were by Joseph's hand, because the Lord was with him, and whatever he did, the Lord prospered in his hands.

Chapter 40

1 And it happened after these matters, the chief cupbearer of the king of Egypt and the chief baker sinned against their lord, the king of Egypt.
2 And Pharaoh grew angry at his two eunuchs, at the chief cupbearer and at the chief baker.
3 And he put them under guard in the prison, in the place where Joseph had been led away there.
4 And the chief jailer assigned them to Joseph, and he attended them. And they were some days under guard.
5 And both saw a dream in one night. And this was the vision of the dream of the chief cupbearer and chief baker of the king of Egypt, who were in the prison.
6 And Joseph came in to them in the morning and saw them, and they were troubled.
7 And he asked Pharaoh's eunuchs, who were with him under guard in his master's house, saying, Why are your faces gloomy today?
8 And they said to him, We have seen a dream, and there is no one to interpret it. And Joseph said to them, Are not their explanations through God? Tell them to me, then.
9 And the chief cupbearer told his dream to Joseph and said, In my sleep there was a vine before me.
10 And on the vine were three stems, and it was budding, bringing up shoots. Its grape-clusters were ripe.
11 And Pharaoh's cup was in my hand. And I took the grapes and squeezed them into the cup and gave the cup into Pharaoh's hand.
12 And Joseph said to him, This is its interpretation: the three stems are three days.
13 Yet three days and Pharaoh will remember your office and restore you to your chief-cupbearing, and you will give Pharaoh's cup into his hand according to your former office, as when you were cupbearer.
14 But remember me because of yourself when it goes well with you, and show mercy to me and make mention of me to

Pharaoh and bring me out of this fortress.

15 Because by theft I was stolen from the land of the Hebrews¹, and here also I did nothing, yet they threw me into this pit.

16 And the chief baker saw that he interpreted rightly and said to Joseph, I also saw a dream, and I thought I was carrying three baskets of pastry on my head.

17 And in the upper basket were all kinds of things that Pharaoh eats, the work of a baker, and the birds of heaven were eating them from the basket on top of my head.

18 And Joseph answered and said to him, This is its interpretation: the three baskets are three days.

19 Yet three days and Pharaoh will lift your head from off you and hang you on a tree, and the birds of heaven will eat your flesh from off you.

20 And it happened on the third day, Pharaoh's birthday, he made a drinking-feast for all his servants. And he remembered the office of the cupbearer and the office of the baker among his servants.

21 And he restored the chief cupbearer to his office, and he gave the cup into Pharaoh's hand.

22 But the chief baker he hanged, just as Joseph had interpreted to them.

23 And the chief cupbearer did not remember Joseph, but forgot him.

Chapter 41

1 And it happened after two full years, Pharaoh saw a dream. He thought he was standing by the river.

2 And look, as though out of the river seven cows were coming up, beautiful in appearance and choice in flesh, and they were grazing among the reeds.

3 And seven other cows came up after these out of the river, ugly in appearance and thin in flesh, and they were feeding beside the cows on the bank of the river.

4 And the seven cows ugly in appearance and thin in flesh devoured the seven cows beautiful in appearance and choice in flesh. And Pharaoh woke up.

5 And he dreamed a second time, and look, seven ears were coming up on one stalk, choice and good.

7 And the seven thin ears, wind-stricken, swallowed the seven choice and full ears. And Pharaoh woke up, and it was a dream.

8 And it happened in the morning, his soul was troubled, and he sent and called all the interpreters of Egypt and all its wise men, and Pharaoh told them his dream, and there was no one to declare it to Pharaoh.

9 And the chief cupbearer spoke to Pharaoh, saying, I remember my sin today.

10 Pharaoh grew angry at his servants and put us under guard in the house of the chief-cook, both me and the chief baker.

11 And both of us saw a dream in one night, I and he. Each of us saw according to his own dream.²

12 And there was with us there a young Hebrew servant of the chief-cook, and we told him, and he interpreted for us.

13 And as he interpreted to us, so also it happened. I was restored to my office, and that man was hanged.

14 And Pharaoh sent and called Joseph, and they brought him out of the fortress and shaved him and changed his clothing, and he came to Pharaoh.

15 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, I have seen a dream, and there is no one to interpret it. But I have heard concerning you, men saying that when you hear dreams, you interpret them.

16 And Joseph answered Pharaoh and said, Apart from God, no answer of safety will be given to Pharaoh.

17 And Pharaoh spoke to Joseph, saying, In my dream I thought I was standing by the bank of the river.

18 And as though out of the river seven cows were coming up, beautiful in appearance and choice in flesh, and they were feeding among the reeds.

19 And look, seven other cows came up after them out of the river, evil and ugly in appearance and thin in flesh, such that I never saw uglier ones in all the land of Egypt.

20 And the seven cows ugly and thin devoured the seven first cows, the beautiful ones and the choice ones.³

21 And they went into their bellies, and it was not evident that they had gone into their bellies, and their appearance remained ugly as at the beginning. And after I woke, I slept.

22 And I saw again in my sleep, and as though seven ears were coming up on one stalk, full and good.

23 And seven other ears, thin and wind-stricken, sprang up close after them.

24 And the seven thin and wind-stricken ears swallowed the seven good and full ears. So I told the interpreters, and there was no one to declare it to me.

25 And Joseph said to Pharaoh, Pharaoh's dream is one. What God is doing he has shown to Pharaoh.

26 The seven good cows are seven years, and the seven good ears are seven years. Pharaoh's dream is one.

27 And the seven thin cows coming up after them are seven years, and the seven thin ears, wind-stricken, will be seven years of famine.

28 This is the word I spoke to Pharaoh: what God is doing he has shown to Pharaoh.

29 Look, seven years of great plenty are coming in all the land of Egypt.

30 But seven years of famine will come after these, and the plenty that was in all Egypt will be forgotten, and the famine will consume the land.

31 And the plenty will not be recognized on the land because of the famine coming after this, for it will be very severe.

32 And because Pharaoh's dream was doubled twice, the thing will be true from God, and God will hasten to do it.

33 Now then, look for a prudent and understanding man and appoint him over the land of Egypt.

34 And let Pharaoh act and appoint local governors over the land, and let them take up a fifth of all the produce of the land of Egypt during the seven years of plenty.

35 And let them gather all the food of these coming good years, and let grain be gathered under Pharaoh's hand. Let food be kept in the cities.

36 And the stored food will be for the land against the seven years of famine that will be in the land of Egypt, and the land will not be destroyed by the famine.

37 And the word pleased Pharaoh and all his servants.

38 And Pharaoh said to all his servants, Shall we find another man like this, who has the spirit of God in him?

39 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Since God has shown you all these things, there is no one more prudent and more understanding than you.

40 You will be over my house, and by your mouth all my people will obey. Only in the throne will I be above you.
 41 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Look, I appoint you today over all the land of Egypt.
 42 And Pharaoh took the ring from his hand and put it on Joseph's hand and clothed him in a linen robe and put a golden collar around his neck.
 43 And he mounted him on his second chariot, and a herald cried before him¹. And he set him over all the land of Egypt.
 44 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, I am Pharaoh. Without you no one will lift his hand over all the land of Egypt.
 45 And Pharaoh called Joseph's name Zaphnathpaaneah², and he gave him Asenath³, daughter of Potiphera⁴ priest of Heliopolis, as wife.
 46 And Joseph was thirty years old when he stood before Pharaoh king of Egypt. And Joseph went out from Pharaoh's presence and passed through all the land of Egypt.
 47 And the land produced by sheaves in the seven years of plenty.
 48 And he gathered all the food of the seven years in which there was plenty in the land of Egypt and put the food in the cities. The food of the fields around each city he put within it.
 49 And Joseph gathered grain like the sand of the sea, very much, until it could no longer be counted, for there was no number.
 50 And to Joseph two sons were born before the seven years of famine came, whom Asenath daughter of Potiphera priest of Heliopolis bore to him.
 51 And Joseph called the name of the firstborn Manasseh⁵, because God made me forget all my troubles and all the things of my father.
 52 And he called the name of the second Ephraim⁶, because God increased me in the land of my humiliation.
 53 And the seven years of plenty that came in the land of Egypt passed by.
 54 And the seven years of famine began to come, just as Joseph had said. And famine came in all the land, but in all the land of Egypt there was bread.
 55 And all the land of Egypt hungered, and the people cried to Pharaoh for bread. And Pharaoh said to all the Egyptians, Go to Joseph, and whatever he says to you, do.
 56 And the famine was upon the face of all the land. And Joseph opened all the granaries and sold to all the Egyptians.
 57 And all the lands came into Egypt to Joseph to buy, for the famine prevailed in all the land.

Chapter 42

1 And Jacob, seeing that there was grain for sale in Egypt, said to his sons, Why are you idle?
 2 Look, I have heard that there is grain in Egypt. Go down there and buy us a little food, so that we may live and not die.
 3 And the ten brothers of Joseph went down to buy grain from Egypt.
 4 But Benjamin, Joseph's brother, he did not send with his brothers, for he said, Lest perhaps some harm happen to him.
 5 And the sons of Israel came to buy among those coming, for the famine was in the land of Canaan.
 6 And Joseph was the ruler of the land. He sold to all the people of the land. And Joseph's brothers came and bowed to him with face to the ground.
 7 And Joseph saw his brothers and recognized them, but made himself strange⁷ to them and spoke harshly to them and said to them, Where have you come from? And they said, From the land of Canaan, to buy food.
 8 And Joseph recognized his brothers, but they did not recognize him.
 9 And Joseph remembered his dreams that he had seen, and he said to them, You are spies. You came to inspect the tracks of the land.
 10 And they said, No, lord. Your servants came to buy food.
 11 We are all sons of one man. We are peaceful. Your servants are not spies.
 12 And he said to them, No, but you came to see the tracks of the land.
 13 And they said, We your servants are twelve brothers in the land of Canaan, and look, the youngest is with our father today, and the other is no more.
 14 And Joseph said to them, This is what I told you, saying that you are spies.
 15 In this you will be shown. By Pharaoh's health, you shall not leave this place unless your youngest brother comes here.
 16 Send one of you and let him take your brother, but you will be led away until your words become clear⁸, whether you speak truly or not. But if not, by Pharaoh's health, surely you are spies.
 17 And he put them under guard for three days.
 18 And on the third day Joseph said to them, Do this and live, for I fear God.
 19 If you are peaceful, let one of your brothers be held in the prison, but you go and carry the grain for your provision.
 20 And bring your youngest brother to me, and your words will be believed. But if not, you will die. And they did so.
 21 And each said to his brother, Yes, for we are in sins concerning our brother, because we overlooked the anguish of his soul when he begged us and we did not listen to him. Because of this, this anguish has come upon us.
 22 And Reuben answered and said to them, Did I not speak to you, saying, Do not wrong the child? And you did not listen to me. And look, his blood is being required.
 23 But they did not know that Joseph heard, for the interpreter was between them.
 24 And Joseph turned away from them and wept. Then he came near to them again and spoke to them, and he took Simeon from them and bound him before them.
 25 And Joseph commanded that their containers be filled with grain and that each man's money be returned into his sack and that provisions for the road be given to them. And it was done for them in this way.
 26 And placing the grain on their donkeys, they departed from there.
 27 And one of them loosened his bag to give fodder to his donkeys where they camped, and he saw his bundle of money, and look, it was on the mouth of the bag.
 28 And he said to his brothers, My money has been returned to me, and look, this is in my bag. And their heart was stunned⁹, and they were troubled to one another, saying, What is this that God has done to us?

29 And they came to Jacob their father in the land of Canaan and told him all the things that had happened to them, saying:
 30 The man, the lord of the land, spoke harshly to us and put us under guard as though spying out the land.
 31 And we said to him, We are peaceful. We are not spies.
 32 We are twelve brothers, sons of our father. One is no more, and the youngest is with our father today in the land of Canaan.
 33 And the man, the lord of the land, said to us, By this I will know that you are peaceful. Leave one brother here with me, and taking the grain for your household's provision, go.
 34 And bring your youngest brother to me, and I will know that you are not spies but peaceful men, and I will give your brother back to you, and you will trade in the land.
 35 And it happened as they were emptying their sacks, each man's bundle of money was in his sack. And they and their father saw their bundles of money and were afraid.
 36 And Jacob their father said to them, You have made me childless. Joseph is not, Simeon is not, and Benjamin you will take. On me all these things have come.
 37 And Reuben said to his father, saying, Kill my two sons if I do not bring him to you. Give him into my hand, and I will bring him back to you.
 38 And he said, My son shall not go down with you, because his brother died and he alone has been left. And it may happen that he is weakened on the road where you go, and you will bring my old age down with sorrow into Hades.

Chapter 43

1 But the famine prevailed in the land.
 2 And it happened when they finished eating the grain that they had brought out of Egypt, their father said to them, Go again; buy us a little food.
 3 And Judah said to him, saying, The man, the lord of the land, solemnly testified to us, saying, You shall not see my face unless your younger brother is with you.
 4 If then you send our brother with us, we will go down and buy you food.
 5 But if you do not send our brother with us, we will not go. For the man said to us, You shall not see my face unless your younger brother is with you.
 6 And Israel said, Why did you mistreat me by telling the man that you had a brother?
 7 And they said, The man kept questioning us and our family¹, saying, Is your father still alive, and do you have a brother? And we told him according to this questioning. Did we know that he would say to us, Bring your brother down?
 8 And Judah said to Israel his father, Send the boy with me, and rising, we will go, so that we may live and not die, both we and you and our households.
 9 And I myself guarantee him. From my hand seek him. If I do not bring him to you and set him before you, I shall be guilty toward you all my days.
 10 For if we had not delayed, by now we would have returned twice.
 11 And Israel their father said to them, If it is so, do this. Take from the fruits of the land in your containers and carry down gifts to the man: resin and honey, spices and stacte, turpentine and walnuts².
 12 And take double money in your hands. And the money returned in your bags carry back with you, lest perhaps it is an oversight.
 13 And take your brother and rise and go down to the man.
 14 And my God give you favor before the man and send away your one brother and Benjamin. And as for me, as I have been bereaved, I have been bereaved.
 15 And the men took these gifts and took double money in their hands and Benjamin, and rising, they went down to Egypt and stood before Joseph.
 16 And Joseph saw them and Benjamin his brother, born of the same mother, and he said to the man over his house, Bring the men into the house and slaughter beasts and prepare, for the men will eat bread with me at noon.
 17 And the man did as Joseph said, and he brought the men into Joseph's house.
 18 And the men, when they saw that they had been brought into Joseph's house, said, We are being brought in because of the money returned in our bags the first time, to inform against us and to attack us³, to take us as servants and our donkeys.
 19 And coming near to the man over Joseph's house, they spoke to him at the gateway of the house,
 20 saying, We beg you, lord. We came down the first time to buy food.
 21 And it happened when we came to the lodging-place and opened our bags, each man's money was in his bag. We have now brought our money back in our hands by weight,
 22 and we have brought other money with us to buy food. We do not know who put our money into our bags.
 23 And he said to them, Mercy to you. Do not be afraid. Your God and the God of your fathers gave you treasures in your bags, and I have your approved money. And he brought Simeon out to them.⁴
 24 And he brought water to wash their feet and gave fodder to their donkeys.
 25 And they prepared the gifts until Joseph came at noon, for they heard that he was going to dine there.
 26 And Joseph entered the house, and they brought him the gifts that they had in their hands into the house, and they bowed to him with face to the ground.
 27 And he asked them, How are you? And he said to them, Is your father well, the old man of whom you spoke? Does he still live?
 28 And they said, Your servant our father is well. He still lives. And he said, Blessed be that man by God. And bowing, they did him reverence.
 29 And Joseph, lifting up his eyes, saw Benjamin his brother, born of the same mother, and said, Is this your younger brother, whom you said to me you would bring? And he said, God show mercy to you, child.
 30 And Joseph was troubled, for his inward parts turned upon his brother, and he sought to weep. And going into the chamber, he wept there.
 31 And washing his face, he came out and restrained himself and said, Serve bread.
 32 And they served him alone and them by themselves and the Egyptians dining with him by themselves, because the Egyptians could not eat bread with the Hebrews, for it is an abomination to the Egyptians.
 33 And they sat before him, the firstborn according to his seniority and the younger according to his youth, and the men looked in amazement each at his brother.

34 And they took portions from him to themselves, but Benjamin's portion was enlarged beyond the portions of all, fivefold beyond theirs, and they drank and became drunk with him.

Chapter 44

1 And Joseph commanded the man over his house, saying, Fill the bags of the men with food, as much as they are able to carry, and put each man's money on the mouth of his bag,

2 and put my silver cup into the bag of the youngest and the price of his grain. And it was done according to Joseph's word, just as he said.

3 The morning dawned, and the men were sent away, they and their donkeys.

4 And when they had gone out of the city, they were not far away, and Joseph said to the man over his house, Rise, pursue after the men, and you will overtake them, and you will say to them, Why did you repay evil for good? Why did you steal my silver cup?

5 Is this not the one in which my lord drinks? And he himself surely practices divination with it. You have done evil in what you have done.

6 And finding them, he spoke to them according to these words.

7 And they said to him, Why does my lord speak according to these words? Far be it from your servants to do according to this word.

8 If the money that we found in our bags we brought back to you from the land of Canaan, how would we steal silver or gold out of your lord's house?

9 With whomever you find the cup among your servants, let him die. And we too will be servants to our lord.

10 And he said, And now, as you say, so it will be. The one with whom the cup is found will be my servant, but you will be innocent.

11 And they hurried, and each brought down his bag to the ground, and each opened his bag.

12 And he searched, beginning from the elder until he came to the youngest, and he found the cup in Benjamin's bag.

13 And they tore their garments and each loaded his bag on his donkey, and they returned to the city.

14 And Judah and his brothers entered to Joseph, while he was still there, and they fell before him to the ground¹.

15 And Joseph said to them, What is this deed that you have done? Do you not know that a man like me surely practices divination?

16 And Judah said, What shall we answer to our lord, or what shall we speak, or how shall we be justified? God found the injustice of your servants. Look, we are servants to our lord, both we and the one with whom the cup was found.²

17 And Joseph said, Far be it from me to do this thing. The man with whom the cup was found, he will be my servant. But you go up in peace to your father.

18 And Judah came near to him and said, I beg you, lord. Let your servant speak a word before you, and do not be angry with your servant, for you are as Pharaoh.

19 My lord, you asked your servants, saying, Do you have a father or a brother?

20 And we said to our lord, We have an elderly father and a child of his old age, younger to him, and his brother died, and he alone was left to his mother, and his father loved him.

21 And you said to your servants, Bring him down to me, and I will care for him.

22 And we said to our lord, The child will not be able to leave his father, and if he leaves his father, he will die.

23 But you said to your servants, Unless your younger brother comes down with you, you shall not continue to see my face.

24 And it happened when we went up to your servant our father, we told him the words of our lord.

25 And our father said, Go again and buy us a little food.

26 And we said, We will not be able to go down. But if our younger brother goes down with us, we will go down, for we will not be able to see the man's face if our younger brother is not with us.

27 And your servant our father said to us, You know that my wife bore me two sons.

28 And the one went out from me, and you said, He has become eaten by beasts, and I have not seen him until now.

29 If then you take this one also from my face, and some harm happens to him on the road, you will bring my old age down with sorrow into Hades.

30 Now then, if I go in to your servant my father and the child is not with us, and his soul hangs from this child's soul,

31 then it will happen that when he sees that the child is not with us, he will die, and your servants will bring down the old age of your servant our father with sorrow into Hades.

32 For your servant has taken the child as a pledge from the father, saying, If I do not bring him to you and set him before you, I shall be guilty before my father all my days.

33 Now then, let me remain as a servant to my lord in place of the child, but let the child go up with his brothers.

34 For how shall I go up to my father if the child is not with us? Lest I see the evils that will find my father.

Chapter 45

1 And Joseph was not able to hold out³ before all those standing by him, but said, Send everyone away from me. And no one stood with Joseph when he made himself known to his brothers.

2 And he lifted up his voice with weeping. And all the Egyptians heard, and it became heard in Pharaoh's house.

3 And Joseph said to his brothers, I am Joseph. Does my father still live? And his brothers were not able to answer him, for they were troubled.

4 And Joseph said to his brothers, Come near to me, and they came near. And he said, I am Joseph your brother, whom you sold into Egypt.

5 And now do not be grieved, nor let it seem hard to you, because you sold me here. For God sent me before you for life.

6 For this is the second year of famine upon the land, and there are still five years in which there will be neither plowing nor harvest.

7 For God sent me before you to leave for you a remnant on the earth and to preserve for you a great remnant.

8 And now it was not you who sent me here, but God, and he made me as a father to Pharaoh and lord of all his house and ruler of all the land of Egypt.

9 Hurry then and go up to my father and say to him, Thus says your son Joseph: God made me lord of all the land of Egypt. Come down to me, and do not remain.

10 And you will dwell in the land of Goshen¹ of Arabia², and you will be near me, you and your sons and the sons of your sons, your sheep and your cattle and all that is yours,

11 and I will nourish you there, for there are still five years of famine, lest you and your sons and all your possessions be destroyed.

12 Look, your eyes see, and the eyes of Benjamin my brother see, that my mouth is the one speaking to you.

13 Then tell my father all my glory in Egypt and all that you have seen, and hurry and bring my father down here.

14 And falling on the neck of Benjamin his brother, he wept over him, and Benjamin wept on his neck.

15 And kissing all his brothers, he wept over them, and after this his brothers spoke to him.

16 And the report was heard in Pharaoh's house, saying, Joseph's brothers have come. And Pharaoh and his household rejoiced.

17 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Tell your brothers, Do this: fill your beasts and go to the land of Canaan,

18 and take your father and your possessions and come to me, and I will give you from all the good things of Egypt, and you will eat the marrow of the land.

19 And you, command this: take carts for them out of the land of Egypt for your little ones and your wives. And taking your father, come.

20 And do not spare your eyes for your goods, for all the good things of Egypt will be yours.

21 And the sons of Israel did so. And Joseph gave them carts according to Pharaoh's word and gave them provisions for the road,

22 and to all he gave two garments apiece, but to Benjamin he gave three hundred gold pieces and five changing garments,

23 and to his father he sent likewise: ten donkeys carrying from all the good things of Egypt, and ten she-donkeys carrying bread for his father for the journey.

24 And he sent away his brothers, and they went. And he said to them, Do not be angry on the road.

25 And they went up out of Egypt and came to the land of Canaan to Jacob their father, 26 and they reported to him, saying, Your son Joseph lives, and he rules all the land of Egypt. And Jacob was stunned in mind, for he did not believe them.

27 And they told him all the words of Joseph that he had spoken to them. And when he saw the carts that Joseph had sent to take him, the spirit of Jacob their father revived³.

28 And Israel said, It is a great thing for me if Joseph my son still lives. I will go and see him before I die.

Chapter 46

1 And Israel departed, he and all that was his, and came to the Well of the Oath and offered sacrifice to the God of his father Isaac.

2 And God spoke to Israel in a vision of the night, saying, Jacob, Jacob. And he said, What is it?

3 And he says to him, I am the God of your fathers. Do not fear to go down into Egypt, for I will make you there into a great nation,

4 and I will go down with you into Egypt, and I will bring you up at the end, and Joseph will place his hands on your eyes.

 32 And the men are shepherds, for they were men who bred cattle, and they have brought their cattle and their oxen and all that is theirs.
 33 If then Pharaoh calls you and says to you, What is your work?
 34 you will say, Your servants are breeders of cattle from childhood until now, both we and our fathers, so that you may dwell in the land of Goshen of Arabia³¹, for every shepherd of sheep is an abomination to the Egyptians.

1 And Joseph came and reported to Pharaoh, saying, My father and my brothers and their cattle and their oxen and all that is theirs have come out of the land of Canaan, and look, they are in the land of Goshen.³²
 2 And from his brothers he took five men and set them before Pharaoh.
 3 And Pharaoh said to Joseph's brothers, What is your work? And they said to Pharaoh, Your servants are shepherds of sheep, both we and our fathers.
 4 And they said to Pharaoh, We have come to sojourn in the land, for there is no pasture for the flocks of your servants, because the famine prevailed in the land of Canaan. Now then, let your servants dwell in the land of Goshen.
 5 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Let them dwell in the land of Goshen. And if you know that there are able men among them, appoint them rulers over my cattle. And Jacob and his sons came into Egypt to Joseph, and Pharaoh king of Egypt heard.
 6 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Your father and your brothers have come to you. Look, the land of Egypt is before you. In the best land settle your father and your brothers.³³
 7 And Joseph brought in Jacob his father and set him before Pharaoh, and Jacob blessed Pharaoh³⁴.
 8 And Pharaoh said to Jacob, How many are the years of the days of your life?
 9 And Jacob said to Pharaoh, The days of the years of my life in which I sojourn are one hundred thirty years. Few and evil have become the days of the years of my life, and they have not reached the days of the years of the life of my fathers, in which days they sojourned.

10 And Jacob, having blessed Pharaoh, went out from him.

11 And Joseph settled his father and his brothers and gave them a possession in the land of Egypt, in the best land, in the land of Ramesses, just as Pharaoh commanded.

12 And Joseph measured out grain to his father and his brothers and to all the house of his father according to persons.

13 And there was no grain in all the land, for the famine prevailed greatly. And the land of Egypt and the land of Canaan failed because of the famine.

14 And Joseph gathered all the money¹ found in the land of Egypt and in the land of Canaan for the grain that they were buying, and he measured out grain to them. And Joseph brought all the money into Pharaoh's house.

15 And all the money failed out of the land of Egypt and out of the land of Canaan. And all the Egyptians came to Joseph, saying, Give us bread, and why should we die before you? For our money has failed.

16 And Joseph said to them, Bring your livestock, and I will give you bread in exchange for your livestock, if your money has failed.

17 And they brought their livestock to Joseph, and Joseph gave them bread in exchange for² the horses and in exchange for the sheep and in exchange for the oxen and in exchange for the donkeys. And he fed them with bread in exchange for all their livestock in that year.

18 And that year ended, and they came to him in the second year and said to him, Let us not be wiped out before our lord. For if our money has failed and our possessions and livestock belong to you, our lord, nothing is left for us before our lord³ except our own bodies and our land.

19 So then, let us not die before you and let not the land be made desolate. Buy us and our land for bread⁴, and we and our land will be servants to Pharaoh. Give seed, so that we may sow and live and not die, and the land will not be made desolate.

20 And Joseph bought all the land of the Egyptians for Pharaoh, for the Egyptians sold their land to Pharaoh, because the famine prevailed against them, and the land became Pharaoh's.

21 And he enslaved the people to him as servants from one border of Egypt to the other.

22 Only the land of the priests Joseph did not buy, for Pharaoh gave a fixed allowance to the priests, and they ate the allowance that Pharaoh gave them. Because of this they did not sell their land.

23 And Joseph said to all the Egyptians, Look, I have bought you and your land today for Pharaoh. Take seed for yourselves and sow the land, 24 and its produce will come⁵, and you will give the fifth part to Pharaoh, and the four parts will be for you yourselves, for seed for the land and for food for you and all those in your houses.

25 And they said, You have saved us. We have found favor before our lord, and we will be servants to Pharaoh.

26 And Joseph set it for them as an ordinance until this day on the land of Egypt, reserving a fifth part for Pharaoh, except only the land of the priests, which did not belong to Pharaoh.

27 And Israel dwelt in the land of Egypt, on the land of Goshen, and they gained an inheritance on it and increased and multiplied greatly.

28 And Jacob lived in the land of Egypt seventeen years, and the days of Jacob, the years of his life, became one hundred forty-seven years.

29 And the days of Israel drew near for him to die, and he called his son Joseph and said to him, If I have found favor before you, put your hand under my thigh, and you will do mercy and truth⁶ toward me so as not to bury me in Egypt,

30 but I will sleep with my fathers, and you will carry me up out of Egypt and bury me in their tomb. And he said, I will do according to your word.

31 And he said, Swear to me. And he swore to him. And Israel bowed upon the top of his staff.

Chapter 48

1 And it happened after these matters, it was reported to Joseph that your father is ill. And taking his two sons, Manasseh and Ephraim, he came to Jacob.

2 And it was reported to Jacob, saying, Look, your son Joseph is coming to you. And Israel, strengthening himself, sat upon the bed.

3 And Jacob said to Joseph, My God appeared to me in Luz in the land of Canaan and blessed me

4 and said to me, Look, I will increase you and multiply you and make you into gatherings of nations, and I will give this land to you and to your seed after you for an everlasting possession.

5 Now then, your two sons born to you in the land of Egypt before I came to you into Egypt are mine. Ephraim and Manasseh shall be mine as Reuben and Simeon are.

6 And the offspring that you beget after these will be under the name of their brothers. They will be called after their brothers' inheritances.

7 And as for me, when I was coming from Mesopotamia of Syria, Rachel your mother died in the land of Canaan as I drew near when there was still a little way to come to Ephrathah, and I buried her on the road of Ephrathah. This is Bethlehem.⁷

8 And when Israel saw the sons of Joseph, he said, Who are these to you?

9 And Joseph said to his father, They are my sons, whom God gave me here⁸. And Jacob said, Bring them to me, so that I may bless them.

10 Now the eyes of Israel were dim from old age, and he was not able to see. And Joseph brought them near to him, and he kissed them and embraced them.

11 And Israel said to Joseph, Look, I was not deprived even of your face, and look, God also showed me your seed.

12 And Joseph brought them out from his knees, and they bowed to him with face to the ground.

 16 the angel who rescues me from all evils, may he bless these boys. And let my name be called on them, and the name of my fathers Abraham and Isaac, and let them be multiplied into a great multitude on the earth.
 17 And Joseph, seeing that his father laid his right hand on Ephraim's head, it seemed grievous to him¹, and Joseph took hold of his father's hand to remove it from Ephraim's head onto Manasseh's head.
 18 And Joseph said to his father, Not so, father, for this one is the firstborn. Put your right hand on his head.²
 19 And he would not, but said, I know, child, I know. He also will become a people, and he also will be exalted³. But his younger brother will be greater than he, and his seed will become a multitude of nations.
 20 And he blessed them in that day, saying, In you Israel will be blessed, saying, God make you as Ephraim and as Manasseh. And he put Ephraim before Manasseh.
 21 And Israel said to Joseph, Look, I am dying, and God will be with you and return you to the land of your fathers.
 22 And I give to you Shechem, a chosen portion above your brothers, which I took from the hand of the Amorites with my sword and my bow.

Chapter 49

1 And Jacob called his sons and said to them, Gather yourselves, so that I may tell you what will meet you in the last days.
 2 Gather yourselves and hear me, sons of Jacob. Hear Israel your father.
 3 Reuben, my firstborn, you are my strength and the beginning of my children, hard to bear and hard, self-willed.
 4 You were insolent like water; do not boil over, for you went up to your father's bed. Then you defiled the couch where you went up.
 5 Simeon and Levi are brothers. They accomplished injustice from their own choosing.
 6 Let not my soul come into their counsel, and let not my inward parts lean upon their conspiracy, because in their wrath they killed men, and in their desire they hamstringed a bull.
 7 Cursed be their wrath, because it was self-willed, and their anger, because it grew hard. I will divide them in Jacob and scatter them in Israel.
 8 Judah, your brothers will praise you. Your hands will be on the back of your enemies. Your father's sons will bow to you.
 9 Judah is a lion's cub. From a shoot, my son, you went up. Having lain down, you slept as a lion and as a cub. Who will rouse him?
 10 A ruler will not fail from Judah, nor a leader from his loins, until the things stored up for him come, and he is the expectation of nations.
 11 Binding his foal to the vine and the foal of his donkey to the tendril, he will wash his robe in wine and his garment in the blood of the grape.
 12 His eyes are gladdening from wine, and his teeth are whiter than milk.
 13 Zebulun will dwell by the sea, and he will be by a harbor of ships, and he will stretch out as far as Sidon.
 14 Issachar desired the good, resting between the allotments.
 15 And seeing that the rest was good and the land rich, he put his shoulder to labor and became a farmer.
 16 Dan will judge his people, as one tribe too in Israel.
 17 And let Dan become a serpent on the road, sitting by the path, biting the horse's heel, and the rider will fall backward,
 18 waiting for the salvation of the Lord.
 19 Gad, a raiding troop will raid him, but he will raid it at heel.
 20 Asher, his bread is rich, and he will give delicacies to rulers.
 21 Naphtali is a released stem, bestowing beauty in its fruit.
 22 Joseph is a son increased, my increased and envied son, my youngest son. Return to me.⁴
 23 Against him, taking evil counsel, they reviled him, and lords of arrows pressed hard upon him.
 24 But their bows were shattered with strength, and the sinews of their arms were loosened by the hand of the Mighty One of Jacob⁵. From there is the one who strengthened Israel, from the God of your father,⁶
 25 and my God helped you and blessed you with the blessing of heaven from above and blessing of earth possessing all things, because of blessing of breasts and womb,
 26 the blessings of your father and mother prevailed above the blessings of abiding mountains and the blessings of everlasting hills. They will be on Joseph's head and on the crown of the one who led his brothers.
 27 Benjamin is a ravening wolf. In the morning he will still eat, and toward evening he gives food.
 28 All these are the twelve sons of Jacob. And these are the things their father spoke to them, and he blessed them. He blessed each according to his blessing.
 29 And he said to them, I am being added to my people. Bury me with my fathers in the cave that is in the field of Ephron the Hittite,
 30 in the double cave opposite Mamre in the land of Canaan, which Abraham acquired from Ephron the Hittite as a possession for a tomb,
 31 there they buried Abraham and Sarah his wife, there they buried Isaac and Rebekah his wife, there I buried Leah,
 32 in the purchase of the field and of the cave that is in it, from the sons of Heth.
 33 And Jacob ceased commanding his sons, and lifting his feet onto the bed, he failed and was added to his people.

Chapter 50

1 And Joseph, falling on his father's face, wept over him and kissed him.
 2 And Joseph commanded his servants the embalmers to embalm his father, and the embalmers embalmed Israel.

3 And they completed forty days for him, for so the days of embalming are counted. And Egypt mourned for him seventy days.

4 And when the days of mourning passed, Joseph spoke to Pharaoh's nobles, saying, If I have found favor before you, speak concerning me into Pharaoh's ears, saying,

5 My father adjured me, saying, In the tomb that I dug for myself¹ in the land of Canaan, there you will bury me. Now then I will go up and bury my father, and I will return again.

6 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Go up and bury your father, just as he caused you to swear.

7 And Joseph went up to bury his father, and all Pharaoh's servants went up with him, and the elders of his house, and all the elders of the land of Egypt,

8 and all the household of Joseph, and his brothers, and all his father's house, and his kin. But they left behind the sheep and the oxen in the land of Goshen.

9 And chariots and horsemen also went up with him, and the company became very great.

10 And they came to the threshing-floor of Atad², which is beyond the Jordan, and they bewailed him with a great and very strong lamentation. And he made mourning for his father seven days.

11 And the inhabitants of the land of Canaan saw the mourning at the threshing-floor of Atad and said, This is a great mourning for the Egyptians. Because of this he called its name Mourning of Egypt, which is beyond the Jordan.

12 And his sons did so for him.

13 And his sons carried him up into the land of Canaan and buried him in the double cave³, which Abraham acquired as a possession for a tomb from Ephron the Hittite, before Mamre.

14 And Joseph returned to Egypt, he and his brothers and those who went up with him to bury his father.

15 And Joseph's brothers, seeing that their father had died, said, Perhaps Joseph will remember evil against us and repay us with repayment for all the evils that we showed against him.

16 And coming to Joseph they said, Your father adjured before his death, saying,

17 Thus you will say to Joseph, Forgive them their injustice and their sin, because they showed evil to you. And now accept the injustice⁴ of the servants of the God of your father. And Joseph wept while they spoke to him.

18 And they came to him and said, Here we are, your suppliants.

19 And Joseph said to them, Do not fear, for I am God's.

20 You planned against me for evil, but God planned concerning me for good, so that it might happen as today and much people might be fed.

21 And he said to them, Do not fear. I will nourish you and your households. And he comforted them and spoke to their heart.

22 And Joseph dwelt in Egypt, he and his brothers and all the household of his father, and Joseph lived one hundred ten years.

23 And Joseph saw Ephraim's children to the third generation, and the sons of Machir son of Manasseh were born upon Joseph's thighs.

24 And Joseph said to his brothers, saying, I am dying. But with visitation God will visit you⁵ and bring you up out of this land to the land that God swore to our fathers Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

25 And Joseph adjured the sons of Israel, saying, In the visitation with which God will visit you, then you will carry up my bones from here with you.

26 And Joseph died, being one hundred ten years old, and they prepared him and put him in the coffin in Egypt.

Exodus

Chapter 1

1 These are the names of the sons of Israel who entered into Egypt with Jacob their father; each entered with his whole household.

2 Reuben, Simeon, Levi, Judah,

3 Issachar, Zebulun, and Benjamin,¹

4 Dan and Naphtali, Gad and Asher.²

5 But Joseph was in Egypt. And all the persons from Jacob were seventy-five.

6 And Joseph died, and all his brothers, and all that generation.

7 But the sons of Israel increased and multiplied and became numerous, and they grew exceedingly, exceedingly strong; and the land multiplied them.

8 Then another king arose over Egypt who did not know Joseph.

9 And he said to his people, "Look, the race of the sons of Israel is a great multitude and stronger than we are."

10 Come then, let us deal shrewdly with them, lest they multiply, and whenever war comes upon us, they too will be added to our enemies and fight against us and depart from the land.

11 So he set over them overseers of labor to afflict them in their labors; and they built fortified cities for Pharaoh: Pithom³, Rameses, and On, which is Heliopolis.

12 But as much as they humbled them, so much more they became many and grew exceedingly, exceedingly strong, and the Egyptians were disgusted by the sons of Israel.

13 And the Egyptians oppressed the sons of Israel by force.

14 And they made their life bitter with hard labors, in clay and in brick-making and in every field-labor, according to all the work by which they enslaved them with violence.

15 And the king of Egypt spoke to the Hebrew midwives; the name of the one was Shiphrah⁴, and the name of the second, Puah.

16 And he said, "When you serve as midwives for the Hebrew women and they are at the time of giving birth, if it is a male, kill it; but if a female, keep it alive."

17 But the midwives feared God and did not do as the king of Egypt ordered them, and they kept the male children alive.

18 So the king of Egypt called the midwives and said to them, "Why have you done this thing and kept the male children alive?"

19 And the midwives said to Pharaoh, "The Hebrew women are not like the women of Egypt, for before the midwives can go in to them, they give birth."

20 And God did well to the midwives, and the people multiplied and grew very strong.

21 And because the midwives feared God, they established households for themselves.

22 Then Pharaoh charged all his people, saying, "Every male that is born to the Hebrews, throw it into the river; but keep every female alive."

Chapter 2

1 Now a certain man from the tribe of Levi went and took one of the daughters of Levi.

2 And she conceived and bore a male child, and seeing that he was beautiful, they hid him three months.

3 But when they could no longer hide him, his mother took for him a basket and coated it with bitumen and pitch, and she put the child into it and set it in the reeds by the river.

4 And his sister kept watch from a distance to learn what would happen to him.

5 Then Pharaoh's daughter came down to bathe at the river, and her young women were walking along beside the river. Seeing the basket in the reeds, she sent her maid and took it.

6 And when she opened it, she sees a child crying in the basket. And Pharaoh's daughter had compassion on him and said, "This is one of the Hebrews" children.'

7 Then his sister said to Pharaoh's daughter, "Do you want me to call a nursing woman from the Hebrews, and she will nurse the child for you?"

8 And Pharaoh's daughter said to her, "Go." So the young woman went and called the child's mother⁵.

9 And Pharaoh's daughter said to her, "Keep this child for me and nurse him for me⁶, and I will give you your wages." So the woman took the child and nursed him.

10 And when the child grew strong, she brought him to Pharaoh's daughter, and he became her son. And she called his name Moses⁷, saying, "For I drew him out of the water."

11 Now in those many days, when Moses had grown great, he went out to his brothers, the sons of Israel. And observing their hardship, he saw an Egyptian striking a certain Hebrew, one of his own brothers from the sons of Israel.

12 And looking this way and that way, he saw no one, so he struck the Egyptian and hid him in the sand.

13 And going out on the second day, he saw two Hebrew men fighting, and he says to the one doing wrong, "Why are you striking your neighbor?"

14 But he said, "Who made you ruler and judge over us? Do you mean to kill me as you killed the Egyptian yesterday?" Then Moses became afraid and said, "So then this matter has become known."

15 And Pharaoh heard this matter and sought to kill Moses. But Moses withdrew from Pharaoh's face⁸ and lived in the land of Midian. And when he came into the land of Midian, he sat by the well.

16 Now the priest of Midian had seven daughters, tending the flock of their father Jethro⁹. And when they came, they drew water until they filled the troughs to water the flock of their father Jethro.

17 But when the shepherds came, they drove them away. Then Moses rose and rescued them, and he drew water for them and watered their flock.
 18 Then they came to Raguel¹ their father, and he said to them, "Why have you come so quickly today?"
 19 And they said, "An Egyptian man rescued us from the shepherds, and he also drew water for us and watered our flock."
 20 And he said to his daughters, "Then where is he? And why have you left the man like this? Call him then, so that he may eat bread."
 21 And Moses settled with the man, and he gave Shiphrah his daughter to Moses as a wife.
 22 And the woman conceived and bore a son, and Moses called his name Gershom², saying, "Because I am a sojourner in a foreign land."
 23 Now after those many days the king of Egypt died, and the sons of Israel groaned from the labors and cried out, and their cry went up to God from the labors.
 24 And God heard their groaning, and God remembered his covenant with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob.
 25 And God saw the sons of Israel and was made known to them.

Chapter 3

1 Now Moses was shepherding the flock of Jethro his father-in-law, the priest of Midian, and he led the flock into the wilderness and came to Mount Horeb³.
 2 Then an angel of the Lord⁴ appeared to him in a flame of fire out of the bush. And he saw that the bush burned with fire, but the bush was not being consumed.
 3 And Moses said, "I will go over now and see this great sight, why the bush is not burned up."
 4 And when the Lord saw that he was coming near to see, the Lord called to him from the bush, saying, "Moses, Moses." And he said, "What is it?"
 5 And he said, "Do not come near here. Untie your sandals from your feet, for the place on which you stand is holy ground."
 6 And he said to him, "I am the God of your father, the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob⁵." Then Moses turned away his face, for he feared to gaze before God.⁶
 7 And the Lord said to Moses, "I have surely seen the affliction of my people in Egypt, and I have heard their cry from the taskmasters, for I know their pain."
 8 And I have come down to take them out⁷ from the hand of the Egyptians and to bring them out of that land into a good and broad land, into a land flowing with milk and honey, into the place of the Canaanites and Hittites and Amorites and Perizzites and Girgashites and Hivites and Jebusites.
 9 And now, look, the cry of the sons of Israel has come to me, and I have seen the oppression with which the Egyptians oppress them.
 10 And now come, I will send you to Pharaoh king of Egypt, and you shall bring out my people, the sons of Israel, from the land of Egypt.
 11 And Moses said to God, "Who am I, that I should go to Pharaoh king of Egypt and that I should bring out the sons of Israel from the land of Egypt?"
 12 And God said to Moses, saying, "For I will be with you, and this will be the sign for you that I am the one sending you: when you bring out my people from Egypt, you will serve God on this mountain."
 13 And Moses said to God, "Look, I will come to the sons of Israel and say to them, The God of your fathers has sent me to you. And they will ask me, What is his name? What should I say to them?"
 14 And God said to Moses, "I am the One who is⁸." And he said, "Thus shall you say to the sons of Israel: The One who is has sent me to you."⁹
 15 And God said again to Moses, "Thus shall you say to the sons of Israel: The Lord, the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob, has sent me to you. This is my eternal name and my memorial from generation to generation."
 16 Go then, gather the elders of the sons of Israel and say to them, "The Lord, the God of your fathers, has appeared to me, the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob, saying, I have surely visited you¹⁰ and the things that have happened to you in Egypt."
 17 And I said, I will bring you up out of the affliction of the Egyptians into the land of the Canaanites and Hittites and Amorites and Perizzites and Girgashites and Hivites and Jebusites, into a land flowing with milk and honey.
 18 And they will listen to your voice, and you and the elders of Israel shall go in to Pharaoh king of Egypt, and you shall say to him, "The God of the Hebrews has summoned us¹¹. Let us go then a journey of three days into the wilderness so that we may sacrifice to our God."
 19 But I know that Pharaoh king of Egypt will not let you go, except under a mighty hand.
 20 And stretching out my hand, I will strike the Egyptians with all my wonders that I will do among them, and after these things he will send you out.
 21 And I will give favor to this people before the Egyptians, and when you depart, you will not depart empty.
 22 Each woman shall ask from her neighbor and her fellow-dweller¹² articles of silver and gold and clothing, and you shall put them on your sons and on your daughters, and you shall plunder the Egyptians.

Chapter 4

1 And Moses answered and said, "What if they do not believe me or listen to my voice? For they will say, God has not appeared to you. What shall I say to them?"
2 And the Lord said to him, "What is this in your hand?" And he said, "A staff."
3 And he said, "Throw it on the ground." And he threw it on the ground, and it became a serpent, and Moses fled from it.
4 And the Lord said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand and seize its tail." So stretching out his hand, he seized its tail, and it became a staff in his hand.
5 So that they may believe you that the Lord, the God of their fathers, the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob, has appeared to you¹.
6 And the Lord said to him again, "Put your hand into your bosom." And he put his hand into his bosom, and he brought his hand out of his bosom, and his hand became like snow.
7 And he said again, "Put your hand into your bosom." And he put his hand into his bosom and brought it out of his bosom, and it was restored again to the color of his flesh.
8 And if they do not believe you or listen to the voice of the first sign, they will believe the voice of the last sign.
9 And it will be, if they do not believe you by these two signs and do not listen to your voice, you shall take from the water of the river and pour it on the dry ground, and the water that you take from the river will become blood on the dry ground².
10 And Moses said to the Lord, "I beg you, Lord, I have not been adequate before, neither yesterday nor the day before, nor since you began speaking to your servant. I am weak-voiced and slow-tongued."
11 And the Lord said to Moses, "Who gave a mouth to a human being? And who made one hard of hearing and deaf, seeing and blind? Is it not I, God?"
12 And now go, and I will open your mouth and instruct you in what you are about to say.
13 And Moses said, "I beg you, Lord, appoint another capable one whom you will send."
14 And the Lord, angered with wrath against Moses, said, "Look, is not Aaron³ the Levite⁴ your brother? I know that speaking he will speak for you. And look, he himself will come out to meet you, and seeing you, he will rejoice within himself⁵."
15 And you shall speak to him and put my words into his mouth, and I will open your mouth and his mouth, and I will instruct you what you shall do.
16 And he himself will speak for you to the people, and he will be your mouth, but you will be for him in the things toward God.
17 And this staff, the one turned into a serpent, you shall take in your hand, with it you shall do the signs.
18 And Moses went and returned to Jethro his father-in-law and said, "I will go now and return to my brothers in Egypt and see whether they are still alive." And Jethro said to Moses, "Go in health."
19 Now after those many days the king of Egypt died. And the Lord said to Moses in Midian, "Go, depart into Egypt, for all seeking your life have died."
20 And Moses, taking his wife and his children, mounted them on the pack animals and returned to Egypt. And Moses took the staff from God in his hand.
21 And the Lord said to Moses, "When you go and return to Egypt, see that you do all the wonders that I gave into your hands before Pharaoh. But I will harden his heart, and he will certainly not send out the people."
22 And you shall say to Pharaoh, "These things says the Lord: Israel is my firstborn son."
23 And I said to you, Send out my people so that they may serve me. But if you refuse to send them out, look then, I will kill your firstborn son.
24 And it happened on the way, at the lodging place, that an angel of the Lord met him and sought to kill him.
25 And Shiprah, taking a stone, circumcised the foreskin of her son and fell at his feet and said, "The blood of my child's circumcision stands."
26 And he departed from him, because she said, "The blood of my child's circumcision stands."
27 And the Lord said to Aaron, "Go into the wilderness to meet Moses." And he went and met him at the mountain of God, and they kissed one another.
28 And Moses reported to Aaron all the words of the Lord with which he had sent him, and all the signs that he had commanded him.
29 And Moses and Aaron went and gathered the elders of the sons of Israel.
30 And Aaron spoke all these words that God had spoken to Moses, and he did the signs before the people.
31 And the people believed and rejoiced because God had visited the sons of Israel and because he had seen their affliction. And bowing down, the people worshiped.

Chapter 5

1 And after these things Moses and Aaron went in to Pharaoh and said to him, "These things says the Lord, the God of Israel: Send out my people so that they may hold a feast to me in the wilderness."
2 And Pharaoh said, "Who is this, whose voice I should listen to so as to send out the sons of Israel? I do not know the Lord, and I will not send Israel out."
3 And they say to him, "The God of the Hebrews has summoned us. Let us go then a journey of three days into the wilderness so that we may sacrifice to our God, lest death or slaughter meet us⁶."
4 And the king of Egypt said to them, "Why, Moses and Aaron, do you turn my people away from their works? Go away, each of you, to his work."
5 And Pharaoh said, "Look now, the people are numerous. Should we then give them rest from their works?"
6 And Pharaoh commanded the taskmasters of the people and the scribes, saying,
7 You shall no longer continue giving straw to the people for brick-making as yesterday and the day before. Let them go and gather straw for themselves.
8 And the quota of brick⁷ that they make each day, you shall impose on them; you shall not take away anything, for they are idle. Because of this they cry out, saying, Let us go and sacrifice to our God.

⁶ T: Greek says lest death or slaughter meet us.

⁷ T: Greek says quota of brick.

9 Let the works of these men be made heavy, and let them attend to these things, and let them not attend to empty words.
 10 And the taskmasters and the scribes hurried them and spoke to the people, saying, "These things says Pharaoh: I no longer give you straw."
 11 You yourselves go gather straw for yourselves wherever you can find it, for nothing is taken away from your quota.
 12 So the people were scattered through all Egypt to gather stubble for straw.
 13 And the taskmasters hurried them, saying, "Finish the works assigned each day, just as when the straw was being given to you."
 14 And the scribes from the race of the sons of Israel, those appointed over them by Pharaoh's overseers, were beaten, saying, "Why have you not completed your quotas of brick-making as yesterday and the day before¹, and now today as well?"
 15 Then the scribes of the sons of Israel went in and cried out to Pharaoh, saying, "Why do you act this way toward your servants?"
 16 Straw is not given to your servants, and they tell us, Make bricks. And look, your servants are being beaten. But you do wrong to your people.
 17 And he said to them, "You are idle; you are idlers. Because of this you say, Let us go sacrifice to our God."
 18 Now then, go work. For straw will not be given to you, yet you must deliver the quota of bricks.
 19 And the scribes of the sons of Israel saw themselves in trouble, as it was said, "You shall not leave off from the bricks assigned each day."
 20 Then they met Moses and Aaron, who were standing to meet them as they came out from Pharaoh.
 21 And they said to them, "May God look upon you and judge, because you have made our smell abhorrent before Pharaoh and before his servants, putting a sword into his hands to kill us."
 22 Then Moses turned back to the Lord and said, "Lord, why have you afflicted this people, and why have you sent me?"
 23 For from the time I went to Pharaoh to speak in your name, he has afflicted this people, and you have certainly not rescued your people.

Chapter 6

1 And the Lord said to Moses, "Now you will see what I will do to Pharaoh. For with a mighty hand he will send them out, and with a high arm he will cast them out of his land."
 2 And God spoke to Moses and said to him, "I am the Lord."
 3 And I appeared to Abraham and Isaac and Jacob as their God, but my name, Lord, I did not make known to them.²
 4 And I also established my covenant with them, to give them the land of the Canaanites, the land where they sojourned, in which they also lived as strangers.
 5 And I also heard the groaning of the sons of Israel, whom the Egyptians enslave, and I remembered the covenant with you.
 6 Go, say to the sons of Israel, I am the Lord, and I will bring you out from the tyranny of the Egyptians, and I will rescue you from slavery, and I will redeem you with a high arm and with great judgment.
 7 And I will take you to myself as a people for me, and I will be your God, and you will know that I am the Lord your God, the one bringing you out from the oppression of the Egyptians.
 8 And I will bring you into the land into which I stretched out my hand to give it to Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, and I will give it to you as an inheritance. I am the Lord.
 9 And Moses spoke thus to the sons of Israel, but they did not listen to Moses because of shortness of spirit and because of the hard labors.
 10 Then the Lord said to Moses, saying,
 11 Go in, speak to Pharaoh king of Egypt, so that he may send out the sons of Israel from his land.
 12 But Moses spoke before the Lord, saying, "Look, the sons of Israel did not listen to me; so how will Pharaoh listen to me? And I am without speech."
 13 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, and he charged them concerning Pharaoh king of Egypt, that he should send out the sons of Israel from the land of Egypt.

26 This is Aaron and Moses, to whom God told them to bring out the sons of Israel from the land of Egypt with their forces.

27 These are the ones speaking to Pharaoh king of Egypt and bringing out the sons of Israel from Egypt: this Aaron and Moses.

28 Now it happened on the day the Lord spoke to Moses in the land of Egypt,

29 that the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, "I am the Lord. Speak to Pharaoh king of Egypt all that I speak to you."

30 And Moses said before the Lord, "Look, I am weak-voiced, and how will Pharaoh listen to me?"

Chapter 7

1 And the Lord said to Moses, saying, "See, I have given you as god to Pharaoh, and Aaron your brother shall be your prophet."

2 You shall speak to him all that I command you, and Aaron your brother shall speak to Pharaoh¹⁰ so that he may send out the sons of Israel from his land.

3 But I will harden Pharaoh's heart, and I will multiply my signs and wonders in the land of Egypt.

4 And Pharaoh will not listen to you, and I will lay my hand upon Egypt, and with my power I will bring out my people, the sons of Israel, from the land of Egypt with great vengeance.

5 And all the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord, stretching out my hand upon Egypt, when I bring out the sons of Israel from their midst.

6 And Moses and Aaron did just as the Lord commanded them; so they did.

7 Now Moses was eighty years old, and Aaron his brother was eighty-three years old, when he spoke to Pharaoh.

8 And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron, saying,

9 And if Pharaoh speaks to you, saying, Give us a sign or a wonder, then you shall say to Aaron your brother, Take the staff and throw it on the ground before Pharaoh and before his servants, and it will become a dragon.

10 And Moses and Aaron went in before Pharaoh and his servants, and they did so, just as the Lord had commanded them. And Aaron threw down his staff before Pharaoh and before his servants, and it became a dragon.

11 Then Pharaoh called together the wise men of Egypt and the sorcerers, and the enchanter of the Egyptians also did likewise with their sorceries.

12 And each one threw down his staff, and they became dragons, but Aaron's staff swallowed up their staffs.

13 And Pharaoh's heart grew strong, and he did not listen to them, just as the Lord had spoken to them.

14 And the Lord said to Moses, "Pharaoh's heart has become heavy, so that he will not send out the people."

15 Go to Pharaoh in the morning. Look, he is going out to the water, and you shall stand to meet him on the bank of the river, and you shall take in your hand the staff that was turned into a snake.

16 And you shall say to him, The Lord, the God of the Hebrews, has sent me to you, saying, Send out my people so that they may serve me in the wilderness, and look, until now you have not listened.

17 These things says the Lord: By this you shall know that I am the Lord. Look, I strike with the staff in my hand upon the water in the river, and it will turn into blood.

18 And the fish in the river will die, and the river will stink, and the Egyptians will not be able to drink water from the river.

19 And the Lord said to Moses, Say to Aaron your brother, Take your staff and stretch out your hand over the waters of Egypt, over their rivers and their canals and their marshes and every standing water of theirs, and it will become blood. And there will be blood in all the land of Egypt, both in the woods and in the stones.¹¹

20 And Moses and Aaron did so, just as the Lord commanded them, and lifting up his staff, he struck the water in the river before Pharaoh and before his servants, and all the water in the river turned into blood.¹²

21 And the fish in the river died, and the river stank, and the Egyptians were not able to drink water from the river, and the blood was in all the land of Egypt.

22 And the enchanter of the Egyptians did likewise with their sorceries, and Pharaoh's heart was hardened, and he did not listen to them, just as the Lord had said.

23 And Pharaoh turned and went into his house, and he did not set his mind even on this.

24 And all the Egyptians dug around the river so that they might drink water, for they were not able to drink water from the river.

25 And seven days were fulfilled after the Lord struck the river.

26 And the Lord said to Moses, Go in to Pharaoh and say to him, These things says the Lord: Send out my people so that they may serve me.

27 But if you do not want to send them out, look, I strike all your borders with frogs.

28 And the river will teem with frogs, and they will come up and enter into your houses and into the inner rooms of your bedchambers and upon your beds and into the houses of your servants and your people and into your dough and your ovens.

29 And upon you and upon your servants and upon your people the frogs will come up.

Chapter 8

1 And the Lord said to Moses, Say to Aaron your brother, Stretch out your hand with your staff over the rivers and over the canals and over the marshes, and bring up the frogs.

2 And Aaron stretched out his hand over the waters of Egypt and brought up the frogs, and the frog came up¹³ and covered the land of Egypt.

3 And the enchanters of the Egyptians did likewise with their sorceries, and they brought up the frogs¹ upon the land of Egypt.
 4 And Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron and said, Pray concerning me to the Lord, and let him take away the frogs from me and from my people, and I will send out the people, and they will sacrifice to the Lord.²
 5 And Moses said to Pharaoh, Set for me when I should pray concerning you and concerning your servants and concerning your people, to wipe out the frogs from you and from your people and from your houses; only in the river will they be left.
 6 And he said, Tomorrow. Then he said, As you have spoken, so that you may know that there is no other besides the Lord.³
 7 And the frogs will be taken away from you and from your houses and from the courtyards and from your servants and from your people; only in the river will they be left.
 8 And Moses and Aaron went out from Pharaoh, and Moses cried out to the Lord concerning the appointed matter of the frogs, as Pharaoh had set it.
 9 And the Lord did just as Moses said, and the frogs died out of the houses and out of the courtyards and out of the fields.
 10 And they gathered them in heaps upon heaps, and the land stank.
 11 And Pharaoh, seeing that there had come relief, made his heart heavy, and he did not listen to them, just as the Lord had spoken.
 12 And the Lord said to Moses, Say to Aaron, Stretch out your hand with your staff and strike the dust of the earth, and there will be gnats both on human beings and on the four-footed animals and in all the land of Egypt.
 13 So Aaron stretched out his hand with the staff and struck the dust of the earth, and the gnats⁴ came on human beings and on the four-footed animals, and in all the dust of the earth there were gnats in all the land of Egypt.
 14 And the enchanters did likewise with their sorceries, trying to bring out the gnat⁵, and they were not able, and the gnats were on the human beings and on the four-footed animals.
 15 Then the enchanters said to Pharaoh, This is the finger of God. And Pharaoh's heart was hardened, and he did not listen to them, just as the Lord had spoken.
 16 And the Lord said to Moses, Rise early in the morning and stand before Pharaoh, and look, he goes out to the water, and you shall say to him, These things says the Lord: Send out my people so that they may serve me in the wilderness.
 17 But if you do not want to send out my people, look, I send upon you and upon your servants and upon your people and upon your houses the dog-fly, and the houses of the Egyptians will be filled with the dog-fly, and even the land on which they are.⁶
 18 And I will distinguish wondrously on that day the land of Goshen, on which my people dwell, where the dog-fly will not be there, so that you may know that I am the Lord, the Lord of all the earth.
 19 And I will put a distinction between my people and between your people. Tomorrow this sign will be upon the land.
 20 And the Lord did so, and the dog-fly came in abundance into the houses of Pharaoh and into the houses of his servants and into all the land of Egypt, and the land was ruined by the dog-fly.
 21 Then Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron, saying, Go, sacrifice to your God in the land.⁷
 22 And Moses said, It cannot happen this way, for we shall sacrifice to the Lord our God the abominations of the Egyptians; for if we sacrifice the abominations of the Egyptians before them, we shall be stoned.
 23 We will go a journey of three days into the wilderness, and we will sacrifice to the Lord our God, just as he said to us.
 24 And Pharaoh said, I send you out, and sacrifice to the Lord your God in the wilderness, only do not cut it too far to go⁸. Pray then concerning me to the Lord.
 25 And Moses said, Look, I am going out from you, and I will pray to God, and the dog-fly⁹ will depart from you and from your servants and your people tomorrow. Only do not add again, Pharaoh, to deceive by not sending out the people to sacrifice to the Lord.
 26 And Moses went out from Pharaoh and prayed to God.¹⁰
 27 And the Lord did just as Moses said, and he removed the dog-fly from Pharaoh and his servants and his people, and not one was left.¹¹
 28 And Pharaoh made his heart heavy also at this time, and he did not want to send out the people.¹²

Chapter 9

1 And the Lord said to Moses, Go in to Pharaoh, and you shall say to him, These things says the Lord, the God of the Hebrews: Send out my people so that they may serve me.
 2 If, however, you do not want to send out my people, but still hold them back,
 3 look, the hand of the Lord will come upon your livestock in the fields, both on the horses and on the beasts of burden and the camels and oxen and sheep, a very great death.
 4 And I will make a wondrous distinction at that time between the livestock of the Egyptians and the livestock of the sons of Israel; not one thing from all that belongs to the sons of Israel shall die.
 5 And God set a limit, saying, Tomorrow the Lord will do this thing on the land.
 6 And the Lord did this thing on the next day, and all the livestock of the Egyptians died, but from the livestock of the sons of Israel not one died.
 7 And Pharaoh, seeing that not one had died from all the livestock of the sons of Israel, made Pharaoh's heart heavy, and he did not send out the people.
 8 And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron, saying, Take for yourselves full handfuls of furnace soot, and let Moses scatter it into the sky before Pharaoh and before his servants.
 9 And let it become dust over all the land of Egypt, and it will be on the human beings and on the four-footed animals sores with blisters boiling up in all the land of Egypt.
 10 So they took the furnace soot before Pharaoh, and Moses scattered it into the sky, and it became sores with blisters boiling up on the human beings and on the four-footed animals.

11 And the sorcerers were not able to stand before Moses because of the sores, for the sores came on the sorcerers and in all the land of Egypt.

12 And the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he did not listen to them, just as the Lord had commanded.

13 And the Lord said to Moses, Rise early in the morning and stand before Pharaoh, and you shall say to him, These things says the Lord, the God of the Hebrews: Send out my people so that they may serve me.

14 For at this present time I send all my blows into your heart and into the heart of your servants and your people, so that you may know that there is no other like me in all the earth.

15 For now, sending out my hand, I will strike you and your people with death¹, and you will be wiped off from the earth.

16 And because of this you have been preserved, so that I may display in you my strength and so that my name may be proclaimed in all the earth.

17 Do you still set yourself against my people so as not to send them out?

18 Look, tomorrow at this hour I will rain a very great hail, such as has not happened in Egypt from the day it was created until this day.

19 Now then hasten to gather your livestock and all that is yours in the field², for all the human beings and the livestock, as many as may be found in the field and not come into a house, when the hail falls upon them, will die.

22 And the Lord said to Moses, Stretch out your hand to the sky, and there will be hail on all the land of Egypt, both on the human beings and on the livestock and on every plant on the land.

23 And Moses stretched out his hand to the sky, and the Lord gave voices and hail, and the fire ran along on the ground, and the Lord rained hail upon all the land of Egypt.

24 And there was hail, and the fire flaming in the hail, and the hail was very, very great, such as had not happened in Egypt from the time a nation came to be upon it.

25 And the hail struck in all the land of Egypt, from human being to livestock, and the hail struck every plant in the field, and the hail shattered all the trees in the field.

26 Only in the land of Goshen, where the sons of Israel were, there was no hail.

27 And Pharaoh sent and called Moses and Aaron and said to them, I have sinned this time. The Lord is righteous, but I and my people are ungodly.

28 Pray then concerning me to the Lord, and let there cease from becoming voices of God and hail and fire, and I will send you out, and you shall no longer remain.

29 And Moses said to him, As soon as I go out from the city, I will spread out my hands³ to the Lord, and the voices will cease, and the hail and the rain will be no more, so that you may know that the earth belongs to the Lord.

30 But you and your servants, I know that you do not yet fear the Lord.

31 And the flax and the barley were struck, for the barley was standing, and the flax was seeding.

32 But the wheat and the rye were not struck, for they were late.

33 And Moses went out from Pharaoh, outside the city, and spread out his hands to the Lord, and the voices ceased and the hail and the rain no longer fell on the earth.

34 And Pharaoh, seeing that the rain and the hail and the voices had ceased, added to sin, and he made heavy his heart and the heart of his servants.

35 And Pharaoh's heart was hardened, and he did not send out the sons of Israel, just as the Lord had spoken to Moses.

Chapter 10

1 Then the Lord said to Moses, "Go in to Pharaoh, for I have hardened his heart and the heart of his servants, so that these signs may come in turn⁴ upon them."

2 "so that you may tell your children and your children's children how I mocked the Egyptians and the signs I performed among them, and you will know that I am the Lord."

3 Then Moses and Aaron went in before Pharaoh and said to him, "These things says the Lord, the God of the Hebrews: How long will you refuse to humble yourself before me? Send my people away, so that they may serve me."

4 "But if you refuse to send my people away, behold, at this hour tomorrow I am bringing a great swarm of locusts upon all your borders."

5 "They will cover the face of the earth, and you will not be able to see the earth. They will eat every remainder of the land left behind, what the hail left for you, and they will eat every tree growing for you on the land."

6 "Your houses will be filled, and the houses of your servants, and all the houses in all the land of the Egyptians, with things your fathers never saw, nor their forefathers, from the day they came to be on the earth until this day." Then Moses turned away⁵ and went out from Pharaoh.

7 And Pharaoh's servants said to him, "How long will this be a snare to us? Send the men away, so that they may serve their God. Do you need to learn that Egypt is ruined?"

8 And they brought Moses and Aaron back to Pharaoh, and he said to them, "Go, serve the Lord your God. But who exactly are the ones going?"

9 And Moses said, "We will go with young and old, with our sons and daughters, with our sheep and cattle, for we have a feast of the Lord our God."

10 And he said to them, "So be it: may the Lord be with you, just as I send you out, you and your baggage. See, evil lies ahead of you."

11 "Not so. Let the men go and serve God, for this is what you yourselves seek." And they drove them out from Pharaoh's presence.

12 Then the Lord said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand over the land of Egypt, and let the locust come up on the land⁶ and eat every plant of the land and every fruit of the trees that the hail left."

13 And Moses lifted up the rod toward heaven, and the Lord brought a south wind upon the land all that day and all that night. Morning came, and the south wind brought in the locust.

⁴ T: Greek says signs may come in turn upon them.

14 And it came up over all the land of Egypt, and it settled over all the borders of Egypt in very great abundance. Before it no locust like it had come to be, and after it none will be so.

15 And it covered the face of the earth, and the land was ruined¹. And it ate every plant of the earth and every fruit of the trees left by the hail. No green thing was left on the trees or in any plant of the field in all the land of Egypt.

16 Then Pharaoh hurried to call Moses and Aaron, saying, "I have sinned before the Lord your God and against you."

17 "Forgive, then, my sin just this once, and pray to the Lord your God, and let him take this death away from me."

18 And Moses went out from Pharaoh and prayed to God.

19 And the Lord changed the wind to a strong wind from the sea, and it took up the locust and cast it into the Red Sea. Not one locust was left in all the land of Egypt.

20 And the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he did not send away the sons of Israel.

21 Then the Lord said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand to heaven, and let darkness come over the land of Egypt, darkness that can be felt."

22 And Moses stretched out his hand to heaven, and there came darkness, gloom, storm-cloud over all the land of Egypt for three days.

23 No one saw his brother for three days, and no one rose from his bed for three days. But all the sons of Israel had light in every place where they lived.

24 Then Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron, saying, "Go, serve the Lord your God. Only leave the sheep and cattle behind, and let your baggage go along with you."

25 And Moses said, "But you too will give us whole burnt offerings and sacrifices, and we will offer them to the Lord our God."

26 "Our livestock too will go with us, and we will not leave behind a hoof, for from them we will take what we need to serve the Lord our God. But we do not know with what we will serve the Lord our God until we come there."

27 But the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he was not willing to send them away².

28 And Pharaoh said, "Go away from me. Watch yourself. Do not see my face again, for on the day you appear before me, you will die."

29 And Moses said, "You have spoken. I will no longer appear before your face."

Chapter 11

1 Then the Lord said to Moses, "Yet one plague I will bring upon Pharaoh and upon Egypt, and after that he will send you out from here. Whenever he sends you out, he will surely drive you out with a complete expulsion³."

2 "Speak secretly into the ears of the people, and let each man ask from his neighbor, and each woman from her neighbor, silver and gold vessels and clothing."

3 And the Lord gave his people favor in the sight of the Egyptians, and they lent to them. And Moses the man became exceedingly great in the sight of the Egyptians and before Pharaoh and before all his servants.

4 And Moses said, "These things says the Lord: About midnight I enter into the midst of Egypt,"

5 "and every firstborn in the land of Egypt will die, from Pharaoh's firstborn who sits on the throne to the firstborn of the female servant by the mill, and to the firstborn of every beast."

6 "And there will be a great cry through all the land of Egypt, such as has never happened and will never be added again."

7 "But among all the sons of Israel not a dog will snarl with its tongue, from man to beast, so that you may know how marvelously the Lord will distinguish between the Egyptians and Israel."

8 "And all these servants of yours will come down to me and bow to me, saying, Go out, you and all the people whom you lead⁴, and after that I will go out." Then Moses went out from Pharaoh with anger.

9 Then the Lord said to Moses, "Pharaoh will not listen to you, so that I may greatly multiply my signs and wonders in the land of Egypt."

10 And Moses and Aaron did all these signs and wonders in the land of Egypt before Pharaoh. But the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he was not willing to send the sons of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

Chapter 12

1 Then the Lord said to Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt, saying,

2 "This month will be for you the beginning of months; it is first for you among the months of the year."

3 "Speak to the whole assembly of the sons of Israel, saying, On the tenth day of this month let each take for themselves an animal from the flock according to ancestral houses, each an animal from the flock for the household."

4 "But if those in the house are too few for an animal from the flock⁵, he shall take along his neighbor nearest to him according to the number of persons. Each according to what is enough for him shall be counted toward the animal from the flock."

5 "The animal from the flock shall be for you unblemished, male, a year old. You shall take it from the lambs and from the kids."

6 "And it shall be kept by you until the fourteenth day of this month, and the whole multitude of the assembly of the sons of Israel shall slaughter it toward evening."

7 "And they shall take some of the blood and put it on the two doorposts and on the lintel in the houses where they eat it."

8 "And they shall eat the flesh on this night, roasted by fire, and unleavened bread. With bitter herbs they shall eat it."⁶

9 "You shall not eat any of it raw or boiled in water, but only roasted by fire, the head with the feet and the inner parts."

10 "You shall not leave any of it until morning, and you shall not break a bone from it. But what remains of it until morning you shall burn with fire."

11 "And thus you shall eat it: your waists girded, your sandals on your feet, your staffs in your hands, and you shall eat it in haste. It is Passover to the Lord."

12 "And I will pass through the land of Egypt on this night, and I will strike every firstborn in the land of Egypt, from man to beast, and on all the gods of the Egyptians I will execute vengeance. I am the Lord."

³ T: Greek doubles expulsion language here.

⁴ T: Greek says people whom you lead.

13 "And the blood will be for you as a sign on the houses where you are, and I will see the blood and shelter you¹, and there shall not be among you a blow of destruction when I strike in the land of Egypt."

14 "And this day will be for you a memorial, and you shall celebrate it as a feast to the Lord throughout your generations. As an age-lasting ordinance you shall celebrate it."

15 "Seven days you shall eat unleavened bread, and from the first day you shall remove leaven from your houses. Everyone who eats leavened food, that person shall be destroyed² from Israel, from the first day until the seventh day."

16 "And the first day shall be called holy, and the seventh day shall be a holy assembly for you. No work of service shall you do on them, except what will be made for every person³; that alone may be done for you."

17 "And you shall keep this command⁴, for on this very day I will bring your hosts out of the land of Egypt, and you shall keep this day throughout your generations as an age-lasting ordinance."

18 "Beginning on the fourteenth day of the first month at evening, you shall eat unleavened bread until evening of the twenty-first day of the month."

19 "For seven days no leaven shall be found in your houses. Everyone who eats leavened food, that person shall be destroyed from the assembly of Israel, among both the newcomer and the native-born of the land."

21 Then Moses called all the elders of the sons of Israel and said to them, "Go and take for yourselves an animal from the flock according to your families, and sacrifice the Passover."

22 "And you shall take a bunch of hyssop⁵, and after dipping it in some of the blood by the door, you shall touch the lintel and both doorposts with some of the blood by the door. But none of you shall go out from the door of his house until morning."

23 "And the Lord will pass by to strike the Egyptians, and he will see the blood on the lintel and on both doorposts, and the Lord will pass by the door and will not allow the destroyer to enter⁶ your houses to strike."

24 "And you shall keep this word as an ordinance for you and for your sons forever."

25 "And when you enter the land that the Lord will give you, just as he spoke, you shall keep this service."

26 "And it shall be that when your sons say to you, What is this service?"

27 "you shall say to them, This Passover is a sacrifice to the Lord, who sheltered the houses of the sons of Israel in Egypt when he struck the Egyptians but rescued our houses." And the people bowed low and worshiped.

28 And the sons of Israel went away and did just as the Lord commanded⁷ Moses and Aaron; so they did.

29 And it happened at midnight that the Lord struck every firstborn in the land of Egypt, from Pharaoh's firstborn sitting on the throne to the firstborn of the captive woman in the pit, and every firstborn of beast.

30 And Pharaoh rose by night, and all his servants, and all the Egyptians, and there was a great cry in all the land of Egypt, for there was no house in which there was not one dead.

31 And Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron by night and said to them, "Rise up and go out from my people, both you and the sons of Israel. Go and serve the Lord your God, just as you say."

32 "Take your sheep and your cattle and go. But bless me too."

33 And the Egyptians pressed the people in haste to drive them out of the land, for they said, "We are all dying."

34 And the people took the dough before it was leavened, their kneaded batches wrapped in their garments on their shoulders.

35 And the sons of Israel did just as Moses instructed them, and they asked from the Egyptians silver and gold vessels and clothing.

36 And the Lord gave his people favor in the sight of the Egyptians, and they lent to them, and they plundered the Egyptians.

37 Then the sons of Israel set out from Rameses to Succoth⁸, about six hundred thousand men on foot, besides the baggage.

38 And a great mixed company went up with them, and sheep and cattle and very much livestock.

39 And they baked the dough they had brought out from Egypt into unleavened cakes, for it had not been leavened, because the Egyptians had driven them out and they were not able to delay, nor had they prepared provisions for themselves for the journey.⁹

40 Now the dwelling of the sons of Israel, during which they had dwelt in the land of Egypt and in the land of Canaan, was four hundred and thirty years.

41 And it happened after the four hundred and thirty years that all the hosts of the Lord went out from the land of Egypt.

42 It is a night-watch kept for the Lord, so as to bring them out from the land of Egypt. This same night is a watch kept for the Lord for all the sons of Israel throughout their generations.

43 Then the Lord said to Moses and Aaron, "This is the law of the Passover: no foreigner shall eat of it."

44 "And every household slave or one bought with silver, you shall circumcise him, and then he shall eat of it."

45 "A settler or a hired worker shall not eat of it."

46 "In one house it shall be eaten, and you shall not carry any of the flesh out from the house, and you shall not break a bone from it."

47 "The whole assembly of the sons of Israel shall keep it."

48 "And if any newcomer comes to you¹⁰ to keep Passover to the Lord, you shall circumcise every male of him, and then he shall come near to keep it, and he shall be like the native-born of the land. No uncircumcised person shall eat of it."

49 "One law shall be for the native-born and for the newcomer who comes among you."

50 And the sons of Israel did just as the Lord commanded Moses and Aaron for them; so they did.

51 And it happened on that day that the Lord brought the sons of Israel out from the land of Egypt with their hosts.

Chapter 13

1 Then the Lord said to Moses, saying,
 2 "Set apart to me every firstborn, first issue, opening every womb among the sons of Israel, from man to beast. It is mine."
 3 Then Moses said to the people, "Remember this day on which you came out from the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery, for with a mighty hand the Lord brought you out from there, and leaven shall not be eaten."¹

4 "For on this day you are going out, in the month of new grain."

5 "And it shall be that when the Lord your God brings you into the land of the Canaanites and Hittites and Hivites and Girgashites and Amorites and Perizzites and Jebusites, which he swore to your fathers to give you, a land flowing with milk and honey, you shall perform this service² in this month."

6 "For six days you shall eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day there shall be a feast to the Lord."

7 "For seven days you shall eat unleavened bread. No leavened thing shall be seen among you, nor shall leaven be with you in all your borders."

8 "And you shall tell your son on that day, saying, Because of this the Lord my God dealt with me when I was going out from Egypt."

9 "And it shall be for you as a sign on your hand and as a memorial before your eyes, so that the law of the Lord may be in your mouth, for with a mighty hand the Lord God brought you out from Egypt."

10 "And you shall keep this law at the appointed times, from days to days."

11 "And it shall be that when the Lord your God brings you into the land of the Canaanites, just as he swore to your fathers, and gives it to you,"

12 "you shall set apart to the Lord every opener of the womb, the males. Every opener of the womb from the herds or among your livestock, as many as come to you, the males you shall consecrate to the Lord."

13 "Every opener of the womb of a donkey you shall exchange for a sheep, and if you do not exchange it, you shall redeem it. Every firstborn of man among your sons you shall redeem."

14 "And if your son asks you after this, saying, What is this? you shall say to him, With a mighty hand the Lord brought us out from the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery."

15 "And when Pharaoh hardened himself against sending us away, he killed every firstborn in the land of Egypt, from the firstborn of humans to the firstborn of beasts. Because of this I sacrifice to the Lord every opener of the womb, the males, and every firstborn of my sons I will redeem."³

16 "And it shall be as a sign on your hand and fixed before your eyes, for with a mighty hand the Lord brought you out from Egypt."

17 And when Pharaoh sent the people away, God did not lead them by the way of the land of the Philistines, because it was near⁴. For God said, "Lest perhaps the people change their mind when they see war and turn back to Egypt."

18 So God led the people around by the road to the wilderness, to the Red Sea. And in the fifth generation the sons of Israel went up out from the land of Egypt.

19 And Moses took the bones of Joseph with him, for Joseph had solemnly bound the sons of Israel by oath, saying, God will surely visit you, and you shall carry my bones up from here with you.

20 Then the sons of Israel set out from Succoth and camped at Etham⁵ by the wilderness.

21 And God led them, by day in a pillar of cloud to show them the way, and by night in a pillar of fire.

22 The pillar of cloud by day did not fail, nor the pillar of fire by night, before all the people.

Chapter 14

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 "Speak to the sons of Israel, and after turning back let them camp opposite the village, between Migdol⁶ and the sea. Opposite Baalzephon⁷, before them, you shall camp by the sea."

3 "And Pharaoh will say to his people, These sons of Israel are wandering in the land, for the wilderness has shut them in."

4 "And I will harden Pharaoh's heart, and he will pursue after them, and I will be glorified in Pharaoh and in all his army, and all the Egyptians will know that I am the Lord." And they did so.

5 And it was reported to the king of the Egyptians that the people had fled, and the heart of Pharaoh and of his servants was turned against the people, and they said, "Why have we done this, sending away the sons of Israel so that they need not serve us?"

6 So Pharaoh yoked his chariots, and he gathered all his people with himself.

7 And taking six hundred chosen chariots and all the cavalry of the Egyptians, he took commanders over all of them.

8 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh king of Egypt and of his servants, and he pursued after the sons of Israel. But the sons of Israel were going out with uplifted hand.

9 And the Egyptians pursued after them and found them encamped by the sea, all Pharaoh's cavalry and chariots and horsemen and army, opposite the village, opposite Baalzephon.

10 And Pharaoh drew near, and the sons of Israel lifted up their eyes and saw: the Egyptians had camped behind them. And they feared greatly, and the sons of Israel cried out to the Lord.

11 And they said to Moses, "Was it because there were no tombs in the land of Egypt that you brought us out to die in the wilderness? Why have you done this to us, bringing us out from Egypt?"

12 "Was this not the word we spoke to you in Egypt, saying, Leave us alone so that we may serve the Egyptians? For it would be better for us to serve the Egyptians than to die in this wilderness."

13 Then Moses said to the people, "Take courage. Stand and see the salvation from God⁸ that he will accomplish for us today. For in the way you have seen the Egyptians today, you shall never again see them through all time."

14 "The Lord will fight for you, and you will be still."

15 Then the Lord said to Moses, "Why do you cry out to me? Speak to the sons of Israel, and let them break camp."

16 "And you, lift up your rod and stretch out your hand over the sea and split it, and let the sons of Israel enter into the midst of the sea on dry ground."

17 "And behold, I am hardening the heart of Pharaoh and of all the Egyptians, and they will go in after them, and I will be glorified in Pharaoh and in all his army and in his chariots and horses."

18 "And all the Egyptians will know that I am the Lord when I am glorified in Pharaoh and in his chariots and horses."

⁸ T: Greek says salvation from God.

19 Then the angel of God⁹ who went before the camp of the sons of Israel moved and went behind them, and the pillar of cloud also moved from before them and stood behind them.
 20 And it came between the camp of the Egyptians and the camp of Israel, and there it stood. And there came darkness and gloom, and the night passed, and they did not come near one another through all the night.
 21 Then Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and the Lord drew back the sea by a violent south wind all night, and he made the sea dry, and the water was split.
 22 And the sons of Israel entered into the midst of the sea on dry ground, and the water was a wall for them on the right and a wall on the left.
 23 Then the Egyptians pursued and went in after them into the midst of the sea, all Pharaoh's horses, chariots, and riders.²
 24 And in the morning watch the Lord looked upon the camp of the Egyptians through the pillar of fire and cloud, and he threw the camp of the Egyptians into confusion.
 25 And he bound the axles of their chariots and made them drive with difficulty. And the Egyptians said, "Let us flee from before Israel, for the Lord fights for them against the Egyptians."
 26 Then the Lord said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand over the sea, and let the water return and cover the Egyptians, both the chariots and the riders."
 27 And Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and the water returned toward day to its place. And the Egyptians fled down into the water, and the Lord shook the Egyptians off into the midst of the sea.
 28 And the water returned and covered the chariots and the riders and all Pharaoh's force, those who had gone in after them into the sea. Not even one of them was left.
 29 But the sons of Israel traveled through dry ground in the midst of the sea, and the water was a wall for them on the right and on the left.
 30 Thus the Lord rescued Israel on that day from the hand of the Egyptians, and Israel saw the Egyptians lying dead by the shore of the sea.
 31 And Israel saw the great hand³, the things the Lord had done against the Egyptians, and the people feared the Lord, and they believed God and Moses his attendant.

Chapter 15

1 Then Moses and the sons of Israel sang this song to God and said, "Let us sing to the Lord, for he has been glorified gloriously; horse and rider he has thrown into the sea."
 2 "He became for me a helper and a shelter for salvation. This is my God⁴, and I will glorify him, God of my father, and I will exalt him."⁵
 3 "The Lord shattering wars; the Lord is his name."
 4 "Pharaoh's chariots and his force he threw into the sea; chosen mounted officers he sank in the Red Sea."
 5 "The deep covered them; they went down into the depth like a stone."
 6 "Your right hand, O Lord, has been glorified in strength; your right hand, O Lord, shattered enemies."
 7 "And in the abundance of your glory you crushed the adversaries; you sent out your wrath, and it devoured them like stubble."
 8 "And by the breath of your wrath the water stood apart; the waters congealed like a wall; the waves congealed in the midst of the sea."
 9 "The enemy said, I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide spoil, I will fill my soul, I will kill with my sword, my hand will rule."
 10 "You sent out your wind, the sea covered them; they sank like lead in mighty water."
 11 "Who is like you among gods, O Lord? Who is like you, glorified among holy ones, wondrous in glories, doing wonders?"
 12 "You stretched out your right hand; earth swallowed them⁶."
 13 "You guided in your righteousness this people whom you redeemed; by your strength you led them onward to your holy resting-place."
 14 "Nations heard and grew angry; pangs seized those dwelling among the Philistines."
 15 "Then the chiefs of Edom hastened; the rulers of the Moabites, trembling took hold of them; all the inhabitants of Canaan melted away."
 16 "Let fear and trembling fall upon them; by the greatness of your arm let them turn to stone, until your people pass over, O Lord, until this people passes over, whom you acquired."
 17 "Bring them in and plant them on the mountain of your inheritance, in your prepared dwelling-place, which you prepared, O Lord, the sanctuary, O Lord, which your hands made ready."
 18 "The Lord reigns forever and beyond."
 19 For Pharaoh's horse went in with chariots and riders into the sea, and the Lord brought the water of the sea upon them. But the sons of Israel traveled on dry ground through the midst of the sea.
 20 Then Miriam the prophetess, the sister of Aaron, took the timbrel in her hand, and all the women went out after her with timbrels and dances⁷.
 21 And Miriam led them, saying, "Let us sing to the Lord, for he has been glorified gloriously; horse and rider he has thrown into the sea."
 22 Then Moses moved the sons of Israel away from the Red Sea and led them into the wilderness of Shur. And they went three days in the wilderness and found no water to drink.
 23 And they came to Marah⁸, and they were not able to drink from Marah, for it was bitter. Because of this the name of that place was called Bitterness.
 24 And the people grumbled against Moses, saying, "What will we drink?"

⁴ Gk: Houtos mou Theos (οὗτός μου Θεός) — This is my God. Eng: my God. At the Hebrew Yah reference, the LXX does not preserve the short divine name; it reads This is my God.

25 Then Moses cried out to the Lord, and the Lord showed him a piece of wood, and he cast it into the water, and the water was sweetened. There he set for him ordinances and judgments, and there he tested him.
26 And he said, "If in hearing you hear the voice of the Lord your God and do the things pleasing before him and give ear to his commands and keep all his ordinances, every sickness that I brought upon the Egyptians I will not bring upon you, for I am the Lord who heals you".²³
27 And they came to Elim⁴, and there were there twelve springs of water and seventy trunks of palm trees, and they camped there by the waters.

Chapter 16

1 And they set out from Elim⁵, and the whole assembly of the sons of Israel came into the wilderness of Sin⁶, which is between Elim and Sinai⁷, on the fifteenth day of the second month after they had come out from the land of Egypt.
2 And the whole assembly of the sons of Israel grumbled against Moses and Aaron,
3 and the sons of Israel said to them, "If only we had died, struck by the Lord⁸ in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the pots of meat and ate bread to fullness. But you have brought us out into this wilderness to kill this whole assembly with hunger."
4 Then the Lord said to Moses, "Behold, I am raining bread for you from heaven⁹, and the people will go out and gather what is needed for the day, day by day, so that I may test them whether they will walk in my law or not."
5 "And it shall be on the sixth day that they will prepare what they bring in, and it will be double what they gather, day by day."
6 And Moses and Aaron said to the whole assembly of the sons of Israel, "At evening you will know that the Lord has brought you out from the land of Egypt,"
7 "and in the morning you will see the glory of the Lord, because he has heard your grumbling against God. And what are we, that you grumble against us?"
8 And Moses said, "This will be when the Lord gives you meat to eat in the evening and bread in the morning to fullness, because the Lord has heard your grumbling that you grumble against us. And what are we? Your grumbling is not against us but against God^{10, 11}"
9 Then Moses said to Aaron, "Tell the whole assembly of the sons of Israel, Come near before God, for he has heard your grumbling."
10 And when Aaron spoke to the whole assembly of the sons of Israel, they turned toward the wilderness, and the glory of the Lord appeared in a cloud.
11 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
12 "I have heard the grumbling of the sons of Israel. Speak to them, saying, Toward evening you shall eat meat¹², and in the morning you shall be filled with bread, and you shall know that I am the Lord your God."
13 And it happened at evening that quail came up and covered the camp¹³, and in the morning, as the dew was settling around the camp,
14 behold, over the face of the wilderness was a fine thing, like coriander seed, white like frost upon the earth.
15 And when the sons of Israel saw it, they said one to another, "What is this?"¹⁴ for they did not know what it was. Then Moses said to them, "This is the bread that the Lord has given you to eat."
16 "This is the word the Lord has commanded: Gather from it, each for those assigned to him, a gomor per head, according to the number of your persons. Each with those in your tent shall gather it."
17 And the sons of Israel did so, and some gathered much and some little.
18 And when they measured it by the gomor, the one who had much had nothing left over, and the one who had little had no lack. Each gathered according to those assigned to him.
19 Then Moses said to them, "Let no one leave any of it until morning."
20 But they did not listen to Moses, and some left from it until morning, and it bred worms and stank, and Moses was embittered against them.
21 And they gathered it morning by morning, each according to what was needed for him. But when the sun grew hot, it melted.
22 And it happened on the sixth day that they gathered what was needed double, two gomors for one person. Then all the rulers of the assembly came in and reported it to Moses.
23 And Moses said to them, "This is the word the Lord spoke: Tomorrow is Sabbath, a holy rest¹⁵ to the Lord. Whatever you will bake, bake, and whatever you will boil, boil, and all that is left over leave stored up until morning."
24 And they left some of it until morning, just as Moses commanded them, and it did not stink, nor did a worm appear in it.
25 Then Moses said, "Eat it today, for today is Sabbath to the Lord. Today it will not be found in the field."
26 "For six days you shall gather it, but on the seventh day is Sabbath, because it will not be on that day."
27 And it happened on the seventh day that some of the people went out to gather, and they found none.
28 Then the Lord said to Moses, "How long will you refuse to listen to my commands and my law?"
29 "See, for the Lord has given you this day as the Sabbath. Because of this he has given you on the sixth day bread for two days. Let each stay in his houses. Let no one go out from his place on the seventh day.¹⁶"
30 And the people Sabbath on the seventh day.
31 And the sons of Israel called its name Man. It was like white coriander seed, and its taste was like a cake in honey.

¹³ T: Greek gives the quail arrival in a direct came-up-and-covered sequence. Current wording preserves that scene.

¹⁵ T: Greek says Sabbath, a holy rest to the Lord.

¹⁶ T: Greek gives a stay-and-do-not-go-out command pair. Current wording preserves both parts.

32 Then Moses said, "This is the word the Lord commanded: Fill the gomor with Man¹⁷ for storage throughout your generations, so that they may see the bread that you ate in the wilderness when the Lord brought you out from the land of Egypt."

33 And Moses said to Aaron, "Take one golden jar and put into it a full gomor of Man, and you shall place it before God for preservation throughout your generations,"

34 just as the Lord commanded Moses, and Aaron placed it before the testimony for preservation.

35 And the sons of Israel ate Man forty years, until they came into an inhabited land. They ate Man until they came to the region of Phoenicia².

36 Now the gomor was the tenth part of three measures.

Chapter 17

1 And the whole assembly of the sons of Israel set out from the wilderness of Sin, by their encampments³, according to the word of the Lord, and they camped in Rephidim⁴. But there was no water for the people to drink.

2 And the people reviled Moses, saying, "Give us water, so that we may drink." And Moses said to them, "Why do you revile me, and why do you test the Lord?"

3 And there the people thirsted for water, and there the people grumbled against Moses, saying, "Why is this? Have you brought us up out from Egypt to kill us and our children and our livestock with thirst?"

4 Then Moses cried out to the Lord, saying, "What shall I do with this people? A little more and they will stone me."

5 And the Lord said to Moses, "Go on ahead of this people, and take with yourself some of the elders of the people. And the rod with which you struck the river, take in your hand and go."

6 "Look, I am standing⁵ before you there on the rock in Horeb, and you shall strike the rock, and water will come out from it, and my people will drink." And Moses did so before the sons of Israel.

7 And he called the name of that place Testing and Reviling, because of the reviling of the sons of Israel and because of their testing the Lord, saying, "Is the Lord among us or not?"

8 Then Amalek came and fought with Israel in Rephidim.

9 And Moses said to Joshua⁶, "Choose for yourself strong men and go out and draw up in battle array⁷ against Amalek tomorrow. And look, I will stand on the top of the hill, and the rod of God will be in my hand."

10 And Joshua did just as Moses told him, and he went out and drew up in battle array against Amalek. And Moses and Aaron and Hur⁸ went up to the top of the hill.

11 And it happened that whenever Moses lifted up his hands, Israel prevailed, and whenever he let down his hands, Amalek prevailed.

12 But Moses' hands were heavy, and taking a stone they put it under him, and he sat on it. And Aaron and Hur were supporting his hands, one from this side and one from that side, and Moses' hands became supported⁹ until the setting of the sun.

13 And Joshua routed Amalek and all his people with the slaughter of the sword.

14 Then the Lord said to Moses, "Write this as a memorial in a book, and put it into the ears of Joshua, for in wiping out I will wipe out the memorial of Amalek from under heaven."

15 And Moses built an altar to the Lord and called its name, "The Lord is my refuge"¹⁰,¹¹

Chapter 18

1 And Jethro, priest of Midian, the father-in-law of Moses, heard all that the Lord had done for Israel, his own people, for the Lord had brought Israel out from Egypt.

2 And Jethro, the father-in-law of Moses, took Zipporah¹², the wife of Moses, after her sending away.

3 And her two sons. The name of one was Gershom, saying, "I was a resident alien in a foreign land,"

4 and the name of the second was Eliezer, saying, "For the God of my father is my helper, and he rescued me from the hand of Pharaoh."

5 And Jethro, the father-in-law of Moses, and his sons and wife, came out to Moses into the wilderness where he had camped at the mountain of God.

6 And word was reported to Moses, saying, "Look, your father-in-law Jethro is coming to you, and your wife and your two sons with him."

7 Then Moses went out to meet his father-in-law and bowed down to him and kissed him, and they greeted one another and brought him into the tent.

8 And Moses recounted to his father-in-law all that the Lord had done to Pharaoh and the Egyptians for Israel's sake, and all the hardship that had come upon them on the way¹³, and that the Lord had rescued them from the hand of Pharaoh and from the hand of the Egyptians.

9 And Jethro was amazed at all the good things that the Lord had done for them, that he had rescued them from the hand of the Egyptians and from the hand of Pharaoh.

10 And Jethro said, "Blessed be the Lord, because he has rescued his people from the hand of the Egyptians and from the hand of Pharaoh."

12 And Jethro, the father-in-law of Moses, took whole burnt offerings and sacrifices to God. And Aaron and all the elders of Israel came to eat bread with the father-in-law of Moses before God.

13 And it happened on the next day that Moses sat to judge the people, and all the people stood by Moses from morning until evening.

14 And when Jethro saw all that Moses was doing for the people, he said, "What is this that you are doing for the people? Why do you sit alone while all the people stand by you from morning until evening?"

15 And Moses said to his father-in-law, "Because the people come to me to seek judgment from God."

16 "For whenever they have a dispute and come to me, I decide each one and instruct them in the ordinances of God and his law."

17 Then the father-in-law of Moses said to him, "This thing that you are doing is not right."

18 "With ruin you will wear away, with unbearable exhaustion, both you and all this people that is with you. This thing is too heavy for you. You will not be able to do it alone."

19 "Now then, listen to me, and I will advise you, and God will be with you. Be for the people in the things toward God, and you shall bring their words to God."

20 "And you shall testify to them the ordinances of God and his law, and you shall make known to them the ways in which they shall walk and the works that they shall do."

21 "And you, select for yourself from all the people able men, God-fearing men, righteous men, hating arrogance¹, and you shall appoint them over them as commanders of thousands and hundreds and fifties and tens."

22 "And they shall judge the people at every hour. The over-large matter they shall bring to you, but the small cases they shall judge themselves, and they shall lighten the load from you and help you."

23 "If you do this thing, God will strengthen you, and you will be able to stand, and all this people will come to its own place with peace."

24 And Moses listened to the voice of his father-in-law and did all that he said to him.

25 And Moses chose able men from all Israel and made them over the people as commanders of thousands and hundreds and fifties and tens².

26 And they judged the people at every hour. Every over-large matter they brought to Moses, but every light matter they judged themselves.

27 Then Moses sent away his father-in-law, and he went to his own land.

Chapter 19

1 And in the third month of the departure of the sons of Israel from the land of Egypt, on this day they came into the wilderness of Sinai.

2 And they set out from Rephidim and came into the wilderness of Sinai, and Israel camped there opposite the mountain.

3 And Moses went up to the mountain of God, and God called to him from the mountain, saying, "These things you shall say to the house of Jacob, and you shall announce to the sons of Israel:"

4 "You yourselves have seen what I did to the Egyptians, and I took you up as on the wings of eagles, and I brought you near to myself."

5 "And now, if in hearing you hear my voice and keep my covenant, you shall be to me a people of special possession from among all the nations, for the whole earth is mine."

6 "And you shall be to me a royal priesthood and a holy nation. These are the words you shall speak to the sons of Israel."

7 Then Moses came and called the elders of the people and set before them all these words that God had commanded him.

8 And all the people answered with one accord and said, "All that God has spoken, we will do and we will hear." And Moses carried the words of the people up to God.

9 Then the Lord said to Moses, "Look, I am coming to you in a pillar of cloud, so that the people may hear me speaking with you and may trust you forever." And Moses reported the words of the people to the Lord.

10 And the Lord said to Moses, "Go down and solemnly warn the people, and purify them today and tomorrow, and let them wash their garments,"

11 "and let them be ready for the third day, for on the third day the Lord will come down upon Mount Sinai before all the people."

12 "And you shall mark off the people all around³, saying, Take heed for yourselves not to go up on the mountain or touch any part of it. Everyone who touches the mountain shall surely die."

13 "No hand shall touch him, for he shall certainly be stoned with stones or shot through with a missile. Whether beast or man, he shall not live. When the voices and the trumpets and the cloud depart from the mountain, they may come up on the mountain."

14 Then Moses went down from the mountain to the people and sanctified them, and they washed their garments.

15 And he said to the people, "Be ready for three days. Do not come near a woman."

16 And it happened on the third day, when morning came, that there were voices and lightnings and a gloomy cloud⁴ on Mount Sinai. The sound of the trumpet rang out loudly, and all the people in the camp were terrified.

17 And Moses brought the people out from the camp to meet God, and they stood beneath the mountain.

18 And Mount Sinai smoked all over because God had come down upon it in fire, and the smoke went up like the smoke of a furnace, and all the people were exceedingly astonished.

19 And the sounds of the trumpet kept advancing, growing much stronger. Moses was speaking, and God answered him with a voice.

20 And the Lord came down on Mount Sinai, on the top of the mountain, and the Lord called Moses to the top of the mountain, and Moses went up.

21 And God said to Moses, saying, "Go down and solemnly warn the people lest they draw near to God to gaze, and a multitude from among them fall."

22 "And let the priests who draw near to the Lord God sanctify themselves, lest the Lord break out against some of them."

23 And Moses said to God, "The people will not be able to come up to Mount Sinai, for you yourself solemnly warned us, saying, Mark⁵ off the mountain and sanctify it."

⁵ Pn: Mark. Nm: Mark — Hammer; polite. Src: Mark.

24 And the Lord said to him, "Go, go down, and then come up, you and Aaron with you. But let not the priests and the people force their way to come up to God, lest the Lord destroy some of them."
25 Then Moses went down to the people and spoke to them.

Chapter 20

1 And the Lord spoke all these words, saying,
2 "I am the Lord your God, who brought you out from the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery."
3 "No other gods shall be yours besides me."
4 "You shall not make for yourself an idol¹, nor any likeness of whatever is in heaven above and whatever is in the earth below and whatever is in the waters beneath the earth."
5 "You shall not bow down to them, nor indeed serve them, for I am the Lord your God, a jealous God, repaying fathers' sins upon children to the third and fourth generation of those who hate me,"
6 "and showing mercy into thousands² for those who love me and keep my commandments."
7 "You shall not take the name of the Lord your God in vain³, for the Lord will certainly not clear the one who takes his name in vain."
8 "Remember the day of the Sabbaths, to keep it holy."
9 "For six days you shall work and do all your works,⁴
10 "but the seventh day is Sabbath to the Lord your God. On it you shall do no work, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant, your ox and your pack animal and every beast of yours and the newcomer staying among you."
11 "For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth and the sea and everything in them, and he rested on the seventh day. Therefore the Lord blessed the seventh day and sanctified it."
12 "Honor your father and your mother, so that it may go well for you and so that you may become long-lived on the good land that the Lord your God is giving you."
13 "You shall not commit adultery."⁵
14 "You shall not steal."
15 "You shall not murder."⁶
16 "You shall not bear false witness against your neighbor, false testimony."
17 "You shall not desire your neighbor's wife. You shall not desire your neighbor's house, nor his field, nor his male servant, nor his female servant, nor his ox, nor his pack animal, nor any beast of his, nor whatever belongs to your neighbor."
18 And all the people were seeing the voice and the torches and the sound of the trumpet and the mountain smoking. And all the people were afraid and stood far off,
19 and they said to Moses, "You speak to us, and let not God speak to us, lest we die."
20 And Moses said to them, "Take courage, for God has come for the sake of testing you, so that his fear may be among you, so that you may not sin."
21 And the people stood far off, but Moses entered into the gloom where God was.
22 Then the Lord said to Moses, "These things you shall say to the house of Jacob, and you shall announce to the sons of Israel: You yourselves have seen that from heaven I have spoken to you."
23 "You shall not make for yourselves gods of silver, and gods of gold you shall not make for yourselves."
24 "You shall make me an altar of earth, and upon it you shall sacrifice your whole burnt offerings and your offerings of salvation⁷, your sheep and your calves. In every place where I cause my name to be called⁸, I will come to you and bless you."⁹
25 "But if you make me an altar of stones, you shall not build them cut, for you have laid your tool upon them, and they have been defiled."
26 "And you shall not go up by steps to my altar, so that you do not uncover your indecency upon it."

Chapter 21

1 And these are the ordinances that you shall set before them.
2 If you buy a Hebrew servant, six years he shall serve you, and in the seventh year he shall go out free for nothing.
3 If he comes in alone, he shall also go out alone. But if his wife comes in with him, his wife shall also go out with him.
4 But if his master gives him a wife and she bears him sons or daughters, the wife and the children shall belong to his master, and he alone shall go out.
5 But if the servant answers and says, "I have loved my master and my wife and my children. I will not run away free,"
6 then his master shall bring him to the judgment-seat of God. Then he shall bring him to the door, to the doorpost, and his master shall pierce his ear with an awl, and he shall serve him forever.
7 If someone sells his own daughter as a household servant, she shall not go out as the female servants go out.
8 If she does not please her master, to whom she had been promised, he shall let her be redeemed. He has no authority to sell her to a foreign nation, because he has broken faith with her.
9 But if he promises her to his son, he shall treat her according to the right of daughters.
10 But if he takes another woman for himself, he shall not deprive her of what is needed, or of clothing, or of her companionship.
11 But if he does not do these three things for her, she shall go out free, without money.
12 If someone strikes a person and he dies, let him certainly be put to death.

⁵ MT/LXX: The LXX commandment order places adultery before stealing and murder here; standard English/MT ordering usually places murder first and adultery at Exodus 20:14. This edition preserves the Greek order.

⁶ T: In the Greek order here, adultery comes first, then theft, then murder. Current wording follows the LXX verse order.

⁹ T: Greek soterion language here is rendered with salvation wording for consistency across this sacrificial cluster. Some English witnesses smooth the line to peace offerings, but the Greek itself uses the salvation-family term.

13 But if he did not do it willingly, and God delivered him into his hands, I will give you a place where the killer may flee.
 14 But if someone attacks his neighbor to kill him with deceit, and he flees to my altar, you shall take him from there to put him to death.
 15 Whoever strikes his father or his mother, let him certainly be put to death.
 17 Whoever steals one of the sons of Israel, and after overpowering him sells him, and he is found in his hand, let him certainly be put to death.
 18 If two men revile each other and one strikes his neighbor with a stone or with his fist and he does not die but is laid in bed,
 19 if the man rises and walks about outside on his staff, the one who struck him shall be clear. Yet he shall pay for his idleness and for his healing.
 20 If someone strikes his male servant or his female servant with a rod and the servant dies under his hands, let justice be exacted.
 21 But if the servant lives a day or two, he shall not be avenged, for he is his money.
 22 If two men fight and strike a pregnant woman, and her child comes out not yet formed¹, he shall pay a penalty according as the woman's husband lays upon him. He shall pay with assessment.
 23 But if it is formed, he shall give life for life,
 24 eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot,
 25 burn for burn, wound for wound, bruise for bruise.
 26 If someone strikes the eye of his servant or the eye of his female servant and blinds it, he shall send them out free for their eye.
 27 And if he knocks out the tooth of his servant or the tooth of his female servant, he shall send them out free for their tooth.
 28 If a bull gores a man or a woman and they die, the bull shall be stoned with stones, and its flesh shall not be eaten. But the bull's owner shall be clear.
 29 But if the bull has been a gorer since yesterday and the third day, and they have testified to its owner and he has not confined it, and it kills a man or a woman, the bull shall be stoned, and its owner shall also die.²
 30 But if a ransom³ is laid upon him, he shall give a ransom for his life, whatever they lay upon him.
 31 If it gores a son or a daughter, they shall do to him according to this ordinance.
 32 But if the bull gores a male servant or a female servant, he shall give thirty silver didrachms to their master, and the bull shall be stoned.
 33 If someone opens a pit or quarries a pit and does not cover it, and an ox or a donkey falls in there,
 34 the owner of the pit shall make compensation. He shall give silver to their owner, and the dead animal shall be his.
 35 If one person's bull gores the bull of his neighbor and it dies, they shall sell the living bull and divide its silver, and they shall divide the dead one.
 36 But if it is known that the bull has been a gorer since yesterday and the third day, and testimony had been made to its owner, and he did not confine it, he shall repay bull for bull, and the dead one shall be his.
 37 If someone steals an ox or a sheep and slaughters it or sells it, he shall repay five oxen for the ox and four sheep for the sheep.

Chapter 22

1 If the thief is found in the breach and is struck and dies, there is no bloodguilt for him.⁴
 2 But if the sun rises on him, there is guilt. He shall die in return. But if he has nothing, let him be sold for what was stolen.
 3 If the stolen thing is found alive in his hand, whether donkey or sheep, he shall repay them double.⁵
 4 If someone lets a field or vineyard be grazed and lets his beast graze another field, he shall repay from his own field according to its produce. But if it grazes the whole field, he shall repay the best of his own field and the best of his vineyard.⁶
 5 If fire goes out and finds thorns and sets aflame a threshing floor or sheaves or a field, the one who kindled the fire shall make repayment.⁷
 6 If someone gives his neighbor silver or goods to keep, and it is stolen from the man's house, if the thief is found, he shall repay double.
 7 But if the thief is not found, the master of the house shall come before God and swear that he has surely not acted wickedly against any part of his neighbor's deposit.⁸
 8 In every matter of wrongdoing, concerning an ox and a beast of burden and a sheep and a garment and every alleged loss, whatever it may be, the judgment of both shall come before God, and the one convicted through God shall repay double to his neighbor.⁹
 9 If someone gives his neighbor a beast of burden or an ox or a sheep or any livestock to keep, and it is injured or dies or is taken captive¹⁰, and no one knows,
 10 an oath of God shall be between both of them, that he surely has not acted wickedly against any part of his neighbor's deposit. So its owner shall accept it, and he shall not repay.¹¹
 11 But if it is stolen from him, he shall repay¹² its owner.
 12 But if it becomes beast-torn, he shall bring it as evidence of the prey, and he shall not repay.
 13 If someone borrows from his neighbor, and it is injured or dies or is taken captive, and its owner is not with it, he shall repay.¹³
 14 But if the owner is with it, he shall not repay. But if it is hired, it shall stand for its hire.
 15 If someone entices an unbetrothed virgin and lies with her, he shall surely pay the bride-price and take her as wife for himself.

16 But if her father utterly refuses and does not wish to give her to him as wife, he shall pay silver to her father according to the bride-price of virgins.

17 You shall not preserve sorcerers alive.

18 Everyone who lies with an animal, you shall certainly put them to death.

19 The one sacrificing to gods shall be destroyed by death, except to the Lord alone.

20 You shall not mistreat a newcomer, nor oppress him, for you were newcomers in the land of Egypt.

21 You shall mistreat no widow or orphan.

22 But if by evil-treatment you mistreat¹ them, and crying out they cry to me, I will surely hear their voice.

23 And I will become angry with wrath² and kill you with the sword, and your wives shall be widows and your children orphans.

24 If you lend silver to your poor brother beside you, you shall not press him hard, nor lay interest upon him³.

25 If you take your neighbor's garment as a pledge, you shall give it back to him before sunset.

26 For this alone is his covering; this is the garment of his nakedness. In what shall he sleep? So if he cries out to me, I will hear him, for I am merciful.

27 You shall not revile gods, and you shall not speak evil of a ruler of your people.

28 You shall not delay the firstfruits of your threshing floor and your winepress. You shall give me the firstborn of your sons.

29 So you shall do with your ox and your sheep and your beast of burden. Seven days it shall be under its mother, and on the eighth day you shall give it to me.

30 And you shall be holy men to me, and you shall not eat flesh torn by beasts⁴; you shall throw it to the dog.

Chapter 23

1 You shall not accept a vain report. You shall not join with the unjust to become an unjust witness.

2 You shall not be with the many for evil. You shall not side with a crowd to turn aside with the many so as to bend justice.

3 And you shall not spare a poor man in judgment.

4 If you meet your enemy's ox or his beast of burden wandering, you shall surely turn it back and return it to him.

5 If you see your enemy's beast of burden fallen under its load, you shall not pass it by, but you shall help raise it with him.

6 You shall not pervert the judgment of a poor man in his case⁵.

7 Keep far from every unjust word. You shall not kill the innocent and the righteous, and you shall not justify the ungodly for gifts.

8 You shall not take gifts, for gifts blind the eyes of those who see and destroy just words.

9 You shall not oppress a newcomer, for you know the soul of the newcomer, because you were newcomers in the land of Egypt.

10 Six years you shall sow your land and gather its produce.

11 But in the seventh you shall make a release⁶ and let it rest, and the poor of your nation shall eat, and what they leave the wild beasts shall eat. So you shall do with your vineyard and your oliveyard.

12 Six days you shall do your works, but on the seventh day there shall be rest, so that your ox and your beast of burden may rest, and the son of your female servant and the newcomer may be refreshed.

13 Guard all that I have said to you, and you shall not mention the name of other gods, nor shall it be heard from your mouth.

14 Three times of the year celebrate a feast to me.

15 Keep the feast of unleavened bread. Seven days you shall eat unleavened bread, just as I commanded you, at the time of the month of new grain⁷, for in it you came out from Egypt. You shall not appear before me empty.

16 And you shall keep the feast of harvest of the first produce of your labors, whatever you sow in your field, and the feast of completion at the going out of the year, in the gathering of your labors from your field.⁸

17 Three times of the year every male of yours shall appear before the Lord your God.

18 For when I cast out nations from before you and widen your borders, you shall not sacrifice the blood of my sacrifice with leaven, nor shall the fat of my feast lie down until morning.

19 You shall bring the firstfruits of the first produce of your land into the house of the Lord your God. You shall not boil a lamb in its mother's milk.

20 And behold, I send my angel⁹ before your face to keep you on the way, so that he may bring you into the land that I have prepared for you.

21 Pay attention to yourself and listen to him, and do not disobey him, for he will never yield to you, because my name is upon him.

22 If you truly hear my voice and do all that I command you and keep my covenant, you shall be for me a people of special possession out of all nations, for all the earth is mine. And you shall be for me a royal priesthood and a holy nation. These are the words you shall speak to the sons of Israel. If you truly hear my voice and do all that I say to you, I will be hostile to your enemies and oppose those who oppose you.

23 For my angel shall go leading you and bring you to the Amorite and Hittite and Perizzite¹⁰ and Canaanite and Girgashite¹¹ and Hivite and Jebusite, and I will wipe them out.

24 You shall not worship their gods, nor serve them. You shall not do according to their works, but by pulling down you shall pull down, and by breaking you shall break their pillars.

25 And you shall serve the Lord your God, and I will bless your bread and your wine and your water, and I will turn sickness away from you.

26 None shall be barren or sterile in your land. I will fill up the number of your days.

27 And I will send fear ahead of you and throw into confusion all the nations among whom you enter, and I will make all your adversaries flee.
 28 And I will send hornets ahead of you, and they shall drive out the Amorites and the Hivites and the Canaanites and the Hittites from before you.
 29 I will not drive them out in one year, lest the land become desolate and the beasts of the earth multiply against you.
 30 Little by little I will drive them out¹ from before you, until you increase and inherit the land.
 31 And I will set your borders from the Red Sea to the Sea of the Philistines, and from the wilderness to the great river Euphrates. And I will give the inhabitants of the land into your hands, and I will drive them out from before you.
 32 You shall make no covenant with them or with their gods².
 33 They shall not dwell in your land, lest they make you sin against me. For if you serve their gods, these will be a stumbling block to you³.

Chapter 24

1 And to Moses he said, "Come up to the Lord, you and Aaron and Nadab and Abihu⁴ and seventy of the elders of Israel, and worship from far off."
 2 And Moses alone shall come near to God. But they shall not come near, and the people shall not come up with them.
 3 And Moses went in and related to the people all the words of God and the ordinances. And all the people answered with one voice, saying, "All the words that the Lord has spoken we will do and we will hear."
 4 And Moses wrote all the words of the Lord. Rising early in the morning, Moses built an altar under the mountain, and twelve stones for the twelve tribes of Israel.
 5 And he sent the young men of the sons of Israel, and they offered whole burnt offerings and sacrificed calves as offerings of salvation⁵ to God.
 6 And Moses took half the blood and poured it into bowls, and half the blood he poured out upon the altar.
 7 And taking the book of the covenant, he read it in the hearing of the people, and they said, "All that the Lord has spoken we will do and we will hear."
 8 And Moses took the blood and splashed it on the people and said, "Behold, the blood of the covenant that the Lord has made with you concerning all these words."
 9 Then Moses and Aaron and Nadab and Abihu and seventy from the council of Israel went up.
 10 And they saw the place where the God of Israel had stood. And under his feet was like the work of sapphire brick, and like the appearance of the firmament of heaven in purity.
 11 And of the chosen ones of Israel not even one was missing. And they appeared in the place of God, and they ate and drank.
 12 And the Lord said to Moses, "Come up to me on the mountain and stay there, and I will give you the stone tablets, the law and the commandments that I wrote to give them law."
 13 And Moses rose, and Joshua who stood beside him, and they went up into the mountain of God.
 14 And to the elders they said, "Stay still there until we return to you. And look, Aaron and Hur are with you. If any matter of judgment happens to anyone, let them go to them."
 15 And Moses and Joshua went up into the mountain, and the cloud covered the mountain.
 16 And the glory of God came down upon Mount Sinai, and the cloud covered it six days. And on the seventh day the Lord called Moses from the midst of the cloud.
 17 And the appearance of the glory of the Lord was like burning fire on the top of the mountain before the sons of Israel.
 18 And Moses entered into the midst of the cloud and went up into the mountain. And he was there on the mountain forty days and forty nights.

Chapter 25

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
 2 "Tell the sons of Israel to take contributions for me. From everyone whose heart deems it good, you shall take my contributions."
 3 And this is the contribution that you shall take from them: gold and silver and bronze,
 4 and blue and purple and doubled scarlet and spun fine linen and goat hair,
 5 and rams' skins dyed red and blue skins and incorruptible wood,
 7 and sardius stones and stones for engraving, for the ephod and the robe.
 8 And you shall make me a holy place, and I will be seen among you.
 9 And you shall make them for me according to all that I show you on the mountain: the pattern of the tent and the pattern of all its furnishings. So you shall make them.
 10 And you shall make an ark of testimony of incorruptible wood: two and a half cubits its length, one and a half cubits its breadth, and one and a half cubits its height.
 11 And you shall overlay it with pure gold. Inside and outside you shall overlay it, and you shall make for it twisted golden moldings all around.
 12 And you shall cast for it four golden rings and place them on its four sides, two rings on one side and two rings on the second side.
 13 And you shall make carrying-poles of incorruptible wood and overlay them with gold.
 14 And you shall put the poles into the rings on the sides of the ark, to carry the ark by them.
 15 The poles shall stay fixed in the rings of the ark.
 16 And you shall put into the ark the testimonies that I shall give you.
 17 And you shall make a propitiatory lid of pure gold: two and a half cubits its length, and one and a half cubits its breadth.
 18 And you shall make two cherubim of beaten gold, and you shall place them on both ends of the propitiatory.
 19 One cherub shall be made on this end and one cherub on the second end of the propitiatory. You shall make the two cherubim on the two ends.

20 And the cherubim shall be stretching out their wings above, overshadowing the propitiatory with their wings, and their faces shall be toward one another. The faces of the cherubim shall be toward the propitiatory.

21 And you shall place the propitiatory on top of the ark, and into the ark you shall put the testimonies that I shall give you.

22 And I will make myself known¹ to you there, and I will speak to you from above the propitiatory, from between the two cherubim that are on the ark of testimony, according to all that I shall command you for the sons of Israel.

23 And you shall make a table of pure gold: two cubits its length, one cubit its breadth, and one and a half cubits its height.

24 And you shall make for it twisted golden moldings all around.

25 And you shall make for it a rim a handbreadth around it, and you shall make a twisted molding around the rim.

26 And you shall make four golden rings and place the rings on the four parts of its feet.

27 The rings shall be under the rim, as holders for the carrying-poles, so that the table may be carried by them.

28 And you shall make the poles of incorruptible wood and overlay them with pure gold, and the table shall be carried by them.

29 And you shall make its dishes and censers and libation bowls and cups with which you shall pour offerings. You shall make them of pure gold.

30 And you shall set on the table loaves before my face continually.

31 And you shall make a lampstand of pure gold. Beaten work shall you make the lampstand: its shaft and its branches, its bowls and knobs and lilies shall be from it.

32 Six branches shall come out from its sides: three branches of the lampstand from one side and three branches of the lampstand from the second side.

33 Three almond-shaped bowls² on one branch, with knob and lily. So also on the six branches that come out from the lampstand.

34 And on the lampstand four almond-shaped bowls, with its knobs and its lilies.

35 A knob³ under two branches from it, and a knob under four branches from it, so also for the six branches that come out from the lampstand.

37 And you shall make its seven lamps. And you shall set up the lamps, and they shall shine from the one front.

38 And you shall make its snuffers and its trays of pure gold.

39 All these utensils shall be one talent of pure gold.

40 See that you make them according to the pattern shown you on the mountain.

25 And there shall be eight uprights, and their silver bases sixteen: two bases for one upright on its two sides and two bases for the next upright.

26 And you shall make bars of incorruptible wood, five for the uprights on one side of the tent,

27 and five bars for the uprights on the second side of the tent, and five bars for the hindmost uprights on the side of the tent

Chapter 28

1 And you, bring near to yourself² Aaron your brother and his sons with him from among the sons of Israel to serve as priests to me: Aaron and Nadab and Abihu and Eleazar and Ithamar, Aaron's sons.

2 And you shall make holy apparel for Aaron your brother, for honor and glory.

3 And you shall speak to all the wise in mind, whom I have filled with a spirit of perception, and they shall make Aaron's holy apparel for the sanctuary, in which he shall serve as priest to me.

4 And these are the garments they shall make: the breastpiece and the ephod and the robe and the fringed tunic³ and the turban and the sash. And they shall make holy garments for Aaron and his sons to serve as priests to me.

5 And they shall take the gold and the blue and the purple and the scarlet and the fine linen.

10 six names on one stone and the remaining six names on the second stone, according to their births.

11 As a stonecutter engraves a seal, so you shall engrave the two stones with the names of the sons of Israel.

12 And you shall place the two stones on the shoulders of the ephod. They are memorial stones⁵ for the sons of Israel. And Aaron shall bear the names of the sons of Israel before the Lord on his two shoulders as a memorial concerning them.

13 And you shall make settings of pure gold,

14 and two braided cords⁶ of pure gold, mixed in floral work, woven. And you shall place the woven cords on the settings by their shoulder-pieces at the front.

15 And you shall make a breastpiece of judgments, embroidered work. According to the pattern of the ephod you shall make it, of gold and blue and purple and spun scarlet and woven fine linen.

16 It shall be square and doubled, a span its length and a span its breadth.

19 And the third row: figure, agate, amethyst.

21 And the stones shall correspond to the names of the sons of Israel, twelve according to their names, engravings of seals, each according to its name for the twelve tribes.

22 And you shall make on the breastpiece braided cords, chainwork of pure gold.

29 And Aaron shall bear the names of the sons of Israel on the breastpiece of judgments upon his chest² when he goes into the holy place, as a memorial before God.

30 And you shall put on the breastpiece of judgments the Disclosure and the Truth³, and it shall be on Aaron's chest when he goes into the holy place before the Lord. And Aaron shall bear the judgments of the sons of Israel upon his chest before the Lord continually.

31 And you shall make the robe under the ephod all blue⁴.

32 And its opening shall be in the middle, with a woven border all around the opening, joined from the same work so that it may not tear.

33 And on the hem of the robe below you shall make pomegranates like blossoming pomegranate fruit, of blue and purple and spun scarlet and woven fine linen, on the hem of the robe all around; and golden pomegranates and bells all around between them.

35 And Aaron shall wear it when he ministers, and its sound shall be heard⁵ when he goes into the holy place before the Lord and when he comes out, so that he may not die.

36 And you shall make a pure gold plate, and engrave on it like the engraving of a seal, "Holiness of the Lord."

37 And you shall place it on a blue cord, and it shall be on the turban; it shall be on the front of the turban.

38 And it shall be on Aaron's forehead, and Aaron shall bear away the sins of the holy things, whatever holy gifts the sons of Israel sanctify. And it shall be on Aaron's forehead continually, acceptable for them before the Lord.⁶

39 And the fringes of the tunics shall be of fine linen, and you shall make a fine linen turban, and you shall make a sash, work of an embroiderer.

40 And for Aaron's sons you shall make tunics and sashes, and you shall make turbans for them, for honor and glory.

41 And you shall clothe Aaron your brother and his sons with him, and you shall anoint them and fill their hands and sanctify them, that they may serve as priests to me.

42 And you shall make for them linen undergarments to cover the nakedness of their flesh; they shall reach from loins to thighs.

43 And Aaron shall wear them, and his sons, whenever they enter the tent of testimony or approach the altar to minister in the holy place, so that they may not bring sin upon themselves⁷ and die. An everlasting statute for him and for his seed after him.

Chapter 29

1 And these are the things that you shall do for them to sanctify them, so that they may serve as priests to me: take one young bull from the herd and two flawless rams,

2 and unleavened loaves kneaded with oil and unleavened cakes anointed with oil. You shall make them of fine wheat flour.

3 And you shall put them on one basket, and you shall bring them on the basket, and the young bull and the two rams.

4 And Aaron and his sons you shall bring to the doors of the tent of testimony, and you shall wash them with water.

5 And taking the garments, you shall clothe Aaron your brother with the tunic and the robe and the ephod and the breastpiece, and you shall fasten the breastpiece to the ephod for him.

6 And you shall put the turban on his head, and you shall put the holy plate on the turban⁸.

7 And you shall take the anointing oil and pour it on his head and anoint him.

8 And you shall bring his sons and clothe them with tunics.

9 And you shall gird them with sashes and put the turbans on them, and they shall have a priesthood for me forever. And you shall fill the hands of Aaron and the hands of his sons.

10 And you shall bring the young bull to the doors of the tent of testimony, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the young bull before the Lord by the doors of the tent of testimony.

11 And you shall slaughter the young bull before the Lord by the doors of the tent of testimony.

12 And you shall take some of the blood of the young bull and put it on the horns of the altar with your finger, and all the rest of the blood you shall pour out beside the base of the altar.

13 And you shall take all the fat on the belly and the lobe of the liver and the two kidneys and the fat on them, and you shall place them on the altar.

14 But the flesh of the young bull and its skin and its dung you shall burn with fire outside the camp, for it is a sin offering.

15 And you shall take the one ram, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram.

17 And you shall divide the ram by its limbs, and you shall wash the inward parts and the feet with water, and place them upon the divided pieces with the head.

18 And you shall offer up the whole ram on the altar. It is a whole burnt offering to the Lord, a smell of sweet fragrance, an offering to the Lord.

⁶ T: Greek says braided cords mixed in floral work.

² T: Greek says breastpiece of judgments and chest here. Current wording preserves those priestly terms rather than harmonizing them to more familiar labels.

³ T: These are the Greek words the LXX uses here for the items later transliterated in English as Urim and Thummim. This draft keeps that Greek wording visible in semantic form rather than replacing it with the later transliteration.

⁷ T: Greek says they may not bring sin upon themselves and die.

19 And you shall take the second ram, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram.
 21 And you shall take some of the blood from the altar and some of the anointing oil, and you shall sprinkle it on Aaron and on his garment and on his sons and on the garments of his sons with him, and he shall be sanctified,² and his garment, and his sons, and the garments of his sons with him. And the blood of the ram you shall pour around the altar.³
 22 And you shall take from the ram its fat and the fat covering the belly and the lobe of the liver and the two kidneys and the fat on them and the right arm, for this is an ordination.³
 23 And one loaf of oil bread and one cake from the basket of unleavened bread set before the Lord.
 24 And you shall place all these on the hands of Aaron and on the hands of his sons, and you shall separate them as a separated offering before the Lord.
 25 And you shall take them from their hands and offer them on the altar upon the whole burnt offering, as a smell of sweet fragrance before the Lord. It is an offering to the Lord.
 26 And you shall take the breast from the ram of ordination that belongs to Aaron, and you shall separate it as a separated offering before the Lord, and it shall be your portion.
 27 And you shall sanctify the breast of the separated offering and the arm of the removal offering, that which was separated and that which was removed from the ram of ordination, from Aaron and from his sons.⁴
 28 And it shall be for Aaron and for his sons an everlasting statute from the sons of Israel. For this is a removal offering⁵, and it shall be a removal offering from the sons of Israel, from the sacrifices of salvation of the sons of Israel, a removal offering to the Lord.
 29 And the holy garments that are Aaron's shall belong to his sons after him, that they may be anointed in them and their hands filled in them.
 30 Seven days the priest who succeeds him from among his sons, who enters the tent of testimony to minister in the holy place, shall wear them.
 31 And you shall take the ram of ordination and boil its flesh in a holy place.
 32 And Aaron and his sons shall eat the flesh of the ram and the bread in the basket by the doors of the tent of testimony.
 33 They shall eat those things by which they were sanctified, to fill their hands, to sanctify them. But an outsider shall not eat of them, for they are holy.
 34 If any of the flesh of the sacrifice of ordination or of the bread remains until morning, you shall burn the remainder with fire. It shall not be eaten, for it is holy.
 35 And thus you shall do for Aaron and for his sons according to all that I commanded you. Seven days you shall fill their hands.
 36 And you shall offer the young bull of the sin offering on the day of purification, and you shall purify the altar when you sanctify it upon it, and you shall anoint it so as to sanctify it.
 37 Seven days you shall purify the altar and sanctify it, and the altar shall be most holy. Everyone touching the altar shall be sanctified.
 38 And these are the things that you shall offer upon the altar: two year-old flawless lambs each day upon the altar continually, a continual offering.
 39 The one lamb you shall offer in the morning, and the second lamb you shall offer at evening.
 40 And with the one lamb, a tenth of fine flour kneaded in a quarter-hin of beaten oil, and a drink offering, a quarter-hin of wine.
 41 And the second lamb you shall offer at evening. According to the morning sacrifice and according to its drink offering you shall offer it, as a smell of sweet fragrance, an offering to the Lord.
 42 A continual sacrifice throughout your generations at the doors of the tent of testimony before the Lord, where I will make myself known to you there so as to speak to you.
 43 And there I will appoint things for the sons of Israel, and I will be sanctified in my glory.
 44 And I will sanctify the tent of testimony and the altar, and Aaron and his sons I will sanctify to serve as priests to me.
 45 And I will be called upon among the sons of Israel, and I will be their God.
 46 And they shall know that I am the Lord their God, who brought them out of the land of Egypt to be called upon by them and to be their God.

Chapter 30

1 And you shall make an altar of incense of incorruptible wood, and you shall make it
 2 one cubit its length and one cubit its breadth. It shall be square, and its height two cubits. Its horns shall be from it.
 3 And you shall overlay it with pure gold, its top and its walls all around and its horns, and you shall make for it a twisted golden border all around.
 4 And you shall make two rings of pure gold under its twisted border. On its two sides you shall make them at the two corners, and they shall be holders for the poles, to carry it by them.
 5 And you shall make poles of incorruptible wood and overlay them with gold.
 6 And you shall place it opposite the curtain that is over the ark of testimonies, where I will make myself known to you there.
 7 And Aaron shall burn on it compounded fine incense every morning. When he trims the lamps, he shall burn incense on it.
 8 And when Aaron lights the lamps at evening, he shall burn incense on it, a continual incense before the Lord throughout their generations.
 9 And you shall not offer on it different incense, or an offering, or a sacrifice, and you shall not pour a drink offering on it.
 10 And Aaron shall make atonement upon its horns once each year. From the blood of purification for sins⁶, from the atonement, once each year he shall cleanse it throughout their generations. It is Holy of Holies to the Lord.
 11 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

¹ T: Greek says on the lobe of the ear and on the extremity of hand and foot.

12 If you take the numbering of the sons of Israel at their visitation⁷, each shall give a ransom for his life to the Lord, and there shall be no plague among them at their visitation.

13 And this is what they shall give, all who pass through the visitation: half the didrachm, according to the didrachm of the sanctuary. Twenty obols to the didrachm. But the half-didrachm is an offering to the Lord.

14 Everyone who passes through the visitation, from twenty years old and above, shall give the offering to the Lord.

15 The rich shall not add and the poor shall not lessen from the half-didrachm in giving the offering to the Lord, to make atonement for your lives.

16 And you shall take the silver of the offering² from the sons of Israel and give it for the work of the tent of testimony, and it shall be a memorial before the Lord for the sons of Israel, to make atonement for your lives.

17 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

18 Make a bronze laver and a bronze base for it for washing, and you shall place it between the tent of testimony and the altar, and you shall pour water into it.³

20 When they enter into the tent of testimony, they shall wash with water and not die; or when they approach the altar to minister and offer the whole burnt offerings to the Lord.

21 They shall wash their hands and feet with water when they enter into the tent of testimony, so that they may not die. And it shall be an everlasting statute for them, for him and for his generations after him.

22 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

23 And you, take sweet spices: five hundred shekels of choice-flowing myrrh, and half that amount, two hundred fifty of sweet cinnamon, and two hundred fifty of sweet calamus,

24 and five hundred shekels of cassia by the sanctuary shekel, and a hin of olive oil.

25 And you shall make it holy anointing oil, perfumed ointment, work of a perfumer. It shall be holy anointing oil.

26 And you shall anoint with it the tent of testimony and the ark of testimony,

27 and the lampstand and all its utensils and the altar of incense,

28 and the altar of whole burnt offerings and all its utensils and the table and all its utensils and the laver and its base.

29 And you shall sanctify them, and they shall be Holy of Holies. Everyone touching them shall be sanctified.

30 And you shall anoint Aaron and his sons and sanctify them to serve as priests to me.

31 And you shall speak to the sons of Israel, saying, "This shall be holy oil of anointing for you throughout your generations.

32 It shall not be poured on human flesh, and according to this composition you shall not make any for yourselves in the same way. It is holy, and it shall be holiness for you.

33 Whoever makes any like it, and whoever gives some of it to an outsider, shall be destroyed from his people."

34 And the Lord said to Moses, "Take for yourself sweet spices: stacte, onycha, sweet galbanum, and pure frankincense. There shall be equal amounts of each.

35 And they shall make from it incense, perfumed compound, work of a perfumer, mixed, pure, holy.

36 And you shall beat some of it very fine and place it before the testimonies in the tent of testimony, where I will make myself known to you there. It shall be Holy of Holies for you.

37 And incense according to this composition you shall not make for yourselves. It shall be a holy thing for you to the Lord.

Chapter 31

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 "Look, I have called by name Bezalel⁴ son of Uri⁵ son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah.

3 And I have filled him with a divine spirit of wisdom and understanding and knowledge in every work,

4 to devise and design, to work gold and silver and bronze, and blue and purple and spun scarlet and woven fine linen,

5 and in stone-cutting and woodwork, to work in every task.

6 And I, behold, have appointed with him Oholiab⁶ son of Ahisamach⁷, of the tribe of Dan. And to everyone wise in heart⁸ I have given understanding, and they shall make all that I commanded you:

7 the tent of testimony and the ark of the covenant and the propitiatory upon it and the furnishings of the tent,

8 and the altars and the table and all its utensils and the pure lampstand and all its utensils,

9 and the laver and its base,

10 and the ministering garments of Aaron and the garments of his sons to serve as priests to me,

11 and the anointing oil and the compounded incense of the holy place. According to all that I commanded you, they shall make them."

12 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

13 "And you, command the sons of Israel, saying, See that you keep my Sabbaths, for it is a sign between me and you throughout your generations, that you may know that I am the Lord who sanctifies you^{9,10}.

14 And you shall keep the Sabbaths, because this is holy to the Lord for you. The one profaning it shall certainly be put to death. Everyone who does work on it, that life shall be destroyed¹¹ from the midst of his people.

15 Six days you shall do works, but on the seventh day is Sabbath rest, holy to the Lord. Everyone who does work on the seventh day shall certainly be put to death.

16 And the sons of Israel shall keep the Sabbaths, to do them throughout their generations, an everlasting covenant.

17 Between me and the sons of Israel it is an everlasting sign, because in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, and on the seventh day he ceased and rested."

⁷ T: Greek repeats at their visitation.

18 And when he finished speaking to him on Mount Sinai, he gave Moses the two tablets of testimony, stone tablets written with the finger of God.

Chapter 32

1 And when the people saw that Moses had delayed to come down from the mountain, the people gathered against Aaron and said to him, "Rise up and make gods for us who will go before us. For as for this Moses, the man who brought us up from Egypt, we do not know what has happened to him."
2 And Aaron said to them, "Strip off the gold earrings in the ears of your wives and daughters and bring them to me."
3 And all the people stripped off the gold earrings in their ears and brought them to Aaron.
4 And he took them from their hands and formed them with the graving tool and made them a molten calf. And he said, "These are your gods, Israel, who brought you up from Egypt."
5 And Aaron, seeing, built an altar before it, and Aaron proclaimed, saying, "Tomorrow is a feast of the Lord."
6 And rising early the next day, he offered whole burnt offerings and brought sacrifices of salvation. And the people sat down to eat and drink and rose up to play.
7 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, "Go, hurry down from here, for your people whom you brought up from Egypt have acted lawlessly."
8 They have quickly turned aside¹ from the way that I commanded them. They have made for themselves a calf and have worshiped it and sacrificed to it and said, "These are your gods, Israel, who brought you up from Egypt."
10 And now let me alone², and in anger I will destroy them, and I will make you a great nation.
11 And Moses entreated before the Lord God and said, "Why, Lord, does angry wrath burn against your people whom you brought out from Egypt with great strength and with your high arm?"
12 Let not the Egyptians ever say, "He brought them out with evil intent, to kill them in the mountains and consume them from the earth." Stop from the anger of your wrath and be merciful concerning the evil³ of your people.
13 Remember Abraham and Isaac and Jacob⁴ your servants, to whom you swore by yourself and spoke to them, saying, "I will greatly multiply your seed like the stars of heaven in multitude, and all this land that I said I would give to your seed, and they shall possess it forever."
14 And the Lord was propitiated concerning the evil that he had said he would do to his people.
15 And Moses turned and went down from the mountain, and the two tablets of testimony were in his hands, stone tablets inscribed on both their sides, written on this side and that side.
16 And the tablets were God's work, and the writing was God's writing, engraved upon the tablets.
17 And Joshua, hearing the voice of the people crying out, said to Moses, "A sound of war is in the camp."
18 And he said, "It is not the sound of those shouting in strength, nor the sound of those shouting in rout, but the sound of those striking up wine-song that I hear."
19 And when he drew near to the camp, he saw the calf and the dances. And Moses, burning with anger, threw the two tablets from his hands and shattered them at the foot of the mountain.
20 And taking the calf that they had made, he burned it in fire and ground it fine and scattered it on the water and made the sons of Israel drink it.
21 And Moses said to Aaron, "What did this people do to you that you brought a great sin upon them⁵?"
22 And Aaron said to Moses, "Do not be angry, my lord. You know the rush of this people."
23 For they say to me, "Make gods for us who will go before us. For as for this Moses, the man who brought us up from Egypt, we do not know what has happened to him."
24 And I said to them, "Whoever has gold ornaments, strip them off." And they gave them to me, and I threw them into the fire, and out came this calf."
25 And Moses, seeing that the people were scattered, for Aaron had scattered them into mockery for their enemies,
26 stood at the gate of the camp and said, "Who is for the Lord? Let him come to me." Then all the sons of Levi gathered to him.
27 And he said to them, "Thus says the Lord God of Israel: Let each put his sword upon his thigh and go through and return from gate to gate through the camp, and let each kill his brother and each his neighbor⁶ and each his nearest one."
28 And the sons of Levi did as Moses spoke to them, and about three thousand men from the people fell that day.
29 And Moses said to them, "You have filled your hands today to the Lord, each one against his son or his brother, so that blessing may be given upon you."
30 And it came about on the next day that Moses said to the people, "You have sinned a great sin. And now I will go up to God, so that I may make atonement for your sin."
31 And Moses returned to the Lord and said, "I beg, Lord, this people has sinned a great sin, and they made for themselves gods of gold.
32 And now, if indeed you forgive their sin, forgive. But if not, blot me out from your book that you wrote."
33 And the Lord said to Moses, "Whoever has sinned before me, him I will blot out from my book.
34 And now go, descend, and lead this people to the place of which I spoke to you. Behold, my angel goes before your face. But in the day when I visit, I will bring their sin upon them."
35 And the Lord struck the people because of the making of the calf that Aaron made.

Chapter 33

1 And the Lord said to Moses, "Go, go up from here⁷, you and your people whom you brought out of Egypt, to the land that I swore to Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, saying, 'To your seed I will give it.'
2 And I will send my angel with you and drive out the Amorite and Hittite and Perizzite and Girgashite and Hivite and Jebusite.
3 And I will bring you into a land flowing with milk and honey, but I will certainly not go up with you, because you are a stiff-necked people, lest I consume you on the way."

⁶ T: Greek uses the standard neighbor term here. The line then adds another phrase for the one nearest to him, so the distinction is preserved.

⁷ T: Greek doubles the movement command. The translation keeps that force rather than reducing it to a single depart.

4 And when the people heard this evil word, they mourned in mourning clothes.
 5 And the Lord said to the sons of Israel, "You are a stiff-necked people. See that I do not bring another plague upon you and consume you. Now then strip off your glorious garments and ornaments¹, and I will show you what I will do to you."
 6 So the sons of Israel stripped off their ornaments and their array from Mount Horeb onward.
 7 And Moses took his tent² and pitched it outside the camp, far from the camp, and it was called Tent of Testimony. And everyone seeking the Lord went out to the tent outside the camp.
 8 And whenever Moses went into the tent outside the camp, all the people stood watching, each at the door of his tent, and they gazed after Moses until he entered the tent.
 9 And when Moses entered the tent, the pillar of the cloud came down and stood at the door of the tent, and he spoke with Moses.
 10 And all the people saw the pillar of the cloud standing at the door of the tent, and all the people stood and worshiped, each from the door of his tent.
 11 And the Lord spoke to Moses face to face, as if one would speak to his own friend. And he would return to the camp. But his servant Joshua son of Nun³, a young man, would not depart from the tent.
 12 And Moses said to the Lord, "See, you say to me, 'Lead up this people,' but you have not made clear to me whom you will send with me. Yet you have said to me, 'I know you above all, and you have favor with me.'
 13 If then I have found favor before you, reveal yourself to me plainly, that I may see you, so that I may continue finding favor before you, and so that I may know that this great nation is your people."
 14 And he said, "I myself will go before you and give you rest."
 15 And he said to him, "If you yourself do not go with us, do not lead me up from here.
 16 For how shall it truly become known that both I and your people have found favor with you, except when you go with us? Then both I and your people will be glorified beyond all the nations⁴ that are on the earth."
 17 And the Lord said to Moses, "I will also do this word that you have spoken, for you have found favor before me, and I know you above all."
 18 And he said, "Show me your own glory."⁵
 19 And he said, "I will pass before you in my glory⁶, and I will call on my name, 'Lord,' before you. And I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will pity whom I pity."
 20 And he said, "You cannot see my face, for no human shall see my face and live."
 21 And the Lord said, "Behold, a place is beside me. Stand upon the rock.
 22 And when my glory passes by, I will put you in a hollow of the rock and cover you with my hand until I pass by.
 23 And I will remove my hand, and then you shall see my back, but my face shall not be seen by you."

Chapter 34

1 And the Lord said to Moses, "Hew for yourself two stone tablets like the first, and come up to me on the mountain, and I will write on the tablets the words that were on the first tablets which you shattered⁷.
 2 And be ready for the morning, and you shall come up to Mount Sinai and stand there for me on the top of the mountain.
 3 And let no one come up with you, nor be seen on all the mountain, and let not the sheep and the oxen graze near that mountain."
 4 And he hewed two stone tablets like the first. And Moses, rising early, went up to Mount Sinai, just as the Lord had appointed him, and Moses took the two stone tablets.
 5 And the Lord came down in a cloud and stood with him there and called on the name of the Lord.
 6 And the Lord passed before his face and proclaimed, "The Lord God, compassionate and merciful, slow to anger and very merciful and true,
 7 keeping righteousness and showing mercy⁸ to thousands, taking away lawlessness and unrighteousness and sins, and he will not clear the guilty, bringing fathers' lawlessness upon children and upon children's children, to the third and fourth generation."
 8 And Moses hurried, bowed to the earth, and worshiped.
 9 And he said, "If I have found favor before you, let my Lord go with us, for the people is stiff-necked, and you will take away our sins and our lawlessnesses, and we will be yours."
 10 And the Lord said to Moses, "Behold, I establish a covenant for you. Before all your people I will do glorious things that have not been done in all the earth or in any nation, and all the people among whom you are shall see the works of the Lord, because the things that I will do for you are wonderful."⁹
 11 Pay attention to all that I command you. Behold, I drive out before you the Amorite and Canaanite and Hittite and Perizzite and Hivite and Girgashite and Jebusite.
 12 Pay attention to yourself, lest you make a covenant with those settled on the land into which you are entering, lest it become a stumbling block among you.
 13 You shall tear down their altars and break in pieces their pillars and cut down their groves, and the carved images of their gods you shall burn with fire.
 14 For you shall certainly not worship another god, for the Lord God, Jealous is his name; he is a jealous God.
 15 Lest you make a covenant with those settled on the land, and they prostitute themselves after their gods and sacrifice to their gods and invite you and you eat from their sacrifices,
 16 and you take some of their daughters for your sons and give some of your daughters to their sons, and your daughters prostitute themselves after their gods and make your sons prostitute themselves after their gods.
 17 And you shall not make molten gods for yourself.
 18 And you shall keep the feast of unleavened bread. Seven days you shall eat unleavened bread, as I commanded you, at the appointed time in the month of new grain¹⁰, for in the month of new grain you came out from Egypt."

19 Everything opening the womb is mine, every male firstborn of ox and every firstborn of sheep.
 20 And the firstborn of a beast of burden you shall redeem with a sheep. And if you do not redeem it, you shall pay a price. Every firstborn of your sons you shall redeem. You shall not appear before me empty.
 21 Six days you shall work, and on the seventh you shall rest; in seedtime and harvest you shall rest¹.
 22 And you shall keep for me the feast of weeks, the first of wheat harvest, and the feast of ingathering in the middle of the year.
 23 Three times in the year every male of yours shall appear before the Lord God of Israel.
 24 For when I cast out the nations before your face and enlarge your borders, no one shall desire your land² when you go up to appear before the Lord your God three times in the year.
 25 You shall not slaughter the blood of my offerings with leaven, and the sacrifice of Passover shall not lie down until morning.
 26 The first produce of your land you shall place in the house of the Lord your God. You shall not offer a lamb in its mother's milk.
 27 And the Lord said to Moses, "Write these words for yourself, for on these words I have established a covenant with you and with Israel."
 28 And Moses was there before the Lord forty days and forty nights. He did not eat bread and did not drink water. And he wrote on the tablets the words of the covenant, the ten sayings.
 29 And when Moses came down from the mountain, the two tablets were in Moses' hands. And as he came down from the mountain, Moses did not know that the appearance of the skin of his face had been glorified when God spoke with him.
 30 And Aaron and all the elders of Israel saw Moses, and the appearance of the skin of his face had been glorified, and they feared to come near him.
 31 And Moses called them, and Aaron and all the rulers of the congregation turned back to him, and Moses spoke to them.
 32 And after these things all the sons of Israel came near to him, and he commanded them all that the Lord had spoken to him on Mount Sinai.
 33 And when he ceased speaking to them, he put a veil on his face.
 34 Whenever Moses went in before the Lord to speak with him, he removed the veil until he came out, and coming out he spoke to all the sons of Israel whatever the Lord had commanded him.
 35 And the sons of Israel saw the face of Moses, that it had been glorified, and Moses put the veil on his face until he went in to speak with him.

Chapter 35

1 And Moses gathered all the congregation of the sons of Israel and said to them, "These are the words that the Lord spoke, to do them.
 2 Six days you shall do works, but on the seventh day there shall be rest, holy Sabbath rest to the Lord. Everyone doing work on it shall die.
 3 You shall not burn fire in any of your dwellings on the day of the Sabbaths. I am the Lord."
 4 And Moses said to all the congregation of the sons of Israel, saying, "This is the word that the Lord commanded, saying,
 5 Take from yourselves a contribution to the Lord. Everyone accepting it in heart shall bring the Lord's first-contributions: gold, silver, bronze,
 6 blue, purple, doubled scarlet spun, woven fine linen, and goat hair,
 7 and rams' skins dyed red and blue skins and incorruptible wood,
 9 and sardius stones and stones for engraving, for the ephod and the robe.
 10 And every wise-hearted person among you³, let him come and make all that the Lord has commanded:
 11 the tent and the hangings and the coverings and the rings and the bars and the posts,
 12 and the ark of testimony and its poles and its propitiatory⁴ and the curtain,
 13 and the table and all its utensils,
 14 and the lampstand of light and all its utensils,
 16 and the altar and all its utensils,
 19 and the holy garments of Aaron the priest and the garments in which they shall minister, and the tunics for Aaron's sons for the priesthood, and the anointing oil and the compounded incense."
 20 And all the congregation of the sons of Israel went out from Moses⁵.
 21 And each one whose heart brought him, and each one to whom it seemed good in soul⁶, brought the Lord's contribution for all the works of the tent of testimony and for all its services and for all the holy garments.
 22 And the men brought from among the women—everyone to whom it seemed good in mind—they brought seals and earrings and rings and necklaces and bracelets, every gold vessel. And all who brought gold contributions to the Lord brought them.⁷
 23 And everyone with whom fine linen and blue skins and red-dyed rams' skins were found, brought them.
 24 And everyone offering a silver or bronze contribution brought the Lord's contributions, and those with whom incorruptible wood was found for all the works of preparation brought it.
 25 And every woman wise in mind spun with her hands and brought what was spun: the blue and the purple and the scarlet and the fine linen.
 26 And all the women whose mind moved them in wisdom spun the goat hair.
 27 And the rulers brought the sardius stones and the stones of filling for the ephod and for the breastpiece,
 28 and the spices and the oil of anointing and the compounded incense.
 29 Every man and woman whose mind moved them to come in and do all the works that the Lord had commanded to be done through Moses—the sons of Israel brought a contribution to the Lord.⁸
 30 And Moses said to the sons of Israel, "Look, God has called by name Bezalel son of Uri son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah,
 31 and has filled him with a divine spirit of wisdom and understanding and knowledge of all things,
 32 to devise skillfully in all works of craftsmanship, to make gold and silver and bronze,

2 And Moses called Bezalel and Oholiab and all those having wisdom, to whom God gave knowledge in heart, and all who willingly wanted to come near to the works to perform them.
3 And they received from Moses all the contributions that the sons of Israel had brought for all the works of the holy place to do them. And they were still receiving³ what was brought by those bringing it each morning.
4 And all the wise men doing the works of the holy place came, each from his own work that he was doing,
5 and they said to Moses, "The people are bringing more than enough⁴ for the works that the Lord commanded to be done."
6 And Moses commanded, and proclamation was made in the camp, saying, "Let neither man nor woman work any longer for the first-contributions of the holy place." So the people were restrained from bringing more.⁵

26 And they made two gold rings and placed them on the two wings at the edge of the breastpiece, on the inner edge of the back of the ephod.
27 And they made two gold rings and placed them on both shoulders of the ephod beneath it, at the front, by the joining above the woven band of the ephod.
28 And he fastened the breastpiece from its rings to the rings of the ephod, joined with blue woven cord to the woven band of the ephod, so that the breastpiece might not loosen from the ephod, as the Lord commanded Moses.¹⁹
29 And they made the robe under the ephod, woven work, all blue.
30 And the opening of the robe in the middle was woven close together, with a border around the opening, not to be torn.
31 And on the hem of the robe below they made pomegranates like blossoming pomegranate fruit, of blue and purple and spun scarlet and woven fine linen.²⁰
32 And they made gold bells and placed the bells on the hem of the robe all around between the pomegranates,
33 a gold bell and a pomegranate on the hem of the robe all around, for ministering, as the Lord commanded Moses.
34 And they made woven fine linen tunics for Aaron and his sons,
35 and the turbans of fine linen and the headdress of fine linen and the undergarments of woven fine linen,

36 And whenever the cloud went up from the tent, the sons of Israel set out with all their baggage.
37 But if the cloud did not go up, they did not set out until the day the cloud went up.
38 For the cloud was upon the tent by day, and fire upon it by night, before all Israel in all their journeys.

Leviticus

Chapter 1

- 1 And the Lord called Moses and spoke to him from the tent of testimony¹, saying,
- 2 Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, If a person from among you brings gifts to the Lord, you shall bring your gifts from the livestock, from the cattle and from the sheep.
- 3 If his gift is a whole burnt offering from the cattle, he shall bring a male without blemish to the entrance of the tent of testimony. He shall bring it as accepted before the Lord.
- 4 And he shall lay his hand on the head of the offering². It shall be accepted for him, to make atonement for him.
- 5 And they shall slaughter the calf before the Lord, and the sons of Aaron, the priests, shall bring the blood and pour the blood³ around on the altar, the one at the entrance of the tent of testimony.
- 6 And after flaying the whole burnt offering, they shall divide it by limbs.
- 7 And the sons of Aaron, the priests, shall place fire on the altar and pile wood upon the fire.
- 8 And the sons of Aaron, the priests, shall pile the divided pieces and the head and the fat upon the wood on the fire that is on the altar.
- 9 And they shall wash the entrails and the feet with water, and the priests shall place everything upon the altar. It is an offering, a sacrifice, an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.
- 10 And if his gift to the Lord is from the sheep, from the lambs or from the young goats, for a whole burnt offering, he shall bring it, a male without blemish, and he shall lay his hand on its head.
- 11 And they shall slaughter it on the side of the altar toward the north before the Lord, and the sons of Aaron, the priests, shall pour its blood around on the altar.

- 13 And they shall wash the entrails and the feet with water, and the priest shall bring everything and place it upon the altar. It is an offering, a sacrifice, an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.
- 14 And if he brings from the birds an offering as a gift to the Lord, he shall bring his gift from the turtledoves or from the pigeons.
- 15 And the priest shall bring it to the altar and wring off its head and place it on the altar, and he shall drain out the blood against the base of the altar.
- 16 And he shall remove the crop with its feathers and throw it beside the altar on the east, to the place of ashes.
- 17 And he shall split it open by the wings⁴ and shall not divide it, and the priest shall place it on the altar, on the wood on the fire. It is an offering, a sacrifice, an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.

Chapter 2

- 1 And if a person brings a sacrifice as a gift to the Lord, his gift shall be fine flour, and he shall pour oil upon it and place frankincense upon it. It is a sacrifice.
- 2 And he shall bring it to the sons of Aaron, the priests, and taking from it a full handful⁵ of the fine flour with the oil and all its frankincense, the priest shall place its memorial portion on the altar, a sacrifice, an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.
- 3 And what remains from the sacrifice shall belong to Aaron and his sons, a holy of holies from the sacrifices of the Lord.
- 4 And if he brings as a gift a sacrifice baked in an oven, as a gift to the Lord, it shall be unleavened loaves of fine flour mixed with oil and unleavened wafers anointed with oil.
- 5 And if your gift is a sacrifice from a griddle, it shall be fine flour mixed with oil, unleavened.
- 6 And you shall crumble them into pieces and pour oil upon them. It is a sacrifice to the Lord.
- 7 And if your gift is a sacrifice from a hearth-pan, it shall be made from fine flour with oil.
- 8 And he shall bring to the Lord the sacrifice that he makes from these, and he shall bring it to the priest and bring it near to the altar.
- 9 And the priest shall remove from the sacrifice its memorial portion and place it on the altar, an offering, an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.
- 10 And what remains from the sacrifice shall belong to Aaron and his sons, a holy of holies from the offerings of the Lord.
- 11 Every sacrifice that you bring to the Lord you shall not make leavened, for no leaven and no honey shall you bring from it as an offering to the Lord.
- 12 You shall bring them to the Lord as a gift of firstfruits, but upon the altar they shall not be offered up as an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.
- 13 And every gift of your sacrifice shall be salted with salt. You shall not let the salt of the covenant of the Lord⁶ cease from your sacrifices. On every gift of yours you shall bring salt to the Lord your God.
- 14 And if you bring a sacrifice of first produce to the Lord, you shall bring fresh roasted grain, crushed from the tender growth, for the sacrifice of first produce.
- 15 And you shall pour oil upon it and place frankincense upon it. It is a sacrifice.
- 16 And the priest shall offer up its memorial portion from the crushed grain with the oil and all its frankincense. It is an offering to the Lord.

Chapter 3

- 1 And if his gift to the Lord is a sacrifice of salvation⁷, if he brings it from the cattle, whether male or female, he shall bring it without blemish before the Lord.
- 2 And he shall lay his hands on the head of the gift and slaughter it beside the doors of the tent of testimony, and the sons of Aaron, the priests, shall pour the blood around on the altar of whole burnt offerings.

3 And from the sacrifice of salvation they shall bring an offering to the Lord: the fat that covers the belly and all the fat that is on the belly,

4 and the two kidneys and the fat that is on them, that on the thighs, and he shall remove the lobe above the liver with the kidneys.

5 And the sons of Aaron, the priests, shall offer them on the altar upon the whole burnt offerings, upon the wood on the fire on the altar, an offering, an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.

6 And if his gift from the sheep is a sacrifice of salvation to the Lord, male or female, he shall bring it without blemish.

7 If he brings a lamb as his gift, he shall bring it before the Lord.

8 And he shall lay his hands on the head of his gift and slaughter it beside the doors of the tent of testimony, and the sons of Aaron, the priests, shall pour the blood around on the altar.

9 And from the sacrifice of salvation he shall bring an offering to God: the fat and the unblemished hind-part¹, he shall remove it with the lower back, and the fat of the belly,

10 and both kidneys and the fat on them, that on the thighs, and removing the lobe above the liver with the kidneys,

11 the priest shall offer it on the altar, an aroma of sweet fragrance, an offering to the Lord.

12 And if his gift is from the goats, then he shall bring it before the Lord.

13 And he shall lay his hands on its head, and they shall slaughter it before the Lord beside the doors of the tent of testimony, and the sons of Aaron, the priests, shall pour its blood around on the altar.

14 And he shall bring from it an offering to the Lord: the fat that covers the belly and all the fat that is on the belly,

15 and both kidneys and all the fat that is on them, that on the thighs, and he shall remove the lobe of the liver with the kidneys.

16 And the priest shall offer it on the altar, an offering, an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord. All the fat belongs to the Lord.

17 It is a statute forever throughout your generations in all your dwellings. You shall eat no fat and no blood.

Chapter 4

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, If a person sins unintentionally² before the Lord in any of the commands of the Lord about things that ought not to be done, and does one of them,

3 if the anointed high priest sins so as to make the people sin³, then he shall bring for his sin that he sinned a calf from the cattle, without blemish, to the Lord for his sin.

4 And he shall bring the calf to the entrance of the tent of testimony before the Lord, and he shall lay his hand on the head of the calf before the Lord and slaughter the calf before the Lord.

5 And the anointed priest whose hands have been consecrated shall take some of the blood of the calf and bring it into the tent of testimony.

6 And the priest shall dip his finger into the blood and sprinkle some of the blood seven times before the Lord, before the holy curtain.

7 And the priest shall place some of the blood of the calf on the horns of the altar of the blended incense that is before the Lord, which is in the tent of testimony, and he shall pour out all the blood of the calf at the base of the altar of whole burnt offerings, which is by the doors of the tent of testimony.⁴

8 And he shall remove from it all the fat of the calf for sin⁵: the fat that covers the inward parts and all the fat that is on the inward parts,

9 and the two kidneys and the fat that is on them, that on the thighs, and he shall remove the lobe above the liver with the kidneys,

10 just as it is removed from the calf of the sacrifice of salvation. And the priest shall offer it on the altar of offering.

11 And the skin of the calf and all its flesh, with the head and the extremities and the belly and the dung,

12 they shall carry out the whole calf outside the camp to a clean place, where they pour out the ashes, and they shall burn it on wood with fire. It shall be burned where the ashes are poured out.

13 And if the whole assembly of Israel unintentionally fails to notice, and the matter escapes the eyes of the assembly, and they do one of all the commands of the Lord that must not be done, and become guilty,⁶

14 and the sin that they sinned in it becomes known to them, then the assembly shall bring a calf from the cattle, without blemish, for sin, and they shall bring it to the doors of the tent of testimony.

15 And the elders of the assembly shall lay their hands on the head of the calf before the Lord, and they shall slaughter the calf before the Lord.

16 And the anointed priest shall bring some of the blood of the calf into the tent of testimony.

17 And the priest shall dip his finger in some of the blood of the calf and sprinkle it seven times before the Lord, in front of the holy curtain.

18 And the priest shall place some of the blood on the horns of the altar of the blended incense⁷, which is before the Lord, which is in the tent of testimony, and he shall pour out all the blood at the base of the altar of offerings, the one by the door of the tent of testimony.

19 And he shall remove all the fat from it and offer it on the altar.

20 And he shall do to the calf just as he did to the calf for sin; so shall it be done. And the priest shall make atonement for them, and it shall be forgiven them.

21 And they shall carry out the whole calf outside the camp and burn the calf as they burned the earlier calf. It is the sin-offering of the assembly.

22 And if a ruler sins and does one of all the commands of the Lord their God that must not be done, unintentionally, and sins and becomes guilty,

23 and the sin that he sinned becomes known to him, then he shall bring his gift, a he-goat from the goats, a male without blemish.

24 And he shall lay his hand on the head of the he-goat, and they shall slaughter it in the place where they slaughter the whole burnt offerings before the Lord. It is a sin-offering.

25 And the priest shall place some of the blood of the sin-offering with his finger on the horns of the altar of whole burnt offerings¹, and he shall pour out all its blood at the base of the altar of whole burnt offerings.

26 And he shall offer all its fat on the altar, just like the fat of the sacrifice of salvation. And the priest shall make atonement for him for his sin, and it shall be forgiven him.

27 And if one person from the people of the land sins unintentionally by doing one of all the commands of the Lord that must not be done, and becomes guilty,

28 and the sin that he sinned becomes known to him, then he shall bring a female goat from the goats, without blemish, for the sin that he sinned.

29 And he shall lay his hand on the head of his sin-offering, and they shall slaughter the female goat of the sin-offering in the place where they slaughter the whole burnt offerings.

30 And the priest shall take some of its blood with his finger and place it on the horns of the altar of whole burnt offerings, and he shall pour out all its blood at the base of the altar.

31 And he shall remove all the fat, just as the fat is removed from the sacrifice of salvation², and the priest shall offer it on the altar as an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord. And the priest shall make atonement for him, and it shall be forgiven him.³

32 And if he brings a sheep as his gift for sin, he shall bring a female without blemish⁴.

33 And he shall lay his hand on the head of the sin-offering, and they shall slaughter it in the place where they slaughter the whole burnt offerings.

34 And the priest shall take some of the blood of the sin-offering with his finger and place it on the horns of the altar of whole burnt offering, and he shall pour out all its blood at the base of the altar of whole burnt offering⁵.

35 And he shall remove all its fat, just as the fat of a sheep is removed from the sacrifice of salvation, and the priest shall place it on the altar, on the Lord's whole burnt offering. And the priest shall make atonement for him for the sin that he sinned, and it shall be forgiven him.

Chapter 5

1 And if a person sins and hears a sworn charge, and he is a witness or has seen or knows, if he does not report it, he shall bear the sin.

2 Or if a person touches any unclean thing, whether the carcass of an unclean wild beast⁶, or carcasses of unclean abominations, or carcasses of unclean cattle,

3 or touches human uncleanness, any uncleanness by which, when touching it, he would be defiled, and it escapes him, but afterward he knows and becomes guilty,

4 or if a person swears, rashly speaking with the lips⁷, to do evil or to do good, according to whatever a man may utter with an oath, and it escapes him before his eyes, and later he knows and sins in one of these things,

5 then he shall confess the sin in which he has sinned.

6 And he shall bring to the Lord for what he became guilty in⁸, for the sin that he sinned, a female from the sheep, a ewe lamb or a female goat, for sin, and the priest shall make atonement for him for his sin, and it shall be forgiven him.

7 And if his hand is not strong enough⁹ for a sheep, he shall bring for his sin that he sinned two turtledoves or two young pigeons to the Lord, one for sin and one for a whole burnt offering.

8 And he shall bring them to the priest, and the priest shall bring the one for sin first, and the priest shall pinch off its head from the neck, but shall not divide it.

9 And he shall sprinkle some of the blood of the one for sin on the wall of the altar, and the rest of the blood he shall drain out at the base of the altar, for it is a sin-offering.

10 And he shall make the second one a whole burnt offering, as is proper¹⁰, and the priest shall make atonement for him for his sin that he sinned, and it shall be forgiven him.

11 And if his hand cannot find a pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons, then he shall bring as his gift for the sin that he sinned¹¹ a tenth of an ephah of fine flour for sin. He shall not pour oil on it, nor place frankincense on it, because it is a sin-offering.

12 And he shall bring it to the priest, and the priest, taking from it a full handful¹², its memorial portion, shall place it on the altar of whole burnt offerings to the Lord. It is a sin-offering.

13 And the priest shall make atonement for him for the sin that he sinned in one of these things, and it shall be forgiven him. And what remains shall belong to the priest, like the sacrifice of fine flour.

14 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

15 If a person¹³ is overtaken by forgetfulness¹⁴ and sins unintentionally in the holy things of the Lord, then he shall bring for his trespass to the Lord a ram without blemish from the sheep, valued in silver shekels by the sanctuary shekel, for the thing in which he trespassed.

16 And what he sinned from the holy things he shall repay¹⁵, and he shall add a fifth to it and give it to the priest. And the priest shall make atonement for him with the ram of trespass, and it shall be forgiven him.

17 And if a person sins and does one of all the commands of the Lord that must not be done, and he does not know it, yet becomes guilty and bears the sin,

18 then he shall bring a ram without blemish from the sheep, valued in silver, for trespass to the priest. And the priest shall make atonement for him for his ignorance that he committed in ignorance¹, and he did not know it, and it shall be forgiven him.

19 For by guilt he has been guilty before the Lord.
20 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
21 If a person sins and deliberately overlooks the commands of the Lord and lies about matters concerning his neighbor, in a deposit or in a partnership or in a robbery, or has wronged his neighbor in something,
22 or has found something lost and lies about it and swears unjustly concerning any one of all the things that a person may do so as to sin in them,
23 then it shall be, whenever he sins and becomes guilty, that he shall restore the plunder that he seized, or the wrong that he committed, or the deposit entrusted to him, or the lost thing that he found,
24 from any matter about which he swore unjustly, he shall repay its principal and add a fifth to it. He shall give it to the one to whom it belongs on the day he is convicted.
25 And for his trespass he shall bring to the Lord a ram from the sheep, without blemish, valued for the matter in which he trespassed.
26 And the priest shall make atonement for him before the Lord, and it shall be forgiven him for any one of all the things that he did and trespassed in.

Chapter 6

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
2 Charge Aaron and his sons, saying, This is the law of the whole burnt offering²: this is the whole burnt offering on its burning upon the altar all night until morning, and the fire of the altar shall burn on it; it shall not be extinguished.
3 And the priest shall put on a linen tunic, and he shall put linen undergarments around his body, and he shall remove the ashes that the fire consumed from the whole burnt offering on the altar, and he shall place them beside the altar.³
4 And he shall take off his garment and put on another garment, and he shall carry the ashes outside the camp⁴ to a clean place.
5 And the fire on the altar⁵ shall burn upon it and shall not be extinguished, and the priest shall burn wood on it every morning and stack the whole burnt offering upon it, and he shall place on it the fat of the sacrifice of salvation.
6 And fire shall burn continually on the altar; it shall not be extinguished.
7 This is the law of the sacrifice that the sons of Aaron shall bring before the Lord, before the altar.
8 And he shall take from it with his handful from the fine flour of the sacrifice with its oil and all the frankincense that is on the sacrifice, and he shall offer on the altar an offering, an aroma of sweet fragrance, its memorial to the Lord⁶.
9 And Aaron and his sons shall eat what is left of it⁷. It shall be eaten unleavened in a holy place; they shall eat it in the court of the tent of testimony.
10 It shall not be baked leavened⁸. I have given it to them as a portion from the Lord's offerings. It is holy of holies, like that for sin and like that for trespass.
11 Every male among the priests shall eat it. It is an everlasting statute throughout your generations from the Lord's offerings. Everyone who touches them shall be sanctified.⁹
12 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
13 This is the gift of Aaron and of his sons that they shall bring to the Lord on the day when he anoints him: a tenth of an ephah of fine flour for a continual sacrifice, half of it in the morning and half of it in the evening.¹⁰
14 It shall be made on a griddle with oil. He shall bring it well mixed, a sacrifice rolled out in pieces¹¹, an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.
15 The anointed priest in his place from among his sons shall make it. It is an everlasting statute. It shall all be completely offered¹².
16 And every sacrifice of a priest shall be wholly burned and shall not be eaten.
17 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
18 Speak to Aaron and to his sons, saying, This is the law of the thing for sin¹³: in the place where they slaughter the whole burnt offering, they shall slaughter the things for sin before the Lord. It is holy of holies.
19 The priest who offers it shall eat it. It shall be eaten in a holy place, in the court of the tent of testimony.¹⁴
20 Everyone touching its flesh¹⁵ shall be sanctified, and whatever garment is sprinkled with some of its blood, you shall wash what was sprinkled on it in a holy place.
21 And the earthen vessel in which it was boiled shall be broken. And if it was boiled in a bronze vessel, he shall scour it and rinse it with water.
22 Every male among the priests shall eat it. It is holy of holies to the Lord.
23 And every thing for sin, from whose blood some is brought into the tent of testimony to make atonement in the holy place, shall not be eaten. It shall be burned with fire.

Chapter 7

2 In the place where they slaughter the whole burnt offering, they shall slaughter the ram of trespass before the Lord, and he shall pour the blood around on the altar.

5 And the priest shall offer them on the altar, an offering to the Lord. It is for trespass.
6 Every male among the priests shall eat them. They shall eat them in a holy place. It is holy of holies¹.
7 As the thing for sin, so also the thing for trespass. There is one law for them. The priest who makes atonement with it, it shall belong to him.
8 And the priest who offers a person's whole burnt offering, the skin of the whole burnt offering that he offers shall belong to him.
9 And every sacrifice that is prepared in the oven, and everything that is prepared on the hearth-pan or on the griddle, shall belong to the priest who offers it.
10 And every sacrifice mixed with oil and not mixed with oil shall belong equally to all the sons of Aaron.
11 This is the law of the sacrifice of salvation that they shall bring to the Lord.
12 If he brings it for praise, then on the sacrifice of praise² he shall bring loaves from fine flour mixed with oil, unleavened wafers anointed with oil, and fine flour well mixed with oil.
13 With leavened loaves he shall bring his gifts with the sacrifice of praise of salvation.
14 And he shall bring one from all his gifts as a contribution to the Lord. It shall belong to the priest who pours out the blood of the sacrifice of salvation.
15 And the flesh of the sacrifice of praise of salvation³ shall belong to him, and it shall be eaten on the day it is offered. They shall not leave any of it until morning.
16 And if his gift is a vow or a voluntary offering, on the day when he offers his sacrifice it shall be eaten, and on the next day,
17 and what remains from the flesh of the sacrifice until the third day shall be burned with fire.
18 And if anyone eats from the flesh on the third day, it shall not be accepted for the one who offers it. It shall not be reckoned to him. It is pollution⁴, and the person who eats from it shall bear the sin.
19 And flesh that touches any unclean thing shall not be eaten. It shall be burned with fire. Every clean person may eat flesh.
20 And the person who eats from the flesh of the sacrifice of salvation, which belongs to the Lord, while his uncleanness is upon him, that person shall perish from his people.
21 And if a person touches any unclean thing, whether human uncleanness or unclean quadrupeds or any unclean abomination, and eats from the flesh of the sacrifice of salvation, which belongs to the Lord, that person shall perish from his people⁵.
22 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
23 Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, You shall eat no fat of cattle or sheep or goats.
24 And the fat of animals that died on their own or were torn by beasts may be used for any work, but for eating it shall not be eaten.
25 Everyone who eats fat from the animals from which they bring an offering to the Lord, that person shall perish from his people.
26 You shall eat no blood in all your dwellings, whether from birds or from cattle.
27 Every person who eats blood, that person shall perish from his people.
28 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
29 And you shall speak to the sons of Israel, saying, The one who brings a sacrifice of salvation to the Lord shall bring his gift to the Lord from the sacrifice of salvation.
30 His hands shall bring the Lord's offerings: the fat on the breast and the lobe of the liver he shall bring them to set them as a gift before the Lord.
31 And the priest shall offer the fat on the altar, and the breast shall belong to Aaron and to his sons.
32 And you shall give the right arm⁶ as a contribution to the priest from your sacrifices of salvation.
33 The one from among the sons of Aaron who offers the blood of the sacrifice of salvation and the fat, to him the right arm shall belong as a portion.
34 For I have taken the breast of the presentation and the arm of the contribution from the sons of Israel, from your sacrifices of salvation, and I have given them to Aaron the priest and to his sons as an everlasting statute from the sons of Israel.⁷
35 This is the anointing of Aaron and the anointing of his sons from the Lord's offerings, on the day when he brought them to serve as priests to the Lord,
36 just as the Lord commanded to give to them on the day he anointed them, from the sons of Israel, an everlasting statute throughout their generations.
37 This is the law of the whole burnt offerings and of sacrifice and of the thing for sin and of trespass and of consecration and of the sacrifice of salvation,
38 just as the Lord commanded Moses on Mount Sinai, on the day when he commanded the sons of Israel to bring their gifts before the Lord in the wilderness of Sinai.

Chapter 8

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
2 Take Aaron and his sons, and his garments, and the anointing oil, and the calf for sin, and the two rams, and the basket of unleavened bread,
3 and assemble all the congregation at the door of the tent of testimony.
4 And Moses did just as the Lord commanded him, and he assembled the congregation at the door of the tent of testimony.
5 And Moses said to the congregation, This is the word that the Lord commanded to be done.
6 And Moses brought Aaron and his sons near and washed them with water.
7 And he put the tunic on him, and girded him with the sash, and clothed him with the robe, and put the ephod on him, and girded him according to the making of the ephod, and bound him in it.

8 And he put the breastpiece on it, and on the breastpiece he put the Disclosure and the Truth⁸.
 9 And he put the turban on his head, and on the turban, at the front of it, he put the golden plate, the sanctified holy thing, just as the Lord commanded Moses.
 10 And Moses took some of the anointing oil.
 11 And he sprinkled from it on the altar seven times, and anointed the altar and sanctified it, and all its utensils, and the laver and its base, and sanctified them. And he anointed the tent and everything in it, and sanctified it.
 12 And Moses poured some of the anointing oil on Aaron's head and anointed him and sanctified him.
 13 And Moses brought Aaron's sons near and clothed them with tunics and girded them with sashes and put caps on them, just as the Lord commanded Moses.
 14 And Moses brought near the calf for sin, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the calf for sin.
 15 And he slaughtered it, and Moses took some of the blood and put it on the horns of the altar all around with his finger, and purified the altar², and poured out the blood at the base of the altar, and sanctified it, to make atonement on it.
 16 And Moses took all the fat on the inward parts, and the lobe above the liver, and both kidneys, and the fat on them, and Moses offered them on the altar.
 17 And the calf and its hide and its flesh and its dung he burned with fire outside the camp, just as the Lord commanded Moses.
 18 And Moses brought near the ram for whole burnt offering³, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram.
 19 And Moses slaughtered the ram and poured the blood around on the altar.
 20 And he cut the ram into limbs⁴, and Moses offered the head and the limbs and the fat.
 21 And he washed the belly and the feet with water, and Moses offered the whole ram on the altar. It was a whole burnt offering for an aroma of sweet fragrance, an offering to the Lord, just as the Lord commanded Moses.⁵
 22 And Moses brought near the second ram, the ram of completion⁶, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram.
 24 And Moses brought Aaron's sons near, and Moses put some of the blood on the lobes of their right ears⁸ and on the tips of their right hands and on the tips of their right feet, and Moses poured the blood around on the altar.
 25 And he took the fat and the loin⁹ and the fat on the belly and the lobe of the liver and the two kidneys and the fat on them and the right arm.
 26 And from the basket of completion that was before the Lord¹⁰ he took one unleavened loaf and one loaf of oil and one wafer, and placed them on the fat and the right arm.
 27 And he placed all of them on Aaron's hands and on the hands of his sons, and offered them as a contribution before the Lord.
 28 And Moses took them from their hands and offered them on the altar, on the whole burnt offering of completion. It is an aroma of sweet fragrance, an offering to the Lord.
 29 And Moses, taking the breast, presented it before the Lord¹¹ from the ram of completion, and it became Moses' portion, just as the Lord commanded Moses.
 30 And Moses took some of the anointing oil and some of the blood that was on the altar and sprinkled it on Aaron and on his garments and on his sons and on the garments of his sons with him, and he sanctified Aaron and his garments and his sons and the garments of his sons with him¹².
 31 And Moses said to Aaron and to his sons, Boil the flesh in the court of the tent of testimony, in a holy place, and there eat it, and the loaves in the basket of completion, just as it has been ordered to me, saying, Aaron and his sons shall eat them.¹³
 32 And what remains of the flesh and of the loaves shall be burned with fire.
 33 And you shall not go out from the door of the tent of testimony for seven days, until the day of your completion is fulfilled, for seven days he will consecrate your hands.
 34 Just as he did on this day, the Lord commanded to do, so as to make atonement for you.
 35 And at the door of the tent of testimony you shall sit seven days, day and night, and you shall keep the Lord's charges, so that you may not die. For thus the Lord God commanded me.
 36 And Aaron and his sons did all the words that the Lord commanded Moses.

Chapter 9

1 And it happened on the eighth day that Moses called Aaron and his sons and the elders of Israel.
 2 And Moses said to Aaron, Take for yourself a calf from the cattle for sin and a ram for whole burnt offering, both without blemish, and bring them before the Lord.
 3 And to the elders of Israel speak, saying, Take one he-goat from the goats for sin, and a calf and a year-old lamb, both without blemish, for whole burnt offering,
 4 and a calf and a ram for a sacrifice of salvation before the Lord, and fine flour mixed with oil, because today the Lord will appear among you.
 5 And they took what Moses commanded before the tent of testimony, and all the congregation came near and stood before the Lord.
 6 And Moses said, This is the word that the Lord spoke: Do it, and the glory of the Lord will appear among you.
 7 And Moses said to Aaron, Come near to the altar and make your sin-offering and your whole burnt offering and make atonement for yourself and for your house, and make the gifts of the people¹⁴ and make atonement for them, just as the Lord commanded Moses.

8 And Aaron came near to the altar and slaughtered the calf of the sin-offering.
 9 And the sons of Aaron brought the blood to him, and he dipped his finger into the blood and put it on the horns of the altar, and he poured the blood out at the base of the altar.
 10 And the fat and the kidneys and the lobe of the liver of the sin-offering he offered on the altar¹, just as the Lord commanded Moses.
 11 And the flesh and the hide he burned with fire outside the camp.
 12 And he slaughtered the whole burnt offering, and the sons of Aaron brought the blood to him, and he poured it around on the altar.
 13 And they brought the whole burnt offering to him piece by piece, and the head, and he placed them on the altar.

 15 And they brought the people's gift, and he took the he-goat for the people's sin-offering and slaughtered it and purified it just like the first.
 16 And he brought the whole burnt offering and made it as is proper.
 17 And he brought the sacrifice and filled his hands from it and placed it on the altar, apart from the morning whole burnt offering.
 18 And he slaughtered the calf and the ram of the people's sacrifice of salvation, and the sons of Aaron brought the blood to him, and he poured it around on the altar.
 19 And the fat from the calf and from the ram, the loin and the fat covering the belly and the two kidneys and the fat on them and the lobe above the liver,
 20 and he placed the fats on the breasts, and they offered the fats on the altar.
 21 And Aaron presented the breast and the right arm before the Lord as a contribution, just as the Lord commanded Moses.
 22 And Aaron, lifting up his hands over the people, blessed them, and he came down after making the sin-offering and the whole burnt offerings and the things of salvation.
 23 And Moses and Aaron entered into the tent of testimony, and coming out they blessed all the people, and the glory of the Lord appeared to all the people.
 24 And fire came out from the Lord and consumed on the altar the whole burnt offerings and the fats, and all the people saw and were astonished and fell on their faces.

Chapter 10

1 And the two sons of Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, each taking his firepan, put fire in it and put incense on it and brought foreign fire before the Lord, which the Lord had not commanded them.
 2 And fire came out from the Lord and consumed them, and they died before the Lord.
 3 And Moses said to Aaron, This is what the Lord said, saying, Among those drawing near to me I will be sanctified, and before all the congregation I will be glorified. And Aaron was cut to the heart.
 4 And Moses called Mishael² and Elzaphan, sons of Uzziel, sons of Aaron's father's brother, and said to them, Come near and carry your brothers from before the holy things, outside the camp.
 5 And they came near and carried them in their tunics outside the camp, just as Moses said.
 6 And Moses said to Aaron and to Eleazar and Ithamar, his sons who remained, Do not uncover your heads and do not tear your garments, so that you may not die and wrath come upon all the congregation. But your brothers, the whole house of Israel, shall mourn the burning³ with which they were burned by the Lord.
 7 And you shall not go out from the door of the tent of testimony, so that you may not die, for the anointing oil from the Lord is upon you. And they did according to the word of Moses.
 8 And the Lord spoke to Aaron, saying,
 9 Wine and strong drink you shall not drink, you and your sons with you, whenever you enter into the tent of testimony or when you approach the altar, and you shall certainly not die. It is an everlasting statute throughout your generations,
 10 to distinguish between the holy and the profane, and between the unclean and the clean,
 11 and you shall instruct the sons of Israel in all the statutes that the Lord spoke to them by the hand of Moses.
 12 And Moses said to Aaron and to Eleazar and Ithamar, the sons of Aaron who remained, Take the sacrifice left from the Lord's offerings and eat it unleavened beside the altar, because it is holy of holies.
 13 And you shall eat it in a holy place, because it is a statute for you and a statute for your sons from the Lord's offerings, for thus it has been commanded to me.
 14 And you shall eat the breast of separation⁴ and the arm of contribution in a holy place, you and your sons and your house with you, because it has been given as a statute for you and a statute for your sons from the sacrifices of salvation of the sons of Israel.
 15 They shall bring the arm of contribution⁵ and the breast of separation with the offerings of the fats, to set them apart before the Lord, and it shall belong to you and to your sons and to your daughters with you as an everlasting statute, just as the Lord commanded Moses.
 16 And Moses sought diligently for the he-goat for sin, and see, it had been burned up, and Moses was angry with Eleazar and Ithamar, the sons of Aaron who remained, saying,
 17 Why did you not eat the thing for sin in the holy place? For it is holy of holies, and he gave it to you to eat, so that you might take away the sin of the congregation⁶ and make atonement for them before the Lord.
 18 For its blood was not brought inside into the holy place. You certainly should have eaten it in the holy place, just as the Lord commanded me.
 19 And Aaron spoke to Moses, saying, If today they have brought near their things for sin⁷ and their whole burnt offerings before the Lord, and these things have happened to me, and were I to eat the things for sin today, would it be pleasing to the Lord?
 20 And Moses heard, and it pleased him.

¹ T: Greek says offered on the altar here. Other English traditions often smooth this to burned on the altar.

³ T: Greek says they shall mourn the burning with which they were burned.

Chapter 11

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,
2 Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, These are the animals that you shall eat from all the animals upon the earth.
3 Every animal that divides the hoof and splits the hoof in two and chews the cud among the animals, these you shall eat.
4 But from these you shall not eat: from those chewing the cud and from those dividing the hoof and splitting the claws. The camel, because it chews the cud, but does not divide the hoof, it is unclean to you.
5 And the hare, because it chews the cud, but does not divide the hoof, it is unclean to you.
6 And the rock-badger, because it chews the cud, but does not divide the hoof, it is unclean to you.
7 And the pig, because it divides the hoof and splits the hoof-claws, but does not chew the cud, it is unclean to you.
8 From their flesh you shall not eat, and their carcasses you shall not touch¹. They are unclean to you.
9 And these are what you shall eat from all that are in the waters: everything that has fins and scales in the waters, and in the seas, and in the streams, these you shall eat.
10 And everything that does not have fins or scales in the water, or in the seas, and in the streams, from everything with which the waters teem and from every living creature in the water, is an abomination.
11 And they shall be abominations to you. From their flesh you shall not eat, and their carcasses you shall abhor.
12 Everything in the waters that does not have fins and scales, this is an abomination to you.
13 And these you shall abhor from among the birds; they shall not be eaten. They are an abomination: the eagle and the griffin and the sea-eagle,
14 and the vulture and the kite and those like it,
15 and every raven and those like it,
16 and the ostrich and the owl and the gull and those like it, and the hawk and those like it,
17 and the night-raven and the diver and the ibis,
18 and the water-hen and the pelican and the swan,
19 and the heron and the plover and those like it, and the hoopoe and the bat.
20 And every winged creeping thing that goes on four feet is an abomination to you.
21 But these you may eat from the winged creeping things that go on four feet, which have legs above their feet to leap with on the ground.
22 And these of them you may eat: the locust and those like it, and the attacus and those like it, and the grasshopper and those like it, and the serpent-fighter and those like it.
23 Every winged creeping thing that has four feet is an abomination to you.
24 And by these you shall become unclean. Everyone touching their carcasses shall be unclean until evening.
25 And everyone carrying their carcasses shall wash his garments and be unclean until evening.
26 Among all the animals, anything that divides the hoof and splits the claw, but does not chew the cud, shall be unclean to you. Everyone touching their carcasses shall be unclean until evening.
27 And everyone among the wild beasts that goes on forepaws, that goes on all fours, is unclean to you. Everyone touching their carcasses shall be unclean until evening.
28 And the one carrying their carcasses shall wash his garments and be unclean until evening. These are unclean to you.
29 And these are unclean to you from among the creeping things that creep on the earth: the weasel and the mouse and the land-crocodile,
30 the shrew and the chameleon and the lizard and the lizard-kind and the mole,
31 these are unclean to you from all the creeping things on the earth. Everyone touching them when they are dead shall be unclean until evening.
32 And anything on which one of them falls, after they are dead, shall be unclean, whether any wooden vessel or garment or skin or sack, every vessel in which work is done². It shall be dipped in water and be unclean until evening, and then it shall be clean.
33 And every earthen vessel into which one of these falls inside, everything inside it shall be unclean, and the vessel itself shall be broken.
34 And every food that is eaten, if water comes on it, shall be unclean. And every drink that is drunk in any vessel shall be unclean.
35 And everything on which any of their carcasses falls shall be unclean. Ovens and cooking-stands shall be torn down. They are unclean, and shall be unclean to you.
36 Only springs of waters and cisterns and gatherings of water shall be clean, but the one touching their carcasses shall be unclean.
37 And if any of their carcasses falls upon any seed for sowing that is to be sown, it shall be clean.
38 But if water is poured on any seed and any of their carcasses falls upon it, it is unclean to you.
39 And if one of the animals that are for you to eat dies, the one touching its carcass shall be unclean until evening.
40 And the one eating from their carcasses shall wash his garments and be unclean until evening, and the one carrying from their carcasses shall wash his garments and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.
41 And every creeping thing that creeps upon the earth³ is an abomination. It shall not be eaten.
42 Everything that goes on its belly, and everything that goes on four feet, and everything with many feet⁴ among all the creeping things that creep upon the earth, you shall not eat, because it is an abomination to you.
43 And you shall not make your lives abominable among all the creeping things that creep on the earth, and you shall not be defiled by them, and you shall not become unclean by them.
44 For I am the Lord your God, and you shall be sanctified and shall be holy, because I am holy, the Lord your God. And you shall not defile your lives⁵ among all the creeping things moving on the earth.
45 For I am the Lord who brought you up from the land of Egypt to be your God, and you shall be holy, because I am holy, the Lord.
46 This is the law concerning the animals and the birds and every living creature moving in the water and every living creature creeping upon the earth,

47 to distinguish between the unclean and the clean⁶, and between the living things that may be eaten and the living things that may not be eaten.

Chapter 12

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, If a woman conceives seed² and bears a male, she shall be unclean seven days; according to the days of the separation of her monthly flow she shall be unclean.

3 And on the eighth day he shall circumcise the flesh of his foreskin.

4 And for thirty-three days she shall sit in the blood of her uncleanness. She shall touch nothing holy, and she shall not enter into the sanctuary until the days of her purification are fulfilled.

5 But if she bears a female, she shall be unclean for twice seven days, according to the time of her monthly flow, and for sixty-six days she shall sit in the blood of her uncleanness.

6 And when the days of her purification are fulfilled, for a son or for a daughter, she shall bring a year-old lamb without blemish for whole burnt offering, and a young pigeon or turtledove³ for sin, to the door of the tent of testimony, to the priest.

7 And he shall bring it before the Lord, and the priest shall make atonement for her and cleanse her from the fountain of her blood. This is the law of the one bearing a male or a female.

8 And if her hand does not find what is sufficient⁴ for a lamb, then she shall take two turtledoves or two young pigeons, one for whole burnt offering and one for sin, and the priest shall make atonement for her, and she shall be cleansed.

Chapter 13

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

2 If a person has on the skin of his flesh a swelling or a bright mark or a shining spot, and it becomes on the skin of his flesh a mark of skin-disease⁵, then he shall be brought to Aaron the priest or to one of his sons the priests.

3 And the priest shall inspect the mark on the skin of his flesh, and if the hair in the mark has turned white and the appearance of the mark is deeper than the skin of his flesh, it is a mark of skin-disease. And the priest shall inspect him and pronounce him unclean.⁶

4 But if the bright spot is white on the skin of his flesh, and its appearance is not deeper than the skin, and its hair has not turned white, and it is dim, then the priest shall isolate the mark seven days⁷.

5 And the priest shall inspect the mark on the seventh day, and if the mark remains before him and has not spread in the skin, the priest shall isolate him a second seven days.

6 And the priest shall inspect him the second time on the seventh day, and if the mark is dim and has not spread in the skin, the priest shall pronounce him clean, for it is a mark only⁸. And after washing his garments, he shall be clean.

7 But if the mark does spread in the skin after the priest has seen him to cleanse him, he shall appear a second time to the priest.

8 And the priest shall inspect him, and if the mark has spread in the skin, the priest shall pronounce him unclean. It is skin-disease.

9 And if a mark of skin-disease arises in a person, he shall come to the priest.

10 And the priest shall inspect, and if there is a white swelling in the skin and it has turned the hair white, and there is healthy living flesh in the swelling,

11 it is an old skin-disease in the skin of his flesh. And the priest shall pronounce him unclean and shall not isolate him, because he is unclean.

12 But if the skin-disease breaks out and spreads in the skin and the skin-disease covers all the skin of the mark from head to foot, as far as the priest can see,

13 then the priest shall inspect, and if the skin-disease has covered all the skin of the flesh, the priest shall pronounce the mark clean⁹, because it has all turned white. He is clean.

14 But on whatever day living flesh appears in him, he shall be pronounced unclean.

15 And the priest shall inspect the healthy flesh and pronounce him unclean. The healthy flesh is unclean.¹⁰ It is skin-disease.

16 But if the healthy flesh is restored and turns white, then he shall come to the priest.

17 And the priest shall inspect, and if the mark has turned white, the priest shall pronounce the mark clean. He is clean.

18 And if flesh has in its skin an ulcer and it is healed,

19 and there comes in the place of the ulcer a white swelling or a white bright spot tinged reddish¹¹, then it shall be shown to the priest.

20 And the priest shall inspect, and if its appearance is lower than the skin and its hair has turned white, the priest shall pronounce him unclean. It is a mark of skin-disease; it has broken out in the ulcer.

21 But if the priest inspects and there is no white hair in it, and it is not lower than the skin of the flesh, and it is dim, the priest shall isolate him seven days.

22 And if it does spread in the skin, the priest shall pronounce him unclean. It is a mark of skin-disease; it has broken out in the ulcer.

23 But if the bright spot remains in its place and does not spread, it is the scar of the ulcer, and the priest shall pronounce him clean.

24 And if flesh has in its skin a burn of fire, and the healed part of the burn becomes a bright spot, white tinged red or pure white,

25 then the priest shall inspect it, and if the hair in the bright spot has turned white and its appearance is lower than the skin, it is skin-disease; it has broken out in the burn¹². And the priest shall pronounce him unclean. It is a mark of skin-disease.

⁸ T: Greek says mark/sign only here.

¹² T: Greek says it has broken out in the burn.

26 But if the priest inspects and there is no white hair in the bright spot, and it is not lower than the skin, and it is dim, the priest shall isolate him seven days.

27 And the priest shall inspect him on the seventh day. If it is spreading in the skin, the priest shall pronounce him unclean. It is a mark of skin-disease.

28 But if the bright spot remains in its place and does not spread in the skin, and it is dim, it is the scar of the burn, and the priest shall pronounce him clean, for it is the mark of the burn.¹

29 And if a man or a woman has a mark on the head or on the beard,

30 the priest shall inspect the mark, and if its appearance is deeper than the skin and there is in it thin yellowish hair, the priest shall pronounce him unclean. It is a scaly patch²; it is skin-disease of the head or skin-disease of the beard.

31 But if the priest inspects the mark of the scaly patch and its appearance is not deeper than the skin and there is no yellowish hair³ in it, the priest shall isolate the mark of the scaly patch seven days.

32 And the priest shall inspect the mark on the seventh day, and if the scaly patch has not spread, and there is no yellowish hair in it, and the appearance of the scaly patch is not hollow beneath the skin,

33 then he shall shave himself, but the scaly patch he shall not shave, and the priest shall isolate the scaly patch a second seven days.

34 And the priest shall inspect the scaly patch on the seventh day, and if the scaly patch has not spread in the skin after the shaving, and its appearance is not deeper than the skin, the priest shall pronounce him clean. And after washing his garments, he shall be clean.

35 But if the scaly patch spreads in the skin⁴ after his cleansing,

36 then the priest shall inspect, and if the scaly patch has spread in the skin, the priest need not search for the yellowish hair, because he is unclean.

37 But if in his sight the scaly patch stays in place and black hair grows in it, the scaly patch is healed. He is clean, and the priest shall pronounce him clean.

38 And if a man or a woman has on the skin of the flesh bright spots, pale white bright spots,⁵

39 then the priest shall inspect, and if on the skin of their flesh there are pale white bright spots⁶, it is a white eruption. It has broken out in the skin of his flesh. He is clean.

40 And if a man loses the hair of his head, he is bald. He is clean.

41 And if he loses the hair of his head at the front, he is forehead-bald. He is clean.

42 But if there is on his baldness or on his forehead-baldness a white or reddish mark, it is skin-disease in his baldness or in his forehead-baldness.

43 And the priest shall inspect him, and if the appearance of the mark is white tinged red⁷ on his baldness or his forehead-baldness, like the appearance of skin-disease in the skin of flesh,

45 And the one with skin-disease in whom the mark is, his garments shall be loosened and his head uncovered, and he shall cover around his mouth and cry out, Unclean, unclean.

46 All the days that the mark is upon him, he shall be unclean. Being unclean, he shall dwell apart. His dwelling shall be outside the camp.

47 And if in a garment there is a mark of skin-disease, whether in a woolen garment or in a linen garment,

48 or in warp or in woof, whether in linen or in wool, or in leather or in any article made of leather,

49 and the mark becomes greenish or reddish in the garment or in the leather or in the warp or in the woof or in any article of leather, it is a mark of skin-disease and shall be shown to the priest.

50 And the priest shall inspect the mark and isolate the mark seven days.

51 And the priest shall inspect the mark on the seventh day. If the mark has spread in the garment or in the warp or in the woof or in the leather, in whatever is made of leather for use, the mark is persistent skin-disease⁸. It is unclean.

52 He shall burn the garment, or the warp or the woof, whether in wool or in linen, or any leather article in which the mark is, because it is persistent skin-disease. It shall be burned with fire.

53 But if the priest inspects and the mark has not spread in the garment or in the warp or in the woof or in any leather article,

54 then the priest shall command, and they shall wash that in which the mark is, and the priest shall isolate the mark a second seven days.

55 And the priest shall inspect after the mark has been washed, and if the mark has not changed its appearance and the mark has not spread, it is unclean. It shall be burned with fire. It is fixed in the garment or in the warp or in the woof.⁹

56 But if the priest inspects and the mark is dim after it has been washed, he shall tear it out of the garment or out of the leather or out of the warp or out of the woof.

57 But if it still appears in the garment or in the warp or in the woof or in any leather article, it is skin-disease breaking out. Whatever has the mark shall be burned with fire.

58 And the garment or the warp or the woof or any leather article that is washed, and the mark departs from it, shall be washed a second time and shall be clean.

59 This is the law of the mark of skin-disease in a woolen garment or linen garment or warp or woof or any leather article, to pronounce it clean or to pronounce it unclean.

Chapter 14

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 This is the law for the one with skin-disease on the day he is cleansed: he shall be brought to the priest.

3 And the priest shall go outside the camp, and the priest shall inspect, and if the mark of the skin-disease has been healed from the one with skin-disease,

4 then the priest shall command, and they shall take for the one being cleansed two living clean birds and cedar wood and spun scarlet and hyssop.

6 And he shall take the living bird and the cedar wood and the spun scarlet and the hyssop, and dip them and the living bird in the blood of the bird that was slaughtered over living water.
7 And he shall sprinkle seven times on the one cleansed from the skin-disease, and he shall be clean. And he shall release the living bird into the open field.
8 And the one being cleansed shall wash his garments and shave all his hair and bathe in water and be clean. And after these things he shall enter into the camp and remain outside his house seven days¹.
9 And it shall be on the seventh day: he shall shave all his hair, his head and his beard and his eyebrows, all his hair he shall shave, and he shall wash his garments and bathe his body in water and be clean.
10 And on the eighth day he shall take two year-old lambs without blemish and one year-old ewe without blemish and three tenths of fine flour mixed with oil for sacrifice and one cup of oil.
11 And the priest who cleanses shall present the person being cleansed and these things before the Lord at the door of the tent of testimony.
12 And the priest shall take the one lamb and bring it for trespass, and the cup of oil, and present them before the Lord as a contribution.
13 And they shall slaughter the lamb in the place where they slaughter the whole burnt offerings and the things for sin, in a holy place, for as the thing for sin, so also the thing for trespass belongs to the priest. It is holy of holies.
14 And the priest shall take some of the blood of the thing for trespass, and the priest shall place it on the lobe of the right ear of the one being cleansed and on the tip of his right hand and on the tip of his right foot.²
17 And the oil remaining in his hand the priest shall place on the lobe of the right ear of the one being cleansed and on the tip of his right hand and on the tip of his right foot, on the place of the blood⁴ of the thing for trespass.
18 And the oil remaining on the priest's hand the priest shall place on the head of the one cleansed, and the priest shall make atonement for him before the Lord.
19 And the priest shall make the thing for sin, and the priest shall make atonement for the unclean one being cleansed from his sin, and after this the priest shall slaughter the whole burnt offering.
20 And the priest shall offer the whole burnt offering and the sacrifice on the altar before the Lord, and the priest shall make atonement for him, and he shall be cleansed.
21 But if he is poor and his hand cannot find enough⁵, he shall take one lamb for the thing in which he trespassed, as a contribution to make atonement for him, and one tenth of fine flour mixed with oil for sacrifice, and one cup of oil,
22 and two turtledoves or two young pigeons, whatever his hand can find, and one shall be for sin and one for whole burnt offering.
23 And he shall bring them on the eighth day for his cleansing to the priest, to the door of the tent of testimony, before the Lord.
24 And the priest shall take the lamb for trespass and the cup of oil and present them before the Lord as a presentation.
25 And he shall slaughter the lamb for trespass, and the priest shall take some of the blood of the thing for trespass⁶ and place it on the lobe of the right ear of the one being cleansed and on the tip of his right hand and on the tip of his right foot.
26 And some of the oil the priest shall pour on the priest's left hand.
28 And the priest shall place some of the oil on his hand on the lobe of the right ear of the one being cleansed and on the tip of his right hand and on the tip of his right foot, on the place of the blood of the thing for trespass⁸.
29 And what remains of the oil on the priest's hand the priest shall place on the head of the one cleansed, and the priest shall make atonement for him before the Lord.
30 And he shall make one of the turtledoves or of the young pigeons, whatever his hand can find,
31 the one for sin and the one for whole burnt offering with the sacrifice⁹, and the priest shall make atonement before the Lord for the one being cleansed.
32 This is the law for the one in whom is the mark of skin-disease, and whose hand does not find enough for his cleansing.
33 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,
34 When you enter into the land of the Canaanites, which I give you for a possession, and I place a mark of skin-disease in the houses of the land of your possession,
35 then the one whose house it is shall come and report to the priest, saying, Something like a mark has appeared to me in the house.
36 And the priest shall command them to empty the house¹⁰ before the priest goes in to inspect the mark, so that everything in the house may not become unclean. And after this the priest shall go in to inspect the house.
37 And he shall inspect the mark, and if the mark on the walls of the house has greenish or reddish hollows, and their appearance is deeper than the walls,
38 then the priest shall go out of the house to the door of the house, and the priest shall isolate the house seven days.
39 And the priest shall return on the seventh day and inspect, and if the mark has spread in the walls of the house,
40 then the priest shall command, and they shall remove the stones in which the mark is and throw them outside the city into an unclean place.
41 And they shall scrape the house inside all around, and they shall pour out the dust that they scraped outside the city into an unclean place.
42 And they shall take other stones, scraped, and put them in place of the stones, and they shall take other plaster and plaster the house.
43 But if the mark comes again and springs up in the house after they remove the stones and after the house is scraped and after

² T: Greek uses a more specific body-part noun than simple tip. The ritual placement remains the same, but the English keeps the Greek anatomy closer.

³ T: Greek keeps the hand-and-finger ritual detail very explicit. Current wording preserves that ceremonial action.

¹⁰ T: Greek commands the house to be emptied. The translation keeps that stronger wording.

it is plastered,

44 then the priest shall go in and inspect. If the mark has spread in the house, it is persistent skin-disease in the house. It is unclean.

45 And they shall pull down the house, and its timbers and its stones, and all its dust they shall carry outside the city into an unclean place.

46 And the one entering into the house all the days during which it is isolated shall be unclean until evening.

47 And the one sleeping in the house shall wash his garments and be unclean until evening, and the one eating in the house shall wash his garments and be unclean until evening.

48 But if the priest does come and inspect, and if the mark has not spread in the house after the house was plastered, then the priest shall pronounce the house clean, because the mark is healed.

49 And he shall take to purify the house two living clean birds and cedar wood and spun scarlet and hyssop.

50 And he shall slaughter the one bird in an earthen vessel over living water.

51 And he shall take the cedar wood and the spun scarlet and the hyssop and the living bird, and dip them in the blood of the slaughtered bird over living water, and with them he shall sprinkle the house seven times.¹

52 And he shall purify the house with the blood of the bird and with the living water and with the living bird and with the cedar wood and with the hyssop and with the spun scarlet.

53 And he shall release the living bird outside the city into the open field, and shall make atonement for the house, and it shall be clean.

54 This is the law for every mark of skin-disease and scaly patch,

55 and for skin-disease of garment and house,

56 and for swelling and mark and bright spot,

57 to explain the day when it is unclean and the day when it is clean². This is the law of skin-disease.

Chapter 15

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

2 Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, If any man has a discharge from his body, his discharge is unclean.

3 And this is the law of his uncleanness in his discharge: whether his body runs with the discharge or his body is stopped up from the discharge, this is his uncleanness. All the days of the discharge of his body, or if his body is stopped up by the discharge, this is his uncleanness.

4 Every bed on which the one with discharge lies is unclean, and every vessel on which the one with discharge sits shall be unclean.

5 And the person who touches his bed shall wash his garments and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

6 And the one sitting on the vessel on which the one with discharge sat shall wash his garments and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

7 And the one touching the flesh of the one with discharge shall wash his garments and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

8 And if the one with discharge spits on the clean person, he shall wash his garments and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

9 And every saddle of a donkey on which the one with discharge rides shall be unclean until evening.

10 And everyone touching whatever is under him shall be unclean until evening, and the one carrying those things³ shall wash his garments and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

11 And whomever the one with discharge touches, if he has not washed his hands in water, he shall wash his garments and bathe his body in water and be unclean until evening.

12 And an earthen vessel that the one with discharge touches shall be broken, and a wooden vessel shall be washed with water and shall be clean.

13 And if the one with discharge is cleansed from his discharge, then he shall count seven days for his cleansing and wash his garments and bathe his body in water and be clean.

14 And on the eighth day he shall take for himself two turtledoves or two young pigeons and bring them before the Lord to the doors of the tent of testimony and give them to the priest.

15 And the priest shall make them, one for sin and one for whole burnt offering, and the priest shall make atonement for him before the Lord from his discharge.

16 And a man from whom an emission of seed goes out shall bathe all his body in water and be unclean until evening.

17 And every garment and every skin on which there is an emission of seed shall be washed with water and be unclean until evening.

18 And if a woman lies with a man in an emission of seed, they shall bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

19 And if a woman has a flow of blood, her flow being in her body, she shall be in her separation seven days. Everyone touching her shall be unclean until evening.

20 And everything on which she lies during her separation shall be unclean, and everything on which she sits shall be unclean.

21 And everyone touching her bed shall wash his garments and bathe his body in water and be unclean until evening.

22 And everyone touching any vessel on which she sits shall wash his garments and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

23 And if it is on the bed or on the vessel on which she sat, when he touches it he shall be unclean until evening.

24 And if anyone lies with her and her uncleanness comes upon him, he shall be unclean seven days, and every bed on which he lies shall be unclean.

25 And if a woman has a flow of blood for many days, not at the time of her separation, or if she flows after her separation, all the days of the flow of her uncleanness, just as in the days of her separation, she shall be unclean.

26 And every bed on which she lies during all the days of her flow shall be to her like the bed of her separation⁴, and every vessel on which she sits shall be unclean like the uncleanness of her separation.

27 Everyone touching her shall be unclean, and he shall wash his garments and bathe his body in water⁵ and be unclean until evening.

³ T: Greek line matches current rendering closely here.

28 But if she is cleansed from her flow, then she shall count seven days for herself, and after this she shall be clean.
29 And on the eighth day she shall take for herself two turtledoves or two young pigeons and bring them to the priest, to the door of the tent of testimony.
30 And the priest shall make the one for sin and the one for whole burnt offering, and the priest shall make atonement for her before the Lord from the flow of her uncleanness.
31 And you shall make the sons of Israel cautious from their uncleannesses, and they shall not die because of their uncleannesses by defiling my tent that is among them.
32 This is the law of the one with discharge, and of the one from whom an emission of seed goes out so as to become unclean by it,
33 and of the woman flowing in her separation, and of the one with discharge in his flow, for the male and for the female, and for the man who lies with a separated woman.¹

Chapter 16

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses after the two sons of Aaron died when they brought foreign fire before the Lord, and they died.
2 And the Lord said to Moses, Speak to Aaron your brother, and let him not enter at every time into the holy place within the veil, before the propitiatory that is upon the ark of testimony, so that he may not die, for in a cloud I will be seen upon the propitiatory.²
3 Thus Aaron shall enter into the holy place: with a calf from the cattle for sin and a ram for whole burnt offering.
4 And he shall put on the holy linen tunic, and linen undergarments³ shall be upon his flesh, and he shall gird himself with a linen sash, and shall put on a linen turban. They are holy garments. And he shall bathe all his body in water and put them on.
5 And from the congregation of the sons of Israel he shall take two he-goats from the goats for sin and one ram for whole burnt offering.
6 And Aaron shall bring the calf for his own sin and make atonement for himself and for his house.
7 And he shall take the two he-goats and set them before the Lord by the door of the tent of testimony.
8 And Aaron shall cast lots upon the two he-goats, one lot for the Lord and one lot for the sending-away goat.
9 And Aaron shall bring the he-goat on which the lot for the Lord fell and shall offer it for sin.
10 But the he-goat on which the lot of the sending-away goat fell, he shall set alive before the Lord, to make atonement over it, so as to send it away in the sending-away, into the wilderness.
11 And Aaron shall bring the calf for his own sin, for himself and his house alone⁴, and make atonement for himself and for his house, and he shall slaughter the calf for his own sin.
12 And he shall take the firepan full of coals of fire from the altar before the Lord, and he shall fill his hands with fine blended incense and bring it within the veil.
13 And he shall put the incense on the fire before the Lord, and the vapor of the incense shall cover the propitiatory that is over the testimonies, so that he may not die.
14 And he shall take some of the blood of the calf and sprinkle it with his finger on the propitiatory eastward, and before the propitiatory he shall sprinkle from the blood with his finger seven times.
15 And he shall slaughter the he-goat for sin, the one for the people, before the Lord, and he shall bring some of its blood within the veil and do with its blood just as he did with the blood of the calf, and he shall sprinkle its blood upon the propitiatory and before the propitiatory.⁵
16 And he shall make atonement for the holy place from the uncleannesses of the sons of Israel and from their wrongdoings concerning all their sins⁶. And thus he shall do for the tent of testimony that is pitched among them in the midst of their uncleannesses.
17 And no person shall be in the tent of testimony when he enters to make atonement in the holy place until he comes out, and he shall make atonement for himself and for his house and for all the congregation of the sons of Israel.
18 And he shall go out to the altar that is before the Lord and make atonement on it, and he shall take some of the blood of the calf and some of the blood of the he-goat and place it on the horns of the altar all around.
19 And he shall sprinkle some of the blood on it with his finger seven times⁷ and cleanse it and sanctify it from the uncleannesses of the sons of Israel.
20 And when he finishes making atonement for the holy place and the tent of testimony and the altar and purifying concerning the priests, he shall bring near the live he-goat.
21 And Aaron shall lay his hands on the head of the live he-goat and confess over it all the lawless deeds of the sons of Israel and all their wrongdoings and all their sins, and he shall place them on the head of the live he-goat and send it away by the hand of a ready man into the wilderness.
22 And the he-goat shall take their wrongdoings upon itself into an untrodden land, and he shall send the he-goat away into the wilderness.
23 And Aaron shall enter into the tent of testimony and take off the linen garment that he put on when entering into the holy place and lay it there.
24 And he shall bathe his body in water in a holy place and put on his garment, and going out he shall make his whole burnt offering and the whole burnt offering of the people, and he shall make atonement for himself and for his house and for the people, as also for the priests.
25 And the fat for the things concerning sins he shall offer on the altar.
26 And the one sending away the he-goat that has been set apart for release shall wash his garments and bathe his body in water, and after this shall enter into the camp.
27 And the calf for sin and the he-goat for sin, whose blood was brought in to make atonement in the holy place, they shall carry outside the camp and burn them with fire, their skins and their flesh and their dung.
28 And the one burning them shall wash his garments and bathe his body in water, and after this shall enter into the camp.
29 And this shall be an everlasting statute for you: in the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month, you shall humble your lives¹ and do no work, whether the native or the newcomer who dwells among you.

30 For on this day he shall make atonement for you, to cleanse you from all your sins before the Lord, and you shall be cleansed.

31 It shall be a sabbath of sabbaths, a rest for you, and you shall humble your lives. It is an everlasting statute.

32 And the priest whom they anoint and whose hands they consecrate² to serve as priest after his father shall make atonement, and he shall put on the holy linen garment.

33 And he shall make atonement for the holy of the holy place, and for the tent of testimony, and he shall make atonement for the altar, and for the priests and for all the congregation he shall make atonement.³

34 And this shall be an everlasting statute for you, to make atonement for the sons of Israel from all their sins once in the year. It shall be done just as the Lord commanded Moses.

Chapter 17

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 Speak to Aaron and to his sons and to all the sons of Israel, and say to them, This is the word that the Lord commanded, saying,

3 Any man of the sons of Israel or of the newcomers dwelling among you who slaughters a calf or a sheep or a goat in the camp, or who slaughters it outside the camp,

4 and does not bring it to the door of the tent of testimony so as to make it a whole burnt offering or an offering of salvation⁴ to the Lord, accepted as an aroma of sweet fragrance, and whoever slaughters it outside and does not bring it to the door of the tent of testimony so as not to bring a gift to the Lord before the Lord's tent, blood shall be reckoned to that man. He has shed blood. That person shall be cut off from his people.

5 So that the sons of Israel may bring their sacrifices that they slaughter in the open fields, and bring them to the Lord at the doors of the tent of testimony, to the priest, and sacrifice them as sacrifices of salvation to the Lord.

6 And the priest shall pour the blood on the altar all around before the Lord by the doors of the tent of testimony, and shall offer the fat as an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.

7 And they shall no longer sacrifice their sacrifices to vain things, after which they prostitute themselves. This shall be an everlasting statute for you throughout your generations.

8 And you shall say to them, Any man of the sons of Israel or of the newcomer sons dwelling among you who makes a whole burnt offering or sacrifice,

9 and does not bring it to the door of the tent of testimony to make it for the Lord, that man shall be cut off from his people.

10 And any man of the sons of Israel or of the newcomers dwelling among you who eats any blood, I will set my face against the person⁵ who eats the blood and will destroy him from his people.

11 For the life of all flesh is its blood, and I have given it to you upon the altar to make atonement for your lives, for its blood shall make atonement in place of the life.

12 Because of this I said to the sons of Israel, No person among you shall eat blood, and the newcomer dwelling among you shall not eat blood.

13 And any man of the sons of Israel or of the newcomers dwelling among you who hunts game⁶, wild animal or bird that may be eaten, shall pour out the blood and cover it with earth.

14 For the life of all flesh is its blood⁷, and I said to the sons of Israel, You shall not eat the blood of any flesh, because the life of all flesh is its blood. Everyone eating it shall be cut off.

15 And every person who eats something dead of itself or torn by beasts⁸, whether among the natives or among the newcomers, shall wash his garments and bathe in water and be unclean until evening, and then shall be clean.

16 But if he does not wash his garments and does not bathe his body in water, then he shall bear his lawlessness.

Chapter 18

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, I am the Lord your God.

3 According to the practices of the land⁹ of Egypt, in which you dwelt, you shall not do, and according to the practices of the land of Canaan, into which I am bringing you, there you shall not do, and in their ordinances you shall not walk.

4 You shall do my judgments, and you shall keep my commands to walk in them. I am the Lord your God.

5 And you shall keep all my commands and all my judgments and do them, which when a person does, he shall live in them. I am the Lord your God.

6 Any man to anyone of his own flesh shall not come near to uncover nakedness. I am the Lord.

7 The nakedness of your father and the nakedness of your mother you shall not uncover¹⁰, for she is your mother. You shall not uncover her nakedness.

8 The nakedness of your father's wife you shall not uncover¹¹. It is your father's nakedness.

9 The nakedness of your sister, from your father or from your mother, homeborn or born outside, you shall not uncover her nakedness.

10 The nakedness of your son's daughter or your daughter's daughter you shall not uncover their nakedness, because it is your own nakedness.

11 The nakedness of the daughter of your father's wife you shall not uncover. She is your sister by the same father. You shall not uncover her nakedness.

12 The nakedness of your father's sister you shall not uncover, for she is your father's close kin.

13 The nakedness of your mother's sister you shall not uncover, for she is your mother's close kin.

² T: Greek uses hand-consecration language here. Current line keeps the idiom close.

⁴ T: Greek expands this with whole burnt offering or offering of salvation and sweet-fragrance language.

⁵ T: Greek says I will set my face against the person who eats the blood.

⁶ T: Greek uses a hunting term for animal or bird taken in the chase. The translation compresses that naturally into game while keeping the rule intact.

⁸ T: Greek says dead of itself or torn by beasts.

14 The nakedness of your father's brother you shall not uncover, and you shall not go in to his wife, for she is your relative.
 15 The nakedness of your daughter-in-law you shall not uncover, for she is your son's wife. You shall not uncover her nakedness.
 16 The nakedness of your brother's wife you shall not uncover. It is your brother's nakedness.
 17 The nakedness of a woman and her daughter you shall not uncover. The daughter of her son and the daughter of her daughter you shall not take to uncover their nakedness, for they are your own kin. It is impiety¹.
 18 A woman in addition to her sister you shall not take as a rival, to uncover her nakedness over against her while she is still alive.
 19 And to a woman in the separation of her uncleanness you shall not come near to uncover her nakedness.
 20 And with your neighbor's wife you shall not give the bed of your seed, to defile yourself with her.
 21 And from your seed you shall not give to serve a ruler², and you shall not profane my holy name. I am the Lord.
 22 And with a male you shall not lie the bed of a woman, for it is an abomination.
 23 And with any four-footed animal you shall not give your bed for seed, to defile yourself with it, and a woman shall not stand before any four-footed animal to mate with it, for it is foulness.
 24 Do not defile yourselves in all these things, for in all these things the nations are defiled, whom I am sending out from before you.
 25 And the land was defiled, and I repaid their wrongdoing upon them because of it, and the land was aggrieved with those dwelling upon it.
 26 And you shall keep all my statutes and all my commands, and you shall do none of all these abominations, whether the native or the newcomer joined among you.
 27 For all these abominations the people of the land did, those who were before you, and the land was defiled.
 28 And let not the land be aggrieved with you when you defile it, just as it was aggrieved with the nations before you.
 29 For everyone who does any of all these abominations, the persons who do them shall be cut off from among their people.
 30 And you shall keep my commands, so as not to do any of the abominable statutes that came before you, and you shall not be defiled by them, because I am the Lord your God.³

Chapter 19

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
 2 Speak to the congregation of the sons of Israel and say to them, You shall be holy, because I, the Lord your God, am holy.
 3 Each of you shall fear his father and his mother, and you shall keep my sabbaths. I am the Lord your God.
 4 You shall not follow idols, and molten gods you shall not make for yourselves. I am the Lord your God.
 5 And if you sacrifice a sacrifice of salvation to the Lord, you shall sacrifice it so that you may be accepted.
 6 On the day when you sacrifice it, it shall be eaten, and on the next day, and if anything is left until the third day, it shall be burned with fire.
 7 But if it is indeed eaten on the third day, it is unfit. It shall not be accepted.
 8 And the one eating it shall bear sin, because he profaned the holy things of the Lord, and the persons eating it shall be cut off from their people.
 9 And when you reap the harvest of your land, you shall not finish reaping the harvest of your field, and the fallen things of your harvest you shall not gather.
 10 And your vineyard you shall not glean over, nor the grapes of your vineyard shall you gather. For the poor and the newcomer you shall leave them. I am the Lord your God.
 11 You shall not steal. You shall not lie. No one shall inform falsely against his neighbor.
 12 And you shall not swear by my name in injustice, and you shall not profane the name of your God. I am the Lord your God.
 13 You shall not wrong your neighbor, and you shall not rob, and the wage of the hired laborer shall not sleep with you until morning.
 14 You shall not speak evil to the deaf, and before the blind you shall not put a stumbling block, and you shall fear the Lord your God. I am the Lord your God.
 15 You shall do no injustice in judgment. You shall not take the face of the poor, nor marvel at the face of the powerful. In righteousness you shall judge your neighbor.
 16 You shall not go with deceit among your people. You shall not rise up against the blood of your neighbor. I am the Lord your God.
 17 You shall not hate your brother in your mind. With reproof you shall reprove your neighbor, and you shall not take sin because of him.
 18 And your hand shall not avenge, and you shall not be angry with the sons of your people, and you shall love your neighbor as yourself. I am the Lord.
 19 You shall keep my law. Your cattle you shall not breed with a different kind, and your vineyard you shall not sow with mixed seed, and a garment woven from two kinds, counterfeit cloth⁴, you shall not put on yourself.
 20 And if a man lies with a woman with the bed of seed, and she is a female servant reserved for a man, and she has not been redeemed with a ransom, nor has freedom been given to her, there shall be oversight for them⁵. They shall not die, because she has not been freed.
 21 And he shall bring his trespass to the Lord at the door of the tent of testimony, a ram of trespass.
 22 And the priest shall make atonement for him with the ram of trespass before the Lord for the sin that he sinned, and the sin that he sinned shall be forgiven him.
 23 And when you enter into the land that the Lord your God is giving you, and you plant every edible tree, then you shall purge away its uncleanness⁶. Its fruit shall be uncleansed to you for three years. It shall not be eaten.
 24 And in the fourth year all its fruit shall be holy, praiseworthy to the Lord.
 25 And in the fifth year you shall eat the fruit, as an addition of its produce for you. I am the Lord your God.
 26 You shall not eat upon the mountains, and you shall not practice augury, nor observe birds for omens.
 27 You shall not make a rounded trimming from the hair of your head, nor destroy the appearance of your beard.

⁶ T: Greek doubles the uncleanness wording.

28 And cuttings for a dead person you shall not make in your body, and tattooed writings you shall not make on yourselves. I am the Lord your God.
 29 You shall not profane your daughter by prostituting her, and the land shall not prostitute itself, and the land shall not be filled with lawlessness.
 30 You shall keep my sabbaths, and from my holy things you shall stand in fear. I am the Lord.
 31 You shall not follow ventriloquists, and to enchanters you shall not cling, to be defiled by them. I am the Lord your God.
 32 Before gray hair you shall rise, and you shall honor the face of the elder, and you shall fear your God. I am the Lord your God.
 33 And if a newcomer comes to you in your land, you shall not oppress him.
 34 Like the native among you shall be the newcomer who comes to you, and you shall love him as yourself, because you became newcomers in the land of Egypt. I am the Lord your God.
 35 You shall do no injustice in judgment, in measures and in weights and in scales.
 36 Just scales and just weights and a just liquid-measure shall be for you. I am the Lord your God who brought you out from the land of Egypt.
 37 And you shall keep all my law and all my commands and do them. I am the Lord your God.

Chapter 20

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
 2 And to the sons of Israel you shall say: If any of the sons of Israel or of the newcomer newcomers in Israel gives of his seed to a ruler¹, he shall surely be put to death. The people of the land shall stone him with stones.
 3 And I will set my face against that man and destroy him from his people, because he gave of his seed to a ruler so as to defile my holy things and profane the name of those sanctified to me.
 4 But if the natives of the land by overlooking overlook that man with their eyes when he gives of his seed to a ruler, so as not to put him to death,
 5 then I will set my face against that man and against his kin, and I will destroy him and all who are of one mind with him, so that he prostitutes himself to the rulers, from their people.
 6 And the person who follows ventriloquists or enchanters so as to prostitute himself after them, I will set my face against that person and destroy him from his people.
 7 And you shall be holy, because I, the Lord your God, am holy.
 8 And you shall keep my commands and do them. I am the Lord who sanctifies you.
 9 Every man who speaks evil of his father or of his mother² shall surely be put to death. He spoke evil of his father or his mother. He shall be guilty.
 10 Any man who commits adultery with the wife of a man, or who commits adultery with the wife of his neighbor, the adulterer and the adulteress shall surely be put to death.
 11 And if anyone lies with his father's wife, he has uncovered his father's nakedness. Both shall surely be put to death. They are guilty.
 12 And if anyone lies with his daughter-in-law, both shall surely be put to death, for they have acted impiously. They are guilty.
 13 And whoever lies with a male the bed of a woman, both have done an abomination. They shall surely be put to death. They are guilty.
 14 Whoever takes a woman and her mother, it is lawlessness. They shall burn him and them with fire, and there shall not be lawlessness among you.
 15 And whoever gives his bed to a four-footed animal shall surely be put to death, and you shall kill the four-footed animal.
 16 And if a woman comes near to any beast to mate with it, you shall kill the woman and the beast. They shall surely be put to death. They are guilty.
 17 Whoever takes his sister by his father or by his mother and sees her nakedness and she sees his nakedness, it is a reproach³. They shall be cut off before the sons of their family. He uncovered his sister's nakedness. They shall bear sin.
 18 And a man who lies with a woman under separation and uncovers her nakedness, he has uncovered her fountain and she has uncovered the flow of her blood. Both shall be cut off from among their family⁴.
 19 And the nakedness of your father's sister and your mother's sister you shall not uncover, for he has uncovered close kin. They shall bear sin.
 20 Whoever lies with his relative, he has uncovered the nakedness of his kin. They shall die childless.
 21 Whoever takes his brother's wife, it is uncleanness. He has uncovered his brother's nakedness. They shall die childless.
 22 And keep all my commands and all my judgments and do them, and let not the land into which I am bringing you there to dwell on it be aggrieved with you.
 23 And do not walk in the statutes of the nations that I am sending away from before you, because they did all these things and I abhorred them.
 24 And I said to you, You shall inherit their land, and I will give it to you for a possession, a land flowing with milk and honey. I am the Lord your God, who separated you from all the nations⁵.
 25 And you shall distinguish between the clean animals and the unclean animals and between the clean birds and the unclean birds, and you shall not make your lives abominable⁶ among the animals and among the birds and among all the creeping things of the earth, which I set apart for you in uncleanness.
 26 And you shall be holy to me, because I, the Lord your God, am holy, who separated you from all the nations to be mine.
 27 And if a man or a woman among them becomes a ventriloquist or an enchanter, both shall surely be put to death. Stone them with stones. They are guilty.

Chapter 21

1 And the Lord said to Moses, saying, Speak to the priests, sons of Aaron, and you shall say to them: For a dead person they shall not defile themselves among their people,

⁴ T: Greek ends with from among their family here.

⁵ T: Greek says all nations rather than a narrower people-group phrase. The translation keeps that scope.

⁶ T: Greek says make your lives abominable and ends with what I set apart for you in uncleanness.

2 except for close kin nearest to them: for father and mother and sons and daughters and brother,
3 and for a virgin sister near to him, not given to a man; for these he shall defile himself.
4 He shall not defile himself suddenly among his people so as to profane himself.
5 They shall not shave a bald patch on their head for a dead one, and they shall not shave the face of the beard, and on their flesh they shall not cut cuttings.
6 They shall be holy to their God, and they shall not profane the name of their God, because they offer the sacrifices of the Lord, gifts of their God, and they shall be holy.
7 A prostitute and a profaned woman they shall not take, and a woman cast out from her husband they shall not take, because he is holy to the Lord his God.
8 And you shall sanctify him, because he offers the gifts of the Lord your God. He shall be holy, because I, the Lord who sanctifies them, am holy.
9 And if the daughter of a priestly man profanes herself by whoring, she profanes her father's name. She shall be burned with fire.
10 And the high priest from among his brothers, on whose head the anointing oil has been poured and who has been completed to put on the garments, shall not unbind his head-covering, and shall not tear his garments.
11 And he shall not enter upon any dead person. For his father or his mother he shall not defile himself.
12 And he shall not go out from the holy things, and he shall not profane the sanctuary of his God, because the holy anointing oil of his God is upon him. I am the Lord.
13 This man shall take a virgin woman from his own kindred.
14 But a widow and a cast-out woman and a profaned woman and a prostitute, these he shall not take. Rather, he shall take as wife a virgin from his own people.
15 And he shall not profane his seed among his people. I am the Lord who sanctifies him.
16 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
17 Speak to Aaron: A man from your seed throughout your generations, if a blemish is in him, shall not approach to offer the gifts of his God.
18 Every man in whom there is a blemish shall not approach: a lame or blind man, or one disfigured in face or cut in ear,
19 or a man who has a fracture of hand or a fracture of foot,
20 or hunchbacked or stunted, or a man with a blemish in his eyes, or one who has itching scabs or ringworm, or one with a single testicle.
21 Any man in whom there is a blemish, from the seed of Aaron the priest, shall not come near to offer the sacrifices to your God. Because a blemish is in him, he shall not approach to offer the gifts of his God.
22 He may eat the gifts of God, the holy of holies and the holy things.
23 Only he shall not approach the curtain, and he shall not come near the altar, because he has a blemish, and he shall not profane the holy place of his God, because I am the Lord who sanctifies them.
24 And Moses spoke to Aaron and his sons and to all the sons of Israel.

Chapter 22

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
2 Speak to Aaron and his sons, and let them attend carefully to the holy things¹ of the sons of Israel, and they shall not profane my holy name in what they consecrate to me. I am the Lord.
3 Say to them: Throughout your generations any man from all your seed who approaches the holy things that the sons of Israel consecrate to the Lord, while his uncleanness is upon him, that person shall be destroyed from before me². I am the Lord your God.
4 And any man from the seed of Aaron the priest, if he has skin-disease or a discharge, shall not eat the holy things until he is cleansed. And if one touches any uncleanness of a dead person, or a man from whom a flow of seed goes out³,
5 or whoever touches any unclean creeping thing that would make him unclean, or a human by whom he would become unclean according to all his uncleanness,
6 a person who touches these shall be unclean until evening and shall not eat from the holy things unless he washes his body in water.
7 And when the sun goes down, he shall be clean, and afterward he shall eat of the holy things, because that is his bread.
8 What dies of itself or is torn by beasts he shall not eat, to be defiled by them. I am the Lord.⁴
9 And they shall keep my ordinances, so that they may not bear sin because of them and die because of them if they profane them. I am the Lord God who sanctifies them.
10 And no foreigner shall eat holy things. A resident of a priest or a hired servant shall not eat holy things.
11 But if a priest acquires a person as property with silver, that one shall eat of his bread, and those born in his house, they too shall eat of his bread.
12 And if a priest's daughter belongs to a foreign man, she shall not eat of the firstfruits of the holy things.
13 But if a priest's daughter becomes a widow or cast out, and there is no seed for her, and she returns to her father's house as in her youth, she shall eat of her father's bread. But no foreigner shall eat from them.
14 And if a man eats holy things by ignorance, he shall add a fifth part to it and give the holy thing to the priest.
15 And they shall not profane the holy things of the sons of Israel, which they set apart for the Lord,
16 and bring upon themselves guilt of trespass when they eat their holy things, because I am the Lord who sanctifies them.
17 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
18 Speak to Aaron and to his sons and to all the congregation of Israel, and you shall say to them: Any man from the sons of Israel or from the sons of the newcomers attached to them⁵ in Israel who brings his gifts according to all their vows or according to all their freewill choices, whatever they may bring to God as a whole burnt offering,
19 for acceptance for you, shall bring an unblemished male from the cattle and from the sheep and from the goats.
20 Whatever has a blemish in it you shall not bring to the Lord, because it shall not be acceptable for you.
21 And if a man brings a sacrifice of salvation to the Lord, fulfilling a vow or as a freewill choice or in your festivals, it shall be unblemished for acceptance, from the cattle or from the sheep. No blemish shall be in it.

³ T: Greek keeps this impurity wording.

22 A blind or crushed or cut-tongued animal, or one with warts or with mange or with ringworm, these you shall not bring to the Lord, and from them you shall not place an offering upon the altar to the Lord.
 23 And a calf or sheep cut in ear or short in tail, you shall make them as slaughter-offerings for yourself, but for your vow it shall not be accepted.
 24 One bruised or crushed or cut out or torn away you shall not bring to the Lord, and in your land you shall not do so.
 25 And from the hand of a foreigner you shall not bring gifts to your God from any of these, because ruin is in them; blemish is in them; these shall not be accepted for you.
 26 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
 27 A calf or sheep or goat, whenever it is born, shall be seven days under its mother, but on the eighth day and beyond it shall be accepted as a gift, an offering to the Lord.
 28 And a calf or sheep, her and her young you shall not slaughter in one day.
 29 And if you sacrifice to the Lord a sacrifice, a vow of rejoicing, you shall sacrifice it for acceptance for you.
 30 It shall be eaten on that same day; you shall not leave any of the meat from it until morning. I am the Lord.
 31 And you shall keep my commands and do them.
 32 And you shall not profane my holy name, and I shall be sanctified in the midst of the sons of Israel. I am the Lord who sanctifies you,
 33 who brought you out from the land of Egypt so as to be your God. I am the Lord.

Chapter 23

1 And the Lord said to Moses, saying,
 2 Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them: These are the feasts of the Lord, which you shall call holy convocations; these are my feasts.
 3 Six days you shall do works, and on the seventh day there shall be Sabbaths, rest, a holy convocation to the Lord. You shall do no work. It is Sabbath to the Lord in every dwelling of yours.
 4 These are the feasts of the Lord, holy convocations, which you shall call in their times.
 5 In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, between the evenings, is Passover to the Lord.
 6 And on the fifteenth day of this month is the feast of Unleavened Bread to the Lord. Seven days you shall eat unleavened bread.
 7 And the first day shall be a holy convocation for you. You shall do no servile work.
 8 And you shall bring whole burnt offerings to the Lord seven days, and the seventh day shall be a holy convocation for you. You shall do no servile work.
 9 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
 10 Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them: When you enter the land that I give you and reap its harvest, you shall bring a sheaf, the firstfruits of your harvest, to the priest.
 11 And he shall lift the sheaf before the Lord, acceptable for you. On the day after the first day the priest shall lift it.
 12 And on the day when you bring the sheaf, you shall prepare an unblemished yearling lamb as a whole burnt offering to the Lord.
 13 And its sacrifice shall be two tenths of fine flour mixed with oil, an offering to the Lord, an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord, and its libation¹ shall be a fourth of a hin of wine.
 14 And bread and parched grain and fresh kernels² you shall not eat until this very day, until you bring the gifts to your God. It is a perpetual statute throughout your generations in every dwelling of yours.
 15 And you shall count for yourselves from the day after the Sabbaths, from the day when you bring the sheaf of the raised offering, seven full weeks.
 16 Until the day after the last week you shall count fifty days, and you shall bring a new sacrifice to the Lord.
 17 From your dwellings you shall bring loaves as a raised offering, two loaves from two tenths of fine flour. They shall be baked leavened, firstfruits to the Lord.
 18 And you shall bring with the loaves seven unblemished yearling lambs and one calf from the cattle and two unblemished rams. They shall be a whole burnt offering to the Lord, and their sacrifices and their libations, an offering, an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.³
 19 And they shall offer one kid from the goats for sin, and two yearling lambs as a sacrifice of salvation with the loaves of firstfruits.
 20 And the priest shall place them with the loaves of firstfruits as a raised offering before the Lord with the two lambs. They shall be holy to the Lord for the priest who offers them; they shall be his.
 21 And you shall proclaim this day; it shall be a holy convocation for you. You shall do no servile work in it. It is a perpetual statute throughout your generations in every dwelling of yours.
 22 And when you reap the harvest of your land, you shall not finish off the remainder of your field when you reap, and the fallen gleanings⁴ of your harvest you shall not gather. For the poor and for the newcomer you shall leave them. I am the Lord your God.
 23 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
 24 Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, In the seventh month, on the first day of the month, you shall have a rest, a memorial of trumpets, a holy convocation.
 25 You shall do no servile work, and you shall bring a whole burnt offering to the Lord.
 26 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
 27 And on the tenth day of this seventh month is the day of atonement. It shall be a holy convocation for you, and you shall humble your lives, and you shall bring a whole burnt offering to the Lord.
 28 You shall do no work on this very day, because it is a day of atonement, to make atonement for you before the Lord your God.
 29 Every person who is not humbled on this very day shall be destroyed from her people.
 30 And every person who does work on this very day, that person shall perish from her people.
 31 You shall do no work. It is a perpetual statute throughout your generations in all your dwellings.
 32 It shall be a Sabbath of Sabbaths for you, and you shall humble your lives. From the ninth day of the month, from evening to evening, you shall sabbatize your Sabbaths.

33 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

34 Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, On the fifteenth day of this seventh month is the feast of Booths for seven days to the Lord.

35 And the first day shall be a holy convocation. You shall do no servile work.

36 Seven days you shall bring whole burnt offerings to the Lord, and the eighth day shall be a holy convocation for you, and you shall bring whole burnt offerings to the Lord. It is a conclusion. You shall do no servile work.¹

37 These are the feasts of the Lord, which you shall call holy convocations, so as to bring offerings to the Lord, whole burnt offerings and their sacrifices and their libations, each day as required for the day,

38 apart from the Sabbaths of the Lord and apart from your gifts and apart from all your vows and apart from all your freewill offerings that you give to the Lord.

39 And on the fifteenth day of this seventh month, whenever you finish the produce of the land, you shall keep feast to the Lord seven days. On the first day there shall be rest, and on the eighth day there shall be rest.

40 And on the first day you shall take splendid fruit of trees and branches of palms and boughs of leafy tree and willows and branches of chaste tree from the torrent, to rejoice before the Lord your God seven days.

41 It is a perpetual statute throughout your generations. In the seventh month you shall keep feast to it.

42 You shall dwell in booths seven days. Every native-born person in Israel shall dwell in booths,

43 so that your generations may see that in booths I settled the sons of Israel when I brought them out from the land of Egypt. I am the Lord your God.

44 And Moses spoke the feasts of the Lord to the sons of Israel.

Chapter 24

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 Command the sons of Israel, and let them take for me clear beaten olive oil for light, to burn a lamp continually.

3 Outside the curtain in the tent of testimony, Aaron and his sons shall burn it² from evening until morning before the Lord continually, a perpetual statute throughout your generations.

4 On the pure lampstand you shall burn the lamps before the Lord until morning.

5 And you shall take fine flour and make from it twelve loaves. Each loaf shall be of two tenths.

6 And you shall place them in two arrangements, six loaves in one arrangement, on the pure table before the Lord.

7 And you shall place on the arrangement pure frankincense and salt, and they shall be for the loaves as a memorial, set before the Lord.

8 On the day of the Sabbaths it shall be set out before the Lord continually, from the sons of Israel as an everlasting covenant.

9 And it shall belong to Aaron and to his sons, and they shall eat them in a holy place, because this is holy of holies for him from the things sacrificed to the Lord, a perpetual statute.

10 And there came out a son of an Israelite³ woman, and he was the son of an Egyptian, among the sons of Israel, and the one from the Israelite woman and the Israelite man fought in the camp.

11 And the son of the Israelite woman, having named the Name, cursed, and they brought him to Moses. And his mother's name was Shelomith⁴, daughter of Dibri⁵, from the tribe of Dan.

12 And they put him into custody, to judge him by the command of the Lord.

13 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

14 Bring out the one who cursed outside the camp, and let all who heard place their hands on his head, and let all the congregation stone him.

15 And speak to the sons of Israel, and you shall say to them: A man who curses God shall bear sin.

16 And the one naming the name of the Lord⁶, let him surely be put to death; with stones let all the congregation stone him. Whether newcomer or native-born, when he names the name of the Lord, let him die.

17 And a man who strikes a human life, and it dies, let him surely be put to death.

18 And whoever strikes an animal and it dies, let him pay life for life.

19 And if anyone gives a blemish to his neighbor, as he did, so it shall be done back to him:⁷

20 fracture for fracture, eye for eye, tooth for tooth. According as he gave a blemish to a person, so shall it be given to him.

21 Whoever strikes a person and he dies, let him surely be put to death.

22 One righteous judgment shall be for the newcomer and for the native-born, because I am the Lord your God.

23 And Moses spoke to the sons of Israel, and they brought out the one who cursed outside the camp and stoned him with stones. And the sons of Israel did just as the Lord commanded Moses.

Chapter 25

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses on Mount Sinai, saying,

2 Speak to the sons of Israel, and you shall say to them: When you enter the land that I give you, the land that I give you shall rest, Sabbaths to the Lord.

3 Six years you shall sow your field, and six years you shall prune your vineyard and gather its fruit.

4 But in the seventh year there shall be Sabbaths of rest for the land, Sabbaths to the Lord. Your field you shall not sow, and your vineyard you shall not prune.

5 And the spontaneous growths of your field you shall not reap, and the grapes of your consecrated growth you shall not gather. It shall be a year of rest for the land.

6 And the Sabbaths of the land shall be food for you and for your servant and for your maidservant and for your hired worker and for the resident staying with you,

7 and for your cattle and for the wild animals in your land. All its produce shall be for eating.

8 And you shall count for yourself seven rests of years, seven years seven times, and you shall have seven weeks of years, forty-nine years.

9 And you shall proclaim a trumpet's sound through all your land in the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month. On the day of atonement you shall proclaim with trumpet through all your land.

10 And you shall sanctify the fiftieth year, and you shall proclaim release upon the land to all dwelling in it. This year shall be for you a signal of release¹, and each shall go out to his possession, and each shall return to his homeland.

11 This fiftieth year shall be for you a signal of release. You shall not sow, nor reap its spontaneous growths, nor gather its consecrated produce.

12 Because it is a signal of release, it shall be holy to you. From the fields you shall eat its produce.

14 And if you make a sale to your neighbor, or acquire from your neighbor, let no one oppress his neighbor.

15 According to the number of years after the signal you shall acquire from your neighbor; according to the number of crop-years he shall sell to you.

16 According as the years are many, you shall increase its purchase, and according as the years are few, you shall lessen its purchase, because according to the number of its crops he sells to you.²

17 Let no one oppress his neighbor, and you shall fear the Lord your God. I am the Lord your God.

18 And you shall do all my ordinances and all my judgments, and keep them and do them, and you shall dwell confidently on the land.

19 And the land shall give its produce, and you shall eat to fullness and dwell confidently on it.

20 And if you say, What shall we eat in this seventh year, if we do not sow nor gather our produce?

21 Then I will send my blessing to you in the sixth year, and it shall make its produce for three years.

22 And you shall sow in the eighth year and eat from the old produce until the ninth year; until its produce comes in, you shall eat old stores of old things.

23 And the land shall not be sold into permanence, because the land is mine. For you are newcomers and residents before me.

24 And through all the land of your possession you shall give redemption for the land³.

25 And if your brother beside you becomes poor and sells from his possession, and his near kinsman comes, the one nearest to him, he shall redeem the sale of his brother.

26 And if he has no kinsman, but his hand prospers and sufficient redemption is found for him,

27 then he shall calculate the years of his sale and pay back the surplus to the man to whom he sold himself, and he shall return to his possession.

28 But if his hand does not prosper enough⁴ to repay him, then the sale shall remain with the one who acquired it until the year of release, and he shall go out in the release and return to his possession.

29 And if anyone sells a dwelling house in a walled city, its redemption shall continue until a full year of days is completed; its redemption shall last a full year.

30 But if it is not redeemed until a whole year is completed for it, then the house in the city that has a wall shall be confirmed permanently to the one who acquired it, throughout his generations. It shall not go out in the release⁵.

31 But the houses in villages that have no wall around them shall be counted with the field of the land. They shall always be redeemable, and in the release they shall go out.

32 And the cities of the Levites, the houses of the cities of their possession, shall always be redeemable for the Levites.

33 And whoever redeems from the Levites, then the sale of houses of the city of their possession shall go out in the release, because the houses of the cities of the Levites are their possession in the midst of the sons of Israel.⁶

35 And if your brother becomes poor and grows weak in his hands beside you, you shall take hold of him as of a newcomer and a resident, and your brother shall live with you.

36 You shall not take interest from him, nor increase, and you shall fear your God. I am the Lord, and your brother shall live with you.

37 Your silver you shall not give to him at interest, and your food you shall not give to him for increase.

38 I am the Lord your God, who brought you out from the land of Egypt, to give you the land of Canaan, so as to be your God.

39 And if your brother beside you is humbled and is sold to you, he shall not serve you with a servant's service.

40 He shall be with you as a hired worker or a resident. He shall work beside you until the year of release, 41 and he shall go out in the release, he and his children with him, and he shall return to his family; to his paternal possession he shall run back.

42 Because these are my domestics, whom I brought out from the land of Egypt. They shall not be sold in a servant's sale.

43 You shall not stretch him hard in toil, and you shall fear the Lord your God.

44 And slave and slave-girl, as many as may come to you from the nations that are around you, from them you shall acquire male slave and female slave.

45 And from the sons of the residents who are among you, from these you shall acquire, and from their families, as many as may be born in your land, and they shall be for you as a possession.⁷

46 And you shall distribute them to your children after you, and they shall be for you as permanent holdings forever. But among your brothers, the sons of Israel, no one shall stretch his brother hard in toils⁸.

47 And if the hand of the newcomer or the resident beside you prospers, and your brother grows poor and is sold to the newcomer or resident beside you, to one born from newcomer stock,

48 after he has been sold, redemption shall be for him; one of his brothers shall redeem him.

49 His father's brother or the son of his father's brother shall redeem him, or one from his own flesh, from his tribe, shall redeem him. But if he prospers in his hands, he may redeem himself.

50 And he shall calculate with the one who acquired him⁹ from the year that he sold himself to him until the year of release, and the silver of his sale shall be according to a hired worker's wage, year by year it shall be with him.

51 And if many years remain, according to these he shall pay his redemption from the silver of his sale.

52 And if only a few years remain until the year of release, then he shall calculate for him according to his years, and he shall 53 He shall be with him as a hired worker year by year. You shall not stretch him hard in toil before you.

54 But if he is not redeemed by these means, he shall go out in the year of release, he and his children with him.

55 Because the sons of Israel are mine as domestics¹. They are my servants, whom I brought out from the land of Egypt. I am the Lord your God.

Chapter 26

1 Do not make for yourselves idols made by hand, nor carved images, nor set up a pillar for yourselves, nor place a watching stone in your land to bow down to it, because I am the Lord your God.

2 Keep my Sabbaths, and stand in awe before my holy things. I am the Lord.

3 If you walk in my ordinances and keep my commands and do them,

4 then I will give you rain in its season, and the land will give its produce, and the trees of the plains will yield their fruit.

5 And threshing will overtake vintage for you, and vintage will overtake sowing, and you will eat your bread to fullness and dwell in safety on your land.

6 And war will not pass through your land, and I will give peace in your land, and you will sleep, and there will be none to frighten you, and I will destroy harmful wild beasts from your land.

7 And you will pursue your enemies, and they will fall before you by slaughter.

8 And five of you will pursue a hundred, and a hundred of you will pursue myriads, and your enemies will fall before you by sword.

9 And I will look upon you and increase you and multiply you, and I will establish my covenant with you.

10 And you will eat old stores, even very old stores, and you will clear out the old before the new.

11 And I will set my covenant among you, and my soul will not abhor you.

12 And I will walk among you and will be your God, and you will be my people.

13 I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt when you were slaves, and I shattered the bonds of your yoke and led you with boldness.

14 But if you do not listen to me and do not do these ordinances,

15 but disobey them, and your soul loathes my judgments, so that you do not do all my commands, so as to break my covenant,

16 then I also will do this to you: I will bring upon you distress, scab, and jaundice, wasting your eyes and consuming your life, and you will sow your seed for nothing, and your adversaries will eat it.²

17 And I will set my face against you, and you will fall before your enemies, and those who hate you will pursue you, and you will flee though none pursues you.

18 And if even after this you do not listen to me, I will continue to discipline you sevenfold for your sins.

19 And I will shatter the arrogance of your pride, and I will make your sky iron and your land like bronze.

20 And your strength will be spent in vain, and your land will not give its seed, and the tree of your field will not give its fruit.

21 And if after this you go at odds with me and are unwilling to listen to me, I will add blows to you sevenfold according to your sins.

22 And I will send against you the wild beasts of the land, and they will devour you and destroy your cattle and make you few, and your roads will be desolate.

23 And if by these things you are not disciplined, but go at odds with me,

24 then I also will go with you in anger at odds, and I myself will strike you sevenfold for your sins.

25 And I will bring upon you a sword avenging covenant justice, and you will flee into your cities, and I will send death among you, and you will be handed over into enemies' hands.

26 When I afflict you with the scarcity of breads, ten women will bake your breads in one oven and give back your breads by weight, and you will eat and not be filled.

27 But if after these things you do not listen to me and go with me at odds,

28 then I myself will go with you in wrath at odds and discipline you sevenfold according to your sins.

29 And you will eat the flesh of your sons, and you will eat the flesh of your daughters.

30 And I will lay waste your pillars and destroy your wooden idols, and I will place your carcasses upon the carcasses of your idols, and my soul will loathe you.

31 And I will make your cities desolate and lay waste your holy places, and I will not smell the fragrance of your sacrifices.

32 And I myself will lay waste the land, and your enemies who dwell in it will wonder at it.

33 And I will scatter you among the nations, and the sword coming after you will consume you, and your land will be desolate and your cities desolate.

34 Then the land will welcome its Sabbaths all the days of its desolation, while you are in the land of your enemies; then the land will keep Sabbath and welcome its Sabbaths.

35 All the days of its desolation it will keep Sabbath, what it did not keep Sabbath in your Sabbaths when you were dwelling on it.

36 And to those left of you I will bring fear into their heart in the land of their enemies, and the sound of a driven leaf will pursue them, and they will flee as fleeing from war and will fall with none pursuing.³

37 And brother will disregard brother, as in war, though none chases, and you will not be able to stand against your enemies.

38 And you will perish among the nations, and the land of your enemies will devour you.

39 And those left of you will waste away for their sins in the land of their enemies; they also will melt away for the sins of their fathers.

40 And they will confess their sins and the sins of their fathers, that they transgressed and overlooked me and went at odds with me.

41 And I also went with them in anger at odds⁴ and destroyed them in the land of their enemies. Then their uncircumcised heart will be ashamed, and then they will accept their sins.

42 And I will remember the covenant of Isaac, and the covenant of Abraham I will remember, and I will remember the land.

43 And the land will be left by them; then it will welcome its Sabbaths⁵ while made desolate because of them, and they will accept their lawless deeds, because they overlooked my judgments and their soul loathed my ordinances.

44 Yet not even while they are in the land of their enemies have I overlooked them or loathed them¹ so as to destroy them, so as to break my covenant with them, because I am the Lord their God.

45 And I will remember for them the earlier covenant, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of a house of slavery, before the nations, to be their God. I am the Lord.

46 These are the judgments and the ordinances and the law that the Lord gave between himself and the sons of Israel on Mount Sinai by Moses' hand.

Chapter 27

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 Speak to the sons of Israel, and you shall say to them: Whoever vows a vow, setting the valuation of his life to the Lord,

3 the valuation of the male from twenty years old to sixty years old shall be fifty silver didrachms by the holy standard.

4 And the valuation of the female shall be thirty didrachms.

5 And if from five years old to twenty years old, the valuation of the male shall be twenty didrachms, and of the female ten didrachms.

6 And from a month old to five years old, the valuation of the male shall be five silver didrachms, and of the female three didrachms.

7 And if from sixty years old and upward, if male, the valuation shall be fifteen silver didrachms, and if female, ten didrachms.

8 And if he is too poor for the valuation, he shall stand before the priest, and the priest shall value him; according as the hand of the one who vowed is able, the priest shall value him.

9 And if it is from the cattle that people bring from them as a gift to the Lord, whatever someone gives from these to the Lord shall be holy.

10 He shall not exchange it, good for bad or bad for good. But if in exchanging he does exchange animal for animal, both it and its exchange shall be holy.

11 And if it is any unclean animal, from which they do not bring a gift to the Lord, he shall set the animal before the priest.

12 And the priest shall value it between good and bad, and as the priest values it, so it shall stand.

13 But if in redeeming he redeems it, he shall add the fifth part to its valuation.

14 And if a person sanctifies his house as holy to the Lord, the priest shall value it between good and bad; as the priest values it, so it shall stand.

15 And if the one who sanctified it redeems his house, he shall add to it the fifth part of the silver of its valuation, and it shall be his.

16 And if a person sanctifies to the Lord part of the field of his possession, its valuation shall be according to its seed: a homer of barley seed, fifty silver didrachms.

17 And if he sanctifies his field from the year of release, it shall stand according to its valuation.

18 But if he sanctifies his field later, after the release, the priest shall reckon the silver² for him according to the years remaining until the year of release, and it shall be deducted from its valuation.

19 And if the one who sanctified it redeems the field, he shall add the fifth part of the silver to its valuation, and it shall be his.

20 But if he does not redeem the field, and the field is sold to another person, he may no longer redeem it.

21 But when the field goes out in the release, it shall be holy to the Lord, like land set apart. It shall belong to the priest as a possession.

22 And if he sanctifies to the Lord part of a field he bought, which is not from the field of his possession,

23 the priest shall reckon for him the full amount of the valuation until the year of release, and he shall give the valuation on that day, holy to the Lord.

24 And in the year of release the field shall be returned to the person from whom he bought it, to the one whose possession the land was.

25 And every valuation shall be by holy weights; twenty obols shall be the didrachm.

26 But every firstborn that is born among your cattle shall belong to the Lord, and no one shall sanctify it, whether calf or sheep; it belongs to the Lord.

27 And if it is from the unclean four-footed animals³, he shall redeem it according to its valuation and add the fifth part to it, and it shall be his. But if it is not redeemed, it shall be sold according to its valuation.

28 But every devoted thing that a person devotes to the Lord, from all that belongs to him, from human to beast and from the field of his possession, shall not be sold and shall not be redeemed. Every devoted thing is holy of holies⁴ to the Lord.

29 And every devoted thing that is devoted from humans shall not be redeemed⁵, but shall surely be put to death.

30 And every tithe of the land, from the seed of the land and from the fruit of the trees, belongs to the Lord; it is holy to the Lord.

31 And if a person redeems his tithe in redeeming, he shall add the fifth part to it, and it shall be his.

32 And every tithe of cattle and sheep, everything that passes under the rod, the tenth shall be holy to the Lord.

33 He shall not inspect whether it is good or bad, and he shall not exchange it. But if in exchanging he does exchange it, both it and its exchange shall be holy⁶; it shall not be redeemed.

34 These are the commands that the Lord commanded Moses for the sons of Israel on Mount Sinai.

48 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

50 But you shall appoint the Levites over the tent of testimony and over all its furnishings and over everything in it. They shall carry the tent and all its furnishings, and they shall minister in it, and they shall camp around the tent.
51 And when the tent is taken down, the Levites shall take it down, and when the tent camps, the Levites shall set it up. And the stranger who comes near shall die.

Chapter 3

1 And these are the generations of Aaron and Moses on the day when the Lord spoke to Moses on Mount Sinai.
 2 And these are the names of the sons of Aaron: Nadab the firstborn, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.¹
 3 These are the names of the sons of Aaron, the priests, the anointed ones whose hands were consecrated to serve as priests.
 4 And Nadab and Abihu died before the Lord when they offered strange fire before the Lord in the wilderness of Sinai, and they had no children. And Eleazar and Ithamar served as priests with Aaron their father.
 5 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
 6 Take the tribe of Levi and set them before Aaron the priest, and they shall minister to him.
 7 And they shall keep his charges and the charges of the sons of Israel before the tent of testimony, to do the works of the tent.
 8 And they shall keep all the furnishings of the tent of testimony and the charges of the sons of Israel according to all the works of the tent.
 9 And you shall give the Levites to Aaron and to his sons the priests. Given as a gift, these are mine from the sons of Israel.
 10 And you shall appoint Aaron and his sons over the tent of testimony, and they shall keep their priesthood and all things concerning the altar and inside the veil. And the stranger who touches shall die.
 11 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
 12 And I, behold, have taken the Levites from the midst of the sons of Israel instead of every firstborn opening a womb among the sons of Israel. They shall be their ransom, and the Levites shall be mine.
 13 For every firstborn is mine. On the day I struck every firstborn in the land of Egypt, I sanctified to myself² every firstborn in Israel, from human to beast. They shall be mine. I am the Lord.
 14 And the Lord spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, saying,
 15 Count the sons of Levi by the houses of their fathers, by their clans, by their families. Every male from a month old and upward you shall count.³
 16 And Moses and Aaron counted them by the word of the Lord, just as the Lord commanded them.
 17 And these were the sons of Levi by their names: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.
 18 And these are the names of the sons of Gershon by their clans: Libni and Shimei⁴.
 19 And the sons of Kohath by their clans: Amram and Izehar⁵, Hebron and Uzziel.
 20 And the sons of Merari by their clans: Mahali and Mushi. These are the clans of the Levites by the houses of their fathers.
 21 To Gershon belonged the clan of Libni and the clan of Shimei. These are the clans of Gershon.
 22 Their counting, by the number of every male from a month old and upward, was seven thousand five hundred.
 23 The sons of Gershon shall camp behind the tent, by the sea.
 24 And the chief of the fathers' house⁶ of the clan of Gershon was Eliasaph son of Lael⁷.
 25 And the charge of the sons of Gershon in the tent of testimony was the tent and the covering and the screen of the door of the tent of testimony,
 26 and the curtains of the court and the screen of the gate of the court that is by the tent, and the rest of all its works.
 27 To Kohath belonged the clan of the Amramites⁸ and the clan of the Issaharites and the clan of the Hebronites⁹ and the clan of the Uzzielites¹⁰. These are the clans of Kohath.¹¹
 28 By the number of every male from a month old and upward, there were eight thousand six hundred, keeping the charges of the holy things.
 29 The clans of the sons of Kohath shall camp at the sides of the tent, toward the south.
 30 And the chief of the fathers' house of the clans of Kohath was Elzaphan son of Uzziel.
 31 And their charge was the ark and the table and the lampstand and the altars and the vessels of the sanctuary with which they minister and the covering and all their works.
 32 And the chief over the chiefs of the Levites was Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, appointed to keep the charges of the holy things.
 33 To Merari belonged the clan of the Moolites and the clan of the Mushites¹². These are the clans of Merari.
 34 Their counting, by the number of every male from a month old and upward, was six thousand fifty.

 40 And the Lord said to Moses, saying, Count every firstborn male of the sons of Israel from a month old and upward, and take the number by name.
 41 And you shall take the Levites for me, I am the Lord, in place of all the firstborn of the sons of Israel, and the cattle of the Levites in place of all the firstborn among the cattle of the sons of Israel.
 42 And Moses counted, just as the Lord commanded, every firstborn among the sons of Israel.
 43 And all the firstborn males by the number of names, from a month old and upward, from their counting, were twenty-two thousand two hundred seventy-three.

 3 from twenty-five years old and upward to fifty years old, every one entering to minister, to do all the works in the tent of testimony.
 4 And these are the works of the sons of Kohath in the tent of testimony: the holy of holies.
 5 And Aaron and his sons shall go in when the camp is taken up, and they shall take down the screening veil and with it cover the ark of testimony.
 6 And they shall put upon it a blue leather covering and spread over it an all-blue cloth above, and they shall put in its carrying poles.
 7 And upon the table set forth they shall spread a purple cloth, and they shall place upon it the dishes and the censers and the bowls and the libation vessels with which they pour. And the continual breads shall remain on it.
 8 And they shall spread over it a scarlet cloth and cover it with a blue leather covering and put through it the carrying poles.

 18 Do not destroy the clan of Kohath from among the Levites.
 19 Do this for them, and they shall live and not die when they approach the holy of holies: Aaron and his sons shall go in and appoint each of them to his task and to his burden.
 20 And they shall not go in to look suddenly upon the holy things and die.
 21 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

48 their count was eight thousand five hundred eighty.

Chapter 5

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 Command the sons of Israel, and let them send out from the camp every leprous person and every one with a discharge and every one unclean by a dead person.

3 From male to female you shall send them out of the camp, and they shall not defile their camps, in the midst of which I dwell among them.

4 And the sons of Israel did so and sent them out of the camp. Just as the Lord spoke to Moses, so the sons of Israel did.

5 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

6 Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, If a man or a woman does any of the human sins, and in overlooking overlooks, and that soul trespasses,

7 he shall confess the sin that he did, and he shall repay the principal of the trespass⁶ and add its fifth part to it and give it to the one against whom he trespassed.

8 But if the person has no near kinsman⁷ so that the trespass may be repaid to him, the trespass repaid to the Lord shall be for the priest, besides the ram of atonement by which he shall make atonement for him.

9 And every firstfruit among all the holy things of the sons of Israel, whatever they bring to the Lord, shall be his, for the priest.

10 And each man's holy things shall be his⁸. Whatever a man gives to the priest shall be his.

11 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

12 Speak to the sons of Israel, and you shall say to them, If any man's wife goes astray and in overlooking overlooks him,

13 and someone lies with her in a bed of seed, and it is hidden from the eyes of her husband, and she herself is concealed, though she has been defiled, and there is no witness with her, and she was not caught,

14 and a spirit of jealousy⁹ comes upon him and he is jealous of his wife and she has been defiled, or a spirit of jealousy comes upon him and he is jealous of his wife and she has not been defiled,

15 then the man shall bring his wife to the priest and bring her gift concerning her: a tenth of an ephah of barley flour. He shall not pour oil upon it, nor place frankincense upon it, because it is a sacrifice of jealousy, a sacrifice of memorial, bringing sin to remembrance¹⁰.

16 And the priest shall bring her near and set her before the Lord¹¹.
 17 And the priest shall take pure living water in an earthen vessel², and from the dust that is on the floor of the tent of testimony, taking it, the priest shall put it into the water.
 18 And the priest shall set the woman before the Lord and uncover the woman's head and put upon her hands the sacrifice of memorial, the sacrifice of jealousy. And in the priest's hand shall be the water of reproof³, this cursed water.
 19 And the priest shall adjure her and say to the woman, If no man has lain with you, and if you have not gone astray to be defiled under your own husband, be innocent from this water of reproof, this cursed water.
 20 But if you have gone astray under your husband, and if you are defiled, and some man besides your husband has given his bed in you,
 21 then the priest shall adjure the woman with the oaths of this curse, and the priest shall say to the woman: May the Lord make you a curse and an oath in the midst of your people, when the Lord gives your thigh fallen away and your belly swollen.
 22 And this cursed water shall enter into your belly to make the belly swell and to make your thigh fall away. And the woman shall say, Amen, amen.
 23 And the priest shall write these curses in a scroll and wipe them into the water of reproof, this cursed water.
 24 And he shall make the woman drink the water of reproof, this cursed water, and the cursed water of reproof shall enter into her.
 25 And the priest shall take from the woman's hand the sacrifice of jealousy and shall present the sacrifice before the Lord and bring it to the altar.
 26 And the priest shall take a handful from the sacrifice as its memorial and offer it upon the altar, and after these things he shall make the woman drink the water.
 27 And it shall be, if she has been defiled and by concealment concealed it⁴ from her husband, then the water of reproof, the cursed water, shall enter into her, and her belly shall swell and her thigh shall fall away, and the woman shall become a curse among her people.
 28 But if the woman has not been defiled and is clean, she shall be innocent and shall conceive seed.
 29 This is the law of jealousy, when a woman, being under a husband, goes astray and is defiled,
 30 or when a spirit of jealousy comes upon a man⁵ and he is jealous of his wife, and he shall set his wife before the Lord, and the priest shall do to her all this law.
 31 And the man shall be clear from sin, but that woman shall bear her sin.

Chapter 6

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
 2 Speak to the sons of Israel, and you shall say to them: A man or a woman who greatly vows a vow, to consecrate a consecration to the Lord,
 3 shall separate himself from wine and strong drink. He shall not drink vinegar from wine or vinegar from strong drink, and he shall not drink whatever is produced from grapes⁶, and he shall not eat fresh grapes or raisins.
 4 All the days of his vow, from everything made from the vine of wine, from grape husks to grape seed, he shall not eat.
 5 All the days of the vow of his consecration, a razor shall not come upon his head until the days are fulfilled that he vowed to the Lord. He shall be holy, letting the hair of his head grow long⁷.
 6 All the days of his vow to the Lord, he shall not go in to any dead person.
 7 For father and for mother and for brother and for sister, he shall not be defiled for them when they die, because the vow of his God is upon his head.
 8 All the days of his vow he shall be holy to the Lord.
 9 But if someone suddenly dies beside him at once, the head of his vow will be defiled, and he shall shave his head on whatever day he is cleansed; on the seventh day it shall be shaved.
 10 And on the eighth day he shall bring two turtledoves or two young pigeons to the priest at the doors of the tent of testimony.
 11 And the priest shall make one a sin offering and one a whole burnt offering, and the priest shall make atonement for him for what he sinned concerning the dead person⁸, and he shall sanctify his head on that day.
 12 And he shall consecrate to the Lord the days of his vow and bring a year-old lamb for a trespass offering, and the former days shall be without account⁹, because the head of his vow was defiled.
 13 And this is the law of the one who has vowed: on whatever day he completes the days of his vow, he shall bring himself to the doors of the tent of testimony.
 14 And he shall bring his gift to the Lord: one unblemished year-old male lamb for a whole burnt offering, and one unblemished year-old ewe lamb for a sin offering, and one unblemished ram for a sacrifice of salvation¹⁰,
 15 and a basket of unleavened bread, fine-flour loaves prepared with oil and unleavened wafers anointed with oil, and their sacrifice and their libation.
 16 And the priest shall bring them before the Lord and make his sin offering and his whole burnt offering.
 17 And he shall make the ram a sacrifice of salvation to the Lord with the basket of unleavened bread, and the priest shall make his sacrifice and his libation.
 18 And the one who vowed¹¹ shall shave the head of his vow¹² at the doors of the tent of testimony and place the hair of his vow upon the fire that is under the sacrifice of salvation¹³.¹⁴
 19 And the priest shall take the boiled shoulder¹⁵ from the ram and one unleavened loaf from the basket and one unleavened wafer and place them on the hands of the one who vowed, after he has shaved his vow.

20 And the priest shall present them as an offering set before the Lord. It shall be holy for the priest, besides the breast of the offering set before the Lord and besides the arm of the contribution. And after these things the one who vowed shall drink wine.
 21 This is the law of the one who vowed, who vows his gift to the Lord concerning his vow, apart from whatever his hand may find¹. According to the power of his vow that he vowed, according to the law of consecration, so shall he do.
 22 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
 23 Speak to Aaron and to his sons, saying, Thus you shall bless the sons of Israel, saying to them. And they shall put my name upon the sons of Israel, and I the Lord will bless them.
 24 May the Lord bless you and keep you.²
 25 May the Lord make his face shine upon you and have mercy on you.
 26 May the Lord lift up his face upon you and give you peace³.

Chapter 8

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
2 Speak to Aaron, and you shall say to him: When you set the lamps in place, toward the front of the lampstand the seven lamps shall give light.
3 And Aaron did so. From one side toward the front of the lampstand he lit its lamps, just as the Lord commanded Moses.
4 And this was the workmanship of the lampstand: solid gold¹, its stem and its lilies, all solid. According to the pattern the Lord showed Moses, so he made the lampstand.
5 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
6 Take the Levites from the midst of the sons of Israel and purify them.
7 And thus you shall do to them for their purification: sprinkle them with the water of purification, and a razor shall go over all their body, and they shall wash their garments and be clean.
8 And they shall take one bull from the cattle and its sacrifice of fine flour prepared with oil, and you shall take another yearling bull from the cattle for sin offering.
9 And you shall bring the Levites before the tent of testimony, and you shall gather the whole congregation of the sons of Israel.
10 And you shall bring the Levites before the Lord, and the sons of Israel shall place their hands upon the Levites.
11 And Aaron shall set apart the Levites as an offering before the Lord from the sons of Israel, and they shall be for working the works of the Lord.
12 And the Levites shall place their hands upon the heads of the bulls, and he shall make one a sin offering² and one a whole burnt offering to the Lord, to make atonement for them.
13 And you shall station the Levites before the Lord and before Aaron and before his sons, and you shall present them as an offering before the Lord.
14 And you shall separate the Levites from the midst of the sons of Israel, and they shall be mine.
15 And after these things the Levites shall go in to work the works of the tent of testimony, and you shall cleanse them and present them before the Lord.
16 Because given as a gift, gift-given, these are mine from the midst of the sons of Israel. In place of those opening every womb, all the firstborn of the sons of Israel, I have taken them for myself.
17 Because every firstborn among the sons of Israel is mine, from human to beast. On the day I struck every firstborn in the land of Egypt, I sanctified them to myself.
18 And I took the Levites instead of every firstborn among the sons of Israel.
19 And I gave the Levites as an offering, given³ to Aaron and to his sons from the midst of the sons of Israel, to work the works of the sons of Israel in the tent of testimony and to make atonement for the sons of Israel, and there shall not be among the sons of Israel one coming near the holy things.
20 And Moses and Aaron and the whole congregation of the sons of Israel did to the Levites just as the Lord commanded Moses concerning the Levites; so the sons of Israel did to them.
21 And the Levites purified themselves and washed their garments, and Aaron presented them as an offering before the Lord, and Aaron made atonement for them to purify them.
22 And after these things the Levites went in to minister their ministry⁴ in the tent of testimony before Aaron and before his sons. Just as the Lord commanded Moses concerning the Levites, so they did to them.
23 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
24 This is what concerns the Levites: from twenty-five years old and upward they shall go in to work in the tent of testimony.
25 And from fifty years old they shall withdraw from the ministry and shall work no more.
26 But his brother shall minister in the tent of testimony to keep charges, though he shall do no work. Thus you shall do to the Levites in their charges.

Chapter 9

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, in the second year after they came out of the land of Egypt, in the first month, saying,
2 Tell the sons of Israel also to keep the Passover at its appointed time⁵.
3 On the fourteenth day of the first month, toward evening, you shall keep it at its appointed times. According to its law and according to its ordinance you shall keep it.
4 And Moses spoke to the sons of Israel to keep the Passover.
5 At evening, on the fourteenth day of the month, in the wilderness of Sinai, just as the Lord commanded Moses, so the sons of Israel did.
6 And there were men who were unclean by a dead person and were not able to keep the Passover on that day, and they came before Moses and Aaron on that day.
7 And those men said to him, We are unclean by a dead person. Must we then be kept back from bringing the Lord's gift at its appointed time in the midst of the sons of Israel?
8 And Moses said to them, Stand there, and I will hear what the Lord will command concerning you.
9 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
10 Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, If any man becomes unclean by a dead person, or is on a far journey among you or in your generations, and he keeps Passover to the Lord,
11 then in the second month, on the fourteenth day toward evening, they shall keep it. With unleavened bread and bitter herbs they shall eat it.
12 They shall leave none of it until morning, and they shall not break a bone of it⁶. According to the law of the Passover they shall keep it.
13 But the man who is clean and is not on a far journey and yet neglects to keep the Passover, that soul shall be cut off⁷ from its people, because he did not bring the Lord's gift at its appointed time. That man shall bear his sin.

14 And if a sojourner comes near you¹ in your land and keeps Passover to the Lord, according to the law of the Passover and according to its ordinance he shall keep it. One law shall be for you and for the sojourner and for the native of the land.
 15 And on the day the tent was set up, the cloud covered the tent, the house of testimony. And in the evening it was over the tent like the appearance of fire until morning.
 16 So it was continually: the cloud covered it by day, and the appearance of fire by night.
 17 And whenever the cloud went up from the tent, after that the sons of Israel would set out, and in the place where the cloud stood, there the sons of Israel would camp.
 18 At the command of the Lord the sons of Israel would camp, and at the command of the Lord they would set out. All the days in which the cloud overshadowed the tent, the sons of Israel would camp.
 19 And when the cloud lingered over the tent many days, the sons of Israel kept the charge of God and did not set out.
 20 And it would happen when the cloud covered the tent for a number of days: at the Lord's voice they would camp, and at the Lord's command they would set out.
 21 And it would happen when the cloud was there from evening until morning and the cloud went up in the morning, they would set out by day or by night.
 22 Or when the cloud lingered for a month or more days², overshadowing it, the sons of Israel would camp and would not set out.
 23 Because at the Lord's command they would set out, and at the Lord's command they would camp. They kept the charge of the Lord by Moses' hand.

Chapter 10

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
 2 Make for yourself two silver trumpets; you shall make them hammered, and they shall be for you for calling the congregation and for breaking camp.
 3 And you shall blow with them, and the whole congregation shall gather to the door of the tent of testimony.
 4 But if they blow with one, all the chiefs, the leaders of Israel, shall come near to you.
 5 And you shall blow a signal, and the camps camping to the east shall set out.
 6 And you shall blow a second signal, and the camps camping to the south shall set out. And you shall blow a third signal, and the camps camping by the sea shall set out. And you shall blow a fourth signal, and the camps camping to the north shall set out. They shall blow a signal when they set out.
 7 And when you gather the congregation, you shall blow, but not a signal.
 8 And the sons of Aaron, the priests, shall blow the trumpets, and it shall be for you an everlasting statute throughout your generations³.
 9 And if you go out to war in your land against the adversaries standing against you, then you shall signal with the trumpets⁴, and you shall be remembered before the Lord and be saved from your enemies.
 10 And in the days of your gladness and in your feasts and in your new moons, you shall blow the trumpets over your whole burnt offerings and over your sacrifices of salvation, and it shall be a memorial for you before your God. I am the Lord your God.
 11 And it happened in the second year, in the second month, on the twentieth day of the month, that the cloud went up from the tent of testimony.
 12 And the sons of Israel set out by their stages in the wilderness of Sinai, and the cloud stood in the wilderness of Paran.
 13 And they set out first by the word of the Lord by Moses' hand.
 14 And the order of the camp of the sons of Judah set out first with their strength, and over their strength was Nahshon son of Amminadab.
 15 And over the strength of the tribe of the sons of Issachar was Nethanel son of Zuar.
 16 And over the strength of the tribe of the sons of Zebulun was Eliab son of Helon.
 17 And they took down the tent, and the sons of Gershon and the sons of Merari set out carrying the tent.
 18 And the order of the camp of Reuben set out with their strength, and over their strength was Elizur son of Shedeur.
 19 And over the strength of the tribe of the sons of Simeon was Shelumiel son of Zurishaddai.
 20 And over the strength of the tribe of the sons of Gad was Eliasaph son of Reuel.
 21 And the sons of Kohath set out carrying the holy things, and they would set up the tent until these arrived.
 22 And the order of the camp of Ephraim set out with their strength, and over their strength was Elishama son of Ammihud.
 23 And over the strength of the tribe of the sons of Manasseh was Gamaliel son of Pedahzur.
 24 And over the strength of the tribe of the sons of Benjamin was Abidan son of Gideon.
 25 And the order of the camp of the sons of Dan set out last of all the camps with their strength, and over their strength was Ahiezer son of Ammishaddai.
 26 And over the strength of the tribe of the sons of Asher was Pagiel son of Ocran.
 27 And over the strength of the tribe of the sons of Naphtali was Ahira son of Enan.
 28 These are the armies of the sons of Israel, and they set out with their strength.
 29 And Moses said to Hobab⁵ son of Reuel the Midianite, Moses' relative by marriage, We are setting out to the place of which the Lord said, This I will give to you. Come with us, and we will do you good, because the Lord has spoken good things concerning Israel.⁶
 30 And he said to him, I will not go, but I will go to my land and to my family.
 31 And he said, Do not leave us, because for this reason you were with us in the wilderness, and you shall be among us an elder.
 32 And it shall be, if you go with us, then whatever good things the Lord does for us, we will do for you.
 33 And they set out from the mountain of the Lord a three days' journey, and the ark of the covenant of the Lord went before them a three days' journey to seek out rest for them.
 34 And it happened, when the ark set out, that Moses said, Rise up, Lord; let your enemies be scattered, let all who hate you flee.

35 And in its resting he said, Return, Lord, the thousands of myriads in Israel.
36 And the cloud was overshadowing them by day when they set out from the camp.

Chapter 11

1 And the people were grumbling evil things¹ before the Lord, and the Lord heard and burned with anger, and fire from the Lord burned among them and devoured some part of the camp.
2 And the people cried out to Moses, and Moses prayed to the Lord, and the fire died down.
3 And the name of that place was called Burning, because fire from the Lord burned among them.
4 And the mixed company among them desired a desire, and sitting down, the sons of Israel also wept and said, Who will feed us meat?
5 We remember the fish that we ate in Egypt for nothing, and the cucumbers and the melons and the leeks and the onions and the garlic.
6 But now our life is dried up². There is nothing except this manna before our eyes.
7 And the manna was like coriander seed, and its appearance was like the appearance of crystal.
8 And the people would go around and gather it, and they would grind it in the mill and pound it in the mortar and boil it in the pot and make it into cakes, and its taste was like the flavor of a cake from oil.
9 And when the dew came down upon the camp at night, the manna came down upon it.
10 And Moses heard them weeping by their clans, each at his door, and the anger of the Lord burned greatly, and in Moses' sight it was evil.
11 And Moses said to the Lord, Why have you mistreated your servant, and why have I not found favor before you, to lay the rush of all this people upon me?
12 Did I conceive all this people in the womb, or did I bear them, that you say to me, Take him in your bosom, like a nurse carrying the suckling child, into the land that you swore to their fathers?³
13 From where is there meat for me to give to all this people? For they weep over me, saying, Give us meat, that we may eat.
14 I am not able, I alone, to bear all this people, because this word is too heavy for me.⁴
15 And if this is how you deal with me, kill me by slaughter, if I have found mercy before you, so that I may not see my affliction.
16 And the Lord said to Moses, Gather for me seventy men from the elders of Israel, whom you yourself know that these are elders of the people and their officers, and you shall bring them to the tent of testimony, and they shall stand there with you.
17 And I will come down and speak with you there, and I will take from the Spirit upon you and place it upon them, and they shall help bear with you the rush of the people, and you shall not bear them alone.
18 And to the people you shall say, Purify yourselves for tomorrow, and you shall eat meat, because you wept before the Lord, saying, Who will feed us meat?⁵ For it was good for us in Egypt. And the Lord will give you meat to eat, and you shall eat meat.^{6,7}
19 You shall not eat for one day, nor two, nor five days, nor ten days, nor twenty days,
20 but for a month of days you shall eat, until it comes out of your nostrils and becomes loathsome to you, because you disobeyed the Lord who is among you and wept before him, saying, Why did we come out from Egypt?
21 And Moses said, The people in whose midst I am are six hundred thousand on foot, and you said, I will give them meat, and they shall eat for a month of days.
22 Will sheep and cattle be slaughtered for them, and will it be enough for them? Or will every fish of the sea be gathered for them, and will it be enough for them?
23 And the Lord said to Moses, Is the Lord's hand not enough?⁸ Now you shall know whether my word will overtake you or not.
24 And Moses went out and spoke to the people the words of the Lord, and he gathered seventy men from the elders of the people and stood them around the tent.
25 And the Lord came down in a cloud and spoke to him, and he took from the Spirit upon him and placed it upon the seventy elders. And when the Spirit rested upon them, they prophesied, and they did not continue⁹.
26 And two men remained in the camp, the name of the one Eldad¹¹ and the name of the second Medad¹², and the Spirit rested upon them. And these were among those enrolled, and they had not come to the tent, and they prophesied in the camp.¹³
27 And a young man ran and reported to Moses and said, Eldad and Medad are prophesying in the camp.
28 And Joshua son of Nun, the attendant of Moses, the chosen one, answered and said, My lord Moses, stop them.
29 And Moses said to him, Are you jealous for me? Would that all the Lord's people were prophets, whenever the Lord might give his Spirit upon them.
30 And Moses went away into the camp, he and the elders of Israel.
31 And a wind went out from the Lord and swept quail from the sea¹⁴ and threw them over the camp, a day's journey this way and a day's journey that way, around the camp, about two cubits above the ground.
32 And the people rose all that day and all that night and all the next day and gathered the quail. The one gathering the least gathered ten cors, and they spread them out for themselves all around the camp.
33 The meat was still in their teeth before it failed, and the Lord burned with anger against the people, and the Lord struck the people with a very great plague.
34 And the name of that place was called Graves of Desire, because there they buried the desirous people.
35 From Graves of Desire the people set out to Hazeroth¹⁵, and the people came to be in Hazeroth.

Chapter 12

- 1 And Miriam and Aaron spoke against Moses because of the Cushite woman whom Moses took, because he had taken a Cushite woman.
2 And they said, Has the Lord spoken only by Moses? Has he not also spoken by us? And the Lord heard it.
3 And the man Moses was very gentle, beyond all the people who were upon the earth.
4 And the Lord said at once to Moses and Miriam and Aaron, Come out, you three, to the tent of testimony. And the three went out to the tent of testimony.
5 And the Lord came down in a pillar of cloud and stood at the door of the tent of testimony¹, and Aaron and Miriam were called, and both came out.
6 And he said to them, Hear my words: if there is a prophet of yours to the Lord, I will make myself known to him in a vision, and in sleep I will speak to him.
7 Not so with my servant Moses; in all my house he is faithful.
8 Mouth to mouth² I will speak to him, in visible form and not by riddles, and he has seen the glory of the Lord. And why were you not afraid to speak against my servant Moses?
9 And the anger of the Lord's wrath was upon them, and he departed.
10 And the cloud departed from the tent, and behold, Miriam had become leprous like snow. And Aaron looked upon Miriam, and behold, she was leprous.
11 And Aaron said to Moses, I beg, my lord, do not lay sin upon us, because we were ignorant and because we sinned.
12 Let her not become as one equal to death, like a miscarriage coming out from the womb of its mother and devouring half her flesh.
13 And Moses cried out to the Lord, saying, O God, I beg you, heal her.
14 And the Lord said to Moses, If her father had spit a spit into her face, would she not be ashamed seven days? Let her be set apart outside the camp seven days, and after these things she shall come in.
15 And Miriam was set apart outside the camp seven days, and the people did not set out until Miriam was cleansed.
16 And after these things the people set out from Hazeroth and camped in the wilderness of Paran.

Chapter 13

- 1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
2 Send for yourself men, and let them spy out the land of the Canaanites, which I am giving to the sons of Israel for possession. One man each by tribe, by the clans of their fathers, you shall send them, every one a leader among them.
3 And Moses sent them from the wilderness of Paran by the Lord's word. All these men were leaders of the sons of Israel.
4 And these are their names: from the tribe of Reuben, Shammua³ son of Zaccur⁴;
5 from the tribe of Simeon, Shaphat⁵ son of Hori⁶;
6 from the tribe of Judah, Caleb⁷ son of Jephunneh⁸;
7 from the tribe of Issachar, Igal⁹ son of Joseph;
8 from the tribe of Ephraim, Hoshea¹⁰ son of Nun;
9 from the tribe of Benjamin, Palti¹¹ son of Raphu¹²;
10 from the tribe of Zebulun, Gaddiel¹³ son of Sodi¹⁴;

12 from the tribe of Dan, Ammiel¹⁷ son of Gemalli¹⁸;
13 from the tribe of Asher, Sethur¹⁹ son of Michael²⁰;
14 from the tribe of Naphtali, Nahbi²¹ son of Vophsi²²;
15 from the tribe of Gad, Gaddiel son of Machi²³.
16 These are the names of the men whom Moses sent to spy out the land, and Moses renamed Hoshea son of Nun as Joshua.
17 And Moses sent them to spy out the land of Canaan and said to them, Go up by this wilderness, and you shall go up into the hill country.
18 And you shall look at the land, what it is, and the people dwelling upon it, whether it is stronger or weak, whether they are few or many.
19 And what is the land on which these dwell, whether it is good or bad, and what are the cities in which they dwell, whether walled or unwalled.
20 And what is the land, whether rich or poor, whether there are trees in it or not. And be courageous and take from the fruits of the land. And the days were the spring days, firstfruits of grape²⁴.
21 And they went up and spied out the land from the wilderness of Sin as far as Rehob²⁵, as one enters Hamath²⁶.

22 And they went up through the wilderness and came as far as Hebron, and there were Ahiman¹ and Sheshai² and Talmai³, the offspring of Anak⁴. And Hebron was built seven years before Zoan⁵ of Egypt.

23 And they came as far as the Ravine of Cluster and spied it out, and they cut from there a branch with one cluster of grapes on it, and they carried it on poles, and also some of the pomegranates and the figs.

24 That place they named Ravine of Cluster because of the cluster which the sons of Israel cut from there.

25 And they returned from there after spying out the land in forty days.

26 And going on, they came to Moses and Aaron and to the whole congregation of the sons of Israel in the wilderness of Paran at Kadesh⁶, and they brought back word to them and to all the congregation, and they showed the fruit of the land.

27 And they described it to him and said, We came into the land where you sent us, a land flowing with milk and honey, and this is its fruit.

28 But the people dwelling upon it are bold, and the cities are fortified, walled, and very large, and we saw there the offspring of Anak.

29 And Amalek dwells in the land toward the south, and the Hittite and the Hivite and the Jebusite and the Amorite dwell in the hill country, and the Canaanite dwells by the sea and beside the Jordan River.

30 And Caleb silenced the people before Moses and said to him, No, but going up, we shall go up and inherit it, because we are certainly able to prevail against them.

31 And the men going up with him said, We will not go up, because we will not be able to go up against the nation, because it is stronger than we are.

32 And they brought an alarming report⁷ of the land that they had spied out to the sons of Israel, saying, The land through which we passed to spy it out is a land devouring those dwelling upon it, and all the people whom we saw in it were very tall men.^{8,9,10}

33 And there we saw the giants, and before them we were like locusts, and so we were before them.

Chapter 14

1 And the whole congregation, taking it up, raised their voice, and the people wept all that night.

2 And all the sons of Israel grumbled against Moses and Aaron, and the whole congregation said to them, Would that we had died in the land of Egypt, or would that we had died in this wilderness.

3 And why is the Lord bringing us into this land to fall in war? Our wives and our little children will be for plunder. So now it is better for us to turn back into Egypt.

4 And they said, one to another, Let us appoint a leader and turn back into Egypt.

5 And Moses and Aaron fell on their face before the whole congregation of the sons of Israel.

6 And Joshua son of Nun and Caleb son of Jephunneh, of those who spied out the land, tore their garments.

7 And they said to the whole congregation of the sons of Israel, saying, The land that we spied out is very, very good.

8 If the Lord takes pleasure in us, he will bring us into this land and give it to us, a land flowing with milk and honey.

9 Only do not become apostates from the Lord, and do not fear the people of the land, because they are food for us. For their time has departed from them, but the Lord is in us. Do not fear them.

10 And the whole congregation said to stone them with stones, and the glory of the Lord appeared in a cloud upon the tent of testimony before all the sons of Israel.

11 And the Lord said to Moses, How long will this people provoke me, and how long will they not believe me in all the signs that I did among them?

12 I will strike them with death and destroy them, and I will make you and your father's house into a nation great and much greater than this.

13 And Moses said to the Lord, And Egypt will hear, because you brought up this people from among them by your strength.

14 And all dwelling on this land have heard that you are Lord among this people, that you, Lord, are seen eye to eye¹¹, and your cloud stands over them, and in a pillar of cloud you go before them by day and in a pillar of fire by night.

15 And if you destroy this people like one man, the nations who have heard your name will say,

16 Because the Lord was not able to bring this people into the land that he swore to them, he struck them down in the wilderness.

17 And now let your strength be exalted, Lord, as you spoke, saying,

18 The Lord is long-suffering and greatly merciful and true¹², removing lawlessness and injustice and sins, and in cleansing will not cleanse the guilty, repaying fathers' sins upon children to the third and fourth generation.

19 Forgive the sin of this people according to your great mercy, just as you have been gracious to them from Egypt until now.

20 And the Lord said to Moses, I am gracious to them according to your word.

21 But I live, and my name lives, and the glory of the Lord shall fill the whole earth.

22 For all the men who saw my glory and the signs that I did in Egypt and in this wilderness, and tested me this tenth time and did not obey my voice,

23 surely they shall not see the land that I swore to their fathers. But their children who are here with me, as many as do not know good or evil, every young inexperienced one, to these I will give the land. But all who provoked me shall not see it.

24 But my servant Caleb, because a different spirit came to be in him and he followed me, I will bring him into the land into which he entered, and his seed shall inherit it.

25 And Amalek and the Canaanite dwell in the valley. Tomorrow turn yourselves and set out into the wilderness by the way of the Red Sea.

26 And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron, saying,

27 How long shall I bear with this evil congregation, these things they are grumbling against me? The grumbling of the sons of Israel that they grumbled about you, I have heard.

28 Say to them, As I live, says the Lord, surely just as you have spoken in my ears, so I will do to you.

29 In this wilderness your carcasses shall fall, and all your number, all those counted of you from twenty years old and upward, whoever grumbled against me,

30 surely you shall not enter into the land upon which I stretched out my hand to settle you on it, except Caleb son of Jephunneh and Joshua son of Nun.

31 And your little children, whom you said would be for plunder, I will bring into the land, and they shall inherit the land from which you turned away.

32 But your carcasses shall fall in this wilderness.

33 And your sons shall be feeding in the wilderness forty years, and they shall bear your prostitution until your carcasses are consumed in the wilderness.

34 According to the number of the days in which you spied out the land, forty days, a day for a year, you shall bear your sins forty years, and you shall know the fury of my anger¹.

35 I, the Lord, have spoken. Surely thus I will do to this whole evil congregation gathered together against me. In this wilderness they shall be consumed, and there they shall die.

36 And the men whom Moses sent to spy out the land, and who came back and made the whole congregation grumble against it by bringing out evil words about the land,

37 those men who spoke evil against the land died in the plague before the Lord.

38 But Joshua son of Nun and Caleb son of Jephunneh lived on from those men who had gone to spy out the land.

39 And Moses spoke these words to all the sons of Israel, and the people mourned greatly.

40 And rising early in the morning, they went up to the top of the mountain, saying, Behold, here we are. We will go up to the place that the Lord spoke of, because we have sinned.

41 And Moses said, Why are you transgressing the Lord's word? It will not prosper for you.

42 Do not go up, for the Lord is not with you, and you will fall before your enemies.

43 For Amalek and the Canaanite are there before you, and you will fall by sword, because you turned away in disobedience from the Lord, and the Lord will not be among you.

44 And forcing themselves, they went up to the top of the mountain, but the ark of the covenant of the Lord and Moses did not move from the camp.

45 And Amalek came down, and the Canaanite dwelling in that mountain, and they routed them and cut them down as far as Hormah², and they turned back to the camp.

Chapter 15

1 And the Lord said to Moses, saying,

2 Speak to the sons of Israel, and you shall say to them, When you enter into the land of your dwelling, which I am giving to you,

3 and you make whole burnt offerings to the Lord, a whole burnt offering or a sacrifice, to fulfill a vow³ or as a freewill offering or in your feasts, to make an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord, whether from the cattle or from the sheep,

4 then the one bringing his gift to the Lord shall bring a sacrifice of fine flour, a tenth of an ephah, prepared with oil, one fourth of a hin.

5 And wine for a libation, one fourth of a hin, you shall prepare with the whole burnt offering or with the sacrifice for the one lamb, so much as a gift, an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.

6 And for the ram, when you make it as a whole burnt offering or as a sacrifice, you shall make a sacrifice of fine flour, two tenths, prepared with oil, one third of a hin.

7 And wine for a libation, one third of a hin, you shall bring as an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.

8 And if you make from the cattle as a whole burnt offering or as a sacrifice to fulfill a vow or as an offering of salvation to the Lord,

9 then with the bull he shall bring a sacrifice of fine flour, three tenths, prepared with oil, one half of a hin.

10 And wine for a libation, one half of a hin, a gift, an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.

11 Thus you shall do for the one bull, or for the one ram, or for the one lamb from the sheep or from the goats.

12 According to the number that you make, so you shall do for the one according to their number.

13 Every native-born shall do thus, these things, to bring gifts as an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.

14 And if a sojourner joins himself to you in your land, or whoever may be among you in your generations, and makes a gift as an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord, just as you do, so shall the congregation do to the Lord.

15 One law shall be for you and for the sojourners dwelling with you, an everlasting law throughout your generations. As you are, so shall the sojourner be⁴ before the Lord.

16 One law shall be, and one ordinance shall be for you and for the sojourner dwelling among you.

17 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

18 Speak to the sons of Israel, and you shall say to them, In your entering into the land into which I am bringing you there,

19 then it shall be, when you eat from the breads of the land, you shall remove a contribution set apart for the Lord.

20 The firstfruits of your dough, a loaf, you shall set apart as a contribution. As a contribution from the threshing floor, so you shall remove it.

21 From the firstfruits of your dough you shall give a contribution to the Lord throughout your generations.

22 But when you go astray and do not do all these commands that the Lord spoke to Moses,

23 just as the Lord commanded you by Moses' hand, from the day that the Lord commanded you and onward throughout your generations,

24 then it shall be, if it happens unintentionally from the eyes of the congregation, the whole congregation shall offer one unblemished bull from the cattle as a whole burnt offering, as an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord, and its sacrifice and its libation according to the ordinance, and one goat kid for sin offering.⁵

25 And the priest shall make atonement for the whole congregation of the sons of Israel, and it shall be forgiven them, because it is unintentional. And they brought their gift, a gift to the Lord, for their sin before the Lord, for their unintentional acts¹.

26 And it shall be forgiven to the whole congregation of the sons of Israel and to the sojourner dwelling among you, because to all the people it was unintentional.
27 And if one person sins unintentionally, he shall bring one year-old goat for sin offering.
28 And the priest shall make atonement for the person who sinned unintentionally before the Lord, to make atonement for him.
29 For the native among the sons of Israel and for the sojourner dwelling among them, one law shall be for them, whoever acts unintentionally.
30 But the person who acts with a hand of arrogance, whether from the native-born or from the sojourners, this one provokes God. That person shall be cut off from his people.
31 Because he treated the Lord's word as worthless and scattered his commands, that person shall be utterly destroyed. His sin is in him.
32 And the sons of Israel were in the wilderness, and they found a man gathering wood on the day of the Sabbaths.
33 And those who found him gathering wood on the day of the Sabbaths brought him to Moses and Aaron and to the whole congregation of the sons of Israel.
34 And they put him under guard, for they had not judged what should be done to him.
35 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Let the man surely be put to death. Let the whole congregation stone him with stones.
36 And the whole congregation brought him outside the camp and the whole congregation stoned him with stones outside the camp, just as the Lord commanded Moses.
37 And the Lord said to Moses, saying,
38 Speak to the sons of Israel, and you shall say to them that they should make for themselves tassels on the wings² of their garments throughout their generations, and you shall place on the tassels of the wings a blue cord.
39 And it shall be for you in the tassels, and you shall look at them and remember all the Lord's commands and do them, and you shall not turn aside after your minds and after your eyes, in which you prostitute yourselves³ after them.
40 So that you may remember and do all my commands and be holy to your God.
41 I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt to be your God. I am the Lord your God.

Chapter 16

1 And Korah son of Izhar son of Kohath son of Levi, and Dathan⁴ and Abiram⁵ sons of Eliab, and Aun son of Peleth⁶ son of Reuben, spoke,
2 and they rose up before Moses, along with two hundred fifty men of the sons of Israel, leaders of the congregation, summoned of the council, men of name.
3 They stood together against Moses and Aaron and said, Let it be enough for you⁷, because the whole congregation, every one of them, is holy, and the Lord is among them. And why do you rise up against the congregation of the Lord?
4 And Moses, hearing it, fell on his face.
5 And he spoke to Korah and to all his congregation, saying, God has visited and known⁸ those who are his and the holy ones, and he has brought near to himself those whom he chose for himself.
6 Do this: take for yourselves firepans, Korah and all his congregation,
7 and place fire on them and place incense on them before the Lord tomorrow, and it shall be that the man whom the Lord chooses, this one is holy. Let it be enough for you, sons of Levi.
8 And Moses said to Korah, Hear me, sons of Levi.
9 Is this a small thing to you, that the God of Israel separated you from the congregation of Israel and brought you near to himself to minister the ministries of the tent of the Lord and to stand before the congregation to serve them?
10 And he brought you near, and all your brothers the sons of Levi with you, and now do you seek to serve as priests?
11 Thus you and all your congregation have gathered together against God, and Aaron, who is he that you grumble against him?
12 And Moses sent to call Dathan and Abiram sons of Eliab, and they said, We will not come up.
13 Is it a small thing that you brought us up from a land flowing with milk and honey to kill us in the wilderness, that you also rule over us as a ruler?
14 Even if you had brought us into a land flowing with milk and honey and given us an inheritance of field and vineyards, would you gouge out the eyes of those men⁹? We will not come up.
15 And Moses was greatly weighed down and said to the Lord, Do not attend to their sacrifice. I have taken not one thing desired from any of them, nor have I harmed any one of them.
16 And Moses said to Korah, Sanctify your congregation and be ready before the Lord, you and they and Aaron, tomorrow.
17 And let each take his firepan and place incense on them, and each bring his firepan before the Lord, two hundred fifty firepans, and you and Aaron, each his firepan.
18 And each took his firepan and put fire on them and cast incense on it, and they stood by the doors of the tent of testimony, Moses and Aaron.
19 And Korah gathered his whole congregation¹⁰ against them by the door of the tent of testimony, and the glory of the Lord appeared to all the congregation.
20 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,
21 Separate yourselves from the midst of this congregation, and I will consume them at once.
22 And they fell on their face and said, God, God of the spirits and of all flesh, if one man sinned, will the Lord's wrath be upon the whole congregation?
23 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
24 Speak to the congregation, saying, Withdraw all around from the congregation of Korah.
25 And Moses rose and went to Dathan and Abiram, and all the elders of Israel went with him.

26 And he spoke to the congregation, saying, Separate yourselves from the tents of these hard men, and do not touch anything that belongs to them, lest you perish together in all their sin.
 27 And they stood away from the tent of Korah all around, and Dathan and Abiram came out and stood by the doors of their tents, and their wives and their children and their baggage¹.
 28 And Moses said, By this you shall know that the Lord has sent me to do all these works, because they are not from myself.
 29 If these die by the death of all the people, and if their visitation is according to the visitation of all the people, then the Lord has not sent me.
 30 But if the Lord shows this by a wonder, and the earth, opening its mouth, swallows them and their houses and their tents and everything that belongs to them, and they go down alive into Hades², then you shall know that these men provoked the Lord.
 31 And when he finished speaking all these words, the earth beneath them was torn open.
 32 And the earth opened and swallowed them and their houses and all the people who were with Korah and their cattle.
 33 And they and all that belonged to them went down alive into Hades, and the earth covered them, and they perished from the midst of the congregation.
 34 And all Israel around them fled from their cry, for they said, Lest the earth swallow us too.
 35 And fire went out from the Lord and devoured the two hundred fifty men offering the incense.

Chapter 17

1 And the Lord said to Moses,
 2 And to Eleazar son of Aaron the priest: take up the bronze firepans from the midst of the burned ones, and scatter this strange fire there, because they were sanctified.³
 3 The firepans of these sinners against their own lives: make them hammered plates as a covering for the altar, because they were brought before the Lord and were sanctified, and they became a sign to the sons of Israel.
 4 And Eleazar son of Aaron the priest took the bronze firepans that the burned ones had brought, and they added them as a covering for the altar,
 5 a memorial to the sons of Israel, so that no stranger who is not from the seed of Aaron may come near to place incense before the Lord, and he will not be like Korah and his gathering together, just as the Lord spoke by Moses' hand.⁴
 6 And the next day the sons of Israel grumbled against Moses and Aaron, saying, You have killed the people of the Lord⁵.
 7 And it happened, when the congregation rushed together against Moses and Aaron, they rushed toward the tent of testimony, and behold, the cloud covered it, and the glory of the Lord appeared.
 8 And Moses and Aaron went in before the tent of testimony⁶.
 9 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,
 10 Move away from the midst of this congregation, and I will consume them at once⁷. And they fell on their face.
 11 And Moses said to Aaron, Take the firepan and place upon it fire from the altar and cast incense upon it, and carry it quickly⁸ into the camp and make atonement for them, for wrath has gone out from the Lord; the breaking of the people has begun.
 12 And Aaron took it, just as Moses spoke to him, and ran into the congregation, and already the breaking had begun among the people. And he cast the incense and made atonement for the people.⁹
 13 And he stood between the dead and the living, and the breaking ceased.¹⁰
 14 And those dead in the breaking were fourteen thousand seven hundred, besides those dead because of Korah.
 15 And Aaron returned to Moses at the door of the tent of testimony, and the breaking ceased.
 16 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
 17 Speak to the sons of Israel and take from them rod by rod according to the houses of their fathers, from all their chiefs according to the houses of their fathers, twelve rods, and write each one's name on his rod.
 18 And Aaron's name you shall write on the rod of Levi, for there shall be one rod for each tribe of the houses of their fathers.
 19 And you shall place them in the tent of testimony opposite the testimonies, where I will make myself known to you there.
 20 And it shall be that the man whom I choose, his rod shall sprout, and I will remove from myself the grumbling of the sons of Israel, which they grumble against you.
 21 And Moses spoke to the sons of Israel, and all their chiefs gave him a rod, one rod to each chief according to the houses of their fathers, twelve rods, and Aaron's rod was among their rods.
 22 And Moses placed the rods before the Lord in the tent of testimony.
 23 And it happened on the next day, Moses and Aaron entered into the tent of testimony, and behold, the rod of Aaron for the house of Levi had sprouted and brought forth a shoot and bloomed blossoms and sprouted nuts.
 24 And Moses brought out all the rods from before the Lord to all the sons of Israel, and they saw and each took his rod.
 25 And the Lord said to Moses, Put Aaron's rod before the testimonies for keeping, as a sign to the sons of disobedience, and let their grumbling cease from me, and they shall not die.
 26 And Moses and Aaron did just as the Lord commanded Moses; so they did.
 27 And the sons of Israel said to Moses, saying, Behold, we are consumed, we are lost, we are utterly destroyed.
 28 Everyone who touches the tent of the Lord dies. Shall we die to the end?

Chapter 18

1 And the Lord said to Aaron, saying: you and your sons and your fathers' house with you shall bear the sins of the holy things, and you and your sons shall bear the sins of your priesthood.
 2 And your brothers, the tribe of Levi, the clan of your father, bring near to yourself, and let them be joined to you¹¹ and minister to you, and you and your sons with you shall be before the tent of testimony.
 3 And they shall keep your charges and the charges of the tent, only they shall not approach the holy vessels and the altar, and they shall not die, both they and you.

4 And they shall be joined to you and keep the charges of the tent of testimony according to all the services of the tent, and the stranger shall not come near to you.

5 And you shall keep the charges of the holy things and the charges of the altar, and there shall not be wrath among the sons of Israel.

6 And I have taken your brothers, the Levites, from the midst of the sons of Israel, a gift given to the Lord, to minister the services of the tent of testimony.

7 And you and your sons with you shall keep your priesthood according to every matter of the altar and what is within the veil, and you shall minister the ministries. I give your priesthood as a gift, and the stranger coming near shall die.¹

8 And the Lord spoke to Aaron: and I, behold, have given you the keeping of the firstfruits from all things sanctified to me from the sons of Israel. I have given them to you as an honor and to your sons after you, an everlasting statute.²

9 And this shall be yours from the holy things of the gifts: from all their gifts and from all their sacrifices and from all their trespasses and from all their sins³, whatever they give back to me from all the holy things shall be yours and your sons'.

10 In the holy of holies you shall eat them. Every male shall eat them, you and your sons. They shall be holy to you.

11 And this shall be yours: the firstfruits of their gifts⁴ from all the offerings of the sons of Israel. I have given them to you and to your sons and your daughters with you, an everlasting statute. Everyone clean in your house shall eat them.

12 All the firstfruits of oil and all the firstfruits of wine and grain, their firstfruits, whatever they give to the Lord, I have given them to you.

13 All the first produce in their land, whatever they bring to the Lord, shall be yours. Everyone clean in your house shall eat them.

14 Every devoted thing among the sons of Israel shall be yours.

15 And every opener of the womb from all flesh⁵, which they bring to the Lord, from human to beast, shall be yours. But in redeeming, the firstborn of humans shall be redeemed, and the firstborn of unclean beasts you shall redeem.

16 And its redemption from one month old shall be, by valuation, five shekels according to the holy shekel; twenty obols they are.

17 Only the firstborn of cattle and the firstborn of sheep and the firstborn of goats you shall not redeem; they are holy. And their blood you shall pour out toward the altar, and the fat you shall offer as a gift, as an aroma of sweet fragrance to the Lord.⁶

18 And the meat shall be yours, just as the breast of the offering set before the Lord and the right arm shall be yours.

19 All the contributions of the holy things, whatever the sons of Israel remove for the Lord, I have given to you and to your sons and your daughters with you, an everlasting statute. It is a covenant of everlasting salt⁷ before the Lord for you and for your seed after you.

20 And the Lord spoke to Aaron: In their land you shall not inherit, and no part shall be yours among them, because I am your part and your inheritance in the midst of the sons of Israel.

21 And to the sons of Levi, behold, I have given every tithe in Israel as an inheritance in exchange for their services, whatever services they minister in the tent of testimony.

22 And the sons of Israel shall no longer come near to the tent of testimony, to bear a deadly sin.

23 And the Levite himself shall minister the ministry of the tent of testimony, and they shall bear their sins⁸, an everlasting statute throughout their generations. And in the midst of the sons of Israel they shall not inherit an inheritance.

24 Because the tithes of the sons of Israel, whatever they set apart to the Lord as a contribution, I have given to the Levites as an inheritance. Therefore I said to them, In the midst of the sons of Israel they shall not inherit an inheritance.⁹

25 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

26 And you shall speak to the Levites and say to them, If you receive from the sons of Israel the tithe that I have given you from them as an inheritance, then you shall remove from it a contribution to the Lord, a tithe from the tithe¹⁰.

27 And your contributions shall be reckoned to you as grain from the threshing floor and as contribution from the winepress.

28 Thus you also shall remove the Lord's contribution from all your tithes, whatever you receive from the sons of Israel, and from them you shall give the Lord's contribution to Aaron the priest.¹¹

29 From all your gifts you shall remove the Lord's contribution, from all the firstfruits, the holy part from it.

30 And you shall say to them, When you remove the first part¹² from it, it shall be reckoned to the Levites as produce from the threshing floor and as produce from the winepress.

31 And you shall eat it in every place, you and your households, because this is wages for you in exchange for your services in the tent of testimony.

32 And you shall not bear sin because of it when you remove the first part from it, and you shall not profane the holy things of the sons of Israel, so that you do not die.

Chapter 19

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

2 This is the ordinance of the law, what the Lord commanded, saying: Speak to the sons of Israel, and let them take to you a red heifer, unblemished, in which there is no defect and on which a yoke has not come.

3 And you shall give it to Eleazar the priest, and they shall bring it outside the camp to a clean place, and they shall slaughter it before him.

4 And Eleazar shall take from its blood and sprinkle from its blood seven times toward the face of the tent of testimony.

5 And they shall burn it before him, and its skin and its flesh and its blood with its dung shall be burned.

6 And the priest shall take cedar wood and hyssop and scarlet and cast them into the midst of the burning of the heifer.

7 And the priest shall wash his garments and bathe his body in water, and after these things he shall enter into the camp, and the 8 And the one burning it shall wash his garments and bathe his body, and he shall be unclean until evening.

9 And a clean man shall gather the ashes of the heifer and place them outside the camp in a clean place, and it shall be for the congregation of the sons of Israel for keeping, as water of sprinkling; it is purification.

10 And the one gathering the ashes of the heifer shall wash his garments and be unclean until evening, and it shall be for the sons of Israel and for the sojourners dwelling among them¹ an everlasting statute.

11 The one touching the dead of any human person shall be unclean seven days.

12 This one shall be purified on the third day and on the seventh day and shall be clean. But if he is not purified on the third day and on the seventh day, he shall not be clean.

13 Everyone touching the dead body of a human person who dies and not purifying himself has defiled the tent of the Lord. That person shall be cut off from Israel, because water of sprinkling² was not sprinkled upon him. He is unclean; his uncleanness is still in him.

14 And this is the law: if a person dies in a house, everyone entering into the house and everything in the house shall be unclean seven days.

15 And every open vessel on which no binding is tied shall be unclean.

16 And everyone who touches on the face of the field one slain or a dead body or a human bone or a grave shall be unclean seven days.

17 And for the unclean they shall take from the ashes of the burnt purification and pour living water upon it into a vessel.

18 And a clean man shall take hyssop and dip it into the water and sprinkle it upon the house and upon the vessels and upon the persons who are there, and upon the one who touched the bone, the human body, or the slain one³, or the dead one, or the grave.

19 And the clean person shall sprinkle upon the unclean on the third day and on the seventh day, and he shall be purified on the seventh day and wash his garments and bathe in water, and he shall be unclean until evening.

20 And the person who becomes unclean and is not purified shall be cut off from the midst of the congregation, because he has defiled the holy things of the Lord⁴, because water of sprinkling was not sprinkled upon him. He is unclean.

21 And it shall be for you an everlasting statute, and the one sprinkling water of sprinkling shall wash his garments, and the one touching the water of sprinkling shall be unclean until evening.

22 And everything that the unclean person touches shall be unclean, and the person touching it shall be unclean until evening.

Chapter 20

1 And the sons of Israel, the whole congregation, came into the wilderness of Sin in the first month, and the people stayed in Kadesh, and Miriam died there and was buried there.

2 And there was no water for the congregation, and they gathered against Moses and Aaron.

3 And the people were reviling Moses, saying, If only we had died in the destruction of our brothers before the Lord.

4 And why did you bring up the congregation of the Lord into this wilderness, to kill us and our cattle?

5 And why is this, that you brought us up from Egypt, to come into this evil place? It is no place for sowing, or figs, or vines, or pomegranates, and there is no water to drink.

6 And Moses and Aaron came from before the congregation to the door of the tent of testimony and fell on their face, and the glory of the Lord appeared to them.

7 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

8 Take the rod and assemble the congregation⁵, you and Aaron your brother, and speak to the rock before them, and it will give its waters, and you shall bring out water for them from the rock, and you shall give drink to the congregation and to their cattle.

9 And Moses took the rod from before the Lord, just as the Lord commanded.

10 And Moses and Aaron assembled the congregation before the rock, and he said to them, Hear me, you disobedient ones. Shall we bring out water for you from this rock?

11 And Moses lifted his hand and struck the rock with the rod twice, and much water came out, and the congregation and their cattle drank.

12 And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron, Because you did not trust me, to sanctify me before the sons of Israel, therefore you shall not bring this congregation into the land that I have given them.

13 This is the water of reviling, because the sons of Israel reviled before the Lord, and he was sanctified among them.

14 And Moses sent messengers from Kadesh to the king of Edom, saying, These things says your brother Israel: you know all the hardship that found us.

15 And our fathers went down into Egypt, and we lived in Egypt many days, and the Egyptians mistreated us and our fathers.

16 And we cried out to the Lord, and the Lord heard our voice, and sending an angel brought us out from Egypt. And now we are in Kadesh, a city at the edge of your borders.

17 We shall pass through your land. We shall not pass through fields or through vineyards, nor shall we drink water from your cistern⁶. We shall go by the king's road. We shall not turn aside right or left until we pass your borders.

18 And Edom said to him, You shall not pass through me. Otherwise I will come out to meet you in war.

19 And the sons of Israel say to him, We shall pass along the mountain. And if I and my cattle drink your water, I will give payment to you. But the matter is nothing. We shall pass along the mountain.

20 But he said, You shall not pass through me. And Edom came out to meet him with a heavy crowd and with a strong hand.

21 And Edom was not willing to let Israel pass through his borders, and Israel turned aside from him.

22 And they set out from Kadesh, and the sons of Israel, the whole congregation, came to Mount Hor⁷.

23 And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron at Mount Hor on the borders of the land of Edom, saying,

24 Let Aaron be added to his people, because you shall surely not enter into the land that I have given to the sons of Israel, because you provoked me at the water of reviling.

25 Take Aaron and Eleazar his son, and bring them up to Mount Hor before all the congregation.

26 And strip Aaron of his robe and put it on Eleazar his son, and Aaron, being added, shall die there.⁸

27 And Moses did just as the Lord commanded, and he brought him up to Mount Hor before all the congregation.

28 And Moses stripped Aaron of his garments and clothed Eleazar his son with them, and Aaron died there on the top of the mountain. And Moses and Eleazar came down from the mountain.

29 And all the congregation saw that Aaron had been released, and all the house of Israel mourned Aaron thirty days.

Chapter 21

1 And the Canaanite king of Arad¹, who dwelt by the wilderness, heard, for Israel was coming by the way of Atharim², and he fought against Israel and took captives from them.

2 And Israel vowed a vow to the Lord and said, If you hand this people over into my hand, I will devote them and their cities to destruction.

3 And the Lord heard the voice of Israel and handed over the Canaanite into his hand, and he devoted him and his cities to destruction, and they called the name of that place Devoted Destruction.

4 And setting out from Mount Hor by the way of the Red Sea, they went around the land of Edom, and the people grew short-souled on the way.

5 And the people were speaking against God and against Moses, saying, Why did you bring us up from Egypt, to kill us in the wilderness? For there is no bread and no water, and our soul has loathed this empty bread³.

6 And the Lord sent among the people deadly snakes, and they were biting the people, and many people from the sons of Israel died.

7 And the people came to Moses and were saying⁴, We sinned, because we spoke against the Lord and against you. Pray then to the Lord, and let him take the snake away from us. And Moses prayed to the Lord concerning the people.

8 And the Lord said to Moses, Make yourself a snake and set it on a sign, and it shall be that if a snake bites a person, everyone bitten, looking at it, shall live.

9 And Moses made a bronze snake and set it on a sign, and it came to pass, when a snake bit a person and he looked on the bronze snake, he lived.

10 And the sons of Israel set out and camped in Oboth⁵.

11 And setting out from Oboth, they camped in Achelgai beyond, in the wilderness that is opposite Moab, toward the sunrise.

12 From there they set out and camped in the ravine of Zared⁶.

13 And from there, setting out, they camped beyond Arnon, in the wilderness that extends from the borders of the Amorites⁷. For Arnon is the border of Moab, between Moab and the Amorite.⁸

14 Therefore it is said in the Book, The War of the Lord: Zoob he set aflame, and the torrents of Arnon.

15 And he established the torrents to make Ar⁹ a dwelling, and it lies against the borders of Moab.

16 And from there to the well. This is the well about which the Lord said to Moses, Gather the people, and I will give them water to drink.

17 Then Israel sang this song over the well: Sing to it.

18 Well that rulers dug, kings of nations quarried out in their kingdom, when they ruled. And from the well to Mattanah¹⁰,

19 and from Mattanah to Nahaliel¹¹, and from Nahaliel to Bamoth^{12, 13},

20 and from Bamoth to the valley that is in the field of Moab, from the top of the Hewn Place, which looks toward the face of the wilderness.

21 And Moses sent envoys to Sihon¹⁴ king of the Amorites with the words of peace, saying,

22 We shall pass through your land. We shall go by the road. We shall not turn aside into field or vineyard. We shall not drink water from your well. We shall go by the king's road until we pass your borders.

23 And Sihon did not let Israel pass through his borders¹⁵, and Sihon gathered all his people and came out to array for battle against Israel in the wilderness, and he came to Jahaz¹⁶ and arrayed for battle against Israel.

24 And Israel struck him with slaughter by sword and took possession of his land from Arnon to Jabbok, as far as the sons of Ammon¹⁷, for Jaazer is the border of the sons of Ammon.

25 And Israel took all these cities, and Israel settled in all the cities of the Amorites, in Heshbon¹⁸ and in all the villages depending on it.

26 For Heshbon was the city of Sihon king of the Amorites, and he had fought earlier against the king of Moab and taken all his land from Aroer¹⁹ to Arnon.

27 Therefore the riddle-speakers say, Come to Heshbon, so that the city of Sihon may be built and prepared.

28 For fire came out from Heshbon, a flame from the city of Sihon, and it devoured as far as Moab and swallowed the pillars of Arnon.

29 Woe to you, Moab. You are destroyed, people of Chemosh²⁰. His sons were given over to escape, and his daughters as captives to Sihon king of the Amorites.

30 And their seed shall perish from Heshbon to Dibon²¹, and the women still kindled fire against Moab.

31 And Israel settled in all the cities of the Amorites.

32 And Moses sent to spy out Jaazer, and they took it and its villages and cast out the Amorite dwelling there.

33 And turning, they went up by the road to Bashan¹, and Og² king of Bashan came out to meet them, he and all his people, for battle at Edrei³.
 34 And the Lord said to Moses, Do not fear him, because into your hands I have handed him over⁴, and all his people and all his land, and you shall do to him just as you did to Sihon king of the Amorites, who dwelt in Heshbon.
 35 And he struck him and his sons and all his people, until none of his people remained alive, and they inherited their land.

Chapter 22

1 And the sons of Israel set out and camped west of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho⁵.
 2 And Balak son of Zippor saw⁶ all that Israel had done to the Amorite.⁷⁸
 3 And Moab feared the people greatly, because they were many, and Moab was sickened because of the presence of the sons of Israel.
 4 And Moab said to the elders of Midian, Now this congregation will lick up all around us, as the calf licks up the green growth of the plain. And Balak son of Zippor was king of Moab at that time.⁹
 5 And he sent envoys to Balaam¹⁰ son of Beor at Pathoura, which is on the river, in the land of the sons of his people, to call him, saying, Behold, a people has come out from Egypt, and behold, it has covered the face of the land, and it sits beside me.¹¹
 6 And now come, curse this people for me, because they are stronger than we. If perhaps we can strike them and drive them from the land, for I know that whomever you bless are blessed, and whomever you curse are cursed.
 7 And the elders of Moab and the elders of Midian went, and the divinations were in their hands. And they came to Balaam and spoke to him the words of Balak.
 8 And he said to them, Lodge here tonight, and I will answer you with the matters that the Lord may speak to me. And the princes of Moab stayed with Balaam.
 9 And God came to Balaam and said to him, Who are these men with you?
 10 And Balaam said to God, Balak son of Zippor, king of Moab, sent them to me, saying,
 11 Behold, a people has come out from Egypt, and behold, it has covered the face of the land, and it sits beside me. And now come, curse it for me. If perhaps I can strike it and drive it from the land.
 12 And God said to Balaam, You shall not go with them, nor shall you curse the people, for it is blessed.
 13 And Balaam rose in the morning and said to Balak's princes, Run back to your lord. God does not allow me to go with you.
 14 And the princes of Moab rose and came to Balak and said, Balaam does not want to come with us.
 15 And Balak again sent more princes and more honored than these.
 16 And they came to Balaam and say to him, Thus says Balak son of Zippor: I ask you, do not delay to come to me.
 17 For I will honor you greatly, and whatever you say I will do for you. And come, curse this people for me.
 18 And Balaam answered and said to the princes of Balak, If Balak gave me his house full of silver and gold, I would not be able to go beyond the word of the Lord my God¹², to do it small or great in my mind.
 19 And now remain here, you too, this night, and I will know what more the Lord will speak to me.
 20 And God came to Balaam by night and said to him, If these men have come to call you, rise, follow them. But the word that I shall speak to you, this you shall do.
 21 And Balaam rose in the morning, saddled his donkey, and went with the princes of Moab.
 22 And God was enraged in anger because he went, and the angel of God rose up to oppose him¹³. And he was riding on his donkey, and his two servants were with him.
 23 And the donkey, seeing the angel of God¹⁴ standing in the road and his sword drawn in his hand, turned aside from the road and went into the field, and Balaam struck the donkey with the rod to set her straight on the road.
 24 And the angel of God stood in the vineyards' furrows, a fence here and a fence there.
 25 And the donkey, seeing the angel of God, pressed herself against the wall and crushed Balaam's foot, and he continued to whip her.
 26 And the angel of God went on and stood in a narrow place where there was no turning aside right or left.
 27 And the donkey, seeing the angel of God, sat down under Balaam, and Balaam became angry and was striking the donkey with the rod.
 28 And God opened the mouth of the donkey, and she says to Balaam, What have I done to you that you have beaten me this third time?
 29 And Balaam said to the donkey, Because you have mocked me. If I had a sword in my hand, already I would have pierced you.
 30 And the donkey says to Balaam, Am I not your donkey, on which you have ridden from your youth until this day? Have I ever neglected you and acted thus toward you? And he said, No.
 31 And God uncovered Balaam's eyes, and he saw the angel of the Lord standing in the road and the sword drawn in his hand, and bending down, he worshiped with his face.
 32 And the angel of God said to him, Why did you strike your donkey this third time? And behold, I came out as your adversary, because your way is not fitting before me.
 33 And the donkey saw me and turned aside from me this third time. And if she had not turned aside, then now I would have killed you, and I would have preserved her alive.
 34 And Balaam said to the angel of the Lord, I sinned, for I did not know that you stood against me in the road to meet me. And now, if it does not please you, I will turn back.¹

35 And the angel of God said to Balaam, Go along with the men, except that the word that I tell you, this keep to speak. And Balaam went with the princes of Balak.

36 And Balak, hearing that Balaam had come, went out to meet him at the City of Moab, which is on the borders of Arnon, which is at the edge of the border.

37 And Balak said to Balaam, Did I not send to call you? Why did you not come to me? Am I really not able to honor you?

38 And Balaam said to Balak, Behold, I have come to you now. Shall I be able to speak anything? The word that God puts in my mouth, this I shall speak.

39 And Balaam went with Balak, and they came to the cities of the settlements.

40 And Balak sacrificed sheep and calves and sent portions to Balaam and to the princes with him.

41 And it happened in the morning, and Balak took Balaam and brought him up to the pillar of Baal², and from there he showed him some part of the people.

Chapter 23

1 And Balaam said to Balak, Build here seven altars for me, and prepare here seven calves and seven rams for me.

2 And Balak did as Balaam said to him, and he offered up a calf and a ram on the altar.

3 And Balaam said to Balak, Stand by your sacrifice, and I will go, if perhaps God will appear to me in a meeting, and whatever word he shows me I will report to you. And Balak stood by his sacrifice, and Balaam went to inquire of God and went straight.

4 And God appeared to Balaam, and he said to him, I have prepared the seven altars, and I offered up a calf and a ram on the altar.

5 And God put a word in Balaam's mouth³ and said, Returning to Balak, you shall speak thus.

6 And he returned to him, and behold, he had stood by his whole burnt offerings, and all the princes of Moab with him.

7 And the Spirit of God came to be on him, and taking up his oracle, he said: From Mesopotamia Balak king of Moab has summoned me, from the mountains of the east, saying, Come, curse Jacob for me, and come, curse Israel for me.

8 What shall I curse, whom the Lord does not curse? Or what shall I denounce, whom God does not denounce?

9 For from the top of mountains I shall see him, and from the hills I shall perceive him. Behold, a people shall dwell alone, and among nations it shall not be reckoned.

10 Who has searched out the seed of Jacob, and who will number the peoples of Israel? Let my soul die among the souls of the righteous, and let my seed become like the seed of these.

11 And Balak said to Balaam, What have you done to me? I called you to curse my enemies, and behold, you have blessed with blessing.

12 And Balaam said to Balak, Shall I not carefully speak whatever God puts into my mouth?

13 And Balak said to him, Come still with me to another place from which you will not see him from there, but you will see only some part of him, and all of him you shall certainly not see. And curse him for me from there.

14 And he took him to the field of Lookout, to the top of the Hewn Place, and he built there seven altars and offered up a calf and a ram on the altar.

15 And Balaam said to Balak, Stand by your sacrifice, but I will go to inquire of God.

16 And God met Balaam and put a word in his mouth and said, Turn back to Balak, and these things you shall speak.

17 And he returned to him, and behold, he had stood by his whole burnt offering, and all the princes of Moab with him. And Balak said to him, What has the Lord spoken?

18 And taking up his oracle, he said: Rise, Balak, and hear. Give ear, witness, son of Zippor.

19 God is not like a man, to waver, nor like a son of man, to be threatened. He himself said, shall he not do it? He will speak, and will he not remain in it?

20 Behold, I have received a charge to bless. I will bless, and I shall not turn back.

21 There shall not be hardship in Jacob, nor shall trouble be seen in Israel. The Lord his God is with him. The glories of rulers are in him.

22 God, who brought them out of Egypt, is like the glory of a one-horned beast to them.

23 For there is no omen in Jacob, nor divination in Israel. In season it shall be said to Jacob and to Israel what God will accomplish.

24 Behold, a people shall rise like a cub and exalt itself like a lion. It shall not lie down until it eats prey and drinks the blood of the wounded.

25 And Balak said to Balaam, Neither curse him with curses for me, nor blessing bless him for me.

26 And Balaam answered and said to Balak, Did I not speak to you, saying, The word that God speaks, this I will do?

27 And Balak said to Balaam, Come, let me take you to another place. If it pleases God, curse him for me from there.

28 And Balak took Balaam to the top of Peor, which stretches toward the wilderness.

29 And Balaam said to Balak, Build for me here seven altars, and prepare for me here seven calves and seven rams.

30 And Balak did just as Balaam said to him and offered up a calf and a ram on the altar.

Chapter 24

1 And Balaam, seeing that it is good before the Lord to bless Israel, did not go as usual to meet the omens, and he turned his face toward the wilderness.

2 And Balaam lifted his eyes and saw Israel encamped tribe by tribe, and the Spirit of God came to be in him.

3 And taking up his oracle, he said: Balaam son of Beor says, the man who truly sees says,

4 says the one hearing the oracles of God, who saw a vision of God in sleep, his eyes having been uncovered.

5 How good are your houses, Jacob, your tents, Israel.

6 Like shaded valleys, and like gardens beside rivers, and like tents that the Lord pitched, like cedars by waters.

7 A man shall come out from his seed and shall rule many nations, and his kingdom shall be exalted above Gog⁴, and his kingdom shall be increased.

9 Lying down, he rested like a lion and like a cub. Who will raise him? Those blessing you are blessed, and those cursing you are cursed.

10 And Balak became angry against Balaam and clapped his hands¹, and Balak said to Balaam, I called you to curse my enemy, and behold, blessing you have blessed this third time.

11 Now then flee to your place. I said I would honor you, and now the Lord has deprived you of glory.

12 And Balaam said to Balak, Did I not also speak to your messengers whom you sent to me, saying,

13 If Balak gave me his house full of silver and gold, I would not be able to go beyond the word of the Lord, to do evil or good from myself. Whatever God says, these things I will say.

14 And now behold, I am going back to my place. Come, I will advise you what this people will do to your people at the last of days.

15 And taking up his oracle, he said: Balaam son of Beor says, the man who truly sees says,

16 who hears the oracles of God, knowing knowledge from the Most High, who saw a vision of God in sleep, his eyes having been uncovered.

17 I will point him out, but not now. I count him blessed, and he is not near. A star shall rise out of Jacob, and a man shall stand up out of Israel², and he shall crush the leaders of Moab and plunder all the sons of Seth.

18 And Edom shall be an inheritance, and Esau his enemy shall be an inheritance, and Israel acted in strength.

19 And one shall rise from Jacob and destroy the survivor from the city.

20 And seeing Amalek and taking up his oracle, he said: Amalek is the beginning of nations, and their seed shall perish.

21 And seeing the Kenite³ and taking up his oracle, he said: Strong is your dwelling-place⁴, and if you set your nest in the rock,

22 then if Beor's nest should come to be in craftiness, Assyrians shall take you captive.

23 And seeing Og and taking up his oracle, he said: Oh, oh, who shall live when God sets these things in place?

24 And one shall come out from the hand of Kittim, and they shall afflict Asshur and afflict Hebrews, and they themselves together shall perish.

25 And Balaam rose and went away, turning back to his place, and Balak went to himself.

Chapter 25

1 And Israel stayed in Shittim⁵, and the people were profaned to prostitute themselves with the daughters of Moab.

2 And they called them to the sacrifices of their idols, and the people ate from their sacrifices and bowed to their idols.

3 And Israel joined itself to Baal-peor⁶, and the Lord was enraged in anger against Israel.

4 And the Lord said to Moses, Take all the leaders of the people and make an example of them for the Lord before the sun, and the anger of the Lord's wrath will turn away from Israel.

5 And Moses said to the tribes of Israel, Let each one kill his own kinsman who has been joined to Baal-peor.

6 And behold, a man from the sons of Israel came and brought the Midianite woman before Moses and before the whole congregation of the sons of Israel, while they were weeping at the door of the tent of testimony.⁷

7 And Phinehas son of Eleazar son of Aaron the priest saw, rose up from the midst of the congregation, and taking a spear in his hand,

8 went in after the Israelite man into the chamber and pierced both of them, both the Israelite man and the woman through her womb. And the plague ceased from the sons of Israel.

9 And those who died in the plague became twenty-four thousand.

10 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

11 Phinehas son of Eleazar son of Aaron the priest has stopped my wrath from the sons of Israel by being jealous with my jealousy among them, and I did not consume the sons of Israel in my jealousy.

12 Therefore say, Behold, I give him a covenant of peace⁸.

13 And it shall be to him and to his seed after him a covenant of everlasting priesthood⁹, because he was jealous for his God and made atonement for the sons of Israel.

14 And the name of the Israelite man who had been struck, who was struck with the Midianite woman, was Zimri¹⁰ son of Salu¹¹, leader of a father's house of the Simeonites¹².

15 And the name of the Midianite woman who had been struck was Cozbi¹³ daughter of Zur¹⁴, chief of a father's house among Midian.

16 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,¹⁵

17 Treat the Midianites as enemies and strike them,

18 because they act as enemies toward you in the deceit with which they deceive you¹⁶ over Peor and over Cozbi daughter of the chief of Midian, their sister, the one struck down on the day of the plague over Peor.

Chapter 26

1 And it came to pass after the plague, and the Lord spoke to Moses and to Eleazar the priest, saying,

2 Take the sum of the whole congregation of the sons of Israel, from twenty years old and upward, by their ancestral houses, everyone who goes out to array for battle in Israel.

3 And Moses and Eleazar the priest spoke in the plains of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho, saying,

Chapter 30

1 And Moses spoke to the sons of Israel according to all that the Lord commanded Moses.
2 And Moses spoke to the leaders of the tribes of Israel, saying, This is the word³ that the Lord commanded.
3 Man by man, whoever vows a vow to the Lord or swears an oath or binds himself with a binding over his life, he shall not profane his word. Everything that goes out from his mouth he shall do.
4 But if a woman vows a vow to the Lord or binds a binding in the house of her father in her youth,⁴
5 and her father hears her vows and her bindings which she bound against her life and her father keeps silent to her, then all her vows shall stand⁵, and all the bindings which she bound against her life shall remain for her.
6 But if her father by refusal refuses⁶ her on the day he hears all her vows and the bindings which she bound against her life, they shall not stand, and the Lord will clear her, because her father refused her.
7 And if, having become, she becomes to a man, and her vows are upon her according to the utterance of her lips, which she bound against her life,
8 and her husband hears and keeps silent to her⁷ on the day he hears, then all her vows shall stand, and her bindings which she bound against her life shall stand.
9 But if her husband by refusal refuses her on the day he hears, all her vows and her bindings which she bound against her life shall not remain, because her husband refused them from her, and the Lord will clear her.¹

10 And the vow of a widow or of one cast out, whatever she vows against her life, shall remain for her.
11 But if in the house of her husband her vow or the binding against her life is with an oath,
12 and her husband hears and keeps silent to her and does not refuse her, then all her vows shall stand, and all her bindings which she bound against her life shall stand against her.²
13 But if her husband removes them³ when he hears, everything that has gone out from her lips according to her vows and according to the bindings against her life shall not remain for her. Her husband removed them, and the Lord will clear her.
14 Every vow and every binding oath to afflict a life, her husband shall establish it for her⁴, and her husband shall remove it.
15 But if her husband keeps silent to her day after day, he shall establish all her vows and the bindings upon her. He shall establish them for her, because he kept silent to her on the day he heard.
16 But if he removes them after the day he heard, he shall bear his sin.⁵
17 These are the ordinances that the Lord commanded Moses between a man and his wife and between a father and daughter in youth in the house of her father.

Chapter 31

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
2 Avenge the vengeance of the sons of Israel on the Midianites, and at the end you shall be added to your people.
3 And Moses spoke to the people, saying, Arm men from among you to array for battle before the Lord against Midian, to return vengeance from the Lord upon Midian.
4 A thousand from a tribe, a thousand from a tribe, from all the tribes of Israel, send out to array for battle.
5 And they were counted from the thousands of Israel, a thousand from a tribe, twelve thousand armed for battle.
6 And Moses sent them, a thousand from a tribe, a thousand from a tribe, with their force, and Phinehas son of Eleazar son of Aaron the priest, and the holy vessels and the trumpets of the signals in their hands.
7 And they arrayed against Midian just as the Lord commanded Moses, and they killed every male.
8 And the kings of Midian they killed along with their wounded: Evi⁶ and Rekem⁷ and Zur and Hur and Reba⁸, five kings of Midian. And Balaam son of Beor they killed with sword along with their wounded.
9 And they plundered the women of Midian and their baggage and their cattle and all their possessions and all their force they plundered.
10 And all their cities in their dwellings and their camps they burned with fire.
11 And they took all the plunder and all their spoils, from human to beast.
12 And they brought to Moses and to Eleazar the priest and to all the sons of Israel the captivity and the spoils and the plunder to the camp in the plains of Moab, which are by the Jordan at Jericho.
13 And Moses and Eleazar the priest and all the leaders of the congregation went out to meet them outside the camp⁹.
14 And Moses was angry with the overseers of the force, the chiliarchs and centurions coming from the battle line of the war.
15 And Moses said to them, Why have you kept every female alive?
16 For these became for the sons of Israel, according to the word of Balaam, a cause to depart and despise the word of the Lord for the sake of Peor, and the plague came in the congregation of the Lord.
17 And now kill every male among all the company, and every woman who has known the bed of a male kill.
18 But every company of women who has not known the bed of a male keep alive for yourselves.
19 And you camp outside the camp seven days, every one who killed and every one touching the wounded¹⁰. He shall be purified on the third day and on the seventh day, you and your captives.
20 And every garment and every leather vessel and every work of goats hair and every wooden vessel you shall cleanse.
21 And Eleazar the priest said to the men of the force who had come from the battle line of the war, This is the ordinance of the law that the Lord commanded Moses:
22 Except the gold and the silver and bronze and iron and lead and tin,
23 every thing that goes through fire shall be purified, but it shall be purified by the water of purification¹¹. And everything that does not pass through fire shall go through water.
24 And you shall wash your garments on the seventh day and you shall be clean, and after these things you shall enter into the camp¹².
25 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
26 Take the total of the spoil of the captivity, from human to beast, you and Eleazar the priest and the leaders of the ancestral houses of the congregation.
27 And divide the spoils between the warriors who went out into battle and the whole congregation.
28 And remove a tax for the Lord from the warriors who went out into battle, one soul out of five hundred, from the humans and from the cattle and from the oxen and from the sheep and from the goats.
29 And from their half you shall take and give to Eleazar the priest the firstfruits of the Lord.
30 And from the half of the sons of Israel you shall take one out of fifty¹³, from the humans and from the oxen and from the sheep and from the donkeys and from all the cattle, and you shall give them to the Levites who keep the charges in the tent of the Lord.
31 And Moses and Eleazar the priest did just as the Lord commanded Moses.
32 And the excess of plunder that the fighting men plundered from the sheep was six hundred seventy-five thousand.
33 And cattle, seventy-two thousand.
34 And donkeys, sixty-one thousand.

 39 And donkeys, thirty thousand five hundred, and the tax to the Lord, sixty-one.
 40 And human souls, sixteen thousand, and their tax to the Lord, thirty-two souls.

 49 and said to Moses, Your servants have taken the total of the fighting men from among us, and not even one is missing from them.
 50 And we have brought the gift to the Lord, each man what he found, a gold article, chain and bracelet and ring and armlet and clasped ornament, to make atonement for us before the Lord.

 52 And all the gold, the removed offering that they removed for the Lord, was sixteen thousand seven hundred fifty shekels from the chiliarchs and from the centurions.

Chapter 32

1 And cattle in great multitude belonged to the sons of Reuben and to the sons of Gad, very many, and they saw the land of Jaazer and the land of Gilead, and the place was a place for cattle.
 2 And the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad came and said to Moses and to Eleazar the priest and to the leaders of the congregation, saying,
 3 Ataroth³ and Dibon and Jaazer and Nimrah⁴ and Heshbon and Elealeh⁵ and Shebam⁶ and Nebo and Baian,
 4 the land that the Lord handed over before the sons of Israel, is cattle-land, and your servants have cattle.
 5 And they said, If we have found favor before you, let this land be given to your servants as a possession, and do not carry us across the Jordan.
 6 And Moses said to the sons of Gad and to the sons of Reuben, Shall your brothers go to war and you sit here?
 7 And why do you twist the minds of the sons of Israel, so that they do not cross into the land that the Lord gives them?
 8 Did not your fathers do thus when I sent them from Kadesh-Barnea⁷ to look upon the land?
 9 And they went up to the Ravine of Cluster and looked upon the land, and turned away the heart of the sons of Israel so that they did not enter into the land that the Lord gave them.
 10 And the Lord was enraged in anger on that day and swore, saying,
 11 If these men who came up from Egypt, from twenty years old and upward, who know evil and good⁸, shall see the land that I swore to Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, because they did not follow after me—
 12 except Caleb son of Jephunneh, the separated one, and Joshua son of Nun, because he followed after the Lord.
 13 And the Lord was enraged in anger against Israel and drove them round in the wilderness forty years⁹ until all the generation doing evil before the Lord was consumed.
 14 Behold, you rose up in place of your fathers, a twisted growth of sinful men, to add yet more to the fury of the Lord's anger against Israel.
 15 For you will turn away from him, to add yet again to leave him in the wilderness, and you will do lawlessness against all this congregation.
 16 And they came near to him and said, Let us build sheepfolds here for our cattle and cities for our baggage.
 17 But we, armed for a guard, will go first before the sons of Israel until we bring them to their place, and our baggage will dwell in fortified cities because of those dwelling in the land.¹⁰
 18 We shall certainly not turn back to our houses until the sons of Israel are apportioned, each one into his inheritance.
 19 And we shall no longer inherit with them from beyond the Jordan and further on, because our allotments are here beyond the Jordan to the east.
 20 And Moses said to them, If you do this thing, if you arm yourselves before the Lord for war,
 21 and every armed man of yours crosses the Jordan before the Lord until his enemy is crushed from before him,
 22 and the land is subdued before the Lord, and afterward you turn back, then you shall be innocent before the Lord and from Israel, and this land shall be for you as a possession before the Lord.
 23 But if you do not do thus, you will sin before the Lord, and you shall know your sin when evils overtake you.
 24 And you shall build cities for your baggage and sheepfolds for your cattle, and what goes out from your mouth you shall do.
 25 And the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad said to Moses, saying, Your servants will do just as our lord commands.
 26 Our baggage and our wives and all our cattle will be in the cities of Gilead.
 27 But your servants will cross over, all armed and drawn up before the Lord for battle, as our lord says.
 28 And Moses appointed over them Eleazar the priest and Joshua son of Nun and the leaders of the ancestral houses of the 29 And Moses said to them, If the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad cross the Jordan with you, every armed man for war before the Lord, and you subdue the land before you, then you shall give them the land of Gilead as a possession.

30 But if they do not cross armed with you before the Lord into war, then you shall bring their baggage and their wives and their cattle across ahead of you into the land of Canaan, and they shall inherit along with you in the land of Canaan.

31 And the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad answered, saying, Whatever the Lord says to his servants, so we will do.

32 We will cross armed before the Lord into the land of Canaan, and give us the possession beyond the Jordan.

33 And Moses gave to them—to the sons of Gad and to the sons of Reuben and to the half-tribe of Manasseh, sons of Joseph—the kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites and the kingdom of Og king of Bashan, the land and its cities with its borders, the cities of the land around.

Chapter 35

1 And the Lord spoke to Moses west of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho, saying,
 2 Command the sons of Israel, and they shall give to the Levites from the lots of their possession cities to dwell in, and the outskirts¹² of the cities around them they shall give to the Levites.
 3 And the cities shall be for them to dwell in, and their separated lands shall be for their cattle and for all their four-footed animals.
 4 And the surrounding lands of the cities that you shall give to the Levites, from the wall of the city and outward, shall be two thousand cubits all around.
 5 And you shall measure outside the city the east side two thousand cubits and the south side two thousand cubits and the west side two thousand cubits and the north side two thousand cubits, and the city shall be in the middle of this. These shall be for you the adjoining lands of the cities.
 6 And the cities that you shall give to the Levites, the six cities of refuges, which you shall give for the slayer to flee there, and besides these, forty-two cities.
 7 All the cities that you shall give to the Levites shall be forty-eight cities, these and their outskirts.
 8 And the cities that you shall give from the possession of the sons of Israel, from the greater share many, and from the smaller share fewer. Each according to his inheritance that they will inherit, they shall give from their cities to the Levites.¹³
 9 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
 10 Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, You are crossing the Jordan into the land of Canaan.
 11 And you shall designate cities for yourselves. They shall be refuges for you, for the slayer to flee there, everyone who struck down a soul unintentionally.
 12 And the cities shall be refuges for you from the avenger of blood, and the slayer shall certainly not die until he stands before the congregation for judgment.
 13 And the cities that you shall give, the six cities, shall be refuges for you.
 14 Three cities you shall give beyond the Jordan, and three cities you shall give in the land of Canaan.
 15 The refuge shall be for the sons of Israel and for the proselyte and for the resident among you. These cities shall be a refuge, for everyone striking a soul unintentionally to flee there.
 16 But if he strikes him with an iron tool and he dies, he is a murderer. The murderer shall surely be put to death¹⁴.
 17 And if with a stone in the hand by which one may die he strikes him and he dies, he is a murderer. The murderer shall surely be put to death.
 18 And if with a wooden tool in the hand by which one may die he strikes him and he dies, he is a murderer. The murderer shall surely be put to death.
 19 The avenger of blood¹⁵, this one shall kill the murderer. When he meets him, this one shall kill him.
 20 And if through enmity he pushes him, or throws any object upon him from ambush, and he dies,
 21 or in anger strikes him with the hand and he dies, the one striking shall surely be put to death¹⁶. He is a murderer. The avenger of blood shall kill the murderer when he meets him.

 25 And the congregation shall rescue the slayer from the avenger of blood, and the congregation shall restore him to the city of his refuge where he fled, and he shall dwell there until the high priest dies, the one whom they anointed¹⁷ with the holy oil.
 26 But if the slayer goes out beyond the bounds of the city where he fled there,
 27 and the avenger of blood finds him outside the bounds of the city of his refuge and the avenger of blood kills the slayer, he is not guilty.

32 You shall not take ransom for fleeing into the city of refugees, for returning to dwell upon the land until the high priest dies.

33 And you shall certainly not murder the land in which you dwell, for blood murders the land, and the land shall not be atoned for from the blood poured out on it except by the blood of the one pouring it out.

34 And you shall not defile the land on which you dwell, upon which I tabernacle among you, for I am the Lord tabernacling in the midst of the sons of Israel.

Chapter 36

1 And the leaders of the tribe of the sons of Gilead son of Machir son of Manasseh, from the tribe of the sons of Joseph, came near and spoke before Moses and before Eleazar¹ the priest and before the leaders of the ancestral houses of the sons of Israel.

2 And they said to our lord, The Lord commanded to give the land of inheritance by lot to the sons of Israel, and to our lord the Lord commanded² to give the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother to his daughters.

3 And if they become wives to one of the tribes of the sons of Israel, their inheritance will be taken away from the possession of our fathers and added to the inheritance of the tribe to which they become wives, and it will be taken away from the lot of our inheritance.³

4 And if the release of the sons of Israel comes, their inheritance will be added to the inheritance of the tribe to which they become wives, and their inheritance will be taken away from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers.⁴

5 And Moses commanded the sons of Israel by the command of the Lord, saying, Thus the tribe of the sons of Joseph speaks.

6 This is the word that the Lord commanded for the daughters of Zelophehad, saying, Let them become wives to whom it is pleasing before them. Only from the clan of their father shall they become wives.

7 And inheritance shall not be turned around for the sons of Israel from tribe to tribe, because the sons of Israel shall cling each to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers.

8 And every daughter inheriting inheritance from the tribes of the sons of Israel shall become wife to one from the clan of her father, so that the sons of Israel may inherit each the inheritance of his fathers.⁵

9 And a lot shall not be turned from tribe to another tribe, but the sons of Israel shall cling each to his own inheritance.

10 Just as the Lord commanded Moses, so the daughters of Zelophehad did.

11 And Tirzah and Hoglah and Milcah and Noah and Mahlah, daughters of Zelophehad, became wives to their cousins.

12 From the clan of Manasseh, sons of Joseph, they became wives, and their inheritance remained upon the tribe of the clan of their father.

13 These are the commands and the ordinances and the judgments that the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses west of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho.

Deuteronomy

Chapter 1

1 These are the words that Moses spoke to all Israel beyond the Jordan in the wilderness, toward the west, near the Red Sea, between Paran and Tophel¹ and Laban and Aulon and Dizahab².
2 Eleven days from Horeb³ by the road of Mount Seir to Kadesh-Barnea.
3 And it came to pass in the fortieth year, in the eleventh month, on the first of the month, Moses spoke to all the sons of Israel according to all that the Lord commanded him to them,
4 after he struck Sihon king of the Amorites who dwelt in Heshbon and Og king of Bashan who dwelt in Ashtaroth and in Edrei.
5 Beyond the Jordan, in the land of Moab, Moses began to make this law clear, saying,
6 The Lord our God spoke to us in Horeb, saying, Let it be enough for you to dwell on this mountain.
7 Turn and set out, you, and enter into the hill-country of the Amorites and to all the neighbors of the Arabah⁴, into mountain and plain and toward the south and the coastland, the land of the Canaanites and Lebanon⁵, as far as the great river Euphrates.⁶
8 See, I have handed over the land before you. Having entered, inherit the land which I swore to your fathers, to Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, to give to them and to their seed after them.
9 And I said to you at that time, saying, I will not be able to bear you alone.
10 The Lord your God multiplied you, and behold, today you are as the stars of heaven in multitude.
11 May the Lord, the God of your fathers, add to you, as you are, a thousandfold, and bless you just as he spoke to you.
12 How will I be able alone to bear your toil and your standing and your disputes?
13 Give yourselves men wise and understanding and prudent for your tribes, and I will appoint them as leaders over you.
14 And you answered me and said, Good is the word that you spoke to do.
15 And I took from among you men wise and understanding and prudent, and I appointed them to lead over you as chiliarchs and centurions and leaders of fifty and leaders of ten and record-keepers⁷ for your judges.
16 And I commanded your judges at that time, saying, Hear between your brothers and judge righteously between a man and his brother and his proselyte.
17 You shall not recognize a face in judgment⁸. By the small and by the great you shall judge. You shall not shrink from a man's face, because the judgment is God's. And the matter that is hard for you, you shall bring it up to me, and I will hear it.
18 And I commanded you at that time all the matters that you should do⁹.
19 And setting out from Horeb, we went through all that great and fearful wilderness¹⁰ which you saw, by the road of the mountain of the Amorite, just as the Lord our God commanded us, and we came as far as Kadesh-Barnea.
20 And I said to you, You have come as far as the mountain of the Amorite, which the Lord our God gives you.
21 See, the Lord your God has handed over the land before you. Go up, inherit, just as the Lord the God of your fathers said to you. Do not fear and do not lose heart.
22 And you all came near to me and said, Let us send men before us, and let them explore the land for us and report back to us the answer, the road by which we shall go up in it and the cities into which we shall enter.¹¹
23 And the word pleased me, and I took from among you twelve men, one man by tribe.
24 And turning, they went up into the mountain and came as far as the Ravine of Cluster and spied it out.
25 And they took in their hands from the fruit of the land and brought it down to us and said, Good is the land that the Lord our God gives us.
26 But you were not willing to go up, and you disobeyed the word of the Lord¹² your God.
27 And you were grumbling in your tents and said, Because the Lord hates us, he brought us out from the land of Egypt to hand us over into the hands of the Amorites to destroy us.
28 Where are we going up? Our brothers turned away your heart¹³, saying, The nation is great and many and stronger than we, and the cities great and walled up to heaven, and moreover we saw sons of giants there.
29 And I said to you, Do not be terrified, and do not fear them.
30 The Lord your God who goes before your face, he himself will fight together with them for you according to all that he did for you in the land of Egypt,
31 and in this wilderness which you saw, how the Lord your God carried you as someone would carry his son, throughout all the road that you traveled until you came to this place.
32 And in this matter you did not trust the Lord your God,
33 who goes ahead of you on the road, choosing for you a place, leading you in fire by night, showing you the road on which you go, and in cloud by day.
34 And the Lord heard the voice of your words and, being provoked, swore, saying,
35 If any of these men shall see this good land that I swore to their fathers—
36 except Caleb son of Jephunneh. He shall see it, and to him I will give the land on which he trod and to his sons, because he clung to the things of the Lord.
37 And the Lord was angry with me because of you, saying, Neither shall you enter there.
38 Joshua son of Nun, the one standing by you, he shall enter there. Strengthen him, because he shall allot it to Israel.
39 And every young child¹⁴ who today does not know good or evil, these shall enter there, and to these I will give it, and they shall inherit it.
40 And you, having turned, camp yourselves in the wilderness by the road of the Red Sea.
41 And you answered me and said, We sinned before the Lord our God. We ourselves, going up, will wage war according to all that the Lord our God commanded us. And each taking up his weapons of war and gathering yourselves¹, you were going up into the mountain.

42 And the Lord said to me, Tell them, You shall not go up, nor shall you fight, for I am not with you, and you shall not be crushed before your enemies.

43 And I spoke to you, and you did not listen to me, and you transgressed the word of the Lord, and forcing your way, you went up into the mountain.

44 And the Amorite who dwelt in that mountain came out to meet you and pursued you as bees might do and were wounding you from Seir to Hormah.

45 And sitting down, you were weeping before the Lord, and the Lord did not hear your voice nor pay attention to you.

46 And you remained in Kadesh many days, however many days you remained.

Chapter 2

1 And turning, we set out into the wilderness by the way of the Red Sea, just as the Lord spoke to me, and we went around Mount Seir many days.

2 And the Lord said to me,²

3 Let it be enough for you to go around this mountain. Turn then to the north.

4 And command the people, saying, You are passing through the borders of your brothers, the sons of Esau, who dwell in Seir, and they shall fear you and be very wary³ of you.

5 Do not join battle with them, for I shall certainly not give you from their land even a step of foot, because I have given Mount Seir to the sons of Esau as an inheritance.

6 Buy food from them with silver and eat, and water by measure⁴ take from them for silver and drink.

7 For the Lord our God blessed you in every work of your hands. Know how you passed through that great and fearful wilderness. Behold, forty years the Lord your God is with you. You lacked no thing⁵.

8 And we passed by our brothers, the sons of Esau, who dwell in Seir, by the road of the Arabah, from Elon and from Eziongeber⁶. And turning, we passed by the road of the wilderness of Moab.

9 And the Lord said to me, Do not treat the Moabites as enemies, and do not join them in war, for I shall certainly not give you from their land as an inheritance, because I have given Seir to the sons of Lot as an inheritance.⁷

10 The Emims⁸ lived on it formerly, a great and many people and mighty, like the Anakim⁹.

11 These also are counted as Raphain¹⁰, like the Anakim, and the Moabites call them Emims.

12 And in Seir the Horims¹¹ dwelt formerly, and the sons of Esau destroyed them and crushed them from before them and settled in their place, just as Israel did to the land of his inheritance which the Lord gave them.

13 Now then rise and set out, you, and pass through the Ravine of Zared. And we passed through the Ravine of Zared.

14 And the days that we traveled from Kadesh-Barnea until we passed through the Ravine of Zared were thirty-eight years, until all the generation of fighting men fell away, dying from the camp¹², just as God swore to them.

15 And the hand of God was upon them to consume them from the camp until they fell away.

16 And it came to pass, when all the fighting men had fallen away, dying from the midst of the people,

17 The Lord spoke to me, saying,

18 You are passing today the borders of Moab, Seir.

19 And you will come near to the sons of Ammon. Do not treat them as enemies¹³ and do not join them in war, for I shall certainly not give you from the land of the sons of Ammon as an inheritance, because I have given it to the sons of Lot as an inheritance.

20 It is counted as land of Raphain, for Raphain dwelt on it formerly, and the Ammonites call them Zamzummims¹⁴,

21 a great and many people and stronger than you, like the Anakim. And the Lord destroyed them from before them, and they inherited and dwelt in their place to this day,

22 just as they did for the sons of Esau who dwell in Seir, in the way they crushed the Horims from before them and inherited and dwelt in their place to this day.

23 And the Euaean who dwelt in Hazeroth as far as Gaza, and the Cappadocians who came out from Cappadocia¹⁵ crushed them and dwelt in their place.

24 Now then rise and set out and pass through the Ravine of Arnon. Behold, I have handed into your hands Sihon king of Heshbon the Amorite and his land. Begin to inherit; join battle with him¹⁶.

25 On this day begin to give your terror and your fear on the face of all the nations under heaven, who, hearing your name, shall be troubled and shall have birth-pains from before your face.

26 And I sent envoys from the wilderness of Kedemoth¹⁷ to Sihon king of Heshbon with the words of peace, saying,

27 I shall pass through your land. By the road I shall pass. I shall not turn aside right or left.

28 Food for silver you shall give me and I shall eat, and water for silver you shall give me and I shall drink, except that I shall pass through on foot,

29 just as the sons of Esau dwelling in Seir did for me, and the Moabites dwelling in Aroer, until I pass through the Jordan into the land that the Lord our God gives us.

30 And Sihon king of Heshbon was not willing to let us pass through him, because the Lord our God hardened his spirit and strengthened his heart¹⁸, so that he might be handed into your hands, as at this day.

31 And the Lord said to me, Behold, I have begun to hand over before your face Sihon king of Heshbon the Amorite and his land. Begin to inherit his land.
32 And Sihon king of Heshbon came out to meet us, he and all his people, for battle at Jahaz.
33 And the Lord our God handed him over before our face, and we struck him and his sons and all his people.
34 And we seized all his cities at that time and utterly destroyed every city in succession, and their women and their children. We left no living captive.
35 Except the cattle we plundered and the spoils of the cities we took.
36 From Aroer, which is by the lip of the torrent Arnon, and the city that is in the ravine, even to the mountain of Gilead, there was no city that escaped us¹. The Lord our God handed all of them into our hands.
37 Except to the land of the sons of Ammon we did not come near, all adjoining the torrent Jabbok, and the cities in the hill country, just as the Lord our God commanded us.

Chapter 3

1 And turning, we went up by the road to Bashan, and Og king of Bashan came out to meet us, he and all his people, for battle at Edrei.
2 And the Lord said to me, Do not fear him, because I have handed him over² into your hands, and all his people and all his land, and you shall do to him just as you did to Sihon king of the Amorites who dwelt in Heshbon.
3 And the Lord our God handed him into our hands, Og king of Bashan and all his people, and we struck him until no seed of his was left.
4 And we seized all his cities at that time. There was no city that we did not take from them: sixty cities, all the region of Argob³, the kingdom of Og in Bashan.
5 All the cities were fortified, with high walls, gates, and bars, besides the very many villages of the Perizzites.
6 We utterly destroyed them, just as we did to Sihon king of Heshbon, and we utterly destroyed every city in succession, and the women and the children.
7 And all the cattle and the spoils of the cities we plundered for ourselves⁴.
8 And we took at that time the land from the hands of the two kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan, from the torrent Arnon as far as Hermon⁵.
9 The Phoenicians call Hermon Sanior, and the Amorite named it Senir⁶.
10 All the cities of Mishor⁷ and all Gilead and all Bashan as far as Salcah⁸ and Edrei, cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan.
11 For only Og king of Bashan was left from the Raphain. Behold, his bed was an iron bed. Behold, it is in Akra of the sons of Ammon, nine cubits its length and four cubits its width, by a man's cubit.⁹
12 And this land we inherited at that time, from Aroer which is on the lip of the torrent Arnon, and half the mountain of Gilead and its cities I gave to Reuben and to Gad.
13 And the rest of Gilead and all Bashan, the kingdom of Og, I gave to the half-tribe of Manasseh, and all the region of Argob, all that Bashan; that land shall be counted as land of Raphain.
14 And Jair son of Manasseh took all the region of Argob up to the borders of the Girkashites and the Maakathites, and he named them after his own name, Bashan: Jair's Camps, to this day.
15 And to Machir I gave Gilead.
16 And to Reuben and to Gad I gave from Gilead as far as the torrent Arnon, the middle of the torrent as a border, and as far as Jabbok, the torrent being the border of the sons of Ammon.
17 And the Arabah and the Jordan as a border, from Machanaereth even to the Sea of the Arabah, the Salt Sea, under Ashdod¹⁰ of Pisgah¹¹ eastward.
18 And I commanded you at that time, saying, The Lord your God gave you this land as an inheritance. Armed, go before your brothers, the sons of Israel, every mighty man.
19 Only your wives and your children and your cattle—I know that you have many cattle—shall dwell in your cities that I have given you.
20 Until the Lord your God gives your brothers rest¹² as also to you, and they too inherit the land that the Lord our God gives them beyond the Jordan. And you shall return, each to his inheritance that I gave you.
21 And to Joshua I commanded at that time, saying, Your eyes have seen all that the Lord our God did to these two kings. So the Lord our God will do to all the kingdoms into which you are crossing there¹³.
22 You shall not fear them, because the Lord our God himself will fight for you.
23 And I pleaded with the Lord at that time, saying,
24 Lord, Lord, you began to show your servant your strength and your power and your mighty hand and your high arm. For what god is there in heaven or on earth who will do as you did and according to your strength?
25 Crossing over then, I shall see this good land that is beyond the Jordan, this good mountain and Anti-Lebanon¹⁴.
26 And the Lord overlooked me because of you and did not hear me, and the Lord said to me, Let it be enough for you; do not add to speak this word any more.
27 Go up onto the top of the Hewn Place, and looking up with your eyes toward the sea and north and south and east, see with your eyes, because you shall not cross this Jordan.
28 And command Joshua and strengthen him and encourage him, because he shall cross before this people and he shall allot to them the land that you saw.
29 And we stayed in the valley near the house of Peor.

Chapter 4

1 And now, Israel, hear the ordinances and the judgments that I teach you today to do, so that you may live and multiply¹ and, entering in, inherit the land that the Lord God of your fathers gives you.

2 You shall not add to the word that I command you, and you shall not take away from it. Keep the commands of the Lord your God that I command you today.

3 Your eyes saw all that the Lord our God did at Baal-peor, because every man who went after Baal-peor, the Lord your God crushed him from among you.

4 But you who cling to the Lord your God are all alive today.

5 See, I have shown you ordinances and judgments just as the Lord commanded me, so that you may do thus in the land into which you are entering there to inherit it.

6 And you shall keep and do them, because this is your wisdom and your understanding before all the nations, whoever hears all these ordinances and says, Behold, this great nation is a wise and understanding people².

7 For what great nation has a god drawing near to them as the Lord our God in all the things for which we call on him?

8 And what great nation has righteous ordinances and judgments according to all this law that I set before you today?

9 Take heed to yourself and guard your soul greatly, lest you forget all the words that your eyes saw and lest they depart from your heart all the days of your life, and you shall teach them to your sons and to the sons of your sons:

10 The day you stood before the Lord your God in Horeb, the day of the assembly, when the Lord said to me, Assemble the people to me, and let them hear my words so that they may learn to fear me all the days they live upon the land and teach their sons.³

11 And you came near and stood under the mountain, and the mountain was burning with fire up to heaven, darkness, gloom, storm, a great sound.

12 And the Lord spoke to you from the midst of the fire. You heard a voice of words, and you saw no form, only a voice.

13 And he declared to you his covenant that he commanded you to do, the ten words, and he wrote them on two stone tablets.

14 And to me the Lord commanded at that time to teach you ordinances and judgments, for you to do them in the land into which you are entering there to inherit it.

15 And guard your souls greatly, because you saw no form on the day the Lord spoke to you in Horeb in the mountain from the midst of the fire,

16 lest you act lawlessly and make for yourselves a carved image, any likeness, likeness of male or female,

17 likeness of any beast that is on the earth, likeness of any winged bird that flies under heaven,

18 likeness of any creeping thing that creeps on the earth, likeness of any fish that is in the waters below the earth.

19 And lest, looking up to heaven and seeing the sun and the moon and the stars and all the order of heaven⁴, you be led astray and bow to them and serve them, things that the Lord your God assigned to all the nations under heaven.

20 But God took you and brought you out from the iron furnace, from Egypt, to be for him an inherited people, as at this day.

21 And the Lord was angry with me over the things spoken by you and swore that I should not cross this Jordan and should not enter into the land that the Lord God gives you as an inheritance.

22 For I am dying in this land and not crossing this Jordan, but you are crossing and inheriting this good land.

23 Watch yourselves, lest you forget the covenant of the Lord your God that he covenanted with you, and make for yourselves a carved likeness⁵ of anything that the Lord your God commanded you not to make.

24 Because the Lord your God is a consuming fire, a jealous God.

25 But if you beget sons and sons of sons⁶ and remain long in the land and act lawlessly and make a carved likeness of anything and do evil before the Lord your God to provoke him,

26 I call heaven and earth to witness against you today that with destruction you shall perish from the land into which you are crossing the Jordan there to inherit it. You shall not remain many days on it, but with crushing you shall be crushed⁷.

27 And the Lord will scatter you among all the nations, and you shall be left few in number among the nations into which the Lord will bring you there.

28 And there you shall serve other gods, works of human hands, wood and stone, which shall not see and shall certainly not hear, neither shall they eat nor smell.

29 And there you shall seek the Lord your God and find him when you seek him out from all your heart and from all your soul in your affliction.

30 And all these words will find you at the last of the days, and you will turn to the Lord your God and listen to his voice.

31 Because the Lord your God is a compassionate God. He will not forsake you, nor will he surely crush you, nor forget the covenant of your fathers that he swore to them.

32 Ask the earlier days that came before you⁸, from the day God created humankind on the earth, and from one end of heaven to the end of heaven, whether there has happened anything according to this great word or whether anything like it has been heard.

33 Has any nation heard the voice of the living God speaking from the midst of the fire the way you heard and lived?

34 Has God attempted, entering in, to take for himself a nation from the midst of a nation, by trial and by signs and by wonders and by war and by mighty hand and by high arm and by great sights, according to all that the Lord our God did in Egypt before you while you watched?

35 So that you might know that the Lord your God, this one is God, and there is no other besides him.

36 From heaven his voice was made heard to discipline you, and on the earth he showed you his great fire, and you heard his words from the midst of the fire.

37 Because he loved your fathers and chose their seed after them, you, and he brought you out himself by his great strength from Egypt,

38 to destroy nations greater and stronger than you from before your face, to bring you in, to give you their land to inherit, as you have today.

39 And you shall know today and turn it back to your mind that the Lord your God, this one is God in heaven above and on the earth below, and there is no other besides him.

40 And you shall keep his ordinances and his commands that I command you today, so that it may be well with you and with your sons after you, so that you may be long-lived on the land¹ that the Lord your God gives you all the days.
 41 Then Moses marked off three cities beyond the Jordan from the rising of the sun,
 42 for the killer to flee there, whoever kills his neighbor not knowing, and this one not hating him before yesterday or the third day, and he shall flee into one of these cities and live:
 43 Besor² in the wilderness in the level land for Reuben, and Ramoth³ in Gilead for Gad, and Golan⁴ in Bashan for Manasseh.
 44 This is the law that Moses set before the sons of Israel,
 45 these are the testimonies and the ordinances and the judgments that Moses spoke to the sons of Israel in the wilderness when they came out from the land of Egypt,
 46 beyond the Jordan in the valley near the house of Peor, in the land of Sihon king of the Amorites who dwelt in Heshbon, whom Moses and the sons of Israel struck when they came out from the land of Egypt,⁵
 47 and they inherited his land and the land of Og king of Bashan, the two kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan toward the sunrise,
 48 from Aroer which is on the lip of the torrent Arnon and up to the mountain of Zion⁶, which is Hermon,
 49 all the Arabah beyond the Jordan toward the sunrise under Ashdod the Hewn Place.

Chapter 5

1 And Moses called all Israel and said to them, Hear, Israel, the ordinances and the judgments that I speak in your ears today, and you shall learn them and keep to do them.
 2 The Lord your God covenanted with you in Horeb.
 3 Not with your fathers did the Lord covenant this covenant, but with you, you here, all alive today.
 4 Face to face the Lord spoke to you on the mountain from the midst of the fire.
 5 And I was standing between the Lord and you at that time, to report to you the words of the Lord, because you feared before the fire and did not go up onto the mountain, saying:
 6 I am the Lord your God who brought you out from the land of Egypt, from the house of slavery.
 7 There shall not be for you other gods before my face.
 8 You shall not make for yourself an idol, nor any likeness of whatever is in the heaven above and whatever is on the earth below and whatever is in the waters below the earth.
 9 You shall not bow to them, nor shall you serve them, because I am the Lord your God, a jealous God, repaying fathers sins upon children⁷ to the third and fourth generation of those who hate me,
 10 and showing mercy to thousands, to those who love me and keep my commands.
 11 You shall not take the name of the Lord your God in vain⁸, because the Lord shall certainly not clear the one taking his name in vain.
 12 Keep the day of the Sabbaths, to sanctify it, just as the Lord your God commanded you.
 13 Six days work, and you shall do all your works.
 14 But the seventh day is Sabbath to the Lord your God. You shall do no work on it, you and your sons and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant, your ox and your beast of burden⁹ and every animal of yours, and the proselyte residing among you, so that your male servant and your female servant may rest as you do.
 15 And you shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt, and the Lord your God brought you out from there with mighty hand and high arm. Therefore the Lord your God commanded you so as to keep the day of the Sabbaths¹⁰ and sanctify it.
 16 Honor your father and your mother, just as the Lord your God commanded you, so that it may be well with you and so that you may be long-lived on the land that the Lord your God gives you.
 17 You shall not commit adultery.
 18 You shall not murder.
 19 You shall not steal.
 20 You shall not bear false testimony against your neighbor, a false witness.
 21 You shall not desire your neighbor's wife. You shall not desire your neighbor's house, nor his field, nor his male servant, nor his female servant, nor his ox, nor his beast of burden, nor any of his cattle, nor whatever belongs to your neighbor.
 22 These words the Lord spoke to all your congregation on the mountain from the midst of the fire, darkness, gloom, storm, a great voice, and he added no more. And he wrote them on two stone tablets and gave them to me.
 23 And it came to pass, when you heard the voice from the midst of the fire, and the mountain was burning with fire, you came near to me, all the leaders of your tribes and your elders,¹¹
 24 and you were saying, Behold, the Lord our God showed us his glory, and his voice we heard from the midst of the fire. On this day we saw that God will speak to a human and he shall live¹².
 25 And now let us not die, because this great fire will consume us. If we add any more to hear the voice of the Lord our God, then we shall die.
 26 For what flesh is there that heard the voice of the living God speaking from the midst of the fire as we did and shall live?
 27 Come near, you, and hear whatever the Lord our God may say, and you will speak to us all that the Lord our God speaks to you, and we shall hear and do.¹³
 28 And the Lord heard the voice of your words while you spoke to me, and the Lord said to me, I heard the voice of the words of this people, whatever they spoke to you. They spoke rightly all that they spoke.
 29 Who will give that their heart should be thus in them, so as to fear me and keep all my commands all the days, so that it may be well with them and with their sons forever?

30 Go, say to them, Turn back, you, into your houses.

31 But you stand here with me¹, and I will speak to you the commands and the ordinances and the judgments that you shall teach them, and let them do them in the land that I give them as an inheritance.

32 And you shall keep to do as the Lord your God commanded you. You shall not turn aside to the right nor to the left.

33 In all the road that the Lord your God commanded you to go in it, so that he may give you rest and it may be well with you and you may be long-lived on the land that you shall inherit.²

Chapter 6

1 And these are the commands and the ordinances and the judgments that the Lord our God commanded to teach you, for you to do them in the land into which you are entering there to inherit it.

2 so that you may fear the Lord your God, keeping all his ordinances and his commands that I command you today, you and your sons and the sons of your sons, all the days of your life, so that you may be long-lived³.

3 And hear, Israel, and keep to do, so that it may be well with you and that you may multiply greatly, just as the Lord, the God of your fathers, spoke, to give you a land⁴ flowing with milk and honey.

4 And these are the ordinances and the judgments that the Lord commanded the sons of Israel in the wilderness, when they came out from the land of Egypt: Hear, Israel, the Lord our God, the Lord is one.⁵

5 And you shall love the Lord your God from your whole heart and from your whole soul and from your whole strength.

6 And these words that I command you today shall be in your heart and in your soul.

7 And you shall pass them on to your sons, and you shall speak of them while sitting in the house and while walking on the road and while lying down and while rising up.

8 And you shall bind them as a sign on your hand, and it shall be fixed before your eyes.

9 And you shall write them on the doorposts of your houses and your gates.

10 And it shall be, when the Lord your God brings you into the land that he swore to your fathers, to Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, to give you, cities great and good⁶ that you did not build,

11 houses full of every good thing that you did not fill, cisterns cut out that you did not cut out, vineyards and olive groves that you did not plant, and when you eat and are filled,

12 watch yourself lest you forget the Lord your God who brought you out from the land of Egypt, from the house of slavery.

13 You shall fear the Lord your God, and you shall serve him and cling to him⁷ and swear by his name.

14 You shall not go after other gods from the gods of the nations around you,

15 because the Lord your God in your midst is a jealous God, lest the Lord your God in your midst, having become angry in wrath, destroy you from the face of the earth.

16 You shall not test the Lord your God in the way you tested him in the Testing.

17 Keeping, you shall keep the commands of the Lord your God, the testimonies and the ordinances that he commanded you.

18 And you shall do what is pleasing and good before the Lord your God, so that it may be well with you and you may enter and inherit the good land that the Lord swore to your fathers, 19 to drive out all your enemies from before your face, just as he spoke.

20 And it shall be, when your son asks you tomorrow, saying, What are the testimonies and the ordinances and the judgments that the Lord our God commanded you?

21 then you shall say to your son, We were household servants to Pharaoh in the land of Egypt, and the Lord brought us out from there with mighty hand and high arm.

22 And the Lord gave signs and wonders, great and grievous, in Egypt, against Pharaoh and against his house, before us.

23 And he brought us out from there so that he might bring us in⁸, to give us this land that he swore to give to our fathers.

24 And the Lord commanded us to do all these ordinances, to fear the Lord our God, so that it may be well with us all the days, so that we may live, as also today.

25 And it will be righteousness for us if we keep to do all these commands before the Lord our God, just as the Lord commanded us.

Chapter 7

1 And if the Lord your God brings you into the land into which you are entering there to inherit it, and he removes great nations from before your face, the Hittite and Gergesite and Amorite and Canaanite and Perizzite and Hivite and Jebusite, seven nations many and stronger than you⁹,

2 and the Lord your God gives them into your hands, then you shall strike them. With utter destruction you shall utterly destroy them. You shall not covenant a covenant with them, nor indeed show them mercy.

3 And you shall certainly not intermarry with them¹⁰. Your daughter you shall not give to his son, and his daughter you shall not take for your son,

4 for he will turn your son away from me, and he will serve other gods, and the Lord will be angered in wrath against you and destroy you quickly.

5 But thus you shall do to them: their altars you shall pull down, and their pillars you shall shatter, and their sacred groves you shall cut down, and the carved images of their gods you shall burn with fire.

6 Because you are a holy people to the Lord your God, and the Lord your God chose you to be for him a people of special possession beyond all the nations that are on the face of the earth.

7 Not because you are more numerous than all the nations did the Lord choose you and select you, for you are fewer than all the nations,

8 but because the Lord loves you and keeps the oath that he swore to your fathers, the Lord brought you out with mighty hand and high arm¹, and he redeemed you from the house of slavery, from the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt.

9 And you shall know that the Lord your God, this one is God, faithful God, keeping covenant and mercy with those who love him and with those who keep his commands, to a thousand generations,

10 and repaying those who hate him to their face, to destroy them. He will not delay with those who hate him; he will repay them to their face.

11 And you shall keep these commands and ordinances and judgments that I command you today, to do them.

12 And it shall be, when you hear all these ordinances and keep and do them, then the Lord your God will keep for you the covenant and the mercy² that he swore to your fathers.

13 And he will love you and bless you and multiply you, and he will bless the offspring of your womb and the fruit of your land, your grain and your wine and your oil, the herds of your cattle and the flocks of your sheep, on the land that the Lord swore to your fathers to give you.

14 You shall be blessed beyond all the nations. There shall not be among you one without offspring or barren, nor among your cattle.

15 And the Lord will remove from you every sickness, and all the evil diseases of Egypt that you have seen and all that you have known he will not put on you, but he will put them on all who hate you.

16 And you shall consume all the spoils of the nations that the Lord your God gives you. Your eye shall not spare them, and you shall not serve their gods, because this is a stumbling block to you.

17 And if you say in your mind, This nation is more numerous than I. How shall I be able to utterly destroy them?

18 you shall not fear them. In remembrance you shall remember what the Lord your God did to Pharaoh and to all the Egyptians,

19 the great trials that your eyes saw, those signs and great wonders, the mighty hand and the high arm³ by which the Lord your God brought you out. Thus the Lord our God will do to all the nations whose face you fear.

20 And the Lord your God will send the hornets against them until the remnant and those hidden from you are ground away.

21 You shall not be broken before their face, because the Lord your God in your midst is a great and mighty God.

22 And the Lord your God will consume these nations from before your face little by little. You will not be able to consume them quickly, lest the land become desolate and the wild beasts multiply against you.

23 And the Lord your God will give them into your hands and destroy them with a great destruction until he utterly destroys them.

24 And he will give their kings into your hands, and their name will perish from that place. No one shall stand against your face until you utterly destroy them.

25 The carved images of their gods you shall burn with fire. You shall not desire the silver or gold from them, nor take it for yourself, lest you stumble because of it, because it is an abomination to the Lord your God.

26 And you shall not bring an abomination into your house, and you shall be devoted to destruction like it. With abhorrence you shall abhor it, and with loathing you shall loathe it, because it is devoted to destruction.

Chapter 8

1 All the commands that I command you today you shall keep to do, so that you may live and be multiplied and enter and inherit the land that the Lord your God swore to your fathers.

2 And you shall remember all the road that the Lord your God led you in the wilderness, so that he might afflict you and test you, and so that the things in your heart might be known, whether you would keep his commands or not.⁴

3 And he afflicted you and made you hunger, and he fed you with the manna that your fathers did not know, so that he might tell you⁵ that not on bread alone shall a human live, but on every word going out through the mouth of God shall a human live.

4 Your clothes did not wear out from upon you, and your feet did not become calloused, behold, these forty years.

5 And you shall know in your heart that as someone might discipline his son, so the Lord your God will discipline you.

6 And you shall keep the commands of the Lord your God, to walk in his ways and fear him.

7 For the Lord your God is bringing you into a good and rich land, a land of watercourses and springs and depths coming out through plains and through mountains,

8 a land of wheat and barley, vines, fig trees, and pomegranates, a land of olive oil and honey,

9 a land on which you will not eat your bread with poverty, and you shall lack nothing on it, a land whose stones are iron and from whose mountains you shall mine copper.

10 And you shall eat and be filled and bless the Lord your God for the good land that he gave you.

11 Watch yourself lest you forget the Lord your God by not keeping his commands and judgments and ordinances that I command you today,

12 lest, having eaten and been filled and built good houses and lived in them,

13 and your cattle and your sheep have been multiplied to you, and silver and gold have been multiplied to you, and all that belongs to you has been multiplied to you,

14 your heart be lifted up and you forget⁶ the Lord your God who brought you out from the land of Egypt, from the house of slavery,

15 who led you through that great and fearful wilderness where the biting serpent and scorpion were, and thirst where there was no water, who brought out for you a spring of water from sheer rock,

16 who fed you with manna in the wilderness that your fathers did not know, so that he might afflict you and test you and do good for you at the end of your days.

17 Do not say in your heart, My strength and the power of my hand made for me this great power.

18 And you shall remember the Lord your God, because he gives you strength to make power, and so that he may establish his covenant that the Lord swore to your fathers, as today.

19 And it shall be, if in forgetfulness you forget the Lord your God and go after other gods and serve them and bow to them, I testify to you today, both heaven and earth, that with destruction you shall perish.

20 Just as the other nations that the Lord destroys from before your face, so you shall perish, because you did not hear the voice of the Lord your God.

Chapter 9

1 Hear, Israel: you are crossing the Jordan today to enter and inherit nations greater and stronger than you, cities great and walled up to heaven,
2 a people great and many and tall, sons of Anak, whom you know and of whom you heard, Who shall stand against the face of the sons of Anak?
3 And you shall know today that the Lord your God, this one goes before your face. He is a consuming fire. He will utterly destroy them, and he will turn them back from before your face¹, and you shall destroy them, just as the Lord said to you.
4 Do not say in your heart², when the Lord your God consumes these nations from before your face, saying, Because of my righteousness the Lord brought me in to inherit this good land. Rather, because of the ungodliness of these nations the Lord will utterly destroy them from before your face.
5 Not because of your righteousness or because of the holiness of your heart³ are you entering to inherit their land, but because of the ungodliness of these nations the Lord will utterly destroy them from before your face, and so that he may establish his covenant that he swore to your fathers, to Abraham and to Isaac and to Jacob.
6 And you shall know today that not because of your righteousness does the Lord your God give you this good land to inherit, because you are a stiff-necked people.
7 Remember, do not forget how much you provoked the Lord your God in the wilderness. From the day you came out from Egypt until you came to this place, you kept being disobedient in the things toward the Lord.⁴
8 And in Horeb you provoked the Lord, and the Lord became angry with you, to utterly destroy you.
9 When I went up onto the mountain to take the stone tablets, tablets of the covenant that the Lord covenanted with you, I remained on the mountain forty days and forty nights. Bread I did not eat, and water I did not drink.⁵
10 And the Lord gave me the two stone tablets written by the finger of God, and on them had been written all the words that the Lord spoke to you on the mountain in the day of assembly⁶.
11 And it came to pass, after forty days and forty nights, the Lord gave me the two stone tablets, tablets of the covenant.
12 And the Lord said to me, Rise, go down quickly from here, because your people whom you brought out from the land of Egypt have acted lawlessly⁷. They turned quickly out of the way that I commanded them. They made a molten image for themselves.
13 And the Lord said to me, I have spoken to you once and twice, saying, I have seen this people, and behold, it is a stiff-necked people.
14 Let me alone, and I will utterly destroy them and wipe out their name from under heaven, and I will make you into a nation great and strong and much more than this.
15 And turning, I came down from the mountain, and the mountain was burning with fire, and the two tablets were on my two hands.
16 And I saw that you had sinned before the Lord your God and made for yourselves a molten image, and you had turned from the way that the Lord commanded you.
17 And seizing the two tablets, I threw them from my two hands and shattered them before you.
18 And I pleaded⁸ before the Lord the second time, as also the first, forty days and forty nights. Bread I did not eat, and water I did not drink, on account of all your sins that you sinned, doing evil before the Lord your God to provoke him.
19 And I was terrified because of the anger and the wrath, because the Lord had been provoked against you, to utterly destroy you. And the Lord heard me at that time also.
20 And against Aaron the Lord was very angry, to utterly destroy him, and I prayed also concerning Aaron at that time.
21 And your sin that you made, the calf, I took it and burned it in fire and crushed it, grinding it down thoroughly until it became fine⁹ and became like dust, and I threw the dust into the torrent that came down from the mountain.
22 And at the Burning and at the Testing and at the Graves of Desire you were provoking the Lord your God.
23 And when the Lord sent you out from Kadesh-Barnea, saying, Go up and inherit the land that I give you, then you disobeyed the word of the Lord your God and did not believe him¹⁰ and did not listen to his voice.
24 You kept being disobedient in the things toward the Lord from the day he became known to you.
25 And I pleaded before the Lord forty days and forty nights, as many as I pleaded, for the Lord said he would utterly destroy you.
26 And I prayed to God and said, Lord, Lord, King of the gods¹¹, do not utterly destroy your people and your portion, whom you redeemed in your great strength, whom you brought out from the land of Egypt in your great strength and with your mighty hand and high arm.
27 Remember Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, your servants, to whom you swore by yourself. Do not look upon the hardness of this people and their ungodly deeds and their sins,
28 lest those dwelling in the land from which you brought us out there say, Because the Lord was not able¹² to bring them into the land that he said to them, and because he hated them, he brought them out to kill them in the wilderness.
29 But they are your people and your inheritance, whom you brought out from the land of Egypt in your great strength and with your high arm.

Chapter 10

1 At that time the Lord said to me, Carve for yourself two stone tablets like the first ones, and come up to me onto the mountain, and make for yourself a wooden ark.
2 And I will write on the tablets the words that were on the first tablets that you shattered, and you shall put them into the ark.
3 And I made an ark from incorruptible woods, and I carved the two stone tablets like the first ones, and I went up onto the mountain, and the two tablets were on my hands.

¹ T: Greek uses turn-back language here rather than simply bring them down.

⁵ T: Greek keeps verbal echo here.

⁶ T: Greek says on mountain in day of assembly.

⁸ T: Greek says I pleaded or made petition before the Lord the second time.

4 And he wrote on the tablets, according to the first writing, the ten words that the Lord spoke to you on the mountain from the midst of the fire, and the Lord gave them to me.
 5 And turning, I came down from the mountain and put the tablets into the ark that I had made, and they were there, just as the Lord commanded me.
 6 And the sons of Israel set out from Beeroth¹ of the sons of Jaakan² to Mosera. There Aaron died and was buried there, and Eleazar his son served as priest in his place.
 7 From there they set out to Horhagidgad, and from Horhagidgad to Jotbathah, a land of watercourses.
 8 At that time the Lord set apart the tribe of Levi to carry the ark of the covenant of the Lord, to stand before the Lord, to minister, and to bless in his name, until this day.
 9 Because of this the Levites have no portion or inheritance among their brothers; the Lord himself is his inheritance, just as he said to him.
 10 And I stood on the mountain forty days and forty nights, and the Lord heard me at that time also, and the Lord was not willing to utterly destroy you.
 11 And the Lord said to me, Go, set out before this people, and let them enter and inherit the land that I swore to their fathers to give them.
 12 And now, Israel, what does the Lord your God ask from you except to fear the Lord your God, to walk in all his ways and to love him and to serve the Lord your God from your whole heart and from your whole soul,
 13 to keep the commands of the Lord your God and his ordinances that I command you today, so that it may be well with you?
 14 Behold, to the Lord your God belong the heaven and the heaven of heaven, the earth and all that is in it.
 15 Only your fathers did the Lord choose, to love them, and he chose their seed after them, you, above all the nations, as on this day.
 16 And circumcise your hard-heartedness, and do not harden your neck any longer.
 17 For the Lord your God, this one is the God of gods and the Lord of lords, the great and mighty and fearful God, who does not show partiality and certainly does not take a gift,
 18 doing justice for the proselyte and the orphan and the widow, and loving the proselyte, to give him bread and clothing.
 19 And you shall love the proselyte, because you were proselytes in the land of Egypt.
 20 You shall fear the Lord your God, and you shall serve him and cling to him and swear by his name.
 21 He is your boast, and he is your God, who did among you these great and glorious things that your eyes saw.
 22 With seventy souls your fathers went down into Egypt, but now the Lord your God made you like the stars of heaven in multitude.

Chapter 11

1 And you shall love the Lord your God and keep his charges and his ordinances and his judgments all the days.
 2 And know today that it was not your children who did not know and did not see the discipline of the Lord your God, his greatness and his mighty hand and his high arm,
 3 and his signs and his wonders that he did in the midst of Egypt to Pharaoh king of Egypt and to all his land,
 4 and what he did to the power of the Egyptians, to their chariots and their horsemen, how he flooded the water of the Red Sea over their face while they pursued from behind you, and the Lord destroyed them until this day,³
 5 and what he did for you in the wilderness until you came to this place,
 6 and what he did to Dathan and Abiram, sons of Eliab son of Reuben, whom the earth, opening its mouth, swallowed, and their households and their tents and all their substance that was with them in the midst of all Israel.
 7 Because your eyes have seen all the great works of the Lord, all that he did for you today.
 8 And you shall keep all his commands that I command you today, so that you may live and be multiplied and, entering in, inherit the land into which you are crossing the Jordan there to inherit it,
 9 so that you may be long-lived on the land that the Lord swore to your fathers to give to them and to their seed after them, a land flowing with milk and honey.
 10 For the land into which you are entering there to inherit it is not like the land of Egypt from which you came out, where they sow the seed and water it with their feet like a vegetable garden.
 11 But the land into which you are entering there to inherit it is a mountainous and plain land; from the rain of heaven it drinks water,
 12 a land that the Lord your God watches over. The eyes of the Lord your God are always on it, from the beginning of the year until the end of the year.
 13 And it shall be, if indeed you listen to all his commands that I command you today, to love the Lord your God and to serve him from your whole heart and from your whole soul,
 14 then he will give rain to your land in its season, early and late, and you shall bring in your grain and your wine and your oil,
 15 and he will give fodder in your fields for your cattle, and you shall eat and be filled.
 16 Watch yourselves lest your heart turn aside and you transgress and serve other gods and bow to them,
 17 and the Lord, angered in wrath against you, shut up the heaven, and there will be no rain and the land will not give its fruit, and you will perish quickly from the good land that the Lord gave you.
 18 And you shall put these words into your heart and into your soul, and you shall bind them as a sign on your hand, and they shall be fixed before your eyes.
 19 And you shall teach them to your children, speaking of them while sitting in the house and while walking on the road and while lying down and while rising up.
 20 And you shall write them on the doorposts of your houses and your gates,
 21 so that your days and the days of your children may be many on the land that the Lord swore to your fathers to give them, as the days of heaven upon the earth.
 22 And it shall be, if indeed you listen to all these commands that I command you today to do, to love the Lord our God and to walk in all his ways and cling to him,
 23 then the Lord will cast out all these nations from before your face, and you will inherit nations greater and stronger than you.
 24 Every place where the track of your foot treads shall be yours, from the wilderness and Anti-Lebanon, and from the great river, the river Euphrates, and as far as the western sea shall be your boundaries.

25 No one shall stand against your face. The Lord your God will put your terror and your fear on the face of all the land on which you step, in the way the Lord spoke to you.

26 Behold, I set before you today blessing and curse:

27 the blessing, if you hear the commands of the Lord your God that I command you today,

28 and the curse, if you do not hear the commands of the Lord your God that I command you today and wander from the way that I commanded you, going to serve other gods whom you do not know.

29 And it shall be, when the Lord your God brings you into the land into which you are crossing there to inherit it, then you shall place the blessing on Mount Gerizim¹ and the curse on Mount Ebal.²

30 Behold, are these not beyond the Jordan, behind the road of the sun's setting, in the land of Canaan that lies westward, near Golgol, beside the tall oak?

31 For you are crossing the Jordan, entering to inherit the land that the Lord your God gives you as an inheritance all the days, and you shall inherit it and dwell in it.

32 And you shall keep to do all his ordinances and these judgments that I set before you today.

Chapter 12

1 And these are the ordinances and the judgments that you shall keep to do on the land that the Lord God of your fathers gives you as an inheritance, all the days that you live on the land.

2 With destruction you shall destroy all the places in which those whom you inherit served their gods, on the high mountains and on the hills and under every dense tree.

3 And you shall dig down their altars³ and shatter their pillars and cut down their sacred groves, and the carved images of their gods you shall burn with fire, and their name shall perish from that place.

4 You shall not do thus to the Lord your God.

5 But only to the place that the Lord your God chooses in one of your tribes, to have his name called there, you shall seek, and you shall go in there.

6 And you shall bring there your whole burnt offerings and your sacrifices and your firstfruits⁴ and your vows and your freewill offerings and the firstborn of your cattle and your sheep,

7 and you shall eat there before the Lord your God and rejoice in everything to which you put your hand, you and your households, in the way the Lord your God blessed you.

8 You shall not do all that we do here today, each one what is pleasing before himself,

9 for you have not come until now to the rest and to the inheritance that the Lord your God gives you.

10 And you shall cross the Jordan and dwell on the land that the Lord your God gives you as an inheritance, and he will give you rest from all your enemies around, and you shall dwell in safety.

11 And it shall be, the place that the Lord your God chooses for his name to be called there⁵, there you shall bring everything that I command you today, your whole burnt offerings and your sacrifices and your tithes and the firstfruits of your hands and every choice gift that you vow to your God.⁶

12 And you shall rejoice before the Lord your God, you and your sons and your daughters, your male servants and your female servants, and the Levite within your gates, because he has no portion or inheritance with you⁷.

13 Watch yourself lest you bring up your whole burnt offerings⁸ in every place that you see,

14 but only at the place that the Lord your God chooses, that one, in one of your tribes, there you shall offer your whole burnt offerings and there you shall do everything that I command you today.

15 But according to all your desire⁹, you may slaughter and eat meat according to the blessing of the Lord your God that he gave you in every city. The unclean among you and the clean alike shall eat it, as the gazelle or the deer.

16 Except the blood, you shall not eat it. You shall pour it out on the ground like water.

17 You shall not be able to eat in your cities the tithe of your grain and your wine and your oil, the firstborn of your cattle and your sheep, and all the vows that you vow and your confessions and the firstfruits of your hands¹⁰,

18 but only before the Lord your God shall you eat them in the place that the Lord your God chooses for himself, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant and the proselyte in your cities, and you shall rejoice before the Lord your God in everything to which you put your hand¹¹.

19 Watch yourself lest you abandon the Levite for all the time that you live on the land.

20 And if the Lord your God enlarges your boundaries, just as he spoke to you, and you say, I will eat meat, if your soul desires to eat meat, then by every desire of your soul you may eat meat.

21 And if the place that the Lord your God chooses for his name to be called there¹² is farther from you, then you shall slaughter from your cattle and from your sheep that God gave you, in the way I commanded you, and you shall eat in your cities according to the desire of your soul.¹³

22 Just as the gazelle and the deer are eaten, so you shall eat it. The unclean among you and the clean alike shall eat it.

23 Watch strongly that you do not eat blood, because its blood is life. Life shall not be eaten with the flesh.

24 You shall not eat it. You shall pour it out on the ground like water.

25 You shall not eat it, so that it may be well with you and with your sons after you, if you do what is good and pleasing before the Lord your God.

26 Except your holy things that you may have, and your vows, taking them you shall come to the place that the Lord your God chooses for his name to be called there¹⁴.²

27 And you shall make your whole burnt offerings: the meat you shall offer on the altar of the Lord your God, and the blood of your sacrifices you shall pour out at the base of the altar of the Lord your God, but the meat you shall eat.

28 Keep and hear and do all these words³ that I command you, so that it may be well with you and with your sons forever, if you do what is good and pleasing before the Lord your God.

29 And if the Lord your God utterly destroys the nations into whose land you are entering there to inherit it from before your face, and you fully inherit them and dwell in their land,

30 watch yourself lest you seek to follow after them after they have been destroyed from before your face. You shall certainly not seek their gods⁴, saying, How do these nations act toward their gods? I also will do likewise.

31 You shall not do thus to the Lord your God, for the abominations that the Lord hated they did to their gods, because they burn their sons and their daughters in fire to their gods.

Chapter 13

1 Every word that I command you today, this you shall keep to do. You shall not add to it, nor take away from it.

2 And if a prophet arises among you, or one dreaming a dream, and he gives you a sign or a wonder,⁵

3 and the sign or wonder comes⁶ that he spoke to you, saying, Let us go and serve other gods whom you do not know,

4 you shall not listen to the words of that prophet or that dreamer of the dream, because the Lord your God tests you, to know whether you love the Lord your God from your whole heart and from your whole soul.

5 After the Lord your God you shall walk, and him you shall fear, and his commands you shall keep, and his voice you shall hear, and to him you shall be joined⁷.

6 And that prophet or that dreamer of the dream shall die, because he spoke to lead you astray from the Lord your God who brought you out from the land of Egypt, who redeemed you from slavery, to drive you out of the way that the Lord your God commanded you to walk in it. And you shall destroy the evil one from among you⁸.

7 And if your brother from your father or from your mother or your son or your daughter or the wife in your bosom or the friend equal to your soul secretly urges you, saying, Let us go and serve other gods whom neither you nor your fathers knew, 8 from the gods of the nations around you, those near you or those far from you, from one end of the earth to the other end of the earth,⁹

9 you shall not agree with him, and you shall not listen to him, and your eye shall not spare him, and you shall not long for him, nor indeed hide him.

10 Reporting, you shall report concerning him. Your hands shall be upon him first to kill him, and the hands of all the people last.

11 And they shall stone him with stones, and he shall die, because he sought to turn you away from the Lord your God who brought you out from the land of Egypt, from the house of slavery.¹⁰

12 And all Israel, hearing, shall fear, and they shall not add again to do according to this evil word among you.

13 And if you hear in one of your cities¹¹ that the Lord your God gives you to dwell there, people saying,

14 Lawless men have gone out from among you¹² and turned away all those dwelling in their city, saying, Let us go and serve other gods whom you did not know,

15 then you shall inquire and search very carefully, and behold, if the matter has clearly become true, that this abomination happened among you,¹³

16 killing, you shall kill all those dwelling in that city with the slaughter of the sword. With a devoted thing you shall devote it¹⁴ and everything in it.

17 And all its spoils you shall gather into its crossroads¹⁵, and you shall burn the city with fire and all its spoils publicly before the Lord your God, and it shall be uninhabited forever. It shall not be built again.

18 Nothing from the devoted thing shall cling to your hand, so that the Lord may turn from the wrath of his anger and give you mercy and show you mercy and multiply you, in the way the Lord swore to your fathers, 19 if you hear the voice of the Lord your God, keeping all his commands that I command you today, to do what is good and pleasing before the Lord your God.

Chapter 14

1 You are sons of the Lord your God. You shall not gash yourselves, nor put baldness between your eyes for the dead,

2 because you are a holy people to the Lord your God, and the Lord your God chose you to become for him a people of special possession from all the nations on the face of the earth.

3 You shall not eat any abomination.

4 These are the animals that you shall eat: calf from the cattle, lamb from the sheep, and kid from the goats,

5 stag and gazelle and buffalo and goat-deer and pygarg and oryx and giraffe.

6 Every animal that parts the hoof and splits the claws in two hoof-parts and brings up cud among the animals, these you shall eat.

7 And these you shall not eat from those that bring up cud and from those that part the hoof and split the claws¹⁶: the camel and the hare and the hyrax, because they bring up cud but do not part the hoof. These are unclean for you.

¹ T: The Greek uses the established name-there formula here too. The current wording keeps that formula consistent.

⁸ T: Greek keeps the singular personified evil one here.

¹³ MT/LXX: The Septuagint verse here gives the inquiry formula rather than the Masoretic command to strike the city. The translation follows the Greek content at this number.

¹⁴ T: Greek doubles the devote verb.

8 And the pig, because it parts the hoof and splits the hoof-claws, but it does not chew the cud, this is unclean for you. From their flesh you shall not eat, and their carcasses you shall not touch.
 9 And these you shall eat from all that are in the waters: everything that has fins and scales in them you shall eat.
 10 And everything that does not have fins and scales you shall not eat. They are unclean for you.
 11 Every clean bird you shall eat.
 12 And these are what you shall not eat from them: the eagle and the griffin and the sea-eagle,
 13 and the vulture and the kite and those like it,
 14 and every raven and those like it,
 15 and the ostrich and the owl and the gull,
 16 and the heron and the swan and the ibis,
 17 and the diver and the hawk and those like it and the hoopoe and the night-raven,
 18 and the pelican and the plover and those like it and the purple bird and the bat.
 19 Every creeping thing of the birds is unclean for you. You shall not eat from them.
 20 Every clean flying thing you shall eat.
 21 You shall not eat any carcass¹. It shall be given to the resident alien in your cities, and he shall eat it, or you may sell it to the foreigner, because you are a holy people to the Lord your God. You shall not boil a lamb in its mother's milk.
 22 Tithing, you shall tithe all the produce of your seed, the produce of your field, year by year.
 23 And you shall eat it before the Lord your God in the place where the Lord your God chooses for his name to be called there². You shall bring the tithes of your grain and your wine and your oil and the firstborn of your cattle and your sheep, so that you may learn to fear the Lord your God all the days.
 24 And if the road is too long for you and you are not able to carry them, because the place that the Lord your God chooses for his name to be called there is far from you, because the Lord your God will bless you,
 25 then you shall exchange them for silver and take the silver in your hands and go to the place that the Lord your God chooses, that one.
 26 and you shall give the silver for everything your soul desires³, for cattle or for sheep, for wine or for strong drink or for anything your soul desires, and you shall eat there before the Lord your God and rejoice, you and your household.
 27 And the Levite who is in your cities, because he has no portion or inheritance with you,
 28 after three years you shall bring out all the tithe of your produce in that year and place it in your cities,
 29 and the Levite will come, because he has no portion or inheritance with you, and the proselyte⁴ and the orphan and the widow who are in your cities, and they shall eat and be filled, so that the Lord your God may bless you in all the works that you do.

Chapter 15

1 At the end of seven years you shall make a release⁵.
 2 And this is the ordinance of the release: you shall release every personal debt⁶ that your neighbor owes you, and you shall not demand it from your brother, because a release has been proclaimed to the Lord your God.
 3 From the foreigner you shall demand, but from your brother you shall make a release of your debt.
 4 Because there shall not be one in need among you, because in blessing the Lord your God will bless you in the land that the Lord your God gives you as an inheritance to inherit it,
 5 if indeed you listen to the voice of the Lord your God, keeping and doing all these commands that I command you today.
 6 Because the Lord your God blessed you in the way he spoke to you, and you shall lend to many nations, but you shall not borrow, and you shall rule many nations, but they shall not rule you.⁷
 7 And if one in need arises among you from your brothers in one of your cities, in the land that the Lord your God gives you, you shall not harden your heart, nor indeed close your hand from your needy brother,
 8 but opening, you shall open your hands to him. Lending, you shall lend to him as much as he needs, according to what he lacks.
 9 Watch yourself lest a hidden matter of lawlessness⁸ arise in your heart, saying, The seventh year, the year of release, draws near, and your eye become evil toward your needy brother and you do not give to him, and he cries out against you to the Lord, and there will be great sin in you.
 10 Giving, you shall give to him, and lending, you shall lend to him as much as he needs, and you shall not grieve in your heart while giving to him, because for this word the Lord your God will bless you in all your works and in everything to which you put your hand.⁹
 11 For one in need shall certainly not fail from the land. Because of this I command you to do this word, saying, Opening, you shall open your hands to your brother, to the poor and the needy one on your land.
 12 And if your Hebrew brother or Hebrew sister is sold to you, he shall serve you six years, and in the seventh you shall send him away from you free.
 13 And when you send him away from you free, you shall not send him away empty.
 14 Furnishing, you shall furnish him from your sheep and from your grain and from your winepress. In the way the Lord your God blessed you, you shall give to him.
 15 And you shall remember that you were a servant in the land of Egypt, and the Lord your God redeemed you from there. Because of this I command you to do this word.
 16 And if he says to you, I will not go out from you, because he loved you and your household, because it is well for him with you¹⁰,
 17 then you shall take the awl and pierce his ear to the door, and he shall be your household servant forever. And you shall do likewise to your female servant.
 18 It shall not be hard before you when you send them away free from you, because he served you six years for a yearly wage doubled¹ from the hired worker, and the Lord your God will bless you in all that you do.

19 Every firstborn, whatever is born among your cattle and your sheep, the males, you shall consecrate to the Lord your God. You shall not work with your firstborn calf², nor shall you shear the firstborn of your sheep.

20 Before the Lord your God you shall eat it, year by year, in the place that the Lord your God chooses, you and your household.

21 And if there is a blemish in it, lame or blind or any evil blemish, you shall not sacrifice it to the Lord your God.

22 In your cities you shall eat it. The unclean among you and the clean alike shall eat it, as the gazelle or the deer.

23 Except the blood, you shall not eat it. You shall pour it out on the ground like water.

Chapter 16

1 Keep the month of new grain, and you shall make the Passover to the Lord your God, because in the month of new grain you came out from Egypt by night.

2 And you shall sacrifice the Passover to the Lord your God, sheep and cattle³, in the place that the Lord your God chooses for his name to be called there⁴.

3 You shall not eat leaven on it. Seven days you shall eat on it unleavened bread, bread of affliction⁵, because in haste you came out from Egypt, so that you may remember the day of your departure from the land of Egypt all the days of your life.

4 No leaven shall be seen to you in all your boundaries seven days, and none of the meat that you sacrifice in the evening on the first day shall remain overnight⁶ until morning.

5 You shall not be able to sacrifice the Passover in any of your cities that the Lord your God gives you,

6 but only at the place that the Lord your God chooses for his name to be called there, there you shall sacrifice the Passover in the evening, at the setting of the sun, at the time when you came out from Egypt.

7 And you shall cook and roast and eat it in the place that the Lord your God chooses, that one, and in the morning you shall turn and go away to your houses.

8 Six days you shall eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day, departure feast to the Lord your God. You shall do no work in it except what shall be done for a life.

9 Seven full weeks you shall count for yourself. From when you begin to put the sickle to the standing grain you shall begin to count seven weeks.

10 And you shall make the Feast of Weeks to the Lord your God according to the strength of your hand, whatever you may give, in the way the Lord your God blessed you.

11 And you shall rejoice before the Lord your God, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant, and the Levite in your cities and the proselyte and the orphan and the widow among you, in the place that the Lord your God chooses for his name to be called there.

12 And you shall remember that you were a servant in the land of Egypt, and you shall keep and do these commands.

13 You shall make the Feast of Booths for yourself seven days, when you gather in from your threshing floor and from your winepress.

14 And you shall rejoice in your feast, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant, and the Levite and the proselyte and the orphan and the widow who are in your cities.

15 Seven days you shall feast to the Lord your God in the place that the Lord your God chooses for himself, because if the Lord your God blesses you in all your produce and in all the work of your hands, then you shall be rejoicing.

16 Three times in the year every male among you shall appear before the Lord your God in the place that the Lord chooses: in the Feast of Unleavened Bread and in the Feast of Weeks and in the Feast of Tabernacle-making⁷. You shall not appear before the Lord your God empty,^{8,9,10,11}

17 each according to the ability of your hands, according to the blessing of the Lord your God that he gave you.

18 You shall appoint judges and scribes for yourself in all your cities that the Lord your God gives you, according to tribes, and they shall judge the people with righteous judgment.

19 They shall not turn aside judgment. They shall not recognize a face, nor take a gift, because gifts blind the eyes of the wise and remove the words of the righteous.

20 Justly pursue what is just, so that you may live and, entering in, inherit the land that the Lord your God gives you.

21 You shall not plant for yourself a grove, any tree¹², beside the altar of the Lord your God that you make for yourself.

22 You shall not set up for yourself a pillar, which the Lord your God hated.

Chapter 17

1 You shall not sacrifice to the Lord your God a calf or a sheep in which there is a blemish, any evil thing, because it is an abomination to the Lord your God.

2 And if there is found among you in one of your cities that the Lord your God gives you, a man or a woman who does evil before the Lord your God by transgressing his covenant,

3 and they go and serve other gods and bow to them, to the sun or to the moon or to anything from the order of heaven, which he did not command,

4 and it is reported to you, and you search it out very carefully, and behold, the matter has truly happened, this abomination has occurred in Israel,

5 then you shall bring out that man or that woman, and you shall stone them with stones, and they shall die.

6 On two witnesses or on three witnesses the one dying shall die. He shall not die on one witness.

7 And the hand of the witnesses shall be upon him first to put him to death, and the hand of all the people last. And you shall

⁸ T: Greek says feast of tent-making.

destroy the evil one from among you.

8 And if a matter in judgment is too hard for you, between blood and blood, and between judgment and judgment, and between wound and wound¹, words of judgment in your cities, then, rising, you shall go up to the place that the Lord your God chooses for his name to be called there².

9 And you shall come to the Levitical³ priests and to the judge who may be in those days, and, after seeking, they shall report the judgment to you.

10 And you shall act according to the matter that they report to you from the place that the Lord your God chooses for his name to be called there, and you shall keep very carefully to do according to everything that may be legislated to you.

11 According to the law and according to the judgment that they tell you, you shall do. You shall not turn aside from the word that they report to you, right or left.

12 And the man who may act in pride by not listening to the priest who stands there ministering on the name of the Lord your God, or to the judge who may be in those days, that man shall die, and you shall destroy the evil one from Israel.⁴

13 And all the people, hearing, shall fear and no longer act ungodly.

14 And if you enter into the land that the Lord your God gives you as an inheritance and inherit it and dwell on it and say, I will set a ruler over myself, just as also the rest of the nations around me,

15 appointing, you shall appoint over yourself a ruler whom the Lord your God chooses. From your brothers you shall appoint a ruler over yourself. You shall not be able to appoint over yourself a foreign man, because he is not your brother.

16 Only he shall not multiply horses for himself, nor indeed turn the people back to Egypt so as to multiply horses for himself, because the Lord said, You shall not add to return by this road⁵ any longer.

17 And he shall not multiply wives for himself, nor shall his heart turn away, and silver and gold he shall not multiply for himself greatly.

18 And it shall be, when he sits on his rule, he shall write for himself this second law in a book from the priests, the Levites.

19 And it shall be with him, and he shall read in it all the days of his life, so that he may learn to fear the Lord his God, keeping all these commands and these ordinances, to do them, 20 so that his heart may not be lifted up above his brothers⁶, so that he may not transgress the commands right or left, so that he may be long-lived in his rule, he and his sons among the sons of Israel.

Chapter 18

1 There shall not be for the priests, the Levites, the whole tribe of Levi, a portion or inheritance with Israel. They shall eat the Lord's offerings, which are their inheritance.

2 And inheritance shall not be for them among their brothers. The Lord himself is his inheritance, just as he said to him.

3 And this is the due of the priests⁷ from the people, from those sacrificing the sacrifices, whether calf or sheep: he shall give to the priest the arm and the jaws and the stomach.

4 And the firstfruits of your grain and your wine and your oil, and the firstfruits of the shearings of your sheep⁸, you shall give to him,

5 because the Lord your God chose him from all your tribes to stand before the Lord your God to minister and bless in his name, he and his sons among the sons of Israel.

6 And if the Levite comes from one of your cities, from all the sons of Israel where he is residing as a stranger, because his soul desires the place that the Lord chooses,

7 then he shall minister in the name of the Lord his God, just as all his brothers the Levites who stand there before the Lord.

8 He shall eat an equal portion, besides the sale according to patrimony.

9 And if you enter into the land that the Lord your God gives you, you shall not learn to do according to the abominations of those nations.

10 There shall not be found among you one purifying his son or his daughter through fire, one divining divination, one practicing omens, one reading signs, a sorcerer,

11 one chanting a chant, a ventriloquist, one observing signs, one consulting the dead,⁹

12 because everyone doing these things is an abomination to the Lord your God, for because of these abominations the Lord will utterly destroy them from before your face.

13 You shall be complete before the Lord your God.

14 For these nations that you inherit, these will listen to omen-readers and diviners. But for you the Lord your God did not give thus.

15 A prophet from your brothers like me the Lord your God will raise up for you. To him you shall listen,

16 according to all that you asked from the Lord your God in Horeb on the day of the assembly, saying, We shall not add to hear the voice of the Lord our God, and we shall not see this great fire any more, nor indeed die.

17 And the Lord said to me, They spoke rightly all that they spoke.

18 I will raise up for them a prophet from their brothers like you, and I will put my word in his mouth, and he shall speak to them according to whatever I command him.

19 And the man who does not hear whatever the prophet speaks in my name, I will exact it from him.

20 But the prophet who may act ungodly by speaking in my name a word that I did not command him to speak, and who may speak in the name of other gods, that prophet shall die.

21 And if you say in your heart¹⁰, How shall we know the word that the Lord did not speak?

22 Whatever the prophet speaks in the name of the Lord and the matter does not happen and does not come to pass, this is the word that the Lord did not speak. In ungodliness that prophet spoke it. You shall not spare him.¹¹

⁷ T: Greek begins with the priests' due formula and then lists the parts. Current wording keeps that structure plain.

⁸ T: Greek keeps this priestly due in the same inventory line. Current wording preserves that tally.

⁹ T: Greek uses a more specific list of occult terms than many standard English versions. The translation keeps those distinctions.

Chapter 19

1 And if the Lord your God utterly destroys the nations whose land your God gives you, and you fully inherit them and dwell in their cities and in their houses,
2 you shall set apart for yourself three cities in the midst of your land that the Lord your God gives you.
3 Prepare the road for yourself, and divide the boundaries of your land into three parts, the land that the Lord your God distributes to you, and there shall be refuge there for every killer.
4 And this shall be the ordinance of the killer who flees there and lives: whoever strikes his neighbor unintentionally, this one not hating him before yesterday or the third day,
5 and whoever enters with his neighbor into the forest to gather wood, and his hand swings with the axe while cutting the wood, and the iron flies from the wood and meets his neighbor¹ and he dies, this one shall flee to one of these cities and live,
6 lest the avenger of blood, pursuing behind the one who killed, because his heart was heated², overtake him if the road is longer, and strike his life and he die, though for this one there is no judgment of death, because he was not hating him before yesterday or the third day.
7 Because of this I command you this word, saying, You shall set apart for yourself three cities.
8 And if the Lord your God enlarges your boundaries in the way he swore to your fathers and the Lord gives you all the land that he said to give to your fathers,
9 if you listen so as to do all these commands that I command you today, to love the Lord your God, to walk in all his ways all the days, then you shall add for yourself three more cities to these three,
10 and innocent blood shall not be shed³ in your land that the Lord your God gives you as an inheritance, and bloodguilt shall not be in you.
11 And if there is a man hating his neighbor, and he lies in wait for him and rises against him and strikes his life and he dies, and he flees to one of these cities,
12 then the elders of his city shall send and take him from there and deliver him into the hands of the avenger of blood, and he shall die.
13 Your eye shall not spare him, and you shall cleanse innocent blood from Israel, and it shall be well with you.
14 You shall not move your neighbor's boundaries that your fathers set in your inheritance that you inherited in the land that the Lord your God gives you as an inheritance.
15 A witness shall not remain to testify against a man for every injustice and for every sin and for every sin that he may sin. By the mouth of two witnesses and by the mouth of three witnesses every word shall stand.
16 And if an unjust witness stands against a man, charging him with ungodliness,
17 then the two men who have the dispute shall stand before the Lord and before the priests and before the judges who may be in those days.
18 And the judges shall investigate exactly, and behold, if the witness is unjust and he has testified unjust things, standing against his brother,
19 then you shall do to him in the way he wickedly intended to do against his brother, and you shall destroy the evil one from among you.
20 And the rest, hearing, shall fear and no longer add to do according to this evil word among you.
21 Your eye shall not spare him: life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.

Chapter 20

1 And if you go out to war against your enemies and see horse and rider⁴ and a people more numerous than you, you shall not fear before them, because the Lord your God is with you, who brought you up from the land of Egypt.
2 And it shall be, when you draw near to the war, then the priest, drawing near, shall speak to the people,
3 and he shall say to them, Hear, Israel: you draw near today to war against your enemies. Do not let your heart grow weak⁵. Do not fear, nor be broken, nor turn aside from before their face,
4 because the Lord your God, the one going before with you, will fight together with you against your enemies, to save you.
5 And the scribes shall speak to the people, saying, Who is the man who built a new house and did not dedicate it⁶? Let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the war and another man dedicate it.
6 And who is the man who planted a vineyard and did not rejoice from it? Let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the war and another man rejoice from it.
7 And who is the man who is betrothed to a woman and did not take her? Let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the war and another man take her.
8 And the scribes shall add to speak to the people and say, Who is the man who is fearful and cowardly in heart⁷? Let him go and return to his house, lest he make his brother's heart cowardly like his own.
9 And it shall be, when the scribes finish speaking to the people, then they shall appoint leaders of the army to go before the people.
10 And if you draw near to a city to fight against it, then you shall call them with peace.
11 And if they answer you peaceably and open to you, then all the people found in it shall be tributary and subject to you.
12 And if they do not obey you and make war against you⁸, then you shall besiege it.
13 And the Lord your God will give it into your hands, and you shall strike every male in it with the slaughter of the sword.
14 Except the women and the supplies and all the cattle and whatever is in the city and all its provisions, you shall plunder for yourself, and you shall eat all the spoil of your enemies that the Lord your God gives you.⁹
15 Thus you shall do to all the cities that are very far from you¹⁰, which are not from the cities of these nations.
16 But from the cities of these nations whose land the Lord your God gives you to inherit, you shall not keep alive from them anything breathing.

17 But with a devoted thing you shall devote them, the Hittite and Amorite and Canaanite and Perizzite and Hivite and Jebusite and Gergesite, in the way the Lord your God commanded you,
18 so that they may not teach you to do all their abominations that they did to their gods, and you would sin before the Lord your God.
19 And if you besiege a city many days to fight against it for its capture, you shall not utterly destroy its trees by putting iron to them. Rather, you may eat from it, but you shall not cut it down, because the tree in the field is not a human¹ to enter before your face into siegeworks.
20 But a tree that you know is not for eating fruit, this you shall destroy and cut down, and you shall build siegeworks against the city that makes war against you until it is given up.

Chapter 21

1 And if a wounded man is found in the land that the Lord your God gives you to inherit, fallen in the field, and they do not know the one who struck him,
2 then your elders and your judges shall come out and measure to the cities around the wounded man.
3 And it shall be, the city nearest to the wounded man, the elders of that city shall take a heifer from the herd that has not been worked and has not drawn a yoke,
4 and the elders of that city shall bring down the heifer into a rough ravine that has not been worked nor sown, and they shall hamstring the heifer in the ravine.
5 And the priests, the Levites, shall come near, because the Lord your God chose them to stand by him and bless in his name, and by their mouth shall be every dispute and every wound.²
6 And all the elders of that city nearest to the wounded man shall wash their hands over the head of the heifer that was hamstrung in the ravine,
7 and answering they shall say, Our hands did not pour out this blood, and our eyes did not see.
8 Be merciful to your people Israel, whom you redeemed, O Lord, from the land of Egypt, so that innocent blood may not be among your people Israel, and the blood shall be atoned for them.
9 And you shall remove innocent blood from among you if you do what is good and pleasing before the Lord your God.
10 And if, going out to war against your enemies, the Lord your God gives them into your hands, and you plunder their spoil,
11 and you see in the spoil a woman beautiful in appearance and desire her and take her for yourself as a wife,
12 then you shall bring her inside your house, and she shall shave her head and pare her nails³,
13 and she shall remove the garments of her captivity⁴ from herself and sit in your house and mourn her father and her mother a full month, and after these things you shall go in to her and live with her, and she shall be your wife.
14 And it shall be, if you do not want her, you shall send her away free, and she shall certainly not be sold for silver. You shall not treat her as nothing, because you humbled her.
15 And if a man has two wives, one loved and one hated, and the loved and the hated bear children to him, and the firstborn son belongs to the hated one,
16 then it shall be, on the day he distributes his possessions to his sons, he shall not be able to give firstborn rights to the son of the loved one, overlooking the son of the hated one, the firstborn.
17 But he shall acknowledge the firstborn son of the hated one, to give him a double share from everything found with him, because this one is the beginning of his children, and to him belong the rights of the firstborn.
18 And if a man has a disobedient and provoking son, not obeying the voice of his father and the voice of his mother, and they discipline him and he does not listen to them,
19 then his father and his mother, seizing him, shall bring him out to the elders of his city and to the gate of his place,
20 and they shall say to the men of their city, This son of ours disobeys and provokes, he does not listen to our voice, he is a glutton and a drunkard.
21 And the men of his city shall stone him with stones, and he shall die, and you shall destroy the evil one from among you. And the rest, hearing, shall fear.
22 And if in someone there is a sin, a judgment of death, and he dies, and you hang him on a tree,
23 his body shall not remain overnight on the tree, but burying you shall bury him on that day, because everyone hanging on a tree is cursed by God, and you shall not defile the land that the Lord your God gives you as an inheritance.⁵

1 Not seeing your brother's calf or his sheep wandering on the road shall you overlook them. Returning, you shall return them to your brother, and you shall give them back to him.
2 And if your brother is not near you, nor do you know him, you shall gather them into your house, and they shall be with you until your brother seeks them⁶, and you shall give them back to him.
3 Thus you shall do with his donkey, and thus you shall do with his garment, and thus you shall do with every loss of your brother, whatever may be lost from him and you find. You shall not be able to overlook it⁷.
4 You shall not see your brother's donkey or his calf fallen on the road and overlook them. Raising, you shall raise them with him.
5 There shall not be a man's gear on a woman, nor shall a man put on a woman's clothing, because everyone doing these things is an abomination to the Lord your God.
6 And if a brood of birds⁸ meets you on the road, or on any tree or on the ground, with chicks or eggs and the mother warming over the chicks or over the eggs, you shall not take the mother with the children.
7 Sending, you shall send away the mother, but the young you shall take for yourself, so that it may be well with you and you may be long-lived.
8 And if you build a new house, you shall make a parapet for your roof, and you shall not make bloodguilt in your house if the one falling falls from it.

9 You shall not sow your vineyard with diversity, lest the produce and the seed that you sow with the produce of your vineyard be made holy.

10 You shall not plow with calf and donkey together.

11 You shall not wear mixed fabric, wool and linen together.

12 You shall make twisted threads for yourself on the four corners of your cloaks with which you clothe yourself.

13 And if a man takes a wife and lives with her and then hates her,

14 and places pretextual words against her and brings an evil name upon her and says, I took this woman, and after going in to her I did not find her virginity,

15 then, taking the tokens of the girl's virginity, the father of the girl and the mother shall bring them out to the elders at the gate,

16 and the father of the girl shall say to the elders, I gave this daughter of mine to this man as a wife, and, having hated her,

17 he now places pretextual words¹ against her, saying, I did not find virginity for your daughter. And these are the girl's virginity. And they shall spread out the garment before the elders of the city.

18 And the elders of that city shall take that man and discipline him,

19 and they shall fine him one hundred shekels and give them to the father of the young woman, because he brought an evil name upon a virgin of Israel, and she shall be his wife. He shall not be able to send her away all his time^{2,3}.

20 But if this matter truly happened and virginity was not found for the young woman,

21 then they shall bring the young woman out to the doors of her father's house, and the men of her city shall stone her with stones, and she shall die, because she did folly among the sons of Israel, prostituting herself in her father's house. And you shall destroy the evil one from among you.⁴

22 And if a man is found lying with a woman living with a husband, you shall kill them both, the man lying with the woman and the woman, and you shall destroy the evil one from Israel.

23 And if there is a virgin girl betrothed to a man, and a man finding her in the city lies with her,

24 you shall bring them both out to the gate of their city, and they shall be stoned with stones and die, the young woman because she did not cry out in the city, and the man because he humbled his neighbor's wife⁵. And you shall destroy the evil one from among you.

25 But if a man finds the betrothed girl in the field and, forcing her, lies with her, you shall kill only the man lying with her.

26 And to the young woman you shall do nothing. The young woman has no sin worthy of death⁶, because as when a man rises against his neighbor and murders his life, so is this matter,

27 because he found her in the field. The betrothed young woman cried out, and there was no one to help her.

28 And if a man finds the virgin girl who is not betrothed and, forcing her, lies with her and they are found,

29 then the man lying with her shall give the father of the young woman fifty silver didrachmas, and she shall be his wife, because he humbled her. He shall not be able to send her away all his time.

Chapter 23

1 A man shall not take his father's wife, and he shall not uncover his father's covering.

2 One crushed in the testicles and one cut off shall not enter into the assembly of the Lord.

3 One from a prostitute shall not enter into the assembly of the Lord.

4 An Ammonite⁷ and a Moabite⁸ shall not enter into the assembly of the Lord⁹, and even to the tenth generation he shall not enter into the assembly of the Lord, even forever,

5 because they did not meet you with bread and water on the road when you came out from Egypt, and because they hired against you Balaam son of Beor from Mesopotamia to curse you.

6 And the Lord your God was not willing to listen to Balaam, and the Lord your God turned the curses into blessing, because the Lord your God loved you.¹⁰

7 You shall not greet them with peace, nor seek what benefits them, all your days forever.

8 You shall not abhor an Edomite¹¹, because he is your brother. You shall not abhor an Egyptian, because you became a resident in his land.¹²

9 If sons are born to them, the third generation shall enter into the assembly of the Lord.

10 And if you go out to encamp against your enemies, you shall keep yourself from every evil word¹³.

11 And if there is in you a man who is not clean from his night-flow, then he shall go outside the camp and shall not enter into the camp.

12 And it shall be toward evening, he shall wash his body with water, and when the sun has set he shall enter into the camp.

13 And a place shall be for you¹⁴ outside the camp, and you shall go out there,

14 and a peg shall be for you on your belt¹⁵, and it shall be, when you sit outside, then you shall dig with it and, turning back, you shall cover your indecency with it.

15 Because the Lord your God walks about in your camp¹⁶ to deliver you and hand over your enemy before your face, and your camp shall be holy, and indecency of a matter shall not be seen in you, and he shall turn away from you.

16 You shall not hand over a servant to his master who has been added to you¹⁷ from his master.

17 With you he shall dwell, among you he shall dwell, in every place that pleases him¹⁸. You shall not afflict him.

18 There shall not be a prostitute from the daughters of Israel, and there shall not be one prostituting himself from the sons of Israel. There shall not be a consecrated woman from the daughters of Israel, and there shall not be a consecrated man from the sons of Israel.

19 You shall not bring the wages of a prostitute nor the price of a dog into the house of the Lord your God for any vow, because both are an abomination to the Lord your God.¹

20 You shall not lend at interest to your brother, interest of silver and interest of food² and interest of anything that you lend.

21 To the foreigner you shall lend at interest, but to your brother you shall not lend at interest, so that the Lord your God may bless you in all your works on the land into which you are entering there to inherit it.

22 And if you vow a vow to the Lord your God, you shall not delay paying it, because in requiring the Lord your God will require it from you, and there will be sin in you.

23 And if you do not wish to vow, there is no sin in you³.

24 What goes out through your lips you shall keep and do, in the way you vowed to the Lord your God, the gift that you spoke with your mouth.⁴

25 And if you enter into your neighbor's standing grain, then you may gather ears with your hands, but you shall certainly not put a sickle to your neighbor's standing grain.⁵

26 And if you enter into your neighbor's vineyard, you may eat grapes as much as your soul desires to be filled, but you shall not put any into a vessel.

Chapter 24

1 And if a man takes a wife and lives with her, and it happens that she does not find favor before him because he found in her a shameful matter, then he shall write for her a document of divorce⁶ and give it into her hands and send her out from his house.

2 And after going out she becomes another man's wife,

3 and the later man hates her and writes for her a document of divorce⁷ and gives it into her hands and sends her out from his house, or the later man dies who took her to himself as a wife,

4 then the former man who sent her away shall not be able, after turning back⁸, to take her to himself as a wife after she has been defiled, because it is an abomination before the Lord your God, and you shall not defile the land that the Lord your God gives you as an inheritance.

5 And if a man has recently taken a wife, he shall not go out to war, and no matter shall be laid upon him. He shall be innocent in his house one year, and he shall cheer his wife whom he took.

6 You shall not take a mill or upper millstone as a pledge, because this one takes life as a pledge.

7 And if a man is caught stealing a life from his brothers, from the sons of Israel, and after oppressing him he sells him, that thief shall die, and you shall destroy the evil one from among you.

8 Watch yourself in the matter of leprosy, to keep very carefully to do according to all the law that the Levitical priests report to you. In the way I commanded you, keep to do.

9 Remember what the Lord your God did to Miriam on the road when you came out from Egypt.

10 And if some debt is in your neighbor, any debt whatever, you shall not enter into his house to take the pledge as a pledge.

11 You shall stand outside, and the man in whom your loan is shall bring the pledge out to you.

12 And if the man is poor, you shall not sleep in his pledge.

13 Returning, you shall return his pledge around the setting of the sun, and he shall sleep in his garment and bless you, and it shall be righteousness for you before the Lord your God.

14 You shall not do injustice to the wages of the poor and needy, whether from your brothers or from the proselytes in your cities.

15 On the same day you shall give his wages. The sun shall not set on it, because he is poor and has his hope in it, and he shall not cry out against you to the Lord, and it will be sin in you.

16 Fathers shall not die for children, and sons shall not die for fathers. Each one shall die in his own sin.

17 You shall not turn aside the judgment of a proselyte and orphan and widow, and you shall not take a widow's garment as a pledge.

18 And you shall remember that you were a servant in the land of Egypt, and the Lord your God redeemed you from there. Because of this I command you to do this word.

19 And if you reap a harvest in your field and forget a sheaf in the field, you shall not turn back to take it. It shall be for the poor and the proselyte and the orphan and the widow, so that the Lord your God may bless you in all the works of your hands.⁹

20 And if you gather your olives, you shall not go back to gather what is behind you. It shall be for the proselyte and the orphan and the widow. And you shall remember that you were a servant in the land of Egypt. Because of this I command you to do this word.

21 And if you harvest your vineyard, you shall not glean what is behind you. It shall be for the proselyte and the orphan and the widow.

22 And you shall remember that you were a servant in the land of Egypt. Because of this I command you to do this word.

Chapter 25

1 And if there is a dispute between men and they come to judgment and they judge and justify the righteous and condemn the ungodly,

2 then it shall be, if the ungodly one is worthy of blows, you shall make him sit before the judges, and they shall whip him before them according to his ungodliness, by number.

3 Forty they shall whip him. They shall not add more. But if they add to whip him beyond these blows, more blows, then your brother will be disgraced before you.

4 You shall not muzzle an ox threshing.

⁹ T: Greek keeps fuller charity list here.

5 And if brothers dwell together and one of them dies and has no seed, the wife of the dead one shall not be outside to a man not near¹. The brother of her husband shall go in to her and take her to himself as a wife and dwell with her.
 6 And it shall be, the child whom she bears shall be established in the name of the one who died, and his name shall not be blotted out from Israel.
 7 And if the man does not wish to take his brother's wife, then the woman shall go up to the gate, to the elders, and say, My husband's brother does not wish to raise up his brother's name in Israel. My husband's brother did not want to take me².
 8 And the elders of his city shall call him and speak to him, and if he stands and says, I do not wish to take her,
 9 then the wife of his brother, coming near before the elders, shall remove his sandal, the one on his foot, and spit into his face, and answering she shall say, Thus they shall do to the man who will not build up his brother's house.³
 10 And his name shall be called in Israel, House of the one whose sandal was removed.
 11 And if men fight together, a man with his brother, and the wife of one comes near to rescue her husband from the hand of the one striking him, and, stretching out her hand, seizes his testicles⁴,
 12 you shall cut off her hand. Your eye shall not spare her.
 13 There shall not be in your purse a weight and a weight, great or small.
 14 There shall not be in your house a measure and a measure, great or small.
 15 A true and righteous weight shall be for you, and a true and righteous measure shall be for you, so that you may be long-lived on the land that the Lord your God gives you as an inheritance.
 16 Because everyone doing these things, everyone doing injustice, is an abomination to the Lord your God.
 17 Remember what Amalek did to you⁵ on the road when you came out from Egypt,
 18 how he opposed you on the road and cut down your stragglers, those laboring behind you, while you were hungry and weary, and he did not fear God.
 19 And it shall be, when the Lord your God gives you rest from all your enemies around you in the land that the Lord your God gives you as an inheritance to inherit, you shall wipe out the name of Amalek from under heaven. You shall certainly not forget.

Chapter 26

1 And it shall be, if you enter into the land that the Lord your God gives you as an inheritance and inherit it and dwell on it⁶,
 2 then you shall take from the firstfruits of the fruits of your land that the Lord your God gives you and put them into a basket and go to the place that the Lord your God chooses for his name to be called there⁷.
 3 And you shall come to the priest who may be in those days and say to him, I declare today⁸ to the Lord my God that I have entered into the land that the Lord swore to our fathers to give us.
 4 And the priest shall take the basket from your hands and set it before the altar of the Lord your God.
 5 And answering you shall say before the Lord your God, My father abandoned Syria and went down into Egypt and lived there as a stranger, few in number, and there he became a nation great and many and large.⁹
 6 And the Egyptians afflicted us and humbled us and laid hard works on us.
 7 And we cried out to the Lord, the God of our fathers, and the Lord heard our voice and saw our humiliation and our labor and our affliction.
 8 And the Lord brought us out from Egypt, he himself, with great strength and with mighty hand and with his high arm and with great visions and with signs and wonders.
 9 And he brought us into this place and gave us this land, a land flowing with milk and honey.
 10 And now, behold, I have brought the firstfruits of the produce of the land¹⁰ that you gave me, Lord, a land flowing with milk and honey. And you shall leave them there before the Lord your God and worship there before the Lord your God.
 11 And you shall rejoice in all the good things that the Lord your God gave you and your house, you and the Levite and the proselyte in you.
 12 And if you finish tithing all the tithe of your produce in the third year, the second tithe¹¹, you shall give it to the Levite and the proselyte and the orphan and the widow, and they shall eat in your cities and be filled.
 13 And you shall say before the Lord your God, I have cleansed the holy things out of my house, and I have given them to the Levite and the proselyte and the orphan and the widow, according to all the commands that you commanded me. I did not transgress your command and I did not forget.¹²
 14 And I did not eat from them in my grief¹³, nor did I take from them for uncleanness, nor did I give from them to the dead. I obeyed the voice of the Lord my God. I did as you commanded me.
 15 Look down from your holy house, from heaven, and bless your people Israel and the land that you gave them, just as you swore to our fathers to give us, a land flowing with milk and honey.
 16 On this day the Lord your God commanded you to do all these ordinances and judgments, and you shall keep and do them from your whole heart and from your whole soul.
 17 You chose God today to be your God and to walk in his ways and keep his ordinances and his judgments and obey his voice,
 18 and the Lord chose you today to become for him a people of special possession, just as he said to you, to keep all his commands,
 19 and for you to be above all the nations, as he made you, named and boasting and glorious, for you to be a holy people to the Lord your God, just as he spoke.

Chapter 27

1 And Moses and the elders of Israel commanded, saying, Keep all these commands that I command you today.

2 And it shall be, on the day you cross the Jordan into the land that the Lord your God gives you, you shall set up for yourself great stones and whitewash them with lime¹,
3 and write on the stones all the words of this law as you cross the Jordan, when you enter into the land that the Lord God of your fathers gives you, a land flowing with milk and honey, in the way the Lord God of your fathers spoke to you.²
4 And it shall be, when you cross the Jordan, you shall set up these stones that I command you today on Mount Ebal, and you shall whitewash them with lime.
5 And you shall build there an altar to the Lord your God, an altar of stones. You shall not put iron on them.
6 With whole stones you shall build the altar to the Lord your God, and you shall offer whole burnt offerings on it to the Lord your God,
7 and you shall sacrifice there a sacrifice of salvation to the Lord your God, and you shall eat and be filled and rejoice before the Lord your God.
8 And you shall write on the stones all this law very clearly.
9 And Moses and the priests, the Levites, spoke to all Israel, saying, Keep silence and hear, Israel. On this day you have become a people to the Lord your God.
10 And you shall listen to the voice of the Lord your God and do all his commands and his ordinances that I command you today.
11 And Moses commanded the people on that day, saying,
12 These shall stand to bless the people on Mount Gerizim after you cross the Jordan: Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Joseph, and Benjamin.
13 And these shall stand for the curse on Mount Ebal: Reuben, Gad, and Asher, Zebulun, Dan, and Naphtali.
14 And answering, the Levites shall say to all Israel with a loud voice,
15 Cursed is the man who makes a carved or molten image, an abomination to the Lord, work of a craftsman's hands, and places it in hiding. And all the people, answering, shall say, Let it be.
16 Cursed is the one dishonoring his father or his mother. And all the people shall say, Let it be.
17 Cursed is the one moving his neighbor's boundaries. And all the people shall say, Let it be.
18 Cursed is the one leading the blind astray on the road. And all the people shall say, Let it be.
19 Cursed is whoever turns aside the judgment of the proselyte and the orphan and the widow. And all the people shall say, Let it be.
20 Cursed is the one lying with his father's wife, because he uncovered his father's covering. And all the people shall say, Let it be.
21 Cursed is the one lying with any beast. And all the people shall say, Let it be.
22 Cursed is the one lying with his sister from his father or from his mother. And all the people shall say, Let it be.
23 Cursed is the one lying with his mother-in-law. And all the people shall say, Let it be. Cursed is the one lying with his wife's sister. And all the people shall say, Let it be.
24 Cursed is the one striking his neighbor deceitfully. And all the people shall say, Let it be.
25 Cursed is whoever takes gifts to strike the life of innocent blood. And all the people shall say, Let it be.
26 Cursed is every man who does not remain in all the words of this law to do them. And all the people shall say, Let it be.

Chapter 28

1 And it shall be, when you cross the Jordan into the land that the Lord your God gives you, if indeed you listen to the voice of the Lord your God, keeping and doing all his commands that I command you today, then the Lord your God will set you above all the nations of the earth.³
2 And all these blessings shall come upon you and find you, if indeed you hear the voice of the Lord your God.
3 Blessed are you in the city, and blessed are you in the field.
4 Blessed are the offspring of your womb and the produce of your land, the herds of your cattle and the flocks of your sheep.
5 Blessed are your storehouses and your reserves.
6 Blessed are you in your coming in, and blessed are you in your going out.
7 The Lord your God will give your enemies who rise against you broken before your face. By one way they shall come out against you, and by seven ways they shall flee from before your face.
8 May the Lord send upon you blessing in your storehouses and in everything to which you put your hand, on the land that the Lord your God gives you.
9 May the Lord raise you up for himself as a holy people, in the way he swore to your fathers, if you listen to the voice of the Lord your God and walk in his ways.
10 And all the nations of the earth shall see that the name of the Lord has been called upon you, and they shall fear you.
11 And the Lord your God will multiply you for good, in the offspring of your womb and in the produce of your land and in the offspring of your cattle, on the land that the Lord swore to your fathers to give you.
12 May the Lord open for you his good treasury, the heaven, to give rain to your land in its season and bless all the works of your hands. And you shall lend to many nations, but you shall not borrow, and you shall rule many nations, but they shall not rule you⁴.
13 May the Lord your God set you as head and not as tail⁵, and you shall then be above and not below, if you hear the commands of the Lord your God that I command you today, to keep and do,
14 and do not transgress any of the words that I command you today, right or left, going after other gods to serve them.
15 And it shall be, if you do not listen to the voice of the Lord your God, keeping and doing all his commands that I command you today, then all these curses shall come upon you⁶ and overtake you.
16 Cursed are you in the city, and cursed are you in the field.
17 Cursed are your storehouses and your reserves.
18 Cursed are the offspring of your womb and the produce of your land, the herds of your cattle and the flocks of your sheep.
19 Cursed are you in your going out, and cursed are you in your coming in.

24 May the Lord give the rain to your land as dust and dirt. From heaven it shall come down upon you until it grinds you away and until it destroys you.

25 May the Lord give you defeat before your enemies. By one way you shall go out against them, and by seven ways you shall flee from before them, and you shall be a dispersion in all the kingdoms of the earth.

26 And your dead shall be food for the birds of heaven and for the beasts of the earth, and there shall be no one to frighten them away.

27 May the Lord strike you with the Egyptian boil on the buttocks, and with wild itch and scab, so that you cannot be healed.

30 You shall take a wife, and another man shall have her. You shall build a house, and you shall not dwell in it. You shall plant a vineyard, and you shall not harvest it.

31 Your calf slaughtered before you, and you shall not eat from it; your donkey snatched from you, and it shall not be returned to you; your sheep given to your enemies, and there shall not be one helping you².

32 Your sons and your daughters given to another nation, and your eyes shall look, failing for them, and your hand shall have no strength.

33 A nation that you do not know shall eat the produce of your land and all your labors, and you shall be wronged and broken all the days,

34 and you shall be maddened by the sights of your eyes³ that you see.

35 May the Lord strike you with an evil boil on the knees and on the shins, so that you cannot be healed from the sole of your foot to your crown.

36 May the Lord lead you and your rulers whom you set over yourself away to a nation that you and your fathers do not know, and you shall serve there other gods, wood and stones.

37 And you shall be there as a riddle and a parable and a tale among all the nations into which the Lord leads you there.

38 You shall carry much seed out into the field and bring in little, because the locust shall eat it.

39 You shall plant and work vineyards, but you shall not drink wine nor rejoice from it, because the worm shall consume them.

44 He shall lend to you, but you shall not lend to him. He shall be head, but you shall be tail.

46 And they shall be in you as signs and wonders⁵ and in your seed forever,

47 because you did not serve the Lord your God with gladness and good heart, because of the abundance of everything.

48 And you shall serve your enemies whom the Lord will send upon you, in hunger and in thirst and in nakedness and in lack of everything, and he shall put an iron collar⁶ on your neck until he utterly destroys you.

49 The Lord will bring upon you a nation from far away, from the end of the earth, like the rush of an eagle, a nation whose voice you do not understand,

50 a nation shameless in face, which shall not marvel at the face of an elder, and the young it shall not pity,

51 and it shall eat the offspring of your cattle⁷ and the produce of your land, so as not to leave for you grain, wine, oil, the herds of your cattle and the flocks of your sheep, until it destroys you.

52 And it shall grind you down⁸ in all your cities until your high and fortified walls are torn down, those in which you have trusted, in all your land, and it shall afflict you in all your cities that the Lord your God gave you.

53 And you shall eat the offspring of your womb⁹, the flesh of your sons and your daughters that the Lord your God gave you, in your distress and in the affliction with which your enemy afflicts you.

54 The delicate one in you and the very tender shall begrudge with his eye his brother and the wife in his bosom and the children left over whom he leaves,

55 so as to give to one of them from the flesh of his children whom he ate, because nothing was left to him in your distress and in the affliction with which your enemies afflicted you in all your cities.¹⁰ lasting diseases.

60 And he will turn back upon you every evil pain of Egypt that you feared before them, and they shall cling in you.

61 And every sickness and every blow not written¹ in the book of this law, the Lord will bring upon you until he utterly destroys you.

62 And you shall be left few in number, although you were like the stars of heaven in multitude, because you did not listen to the voice of the Lord your God.

63 And it shall be, in the way the Lord rejoiced over you to do good to you and multiply you, so the Lord will rejoice over you to utterly destroy you², and you shall be plucked from the land into which you are entering there to inherit it.

64 And the Lord your God will scatter you among all the nations, from one end of the earth to the other end of the earth, and there you shall serve other gods, wood and stones, that neither you nor your fathers trusted³.

65 But even among those nations he will not give you rest, nor shall there be standing for the sole of your foot, and the Lord will give you there a despairing heart and failing eyes and a melting soul.

66 And your life shall be hanging before your eyes, and you shall fear by day and by night, and you shall not trust your life.

67 In the morning you shall say, How might evening come?⁴ And in the evening you shall say, How might morning come? from the fear of your heart that you fear and from the sights of your eyes that you see.

68 And the Lord will bring you back to Egypt in ships and on the road about which I said, You shall not add to see it again. And there you shall be sold to your enemies as male servants and female servants, and there shall not be one buying⁵.

69 These are the words of the covenant that the Lord commanded Moses to establish with the sons of Israel in the land of Moab, besides the covenant that he covenanted with them in Horeb.

Chapter 29

1 And Moses called all the sons of Israel and said to them, You have seen all that the Lord did in the land of Egypt before you, to Pharaoh and to his servants and to all his land,⁶

2 the great trials that your eyes saw, those signs and those great wonders.

3 And the Lord your God did not give you a heart to know and eyes to see and ears to hear⁷ until this day.

4 And he led you forty years in the wilderness. Your garments did not grow old, and your sandals did not wear out from your feet.

5 Bread you did not eat, and wine and strong drink you did not drink, so that you might know that this one is the Lord your God.⁸

6 And you came to this place, and Sihon king of Heshbon and Og king of Bashan came out to meet us in war⁹, and we struck them,

7 and we took their land and gave it as an inheritance to Reuben and to Gad and to the half-tribe of Manasseh.¹⁰

8 And keep to do all the words of this covenant, so that you may understand everything that you do.¹¹

9 You all stand today before the Lord your God, your tribal leaders and your elders and your judges and your scribes, every man of Israel,

10 your women and your children and the proselyte¹² in the midst of your camp, from your woodcutter to your water carrier,¹³

11 to pass into the covenant of the Lord your God and into his curses, whatever the Lord your God covenants with you today,¹⁴

12 so that he may establish you for himself as a people and he himself will be your God, in the way he said to you and in the way he swore to your fathers, Abraham and Isaac and Jacob.

13 And not with you alone do I covenant this covenant and this curse,¹⁵

14 but also with those here with us today before the Lord your God and with those not here with us today,

15 because you know how we dwelt in the land of Egypt and passed through the midst of the nations through which you passed,¹⁶

16 and you saw their abominations and their idols, wood and stone, silver and gold, that are among them.¹⁷

17 Lest there is among you a man or woman or clan or tribe whose mind has turned aside from the Lord your God to go serve the gods of those nations, lest there is among you a root springing up in gall and bitterness,¹⁸

18 and it shall be, if he hears the words of this curse and congratulates himself in his heart, saying, Holy things shall be mine¹⁹, because in the wandering of my heart I will walk, so that the sinner may not destroy the sinless,

19 God will certainly not be willing to be propitiated toward him²⁰, but then the wrath of the Lord and his jealousy will burn in that man, and all the curses of this covenant written in the book of this law will cling to him, and the Lord will wipe out his name from under heaven.

20 And the Lord will set him apart for evil²¹ from all the sons of Israel, according to all the curses of the covenant written in the

¹⁰ T: Greek row here preserves land-gift clause only.

¹¹ T: Greek says understand or act with understanding, not prosper. The fresh line keeps that cognitive verb, and this verse also maps differently from the Hebrew numbering around it.

¹² T: The project regularly renders proselutos as proselyte. This verse keeps that consistent covenant-assembly wording.

21 And another generation will say¹, your sons who rise up after you, and the foreigner who may come from a far land, and they shall see the blows of that land and the diseases that the Lord sent on it,

22 sulfur and salt², burned up, all its land. It shall not be sown, nor spring up, nor shall any green thing come up on it, just as Sodom and Gomorrah and Admah and Zeboiim were overthrown, which the Lord overthrew in wrath and anger.

23 And all the nations will say, Why did the Lord do thus to this land? What is this great wrath of anger³?

24 And they will say, Because they abandoned the covenant of the Lord God of their fathers that he covenanted with their fathers when he brought them out from the land of Egypt,⁴

25 and, going, they served other gods and bowed to them, whom they did not know, and he had not allotted them.

26 And the Lord was angered in wrath against that land, to bring upon it all the curses written in the book of this law,⁵

27 and the Lord removed them from their land in wrath and anger and exceedingly great provocation and cast them into another land, as now.

28 The hidden things belong to the Lord our God, but the revealed things belong to us and to our children forever, to do all the words of this law.⁶

Chapter 30

1 And it shall be, when all these words come upon you, the blessing and the curse that I set before your face, and you receive them into your heart⁷ among all the nations where the Lord scattered you there,

2 and you turn back to the Lord your God and obey his voice according to everything that I command you today, from your whole heart and from your whole soul,

3 then the Lord will heal your sins and have mercy on you, and again the Lord will gather you from all the nations into which the Lord scattered you there.

4 If your dispersion is from one end of heaven to the other end of heaven, from there the Lord your God will gather you, and from there the Lord your God will take you.

5 And the Lord your God will bring you into the land that your fathers inherited, and you shall inherit it, and he will do good for you and make you more numerous than your fathers.

6 And the Lord will purify your heart and the heart of your seed, to love the Lord your God from your whole heart and from your whole soul, so that you may live.

7 And the Lord your God will put these curses on your enemies⁸ and on those hating you who persecuted you.

8 And you shall turn back and obey the voice⁹ of the Lord your God and do his commands that I command you today.

9 And the Lord your God will make you abound¹⁰ in every work of your hands, in the offspring of your womb and in the produce of your land and in the offspring of your cattle, because the Lord your God will return to rejoice over you for good, in the way he rejoiced over your fathers,

10 if you obey the voice of the Lord your God, to keep and do all his commands and his ordinances and his judgments written in the book of this law, if you turn back to the Lord your God from your whole heart and from your whole soul.¹¹

11 Because this command that I command you today is not excessively hard, nor is it far from you.

12 It is not in heaven above, saying, Who will go up for us into heaven and take it for us, and after hearing it we will do it?

13 Nor is it beyond the sea, saying, Who will cross over for us to the far side of the sea and take it for us and make it heard to us, and we will do it?

14 The word is very near you, in your mouth and in your heart and in your hands to do it.

15 Behold, I have set before your face today life and death, good and evil.

16 If you obey the commands of the Lord your God that I command you today, to love the Lord your God, to walk in all his ways, to keep his ordinances and his judgments, then you shall live and be many¹², and the Lord your God will bless you in all the land into which you are entering there to inherit it.

17 And if your heart turns away and you do not listen, and being led astray you bow to other gods and serve them,

18 I declare to you today that with destruction you shall perish, and you shall certainly not be long-lived on the land that the Lord your God gives you, into which you are crossing the Jordan there to inherit it.

19 I call heaven and earth to witness to you today. I have set before your face life and death, blessing and curse. Choose life so that you and your seed may live, 20 loving the Lord your God, obeying his voice, and holding fast to him, because this is your life¹³ and the length of your days, for you to dwell on the land that the Lord swore to your fathers, Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, to give to them.

Chapter 31

1 And Moses finished speaking all these words to all the sons of Israel,

2 and said to them, I am one hundred and twenty years old today. I will not be able any longer to go in and come out, and the Lord said to me, You shall not cross this Jordan.

3 The Lord your God, the one going before your face, he will utterly destroy these nations from before your face, and you will inherit them, and Joshua, the one going before your face, will do so, just as the Lord spoke.

4 And the Lord will do to them just as he did to Sihon and Og, the two kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan, and to their land, in the way he utterly destroyed them.

5 And the Lord handed them over to you, and you shall do to them just as I commanded you.

⁶ T: This Septuagint verse corresponds to the familiar hidden-things saying rather than the Hebrew uprooting verse at this verse number. The translation follows the Greek numbering and content.

⁷ T: Greek says receive them into your heart.

¹⁰ T: Greek uses a multiplication or abundance verb. The translation keeps that stronger prosperity language visible.

6 Be courageous and strong. Do not fear, nor be cowardly, nor terrified before their face, because the Lord your God, the one going before with you, will certainly not leave you nor forsake you.

7 And Moses called Joshua and said to him before all Israel, Be courageous and strong, because you will enter before this people into the land that the Lord swore to our fathers to give to them, and you will distribute it to them as an inheritance.

8 And the Lord, the one going together with you, will not leave you nor forsake you. Do not fear, nor be cowardly.

9 And Moses wrote the words of this law in a book and gave it to the priests, the sons of Levi, those carrying the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and to the elders of the sons of Israel.

10 And Moses commanded them on that day, saying, After seven years, at the time of the year of release, at the feast of tabernacle-making,

11 when all Israel comes to appear before the Lord your God in the place that the Lord chooses, you shall read this law before all Israel in their ears.

12 Assemble the people, the men and the women and the children and the proselyte in your cities¹, so that they may hear and so that they may learn to fear the Lord your God, and they will listen so as to do all the words of this law.

13 And their sons, who do not know, shall hear and learn to fear the Lord your God all the days that they live on the land into which you are crossing the Jordan there to inherit it.

14 And the Lord said to Moses, Behold, the days of your death have drawn near. Call Joshua, and stand by the doors of the tent of testimony, and I will command him. And Moses and Joshua went into the tent of testimony and stood by the doors of the tent of testimony.²

15 And the Lord came down in a cloud and stood by the doors of the tent of testimony, and the pillar of cloud stood by the doors of the tent.

16 And the Lord said to Moses, Behold, you sleep with your fathers, and this people, rising up, will prostitute itself after the foreign gods of the land into which it enters there, and they will abandon me and scatter my covenant that I covenanted with them.³

17 And I will be angered in wrath against them in that day and abandon them and turn my face away from them, and he shall be for eating⁴, and many evils and afflictions shall find him, and he shall say in that day, Because the Lord my God is not in me, these evils found me.

18 And I, hiding, will hide my face from them in that day because of all the evils that they did, because they turned to foreign gods.

19 And now write the words of this song, and teach it to the sons of Israel and put it into their mouth, so that this song may become for me a witness among the sons of Israel.

20 For I will bring them into the good land that I swore to their fathers to give to them, a land flowing with milk and honey, and they shall eat and be filled and be satisfied, and they shall turn to foreign gods and serve them and provoke me and scatter my covenant⁵.

21 And this song shall stand against them as a witness⁶. It shall certainly not be forgotten from their mouth and from the mouth of their seed, because I know their wickedness, what they do here today before I bring them into the good land that I swore to their fathers.

22 And Moses wrote this song on that day and taught it to the sons of Israel.

23 And Moses commanded Joshua and said to him, Be courageous and strong, because you will bring the sons of Israel into the land that the Lord swore to them, and he himself will be with you.

24 And when Moses finished writing all the words of this law into a book, until the end,

25 then he commanded the Levites, those carrying the ark of the covenant of the Lord, saying,

26 Take the book of this law and place it at the side of the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God, and it shall be there among you as a witness.

27 Because I know your provocation and your stiff neck. For while I am still living with you today, you were embittering the things toward God. How much more after my death?

28 Assemble to me your tribal leaders and your elders and your judges and your scribes, so that I may speak all these words in their ears and call heaven and earth to witness against them.

29 For I know that after the end of my life you will break the law lawlessly and turn aside from the way that I commanded you, and evils will meet you at the end of the days, because you will do evil before the Lord, provoking him in the works of your hands.⁷

30 And Moses spoke in the ears of the whole assembly of Israel⁸ the words of this song until the end.

Chapter 32

1 Pay attention, O heaven, and I will speak, and let the earth hear words from my mouth.

2 Let my utterance be awaited like rain, and let my words come down like dew, like a storm on fresh grass and like snowfall on grass.

3 Because I called on the name of the Lord, give greatness to our God.

4 God, his works are true, and all his ways are judgments, faithful God⁹, and there is no injustice, righteous and holy is the Lord.¹⁰

5 They sinned, not to him; blameworthy children, a crooked and twisted generation.

6 Do you repay the Lord like this, foolish people and not wise? Is not this one your father? He acquired you and made you and created you.

7 Remember the days of old¹¹; understand the years of generation after generation. Ask your father, and he will report to you, your elders, and they will tell you.

8 When the Most High divided nations, when he scattered sons of Adam, he set the boundaries of the nations according to the number of the angels of God.
9 And the Lord's portion became his people, Jacob, the measuring line of his inheritance¹, Israel.
10 He provided for him in a wilderness land, in thirst of heat, in a waterless place. He encircled him and disciplined him and guarded him as the pupil of an eye.
11 Like an eagle sheltering its nest and longing over its young, spreading its wings, it received them and took them up on its back.
12 The Lord alone led them, and there was no foreign god with them.
13 He brought them up on the strength of the land; he fed them with the produce of fields. They sucked honey out of a rock and oil out of solid rock,
14 butter of cattle and milk of sheep, with the fat of lambs and rams, sons of bulls and goats, with the fat of kidneys of wheat, and they drank the blood of grapes, wine.
15 And Jacob ate and was filled, and the beloved kicked. He grew fat, he became thick, he broadened out, and he abandoned God² who made him and withdrew from God his savior.³
16 They provoked me with strange things; in their abominations they embittered me.
17 They sacrificed to demons and not to God, to gods they did not know, new recent ones have come whom their fathers did not know.
18 You abandoned God who begot you, and you forgot God who nourished you.
19 And the Lord saw and was jealous and was provoked through the anger of his sons and daughters.
20 And he said, I will turn my face away from them and show what will be for them at the end, because it is a generation turned aside, sons in whom there is no faithfulness.
21 They made me jealous over what is not God; they provoked me in their idols. And I will make them jealous over what is not a nation; over a nation without understanding⁴ I will provoke them.
22 Because a fire has been kindled from my wrath; it shall burn to Hades below, it shall consume the earth and its produce and set on fire the foundations of mountains.
23 I will gather evils upon them⁵; I will spend my arrows on them.
24 Melted with hunger and consumed by birds and incurable convulsion, I will send on them teeth of beasts with the wrath of those crawling on the ground.
25 Outside the sword shall make them childless, and from the storerooms fear, young man with virgin, suckling with gray old man.
26 I said, I will scatter them and stop their remembrance from among men,
27 if not because of the wrath of enemies, lest they become long-lasting and lest the adversaries combine against them and say, Our high hand, and not the Lord, did all these things.
28 Because they are a nation ruined of counsel⁶, and there is no understanding in them.
29 They were not wise to understand these things; let them receive them for the coming time.
30 How will one pursue a thousand, and two put ten thousands to flight, unless God sold them over and the Lord handed them over?
31 Because their gods are not like our God, but our enemies are foolish.
32 For their vine is from the vine of Sodom, and their branch from Gomorrah. Their grape is a grape of gall, a cluster of bitterness for them.
33 The fury of dragons is their wine, and the incurable fury of asps.
34 Are not these things gathered with me and sealed in my treasures?
35 In the day of vengeance I will repay, in the time when their foot slips, because the day of their destruction is near and the prepared things are at hand for you.
36 Because the Lord will judge his people and be comforted over his servants, for he saw them weakened and worn out in confinement and abandoned.
37 And the Lord said, Where are their gods on whom they trusted,
38 whose sacrifice fat you were eating and drinking the wine of their libations? Let them rise and help you and become your shelters.
39 See, see that I am, and there is no god besides me. I kill and make alive, I strike and I will heal, and there is none who delivers from my hands.
40 Because I will lift my hand to heaven, and I swear by my right hand and say, I live forever.
41 Because I sharpen my sword like lightning, and my hand will hold judgment, and I will repay justice to my enemies, and I will repay those hating me.
42 I will make my arrows drunk from blood, and my sword shall consume flesh from the blood of the wounded and the captivity, from the head of the rulers of enemies.
43 Rejoice, O heavens, together with him, and let all sons of God worship him. Rejoice, O nations, with his people, and let all angels of God strengthen themselves in him, because he avenges the blood of his sons and will exact vengeance and repay justice to enemies, and to those hating him he will repay, and the Lord will cleanse the land of his people.
44 And Moses wrote this song on that day and taught it to the sons of Israel, and Moses came in and spoke all the words of this law into the ears of the people, he and Joshua son of Nun.
45 And Moses finished speaking to all Israel,
46 and said to them, Pay attention with your heart to all these words that I call to witness among you today, which you shall command your sons to keep and do, all the words of this law.
47 Because this is not an empty word for you, because this is your life, and because of this word you shall be long-lived on the land into which you are crossing the Jordan there to inherit it.
48 And the Lord spoke to Moses on that day, saying,
49 Go up onto this mountain of Abarim, Mount Nebo, which is in the land of Moab facing Jericho, and see the land of Canaan that I give to the sons of Israel as a possession.

50 And die on the mountain to which you go up there, and be added to your people, in the way Aaron your brother died on Mount Or and was added to his people,
51 because you disobeyed my word among the sons of Israel at the water of contradiction¹, Kadesh, in the wilderness of Sin, because you did not sanctify me among the sons of Israel.
52 Because you shall see the land before you, but you shall not enter there.

Chapter 33

1 And this is the blessing with which Moses, the man of God, blessed the sons of Israel before his death.
2 And he said, The Lord comes from Sinai and appeared from Seir to us and hurried from Mount Paran with the myriads of Kadesh; from his right hand angels were with him.
3 And he spared his people, and all the sanctified ones are under your hands, and these are under you, and he received from his words.
4 Moses commanded us a law, an inheritance to the assemblies of Jacob.
5 And there shall be a ruler in the beloved, when leaders of peoples are gathered together with the tribes of Israel.
6 Let Reuben live and not die, and let him be many in number.
7 And this to Judah: Hear, Lord, the voice of Judah, and let him enter into his people. His hands shall judge for him, and you shall be a helper against his enemies.
8 And to Levi he said, Give Levi his disclosures and his truth to the holy man whom they tested in testing, they reviled him at the water of contradiction,
9 the one saying to father and mother, I have not seen you, and he did not acknowledge his brothers and disowned his sons. He kept your words and preserved your covenant.
10 They shall declare your ordinances to Jacob and your law to Israel. They shall place incense in your anger, always upon your altar.
11 Bless, Lord, his strength, and receive the works of his hands. Strike down the loins of the enemies who rise against him, and let those hating him not rise.
12 And to Benjamin he said, Beloved by the Lord, he shall dwell trusting, and God overshadows him all the days, and he rested between his shoulders.
13 And to Joseph he said, His land is from the blessings of the Lord, from seasons of heaven and dew and from the springs of depths below,
14 and from the seasons of the produce of the sun's courses and from the meetings of the months,
15 and from the peak of ancient mountains and from the peak of everlasting hills,
16 and from the seasons of the earth's fullness and the acceptable things to the one who appeared in the bush². Let them come on the head of Joseph and on the crown of the one glorified among brothers.
17 The beauty of a firstborn bull is his. The horns of a unicorn are his horns; with them he shall horn nations together to the end of the earth. These are the myriads of Ephraim, and these are the thousands of Manasseh.³
18 And to Zebulun he said, Rejoice, Zebulun, in your departure, and Issachar in his tents.
19 They shall utterly destroy nations, and there you shall call them, and they shall sacrifice a sacrifice of righteousness, because the wealth of the sea shall suckle you and the trade of those dwelling on the coast.
20 And to Gad he said, Blessed is the one enlarging Gad. He rested like a lion, crushing arm and ruler.
21 And he saw his first portion⁴, because there land of leaders was apportioned, gathered together with the leaders of peoples. The Lord did righteousness and his judgment with Israel.
22 And to Dan he said, Dan is a lion's cub and shall leap out from Bashan.
23 And to Naphtali he said, Naphtali, fullness of acceptable things, and let him be filled with blessing from the Lord. He shall inherit sea and south.
24 And to Asher he said, Blessed from children is Asher, and he shall be acceptable to his brothers. He shall dip his foot in oil.
25 His sandal shall be iron and bronze, and as your days, your strength.
26 There is none like the God of the beloved, riding on heaven as your helper and the magnificent one of the firmament.
27 The shelter of the God of old, and underneath the strength of everlasting arms, and he will cast out the enemy from before your face, saying, Perish.
28 And Israel shall dwell trusting, alone upon the land of Jacob, on grain and wine, and his heaven cloudy with dew.
29 Blessed are you, Israel. Who is like you, a people saved by the Lord? Your helper shields, and your sword boasts⁵, and your enemies shall lie to you, and you shall step on their neck.

Chapter 34

1 And Moses went up from Araboth of Moab onto Mount Nebo, onto the top of Pisgah, which is opposite Jericho, and the Lord showed him all the land of Gilead as far as Dan,
2 and all the land of Naphtali and all the land of Ephraim and Manasseh and all the land of Judah as far as the western sea,
3 and the wilderness and the regions of Jericho, the city of palms, as far as Zoar.
4 And the Lord said to Moses, This is the land that I swore to Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, saying, To your seed I will give it. I have shown it to your eyes, but you shall not enter there.
5 And Moses, servant of the Lord, died in the land of Moab by the word of the Lord.
6 And they buried him in Gai⁶ in the land of Moab, near the house of Peor, and no one knows his burial until this day.
7 And Moses was one hundred and twenty years old when he died. His eyes were not dimmed, nor had his vigor failed.
8 And the sons of Israel mourned Moses in Araboth of Moab on the Jordan opposite Jericho thirty days, and the days of mourning for the weeping of Moses were completed.
9 And Joshua son of Nun was filled with the spirit of understanding, because Moses laid his hands on him, and the sons of Israel listened to him and did just as the Lord commanded Moses.
10 And no prophet rose again in Israel like Moses, whom the Lord knew face to face,

Joshua

Chapter 1

1 And it happened after the death of Moses, the Lord said to Joshua son of Nun, minister of Moses, saying,
2 Moses my servant has died. Now therefore, rising up, cross this Jordan, you and all this people, into the land that I give to them.
3 Every place on which you step with the track of your feet, I will give it to you, in the way I told Moses.
4 From the wilderness and Anti-Lebanon as far as the great river, the river Euphrates, and as far as the western sea from the setting of the sun, shall be your boundaries.
5 No person shall stand before you all the days of your life, and as I was with Moses, so I will also be with you, and I will not forsake you nor overlook you.
6 Be strong and act like a man, because you shall apportion to this people the land that I swore to your fathers to give to them.
7 Be strong, therefore, and act like a man¹, keeping and doing as Moses my servant commanded you. Do not turn away from them to the right or to the left, so that you may understand in everything you do.
8 And the book of this law shall not depart from your mouth, and you shall meditate on it day and night, so that you may understand to do all the things written². Then you shall prosper and prosper your ways, and then you shall understand.
9 Behold, I have commanded you: be strong and act like a man. Do not be cowardly, nor fear, because the Lord your God is with you in everything you may do.
10 And Joshua commanded the scribes of the people, saying,
11 Go through the midst of the camp of the people and command the people, saying, Prepare provisions, because in yet three days you cross this Jordan, entering to possess³ the land that the Lord God of your fathers gives you.
12 And to Reuben and to Gad and to the half-tribe of Manasseh Joshua said,
13 Remember the word that Moses, servant of the Lord, commanded you, saying, The Lord your God has given you rest and given you this land.
14 Let your wives and your children and your cattle dwell in the land that he gave you, but you shall cross over well-armed⁴ before your brothers, every strong one, and you shall fight alongside them,
15 until the Lord your God gives your brothers rest just as also to you, and they also inherit the land that the Lord our God gives them. And you shall go away⁵, each one to his inheritance that Moses gave you beyond the Jordan from the sunrise.
16 And answering Joshua they said, Everything that you command us we will do⁶, and into every place where you send us we will go.
17 According to everything that we listened to from Moses, we will listen to you. Only let the Lord our God be with you in the way he was with Moses.
18 And the man whoever disobeys you and whoever does not listen to your words in whatever you command him, let him die. But be strong and act like a man.

Chapter 2

1 And Joshua son of Nun sent from Shittim two young men to spy, saying, Go up and see the land and Jericho. And going, the two young men entered into Jericho and entered into the house of a prostitute woman whose name was Rahab⁷, and they lodged there.
2 And it was reported to the king of Jericho, saying, Men from the sons of Israel have entered here to spy out the land.
3 And the king of Jericho sent and said to Rahab, Bring out the men who entered into your house in the night, because they have come to spy out the land.
4 And the woman, taking the men, hid them and said, The men did come to me,
5 but when the gate was being shut in the dark, the men went out. I do not know where they have gone. Pursue after them, if you will overtake them.
6 But she had brought them up to the roof and hid them in the flax stalks stacked for her on the roof.
7 And the men pursued after them on the road by the Jordan to the crossings, and the gate was shut. And it happened, as those pursuing after them had gone out,
8 that before the men lay down, she came up to the roof toward them
9 and said to them, I know that the Lord has given you the land, for your fear has fallen on us,
10 for we heard that the Lord God dried up the Red Sea⁸ from before your face when you came out from Egypt, and all that he did to the two kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan, to Sihon and Og, whom you utterly destroyed.
11 And hearing, our heart was astonished, and spirit no longer stood in any of us before your face, because the Lord your God is God in heaven above and on the earth below.
12 And now swear to me by the Lord God that as I do mercy to you, so you also will do mercy with the house of my father,
13 and you will keep alive the house of my father and my mother and my brothers and all my house and everything that belongs to them, and you will rescue my life from death.
14 And the men said to her, Our life for yours unto death. And she said, Whenever the Lord delivers the city to you, you shall do mercy and truth with me.
15 And she let them down through the window.
16 And she said to them, Go away into the hill country, lest those pursuing meet you, and hide yourselves there three days until those pursuing turn back from behind you, and after these things go away on your road.
17 And the men said to her, We are guiltless from this oath of yours.
18 Behold, when we enter into the city, this scarlet cord sign you shall bind in the window through which you brought us down through it, and your father and your mother and your brothers and all your father's house you shall gather to yourself into your house.

 20 And if anyone wrongs us or reveals these words of ours, we will be guiltless of this oath of yours.
 21 And she said to them, According to your word, so let it be. And she sent them away.
 22 And they went away and came to the hill country and remained there three days, and the pursuers searched all the roads and did not find them.
 23 And the two young men returned and came down from the mountain and crossed over to Joshua son of Nun and told him all the things that happened to them.
 24 And they said to Joshua, The Lord has delivered all the land into our hands, and every inhabitant of that land has cowered from before us.

Chapter 3

1 And Joshua rose early in the morning, and they set out from Shittim and came as far as the Jordan, and they lodged there before crossing.
 2 And it happened after three days that the scribes went through the camp,
 3 and they commanded the people, saying, Whenever you see the ark of the covenant of the Lord our God and our priests and the Levites carrying it, depart from your places² and go behind it,
 4 but let there be distance between you and it, about two thousand cubits. You shall stand; do not come near it, so that you may understand the road on which you go, because you have not gone on this road before yesterday or the third day³.
 5 And Joshua said to the people, Purify yourselves for tomorrow, because tomorrow the Lord will do wonders among you.
 6 And Joshua said to the priests, Lift up the ark of the covenant of the Lord and go before the people. And the priests lifted up the ark of the covenant of the Lord and went before the people.
 7 And the Lord said to Joshua, On this day I begin to exalt you before all the sons of Israel, so that they may know that just as I was with Moses, so I will also be with you.
 8 And now command the priests carrying the ark of the covenant, saying, When you enter upon the edge of the water of the Jordan, stand in the Jordan.
 9 And Joshua said to the sons of Israel, Come near here and hear the word of the Lord our God.
 10 By this you shall know that the living God is among you, and destroying he will destroy from before our face the Canaanite and the Hittite and the Perizzite and the Hivite and the Amorite and the Gergesite and the Jebusite.
 11 Behold, the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the earth crosses the Jordan.
 12 Choose for yourselves twelve men from the sons of Israel, one from each tribe.
 13 And it shall be, when the feet of the priests carrying the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the earth come to rest in the water of the Jordan, the water of the Jordan will fail, and the water coming down will stand.⁴
 14 And the people set out from their tents to cross the Jordan, and the priests were carrying the ark of the covenant of the Lord before the people.
 15 And when the priests carrying the ark of the covenant went into the Jordan, and the feet of the priests carrying the ark of the covenant of the Lord were dipped on the edge of the water of the Jordan, now the Jordan was full along all its bank, like the days of wheat harvest,
 16 then the waters coming down from above stood, a mass standing exceedingly far away⁵, as far as the region of Kirjathjearim⁶, but the waters going down went down into the Arabah sea, the Salt Sea, until the end they failed, and the people stood opposite Jericho.
 17 And the priests carrying the ark of the covenant of the Lord stood on dry ground⁷ in the midst of the Jordan, and all the sons of Israel were crossing on dry ground until all the people finished crossing the Jordan.

Chapter 4

1 And when all the people finished crossing the Jordan, the Lord said to Joshua, saying,
 2 Take men from the people, one from each tribe,
 3 and command them, saying, Take up from the midst of the Jordan twelve ready stones⁸, and, carrying them with you, place them in your camp, where you may camp there tonight.
 4 And Joshua called twelve honored men from the sons of Israel, one from each tribe,
 5 and said to them, Come before me before the Lord into the midst of the Jordan, and, taking from there, let each lift a stone on his shoulders according to the number of the twelve tribes of Israel,
 6 so that these may exist for you as a sign lying there forever, so that when your son asks you tomorrow, saying, What are these stones to you?
 7 then you shall explain to your son, saying that the river Jordan failed⁹ from before the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the earth as it crossed it, and these stones shall be for you as a memorial to the sons of Israel forever.
 8 And the sons of Israel did thus just as the Lord commanded Joshua, and taking twelve stones from the midst of the Jordan, just as the Lord ordered Joshua at the completion of the crossing of the sons of Israel, they carried them with themselves into the camp and laid them there.¹⁰
 9 And Joshua set up another twelve stones in that Jordan itself, in the place that came to be under the feet of the priests carrying the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and they are there until this day.
 10 And the priests carrying the ark of the covenant had been standing in the Jordan until Joshua finished everything that the Lord commanded to report to the people¹¹, and the people hurried and crossed.
 11 And it happened, when all the people finished crossing, the ark of the covenant of the Lord and the stones crossed before

12 And the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh crossed over prepared before the sons of Israel, just as Moses commanded them.

13 Forty thousand well-armed for battle crossed before the Lord for war, toward the city Jericho.

14 On that day the Lord magnified Joshua before all the race of Israel, and they feared him as they feared Moses for as long as he lived.

15 And the Lord said to Joshua, saying,

16 Command the priests carrying the ark of the covenant of the testimony of the Lord to come up out of the Jordan.

17 And Joshua commanded the priests, saying, Come up out of the Jordan.

18 And it happened, when the priests carrying the ark of the covenant of the Lord came up out of the Jordan and set their feet on the land, the water of the Jordan rushed down to its place and went as yesterday and the third day¹ along all the bank.

19 And the people came up out of the Jordan on the tenth of the first month, and the sons of Israel encamped in Gilgal² at the part toward the sunrise from Jericho.

20 And Joshua set up these twelve stones that he took from the Jordan in Gilgal, 21 saying, Whenever your sons ask you, saying, What are these stones?

22 you shall report to your sons that Israel crossed the Jordan on dry ground,

23 when the Lord our God dried up the water of the Jordan³ from before them until they crossed, just as the Lord our God did to the Red Sea, which the Lord our God dried up before us until we passed over,

24 so that all the nations of the earth may know that the power of the Lord is strong, and so that you may revere the Lord your God at all times.

Chapter 5

1 And it happened, when the kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan and the kings of Phoenicia by the sea heard that the Lord God dried up the river Jordan from before the sons of Israel while they crossed it, then their minds melted and they were astonished, and there was no understanding in them at all from before the sons of Israel.

2 And at that time the Lord said to Joshua, Make for yourself stone knives from sheer rock, and sit down and circumcise the sons of Israel.

3 And Joshua made sharp stone knives and circumcised the sons of Israel at the place called Hill of Foreskins.

4 And this is the way Joshua purified the sons of Israel, as many as had once come to be on the road, and as many as had once been uncircumcised among those who came out from Egypt.

5 All these Joshua circumcised.⁴

6 For forty-two years⁵ Israel had turned about in the wilderness of Madbaritis; therefore most of them were uncircumcised, the fighting men who had come out from the land of Egypt, who disobeyed the commands of God, to whom the Lord also determined that they should not see the land that he swore to their fathers to give us, a land flowing with milk and honey.

7 And in place of these he set up their sons, whom Joshua circumcised because they had become uncircumcised on the road.

8 And after they were circumcised, they had rest there, sitting in the camp until they were healed.

9 And the Lord said to Joshua son of Nun, On this day I have removed the reproach of Egypt from you. And he called the name of that place Gilgal.

10 And the sons of Israel kept the Passover on the fourteenth day of the month, from evening, west of Jericho, beyond the Jordan, in the plain.

11 And they ate from the grain of the land, unleavened bread and new grain, on this very day.

12 The manna failed after they had eaten from the grain of the land, and there was no longer manna for the sons of Israel, but they harvested the land of the Phoenicians in that year.

13 And it happened, as Joshua was in Jericho, that lifting his eyes he saw a man standing before him⁶, and his sword was drawn in his hand. And coming near, Joshua said to him, Are you one of ours or of our adversaries?

14 And he said to him, I am commander-in-chief of the Lord's force; now I have arrived. And Joshua fell on his face to the ground and said to him, Master, what do you command your servant?

15 And the commander-in-chief of the Lord says to Joshua, Loose the sandal from your feet, because the place on which you stand is holy.

Chapter 6

1 And Jericho was shut up and fortified, and no one went out from it, nor entered into it.

2 And the Lord said to Joshua, Behold, I give Jericho into your hand, and its king, and the mighty men being in strength within it.

3 And you shall set the warriors around it in a circle.

5 And it shall be, when you sound with the trumpet, let all the people cry out together, and when they cry out the walls of the city will fall of themselves⁷, and all the people shall enter, each one rushing straight ahead into the city.

6 And Joshua son of Nun went in to the priests⁸

7 and said to them, saying, Command the people to go around and encircle the city, and let the warriors pass by armed before the Lord.

8 And let seven priests holding the seven holy trumpets go past likewise before the Lord and sound loudly, and let the ark of the covenant of the Lord follow after.

9 And let the warriors pass by in front, and the priests bringing up the rear behind the ark of the covenant of the Lord, going and sounding trumpets.

10 And Joshua commanded the people, saying, Do not shout, and let none of you be heard by voice until the day when he himself reports to shout, and then you shall shout.¹²

11 And the ark of the covenant of God went around the city and straightway went away into the camp and slept there.

12 And on the second day Joshua rose in the morning, and the priests lifted the ark of the covenant of the Lord.

13 And the seven priests carrying the seven trumpets went before the Lord, and after these the warriors entered, and the rest of the crowd behind the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and the priests sounded with the trumpets, and all the rest of the crowd encircled the city nearby.³

14 And he went away again into the camp. Thus he did for six days.

15 And on the seventh day they rose at dawn and went around the city six times.

16 And at the seventh circuit the priests sounded, and Joshua said to the sons of Israel, Shout, because the Lord has delivered the city to you.

17 And the city shall be a devoted thing, it and everything in it, to the Lord of hosts. Only Rahab the prostitute you shall preserve, her and whatever is in her house.

18 But you, keep yourselves very carefully from the devoted thing, lest, desiring, you yourselves take⁴ from the devoted thing and make the camp of the sons of Israel a devoted thing and crush us.

19 And all silver or gold or bronze or iron shall be holy to the Lord. It shall be brought into the treasury of the Lord.

20 And the priests sounded with the trumpets, and when the people heard the voice of the trumpets, all the people shouted together with a great and strong shout⁵, and the whole wall fell around, and all the people went up into the city.

21 And Joshua devoted it and everything that was in the city, from man to woman, from young man to old man, and from calf to beast of burden, by the mouth of the sword.

22 And to the two young men who had spied he said, Enter into the house of the woman and bring her out from there and whatever belongs to her.

23 And the two young men who had spied the city entered into the house of the woman and brought out Rahab the prostitute and her father and her mother and her brothers and everything that belonged to her and all her kindred, and they stationed her outside the camp⁶ of Israel.

24 And the city was burned in burning with everything in it, except silver and gold and bronze and iron, which they gave to be brought into the treasury of the Lord.

25 And Joshua kept alive Rahab the prostitute and all her father's house, and she dwelt among Israel until this day, because she hid the spies whom Joshua sent to spy out Jericho.

26 And Joshua bound them by oath on that day before the Lord, saying, Cursed is the man who will rebuild that city. In his firstborn he shall found it, and in his least one⁷ he shall set up its gates. And thus Ozan from Bethel did: in Abiram his firstborn he founded it, and in his least surviving one he set up its gates.

27 And the Lord was with Joshua, and his name was through all the land.

Chapter 7

1 And the sons of Israel committed a great trespass and stole from the devoted thing, and Achar⁸ son of Carmi son of Zimri son of Zerah from the tribe of Judah took from the devoted thing, and the wrath of the Lord was angered against the sons of Israel.

2 And Joshua sent men to Ai, which is near Bethel, saying, Look over Ai. And the men went up and looked over Ai.

3 And they returned to Joshua and said to him, Let not all the people go up, but about two thousand or three thousand men should go up and besiege the city. Do not bring all the people there, because they are few.

4 And about three thousand men went up, and they fled from before the men of Ai.

5 And the men of Ai killed from them thirty-six men and pursued them from the gate and crushed them on the descent⁹, and the heart of the people was terrified and became like water.

6 And Joshua tore his garments, and Joshua fell on the ground on his face before the Lord until evening, he and the elders of Israel, and they threw dust on their heads.

7 And Joshua said, I pray, Lord, why did your servant bring this people across the Jordan¹⁰, to hand it over to the Amorite and destroy us? If only we had remained and dwelt beside the Jordan.

8 And what shall I say, since Israel turned neck before its enemy?

9 And hearing, the Canaanite and all those dwelling in the land will surround us and wipe us from the land. And what will you do for your great name?

10 And the Lord said to Joshua, Rise. Why have you fallen like this on your face?

11 The people have sinned and transgressed the covenant that I covenanted with them, and, stealing from the devoted thing, they put it into their vessels¹¹.

12 The sons of Israel will certainly not be able to stand against the face of their enemies. They will turn neck before their enemies¹², because they have become a devoted thing. I will not add to be with you any longer unless you remove the devoted thing from among you.

13 Rise, sanctify the people and tell them to sanctify themselves for tomorrow. These things says the Lord God of Israel: The devoted thing¹³ is among you. You will not be able to stand before your enemies until you remove the devoted thing from among you.

14 And you shall be gathered in the morning by tribes, and it shall be, the tribe that the Lord points out¹⁴, you shall bring by clans, and the clan that the Lord points out, you shall bring by house, and the house that the Lord points out, you shall bring by man.

16 And Joshua rose early and brought the people by tribes, and the tribe of Judah was pointed out.

17 And it was brought by clans, and the clan of Zerah was pointed out and brought by man.

18 And Achar son of Zimri son of Zerah was pointed out.

19 And Joshua said to Achar, Give glory today to the Lord God of Israel and give confession, and report to me what you did, and do not hide it from me.

20 And Achar answered Joshua and said, Truly I sinned before the Lord God of Israel. Thus and thus I did.

21 I saw in the spoil a fine variegated cloak and two hundred silver didrachmas and one golden tongue² of fifty didrachmas, and desiring them I took them. And behold, they are hidden in the ground in my tent, and the silver is hidden underneath them.

22 And Joshua sent messengers, and they ran into the tent in the camp, and these things were hidden in the tent, and the silver underneath them.

23 And they brought them out from the tent and carried them to Joshua and the elders of Israel and placed them before the Lord.

24 And Joshua took Achar son of Zerah and brought him up to the Valley of Achor³, and his sons and his daughters and his calves and his beasts of burden and all his sheep and his tent and all his possessions, and all the people with him, and they brought them up to Achor.⁴

25 And Joshua said to Achar, Why did you destroy us? May the Lord destroy you, just as also today. And all Israel stoned him with stones.

26 And they raised over him a great heap of stones, and the Lord ceased from the wrath of anger. Because of this he named it Achor until this day.

Chapter 8

1 And the Lord said to Joshua, Do not fear, nor be cowardly⁵. Take with you all the warriors, and rising, go up to Ai. Behold, I have given into your hands the king of Ai and his land.

2 And you shall do to Ai in the way you did to Jericho and its king, except its spoil and cattle you shall plunder for yourself. But set for yourself an ambush behind the city.

3 And Joshua and all the warrior people rose to go up to Ai, and Joshua chose thirty thousand men, mighty in strength, and sent them by night.

4 And he commanded them, saying, You lie in ambush behind the city. Do not be far from the city, and all of you be ready.

5 And I and all those with me will come near the city, and it shall be, when those dwelling in Ai come out to meet us, just as also before, then we shall flee from before their face.

6 And when they come out behind us, we will draw them away from the city, and they will say, These flee from before us, just as also before.

7 But you shall rise from the ambush and go into the city.

8 According to this word you shall do. Behold, I have commanded you.

9 And Joshua sent them, and they went into the ambush and sat between Bethel and Ai, west of Ai.

10 And Joshua rose early in the morning and inspected the people, and he and the elders went up before the face of the people toward Ai.

11 And all the warrior people with him went up, and going they came opposite the city from the east.

12 And the ambush of the city was from the west.

14 And it happened, when the king of Ai saw, he hurried and went out to meet them straight for battle⁶, he and all the people with him, and he did not know that there was an ambush behind the city against him.

16 And they pursued behind the sons of Israel, and they were drawn away from the city.

18 And the Lord said to Joshua, Stretch out your hand with the spear that is in your hand toward the city, because I have delivered it into your hands. And the ambush will rise up quickly from its place. And Joshua stretched out his hand, the spear, toward the city.

19 And the ambush rose up quickly from its place and came out when he stretched out his hand, and they came against the city and seized it, and hurrying they burned the city with fire.

20 And the inhabitants of Ai, looking around behind them, were seeing smoke going up from the city into heaven, and they no longer had where to flee here or there⁷.

21 And Joshua and all Israel saw that the ambush had taken the city and that the smoke of the city had gone up into heaven, and turning around they struck the men of Ai.

22 And these came out from the city to meet them, and they came to be in the midst of the camp, these from here and those from there, and they struck until none of them was left saved or escaped.

23 And they seized the king of Ai alive and brought him to Joshua.

24 And when the sons of Israel stopped killing all those in Ai, those in the plains and in the mountain on the descent, where they pursued them from it to the end, then Joshua returned to Ai and struck it by the mouth of the sword.⁸

25 And those who fell on that day, from man to woman, were twelve thousand, all those dwelling in Ai.

27 Except the cattle and the spoils in the city, everything that the sons of Israel plundered according to the command of the Lord, in the way the Lord ordered Joshua.

28 And Joshua burned the city with fire and made it an uninhabited mound forever, until this day.

29 And the king of Ai he hung on a forked tree, and he was on the tree until evening, and when the sun set Joshua ordered and they took his body down from the tree and threw it into the pit and raised over him a heap of stones until this day.⁹

Chapter 9

1 And as the kings of the Amorites in the beyond of the Jordan heard, those in the hill country and those in the plain and those on all the coast of the great sea and those by Anti-Lebanon¹, the Hittites and Canaanites and Perizzites and Hivites and Amorites and Girgashites and Jebusites,
2 they came all together at the same time to make war against Joshua and Israel.
3 And those dwelling in Gibeon² heard everything that the Lord did to Jericho and Ai,
4 and they themselves also acted with cunning, and going they prepared provisions and made ready, and taking old sacks on their donkeys and old wine skins, torn and tied up,
5 and their sandals were old and worn through in their feet, and their garments were worn out on them, and the bread of their provisions was dry and moldy and eaten.
6 And they came to Joshua at the camp of Israel in Gilgal and said to Joshua and Israel, We have come from a land far away, and now make a covenant with us.
7 And the sons of Israel said to the Horite, See, perhaps you dwell among me, and how shall I make a covenant with you?
8 And they said to Joshua, We are your servants. And Joshua said to them, Who are you, and from where have you come?
9 And they said, Your servants have come from a very distant land in the name of the Lord your God, for we heard his name and everything that he did in Egypt,
10 and everything that he did to the kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan, to Sihon king of Heshbon and to Og king of Bashan, who dwelt in Ashtaroth and in Edrei.
11 And hearing, our elders and all those dwelling in our land said to us, saying, Take provisions for yourselves³ for the road and go to meet them and say to them, We are your servants, and now make a covenant with us.
12 These breads, hot, we provisioned them on the day when we went out to come to you, but now they are dried out and have become eaten.⁴
13 And these wine skins that we filled new, these have burst, and our garments and our sandals have worn out because of the very long road.
14 And the leaders took from their provisions and did not ask the Lord.
15 And Joshua made peace with them and covenanted with them to keep them alive, and the leaders of the assembly swore to them.
16 And it happened after three days after making covenant with them that they heard that they are near them and dwell among them.
17 And the sons of Israel set out and came to their cities, and their cities were Gibeon and Chephirah⁵ and Beeroth and Kirjathjearim.
18 And the sons of Israel did not fight them, because all the leaders swore to them by the Lord God of Israel, and all the assembly grumbled against the leaders.
19 And the leaders said to all the assembly, We swore to them by the Lord God of Israel, and now we cannot touch them.
20 This we will do: keep them alive and preserve them, and wrath shall not be against us because of the oath that we swore to them.
21 They shall live and shall be woodcutters and water carriers for all the assembly, just as the leaders said to them.
22 And Joshua summoned them and said to them, Why did you deceive me, saying, We are very far from you, while you are locals from those dwelling among us?
23 And now cursed are you. From you servant shall certainly not fail, nor woodcutter for me and for my God.
24 And they answered Joshua, saying, It was reported to us what the Lord your God ordered Moses his servant, to give you this land and utterly destroy us⁶ and all those dwelling on it from before your face, and we feared greatly for our lives from before you and did this thing.
25 And now, behold, we are under your hand. As it pleases you and as it seems good to you, do to us.
26 And they did thus to them, and Joshua rescued them on that day from the hands of the sons of Israel, and they did not kill them.
27 And Joshua made them on that day woodcutters and water carriers for all the assembly and for the altar of God. Because of this those dwelling in Gibeon became woodcutters and water carriers for the altar of God until this day and for the place that the Lord may choose.

Chapter 10

1 And when Adonibezek⁷ king of Jerusalem⁸ heard that Joshua took Ai and utterly destroyed it, in the way they did Jericho and its king, thus they did Ai and its king, and that those dwelling in Gibeon defected to Joshua⁹ and to Israel,
2 then they feared greatly among them, for they knew that Gibeon is a great city, like one of the metropolises, and all its men are strong.
3 And Adonibezek king of Jerusalem sent to Hoham¹⁰ king of Hebron and to Phidon king of Jerimoth¹¹ and to Jephtha king of Lachish¹² and to Debir¹³ king of Adullam¹⁴, saying,
4 Come up to me and help me, and let us war against Gibeon, because they defected to Joshua and to the sons of Israel.
5 And the five kings of the Jebusites went up, king of Jerusalem and the king of Hebron and the king of Jerimoth and the king of Lachish and the king of Adullam, they and all their people, and they besieged Gibeon and were besieging it¹⁵.
6 And those dwelling in Gibeon sent to Joshua at the camp of Israel in Gilgal, saying, Do not let your hands grow weak¹⁶ from your servants. Come up to us quickly and rescue us and help us, because all the kings of the Amorites dwelling in the hill country are gathered against us.

7 And Joshua went up from Gilgal, he and all the warrior people with him, every strong one in might.

8 And the Lord said to Joshua, Do not fear them, because I have delivered them into your hands. None of them shall be left before you.

9 And Joshua came upon them suddenly; all the night he marched in from Gilgal.

10 And the Lord amazed them from before the sons of Israel and crushed them with a great crushing in Gibeon, and they pursued them on the road of the ascent of Beth-horon¹ and were cutting them down as far as Azekah² and as far as Makkedah³.

11 And as they fled from before the sons of Israel on the descent of Beth-horon, the Lord threw on them hailstones from heaven as far as Azekah, and those who died through the hailstones became more than those whom the sons of Israel killed with the sword in the war.⁴

12 Then Joshua spoke to the Lord on the day when God delivered the Amorite under the hands of Israel⁵, when he crushed them in Gibeon and they were crushed from before the sons of Israel, and Joshua said, Let the sun stand over Gibeon, and the moon over the valley of Elon.

13 And the sun stood, and the moon stood in place, until God defended their enemies. And the sun stood in the midst of heaven; it did not go forward to the setting, to the end of one day.⁶

14 And there was no day like this, neither before nor after, for God to hear a human, because the Lord fought together with Israel.

16 And these five kings fled and hid in the cave in Makkedah.

17 And it was reported to Joshua, saying, The five kings have been found hidden in the cave in Makkedah.

18 And Joshua said, Roll stones onto the mouth of the cave and appoint men to guard over them.

19 But you, do not stand still; pursue behind your enemies and seize their rear, and do not let them enter into their cities, because the Lord our God has delivered them into our hands.

20 And it happened, when Joshua and every son of Israel stopped cutting them down with a very great slaughter to the end, and those being saved were saved into the fortified cities⁷,

21 then all the people returned to Joshua at Makkedah unharmed, and none of the sons of Israel so much as growled with his tongue.

22 And Joshua said, Open the cave and bring out these five kings to me from the cave.

23 And they brought out the five kings from the cave, the king of Jerusalem and the king of Hebron and the king of Jerimoth and the king of Lachish and the king of Adullam.

24 And when they brought them out to Joshua, Joshua called all Israel and the leaders of the war who went with him, saying to them, Come forward and put your feet on their necks⁸. And coming forward, they put their feet on their necks.

25 And Joshua said to them, Do not fear them, nor be cowardly. Act like men and be strong, because thus the Lord will do to all your enemies against whom you make war.

26 And Joshua killed them and hanged them on five trees, and they were hanging on the trees until evening.

27 And it happened toward sunset that Joshua commanded, and they took them down from the trees and threw them into the cave into which they fled there, and rolled stones onto the cave until this day.

28 And they took Makkedah on that day and killed it with the edge of the sword and utterly destroyed every breathing thing in it, and no one was left in it who was saved and escaped⁹, and they did to the king of Makkedah in the way they did to the king of Jericho.

29 And Joshua and all Israel with him went from Makkedah to Libnah and besieged Libnah.

30 And the Lord delivered it into the hand of Israel, and they took it and its king and killed it with the edge of the sword and every breathing thing in it, and no one was left in it, not one saved and escaped¹⁰, and they did to its king in the way they did to the king of Jericho.

31 And Joshua and all Israel with him went from Libnah to Lachish and besieged it and were besieging it.

32 And the Lord delivered Lachish into the hands of Israel, and he took it on the second day and killed it with the edge of the sword and utterly destroyed it in the way they did to Libnah.

33 Then Horam¹¹ king of Gezer¹² went up to help Lachish, and Joshua struck him with the edge of the sword, him and his people, until none of them were left saved and escaped.

34 And Joshua and all Israel with him went from Lachish to Adullam and besieged it and were besieging it.

35 And the Lord delivered it into the hand of Israel, and he took it on that day and killed it with the edge of the sword, and every breathing thing in it they killed in the way they did to Lachish.

36 And Joshua and all Israel with him went to Hebron and besieged it.

37 And he struck it with the edge of the sword and every breathing thing¹³ that was in it; there was no one saved, in the way they did to Adullam. They utterly destroyed it and everything that was in it.

38 And Joshua and all Israel turned back to Debir and besieged it,

39 and they took it and its king and its villages and struck it with the edge of the sword and utterly destroyed it and every breathing thing in it, and they did not leave in it any saved one¹⁴, in the way they did to Hebron and its king, so they did to Debir and its king.

40 And Joshua struck all the land, the hill country and the Negeb¹⁵ and the plain and the Ashdod and their kings. He left no saved one among them, and every breathing life he utterly destroyed, in the way the Lord God of Israel commanded.¹⁶

1 And when Jabin² king of Hazor³ heard, he sent to Jobab king of Madon⁴ and to the king of Shimron and to the king of Achshaph⁵,

2 and to the kings near great Sidon in the hill country and in the Raba⁶ opposite Chinneroth⁷ and in the plain and in the coast of Dor⁸,

3 and to the coastal Canaanites from the east and to the coastal Amorites and Hivites and Jebusites and Perizzites in the mountain and the Hittites under Hermon in the land of Mizpeh⁹.

4 And they went out, they and their kings with them, like the sand of the sea in multitude, and horses and very many chariots.

5 And all these kings gathered and came together and camped by the water of Madon to make war against Israel.

6 And the Lord said to Joshua, Do not fear from before them, because tomorrow at this hour I am delivering them routed before Israel. Their horses you shall hamstring, and their chariots you shall burn with fire.

7 And Joshua and all the warrior people came upon them at the water of Madon suddenly and fell upon them in the hill country.

8 And the Lord delivered them under the hands of Israel, and as they struck them they pursued them as far as great Sidon and as far as Maserom and as far as the plains of Massoch¹⁰ toward the east, and they cut them down until none of them was left saved.¹¹

9 And Joshua did to them in the way the Lord commanded him: their horses he hamstrung, and their chariots he burned with fire.

10 And Joshua turned back at that time and took Hazor, and its king, for Hazor was formerly ruling all these kingdoms.

11 And they killed every breathing thing in it with the sword and utterly destroyed all, and no breathing thing was left in it, and they burned Hazor with fire.

12 And Joshua took all the cities of the kings and their kings, and killed them with the edge of the sword and utterly destroyed them in the way Moses servant of the Lord commanded.

13 But all the cities that had been mounded up Israel did not burn, except Hazor alone Joshua burned.

14 And all their spoil the sons of Israel plundered for themselves¹², but them all they utterly destroyed with the edge of the sword until he destroyed them; they left none of them, not one breathing thing.

15 In the way the Lord ordered Moses his servant, and Moses likewise commanded Joshua, so Joshua did. He did not transgress anything from all that Moses ordered him.

16 And Joshua took all the land, the hill country and all the Negeb and all the land of Goshen and the plain and the western region and the mountain of Israel and its lowlands,

17 from near Mount Eshcol and what rises to Seir and as far as Baalgad¹³ and the plains of Lebanon under Mount Hermon, and he took all their kings and killed them.

18 And Joshua made war with these kings many days.

19 And there was no city that Israel did not take; they took all in war.

20 Because from the Lord it came to strengthen their heart¹⁴ to meet in war against Israel, so that they might be utterly destroyed, so that no mercy might be given to them, but so that they might be utterly destroyed in the way the Lord said to Moses.

21 And Joshua came at that time and utterly destroyed the Anakim from the hill country, from Hebron and from Debir and from Anab¹⁵ and from all the race of Israel¹⁶ and from all the mountain of Judah; Joshua utterly destroyed them together with their cities.

22 None of the Anakim were left among the sons of Israel, except in Gaza and in Gath¹⁷ and in Ashdod they were left.

23 And Joshua took all the land, just as the Lord commanded Moses, and Joshua gave it as an inheritance to Israel in division according to their tribes, and the land rested from war¹⁸.

4 and Og king of Bashan, left over from the giants, dwelling in Ashtaroth and in Edrei,

5 ruling from Mount Hermon and from Salcah and all Bashan to the borders of Geshurites²¹ and Machaathi and half of Gilead, boundaries of Sihon king of Heshbon.

Chapter 13

1 And Joshua was old, advanced in days, and the Lord said to Joshua, You have advanced in days, and much land remains for inheritance.

2 And this is the remaining land: the boundaries of the Philistines, the Geshurites, and the Canaanite,

3 from the uninhabited region opposite Egypt¹² as far as the boundaries of Ekron¹³ on the left of the Canaanites; it is reckoned to the five satrapies of the Philistines, to the Gazite and the Azotian and the Ascalonite and the Gittites¹⁴ and the Ekronites¹⁵ and the Hivite,

4 from the south and all the land of Canaan opposite Gaza and the Sidonians¹⁶ as far as Aphek, as far as the boundaries of the Amorites,

5 and all the land of Gabli of the Philistines and all Lebanon from the sunrise, from Gilgal under Mount Hermon as far as the entrance of Hamath,

6 all those dwelling in the hill country from Lebanon as far as Misrephothmaim¹⁷, all the Sidonians. I will utterly destroy them from before Israel. But divide it as an inheritance¹⁸ to Israel in the way I commanded you.

7 And now divide this land as an inheritance to the nine tribes and to the half-tribe of Manasseh. From the Jordan as far as the great sea toward the setting of the sun you shall give it; the great sea shall define it.

8 But to the two tribes and to the half-tribe of Manasseh, to Reuben and to Gad, Moses gave in the beyond of the Jordan toward the sunrise; Moses servant of the Lord gave it,

9 from Aroer which is on the lip of the ravine of Arnon, and the city in the ravine of Arnon, and all Mishor from Medeba¹⁹ as far as Dibon,

10 all the cities of Sihon king of the Amorites who reigned in Heshbon as far as the boundaries of the sons of Ammon,

11 and Gilead and the boundaries of Geshurites and the Maachathites, all Mount Hermon and all Bashan as far as Salcah, 12 all the kingdom of Og in Bashan, who reigned in Ashtaroth and in Edrei. This one was left from the giants, and Moses struck him and utterly destroyed him.

13 And the sons of Israel did not utterly destroy the Geshurites and the Maachathites and the Canaanite, and the king of Geshurites and the Maachathites dwelt among the sons of Israel until this day.

14 Except to the tribe of Levi no inheritance was given. The Lord God of Israel, this one is their inheritance, just as the Lord said to them. And this is the division that Moses divided to the sons of Israel in Araboth of Moab, beyond the Jordan opposite Jericho.

15 And Moses gave to the tribe of Reuben according to their clans.

16 And their boundaries came from Aroer, which is opposite the ravine of Arnon, and the city in the ravine of Arnon, and all Mishor,

17 as far as Heshbon and all the cities in Mishor, and Dibon and Bamothbaal and House of Beelmon, 32 These are those whom Moses gave as inheritance beyond the Jordan in Araboth of Moab, beyond the Jordan opposite Jericho from the east.

Chapter 14

1 And these are those whom the sons of Israel inherited in the land of Canaan, whom Eleazar the priest and Joshua son of Nun and the leaders of the ancestral tribes of the sons of Israel allotted to them as inheritance,¹⁰
 2 by lots they inherited, in the way the Lord commanded by the hand of Joshua, to the nine tribes and the half-tribe,
 3 from the beyond of the Jordan; and to the Levites he gave no lot among them,
 4 because the sons of Joseph were two tribes, Manasseh and Ephraim, and no portion in the land was given to the Levites except cities to dwell in and their set-apart lands¹¹ for their cattle and livestock.
 5 In the way the Lord commanded Moses, thus the sons of Israel did, and they divided the land.
 6 And the sons of Judah came near to Joshua in Gilgal, and Caleb the son of Jephunneh the Kenezite said to him, You know the word that the Lord spoke to Moses, man of God, concerning me and you in Kadesh-Barnea.
 7 For I was forty years old when Moses servant of God sent me out from Kadesh-Barnea to spy out the land, and I answered him word according to his mind.
 8 But my brothers who went up with me turned aside the heart of the people; but I attached myself to follow after the Lord my God.
 9 And Moses swore on that day, saying, The land on which you stepped shall be for you as an inheritance and for your children forever, because you attached yourself to follow after the Lord our God.
 10 And now the Lord has nourished me¹² in the way he said; this is the forty-fifth year since the Lord spoke this word to Moses, while Israel traveled in the wilderness, and now behold I am today eighty-five years old.
 11 I am still today strong just as when Moses sent me out; just so I am strong now to go out and to go in for war.
 12 And now I ask you for this mountain, just as the Lord said on that day, because you heard this word on that day. And now the Anakim are there, fortified and great cities. If therefore the Lord is with me, then I will utterly destroy them¹³ in the way the Lord said to me.
 13 And Joshua blessed him and gave Hebron to Caleb son of Jephunneh son of Kenaz as an inheritance.
 14 Because of this Hebron became to Caleb son of Jephunneh the Kenezite as an inheritance until this day, because he followed the command of the Lord God of Israel.
 15 And the former name of Hebron was the City of Arba, metropolis of the Anakim. And the land ceased from war.

Chapter 15

1 And the boundaries of the tribe of Judah came to be according to their clans, from the boundaries of Edom, from the wilderness of Sin as far as Kadesh toward the south.

 3 and pass through opposite the ascent of Akrabbim and go around Zenan¹⁴ and ascend from the south onto Kadesh-Barnea and go out to Hezron and go up to Adar and circle westward Kadesh,¹⁵
 4 and go to Azmon and come out to the ravine of Egypt, and the boundary's outlet shall be to the sea. This is their southern boundary.
 5 And the boundary from the east is the whole Salt Sea up to the Jordan, and their boundaries from the north are from the ridge of the sea and from the part of the Jordan,
 6 the boundary goes up to Bethagla and passes by the north to Betharabah¹⁶ and goes up to the stone of Bohan¹⁷ son of Reuben,

14 And Caleb son of Jephunneh utterly destroyed from there the three sons of Anak, Susi and Talmai and Ahiman.

15 And Caleb went up from there against those dwelling in Debir; now the former name of Debir was the City of Letters.

16 And Caleb said, Whoever takes and cuts down the City of Letters and rules it, I will give him Achsah¹² my daughter as a wife.

17 And Othniel¹³ son of Kenaz, younger brother of Caleb, took it, and he gave him Achsah his daughter to him as a wife.

18 And it happened, when she entered in, she advised him, saying, I will ask my father for a field. And she cried out from the donkey, and Caleb said to her, What is with you?

5 And their line fell from Manasseh and the plain of Labek from Gilead, which is beyond the Jordan,
6 because daughters of the sons of Manasseh inherited a lot in the midst of their brothers, and the land of Gilead came to be for the sons of Manasseh who were left over.
7 And the boundary of the sons of Manasseh came to be Delanath, which is opposite the sons of Anath¹, and the boundary goes to Jamin and Jassib to the spring of Thaphthoth.
8 Tappuah shall belong to Manasseh; on the boundaries of Manasseh, to the sons of Ephraim.
9 And the boundaries will go down to the ravine of Karana to the south by the ravine of Jariel, terebinth², to Ephraim in the midst of the city of Manasseh, and the boundary of Manasseh is to the north by the torrent, and its outlet shall be the sea.
10 From the south to Ephraim and to the north Manasseh, and the sea shall be their boundary, and by Asher they shall join on the north and by Issachar on the east.
11 And Manasseh shall have in Issachar and in Asher Bethshean³ and its villages and those dwelling in Dor and its villages and those dwelling in Megiddo⁴ and its villages and the third of Napheta⁵ and its villages.^{6,7}
12 And the sons of Manasseh were not able to destroy these cities, and the Canaanite began to dwell in that land.
13 And it happened when the sons of Israel grew strong, they made the Canaanites subject, but did not utterly destroy them.
14 And the sons of Joseph spoke back to Joshua, saying, Why did you give us one lot and one measuring line as an inheritance, while I am a numerous people and God blessed me?
15 And Joshua said to them, If you are a numerous people, go up into the forest and clear a place for yourself, if the hill-country of Ephraim is too narrow for you.⁸
16 And they said, The hill-country of Ephraim will not suffice for us, and the Canaanite dwelling in it has chosen iron horse and chariot¹⁰, in Bethshean and in its villages, in the valley of Jezreel.
17 And Joshua said to the sons of Joseph, If you are a numerous people and have great strength, there shall not be for you one lot,
18 because the forest shall be yours¹¹, for it is forest, and you shall clear it, and it shall be yours, and when you destroy the Canaanite, because he has chosen iron horse and chariot, for you prevail over him.

Chapter 18

1 And all the congregation of the sons of Israel assembled at Shiloh¹², and they pitched there the tent of testimony, and the land was subdued by them.
2 And there were left among the sons of Israel seven tribes that had not inherited.
3 And Joshua said to the sons of Israel, How long will you grow slack to inherit the land that the Lord our God gave?
4 Give from among you three men from each tribe, and let them arise and pass through the land and map it out before me according to how it should be divided, and let them come to me.
5 And he divided it for them into seven portions: Judah shall stand for them on the boundary from the south, and the sons of Joseph shall stand for them from the north.
6 And you shall divide the land into seven portions and bring it to me here, and I will cast for you a lot before the Lord our God.

8 And the men arose and went, and Joshua commanded the men going to survey the land, saying, Go and survey the land and come back to me, and here I will cast for you a lot before the Lord in Shiloh.¹³

13 And the boundary shall pass from there to Luz, on the south of Luz, from the south, this is Bethel, and the boundary shall go down to Ataroth-addar¹⁶, to the hill-country that is south of lower Bethhoron.
14 And the boundary shall pass through and go around on the side facing the sea¹⁷ from the south, from the mountain opposite Bethhoron to the south, and its outlet shall be at Kirjathbaal, this is Kirjathjearim, a city of the sons of Judah. This is the side toward the sea.
15 And the side toward the south is from the side of Kirjathbaal, and the boundary shall pass westward to the spring of the water of Nephtoah.
16 And the boundary shall go down to the side of the mountain that is opposite the valley of Onnam, which is on the side of Emekraphain¹⁸ to the north, and it shall go down to Gaienna¹⁹ on the south of Jebusi²⁰ from the south, and it shall go down to

3 You have not forsaken your brothers these many days until this day, and you have kept the commandment of the Lord your God.

4 And now the Lord our God has given our brothers rest, as he told them. Now then, turn back and go to your houses and to the land of your possession² that Moses gave you beyond the Jordan.

5 Only take great care to do the commandments and the law that Moses the servant of the Lord commanded us to do: to love the Lord your God, to walk in all his ways, to keep his commandments, and to cling to him³ and serve him with all your mind and with all your soul.⁴

6 And Joshua blessed them and sent them away, and they went to their houses.

7 And to the half tribe of Manasseh Moses gave a share in Bashan, and to the other half Joshua gave a share with their brothers beyond the Jordan by the sea⁵. And when Joshua sent them away to their houses, he blessed them,

8 and they went away to their houses with much wealth and very much livestock and silver and gold and iron and much clothing, and they divided the plunder⁶ of their enemies with their brothers.

9 And the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad and the half tribe of the sons of Manasseh went from the sons of Israel from Shiloh in the land of Canaan to go to the land of Gilead, to the land of their possession which they inherited by the command of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

10 And they came to Gilgal of the Jordan, which is in the land of Canaan, and the sons of Gad and the sons of Reuben and the half tribe of Manasseh built there an altar by the Jordan, a great altar to behold⁷.

11 And the sons of Israel heard people saying, Behold, the sons of Gad and the sons of Reuben and the half tribe of Manasseh built an altar on the borders of the land of Canaan⁸, at Gilead of the Jordan, on the far side of the sons of Israel.

12 And all the sons of Israel gathered in Shiloh so as to go up to make war against them.

13 And the sons of Israel sent to the sons of Reuben and to the sons of Gad and to the half tribe of Manasseh in the land of Gilead Phinehas⁹ son of Eleazar son of Aaron the high priest,

14 and ten leaders with him, one leader from each fathers' house from all the tribes of Israel; these were heads of fathers' houses, commanders of thousands in Israel.

15 And they came to the sons of Gad and to the sons of Reuben and to the half tribe of Manasseh in the land of Gilead and spoke to them, saying,

16 Thus says the whole congregation of the Lord, What is this trespass by which you have trespassed before the God of Israel, turning away today from the Lord by building for yourselves an altar, so that you become rebels¹⁰ against the Lord?

17 Is the sin of Peor too little for us, from which we have not been cleansed until this day, and a plague came to be in the congregation of the Lord?

18 And will you turn away today from the Lord? And it shall be, if you revolt today from the Lord, then tomorrow wrath will be on all Israel.

19 And now, if the land of your possession is too little for you, cross over into the land of the possession of the Lord, where the tent of the Lord camps, and inherit among us. But do not become rebels against God¹¹, and do not turn away from the Lord by your building for yourselves an altar apart from the altar of the Lord our God.

20 Did not Achar son of Zerah commit a trespass from the accursed thing, and wrath came upon all the congregation of Israel? Yet that one man did not die alone in his own sin.

21 And the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad and the half tribe of Manasseh answered and spoke to the commanders of thousands of Israel, saying,

22 God is God, the Lord, and God is God, the Lord. He himself knows, and Israel itself shall know. If in revolt we have trespassed before the Lord, may he not rescue us in this.

23 And if we built for ourselves an altar so as to turn away from the Lord our God, so as to offer on it sacrifices of whole burnt offerings or so as to make on it a sacrifice of salvation¹², the Lord himself shall require it.

24 But because of caution over this matter we did this, saying, So that tomorrow your children may not say to our children, What have you to do with the Lord God of Israel?

25 For the Lord set the Jordan as a boundary between us and you, and you have no share of the Lord. And your children will estrange our children, so that they no longer worship the Lord.¹³

26 And we said to do this, to build this altar, not for offerings nor for sacrifices,

27 but so that this may be a witness between us and you and between our generations after us, to render service to the Lord before him in our offerings and in our sacrifices and in our sacrifices of salvation¹⁴, and your children will not say to our children tomorrow, You have no share in the Lord.

28 And we said, if ever it happens and they speak to us and to our generations tomorrow, then we shall say, See the likeness of the altar¹ of the Lord, which our fathers made, not for offerings nor for sacrifices, but it is a witness between you and us and between our sons.

29 May it never be for us to turn away from the Lord in these days, to revolt from the Lord, so as to build for ourselves an altar for offerings and sacrifices of salvation and the sacrifice of salvation² besides the altar of the Lord that is before his tent.

30 And when Phinehas the priest and all the leaders of the congregation of Israel who were with him heard the words that the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad and the half tribe of Manasseh spoke, it pleased them.

31 And Phinehas the priest said to the sons of Reuben and to the sons of Gad and to the half tribe of Manasseh, Today we know that the Lord is with us, because you did not trespass against the Lord in a trespass, and because you rescued³ the sons of Israel from the hand of the Lord.

32 And Phinehas the priest and the leaders returned from the sons of Reuben and from the sons of Gad and from the half tribe of Manasseh, from the land of Gilead to the land of Canaan to the sons of Israel, and they answered them with the words.

33 And it pleased the sons of Israel, and they spoke to the sons of Israel and blessed the God of the sons of Israel, and said that they would no longer go up against them in war to destroy the land of the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad and the half tribe of Manasseh, and they dwelt upon it.

34 And Joshua named the altar of the Reubenites⁴ and the Gadites⁵ and the half tribe of Manasseh, and said, It is a witness between them⁶ that the Lord is their God.

Chapter 23

1 And it came to be after many days, after the Lord gave Israel rest from all their enemies all around, and Joshua was old, advanced in days,

2 that Joshua called all the sons of Israel and their council and their leaders and their scribes and their judges, and said to them, I have grown old, I am advanced in days.

3 And you have seen all that the Lord your God did to all these nations from before you, because the Lord your God is the one who fought for you.

4 See, I have allotted to you these nations left over to you by lots for your tribes, from the Jordan and all the nations that I destroyed, and from the great sea it shall bound westward.

5 And the Lord your God himself will destroy them from before you until they perish, and he will send to them the wild beasts until he destroys them and their kings from before you, and you shall inherit their land just as the Lord your God spoke to you.

6 Therefore be very strong to keep and to do all that is written in the book of the law of Moses, so that you do not turn aside to the right or to the left,

7 so that you do not enter among these nations that are left over, and the names of their gods shall not be named among you, and you shall certainly not bow down to them nor serve them.

8 But to the Lord your God you shall cling, just as you have done until this day.

9 And the Lord destroyed from before you great and strong nations, and no one stood against you until this day.

10 One of you chased a thousand, because the Lord your God was fighting for you, just as he said to you.

11 And take great care to love the Lord your God.

12 For if you turn back and attach yourselves to these nations left over with you and make marriages with them and mingle with them and they with you,

13 know that the Lord will certainly not continue to destroy these nations from before you, and they shall become snares for you and scandals and nails in your heels and darts in your eyes⁷ until you perish from this good land that the Lord your God gave you.

14 And behold, I am departing on the way, just as all on the earth, and you shall know in your heart and in your soul that not one word has failed⁸ from all the words that the Lord your God spoke concerning all that belongs to you; none of them has fallen away.

15 And it shall be, just as all the good words that the Lord spoke to you have come upon you, so the Lord your God will bring upon you all the evil words until he destroys you from this good land that the Lord gave you.⁹

16 when you transgress the covenant of the Lord your God that he commanded you, and go and serve other gods and bow down to them.¹⁰

Chapter 24

1 And Joshua gathered all the tribes of Israel to Shiloh and called together their elders and their scribes and their judges, and he set them before God.

2 And Joshua said to all the people, Thus says the Lord God of Israel: From the beginning your fathers lived beyond the river, Terah the father of Abraham and the father of Nahor, and they served other gods.

3 And I took your father Abraham from beyond the river and led him through all the land, and I multiplied his seed and gave him Isaac.

4 And to Isaac I gave Jacob and Esau, and to Esau I gave Mount Seir for his inheritance, and Jacob and his sons went down into Egypt and became there a great and numerous and strong nation.

5 And the Egyptians afflicted them, and the Lord struck Egypt with the things he did among them, and after these things he brought you out.

6 Out of Egypt you came, and you entered the Red Sea, and the Egyptians pursued your fathers with chariots and horses to the Red Sea.

7 And we cried out to the Lord, and he put cloud and gloom¹¹ between us and between the Egyptians, and he brought the sea upon them and covered them, and your eyes saw what the Lord did in the land of Egypt, and you were in the wilderness many days.

8 And he brought you into the land of the Amorites who dwell beyond the Jordan, and they arrayed themselves against you¹, and the Lord gave them into your hands, and you inherited their land and destroyed them from before you.

9 And Balak son of Zippor, king of Moab, rose up and made war against Israel, and he sent and called Balaam to curse you.

10 And the Lord your God was not willing to destroy you, and with blessing he blessed you and delivered you from their hands and gave them over.

11 And you crossed the Jordan and came to Jericho, and those dwelling in Jericho fought against you: the Amorite and the Canaanite and the Perizzite and the Hivite and the Jebusite and the Hittite and the Girgashite, and the Lord gave them into your hands.

12 And he sent ahead of you the hornet, and it drove them out from before you, twelve kings of the Amorites, not by your sword nor by your bow.

13 And he gave you a land on which you did not labor, and cities that you did not build, and you settled in them, and you eat vineyards and olive groves² that you did not plant.

14 And now fear the Lord and serve him in uprightness and in righteousness, and remove the foreign gods that your fathers served beyond the river and in Egypt, and serve the Lord.

15 But if it does not please you to serve the Lord, choose for yourselves today whom you will serve, whether the gods of your fathers beyond the river or the gods of the Amorites among whom you dwell on their land. But I and my house will serve the Lord, because he is holy³.

16 And the people answered and said, May it never be for us to forsake the Lord so as to serve other gods.

17 The Lord our God, he is God; he brought up us and our fathers out of Egypt and preserved us in all the way in which we went and among all the nations through whom we passed.

18 And the Lord drove out the Amorite and all the nations dwelling in the land from before us. Therefore we also will serve the Lord, for he is our God.

19 And Joshua said to the people, You will not be able to serve the Lord, because he is a holy and jealous God; he will not forgive your sins and your lawless deeds.⁴

20 Whenever you forsake the Lord and serve other gods, then coming upon you he will mistreat you and consume you in return for the good things he did for you.

21 And the people said to Joshua, No, but we will serve the Lord.

22 And Joshua said to the people, You are witnesses against yourselves that you chose the Lord, to serve him.

23 And now remove the foreign gods among you and direct your heart toward the Lord God of Israel.

24 And the people said to Joshua, We will serve the Lord and we will listen to his voice.

25 And Joshua made a covenant with the people on that day and gave them law and judgment in Shiloh before the tent of the God of Israel.

26 And Joshua wrote these words in the book of the law of God, and Joshua took a great stone and set it up under the terebinth before the Lord.

27 And Joshua said to the people, Behold, this stone shall be among you as a witness, because it has heard⁵ all that was spoken to it by the Lord, whatever he spoke to us today, and it shall be among you as a witness at the last days, whenever you lie against the Lord my God.

28 And Joshua sent the people away, and each went to his own place.

29 And Israel served the Lord all the days of Joshua and all the days of the elders who lengthened time after Joshua and who saw all the works of the Lord that he did for Israel.

30 And it came to be after these things that Joshua son of Nun, servant of the Lord, died at one hundred ten years.

31 And they buried him at the borders of his inheritance in Thamnathasachara in the hill-country of Ephraim, north of Mount Gaash⁶. There they put with him into the tomb in which they buried him the stone knives⁷ with which he circumcised the sons of Israel in Gilgal when he brought them out of Egypt, just as the Lord commanded them, and there they are until this day.

32 And the sons of Israel brought up the bones of Joseph out of Egypt, and they buried them in Shechem, in the portion of the field that Jacob acquired from the Amorites dwelling in Shechem for a hundred lambs⁸, and he gave it to Joseph as a portion.

33 And after these things Eleazar son of Aaron the high priest died, and they buried him in Gabaath of Phinehas his son, which he gave him in the hill-country of Ephraim. [33a: On that day the sons of Israel took the ark of God and carried it among themselves, and Phinehas served as priest in place of Eleazar his father until he died, and he was buried in his own Gabaath. 33b: And the sons of Israel went away each to his own place and to his own city, and the sons of Israel worshiped Astarte and Astaroth⁹ and the gods of the nations around them, and the Lord gave them into the hands of Eglom king of Moab, and he ruled over them eighteen years.]¹⁰

Judges

Chapter 1

1 And it came to be after the death of Joshua that the sons of Israel inquired of the Lord, saying, Who shall go up for us against the Canaanite, leading to fight against him?

2 And the Lord said, Judah shall go up. See, I have given the land into his hand.

3 And Judah said to Simeon his brother, Come up with me in my lot and let us fight against the Canaanite, and I also will go with you in your lot. And Simeon went with him.

4 And Judah went up, and the Lord gave the Canaanite and the Perizzite into his hand¹, and he struck them at Bezek², ten thousand men.

5 And they found Adonibezek at Bezek and fought against him, and they struck the Canaanite and the Perizzite.

6 And Adonibezek fled, and they pursued after him and took him and cut off the tips of his hands and his feet.

7 And Adonibezek said, Seventy kings with the tips of their hands and feet cut off used to gather what was under my table. As I did, so God repaid me. And they brought him to Jerusalem, and he died there.

8 And the sons of Judah fought against Jerusalem and took it, and they struck it with the edge of the sword and burned the city with fire.

9 And after this the sons of Judah went down to fight against the Canaanite dwelling in the hill-country and the south and the plain.

10 And Judah went against the Canaanite dwelling in Hebron, and Hebron came out opposite them; the name of Hebron before was Kirjatharba³. And he struck Sheshai and Ahiman and Talmai, offspring of Anak.

11 And from there they went against those dwelling in Debir, and the name of Debir before was the City of Letters.

12 And Caleb said, Whoever strikes the City of Letters and takes it first, I will give him my daughter Achsah as wife.

13 And Othniel son of Kenaz, younger brother of Caleb, took it first, and he gave him his daughter Achsah as wife.

14 And it came to be when she went in, she urged him to ask from her father for the field, and she groaned upon the pack animal and cried out from the pack animal, You gave me into a south land. And Caleb said to her, What is wrong with you?

15 And Achsah said to him, Give me a blessing, because you gave me into a south land, and you shall give me a redemption of water. And Caleb gave her according to her heart, the redemption of the heights and the redemption of the low places.

16 And the sons of Hobab the Kenite, father-in-law of Moses, went up from the City of Palms⁴ with the sons of Judah into the wilderness that is in the south at the descent of Arad, and he went and dwelt with the people.

17 And Judah went with Simeon his brother, and they struck the Canaanite dwelling at Zephath⁵ and devoted it to destruction and utterly destroyed it, and they called the name of the city Extermination.

18 And Judah did not inherit Gaza and its boundary, and Ashkelon⁶ and its boundary, and Ekron and its boundary, and Ashdod and its pasturelands.

19 And the Lord was with Judah, and he inherited the hill-country, because he was not able to inherit those dwelling in the valley, because Rechab⁷ had deployed it.

20 And they gave Hebron to Caleb, just as Moses spoke, and he inherited from there the three cities and removed from there the three sons of Anak.

21 And the sons of Benjamin did not remove the Jebusite dwelling in Jerusalem, and the Jebusite dwelt with the sons of Benjamin until this day.

22 And the sons of Joseph also went up to Bethel, and Judah was with them.

23 And the house of Israel encamped against Bethel; the name of the city before was Luz.

24 And the watchers saw a man coming out of the city and took him and said to him, Show us the entrance of the city, and we will deal mercifully with you.

25 And he showed them the entrance of the city, and they struck the city with the edge of the sword, but the man and all his kin they sent away.

26 And the man went into the land of the Hittites and built there a city and called its name Luz. This is its name until this day.

27 And Manasseh did not inherit Bethshan⁸, which is a city of Scythians⁹, nor its daughters, nor its pasturelands, nor Ekthanaad and its daughters, nor those dwelling in Dor and its daughters, and those dwelling in Balaam and its daughters, and those dwelling in Megiddo and its daughters, nor those dwelling in Jebelaam nor its daughters. And the Canaanite began to dwell in this land.¹⁰

28 And it came to be when Israel grew strong, it made the Canaanite subject to tribute, but in removing, it did not remove him.

29 And Ephraim did not remove the Canaanite dwelling in Gezer, and the Canaanite dwelt in its midst in Gezer and became subject to tribute.

30 And Zebulun did not remove those dwelling in Kidron¹¹ and those dwelling in Enaala, and the Canaanite dwelt in its midst and became subject to tribute.

31 And Asher did not remove those dwelling in Acco¹², and they became tributary to him, and those dwelling in Dor and those dwelling in Sidon and those dwelling in Ahlab¹³ and Achzib¹⁴ and Helbah¹⁵ and Aphek and Rehob.

32 And Asher dwelt in the midst of the Canaanite dwelling in the land, because he was not able to remove him.

33 And Naphtali did not remove those dwelling in Beth-shemesh nor those dwelling in Bethanath¹⁶, and Israel dwelt in the midst of the Canaanite dwelling in the land, but those dwelling in Beth-shemesh and Bethanath became subject to tribute for 34 And the Amorite pressed the sons of Dan into the mountain, because he did not allow him to go down into the valley.

35 And the Amorite began to dwell in the mountain of Myrsinon, where the bears and the foxes are, and the hand of the house of Joseph weighed heavily on the Amorite, and he became subject to tribute.

36 And the boundary of the Amorite, the Edomite, was above Akrabbim, from the rock and upward.

1 And an angel of the Lord went up from Gilgal to the place of Weeping and to Bethel and to the house of Israel and said to them, The Lord brought you up out of Egypt and brought you into the land that he swore to your fathers to give you, and he said to you, I will never scatter my covenant² with you forever.

2 And you shall not make a covenant with those dwelling in this land, and you shall certainly not bow down to their gods, but you shall shatter their carved images and dig down their altars. And you did not listen to my voice when you did these things.

3 And I said, I will not continue to move away the people³ that I said I would destroy from before you, and they shall be for you in constriction, and their gods shall be for you as a snare.

4 And it came to be, as the angel of the Lord spoke these words to all Israel, the people raised their voice and wept.

5 Because of this the name of that place was called Weeping, and there they sacrificed to the Lord.

6 And Joshua sent the people away, and the sons of Israel went, each to his house and to his inheritance, to inherit the land.

7 And the people served the Lord all the days of Joshua and all the days of the elders who lived long after Joshua⁴, who knew all the great work of the Lord that he did for Israel.

8 And Joshua son of Nun, servant of the Lord, died, being one hundred ten years old.

9 And they buried him in the boundary of his inheritance in Timnathheres⁵ in the hill-country of Ephraim, north of Mount Gaash.

10 And that whole generation was added to their fathers, and another generation arose after them, those who did not know the Lord and the work that he did for Israel.

11 And the sons of Israel did evil before the Lord and served the Baals⁶.

12 And they forsook the Lord God of their fathers who brought them out of the land of Egypt, and they went after other gods from the gods of the peoples around them and bowed down to them, and they provoked the Lord.

13 And they forsook the Lord and served Baal and the Ashtaroth.⁷

14 And the Lord burned with anger against Israel and gave them into the hand of plunderers⁸, and they plundered them, and he sold them into the hand of their enemies all around, and they were not able to stand before their enemies.⁹¹⁰¹¹

15 In all the ways in which they prostituted themselves, the hand of the Lord was against them for harm, just as the Lord spoke and just as the Lord swore, and he pressed them very hard.

16 And the Lord raised up judges for them, and they saved them from the hand of those plundering them.

17 Yet even to their judges they did not listen, because they prostituted themselves after other gods and bowed down to them and provoked the Lord, and they quickly turned aside from the way in which their fathers walked, to listen to the commandments of the Lord. They did not do so.¹²

18 And when the Lord raised up judges for them, the Lord was with the judge and saved them from the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge, because the Lord was moved by their groaning from before those besieging them and mistreating them.

19 And it came to be when the judge died, they turned back and again corrupted themselves beyond their fathers, going after other gods to serve them and to bow down to them. They did not cast off their practices¹³, and they did not depart from their hard way.

20 And the Lord burned with anger against Israel and said, Because this nation forsook my covenant that I commanded their fathers and did not listen to my voice,

21 I also will not continue to remove a man from before them from the nations that Joshua left and allowed to remain,

22 in order to test Israel by them¹⁴, whether they will keep the way of the Lord to walk in it, just as their fathers kept it, or not.

23 And the Lord left these nations so as not to remove them quickly, and he did not give them into the hand of Joshua.

Chapter 3

1 And these are the nations Joshua left to test Israel by them, all who had not known all the wars of Canaan,

2 only for the generations of the sons of Israel, to teach them war, only those before them had not known them:

3 the five satrapies of the foreigners and all the Canaanite and the Sidonian¹⁵ and the Hivite dwelling on Lebanon from Mount Baalhermon¹⁶ to Zobah¹⁷.

4 And it came to be in order to test Israel by them, to know whether they would listen to the commandments of the Lord that he commanded their fathers by the hand of Moses.

5 And the sons of Israel dwelt in the midst of the Canaanite and the Hittite and the Amorite and the Perizzite and the Hivite and the Jebusite,

6 and they took their daughters for themselves as wives and gave their daughters to their sons and served their gods.

7 And the sons of Israel did evil before the Lord and forgot the Lord their God and served the Baals and the groves.

8 And the Lord burned with anger against Israel and sold them into the hands of Chushan-rishathaim¹ king of Syrian Mesopotamia, and they served him eight years.
9 And the sons of Israel cried out to the Lord, and the Lord raised up a savior for Israel and saved them, Othniel son of Kenaz, younger brother of Caleb, and he listened to him.
10 And the Spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he judged Israel and went out to war, and the Lord gave Chushan-rishathaim king of Syria into his hand, and his hand grew strong over Chushan-rishathaim.
11 And the land was at rest fifty years, and Othniel son of Kenaz died.
12 And the sons of Israel again added to do evil before the Lord, and the Lord strengthened Eglon king of Moab against Israel because they had done evil before the Lord.
13 And he brought to himself all the sons of Ammon and Amalek, and he went and struck Israel and inherited the City of Palms.
14 And the sons of Israel served Eglon king of Moab eighteen years.
15 And the sons of Israel cried out to the Lord, and the Lord raised up for them a savior, Ehud² son of Gera, a Benjamite, an ambidextrous man³. And the sons of Israel sent gifts by his hand to Eglon king of Moab.
16 And Ehud made for himself a double-edged sword a span in length and girded it under his cloak on his right thigh.
17 And he brought the gifts to Eglon king of Moab, and Eglon was a very imposing man.
18 And it came to be, when Ehud finished presenting the gifts, he sent away those carrying the gifts.
19 And Eglon turned back from the carved images near Gilgal, and Ehud said, I have a secret word for you, O king. And Eglon said, Silence, everyone out from my presence. And all those standing by him went out from him.
20 And Ehud went in to him, and he was sitting alone in his summer upper room. And Ehud said, I have a word of God for you, O king. And Eglon rose from the throne near him.
21 And it came to be, as he rose up, Ehud stretched out his left hand and took the sword from his right thigh and drove it into the belly of Eglon.
22 And indeed he drove in the hilt behind the blade, and the fat closed over the blade, because he did not pull the sword out of his belly.
23 And Ehud went out into the vestibule and shut the doors of the upper room upon him and locked them.
24 And he went out, and his servants came in and saw, and behold, the doors of the upper room were shut. And they said, Perhaps he is relieving himself in the private room of the bedchamber.
25 And they waited until they were ashamed, and behold, there was no one opening the doors of the upper room. And they took the key and opened them, and behold, their lord had fallen dead upon the ground⁴.
26 And Ehud escaped while they were in confusion, and there was no one paying him heed, and he himself passed by the carved images and escaped to Seirath⁵.
27 And it came to be when he arrived, he sounded a horn in the hill-country of Ephraim, and the sons of Israel went down with him, and he was before them.
28 And he said to them, Come down after me, because the Lord God has given your enemies, Moab, into your hands. And they came down after him and seized the crossings⁶ of the Jordan of Moab and did not allow a man to cross over.
29 And they struck Moab at that time, about ten thousand men, every fighting man among them and every man of strength, and not a man escaped.
30 And Moab was put to shame on that day under the hand of Israel, and the land was at rest eighty years. And Ehud judged them until he died.
31 And after him arose Shamgar⁷ son of Anath, and he struck the foreigners, six hundred men, apart from the calves of the cattle, and he too saved Israel.

Chapter 4

1 And the sons of Israel again added to do evil before the Lord.
2 And the Lord sold them into the hand of Jabin king of Canaan, who reigned in Hazor, and the commander of his force was Sisera⁸, and he dwelt in Harosheth⁹ of the nations.
3 And the sons of Israel cried out to the Lord, because he had nine hundred iron chariots, and he oppressed Israel with force for twenty years.
4 And Deborah, a woman prophet, wife of Lapidoth¹⁰, she was judging Israel at that time.
5 And she sat under the palm of Deborah between Ramah and between Bethel in the hill-country of Ephraim, and the sons of Israel went up to her there for judgment.
6 And Deborah sent and called Barak¹¹ son of Abinoam¹² from Kedesh of Naphtali and said to him, Has not the Lord God of Israel commanded you? And you shall depart to Mount Tabor and take with yourself ten thousand men from the sons of Naphtali and from the sons of Zebulun.
7 And I will draw to you, to the torrent Kishon¹³, Sisera the commander of Jabin's force and his chariots and his multitude, and I will give him into your hand.
8 And Barak said to her, If you go with me, I will go, and if you do not go with me, I will not go, because I do not know the day in which the Lord prospers the angel with me.
9 And Deborah said to him, Going, I will go with you. Only know that the advantage shall not be yours¹⁴ on the way by which you are going, because into a woman's hand the Lord will give Sisera. And Deborah rose and went with Barak to Kedesh.
10 And Barak summoned Zebulun and Naphtali to Kedesh, and ten thousand men went up at his feet, and Deborah went up with him.

11 And those near the Kenite had separated from the sons of Hobab, son-in-law of Moses, and he pitched his tent by the oak of those resting, which is near Kedesh.
 12 And they reported to Sisera that Barak son of Abinoam had gone up to Mount Tabor.
 13 And Sisera called together all his chariots, because he had nine hundred iron chariots, and all the people with him, from Harosheth of the nations to the torrent Kishon.
 14 And Deborah said to Barak, Rise up, because this is the day in which the Lord has given Sisera into your hand. Look, the Lord will go out before you¹. And Barak went down from Mount Tabor, and ten thousand men after him.
 15 And the Lord threw Sisera and all his chariots and all his camp into confusion by the edge of the sword before Barak, and Sisera came down from his chariot and fled on his feet.
 16 And Barak pursued after the chariots and after the camp as far as the oak grove of the nations, and all the camp of Sisera fell by the edge of the sword; not even one was left.
 17 And Sisera withdrew on his feet to the tent of Jael², wife of Heber the Kenite, because there was peace between Jabin king of Hazor and the house of Heber the Kenite.
 18 And Jael went out to meet Sisera and said to him, Turn aside, my lord, turn aside to me, do not fear. And he turned aside to her into the tent, and she covered him with her cloak.
 19 And Sisera said to her, Give me to drink a little water, because I thirsted. And she opened the skin of milk and gave him drink and covered his face.
 20 And he said to her, Stand at the door of the tent, and it shall be, if someone comes to you and asks you and says to you, Is there a man here? you shall say, There is not. And she covered him with her cloak.
 21 And Jael wife of Heber took the tent peg and put the hammer in her hand and came in to him quietly and drove the peg into his jaw³ and it went through into the ground. And he writhed between her knees and breathed out and died.
 22 And behold, Barak was pursuing Sisera, and Jael went out to meet him and said to him, Come, and I will show you the man whom you seek. And he went in to her, and behold, Sisera had fallen dead, and the peg was in his jaw.
 23 And God humbled Jabin king of Canaan on that day before the sons of Israel.
 24 And the hand of the sons of Israel went on, going and hardening against Jabin king of Canaan, until they destroyed him.

Chapter 5

1 And Deborah sang, and Barak son of Abinoam, on that day, and said,
 2 When leaders began in Israel, in the willing offering of the people, bless the Lord.
 3 Hear, kings; give ear, satraps. I will sing to the Lord; I will make melody to the God of Israel.
 4 Lord, in your going out from Seir, in your marching from the field of Edom, the earth shook, and heaven was shaken, and the clouds dripped water.
 5 Mountains were shaken from before the Lord, this Sinai,⁴ from before the Lord God of Israel.
 6 In the days of Shamgar son of Anath, in the days of Jael, kings ceased, and ways went on twisted roads.
 7 Rule ceased in Israel, it ceased until Deborah arose, because a mother arose in Israel.
 8 They chose new gods, like barley bread. A shield, if I should see, or spear among forty thousand?
 9 My heart is toward the appointed ones of Israel, the mighty ones of the people. Bless the Lord.
 10 You who ride on the beasts of burden, you who sit on carpets,
 11 sound forth the voice of those striking up among rejoicing ones⁵. There they will give righteousness to the Lord; the righteous ones were strengthened in Israel. Then the people of the Lord went down to his cities.
 12 Awake, awake, Deborah. Awaken myriads with the people. Awake, awake, speak with song. Strengthening one, rise up, Barak, and strengthen, Deborah, Barak. Take captive your captivity, son of Abinoam.
 13 Then his strength was magnified. Lord, humble for me my stronger ones.
 14 The people of Ephraim punished them in the valley. Benjamin, your brother, among your peoples. From me, Machir came down, searching out, and from Zebulun the Lord fought for me among mighty ones, from there with the scepter of strengthening leadership.
 15 In Issachar with Deborah he sent his footmen into the valley. Why do you dwell between the lips? He stretched out at his feet. In the divisions of Reuben were great searchings of heart.
 16 Why do you sit among the sheepfolds, to hear the whistlings of those stirring up to pass through? In the matters of Reuben were great searchings of heart.
 17 Gilead camped beyond the Jordan, and Dan, why does he dwell among ships? Asher settled by the seashore and camped by his inlets.
 18 Zebulun, a people that reproached its soul to death, and Naphtali on the heights of the field.
 19 Kings came and arrayed themselves, then the kings of Canaan fought at Thennach by the water of Megiddo. They took no gain of silver.
 20 From heaven stars fought; from their order they fought with Sisera.
 21 The torrent Kishon swept them away, torrent of former days, torrent Kishon. My soul, you shall trample the mighty.
 22 Then the heels of the horse were cut off by the prancings of his mighty ones.
 23 Curse Meroz⁶, said the angel of the Lord; curse its inhabitants with a curse, because they did not come to the help of the Lord. The Lord is our helper, mighty in warriors.
 24 Blessed among women be Jael, wife of Heber the Kenite; among women in the tent let her be blessed.
 25 He asked water of her, and she gave him milk. In a bowl of the mighty she brought him butter.
 26 Her left hand she stretched to the peg, and her right hand to the work of laborers, and she struck Sisera, she shattered his head and crushed and pierced through his jaw.
 27 Between her feet, bending down, he fell; he slept between her feet. Where he bent down, there he fell, exhausted.
 28 Through the window the mother of Sisera leaned out, looking through the lattice at those returning with Sisera. Why has his chariot delayed to come? Why have the tracks of his chariots tarried?
 29 The wise women of her princesses answered her, and she answered in her own words,

31 So let all your enemies perish, O Lord, but those loving him are as the rising of the sun² in his might. And the land was at rest forty years.

Chapter 6

1 And the sons of Israel did evil before the Lord, and the Lord gave them into the hand of Midian seven years.
2 And the hand of Midian prevailed against Israel, and the sons of Israel made for themselves, because of Midian, hideouts in the mountains and caves and strongholds.
3 And it happened when a man of Israel sowed, Midian and Amalek and the sons of the east would come up against him.
4 And they would encamp against them and destroy the produce of the land as far as Gaza, and they would leave no sustenance of life in Israel, and no sheep and no calf and no donkey.
5 For they and their cattle came up, and they carried their tents and came like locusts for multitude, and there was no number for them or for their camels, and they came into the land of Israel to ruin it.
6 And Israel became very poor before Midian, and the sons of Israel cried out to the Lord.
7 And it came to be, when the sons of Israel cried out to the Lord because of Midian,
8 that the Lord sent a man, a prophet, to the sons of Israel and said to them, Thus says the Lord God of Israel: I am the one who brought you up out of Egypt and brought you out of the house of slavery.³
9 And I delivered you from the hand of Egypt and from the hand of all oppressing you, and I drove them out from before you and gave you their land.
10 And I said to you, I am the Lord your God. You shall not fear the gods of the Amorite among whom you dwell in their land, and you did not listen to my voice.
11 And an angel of the Lord came and sat under the oak that was in Ephrathah, that belonged to Joash⁴ the Abiezrite⁵, and Gideon⁶ his son was beating out wheat in a winepress to escape from before Midian.
12 And an angel of the Lord appeared to him and said to him, The Lord is with you, mighty in strength.
13 And Gideon said to him, In me, my lord? And if the Lord is with us, why have all these evils found us⁷, and where are all his wonders that our fathers recounted to us, saying, Did not the Lord bring us up out of Egypt? But now he has cast us off and given us into the hand of Midian.
14 And the angel of the Lord looked upon him and said to him, Go in your strength, and you shall save Israel. See, I have sent you.
15 And Gideon said to him, In me, my lord? By what shall I save Israel? Behold, my thousand is the humblest in Manasseh, and I am small in my father's house.
16 And the angel of the Lord said to him, The Lord will be with you, and you will strike Midian as one man.
17 And Gideon said to him, If I found favor in your eyes, then do for me a sign that you are the one speaking with me.
18 Do not move from here until I come to you and bring out my sacrifice and set it before you. And he said, I am; I will stay until you return.
19 And Gideon went in and made a kid of the goats and unleavened loaves from an ephah of flour, and he put the meat in the basket and poured the broth into the pot, and he brought them out to him under the oak and bowed down.
20 And the angel of the Lord said to him, Take the meat and the unleavened loaves and lay them on that rock, and pour out the broth. And he did so.
21 And the angel of the Lord⁸ stretched out the tip of the staff in his hand and touched the meat and the unleavened loaves, and fire sprang up from the rock and consumed the meat and the unleavened loaves, and the angel of the Lord departed from his sight.
22 And Gideon saw that he was an angel of the Lord and said, Ah, Lord, Lord, because I saw the angel of the Lord face to face.
23 And the Lord said to him, Peace to you. Do not fear; you shall not die.
24 And Gideon built there an altar to the Lord and called it Peace of the Lord⁹. Until this day it still stands in Ephrathah of the father of Ezri^{10, 11}.
25 And it came to be that night that the Lord said to him, Take your father's fattened calf, the seven-year-old bull, and pull down the altar of Baal that belongs to your father, and cut down the grove upon it.
26 And you shall build an altar to the Lord your God, who appeared to you, on the top of this stronghold mountain in the arrangement, and you shall take the bull and offer a whole burnt offering with the wood of the grove that you cut down.
27 And Gideon took ten and three men¹² from among his servants and did as the Lord spoke to him. And it came to be, because he feared his father's house and the men of the city, not to do it by day, he did it by night.
28 And the men of the city rose early in the morning, and behold, the altar of Baal had been dug down and the grove upon it had been cut down, and the fattened bull¹³ had been offered as a whole burnt offering on the altar that had been built.
29 And each man said to his neighbor, Who did this thing? And they searched and inquired and said, Gideon son of Joash did this thing.
30 And the men of the city said to Joash, Bring out your son and let him die, because he dug down the altar of Baal and because he cut down the grove upon it.
31 And Joash said to the men standing against him, Will you now judge on behalf of Baal¹⁴, or will you save him? Whoever pleads his case shall die by morning. If he is a god, let him avenge himself, because his altar was dug down.

32 And on that day he called him Tribunal of Baal, because he dug down his altar.
 33 And all Midian and Amalek and the sons of the east gathered together, and they crossed over and encamped in the valley of Jezreel.
 34 And the Spirit of God clothed Gideon¹, and he sounded the horn, and Abiezer² cried out after him.
 35 And he sent messengers through all Manasseh, and it also cried out after him³, and he sent messengers in Asher and in Zebulun and in Naphtali, and they went up to meet him.
 36 And Gideon said to God, If you are saving Israel by my hand, just as you said,
 37 behold, I lay the fleece of wool on the threshing floor, and if dew comes upon the fleece alone and drought upon all the land, then I will know that you are saving Israel by my hand, just as you said.
 38 And it happened so, and Gideon rose early the next day and squeezed the fleece, and the dew ran out of the fleece, a bowl full of water.
 39 And Gideon said to God, Let not your anger burn in me, and let me speak once more. Let me test once more with the fleece. Let there be drought upon the fleece alone, but upon all the land let there be dew.
 40 And God did so in that night, and there was drought upon the fleece alone, but upon all the land there was dew.

Chapter 7

1 And Jerubbaal⁴, that is Gideon, rose early, and all the people with him, and encamped upon the land of Harod⁵, and the camp of Midian and Amalek was to his north, from the hill of Habor⁶ in the valley.⁷
 2 And the Lord said to Gideon, The people with you are too many for me to give Midian into their hand, lest Israel boast against me, saying, My hand saved me.
 3 And the Lord said to him, Speak now in the ears of the people, saying, Whoever is fearful and afraid, let him turn back. And twenty-two thousand turned back from the people, and ten thousand were left.
 4 And the Lord said to Gideon, The people are still many. Bring them down to the water, and there I will test them for you, and it shall be that whoever I say to you, This one shall go with you, he shall go with you, and whoever I say to you, This one shall not go with you, he shall not go with you.
 5 And he brought the people down to the water. And the Lord said to Gideon, Everyone who laps with his tongue from the water, as a dog laps, you shall set him apart by himself⁸; and everyone who bends on his knees to drink, you shall place by himself.
 6 And the number of those lapping with their tongues came to three hundred men, and all the rest of the people bent on their knees to drink water.
 7 And the Lord said to Gideon, By the three hundred men who lapped⁹ I will save you and deliver Midian into your hand, and let all the people turn back, each man to his place.
 8 And they took the food of the people in their hands¹⁰ and their horns, and he sent every man of Israel away, each to his tent, but the three hundred men he kept. And the camp of Midian was beneath him in the valley.
 9 And it came to be in that night that the Lord said to him, Rise, go down from here into the camp, because I have given it into your hand.
 10 But if you fear to go down, go down, you and Purah¹¹ your servant, into the camp,
 11 and you will hear what they are saying, and after these things your hands will be strengthened¹², and you will go down into the camp. And he went down, he and Purah his servant, to the edge of the fifty in the camp.
 12 And Midian and Amalek and all the sons of the east were camped in the valley like locusts in multitude¹³, and their camels had no number, but were like the sand on the lip of the sea in multitude.
 13 And Gideon came, and behold, a man was recounting a dream to his neighbor and said, Behold, the dream that I dreamed: behold, a cake of barley bread rolling¹⁴ into the camp of Midian, and it came as far as the tent of Midian and struck it and overturned it, and the tent fell.
 14 And his neighbor answered and said, This is nothing else than the sword of Gideon son of Joash, a man of Israel. The Lord has given Midian and all the camp into his hand.
 15 And it came to be, when Gideon heard the recounting of the dream and its interpretation¹⁵, he bowed down to the Lord and returned to the camp of Israel and said, Rise up, because the Lord has given the camp of Midian into your hands.
 16 And he divided the three hundred men into three companies and gave horns into the hands of all of them and empty jars and torches in the midst of the jars.
 17 And he said to them, You shall watch from me, and thus you shall do. Behold, I am entering into the midst of the camp, and it shall be, as I do, so you shall do.
 18 And I will sound the horn, I and all those with me, and you also shall sound the horns all around the camp and say, For the Lord and for Gideon.
 19 And Gideon went in, and the hundred men with him, into the edge of the camp at the beginning of the middle watch, just as they had roused the watchmen, and they sounded the horns and smashed the jars in their hands.¹⁶
 20 And the three companies sounded with the horns and shattered the jars¹⁷, and they held in their left hand the torches and in their right hand the horns for sounding, and they cried, Sword for the Lord and for Gideon.
 21 And each stood in his place all around the camp, and all the camp ran and gave a signal and fled.

22 And the three hundred horns sounded, and the Lord set each man's sword against his neighbor and throughout all the camp¹, and the camp fled as far as Bethaseitta, gathered as far as the border of Abelmeholah² and toward Tabbath³.
 23 And a man of Israel from Naphtali and from Asher and from all Manasseh cried out, and they pursued after Midian.
 24 And Gideon sent messengers through all the hill-country of Ephraim, saying, Come down to meet Midian, and seize the waters for yourselves as far as Bethbarah⁴ and the Jordan. And every man of Ephraim cried out and seized the waters as far as Bethbarah and the Jordan.⁵
 25 And they captured the two leaders of Midian, Oreb⁶ and Zeeb⁷, and they killed Oreb at the rock of Oreb, and they killed Zeeb at the winepress of Zeeb, and they pursued Midian, and the head of Oreb and Zeeb they brought to Gideon from beyond the Jordan.⁸

1 And a man of Ephraim said to him, What is this thing you did to us, not calling us when you went out to fight against Midian? And they contended with him strongly.
 2 And he said to them, What have I done now like you? Is not the gleanings of Ephraim better than the vintage of Abiezer?
 3 Into your hand the Lord gave the leaders of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb. And what was I able to do like you? Then their spirit toward him relaxed when he spoke this word.
 4 And Gideon came to the Jordan and crossed over, he and the three hundred men with him, faint in soul and hungry.
 5 And he said to the men of Succoth, Give now loaves to the people with me, because they are hungry, and I am pursuing after Zebah⁹ and Zalmunna¹⁰, kings of Midian.
 6 And the leaders of Succoth said, Is the hand of Zebah and Zalmunna now in your hand, that we should give bread to your army?
 7 And Gideon said, Not so. When the Lord gives Zebah and Zalmunna into my hand, I will thresh your flesh with the thorns of the wilderness and with the barkonnim.
 8 And he went up from there to Penuel¹¹ and spoke to them in the same way, and the men of Penuel answered him just as the men of Succoth answered him.
 9 And he said to the men of Penuel, saying, When I return in peace, I will dig down this tower.
 10 And Zebah and Zalmunna were in Karkor¹², and their camp with them was about fifteen thousand, those left¹³ in all the camp of the sons of the east, and those fallen were one hundred twenty thousand men drawing sword.
 11 And Gideon went up by the way of those dwelling in tents east of Nobah¹⁴, opposite Zebah, and struck the camp, and the camp was confident.
 12 And Zebah and Zalmunna fled, and he pursued after them and seized the two kings of Midian, Zebah and Zalmunna, and crushed all their camp.
 13 And Gideon son of Joash returned from the war by the ascent of Ares.
 14 And he captured a young servant from the men of Succoth and questioned him, and he wrote down for him the leaders of Succoth and its elders, seventy-seven men.
 15 And Gideon came to the leaders of Succoth and said to them, Behold, Zebah and Zalmunna, about whom you reproached me, saying, Is the hand of Zebah and Zalmunna now in your hand, that we should give loaves to your exhausted men¹⁵?
 16 And he took the leaders and the elders of the city and threshed them with the thorns of the wilderness and the bramble bushes, and with them he threshed the men of Succoth.
 17 And he dug down the tower of Penuel and killed the men of the city.
 18 And he said to Zebah and Zalmunna, Where are the men whom you killed at Tabor? And they said, As you are, so were they, like the appearance, the form, of sons of kings.
 19 And Gideon said, They are my brothers and sons of my mother. As the Lord lives, if you had kept them alive, I would not kill you.
 20 And he said to Jether his firstborn, Rise, kill them. But the young man did not draw his sword, because he was afraid, because he was younger.
 21 And Zebah and Zalmunna said, Rise yourself and fall upon us, because as the man is, so is his strength¹⁶. And Gideon rose and killed Zebah and Zalmunna and took the crescents that were on the necks of their camels.
 22 And a man of Israel said to Gideon, Rule over us, you and your sons, because you saved us from the hand of Midian.
 23 And Gideon said to them, I will not rule over you, and my son will not rule over you; the Lord will rule over you.
 24 And Gideon said to them, I will ask from you a request, and give me, each man, an earring from his spoil, because they had many gold earrings, for they were Ishmaelites.
 25 And they said, Giving, we will give. And he spread out his garment, and there each man threw a gold earring from his spoil.
 26 And the weight of the gold earrings that he requested came to one thousand seven hundred shekels of gold, apart from the little moons and the necklaces and the purple garments that were upon the kings of Midian, and apart from the gold collars that were on the necks of their camels.
 27 And Gideon made it into an ephod and set it in his city in Ephrathah, and all Israel prostituted themselves after it there, and it became for Gideon and for his house as a snare.
 28 And Midian was put to shame before the sons of Israel, and they no longer lifted up their head, and the land was at rest forty years in the days of Gideon.
 29 And Jerubbaal son of Joash went and dwelt in his house.

30 And Gideon had seventy sons coming out from his loins, because he had many wives.
 31 And his concubine who was in Shechem also bore him a son, and he set his name Abimelech.
 32 And Gideon son of Joash died in a good old age¹ and was buried in the tomb of Joash his father in Ephrathah of the Abiezrites².
 33 And it came to be, when Gideon died, the sons of Israel turned back and prostituted themselves after the Baals and made Baalberith³ their covenant, for him to be a god to them.
 34 And the sons of Israel did not remember the Lord their God, the one who delivered them from the hand of all their enemies all around.
 35 And they did not show mercy with the house of Jerubbaal Gideon according to all the goodness that he did with Israel.

Chapter 9

1 And Abimelech son of Jerubbaal went to Shechem to the brothers of his mother and spoke to them and to all the kin of his mother's house, saying,
 2 Speak now in the ears of the men of Shechem, Which is better, that seventy men, all the sons of Jerubbaal, rule over you, or that one man rule over you? And remember that I am your flesh and your bone⁴.
 3 And his mother's brothers spoke concerning him in the ears of all the men of Shechem all these words, and their heart inclined after Abimelech, because they said, He is our brother.
 4 And they gave him seventy silver pieces from the house of Baalberith, and with them Abimelech hired empty and stunned men, and they went after him.
 5 And he entered into his father's house at Ephrathah and killed his brothers, the sons of Jerubbaal, seventy men, on one stone. And Jotham⁵, the youngest son of Jerubbaal, was left, because he hid himself.⁶
 6 And all the men of Shechem and all the house of Millo⁷ were gathered together, and they went and made Abimelech king by the oak of the standing place in Shechem.
 7 And they reported it to Jotham, and he went and stood on the top of Mount Gerizim and lifted up his voice and cried out and said to them, Hear me, men of Shechem, and may God hear you⁸.
 8 Going, the trees went to anoint for themselves a king, and they said to the olive tree, Reign over us.
 9 And the olive tree said to them, Shall I leave my fatness, by which God and men are glorified in me, and go to rule the trees?
 10 And the trees said to the fig tree, Come, reign over us.
 11 And the fig tree said to them, Shall I leave my sweetness and my good produce and go to rule over trees?
 12 And the trees said to the vine, Come, reign over us.
 13 And the vine said to them, Shall I leave my wine, the gladness from God of men, and go to rule trees?
 14 And the trees said to the thorn bush, Come, you reign over us.
 15 And the thorn bush said to the trees, If in truth you anoint me as king over you, come and trust in my shade, but if not, let fire come out from the thorn bush and consume the cedars of Lebanon.⁹
 16 And now, if in truth and in perfection you acted and made Abimelech king, and if you acted well with Jerubbaal and with his house, and if you acted toward him according to the repayment of his hand,
 17 as my father fought for you and cast his life in front and delivered you from the hand of Midian,
 18 but you rose up against my father's house today and killed his sons, seventy men, on one stone, and made Abimelech, son of his maidservant¹⁰, king over the men of Shechem because he is your brother,
 19 then if in truth and perfection you acted with Jerubbaal and with his house on this day, may you be blessed, and rejoice in Abimelech, and may he also rejoice in you.
 20 But if not, let fire come out from Abimelech and consume the men of Shechem and the house of Millo, and if not, let fire come out from the men of Shechem and from the house of Millo and consume Abimelech.
 21 And Jotham ran away and went on the road and fled to Rara and dwelt there away from the face of Abimelech his brother.
 22 And Abimelech ruled over Israel three years.
 23 And God sent an evil spirit between Abimelech and between the men of Shechem, and the men of Shechem acted treacherously in the house of Abimelech,
 24 to bring the injustice of the seventy sons of Jerubbaal and to lay their blood upon¹¹ Abimelech their brother who killed them, and upon the men of Shechem who strengthened his hands so as to kill his brothers.
 25 And the men of Shechem set an ambush for him on the tops of the mountains, and they robbed all who passed by them on the road, and it was reported to Abimelech.
 26 And Gaal¹² son of Ebed¹³ came, and his brothers, into Shechem, and the men of Shechem trusted in him.
 27 And they went out into the field and gathered the grapes of their vineyards and trod them and made dances and entered the house of their god and ate and drank and cursed Abimelech.
 28 And Gaal son of Ebed said, What is Abimelech, and who is the son of Shechem, that we should serve him? Is he not the son of Jerubbaal, and Zebul¹⁴ his overseer, his servant with the men of Hamor father of Shechem? And why should we serve him?¹⁵
 29 And if someone would give this people into my hand, then I would remove Abimelech, and I would say to Abimelech, Increase your force and come out.
 30 And Zebul the ruler of the city heard the words of Gaal son of Ebed and his anger burned.
 31 And he sent messengers to Abimelech with gifts, saying, Behold, Gaal son of Ebed and his brothers have arrived in Shechem, and behold, they are besieging the city against you.
 32 And now rise by night, you and the people with you, and lie in ambush in the field.

34 And Abimelech rose, and all the people with him, by night, and they lay in ambush against Shechem in four companies.

35 And it came to be in the morning, Gaal son of Ebed went out and stood at the doorway of the city gate, and Abimelech rose, and the people with him, out of the ambushes.

36 And Gaal son of Ebed saw the people and said to Zebul, Behold, people are coming down from the tops of the mountains. And Zebul said to him, You are seeing the shadow of the mountains as men.

37 And Gaal continued yet to speak and said, Behold, people are coming down by the sea from near the navel of the land, and one company is coming by way of the oak of the lookouts.

38 And Zebul said to him, Where is your mouth now, the one saying, Who is Abimelech that we should serve him? Behold, this is the people whom you despised. Go out now and fight against him.

39 And Gaal went out before the men of Shechem and fought against Abimelech.²

40 And Abimelech pursued him, and he fled from before him, and many wounded fell as far as the doors of the city.

41 And Abimelech sat in Arumah³, and Zebul drove out Gaal and his brothers from dwelling in Shechem.

42 And it came to be the next day, the people went out into the plain, and it was reported to Abimelech.

43 And he took the people and divided it into three companies⁴ and lay in ambush in it, and he saw, and behold, the people were coming out of the city, and he rose up against them and struck them.

44 And Abimelech and the companies with him spread out and stood by the gate⁵ of the city, and the two companies rushed upon all who were in the field and struck them.

45 And Abimelech fought against the city all that day and took the city, and he killed the people in it and tore down the city and sowed it with salt.

46 And all the men of the tower of Shechem heard, and they entered into the stronghold of the house of Baal-covenant.

47 And it was reported to Abimelech that all the men of the tower of Shechem had gathered together.

48 And Abimelech went up to Mount Zalmon⁶, he and all the people with him, and Abimelech took an axe in his hand and cut a load of wood and took it and put it on his shoulders and said to the people with him, What you saw me doing, quickly do as I also did.

49 And they also each cut a load⁷ and took it and went after Abimelech and put it against the stronghold and burned the stronghold upon them with fire, and all the men of the tower of Shechem died, about a thousand men and women.

50 And Abimelech went to Thebez⁸ and encamped against it and seized it first.

51 And there was a strong tower in the midst of the city, and all the men and women and all the leaders of the city fled there and shut themselves in and went up to the roof of the tower.

52 And Abimelech came as far as the tower and made war against it, and Abimelech came near the door of the tower to burn it with fire.

53 And one woman threw a fragment of millstone upon the head of Abimelech and shattered his skull.

54 And he quickly called to the young man carrying his armor and said to him, Draw your sword and kill me, lest they say, A woman killed him. And his young man pierced him through, and Abimelech died.

55 And the men of Israel saw that Abimelech had died, and each man went to his place.

56 And God returned the evil of Abimelech that he did to his father in killing his seventy brothers.

57 And all the evil of the men of Shechem God returned upon their head, and the curse of Jotham son of Jerubbaal came upon them.

Chapter 10

1 And after Abimelech there arose to save Israel Tola son of Puah, son of his father's brother, a man of Issachar, and he dwelt in Samaria⁹ in the hill-country of Ephraim.

2 And he judged Israel twenty-three years, and he died and was buried in Samaria.

3 And after him arose Jair the Gileadite, and he judged Israel twenty-two years.

4 And he had thirty-two sons riding on thirty-two foals, and they had thirty-two cities, and he called them Villages of Jair until this day; they are in the land of Gilead.

5 And Jair died and was buried in Camon¹⁰.

6 And the sons of Israel again added to do evil before the Lord, and they served the Baals and the Ashtaroth and the gods of Sidon and the gods of Moab and the gods of the sons of Ammon and the gods of the foreigners, and they forsook the Lord and did not serve him.¹¹

7 And the anger of the Lord burned against Israel, and he sold them into the hand of foreigners and into the hand of the sons of Ammon.

8 And they crushed and oppressed the sons of Israel in that year, eighteen years, all the sons of Israel beyond the Jordan in the land of the Amorite in Gilead.

9 And the sons of Ammon crossed the Jordan to make war also in Judah and Benjamin and in the house of Ephraim, and the sons of Israel were greatly oppressed.

10 And the sons of Israel cried out to the Lord, saying, We sinned against you because we forsook our God and served the Baals.

11 And the Lord said to the sons of Israel, Was it not the Egyptians and the Amorites and the sons of Ammon and Moab and the foreigners

12 and Sidonians and Midian and Amalek who oppressed you? And you cried out to me, and I saved you from their hand.

13 Yet you forsook me and served other gods; therefore I will not continue to save you.

14 Go and cry out to the gods you chose for yourselves, and let them save you in the time of your distress.

15 And the sons of Israel said to the Lord, We sinned. Do to us according to all that is pleasing before you; only, Lord, deliver us in this day.
 16 And they removed the foreign gods from their midst and served the Lord. And it was not pleasing in the people, and he grew short of soul in the toil of Israel.
 17 And the sons of Ammon went up and encamped in Gilead, and the sons of Israel went out and encamped in Mizpah¹.
 18 And the leaders of the people of Gilead said, each man to his neighbor, Who is the man that will begin to fight against the sons of Ammon? He shall be head over all dwelling in Gilead.

Chapter 11

1 And Jephthah² the Gileadite was mighty in strength, and he was the son of a prostitute woman, and Gilead fathered Jephthah.³
 2 And the wife of Gilead bore sons to him, and the sons of the wife grew up and cast out Jephthah and said to him, You shall not inherit in the house of our father, because you are the son of another woman.
 3 And Jephthah fled from before his brothers and dwelt in the land of Tob⁴, and idle men gathered to Jephthah and went out with him.
 4 And it came to be after days that the sons of Ammon made war with Israel.
 5 And it came to be when the sons of Ammon were making war with Israel, the elders of Gilead went to take Jephthah from the land of Tob.⁵
 6 And they said to Jephthah, Come and be for us as a leader, and let us fight against the sons of Ammon.
 7 And Jephthah said to the elders of Gilead, Was it not you who hated me and cast me out from my father's house and sent me away from you? And why have you now come to me when you are in distress?
 8 And the elders of Gilead said to Jephthah, Not so now; we have come to you, and you shall go with us, and we shall fight against the sons of Ammon, and you shall be for us as head over all dwelling in Gilead.
 9 And Jephthah said to the elders of Gilead, If you turn me back to fight against the sons of Ammon, and the Lord delivers them before me, I will be head for you.
 10 And the elders of Gilead said to Jephthah, The Lord shall be the one hearing between us if we do not do according to your word.
 11 And Jephthah went with the elders of Gilead, and they placed him over them as head, as a leader, and Jephthah spoke all his words before the Lord in Mizpah.
 12 And Jephthah sent messengers to the king of the sons of Ammon, saying, What is to me and to you, that you came against me to fight me in my land?
 13 And the king of the sons of Ammon said to the messengers of Jephthah, Because Israel took my land in its going up out of Egypt, from Arnon to Jabbok and to the Jordan, and now return them in peace.
 14 And the messengers turned back to Jephthah, and Jephthah again sent messengers to the king of the sons of Ammon, saying, Thus says Jephthah: Israel did not take the land of Moab and the land of the sons of Ammon.
 15 For in their going up from Egypt, Israel went in the wilderness as far as the Red Sea and came as far as Kadesh.
 16 And Israel sent messengers to the king of Edom, saying, I will pass through your land, and the king of Edom did not listen. And indeed he sent also to the king of Moab, and he was not willing, and Israel stayed at Kadesh.⁶
 17 And it passed through in the wilderness and went around the land⁷ of Edom and the land of Moab and came on the east side of the land of Moab, and they encamped beyond the Arnon, and they did not enter the border of Moab, because Arnon was the border of Moab.
 18 And Israel sent messengers to Sihon king of Heshbon the Amorite and said to him, Israel will pass through your land to my place.
 19 And Sihon was not willing for Israel to pass through his borders, and Sihon gathered all his people and encamped at Jahaz and made war with Israel.
 20 And the Lord God of Israel gave Sihon and all his people into the hand of Israel, and he struck them. And Israel inherited all the land of the Amorite dwelling in the land.
 21 And it inherited all the border of the Amorite⁸ from Arnon to Jabbok and from the wilderness to the Jordan.
 22 And now the Lord God of Israel removed the Amorite from before his people Israel, and will you inherit it against him?
 23 And will you not inherit whatever Chemosh your god caused you to inherit? And all that the Lord our God inherited from before us, these things we will inherit.
 24 And now are you at all better than Balak son of Zippor, king of Moab? Did he by fighting fight with Israel, or by warring war against them?
 25 While Israel dwelt in Heshbon and in its daughters and in Aroer and in its daughters and in all the cities beside the Jordan three hundred years, why did they not rescue them⁹ at that time?
 26 And I have not sinned against you, but you are doing evil with me by fighting against me. Let the Lord, the judge, judge today between the sons of Israel and between the sons of Ammon.
 27 And the king of the sons of Ammon did not listen to the words of Jephthah that he sent to him.
 28 And the Spirit of the Lord came upon Jephthah, and he passed through the land of Gilead and Manasseh and passed through the watchtower of Gilead, and from the watchtower of Gilead to the far side of the sons of Ammon.
 29 And Jephthah vowed a vow to the Lord and said, If indeed you deliver the sons of Ammon into my hand,
 30 then it shall be that whoever comes out from the doors of my house to meet me when I return in peace from the sons of Ammon, that one shall be the Lord's, and I will offer him up as a whole burnt offering.¹⁰
 31 And Jephthah crossed over to the sons of Ammon to fight against them, and the Lord gave them into his hand.
 32 And he struck them from Aroer and until one comes to Minnith¹¹, twenty cities, and as far as Abel of vineyards¹², a very great blow, and the sons of Ammon were put to shame from before the sons of Israel.

34 And Jephthah came to Mizpah, to his house, and behold, his daughter was coming out to meet him with tambourines and dances, and she was his only child, beloved, and besides her he had neither son nor daughter.

35 And it came to be when he saw her, he tore his garments and said, Alas, my daughter, by stumbling you have made me stumble¹; you have become as a pain in my eyes. And I opened my mouth concerning you to the Lord, and I cannot turn back.

36 And she said to him, Father, if in me you opened your mouth to the Lord, do to me according to what went out from your mouth, because the Lord made for you acts of vengeance from your enemies, from the sons of Ammon.

37 And she said to her father, Do this word for me: let me alone two months, and I will go and go down upon the mountains and weep for my virginity, I and my companions.

38 And he said, Go, and he sent her away two months. And she went, she and her companions, and she wept for her virginity upon the mountains.

39 And it came to be at the end of two months that she returned to her father, and Jephthah fulfilled his vow that he had vowed, and she had not known a man. And it became an ordinance in Israel.

40 From days to days² the daughters of Israel went to lament the daughter of Jephthah the Gileadite, four days in the year.

Chapter 12

1 And the sons of Ephraim were gathered, and they came to Sephina³ and said to Jephthah, Why did you go to fight against the sons of Ammon and not call us to go with you? We will burn your house upon you with fire.⁴

2 And Jephthah said to them, I and my people were men of contention, and the sons of Ammon were humbling me greatly, and I cried out to you, and you did not save me from their hand.

3 And I saw that there was no savior, and I put my life in my own hand⁵ and crossed over to the sons of Ammon, and the Lord gave them into my hand. And why did you come up to me this day to fight against me?

4 And Jephthah gathered all the men of Gilead and fought Ephraim, and the men of Gilead struck Ephraim, because they said, You, Gilead, are fugitives of Ephraim in the midst of Ephraim and in the midst of Manasseh.⁶

5 And the men of Gilead seized the crossings of the Jordan of Ephraim, and it happened that the fugitives of Ephraim⁷ said, Let us cross over, and the men of Gilead said to them, Are you from Ephraim? And they said, We are not.

6 And they said to them, Speak now a watchword⁸. And they did not direct themselves to speak thus, and they seized them and slaughtered them at the crossings of the Jordan. And there fell from Ephraim at that time forty-two thousand.

7 And Jephthah judged Israel six years, and Jephthah the Gileadite died and was buried in his city, Gilead.

8 And after him Heshbon from Bethlehem judged Israel.

9 And he had thirty sons and thirty daughters whom he sent outside, and he brought in thirty wives from outside for his sons, and he judged Israel seven years.

10 And Heshbon died and was buried in Bethlehem.

11 And after him Elon the Zebulunite⁹ judged Israel, and he judged Israel ten years.¹⁰

12 And Elon the Zebulunite died in Elim, and they buried him in the land of Zebulun.

13 And after him Abdon son of Hillel¹¹ the Pirathonite¹² judged Israel.

14 And he had forty sons and thirty sons of his sons, riding on seventy foals, and he judged Israel eight years.

15 And Abdon son of Hillel the Pirathonite died and was buried in Pirathon¹³ in the land of Ephraim, in the mountain of Lanak.

Chapter 13

1 And the sons of Israel again added to do evil before the Lord, and the Lord gave them into the hand of the foreigners forty years.

2 And there was a man from Zorah, from the tribe of Dan, and his name was Manoah¹⁴, and his wife was barren and did not bear.

3 And an angel of the Lord appeared to the woman and said to her, Behold now, you are barren and have not borne, yet you shall conceive and bear a son.

4 And now take care and do not drink wine and strong drink and do not eat any unclean thing.

5 For behold, you shall conceive and bear a son, and iron¹⁵ shall not come upon his head, because the child shall be a consecrated Nazirite¹⁶ to God from the womb, and he will begin to save Israel from the hand of the foreigners.

6 And the woman came and said to her husband, saying, A man of God came to me, and his appearance was like the appearance of an angel of God¹⁷, very awe-inspiring, and I asked where he was from, and he did not tell me his name.

7 And he said to me, Behold, you shall conceive and bear a son, and now do not drink wine and strong drink and do not eat any uncleanness, because the child shall be a Nazirite of God from the womb until the day of his death.

8 And Manoah prayed to the Lord and said, I beg, Lord, may the man of God whom you sent¹⁸ to us please come to us again and instruct us what we should do for the child being born.

9 And God listened to the voice of Manoah, and the angel of God came again¹⁹ to the woman while she was sitting in the field, and Manoah her husband was not with her.

10 And the woman hurried and ran and reported to her husband and said to him, Behold, the man who came to me on that day has appeared to me.

11 And Manoah rose and went after his wife to the man and said to him, Are you the man who spoke to the woman? And the angel said, I am.

12 And Manoah said, Now then, when your word comes, what shall be the ordinance for the child and his deeds?

13 And the angel of the Lord said to Manoah, From all that I said to the woman, let her keep herself¹.

14 From everything that comes out of the vine she shall not eat, and wine and strong drink she shall not drink, and every unclean thing she shall not eat. Everything that I commanded her let her keep.

15 And Manoah said to the angel of the Lord, Let us constrain you now, and we will prepare before you a kid of the goats.

16 And the angel of the Lord said to Manoah, If you constrain me², I will not eat your bread, but if you make a whole burnt offering, you shall offer it to the Lord. For Manoah did not know that he was an angel of the Lord.

17 And Manoah said to the angel of the Lord, What is your name, so that when your word comes we may glorify you?

18 And the angel of the Lord said to him, Why is this that you ask my name? It is wonderful.

19 And Manoah took the kid of the goats and the sacrifice and offered it on the rock to the Lord, to the Lord who does wonders, while Manoah and his wife were watching.

20 And it came to be when the flame went up from the altar to heaven, the angel of the Lord went up in the flame³, and Manoah and his wife were watching, and they fell on their faces to the ground.

21 And the angel of the Lord did not continue any longer to appear⁴ to Manoah and to his wife; then Manoah knew that he was an angel of the Lord.

22 And Manoah said to his wife, We shall surely die, because we have seen God.

23 And his wife said to him, If the Lord desired to kill us, he would not have received from our hands a whole burnt offering and sacrifice, and he would not have enlightened us⁵ with all these things and would not have made such things heard to us.

24 And the woman bore a son and called his name Samson⁶, and the Lord blessed him, and the child grew.

25 And the Spirit of the Lord began to go with him in the camp of Dan, between Zorah and between Eshtaol.

Chapter 14

1 And Samson went down to Thimnathah and saw a woman in Thimnathah from the daughters of the foreigners, and she was pleasing before him.

2 And he went up and reported to his father and to his mother and said, I saw a woman in Thimnathah from the daughters of the foreigners, and now take her for me as wife.

3 And his father and his mother said to him, Is there no woman from the daughters of your brothers and among all my people, that you are going to take a wife from the uncircumcised foreigners? And Samson said to his father, Take this one for me, because she is pleasing in my eyes.

4 And his father and his mother did not know that it was from the Lord, because he was seeking repayment from the foreigners, and at that time the foreigners ruled over the sons of Israel.

5 And Samson and his father and his mother went down to Thimnathah and turned aside into the vineyard of Thimnathah, and behold, a lion cub roaring to meet him.

6 And the Spirit of the Lord rushed upon him⁷, and he tore it apart as one tears apart a kid of the goats, and there was nothing in his hand. And he did not report to his father or his mother what he had done.

7 And they went down and spoke to the woman, and she was pleasing before Samson.

8 And he returned after days to take her, and he turned aside to see the carcass of the lion, and behold, a swarm of bees was in the mouth of the lion, and there was honey.

9 And he took it out into his mouth, and he went on walking and eating, and he went to his father and to his mother and gave to them, and they ate. And he did not report to them that he took the honey from the carcass of the lion.

10 And his father went down to the woman, and Samson made there a drinking feast seven days, because so the young men used to do.

11 And it came to be, in their fearing him, they appointed thirty companions for him, and they were with him.

12 And Samson said to them, I will now put forth a riddle to you, and if you tell me the riddle within the seven days of the feast, I will give you thirty linen cloths and thirty changes of garments.

13 But if you are not able to tell me, then you shall give me thirty linen cloths and thirty changes of clothing. And they said to him, Put forth your riddle, and we will hear it.

14 And he said to them, Out of the eater came food, and out of the strong came sweetness. And they were not able to tell the riddle for three days.

15 And it came to be on the fourth day they said to Samson's wife, Deceive your husband, and let him tell you the riddle, lest we burn you and your father's house with fire. Did you call us to impoverish us?⁸

16 And Samson's wife wept over him and said to him, You hate me and do not love me⁹, because the riddle that you set forth to the sons of my people you have not told to me. And Samson said to her, Behold, to my father and to my mother I have not told it, and shall I tell you?

17 And she wept over him during the seven days in which the feast was with them, and it came to be on the seventh day he told her, because she pressed him hard¹⁰, and she told the sons of her people.

18 And the men of the city said to him on the seventh day before the sun went down, What is sweeter than honey, and what is stronger than a lion? And Samson said to them, If you had not plowed with my heifer, you would not have found my riddle.

19 And the Spirit of the Lord rushed upon him¹¹, and he went down to Ashkelon and struck from there thirty men and took their

Chapter 15

1 And it came to be after days, in the days of wheat harvest, Samson visited his wife, bringing a kid of the goats, and said, I will go in to my wife in the bedroom¹. And her father did not allow him to go in to her.
2 And her father said, Saying, I said that in hating you hated her, and I gave her to your companion. Is not her younger sister better than she? Let her be yours instead of her.
3 And Samson said to him, This once I am innocent from the foreigners, because I am doing evil things with you.
4 And Samson went and caught three hundred foxes and took torches and tied tail to tail and put one torch between two tails in the middle.
5 And he set fire in the torches and let them loose into the sheaves of the foreigners and burned up the ears of grain and the pre-harvested grain from the stack and to what was standing and to vineyard and olive tree.
6 And the foreigners said, Who did this? And they said, Samson, son-in-law² of the Thamnathite, because he took his wife and gave her to his companion³. And the foreigners went up and burned the house of her father and her and her father with fire.⁴⁵
7 And Samson said to them, If you do this, I will not be pleased until I make my vengeance on each one of you.
8 And he struck them hip upon thigh, a great blow, and he went down and dwelt by the torrent in the cave of Etam⁶.
9 And the foreigners went up and encamped against Judah and were spread out in Lehi⁷.
10 And every man of Judah said to them, Why did you come up against us? And the foreigners said, We came up to bind Samson and do to him as he did to us.
11 And three thousand men from Judah went down to the cleft of the rock Etam and said to Samson, Do you not know that the foreigners⁸ rule over us? And why did you do these things to us? And Samson said to them, Just as they did to me, so I did to them.
12 And they said to him, We came down to bind you and hand you over into the hands of the foreigners. And Samson said to them, Swear to me that you yourselves will not kill me and hand me over to them, lest you yourselves fall upon me.
13 And they swore to him, saying, No, but we will surely bind you and hand you over⁹ into their hands, but with death we will not kill you. And they bound him with two new cords and brought him up from the rock.
14 And he came as far as the jawbone, and the foreigners shouted to meet him and ran to meet him. And the Spirit of the Lord rushed upon him, and the cords on his arms became like tow when it smells fire¹⁰, and his bonds were dissolved from his arms.
15 And he found a jawbone of a donkey thrown on the road and stretched out his hand and took it and struck with it a thousand men.
16 And Samson said, With the jawbone of a donkey, wiping out, I wiped them out, because with the jawbone of a donkey I struck a thousand men.
17 And it came to be when he finished speaking, he threw the jawbone from his hand and called that place Slaughter of Jawbone.
18 And he thirsted greatly and cried out to the Lord and said, You gave by the hand of your servant this great salvation¹¹, and now shall I die of thirst and fall into the hand of the uncircumcised?
19 And God opened the wound of the jawbone, and waters came out of it, and he drank, and his spirit returned in him and he revived. Therefore the name of it was called Spring, called of Jawbone, until this day.¹²
20 And he judged Israel in the days of the foreigners twenty years.

Chapter 16

1 And Samson went from there to Gaza and saw there a prostitute woman and went in to her.
2 And it was reported to the Gazites¹³, saying, Samson came here. And they surrounded and lay in ambush¹⁴ for him all night at the gate of the city and kept quiet all night, saying, Let us wait until morning light and kill him.
3 And Samson slept until midnight and rose about midnight and took hold of the doors of the gate of the city and the two posts and lifted them up with the bar and put them on his shoulders¹⁵ and carried them up to the top of the mountain that is opposite Hebron and put them there.
4 And it came to be after these things that he loved a woman by the torrent Sorek¹⁶, and her name was Delilah¹⁷.
5 And the satraps of the foreigners¹⁸ went up to her and said to her, Deceive him and see wherein his great strength lies and in what way we may prevail against him and bind him so as to humble him, and we will give you, each man, one thousand one hundred silver pieces.
6 And Delilah said to Samson, Tell me wherein your great strength lies and in what way you may be bound for your humbling.
7 And Samson said to her, If they bind me with seven fresh sinews not dried out, I will grow weak and become like one of the men.
8 And the satraps of the foreigners brought up to her seven fresh sinews not dried out, and she bound him with them.
9 And the ambush was sitting in the inner room, and she said to him, Foreigners are upon you, Samson. And he tore the sinews¹⁹ just as a strand of tow is torn when it smells fire, and his strength was not known.

11 And he said to her, If they bind me with seven new cords in which no work has been done, I will grow weak and become like one of the men.
12 And Delilah took new cords for him and bound him with them and said to him, The foreigners are upon you, Samson. And the ambush was sitting in the inner room¹. And he tore them from his arms like thread.
13 And Delilah said to Samson, Until now you have mocked me and spoken lies to me. Tell me in what you may be bound. And he said to her, If you weave the seven locks of my head with the web and fasten it with the peg into the wall, I will become weak like one of the men.
14 And Delilah put him to sleep and wove the seven curls of his head with the web and fastened them with the pegs into the wall and said to him, The foreigners are upon you, Samson. And he woke from his sleep and pulled out the pegs together with the woven cloth from the wall and the web, and his strength was not known.
15 And Delilah said to him, How can you say, I loved you, and your heart is not with me? This third time you mocked me and did not tell me wherein your great strength lies.
16 And it came to be when she wore him down with her words all night and troubled him, he grew short of soul unto death.
17 And he told her everything from his heart and said to her, A razor has not come upon my head, because I am a Nazirite of God² from my mother's womb, and if I am shaved, my strength will depart from me, and I will grow weak and become like all men.
18 And Delilah saw that he had told her everything from his heart, and she sent and called all the satraps of the foreigners, saying, Come up this once, because he told me all his heart³. And all the satraps of the foreigners came up to her and brought the silver in their hands.
19 And she put him to sleep between her knees and called the barber and shaved the seven curls of his head, and he began to be humbled, and his strength departed from him.
20 And Delilah said to him, The foreigners are upon you, Samson. And he woke from his sleep and said, I will go out and do as always and shake myself free. And he did not know that the Lord had departed from him.
21 And the foreigners seized him and gouged out his eyes and brought him down to Gaza and bound him with bronze fetters, and he was grinding in the prison house.
22 And the hair of his head began to grow back when he was shaved.
23 And the satraps of the foreigners gathered⁴ to sacrifice a great sacrifice to Dagon⁵ their god and to rejoice, and they said, Our god gave Samson our enemy into our hand.
24 And the people saw him and praised their gods and said, Our god gave our enemy into our hand, the one ravaging our land⁶, who multiplied our wounded.
25 And it came to be when their heart grew good⁷, they said, Call Samson out of the prison house and let him play before us. And they called Samson out of the prison house, and they mocked him, and they set him between the two pillars.
26 And Samson said to the young servant guiding his hand, Let me rest now and let me feel the pillars upon which the house has been supported, and I will lean upon them. And the boy did so.
27 And the house was full of men and women, and all the satraps of the foreigners were there, and on the roof were about three thousand men and women looking on as Samson was mocked.
28 And Samson cried out to the Lord and said, Lord, Lord, remember me and strengthen me now, only this once, and I will exact one vengeance for my two eyes from the foreigners.
29 And Samson took hold of the two middle pillars upon which the house had been supported and leaned upon them, one with his right hand and one with his left.
30 And Samson said, Let my soul die⁸ with the foreigners. And he bent in strength, and the house fell upon the satraps and upon all the people in it, and the dead whom Samson killed in his death were more than those whom he killed in his life.
31 And his brothers and all the house of his father⁹ went down and took him and went up and buried him between Zorah and between Eshtaol in the tomb of Manoah his father. And he judged Israel twenty years.

Chapter 17

1 And there was a man from the hill-country of Ephraim, and his name was Micah.
2 And he said to his mother, The eleven hundred silver pieces taken from you, about which you pronounced an oath¹⁰ and spoke in my ears, behold, the silver is with me; I took it. And his mother said, Blessed be my son to the Lord.
3 And he returned the eleven hundred silver pieces to his mother, and his mother said, With consecration I consecrated¹¹ the silver to the Lord from my hand alone, to make a carved image and a molten image, and now I will return them to you and give it back to you.
4 And he returned the silver to his mother, and his mother took two hundred silver pieces and gave it to the metalworker, and he made it into a carved image and a molten image¹², and it came to be in the house of Micah.
5 And the man Micah had a house of God, and he made an ephod and teraphim and filled the hand of one of his sons, and he became priest for him.
6 In those days there was no king in Israel; each man did what was good in his own eyes.
7 And there was a young man from Bethlehem, clan of Judah, from the family of Judah, and he was a Levite, and he was staying there as a resident.
8 And the man went from the city of Judah, from Bethlehem, to reside wherever he might find, and he came to the hill-country of Ephraim, as far as the house of Micah, to make his way.
9 And Micah said to him, From where do you come? And he said to him, I am a Levite from Bethlehem of Judah, and I am going to reside wherever I may find.

Chapter 18

1 In those days there was no king in Israel, and in those days the tribe of Dan was seeking for itself an inheritance to dwell in, because until those days no inheritance had fallen to it in the midst of the tribes of Israel.

2 And the sons of Dan sent from their families five men from among them, sons of strength², from Zorah and Eshtaol, to inspect the land and to search it out, and they said to them, Go and search out the land. And they came to the hill-country of Ephraim as far as the house of Micah and rested there.

3 While they were by the house of Micah, they recognized the voice of the young Levite³, and they turned aside there and said to him, Who brought you here, and what are you doing in this place, and what do you have here?

4 And he said to them, Thus and thus Micah did for me, and he hired me, and I became his priest.

5 And they said to him, Inquire now of God, and we will know whether our way on which we are going will prosper.

6 And the priest said to them, Go in peace⁴. Before the Lord is your way in which you are going.

7 And the five men went and came to Laish⁵ and saw the people dwelling in it, sitting in confidence⁶ according to the judgment of the Sidonians, being quiet in confidence and unable to speak a word, because they are far from Sidon and have no dealings with Syria.

8 And the five men came to their brothers at Zorah and Eshtaol, and their brothers said to them, Why are you sitting here?

9 And they said, Rise and let us go up against them, because we entered and walked through the land as far as Laish and saw the people dwelling in it in confidence according to the custom of the Sidonians, and they are far from Sidon and have no dealings with Syria. But rise and let us go up against them, because we found the land, and behold, it is very good, and you keep silent. Do not hesitate to go, to enter and inherit the land.

10 When you enter, you will come to a trusting people, and the land is broad, because God has given it into your hand, a place where there is no lack of anything that is in the land.

11 And from the family of Dan, from Zorah and Eshtaol, six hundred men girded with the weapons of war set out.

12 And they went up and encamped in Kirjathjearim in Judah. Therefore that place was called Camp of Dan until this day; behold, it is behind Kirjathjearim.

13 They passed on from there and came to the hill-country of Ephraim and came to the house of Micah.

14 And the five men going to inspect the land answered and said to their brothers, Do you know that in these houses⁷ there are an ephod and teraphim and a carved image and a molten image? And now know what you will do.

15 And they turned aside there and entered into the house of the young Levite, into the house of Micah, and greeted him.

16 And the six hundred men girded with the weapons of war⁸, from the sons of Dan, stood by the doorway of the gate.

17 And the five men going to inspect the land went up there and took the carved image and the ephod and the teraphim and the molten image, while the priest stood by the doorway of the gate and the six hundred men girded with the weapons of war.⁹

18 And these entered into the house of Micah and took the carved image and the ephod and the teraphim and the molten image. And the priest said to them, What are you doing?

19 And they said to him, Be silent; put your hand upon your mouth¹⁰ and come with us, and you shall be to us as father and as priest. Is it not better for you to be priest to the house of one man than for you to become priest to a tribe and a family in Israel?

20 And the heart of the priest was gladdened, and he took the ephod and the teraphim and the carved image and the molten image and entered into the midst of the people.

21 And they turned and went away, and they placed the household and the possessions and his glorious things before them.

22 And when they had gone a good distance from the house of Micah, behold, Micah and the men with the house with Micah cried out after the sons of Dan.

23 And the sons of Dan turned their faces and said to Micah, What is wrong with you, that you cried out?

24 And Micah said, My carved image that I made for myself you took, and the priest, and you went away. And what remains to me now? And why do you say to me, Why do you cry out?

25 And the sons of Dan said to him, Let your voice not be heard with us, lest bitter-souled men fall upon you and you lose your life and the life of your household.

26 And the sons of Dan went on their way, and Micah saw that they were stronger than he, and he turned aside and returned to his house.

27 And they took what Micah had made and the priest who was his, and they came to Laish, to a people quiet and confident, and struck them with the edge of the sword and burned the city with fire.¹¹

28 And there was no deliverer, because it is far from the Sidonians, and they have no dealings with men, and it is in the valley that belongs to the house of Rehob. And they built the city and dwelt in it.

29 And they called the name of the city Dan, after the name of their father who was born to Israel, though the name of the city formerly was Laish.

30 And the sons of Dan set up for themselves the carved image of Micah, and Jonathan son of Gershom, son of Moses, he and his sons were priests to the tribe of Dan until the day of the captivity of the land.¹²

31 And they set up for themselves the carved image of Micah that he made all the days that the house of God was in Shiloh.

Chapter 19

1 And it came to be in those days, and there was no king in Israel, and there was a Levite man residing in the flanks of the hill-country of Ephraim, and the man took for himself a concubine wife from Bethlehem of Judah.
2 And his concubine became angry with him and went away from him to the house of her father in Bethlehem of Judah and was there four months.
3 And her husband rose and went after her to speak to her heart¹, to reconcile her to himself and bring her back again to him, with his servant with him and a pair of pack animals. And he went to the house of her father, and the father of the young woman saw him and came joyfully to meet him.
4 And his father-in-law, the father of the young woman, brought him in and he stayed with him three days, and they ate and drank and slept there.
5 And it came to be on the fourth day, they rose early in the morning, and he arose to depart, and the father of the young woman said to his son-in-law, Strengthen your heart² with a morsel of bread, and after this you may go.
6 And they sat and both of them ate together and drank, and the father of the young woman said to the man, Begin now, lodge overnight, and let your heart be glad.
7 And the man rose to depart, and his father-in-law constrained him, and again he lodged there.
8 And he rose early in the morning on the fifth day to depart, and the father of the young woman said, Strengthen your heart with bread and make camp until the day declines. And both of them ate and drank.
9 And the man rose to depart, he and his concubine and his servant, and his father-in-law, the father of the young woman, said to him, Behold now, toward evening the day has declined; lodge here still today, and let your heart be glad, and rise early tomorrow for your journey, and you will go to your tent.
10 But the man was not willing to lodge, and he rose and went away and came opposite Jebus, this is Jerusalem, and with him was a pair of saddled pack animals, and his concubine was with him.
11 While they were still near Jebus and the day had declined greatly, the servant said to his master, Come now and let us turn aside into this city of the Jebusite and lodge in it.
12 And his master said to him, I will certainly not turn aside into a city of foreigners who are not of the sons of Israel, but we will pass on as far as Gibeah.
13 And he said to his servant, Come and let us enter one of the places and lodge in Gibeah or in Ramah.
14 And they passed by and went on, for the sun set near Gibeah, which belongs to Benjamin.
15 And they turned aside there to enter to lodge in Gibeah, and they entered and sat in the square of the city, and there was no man bringing them into the house to lodge.
16 And behold, an old man came in from his work out of the field at evening, and the man was from the hill-country of Ephraim and he resided in Gibeah, but the men of the place were sons of Benjamin.
17 And lifting up his eyes, he saw the traveling man in the square of the city, and the old man said, Where are you going and from where do you come?
18 And he said to him, We are passing through from Bethlehem of Judah to the flanks of the hill-country of Ephraim; I am from there, and I went to Bethlehem of Judah, and I am turning back to my house, and there is no man bringing me into the house³.
19 And indeed there is straw and fodder for our donkeys, and there is bread and wine for me and for your maidservant and for the servant with your servants; there is no lack of anything⁴.
20 And the old man said, Peace to you. Only let all your lack be upon me; only do not lodge in the square.
21 And he brought him into his house and fed his pack animals, and they washed their feet and ate and drank.
22 And while their hearts were gladdened, behold, the men of the city, sons of lawlessness, surrounded the house and beat on the door and said to the man, the master of the house, the old man, saying, Bring out the man who entered your house, so that we may know him.
23 And the man, the master of the house, went out to them and said to them, No, brothers, do not do evil, after this man has entered my house do not do this folly.
24 Behold, my virgin daughter and his concubine, I will bring them out now, and humble them and do to them what is good in your eyes, but to this man do not do this word of folly.
25 And the men were not willing to listen to him, and the man took hold of his concubine and brought her out to them outside, and they knew her and abused her all night⁵ until morning and sent her away when dawn was rising.
26 And the woman came toward morning and fell by the door of the gate of the man's house where her master was, until it became light.
27 And her master rose in the morning and opened the doors of the house and went out to go on his way, and behold, his concubine wife had fallen by the door, and her hands were on the threshold⁶.
28 And he said to her, Rise and let us go. And she did not answer him, but had died. And he lifted her onto the pack animal, and the man rose and went to his place.
29 And he entered into his house and took the sword and took hold of his concubine and cut her up according to her bones into twelve parts and sent them into all the tribes of Israel.
30 And it came to be, everyone seeing said, Such a thing neither happened nor was seen from the day the sons of Israel came up from Egypt until this day. And he commanded the men to whom he sent them, saying, Thus you shall say to every man of Israel: Has this matter happened from the day the sons of Israel came up from Egypt until this day? Set counsel for yourselves⁷ about her and speak.

Chapter 20

1 And all the sons of Israel went out, and all the congregation was assembled as one man from Dan and as far as Beersheba and the land of Gilead, to the Lord at Mizpah.
2 And the whole assembly of the people, all the tribes of Israel, stood in the gathering of the people of God, four hundred thousand foot men drawing sword.

⁷ T: Greek expands with set counsel for yourselves about her.

3 And the sons of Benjamin heard that the sons of Israel had gone up to the Lord at Mizpah. And the sons of Israel said, Speak, where did this evil happen?

4 And the Levite man, husband of the murdered woman, answered and said, I came to Gibeah of Benjamin, I and my concubine, to lodge.

5 And the men from Gibeah rose against me and surrounded the house against me by night, and they wanted to kill me, and they humbled my concubine and abused her, and she died.

6 And I took hold of my concubine and cut her up and sent her¹ through every border of the inheritance of Israel, because they committed folly in Israel.

7 Behold, all of you are sons of Israel; give to yourselves word and counsel².

8 And all the people rose as one man, saying, We will not go, man into his tent, and we will not turn aside, man to his house.

9 And now this is the word that we will do to Gibeah: we will go up against it by lot.

10 And we will take ten men by the hundred and a hundred by the thousand and a thousand by the ten thousand, to take provisions³ for the people, for those entering to execute against Gibeah of Benjamin according to all the folly that they did in Israel.

11 And all Israel, man from the cities, was gathered as one man, coming together.

12 And the tribes of Israel sent men in every tribe of Benjamin, saying, What is this evil that happened among you?

13 And now give the men, the ungodly ones in Gibeah, the sons of Belial⁴, and we will put them to death and remove evil from Israel. But the sons of Benjamin were not willing to listen to the voice of their brothers, the sons of Israel.⁵

14 And the sons of Benjamin were gathered from their cities to Gibeah to go out to fight with the sons of Israel.

15 And the sons of Benjamin were counted on that day from the cities, twenty-five thousand men drawing sword, besides the inhabitants of Gibeah; these were counted, seven hundred chosen young men.⁶

16 All these were ambidextrous slingers, throwing stones at a hair and not missing.

17 And every man of Israel was counted apart from the sons of Benjamin, four hundred thousand men drawing sword; all these were men of war.

18 And they arose and went up to Bethel and inquired of God, and the sons of Israel said, Who will go up for us, leading to fight⁷ with Benjamin? And the Lord said, Judah shall go up, leading.

19 And the sons of Israel rose and encamped against Gibeah.

20 And every man of Israel went out to war with Benjamin, and the men of Israel lined up with them for battle against Gibeah.

21 And the sons of Benjamin went out from the city and destroyed from Israel on that day twenty-two thousand men to the ground.

22 And the men of Israel strengthened themselves and again lined up for battle in the place where they lined up on the first day.

23 And the sons of Israel went up and wept before the Lord until evening and inquired of the Lord, saying, Shall I again draw near to battle with Benjamin my brother? And the Lord said, Go up against him.

24 And the sons of Israel approached Benjamin on the second day.

25 And Benjamin went out from Gibeah to meet them on the second day and destroyed from the people eighteen thousand men to the ground, all these drawing sword.

26 And all the sons of Israel and all the people went up and came to Bethel and wept before the Lord and fasted on that day and offered whole burnt offerings of salvation⁸ before the Lord.

27 And the sons of Israel inquired of the Lord⁹, and there the ark of the covenant of the Lord was in those days,

28 and Phinehas son of Eleazar son of Aaron stood before it in those days, saying, Shall I again go out to war with the sons of Benjamin my brother, or shall I cease? And the Lord said, Go up, because tomorrow I will give him into your hand.

29 And the sons of Israel set an ambush around Gibeah.

30 And Israel lined up against Benjamin on the third day and arrayed themselves against Gibeah as once and again.

31 And the sons of Benjamin went out to meet the people and were drawn away from the city and began to strike from the people as once and again on the roads, one going up to Bethel and one going up to Gibeah in the field, about thirty men in Israel.

32 And the sons of Benjamin said, They are stumbling before us as at first. But the sons of Israel said, Let us flee and draw them out from the city to the roads.

33 And every man of Israel rose from his place and arrayed themselves at Baaltamar¹⁰, and the ambush of Israel came out from its place¹¹ from the west of Gibeah.

34 And opposite Gibeah came ten thousand chosen men from all Israel, and the battle became heavy, and they did not know that evil was touching them.

35 And the Lord routed Benjamin before Israel, and the sons of Israel destroyed in Benjamin on that day twenty-five thousand one hundred men, all these drawing sword.

36 And Benjamin saw that it had been routed. And the men of Israel gave place to Benjamin because they relied on the ambush that they had set against Gibeah.

37 And the ambush rushed and spread out toward Gibeah, and the ambush went and struck the whole city with the edge of the sword.

38 And the signal between the men of Israel and the ambush was for them to bring up from the city a torch of smoke.

39 And the men of Israel turned in the battle, and Benjamin had begun striking down wounded men in Israel, about thirty men, because they said, Surely by defeat they are defeated¹² before us as in the former battle.

40 And the torch began to go up from the city, a pillar of smoke, and Benjamin looked behind him, and behold, the whole destruction of the city went up to heaven.

41 And the men of Israel turned back, and the man of Benjamin was terrified, and he saw that evil had touched him.

42 And they turned before the men of Israel to the way of the wilderness, and the battle overtook him, and those from the cities destroyed him in their midst.

43 And they cut down Benjamin, giving him no rest, and trampled him down as far as opposite Gibeah from the east of the sun.

44 And there fell from Benjamin eighteen thousand men; with all these were mighty men.

45 And they turned aside and fled into the wilderness to the rock Rimmon, and they gleaned five thousand men on the roads and clung after him as far as Gadaam and struck from them two thousand men.

46 And all those falling in Benjamin were twenty-five thousand men drawing sword on that day, with all these mighty men.

47 And six hundred men turned aside and fled into the wilderness to the rock Rimmon and sat at the rock Rimmon four months.¹

48 And the men of Israel shut in the sons of Benjamin and struck them with the edge of the sword from the city onward to beast and to everything found; all the cities they found they sent out in fire.

Chapter 21

1 And a man of Israel swore at Mizpah, saying, No man from us will give his daughter to Benjamin as wife.

2 And all the people came to Mizpah and Bethel and sat there until evening before God and lifted up their voice and wept with great weeping.

3 And they said, Why, Lord God of Israel, has this happened in Israel, that one tribe should be missing in Israel today?

4 And it came to be on the next day, the people rose early and built there an altar and offered whole burnt offerings of salvation.²

5 And the sons of Israel said, Who is there that did not go up in the assembly³ from all the tribes of Israel to the Lord? For a great oath had been made against whoever did not go up to the Lord at Mizpah, saying, He shall surely die.

6 And the sons of Israel were moved concerning Benjamin their brother and said, One tribe has been taken away from Israel today.

7 What shall we do for those left for wives, since we swore by the Lord not to give them from our daughters as wives?

8 And they said, Which one from the tribes of Israel is it that did not go up to the Lord at Mizpah? And behold, no man had come from Jabesh⁴ Gilead to the camp to the assembly.

9 And the people were counted, and behold, there was no man there from the inhabitants of Jabesh Gilead.

10 And the congregation sent there twelve thousand men from the sons of might and commanded them, saying, Go and strike all dwelling in Jabesh Gilead with the edge of the sword, and the women and the people.

11 And this is the word that you shall do: every male and every woman knowing the bed of a male you shall devote to destruction.

12 And they found from the inhabitants of Jabesh Gilead four hundred young women, virgins who had not known man by the bed of a male, and they brought them to the camp at Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan.⁵

13 And all the congregation sent and spoke to Benjamin at the rock Rimmon and called them to peace.

14 And Benjamin returned to the sons of Israel at that time, and they gave them the women who had been from the women of Jabesh Gilead, and it pleased them thus.

15 And the people were moved for Benjamin because the Lord made a break in the tribes of Israel.

16 And the elders of the congregation said, What shall we do for the rest for wives, because woman has been wiped out from Benjamin?

17 And they said, A preserved inheritance belongs to Benjamin, and a tribe shall certainly not be blotted out from Israel.

18 And we are not able to give them wives from our daughters, because the sons of Israel swore, saying, Cursed is the one giving a wife to Benjamin.

19 And they said, Behold, a feast to the Lord at Shiloh from days to days, which is north of Bethel toward the rising of the sun, on the road going up from Bethel to Shechem, and south of Lebonah^{6,7}.

20 And they commanded the sons of Benjamin, saying, Go and lie in ambush in the vineyards.

21 And you shall watch, and behold, when the daughters of those dwelling in Shiloh come out in Shiloh to dance in dances⁸, then you shall come out from the vineyards and each man seize for himself a wife from the daughters of Shiloh and go away to the land of Benjamin.

22 And it shall be when their fathers or their brothers come to contend with us, we will say to them, Show mercy to them⁹, because not each man took his wife in the war. For you did not give to them at the proper time; otherwise you would have trespassed.

23 And the sons of Benjamin did so and took wives according to their number from the dancers whom they carried off¹⁰, and they went away and returned to their inheritance and built for themselves cities and dwelt in them.

24 And the sons of Israel walked from there at that time, each man to his tribe and to his family, and each man went away from there to his inheritance.

25 In those days there was no king in Israel; each man did what was right in his own eyes.

Ruth

Chapter 1

1 And it came to be in the judging of the judges, and there was famine in the land, and a man from Bethlehem of Judah went to reside in the field of Moab, he and his wife and his sons.

2 And the name of the man was Elimelech¹, and the name of his wife Naomi², and the names of his two sons Mahlon³ and Chilion⁴, Ephrathites⁵ from Bethlehem of Judah, and they came into the field of Moab and were there.⁶

3 And Elimelech, husband of Naomi, died, and she was left, she and her two sons.

4 And they took for themselves Moabite women; the name of the one was Orpah⁷ and the name of the second Ruth⁸, and they dwelt there about ten years.⁹

5 And both Mahlon and Chilion also died, and the woman was left without her husband and without her two sons.

6 And she rose, she and her two daughters-in-law, and they returned from the field of Moab, because she heard in the field of Moab that the Lord had visited his people to give them bread.

7 And she went out from the place where she had been there, and her two daughters-in-law with her, and they were going on the road to return to the land of Judah.

8 And Naomi said to her daughters-in-law, Go now, return each to her mother's house. May the Lord deal with you in mercy¹⁰, as you dealt with the dead and with me.

9 May the Lord give to you, and may each of you find rest in the house of her husband. And she kissed them, and they lifted up their voice and wept.

10 And they said to her, With you we will return to your people.

11 And Naomi said, Return now, my daughters. Why are you going with me? Are there yet sons in my womb, and will they be husbands for you?

12 Return now, my daughters, because I have grown old, not to belong to a husband. For if I said, There is hope for me to belong to a husband and bear sons,

13 would you wait for them until they grow up? Or would you be restrained on account of them from belonging to a husband? No, my daughters, because it has become very bitter for me concerning you, because the hand of the Lord has gone out¹¹ against me.

14 And they lifted up their voice and wept again, and Orpah kissed her mother-in-law and returned to her people, but Ruth followed her.

15 And Naomi said to Ruth, Behold, your fellow daughter-in-law turned back to her people and to her gods. Turn back now, you also, after your fellow daughter-in-law.

16 And Ruth said, Do not press me to leave you or to turn back from behind you, because wherever you go, I will go, and wherever you lodge, I will lodge. Your people shall be my people, and your God my God.¹²

17 And wherever you die, I will die, and there I will be buried. Thus may the Lord do to me, and thus may he add, because only death will divide between me and you.

18 And Naomi saw that she was strong in going with her, and she ceased speaking to her any more.

19 And both of them went until they came to Bethlehem, and all the city sounded over them, and they said, Is this Naomi?

20 And she said to them, Do not call me Naomi; call me Bitter, because the Mighty One has made things very bitter in me.

21 I went away full, and the Lord brought me back empty. And why do you call me Naomi, when the Lord humbled me and the Mighty One afflicted me?

22 And Naomi returned, and Ruth the Moabitess her daughter-in-law with her, returning from the field of Moab. And they came to Bethlehem at the beginning of barley harvest.

Chapter 2

1 And for Naomi there was a known man to her husband, and the man was mighty in strength from the kindred of Elimelech, and his name was Boaz¹³.¹⁴

2 And Ruth the Moabitess said to Naomi, Let me now go to the field and glean among the ears behind whoever I find favor in his eyes. And she said to her, Go, daughter.

3 And she went and gleaned in the field behind the reapers, and it happened by chance upon the portion of the field of Boaz, who was from the kindred of Elimelech.

4 And behold, Boaz came from Bethlehem and said to the reapers, The Lord be with you. And they said to him, May the Lord bless you.

5 And Boaz said to his young servant set over the reapers, Whose young woman is this?

6 And the young servant set over the reapers answered and said, She is the Moabite girl who returned with Naomi from the field of Moab.

7 And she said, Let me now glean and gather among the sheaves behind the reapers. And she came and has stood from early morning until evening; she did not rest in the field except a little.

8 And Boaz said to Ruth, Have you not heard, daughter? Do not go to another field to glean, and do not go from here. Here stay close with my girls.

¹ Nm: Elimelech (Eli Melek) — My God is king. Naomi's husband; his name confesses God as king in the days of the judges.

² Nm: Naomi (Naomi) — Pleasant; my delight. Ruth's mother-in-law; her bitter season was reversed by covenant kindness.

¹⁰ T: The Greek blessing uses mercy language directly. Manual Logos export across all witnesses supports keeping mercy or kindness visible rather than flattening the blessing into a generic goodwill phrase.

¹⁴ T: Greek-form names here include Boos for Boaz and Abimelech for Elimelech in the Ruth kinship line. Main text uses standard English Ruth names while preserving the LXX wording of the kinship statement.

9 Let your eyes be on the field where they reap, and go behind them¹. Behold, I commanded the young men not to touch you, and whenever you thirst, go to the vessels and drink from where the young men draw water.

10 And she fell on her face and bowed to the ground and said to him, Why did I find favor in your eyes, that you should notice me, when I am a foreign woman?

11 And Boaz answered and said to her, It was fully reported to me all that you have done with your mother-in-law after the death of your husband, and how you left your father and your mother and the land of your birth and went to a people you did not know yesterday or the day before.²

12 May the Lord repay your work, and may your wage be full from the Lord God of Israel, under whose wings you came to trust³.

13 And she said, May I find favor in your eyes, lord, because you comforted me and because you spoke to the heart⁴ of your servant, and behold, I shall be as one of your maidservants.

14 And Boaz said to her, Already it is time to eat; come here and eat of the bread and dip your morsel in the vinegar. And Ruth sat beside the reapers, and Boaz heaped parched grain for her, and she ate and was filled and left some.

15 And she rose to glean, and Boaz commanded his young men, saying, Indeed let her glean even among the sheaves, and do not shame her.

16 And in carrying, carry for her; indeed in dropping, drop for her from the armfuls and leave them, and she will glean, and you shall not rebuke her.

17 And she gleaned in the field until evening and beat out what she had gleaned, and it came to be about an ephah of barley.

18 And she took it and went into the city, and her mother-in-law saw what she had gleaned. And Ruth brought out and gave to her what she had left from what satisfied her.

19 And her mother-in-law said to her, Where did you glean today, and where did you work? Blessed be the one noticing you⁵.

And Ruth reported to her mother-in-law where she worked and said, The name of the man with whom I worked today is Boaz.

20 And Naomi said to her daughter-in-law, Blessed is he by the Lord, because he did not forsake his mercy⁶ with the living and with the dead. And Naomi said to her, The man is near to us; he is from those redeeming us.

21 And Ruth said to her mother-in-law, Indeed he also said to me, Stay close with my young men until they finish all the harvest that belongs to me.

22 And Naomi said to Ruth her daughter-in-law, It is good, daughter, that you went with his girls, and they will not meet you in another field.

23 And Ruth stayed close to the girls of Boaz, gleaning until the barley harvest and the wheat harvest were finished, and she lived with her mother-in-law.

Chapter 3

1 And Naomi her mother-in-law said to her, Daughter, shall I not seek rest for you, so that it may be well with you?⁷

2 And now, is not Boaz our kinsman, with whose girls you were? Behold, he winnows the threshing floor of barley tonight.

3 And you shall wash and anoint yourself and put your garment upon yourself and go up to the threshing floor. Do not make yourself known to the man until he finishes eating and drinking.

4 And it shall be when he lies down, you will know the place where he lies there, and you will come and uncover the things at his feet and lie down, and he will tell you what you shall do.⁸

5 And Ruth said to her, Everything that you say I will do.

6 And she went down to the threshing floor and did according to all that her mother-in-law commanded her.

7 And Boaz ate and his heart was made glad, and he came to lie down at the edge of the heap, and she came secretly and uncovered the things at his feet.

8 And it happened at midnight, and the man was startled and disturbed, and behold, a woman lay at his feet.

9 And he said, Who are you? And she said, I am Ruth your servant, and you shall spread your wing over your servant, because you are a redeemer.

10 And he said, Blessed are you by the Lord God, daughter, because you made your latter mercy better than the first⁹, by not going after young men, whether poor or rich.

11 And now, daughter, do not fear. Everything that you say I will do for you, for every tribe of my people knows that you are a woman of strength.

12 And now, truly I am a redeemer, and yet there is a redeemer nearer than I.

13 Lodge here tonight, and it shall be in the morning, if he redeems you¹⁰, good, let him redeem; but if he does not want to redeem you, I will redeem you, as the Lord lives. Sleep until morning.

14 And she slept at his feet until morning, and she rose before one man could recognize his neighbor. And Boaz said, Let it not be known that a woman came to the threshing floor.

15 And he said to her, Bring the mantle that is upon you. And she held it, and he measured six of barley and put it on her, and she went into the city.

16 And Ruth entered to her mother-in-law, and she said, Who are you, daughter? And she told her everything that the man did for her.

17 And she said to her, He gave me these six of barley, because he said to me, Do not enter empty to your mother-in-law.

18 And she said, Sit, daughter, until you know how the matter will fall, for the man will certainly not rest until he completes the matter today.

Chapter 4

1 And Boaz went up to the gate and sat there, and behold, the redeemer was passing by whom Boaz had spoken of, and Boaz said to him, Turn aside, sit here, hidden one. And he turned aside and sat.

2 And Boaz took ten men from the elders of the city and said, Sit here. And they sat.
 3 And Boaz said to the redeemer, The portion of the field that belongs to our brother Elimelech is being given to Naomi who returned from the field of Moab.
 4 And I said, I will uncover your ear¹, saying, Buy it before those sitting here and before the elders of my people. If you redeem, redeem; but if you do not redeem, tell me, and I will know, because there is none besides you to redeem, and I am after you. And he said, I am; I will redeem.
 5 And Boaz said, On the day of your acquiring the field from the hand of Naomi, and from Ruth the Moabitess, wife of the dead man, it is necessary for you also to acquire her for yourself, so as to raise up the name of the dead over his inheritance.
 6 And the redeemer said, I will not be able to redeem for myself, lest I ruin my own inheritance. Redeem my redemption-right for yourself, because I will not be able to redeem.
 7 And this was the custom formerly in Israel concerning redemption and concerning exchange², to establish every word: a man would loosen his sandal and give it to his neighbor redeeming his right, and this was a witness in Israel.
 8 And the redeemer said to Boaz, Acquire my redemption-right for yourself, and he loosened his sandal and gave it to him.
 9 And Boaz said to the elders and to all the people, You are witnesses today that I acquired everything of Elimelech and everything belonging to Chilion and to Mahlon from the hand of Naomi.
 10 And indeed Ruth the Moabitess, wife of Mahlon, I acquired for myself as wife, to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance, and the name of the dead shall not be blotted out from among his brothers and from the tribe of his people. You are witnesses today.
 11 And all the people at the gate said, Witnesses. And the elders said, May the Lord make your wife entering into your house like Rachel and like Leia, who both built the house of Israel, and may they make strength in Ephrathah, and may your name be in Bethlehem.³
 12 And may your house become like the house of Perez, whom Tamar bore to Judah, from the seed that the Lord will give you⁴ from this servant girl.
 13 And Boaz took Ruth, and she became his wife, and he went in to her, and the Lord gave her conception, and she bore a son.
 14 And the women said to Naomi, Blessed be the Lord, who did not leave you without a redeemer today, and may your name be called in Israel.
 15 And he shall be for you a restoring of soul and to nourish your old age, because your daughter-in-law who loved you bore him, she who is good to you beyond seven sons.
 16 And Naomi took the child and placed him in her bosom, and she became nurse to him.
 17 And the neighboring women called his name, saying, A son has been born to Naomi, and they called his name Obed⁵; he is the father of Jesse⁶, the father of David.
 18 And these are the generations of Perez: Perez fathered Hezron,
 19 and Hezron fathered Haran, and Haran fathered Amminadab,
 20 and Amminadab fathered Nahshon, and Nahshon fathered Salmon⁷,
 21 and Salmon fathered Boaz, and Boaz fathered Obed,
 22 and Obed fathered Jesse, and Jesse fathered David.

1 Samuel

Chapter 1

1 There was a man from Ramathaim-Zophim¹, from the hill-country of Ephraim, and his name was Elkanah, son of Jeroham², son of Elihu³, son of Tohu⁴, in Zuph Ephraim.⁵

2 And to him were two wives; the name of the one was Hannah⁶ and the name of the second Peninnah⁷, and Peninnah had children, but Hannah had no child.

3 And the man went up from days to days from his city, from Ramathaim-Zophim, to bow down and sacrifice to the Lord God of hosts⁸ at Shiloh, and there were Eli⁹ and his two sons, Hophni¹⁰ and Phinehas, priests of the Lord.¹¹¹²

4 And it came to be on the day Elkanah sacrificed, that he gave to Peninnah his wife and to her sons and her daughters portions¹³,

5 but to Hannah he gave one portion, because she had no child; yet Elkanah loved Hannah beyond this one, and the Lord had closed the things of her womb.

6 Because the Lord had not given her a child, according to her affliction and according to the discouragement of her affliction, and because of this she was disheartened, because the Lord had shut the things of her womb from giving her a child.

7 Thus he did year by year, when she went up to the house of the Lord, and she was disheartened and wept and did not eat.

8 And Elkanah her husband said to her, Hannah. And she said to him, Behold, here I am, lord. And he said to her, What is wrong with you, that you weep, and why do you not eat, and why does your heart strike you? Am I not good to you beyond ten children?

9 And Hannah rose after they ate in Shiloh and stood before the Lord, and Eli the priest was sitting upon the seat by the posts of the temple of the Lord.

10 And she was bitter in soul and prayed to the Lord, and weeping she wept¹⁴.

11 And she vowed a vow to the Lord, saying, Lord, Lord my God of hosts, if you will indeed look¹⁵ upon the humiliation of your servant and remember me and give to your servant seed of men, then I will give him before you as a given thing until the day of his death, and wine and intoxicating drink he shall not drink, and iron shall not come upon his head.

12 And it came to be, while she multiplied in praying before the Lord, Eli the priest watched her mouth.

13 And she was speaking in her heart, and her lips were moving, but her voice was not heard, and Eli counted her as a drunken woman.¹⁶

14 And the servant Eli said to her, How long will you be drunk? Put away your wine and go from the presence of the Lord.

15 And Hannah answered and said, No, lord. I am a woman of hard day, and I have not drunk wine or intoxicating drink, but I pour out my soul before the Lord.

16 Do not give your servant as a daughter of pestilence, because out of the abundance of my musing I have stretched on until now.

17 And Eli answered and said to her, Go in peace. The God of Israel give you every request of yours that you asked from him.

18 And she said, Your servant found favor in your eyes. And the woman went on her way and entered into her lodging and ate with her husband and drank, and her face did not fall any more.

19 And they rose early in the morning and bowed down to the Lord and went on their way, and Elkanah entered into his house at Ramathaim-Zophim and knew Hannah his wife, and the Lord remembered her.

20 And she conceived, and it came to be at the turn of the days, that she bore a son and called his name Samuel¹⁷, and said, Because from the Lord God of hosts I asked him.

21 And the man Elkanah went up, and all his house, to sacrifice in Shiloh the sacrifice of the days and his vows and all the tithes of his land.

22 But Hannah did not go up with him, because she said to her husband, Until the child goes up, when I wean him, then he will be seen before the face of the Lord and sit there forever.

23 And Elkanah her husband said to her, Do what is good in your eyes; sit until you wean him. Only may the Lord establish what went out from your mouth¹⁸. And the woman sat and nursed her son until she weaned him.

24 And she went up with him to Shiloh with a three-year-old calf and breads and an ephah of fine flour and a skin of wine, and she entered into the house of the Lord in Shiloh, and the child was with them.

25 And they brought him before the Lord, and his father slaughtered the sacrifice that he made from days to days to the Lord, and he brought the child and slaughtered the calf, and Hannah, the mother of the child, brought him to Eli.¹⁹

26 And she said, Please, lord, as your soul lives²⁰: I am the woman who stood before you in praying to the Lord.

27 For this child I prayed, and the Lord gave me my request that I asked from him.

28 And I lend him to the Lord all the days that he lives, a use to the Lord.

Chapter 2

1 And she said, My heart was strengthened in the Lord, my horn was lifted up in my God, my mouth was widened against enemies, I rejoiced in your salvation.
2 Because there is no holy one like the Lord, and there is none righteous like our God; there is no holy one besides you.
3 Do not boast and do not speak lofty things; let no high-sounding speech go out from your mouth, because the Lord is a God of knowledge and a God preparing his purposes.
4 The bow of the mighty weakened, and the weak girded themselves with strength.
5 Those full of bread were brought low, and the hungry left the land, because the barren one bore seven, and the one with many children became weak.
6 The Lord kills and makes alive; he brings down to Hades and brings up.
7 The Lord makes poor and makes rich, humbles and lifts up.
8 He raises the poor from the earth and lifts the needy from the dung heap, to seat him with the rulers of peoples and to allot to them a throne¹ of glory.
9 Giving prayer to the one praying, and he blessed the years of the righteous, because not by strength is a man mighty.
10 The Lord will make his adversary weak; the Lord is holy. Let not the wise boast in his wisdom, and let not the strong boast in his strength, and let not the rich boast in his wealth, but in this let the boasting one boast: to understand and know the Lord and to do judgment and righteousness in the midst of the earth. The Lord went up into the heavens and thundered; he will judge the ends of the earth and gives strength to our kings and will lift up the horn of his anointed².
11 And they left him there before the Lord and went away to Ramathaim-Zophim, and the child was ministering before the face of the Lord before Eli the priest.
12 And the sons of Eli the priest were sons of pestilence, not knowing the Lord.
13 And the ordinance of the priest from the people, everyone sacrificing, was this: the servant of the priest came while the meat was boiling, and a three-pronged flesh-hook was in his hand,
14 and he struck it into the great cauldron or into the bronze pot or into the cooking pot. Everything that came up with the flesh-hook the priest took for himself. According to these things they were doing to all Israel who came to sacrifice to the Lord in Shiloh.
15 And before the fat was burned, the servant of the priest came and said to the man sacrificing, Give meat for roasting to the priest, and I will certainly not take boiled meat from you out of the cauldron.
16 And the sacrificing man said, Let the fat first be burned as is proper³, and take for yourself from everything your soul desires. And he said, No, because you shall give now, and if not, I will take by force.
17 And the sin of the young servants before the Lord was very great, because they were despising the sacrifice of the Lord.
18 And Samuel was ministering before the Lord, a child girded with a linen ephod.
19 And his mother made for him a small doublet and brought it up to him from days to days when she went up with her husband to sacrifice the sacrifice of the days.
20 And Eli blessed Elkanah and his wife, saying, May the Lord repay you seed from this woman in place of the loan that you loaned to the Lord. And the man went to his place.
21 And the Lord visited Hannah, and she bore yet three sons and two daughters, and the child Samuel was magnified before the Lord.
22 And Eli was very old and heard what his sons were doing to the sons of Israel.
23 And he said to them, Why are you doing according to this word that I hear from the mouth of all the people of the Lord?
24 No, children, because the report that I hear is not good. Do not do so, because the reports that I hear are not good, of the people not serving God.
25 If a man sins by sinning against a man, then they will pray concerning him⁴ to the Lord, but if someone sins against the Lord, who will pray concerning him? And they were not listening to the voice of their father, because the Lord deliberately desired to destroy them.
26 And the child Samuel was going on and growing and good both with the Lord and with men.⁵
27 And a man of God came to Eli and said, Thus says the Lord: In revealing did I reveal myself to the house of your father while they were in the land of Egypt, servants to the house of Pharaoh?
28 And I chose the house of your father from all the scepters of Israel⁶ for myself, to serve as priest and to go up upon my altar and to burn incense and to lift the ephod, and I gave to the house of your father all the fire-offerings of the sons of Israel for food.
29 And why did you look upon my incense and upon my sacrifice with shameless eye⁷, and glorify your sons beyond me, to bless yourselves from the firstfruits of every sacrifice of Israel before me?
30 Because of this thus said the Lord God of Israel: I said, Your house and the house of your father will pass before me forever. And now, says the Lord, let it not be to me; rather those glorifying me I will glorify⁸, and the one despising me will be dishonored.
31 Behold, days are coming, and I will destroy your seed and the seed of your father's house.
32 And there shall not be an old man of yours in my house all the days.
33 And a man I will not destroy for you from my altar, to fail his eyes and make his soul melt away, and everyone remaining of your house shall fall by the sword of men.
34 And this will be the sign to you that will come upon these your two sons, Hophni and Phinehas: in one day both will die⁹.
35 And I will raise up for myself a faithful priest, who will do all the things in my heart and the things in my soul, and I will build for him a faithful house, and he will pass before my anointed all the days.
36 And it shall be that the one left over in your house will come to bow down to him for an obol of silver, saying, Cast me beside¹⁰ one of your priesthoods that I may eat bread.

Chapter 3

1 And the child Samuel was ministering to the Lord before Eli the priest, and the word of the Lord was precious in those days; there was no vision making distinction.
2 And it came to be on that day, and Eli was sleeping in his place, and his eyes began to grow heavy and he was not able to see.
3 And the lamp of God was before being set in order¹, and Samuel was sleeping in the temple where the ark of God was.
4 And the Lord called, Samuel, Samuel. And he said, Behold, here I am.
5 And he ran to Eli and said, Behold, here I am, because you called me. And he said, I did not call you; go back, sleep. And he went back and slept.
6 And the Lord added and called, Samuel, Samuel. And he went to Eli a second time and said, Behold, here I am, because you called me. And he said, I did not call you; go back, sleep.
7 And Samuel was before knowing God and before the word of the Lord was revealed to him.
8 And the Lord added to call Samuel a third time, and he rose and went to Eli and said, Behold, here I am, because you called me. And Eli understood that the Lord had called the child.
9 And he said, Go back, sleep, child, and it shall be if he calls you, then you shall say, Speak, Lord, because your servant hears. And Samuel went and lay down in his place.
10 And the Lord came and stood and called him as once and again, and Samuel said, Speak, because your servant hears.
11 And the Lord said to Samuel, Behold, I am doing my words in Israel, so that whoever hears them, both his ears will ring.
12 In that day I will raise upon Eli all that I spoke against his house; I will begin and I will complete.
13 And I have announced to him that I am avenging his house forever for the injustices of his sons, because his sons were blaspheming God and he was not warning them, not even so.
14 I swore to the house of Eli whether the injustice of the house of Eli will be propitiated by incense and by sacrifices forever.
15 And Samuel slept until morning and rose early in the morning and opened the doors of the house of the Lord, and Samuel feared to report the vision to Eli.
16 And Eli said to Samuel, Samuel, child. And he said, Behold, here I am.
17 And he said, What is the word spoken to you? Do not hide it from me. Thus may God do to you and thus may he add, if you hide from me a word of all the words spoken to you in your ears.
18 And Samuel reported all the words and did not hide from him, and Eli said, He is the Lord; what is good before him he will do.
19 And Samuel grew great, and the Lord was with him, and not one of all his words fell to the ground.
20 And all Israel knew, from Dan and as far as Beersheba, that Samuel was faithful as a prophet to the Lord.
21 And the Lord again made himself known in Shiloh, because the Lord was revealed to Samuel, and Samuel was entrusted to become prophet to the Lord for all Israel from the end of the land to end. And Eli was very old, and his sons were going on and their way was evil before the Lord.

Chapter 4

1 And it came to be in those days, and foreigners were gathered for war against Israel, and Israel went out to meet them for war, and they camped by Ebenezer², and the foreigners camped in Aphek.
2 And the foreigners lined up for battle against Israel, and the battle turned, and a man of Israel stumbled before the foreigners, and four thousand men were struck down in battle in the field.
3 And the people came into the camp, and the elders of Israel said, Why did the Lord make us stumble³ today before the foreigners? Let us take the ark of our God from Shiloh, and let it come out in our midst and save us⁴ from the hand of our enemies.⁵⁶
4 And the people sent to Shiloh, and they took from there the ark of the Lord seated on cherubim⁷, and both sons of Eli were with the ark, Hophni and Phinehas.
5 And it came to be, when the ark of the Lord came into the camp, all Israel cried out with a great voice, and the earth resounded.
6 And the foreigners heard the sound of the cry and said, What is this great cry in the camp of the Hebrews? And they knew that the ark of the Lord had come into the camp.
7 And the foreigners were afraid and said, These gods have come to them into the camp. Woe to us, Lord, rescue us today, because such a thing has not happened yesterday or the day before.
8 Woe to us. Who will rescue us from the hand of these strong gods⁸? These are the gods who struck Egypt with every plague and in the wilderness.
9 Be strong and become men, foreigners, lest you serve the Hebrews as they served us. And become men and fight them.
10 And they fought them, and a man of Israel stumbled, and each fled to his tent, and there was a very great blow, and thirty thousand ranks fell from Israel.
11 And the ark of God was taken, and both sons of Eli died, Hophni and Phinehas.
12 And a Benjamite man ran from the battle line and came to Shiloh on that day, and his garments were torn and earth was on his head.
13 And he came, and behold, Eli was sitting on the seat by the gate, watching the road, because his heart was beside itself concerning the ark of God. And the man entered into the city to report, and the city cried out.
14 And Eli heard the sound of the outcry and said, What is this cry of this sound? And the man hurried and entered and reported to Eli.
15 And Eli was ninety years old, and his eyes had become fixed, and he did not see, and Eli said to the men standing around him, What is the voice of this sound?⁹
16 And the man hurried and came near to Eli and said to him, I am the one coming from the camp, and I fled from the battle line today. And he said, What is the matter, child?

⁹ MT/LXX: LXX/fresh has "ninety years"; MT comparison has "ninety and eight years".

17 And the young servant answered and said, A man of Israel fled from before the foreigners, and there was a great blow among the people, and both your sons have died, and the ark of God has been taken¹.
 18 And it came to be, when he mentioned the ark of God, he fell from the seat backward near the gate, and his back was broken² and he died, because the man was old and heavy, and he judged Israel twenty years.
 19 And his daughter-in-law, wife of Phinehas, had conceived to give birth, and she heard the news that the ark of God had been taken and that her father-in-law and her husband had died, and she crouched down and gave birth, because her labor pains turned upon her³.
 20 And at the time of her dying the women standing by her said to her, Do not fear, because you have borne a son. But she did not answer, and her heart did not understand.
 21 And she called the child Ichabod⁴ because of the ark of God and because of her father-in-law and because of her husband.
 22 And they said, Glory has departed from Israel in the taking of the ark of the Lord.

Chapter 5

1 And the foreigners took the ark of God and brought it in from Ebenezer to Ashdod.
 2 And the foreigners took the ark of the Lord and brought it into the house of Dagon and set it beside Dagon.
 3 And the people of Ashdod rose early and entered into the house of Dagon, and behold, Dagon had fallen on his face before the ark of God. And they raised up Dagon and set him in his place, and the hand of the Lord grew heavy upon the people of Ashdod, and he tormented them and struck them in their seats, Ashdod and its borders.
 4 And it came to be when they rose early in the morning, behold, Dagon had fallen on his face before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and the head of Dagon and both the prints of his hands⁵ were removed upon the front threshold, each one, and both palms of his hands had fallen on the threshold; only the back of Dagon was left.
 5 Because of this the priests of Dagon and everyone entering the house of Dagon do not step upon the step of the house of Dagon in Ashdod until this day, because in passing over they pass over it.
 6 And the hand of the Lord grew heavy upon Ashdod and brought upon them and boiled out for them in their ships, and in the midst of its region mice sprang up, and there was a great confusion of death in the city.
 7 And the men of Ashdod saw that it was so and said, The ark of the God of Israel will not remain with us, because his hand is hard upon us and upon Dagon our god.
 8 And they sent and gathered the satraps of the foreigners to them and said, What shall we do with the ark of the God of Israel? And the Gittites said, Let the ark of God come over to us. And the ark of God came over to Gath.
 9 And it came to be after it came over, the hand of the Lord was in the city, a very great disturbance, and he struck the men of the city from small to great and struck them in their seats⁶, and the Gittites made seats for themselves.
 10 And they sent away the ark of God to Ashkelon, and it came to be when the ark of God entered into Ashkelon, the Ashkelonites⁷ cried out, saying, Why did you return to us the ark of the God of Israel, to kill us and our people?⁸
 11 And they sent and gathered the satraps of the foreigners and said, Send away the ark of the God of Israel, and let it sit in its place⁹, and it shall certainly not kill us and our people, because there was confusion of death in the whole city, very heavy, as the ark of the God of Israel entered there.
 12 And the living who did not die were struck in their seats¹⁰, and the cry of the city went up to heaven.

Chapter 6

1 And the ark was in the field of the foreigners seven months, and their land boiled out mice.
 2 And the foreigners call the priests and their diviners and enchanter, saying, What shall we do with the ark of the Lord? Make known to us in what way we shall send it to its place.
 3 And they said, If you send away the ark of the covenant of the Lord God of Israel, by no means send it away empty, but in repaying repay¹¹ it for the torment, and then you will be healed and it will be propitiated for you. Will not his hand depart from you?
 4 And they say, What is the thing of torment that we shall repay to it? And they said, According to the number of the satraps of the foreigners, five golden seats, because the same fall is on you and on your rulers and on the people.¹²
 5 And golden mice, likeness of your mice destroying the land, and you shall give glory to the Lord, so that he may lighten his hand¹³ from you and from your gods and from your land.
 6 And why do you harden your hearts as Egypt and Pharaoh hardened their hearts? Was it not when he mocked them that they sent them away and they went?
 7 And now take and make a new wagon and two first-calving cows apart from their calves, and yoke the cows to the wagon and lead away the calves from behind them into the house.
 8 And you will take the ark and put it on the wagon, and the gold objects that you repay to it for the torment you shall place in a chest beside it, and you shall send it away and drive it out, and it will go.
 9 And you will see whether it goes on the road of its borders toward Beth-shemesh; he did to us this great evil. But if not, then we shall know that it was not his hand that touched us, but this happened to us by chance¹⁴.
 10 And the foreigners did so, and they took two first-calving cows and yoked them to the wagon, and they shut up their calves in the house.
 11 And they set the ark upon the wagon and the chest and the gold mice.
 12 And the cows went straight on the road, on the road to Beth-shemesh, in one path they went, and they toiled and did not turn aside right or left, and the satraps of the foreigners went after it until the borders of Beth-shemesh.¹

13 And those in Beth-shemesh were reaping wheat harvest in the valley, and they lifted up their eyes and saw the ark of the Lord and rejoiced to meet it.

14 And the wagon came into the field of Hoshea in Beth-shemesh, and they stood there by a great stone, and they split the wood of the wagon and offered the cows as a whole burnt offering² to the Lord.

15 And the Levites brought up the ark of the Lord and the chest³ with it and the gold items upon it and placed them on the great stone, and the men of Beth-shemesh offered whole burnt offerings and sacrifices on that day to the Lord.

16 And the five satraps of the foreigners saw and returned to Ashkelon on that day.

17 And these are the golden seats that the foreigners repaid to the Lord for the torment: one for Ashdod, one for Gaza, one for Ashkelon, one for Gath, one for Ekron,

18 and the golden mice according to the number of all the cities of the foreigners of the five satraps, from fortified city and to village of the Perizzite⁴, and to the great stone on which they placed the ark of the covenant of the Lord, the one in the field of Hoshea the Baithsamyisite.

19 And the sons of Iechoniou were not pleased among the men of Beth-shemesh because they saw the ark of the Lord, and he struck among them seventy men and fifty thousand men, and the people mourned because the Lord struck the people with a very great blow.⁵

20 And the men from Beth-shemesh said, Who will be able to go through before this holy Lord, and to whom will the ark of the Lord go up from us?

21 And they send messengers to those dwelling in Kirjathjearim, saying, The foreigners have returned the ark of the Lord. Come down and bring it up to yourselves.

Chapter 7

1 And the men of Kirjathjearim come and bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord and bring it into the house of Amminadab on the hill, and they consecrated Eleazar his son to guard the ark of the covenant of the Lord.

2 And it came to be from the day the ark was in Kirjathjearim, the days multiplied and became twenty years, and all the house of Israel looked after the Lord.

3 And Samuel said to all the house of Israel, saying, If with your whole heart you are turning to the Lord, remove the foreign gods from your midst and the groves, and prepare your hearts toward the Lord and serve him alone, and he will deliver you from the hand of the foreigners.⁶

4 And the sons of Israel removed the Baals and the groves of Ashtaroath and served the Lord alone.

5 And Samuel said, Gather all Israel to Mizpah, and I will pray concerning you to the Lord.

6 And they gathered to Mizpah and drew water and poured it out before the Lord upon the ground and fasted on that day and said, We sinned before the Lord. And Samuel was judging the sons of Israel in Mizpah.

7 And the foreigners heard that all the sons of Israel had gathered to Mizpah, and the satraps of the foreigners⁷ went up against Israel. And the sons of Israel heard and feared from before the foreigners.

8 And the sons of Israel said to Samuel, Do not be silent away from us from crying to the Lord your God, and he will save us from the hand of the foreigners.

9 And Samuel took one suckling lamb and offered it up whole with all the people to the Lord, and Samuel cried out to the Lord concerning Israel, and the Lord listened to him.

10 And Samuel was offering up the whole burnt offering, and the foreigners drew near for battle against Israel, and the Lord thundered with a great voice on that day against the foreigners and confused them⁸, and they stumbled before Israel.

11 And the men of Israel went out from Mizpah and pursued the foreigners and struck them as far as below Baithchor.

12 And Samuel took one stone and set it between Mizpah and between the old place and called its name Ebenezer, Stone of the Helper, and said, Until here the Lord has helped us.

13 And the Lord humbled the foreigners, and they no longer continued to come into the border of Israel, and the hand of the Lord was upon the foreigners all the days of Samuel.

14 And the cities that the foreigners took from the sons of Israel were given back, and they restored them to Israel from Ashkelon to Azob, and the border of Israel they removed from the hand of the foreigners. And there was peace between Israel and between the Amorite.⁹

15 And Samuel judged Israel all the days of his life.

16 And he went year by year and made circuit of Bethel and Gilgal and Mizpah and judged Israel in all these consecrated places.

17 And his return was to Ramathaim-Zophim, because there was his house, and there he judged Israel, and he built there an altar to the Lord.

Chapter 8

1 And it came to be when Samuel grew old that he appointed his sons as judges for Israel.

2 And these are the names of his sons: firstborn Joel¹⁰, and the name of the second Abijah¹¹, judges in Beersheba.

3 And his sons did not walk in his way, and they turned aside after gain and were taking gifts and turning aside judgments.

4 And the men of Israel gathered together and came to Ramathaim-Zophim to Samuel.

5 And they said to him, Behold, you have grown old, and your sons do not walk in your way, and now appoint over us a king to judge us, as also the rest of the nations have.

6 And the word was evil in the eyes of Samuel as they said, Give us a king to judge us, and Samuel prayed to the Lord.

7 And the Lord said to Samuel, Hear the voice of the people according to whatever they say to you, because they have not despised you, but me they have despised, from reigning over them.

8 According to all the deeds that they did to me from the day I brought them up out of Egypt until this day, and they forsook me and served other gods, so they also are doing to you.

9 And now hear their voice; only in protesting protest to them and declare to them the right of the king who will reign over them.

10 And Samuel spoke every word of the Lord to the people asking from him a king.

11 And he said, This will be the right of the king¹ who will reign over you: he will take your sons and place them in his chariots and among his horsemen and as runners before his chariots,

12 and to appoint them for himself commanders of thousands and commanders of hundreds and to reap his harvest and gather his vintage and make his implements of war and the implements of his chariots.

13 And your daughters he will take as perfumers and cooks and bakers.

14 And your fields and your vineyards and your good olive groves he will take and give to his servants.

15 And your seeds and your vineyards he will tithe and give to his eunuchs and to his servants.

16 And your male servants and your female servants and your good cattle and your donkeys he will take and tithe for his works.

17 And your flocks he will tithe, and you will be his servants.

18 And you will cry out in that day because of your king whom you chose for yourselves², and the Lord will not listen to you in those days, because you chose a king for yourselves.

19 And the people was not willing to hear Samuel, and they said to him, No, but a king shall be over us.

20 And we also will be like all the nations, and our king will judge us and go out before us and fight our war.

21 And Samuel heard all the words of the people and spoke them into the ears of the Lord.

22 And the Lord said to Samuel, Hear their voice and make a king reign over them. And Samuel said to the men of Israel, Let each man run back to his city.

Chapter 9

1 And there was a man from the sons of Benjamin, and his name was Kish³, son of Abiel⁴, son of Zeror⁵, son of Bechorath⁶, son of Aphek, son of a Benjamite man, a mighty man.

2 And he had a son, and his name was Saul⁷, a well-grown good man, and there was not among the sons of Israel a better man than he; from his shoulders and above he was taller than all the people.

3 And the donkeys of Kish, father of Saul, were lost, and Kish said to Saul his son, Take with yourself one of the young men, rise, and go seek the donkeys.

4 And they passed through the hill-country of Ephraim, and they passed through the land of Salcah and did not find them, and they passed through the land of Shaalim⁸ and it was not there, and they passed through the land of Jakim⁹ and did not find them.¹⁰

5 When they came into Zuph, Saul said to his young man who was with him, Come, let us turn back, lest my father leave off about the donkeys and be anxious about us.

6 And the young man said to him, Behold now, there is a man of God in this city, and the man is honored; everything whatever he may speak, when it comes, it will stand¹¹. And now let us go there, so he may report to us the road on which we have gone.

7 And Saul said to his young man who was with him, And behold, we will go, but what shall we bring to the man of God? Because the breads have failed from our vessels, and there is no more with us to carry in to the man of God. What have we with us?

8 And the young man answered Saul again and said, Behold, a quarter-shekel of silver has been found in my hand, and I will give it to the man of God, and he will tell us our road.

9 Formerly in Israel each one used to say these things when going to inquire of God: Come, let us go to the seer, because the people formerly called the prophet the seer.

10 And Saul said to his young man, Good word. Come, let us go. And they went into the city where the man of God was there.

11 As they were going up the ascent of the city, they found young girls who had come out to draw water, and they say to them, Is the seer here?

12 And the girls answered them and say to them, He is; behold, before your face now. For today he has come into the city, because there is a sacrifice today for the people at the high place.

13 As soon as you enter the city, so you will find him in the city before he goes up to the high place to eat. Because the people certainly will not eat until he enters, because he blesses the sacrifice, and after these things the guests eat. And now go up, because today you will find him.¹²

14 And they go up to the city. As they were entering into the middle of the city, behold, Samuel came out to meet them, to go up to the high place.

15 And the Lord had uncovered the ear of Samuel one day before Saul came to him, saying,

16 About this time tomorrow I will send to you a man from the land of Benjamin, and you will anoint him as a ruler over my people Israel, and he will save my people from the hand of foreigners, because I have looked upon the humiliation of my people, because their cry has come to me.

17 And Samuel saw Saul, and the Lord answered him, Behold, the man of whom I spoke to you; this one will rule among my people.

18 And Saul came near to Samuel in the middle of the city and said, Tell me now, where is the house of the seer?

19 And Samuel answered Saul and said, I am he. Go up before me to the high place and eat with me today, and I will send you away in the morning, and all the things in your heart I will report to you.

21 And Saul answered and said, Am I not son of a Benjamite man, from the least scepter of a tribe of Israel, and my tribe the least from the whole scepter of Benjamin? And why have you spoken to me according to this word?

22 And Samuel took Saul and his young man and brought them into the guest room and set for them a place among the first of those who had been called, about seventy men.

23 And Samuel said to the cook, Give me the portion that I gave to you, which I said to you to set beside you.

24 And the cook lifted up the haunch and set it before Saul, and Samuel said to Saul, Behold, what has been left over; set it before you and eat, because it has been kept for you for this appointed witness¹ beside the others. And Saul ate with Samuel on that day.

25 And he came down from the high place into the city, and they spread a bed for Saul on the roof.

26 And he slept. And it came to be, as dawn was rising², Samuel called Saul on the roof, saying, Rise, and I will send you away. And Saul rose, and both he and Samuel went out.

27 As they were going down to the outskirts of the city, Samuel said to Saul, Tell the young man, and let him pass on before us. But you stand like today, and hear the word of God.

Chapter 10

1 And Samuel took the flask of oil and poured it on his head and kissed him and said to him, Has not the Lord anointed you as a ruler over his people, over Israel? And you will rule among the people of the Lord, and you will save him from the hand of his enemies round about. And this is the sign to you that the Lord has anointed you over his inheritance as a ruler.

2 When you depart from me today, you will find two men by the tombs of Rachel in the border of Benjamin, speaking great things³, and they will say to you, The donkeys that you went to seek have been found, and behold, your father has shaken off the matter of the donkeys and is anxious about you, saying, What shall I do concerning my son?

3 And you will pass on from there and beyond, and you will come as far as the oak of Tabor, and you will find there three men going up to God at Bethel, one carrying three kids, one carrying three vessels of breads⁴, and one carrying a skin of wine.

4 And they will ask you the things of peace, and they will give you two firstfruits of breads, and you will take them from their hand.

5 And after these things you will enter the hill of God, where the station of the foreigners is, there at Zuph the foreigner. And it will be when you enter there into the city, you will meet a chorus of prophets⁵ coming down from the high place, and before them harp and tambourine and flute and lyre, and they prophesying.

6 And the Spirit of the Lord will rush upon you, and you will prophesy with them, and you will be turned into another man.

7 And it will be when these signs come upon you, do everything whatever your hand finds, because God is with you.

8 And you will go down before me to Gilgal, and behold, I am coming down to you to offer up whole burnt offerings and sacrifices of peace. Seven days you will wait⁶ until my coming to you, and I will make known to you what you shall do.

9 And it came to be when he turned his shoulder to depart from Samuel, God turned for him another heart, and all these signs came on that day.

10 And he comes from there to the hill, and behold, a chorus of prophets came opposite him, and the Spirit of God leapt upon him, and he prophesied in their midst.

11 And it came to be, all who knew him yesterday and the third day⁷ saw, and behold, he was in the midst of the prophets, and each person said to his neighbor, What is this that has happened to the son of Kish? Is Saul also among prophets?

12 And one of them answered and said, And who is his father? Because of this it became a proverb, Is Saul also among prophets?

13 And he finished prophesying and comes to the hill.

14 And his kinsman said to him and to his young man, Where did you go? And they said, To seek the donkeys, and we saw that they are not there, and we entered to Samuel.

15 And the kinsman said to Saul, Tell me now, what did Samuel say to you?

16 And Saul said to his kinsman, He plainly told me that the donkeys have been found. But the word of the kingship he did not tell him.

17 And Samuel summoned all the people to the Lord at Mizpah,

18 and he said to the sons of Israel⁸, Thus says the Lord God of Israel, saying, I brought up the sons of Israel from Egypt, and I delivered you from the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt and from all the kingdoms afflicting you.

19 And you today have counted as nothing your God, who himself is your savior from all your evils and afflictions, and you said, No, but you will appoint a king over us. And now stand before the Lord by your scepters⁹ and by your tribes.

20 And Samuel brought near all the scepters of Israel, and the scepter of Benjamin was taken by lot.

21 And he brings near the scepter of Benjamin by tribes, and the tribe of Matrites¹⁰ is taken by lot. And they bring near the tribe of Matrites by men, and Saul son of Kish was taken by lot. And they sought him, and he was not found.

22 And Samuel inquired yet again of the Lord whether the man comes here. And the Lord said, Behold, he is hidden among the baggage.

23 And they ran and take him from there, and he stood in the midst of the people, and he was taller than all the people from the shoulder and upward.

24 And Samuel said to all the people, Have you seen whom the Lord has chosen for himself, that there is none like him among all of you? And all the people knew and said, Long live the king.

25 And Samuel told the people the righteous judgment of the king, and he wrote it in a scroll and set it before the Lord. And Samuel sent away all the people, and each went to his place.

26 And Saul went to his house at Gibeah, and sons of powers whose hearts God had touched went with Saul.

27 And pestilent sons said, How will this one save us? And they dishonored him and did not bring him gifts.

Chapter 11

1 And it came to be as after a month, Nahash¹ the Ammonite went up and camped against Jabesh Gilead, and all the men of Jabesh said to Nahash the Ammonite, Make a covenant with us, and we will serve you.
2 And Nahash the Ammonite said to them, On this condition I will make a covenant with you: that I gouge out every right eye of yours, and I will set reproach on Israel.
3 And the men of Jabesh say to him, Leave us for seven days, and we will send messengers into every border of Israel. And if there is no one saving us, we will come out to you.
4 And the messengers come to Gibeah to Saul and speak the words into the ears of the people, and all the people lifted up their voice and wept.
5 And behold, Saul came after the morning from the field, and Saul said, Why is the people weeping? And they recount to him the words of the sons of Jabesh.
6 And the Spirit of the Lord leapt upon Saul as he heard these words, and his anger was greatly kindled against them.
7 And he took two oxen and cut them in pieces and sent them through every border of Israel by the hand of messengers, saying, Whoever is not coming out after Saul and after Samuel, thus they will do to his oxen. And the astonishment of the Lord came upon the people of Israel, and they cried out like one man.
8 And he musters them at Bezek on the high place, every man of Israel six hundred thousand, and men of Judah seventy thousand.
9 And he said to the messengers who came, Thus you will say to the men of Jabesh, Tomorrow salvation is for you², when the sun grows warm. And the messengers came into the city and report to the men of Jabesh, and they rejoiced.
10 And the men of Jabesh said to Nahash the Ammonite, Tomorrow we will come out to you, and you may do to us what is good in your sight.
11 And it came to be on the next day that Saul set the people in three heads³, and they entered the middle of the camp in the morning watch and were striking the sons of Ammon until the day grew warm. And the ones left were scattered, and not two among them were left together.
12 And the people said to Samuel, Who is the one who said, Shall Saul not reign over us? Hand over the men, and we will put them to death.
13 And Saul said, No one will be put to death on this day, because today the Lord has worked salvation in Israel⁴.
14 And Samuel said to the people, saying, Let us go to Gilgal, and let us renew the kingship there.
15 And all the people went to Gilgal, and Samuel anointed Saul there as king before the Lord in Gilgal, and he sacrificed there sacrifices, even peaceful ones⁵, before the Lord. And Samuel and all Israel rejoiced there very greatly.

Chapter 12

1 And Samuel said to every man of Israel, Behold, I have listened to your voice in everything whatever you said to me, and I made a king reign over you.
2 And now behold, the king goes before you, and I have grown old and will sit, and behold, my sons are among you, and behold, I have gone before you from my youth until this day.
3 Behold me. Answer against me before the Lord and before his anointed. Whose calf have I taken, or whose donkey have I taken, or whom of you have I oppressed, or whom have I crushed, or from whose hand have I taken a propitiation, even sandals? Answer against me, and I will restore it to you.
4 And they said to Samuel, You have not wronged us, and you have not oppressed us, and you have not crushed us, and you have not taken anything from the hand of anyone.
5 And Samuel said to the people, The Lord is witness among you, and his anointed is witness today in this day, that you have not found anything in my hand. And they said, Witness.
6 And Samuel said to the people, saying, The Lord is witness, the one who made Moses and Aaron, the one who brought our fathers up from Egypt.
7 And now stand, and I will judge you before the Lord, and I will recount to you all the righteousness of the Lord, what things he did among you and among your fathers.
8 When Jacob and his sons entered into Egypt, and Egypt humbled them, our fathers cried out to the Lord⁶, and the Lord sent Moses and Aaron and brought our fathers out of Egypt and settled them in this place.
9 And they forgot the Lord their God, and he sold them into the hands of Sisera, commander of the army of Iabin king of Hazor, and into the hands of foreigners, and into the hands of the king of Moab, and they fought against them.⁷
10 And they cried out to the Lord and said, We have sinned, because we abandoned the Lord and served the Baals and the groves, and now deliver us from the hand of our enemies, and we will serve you.
11 And the Lord sent Jerubbaal and Barak and Jephthah and Samuel, and he delivered you from the hand of your enemies round about, and you lived trusting.
12 And you saw that Nahash king of the sons of Ammon came against you, and you said, No, but a king will reign over us, though the Lord your God is your king.
13 And now behold the king whom you chose, and behold, the Lord has given a king over you.
14 If you fear the Lord and serve him and hear his voice and do not rebel against the mouth of the Lord, then both you and the king who reigns over you will be going after the Lord.
15 But if you do not hear the voice of the Lord and you rebel against the mouth of the Lord, then the hand of the Lord will be upon you and upon your king.
16 And now stand and see this great thing, which the Lord will do before your eyes.
17 Is it not wheat harvest today? I will call upon the Lord, and he will give voices and rain⁸, and know and see that your evil is great, which you did before the Lord, asking a king for yourselves.
18 And Samuel called upon the Lord, and the Lord gave voices and rain on that day, and all the people greatly feared the Lord and Samuel.

19 And all the people said to Samuel, Pray concerning your servants to the Lord your God, and let us not die, because we have added to all our sins this evil, asking a king for ourselves.
 20 And Samuel said to the people, Do not fear. You have done all this evil; only do not turn aside from behind the Lord, and serve the Lord with your whole heart.
 21 And do not turn aside after the things that are not, which will accomplish nothing and will not deliver, because they are nothing.
 22 Because the Lord will not thrust away his people, on account of his great name, because the Lord was pleased to take you to himself for a people.
 23 And as for me, far be it from me to sin against the Lord by ceasing to pray concerning you, and I will serve the Lord and show you the good and straight way.
 24 Only fear the Lord and serve him in truth and with your whole heart, because you have seen what things he magnified with you.
 25 But if you do evil in doing evil, both you and your king will be swept away.

Chapter 13

2 And Saul chose for himself three thousand men from the men of Israel, and two thousand were with Saul in Michmash¹ and on the hill of Bethel, and one thousand were with Jonathan² in Gibeah of Benjamin, and the rest of the people he sent away, each to his tent.
 3 And Jonathan struck the foreign garrison on the hill, and the foreigners heard, and Saul blew the trumpet through all the land, saying, The slaves have revolted.
 4 And all Israel heard those saying, Saul has struck the foreign garrison, and Israel has become odious among the foreigners. And the people cried out after Saul in Gilgal.
 5 And the foreigners gather for war against Israel, and they come up against Israel with thirty thousand chariots and six thousand horsemen and people like the sand beside the sea in multitude. And they come up and camp in Michmash, opposite Bethhoron toward the south.³
 6 And each man of Israel saw that he was in a narrow place, that no one could come near him, and the people hid in the caves and in the folds and in the rocks and in the pits and in the cisterns.
 7 And the ones crossing over crossed the Jordan into the land of Gad and Gilead. And Saul was still in Gilgal, and all the people stood outside themselves after him.
 8 And he waited seven days for the testimony, as Samuel said, and Samuel did not arrive in Gilgal, and his people were scattered from him.
 9 And Saul said, Bring near, so I may offer whole burnt offerings and peace offerings. And he offered the whole burnt offering.
 10 And it came to be, as he finished offering the whole burnt offering, Samuel arrives, and Saul went out to meet him, to bless him.
 11 And Samuel said, What have you done? And Saul said, Because I saw that the people were scattered from me, and you did not come as you ordered in the testimony of the days, and the foreigners were gathered in Michmash,
 12 I said, Now the foreigners will come down against me to Gilgal, and I have not entreated the face of the Lord. And I forced myself and offered the whole burnt offering.
 13 And Samuel said to Saul, It has been made foolish for you, because you did not keep the commandment that the Lord commanded you. For now the Lord would have prepared your kingdom over Israel forever.
 14 And now your kingdom will not stand, and the Lord will seek for himself⁴ a man according to his heart, and the Lord will appoint him as a ruler over his people, because you did not keep what the Lord commanded you.
 15 And Samuel rose and went away from Gilgal on his road, and the remnant of the people went up after Saul to meet their fighting people, from Gilgal to Gibeah of Benjamin. And Saul mustered the people found with him, about six hundred men.
 16 And Saul and Jonathan his son and the people found with them were staying in Gibeah of Benjamin and were weeping, and the foreigners had camped in Michmash.
 17 And the destroyer came out from the camp of the foreigners in three companies. The one company looked toward the road of Ophrah⁵, toward the land of Shual⁶.
 18 And one company looked toward the road of Bethhoron, and one company looked toward the road of Gibeah that bends down toward the land of Sabin.⁷
 19 And a smith of iron was not found in all the land of Israel, because the foreigners said, Lest the Hebrews make sword or spear.
 20 And all Israel used to go down into the land of the foreigners for each one to forge his reaping tool and his implement and each one his axe and his sickle.
 21 And the harvest was ready for reaping, and the implements were at three shekels for the tooth, and for the axe and for the sickle the charge was the same.
 22 And it came to be in the days of the war at Michmash, sword and spear were not found in the hand of any of the people with Saul and with Jonathan, but they were found for Saul and for Jonathan his son.⁸
 23 And the station of the foreigners came out to the region beyond Michmash.

Chapter 14

1 And it came to be on a day, Jonathan son of Saul said to the young man carrying his equipment, Come, and let us cross over to the station of the foreigners⁹ that is over there beyond. But to his father he did not report it.
 2 And Saul was sitting on the edge of the hill under the pomegranate tree in Migron¹⁰, and about six hundred men were with him.

3 And Ahijah¹ son of Ahitub², brother of Ichabod, son of Phinehas, son of Eli, priest of God in Shiloh, was carrying an ephod. And the people did not know that Jonathan had gone.

4 And between the passage where Jonathan was seeking to cross over to the station of the foreigners, there was a rocky spur on this side and a rocky spur on that side. The name of the one was Bozez³, and the name of the other Zenan.

5 The one road was northward, toward Michmash, and the other southward, toward Gibeah.

6 And Jonathan said to the young man carrying his equipment, Come, let us cross over to the station of these uncircumcised ones; perhaps the Lord may act for us, because for the Lord there is no restraint to save by many or by few.

7 And the one carrying his equipment said to him, Do everything whatever your heart inclines. Behold, I am with you; as your heart, my heart.

8 And Jonathan said, Behold, we are crossing over to the men, and we will roll ourselves down to them.

9 If they say these things to us, Stand there until we report to you, then we will stand in our place and certainly will not go up against them.

10 But if they say these things to us, Come up to us, then we will go up, because the Lord has delivered them into our hands. This will be the sign for us.

11 And both entered into the station of the foreigners, and the foreigners say, Behold, the Hebrews are coming out from their holes where they had hidden there.

12 And the men of the station⁴ answered Jonathan and the one carrying his equipment and say, Come up to us, and we will make a word known to you. And Jonathan said to the one carrying his equipment, Come up after me, because the Lord has delivered them into the hands of Israel.

13 And Jonathan went up on his hands and on his feet, and the one carrying his equipment after him. And they looked into the face of Jonathan, and he struck them down, and the one carrying his equipment kept finishing them off behind him.

14 And the first blow that Jonathan and the one carrying his equipment struck was about twenty men, with darts and sling-stones and field-pebbles.

15 And there was astonishment in the camp and in the field, and all the people in the station and the destroyers stood outside themselves, and they themselves were not willing to act, and the earth was amazed, and there was astonishment from the Lord.

16 And the watchmen of Saul in Gibeah of Benjamin saw, and behold, the camp was troubled here and there.

17 And Saul said to the people with him, Muster now and see who has gone out from you. And they mustered, and behold, Jonathan and the one carrying his equipment were not found.

18 And Saul said to Ahijah, Bring the ephod near, because he was carrying the ephod on that day before Israel.

19 And it came to be, as Saul was speaking to the priest, the sound in the camp of the foreigners kept going and increasing. And Saul said to the priest, Gather in your hands.

20 And Saul cried out, and all the people with him, and they came as far as the battle, and behold, the sword of each man came against his neighbor, a very great confusion.

21 And the slaves who were with the foreigners yesterday and the third day⁵, who had gone up into the camp, they also turned to be with Israel, those with Saul and Jonathan.

22 And all Israel, the ones hiding in the hill-country of Ephraim, heard that the foreigners had fled, and they also joined after them in the battle.

23 And the Lord saved Israel on that day, and the battle passed through Bethhoron, and all the people with Saul were about ten thousand men, and the battle was scattered through the whole city in the hill-country of Ephraim.

24 And Saul committed a great ignorance on that day, and he bound the people under oath, saying, Cursed is the man who eats bread until evening, until I take vengeance on my enemy. And none of the people tasted bread.⁶

25 And all the land came into a wooded forest, and there was a honeycomb on the face of the field.

26 And the people entered into the honey-place, and behold, honey was going along, and there was no one turning his hand to his mouth, because the people feared the oath of the Lord.

27 And Jonathan had not heard when his father put the people under oath, and he stretched out the tip of his staff that was in his hand and dipped it into the comb of the honey and turned his hand to his mouth, and his eyes looked up.⁷

28 And one from the people answered and said, Your father bound the people with an oath, saying, Cursed is the man who eats bread today, and the people grew faint.

29 And Jonathan understood and said, My father has troubled the land. See now that my eyes have brightened because I tasted a little of this honey.

30 How much more, if the people today had eaten from the spoil of their enemies that they found. For now the blow among the foreigners would have been greater.

31 And on that day he struck down the foreigners from Michmash, and the people grew very weary.

32 And the people turned aside to the spoil, and the people took flocks and cattle and calves of oxen and slaughtered them on the ground, and the people were eating with the blood.

33 And it was reported to Saul, saying, The people have sinned against the Lord by eating with the blood. And he said, In Getthaim, roll to me a great stone here.

34 And Saul said, Scatter among the people and tell them to bring here, each his calf and each his sheep, and let him slaughter on this and not sin against the Lord by eating with the blood⁸. And all the people brought near, each the thing in his hand, and they slaughtered there.

35 And Saul built there an altar to the Lord. This was what Saul began to build as an altar to the Lord.

36 And Saul said, Let us go down after the foreigners by night and plunder among them until the day gives light, and let us not leave a man among them. And they said, Do everything good in your sight. And the priest said, Let us come near to God here⁹.

37 And Saul inquired of God, Shall I go down after the foreigners? Will you deliver them into the hands of Israel? And he did not answer him on that day.

38 And Saul said, Bring near here all the corners of Israel, and know and see in what this sin has happened today.

39 Because the Lord lives, who saved Israel, that if it is found in Jonathan my son, he will surely die. And there was not one answering from all the people.

40 And he said to all Israel, You will be for one side, and I and Jonathan my son will be for one side. And the people said to Saul, Do what is good in your sight.

41 And Saul said, Lord God of Israel, why have you not answered your servant today? If the wrong is in me or in Jonathan my son, Lord God of Israel, give clear signs; and if thus you say, In your people Israel, give holiness. And Jonathan and Saul were taken by lot, and the people went out.

42 And Saul said, Cast lot between me and between Jonathan my son; whomever the Lord may take by lot, let him die. And the people said to Saul, This word is not right. But Saul prevailed over the people, and they cast lot between him and between Jonathan his son, and Jonathan was taken by lot.

43 And Saul said to Jonathan, Tell me what you have done. And Jonathan told him and said, Tasting, I tasted a little honey on the tip of the staff that was in my hand. Behold, I am dying.

44 And Saul said to him, Thus may God do to me and thus may he add, because you will surely die today.

45 And the people said to Saul, Will the one who worked this great salvation¹ in Israel be put to death today? The Lord lives, if a hair of his head will fall to the ground, because he worked with the people of God on this day. And the people prayed for Jonathan on that day, and he did not die.

46 And Saul went up from after the foreigners, and the foreigners went away to their place.

47 And Saul took up rule over Israel² and fought all his enemies round about, against Moab and against the sons of Ammon and against the sons of Edom and against the kings of Zobah and against the foreigners. Wherever he turned, he was being saved.

48 And he worked might and struck Amalek and delivered Israel from the hand of those trampling him.

49 And the sons of Saul were Jonathan and Ishui and Melchishua³, and the names of his two daughters: the name of the firstborn Merab⁴, and the name of the second Michal⁵.

50 And the name of his wife was Ahinoam⁶, daughter of Ahimaaz⁷, and the name of the commander of his army was Abner⁸, son of Ner⁹, son of a kinsman of Saul.

51 And Kish, father of Saul, and Ner, father of Abner, were sons of Jamin, son of Abiel.

52 And the war against the foreigners was fierce all the days of Saul, and when Saul saw every mighty man and every man a son of strength, he gathered them to himself.

Chapter 15

1 And Samuel said to Saul, The Lord sent me to anoint you as king over Israel, and now hear the voice of the Lord.

2 Thus says the Lord of hosts¹⁰, Now I will avenge what Amalek did to Israel, how he met him on the road when he was coming up out of Egypt.

3 And now go, and you will strike Amalek and devote all that is his, and you will not preserve anything from him, and you will utterly destroy him and devote him and all his things, and you will not spare from him, and you will kill from man to woman and from infant to one nursing and from calf to sheep and from camel to donkey.

4 And Saul gave orders to the people and musters them in Gilgal, four hundred thousand companies, and Judah thirty thousand companies.

5 And Saul came as far as the cities of Amalek and lay in ambush in the wadi.

6 And Saul said to the Kenites, Go away and turn aside from the midst of Amalek, lest I add you with him¹¹, because you worked mercy with the sons of Israel when they were coming up out of Egypt. And the Kenites turned aside from the midst of Amalek.

7 And Saul struck Amalek from Havilah as far as Shur, in front of Egypt.

8 And he captured Agag¹² king of Amalek alive, and all the people he killed by the mouth of the sword.

9 And Saul and all the people preserved Agag alive and the good things of the flocks and the herds and the foods and the vineyards and all the good things, and they were not willing to destroy them. But every dishonored and worthless thing they destroyed.¹³

10 And the word of the Lord came to Samuel, saying,

11 I have been comforted that I made Saul king, because he turned from behind me and did not keep my words. And Samuel was troubled, and he cried out to the Lord all the night.

12 And Samuel rose early and went to meet Israel in the morning, and it was reported to Samuel, saying, Saul has come to Carmel and has raised a hand for himself¹⁴ and turned the chariot and gone down to Gilgal toward Saul. And behold, he had offered whole burnt offerings to the Lord, the first of the spoil that he brought from Amalek.

13 And Samuel came to Saul, and he said to him, Blessed are you to the Lord. I have established everything whatever the Lord spoke.

14 And Samuel said, And what is this voice of the flock in my ears, and the voice of cattle that I hear?¹⁵

15 And Saul said, I brought them from Amalek, the things that the people preserved, the strongest of the flock and of the herds, so that they may be sacrificed to the Lord your God, and the rest I destroyed.

16 And Samuel said to Saul, Let it be, and I will report to you what the Lord spoke to me in the night. And he said to him, Speak.

17 And Samuel said to Saul, Were you not small before him, leader of the scepter of a tribe of Israel? And the Lord anointed you as king over Israel.

18 And the Lord sent you on a road and said to you, Go, and utterly destroy Amalek, the ones sinning against me, and you will fight them until you finish them.

19 And why did you not hear the voice of the Lord, but rushed to set yourself on the spoil and did the evil before the Lord?
 20 And Saul said to Samuel, Because I heard the voice of the people, I went on the road on which the Lord sent me, and I brought Agag king of Amalek, and Amalek I destroyed utterly.
 21 And the people took from the spoil flocks and herds, the first of the devoted destruction, to sacrifice before the Lord our God in Gilgal.
 22 And Samuel said, Is it acceptable to the Lord, whole burnt offerings and sacrifices, as hearing the voice of the Lord? Behold, hearing is better than sacrifice¹, and listening than the fat of rams.
 23 Because sin is divination, and pain and grief bring on teraphim, because you counted the word of the Lord as nothing, and the Lord will count you as nothing from being king over Israel.
 24 And Saul said to Samuel, I have sinned, because I transgressed the word of the Lord and your saying, because I feared the people and heard their voice.
 25 And now take away my sin, and turn back with me, and I will bow down to the Lord your God.
 26 And Samuel said to Saul, I will not turn back with you, because you counted the word of the Lord as nothing, and the Lord will count you as nothing from being king over Israel.
 27 And Samuel turned his face to go away, and Saul seized the wing of his double cloak and tore it.
 28 And Samuel said to him, The Lord has torn the kingdom of Israel from your hand today and will give it to your neighbor, the good one beyond you.
 29 And Israel will be divided into two, and he will not turn back, nor will he repent, because he is not like a human, for him to repent.
 30 And Saul said, I have sinned, but glorify me now before the elders of Israel and before my people, and turn back with me, and I will bow down to the Lord your God.
 31 And Samuel turned back after Saul, and he bowed down to the Lord.
 32 And Samuel said, Bring near to me Agag king of Amalek. And Agag came to him trembling, and Agag said, Is death thus bitter?
 33 And Samuel said to Agag, As your sword made women childless, so your mother will be made childless among women. And Samuel slaughtered Agag before the Lord in Gilgal.
 34 And Samuel went away to Ramathaim-Zophim, and Saul went up to his house at Gibeah.
 35 And Samuel did not add again to see Saul until the day of his death, because Samuel was mourning for Saul, and the Lord repented that he had made Saul king over Israel.

Chapter 16

1 And the Lord said to Samuel, How long do you mourn over Saul, while I have counted him as nothing from reigning over Israel? Fill your horn with oil and come, I will send you to Jesse in Bethlehem, because I have seen among his sons one for me to reign.
 2 And Samuel said, How shall I go? Saul will hear and kill me. And the Lord said, Take a heifer of the cattle² in your hand, and you will say, I have come to sacrifice to the Lord.
 3 And you will call Jesse to the sacrifice, and I will make known to you what you shall do, and you will anoint whomever I tell you.
 4 And Samuel did everything whatever the Lord spoke to him, and he came to Bethlehem, and the elders of the city stood outside themselves to meet him and said, Seer, is your coming peace?
 5 And he said, Peace. I have come to sacrifice to the Lord. Consecrate yourselves and be glad with me today. And he consecrated Jesse and his sons and called them to the sacrifice.
 6 And it came to be as they were entering, he saw Eliab and said, Then indeed his anointed is before the Lord.
 7 And the Lord said to Samuel, Do not look on his appearance, nor on the condition of his stature, because I have counted him as nothing. For God will not see as a human sees, because a human sees into the face, but God sees into the heart³.
 8 And Jesse called Amminadab and brought him before Samuel, and he said, Neither has the Lord chosen this one.
 9 And Jesse brought Shammah⁴, and he said, Neither in this one has the Lord chosen.
 10 And Jesse brought his seven sons before Samuel, and Samuel said, The Lord has not chosen among these.
 11 And Samuel said to Jesse, Have the young men failed⁵? And he said, There is still the small one; behold, he is shepherding among the flock. And Samuel said to Jesse, Send and take him, because we certainly will not recline until he comes here.
 12 And he sent and brought him in. And he was ruddy, with the beauty of eyes, and good in appearance to the Lord. And the Lord said to Samuel, Rise and anoint David, because this one is good.
 13 And Samuel took the horn of oil and anointed him in the midst of his brothers, and the Spirit of the Lord leapt upon David⁶ from that day and beyond. And Samuel rose and went away to Ramathaim-Zophim.
 14 And the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saul, and an evil spirit from the Lord was choking him.
 15 And the servants of Saul said to him, Behold now, an evil spirit from the Lord is choking you.
 16 Let your servants before you speak now, and let them seek for our lord a man knowing how to play on a lyre, and it will be when an evil spirit is upon you, he will play with his lyre, and it will be good for you and will give you rest⁷.
 17 And Saul said to his servants, Find for me now a man playing rightly, and bring him to me.
 18 And one of his young men answered and said, Behold, I have seen a son belonging to Jesse the Bethlehemite⁸, and he knows song⁹, and the man is prudent and a warrior and wise in word and good in appearance, and the Lord is with him.
 19 And Saul sent messengers to Jesse, saying, Send to me your son David, the one with your flock.
 20 And Jesse took a gomor of breads and a skin of wine and one kid of the goats and sent them by the hand of David his son to Saul.
 21 And David entered to Saul and stood before him, and he loved him greatly, and he became for him the one carrying his equipment.

Chapter 17

1 And the foreigners gather their camps for war, and they are gathered at Socoh of Judah, and they camp between Socoh and between Azekah in Ephremem.
2 And Saul and the men of Israel gather and camp in the valley, and they arrange themselves for war opposite the foreigners.
3 And the foreigners stood on the mountain here, and Israel stood on the mountain there, and the valley was between them.
4 And a mighty man came out from the battle-line of the foreigners, Goliath¹ was his name, from Gath; his height was four cubits and a span.
5 And a helmet was on his head, and he was clothed in a chain breastplate, and the weight of his breastplate was five thousand shekels of bronze and iron.
6 And bronze greaves were over his legs, and a bronze shield was between his shoulders.
7 And the shaft of his spear was like the beam of weavers, and his spearhead was six hundred shekels of iron, and the one carrying his weapons went before him.
8 And he stood and cried out to the battle-line of Israel and said to them, Why do you come out to array yourselves for battle against us? Am I not a foreigner, and you Hebrews of Saul? Choose for yourselves a man, and let him come down to me.²
9 And if he is able to fight with me and if he strikes me, we will be your slaves. But if I prevail and strike him, you will be our slaves and serve us.
10 And the foreigner said, Behold, I have reproached the battle-line of Israel today in this day. Give me a man, and let the two of us fight alone.
11 And Saul and all Israel heard these words of the foreigner, and they stood outside themselves and feared greatly.
32 And David said to Saul, Let not the heart of my lord fall upon him. Your servant will go and fight with this foreigner.³
33 And Saul said to David, You certainly will not be able to go to the foreigner to fight with him, because you are a young boy, and he is a warrior from his youth.
34 And David said to Saul, Your servant was shepherding for his father among the flock, and whenever the lion or the bear came and took a sheep from the herd,
35 I would go out after it and strike it and snatch it from its mouth. And if it rose up against me, I seized its throat and struck and killed it.
36 And your servant used to strike both the bear and the lion, and this uncircumcised foreigner will be like one of them. Will I not go and strike him and remove today reproach from Israel? Because who is this uncircumcised one, who has reproached the battle-line of the living God?
37 The Lord who delivered me from the hand of the lion and from the hand of the bear, he will deliver me from the hand of this uncircumcised foreigner.⁴ And Saul said to David, Go, and the Lord will be with you.
38 And Saul clothed David with a cloak and put a bronze helmet around his head.
39 And David girded on his sword over his cloak and labored to walk once and twice, and David said to Saul, I certainly will not be able to go in these things, because I have not tried them. And they take them off from him.
40 And he took his staff in his hand and chose for himself five smooth stones from the wadi and put them in the shepherd's pouch that belonged to him for gathering, and his sling was in his hand, and he came near to the foreign man.
42 And Goliath saw David and dishonored him, because he was a youth, and he was ruddy, with the beauty of eyes.⁵
43 And the foreigner said to David, Am I like a dog, that you come against me with staff and stones? And David said, No, but worse than a dog's hand. And the foreigner cursed David by his gods.
44 And the foreigner said to David, Come to me, and I will give your flesh to the birds of the sky and to the beasts of the earth.
45 And David said to the foreigner, You come to me with sword and spear and shield, but I go to you in the name of the Lord of hosts⁶, God of the battle-line of Israel, whom you have reproached today.
46 And the Lord will shut you up into my hand today, and I will kill you and remove your head from you, and I will give your limbs and the limbs of the camp of the foreigners in this day to the birds of the sky and to the beasts of the earth, and all the earth will know that there is a God in Israel.⁷
47 And all this assembly will know that the Lord does not save with sword and spear, because the battle is the Lord's, and the Lord will deliver you into our hands.
48 And the foreigner rose and went to meet David.
49 And David stretched out his hand into the pouch and took from there one stone and slung it and struck the foreigner on his forehead, and the stone went through the helmet into his forehead⁸, and he fell on his face to the ground.
51 And David ran and stood over him⁹ and took his sword and killed him and removed his head. And the foreigners saw that their mighty one had died, and they fled.¹⁰
52 And the men of Israel and Judah rose and shouted¹¹ and chased after them as far as the entrance of Gath and as far as the gate of Ashkelon, and wounded men of the foreigners fell on the road of the gates and as far as Gath and as far as Ekron.
53 And the men of Israel returned, turning aside from after the foreigners, and they trampled their camps.
54 And David took the head of the foreigner and brought it into Jerusalem, and his equipment he placed in his tent.

Chapter 18

6 And the dancing women¹ came out to meet David from all the cities of Israel with tambourines and with rejoicing and with cymbals.
7 And the women went out and were saying, Saul struck in his thousands, and David in his tens of thousands.
8 And the saying appeared evil in the eyes of Saul because of this word, and he said, To David they gave the tens of thousands, and to me they gave the thousands.
9 And Saul was looking askance at David from that day and beyond.
12 And Saul feared from before David.²
13 And he removed him from himself and appointed him for himself commander of a thousand, and he went out and came in before the people.
14 And David was understanding in all his ways, and the Lord was with him.
15 And Saul saw that he was understanding exceedingly, and he stood in awe from before him.
16 And all Israel and Judah loved David, because he was going out and coming in before the people.
20 And Michal daughter of Saul loved David, and it was reported to Saul, and it was made straight in his eyes.
21 And Saul said, I will give her to him, and she will be to him for a stumbling, and the hand of the foreigners will be against Saul.
22 And Saul commanded his servants, saying, Speak secretly to David, saying, Behold, the king delights in you, and all his servants love you, and you become son-in-law to the king.
23 And the servants of Saul spoke these words into the ears of David, and David said, Is it a light thing in your eyes to become son-in-law to a king? And I am a humble man and not honored.
24 And the servants of Saul reported to him according to these words that David spoke.
25 And Saul said, Thus you will say to David: The king does not desire in a marriage gift, except one hundred foreskins of foreigners³, to avenge on the enemies of the king. And Saul thought to cast him into the hands of the foreigners.
26 And the servants of Saul report these words to David, and the word was made straight in the eyes of David, to become son-in-law to the king.
27 And David rose and went, he and his men, and struck among the foreigners one hundred men⁴, and he brought their foreskins to the king, and he became son-in-law to the king, and he gives to him Michal his daughter to be his wife.
28 And Saul saw that the Lord was with David, and all Israel loved him.
29 And Saul added still more to stand in awe from before David.

Chapter 19

1 And Saul spoke to Jonathan his son and to all his servants to put David to death, but Jonathan son of Saul preferred David greatly.
2 And Jonathan reported to David, saying, Saul seeks to put you to death. Therefore guard yourself tomorrow morning and hide and sit concealed⁵.
3 And I will go out and stand beside my father in the field where you are there, and I will speak concerning you to my father, and I will see what there may be, and I will report to you.
4 And Jonathan spoke good things concerning David⁶ to Saul his father and said to him, Let not the king sin against your servant David, because he has not sinned against you, and his deeds are very good.
5 And he put his life in his hand⁷ and struck the foreigner, and the Lord worked a great salvation, and all Israel saw and rejoiced. And why do you sin against innocent blood, to put David to death for nothing?
6 And Saul listened to the voice of Jonathan, and Saul swore, saying, As the Lord lives, he will not die.
7 And Jonathan called David and reported to him all these words, and Jonathan brought David in to Saul, and he was before him as yesterday and the third day.
8 And the war was added to be against Saul, and David prevailed and fought the foreigners and struck among them a very great blow, and they fled from before him.
9 And it came to be, an evil spirit of God was on Saul, and he was in the house sitting, and a spear was in his hand, and David was playing with his hands.
10 And Saul sought to strike the spear into David, but David withdrew from before Saul, and he struck the spear into the wall, and David departed and escaped.
11 And it came to be on that night, Saul sent messengers to the house of David to guard him so as to kill him in the morning. And Michal his wife reported to David, saying, If you do not save your life this night, tomorrow you will be put to death.
12 And Michal let David down through the window, and he went away and fled and was saved.
13 And Michal took the tomb-images and placed them on the bed, and she put a goat's liver at his head and covered them with a garment.
14 And Saul sent messengers to take David, and they say that he is sick.
15 And Saul sent for David, saying, Bring him to me on the bed, so as to put him to death.
16 And the messengers come, and behold, the tomb-images were on the bed and a goat's liver at his head.
17 And Saul said to Michal, Why did you thus deceive me and send away my enemy, and he escaped? And Michal said to Saul, He said, Send me away, or else I will kill you.
18 And David fled and was saved and comes to Samuel at Ramathaim-Zophim and reports to him all that Saul did to him. And David and Samuel went and sat in Naioth⁸ at Ramah.
19 And it was reported to Saul, saying, Behold, David is in Naioth at Ramah.
20 And Saul sent messengers to take David, and they saw the assembly of the prophets, and Samuel stood appointed over them. And the Spirit of God came upon the messengers of Saul, and they prophesied.
21 And it was reported to Saul, and he sent other messengers, and they also prophesied. And Saul added to send third

23 And he went from there to Naioth at Ramah, and the Spirit of God also came upon him, and he went on prophesying until he came into Naioth at Ramah.

24 And he stripped off his garments and prophesied before them and fell naked all that day and all that night. Because of this they said, Is Saul also among prophets?

Chapter 20

1 And David fled from Naioth at Ramah and comes before Jonathan and said, What have I done, and what is my wrongdoing, and in what have I sinned before your father, that he seeks my life?

2 And Jonathan said to him, Far from you. You certainly will not die. Behold, my father will not do a great word or a small one without uncovering my ear, and why should my father hide this word from me? It is not so.

3 And David answered Jonathan and said, Knowing, your father knows that I have found favor in your eyes, and he said, Let not Jonathan know this, lest he not be willing. But as the Lord lives and as your life lives, as I said, there is only the fullness between me and death².

4 And Jonathan said to David, Whatever your soul desires, I will do for you.

5 And David said to Jonathan, Behold now, new moon is tomorrow, and sitting I will not sit with the king to eat, and you will send me away, and I will hide in the field until evening.

6 If your father inspecting should inspect for me, then you will say, David earnestly asked leave from me to run to Bethlehem his city, because there is there a sacrifice of days for all the tribe.

7 If he says thus, Good, there is peace for your servant. But if he answers harshly, know that evil is completed by him.

8 And you will do mercy with your servant, because you brought your servant into a covenant of the Lord with yourself³. And if there is wrongdoing in your servant, you put me to death, and why do you thus bring me to your father?

9 And Jonathan said, Far from you. For if in knowing I know that evil has been completed by my father to come upon you, will I not report it to you even into your cities?

10 And David said to Jonathan, Who will report to me if your father answers you harshly?

11 And Jonathan said to David, Go and remain in the field. And both went out into the field.

12 And Jonathan said to David, The Lord God of Israel knows that I will search out my father about this time tomorrow and the third day, and behold, if there is good concerning David and I do not send to you into the field,⁴

13 thus may God do to Jonathan and thus may he add, if I bring the evils upon you and do not uncover your ear⁵ and send you away, and you go in peace. And the Lord will be with you as he was with my father.

14 And if I am still living, you will indeed do mercy with me, and if I surely die,

15 you will not remove your mercy from my house forever, and not even when the Lord removes the enemies of David, each one from the face of the earth.

16 May the name of Jonathan be removed from the house of David, and may the Lord seek out the enemies of David.⁶

17 And Jonathan added still to swear to David, because he loved the soul of the one loving him.

18 And Jonathan said, Tomorrow is new moon, and you will be missed, because your seat will be inspected.

19 And you will do it a third time and inspect, and you will come to your place where you hid on the working day, and you will sit beside the stone Ezel⁷.

20 And I will make the third shot with arrows, sending toward Amattari.

21 And behold, I will send the young man, saying, Come, find the arrow for me. If in saying I say to the young man, Here is the arrow from you and on this side⁸, take it, come, because there is peace for you and there is no word, as the Lord lives.

22 But if I say thus to the young man, Here is the arrow from you and beyond⁹, go, because the Lord has sent you away.

23 And the word that we spoke, I and you, behold, the Lord is witness between me and you forever.

24 And David hid in the field, and the month arrives, and the king comes to the table to eat.

25 And the king sat on his seat, as once and once, on the seat by the wall, and he came before Jonathan, and Abner sat by the side of Saul, and David's place was inspected.

26 And Saul did not speak anything on that day, because he said, An incident appears, he is not clean, because he has not been purified.

27 And it came to be on the next day of the month, the second day, David's place was inspected¹⁰, and Saul said to Jonathan his son, Why is the son of Jesse not present, both yesterday and today, at the table?

28 And Jonathan answered Saul and said to him, David has earnestly requested from me to go to Bethlehem his city,

29 and he said, Send me away now, because we have a tribal sacrifice in the city, and my brothers have given charge to me, and now if I have found favor in your eyes, I will indeed escape and see my brothers¹¹. Because of this he has not come to the king's table.

30 And the anger of Saul burned very greatly against Jonathan, and he said to him, Son of fleeing girls¹², for I know that you share with the son of Jesse to your shame and to the shame of your mother's nakedness.

31 Because all the days that the son of Jesse lives upon the earth, your kingdom will not be established. Now therefore, send and take the young man, because he is a son of death.

32 And Jonathan answered Saul, Why should he die? What has he done?

33 And Saul lifted the spear against Jonathan to put him to death, and Jonathan knew that this evil from his father had been completed, to put David to death.

34 And Jonathan sprang up from the table in the anger of wrath and did not eat bread on the second of the month, because he

35 And it came to be in the morning, Jonathan went out into the field, as he had appointed, for the testimony with David, and a little young man was with him.

36 And he said to the young man, Run, find for me the arrows in which I am shooting. And the young man ran, and he shot the arrow and brought it past him.

37 And the young man came as far as the place of the arrow that Jonathan shot, and Jonathan cried out behind the young boy and said, Is not the arrow from you and beyond?

38 And Jonathan cried out behind his young man, saying, Hurry, make haste, do not stand. And the young man of Jonathan gathered the arrows to his lord.

39 And the young man knew nothing, except that Jonathan and David knew the word.

40 And Jonathan gave his equipment to his young man and said to his young man, Go, enter into the city.

41 And as the young man entered, David arose from the stone Ezel and fell on his face and bowed down to him three times, and each kissed his neighbor, and each wept to his neighbor until great completion¹.

42 And Jonathan said, Go in peace, and as we two swore in the name of the Lord, saying, The Lord will be witness between me and you² and between my seed and between your seed forever.

Chapter 21

1 And David rose and went away, and Jonathan entered into the city.³

2 And David comes to Nob⁴ to Abimelech the priest, and Abimelech stood outside himself to meet him⁵ and said to him, Why are you alone, and no one with you?

3 And David said to the priest, The king has charged me with a word today and said to me, Let no one know the word concerning which I am sending you and concerning which I have charged you. And I have directed the young men to the place called God's faith, Phellani, Alemoni.⁶

4 And now, if there are five loaves under your hand, give into my hand what is found⁷.

5 And the priest answered David and said, There are no common breads under my hand, but only holy breads are here, if the young men have kept themselves from woman⁸, and he will eat.

6 And David answered the priest and said to him, On the contrary, we have been kept from woman⁹ yesterday and the third day since my going out on the road. All the young men have become purified, and this road is common, because today it will be sanctified by my equipment.

7 And Abimelech the priest gave him the loaves of presentation, because there was no bread there except the breads of the presence, the ones removed from the face of the Lord, to set warm bread on the day he took them.¹⁰

8 And there was there one of the servants of Saul on that day, held in before the Lord, and his name was Doeg¹¹ the Syrian, pasturing the mules of Saul.¹²

9 And David said to Abimelech, Look, is there here under your hand spear or sword¹³? Because I did not take my sword and my equipment in my hand, because the king's word was in haste.

10 And the priest said, Behold, the sword of Goliath the foreigner, whom you struck in the valley of Ela¹⁴, and it is wrapped in a garment. If you will take it for yourself, take it¹⁵, because there is no other besides this here. And David said, Behold, there is none like it. Give it to me.

11 And he gave it to him. And David rose and fled on that day from before Saul, and David came to Achish king of Gath.¹⁶¹⁷

12 And the servants of Achish said to him, Is not this David, king of the land? Is it not to this one that the dancers came out, saying, Saul struck in his thousands, and David in his tens of thousands?¹⁸

13 And David put the words in his heart and feared greatly from before Achish king of Gath.¹⁹

14 And he altered his face before him and pretended on that day, and was drumming on the doors of the city, and was carried along in his hands, and was falling on the doors of the gate, and his saliva was running down on his beard.²⁰

15 And Achish said to his servants, Behold, you see a possessed man. Why did you bring him to me?

16 Do I lack possessed men, that you have brought him for acting possessed toward me? This one will not enter into the house.

Chapter 22

1 And David went away from there and was saved and comes into the cave of Adullam, and his brothers and all his father's house heard and came down there to him.

2 And everyone in distress and everyone in debt and everyone bitter in soul gathered to him, and he was leader over them, and there were with him about four hundred men.

3 And David went from there to Mizpah of Moab and said to the king of Moab, Let now my father and my mother be with you until I know what God will do to me.

4 And he entreated the face of the king of Moab, and they stayed with him all the days David was in the stronghold.
5 And Gad the prophet said to David, Do not sit in the stronghold. Go, and you will come into the land of Judah. And David went and came and sat in the city of Sarich.
6 And Saul heard that David and the men with him had become known. And Saul was sitting on the hill under the tamarisk tree in Ramah, and the spear was in his hand, and all his servants stood by him.
7 And Saul said to his servants standing by him, Hear now, sons of Benjamin. Will the son of Jesse truly give to all of you fields and vineyards and appoint all of you centurions and commanders of thousands¹,
8 that all of you conspire against me, and there is no one uncovering my ear² when my son makes a covenant with the son of Jesse, and there is no one among you grieved concerning me and uncovering my ear that my son has stirred up my servant against me as an enemy, as this day?
9 And Doeg the Syrian answered, the one set over the mules of Saul, and said, I saw the son of Jesse coming to Nob to Abimelech son of Ahitub the priest.
10 And he inquired for him through God and gave him provisions and gave him the sword of Goliath the foreigner.
11 And the king sent to call Abimelech son of Ahitub and all the sons of his father, the priests in Nob, and all came to the king.
12 And Saul said, Hear now, son of Ahitub. And he said, Behold, I am here, speak, lord.
13 And Saul said to him, Why did you conspire³ against me, you and the son of Jesse, by giving him bread and sword and by inquiring for him through God, to set him against me as an enemy, as this day?
14 And he answered the king and said, And who among all your servants is like David, faithful and son-in-law of the king and ruler of all your commands and honored in your house?
15 Have I begun today to inquire for him through God? Far be it. Let not the king put a word against⁴ his servant and against all the house of my father, because your servant knew nothing in all these things, small or great.
16 And King Saul said, Dying you will die, Abimelech, you and all your father's house.
17 And the king said to the runners standing over him, Bring forward and kill the priests of the Lord, because their hand is with David, and because they knew that he was fleeing and did not uncover my ear⁵. And the servants of the king were not willing to bring their hands upon the priests of the Lord.
18 And the king said to Doeg, Turn yourself and attack the priests. And Doeg the Syrian turned and killed the priests of the Lord on that day, three hundred and five men, all carrying ephod.
19 And he struck Nob, the city of the priests, by the mouth of the sword, from man to woman, from infant to nursing child, and ox and donkey and sheep.
20 And one son of Abimelech son of Ahitub escaped, and his name was Abiathar⁶, and he fled after David.
21 And Abiathar reported to David that Saul had killed all the priests of the Lord.
22 And David said to Abiathar, I knew on that day that Doeg the Syrian would surely report to Saul. I am guilty for the lives of your father's house.
23 Stay with me. Do not fear, because where I seek my life, I will seek a place for your life, because you are guarded with me.

Chapter 23

1 And it was reported to David, saying, Behold, the foreigners are making war at Keilah, and they are plundering and trampling the threshing floors.
2 And David inquired through the Lord, saying, Shall I go and strike these foreigners? And the Lord said, Go, and you will strike these foreigners and save Keilah.
3 And the men of David said to him, Behold, we here in Judah are afraid, and how will it be if we go to Keilah? We will enter into the spoils of the foreigners.
4 And David added still to inquire through the Lord, and the Lord answered him and said to him, Rise and go down to Keilah, because I am delivering the foreigners into your hands.
5 And David and the men with him went to Keilah and fought among the foreigners, and they fled from before him, and he brought away their cattle and struck among them a great blow, and David saved the inhabitants of Keilah.
6 And it came to be when Abiathar son of Abimelech fled to David, he himself went down with David into Keilah, having ephod in his hand.
7 And it was reported to Saul that David had come to Keilah, and Saul said, God has sold him into my hands, because he has shut himself in by entering a city of doors and bars.
8 And Saul ordered all the people for war, to go down to Keilah, to hem in David and his men.
9 And David knew that Saul was not silent about evil against him, and David said to Abiathar the priest, Bring near the ephod of the Lord.
10 And David said, Lord God of Israel, your servant has surely heard that Saul seeks to come against Keilah to destroy the city because of me.
11 Will it be shut up? And now will Saul come down, as your servant has heard? Lord God of Israel, report to your servant. And the Lord said, It will be shut up.
12 And David rose, and the men with him, about four hundred, and they went out from Keilah and were going wherever they went. And it was reported to Saul that David had escaped from Keilah, and he let go of going out.
13 And David sat in the wilderness in Maserem in the narrow places, and he sat in the wilderness on the mountain of Ziph in the dry land, and Saul sought him all the days, but the Lord did not deliver him into his hands.
14 And David saw that Saul was going out to seek David, and David was on the dry mountain in the New Place of Ziph.
15 And Jonathan son of Saul rose and went to David into the New Place and strengthened his hands in the Lord⁷.
16 And he said to him, Do not fear, because the hand of Saul my father certainly will not find you, and you will reign over Israel, and I will be second to you, and Saul my father also knows thus.
17 And both made a covenant before the Lord, and David sat in the New Place, and Jonathan went away to his house.

20 And now let the king come down with all the desire of his soul for going down. They have shut him into the hands of the king.

21 And Saul said to them, Blessed are you to the Lord, because you grieved for me.

22 Go now and prepare still more, and know his place, where his foot will be in haste there, where you said, Lest perhaps he act craftily.

23 And see and know, and we will go with you, and if he is on the land, I will search him out in all the thousands of Judah.³

24 And the Ziphites rose and went before Saul, and David and his men were in the wilderness of Maon, toward evening, on the right of Jeshimon.

25 And Saul and his men went to seek him, and they reported to David, and he went down to the rock in the wilderness of Maon. And Saul heard and pursued after David into the wilderness of Maon.

26 And Saul and his men were going from one side of this mountain, and David and his men from the side of that mountain, and David was hiding himself to go from before Saul, and Saul and his men had camped against David⁴ and his men to seize them.

27 And a messenger came to Saul, saying, Hasten and come, because the foreigners have attacked the land.

28 And Saul turned back from pursuing after David and went to meet the foreigners. Because of this that place was called Divided Rock.

2 And it came to be as Saul turned back from after the foreigners⁷, that it was reported to him saying that David was in the wilderness of Engedi.⁸

3 And he took with himself three thousand chosen men from all Israel and went to seek David and his men upon the face of Saddaeim.

4 And he came to the sheepfolds by the road, and there was a cave there, and Saul entered to prepare himself⁹, and David and his men were sitting in the innermost part of the cave.

5 And the men of David said to him, Behold, this day of which the Lord spoke to you, to deliver your enemy into your hands, and you will do to him as good in your eyes. And David rose and removed the wing of Saul's double cloak secretly.¹⁰

6 And it came to be after these things that David's heart struck him because he had removed the wing of his double cloak.

7 And David said to his men, Far be it from me before the Lord if I do this thing to my lord, the anointed of the Lord, to bring my hand upon him, because this one is anointed of the Lord.

8 And David persuaded his men with words and did not let them rise to put Saul to death, and Saul rose and went down on the road.¹¹

9 And David rose after him from the cave and cried out behind Saul, saying, Lord king. And Saul looked behind him, and David bent his face to the ground and bowed down to him.

10 And David said to Saul, Why do you listen to the words of the people saying, Behold, David seeks your life?¹²

11 Behold, on this day your eyes have seen that the Lord delivered you today into my hand in the cave, and I was not willing to kill you, and I spared you and said, I will not put my hand upon my lord, because he is anointed of the Lord.¹³

12 And behold, the wing of your double cloak¹⁴ is in my hand. I removed the wing and did not kill you. Know and see today that there is no evil in my hand, nor impiety and revolt, and I have not sinned against you, but you bind my life to take it.

13 May the Lord judge between me and you, and may the Lord avenge me from you, but my hand will not be upon you.

14 As the ancient proverb says, From lawless ones wrongdoing will go out, but my hand will not be upon you.

15 And now, after whom do you come out, king of Israel? After whom do you pursue? After a dead dog and after one flea.¹⁵

16 May the Lord become judge and justice between me and you¹⁶. May the Lord see and judge my judgment and give me justice from your hand.

17 And it came to be, when David finished speaking these words to Saul, Saul said, Is this your voice, child David? And Saul lifted up his voice and wept.

18 And Saul said to David, You are more righteous than I, because you repaid me good things, but I repaid you evil things.

19 And you reported to me today what good things you did to me, how the Lord shut me up today into your hands and you did not kill me.

20 And because if anyone should find his enemy in affliction and send him away on a good road, then the Lord will repay him good things, as you have done today.

21 And now, behold, I know that in reigning you will reign, and the kingdom of Israel will stand in your hands.

22 And now swear to me by the Lord that you will not destroy my seed after me and will not wipe out my name from the house of my father.¹⁷

23 And David swore to Saul, and Saul went away to his place, and David and his men went up to the narrow stronghold.

David rose and went down into the wilderness of Maon.

2 And there was a man in Maon, and his flocks were in Carmel, and the man was very great, and he had three thousand sheep and one thousand goats. And it came to be when he was shearing his flock in Carmel,

3 the name of the man was Nabal¹, and the name of his wife was Abigail², and his wife was good in understanding and very beautiful in appearance, but the man was harsh and evil in practices, and the man was doglike³.

4 And David heard in the wilderness that Nabal the Carmelite⁴ was shearing his flock.

5 And David sent ten young men and said to the young men, Go up to Carmel and go to Nabal and ask him in my name about peace.

6 And you will say these things at the season: And you are in health, and your house, and all your things in health.

7 And now behold, I have heard that they are shearing for you. Now your shepherds who were with us in the wilderness, we did not hinder them, and we did not command anything from them all the days they were in Carmel.

8 Ask your young men, and they will report to you. And let the young men find favor in your eyes, because we have come on a good day⁵. Give now whatever your hand may find to your son David.

9 And the young men come and speak these words to Nabal according to all these words in the name of David, and he sprang away.

10 And Nabal answered the servants of David and said, Who is David, and who is the son of Jesse? Today servants who withdraw each one from before his lord have multiplied.

11 And shall I take my breads and my wine and my victims that I have slaughtered for those shearing my sheep and give them to men whose origin I do not know?

12 And David's young men turned on their way and returned and came and reported to David according to these words.

13 And David said to his men, Gird on each his sword. And about four hundred men went up after David, and two hundred sat with the baggage.⁶

14 And one of the young men reported to Abigail wife of Nabal, saying, Behold, David sent messengers from the wilderness to bless our lord, and he turned away from them.

15 And the men were very good to us. They did not hinder us, nor did they command anything to us all the days we were with them and while we were in the field.

16 They were like a wall around us, both night and day, all the days we were with them shepherding the flock.

17 And now know and see what you will do, because evil has been completed against our lord and against his house, and he is a pestilent son, and no one can speak to him.

18 And Abigail hurried and took two hundred loaves and two vessels of wine and five prepared sheep and five ophi of fine flour and one gomor of raisins and two hundred cakes and put them on the donkeys.⁷

19 And she said to her young men, Go on before me, and behold, I am coming behind you. But to her husband she did not report it.

20 And it came to be, as she was mounted on the donkey and going down under the shelter of the mountain, behold, David and his men were coming down to meet her, and she met them.

21 And David said, Perhaps in vain I have guarded all his things in the wilderness, and we did not command taking anything from all his things, and he repaid me evil instead of good.

22 Thus may God do to David and thus may he add, if I leave from all the things of Nabal until morning one who urinates against a wall.

23 And Abigail saw David and hurried and sprang down from the donkey and fell before David on her face and bowed down to him on the ground.

24 At his feet she said, In me, my lord, is the wrongdoing. Let your servant speak into your ears now, and hear the word of your servant.

25 Let not my lord set his heart on this pestilent man, because as his name, so he is: Nabal is his name, and folly is with him. But I, your servant, did not see your young men whom you sent.

26 And now, my lord, as the Lord lives and as your life lives, just as the Lord kept you back from coming into innocent blood⁸ and from saving your hand for yourself, now let your enemies and the ones seeking evil for my lord become like Nabal.

27 And now take this blessing that your servant has brought to my lord, and you will give it to the young men standing by my lord.

28 Take away the lawless deed of your servant, because in doing the Lord will make for my lord a faithful house, because my lord fights the battles of the Lord, and evil will not be found in you ever.

29 And a man will rise up pursuing you and seeking your life, and the life of my lord will be bound in the bundle of life⁹ with the Lord your God, and the life of your enemies you will sling out in the middle of the sling.

30 And it will be that the Lord will do for my lord all the good things he spoke concerning you, and the Lord will appoint you as a leader over Israel.

31 And this will not be to you an abomination and a stumbling¹⁰ for my lord, to pour out innocent blood for nothing and for the hand of my lord to save for himself. And the Lord will do good to my lord, and you will remember your servant to do good to her.

32 And David said to Abigail, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who sent you today on this day to meet me.

33 And blessed be your discernment, and blessed are you, who kept me back today on this day from coming into bloods and from saving my hand for myself.

34 Except that the Lord God of Israel lives, who kept me back today from doing evil to you, because if you had not hurried and come to meet me, then I said, Surely there would have been left to Nabal until morning one urinating against a wall¹¹.

35 And David took from her hand all that she brought to him and said to her, Go up in peace to your house. See, I have heard your voice and honored your face.

36 And Abigail came to Nabal, and behold, a feast was for him in his house like a king's feast, and the heart of Nabal was good upon him¹, and he was very drunk, and she did not report to him a thing, small or great, until morning light.

37 And it came to be in the morning, as Nabal sobered from the wine, his wife reported these words to him, and his heart died within him, and he became like a stone.

38 And it came to be after about ten days, the Lord struck Nabal, and he died.

39 And David heard and said, Blessed be the Lord, who judged the judgment of my reproach from the hand of Nabal and preserved his servant from the hand of evils², and the Lord turned back the evil of Nabal on his own head. And David sent and spoke concerning Abigail, to take her for himself as wife.

40 And the servants of David came to Abigail at Carmel and spoke to her, saying, David has sent us to you, to take you for himself as wife.

41 And she rose and bowed down to the ground on her face and said, Behold, your servant is for a slave-girl to wash the feet of your servants.

42 And Abigail rose and mounted the donkey, and five girls were following her, and she went behind the servants of David and became his wife.

43 And David took Ahinoam from Jezreel, and both became his wives.

44 And Saul gave Michal his daughter, the wife of David, to Palti son of Laish from Romma.

Chapter 26

1 And the Ziphites come from the dry land to Saul on the hill, saying, Behold, David is hiding with us on the mountain of Hachilah, opposite Jeshimon.

2 And Saul rose and went down into the wilderness of Ziph, and with him were three thousand chosen men from Israel, to seek David in the wilderness of Ziph.

3 And Saul camped on the mountain of Hachilah opposite Jeshimon by the road, and David sat in the wilderness, and David saw that Saul came after him into the wilderness.

4 And David sent spies and knew that Saul came prepared from Keilah.

5 And David rose secretly and enters into the place where Saul was sleeping there, and there was Abner son of Ner, his commander, and Saul was sleeping in the wagon circle³, and the people had camped around him.

6 And David answered and said to Ahimelech⁴ the Hittite and to Abishai⁵ son of Zeruiah⁶, brother of Joab, saying, Who will go in with me to Saul into the camp? And Abishai said, I will go in with you.

7 And David and Abishai enter into the people by night, and behold, Saul was sleeping in slumber in the wagon circle, and the spear was fixed in the ground at his head, and Abner and his people were sleeping around him.

8 And Abishai said to David, Today the Lord has shut your enemy into your hands, and now I will strike him with the spear into the ground, once, and I will not need a second time⁷ for him.

9 And David said to Abishai, Do not humble him, because who will bring his hand upon the anointed of the Lord and be held innocent?

10 And David said, As the Lord lives, unless the Lord strikes him, or his day comes and he dies, or he goes down into battle and is swept away,

11 far be it from me before the Lord to bring my hand upon the anointed of the Lord. And now take the spear from his head and the flask of water, and let us go for ourselves.

12 And David took the spear and the flask of water⁸ from his head, and they went away by themselves, and there was none seeing and none knowing and none waking; all were sleeping, because astonishment from the Lord had fallen upon them.

13 And David crossed over to the other side and stood on the top of the mountain far off, and the road between them was great.

14 And David called to the people and spoke to Abner, saying, Will you not answer, Abner? And Abner answered and said, Who are you, the one calling me?

15 And David said to Abner, Are you not a man, and who is like you in Israel? And why do you not guard your lord the king? Because one from the people entered to destroy your lord the king⁹.

16 And this word that you have done is not good. As the Lord lives, you are sons of death¹⁰, the ones guarding your lord the king, the anointed of the Lord. And now see the king's spear and the flask of water where they are by his head.

17 And Saul recognized the voice of David and said, Is this your voice, child David? And David said, Your servant, lord king.

18 And he said, Why is my lord pursuing after his servant? Because in what have I sinned, and what wrongdoing has been found in me?

19 And now let my lord the king hear the word of his servant. If God stirs you up against me, may he smell your sacrifices¹¹. But if sons of men, cursed are these before the Lord, because they cast me out today from being established in the inheritance of the Lord, saying, Go, serve other gods.

20 And now let not my blood fall to the ground opposite the face of the Lord, because the king of Israel has come out seeking my life, as the night-raven pursues in the mountains.

21 And Saul said, I have sinned. Return, child David, because I will not do evil to you, because my life was precious in your eyes on this day. I have been made foolish and have been very greatly ignorant.

22 And David answered and said, Behold, the spear of the king. Let one of the young men cross over and take it.

23 And the Lord will return to each his righteousness and his faithfulness, just as the Lord delivered you today into my hands, and I was not willing to bring my hand upon the anointed of the Lord.

24 And behold, just as your life was magnified today on this day in my eyes, so may my life be magnified before the Lord, and may he shelter me and deliver me from all affliction.

25 And Saul said to David, Blessed are you, child; doing you will do, and prevailing you will prevail. And David went on his way, and Saul returned to his place.

Chapter 27

1 And David said in his heart, saying, Now one day I will be swept away into the hands of Saul, and there is nothing good for me unless I am saved¹ into the land of the foreigners. And Saul will let go of seeking me in every border of Israel, and I will be saved from his hand.
2 And David rose, and the four hundred men with him, and went to Achish son of Maach², king of Gath.
3 And David sat with Achish in Gath, he and his men, each and his household, and David and both his wives, Ahinoam the Jezreelite³ and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite.
4 And it was reported to Saul that David had fled to Gath, and he no longer added to seek him.
5 And David said to Achish, If your servant has found favor in your eyes, let them give me a place in one of the country towns, and I will sit there. And why should your servant sit in a royal city with you?⁴
6 And he gave him on that day Ziklag. Therefore Ziklag became to the king of Judah until this day.
7 And it came to be, the number of the days David sat in the countryside of the foreigners was four months.
8 And David and his men were going up and attacking all the Geshurites and the Amalekite⁵, and behold, the land had been inhabited from those belonging to Gelampsour, fortified, and as far as the land of Egypt.
9 And he would strike the land and would not keep alive man and woman, and he took flocks and herds and donkeys and camels and clothing, and they returned and came to Achish.
10 And Achish said to David, Against whom did you attack today? And David said to Achish, Against the south of Judah and against the south of Jerahmeelites⁶ and against the south of the Kenezite.
11 And he did not keep alive man and woman to bring into Gath, saying, Lest they report in Gath against us, saying, Thus David does. And this was his rule⁷ all the days David sat in the countryside of the foreigners.
12 And David was deeply trusted by Achish, saying, In shaming he has been shamed among his people in Israel, and he will be my servant forever.

Chapter 28

1 And it came to be in those days, the foreigners gathered in their camps to go out to fight against Israel. And Achish said to David, In knowing you will know⁸ that you and your men will go out with me into battle.
2 And David said to Achish, Thus now you will know what your servant will do. And Achish said to David, Thus I will appoint you chief bodyguard all the days.
3 And Samuel died, and all Israel mourned for him and buried him in Ramathaim-Zophim, in his city. And Saul removed the ventriloquists and the knowers from the land.
4 And the foreigners gather and come and camp in Shunem, and Saul gathers every man of Israel and they camp in Gilboa⁹.
5 And Saul saw the camp of the foreigners and feared, and his heart stood outside itself greatly.
6 And Saul inquired through the Lord, and the Lord did not answer him in dreams and in manifestations and in prophets.
7 And Saul said to his servants, Seek for me a ventriloquist woman¹⁰, and I will go to her and inquire by her. And his servants said to him, Behold, there is a ventriloquist woman in Endor¹¹.
8 And Saul disguised himself and clothed himself with other garments, and he goes, he and two men with him, and they come to the woman by night, and he said to her, Divine for me now by the ventriloquist¹², and bring up for me whomever I tell you.
9 And the woman said to him, Behold now, you know what Saul did, how he destroyed the ventriloquists¹³ and the knowers from the land. And why are you trapping my life to put it to death?¹⁴
10 And Saul swore to her, saying, As the Lord lives, wrongdoing will not meet you in this matter.
11 And the woman said, Whom shall I bring up for you? And he said, Bring up Samuel for me.
12 And the woman saw Samuel and cried out with a great voice, and the woman said to Saul, Why did you deceive me¹⁵? And you are Saul.
13 And the king said to her, Do not fear. Tell me, what have you seen? And she said to him, I have seen gods coming up from the earth.
14 And he said to her, What did you recognize? And she said to him, An upright man coming up from the earth¹⁶, and he had a double cloak wrapped around him. And Saul knew that this was Samuel, and he bent on his face to the ground and bowed down to him.
15 And Samuel said, Why have you disturbed me¹⁷, to bring me up? And Saul said, I am in great distress, and the foreigners are fighting against me, and God has departed from me and no longer listened to me, both by the hand of prophets and in dreams. And now I have called you to make known to me what I shall do.
16 And Samuel said, Why do you ask me, since the Lord has departed from you and has come to be with your neighbor?
17 And the Lord has done for you just as he spoke by my hand, and the Lord will tear your kingdom from your hand and give it to your neighbor, to David.
18 Because you did not hear the voice of the Lord and did not carry out the anger of his wrath in Amalek, because of this thing the Lord has done this to you on this day.
19 And the Lord will deliver Israel with you into the hands of the foreigners, and tomorrow you and your sons with you will fall, and the camp of Israel¹⁸ the Lord will give into the hands of the foreigners.
20 And Saul hurried and fell standing to the ground, and he feared greatly from the words of Samuel, and there was no strength

21 And the woman came in to Saul and saw that he had been greatly shaken, and she said to him, Behold now, your servant listened to your voice and set my life in my hand¹, and I listened to the words you spoke to me.

22 And now listen now to the voice of your servant, and I will set before you a morsel of bread, and eat, and there will be strength in you because you will go on the road.

23 And he was not willing to eat, and his servants and the woman pressed him, and he listened to their voice and rose from the ground and sat on the couch.

24 And the woman had a grazing heifer in the house, and she hurried and slaughtered it and took flour and kneaded it and baked unleavened bread.

25 And she brought it before Saul and before his servants, and they ate and rose and went away that night.

Chapter 29

1 And the foreigners gather all their camps in Aphek, and Israel camped in Endor in Jezreel.

2 And the satraps of the foreigners were passing by in hundreds and thousands, and David and his men were passing by at the rear with Achish.

3 And the satraps of the foreigners said, Who are these passing over? And Achish said to the generals of the foreigners, Is not this David, servant of Saul king of Israel, who has been with us these days, this second year, and I have found nothing in him from the day he fell in with me until this day?²

4 And the generals of the foreigners were grieved over him and say to him, Turn the man back to his place where you stationed him, and let him not come with us into battle, and let him not become a plotter in the camp. And by what will this man be reconciled to his lord? Is it not by the heads of those men?³

5 Is not this David, to whom they came out in dances, saying, Saul struck in his thousands, and David in his tens of thousands?

6 And Achish called David and said to him, As the Lord lives, you are upright⁴, and good in my eyes is your going out and your coming in with me in the camp, and I have found no evil against you from the day you came to me until this day, but in the eyes of the satraps you are not good.

7 And now turn back and go in peace, and you certainly will not do evil in the eyes of the satraps of the foreigners.

8 And David said to Achish, What have I done to you, and what have you found in your servant from the day I was before you until this day, that I should not come to fight the enemies of my lord the king?⁵

9 And Achish answered David, I know that you are good in my eyes, but the satraps of the foreigners say, He will not come with us into battle.

10 And now rise early in the morning, you and the servants of your lord who came with you, and go to the place where I stationed you there, and do not set a pestilent word in your heart, because you are good before me. And rise early on the road, and let it grow light for you, and go.

11 And David rose early, he and his men, to depart and keep the land of the foreigners, and the foreigners went up to fight against Israel.

Chapter 30

1 And it came to be when David and his men entered into Ziklag on the third day, Amalek attacked the south and Ziklag and struck Ziklag and burned it with fire.

2 And they did not kill man or woman among the women and all in it from small to great, but they took them captive and went on their way.

3 And David and his men came to the city, and behold, it had been burned with fire, and their wives and their sons and their daughters had been taken captive.

4 And David and his men lifted up their voice and wept until there was no longer strength in them to weep.

5 And both David's wives had been taken captive, Ahinoam the Jezreelite and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite.

6 And David was greatly distressed, because the people spoke of stoning him, because the soul of all the people was bitter, each for his sons and for his daughters. And David strengthened himself in the Lord his God⁶.

7 And David said to Abiathar the priest son of Ahimelech, Bring near the ephod.

8 And David inquired through the Lord, saying, Shall I pursue after this raiding band? Shall I overtake them? And he said to him, Pursue, because overtaking you will overtake, and rescuing you will rescue.

9 And David went, he and the six hundred men with him, and they come as far as the wadi Besor, and the excess stood there.

10 And David pursued with four hundred men, but two hundred men lagged behind, who sat beyond the wadi Besor.

11 And they find an Egyptian man in the field and take him and lead him to David in the field, and they give him bread, and he ate, and they gave him water to drink.

12 And they gave him a piece of a cake, and he ate, and his spirit was restored within him, because he had not eaten bread and had not drunk water three days and three nights.

13 And David said to him, Whose are you, and from where are you? And the Egyptian young man said, I am slave of an Amalekite man, and my lord left me because I became sick, today the third day.

14 And we attacked the south of Cherethites⁷ and the parts of Judah and the south of Caleb, and we burned Ziklag with fire.

15 And David said to him, Will you lead me down against this raiding band? And he said, Swear to me by God not to put me to death and not to hand me into the hands of my lord⁸, and I will lead you down against this raiding band.

16 And he led him down there, and behold, they were spread out over the face of all the land⁹, eating and drinking and feasting over all the great spoil they had taken from the land of the foreigners and from the land of Judah.

17 And David came upon them and struck them from dawn until evening and on the next day, and there was not saved from them a man, except four hundred young men who had mounted on the camels and fled.

 20 And David took all the flocks and the herds and drove them before the spoils, and to those spoils it was said, These are David's spoils.
 21 And David comes to the two hundred men who had become too faint to go after David, and he seated them at the wadi Besor. And they went out to meet David and to meet the people with him, and David came near to the people, and they asked him the things of peace².
 22 And every pestilent and evil man³ of the fighting men who had gone with David answered and said, Because they did not pursue with us, we will not give them from the spoil that we rescued, except each his wife and his children; let them take them and go away.
 23 And David said, You will not do thus, after the Lord gave to us and guarded us and delivered the raiding band coming against us into our hands.
 24 And who will listen to you in these words? Because their portion is no less, for according to the portion of the one going down into battle, so will be the portion of the one sitting over the baggage; they will divide alike.
 25 And it came to be from that day and above, and it became an ordinance and a judgment for Israel until today.
 26 And David came to Ziklag and sent from the spoils to the elders of Judah and to his neighbors, saying, Behold, from the spoils of the enemies of the Lord,

 3 And the battle grew heavy against Saul, and the men, the archers, found him, and he was wounded in the flanks.
 4 And Saul said to the one carrying his equipment, Draw your sword and pierce me with it⁵, lest these uncircumcised ones come and pierce me and mock me. But the one carrying his equipment was not willing, because he feared greatly. And Saul took the sword and fell upon it.
 5 And the one carrying his equipment saw that Saul had died, and he too fell upon his own sword and died with him.
 6 And Saul died, and his three sons, and the one carrying his equipment, on that day together.
 7 And the men of Israel who were beyond the valley and those beyond the Jordan saw that the men of Israel had fled and that Saul and his sons had died, and they abandoned their cities and fled, and the foreigners come and live in them⁶.
 8 And it came to be on the next day, the foreigners came to strip the dead, and they find Saul and his three sons fallen on Mount Gilboa.
 9 And they turned him and stripped off his equipment and send them throughout the land of the foreigners round about, proclaiming good news to their idols and to their people.
 10 And they placed his equipment in the temple of Ashtaroth, and his body they fixed in the wall of Bethshan.
 11 And the inhabitants of Jabesh of Gileadites⁷ heard what the foreigners had done to Saul.
 12 And every mighty man rose and went all the night and took the body of Saul and the body of Jonathan his son from the wall of Bethshan and bring them into Jabesh and burn them there.

2 Samuel

Chapter 1

1 And it came to be after the death of Saul, David returned from striking Amalek, and David sat in Ziklag two days.
2 And it came to be on the third day, behold, a man came from the camp from the people of Saul, and his garments were torn and earth was on his head. And it came to be when he entered to David, he fell to the ground and bowed down to him.¹
3 And David said to him, From where do you come? And he said to him, I have escaped from the camp of Israel.
4 And David said to him, What is this word? Report to me. And he said, The people fled from the battle, and many of the people have fallen and died, and both Saul and Jonathan his son have died.
5 And David said to the young man reporting to him, How do you know that Saul and Jonathan his son have died?
6 And the young man reporting to him said, By chance I happened on Mount Gilboa, and behold, Saul had leaned upon his spear, and behold, the chariots and the horse-commanders had joined close to him.
7 And he looked behind him and saw me and called me, and I said, Behold, here I am.
8 And he said to me, Who are you? And I said, I am an Amalekite.
9 And he said to me, Stand now over me and put me to death, because terrible darkness seized me², because all my life is still in me.
10 And I stood over him and put him to death, because I knew that he would not live after his fall. And I took the kingship-band³ that was on his head and the bracelet that was on his arm and have brought them here to my lord.
11 And David seized his garments and tore them, and all the men with him tore their garments.
12 And they mourned and wept and fasted until evening over Saul and over Jonathan his son and over the people of Judah and over the house of Israel, because they were struck by the sword.
13 And David said to the young man reporting to him, From where are you? And he said, I am son of a sojourning Amalekite man.
14 And David said to him, How were you not afraid to bring your hand to destroy the anointed of the Lord?
15 And David called one of his young men and said, Come near, strike him. And he struck him, and he died.
16 And David said to him, Your blood is on your head, because your mouth answered against you, saying, I myself killed the anointed of the Lord.
17 And David lamented this lament over Saul and over Jonathan his son.
18 And he said to teach the sons of Judah; behold, it is written in the Book of the Upright.
19 Set up, O Israel, over your dead, upon your high places the wounded. How the mighty have fallen.
20 Do not report it in Gath, and do not proclaim good news in the streets of Ashkelon, lest the daughters of the foreigners rejoice, lest the daughters of the uncircumcised exult.
21 Mountains of Gilboa, let no dew come down on you and no rain on you, nor fields of firstfruits⁴, because there the shield of the mighty was defiled, the shield of Saul not anointed with oil.
22 From the blood of the wounded, from the fat of the mighty, the bow of Jonathan did not turn back empty, and the sword of Saul did not return empty.
23 Saul and Jonathan, the beloved and beautiful, not separated, lovely in their life and in their death they were not divided; swifter than eagles, they were made stronger than lions.
24 Daughters of Israel, weep over Saul, the one clothing you in scarlet with your ornament, the one bringing golden ornament upon your garments.
25 How the mighty have fallen in the midst of battle. Jonathan, wounded on your high places.
26 I am in pain for you, my brother Jonathan. You were made very beautiful to me; your love to me was made wonderful beyond the love of women.
27 How the mighty have fallen, and the weapons of war have perished.

Chapter 2

1 And it came to be after these things, David inquired of the Lord, saying, Shall I go up into one of the cities of Judah? And the Lord said to him, Go up. And David said, Where shall I go up? And he said, To Hebron.⁵
2 And David went up there to Hebron, and both his wives, Ahinoam the Jezreelite and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite.
3 And the men with him, each and his household, and they lived in the cities of Hebron.
4 And the men of Judah come and anoint David there to reign over the house of Judah. And they reported to David, saying that the men of Jabesh of Gileadites buried Saul.
5 And David sent messengers to the leaders of Jabesh of Gileadites and said to them, Blessed are you to the Lord, because you did this mercy for your lord, for Saul the anointed of the Lord, and buried him and Jonathan his son.
6 And now may the Lord do mercy and truth with you, and indeed I will do these good things with you, because you did this word.
7 And now let your hands be strengthened, and become sons of strength, because your lord Saul has died, and indeed the house of Judah has anointed me over themselves as king.
8 And Abner son of Ner, commander of Saul, took Ishbosheth⁶ son of Saul and brought him up from the camp into Mahanaim.
9 And he made him king over Gileadites and over Ashurites⁷ and over Jezreel and over Ephraim and over Benjamin and over all Israel.
10 Forty years old was Ishbosheth son of Saul when he reigned over Israel, and he reigned two years, except that the house of Judah was following David.
11 And the days that David reigned in Hebron over the house of Judah were seven years and six months.
12 And Abner son of Ner and the servants of Ishbosheth son of Saul went out from Mahanaim to Gibeon.
13 And Joab⁸ son of Zeruiah and the servants of David went out from Hebron and met them by the pool of Gibeon together.

And these sat by the pool of Gibeon on this side, and those by the pool on that side.

14 And Abner said to Joab, Let the young men rise now and play before us. And Joab said, Let them rise.

15 And they rose and passed over by number, twelve of the sons of Benjamin belonging to Ishbosheth son of Saul, and twelve of the servants of David.

16 And each seized the head of his neighbor by the hand, and his knife into the side of his neighbor, and they fall together. And the name of that place was called Portion of the Plotters, which is in Gibeon.

17 And the battle became very hard on that day, and Abner and the men of Israel stumbled before the servants of David.

18 And there were there three sons of Zeruiah: Joab and Abishai and Asahel¹, and Asahel was swift in his feet like one gazelle in the field.

19 And Asahel pursued behind Abner, and he did not turn aside in going to the right or to the left from behind Abner.

20 And Abner looked behind him and said, Are you this Asahel? And he said, I am.

21 And Abner said to him, Turn aside to the right or to the left and seize for yourself one of the young men and take for yourself his armor. But Asahel did not want to turn aside from behind him.

22 And Abner added still, saying to Asahel, Stand away from me, lest I strike you to the ground. And how shall I lift my face to Joab your brother? And where are these things? Turn toward Joab your brother.

23 And he was not willing to stand away, and Abner struck him with the back of the spear in the belly², and the spear came out from behind him, and he fell there and died under him. And it came to be, everyone coming to the place where Asahel fell there and died, would stand still.

24 And Joab and Abishai pursued behind Abner, and the sun went down, and they came as far as the hill of Ammah³, which is opposite Giah⁴ on the road to the wilderness of Gibeon.

25 And the sons of Benjamin gathered behind Abner and became one meeting group, and they stood on the head of one hill.

26 And Abner called to Joab and said, Will the sword devour into victory? Do you not know that it will be bitter at the end?

And until when will you not tell the people to turn back from after our brothers?⁵

27 And Joab said, As the Lord lives, if you had not spoken, then from morning the people would have gone up, each from after his brother.

28 And Joab sounded with the trumpet, and all the people stood back and did not pursue after Israel, and they no longer added to fight.

29 And Abner and his men went away westward all that night and crossed the Jordan and went the whole extended route and come to the camp.

30 And Joab turned back from after Abner and gathered all the people, and they were missing from the servants of David nineteen men and Asahel.

31 And the servants of David struck from the sons of Benjamin, from the men of Abner, three hundred and sixty men beside him.

32 And they take Asahel and bury him in the tomb of his father in Bethlehem, and Joab and the men with him went all night, and it grew light for them in Hebron.

Chapter 3

1 And the war became long between the house of Saul and between the house of David, and the house of David was going and growing strong, and the house of Saul was going and growing weak.

2 And sons were born to David in Hebron, and his firstborn was Amnon⁶ by Ahinoam the Jezreelite,

3 and his second Dalouia by Abigail the Carmelite, and the third Absalom⁷ son of Maachah daughter of Talmai king of Gesir,

4 and the fourth Adonijah⁸ son of Haggith⁹, and the fifth Shephatiah¹⁰ by Abital¹¹,

5 and the sixth Ietheraam by Aigla wife of David. These were born to David in Hebron.

6 And it came to be while the war was between the house of Saul and between the house of David, Abner was holding strong the house of Saul.

7 And Saul had a concubine, Rizpah¹² daughter of Aiah¹³, and Ishbosheth¹⁴ son of Saul said to Abner, Why did you go in to my father's concubine?

8 And Abner became very angry over the word of Ishbosheth and said to him, Am I a dog's head? Today I did mercy with the house of Saul your father and with brothers and acquaintances, and I did not defect to the house of David, and yet you seek against me over the wrongdoing of a woman today.¹⁵

9 Thus may God do to Abner and thus may he add to him, because as the Lord swore to David, thus I will do for him on this day,

10 to take away the kingdom from the house of Saul and to raise up the throne of David over Israel and over Judah from Dan to Beersheba.

11 And Ishbosheth was no longer able to answer Abner a word, because he feared him.

12 And Abner sent messengers to David in Thailaim, where he was at once, saying, Make your covenant with me, and behold, my hand is with you, to turn all the house of Israel to you.

13 And David said, I will well make a covenant with you; only one word I ask from you, saying, You will not see my face unless you bring Michal daughter of Saul when you come to see my face.

14 And David sent messengers to Ishbosheth son of Saul, saying, Give back to me my wife Michal, whom I took for one hundred foreskins of foreigners.

15 And Ishbosheth sent and took her from her husband, from Paltiel son of Laish.
 16 And her husband went with her, weeping behind her until Bahurim¹, and Abner said to him, Go, return. And he returned.
 17 And Abner spoke to the elders of Israel, saying, Yesterday and the third day you were seeking David to reign over you.
 18 And now do it, because the Lord spoke concerning David, saying, By the hand of my servant David I will save Israel from the hand of the foreigners and from the hand of all their enemies.
 19 And Abner spoke in the ears of Benjamin, and Abner went to speak in the ears of David in Hebron all that pleased in the eyes of Israel and in the eyes of all the house of Benjamin.
 20 And Abner came to David in Hebron, and with him were twenty men, and David made a feast for Abner and for the men with him.
 21 And Abner said to David, I will rise now and go and gather to my lord the king² all Israel, and I will make a covenant with you, and you will reign over all that your soul desires. And David sent Abner away, and he went in peace.
 22 And behold, the servants of David and Joab were coming from the raid and bringing much spoil with them³, and Abner was not with David in Hebron, because he had sent him away and he had gone in peace.
 23 And Joab and all his army were brought in, and it was reported to Joab, saying, Abner son of Ner came to David, and he sent him away, and he went in peace.
 24 And Joab came in to the king and said, What is this you have done? Behold, Abner came to you, and why did you send him away and he has gone in peace?
 25 Do you not know the evil of Abner son of Ner, that he came to deceive you and to know your going out and your coming in and to know all that you do?
 26 And Joab turned back from David and sent messengers after Abner, and they brought him back from the well of Seiram, and David did not know.
 27 And Abner returned to Hebron, and Joab turned him aside by the side of the gate to speak with him in ambush, and struck him there in the belly, and he died for the blood of Asahel brother of Joab.
 28 And David heard after this and said, Innocent am I and my kingdom from the Lord forever from the bloods of Abner son of Ner.
 29 Let them come down on the head of Joab and on all the house of his father, and let there not fail from the house of Joab one with discharge and leper and one holding a staff and one falling by the sword and one lacking breads⁴.
 30 And Joab and Abishai his brother were lying in wait for Abner, because he killed Asahel their brother in Gibeon in the battle.
 31 And David said to Joab and to all the people with him, Tear your garments and gird on sackcloth and mourn before Abner. And King David was going behind the bier.
 32 And they bury Abner in Hebron, and the king lifted up his voice and wept over his tomb, and all the people wept over Abner.
 33 And the king lamented over Abner and said, Should Abner die according to the death of Nabal?
 34 Your hands were not bound, your feet were not in fetters; you fell as Nabal falls before the sons of wrongdoing. And all the people gathered to weep for him.
 35 And all the people came to make David dine with breads while it was still day, and David swore, saying, Thus may God do to me and thus may he add, if before the sun goes down I taste bread or anything whatever.
 36 And all the people knew, and it was pleasing before them, all that the king did before the people.
 37 And all the people and all Israel knew on that day that it did not come from the king to put Abner son of Ner to death.
 38 And the king said to his servants, Do you not know that a great leader has fallen on this day in Israel?
 39 And I am today a relative and appointed by a king, but these men, sons of Zeruiah, are harsher than I. The Lord will repay the one doing evil according to his evil.

Chapter 4

1 And Ishbosheth son of Saul heard that Abner had died in Hebron, and his hands were loosed, and all the men of Israel were let down.
 2 And there were two men, leaders of bands⁵, belonging to Ishbosheth son of Saul; the name of the one was Baana⁶ and the name of the second Rechab, sons of Rimmon the Beerothite⁷, from the sons of Benjamin, because Beeroth was reckoned to the sons of Benjamin.
 3 And the Beerothites⁸ fled into Gittaim and were sojourning there until this day.
 4 And to Jonathan son of Saul there was a son, stricken in the feet, five years old. He was this age when the news came of Saul and Jonathan his son from Jezreel, and his nurse took him up and fled. And it came to be as she hurried and withdrew, he fell and became lame, and his name was Mephibosheth^{9, 10 11}.
 5 And sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, Rechab and Baana, went and entered in the heat of the day into the house of Ishbosheth, and he was sleeping on the bed at noon.
 6 And behold, the doorkeeper of the house was cleaning wheat and became drowsy and slept, and Rechab and Baana the brothers escaped notice.¹²
 7 And they entered into the house, and Ishbosheth was sleeping on his bed in his bedroom, and they strike him and kill him and remove his head, and they took his head and went the road westward all night.
 8 And they brought the head of Ishbosheth to David in Hebron and said to the king, Behold, the head of Ishbosheth son of Saul your enemy who sought your life, and the Lord has given to my lord the king vengeance from your enemies as this day, from Saul your enemy and from his seed.¹³
 9 And David answered Rechab and Baana his brother, sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, and said to them, As the Lord lives, who

11 And now evil men have killed a righteous man in his house on his bed, and now I will seek out his blood from your hand and wipe you out from the earth.

12 And David commanded his young men, and they kill them and cut off their hands and their feet and hanged them by the pool in Hebron. And they buried the head of Ishbosheth in the tomb of Abner son of Ner.¹

Chapter 5

1 And all the tribes of Israel come to David in Hebron and said to him, Behold, we are your bones and your flesh.

2 And yesterday and the third day, while Saul was king over us, you were the one bringing out and bringing in Israel, and the Lord said to you, You will shepherd my people Israel², and you will be leader over Israel.

3 And all the elders of Israel come to the king in Hebron, and King David made a covenant with them in Hebron before the Lord, and they anointed David as king over all Israel.

4 David was thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years.

5 In Hebron he reigned over Judah seven years and six months, and in Jerusalem he reigned thirty-three years over all Israel and Judah.³

6 And David and his men went to Jerusalem, to the Jebusite inhabiting the land, and it was said to David, You will not enter here, because the blind and the lame withstood him, saying, David will not enter here.⁴

7 And David captured the stronghold of Zion; this is the City of David.

8 And David said on that day, Everyone striking a Jebusite, let him touch with the dagger both the lame and the blind and the ones hating the soul of David. Because of this they will say, Blind and lame will not enter into the house of the Lord.⁵

9 And David settled in the stronghold, and it was called the City of David, and he built the city round about from the citadel and his own house.

10 And David kept going, going on and growing great, and the Lord Almighty⁶ was with him.

11 And Hiram⁷ king of Tyre sent messengers to David and cedar woods and carpenters of woods and carpenters of stones, and they built a house for David.

12 And David knew that the Lord had prepared him as king over Israel and that his kingdom was lifted up for his people Israel.

13 And David took still more wives and concubines from Jerusalem after he came from Hebron, and there came to be still more sons and daughters to David.

14 And these are the names of the ones born to him in Jerusalem: Shammuah⁸ and Shobab⁹ and Nathan¹⁰ and Solomon,

15 and Ibhar¹¹ and Elishua¹² and Nepheg and Iephies,

16 and Elishama and Eliada¹³ and Elpalet¹⁴, Samae, Iessibath, Nathan, Galamaan, Iebaar, Elishua, Eliphalet¹⁵, Nogahd, Nepheg, Ianatha, Leasamys, Baalimath, Elpalet.

17 And the foreigners heard that David had been anointed king over Israel, and all the foreigners went up to seek David, and David heard and went down into the stronghold.

18 And the foreigners come and fell in the Valley of the Titans¹⁶.

19 And David inquired through the Lord, saying, Shall I go up against the foreigners, and will you deliver them into my hands? And the Lord said to David, Go up, because in delivering I will deliver¹⁷ the foreigners into your hands.

20 And David came from the upper breaches and struck the foreigners there, and David said, The Lord has broken through my enemies, the foreigners, before me, as waters break through. Because of this the name of that place was called Upper Breaches.

21 And they leave their gods there, and David and the men with him took them.

22 And the foreigners again added to go up and fell in the Valley of the Titans.

23 And David inquired through the Lord, and the Lord said, You will not go up to meet them; turn away from them and come upon them near the grove of weeping.

24 And it will be, when you hear the voice of the closing together of the grove of weeping, then you will go down to them, because then the Lord will go out before you to strike in the battle of the foreigners.

25 And David did just as the Lord commanded him and struck the foreigners from Gibeon to the land of Gezer.

Chapter 6

1 And David gathered again every young man from Israel, about seventy thousand.

2 And David rose and all the people with him from the leaders of Judah, in the ascent to bring up from there the ark of God, on which the name of the Lord of hosts seated upon the cherubim over it had been called.

3 And they set the ark of the Lord on a new wagon and took it up from the house of Amminadab on the hill, and Uzzah¹⁸ and his brothers, sons of Amminadab, were leading the wagon.

4 With the ark, and his brothers were going before the ark.

5 And David and the sons of Israel were playing before the Lord with fitted instruments in strength and with songs and with lyres and with harps and with tambourines and with cymbals and with pipes.

6 And they come as far as the threshing floor of Nachon¹, and Uzzah stretched out his hand upon the ark of God to hold it and seized it, because the calf pulled it aside while holding it.

7 And the Lord became angry at Uzzah, and God struck him there, and he died there beside the ark of the Lord before God.²

8 And David was troubled because the Lord had made a breach with Uzzah, and that place was called Breach of Uzzah until this day.

9 And David feared the Lord on that day, saying, How will the ark of the Lord enter to me?

10 And David was not willing to turn aside the ark of the covenant of the Lord to himself into the City of David, and David turned it aside into the house of Obedom³ the Gittite⁴.

11 And the ark of the Lord sat in the house of Obedom the Gittite three months, and the Lord blessed the whole house of Obedom and all his things.

12 And it was reported to King David, saying, The Lord has blessed the house of Obedom and all his things for the sake of the ark of God. And David went and brought up the ark of the Lord⁵ from the house of Obedom into the City of David with gladness.

13 And with them were seven circles carrying the ark, and sacrifice: a calf and a lamb.

14 And David was beating time with fitted instruments before the Lord, and David was clothed in an exquisite robe.

15 And David and all the house of Israel brought up the ark of the Lord with shouting and with the voice of a trumpet.

16 And it came to be, as the ark was coming as far as the City of David, Michal daughter of Saul was looking through the window, and she saw King David dancing and beating time before the Lord, and she counted him as nothing in her heart.

17 And they bring the ark of the Lord and set it in its place in the midst of the tent that David pitched for it, and David offered whole burnt offerings before the Lord and peace offerings.

18 And David finished offering the whole burnt offerings and the peace offerings and blessed the people in the name of the Lord of hosts.

19 And he distributed to all the people, to all the host of Israel, from Dan to Beersheba, from man to woman, to each a cake of bread and a roasted cake and a pan-cake⁶, and all the people went away, each to his house.

20 And David returned to bless his house, and Michal daughter of Saul came out to meet David and blessed him and said, How glorious today was the king of Israel, who was uncovered today in the eyes of the servant-girls of his servants, just as one of the dancers uncovers himself in being uncovered.

21 And David said to Michal, I will dance before the Lord. Blessed be the Lord, who chose me over your father and over all his house, to appoint me as a leader over his people, over Israel, and I will play and dance⁷ before the Lord.

22 And I will uncover myself still more thus, and I will be worthless in your eyes, but with the servant-girls of whom you spoke, with them I will be glorified.

23 And to Michal daughter of Saul there came to be no child until the day of her death.

Chapter 7

1 And it came to be when the king sat in his house, and the Lord gave him inheritance-rest all around from all his enemies around him,

2 that the king said to Nathan the prophet, Behold now, I dwell in a cedar house, and the ark of God sits in the midst of the tent.

3 And Nathan said to the king, All things whatever are in your heart⁸, go and do, because the Lord is with you.

4 And it came to be on that night, the word of the Lord came to Nathan, saying,

5 Go and say to my servant David, Thus says the Lord: You will not build me a house for my dwelling in it.

6 Because I have not dwelt in a house from the day I brought up the sons of Israel from Egypt until this day, but I was walking about in lodging and in tent.

7 In all the things through which I passed in all Israel, did I ever speak a word to one tribe of Israel⁹ whom I commanded to shepherd my people Israel, saying, Why have you not built me a cedar house?

8 And now thus you will say to my servant David: Thus says the Lord Almighty, I took you from the fold of the sheep, for you to be leader over my people, over Israel.

9 And I was with you in all things wherever you went, and I destroyed all your enemies from before you and made you a name like the name of the great ones upon the earth.

10 And I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and I will plant him, and he will tabernacle by himself¹⁰ and will no longer be anxious, and a son of wrongdoing will no longer add to humble him as from the beginning,

11 from the days when I appointed judges over my people Israel. And I will give you rest from all your enemies, and the Lord reports to you that you will build a house for him.

12 And it will be, if your days are fulfilled and you sleep with your fathers, I will raise up your seed after you, who will be from your belly¹¹, and I will make his kingdom ready.

13 He will build a house for my name, and I will set upright his throne forever.

14 I will be to him for a father, and he will be to me for a son, and if his wrongdoing comes, I will reprove him with the rod of men and with touches of the sons of men.

15 But my mercy I will not remove from him, just as I removed it from those whom I removed from before my face.

16 And his house and his kingdom will be made faithful forever before me, and his throne will be set upright forever.

17 According to all these words and according to all this vision, thus Nathan spoke to David.

18 And King David entered and sat before the Lord and said, Who am I, my Lord, O Lord, and what is my house, that you have loved me up to these things?

19 And this was made a very small thing before you, my Lord, O Lord, and you spoke concerning the house of your servant for a long time to come. And this is the law of the human¹², my Lord, O Lord.

 22 Because of making you great, my Lord, O Lord, because there is none like you, and there is no God besides you, in all things that we heard in our ears.
 23 And who is like your people Israel, another nation on the earth, as God led him to redeem for himself a people¹, to set for yourself a name, to do greatness and splendor by driving out before your people whom you redeemed for yourself from Egypt nations and tents?
 24 And you prepared for yourself your people Israel as a people forever, and you, Lord, became for them as God.
 25 And now, my Lord, O Lord, the word that you spoke concerning your servant and his house, establish forever, O Lord Almighty, God of Israel, and now just as you spoke.
 26 May your name be magnified forever.
 27 Lord Almighty, God of Israel, you uncovered the ear of your servant, saying, I will build you a house. Because of this your servant found his heart to pray to you this prayer.
 28 And now, my Lord, O Lord, you are God, and your words will be true, and you spoke these good things concerning your servant.
 29 And now begin and bless² the house of your servant, for it to be forever before you, because you, my Lord, O Lord, have spoken, and from your blessing the house of your servant will be blessed forever.

 8 And from Masbak, from the chosen cities of Hadadezer, King David took very much bronze. In it Solomon made the bronze sea and the pillars and the basins and all the vessels.
 9 And Toi⁸ king of Hamath heard that David struck all the force of Hadadezer,
 10 and Toi sent Joram⁹ his son to King David to ask him the things of peace¹⁰ and to bless him, because he had fought Hadadezer and struck him, because he was opposing Hadadezer. And in his hands were silver vessels and gold vessels and bronze vessels.
 11 And King David consecrated these things to the Lord, along with the silver and along with the gold that he consecrated from all the cities that he subdued,
 12 from Edom and from the land of Moab and from the sons of Ammon and from the foreigners and from Amalek and from the spoils of Hadadezer son of Rehob king of Zobah.
 13 And David made a name, and on his return he struck Edom in Gaimel, eighteen thousand.
 14 And he placed a garrison in Edom; in all Edom he placed a garrison, and all the Edomites¹¹ became servants to the king, and the Lord saved David in all things wherever he went.
 15 And David reigned over Israel, and David was doing judgment and righteousness over all his people.
 16 And Joab son of Zeruiah was over the army, and Jehoshaphat¹² son of Ahijah was over the records,
 17 and Zadok¹³ son of Ahitub and Ahimelech son of Abiathar were priests, and Asa the scribe,
 18 and Benaiah son of Jehoiada¹⁴ was counselor, and the Cherethites and the Pelethites¹⁵, and sons of David were chiefs of the court.

Chapter 9

1 And David said, Is there still one left of the house of Saul, that I may do mercy with him for the sake of Jonathan?
 2 And from the house of Saul there was a servant, and his name was Ziba¹⁶, and they call him to David, and the king said to him, Are you Ziba? And he said, I am your servant.
 3 And the king said, Is there still a man left from the house of Saul, that I may do mercy of God with him? And Ziba said to the king, There is still a son for Jonathan, stricken in the feet.
 4 And the king said, Where is he? And Ziba said to the king, Behold, in the house of Machir son of Ammiel, from Lodebar¹⁷.

 7 And David said to him, Do not fear, because in doing I will do mercy¹ with you for the sake of Jonathan your father, and I will restore to you all the field of Saul father of your father, and you will eat bread at my table continually.
 8 And Mephibosheth bowed down and said, What am I, your servant, that you looked upon the dead dog, one like me?
 9 And the king called Ziba, the young servant of Saul, and said to him, All things whatever belong to Saul and to all his house I have given to the son of your lord.

 11 And Ziba said to the king, According to all things whatever my lord the king has commanded his servant, thus your servant will do. And Mephibosheth was eating at David's table as one of the sons of the king.

Chapter 10

1 And it came to be after these things, the king of the sons of Ammon died, and Hanun⁴ his son reigned instead of him.
 2 And David said, I will do mercy with Hanun son of Nahash, in the way his father did mercy with me. And David sent to comfort him by the hand of his servants concerning his father, and the servants of David came into the land of the sons of Ammon.⁵
 3 And the rulers of the sons of Ammon said to Hanun their lord, Is it to glorify your father before you that David sent comforters to you? Is it not to search the city and spy it out and inspect it⁶ that David sent his servants to you?
 4 And Hanun took the servants of David and shaved their beards and cut their cloaks in the middle up to their buttocks and sent them away.
 5 And they reported to David concerning the men, and he sent to meet them, because the men were very greatly dishonored. And the king said, Sit in Jericho until your beards grow, and then you will return.
 6 And the sons of Ammon saw that the people of David had been put to shame⁷, and the sons of Ammon sent and hired Syria of Bethrehob⁸, twenty thousand footmen, and the king of Maachah, one thousand men, and Ishtob⁹, twelve thousand men.
 7 And David heard and sent Joab and all the force, the mighty men.
 8 And the sons of Ammon went out and arrayed for war by the entrance of the gate, and Syria of Zobah¹⁰ and Rehob and Ishtob and Maachah were alone in the field.
 9 And Joab saw that the front of the battle had come to be against him from the front opposite and from the rear, and he chose from all the young men of Israel and arrayed them opposite Syria.
 10 And the rest of the people he gave into the hand of Abishai his brother, and they arrayed opposite the sons of Ammon.
 11 And he said, If Syria grows strong beyond me, you will be for salvation to me, and if the sons of Ammon grow strong beyond you, we will be to save you.
 12 Be manly, and let us be strengthened for our people and for the cities of our God, and the Lord will do the good in his eyes.
 13 And Joab and the people with him came near to war against Syria, and they fled from before him.
 14 And the sons of Ammon saw that Syria fled, and they fled from before Abishai and entered into the city, and Joab returned from the sons of Ammon and came into Jerusalem.
 15 And Syria saw that it had stumbled before Israel, and they were gathered together.
 16 And Hadarezer¹¹ sent and gathered Syria from beyond the river Helam¹², and they came to Helam, and Shobach¹³, chief of the force of Hadarezer, was before them.
 17 And it was reported to David, and he gathered all Israel and crossed the Jordan and came to Helam, and Syria arrayed opposite David and fought with him.
 18 And Syria fled from before Israel, and David killed from Syria seven hundred chariots and forty thousand horsemen, and Shobach the chief of his force he struck, and he died there.
 19 And all the kings, servants of Hadarezer, saw that they had stumbled before Israel, and they defected with Israel and served them¹⁴, and Syria feared to save the sons of Ammon still more.

Chapter 11

1 And it came to be at the turning of the year, at the season of the campaigns of kings, David sent Joab and his servants with him and all Israel, and they ravaged the sons of Ammon and sat down against Rabbah, but David sat in Jerusalem.¹⁵
 2 And it came to be toward evening, David rose from his bed and was walking on the roof of the king's house, and from the roof he saw a woman bathing, and the woman was very beautiful in appearance¹⁶.
 3 And David sent and asked about the woman, and someone said, Is not this Bathsheba¹⁷ daughter of Eliab, wife of Uriah¹⁸ the

4 And David sent messengers and took her, and he went in to her and lay with her, and she was sanctifying herself from her uncleanness, and she returned to her house.

5 And the woman conceived, and having sent, she reported to David and said, I am with child.

6 And David sent to Joab, saying, Send to me Uriah the Hittite, and Joab sent Uriah to David.

7 And Uriah comes and entered to him, and David asked concerning the peace of Joab and concerning the peace of the people and concerning the peace of the war.

8 And David said to Uriah, Go down to your house and wash your feet. And Uriah went out from the king's house, and the king's carrying gift went out after him.

9 And Uriah slept by the door of the king's house with the servants of his lord, and he did not go down to his house.

10 And they reported to David, saying that Uriah did not go down to his house, and David said to Uriah, Do you not come from a road? Why is it that you did not go down to your house?

11 And Uriah said to David, The ark and Israel and Judah dwell in tents, and my lord Joab and the servants of my lord camp on the face of the field², and shall I enter into my house to eat and drink and to lie with my wife? As your life lives, if I do this thing.

12 And David said to Uriah, Sit here today also, and tomorrow I will send you away. And Uriah sat in Jerusalem on that day and the next day.

13 And David called him, and he ate before him and drank, and he made him drunk, and he went out in the evening to lie on his bed with the servants of his lord, but to his own house he did not go down.

14 And it came to be in the morning, David wrote a letter to Joab and sent it by the hand of Uriah.

15 And he wrote in the letter, saying, Bring Uriah into the front of the hard battle and turn back from behind him, and he will be struck and die.

16 And it came to be while Joab was guarding the city, he put Uriah in the place where he knew men of strength were there.

17 And the men of the city came out and were fighting with Joab, and some of the people from the servants of David fell, and also Uriah the Hittite died.

18 And Joab sent and reported to the king all the words of the war,

19 and he commanded the messenger, saying, When you finish speaking all the words of the war to the king,

20 it will be if the anger of the king rises and he says to you, Why did you go near the city to fight? Did you not know that they would shoot from above the wall?

21 Who struck Abimelech son of Jerubbaal? Did not a woman throw a piece of millstone³ upon him from above the wall, and he died at Thebez? Why did you go near the wall? Then you will say, And also your servant Uriah the Hittite died.

22 And the messenger of Joab went to the king in Jerusalem and came and reported to David all that Joab reported to him, all the words of the war⁴. And David became angry at Joab and said to the messenger, Why did you go near the city to fight? Did you not know that you would be struck from the wall? Who struck Abimelech son of Jerubbaal? Did not a woman throw a piece of millstone on him from the wall, and he died in Thebez? Why did you go near the wall?

23 And the messenger said to David, Because the men grew strong against us and came out against us into the field, and we came against them as far as the door of the gate,

24 and the archers shot at your servants from above the wall, and some of the servants of the king died, and also your servant Uriah the Hittite died.

25 And David said to the messenger, Thus you will say to Joab: Let not this word be evil in your eyes, because once thus and once thus⁵ the sword will eat. Strengthen your battle against the city and tear it down, and strengthen him.

26 And the wife of Uriah heard that Uriah her husband had died, and she mourned for her husband.

27 And the mourning passed, and David sent and gathered her into his house, and she became his wife and bore him a son. But the word that David had done appeared evil in the eyes of the Lord.

Chapter 12

1 And the Lord sent Nathan the prophet to David, and he entered to him and said to him, There were two men in one city, one rich and one poor.

2 And the rich man had very many flocks and herds.

3 And to the poor man there was nothing except one little ewe lamb, which he acquired and kept alive and nourished⁶, and it grew up with him and with his sons together. From his bread it would eat and from his cup it would drink and in his bosom it would sleep, and it was to him as a daughter.

4 And a traveler came to the rich man, and he spared to take from his flocks and from his herds to prepare for the stranger traveler⁷ who came to him, and he took the ewe lamb of the poor man and prepared it for the man who came to him.

5 And the anger of David burned greatly against the man, and David said to Nathan, As the Lord lives, the man who did this is a son of death.

6 And he will repay the ewe lamb sevenfold⁸, because he did this thing and because he did not spare.

7 And Nathan said to David, You are the man who did this. Thus says the Lord God of Israel: I am the one who anointed you as king over Israel, and I am the one who delivered you from the hand of Saul,

8 and I gave you the house of your lord and the wives of your lord into your bosom⁹, and I gave you the house of Israel and Judah, and if this is little, I will add to you according to these things.

9 Why did you count the word of the Lord as little¹⁰, to do the evil in his eyes? Uriah the Hittite you struck with the sword, and his wife you took for yourself as wife, and him you killed with the sword of the sons of Ammon.

10 And now the sword will not depart from your house forever, because you counted me as nothing and took the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be your wife.

11 Thus says the Lord: Behold, I am raising evils against you¹¹ out of your own house, and I will take your wives before your eyes and give them to your neighbor, and he will lie with your wives before this sun.
 12 Because you did it in secret, but I will do this word in front of all Israel and before this sun.
 13 And David said to Nathan, I have sinned against the Lord. And Nathan said to David, And the Lord has caused your sin to pass over²; you certainly will not die.
 14 Only because in provoking you provoked the enemies of the Lord by this word, indeed the son born to you will surely die.
 15 And Nathan went to his house, and the Lord struck the child whom the wife of Uriah bore to David, and he became sick.
 16 And David sought God concerning the little boy, and David fasted a fast and entered and lodged in sackcloth on the ground.
 17 And the elders of his house stood over him to raise him up from the ground, and he was not willing, and he did not eat bread with them.
 18 And it came to be on the seventh day, the little boy died, and the servants of David feared to report to him that the little boy had died, because they said, Behold, while the little boy was still living we spoke to him, and he did not listen to our voice, and how shall we say to him that the little boy has died? He will do evil³.
 19 And David understood that his servants were whispering, and David discerned that the little boy had died, and David said to his servants, Has the little boy died? And they said, He has died.
 20 And David rose from the ground and washed and anointed himself and changed his garments and entered into the house of God⁴ and bowed down to him. And he entered into his house and asked for bread to eat, and they set bread before him, and he ate.
 21 And his servants said to him, What is this word that you have done? For the little boy, while he was still alive, you were fasting and weeping and keeping watch, and when the little boy died, you rose and ate bread and have drunk.
 22 And David said, While the little boy was still living, I fasted and wept, because I said, Who knows whether the Lord will have mercy on me and the little boy will live?
 23 And now he has died. Why now am I fasting? Shall I be able to bring him back still more? I will go to him, but he will not return to me.
 24 And David comforted Bathsheba his wife and entered to her and lay with her, and she conceived and bore a son, and he called his name Solomon⁵, and the Lord loved him.
 25 And he sent by the hand of Nathan the prophet, and he called his name Iddi because of the Lord.
 26 And Joab fought at Rabbah of the sons of Ammon and captured the city of the kingdom.
 27 And Joab sent messengers to David and said, I fought at Rabbah and captured the city of waters.
 28 And now gather the rest of the people and camp against the city and capture it beforehand, lest I capture the city and my name be called upon it.
 29 And David gathered all the people and went to Rabbah and fought in it and captured it.
 30 And he took the crown of their king from his head, and its weight was a talent of gold and precious stone, and it was on David's head, and he brought out the spoils of the city very greatly.⁶
 31 And the people in it he brought out and set with the saw and with the iron threshing sledges and made them pass through the brickworks. And thus he did to all the cities of the sons of Ammon. And David and all the people returned to Jerusalem.

Chapter 13

1 And it came to be after these things, to Absalom son of David there was a sister very beautiful in appearance, and her name was Tamar, and Amnon son of David loved her.
 2 And Amnon was distressed so as to become sick because of Tamar his sister, because she was a virgin, and it was over-large in the eyes of Amnon to do anything to her.
 3 And to Amnon there was a companion, and his name was Jonadab⁷ son of Shimeah⁸, brother of David, and Jonadab was a very wise man.
 4 And he said to him, Why are you thus weak, son of the king, morning by morning? Will you not report to me? And Amnon said to him, I love Tamar, sister of Absalom my brother.
 5 And Jonadab said to him, Lie on your bed and make yourself weak, and your father will enter to see you, and you will say to him, Let Tamar my sister now come to me and feed me morsels⁹ and prepare food before my eyes, so that I may see and eat from her hands.
 6 And Amnon lay down and became sick, and the king entered to see him, and Amnon said to the king, Let Tamar my sister now come to me and make before my eyes¹⁰ two cakes, and I will eat from her hand.
 7 And David sent to Tamar to the house, saying, Go now to the house of Amnon your brother and make food for him.
 8 And Tamar went to the house of Amnon her brother, and he was lying down, and she took dough and kneaded it and made cakes before his eyes and baked the cakes.
 9 And she took the pan and emptied it out before him, and he was not willing to eat. And Amnon said, Put out every man from me, and they put out every man from him.
 10 And Amnon said to Tamar, Bring the food into the inner room, and I will eat from your hand. And Tamar took the cakes that she had made and brought them in to Amnon her brother into the bedroom.
 11 And she brought them near to him to eat, and he seized her and said to her, Come, lie with me, my sister.
 12 And she said to him, No, my brother, do not humble me, because thus it will not be done in Israel. Do not do this folly.
 13 And I, where will I carry away my reproach? And you, you will be as one of the fools in Israel. And now speak now to the king, because he certainly will not withhold me from you.
 14 And Amnon was not willing to hear her voice, and he grew strong beyond her and humbled her and lay with her.
 15 And Amnon hated her with a very great hatred, because the hatred with which he hated her was greater than the love¹¹ with which he loved her. And Amnon said to her, Rise and go.

16 And Tamar said to him, No, my brother, because this last evil is greater than the first, which you did with me, by sending me away. And Amnon was not willing to hear her voice.

17 And he called his young servant, the one standing over his house, and said to him, Send this one away from me outside, and bar the door behind her.

18 And upon her was a full-length tunic, because thus the king's virgin daughters were clothed with their robes. And his attendant brought her out and barred the door behind her.

19 And Tamar took ashes and put them upon her head, and the full-length tunic that was upon her she tore, and she put her hands on her head and went on, going and crying out.

20 And Absalom her brother said to her, Has Amnon your brother been with you? And now, my sister, be deaf¹, because he is your brother; do not set your heart to speak concerning this word. And Tamar sat desolate in the house of Absalom her brother.

21 And King David heard all these words and was greatly angered, and he did not grieve the spirit of Amnon his son, because he loved him, because he was his firstborn.

22 And Absalom did not speak with Amnon from evil to good, because Absalom hated Amnon over the matter in which he humbled Tamar his sister.

23 And it came to be at a two-year cycle of days, they were shearing for Absalom at Baal-hazor² by Ephraim, and Absalom called all the sons of the king.

24 And Absalom came to the king and said, Behold now, they are shearing for your servant. Let the king and his servants now go with your servant.

25 And the king said to Absalom, No, my son, let us not all go, and we certainly will not weigh heavily upon you. And he pressed him, and he was not willing to go, and he blessed him.

26 And Absalom said, And if not, let Amnon my brother now go with us. And the king said to him, Why should he go with you?

27 And Absalom pressed him, and he sent with him Amnon and all the sons of the king, and Absalom made a feast like the feast of the king.

28 And Absalom commanded his young men, saying, See when the heart of Amnon is made good with wine, and I say to you, Strike Amnon and kill him. Do not fear, because am not I the one commanding you? Be manly and become sons of strength³.

29 And the young men of Absalom did to Amnon just as Absalom commanded them, and all the sons of the king rose and mounted, each on his mule, and fled.

30 And it came to be while they were on the road, the report came to David, saying, Absalom struck all the sons of the king, and not one was left from them.

31 And the king rose and tore his garments and lay on the ground, and all his servants standing around him tore their garments.

32 And Jonadab son of Shimeah brother of David answered and said, Let not my lord the king say that he killed all the young men, the sons of the king, because only Amnon has died, because by the mouth of Absalom it was laid from the day when he humbled Tamar his sister.⁴

33 And now let not my lord the king set on his heart a word, saying, All the sons of the king have died, because only Amnon has died.

34 And Absalom fled. And the young man, the watchman, lifted up his eyes and saw, and behold, many people were coming on the road behind him from the side of the mountain on the descent, and the watchman came and reported to the king and said, I have seen men from the road of Oronen from the side of the mountain.

35 And Jonadab said to the king, Behold, the sons of the king are coming. According to the word of your servant, thus it came to be.

36 And it came to be when he finished speaking, behold, the sons of the king came and lifted up their voice and wept, and also the king and all his servants wept with a very great weeping.

37 And Absalom fled and went to Talmai son of Ammihud, king of Geshur⁵, to the land of Machad, and King David mourned for his son all the days.

38 And Absalom fled and went to Geshur and was there three years.

39 And the spirit of the king ceased from going out after Absalom, because he was comforted over Amnon, because he died.

Chapter 14

1 And Joab son of Zeruiah knew that the heart of the king was upon Absalom.

2 And Joab sent to Tekoa⁶ and took from there a wise woman⁷ and said to her, Mourn now and put on mourning garments and do not anoint with oil, and you will be as a woman mourning over one dead for many days.

3 And you will come to the king and speak to him according to this word. And Joab put the words in her mouth.

4 And the Tekoah⁸ woman entered to the king and fell on her face to the ground and bowed down to him and said, Save, king, save.

5 And the king said to her, What is with you? And she said, Truly I am a widow woman⁹, and my husband died.

6 And indeed your servant had two sons, and both fought in the field, and there was no one separating between them, and the one struck his brother and killed him.

7 And behold, the whole clan rose against your servant and said, Give the one striking his brother, and we will put him to death for the life of his brother whom he killed, and we will remove also your heir. And they will quench my coal left behind, so as not to set for my husband remnant and name on the face of the earth.

8 And the king said, Go to your house in health, and I myself will command concerning you.

9 And the Tekoah woman said to the king, Upon me, my lord king, be the lawlessness, and upon my father's house, and the king and his throne are innocent.

10 And the king said, Who is speaking to you? And you will bring him to me, and he will not add still to touch him.

⁹ T: Greek uses a stark widow-woman self-description. Current wording preserves it.

11 And she said, Let the king now remember the Lord his God, that the avenger of blood not multiply¹⁰ to destroy, and they certainly will not remove my son. And he said, As the Lord lives, if a hair of your son falls to the ground.
 12 And the woman said, Let your servant now speak a word to my lord the king. And he said, Speak.
 13 And the woman said, Why have you reckoned such a thing against the people of God? Even from the mouth of the king this word is like an offense, in that the king does not bring back his banished one.
 14 Because in death we will die², and like the water poured down upon the ground, which will not be gathered, and God will take a life, yet he devises ways for the banished one not to remain banished from him.
 15 And now that I came to speak this word to my lord the king is because the people will see me, and your servant will say, Let me now speak to the king, if perhaps the king will do the word of his servant.³
 16 Because the king will listen to rescue his servant from the hand of the man seeking to remove me and my son from the inheritance of God.
 17 And the woman said, Let the word of my lord the king now be as an offering⁴, because as an angel of God so is my lord the king, to hear the good and the evil, and the Lord your God will be with you.
 18 And the king answered and said to the woman, Do not hide from me now a word which I ask you. And the woman said, Let my lord the king speak.
 19 And the king said, Is the hand of Joab with you in all this? And the woman said to the king, As your life lives, my lord king, there is not to the right or to the left from all that my lord the king spoke, because your servant Joab, he himself commanded me, and he himself put in the mouth of your servant⁵ all these words.
 20 For the sake of turning the face of this matter, your servant Joab did this thing, and my lord is wise like the wisdom of an angel of God, to know all the things on the earth.
 21 And the king said to Joab, Behold now, I have done for you according to this word of yours. Go, bring back the young man Absalom.
 22 And Joab fell on his face to the ground and bowed down and blessed the king, and Joab said, Today your servant knows that I have found favor in your eyes, my lord king, because my lord the king has done the word of his servant.⁶
 23 And Joab rose and went to Geshur and brought Absalom into Jerusalem.
 24 And the king said, Let him turn to his own house, and let him not see my face. And Absalom turned to his house, and he did not see the face of the king.
 25 And as for Absalom, there was no man in all Israel praised so greatly. From the sole of his foot to his crown there was no blemish in him.
 26 And when he cut his head, and it came to be from the beginning of days to days⁷ as he would cut it because it weighed heavily upon him, cutting it he weighed the hair of his head at two hundred shekels by the royal shekel.
 27 And there were born to Absalom three sons and one daughter, and her name was Tamar. She was a very beautiful woman and became wife to Rehoboam son of Solomon and bore to him Abijah.
 28 And Absalom sat in Jerusalem two years of days, and he did not see the face of the king.
 29 And Absalom sent to Joab to send him to the king, and he was not willing to come to him, and he sent a second time to him, and he was not willing to come.
 30 And Absalom said to his servants, See, the portion in the field of Joab lies next to mine, and barley is there. Go and burn it with fire. And the servants of Absalom burned them, and the servants of Joab came to him with garments torn and said, The servants of Absalom burned the portion with fire.
 31 And Joab rose and came to Absalom at the house and said to him, Why did your servants burn my portion with fire?
 32 And Absalom said to Joab, Behold, I sent to you, saying, Come here and I will send you to the king, saying, Why did I come from Geshur? It was good for me still to be there. And now behold, I have not seen the face of the king⁸, and if there is wrongdoing in me, then put me to death.
 33 And Joab entered to the king and reported to him, and he called Absalom, and he entered to the king and bowed down to him and fell on his face to the ground before the king, and the king kissed Absalom.⁹

Chapter 15

1 And it came to be after these things, Absalom made for himself chariots and horses and fifty men to run before him.
 2 And Absalom rose early and stood by the side of the road of the gate, and it came to be every man who had a judgment came to the king for judgment, and Absalom would cry out to him and say to him, From what city are you? And the man would say, Your servant is from one of the tribes of Israel.¹⁰
 3 And Absalom said to him, Behold, your words are good and easy, but there is no one hearing you from the king.
 4 And Absalom said, Who will appoint me judge in the land? And to me every man with dispute and judgment will come, and I will justify him.
 5 And it came to be, when a man came near to bow down to him, he stretched out his hand and took hold of him and kissed him.
 6 And Absalom did according to this word to all Israel who were coming for judgment to the king, and Absalom was stealing the heart of the men of Israel.¹¹
 7 And it came to be at the end of forty years, Absalom said to his father, I will now go and pay my vows that I vowed to the Lord in Hebron.
 8 Because your servant vowed a vow while I was dwelling in Geshur in Syria, saying, If in returning the Lord returns me to Jerusalem, I will serve the Lord.
 9 And the king said to him, Go in peace. And rising, he went to Hebron.
 10 And Absalom sent spies into all the tribes of Israel, saying, When you hear the sound of the horn, then you will say, King

Absalom has become king in Hebron.

11 And with Absalom went two hundred men from Jerusalem, invited and going in their simplicity, and they knew no word.

12 And Absalom sent and called Ahithophel¹ the Gilonite², counselor of David, from his city, from Giloh³, while he was sacrificing, and the conspiracy became strong, and the people going with Absalom were many.⁴

13 And the one reporting came to David, saying, The heart of the men of Israel has come to be behind Absalom.

14 And David said to all his servants with him in Jerusalem, Rise, and let us flee, because there is no salvation for us⁵ from before Absalom. Hurry to go, lest he hurry and overtake us and drive evil upon us and strike the city with the mouth of the sword.

15 And the servants of the king said to the king, According to all things whatever my lord the king chooses, behold, your servants.

16 And the king went out and all his house on their feet, and the king left ten women, his concubines, to guard the house.

17 And the king went out and all his servants on foot, and they stood at the far house.

18 And all his servants were passing by his side, and all the Cherethites⁶ and all the Pelethites stood by the olive tree in the wilderness, and all the people were passing on near him, and all those around him and all the stout men and all the fighters, six hundred men, and all the Cherethites and all the Pelethites and all the Gittites, six hundred men who had come on their feet from Gath, were going before the king.

19 And the king said to Ittai⁷ the Gittite, Why are you also going with us? Return and dwell with the king, because you are a foreigner and because you have migrated from your place.

20 Yesterday you came, and today shall I move you with us? And indeed you will migrate your place? Yesterday your coming, and today shall I move you with us to go? And I will go wherever I go. Return and return your brothers with you, and the Lord will do mercy and truth with you.

21 And Ittai answered the king and said, As the Lord lives and as my lord the king lives, in the place where my lord is, whether for death or for life, there your servant will be.

22 And the king said to Ittai, Come and pass over with me. And Ittai the Gittite passed over, and all his servants and all the crowd with him.

23 And all the land was weeping with a great voice, and all the people were passing in the wadi Kidron, and the king crossed the wadi Kidron, and all the people and the king were passing on toward the road of the wilderness.

24 And behold, also Zadok and all the Levites with him carrying the ark of the covenant of the Lord⁸ from Abiathar, and they set the ark of God down, and Abiathar went up until all the people ceased passing out of the city.

25 And the king said to Zadok, Turn back the ark of God into the city. If I find favor in the eyes of the Lord, he will return me and show me it and its beauty.

26 And if he says thus, I have not delighted in you, behold, here I am; let him do to me according to the good in his eyes.

27 And the king said to Zadok the priest, See, you are returning into the city in peace, and Ahimaaz your son and Jonathan son of Abiathar, your two sons with you.

28 See, I am encamping in the plains of the wilderness until a word comes from you to report to me.

29 And Zadok and Abiathar turned the ark into Jerusalem and sat there.

30 And David was going up in the ascent of the olives, going up and weeping⁹, and his head covered, and he was going barefoot, and all the people with him covered each man his head, and they were going up, going up and weeping.

31 And it was reported to David, saying, And Ahithophel is among the conspirators with Absalom. And David said, Scatter now the counsel of Ahithophel, Lord my God.

32 And David was coming as far as the summit where he bowed there to God, and behold, to meet him was Cush¹⁰, chief companion of David, with his tunic torn and earth on his head.

33 And David said to him, If you cross over with me, you will be a burden upon me.

34 But if you return to the city and say to Absalom, Your brothers have passed through, and the king behind me, your father, has passed through, and now I am your servant, king; then I was your father's servant, and now again I am your servant, and you will scatter for me the counsel¹¹ of Ahithophel.

35 And behold, with you there are Zadok and Abiathar the priests, and every word whatever you hear from the house of the king, you will report to Zadok and Abiathar the priests.

36 Behold, there with them are their two sons, Ahimaaz to Zadok and Jonathan to Abiathar, and you will send by their hand to me every word whatever you hear.

37 And Cush, companion of David, entered into the city, and Absalom was entering into Jerusalem.

Chapter 16

1 And David passed a little from the summit, and behold, Ziba the servant of Mephibosheth came to meet him, and a pair of saddled donkeys, and on them two hundred loaves and one hundred raisins and one hundred dates and a skin of wine.¹²

2 And the king said to Ziba, What are these to you? And Ziba said, The pack animals are for the house of the king to sit on¹³, and the loaves and the dates for food to the young men, and the wine for the ones faint in the wilderness to drink.

3 And the king said, And where is the son of your lord? And Ziba said to the king, Behold, he sits in Jerusalem, because he said, Today the house of Israel will return to me the kingdom of my father.

4 And the king said to Ziba, Behold, yours are all the things that belong to Mephibosheth. And Ziba said, Bowing down, May I find favor in your eyes, my lord king.

5 And King David came as far as Bahurim, and behold, from there a man was coming out from the kin of the house of Saul, and his name was Shimei son of Gera. He came out going and cursing,

6 and throwing stones at David and all the servants of King David, and all the people were there and all the mighty ones at the right and at the left of the king.

7 And thus Shimei was saying while cursing him: Go out, go out, man of bloods and lawless man.

8 The Lord has returned upon you all the bloods¹ of the house of Saul, because you reigned instead of him, and the Lord has given the kingdom into the hand of Absalom your son, and behold, you are in your evil, because you are a man of bloods.

9 And Abishai son of Zeruiah said to the king, Why is this dead dog cursing my lord the king? I will pass over now and remove his head.

10 And the king said, What is to me and to you, sons of Zeruiah? Leave him and thus let him curse, because the Lord told him to curse David, and who will say, Why did you do thus?

11 And David said to Abishai and to all his servants, Behold, my son who came out of my belly² seeks my life, and how much more now this Benjamite. Leave him to curse, because the Lord told him.

12 If perhaps the Lord will look upon my humiliation and return to me good instead of his curse on this day.

13 And David and his men were going on the road, and Shimei was going on the side of the mountain next to him, going and cursing and throwing stones from his side and casting dust.

14 And the king came and all his people faint, and they refreshed themselves there.

15 And Absalom and every man of Israel entered into Jerusalem, and Ahithophel with him.

16 And it came to be, when Cushie, chief companion of David, came to Absalom, Cushie said to Absalom, Long live the king.

17 And Absalom said to Cushie, Is this your mercy with your companion? Why did you not go with your companion?

18 And Cushie said to Absalom, No, but behind whom the Lord chose and this people and every man of Israel, to him I will belong and with him I will sit.

19 And the second thing: whom shall I serve? Shall it not be before his son? As I served before your father, so I will be before you.

20 And Absalom said to Ahithophel, Bring counsel for yourselves. What shall we do?

21 And Ahithophel said to Absalom, Go in to the concubines of your father whom he left to guard his house, and all Israel will hear that you have put your father to shame³, and the hands of all those with you will be strengthened.

22 And they pitched the tent for Absalom on the roof, and Absalom went in to the concubines of his father before the eyes of all Israel.

23 And the counsel of Ahithophel that he counseled in the former days was as if one inquired in the word of God. Thus was all the counsel of Ahithophel, both to David and to Absalom.

Chapter 17

1 And Ahithophel said to Absalom, Let me choose for myself twelve thousand men, and I will rise and pursue David by night.

2 And I will come upon him while he is weary and slack of hands, and I will throw him into panic, and all the people with him will flee, and I will strike the king alone.

3 And I will return all the people to you, just as a bride returns to her husband. It is only the life of one man you seek, and all the people will be at peace.⁴

4 And the word was right in the eyes of Absalom and in the eyes of all the elders of Israel.

5 And Absalom said, Call now also Cushie the Arachite, and let us hear what too is in his mouth.

6 And Cushie came to Absalom, and Absalom said to him, saying, Ahithophel has spoken according to this word. Shall we do according to his word? But if not, you speak.

7 And Cushie said to Absalom, This time the counsel that Ahithophel has counseled is not good.

8 And Cushie said, You know your father and his men, that they are very mighty and bitter in soul, like a bear robbed of cubs in the field, and like a wild boar⁵ in the open country. And your father is a man of war and will not lodge with the people.

9 For behold, even now he is hidden in one of the hills or in one of the places⁶, and it will happen, when some fall among them at the first attack, that whoever hears will say, A slaughter has happened among the people following Absalom.

10 Then even a son of strength, whose heart is like the heart of a lion, will utterly melt, because all Israel knows that your father is mighty and the men with him are sons of strength.

11 But this is the counsel I have counseled: let all Israel from Dan to Beersheba be gathered to you, like the sand by the sea in multitude, and let your own face go in their midst.

12 And we will come upon him in one of the places where we find him there, and we will camp against him as the dew falls on the ground, and we will not leave among him and the men with him even one.⁷

13 And if he withdraws into a city, all Israel will take ropes to that city, and we will drag it down into the torrent-bed until not even a stone is left there.

14 And Absalom and every man of Israel said, The counsel of Cushie the Arachite is better than the counsel of Ahithophel. For the Lord commanded the good counsel of Ahithophel to be scattered, so that the Lord might bring all these evils upon Absalom.⁸

15 And Cushie the Arachite said to Zadok and Abiathar the priests, Thus and thus Ahithophel counseled Absalom and the elders of Israel, and thus and thus I counseled.⁹

16 And now send quickly and report to David, saying, Do not lodge tonight at the crossings of the wilderness, but hurry and cross over, lest the king and all the people with him be swallowed up.

17 And Jonathan and Ahimaaz had been standing at the spring Enrogel, and the maidservant went and reported to them, and they were going to report to King David, because they could not be seen entering the city.

18 But a young man saw them and reported it to Absalom, and the two went quickly and entered the house of a man in Bahurim, and he had a well in his court, and they went down there.

19 And the woman took the covering and spread it over the face of the well, and she scattered crushed grain over it, and no matter was known.

20 And the servants of Absalom came to the woman at the house and said, Where are Ahimaaz and Jonathan? And the woman said to them, They passed a little beyond the water¹. And they searched and did not find them and returned to Jerusalem.

21 And it came to be after they left, that they came up out of the well and went and reported to King David, and they said to David, Rise and cross the water quickly, because thus Ahithophel has counseled against you.²
22 And David rose, and all the people with him, and they crossed the Jordan until the morning light. Not one was missing who had not crossed the Jordan.
23 And Ahithophel saw that his counsel had not been done³, and he saddled his donkey and rose and went to his home, to his own city, and he gave orders to his house and hanged himself, and he died and was buried in the tomb of his father.
24 And David crossed over to Mahanaim, and Absalom crossed the Jordan, he and every man of Israel with him.
25 And Absalom appointed Amasa⁴ in place of Joab over the army. And Amasa was the son of a man whose name was Ithra⁵ the Israelite, who went in to Abigail daughter of Nahash, sister of Zeruiah the mother of Joab.
26 And Israel and Absalom camped in the land of Gilead.
27 And it came to be when David came to Mahanaim, Ouesbi son of Nahash from Rabbah of the sons of Ammon, and Machir son of Ammiel from Lodebar, and Barzillai⁶ the Gileadite from Rogelim⁷,
28 brought ten beds and coverings and ten cauldrons and earthenware vessels and wheat and barley and flour and parched grain and beans and lentils,
29 and honey and butter and sheep and curds from cattle. And they brought them to David and to the people with him to eat, because they said, The people are hungry and faint and thirsty in the wilderness.

Chapter 18

1 And David mustered the people with him and appointed over them commanders of thousands and commanders of hundreds.
2 And David sent out the people, one third by the hand of Joab, one third by the hand of Abishai son of Zeruiah, brother of Joab, and one third by the hand of Ittai the Gittite. And David said to the people, I myself will surely go out⁸ with you.
3 But they said, You must not go out, because if we flee they will not set their heart on us⁹, and if half of us die they will not set their heart on us, because you are like ten thousand of us. And now it is better that you be for us help from the city by helping.
4 And the king said to them, Whatever is good in your eyes I will do. And the king stood by the side of the gate, and all the people went out by hundreds and by thousands.
5 And the king commanded Joab and Abishai and Ittai, saying, Spare for my sake¹⁰ the young man Absalom. And all the people heard when the king gave orders to all the commanders concerning Absalom.
6 And all the people went out into the forest opposite Israel, and the battle came to be in the forest of Ephraim.
7 And the people of Israel stumbled there before the servants of David, and the great slaughter there on that day was twenty thousand men.
8 And the battle there was spread over the face of all the land, and the forest multiplied to devour more of the people than the sword devoured of the people on that day.
9 And Absalom met the servants of David. And Absalom was mounted on his mule, and the mule went under the thick branches of the great oak, and his head was caught in the oak, and he was suspended between heaven and earth, and the mule under him passed on.
10 And one man saw and reported to Joab and said, Behold, I saw Absalom hanging in the oak.
11 And Joab said to the man reporting to him, And behold, you saw him. Why then did you not strike him there to the ground? Then I would have given you ten silver pieces and one belt.
12 But the man said to Joab, Even if a thousand silver shekels¹¹ were weighed into my hands, I would never put my hand against the king's son. For in our hearing the king charged you and Abishai and Ittai, saying, Guard for my sake the young man Absalom.
13 Otherwise, if I had done lawlessness against his life, no word would be hidden from the king, and you yourself would have stood opposite.
14 And Joab said, I will not linger thus before you. And Joab took three darts in his hand and drove them into the heart of Absalom while he was still alive in the heart of the oak.
15 And ten young men carrying the armor of Joab surrounded Absalom and struck him and put him to death.
16 And Joab sounded with the trumpet, and the people turned back from pursuing after Israel, because Joab spared the people.
17 And they took Absalom and cast him into a great pit in the forest and raised over him a very large heap of stones, and all Israel fled, a man to his tent.
18 And Absalom had taken and set up for himself in his lifetime the pillar in the King's Valley, because he said, I have no son to keep my name in remembrance. And he called the pillar by his own name, and it is called Hand of Absalom to this day.
19 And Ahimaaz son of Zadok said, Let me run now and bring good news to the king, because the Lord has judged for him against the hand of his enemies.
20 And Joab said to him, You are not a bearer of good news on this day¹², but you may bring good news on another day. On this day you shall not bring good news, because the king's son is dead.
21 And Joab said to Cush, Go, report to the king what you have seen. And Cush bowed to Joab and ran.
22 And Ahimaaz son of Zadok again added and said to Joab, Whatever may happen, let me run too after Cush. And Joab said, Why would you run, my son, since no payment of good news is for you?
23 And he said, Whatever may happen, I will run. And he said to him, Run. And Ahimaaz ran by the way of the plain and passed Cush.
24 And David was sitting between the two gates. And the watchman went up to the roof of the gate by the wall and lifted his eyes and saw, and behold, one man was running alone.
25 And the watchman called out and reported to the king. And the king said, If he is alone, good news is in his mouth. And he came, going and coming near.

26 And the watchman saw another man running, and the watchman called out to the gatekeeper and said, Behold, another man runs alone. And the king said, This one too is bringing good news.

27 And the watchman said, I see the running of the first like the running of Ahimaaz son of Zadok. And the king said, He is a good man and comes in good news.

28 And Ahimaaz called out and said to the king, Peace. And he bowed before the king with his face to the ground and said, Blessed be the Lord your God, who shut up the men¹ who lifted their hand against my lord the king.

29 And the king said, Is it well with the young man Absalom? And Ahimaaz said, I saw the great crowd when Joab sent the servant of the king and your servant, and I did not know what was there.

30 And the king said, Turn aside, stand here. And he turned aside and stood.

31 And behold, Cushie arrived and said to the king, Let my lord the king receive good news, because the Lord has judged for you today against the hand of all those rising against you.

32 And the king said to Cushie, Is it well with the young man Absalom? And Cushie said, May the enemies of my lord the king and all who have risen up against him for evil become like that young man.

Chapter 19

1 And the king was troubled² and went up to the upper room of the gate and wept, and thus he said as he went, My son Absalom, my son, my son Absalom. Who will give my death instead of you? I, instead of you, Absalom, my son, my son.

2 And it was reported to Joab, saying, Behold, the king is weeping and mourning over Absalom.

3 And the victory on that day became mourning for all the people, because the people heard on that day, saying, The king grieves over his son.

4 And the people were slipping into the city³ on that day, as the people slip in ashamed when they flee in battle.

5 And the king hid his face⁴, and the king cried out with a loud voice, saying, My son Absalom, Absalom, my son, my son.

6 And Joab came to the king in the house and said, Today you have put to shame the face of all your servants, those who are rescuing you today and the lives of your sons and your daughters and the lives of your wives and your concubines,⁵

7 by loving those who hate you and hating those who love you. For you declared today that your commanders and servants are nothing, because I know today that if Absalom were alive and all of us today dead, then it would have been right in your eyes.⁶

8 And now rise, go out, and speak to the heart of your servants, because by the Lord I have sworn that if you do not go out, not a man will lodge with you tonight⁷, and know for yourself that this will be worse for you than all the evil that has come upon you from your youth until now.

9 And the king rose and sat in the gate, and all the people reported, saying, Behold, the king sits in the gate. And all the people came before the king. And Israel fled, a man to his tents.⁸

10 And all the people were disputing in all the tribes of Israel, saying, King David rescued us from all our enemies and himself delivered us from the hand of the foreigners, and now he has fled from the land and from his kingdom because of Absalom.⁹

11 And Absalom, whom we anointed over us, has died in battle. So now why are you silent about bringing back the king? And the word of all Israel came to the king.¹⁰

12 And King David sent to Zadok and to Abiathar the priests, saying, Speak to the elders of Judah, saying, Why do you become the last to bring back the king to his house, since the word of all Israel has come to the king?

13 You are my brothers; you are my bones and my flesh. Why then do you become the last to bring back the king to his house?

14 And you shall say to Shimei, Are you not my bone and my flesh? Thus may God do to me, and thus may he add¹¹, if you shall not be commander of the army before me all the days in place of Joab.

15 And he inclined the heart of every man of Judah as one man, and they sent to the king, saying, Return, you and all your servants.¹²

16 And the king returned and came as far as the Jordan, and the men of Judah came to Gilgal to go and meet the king, to bring the king across the Jordan.

17 And Shimei son of Gera a Benjamite from Bahurim hurried and came down with the men of Judah to meet King David.

18 And with him were one thousand men from Benjamin and Ziba the servant of the house of Saul, and his fifteen sons with him and his twenty servants with him, and they made straight for the Jordan before the king.¹³

19 And they performed the service of bringing the king across, and the crossing went over to carry the house of the king across and to do what was right in his eyes. And Shimei son of Gera fell on his face before the king as he was crossing the Jordan.¹⁴

20 And he said to the king, Let not my lord reckon lawlessness against me, and do not remember how your servant did wrong on the day when my lord the king went out from Jerusalem, so that the king should put it to heart.¹⁵

21 For your servant knows that I have sinned. And behold, I came today first of all the house of Joseph to come down and meet my lord the king.

22 And Abishai son of Zeruiah answered and said, Shall not Shimei be put to death for this, because he cursed the anointed of the Lord?¹⁶

23 And David said, What is it to me and to you, sons of Zeruiah, that today you become an enemy to me? Today shall any man in Israel be put to death? For do I not know that today I reign over Israel?¹⁷

24 And the king said to Shimei, You shall not die. And the king swore to him.¹⁸

25 And Mephibosheth son of Jonathan son of Saul came down to meet the king, and he had not cared for his feet, nor trimmed his nails, nor tended his mustache, nor washed his garments from the day the king left until the day he came in peace.

26 And it came to be when he entered Jerusalem to meet the king, that the king said to him, Why did you not go with me, Mephibosheth?

27 And Mephibosheth said to him, My lord king, my servant deceived me. For your servant said to him, Saddle the donkey for me, and I will mount it and go with the king, because your servant is lame.

28 And he schemed against your servant to my lord the king. But my lord the king is like an angel of God¹. So do what is good in your eyes.

29 For all the house of my father were nothing but men of death to my lord the king, yet you set your servant among those eating at your table. And what right have I still, even to cry out further to the king?

30 And the king said to him, Why do you still speak your words? I have said, You and Ziba shall divide the field².

31 And Mephibosheth said to the king, Indeed, let him take all, after my lord the king has come in peace to his house.

32 And Barzillai the Gileadite came down from Rogelim and crossed with the king over the Jordan to escort him over the Jordan.³

33 And Barzillai was a very old man, a son of eighty years⁴, and he had sustained the king while he stayed in Mahanaim, because he was a very great man.

34 And the king said to Barzillai, You shall cross over with me, and I will sustain your old age with me in Jerusalem.

35 And Barzillai said to the king, How many are the days of the years of my life, that I should go up with the king to Jerusalem?⁵

36 I am eighty years old today. Will I still know between good and evil? Will your servant still taste what I eat or what I drink? Will I still hear the voice of singers and singing women? Why then should your servant still be a burden to my lord the king?⁶

37 Your servant will just cross the Jordan a little way⁷ with the king. Why should the king repay me with this repayment?

38 Let your servant sit now, and I will die in my city, beside the tomb of my father and my mother. And behold, your servant Chimham⁸ will cross over with my lord the king, and do for him what is good in your eyes.⁹

39 And the king said, Chimham shall cross with me, and I will do for him what is good in your eyes, and whatever you choose from me, I will do for you.¹⁰

40 And all the people crossed the Jordan, and the king crossed. And the king kissed Barzillai and blessed him, and he returned to his place.

41 And the king crossed into Gilgal, and Chimham crossed with him, and all the people of Judah crossing with the king, and also half the people of Israel.¹¹

42 And behold, every man of Israel came to the king and said to the king, Why did our brothers, the men of Judah, steal you away¹² and bring the king and his house across the Jordan, and all David's men with him?

43 And every man of Judah answered the man of Israel, and they said, Because the king is near to me. And why have you been angered about this matter? Did we eat by eating¹³ from the king, or did he give us a gift, or did he lift something for us?

44 And the man of Israel answered the man of Judah and said, I have ten hands in the kingdom, and I am firstborn more than you, and indeed I have more claim in David than you. So why did you treat me lightly? And was not my word first for bringing back my king? But the word of the men of Judah was harsher than the word of the men of Israel.

Chapter 20

1 And there happened to be there a lawless man¹⁴, and his name was Sheba son of Bichri¹⁵, a Benjamite man. And he sounded the horn and said, We have no share in David, nor inheritance for us in the son of Jesse. Each man to your tents, O Israel.

2 And every man of Israel went up from following David after Sheba son of Bichri, but the men of Judah clung to their king, from the Jordan even to Jerusalem.

3 And David entered his house at Jerusalem, and the king took the ten women, his concubines, whom he had left to guard the house, and gave them into a house of custody and sustained them, but he did not go in to them. And they were shut away until the day of their death, living as widows.¹⁶

4 And the king said to Amasa, Summon for me the men of Judah within three days, and you yourself stand here.

5 And Amasa went to summon Judah, but he delayed beyond the set time that David had appointed for him.

6 And David said to Abishai, Now Sheba son of Bichri will do us more harm than Absalom. So now take with you the servants of your lord and pursue after him, lest he find fortified cities for himself and hide from our eyes¹⁷.

7 And after him went out the men of Joab and the Cherethite¹⁸ and the Pelethites and all the mighty men, and they went out from Jerusalem to pursue after Sheba son of Bichri.

8 And they were by the great stone that is in Gibeon, and Amasa came before them. And Joab was girded with his cloak, his garment, and over it he was girded with a sword fastened at his waist in its sheath, and the sword came out and fell¹⁹.

9 And Joab said to Amasa, Are you well, my brother? And the right hand of Joab took hold of the beard of Amasa to kiss him.

10 And Amasa did not guard against the sword in the hand of Joab, and Joab struck him with it in the belly²⁰, and his entrails poured out on the ground, and he did not strike him a second time, and he died. And Joab and Abishai his brother pursued after Sheba son of Bichri.

11 And a man from the young men of Joab stood over him and said, Whoever delights in Joab and whoever belongs to David, after Joab.

12 And Amasa lay wallowing in blood in the middle of the road, and the man saw that all the people stood still. And he turned Amasa out of the road into a field and threw a garment over him, because he saw that everyone coming upon him had stopped.¹

13 And when he was removed from the road, every man of Israel passed on after Joab, to pursue after Sheba son of Bichri.

14 And he passed through all the tribes of Israel into Abel and into Bethmaachah, and all the men in Charri gathered and came after him.

15 And they came and besieged him at Abel and Bethmaachah, and they poured out a siege mound against the city, and it stood at the outer wall, and all the people with Joab were intending to throw down the wall.

16 And a wise woman cried out from the wall and said, Hear, hear. Tell Joab now, Come near here, and I will speak to him.

17 And he came near to her, and the woman said, Are you Joab? And he said, I am. And she said to him, Hear the words of your servant. And Joab said, I am listening.

18 And she said, saying, In earlier times they spoke a word, saying, They surely asked in Abel and in Dan whether what the faithful of Israel established had failed, and thus they ended matters.

19 I am one of the peaceful, of the strongholds of Israel, but you seek to put to death a city and a mother-city in Israel. Why are you drowning the inheritance of the Lord?

20 And Joab answered and said, Far be it from me, far be it from me, if I should drown or if I should destroy.

21 This is not the matter², but a man from the hill country of Ephraim, Sheba son of Bichri is his name, and he lifted his hand against King David. Give him to me alone, and I will depart from the city. And the woman said to Joab, Behold, his head will be thrown to you through the wall.

22 And the woman went to all the people and spoke to all the city in her wisdom, and they removed the head of Sheba son of Bichri and threw it to Joab. And he sounded the horn, and they were scattered from the city, each man to his tents. And Joab returned to Jerusalem to the king.³

23 And Joab was over all the army of Israel, and Benaiah son of Jehoiada was over the Cherethite and over the Pelethites.

24 And Adoniram⁴ was over the tribute, and Jehoshaphat son of Ahilud⁵ was recorder.

25 And Sheva⁶ was secretary, and Zadok and Abiathar were priests.

26 And Ira⁷ the Jairite⁸ too was priest to David.

Chapter 21

1 And there was famine in the days of David three years, year following year. And David sought the face of the Lord⁹, and the Lord said, There is guilt on Saul and on his house for blood, because he put the Gibeonites¹⁰ to death.

2 And King David called the Gibeonites and said to them. Now the Gibeonites are not from the sons of Israel, but from the remnant of the Amorite, and the sons of Israel had sworn to them, yet Saul sought to strike them in his zeal for the sons of Israel and Judah.¹¹

3 And David said to the Gibeonites, What shall I do for you, and by what shall I make atonement, so that you may bless the inheritance of the Lord?

4 And the Gibeonites said to him, There is no silver or gold for us with Saul and with his house, and it is not for us to put a man to death in Israel. And he said, What you say, I will do for you.

5 And they said to the king, The man brought us to an end and pursued us, he who schemed to wipe us out. Let us destroy him from having any standing in all the border of Israel.

6 Let seven men be given to us from his sons, and we will expose them to the sun before the Lord in Gibeon of Saul, chosen of the Lord. And the king said, I will give them.

7 But the king spared Mephibosheth son of Jonathan son of Saul, because of the oath of the Lord that was between them, between David and between Jonathan son of Saul.

8 And the king took the two sons of Rizpah daughter of Aiah, whom she bore to Saul, Hermoni and Mephibosheth, and the five sons of Michal daughter of Saul, whom she bore to Adriel¹² son of Barzillai the Moulathite.

9 And he gave them into the hand of the Gibeonites, and they exposed them to the sun¹³ on the mountain before the Lord. And the seven fell together, and they were put to death in the days of harvest, in the first days, at the beginning of barley harvest.

10 And Rizpah daughter of Aiah took sackcloth and spread it for herself on the rock from the beginning of barley harvest until water dripped on them from heaven, and she did not allow the birds of heaven to rest on them by day nor the beasts of the field by night.

11 And it was reported to David what Rizpah daughter of Aiah, concubine of Saul, had done, and they were released, and Dan son of Ioa from the offspring of the giants took hold of them.

12 And David went and took the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his son from the men, sons of Jabesh Gilead, who stole them¹⁴ from the square of Bethshan, because the foreigners had set them there on the day the foreigners struck Saul on Gilboa.

13 And he brought up from there the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his son, and they gathered the bones of the ones exposed to the sun¹⁵.

14 And they buried the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his son and of the ones exposed to the sun¹⁶ in the land of Benjamin at the side, in the tomb of Kish his father, and they did all that the king commanded, and afterward God listened to the land.

15 And again there was war for the foreigners with Israel, and David went down, and his servants with him, and they fought with the foreigners, and David grew faint.

16 And Iesbi, who was among the offspring of Rapha¹, and the weight of whose spear was three hundred shekels of bronze, and he was girded with a club, intended to strike David.

17 And Abishai son of Zeruiah helped him, and he struck the foreigner and put him to death. Then the men of David swore, saying, You shall no longer go out with us to battle, and you shall not extinguish the lamp of Israel².

18 And after these things there was again war at Gath with the foreigners. Then Sebocha the Astathothite struck Sepph, one of the offspring of Rapha.

19 And there was war at Gob³ with the foreigners, and Elhanan⁴ son of Ariorgim the Bethlehemite struck Goliath the Gittite, and the shaft of his spear was like a weavers' beam.

20 And again there was war at Gath, and there was a man of measure, and the fingers of his hands and the fingers of his feet were six and six, twenty-four in number, and he too was born to Rapha.

21 And he reproached Israel, and Jonathan son of Shimeah brother of David struck him.

22 These four were born as offspring of the giants in Gath, in the house of Rapha, and they fell by the hand of David and by the hand of his servants.

Chapter 22

1 And David spoke to the Lord the words of this song in the day when the Lord delivered him from the hand of all his enemies and from the hand of Saul.

2 And he said, O Lord, my rock and my fortress and my rescuer for me⁵,

3 my God will be my guard; I will trust in him, my shield and horn of my salvation, my supporter and my refuge of salvation; from injustice you will save me.

4 I will call upon the Lord, worthy of praise, and I will be saved from my enemies.

5 For breakers of death surrounded me; torrents of lawlessness terrified me.

6 The birth-pangs of death encircled me; hardnesses of death came before me.

7 When I was afflicted, I will call on the Lord, and I will cry out to my God, and he will hear my voice from his temple, and my cry will be in his ears.

8 And the earth was shaken and quaked, and the foundations of heaven were troubled and convulsed, because the Lord was angry with them.

9 Smoke went up in his anger, and fire from his mouth devours; coals were kindled from it.

10 And he bent the heavens and came down, and gloom was under his feet.

11 And he rode on cheroubin and flew, and he was seen on the wings of wind.

12 And he made darkness his hiding place around him, his tent, dark water thickened in the clouds of air.

13 From the brightness before him coals of fire were kindled.

14 The Lord thundered from heaven, and the Most High gave his voice.

15 And he sent arrows and scattered them, lightning and threw them into panic.

16 And the channels of the sea were seen, and the foundations of the world were uncovered at the rebuke of the Lord, from the breath of the spirit of his wrath.

17 He sent from on high and took me; he drew me out of many waters.

18 He rescued me from my strong enemies, from those hating me, because they were stronger than I.

19 They came before me in the day of my affliction, and the Lord became my support.

20 And he brought me out into breadth and delivered me, because he delighted in me.

21 And the Lord repaid me according to my righteousness; according to the cleanness of my hands he repaid me.

22 Because I kept the ways of the Lord and did not act impiously away from my God.

23 Because all his judgments were before me, and his ordinances I did not turn away from.

24 And I will be blameless with him, and I will keep myself from my lawlessness.

25 And the Lord will repay me according to my righteousness and according to the cleanness of my hands before his eyes.

26 With the holy one you will be holy, and with the perfect man you will be perfect.

27 And with the chosen one you will be chosen, and with the crooked you will be twisted.

28 And you will save the poor people, and the eyes of the proud you will humble.

29 Because you are my lamp, O Lord, and the Lord will light up my darkness.⁶

30 Because in you I will run as a raider, and in my God I will leap over a wall.

31 The Mighty One, blameless is his way; the word of the Lord is strongly refined by fire; he is a shield for all who trust in him.

32 For who is mighty besides the Lord, and who will be a creator besides our God?

33 The Mighty One who strengthens me with power and made my way blameless,

34 making my feet like deer's feet and setting me upon the heights,

35 teaching my hands for war and bending a bronze bow with my arms.

36 And you gave me the shield of my salvation, and your attentive hearing multiplied me.

37 You widened my steps under me, and my ankles did not give way.

38 I will pursue my enemies and destroy them, and I will not turn back⁷ until I finish them.

39 And I will crush them, and they will not rise; they will fall under my feet.

40 And you will strengthen me with power for battle; you will bend under me those rising against me.

41 And you gave me the back of my enemies, those hating me, and I destroyed them.

42 They will cry out, and there is no helper, to the Lord, and he did not answer them.

43 And I beat them small as dust of the earth; like the mud of exits I crushed them thin.

44 And you will rescue me from the strivings of peoples; you will keep me as head of nations. A people I had not known served

45 Sons of foreigners lied to me; at the hearing of the ear they listened to me.

46 Sons of foreigners will fall away and stagger out of their enclosures.

47 The Lord lives, and blessed is my guard, and the God, the guard of my salvation, will be exalted,

48 the mighty Lord who gives avenges to me, disciplining peoples under me,

49 and bringing me out from my enemies. And you will lift me high above those rising against me; from a man of injustices you will rescue me.

50 Because of this I will confess you, Lord, among the nations, and to your name I will sing psalms, 51 magnifying the salvations of his king and doing mercy for his anointed, for David and for his seed forever.

Chapter 23

1 And these are the last words of David: Faithful is David son of Jesse, and faithful the man whom the Lord raised up to be the anointed of the God of Jacob, and beautiful are the psalms of Israel.¹

2 The Spirit of the Lord spoke in me, and his word was on my tongue.

3 The God of Israel says; the guard of Israel spoke to me: I will speak a parable. In humanity, how will you make strong the fear of God?

4 And in God: morning light, when the sun rises at morning, a morning not passed over from brightness, and as grass from the earth after rain.

5 For not so is my house with the Mighty One? For he set for me an everlasting covenant, ready in every time, guarded, because all my salvation and every desire, shall not the lawless one sprout?

6 But all the lawless are like a thorn thrown out, because they are not taken by hand.

7 And the man who touches them will arm himself with full iron and the shaft of a spear, and they shall be utterly burned with fire in their shame².

8 These are the names of the mighty men of David: Ishbosheth the Canaanite, chief of the third. This is Adinon the Asonaeon. He drew his sword over eight hundred wounded³ at one time.

9 And after him Eleazar son of his father's brother⁴, son of a Sousite, among the three mighty men. He was with David at Serran, and when he reproached him among the foreigners, they were gathered there for battle, and the men of Israel went up.

10 He rose and struck among the foreigners until his hand grew weary and his hand clung to the sword. And the Lord worked a great deliverance on that day, and the people returned after him only to strip the slain.

11 And after him Sammaia son of Asa the Aruchite. And the foreigners gathered into a troop, and there was a plot of the field full of lentils, and the people fled from before the foreigners.

12 And he stood firm in the middle of the plot and rescued it and struck the foreigners, and the Lord worked a great deliverance.

13 And three from the thirty went down and came at harvest to David at the cave of Adullam, and a troop of foreigners had camped in the valley of Rephaim.

14 And David was then in the stronghold, and the garrison of the foreigners was then in Bethlehem.

15 And David desired and said, Who will give me water to drink from the well at Bethlehem that is by the gate? And the station of the foreigners was then in Bethlehem.

16 And the three mighty men broke through the camp of the foreigners and drew water from the well at Bethlehem that is by the gate and took it and came to David, but he would not drink it, and poured it out to the Lord.⁵

17 And he said, Be it far from me, Lord, to do this. Shall I drink the blood of the men who went in their lives? And he would not drink it. These things the three mighty men did.

18 And Abishai brother of Joab son of Zeruiah, he was chief among the three, and he lifted his spear against three hundred wounded, and he had a name among the three.

19 From those three he was honored and became their commander, yet he did not come up to the three.

20 And Benaiah son of Jehoiada, he was a man abundant in deeds, from Kabzeel. He struck the two sons of Ariel of Moab, and he himself went down and struck the lion in the midst of the pit on the day of snow.

21 He struck the Egyptian man, a man worth seeing, and in the hand of the Egyptian was a spear like a weavers' beam. And he went down to him with a staff and snatched the spear from the hand of the Egyptian and killed him with his own spear.

22 These things Benaiah son of Jehoiada did, and he had a name among the three mighty men.

23 He was honored among the three, but to the three he did not come, and David set him over his audience.

24 And these are the names of the mighty men of David the king: Asahel brother of Joab was among the thirty, Elhanan son of Doudi his father's brother in Bethlehem,

25 Shammah the Harodite⁶, Elikah⁷ the Harodite,⁸

30 Benaiah the Pirathonite, Huri¹⁵ from Nachaligaia,

31 Abiel son of the Arabothite, Azmaveth¹⁶ the Barsamite,

Chapter 24

1 And again the anger of the Lord burned in Israel¹³, and he shook David among them, saying, Go, number Israel and Judah.
 2 And the king said to Joab, commander of the strength with him¹⁴, Go now through all the tribes of Israel from Dan to Beersheba and count the people, and I will know the number of the people.
 3 And Joab said to the king, May the Lord your God add to the people as they are and a hundredfold more, with the eyes of my lord the king seeing. But why does my lord the king delight in this thing?
 4 But the word of the king prevailed against Joab and against the commanders of the force, and Joab and the commanders of the force went out from before the king to count the people of Israel.¹⁵
 5 And they crossed the Jordan and camped at Aroer, to the right of the city in the middle of the ravine, Gad and Eliezer.
 6 And they came to Gilead and to the land of Tahtim-hodshi¹⁶, which is Adasai, and they came to Danidan and Udan and went around to Sidon.
 7 And they came to Mapsar of Tyre and all the cities of the Hivite and the Canaanite, and they came south of Judah to Beersheba.
 8 And they went around in all the land and came at the end of nine months and twenty days to Jerusalem.
 9 And Joab gave the number of the counting of the people to the king, and Israel became eight hundred thousand men of strength drawing sword, and the men of Judah five hundred thousand fighting men.
 10 And David's heart struck him after he had counted the people. And David said to the Lord, I have sinned greatly in what I have done. And now, Lord, please cause the lawlessness of your servant to pass over, because I have acted very foolishly.
 11 And David rose in the morning, and the word of the Lord came to Gad the prophet, the seer of David, saying,
 12 Go and speak to David, saying, Thus says the Lord: Three things I am lifting upon you, and choose for yourself one of them, and I will do it to you.
 13 And Gad came to David and reported to him and said to him, Choose for yourself whether three years of famine shall come to you in your land, or three months of your fleeing before your enemies while they pursue you, or three days of death¹⁷ to be in your land. Now then know and see what word I should answer the one who sent me.
 14 And David said to Gad, Distress presses me greatly from every side. Let me now fall into the hand of the Lord, because his mercies are very many. But into the hands of man I will not fall. And David chose death for himself.
 15 And it was the days of wheat harvest, and the Lord gave death in Israel from morning until the dinner hour, and the break in the people began, and from the people, from Dan to Beersheba, seventy thousand men died.
 16 And the angel of God¹⁸ stretched out his hand toward Jerusalem to destroy it, and the Lord relented concerning the evil and said to the angel destroying among the people, Enough now, let your hand go. And the angel of the Lord was by the threshing floor of Araunah¹⁹ the Jebusite.
 17 And David said to the Lord when he saw the angel striking among the people, and he said, Behold, I am the one who did wrong, and I am the shepherd²⁰ who did evil. But these sheep, what have they done? Let your hand now be against me and against my father's house.
 18 And Gad came to David on that day and said to him, Go up and set up an altar to the Lord on the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.
 19 And David went up according to the word of Gad, just as the Lord commanded him.
 20 And Araunah looked down and saw the king and his servants passing along above him, and Araunah went out and bowed to the king with his face to the ground.
 21 And Araunah said, Why has my lord the king come to his servant? And David said, To buy the threshing floor from you, to build an altar to the Lord, and the plague will be restrained from upon the people.
 22 And Araunah said to David, Let my lord the king take and offer to the Lord what is good in his eyes. Behold, the oxen are for whole burnt offerings, and the wheels²¹ and the implements of the oxen are for wood.
 23 Araunah gave all these things to the king. And Araunah said to the king, May the Lord your God bless you.
 24 And the king said to Araunah, No, because in buying I will buy from you for a price, and I will not offer to the Lord my God a whole burnt offering for nothing. And David bought the threshing floor and the oxen for fifty shekels of silver.
 25 And David built there an altar to the Lord and offered whole burnt offerings and peace offerings, and afterward Solomon added to the altar, because it had been small at first. And the Lord listened to the land, and the plague was restrained from over

1 And King David was old, advanced in days, and they covered him with garments, but he did not get warm.
2 And his servants said, Let them seek for my lord the king a virgin young woman, and she will stand before the king and be warming him¹ and will lie with him, and my lord the king will get warm.
3 And they sought a beautiful young woman from all the border of Israel, and they found Abishag² the Shunammite³ and brought her to the king.
4 And the young woman was very beautiful, and she was warming the king and ministering to him, but the king did not know her.
5 And Adonijah son of Haggith exalted himself, saying, I will reign. And he made for himself chariots and horsemen and fifty men to run before him.
6 And his father had never restrained him, saying, Why have you done thus? And he too was very handsome in appearance, and she had borne him after Absalom.
7 And his words were with Joab son of Zeruiah and with Abiathar the priest, and they were helping after Adonijah.
8 But Zadok the priest and Benaiah son of Jehoiada and Nathan the prophet and Shimei and Rei⁴ and the mighty men of David were not after Adonijah.
9 And Adonijah sacrificed sheep and calves and lambs beside the stone of Zoheleth⁵, which was near the spring Enrogel, and he called all his brothers and all the nobles of Judah, the servants of the king.
10 But Nathan the prophet and Benaiah and the mighty men and Solomon his brother he did not call.
11 And Nathan said to Beersheba mother of Solomon, saying, Have you not heard that Adonijah son of Haggith has become king, and our lord David did not know?
12 And now come, let me counsel you with counsel, and rescue your life and the life of your son Solomon.
13 Come, go in to King David and say to him, Did you not, my lord king, swear to your servant, saying, Solomon your son will reign after me, and he will sit on my throne? Then why has Adonijah become king?⁶
14 And behold, while you are still speaking there with the king, I will come in after you and fill out your words.
15 And Beersheba entered to the king in the chamber. And the king was very old, and Abishag the Shunammite was ministering to the king.
16 And Beersheba bowed and did obeisance to the king, and the king said, What is with you?
17 And she said, My lord king, you swore by the Lord your God to your servant, saying, Solomon your son will reign after me, and he will sit on my throne.
18 And now behold, Adonijah has become king, and you, my lord king, did not know.
19 And he sacrificed calves and lambs and sheep in abundance and called all the sons of the king and Abiathar the priest and Joab commander of the force, but Solomon your servant he did not call.⁷
20 And you, my lord king, the eyes of all Israel are on you, for you to report to them who will sit on the throne of my lord the king after him.
21 And it will be, when my lord the king sleeps with his fathers, that I and my son Solomon will be sinners.
22 And behold, while she was still speaking with the king, Nathan the prophet came.
23 And it was reported to the king, Behold, Nathan the prophet. And he entered before the king and bowed to the king with his face to the ground.
24 And Nathan said, My lord king, did you say, Adonijah will reign after me, and he will sit on my throne?
25 For he went down today and sacrificed calves and lambs and sheep in abundance and called all the sons of the king and the commanders of the force and Abiathar the priest. And behold, they are eating and drinking before him, and they said, Long live King Adonijah.⁸
26 But me, your servant, and Zadok the priest and Benaiah son of Jehoiada and Solomon your servant he did not call.
27 Has this thing happened by my lord the king, and have you not made known to your servant who will sit on the throne of my lord the king after him?
28 And David answered and said, Call Beersheba to me. And she entered before the king and stood before him.
29 And the king swore and said, As the Lord lives, who redeemed my life from every affliction,
30 that as I swore to you by the Lord God of Israel, saying, Solomon your son will reign after me, and he will sit on my throne instead of me, so I will do on this day.
31 And Beersheba bowed with her face to the ground and did obeisance to the king and said, May my lord King David live forever.
32 And King David said, Call Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet and Benaiah son of Jehoiada to me. And they entered before the king.
33 And the king said to them, Take the servants of your lord with you and mount my son Solomon on my mule and lead him down to Gihon.
34 And let Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet anoint him there as king over Israel, and sound the horn and say, Long live King Solomon.
35 And he will sit on my throne, and he will reign instead of me, and I have commanded him to be ruler over Israel and Judah.
36 And Benaiah son of Jehoiada answered the king and said, May it be so. May the Lord God of my lord the king confirm it.
37 Just as the Lord was with my lord the king, so may he be with Solomon, and may he enlarge his throne beyond the throne of my lord King David.
38 And Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet and Benaiah son of Jehoiada and the Cherethite and the Pelethites went down and set Solomon upon the mule of King David and led him to Gihon.
39 And Zadok the priest took the horn of oil from the tent and anointed Solomon, and they sounded the horn, and all the people said, Long live King Solomon.

40 And all the people went up after him, and they were dancing in dances and rejoicing with great joy, and the earth split at their sound.

41 And Adonijah heard, and all his invited guests with him, and they themselves finished eating. And Joab heard the sound of the horn and said, What is the sound of the city in uproar?

42 While he was still speaking, behold, Jonathan son of Abiathar the priest came, and Adonijah said, Come in, for you are a man of strength and bring good news.

43 And Jonathan answered and said, And truly, our lord King David has made Solomon king.

44 And the king sent with him Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet and Benaiah son of Jehoiada and the Cherethite and the Pelethites, and they set him upon the mule of the king.

45 And Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet anointed him as king at Gihon, and they came up from there rejoicing, and the city rang. This is the sound that you heard.

46 And Solomon has sat upon the throne of the kingdom.

47 And the servants of the king entered to bless our lord King David, saying, May God make the name of Solomon your son better than your name¹, and may he enlarge his throne beyond your throne. And the king bowed on his bed.

48 And thus too the king said, Blessed is the Lord God of Israel, who gave today one from my seed sitting on my throne, and my eyes are seeing it.

49 And all the invited guests of Adonijah were terrified and rose up, and each man went on his way.

50 And Adonijah feared before Solomon, and he rose and went away and took hold of the horns of the altar.

51 And it was reported to Solomon, saying, Behold, Adonijah feared King Solomon and has taken hold of the horns of the altar, saying, Let King Solomon swear to me today that he will not put his servant to death by the sword.

52 And Solomon said, If he becomes a son of strength, not one hair of his will fall to the ground, but if evil is found in him, he will die.

53 And King Solomon sent and brought him down from the altar, and he entered and bowed to King Solomon, and Solomon said to him, Go to your house.

Chapter 2

1 And the days drew near for David to die, and he commanded Solomon his son, saying,

2 I am going on the way of all the earth, and you must be strong and become a man.

3 And you must keep the charge of the Lord your God, to walk in his ways, to keep his commandments and his ordinances and his judgments, the things written in the law of Moses, so that you may understand what you will do according to all that I command you.

4 So that the Lord may establish his word that he spoke, saying, If your sons guard their way to walk before me in truth, with all their heart and with all their soul, there will not be destroyed for you a man² from upon the throne of Israel.

5 And indeed, you know what Joab son of Zeruiah did to me, what he did to the two commanders of the forces of Israel, to Abner son of Ner and to Amasa son of Jether, and he killed them and assigned blood of war in peace³ and put innocent blood on the belt on his waist and on the sandal on his foot.

6 And you will do according to your wisdom, and you will not bring his gray hair down in peace to Hades.

7 And to the sons of Barzillai the Gileadite you will do mercy, and they will be among those eating at your table, because thus they came near to me when I was fleeing from before Absalom your brother.

8 And behold, with you is Shimei son of Gera a Benjamite from Bahurim, and he cursed me with a grievous curse on the day when I was going to the Camps⁴. And he came down to meet me at the Jordan, and I swore to him by the Lord, saying, I will not put you to death by the sword.

9 And now do not hold him guiltless, because you are a wise man and will know what you will do to him, and you will bring his gray hair down in blood to Hades.

10 And David slept with his fathers and was buried in the City of David.

11 And the days that David reigned over Israel were forty years. In Hebron he reigned seven years, and in Jerusalem thirty-three years.

12 And Solomon sat on the throne of David his father, a son of twelve years, and his kingdom was greatly prepared.

13 And Adonijah son of Haggith entered to Beersheba mother of Solomon and bowed to her. And she said, Is your coming peace? And he said, Peace.

14 And he said, A word is mine to you. And she said to him, Speak.

15 And he said to her, You know that the kingdom was mine, and all Israel set its face on me for the king, but the kingdom turned and became my brother's, because it came to him from the Lord.

16 And now I ask one request from you. Do not turn away your face. And Beersheba said to him, Speak.

17 And he said to her, Speak now to King Solomon, for he will not turn his face from you, and let him give me Abishag the Shunammite as wife.

18 And Beersheba said, Good. I will speak to the king concerning you.

19 And Beersheba entered to King Solomon to speak to him concerning Adonijah. And the king rose to meet her and kissed her⁵ and sat on his throne, and a throne was set for the mother of the king, and she sat at his right hand.

20 And she said to him, I ask one small request from you. Do not turn away your face. And the king said to her, Ask, my mother, for I will not turn you away.

21 And she said, Let Abishag the Shunammite be given to Adonijah your brother as wife.

22 And King Solomon answered and said to his mother, And why did you ask Abishag for Adonijah? Ask the kingdom for him too, because he is my elder brother greater than I, and he has Abiathar the priest and Joab son of Zeruiah the commander as companion.

23 And King Solomon swore by the Lord, saying, Thus may God do to me, and thus may he add, because Adonijah spoke this word against his own life.

24 And now, as the Lord lives, who prepared me and set me on the throne of David my father and made me a house as the Lord spoke, today Adonijah will be put to death.

25 And King Solomon sent by the hand of Benaiah son of Jehoiada, and he struck him and Adonijah died on that day.

26 And to Abiathar the priest the king said, Run away to Anathoth, to your field, because you are a man of death on this day. But I will not put you to death, because you carried the ark of the covenant of the Lord before my father and because you were afflicted in all the things in which my father was afflicted.

27 And Solomon cast out Abiathar from being priest of the Lord, for the word of the Lord to be fulfilled, which he spoke against the house of Eli at Shallum.

28 And the report came to Joab son of Zeruiah, because Joab had inclined after Adonijah, but after Solomon he did not incline. And Joab fled to the tent of the Lord and took hold of the horns of the altar.

29 And it was reported to Solomon, saying that Joab fled to the tent of the Lord, and behold, he holds the horns of the altar. And Solomon sent to Joab, saying, What has happened to you that you fled to the altar? And Joab said, Because I feared from before you, and I fled to the Lord. And King Solomon sent Benaiah son of Jehoiada, saying, Go and kill him and bury him.

30 And Benaiah son of Jehoiada came to Joab at the tent of the Lord and said to him, Thus says the king: Come out. And Joab said, I will not come out, because I will die here¹. And Benaiah son of Jehoiada turned back and said to the king, Thus Joab has spoken, and thus he answered me.

31 And the king said to him, Go and do to him just as he said, and kill him and bury him, and you will remove today the blood that Joab poured out for nothing from me and from the house of my father.

32 And the Lord turned the blood of his injustice onto his head, because he met two men more righteous² and better than he and killed them by the sword, and my father David did not know their blood: Abner son of Ner, commander of Israel, and Amasa son of Jether, commander of Judah.

33 And their blood returned³ upon his head and upon the head of his seed forever, but for David and for his seed and for his house and for his throne, may there be peace forever from the Lord.

34 And Benaiah son of Jehoiada met Joab and killed him and buried him at his house in the wilderness.

35 And the king gave Benaiah son of Jehoiada in his place over the generalship, and the kingdom was being set right in Jerusalem, and the king gave Zadok the priest as first priest instead of Abiathar. And the Lord gave understanding to Solomon and very much wisdom and breadth of heart like the sand that is beside the sea. And the understanding of Solomon was multiplied greatly beyond the understanding of all the ancients and beyond all the wise of Egypt. And he took the daughter of Pharaoh and brought her into the City of David until he finished his own house and the house of the Lord first and the wall of Jerusalem all around. In seven years he made it and finished it. And Solomon had seventy thousand carrying burdens and eighty thousand stonecutters in the mountain. And Solomon made the Sea and the bases and the great basins and the pillars and the fountain of the court and the bronze sea. And he built the citadel and its battlements and cut through the City of David. Thus the daughter of Pharaoh was going up from the City of David into her house that he built for her. Then he built the citadel. And Solomon offered up three times in the year whole burnt offerings and peace offerings on the altar that he built to the Lord and was burning incense before the Lord and finished the house. And these were the rulers set over the works of Solomon, three thousand six hundred overseers of the people doing the works. And he built Asshur and Magdo and Gezer and upper Bethhoron and Baalath⁴. But after he built the house of the Lord and the wall of Jerusalem all around, after these things he built these cities. And while David was still living he commanded Solomon, saying, Behold, with you is Shimei son of Gera, of Benjamite seed from Hebron. He cursed me with a grievous curse on the day when I was going to the Camps, and he came down to meet me at the Jordan, and I swore to him by the Lord, saying, He shall not be put to death by the sword. And now do not hold him guiltless, because you are a prudent man and you will know what you will do to him, and you will bring his gray hair down in blood to Hades.⁵⁶

36 And the king called Shimei and said to him, Build yourself a house in Jerusalem and dwell there, and do not go out from there anywhere.

37 And it will be on the day of your going out and crossing the torrent Kidron, knowing you will know that you will die by death. Your blood will be on your head. And the king made him swear on that day.

38 And Shimei said to the king, Good is the word that you spoke, my lord king. Thus your servant will do. And Shimei sat in Jerusalem three years.

39 And it came to be after three years that two slaves of Shimei ran away to Achish son of Maachah king of Gath, and it was reported to Shimei, saying, Behold, your slaves are in Gath.

40 And Shimei rose and saddled his donkey and went to Gath to Achish to seek his slaves, and Shimei went and brought his slaves from Gath.

41 And it was reported to Solomon, saying that Shimei went from Jerusalem to Gath and brought back his slaves.

42 And the king sent and called Shimei and said to him, Did I not make you swear by the Lord and testify against you⁷, saying, On whatever day you go out from Jerusalem and go to the right or to the left, knowing you will know that you will die by death?

43 And why did you not keep the oath of the Lord and the commandment that I commanded against you?

44 And the king said to Shimei, You know all your evil, which your heart knew, what you did to David my father, and the Lord has returned your evil upon your head.

45 And King Solomon is blessed, and the throne of David will be prepared before the Lord forever.

46 And King Solomon commanded Benaiah son of Jehoiada, and he went out and struck him and he died. And King Solomon was very understanding and wise, and Judah and Israel were exceedingly many, like the sand on the sea in multitude, eating and drinking and rejoicing. And Solomon was ruler over all the kingdoms, and they were bringing gifts and serving Solomon all the days of his life. And Solomon began opening the domains of Lebanon. And he built Thermai in the wilderness. And this was Solomon's provision: thirty cors of fine flour and sixty cors of beaten flour, ten choice calves and twenty pasture-fed cattle and one hundred sheep, besides deer and gazelles and choice fatted birds. For he was ruler over everything beyond the river, from Raphi to Gaza, over all the kings beyond the river. And he had peace from all his sides all around, and Judah and Israel lived trusting, each under his vine and under his fig tree, eating and drinking, from Dan to Beersheba, all the days of Solomon. And these were the chiefs of Solomon: Azariah⁸ son of Zadok the priest, and Orniou son of Nathan, chief of the overseers, and

And Solomon had forty thousand brood mares for chariots and twelve thousand horsemen. And he was ruler in all the kingdoms from the river to the land of the foreigners and to the borders of Egypt. Solomon son of David reigned over Israel and Judah in Jerusalem.³

Chapter 3

2 Yet the people were burning incense on the high places, because a house was not yet built for the name of the Lord until now.
3 And Solomon loved the Lord, walking in the ordinances of David his father, except that on the high places he was sacrificing and burning incense.
4 And he rose and went to Gibeon to sacrifice there, because that was the highest and greatest high place. Solomon offered one thousand whole burnt offerings on the altar in Gibeon.
5 And the Lord appeared to Solomon in sleep by night, and the Lord said to Solomon, Ask what request for yourself.
6 And Solomon said, You did great mercy with your servant David my father, just as he walked before you in truth and in righteousness and in the uprightness of heart with you, and you kept for him this great mercy, to give his son upon his throne, as on this day.
7 And now, Lord my God, you gave your servant instead of David my father, and I am a small child and do not know my going out and my coming in.
8 And your servant is in the midst of your people whom you chose, a numerous people who will not be numbered.
9 And you will give your servant a heart that hears⁴ and discerns your people in righteousness, to understand between good and evil. For who will be able to judge this heavy people of yours?
10 And it was pleasing before the Lord that Solomon asked this word.
11 And the Lord said to him, Because you asked from me this word and did not ask for yourself many days⁵ and did not ask riches and did not ask the lives of your enemies, but asked for yourself understanding to hear judgment,
12 behold, I have done according to your word. Behold, I have given you a wise and understanding heart. One like you did not come to be before you, and after you none like you will arise.
13 And what you did not ask I have given you too, both riches and glory, so that no man like you has come to be among kings.
14 And if you walk in my way, keeping my commandments and my ordinances as David your father walked, I will multiply your days.
15 And Solomon awoke, and behold, it was a dream. And he rose and comes to Jerusalem and stood before the altar that was before the ark of the covenant of the Lord in Zion and offered whole burnt offerings and made peace offerings and made a great drinking-feast for himself and for all his servants.
16 Then two prostitute women appeared to the king and stood before him.
17 And the one woman said, In me, my lord, I and this woman live in one house, and we gave birth in the house.
18 And it came to be on the third day after I gave birth, that this woman also gave birth, and we were together, and there was no one with us except the two of us in the house.
19 And the son of this woman died in the night, because she lay on him.
20 And she rose in the middle of the night and took my son from my embrace while your servant was sleeping and laid him in her bosom, and her dead son she laid in my bosom.
21 And I rose in the morning to nurse my son, and he was dead. And behold, I considered him in the morning, and behold, he was not my son whom I bore.
22 And the other woman said, No, but my son is the living one, and your son is the dead one. And they were speaking before the king.
23 And the king said to them, You say, This is my living son, and this one's son is the dead one. And you say, No, but my son is the living one, and your son is the dead one.
24 And the king said, Bring me a sword. And they brought the sword before the king.
25 And the king said, Divide the living nursing child into two, and give half of him to this one and half of him to this one.
26 And the woman whose son was the living one answered and said to the king, because her womb was troubled⁶ over her son, In me, my lord, give her the child, and by death do not put him to death. But the other said, Let him be neither mine nor hers. Divide him.
27 And the king answered and said, Give the child to the one who said, Give him to her, and by death do not put him to death. She is his mother.
28 And all Israel heard this judgment that the king judged, and they feared before the king, because they saw that understanding of God was in him for doing justice.

Chapter 4

Chapter 5

1 And the appointed officers were thus providing for King Solomon and all the charges upon the table of the king, each in his month. They did not alter a word. And they were bringing the barley and the straw for the horses and the chariots to the place where the king might be, each according to his arrangement.¹⁸

2 And these were the needs for Solomon in one day: thirty cors of fine flour and sixty cors of beaten flour,¹⁹

3 and ten choice calves and twenty pasture-fed cattle and one hundred sheep, besides deer and gazelles and choice fatted birds.²⁰

4 For he was ruler beyond the river, and he had peace from all sides all around.

9 And the Lord gave understanding to Solomon²¹ and very great wisdom and breadth of heart like the sand that is beside the sea.

10 And Solomon was greatly multiplied in understanding beyond the understanding of all the ancient men and beyond all the wise of Egypt.²²

11 And he became wiser than all the men, wiser than Ethan the Ezrite and Heman and Chalcala and Darda, sons of Mal.²³

12 And Solomon spoke three thousand parables, and his songs were five thousand.²⁷

13 And he spoke concerning trees, from the cedar in Lebanon even to the hyssop that comes out through the wall, and he spoke concerning cattle and concerning birds and concerning creeping things and concerning fish.

14 And all the peoples were coming to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and he was receiving gifts from all the kings of the earth, all who were hearing his wisdom. And Solomon took the daughter of Pharaoh for himself as wife and brought her into the City of David until he finished the house of the Lord and his own house and the wall of Jerusalem. Then Pharaoh king of Egypt went up and took Gezer beforehand and burned it, and the Canaanite who lived in Mergab, and Pharaoh gave them as gifts to his daughter, wife of Solomon, and Solomon built Gezer.²⁸

16 And Solomon sent to Hiram, saying,

17 You know David my father, that he was not able to build a house for the name of the Lord my God because of the wars that encircled him, until the Lord gave them under the soles of his feet.³⁰

18 And now the Lord my God has given me rest all around. There is no adversary, and there is no evil encounter.³¹

19 And behold, I say that I will build a house for the name of the Lord my God, just as the Lord God spoke to David my father, saying, Your son, whom I will give instead of you upon your throne, he will build the house for my name.

20 And now command, and let them cut wood for me from Lebanon. And behold, my servants are with your servants, and I will give you the wage of your service according to all that you say, because you know that there is no one among us knowing how to cut wood like the Sidonians.

21 And it came to be when Hiram heard the words of Solomon, he rejoiced greatly and said, Blessed is God today, who gave to David a wise son over this many people.

22 And Hiram sent to Solomon, saying, I have heard concerning all that you sent to me. I will do all your desire concerning cedar wood and fir wood.

23 My servants will bring them down from Lebanon to the sea. I will place them in rafts to the place that you send to me, and I will shake them out there, and you will take them. And you will do my will by giving bread to my house.

24 And Hiram was giving cedars to Solomon and all his desire.

25 And Solomon gave to Hiram twenty thousand cors of wheat and provision for his house and twenty thousand baths of beaten oil. According to this Solomon was giving to Hiram year by year.

26 And the Lord gave wisdom to Solomon just as he spoke to him, and there was peace between Hiram and between Solomon, and they cut a covenant between themselves.

27 And King Solomon raised a levy from all Israel, and the levy was thirty thousand men.

28 And he sent them to Lebanon, ten thousand in the month by turns. One month they were in Lebanon and two months in their houses, and Adoniram was over the levy.

29 And Solomon had seventy thousand carrying burdens and eighty thousand stonecutters in the mountain,

30 except for the chiefs appointed over the works of Solomon, three thousand six hundred overseers doing the works.

32 And they prepared the stones and the timbers for three years.

Chapter 6

1 And it came to be in the four hundred and fortieth year of the coming out of the sons of Israel from Egypt, in the fourth year, in the second month, of King Solomon reigning over Israel. And the king commanded, and they took great costly stones for the foundation of the house, and unhewn stones. And the sons of Solomon and the sons of Hiram dressed them and laid them. In the fourth year he founded the house of the Lord in the month Niso, the second month. In the eleventh year, in the month Baal, this is the eighth month, the house was completed in every word of it and in every arrangement of it.¹

2 And the house that King Solomon built to the Lord: forty cubits was its length and twenty cubits in breadth and twenty-five cubits in height.

3 And the porch before the nave was twenty cubits in length, according to the breadth of the house, and its breadth before the house was ten cubits. And he built the house and finished it.

4 And he made to the house windows looking out, concealed.

5 And he set beam-structures upon the wall of the house all around, for the nave and for the debir, and he made side chambers all around.

6 The lower side chamber had a width of five cubits, and the middle six, and the third seven cubits in width, because he gave offsets to the house all around outside the house, so that they would not seize the walls of the house.²

7 And the house, while it was being built, was built with quarry-cut prepared stones, and hammer and axe and every iron tool was not heard³ in the house while it was being built.

8 And the doorway of the lower side chamber was under the shoulder of the house on the right side, and a winding ascent led to the middle and from the middle to the third stories.

9 And he built the house and finished it and paneled the house with cedars.

10 And he built the bonds across the whole house, five cubits its height, and he fastened the bond with cedar woods.

15 And he built the walls of the house with cedar woods, from the floor of the house to the rafters and to the walls, and he paneled them continuously with woods⁴ inside, and he encircled the inside of the house with pine boards.

16 And he built the twenty cubits from the end of the house, the one side from the floor to the rafters, and he made the debir from it as the holy of holies.

17 And the nave in front was forty cubits.

19 The debir was in the middle of the house within, to place there the ark of the covenant of the Lord.

20 Twenty cubits was its length and twenty cubits its breadth and twenty cubits its height, and he encircled it with shut-up gold and made an altar.

21 It was before the face of the debir, and he encircled it with gold.

22 And the whole house he encircled with gold until the completion of the whole house.

23 And he made in the debir two cheroubin, ten cubits in size, proportioned.

24 And five cubits was one wing of the one cheroub and five cubits its second wing, ten cubits from part of its wing to part of its wing.

25 So too for the second cheroub, one measure, one completion for both.

26 And the height of the one cheroub was ten cubits, and so the second cheroub.

27 And he put both the cheroubin in the middle of the innermost house, and they spread out their wings, and one wing touched the wall and one wing touched the second wall, and their wings in the middle of the house touched wing to wing⁵.

28 And he encircled the cheroubin with gold.

29 And all the walls of the house all around he engraved with a stylus, cheroubin and palms, the inner and the outer.

30 And the floor of the house he encircled with gold, of the innermost and of the outermost.

31 And for the doorway of the debir he made doors of juniper wood, and the doorposts were fivefold.

32 And two doors of pine wood, and carved upon them were engraved cheroubin and palms and spread petals, and he encircled them with gold, and the gold came down upon the cheroubin and upon the palms.

33 And thus he made for the gateway of the nave doorposts of juniper wood, four-sided porches.

34 And on both doors were pine woods, two folds on the one door and their turnings, and two folds on the second door turning.

35 Carved cheroubin and palms and spread petals, and covered with gold being brought down upon the impression.

36 And he built the innermost court, three rows of hewn stone and a row of worked cedar all around. And he built a curtain for the court of the porch of the house that was before the nave.

Chapter 7

1 And King Solomon sent and took Hiram from Tyre,
2 son of a widow woman, and he was from the tribe of Naphtali, and his father was a Tyrian¹ man, a craftsman in bronze, and he was filled with skill and understanding and knowledge to do every work in bronze. And he was brought to King Solomon and did all the works.²
3 And he cast the two pillars for the porch of the house. Eighteen cubits was the height of the pillar, and a circumference³ of fourteen cubits encircled it, and the thickness of the pillar was four fingers, hollow. And so was the second pillar.
4 And he made two capitals⁴, cast in bronze, to put upon the heads of the pillars. Five cubits was the height of the one capital and five cubits the height of the second.
5 And he made two networks to cover the capitals of the pillars, a network for the one capital and a network for the second capital.
6 And hanging work, two rows of bronze pomegranates, netted hanging work, row upon row. And thus he made for the second capital.⁵
7 And he set up the pillars of the porch of the temple, and he set up the one pillar and called its name Iachoum, and he set up the second pillar and called its name Baaz.⁶
8 And on the heads of the pillars was lily-work by the porch, four cubits.⁷
9 And a beam-structure was on both pillars, and above the sides the capital, the beam-structure according to the thickness.⁸
10 And he made the Sea, ten cubits from its rim to its rim, round all around, the same, and its height was five cubits, and thirty-three cubits in a gathering encircled it.⁹
11 And supports beneath its rim all around were encircling it, ten cubits all around, raising the Sea.¹⁰
12 And its rim was like the work of a cup-rim, a lily-bud, and its thickness was a handbreadth.
13 And twelve oxen were under the Sea, three looking north and three looking sea-ward and three looking south and three looking east, and all their hind parts were toward the house, and the Sea was above them.^{11,12}
14 And he made ten bronze stands¹³. Five cubits was the length of one stand and four cubits its breadth and six cubits its height.
15 And this was the work of the stands: enclosed panels for them, and enclosure between the projections.¹⁴
16 And on their enclosures between the projections were lions and oxen and cheroubin, and so too upon the projections, and above and below the lions and the oxen spaces with descending work.
17 And four bronze wheels belonged to each stand, and their axle-pieces were bronze, and their four parts had shoulders under the basins.¹⁵
18 And handles were in the wheels in the stand, and the height of one wheel was a cubit and a half.¹⁶
19 And the work of the wheels was wheel-work of a chariot. Their handles and their backs and their workmanship, all were cast.
20 The four shoulders¹⁷ were at the four corners of each stand, from the stand were its shoulders.
21 And upon the top of the stand was half a cubit in size, round all around, upon the top of the stand, and the beginning of its handles and its enclosures, and it opened out toward the beginnings of its handles.
22 And on its enclosures¹⁸ were cheroubin and lions and palms standing, each next to its facing one within, and the things all around.
23 Accordingly he made all ten stands, one arrangement and one measure for all.
24 And he made ten bronze wash-basins, each wash-basin holding forty baths by measure, one wash-basin upon each of the ten stands.¹⁹
25 And he placed the ten stands²⁰, five from the shoulder of the house on the right and five from the shoulder of the house on the left, and the Sea from the shoulder of the house on the right, eastward, toward the south side.
26 And Hiram made the pots and the shovels and the bowls, and Hiram completed doing all the works that he did for King Solomon in the house of the Lord:
27 the two pillars and the twisted works²¹ upon the heads of the pillars, two, and the two networks for covering both twisted works of the carvings that were upon the pillars,
28 the four hundred pomegranates for both networks, two rows of pomegranates for the one network, to cover both twisted works upon both pillars,²²
29 and the ten stands and the ten wash-basins upon the stands,²³
30 and the one Sea and the twelve oxen under the Sea,
31 and the pots and the shovels and the bowls and all the vessels that Hiram made for King Solomon for the house of the Lord, and the forty-eight pillars¹ of the house of the king and of the house of the Lord, all the works of the king that Hiram made, all entirely of bronze.

32 There was no weight for the bronze from which he made all these works because of the very great abundance. There was no end to the weighing of the bronze.

33 In the plain of the Jordan the king cast them, in the thickness of the earth, between Succoth and between Zarethan².

34 And King Solomon gave the vessels that he made in the house of the Lord: the golden altar, and the golden table on which were the loaves of offering,

35 and the lampstands, five at the right and five at the left before the debir, of closed gold, and the lamps and the wicks and the libation-bowls of gold,

36 and the doorposts and the nails and the bowls and the pans and the censers of closed gold, and the hinges of the doors of the innermost house, holy of holies, and the doors of the house of the nave, of gold.

37 And all the work that Solomon made for the house of the Lord was completed, and Solomon brought in the holy things of David his father and all the holy things of Solomon, the silver and the gold and the vessels, and he put them into the treasuries of the house of the Lord.³

38 And Solomon built his own house in thirteen years⁴.

39 And he built the House of the Forest of Lebanon, one hundred cubits its length and fifty cubits its breadth and thirty cubits its height, with three rows of cedar pillars and cedar shoulders upon the pillars.⁵

40 And he roofed the house above upon the sides of the pillars, and the number of the pillars was forty-five, fifteen in a row.⁶

41 And three beam-frames⁷, and opening facing opening, threefold.⁸

42 And all the doors and the openings were squared with beam-work, and from door to door, threefold.⁹

43 And the Porch of the Pillars was fifty cubits in length and thirty in breadth, fitted in balance, a porch before them, and pillars and a thickness before it for the porches.¹⁰

44 And the Porch of the Throne, where he would judge there, the Porch of Judgment.¹¹

45 And his house where he would sit there, one court winding around these, according to this work, and a house for the daughter of Pharaoh whom Solomon took, according to this porch.

46 All these were of costly stones, dressed according to interval, inside and from the foundation to the coping and outside to the great court.¹²

47 founded with costly stones, great stones, ten-cubit stones and eight-cubit stones,¹³

48 and above with costly stones according to the measure of hewn stones and cedars,

49 the great court all around, three rows of hewn stones and a row of dressed cedar,¹⁴

50 and Solomon completed his whole house¹⁵.

Chapter 8

1 And it came to be when Solomon finished building the house of the Lord and his own house, after twenty years¹⁶, then King Solomon assembled all the elders of Israel in Zion, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord from the City of David, this is Zion.

2 In the month Athanin.¹⁷

3 And the priests lifted the ark,

4 and the tent of witness and all the holy vessels that were in the tent of witness,

5 and the king and all Israel before the ark, sacrificing sheep and cattle beyond number.

6 And the priests bring the ark to its place, into the debir of the house, into the holy of holies, under the wings of the cheroubin, 7 because the cheroubin had their wings spread over the place of the ark, and the cheroubin were covering the ark and its holy things from above.

8 And the holy poles projected, and the heads of the holy poles were seen from the holy place before the debir, but they were not visible outside.

9 There was nothing in the ark except two stone tablets¹⁸, tablets of the covenant, which Moses put there in Horeb, which the Lord covenanted with the sons of Israel when they came out from the land of Egypt.

10 And it came to be, as the priests came out from the holy place, that the cloud filled the house,

11 and the priests were not able to stand to minister because of the cloud, because the glory of the Lord filled the house.

14 And the king turned his face and the king blessed all Israel, and all the assembly of Israel was standing.

15 And he said, Blessed is the Lord God of Israel today, who spoke with his mouth concerning David my father and with his hands fulfilled it, saying,

16 From the day I brought out my people Israel from Egypt, I did not choose a city in one scepter of Israel to build a house for my name to be there, but I chose Jerusalem for my name to be there, and I chose David to be over my people Israel.¹⁹

17 And it came to be upon the heart of David my father to build a house for the name of the Lord God of Israel.

18 And the Lord said to David my father, Because it came upon your heart to build a house for my name, you did well, because it came upon your heart.

19 Yet you shall not build the house, but only your son, the one coming out from your sides, he will build the house for my name.

20 And the Lord raised up his word that he spoke, and I rose in place of David my father and sat upon the throne of Israel just as the Lord spoke, and I built the house for the name of the Lord God of Israel.

21 And I placed there a place for the ark, in which is there the covenant of the Lord, which the Lord covenanted with our fathers when he brought them out from the land of Egypt.

22 And Solomon stood before the altar of the Lord in the sight of all the assembly of Israel and spread out his hands toward heaven¹,

23 and said, O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like you in heaven above and upon the earth below, keeping covenant and mercy for your servant who walks before you with all his heart,

24 the things which you kept for your servant David my father, and you spoke with your mouth and fulfilled with your hands, as on this day.

25 And now, Lord God of Israel, keep for your servant David my father the things you spoke to him, saying, A man for you will not be lifted away from before me², sitting upon the throne of Israel, if only your children keep their ways to walk before me as you walked before me.

26 And now, Lord God of Israel, let your word be made firm for David my father.

27 For will God truly dwell with humans upon the earth? If heaven and heaven of heaven will not suffice for you, much less this house that I built for your name.

28 And yet look upon my petition, Lord God of Israel, to hear the delight with which your servant prays before you today,

29 for your eyes to be opened toward this house day and night, toward the place of which you said, My name will be there³, to hear the prayer that your servant prays toward this place day and night,

30 and you will hear the petition of your servant and of your people Israel, whatever they pray toward this place. And you will hear in the place of your dwelling in heaven, and you will act and be gracious.

31 Whatever each person sins against his neighbor, and if he takes upon himself a curse to curse him, and comes and declares openly before your altar in this house,

32 then you will hear from heaven and act and judge your people Israel, to condemn the lawless by giving his way upon his own head⁴, and to justify the righteous by giving to him according to his righteousness.

33 When your people Israel stumble before enemies because they sinned against you, and they turn back and confess to your name and pray and entreat in this house,

34 then you will hear from heaven and be gracious to the sins of your people Israel and return them to the land that you gave to their fathers.

35 When heaven is shut and rain does not come because they sinned against you, and they pray toward this place and confess to your name⁵ and turn back from their sins when you humble them,

36 then you will hear from heaven and be gracious to the sins⁶ of your servant and of your people Israel, because you will show them the good way to walk in it, and you will give rain upon the land that you gave to your people for an inheritance.

37 If famine happens, if death happens, if blight happens, mildew, locust, rust, if his enemy afflicts him in one of his cities, every encounter, every pain,⁷

38 every prayer, every petition, whatever happens to any person, as each knows the touch of his own heart⁸ and spreads out his hands toward this house,

39 then you will hear from heaven from your ready dwelling place and be gracious and act and give to each man according to his ways, as you know his heart, because you alone know the heart of all the sons of humans,

40 so that they may fear you all the days they live upon the land that you gave to our fathers.

41 And also for the foreigner who is not from this people of yours,

42 and they will come and pray toward this place,

43 then you will hear from heaven from your ready dwelling place and do according to all that the foreigner calls on you for, so that all the peoples of the earth may know your name and fear you as your people Israel do, and may know that your name is called upon this house⁹ that I built.

44 When your people go out to war against their enemies by the way that you send them, and they pray in the name of the Lord¹⁰ in the direction of the city that I chose in it and of the house that I built for your name, 45 then you will hear from heaven their petition and their prayer and do justice for them.

46 Because they will sin against you, for there is no human who will not sin, and you will bring against them and deliver them before enemies, and those who capture them will carry them captive to a far land or near,

47 and they will turn their hearts back¹¹ in the land where they were carried there and turn and entreat you in the land of their migration, saying, We sinned, we acted lawlessly, we did wrong,

48 and turn to you with all their heart and with all their soul in the land of their enemies where you carried them away, and they pray toward you in the direction of their land that you gave to their fathers, the city that I chose and the house that I built for your name,

49 then you will hear from heaven from your ready dwelling place

50 and be gracious to their wrongs by which they sinned against you and to all their rebellions with which they rebelled against you, and you will give them into compassions¹² before those taking them captive, and they will pity them,

51 because they are your people and your inheritance, whom you brought out from the land of Egypt, from the midst of the iron furnace.

52 And let your eyes and your ears be opened toward the petition of your servant and toward the petition of your people Israel, to hear them in all things whatsoever they call on you for,

⁹ T: Greek keeps the name-upon formula here.

53 because you set them apart to yourself for an inheritance from all the peoples of the earth, just as you spoke by the hand of your servant Moses, when you brought out our fathers from the land of Egypt, O Lord, Lord. Then Solomon spoke concerning the house, as he finished building it: The sun the Lord made known in heaven. He said he would dwell in gloom. Build my house, a splendid house for yourself, for dwelling in newness. Behold, is not this written in the Book of the Song?¹

54 And it came to be when Solomon finished praying to the Lord all this prayer and petition, he rose from before the altar of the Lord, kneeling upon his knees² and his hands spread out toward heaven,

55 and stood and blessed all the assembly of Israel with a loud voice, saying,

56 Blessed is the Lord today, who gave rest to his people Israel according to all that he spoke. Not one word failed from all his good words that he spoke by the hand of Moses his servant.

57 May the Lord our God be with us just as he was with our fathers. May he not leave us nor turn away from us, 58 to incline our hearts toward him, to walk in all his ways and keep all his commandments and his ordinances, which he commanded our fathers.

59 And let these words, which I have entreated before the Lord our God, be near to the Lord our God day and night, to do the justice of your servant and the justice of his people Israel, each day's matter on its day³,

60 so that all the peoples of the earth may know that the Lord, he is God, and there is no other.

61 And let our hearts be perfect toward the Lord our God and holy in walking in his ordinances and keeping his commandments, as on this day.

62 And the king and all the sons of Israel sacrificed a sacrifice before the Lord.

63 And King Solomon sacrificed the sacrifices of peace offerings⁴ that he sacrificed to the Lord, twenty-two thousand cattle and one hundred twenty thousand sheep. And the king and all the sons of Israel dedicated the house of the Lord.

64 On that day the king consecrated the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord, because there he made the whole burnt offering and the sacrifices and the fats of the peace offerings, because the bronze altar that was before the Lord was too small to carry the whole burnt offering and the sacrifices of the peace offerings.⁵

65 And Solomon kept the feast on that day, and all Israel with him, a great assembly, from the entrance of Hamath to the river of Egypt, before the Lord our God, in the house that he built, eating and drinking and rejoicing before the Lord our God for seven days.⁶

66 And on the eighth day he sent away the people and blessed them, and they went each to his tents, rejoicing and good of heart⁷ over the good things that the Lord did for David his servant and for Israel his people.

Chapter 9

1 And it came to be, when Solomon finished building the house of the Lord and the house of the king and all the workmanship of Solomon, whatever he desired to do,

2 that the Lord appeared to Solomon a second time, just as he appeared at Gibeon.

3 And the Lord said to him, I have heard the voice of your prayer and your petition with which you petitioned before me. I have done for you according to all your prayer. I have made this house holy that you built, to put my name there forever, and my eyes and my heart will be there all the days⁸.

4 And you, if you walk before me just as David your father walked, in holiness of heart and in uprightness, doing according to all that I commanded him, and if you keep my ordinances and my commandments,

5 then I will raise up the throne of your kingdom over Israel forever, just as I spoke to David your father, saying, A man leading in Israel will not be lifted away from you.

6 But if by turning away you turn away⁹, you and your children, from me and do not keep my commandments and my ordinances that Moses gave before you, and you go and serve other gods and bow to them,

7 then I will remove Israel from the land that I gave them, and this house that I made holy for my name I will cast away from before me, and Israel will become for ruin and for a proverb among all the peoples.¹⁰

8 And this house, exalted as it is, everyone passing through it will be astonished and will hiss, and they will say, For what cause did the Lord do thus to this land and to this house?

9 And they will say, Because they forsook the Lord their God who brought their fathers out of Egypt, from the house of slavery¹¹, and they held fast to foreign gods and bowed to them and served them. Therefore the Lord brought upon them this evil. Then Solomon brought up the daughter of Pharaoh from the City of David to his house that he built for himself in those days.

10 Twenty years in which Solomon built the two houses, the house of the Lord and the house of the king,

11 Hiram king of Tyre had supported Solomon with cedar woods and pine woods and with gold and with all his desire. Then the king gave to Hiram twenty cities in the land of Galilee.

12 And Hiram went out from Tyre and went to Galilee to see the cities that Solomon gave him, and they were not pleasing to him.

13 And he said, What are these cities that you gave me, brother? And he called them Border until this day.

14 And Hiram brought to Solomon one hundred and twenty talents of gold.

26 And King Solomon made a ship at Eziongeber, which is near Elath¹² on the shore of the last sea, in the land of Edom.¹³

27 And Hiram sent in the ship his servants, seafaring men skilled to drive the sea¹⁴, with the servants of Solomon.

28 And they came to Ophir and took from there one hundred and twenty talents of gold and brought them to King Solomon.

Chapter 10

1 And the queen of Sheba heard Solomon's name and the name of the Lord and came to test him with riddles.
2 And she came to Jerusalem with a very heavy force¹ and camels carrying spices and very much gold and costly stone, and she entered to Solomon and spoke to him all that was in her heart.
3 And Solomon reported to her all her words. There was not a word hidden from the king that he did not report to her.
4 And the queen of Sheba saw all the understanding of Solomon and the house that he built,
5 and the foods of Solomon and the seating of his servants and the standing of his ministers and his clothing and his cupbearers and his whole burnt offering that he offered up in the house of the Lord, and she was beside herself².
6 And she said to King Solomon, True is the word that I heard in my land concerning your words and concerning your understanding.
7 And I did not believe those speaking to me until I came and my eyes saw. And behold, it is not even half according to what they reported to me. You have added goodness to all the report that I heard in my land.
8 Blessed are your women. Blessed are these servants of yours who stand before you continually, hearing all your understanding.
9 May the Lord your God be blessed, who delighted in you to give you upon the throne of Israel, because the Lord loved Israel to establish it forever, and he set you as king over them to do judgment in righteousness and in their judgments.
10 And she gave to Solomon one hundred and twenty talents of gold and very many spices and costly stone. Such a multitude of spices as those that the queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon had not come again.³
11 And the ship of Hiram, carrying the gold from Ophir, brought very many worked timbers and costly stone.
12 And the king made the worked timbers into supports for the house of the Lord and for the house of the king and lyres and harps for the singers. Such worked timbers had not come upon the earth nor been seen anywhere until this day.
13 And King Solomon gave to the queen of Sheba all that she desired, whatever she asked, besides all that he had given her by the hand of King Solomon. And she turned and went to her land, she and all her servants.
14 And the weight of the gold coming to Solomon in one year was six hundred sixty-six talents of gold,
15 besides the levies of the subjects and the merchants and all the kings from beyond and the satraps of the land.
16 And Solomon made three hundred beaten-gold spears. Three hundred gold pieces were upon each spear.
17 And three hundred beaten-gold shields, three minas of gold were in each shield, and he put them in the House of the Forest of Lebanon.
18 And the king made a great ivory throne and covered it around with refined gold.
19 Six steps belonged to the throne, and backs of calves belonged to the throne behind it, and hands on this side and on that side of the seat, and two lions standing beside the hands.
20 And twelve lions standing upon the six steps on this side and on that. Thus it was not made for any kingdom.
21 And all the drinking vessels of Solomon were golden, and the wash-basins were golden, all the vessels of the House of the Forest of Lebanon, of closed gold. There was no silver, because it was not reckoned in the days of Solomon.
22 For the king had a ship of Tarshish in the sea with the ships of Hiram. Once every three years a ship from Tarshish would come to the king, bringing gold and silver and carved and hewn stones. This was the undertaking of the spoil that King Solomon brought up, to build the house of the Lord and the house of the king and the wall of Jerusalem and the citadel, to fence the enclosure of the City of David, and Asshur and Magdan and Gezer and upper Bethhoron and Iethermath and all the chariot-cities and all the horse-cities and the enterprise of Solomon that he undertook to build in Jerusalem and in all the land from the beginning of his rule. All the people remaining from the Hittite and the Amorite and the Perizzite and the Canaanite and the Hivite and the Jebusite and the Girgashite, who were not from the sons of Israel, whose children remained after them in the land, whom the sons of Israel were not able to destroy utterly, Solomon brought them up into levy until this day. But from the sons of Israel Solomon did not assign any to forced work, because they were the warrior men and his servants and his rulers of his chariots and his horsemen.
23 And Solomon was made greater than all the kings of the earth in wealth and understanding.
24 And all the kings of the earth were seeking the face of Solomon to hear his understanding that the Lord put in his heart.
25 And they were bringing each his gifts: golden vessels and clothing and myrrh and spices and horses and mules, according to year by year.
26 And Solomon had four thousand brood mares for chariots⁴ and twelve thousand horsemen, and he placed them in the cities of the chariots and with the king in Jerusalem. And he was ruling all the kings from the river even to the land of the foreigners and to the borders of Egypt.
27 And the king made the gold and the silver in Jerusalem like stones, and the cedars he made like the sycamores in the plain in multitude.
28 And the export of the horses of Solomon was from Egypt and from Kue⁵. The merchants of the king were receiving them from Kue by exchange.
29 And an export chariot would come up from Egypt for one hundred silver pieces⁶ and a horse for fifty silver pieces, and so they would go out by sea for all the kings of the Hittites and the kings of Syria.

Chapter 11

1 And King Solomon was a lover of women, and he had seven hundred wives who were rulers and three hundred concubines, and he took foreign wives, and the daughter of Pharaoh, Moabites, Ammonites, Syrians, Edomites, Hittites, and Amorites,
2 from the nations of which the Lord said to the sons of Israel, You shall not go in to them, and they shall not go in to you, lest they turn your hearts aside after their idols⁷. To these Solomon clung, to love.
4 And it came to be in the time of Solomon's old age, and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God like the heart of David his father, and the foreign women turned aside his heart after their gods.
5 Then Solomon built a high place for Chemosh, idol of Moab, and for their king, idol of the sons of Ammon,
6 and for Ashtaroth, abomination of the Sidonians.

⁶ T: Greek gives one hundred and fifty prices here.

7 And thus he did for all his foreign wives, burning incense and sacrificing⁸ to their idols.
8 And Solomon did evil before the Lord. He did not walk after the Lord as David his father did.
9 And the Lord was angered against Solomon because he turned his heart away from the Lord God of Israel, who appeared to him twice,
10 and who had commanded him concerning this matter, not at all to go after other gods, and to keep and do what the Lord God commanded him.
11 And the Lord said to Solomon, Because these things came to be with you and you did not keep my commandments and my ordinances that I commanded you, in tearing I will tear² your kingdom out of your hand and give it to your servant.
12 Yet in your days I will not do it, for the sake of David your father. From the hand of your son I will take it.
13 Yet I will not take the whole kingdom. I will give one scepter to your son for the sake of David my servant and for the sake of Jerusalem, the city that I chose.
14 And the Lord raised up an adversary against Solomon, Hadad the Edomite, and Hezron son of Eliada³, who was in Ramah⁴, of Hadadezer⁵ king of Zobah⁶ his lord. And men were gathered to him, and he was the chief of a band, and he took Damascus beforehand, and they were an adversary to Israel all the days of Solomon. And Hadad the Edomite was from the seed of the kingdom in Edom.
15 And it happened when David was destroying Edom, when Joab commander of the army went to bury the wounded, they cut down every male in Edom.
16 For six months Joab and all Israel sat there in Edom until he destroyed every male from Edom.
17 And Hadad fled, he and all the Edomite men from the servants of his father with him, and they entered into Egypt, and Hadad was a small boy.
18 And men rose from the city of Midian and came to Paran and took men with them and came to Pharaoh king of Egypt. And Hadad entered to Pharaoh, and he gave him a house and appointed bread for him⁷.
19 And Hadad found favor before Pharaoh greatly, and he gave him as wife the sister of his own wife, sister of Tahpenes⁸ the elder.
20 And the sister of Tahpenes bore to Hadad Genubath⁹ her son, and Tahpenes weaned him in the midst of the sons of Pharaoh, and Genubath was in the midst of the sons of Pharaoh.
21 And Hadad heard in Egypt that David had slept with his fathers and that Joab the commander of the army had died, and Hadad said to Pharaoh, Send me away, and I will return to my land.
22 And Pharaoh said to Hadad, In what are you lacking with me? And behold, you seek to go away to your land. And Hadad said to him, In sending away, send me away. And Hadad returned to his land.
23 This was the evil that Hadad did, and he was disgusted with Israel, and he reigned in the land of Edom.
24 And Jeroboam¹⁰ son of Nebat¹¹, the Ephrathite¹² from Zereda¹³, son of a widow woman, a servant of Solomon,
25 and this was the matter in which he lifted his hands against King Solomon: he built the citadel; he closed up the breach of the City of David his father.
26 And the man Jeroboam was strong in power, and Solomon saw the young man that he was a man of works, and he appointed him over the burdens of the house of Joseph.
27 And it came to be at that time that Jeroboam went out from Jerusalem, and Ahijah the Shilonite¹⁴ the prophet found him on the road, and he pulled him off the road. And Ahijah was clothed with a new garment, and both were in the open country.¹⁵
28 And Ahijah took hold of his new garment that was upon him and tore it into twelve pieces.
29 And he said to Jeroboam, Take for yourself ten pieces, because thus says the Lord God of Israel: Behold, I am tearing the kingdom from the hand of Solomon, and I will give you ten scepters.
30 And two scepters will belong to him for the sake of my servant David and for the sake of Jerusalem, the city that I chose in it from all the tribes of Israel,
31 because he forsook me and did to Ashtaroath, abomination of the Sidonians, and to Chemosh and to the idols of Moab and to their king, provocation¹⁶ of the sons of Ammon, and he did not walk in my ways to do what is right before me, as David his father did.
32 And I will not take the whole kingdom from his hand, because in resisting I will resist him all the days of his life for the sake of David my servant, whom I chose.
33 And I will take the kingdom from the hand of his son and give you the ten scepters.
34 And to his son I will give the two scepters, so that there may be a setting for my servant David all the days before me in Jerusalem, the city that I chose for myself to put my name there.
35 And I will take you, and you will reign over whatever your soul desires, and you will be king over Israel.
36 And it will be, if you keep all that I command you and walk in my ways and do what is right before me, to keep my commandments and my ordinances just as David my servant did, then I will be with you and build for you a faithful house¹⁷ just as I built for David.
37 And Solomon sought to put Jeroboam to death, and he rose and fled into Egypt to Shishak king of Egypt and was in Egypt until Solomon died.
38 And the rest of the matters of Solomon and all that he did and all his understanding, behold, are these not written in the Book of the Matters of Solomon?
39 And the days that Solomon reigned in Jerusalem were forty years.
40 And Solomon slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the City of David his father. And it happened when Jeroboam son of Nebat heard, while he was still in Egypt, as he fled from before Solomon and sat in Egypt, that he set straight and comes to his city, to the land of Zereda in the hill country of Ephraim. And King Solomon slept with his fathers, and Rehoboam¹ his son reigned in his place.

Chapter 12

1 And King Rehoboam went to Shechem, because all Israel was coming to Shechem to make him king.

3 And the people spoke to King Rehoboam, saying,

4 Your father made our yoke heavy, and you now lighten from the hard service of your father and from his heavy yoke that he put upon us, and we will serve you.

5 And he said to them, Go away until three days and return to me. And they went away.

6 And the king gave charge to the elders who had stood before Solomon his father while he still lived, saying, How do you counsel, and shall I answer this people a word?

7 And they spoke to him, saying, If on this day you will be servant to this people and serve them and speak good words to them, they will be your servants all the days.

8 But he forsook the counsel of the elders, what they had counseled him, and took counsel with the young men reared with him who stood before his face.

9 And he said to them, What do you counsel, and what shall I answer this people, who spoke to me, saying, Lighten from the yoke that your father put upon us?

10 And the young men reared with him, those standing before his face², spoke to him, saying, Thus you will speak to this people who said to you, Your father made our yoke heavy, and you now lighten from us. Thus you will speak to them: My littleness is thicker than my father's loins.

11 And now my father laid a heavy yoke upon you, and I will add upon your yoke. My father disciplined you with whips, but I will discipline you with scorpions.

12 And all Israel came to King Rehoboam on the third day, just as the king spoke to them, saying, Return to me on the third day.

13 And the king answered the people harshly, and Rehoboam forsook the counsel of the elders that they counseled him,

14 and he spoke to them according to the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, and I will add upon your yoke. My father disciplined you with whips, but I will discipline you with scorpions.³

15 And the king did not hear the people, because the turnabout was from the Lord, so that he might establish his word that he spoke by the hand of Ahijah the Shilonite concerning Jeroboam son of Nebat.

16 And all Israel saw that their king did not hear them, and the people answered the king, saying, What share is ours in David, and there is no inheritance for us in the son of Jesse. Turn away, Israel, to your tents. Now shepherd your own house, David.

And Israel went away to their tents.⁴

18 And the king sent Adoniram, the one over the levy, and all Israel stoned him with stones and he died. And King Rehoboam hurried to go up to flee to Jerusalem.

19 And Israel rebelled against the house of David until this day.

20 And it came to be when all Israel heard that Jeroboam came back from Egypt, they sent and called him to the assembly and made him king over Israel, and there was none after the house of David except the scepter of Judah and Benjamin alone.⁵

21 And Rehoboam entered Jerusalem and assembled the congregation of Judah and the scepter of Benjamin⁶, one hundred twenty thousand young men who make war, to fight against the house of Israel, to return the kingdom to Rehoboam son of Solomon.

22 And the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah⁷ the man of God, saying,

23 Speak to Rehoboam son of Solomon, king of Judah, and to all the house of Judah and Benjamin and to the remnant of the people, saying,

24 Thus says the Lord: You shall not go up nor fight with your brothers, sons of Israel. Let each return to his own house, because this word has happened from me. And they heard the word of the Lord and stopped from going according to the word of the Lord. And King Solomon sleeps with his fathers and is buried with his fathers in the City of David, and Rehoboam his son reigned in his place in Jerusalem, being sixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twelve years in Jerusalem, and the name of his mother was Naanan daughter of Anan⁸ son of Nahash king of the sons of Ammon, and he did evil before the Lord and did not walk in the way of David his father. And there was a man from the hill country of Ephraim, servant to Solomon, and his name was Jeroboam, and his mother's name was Zereda, a prostitute woman, and Solomon gave him as chief officer of the staff over the burdens of the house of Joseph, and he built for Solomon Zereda in the hill country of Ephraim, and he had three hundred chariots of horses. This one built the citadel among the burdens of the house of Ephraim. This one closed up the City of David and was being lifted up against the kingdom. And Solomon sought to put him to death, and he feared and fled to Shishak king of Egypt and was with him until Solomon died. And Jeroboam heard in Egypt that Solomon died, and he spoke into the ears of Shishak king of Egypt, saying, Send me away, and I will depart to my land. And Shishak said to him, Ask what request and I will give it to you. And Shishak gave to Jeroboam the elder sister of Tahpenes, his own wife, for a wife. She was great among the daughters of the king and bore to Jeroboam Abijah his son. And Jeroboam said to Shishak, Truly send me away, and I will depart. And Jeroboam went out from Egypt and came to the land of Zereda in the hill country of Ephraim and gathered there all the scepter of Ephraim and built a fort there. And his young child became very sick with a very severe sickness, and Jeroboam went to inquire concerning the child, and he said to Ano his wife, Rise and go inquire of God concerning the child, whether he will live from his sickness. And there was a man in Shallum, and his name was Ahijah, and he was sixty years old, and the word of the Lord was with him. And Jeroboam said to his wife, Rise and take in your hand to the man of God loaves and cakes for his children and grapes and a jar of honey. And the woman rose and took in her hand loaves and two cakes and grapes and a jar of honey for Ahijah, and the man was old and his eyes were dim from seeing. And she rose from Zereda and went. And it came to be when she entered the city to Ahijah the Shilonite, Ahijah said to his young servant, Go out now to meet Ano wife of Jeroboam and say to her, Come in and do not stand still, because thus says the Lord: Hard things I am sending upon you. And Ano entered to the man of God, and Ahijah said to her, Why have you brought me loaves and grapes and cakes and a jar of honey? Thus says the Lord: Behold, you will depart from me, and it will be when you enter the gate into Zereda and your maidens come out to meet you and say to you, The child has died, because thus says the Lord: Behold, I will destroy from Jeroboam one urinating against a wall, and those dying of Jeroboam in the city dogs will devour, and the one dying in the field the birds of heaven will devour, and for the child they will mourn. Alas, Lord, because a good word concerning the Lord was found in him. And the woman departed when she heard, and it came to be when she entered into Zereda, the child died and the cry went out to meet her. And Jeroboam went to Shechem in the hill country of Ephraim and gathered there the tribes of Israel, and Rehoboam son of Solomon went up there. And the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah the Elamite¹, saying, Take for yourself a new garment not yet entered into water and tear it into twelve pieces, and give them to Jeroboam and say to him, Thus says the Lord: Take for yourself ten pieces to put on, and Jeroboam took them, and Shemaiah said, Thus says the Lord concerning the ten tribes of Israel. And the people said to Rehoboam son of Solomon, Your father made his yoke heavy upon us and made the foods of his table heavy. And now, if you lighten things upon us, we will serve you. And Rehoboam said to the people, In three days I will answer you a word. And he said, Bring in to me the elders and I will take counsel with them what word I should answer the people on the third day. And Rehoboam spoke into their ears, just as the people sent to him, and the elders said, Thus the people spoke to you. And Rehoboam scattered their counsel, and it was not pleasing before him, and he sent and brought in his companions and spoke these same things to them: Thus the people sent to me. And his companions said, Thus you will speak to the people, saying, My littleness is thicker than my father's loin. My father whipped you with whips, but I will rule you with scorpions. And the word was pleasing before Rehoboam, and he answered the people just as his companions, the young men, counseled him. And all the people cried out as one man, each to his neighbor, and they all cried aloud, saying, There is no share for us in David and no inheritance in the son of Jesse. To your tents, Israel, because this man is not for ruler nor for leader. And all the people were scattered from Sikim and each went to his tent, and Rehoboam prevailed and went and mounted his chariot and entered into Jerusalem, and all the scepter of Judah and all the scepter of Benjamin went after him. And it came to be at the turn of the year, and Rehoboam gathered all the men of Judah and Benjamin and went up to war against Jeroboam at Shechem. And the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah the man of God, saying, Speak to Rehoboam king of Judah and to all the house of Judah and Benjamin and to the remnant of the people, saying, Thus says the Lord: You shall not go up nor fight against your brothers the sons of Israel. Return each to his house, because this word has happened from me. And they heard the word of the Lord and held back from going according to the word of the Lord.²

25 And Jeroboam built Shechem in the hill country of Ephraim and lived in it, and he went out from there and built Penuel.

26 And Jeroboam said in his heart, Behold, now the kingdom will turn back to the house of David.

27 If this people goes up to offer sacrifices in the house of the Lord in Jerusalem, then the heart of the people will turn back to their lord, to Rehoboam king of Judah, and they will kill me.³

28 And the king took counsel and went and made two golden heifers and said to the people, Let it be enough for you to go up to Jerusalem. Behold your gods, Israel, that brought you up out of the land of Egypt.⁴

29 And he placed one in Bethel and one he gave in Dan.

30 And this word became sin, and the people went before the one as far as Dan.

31 And he made houses upon high places and made priests from a part of the people, who were not from the sons of Levi.

32 And Jeroboam made a feast in the eighth month, on the fifteenth day of the month, according to the feast in the land of Judah, and he went up upon the altar that he made in Bethel to sacrifice to the heifers that he made, and he stationed in Bethel the priests of the high places that he made.⁵

33 And he went up upon the altar that he made on the fifteenth day in the eighth month, in the feast that he devised from his own heart⁶, and he made a feast for the sons of Israel and went up upon the altar to offer incense.

Chapter 13

1 And behold, a man of God came from Judah to Bethel by the word of the Lord, and Jeroboam had stood by the altar to sacrifice.

2 And he cried against the altar by the word of the Lord and said, Altar, altar, thus says the Lord: Behold, a son is being born to the house of David, Josiah his name, and he will sacrifice upon you the priests of the high places who sacrifice upon you, and he will burn human bones upon you.⁷

3 And on that day he gave a sign, saying, This is the word that the Lord spoke, saying, Behold, the altar is splitting apart, and the fat upon it will be poured out.

4 And it came to be when King Jeroboam heard the words of the man of God, the one who cried against the altar in Bethel, the king stretched out his hand from the altar, saying, Seize him. And behold, his hand that he stretched out against him dried up, and he could not turn it back to himself.⁸

5 And the altar split apart, and the fat was poured out from the altar according to the sign that the man of God gave by the word of the Lord.

6 And King Jeroboam said to the man of God, Entreat the face of the Lord⁹ your God, and let my hand return to me. And the man of God entreated the face of the Lord, and the king's hand returned to him and became as before.

7 And the king spoke to the man of God, Come in with me into the house and breakfast, and I will give you a gift.

8 And the man of God said to the king, If you give me half your house, I will not go in with you, and I will certainly not eat bread nor certainly drink water in this place¹⁰.

9 For thus the Lord commanded me by word, saying, Eat no bread and drink no water and do not return by the way in which you went.

10 And he went away by another road and did not return by the road on which he came into Bethel.

11 And one old prophet lived in Bethel, and his sons came and recounted¹ to him all the deeds that the man of God did on that day in Bethel and the words that he spoke to the king, and they told them before their father.

12 And their father spoke to them, saying, Which road did he go? And his sons showed him the road by which the man of God who came from Judah went up.

13 And he said to his sons, Saddle the donkey for me. And they saddled the donkey for him, and he mounted it.

14 And he went after the man of God and found him sitting under an oak, and said to him, Are you the man of God who came from Judah? And he said to him, I am.

15 And he said to him, Come with me and eat bread.

16 And he said, I am certainly not able to return with you, and I will certainly not eat bread nor drink water in this place.

17 For thus it has been commanded me by the word of the Lord, saying, Eat no bread there and drink no water there and do not return by the road in which you went.

18 And he said to him, I also am a prophet as you are, and an angel spoke to me by a word of the Lord, saying, Bring him back with yourself into your house, and let him eat bread and drink water. But he lied to him.

19 And he brought him back, and he ate bread and drank water in his house.

20 And it came to be while they were sitting at the table, the word of the Lord came to the prophet who had brought him back.

21 And he said to the man of God who came from Judah, saying, Thus says the Lord: Because you defied the word of the Lord² and did not keep the commandment that the Lord your God commanded you,

22 and you turned back and ate bread and drank water in the place of which he spoke to you, saying, Eat no bread and drink no water, your body shall certainly not enter into the tomb of your fathers³.

23 And it came to be after he ate bread and drank water, the donkey was saddled for him, and he went back.

24 And he went away, and a lion found him on the road and killed him, and his body was thrown on the road, and the donkey stood beside it, and the lion stood beside the body.

25 And behold, men passing by saw the corpse thrown on the road and the lion standing next to the corpse, and they came in and spoke in the city where the old prophet lived.

26 And the one who brought him back from the road heard and said, This is the man of God who defied⁴ the word of the Lord.

28 And he went and found his body thrown on the road, and the donkey and the lion had stood beside the body. The lion had not eaten the body of the man of God and had not crushed the donkey.

29 And the prophet lifted the body of the man of God and put it upon the donkey and brought him back into the city, the prophet to bury him.

30 And they laid him in his own tomb, and they mourned for him, Alas, brother.⁵

31 And it came to be after mourning for him, he said to his sons, saying, If I die, bury me in this tomb where the man of God has been buried. Put me beside his bones, so that my bones may be preserved with his bones.

32 For the word that he spoke by the word of the Lord against the altar in Bethel and against the houses of the high places in Samaria will surely happen.

33 And after this word Jeroboam did not turn back from his evil, and he turned again and made priests of high places from every part of the people. Whoever wished, he filled his hand⁶, and he became priest for the high places.

34 And this word became sin to the house of Jeroboam, and for ruin and for destruction from the face of the earth.

Chapter 14

21 And Rehoboam son of Solomon reigned over Judah. Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city that the Lord chose to put his name there⁷ from all the tribes of Israel, and his mother's name was Naamah the Ammonite.⁸

22 And Rehoboam did evil before the Lord and provoked him to jealousy by all that his fathers did and by their sins that they sinned.

23 And they built for themselves high places and pillars and groves upon every high hill and under every shady tree.

24 And a conspiracy came to be in the land, and they acted according to all the abominations of the nations that the Lord drove out from before the sons of Israel.

25 And it came to be in the fifth year of King Rehoboam, Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem.

26 And he took all the treasures of the house of the Lord and the treasures of the king's house, and the golden spears that David took from the hand of the sons of Hadadezer king of Zobah⁹ and brought them into Jerusalem. He took everything, the golden arms.

27 And King Rehoboam made bronze arms in their place, and the chiefs of the runners, those guarding the gate of the king's house, were set over them.

28 And it came to be whenever the king entered into the house of the Lord, the runners carried them and returned them to the chamber of the runners.

29 And the rest of the matters of Rehoboam and all that he did, behold, are these not written in the Book of the Matters of the Days of the kings of Judah?

30 And there was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam all the days.

Chapter 15

1 And in the eighteenth year of King Jeroboam son of Nebat, Abijam son of Rehoboam reigned over Judah.

2 And he reigned six years, and his mother's name was Maachah daughter of Absalom.

3 And he walked in the sins of his father that he did before him, and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God¹ like the heart of David his father.
4 For on account of David the Lord gave him a remnant, to set up his children after him and to establish Jerusalem.
5 Because David did what was right before the Lord and did not turn aside from all that he commanded him all the days of his life.
7 And the rest of the matters of Abijam and all that he did, behold, are these not written in the Book of the Matters of the Days of the kings of Judah? And there was war between Abijam and Jeroboam.
8 And Abijam slept with his fathers in the twenty-fourth year of Jeroboam and was buried with his fathers in the City of David, and Asa² his son reigned in his place.
9 In the twenty-fourth year of Jeroboam king of Israel, Asa reigned over Judah.
10 And he reigned forty-one years in Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Anah daughter of Absalom.
11 And Asa did what was right before the Lord, as David his father did.
12 And he removed the rites from the land and sent away all the practices that his fathers made.
13 And he removed Anah his mother from being leader, because she made an assembly in her grove, and Asa cut down her recesses and burned them with fire in the Kidron wadi.
14 But the high places he did not remove. Yet the heart of Asa was perfect with the Lord all his days.
15 And he brought the pillars of his father, and his own pillars he brought into the house of the Lord, silver and gold and vessels.
16 And there was war between Asa and Baasha³ king of Israel all the days.
17 And Baasha king of Israel came up against Judah and built Ramah so that there might not be one going out or one coming in to Asa king of Judah.
18 And Asa took the silver and the gold found in the treasures of the king's house and gave them into the hands of his servants, and King Asa sent them to Ben-hadad⁴ son of Tabrimon⁵ son of Hezion⁶, king of Syria, the one dwelling in Damascus, saying,
19 Make a covenant between me and you and between my father and your father. Behold, I have sent you gifts, silver and gold. Come, scatter your covenant⁷ with Baasha king of Israel, and he will go up from me.
20 And Ben-hadad⁸ listened to King Asa and sent the commanders of his forces against the cities of Israel and struck Ijon⁹ and Dan and Abel-beth-maachah¹⁰ and all Cinneroth¹¹ as far as all the land of Naphtali.
21 And it came to be when Baasha heard, he stopped building Ramah and returned to Tirzah.
22 And King Asa gave charge to all Judah without exception¹², and they carried off the stones of Ramah and its timbers that Baasha built, and King Asa built with them all the hill of Benjamin and the watchtower.
23 And the rest of the matters of Asa and all his dominion that he exercised, behold, are these not written in the Book of the Matters of the Days of the kings of Judah? Yet in the time of his old age his feet were in pain¹³.
24 And Asa slept and was buried with his fathers in the City of David, and Jehoshaphat his son reigned in his place.
25 And Nadab son of Jeroboam reigned over Israel in the second year of Asa king of Judah, and he reigned over Israel two years.
26 And he did evil before the Lord and walked in the way of his father and in his sins by which he made Israel sin.
27 And Baasha son of Ahijah of the house of Belaan conspired against him and struck him at Gibbethon of the Philistines, while Nadab and all Israel were besieging Gibbethon.
28 And Baasha killed him in the third year of Asa son of Abijam king of Judah and reigned in his place.
29 And it came to be when he reigned, he struck the house of Jeroboam and left no breathing thing¹⁴ of Jeroboam until he destroyed him, according to the word of the Lord that he spoke by the hand of his servant Ahijah the Shilonite,
30 because of the sins of Jeroboam, as he made Israel sin, and by his provocation with which he provoked the Lord God of Israel.
31 And the rest of the matters of Nadab and all that he did, behold, are these not written in the Book of the Matters of the Days of the kings of Israel?
33 And in the third year of Asa king of Judah, Baasha son of Ahijah reigned over Israel in Tirzah twenty-four years.
34 And he did evil before the Lord and walked in the way of Jeroboam son of Nebat and in his sins by which he made Israel sin.

Chapter 16

1 And the word of the Lord came by the hand of Jehu¹⁵ son of Anani¹⁶ against Baasha,
2 Because I lifted you up from the earth¹⁷ and gave you as a leader over my people Israel, and you walked in the way of Jeroboam and made my people Israel sin, to provoke me by their vanities,
3 behold, I am raising up after Baasha and after his house, and I will make your house like the house of Jeroboam son of Nebat.
4 The dead one of Baasha in the city, dogs will eat him, and the dead one of his in the field, birds of the sky will eat him.
5 And the rest of the matters of Baasha and all that he did and his acts of power, behold, are these not written in the Book of the Matters of the Days of the kings of Israel?
6 And Baasha slept with his fathers and was buried in Tirzah, and Ela his son reigned in his place in the twentieth year of King Asa.

Lord, provoking him by the works of his hands, by becoming like the house of Jeroboam and because he struck him¹.
8 And Ela son of Baasha reigned over Israel two years in Tirzah.
9 And Zimri, commander of half the cavalry, conspired against him, while he was in Tirzah drinking himself drunk in the house of Osa² the steward in Tirzah.
10 And Zimri went in and struck him and killed him and reigned in his place.
11 And it came to be when he reigned, when he sat³ upon his throne, he struck the whole house of Baasha.
12 This happened according to the word that the Lord spoke against the house of Baasha through Jehu the prophet,
13 because of all the sins of Baasha and Ela his son, by which they made Israel sin, to provoke the Lord God of Israel by their vanities.
14 And the rest of the matters of Ela and all that he did, behold, are these not written in the Book of the Matters of the Days of the kings of Israel?
15 And Zimri reigned seven days in Tirzah, and the camp of Israel was at Gibbethon of the Philistines.
16 And the people in the camp heard them saying, Zimri has conspired and has struck the king, and on that day in the camp they made Omri⁴, commander of the army, king over Israel.
17 And Omri went up, and all Israel with him, from Gibbethon and they besieged Tirzah.
18 And it came to be when Zimri saw that his city had been seized, he entered into the citadel of the king's house and burned the king's house over himself with fire and died,
19 because of his sins that he did, by doing evil before the Lord, by walking in the way of Jeroboam son of Nebat and in his sins by which he made Israel sin.
20 And the rest of the matters of Zimri and his conspiracies that he conspired, behold, are these not written in the Book of the Matters of the Days of the kings of Israel?
21 Then the people of Israel were divided: half the people were behind Tibni⁵ son of Ginath⁶ to make him king, and half the people were behind Omri.
22 The people who were behind Omri prevailed over the people who were behind Tibni son of Ginath, and Tibni died, and Joram his brother at that time, and Omri reigned after Tibni.
23 In the thirty-first year of King Asa, Omri reigned over Israel twelve years; in Tirzah he reigned six years.
24 And Omri bought the mountain of Shemer⁷ from Shemer, lord of the mountain, for two talents of silver, and built the mountain and called the name of the mountain that he built by the name of Shemer, lord of the mountain, Shemer.
25 And Omri did evil before the Lord and did worse than all those who came before him.
26 And he walked in every way of Jeroboam son of Nebat and in his sins by which he made Israel sin, to provoke the Lord God of Israel by their vanities.
27 And the rest of the matters of Omri and all that he did and his dominion, behold, are these not written in the Book of the Matters of the Days of the kings of Israel?
28 And Omri slept with his fathers and was buried in Samaria, and Ahab⁸ his son reigned in his place. And in the eleventh year of Omri, Jehoshaphat son of Asa reigned, thirty-five years old in his reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Azubah⁹ daughter of Shilhi¹⁰. And he walked in the way of Asa his father and did not turn aside from it, doing what was right before the Lord, except the high places they did not remove; they sacrificed on the high places and burned incense. And the rest of the alliances that Jehoshaphat made and all the dominion that he exercised and those against whom he fought, behold, are these not written in the Book of the Matters of the Days of the kings of Judah? And the rest of the entanglements that were imposed in the days of Asa his father he removed from the land. And there was no king in Syria, only a deputy. And King Jehoshaphat made a ship for Tarshish to go to Sophir for gold, and it did not go because the ship was broken at Eziongeber. Then the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, I will send your servants and my servants in the ship, and Jehoshaphat was not willing. And Jehoshaphat slept with his fathers and was buried with his fathers in the City of David, and Joram his son reigned in his place.¹¹
29 In the second year of Jehoshaphat, Ahab son of Omri reigned over Israel in Samaria twenty-two years.
30 And Ahab did evil before the Lord. He did worse than all those before him.
31 And it was not enough for him¹² to walk in the sins of Jeroboam son of Nebat, and he took Jezebel¹³ daughter of Ethbaal¹⁴ king of the Sidonians for a wife and went and served Baal and bowed down to him.
32 And he set up an altar to Baal in the house of his abominations, which he built in Samaria.
33 And Ahab made a grove, and Ahab added by making provocations, provoking his own soul toward destruction. He did evil beyond all the kings of Israel who came before him.
34 In his days Hiel¹⁵ the Bethelite¹⁶ built Jericho. In Abiram his firstborn he founded it, and in Segub¹⁷ his youngest he set up its gates, according to the word of the Lord that he spoke by the hand of Joshua son of Nun.¹⁸

3 Go from here eastward and hide yourself by the wadi Cherith¹, the one before the Jordan.
 4 And it shall be, you will drink water from the wadi, and I have commanded the ravens to feed you there².
 5 And Elijah did according to the word of the Lord and sat by the wadi Cherith before the Jordan.
 6 And the ravens brought him breads in the morning and meat in the evening, and he drank water from the wadi.
 7 And it came to be after days, the wadi dried up because no rain came upon the land.
 8 And the word of the Lord came to Elijah,
 9 Rise and go to Sarepta of Sidonia. Behold, I have commanded a widow woman there to feed you.
 10 And he rose and went to Sarepta, to the gate of the city, and behold, there a widow woman was gathering sticks. And Elijah cried after her and said to her, Please fetch me a little water in a vessel and I will drink.
 11 And as she went to fetch it, Elijah cried after her and said, Please take for me a morsel of bread in your hand.
 12 And the woman said, As the Lord your God lives, I have no cake except as much as a handful of flour³ in the jar and a little oil in the jug, and behold, I am gathering two little sticks and will go in and make it for myself and my children, and we will eat and die.
 13 And Elijah said to her, Take courage. Go in and do according to your word, but first make for me from there a little cake and bring it out to me, and for yourself and your children you will make it afterward.
 14 For thus says the Lord: the jar of flour will not fail and the jug of oil will not lessen until the day the Lord gives rain upon the land.
 15 And the woman went and did, and she and he and her children were eating.
 16 And the jar of flour did not fail, and the jug of oil did not lessen, according to the word of the Lord that he spoke by the hand of Elijah.
 17 And it came to be after these things, the son of the woman, mistress of the house, became sick, and his sickness was very severe until no breath was left in him.
 18 And she said to Elijah, What is to me and to you, man of God? You entered to me to bring my injustices to remembrance and to put my son to death.
 19 And Elijah said to the woman, Give me your son. And he took him from her bosom and brought him up into the upper room where he himself sat there and laid him upon his bed.
 20 And Elijah cried out and said, Alas, Lord, witness of the widow with whom I dwell, with her you have done evil, by putting her son to death?
 21 And he breathed on the child three times and called upon the Lord and said, Lord my God, let the soul of this child now return into him.
 22 And it came to be so, and the child cried out.
 23 And he brought him down from the upper room into the house and gave him to his mother, and Elijah said, Look, your son lives.
 24 And the woman said to Elijah, Behold, I now know that you are a man of God and the word of the Lord in your mouth is true.

Chapter 18

1 And it came to be after many days, the word of the Lord came to Elijah in the third year, saying, Go and appear to Ahab, and I will give rain upon the face of the earth.
 2 And Elijah went to appear to Ahab, and the famine was severe in Samaria.
 3 And Ahab called Obadiah⁴ the steward, and Obadiah was fearing the Lord greatly.
 4 And it came to be when Jezebel was striking the prophets of the Lord, Obadiah took one hundred prophet-men and hid them by fifty in a cave and fed them with bread and water.
 5 And Ahab said to Obadiah, Come, let us pass through the land, to the springs of the waters and to the wadis, if somehow we may find grass and preserve horses and mules, and they will not be destroyed from among the livestock.
 6 And they divided for themselves the road to pass through it. Ahab went one road alone, and Obadiah went another road alone.
 7 And Obadiah was on the road alone, and Elijah came to meet him alone, and Obadiah hurried and fell upon his face and said, Are you really my lord Elijah?
 8 And Elijah said to him, I am⁵. Go, tell your lord, Behold, Elijah.
 9 And Obadiah said, What have I sinned, that you are giving your servant into the hand of Ahab to kill me?
 10 As the Lord your God lives, there is no nation or kingdom where my lord has not sent to seek you, and they said, He is not here, and he bound the kingdom and its regions by oath⁶ that it had not found you.
 11 And now you say, Go, announce to your lord, Behold, Elijah.
 12 And it will be, if I go away from you, the Spirit of the Lord will carry you to a land that I do not know, and I will go in to report to Ahab, and he will kill me. Yet your servant has been fearing the Lord from his youth.⁷
 13 Was it not reported to you, my lord, what I did when Jezebel was killing the prophets of the Lord, that I hid one hundred men of the prophets of the Lord, fifty by fifty in a cave, and fed them with breads and water?
 14 And now you say to me, Go, tell your lord, Behold, Elijah, and he will kill me⁸.
 15 And Elijah said, As the Lord of hosts lives, before whom I stand, today I will appear to him.
 16 And Obadiah went to meet Ahab and reported to him, and Ahab ran out and went to meet Elijah.
 17 And it came to be when Ahab saw Elijah, Ahab said to Elijah, Are you really the one disturbing Israel?
 18 And Elijah said, I am not disturbing Israel, but you and your father's house, in that you forsook the Lord your God and went after the Baalim⁹.
 19 And now send, gather to me all Israel at Mount Carmel and the prophets of the Shame, four hundred fifty, and the prophets of the groves, four hundred, eating Jezebel's table.
 20 And Ahab sent to all Israel and gathered all the prophets at Mount Carmel.
 21 And Elijah came near to all and said to them, How long will you limp on both knees? If the Lord is God, go after him; but if Baal is, go after him. And the people did not answer a word.

22 And Elijah said to the people, I alone am left as a prophet of the Lord, utterly alone, and the prophets of Baal are four hundred fifty men and the prophets of the grove four hundred.

23 Let them give us two calves, and let them choose one for themselves and butcher it¹ and place it upon the woods, and put no fire. And I will prepare the other bull, and I will certainly place no fire.

24 And call aloud on the name of your gods², and I will call on the name of the Lord my God, and the god who answers by fire, he is God. And all the people answered and said, Good is the word that you spoke.

25 And Elijah said to the prophets of the Shame, Choose for yourselves the one calf and prepare it first, because you are many, and call on the name of your god, but put no fire.

26 And they took the calf and prepared it, and they kept calling in the name of Baal from morning until midday and said, Answer us, O Baal, answer us. And there was no voice, and there was no hearing³, and they ran about on the altar that they made.

27 And it came to be at midday, Elijah the Tishbite mocked them and said, Call with a loud voice, because he is god. Surely he has talk on his mind, or perhaps he is occupied, or perhaps he sleeps and will awaken.

28 And they called with a loud voice and cut themselves according to their custom with swords and lances until blood poured out upon them.

29 And they prophesied until the evening passed, and it came to be at the time for the sacrifice to go up, and there was no voice. And Elijah the Tishbite spoke to the prophets of the abominations, saying, Stand aside now, and I will make my whole burnt offering. And they stood aside and went away.

30 And Elijah said to the people, Come near to me. And all the people came near to him.

31 And Elijah took twelve stones according to the number of the tribes of Israel, as the Lord spoke to him, saying, Israel shall be your name.

32 And he built the stones in the name of the Lord and healed the torn-down altar and made a trench around the altar, able to hold two measures of seed.

33 And he stacked the split wood upon the altar that he made and cut up the whole burnt offering and placed it upon the wood and stacked it upon the altar.

34 And he said, Take for me four jars of water and pour it upon the whole burnt offering and upon the wood. And they did so. And he said, Do it a second time, and they did it a second time. And he said, Do it a third time, and they did it a third time.

35 And the water kept going around the altar, and they filled the trench with water.

36 And Elijah cried out to heaven and said, Lord God of Abraham and Isaac and Israel, answer me, Lord, answer me today by fire⁴, and let all this people know that you are Lord, God of Israel, and I am your servant, and because of you I have done these works.

37 Answer me, Lord, answer me by fire, and let this people know that you are the Lord, God, and you have turned back the heart of this people.

38 And fire from the Lord fell from heaven and devoured the whole burnt offering and the split wood and the water in the trench, and the fire licked up the stones and the dust.

39 And all the people fell on their faces and said, Truly the Lord, he is God, he is God.

40 And Elijah said to the people, Seize the prophets of Baal. Let not one of them be saved. And they seized them, and Elijah brought them down to the wadi Kishon and slaughtered them there.

41 And Elijah said to Ahab, Go up, eat and drink, because there is a sound of the feet of rain.

42 And Ahab went up to eat and drink, and Elijah went up upon Carmel and bent to the ground and put his face between his knees.

43 And he said to his servant-boy, Go up and look in the direction of the sea. And the servant-boy looked and said, There is nothing. And Elijah said, Then return seven times, and the servant-boy returned seven times.

44 And it came to be at the seventh time, behold, a little cloud like a man's footprint⁵ bringing up water, and he said, Go up and tell Ahab, Harness your chariot and go down, lest the rain overtake you.

45 And it came to be here and there, and the sky grew dark with clouds and wind, and a great rain came, and Ahab wept and went to Jezreel.

46 And the hand of the Lord was upon Elijah, and he girded up his waist and ran before Ahab as far as Jezreel.

Chapter 19

1 And Ahab reported to Jezebel his wife all that Elijah did and how he killed the prophets with the sword.

2 And Jezebel sent to Elijah and said, If you are Elijah and I am Jezebel, may God do thus to me and add thus, because by this time tomorrow I will make your life like the life of one of them.

3 And Elijah feared and rose and went for his own life, and he came to Beersheba of Judah and left his servant-boy there.

4 And he himself went in the wilderness a day's road and came and sat under one broom plant, and he asked for his life to die⁶ and said, Let it be enough now. Take away my life from me, Lord, because I am no better than my fathers.

5 And he lay down and slept there under a plant, and behold, someone touched him and said to him, Rise and eat.

6 And Elijah looked, and behold, at his head was a barley cake and a jug of water. And he rose and ate and drank and turned back and slept.

7 And the angel of the Lord returned a second time and touched him and said to him, Rise, eat, because the road is too much for you.

8 And he rose and ate and drank and went in the strength of that food forty days and forty nights as far as Mount Horeb.

9 And he entered there into the cave and lodged there. And behold, the word of the Lord came to him and said, What are you doing here, Elijah?

10 And Elijah said, In zeal I have been very zealous for the Lord Almighty, because the sons of Israel forsook you, they tore down your altars, and they killed your prophets with the sword, and I alone am left, utterly alone⁷, and they seek my life to take it.

12 And after the earthquake, fire. The Lord was not in the fire. And after the fire, a voice of a thin breeze, and there the Lord.

13 And it came to be as Elijah heard, he covered his face with his sheepskin cloak and went out and stood under the cave. And behold, a voice came to him and said, What are you doing here, Elijah?

14 And Elijah said, In zeal I have been very zealous for the Lord Almighty, because the sons of Israel forsook your covenant, they pulled down your altars, and they killed your prophets with the sword, and I alone am left, utterly alone¹, and they seek my life to take it.

15 And the Lord said to him, Go, return on your way, and you will come to the wilderness road of Damascus, and you will anoint Hazael² king of Syria.

16 And Jehu son of Nimshi³ you will anoint king over Israel, and Elisha⁴ son of Shaphat from Abelmeholah you will anoint prophet in your place.

17 And it shall be, the one escaping from the sword of Hazael, Jehu will put to death, and the one escaping from the sword of Jehu, Elisha will put to death.

18 And you will leave in Israel seven thousand men, every knee that did not bend knee to Baal and every mouth that did not bow to him.

19 And he went away from there and found Elisha son of Shaphat, and he was plowing with twelve pairs of oxen before him, and he himself was with the twelve, and Elijah came upon him and threw his sheepskin cloak upon him.

20 And Elisha left the oxen and ran after Elijah and said, Let me kiss my father, and I will follow after you. And Elijah said, Return, because what have I done to you?

21 And he turned back from after him and took the pairs of oxen and sacrificed and boiled them with the gear of the oxen and gave them to the people, and they ate. And he rose and went after Elijah and ministered to him.

Chapter 20

1 And one vineyard belonged to Naboth the Jezreelite beside the threshing floor of Ahab king of Samaria.⁵

2 And Ahab spoke to Naboth, saying, Give me your vineyard, and it shall be for me as a garden of vegetables⁶ because it is near to my house, and I will give you another vineyard, better than it. But if it pleases before you, I will give you silver, the exchange-price of this vineyard, and it shall be for me as a garden of vegetables.

3 And Naboth said to Ahab, May it not be for me from my God to give the inheritance of my fathers to you.⁷

4 And Ahab's spirit became troubled, and he lay upon his bed and covered his face and did not eat bread.

5 And Jezebel his wife came in to him and spoke to him, Why is your spirit troubled and you are not eating bread?

6 And he said to her, Because I spoke to Naboth the Jezreelite, saying, Give me your vineyard for silver, and if you wish, I will give you another vineyard in place of it, and he said, I will not give you the inheritance of my fathers.⁸

7 And Jezebel his wife said to him, Do you now act as king over Israel? Rise, eat bread, and become your own man⁹. I will give you the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.

8 And she wrote a letter in the name of Ahab and sealed it with his seal and sent the letter to the elders and the free men living with Naboth.

9 And it was written in the letters, saying, Proclaim a fast¹⁰ and seat Naboth at the head of the people.

10 And seat two men, sons of lawlessness¹¹, opposite him, and let them testify against him, saying, He blessed God and the king. And let them bring him out and stone him, and let him die.

11 And the men of his city, the elders and the free men dwelling in his city, did just as Jezebel sent to them, just as it was written in the letters that she sent to them.

12 They proclaimed a fast and seated Naboth at the head of the people¹².

13 And two men, sons of lawlessness¹³, came and sat opposite him and testified against him, saying, You blessed God and the king. And they brought him out outside the city and stoned him with stones, and he died.

14 And they sent to Jezebel, saying, Naboth has been stoned and is dead¹⁴.

15 And it came to be when Jezebel heard, she said to Ahab, Rise, inherit the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, who did not give it to you for silver, because Naboth is not alive; he is dead.¹⁵

16 And it came to be when Ahab heard that Naboth the Jezreelite was dead, he tore his garments and put on sackcloth, and after these things Ahab rose and went down into the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite to inherit it.

17 And the Lord said to Elijah the Tishbite, saying,¹⁶

18 Rise and go down to meet Ahab king of Israel, the one in Samaria. Behold, he is in the vineyard of Naboth because he has gone down there to inherit it.¹⁷

19 And you will speak to him, saying, Thus says the Lord: As you murdered and inherited, because of this thus says the Lord: In every place where the sows and the dogs licked the blood of Naboth, there the dogs will lick your blood, and the prostitutes will wash in your blood.¹⁸

21 Thus says the Lord: Behold, I am bringing evils upon you¹ and will burn after you and destroy from Ahab one pissing against a wall, hemmed in and forsaken in Israel.

26 And he was greatly abominated by going after abominations, according to all that the Amorite did, whom the Lord destroyed from before the sons of Israel.
27 And because of the word, as Ahab was cut to the heart before the Lord and went weeping, he tore his tunic and girded sackcloth upon his body and fasted and put on sackcloth on the day when he struck Naboth the Jezreelite.
28 And the word of the Lord came by the hand of his servant Elijah⁵ concerning Ahab, and the Lord said,
29 Have you seen how Ahab was cut to the heart before me? I will not bring the evil in his days, but in the days of his son I will bring the evil.⁶

of the year Ben-hadad king of Syria comes up against you.¹

23 And the servants of the king of Syria said, The God of Israel is a god of mountains and not a god of valleys², because of this he prevailed over us. But if we fight them on the plain, will we not prevail over them?

24 And do this thing: remove the kings, each from his place, and put satraps in their place.

25 And we will replace for you a force according to the force that fell from you, and horse for horse and chariots for chariots, and we will fight them on the plain and prevail over them. And he listened to their voice and did so.³

26 And it came to be at the turn of the year, Ben-hadad reviewed Syria and went up to Aphek to war against Israel.⁴

27 And the sons of Israel were reviewed and came to meet them, and Israel camped opposite them like two flocks of goats, and Syria filled the land.

28 And the man of God came near and said to the king of Israel, Thus says the Lord: Because Syria said, The Lord God of Israel is a god of mountains and not a god of valleys, I will give all this great force into your hand, and you will know that I am the Lord.⁵

29 And they encamped opposite these seven days, and it came to be on the seventh day the battle drew near, and Israel struck Syria, one hundred thousand footmen in one day.⁶

30 And the rest fled to Aphek into the city, and the wall fell upon twenty-seven thousand men of the rest. And Ben-hadad fled and entered into the bedchamber, into the inner room.

31 And he said to his servants, I know that the kings of Israel are kings of mercy. Let us put sackcloth on our loins and ropes on our heads and go out to the king of Israel, if perhaps he will keep our lives alive.

32 And they tied sackcloth on their loins and set ropes on their heads and said to the king of Israel, Your servant Ben-hadad says, Let my life now live. And he said, If he still lives, he is my brother.

33 And the men took it as an omen and hurried and caught the word from his mouth and said, Your brother, Ben-hadad. And he said, Go in and fetch him. And Ben-hadad came out to him, and they brought him up to him on the chariot.

34 And he said to him, The cities that my father took from your father I will give back to you, and you will set streets for yourself in Damascus, just as my father set them in Samaria. And I, in covenant, will send you away. And he made a covenant with him and sent him away.

35 And one man from the sons of the prophets said to his neighbor by the word of the Lord, Strike me now. And the man was not willing to strike him.

36 And he said to him, Because you did not hear the voice of the Lord, behold, you are running away from me, and a lion will strike you. And he went away from him, and a lion found him and struck him.

37 And he found another man and said, Strike me now. And the man struck him, striking and shattering him.

38 And the prophet went and stood for the king of Israel by the road and bound his eyes with a band.

39 And it came to be as the king passed by, this one cried to the king and said, Your servant went out into the army of battle, and behold, a man brought to me a man and said to me, Guard this man. If by escaping he escapes, your life will be for his life, or you will weigh out a talent of silver.

40 And it came to be, your servant looked here and there, and he was not there. And the king of Israel said to him, Behold, you have also destroyed the snares set for me.

41 And he hurried and removed the band from his eyes, and the king of Israel recognized him, that he was one of the prophets.

42 And he said to him, Thus says the Lord: Because you brought out from your hand a man appointed to destruction, your life shall be for his life and your people for his people.

43 And the king of Israel went away confounded and discouraged and came into Samaria.

Chapter 22

1 And they sat three years, and there was no war between Syria and Israel.

2 And it came to be in the third year, Jehoshaphat king of Judah went down to the king of Israel.

3 And the king of Israel said to his servants, Do you know that Ramoth Gilead belongs to us, and we are silent to take it from the hand of the king of Syria?

4 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, Will you come up with us to Ramoth Gilead for war? And Jehoshaphat said, As I am, so are you; as my people, so your people; as my horses, so your horses.

5 And Jehoshaphat king of Judah said to the king of Israel, Ask the Lord today.

6 And the king of Israel gathered all the prophets, about four hundred men, and the king said to them, Shall I go to Ramoth Gilead for war, or shall I hold back? And they said, Go up, and in giving, the Lord will give into the hands of the king.

7 And Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, Is there not here a prophet of the Lord, and shall we ask the Lord through him?

8 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, There is still one man by whom we may ask the Lord, and I hate him because he does not speak good concerning me, only evil: Micaiah⁷ son of Imlah⁸. And Jehoshaphat king of Judah said, Let not the king speak so.⁹

9 And the king of Israel called one eunuch and said, Quickly, Micaiah son of Imlah.

10 And the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat king of Judah were sitting, each upon his throne, armed¹⁰, in the gates of Samaria, and all the prophets were prophesying before them.

11 And Zedekiah son of Chenaanah¹¹ made iron horns for himself and said, Thus says the Lord: With these you will gore Syria until it is finished.

12 And all the prophets prophesied thus, saying, Go up to Ramoth Gilead and prosper, and the Lord will give into your hands, and the king of Syria.

13 And the messenger who went to call Micaiah spoke to him, saying, Behold now, all the prophets speak with one mouth¹² good things concerning the king. Be now also in your words like the words of one of these and speak good things.

14 And Micaiah said, As the Lord lives, whatever the Lord says to me, these things I will speak.

15 And he came to the king, and the king said to him, Micaiah, shall I go up to Ramoth Gilead for war, or shall I hold back? And he said, Go up and prosper, and the Lord will give into the hand of the king².

16 And the king said to him, How many times do I put you under oath, that you speak truth to me in the name of the Lord?

17 And Micaiah said, Not so. I saw all Israel scattered on the mountains like a flock that has no shepherd, and the Lord said, There is no lord for these. Let each return to his own house in peace.

18 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat king of Judah, Did I not tell you that this one does not prophesy good things to me, only evils?

19 And Micaiah said, Not so. Hear the word of the Lord. I saw the Lord God of Israel sitting upon his throne, and all the army of heaven stood around him, at his right hand and at his left.

20 And the Lord said, Who will deceive Ahab king of Israel, and he will go up and fall in Ramoth Gilead? And one said this and another said this.

21 And a spirit went out and stood before the Lord and said, I will deceive him. And the Lord said to him, By what?

22 And he said, I will go out and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And he said, You will deceive and indeed you will prevail. Go out and do so.

23 And now, behold, the Lord has given a lying spirit in the mouth of all these prophets of yours, and the Lord has spoken evils against you.

24 And Zedekiah son of Chenaanah came near and struck Micaiah on the jaw and said, What spirit of the Lord was this that spoke in you?

25 And Micaiah said, Behold, you will see on that day when you enter chamber within chamber to hide yourself.

26 And the king of Israel said, Take Micaiah and return him to Amon³ the ruler of the city and to Joash son of the king.

27 Say to put this one in prison and to feed him bread of affliction and water of affliction until I return in peace.

28 And Micaiah said, If returning you return in peace, the Lord has not spoken in me.

29 And the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat king of Judah went up with him to Ramoth Gilead.

30 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat king of Judah, I will disguise myself and enter into the battle, and you put on my clothing. And the king of Israel disguised himself and entered into the battle.

31 And the king of Syria commanded the rulers of his chariots, thirty-two, saying, Fight neither small nor great, only the king of Israel, utterly alone.

32 And it came to be when the rulers of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat king of Judah, they said, This one appears to be the king of Israel, and they surrounded him to fight, and Jehoshaphat cried out.

33 And it came to be when the rulers of the chariots saw that this one was not the king of Israel, they turned away from him.

34 And one stretched the bow accurately and struck the king of Israel between the lung and between the breastplate, and he said to his charioteer, Turn your hands and bring me out from the battle, because I am wounded.⁴

35 And the battle turned in that day, and the king was standing on the chariot opposite Syria from morning until evening, and the blood from the wound kept pouring into the bosom of the chariot, and he died at evening, and the blood of the stroke kept going out as far as the bosom of the chariot.

36 And the herald stood at sunset, saying, Each to his own city and to his own land.

37 Because the king is dead. And they came to Samaria and buried the king in Samaria.

38 And they washed the chariot at the spring of Samaria, and the sows and the dogs licked the blood, and the prostitutes bathed in the blood, according to the word of the Lord that he spoke.

39 And the rest of the matters of Ahab and all that he did and the ivory house that he built⁵ and all the cities that he made, behold, are these not written in the Book of the Matters of the Days of the kings of Israel?

40 And Ahab slept with his fathers, and Ahaziah⁶ his son reigned in his place.

41 And Jehoshaphat son of Asa reigned over Judah. In the fourth year of Ahab king of Israel he reigned.

42 Jehoshaphat was a son of thirty-five years when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Azubah daughter of Shilhi.

43 And he walked in every way of Asa his father, and he did not turn aside from it⁷, doing what was right in the eyes of the Lord.

44 Yet he did not remove the high places. The people were still sacrificing and burning incense on the high places.⁸

45 And Jehoshaphat made peace with the king of Israel.

46 And the rest of the matters of Jehoshaphat and his acts of power, what he did, behold, are these not written in the Book of the Matters of the Days of the kings of Judah?

51 And Jehoshaphat slept with his fathers and was buried with his fathers in the City of David his father, and Jehoram⁹ his son reigned in his place.¹⁰

52 And Ahaziah son of Ahab reigned over Israel in Samaria in the seventeenth year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, and he reigned over Israel two years.

53 And he did evil before the Lord and walked in the way of Ahab his father and in the way of Jezebel his mother and in the sins of the house of Jeroboam son of Nebat, who made Israel sin.

54 And he served the Baals and bowed down to them and provoked the Lord God of Israel according to all the things that came before him.

2 Kings

Chapter 1

1 And Moab rebelled against Israel after the death of Ahab.

2 And Ahaziah fell through the lattice in his upper room in Samaria and became sick, and he sent messengers and said to them, Come and seek in Baal of flies, god of Ekron, whether I will live from this sickness¹. And they went to inquire through him.

3 And the angel of the Lord² spoke to Elijah the Tishbite, saying, Rise, come to meet the messengers of Ahaziah king of Samaria, and you will speak to them, Is it because there is no God in Israel that you are going to seek in Baal of flies, god of Ekron?

4 And not so, because thus says the Lord: The bed on which you went up there, you shall not come down from it, because by death you will die. And Elijah went and spoke to them.

5 And the messengers returned to him, and he said to them, Why is it that you returned?

6 And they said to him, A man came up to meet us and said to us, Come, return to the king who sent you, and speak to him, Thus says the Lord: Is it because there is no God in Israel that you are going to seek in Baal of flies³, god of Ekron? And not so, the bed on which you went up there, you shall not come down from it, because by death you will die.

7 And he spoke to them, saying, What was the appearance of the man who came up to meet you and spoke to you these words?

8 And they said to him, A hairy man, with a leather belt girded around his waist.⁴ And he said, This is Elijah the Tishbite.

9 And he sent to him a captain of fifty and his fifty, and he went up and came to him. And behold, Elijah was sitting on the top of the mountain, and the captain of fifty spoke to him and said, Man of God, the king has called you. Come down.

10 And Elijah answered and said to the captain of fifty, If I am a man of God, fire will come down from heaven and eat you and your fifty. And fire came down from heaven and ate him and his fifty.

11 And the king added and sent to him another captain of fifty and his fifty, and he went up and the captain of fifty spoke to him and said, Man of God, thus says the king: Quickly, come down.

12 And Elijah answered and spoke to him and said, If I am a man of God, fire will come down from heaven and eat you and your fifty. And fire came down from heaven and ate him and his fifty.

13 And the king added yet to send a third captain of fifty and his fifty, and the third captain of fifty came to him and bent upon his knees before Elijah and begged him and spoke to him and said, Man of God, let my life now be precious⁵, and the life of these fifty servants of yours, in your eyes.

14 Behold, fire came down from heaven and ate the first two captains of fifty and their fifties. And now let the life of your servants be precious in your eyes.

15 And the angel of the Lord spoke to Elijah and said, Go down with him. Do not fear from before them. And Elijah rose and went down with him to the king.

16 And Elijah spoke to him and said, Thus says the Lord: Why is it that you sent messengers to seek in Baal of flies, god of Ekron? And not so⁶, the bed on which you went up there, you shall not come down from it, because by death you will die.

17 And he died according to the word of the Lord that Elijah spoke.

18 And the rest of the matters of Ahaziah, what he did, behold, are these not written in the Book of the Matters of the Days of the kings of Israel? And Joram son of Ahab reigned over Israel in Samaria twelve years, in the eighteenth year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah. And he did evil before the Lord, yet not like his brothers nor like his mother. And he removed the pillars of Baal that his father made and shattered them. Yet in the sins of the house of Jeroboam, who made Israel sin, he clung and did not depart from them. And the anger of the Lord was enraged against the house of Ahab.⁷

1 And it came to be when the Lord was taking Elijah up in a storm as into heaven, Elijah and Elisha went from Gilgal.

2 And Elijah said to Elisha, Stay here now, because the Lord has sent me as far as Bethel. And Elisha said, As the Lord lives and as your soul lives, I will not leave you. And they went to Bethel.

3 And the sons of the prophets in Bethel came to Elisha and said to him, Do you know that today the Lord is taking your lord away from over your head⁸? And he said, I also know. Be silent.

4 And Elijah said to Elisha, Stay here now, because the Lord has sent me to Jericho. And Elisha said, As the Lord lives and as your soul lives, I will not leave you. And they came to Jericho.

5 And the sons of the prophets in Jericho came near to Elisha and said to him, Do you know that today the Lord is taking your lord away from over your head? And he said, I too know. Be silent.⁹

6 And Elijah said to him, Stay here now, because the Lord has sent me as far as the Jordan. And Elisha said, As the Lord lives and as your soul lives, I will not leave you. And both went on.

7 And fifty men from the sons of the prophets stood opposite at a distance, and both stood by the Jordan.

8 And Elijah took his sheepskin cloak and rolled it up and struck the water, and the water divided here and there, and both crossed in dry land.

9 And it came to be when they crossed over, Elijah said to Elisha, Ask what I should do for you before I am taken up from you. And Elisha said, Let a double share of your spirit now be upon me.¹⁰

10 And Elijah said, You made the asking hard¹¹. If you see me being taken up from you, it shall be so for you; but if not, it shall certainly not happen.

11 And it came to be as they were going on and talking, behold, a chariot of fire and horses of fire, and they separated between the two of them, and Elijah was taken up in a storm as into heaven.

12 And Elisha was watching and crying out, Father, father, chariot of Israel and its horseman. And he did not see him anymore, and he seized his garments and tore them into two tearings.

13 And he lifted up Elijah's sheepskin cloak that fell from above upon Elisha, and Elisha returned and stood on the lip of the Jordan.

14 And he took Elijah's sheepskin cloak that fell from above him and struck the water, and it did not divide¹, and he said, Where is the God of Elijah, indeed? And he struck the waters, and they split here and there, and Elisha crossed over.

15 And the sons of the prophets in Jericho saw him from opposite them and said, The spirit of Elijah has come to rest upon Elisha. And they came to meet him and bowed to him to the ground.

16 And they said to him, Behold now, with your servants are fifty men, sons of strength. Let them go now and seek your lord, lest the Spirit of the Lord lifted him and cast him into the Jordan or onto one of the mountains or onto one of the hills. And Elisha said, You shall not send.

17 And they pressed him until he was ashamed, and he said, Send them. And they sent fifty men, and they sought three days and did not find him.

18 And they returned to him, and he was sitting in Jericho, and Elisha said, Did I not tell you, Do not go?

19 And the men of the city said to Elisha, Behold, the dwelling of the city is good, as my lord sees, but the waters are bad and the land barren.

20 And Elisha said, Take for me a new little jar and put salt there. And they brought it to him.

21 And Elisha went out to the outflow of the waters and threw salt there and said, Thus says the Lord: I have healed these waters. There shall no longer be from there death and barrenness.

22 And the waters were healed until this day, according to the word Elisha spoke.

23 And he went up from there to Bethel, and as he was going up on the road, little boys came out from the city and mocked him and said to him, Go up, baldhead, go up.

24 And he turned after them and saw them and cursed them in the name of the Lord, and behold, two bears came out of the woodland and tore apart forty-two boys from among them.

25 And he went from there to Mount Carmel, and from there he returned to Samaria².

Chapter 3

1 And Joram son of Ahab reigned in Israel in the eighteenth year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, and he reigned twelve years.

2 And he did evil in the eyes of the Lord, yet not like his father and not like his mother, and he removed the pillars of Baal that his father made.

3 Yet he clung to the sin of Jeroboam son of Nebat, who made Israel sin. He did not depart from it.

4 And Mesha³ king of Moab was a sheep-breeder, and in the revolt he paid back to the king of Israel one hundred thousand lambs and one hundred thousand rams in wool.

5 And it came to be after Ahab died, the king of Moab rebelled against the kingdom of Israel.

6 And King Joram went out on that day from Samaria and reviewed Israel.

7 And he went and sent to Jehoshaphat king of Judah, saying, The king of Moab has rebelled against me. Will you go with me to Moab for war? And he said, I will go up. As I am, so you; as my people, so your people; as my horses, so your horses.

8 And he said, By what road shall I go up? And he said, By the wilderness road of Edom.

9 And the king of Israel and the king of Judah and the king of Edom went, and they went around by a seven-days road, and there was no water for the camp and for the cattle at their feet.

10 And the king of Israel said, Alas, because the Lord has called these three passing kings to give them into the hand of Moab.

11 And Jehoshaphat said, Is there not here a prophet of the Lord, and shall we seek the Lord from him? And one of the servants of the king of Israel answered and said, Elisha son of Shaphat is here, who poured water on the hands of Elijah.⁴

12 And Jehoshaphat said, The word of the Lord is with him. And the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat king of Judah and the king of Edom went down to him.

13 And Elisha said to the king of Israel, What is to me and to you⁵? Go to the prophets of your father. And the king of Israel said to him, No, because the Lord has called these three kings to hand them over into the hands of Moab.

14 And Elisha said, As the Lord of hosts lives, before whom I stand, unless I regarded the face of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, I would not look toward you or see you.

15 And now bring me a musician. And it came to be, as the musician played, the hand of the Lord came upon him.

16 And he said, Thus says the Lord: Make this wadi pits, pits.

17 For thus says the Lord: You will not see wind and you will not see rain, and this wadi will be filled with water, and you will drink, you and your possessions and your cattle⁶.

18 And this is light in the eyes of the Lord, and I will hand Moab over into your hand.

19 And you will strike every fortified city, and you will bring down every good tree, and you will stop up all springs of water, and every good tract you will spoil with stones.

20 And it came to be in the morning, as the sacrifice was going up, behold, waters were coming by the road of Edom, and the land was filled with water.

21 And all Moab heard that the kings had gone up to fight them, and they cried out from everyone girding on a belt and upward, and they stood at the border.

22 And they rose early in the morning, and the sun rose upon the waters, and Moab saw opposite them the waters red like blood.

23 And they said, This is blood of the sword. The kings fought and struck each man his neighbor. And now, Moab, to the spoils!

24 And they entered into the camp of Israel, and Israel rose and struck Moab, and they fled from before them, and they entered, going in and striking Moab.

25 And they tore down the cities, and on every good tract each man threw his stone and filled it, and they stopped up every spring of water and brought down every good tree until they left only the wall-stones of Kirharaseth⁷ torn down. And the slingers encircled it and struck it.

26 And the king of Moab saw that the battle had grown too strong against him, and he took with himself seven hundred men drawing sword to break through to the king of Edom, and they were not able.
27 And he took his firstborn son, who would reign in his place, and offered him as a whole burnt offering upon the wall, and great regret¹ came upon Israel, and they withdrew from him and returned to the land.

Chapter 4

1 And one woman from the sons of the prophets cried to Elisha, saying, Your servant, my husband, has died, and you knew that your servant was fearing the Lord, and the creditor has come to take my two sons for himself as slaves.
2 And Elisha said, What shall I do for you? Tell me what you have in the house. And she said, There is nothing for your servant in the house except oil for anointing.
3 And he said to her, Go, ask for yourself vessels from outside, from all your neighbors, empty vessels. Do not make them few.
4 And you will go in and shut the door on yourself and on your sons, and you will pour into these vessels, and the filled one you will lift away.
5 And she went from him and did so, and she shut the door on herself and on her sons. They kept bringing the vessels near to her, and she kept pouring.
6 Until the vessels were filled, and she said to her sons, Bring another vessel near to me. And they said to her, There is no more vessel. And the oil stood still.
7 And she came and reported to the man of God, and Elisha said, Go and sell the oil and pay your interest, and you and your sons will live on the remaining oil.
8 And it came to be one day Elisha passed through to Shunem, and there was a great woman there, and she constrained him to eat bread. And it came to be, as often as he went in, he turned aside there to eat.
9 And the woman said to her husband, Behold now, I know that this one who continually passes over us is a holy man of God.
10 Let us make for him a little upper-room place, and let us put there for him a bed and a table and a chair and a lampstand, and it shall be, when he comes in to us, he will turn in there.
11 And it came to be one day, he went in there and turned in to the upper room and slept there.
12 And he said to Gehazi² his servant-boy, Call this Shunammite for me. And he called her, and she stood before him.
13 And he said to him, Say now to her, Behold, you have stirred up for us all this concern. What needs to be done for you? Is there a word for you to the king or to the commander of the force? And she said, I dwell in the midst of my people.³
14 And he said, What needs to be done for her? And Gehazi his servant-boy said, Truly she has no son, and her husband is old.
15 And he called her, and she stood by the door.
16 And Elisha said to her, At this time, as the living season returns, you will be embracing a son. And she said, No, my lord, do not lie to your servant.
17 And the woman conceived and bore a son at this time, as the living season returned, just as Elisha spoke to her.
18 And the boy grew strong, and it came to be when the boy went out to his father, to the reapers.
19 And he said to his father, My head, my head. And he said to the servant-boy, Carry him to his mother.
20 And he carried him to his mother, and he lay on her knees until midday and died.
21 And she brought him up and laid him on the bed of the man of God and shut the door upon him and went out.
22 And she called her husband and said, Send me now one of the servant-boys and one of the donkeys, and I will run as far as the man of God and return.
23 And he said, Why are you going to him today? It is neither new moon nor Sabbath. And she said, Peace.
24 And she saddled the donkey and said to her servant-boy, Lead on. Do not slow my riding unless I tell you.
25 So she went and came to the man of God at Mount Carmel. And it came to be when Elisha saw her coming, he said to Gehazi his servant-boy, Behold now, that Shunammite.
26 Now run to meet her and say, Is there peace for you? Is there peace for your husband? Is there peace for the boy? And she said, Peace.
27 And she came to Elisha at the mountain and seized his feet, and Gehazi came near to push her away, and Elisha said, Leave her, because her soul is bitter within her, and the Lord hid it from me and did not tell me.
28 And she said, Did I ask for a son from my lord? Did I not say, Do not mislead me?
29 And Elisha said to Gehazi, Gird your waist and take my staff in your hand and go, because if you meet a man you shall not bless him⁴, and if a man blesses you, you shall not answer him, and you shall put my staff on the face of the boy.
30 And the mother of the boy said, As the Lord lives and as your soul lives, I will not leave you. And Elisha rose and went after her.
31 And Gehazi passed before her and placed the staff on the face of the boy, but there was no voice and there was no hearing, and he returned to meet him and reported to him, saying, The boy did not wake up.
32 And Elisha entered into the house, and behold, the boy was dead, laid on his bed.
33 And Elisha went into the house and shut the door upon the two of them and prayed to the Lord.
34 And he went up and lay upon the boy and put his mouth on his mouth and his eyes on his eyes and his hands on his hands and bent himself over him⁵, and the flesh of the boy grew warm.
35 And he turned and walked in the house here and there and went up and bent himself over the boy until seven times, and the boy opened his eyes.
36 And Elisha cried out to Gehazi and said, Call this Shunammite. And he called her, and she came in to him, and Elisha said, Take your son.
37 And the woman came in and fell at his feet and bowed to the ground, and she took her son and went out.
38 And Elisha returned to Gilgal, and famine was in the land, and the sons of the prophets sat before him, and Elisha said to his servant-boy, Set on the great pot and boil stew⁶ for the sons of the prophets.
39 And one went out into the field to gather herbs and found a vine in the field and gathered from it wild gourds, his garment full, and put them into the pot of stew, because they did not know them.
40 And they poured it out for the men to eat, and it came to be while they were eating from the stew, behold, they cried out and said, Death in the pot, man of God, and they were not able to eat.

 42 And a man came from Baalshalisha¹ and brought to the man of God firstfruits, twenty barley loaves and fresh ears in a sack, and he said, Give to the people and let them eat.
 43 And his attendant said, What shall I give this before one hundred men? And he said, Give to the people and let them eat, because thus says the Lord: They will eat and leave some.
 44 And they ate and left some, according to the word of the Lord.

Chapter 5

1 And Naaman, commander of the force of Syria, was a great man before his lord and honored in face, because through him the Lord gave salvation to Syria²; and the man was mighty in strength, afflicted with skin-disease.
 2 And Syria had gone out in raiding bands and taken captive from the land of Israel a small young girl, and she was before the wife of Naaman.
 3 And she said to her mistress, If only my lord were before the prophet of God in Samaria. Then he would remove him from his skin-disease.
 4 And he went in and reported to his lord, saying, Thus and thus spoke the young girl from the land of Israel.
 5 And the king of Syria said to Naaman, Come, go in, and I will send a letter to the king of Israel. And he went and took in his hand ten talents of silver and six thousand pieces of gold and ten changes of garments.³
 6 And he brought the letter to the king of Israel, saying, And now, when this letter comes to you, behold, I have sent to you Naaman my servant, and you shall remove him from his skin-disease.
 7 And it came to be, when the king of Israel read the letter, he tore his garments and said, Am I God, to kill and make alive, that this man sends to me to remove a man from his skin-disease⁴? Only recognize now and see that he is seeking a pretext against me.
 8 And it came to be, when Elisha heard that the king of Israel tore his garments, he sent to the king of Israel, saying, Why have you torn your garments? Let Naaman now come to me, and let him know⁵ that there is a prophet in Israel.
 9 And Naaman came with horse and chariot and stood at the door of the house of Elisha.
 10 And Elisha sent a messenger to him, saying, Go, wash seven times in the Jordan, and your flesh will return to you, and you will be cleansed.
 11 And Naaman grew angry and went away and said, Behold, I said to myself that he would surely come out to me and stand and call on the name of his God and put his hand on the place and remove the skin-diseased part.
 12 Are not Abana⁶ and Pharpar⁷, rivers of Damascus, better than the Jordan and all the waters of Israel? If I go and wash in them, will I not be cleansed? And he turned aside and went away in anger.
 13 And his servants came near and spoke to him, saying, Father, if the prophet had spoken a great word to you, would you not do it? How much more when he said to you, Wash and be cleansed.
 14 And Naaman went down and immersed himself in the Jordan seven times according to the word of Elisha, and his flesh returned like the flesh of a small boy, and he was cleansed.
 15 And he returned to Elisha, he and all his camp, and came and stood and said, Behold now, I know that there is no God in all the earth except in Israel. And now take a blessing from your servant.
 16 And Elisha said, As the Lord lives, before whom I stand, I will not take it. And he pressed him to take it, but he refused.
 17 And Naaman said, If not, then let there be given to your servant a load of red earth⁸, as much as a pair of mules can carry, for your servant will no longer make whole-burnt-offering or sacrifice to other gods, but only to the Lord.
 18 In this matter may the Lord be merciful to your servant: when my lord enters the house of Rimmon to bow there, and he leans on my hand, and I bow in the house of Rimmon, when I bow in the house of Rimmon, may the Lord be merciful to your servant in this matter.⁹
 19 And Elisha said to Naaman, Go in peace. And he went away from him a short stretch of land.
 20 And Gehazi, the servant-boy of Elisha, said, Behold, my lord spared this Naaman the Syrian by not taking from his hand what he brought. As the Lord lives, unless I run after him¹⁰ and take something from him.
 21 And Gehazi pursued after Naaman, and Naaman saw him running after him and turned back from the chariot to meet him.
 22 And he said, Peace. My lord has sent me, saying, Behold, now two servant-boys have come to me from the hill-country of Ephraim, from the sons of the prophets. Please give them a talent of silver and two changes of garments¹¹.
 23 And Naaman said, Take two talents of silver. And he bound them in two bags¹², with two changes of garments, and gave them to two of his servant-boys, and they carried them before him.
 24 And they came to the hidden place, and he took them from their hands and stored them in the house and sent the men away.
 25 And he himself went in and stood by his lord. And Elisha said to him, Where have you come from, Gehazi? And Gehazi said, Your servant did not go here or there.
 26 And Elisha said to him, Did not my heart go with you¹³ when the man turned back from his chariot to meet you? Is now the time to take silver and to take garments and olive-groves and vineyards and sheep and cattle and male servants and female servants?
 27 And the skin-disease of Naaman will cling to you and to your seed forever. And he went out from before him afflicted with skin-disease like snow.

3 And one said, Please come with your servants. And he said, I will go.

4 And he went with them. And they came to the Jordan and were cutting the wood.

5 And behold, one was felling the beam, and the iron fell into the water, and he cried out, Alas, master, and it was borrowed.

6 And the man of God said, Where did it fall? And he showed him the place, and he cut off a stick and threw it there, and the iron floated.

7 And he said, Lift it up for yourself. And he stretched out his hand and took it.

8 And the king of Syria was warring against Israel and consulted with his servants, saying, At such and such a place I will encamp.

9 And Elisha sent to the king of Israel, saying, Beware of passing by this place, because Syria is hidden there.

10 And the king of Israel sent to the place of which Elisha spoke to him and was on guard there, not once nor twice.

11 And the soul of the king of Syria was thrown into confusion over this matter, and he called his servants and said to them, Will you not tell me who is betraying me to the king of Israel?

12 And one of his servants said, No, my lord king. Rather Elisha the prophet in Israel tells the king of Israel all the words that you speak in the chamber of your bed.

13 And he said, Come, see where this man is, and I will send and take him. And they reported to him, saying, Behold, he is in Dothan.

14 And he sent there horse and chariot and a heavy force, and they came by night and surrounded the city.

15 And the servant of Elisha rose early and went out, and behold, a force was surrounding the city, with horse and chariot. And the servant-boy said to him, Alas, master, what shall we do?

16 And Elisha said, Do not fear, because those with us are more than those with them.

17 And Elisha prayed and said, Lord, open the eyes of the servant-boy and let him see. And the Lord opened his eyes, and he saw, and behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire around Elisha.¹

18 And they came down toward him, and Elisha prayed to the Lord and said, Strike this nation with blindness now. And he struck them with blindness according to the word of Elisha.

19 And Elisha said to them, This is not the city, and this is not the way. Come after me, and I will lead you to the man whom you seek. And he led them into Samaria.

20 And it came to be, when they entered Samaria, Elisha said, Lord, open now their eyes and let them see². And the Lord opened their eyes and they saw, and behold, they were in the midst of Samaria.

21 And the king of Israel said, when he saw them, Shall I strike them down, father? Shall I strike them down?

22 And he said, You shall not strike them down. Would you strike down those whom you have taken captive with your sword and with your bow? Set bread and water before them³, and let them eat and drink and go to their lord.

23 And he set before them a great feast, and they ate and drank, and he sent them away, and they went to their lord. And raiding bands of Syria did not continue to come into the land of Israel.

24 And it came to be after this that Ben-hadad king of Syria gathered all his camp and went up and besieged Samaria.

25 And there was a great famine in Samaria, and behold, they besieged it until a donkey's head was fifty shekels⁴ of silver and a quarter of a kab of dove's dung was five shekels of silver.

26 And the king of Israel was passing over the wall, and a woman cried to him, saying, Save, my lord king.

27 And he said to her, If the Lord does not save you, from where shall I save you? From the threshing floor or from the winepress?

28 And the king said to her, What troubles you? And the woman said, This woman said to me, Give your son, and let us eat him today, and my son we will eat tomorrow.⁵

29 And we boiled my son and ate him, and I said to her on the second day, Give your son and let us eat him, and she hid her son.

30 And it came to be, when the king heard the words of the woman, he tore his garments. And he was passing over the wall, and the people saw the sackcloth on his flesh within.

31 And he said, Thus may God do to me and thus may he add, if the head of Elisha son of Shaphat remains on him today.

32 And Elisha was sitting in his house, and the elders were sitting with him, and the king sent a man from before him. Before the messenger came to him, Elisha said to the elders, Do you see that this son of a murderer has sent to take away my head? See, when the messenger comes, shut the door and press him at the door. Is not the sound of the feet of his lord behind him?⁶

33 While he was still speaking with them, behold, the messenger came down to him and said, Behold, this evil is from the Lord. Why should I wait for the Lord any longer?

Chapter 7

1 And Elisha said, Hear the word of the Lord. Thus says the Lord: At this time tomorrow a measure of fine flour will be a shekel, and two measures of barley a shekel, at the gates of Samaria.

2 And the officer on whose hand the king leaned answered Elisha and said, Behold, if the Lord makes floodgates in heaven⁷, can this thing be? And Elisha said, Behold, you will see with your eyes, but from there you will not eat.

3 And four men afflicted with skin-disease were beside the gate of the city. And one man said to his neighbor, Why do we sit here until we die?

4 If we say, Let us enter the city, the famine is in the city, and we will die there. And if we sit here, we will die. And now come, let us fall into the camp of Syria. If they keep us alive⁸, we will live; and if they put us to death, we will die.

5 And they rose in the dark to enter the camp of Syria and came to the edge of the camp of Syria, and behold, no man was there.

6 For the Lord had made the camp of Syria hear a sound of chariot⁹ and a sound of horse and a sound of great force, and one man said to his brother, Behold now, the king of Israel has hired against us the kings of the Hittites and the kings of Egypt to come against us.

7 And they rose and fled in the dark and abandoned their tents and their horses and their donkeys, the camp just as it was, and fled for their own life.

8 And these men afflicted with skin-disease¹ came to the edge of the camp and entered one tent and ate and drank and took from there silver and gold and clothing and went and hid them. And they returned and entered another tent and took from there and went and hid them.

9 And one man said to his neighbor, We are not doing right. This day is a day of good news², and we are keeping silent. If we wait until the morning light, lawlessness will find us. And now come, let us go in and report to the house of the king.

10 And they went in and cried out to the gate of the city and reported to them, saying, We entered the camp of Syria, and behold, no man was there and no human voice³, only horses tied and donkeys and the tents just as they were.

11 And the gatekeepers cried out and reported it inside the house of the king.

12 And the king rose by night and said to his servants, Let me now tell you what Syria has done to us. They know that we are hungry, and they went out from the camp and hid themselves in the field, saying, When they come out from the city⁴, we will seize them alive and enter the city.

13 And one of his servants answered and said, Let them take now five of the horses left, which were left here. Behold, they are like all the multitude of Israel that has come to an end. Let us send and see.⁵

14 And they took two mounted horsemen, and the king of Israel sent them after the king of Syria, saying, Go and see.

15 And they went after them as far as the Jordan, and behold, all the road was full of garments and vessels which Syria threw away in their panic. And the messengers returned and reported to the king.

16 And the people went out and plundered the camp of Syria. And a measure of fine flour became a shekel, and two measures of barley a shekel, according to the word of the Lord.

17 And the king had appointed the officer on whose hand he leaned⁶ over the gate, and the people trampled him in the gate, and he died, just as the man of God spoke when the king came down to him.

18 And it came to be just as Elisha had spoken to the king, saying, Two measures of barley a shekel⁷ and a measure of fine flour a shekel will be at this time tomorrow in the gate of Samaria.

19 And the officer answered Elisha and said, Behold, if the Lord makes floodgates in heaven, can this thing be? And Elisha said, Behold, you will see with your eyes, but from there you will not eat.

20 And so it happened to him, and the people trampled him in the gate, and he died.

Chapter 8

1 And Elisha spoke to the woman whose son he restored to life, saying, Rise and go, you and your house, and sojourn where you may sojourn, because the Lord has called for famine upon the land, and it has come upon the land seven years.

2 And the woman rose and did according to the word of Elisha, and she and her house went and sojourned in the land of the Philistines seven years.

3 And it came to be at the end of seven years that the woman returned from the land of the Philistines to the city, and she came to cry to the king concerning her house and concerning her fields.

4 And the king was speaking to Gehazi the servant-boy of Elisha, the man of God, saying, Tell me now all the great things Elisha did.

5 And it came to be, while he was recounting to the king how Elisha restored a dead son to life, behold, the woman whose son Elisha restored to life cried to the king concerning her house and her fields. And Gehazi said, My lord king, this is the woman, and this is her son, whom Elisha restored to life.⁸

6 And the king asked the woman, and she recounted it to him⁹. And the king gave her one eunuch, saying, Restore all that was hers and all the produce of her field from the day she left the land until now.

7 And Elisha came to Damascus, and Ben-hadad king of Syria was sick. And they reported to him, saying, The man of God has come here¹⁰.

8 And the king said to Hazael, Take in your hand a gift, and go to meet the man of God, and inquire of the Lord through him, saying, Shall I live from this sickness of mine?

9 And Hazael went to meet him and took in his hand a gift, even every good thing of Damascus, a load of forty camels, and came and stood before him and said to Elisha, Your son Ben-hadad king of Syria has sent me to you, saying, Shall I live from this sickness?

10 And Elisha said, Go, say to him, You will surely live, yet the Lord has shown me that he will surely die.

11 And he fixed his face and held it until shame, and the man of God wept.

12 And Hazael said, Why does my lord weep? And he said, Because I know what evils you will do to the sons of Israel. You will send their strongholds into fire, and their chosen men you will kill with the sword, and their infants you will dash, and their pregnant women you will rip open¹¹.

13 And Hazael said, What is your servant, this dead dog, that he should do this great thing? And Elisha said, The Lord has shown me you as king over Syria.

14 And he went from Elisha and entered to his lord, and he said to him, What did Elisha say to you? And he said, He said to me, You will surely live.

15 And it came to be on the next day that he took a coverlet and dipped it in water and spread it over his face, and he died. And Hazael reigned in his place.

16 In the fifth year of Joram son of Ahab, king of Israel, Jehoram son of Jehoshaphat became king, king of Judah.

17 He was thirty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem.

18 And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as the house of Ahab had done, because the daughter of Ahab was his wife, and he did evil before the Lord.

19 Yet the Lord did not wish to destroy Judah because of David his servant, as he said to give him a lamp and to his sons all the days.

20 In his days Edom rebelled from under the hand of Judah and made a king reign over themselves.

21 And Joram went over to Zair¹, and all the chariots with him. And it came to be, when he rose by night, he struck Edom that had encircled him² and the commanders of the chariots, and the people fled to their tents.

22 And Edom rebelled from under the hand of Judah until this day. Then Libnah rebelled at that time.

23 And the rest of the words of Joram and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the words of the days for the kings of Judah?

24 And Joram slept with his fathers and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father, and Ahaziah his son reigned in his place.

25 In the twelfth year of Joram son of Ahab king of Israel, Ahaziah son of Joram became king.

26 Ahaziah was twenty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem. And the name of his mother was Athaliah³, daughter of Omri king of Israel.

27 And he walked in the way of the house of Ahab and did evil before the Lord, like the house of Ahab.

28 And he went with Joram son of Ahab to war against Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth Gilead, and the Syrians struck Joram.

29 And King Joram returned to be healed in Jezreel from the wounds which they struck him at Ramoth when he fought against Hazael king of Syria. And Ahaziah son of Joram went down to see Joram son of Ahab in Jezreel, because he was ill.⁴

1 And Elisha the prophet called one of the sons of the prophets and said to him, Gird your loins and take this flask of oil in your hand and go to Ramoth Gilead.

2 And you will enter there and see there Jehu son of Jehoshaphat son of Nimshi, and you will go in and raise him up from the midst of his brothers and bring him into an inner room within a room.

3 Then take the flask of oil and pour it on his head and say, Thus says the Lord, I have anointed you as king over Israel. And you will open the door and flee and not stay.

4 And the servant-boy, the prophet, went to Ramoth Gilead.

5 And he entered, and behold, the commanders of the force were sitting, and he said, I have a word for you, commander. And Jehu said, For which one among all of us? And he said, For you, commander.

6 And he rose and entered the house, and he poured the oil on his head and said to him, Thus says the Lord God of Israel, I have anointed you as king over the people of the Lord, over Israel.

7 And you shall destroy the house of Ahab your lord⁵, and I will avenge the blood of my servants the prophets and the blood of all the servants of the Lord from the hand of Jezebel.

8 And I will cut off from the house of Ahab everyone who urinates against a wall, and one held fast and left behind in Israel.

9 And I will make the house of Ahab like the house of Jeroboam son of Nebat and like the house of Baasha son of Ahijah.

10 And the dogs shall eat Jezebel in the portion of Jezreel, and there is none who buries. And he opened the door and fled.

11 And Jehu went out to the servants of his lord, and they said to him, Is all well? Why did this madman come to you? And he said to them, You know the man and his rambling.

12 And they said, It is false. Tell us now. And he said to them, Thus and thus he spoke to me, saying, Thus says the Lord, I have anointed you as king over Israel.

13 And hearing, they hurried, and each took his garment and put it under him on the bare steps, and they blew on a horn and said, Jehu reigns.

14 And Jehu son of Jehoshaphat son of Nimshi conspired against Joram. And Joram himself had been guarding Ramoth Gilead, he and all Israel, because of Hazael king of Syria.

15 And Joram the king returned to be healed in Jezreel from the wounds with which the Syrians struck him when he fought with Hazael king of Syria. And Jehu said, If your soul is with me⁶, let none escape from the city to go and report in Jezreel.

16 And Jehu mounted and went to Jezreel, because Joram was being healed there, and Ahaziah king of Judah had gone down to see Joram.

17 And the watchman stood on the tower in Jezreel and saw the dust of Jehu as he came and said, I see dust. And Joram said, Take a rider and send him before them, and let him say, Is it peace?

18 And a horseman went to meet them and said, Thus says the king, Is it peace? And Jehu said, What is peace to you?⁷ Turn behind me. And the watchman reported, saying, The messenger came to them and did not return.⁸

19 And he sent a second horseman, and he came to him and said, Thus says the king, Is it peace? And Jehu said, What is peace to you? Turn behind me.

20 And the watchman reported, saying, He came to them and did not return, and the driving is like the driving of Jehu son of Nimshi, because he drives furiously.

21 And Joram said, Harness⁹. And they harnessed his chariot, and Joram king of Israel and Ahaziah king of Judah went out, each in his chariot, to meet Jehu, and they found him in the portion of Naboth the Jezreelite.

22 And it came to be, when Joram saw Jehu, he said, Is it peace, Jehu? And Jehu said, What peace, while the whoredoms of Jezebel your mother and her many sorceries remain?

23 And Joram turned his hands to flee and said to Ahaziah, Treachery, Ahaziah!

24 And Jehu filled his hand with the bow and struck Joram between his arms, and the arrow went out through his heart, and he bent upon his knees.

25 And Jehu said to Bidkar¹⁰ his officer, Lift him and throw him into the portion of the field of Naboth the Jezreelite, because I remember, I and you riding on pairs behind Ahab his father, and the Lord took up this burden¹¹ against him, saying,

26 Surely the blood of Naboth and the blood of his sons I saw yesterday, says the Lord, and I will repay him in this portion,

28 And his servants set him on the chariot and brought him to Jerusalem and buried him in his tomb in the city of David.
29 And in the eleventh year of Joram king of Israel, Ahaziah reigned over Judah.
30 And Jehu came to Jezreel, and Jezebel heard and painted her eyes and adorned her head and looked out through the window.
31 And as Jehu was entering the city, she said, Is it peace, Zimri, murderer of his lord?
32 And he lifted his face to the window and saw her and said, Who are you? Come down with me. And two eunuchs looked down toward him.
33 And he said, Roll her down. And they rolled her down, and some of her blood was spattered on the wall and on the horses, and they trampled her.
34 And he entered and ate and drank and said, See now to this cursed woman⁴ and bury her, because she is a king's daughter.
35 And they went to bury her and found nothing of her except the skull and the feet and the palms of the hands.
36 And they returned and reported to him, and he said, This is the word of the Lord which he spoke by the hand of his servant Elijah the Tishbite, saying, In the portion of Jezreel the dogs will eat the flesh of Jezebel.
37 And corpse of Jezebel will be like dung on the face of the field in the portion of Jezreel, so that they cannot say, This is Jezebel.

Chapter 10

1 And Ahab had seventy sons in Samaria. And Jehu wrote a letter and sent it into Samaria to the rulers of Samaria and to the elders and to the guardians of the sons of Ahab, saying,
2 And now when this letter comes to you, with you are the sons of your lord, and with you are the chariot and horses and fortified cities and weapons.
3 And you will look for the good and upright among the sons of your lord and set him on the throne of his father, and fight for the house of your lord.
4 And they feared greatly and said, Behold, the two kings did not stand before him, and how shall we stand?
5 And those over the house and those over the city and the elders and the guardians sent to Jehu, saying, We are your servants, and whatever you say to us we will do. We will not make any man king. Do what is good in your eyes.
6 And he wrote to them a second letter⁵, saying, If you are for me and obey my voice, take the heads of the men, the sons of your lord, and bring them to me at this time tomorrow in Jezreel. And the sons of the king, seventy men, were with the great men of the city, those rearing them.
7 And it came to be, when the letter came to them, they took the sons of the king and slaughtered them, seventy men, and put their heads in baskets and sent them to him in Jezreel.
8 And the messenger came and reported, saying, They brought the heads of the sons of the king. And he said, Put them in two heaps by the doorway of the gate until morning.
9 And it came to be in the morning, he went out and stood in the gate of the city and said to all the people, You are righteous. Behold, I conspired against my lord and killed him, but who struck all these?
10 Know now that not one thing from the word of the Lord will fall to the ground, which the Lord spoke against the house of Ahab. And the Lord has done what he spoke by the hand of his servant Elijah.
11 And Jehu struck all those left of the house of Ahab in Jezreel and all his great men and his acquaintances and his priests until he left him no remnant.
12 And he rose and went to Samaria, he at Beth-eked⁶ of the shepherds on the way.
13 And Jehu found the brothers of Ahaziah king of Judah and said, Who are you? And they said, We are brothers of Ahaziah, and we came down to greet the sons of the king and the sons of the ruling lady⁷.
14 And he said, Seize them alive. And they seized them alive and slaughtered them at Beth-eked, forty-two men. He left not a man from among them.
15 And he went from there and found Jehonadab⁸ son of Rechab on the way to meet him and blessed him and said to him, Is your heart straight with my heart⁹, as my heart is with your heart? And Jehonadab said, It is. And Jehu said, If it is, give your hand. And he gave his hand, and he took him up to himself into the chariot.
16 And he said to him, Come with me and see in my zeal for the Lord of hosts. And he seated him in his chariot.
17 And he entered Samaria and struck all those left to Ahab in Samaria until destroying him, according to the word of the Lord which he spoke to Elijah.
18 And Jehu gathered all the people and said to them, Ahab served Baal a little; Jehu will serve him much.
19 And now call to me all the prophets of Baal, all his servants, and all his priests. Let not a man be overlooked, because I have a great sacrifice for Baal. Everyone who is overlooked will not live. And Jehu did it in deception, in order to destroy the servants of Baal.¹⁰
20 And Jehu said, Sanctify a festival for Baal. And they proclaimed it.
21 And Jehu sent through all Israel, and all the servants of Baal and all his priests and all his prophets came. No one was left out who did not come. And they entered the house of Baal, and the house of Baal was filled from mouth to mouth¹¹.
22 And Jehu said to the one over the wardrobe, Bring out garments for all the servants of Baal. And the dresser brought out garments for them.
23 And Jehu and Jehonadab son of Rechab entered the house of Baal and said to the servants of Baal, Search and see whether there is with you any of the servants of the Lord, because only the servants of Baal are here¹².
24 And they went in to offer the sacrifices and whole-burnt-offerings. And Jehu stationed for himself outside eighty men and

25 And it came to be, when he finished offering the whole-burnt-offering, Jehu said to the runners and to the officers, Go in and strike them down. Let not a man come out. And they struck them with the edge of the sword, and the runners and the officers cast them out and went into the inner city of the house of Baal.²
26 And they brought out the pillar of Baal and burned it.
27 And they tore down the pillars of Baal and demolished the house of Baal and made it latrines to this day.
28 And Jehu destroyed Baal from Israel.
29 Only, from the sins of Jeroboam son of Nebat, who made Israel sin, Jehu did not turn away from after them³, the golden calves in Bethel and in Dan.
30 And the Lord said to Jehu, Because you did well in doing what was right in my eyes and did to the house of Ahab all that was in my heart, fourth sons will sit for you⁴ on the throne of Israel.
31 And Jehu was not careful to walk in the law of the Lord God of Israel with all his heart. He did not turn from the sins of Jeroboam son of Nebat, who made Israel sin.
32 In those days the Lord began to cut away in Israel, and Hazael struck them in every border of Israel,

Chapter 11

1 And Athaliah, the mother of Ahaziah, saw that her sons were dead, and she destroyed all the royal seed.
2 And Iosabee daughter of King Joram, sister of Ahaziah, took Joash son of her brother and stole him from the midst of the sons of the king being put to death, him and his nurse, into the bedchamber, and hid him from Athaliah, and he was not put to death.⁶
3 And he was with her hidden in the house of the Lord six years, while Athaliah was reigning over the land.
4 And in the seventh year Jehoiada the priest sent and took the centurions over the captains and the guard⁷, and brought them to himself into the house of the Lord and made a covenant with them before the Lord and made them swear and showed them the king's son.
5 And he commanded them, saying, This is the word that you shall do⁸: a third of you, those entering on the Sabbath, shall keep watch of the king's house at the gate.
6 And a third at the gate of the roads and a third at the gate behind the runners, and you shall keep the watch of the house.
7 And two divisions among you⁹, all going out on the Sabbath, shall keep the watch of the house of the Lord for the king.
8 And surround the king all around, each man with his weapon in his hand, and the one entering within the ranks shall die. And be with the king in his going out and in his coming in.¹⁰
9 And the centurions did all that Jehoiada the priest commanded, and each man took his men, those entering on the Sabbath along with those going out on the Sabbath, and came to Jehoiada the priest.
10 And the priest gave to the centurions King David's spears and shields, those in the house of the Lord.
11 And the runners stood, each man with his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the house to the left side of the house, by the altar and the house, around the king.
12 And he brought out the king's son and put on him the crown and the testimony and made him king and anointed him, and they clapped with the hand and said, Let the king live.
13 And Athaliah heard the sound of the runners of the people and entered to the people in the house of the Lord.
14 And she saw, and behold, the king was standing by the pillar according to the custom, and the singers and the trumpets were by the king, and all the people of the land were rejoicing and blowing with trumpets. And Athaliah tore her garments and cried, Conspiracy, conspiracy!
15 And Jehoiada the priest commanded the centurions, the officers of the force, and said to them, Bring her out from within the ranks, and whoever enters after her shall certainly be put to death by the sword, because the priest said, Let her not die in the house of the Lord.¹¹
16 And they laid hands on her, and she went by way of the horse entrance of the king's house, and she died there.
17 And Jehoiada made a covenant between the Lord and the king and the people, that they should be a people to the Lord, and between the king and the people.
18 And all the people of the land entered the house of Baal and tore it down, and his altars and his images they broke well, and Matthan¹² priest of Baal they killed before the altars. And the priest set overseers over the house of the Lord.
19 And he took the centurions and the captains and the guard¹³ and all the people of the land and brought the king down from the house of the Lord and entered by way of the gate of the runners to the king's house, and they seated him on the throne of the kings.
20 And all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was quiet, and they put Athaliah to death by the sword in the king's house.

Chapter 12

- 1 Joash was seven years old when he became king.¹
- 2 In the seventh year of Jehu, Joash became king, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem, and the name of his mother was Abijah from Beersheba.²
- 3 And Joash did what was right before the Lord all the days in which Jehoiada the priest instructed him.³
- 4 Only, the high places were not removed, and there the people still sacrificed and burned incense at the high places.⁴
- 5 And Joash said to the priests, All the silver of the holy things brought into the house of the Lord, silver of assessment, a man's silver from assessed value, every silver that comes up upon a man's heart to bring into the house of the Lord,⁵
- 6 let the priests take it for themselves, each from his collection, and they themselves shall repair the breach of the house wherever any breach is found there.
- 7 And it came to be in the twenty-third year of King Joash, the priests had not repaired the breach⁶ of the house.
- 8 And King Joash called Jehoiada the priest and the priests and said to them, Why is it that you do not repair the breach of the house? And now do not take silver from your collections, because you will give it for the breach of the house.
- 9 And the priests agreed not to take silver from the people⁷ and not to repair the breach of the house.
- 10 And Jehoiada the priest took one chest and bored a hole in its lid and set it beside the altar, at the right side as a man enters the house of the Lord. And the priests keeping the threshold put there all the silver found in the house of the Lord.
- 11 And it came to be, when they saw that there was much silver in the chest, the king's scribe and the high priest went up and tied and counted the silver⁸ found in the house of the Lord.
- 12 And they gave the silver, weighed out, into the hands of those doing the works, the overseers of the house of the Lord, and they spent it on the carpenters of wood and on the builders doing work in the house of the Lord,
- 13 and on the masons and on the stonecutters to buy timber and quarried stones to hold together the breach of the house of the Lord, for everything laid out on the house to strengthen it.
- 14 Only, there were not made for the house of the Lord silver bowls, snuffers, basins, trumpets, any vessel of gold or vessel of silver, from the silver brought into the house of the Lord,⁹
- 15 because they would give it to those doing the works, and they strengthened with it the house of the Lord.
- 16 And they did not reckon with the men into whose hands they gave the silver to give to those doing the works, because they acted in faithfulness.
- 17 Silver for sin and silver for trespass, whatever was brought into the house of the Lord, became the priests'.¹⁰
- 18 Then Hazael king of Syria went up and fought against Gath and took it, and Hazael set his face to go up¹¹ against Jerusalem.
- 19 And Joash king of Judah took all the holy things that Jehoshaphat and Joram and Ahaziah his fathers, kings of Judah, had dedicated, and his own holy things and all the gold found in the treasuries of the house of the Lord and of the king's house, and sent them to Hazael king of Syria, and he went up away from Jerusalem.¹²
- 20 And the rest of the words of Joash and all that he did, are these not written in the book of the words of the days for the kings of Judah?
- 21 And his servants rose and bound a conspiracy and struck Joash at the house Mallo in Gaalla.¹³
- 22 And Iezichar son of Iemouath and Izebouth his servant, son of Shomer¹⁴, struck him, and he died. And they buried him with his fathers in the city of David, and Amaziah¹⁵ his son reigned in his place.

Chapter 13

- 1 In the twenty-third year of Joash son of Ahaziah, king of Judah, Jehoahaz son of Jehu reigned in Samaria seventeen years.
- 2 And he did evil in the eyes of the Lord and went after the sins of Jeroboam son of Nebat, who made Israel sin. He did not depart from them.
- 3 And the Lord grew angry in wrath against Israel and gave them into the hand of Hazael king of Syria and into the hand of Ben-hadad son of Hazael all the days.
- 4 And Jehoahaz entreated the face of the Lord, and the Lord listened to him, because he saw the oppression of Israel, that the king of Syria oppressed them.
- 5 And the Lord gave salvation to Israel, and he went out from under the hand of Syria, and the sons of Israel sat in their tents as formerly.
- 6 Only, they did not depart from the sins of the house of Jeroboam, who made Israel sin. In them they walked, and even the grove stood in Samaria.
- 7 Because there was not left to Jehoahaz a people except fifty horsemen and ten chariots and ten thousand footmen, because the king of Syria destroyed them and set them like dust for trampling.
- 8 And the rest of the words of Jehoahaz and all that he did and his acts of power, are these not written in the book of the words of the days for the kings of Israel?
- 9 And Jehoahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in Samaria, and Joash his son reigned in his place.
- 10 In the thirty-seventh year of Joash king of Judah, Joash son of Jehoahaz reigned over Israel in Samaria sixteen years.
- 11 And he did evil in the eyes of the Lord. He did not depart from all the sins of Jeroboam son of Nebat, who made Israel sin. In them he walked.

13 And Joash slept with his fathers, and Jeroboam sat upon his throne in Samaria among the sons of Israel.

14 And Elisha became sick with the sickness by which he died², and Joash king of Israel came down to him and wept over his face and said, My father, my father, chariot of Israel and its horseman.

15 And Elisha said to him, Take a bow and arrows. And he took for himself a bow and arrows.

16 And he said to the king, Lay your hand upon the bow. And Joash laid his hand upon the bow, and Elisha placed his hands upon the hands of the king.

17 And he said, Open the window toward the east. And he opened it. And Elisha said, Shoot. And he shot. And he said, An arrow of salvation for the Lord and an arrow of salvation against Syria³, and you will strike Syria at Aphek until completion.

18 And Elisha said to him, Take the arrows. And he took them. And he said to the king of Israel, Strike into the ground. And the king struck three times and stopped.

20 And Elisha died, and they buried him. And raiding bands of Moab came into the land at the coming of the year.

21 And it came to be, while they were burying a man, behold, they saw the raiding band, and they threw the man into the tomb of Elisha. And he went and touched the bones of Elisha and lived and stood on his feet.

22 And Hazael oppressed Israel all the days of Jehoahaz.

23 And the Lord had mercy on them and pitied them and looked toward them because of his covenant with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, and the Lord did not wish to destroy them and did not cast them from before his face⁴ until now.

24 And Hazael king of Syria died, and Ben-hadad his son reigned in his place.

25 And Joash son of Jehoahaz returned and took the cities from the hand of Ben-hadad⁵ son of Hazael, which he took from the hand of Jehoahaz his father in war. Three times Joash struck him and recovered the cities of Israel.

4 Only, the high places he did not remove. The people still sacrificed and burned incense at the high places.

5 And it came to be, when the kingdom grew strong in his hand, he struck his servants who struck his father.

was Jerusha¹ daughter of Zadok.

34 And he did what was right in the eyes of the Lord. According to all that Uzziah² his father did, he did.

35 Only, the high places he did not remove. The people still sacrificed and burned incense at the high places. He built the upper gate of the house of the Lord³.

36 And the rest of the words of Jotham and all that he did, are these not written in the book of the words of the days for the kings of Judah?

37 In those days the Lord began to send into Judah Rezin⁴ king of Syria and Pekah son of Remaliah.

38 And Jotham slept with his fathers and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father, and Ahaz⁵ his son reigned in his place.

Chapter 16

1 In the seventeenth year of Pekah son of Remaliah, Ahaz son of Jotham king of Judah reigned.

2 Ahaz was twenty years old when he became king, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem, and he did not do what was right in the eyes of the Lord his God faithfully, as David his father.

3 And he walked in the way of Jeroboam son of Nebat king of Israel, and even his son he caused to pass through fire, according to the abominations of the nations whom the Lord drove out from before the sons of Israel.

4 And he sacrificed and burned incense at the high places and on the hills and under every leafy tree.

5 Then Rezin king of Syria and Pekah son of Remaliah king of Israel went up against Jerusalem for war and besieged Ahaz, and they could not fight against him.

6 At that time Rezin king of Syria restored Elath to Syria and drove the Judeans⁶ from Elath, and Edomites came to Elath and dwelt there until this day.

7 And Ahaz sent messengers to Tiglathpileser king of the Assyrians, saying, I am your servant and your son. Come up and save me from the hand of the king of Syria and from the hand of the king of Israel, those rising against me⁷.

8 And Ahaz took the silver and the gold found in the treasuries of the house of the Lord and of the king's house and sent gifts to the king.

9 And the king of the Assyrians listened to him, and the king of the Assyrians went up to Damascus and captured it and deported it, and Rezin he killed.

10 And King Ahaz went to meet Tiglathpileser king of the Assyrians in Damascus and saw the altar in Damascus, and King Ahaz sent to Urijah⁸ the priest the likeness of the altar and its pattern according to all its workmanship.⁹

11 And Urijah the priest built the altar according to all that King Ahaz sent from Damascus.

12 And the king saw the altar and went up upon it.

13 And he burned his whole-burnt-offering and his sacrifice and his drink-offering and poured out the blood of his peace-offerings upon the altar.

14 And the bronze altar, the one before the Lord, he brought near from before the house of the Lord, from between the altar and from between the house of the Lord, and set it on the side of the altar toward the north.

15 And King Ahaz commanded Urijah the priest, saying, Upon the great altar offer the morning whole-burnt-offering and the evening sacrifice and the whole-burnt-offering of the king and his sacrifice and the whole-burnt-offerings of all the people of the land and their sacrifices and their drink-offerings, and pour on it all the blood of the whole-burnt-offering and all the blood of the sacrifice, but the bronze altar will be for me to inquire by¹⁰.

16 And Urijah the priest did according to all that King Ahaz commanded him.

17 And King Ahaz cut down the frames of the bases and removed the laver from them, and he brought down the sea from the bronze oxen under it and set it on a stone base.¹¹

18 And the foundation of the seat he built in the house of the Lord, and the outer entrance of the king he turned within the house of the Lord because of the king of the Assyrians.

19 And the rest of the words of Ahaz, what he did, are these not written in the book of the words of the days for the kings of Judah?

20 And Ahaz slept with his fathers and was buried in the city of David, and Hezekiah¹² his son reigned in his place.

Chapter 17

1 In the twelfth year of Ahaz king of Judah, Hoshea son of Ela reigned in Samaria over Israel nine years.

2 And he did evil in the eyes of the Lord, yet not like the kings of Israel who were before him.

3 Against him came up Shalmaneser¹³ king of the Assyrians, and Hoshea became his servant and brought tribute back to him.

4 And the king of the Assyrians found wrongdoing¹⁴ in Hoshea, because he sent messengers to So king of Egypt and did not bring tribute to the king of the Assyrians in that year. And the king of the Assyrians besieged him and bound him in prison.

5 And the king of the Assyrians came up in all the land and came up to Samaria and besieged it three years.

6 In the ninth year of Hoshea, the king of the Assyrians captured Samaria and deported Israel to the Assyrians and settled them in Halah¹⁵ and in Habor, rivers of Gozan¹⁶, and mountains of the Medes^{17, 18}.

7 And it came to be because the sons of Israel sinned against the Lord their God who brought them up from the land of Egypt from under the hand¹ of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and they feared other gods.

8 And they walked in the statutes of the nations whom the Lord drove out from before the sons of Israel, and in those of the kings of Israel, as many as they made.

9 And the sons of Israel secretly did matters not so against the Lord their God, and they built for themselves high places in all their cities, from the tower of watchmen to fortified city.

10 And they set up for themselves pillars and groves² on every high hill and under every leafy tree.

11 And there they burned incense on all the high places, as the nations whom the Lord deported from before them, and they made companions and engraved things to provoke the Lord.

12 And they served idols, of which the Lord said to them, You shall not do this thing to the Lord.

13 And the Lord testified in Israel and in Judah by the hand of all his prophets, every seer³, saying, Turn from your evil ways and keep my commandments and my ordinances and all the law.

14 And they did not listen and hardened their neck beyond the neck of their fathers.

15 And his testimonies, which he testified to them, they did not keep, and they went after vanities and became vain, and after the nations around them, concerning whom he commanded them not to do according to these.⁴

16 They abandoned the commandments of the Lord their God and made for themselves cast images, two calves, and made groves and bowed down to all the force of heaven and served Baal.

17 And they made their sons and their daughters pass through fire and practiced divinations and omens and sold themselves to do evil in the eyes of the Lord, to provoke him.

18 And the Lord was very angry with Israel and removed them from before his face, and none was left except the tribe of Judah alone.

19 Yet Judah also did not keep the commandments⁵ of the Lord their God, and they walked in the statutes of Israel which they made.

20 And the Lord rejected all the seed of Israel and shook them and gave them into the hand of those plundering them until he cast them from before his face.

21 Because he tore Israel away from the house of David, and they made Jeroboam son of Nebat king, and Jeroboam thrust Israel away from following the Lord and made them sin a great sin.

22 And the sons of Israel walked in every sin of Jeroboam which he did. They did not depart from it,

23 until the Lord removed Israel from before his face, as the Lord spoke by the hand of all his servants the prophets, and Israel was deported from its land to the Assyrians until this day.

24 And the king of the Assyrians brought from Babylon and from Cuthah⁶ and from Ava⁷ and from Hamath and Sepharvaim⁸ and settled them in the cities of Samaria instead of the sons of Israel. And they inherited Samaria and dwelt in its cities.

25 And it came to be at the beginning of their dwelling there, they did not fear the Lord, and the Lord sent lions among them, and they were killing among them.

26 And they said to the king of the Assyrians, The nations whom you deported and settled in the cities of Samaria did not know the judgment of the god of the land, and he sent the lions among them, and behold, they are putting them to death because they do not know the judgment of the god of the land.⁹

27 And the king of the Assyrians commanded, saying, Take there one of the priests whom you deported from there, and let him go and dwell there and enlighten them about the judgment of the god of the land.

28 And they brought one of the priests whom they deported from Samaria, and he dwelt in Bethel and was enlightening them how they should fear the Lord.

29 And nation by nation was making its own gods and putting them in the houses of the high places which the Samaritans¹⁰ made, nation in the cities in which they were dwelling.

30 And the men of Babylon made Succothbenoth¹¹, and the men of Cuth¹² made Nergal¹³, and the men of Hamath made Ashima¹⁴,

31 and the Evaites made Eblazer and Tartak¹⁵, and the Sepharouaites were burning their sons in fire to Adrammelech¹⁶ and Anammelech¹⁷, gods of Sepharvaim.¹⁸

32 And they were fearing the Lord and appointing for themselves priests of the high places from among themselves, and they were making for them in the houses of the high places.

33 They feared the Lord and served their gods according to the custom of the nations from which he deported them there.

34 To this day they act according to their judgment. They fear, and they act¹⁹ according to their statutes and according to their judgment and according to the law and according to the commandment that the Lord commanded the sons of Jacob, whom he named Israel.²⁰

35 And the Lord made a covenant with them and commanded them, saying, You shall not fear other gods, and you shall not bow down to them, and you shall not serve them, and you shall not sacrifice to them,

36 but only the Lord who brought you up from the land of Egypt with great strength and with uplifted arm, him you shall fear and to him you shall bow and to him you shall sacrifice.

37 And the ordinances and the judgments and the law and the commandments which he wrote for you, you shall keep to do all the days, and you shall not fear other gods.

38 And the covenant which he made with you, you shall not forget, and you shall not fear other gods,

Chapter 18

1 And it came to be in the third year of Hoshea son of Ela, king of Israel, Hezekiah son of Ahaz king of Judah reigned.
 2 He was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem, and the name of his mother was Abou daughter of Zechariah.
 3 And he did what was right in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that David his father did.
 4 He removed the high places and crushed all the pillars and destroyed the groves and the bronze serpent which Moses made, because until those days the sons of Israel were burning incense to it, and he called it Nehushtan^{1,2}
 5 He hoped in the Lord God of Israel, and after him there was none like him among the kings of Judah and among those before him.
 6 And he clung to the Lord and did not depart from behind him and kept his commandments which he commanded Moses.
 7 And the Lord was with him. In all that he did, he prospered. And he rebelled against the king of the Assyrians and did not serve him.
 8 He struck the Philistines as far as Gaza and as far as its border, from the tower of watchmen to fortified city.
 9 And it came to be in the fourth year of King Hezekiah, which was the seventh year of Hoshea son of Ela king of Israel, Shalmaneser king of the Assyrians came up against Samaria and was besieging it.
 10 And he captured it at the end of three years, in the sixth year of Hezekiah, which was the ninth year of Hoshea king of Israel, and Samaria was captured.
 11 And the king of the Assyrians deported Samaria to the Assyrians and set them in Halah and in Habor, river of Gozan, and mountains of the Medes,
 12 because they did not listen to the voice of the Lord their God and transgressed his covenant, all that Moses the servant of the Lord commanded, and they did not listen and did not do³ it.
 13 And in the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah, Sennacherib⁴ king of the Assyrians came up against the fortified cities of Judah and captured them.
 14 And Hezekiah king of Judah sent messengers to the king of the Assyrians to Lachish, saying, I have sinned. Turn away from me. Whatever you impose on me I will bear⁵. And the king of the Assyrians imposed on Hezekiah king of Judah three hundred talents of silver and thirty talents of gold.
 15 And Hezekiah gave all the silver found in the house of the Lord and in the treasuries of the king's house.
 16 At that time Hezekiah cut off the doors of the temple of the Lord and the supports which Hezekiah king of Judah overlaid, and he gave them to the king of the Assyrians.
 17 And the king of the Assyrians sent Tartan⁶ and Rabsaris⁷ and Rabshakeh⁸ from Lachish to King Hezekiah with a heavy force against Jerusalem, and they came up and came to Jerusalem and stood by the conduit of the upper pool on the way of the fuller's field.
 18 And they called to Hezekiah, and Eliakim⁹ son of Hilkiah¹⁰ the steward and Shebna¹¹ the scribe and Joah¹² son of Asaph¹³ the recorder came out to them.
 19 And Rabshakeh said to them, Say now to Hezekiah, Thus says the great king, king of the Assyrians: What is this confidence in which you have trusted?
 20 You said, Only words of lips are counsel and strength for war. Now then, in whom have you trusted that you rebelled against me?
 21 Now behold, you have trusted for yourself on this broken reed staff¹⁴, on Egypt, on which if a man leans it will go into his hand and pierce it. So is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who trust in him.
 22 And if you say to me, We have trusted in the Lord our God, is not this the one whose high places and altars Hezekiah removed and said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Before this altar in Jerusalem you shall bow?
 23 And now make a bargain now with my lord king of the Assyrians, and I will give you two thousand horses if you are able to give riders for them.
 24 And how will you turn away the face of one governor from the least of the servants of my lord? And you trusted for yourself in Egypt for chariots and horsemen.
 25 And now, was it without the Lord that we came up against this place to destroy it? The Lord said to me, Go up against this land and destroy it.
 26 And Eliakim son of Hilkiah and Shebna and Joah said to Rabshakeh, Speak now to your servants in Syrian, because we understand, and do not speak with us in Judean¹⁵. Why do you speak in the ears of the people upon the wall?¹⁶
 27 And Rabshakeh said to them, Was it to your lord and to you that my lord sent me to speak these words? Was it not to the men sitting on the wall, to eat their dung and drink their urine with you?¹⁷
 28 And Rabshakeh stood and cried with a great voice in Judean and spoke and said, Hear the words of the great king, king of the Assyrians.
 29 Thus says the king: Let not Hezekiah lift you up with words, because he will not be able to deliver you from my hand.

30 And let not Hezekiah make you hope in the Lord, saying, In delivering the Lord will deliver us. This city will not be given into the hand of the king of the Assyrians.
31 Do not listen to Hezekiah, because thus says the king of the Assyrians: Make a blessing with me¹ and come out to me, and each man will eat of his vine and each man will eat of his fig tree and each man will drink water from his cistern,
32 until I come and take you to a land like your land, a land of grain and wine and bread² and vineyards, a land of olive oil and honey, and you will live and not die. And do not listen to Hezekiah, because he deceives you, saying, The Lord will rescue us.
33 Have the gods of the nations, in delivering, delivered each his own land from the hand of the king of the Assyrians?
34 Where is the god of Hamath and Arpad³? Where is the god of Sepharvaim? And have they delivered Samaria from my hand?
35 Who among all the gods of the lands delivered their lands from my hand, that the Lord should deliver Jerusalem from my hand?
36 And they kept silent and did not answer him a word, because it was the king's command, saying, You shall not answer him.
37 And Eliakim son of Hilkiyah the steward and Shebna the scribe and Joah son of Asaph the recorder came to Hezekiah with torn garments and reported to him the words of Rabshakeh.

Chapter 19

1 And it came to be, when King Hezekiah heard, he tore his garments and wrapped himself in sackcloth and entered into the house of the Lord.
2 And he sent Eliakim the steward and Shebna the scribe and the elders of the priests clothed in sackcloth to Isaiah⁴ the prophet son of Amoz⁵.
3 And they said to him, Thus says Hezekiah: This day is a day of affliction and rebuke and provocation, because sons came as far as birth pains and there is no strength for the woman giving birth.
4 If perhaps the Lord your God will hear all the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of the Assyrians his lord sent to reproach the living God and to blaspheme in words which the Lord your God heard, then you shall take up prayer for the remnant that is found.
5 And the servants of King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.
6 And Isaiah said to them, Thus you shall say to your lord: Thus says the Lord, Do not fear from the words which you heard, with which the servant-boys of the king of the Assyrians blasphemed.
7 Behold, I am putting a spirit in him, and he will hear a report and return to his land, and I will bring him down by the sword in his land.
8 And Rabshakeh returned and found the king of the Assyrians warring against Libnah, because he heard that he departed from Lachish.
9 And he heard concerning Tirhakah⁶ king of the Ethiopians⁷, saying, Behold, he came out to war with you. And he turned and sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,
10 Let not your God on whom you trust lift you up, saying, Jerusalem will not be given into the hands of the king of the Assyrians.
11 Behold, you heard all that the kings of the Assyrians did to all lands, to devote them. And will you be rescued?
12 Did the gods of the nations rescue them, those whom my fathers destroyed, both Gozan and Haran and Rezeph⁸ and sons of Eden in Thaeshten?
13 Where is the king of Hamath and the king of Arpad, and where is Sepharvaim, Anah, and Aua?
14 And Hezekiah took the letters from the hand of the messengers and read them, and he went up to the house of the Lord, and Hezekiah spread them out before the Lord.
15 And he said, Lord God of Israel, the one sitting upon the cherubim, you are God alone in all the kingdoms of the earth. You made heaven and earth.
16 Incline, Lord, your ear and hear. Open, Lord, your eyes and see. And hear the words of Sennacherib which he sent to reproach the living God.
17 Because truly, Lord, the kings of the Assyrians laid waste the nations
18 and gave their gods into the fire, because they are not gods but works of human hands, wood and stone, and they destroyed them.
19 And now, Lord our God, save us from his hand, and all the kingdoms of the earth will know that you alone, Lord, are God.
20 And Isaiah son of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, Thus says the Lord God of the forces, the God of Israel: I heard what you prayed to me concerning Sennacherib king of the Assyrians.
21 This is the word which the Lord spoke against him: Virgin daughter of Zion despised you and mocked you. Daughter Jerusalem shook her head over you.
22 Whom did you reproach and blaspheme? Against whom did you raise your voice and lift your eyes on high? Against the Holy One of Israel^{9, 10}.
23 By the hand of your messengers¹² you reproached the Lord and said, By the multitude of my chariots I will go up to the heights of mountains, the sides of Lebanon, and I cut down the greatness of its cedar, its choice cypresses, and I came to the farthest part of its border, the forest of its Carmel.
24 I cooled and drank foreign waters, and with the sole of my foot I laid waste all rivers of a besieged land.
25 I formed it. Now I brought it, and it came to be for elevations of desolated settlements, fortified cities.
26 And those dwelling in them were weak of hand. They were dismayed and put to shame. They became like grass of the field and green herb, like grass of the rooftops and trampling before standing grain.¹³

27 And your sitting and your going out and your going in¹ I knew, and your rage against me.
 28 Because you raged against me and your insolence went up in my ears, I will put my hooks in your nostrils and my bridle in your lips², and I will turn you back on the way by which you came.
 29 And this to you is the sign: Eat this year what grows of itself, and in the second year the springing growth, and in the third sow and reap and plant vineyards and eat their fruit.³
 30 And the remnant of the house of Judah that escaped and was left will again take root downward and make fruit upward⁴.
 31 Because from Jerusalem a remnant will go out, and one preserved from Mount Zion. The zeal of the Lord of forces will do this.
 32 Not so. Thus says the Lord to the king of the Assyrians: He will not enter into this city and will not shoot there an arrow and will not come before it with shield and will certainly not cast up against it a mound.
 33 By the way that he came, by it he will return, and into this city he will not enter, says the Lord.
 34 And I will shield this city for my own sake and for David my servant.
 35 And it came to be by night, and an angel of the Lord went out and struck in the camp of the Assyrians one hundred eighty-five thousand. And they rose early in the morning, and behold, all were dead bodies.
 36 And Sennacherib king of the Assyrians departed and went and returned and dwelt in Nineveh.
 37 And it came to be, while he was bowing in the house⁵ of Nisroch⁶ his god, Adrammelech and Sharezer⁷ his sons struck him with the sword, and they escaped into the land of Ararat, and Esarhaddon⁸ his son reigned in his place.

Chapter 20

1 In those days Hezekiah became sick unto death, and Isaiah son of Amoz the prophet entered to him and said to him, Thus says the Lord: Give command to your house, because you are dying and will not live.
 2 And Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and prayed to the Lord, saying,
 3 O Lord, remember now how I walked before you in truth and with a full heart and did what was good in your eyes. And Hezekiah wept with great weeping.
 4 And Isaiah was in the middle court, and the word of the Lord came to him, saying,
 5 Turn back and say to Hezekiah the leader of my people⁹, Thus says the Lord God of David your father: I heard your prayer, I saw your tears. Behold, I will heal you. On the third day you will go up into the house of the Lord.
 6 And I will add fifteen years to your days, and from the hand of the king of the Assyrians I will save you and this city, and I will shield this city for my own sake and for David my servant.
 7 And he said, Let them take a cake of figs and let them put it upon the sore, and he will recover.
 8 And Hezekiah said to Isaiah, What is the sign that the Lord will heal me and I will go up into the house of the Lord on the third day?
 9 And Isaiah said, This is the sign from the Lord that the Lord will do the word which he spoke. Shall the shadow go forward ten steps¹⁰, or shall it turn back ten steps?
 10 And Hezekiah said, It is a light thing for the shadow to slope ten steps. No, but let the shadow turn back ten steps.
 11 And Isaiah the prophet cried to the Lord, and the shadow turned back on the steps ten steps backward.
 12 At that time Berodachbaladan¹¹ son of Baladan¹² king of Babylon sent letters and a gift to Hezekiah, because he heard that Hezekiah was sick.
 13 And Hezekiah rejoiced over them and showed them his whole treasure-house¹³, the silver and the gold, the spices and the good oil and the house of the vessels and all that was found in his treasuries. There was not a thing which Hezekiah did not show them in his house and in all his dominion.
 14 And Isaiah the prophet entered to King Hezekiah and said to him, What did these men say, and from where did they come to you? And Hezekiah said, They came to me from a far land, from Babylon.
 15 And he said, What did they see in your house? And he said, They saw all that is in my house. There was not a thing in my house or in my treasuries that I did not show them.
 16 And Isaiah said to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord.
 17 Behold, days are coming, and everything in your house and whatever your fathers stored up to this day will be taken to Babylon, and not a thing will be left, which the Lord said.
 18 And from your sons who will come out from you, whom you will beget, they will take, and they will be eunuchs in the house of the king of Babylon.
 19 And Hezekiah said to Isaiah, Good is the word of the Lord which you spoke. Let there be peace in my days.
 20 And the rest of the words of Hezekiah and all his might and what he did, the spring and the conduit¹⁴, and how he brought the water into the city, are these not written in the book of the words of the days for the kings of Judah?
 21 And Hezekiah slept with his fathers and was buried in the city of David, and Manasseh his son reigned in his place.

Chapter 21

1 Manasseh was twelve years old when he became king, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem, and the name of his mother was Hephzibah¹⁵.
 2 And he did evil in the eyes of the Lord according to the abominations of the nations whom the Lord drove out from before the sons of Israel.

3 And he turned back and rebuilt¹⁶ the high places which Hezekiah his father tore down and raised up an altar to Baal and made groves, as Ahab king of Israel did, and bowed down to all the host of heaven and served them.
4 And he built altars in the house of the Lord, of which he said, In Jerusalem I will put my name.
5 And he built altars to all the host of heaven in the two courts of the house of the Lord.
6 And he made his sons pass through fire and practiced divination and omens and made spirit-mediums and knowers². He multiplied to do evil in the eyes of the Lord, to provoke him.
7 And he set the carved image of the grove³ in the house, of which the Lord said to David and to Solomon his son, In this house and in Jerusalem, which I chose from all the tribes of Israel, I will put my name there forever.
8 And I will not again add to shake the foot of Israel from the land which I gave to their fathers, if only they keep all that I commanded, according to all the commandment which my servant Moses commanded them.⁴
9 And they did not listen, and Manasseh led them astray to do evil in the eyes of the Lord beyond the nations which the Lord destroyed from before the sons of Israel.
10 And the Lord spoke by the hand of his servants the prophets, saying,
11 Because Manasseh king of Judah did these evil abominations, beyond all that the Amorite who was before him did, and even caused Judah to sin with their idols,
12 not so. Thus says the Lord God of Israel: Behold, I am bringing evils on Jerusalem and on Judah, so that whoever hears, both his ears will ring⁵.
13 And I will stretch over Jerusalem the measure of Samaria and the plummet of the house of Ahab⁶, and I will wipe Jerusalem as an alabaster vessel is wiped, being wiped and turned on its face.
14 And I will push away the remnant of my inheritance and give them into the hands of their enemies, and they will become plunder and spoil to all their enemies,
15 because they did evil in my eyes and were provoking me from the day I brought out their fathers from Egypt until this day.
16 And Manasseh also poured out very much innocent blood until he filled Jerusalem from mouth to mouth, besides his sins with which he made Judah sin by doing evil in the eyes of the Lord.⁷
17 And the rest of the words of Manasseh and all that he did and the sin which he sinned, are these not written in the book of the words of the days for the kings of Judah?
18 And Manasseh slept with his fathers and was buried in the garden of his house, in the garden of Uzza, and Amon his son reigned in his place.
19 Amon was twenty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem, and the name of his mother was Meshullemeth⁸ daughter of Haruz⁹ from Jotbah¹⁰.
20 And he did evil in the eyes of the Lord, as Manasseh his father did.
21 And he walked in every way in which his father walked and served the idols which his father served and bowed down to them.
22 And he abandoned the Lord God of his fathers and did not walk in the way of the Lord.
23 And the servants of Amon conspired against him and put the king to death in his house.
24 And all the people of the land struck down all those conspiring against King Amon, and the people of the land made Josiah¹¹ his son king in his place.
25 And the rest of the words of Amon, what he did, are these not written in the book of the words of the days for the kings of Judah?
26 And they buried him in his tomb in the garden of Uzza, and Josiah his son reigned in his place.

Chapter 22

1 Josiah was eight years old when he became king, and he reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem, and the name of his mother was Jedidah¹² daughter of Adaiah¹³ from Boscath¹⁴.
2 And he did what was right in the eyes of the Lord and walked in every way of David his father. He did not turn aside to the right or to the left.
3 And it came to be in the eighteenth year of King Josiah, in the eighth month, the king sent Shaphan son of Azaliah¹⁵ son of Meshullam¹⁶, the scribe of the house of the Lord, saying,
4 Go up to Hilkiah the high priest and seal the silver brought into the house of the Lord, which the keepers of the threshold gathered from the people.
5 And let them give it into the hand of those doing the works, those appointed in the house of the Lord. And he gave it to those doing the works, those in the house of the Lord, to strengthen the breach of the house¹⁷,
6 to the carpenters and the builders and the masons, and to buy timber and quarried stones to strengthen the breach of the house.
7 Only, they did not reckon with them the silver being given to them, because they act in faithfulness.
8 And Hilkiah the high priest said to Shaphan the scribe, I found a book of the law in the house of the Lord. And Hilkiah gave the book to Shaphan, and he read it.
9 And Shaphan brought it to King Josiah and brought word back to the king and said, Your servants poured out the silver¹⁸ found in the house of the Lord and gave it into the hand of those doing the works, those appointed in the house of the Lord.

10 And Shaphan the scribe said to the king, saying, Hilkiah the priest gave me a book. And Shaphan read it before the king.
 11 And it came to be, when the king heard the words of the book of the law, he tore his garments.
 12 And the king commanded Hilkiah the priest and Ahikam¹ son of Shaphan and Achbor son of Michaiah² and Shaphan the scribe and Asaiah³ servant of the king, saying,
 13 Go, seek the Lord concerning me and concerning all the people and concerning all Judah, concerning the words of this book that was found, because great is the anger of the Lord, which burns in us⁴, because our fathers did not listen to all the words of this book to do according to all written for us.
 14 And Hilkiah the priest and Ahikam and Achbor and Shaphan and Asaiah went to Huldah⁵ the prophetess, wife of Hillel son of Tikvah⁶ son of Harhas⁷ keeper of the wardrobe, and she dwelt in Jerusalem in the Maseña⁸, and they spoke to her.
 15 And she said to them, Thus says the Lord God of Israel: Say to the man who sent you to me,
 16 Thus says the Lord: Behold, I am bringing evils upon this place and upon those dwelling in it, all the words of the book which the king of Judah read,
 17 because they abandoned me and burned incense to other gods, so as to provoke me in all the works of their hands, and my wrath will burn in this place and will not be quenched.
 18 And to the king of Judah who sent you to seek the Lord, thus you shall say to him: Thus says the Lord God of Israel concerning the words which you heard:
 19 Because your heart was softened⁹ and you were ashamed from before the Lord when you heard what I spoke against this place and against those dwelling in it, that they should become a desolation and a curse, and you tore your garments and wept before me, I also heard, says the Lord.
 20 Not so. Behold, I am adding you to your fathers, and you will be gathered to your tomb in peace, and your eyes will not see among all the evils that I am bringing upon this place. And they returned word to the king.

Chapter 23

1 And the king sent and gathered to himself all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem¹⁰.
 2 And the king went up to the house of the Lord, and every man of Judah and all those dwelling in Jerusalem with him, and the priests and the prophets and all the people from small to great¹¹. And he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant found in the house of the Lord.
 3 And the king stood by the pillar and made a covenant before the Lord, to walk after the Lord and to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his ordinances with all his heart and with all his soul, to establish the words of this covenant written in this book. And all the people stood to the covenant.
 4 And the king commanded Hilkiah the high priest and the priests of the second order and the keepers of the threshold to bring out from the temple of the Lord all the vessels made for Baal and for the grove and for all the force of heaven, and he burned them outside Jerusalem in the fields of Kidron and carried their dust to Bethel.¹²
 5 And he put an end to the idol-priests whom the kings of Judah appointed and who were burning incense in the high places and in the cities of Judah and around Jerusalem, and those burning incense to Baal and to the sun and to the moon and to the Mazouroth¹³ and to all the force of heaven.
 6 And he brought the grove out from the house of the Lord, outside Jerusalem to the wadi Kidron¹⁴, and burned it in the wadi Kidron and beat it small to dust and threw its dust on the tombs of the sons of the people.
 7 And he tore down the houses of the consecrated ones which were in the house of the Lord, where the women were weaving hangings for the grove.
 8 And he brought all the priests from the cities of Judah and defiled the high places where the priests burned incense, from Gibeah to Beersheba, and he tore down the house of the gates¹⁵ by the entrance of the gate of Joshua governor of the city, those on the left at the gate of the city.
 9 Only, the priests of the high places did not go up to the altar of the Lord in Jerusalem, except they ate unleavened bread in the midst of their brothers.
 10 And he defiled Topheth¹⁶ in the valley of the son of Hinnom, so as not to make a man bring his son or a man bring his daughter through fire to Moloch¹⁷.
 11 And he put an end to the horses which the kings of Judah gave to the sun at the entrance of the house of the Lord, in the treasury of Nathan the king's eunuch in the suburbs¹⁸, and the chariot of the sun he burned with fire.
 12 And the altars on the roof of the upper room of Ahaz, which the kings of Judah made, and the altars which Manasseh made in the two courts of the house of the Lord, the king tore down and broke up there and threw their dust into the wadi Kidron.
 13 And the house that was before Jerusalem, to the right of the mount of Mosoath, which Solomon king of Israel built to Ashtoreth¹⁹, abomination of the Sidonians, and to Chemosh, abomination of Moab, and to Molochol, abomination of the sons of Ammon, the king defiled.²⁰
 14 And he crushed the pillars and destroyed the groves and filled their places with human bones.
 15 And indeed the altar in Bethel, the high place which Jeroboam son of Nebat made, who made Israel sin, indeed that altar and the high place he tore down and crushed its stones and beat them small to dust and burned the grove.²¹

16 And Josiah turned and saw the tombs there in the city¹, and he sent and took the bones from the tombs and burned them upon the altar and defiled it, according to the word of the Lord which the man of God spoke.

17 And he said, What is that marker² which I see? And the men of the city said to him, It is the man of God who came out from Judah and called out these words which he called out against the altar of Bethel.

18 And he said, Leave him. Let no man move his bones³. And they preserved his bones with the bones of the prophet who came out from Samaria.

19 And also all the houses of the high places which were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel made to provoke the Lord, Josiah removed and did to them according to all the deeds that he did in Bethel.⁴

20 And he sacrificed all the priests of the high places who were there upon the altars and burned the bones of humans upon them and returned to Jerusalem.

21 And the king commanded all the people, saying, Keep the Passover to the Lord our God, as it is written in this book of the covenant.

22 Because this Passover was not held from the days of the judges who judged Israel and all the days of the kings of Israel and the kings of Judah,

23 except in the eighteenth year of King Josiah this Passover was held to the Lord in Jerusalem.

24 And indeed the spirit-mediums and the knowers⁵ and the theraphin and the idols and all the abominations that had appeared in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem King Josiah removed, to establish the words of the law written upon the book which Hilkiah the priest found in the house of the Lord.

25 Like him there was no king before him who turned to the Lord with all his heart and with all his soul and with all his strength⁶ according to all the law of Moses, and after him none like him arose.

26 Only, the Lord did not turn away from the fury of his great anger, with which his anger burned in Judah, because of the provocations with which Manasseh provoked him.

27 And the Lord said, Also Judah I will remove from before my face, as I removed Israel, and I will reject this city which I chose, Jerusalem, and the house of which I said, My name will be there.

28 And the rest of the words of Josiah and all that he did, are these not written in the book of the words of the days for the kings of Judah?

29 And in his days Pharaoh Necho⁷ king of Egypt went up against the king of the Assyrians by the river Euphrates, and Josiah went to meet him, and Necho put him to death in Megiddo when he saw him.

30 And his servants set him on the chariot, dead from Megiddo, and brought him to Jerusalem and buried him in his tomb in the city of David. And the people of the land took Jehoahaz son of Josiah and anointed him and made him king in place of his father.

31 Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he became king, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem, and the name of his mother was Hamutal⁸ daughter of Jeremiah⁹ from Libnah.

32 And he did evil in the eyes of the Lord according to all that his fathers did.

33 And Pharaoh Necho removed him in Riblah in the land of Hamath so that he should not reign in Jerusalem, and he imposed a penalty on the land of a hundred talents of silver and a hundred talents of gold.

34 And Pharaoh Necho made Eliakim son of Josiah king of Judah king in place of Josiah his father, and he changed his name to Joakim¹⁰, and he took Jehoahaz and brought him into Egypt, and he died there.¹¹

35 And Joakim gave the silver and the gold to Pharaoh, but he assessed the land to give the silver according to the mouth of Pharaoh. Each man according to his valuation they gave the silver and the gold with the people of the land, to give to Pharaoh Necho.¹²

36 Joakim was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem, and the name of his mother was Zebudah¹³ daughter of Pedaiah¹⁴ from Rumah¹⁵.

37 And he did evil in the eyes of the Lord according to all that his fathers did.

Chapter 24

1 In his days Nebuchadnezzar¹⁶ king of Babylon came up, and Joakim became his servant three years, and he turned and rebelled against him.

2 And the Lord sent against him raiding bands of the Chaldeans and raiding bands of Syria and raiding bands of Moab and raiding bands of the sons of Ammon, and he sent them into the land of Judah to strengthen against it, according to the word of the Lord which he spoke by the hand of his servants the prophets.

3 Only, it was upon the anger of the Lord in Judah to remove him from before his face, because of the sins of Manasseh according to all that he did,

4 and indeed he poured out innocent blood and filled Jerusalem with innocent blood, and the Lord did not wish to be propitiated.

5 And the rest of the words of Joakim and all that he did, are these not written in the book of the words of the days for the kings of Judah?

6 And Joakim slept with his fathers, and Joakim his son reigned in his place.

7 And the king of Egypt no longer added to go out from his land¹⁷, because the king of Babylon took from the wadi of Egypt as far as the river Euphrates, all that belonged to the king of Egypt.

8 Joakim was eighteen years old when he became king, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem, and the name of his mother was Nehushta¹ daughter of Elnathan² from Jerusalem.
 9 And he did evil in the eyes of the Lord according to all that his father did.
 10 At that time Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up to Jerusalem, and the city came under siege.
 11 And Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon entered into the city, and his servants were besieging it.
 12 And Joakim king of Judah went out to the king of Babylon, he and his servants and his mother and his rulers and his eunuchs, and the king of Babylon took him in the eighth year of his reign.
 13 And he carried out from there all the treasures of the house of the Lord and the treasures of the king's house and cut in pieces all the golden vessels which Solomon king of Israel made in the temple of the Lord, according to the word of the Lord³.
 14 And he deported Jerusalem and all the rulers and the mighty in strength, ten thousand in captivity, and every craftsman and every smith⁴, and none was left except the poor of the land.
 15 And he deported Joakim to Babylon, and the king's mother and the king's wives and his eunuchs and the mighty of the land he led away in exile from Jerusalem into Babylon.
 16 And all the men of force, seven thousand, and the craftsman and the smith, a thousand, all mighty ones making war, the king of Babylon brought them as exiles into Babylon.
 17 And the king of Babylon made Mattaniah⁵ his kinsman king in his place and set his name Zedekiah.
 18 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem, and the name of his mother was Hamutal daughter of Jeremiah.
 19 And he did evil before the Lord according to all that Joakim did.
 20 Because it was upon the anger of the Lord against Jerusalem and Judah until he cast them from before his face. And Zedekiah rebelled against the kingdom of Babylon.

Chapter 25

1 And it came to be in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came, and all his force, against Jerusalem, and they encamped against it and built a siege-wall⁶ around it.
 2 And the city came under siege⁷ until the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.
 3 On the ninth day of the month, famine became strong in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land.
 4 And the city was breached, and all the men of war went out by night by way of the gate between the walls, which is by the king's garden, and the Chaldeans were around the city, and he went by way of the Arabah.⁸
 5 And the force of the Chaldeans pursued the king and overtook him in the plains of Jericho, and all his force was scattered from upon him.
 6 And they captured the king and brought him to the king of Babylon at Riblah, and he spoke judgment with him.
 7 And he slaughtered the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and the eyes of Zedekiah he blinded, and he bound him in fetters and brought him into Babylon.
 8 And in the fifth month, on the seventh day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, Nebuzaradan⁹ the chief guard, standing before the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem.
 9 And he burned the house of the Lord and the king's house and all the houses of Jerusalem, and every great house he burned.
 10 And the force of the Chaldeans that was with the chief guard tore down the walls of Jerusalem all around.
 11 And the rest of the people left in the city and those who had fallen away, who fell to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the support Nebuzaradan the chief guard removed.
 12 And from the poor of the land the chief guard left some for vinedressers and field-workers.
 13 And the bronze pillars in the house of the Lord and the bases and the bronze sea in the house of the Lord the Chaldeans broke up and carried their bronze into Babylon.¹⁰
 14 And the pots and the shovels and the bowls and the censers and all the bronze vessels with which they ministered, he took.
 15 And the firepans and the bowls, those of gold and those of silver, the chief guard took.
 16 The two pillars, the one sea, and the bases which Solomon made for the house of the Lord, there was no weight to the bronze of all the vessels.
 17 Eighteen cubits was the height of the one pillar, and the bronze capital was upon it, and the height of the capital was three cubits, with network and pomegranates upon the capital round about, all bronze. And the same for the second pillar with the network.
 18 And the chief guard took Seraiah¹¹ the first priest and Zephaniah of the second order and the three keeping the threshold.
 19 And from the city he took one eunuch who was overseer over the men of war and five men of those seeing the king's face¹² who were found in the city and the scribe of the ruler of the force, the one mustering the people of the land, and sixty men of the people of the land found in the city.
 20 And Nebuzaradan the chief guard took them and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah.
 21 And the king of Babylon struck them and put them to death in Riblah in the land of Hamath, and Judah was deported from its land.
 22 And the people left in the land of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon left, over them he appointed Gedaliah¹³ son of Ahikam son of Shaphan.
 23 And all the commanders of the force, they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon appointed Gedaliah, and they came 24 And Gedaliah swore to them and to their men and said to them, Do not fear the servants of the Chaldeans. Dwell in the land and serve the king of Babylon, and it will be well for you.

25 And it came to be in the seventh month, Ishmael son of Nethaniah son of Elishama from the seed of the kings, and ten men with him, came and struck Gedaliah, and he died, and also the Judeans and the Chaldeans who were with him at Mizpah.⁶

26 And all the people rose, from small to great, and the commanders of the forces, and they entered into Egypt, because they feared from before the Chaldeans.

17 And some from the sons of Benjamin and Judah came for help¹⁷ to David.

20 And from Manasseh some joined David when Philistines came against Saul for battle, and he did not help them, because by counsel commanders of Philistines sent him away, saying, At cost of heads of those men he will return to his lord Saul.²⁰
21 When he went to Ziklag, there joined him from Manasseh: Edna²¹ and Iozabath and Jediah and Michael and Iosabeth and Elimouth and Selathi, heads of thousands of Manasseh.²²

13 Because when you were not there at first, our God made breach among us, because we did not seek him according to ordinance.

14 And priests and Levites sanctified themselves to bring up the ark of God of Israel.

15 And sons of Levites took the ark of God as Moses commanded by the word of God, according to writing, with carrying-poles upon them.

16 And David said to the chiefs of Levites, Station their brothers, singers with the instruments of songs, lyres and harps and cymbals, to raise sound with the voice of gladness.

17 And Levites stationed Heman son of Joel, and from his brothers Asaph son of Berechiah, and from the sons of Merari, their brothers, Ethan son of Kushaiah¹,

18 and with them their brothers of second rank²: Zechariah and Uzziel and Shemiramoth³ and Jehiel and Unni⁴ and Eliab and Benaiah and Maaseiah⁵ and Maaseiah and Eliphalia and Makenia and Obedom and Jeiel⁶ and Uziah, gatekeepers.

19 And singers Heman, Asaph, and Ethan had bronze cymbals to make sound heard.

20 Zechariah and Uzziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Masaiah, Benaiah, with harps on alamothe.

21 And Mattathias⁷ and Eliphalias and Makenias and Obedom and Jeiel and Uziah with lyres on the eighth, to lead strongly.

22 And Chenaniah⁸, chief of Levites, was chief over songs, because he was understanding.

23 And Berechiah and Elkanah were gatekeepers of ark.

24 And Shebaniah⁹ and Jehoshaphat and Nathanael and Amasai and Zechariah and Benaiah and Eliezer, the priests, were blowing trumpets before the ark of God, and Obedom and Iia were gatekeepers of the ark of God.

25 And David and elders of Israel and commanders of thousands were going to bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord from the house of Obedom with gladness.

26 And it came to pass, when God strengthened Levites carrying the ark of the covenant of the Lord, they sacrificed seven calves and seven rams.

27 And David was girded with linen robe, and all Levites carrying the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and singers, and Chenaniah chief of songs of singers; and upon David was linen robe.

28 And all Israel were bringing up the ark of the covenant of the Lord with signal and the sound of shophar and with trumpets and with cymbals, sounding aloud with harps and lyres.

29 And it came to pass, the ark of the covenant of the Lord came as far as the City of David, and Michal daughter of Saul looked through window and saw King David dancing and playing, and she despised him in her soul¹⁰.

Chapter 16

1 And they brought in the ark of God and set it in the middle of the tent which David pitched for it, and they offered whole burnt offerings and offerings of salvation before God.

2 And David finished offering whole burnt offerings and offerings of salvation and blessed people in the name of the Lord.

3 And he distributed to every man of Israel, from man to woman, to each man one loaf of bread, one bakery-cake, and one raisin-cake.

4 And he appointed before the ark of the covenant of the Lord from Levites, ministers proclaiming aloud and giving thanks and praising the Lord God of Israel:

5 Asaph leader, and second to him¹¹ Zechariah, Jeiel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Mattathias, Eliab, and Benaiah and Obedom and Jeiel with instruments, harps and lyres, and Asaph sounding aloud with cymbals,

6 and Benaiah and Uzziel the priests with trumpets continually before the ark of the covenant of God¹².

7 On that day then David first appointed by the hand of Asaph and his brothers to praise the Lord.

8 Give thanks to the Lord; call upon him in his name; make known among peoples his practices.

9 Sing to him and hymn to him; tell all his wonders, those things the Lord did.

10 Praise in his holy name; heart seeking his good pleasure shall rejoice.

11 Seek the Lord and grow strong; seek his face continually.

12 Remember his wonders which he did, his marvels and judgments of his mouth,

13 seed of Israel, his servants, sons of Jacob, his chosen ones.

14 He is the Lord our God; in all the earth are his judgments.

15 Remembering forever his covenant, his word which he commanded for thousand generations,

16 which he covenanted with Abraham, and his oath to Isaac,

17 and he set it for Jacob as ordinance, for Israel as everlasting covenant,

18 saying, To you I will give the land of Canaan, measuring-line of your inheritance.

19 When they were few in number, as they were diminished and sojourning in it,

20 and they went from nation to nation and from kingdom to another people,

21 he did not let man oppress them, and he rebuked kings concerning them:

22 Do not touch my anointed ones, and do not do evil among my prophets.

23 Sing to the Lord, all the earth; announce his salvation from day to day.

25 For the Lord is great and greatly praised; he is fearful above all gods.

26 For all gods of nations are idols, but our God made heaven.

27 Glory and praise¹³ are before him; strength and boasting are in his place.

28 Give to the Lord, families of nations; give to the Lord glory and strength.

29 Give to the Lord glory of his name; take gifts and bring them before him, and worship the Lord in his holy courts.

30 Let all the earth fear from before him; let earth be set right and not be shaken.

31 Let heaven rejoice and earth exult, and let them say among the nations, the Lord reigns.
 32 Sea shall thunder with its fullness, and tree of field and all things in it.
 33 Then trees of the forest shall rejoice from before the Lord, because he came to judge earth.
 34 Give thanks to the Lord, because he is good, because his mercy is forever.

 36 Blessed is the Lord God of Israel from age and unto age.² And all the people shall say, Amen, and they praised the Lord.
 37 And they left there before the ark of the covenant of the Lord Asaph and his brothers to minister before the ark continually, each day's matter for its day³,
 38 and Obedom and his brothers, sixty-eight, and Obedom son of Jeduthun and Ossa⁴ as gatekeepers,
 39 and Zadok the priest and his brothers the priests before the tent of the Lord at high place in Gibeon,
 40 to offer whole burnt offerings to the Lord on the altar of whole burnt offerings continually, morning and evening, and according to all things written in the law of the Lord⁵, whatever he commanded for the sons of Israel by the hand of Moses servant of God,
 41 and with him Heman and Jeduthun and rest of chosen ones named by name to praise the Lord, because his mercy is forever,
 42 and with them trumpets and cymbals for sounding aloud, and instruments of songs of God; sons of Jeduthun were at gate.
 43 And all the people went each to his house, and David returned to bless his house.

Chapter 17

1 And it came to pass, as David settled in his house, David said to Nathan prophet, Behold, I dwell in cedar house, but the ark of the covenant of the Lord is under curtains.
 2 And Nathan said to David, Do all that is in your soul, because God is with you.
 3 And it came to pass in that night, the word of the Lord came to Nathan, saying,
 4 Go and speak to David my servant, Thus says the Lord, You shall not build me house for me to dwell in it.
 5 Because I have not dwelt in a house from the day when I brought up Israel until this day, but I have been in tent and in dwelling-place.
 6 In all places where I went through among all Israel, did I ever speak to one tribe of Israel, to shepherd my people, saying, Why have you not built me cedar house?
 7 And now thus you shall say to my servant David, Thus says the Lord Almighty, I took you from the fold, from behind the sheep⁶, to be ruler over my people Israel.
 8 And I was with you in all places where you went, and I destroyed all your enemies from before you, and I made for you name like the name of great ones on earth.
 9 And I will appoint place for my people Israel and plant him, and he shall dwell by himself and not be anxious anymore⁷, and unrighteousness shall not again afflict him as from the beginning,
 10 and from days when I appointed judges over my people Israel. And I humbled all your enemies, and I will increase you, and the Lord will build a house for you.
 11 And it shall be, when your days are fulfilled and you sleep with your fathers, I will raise up your seed after you, who shall be from your belly, and I will prepare his kingdom.
 12 He shall build me house, and I will set upright his throne forever.
 13 I will be to him for father, and he shall be to me for son, and I will not remove my mercy from him, as I removed it from those before you.
 14 And I will make him faithful in my house and in his kingdom forever, and his throne shall stand upright forever.
 15 According to all these words and according to all this vision, so Nathan spoke to David.
 16 And King David came and sat before the Lord and said, Who am I, the Lord God, and what is my house, that you loved me unto forever?
 17 And these things were made small before you, O God, and you spoke concerning the house of your servant for long distance, and you looked upon me as vision of man⁸, and you exalted me, Lord God.
 18 What more shall David add to you to glorify? And you know your servant.
 19 And according to your heart you did all this greatness.
 20 Lord, there is none like you, and there is none besides you, according to all things we heard with our ears.
 21 And there is no nation on earth like your people Israel, whom God led to redeem for himself as people, to make for himself great and manifest name⁹, to drive out nations from before your people, whom you redeemed from Egypt.
 22 And you gave your people Israel to yourself as people forever, and you, Lord, became God to them.
 23 And now, Lord, let your word which you spoke concerning your servant and concerning his house be made faithful forever.
 24 Let them say¹⁰, O Lord, Lord Almighty, God of Israel, and let the house of David your servant be established before you.
 25 Because you, Lord, opened ear of your servant to build him house. Therefore your servant found courage to pray before you.
 26 And now, Lord, you are that God, and you spoke these good things concerning your servant.
 27 And now you began to bless the house of your servant, that it may be forever before you, because you, Lord, blessed; bless forever.

3 And David struck Hadarezer king of Zobah-Hamath¹, as he was going to set his hand upon the river Euphrates.²
 4 And David captured from them one thousand chariots and seven thousand horsemen and twenty thousand footmen, and David hamstrung all chariots, but left of them one hundred chariots.
 5 And Syrian from Damascus came to help Hadarezer king of Zobah, and David struck among Syrians twenty-two thousand men.
 6 And David put garrison in Syria by Damascus, and they became servants to David, bringing gifts, and the Lord kept saving David in all places he went.
 7 And David took golden armlets which were on the servants of Hadarezer and brought them to Jerusalem.
 8 And from Tibhath³ and from chosen cities of Hadarezer, David took very much bronze. From it Solomon made bronze sea and pillars and bronze vessels.
 9 And Tou⁴ king of Hamath heard that David struck all force of Hadarezer king of Zobah.
 10 And he sent Hadoram his son to King David to ask about peace⁵ and to bless him because he fought Hadarezer and struck him, because Hadarezer was a man of war against Tou, with every silver and gold vessel.
 11 These also King David consecrated to the Lord⁶, with silver and gold which he took from all nations, from Edom and Moab and sons of Ammon and Philistines and Amalek.
 12 And Abishai son of Zeruiah struck Edom in the valley of salt pits, eighteen thousand.
 13 And he put garrisons in valley, and all Edomites became David's servants, and the Lord kept saving David in all places he went.
 14 And David reigned over all Israel, and he was doing judgment and righteousness for all his people.

1 And it came to pass after these things, Nahash king of sons of Ammon died, and Anan his son reigned in his place.
 2 And David said, I will do mercy with Anan son of Nahash, as his father did mercy with me. And David sent messengers to comfort him concerning his father. And the servants of David came into the land of sons of Ammon to comfort him.
 3 And the rulers of Ammon said to Anan, Does David honor your father before you⁸ because he sent comforters to you? Did not his servants come to you to search city and spy out land?
 4 And Anan took servants of David and shaved them and cut away half their cloaks as far as garment and sent them away.
 5 And men came to report to David concerning men, and he sent to meet them, because men had been greatly dishonored. And the king said, Sit in Jericho until your beards grow, and then return.
 6 And sons of Ammon saw that people of David had been shamed, and Anan and sons of Ammon sent one thousand talents of silver to hire for themselves chariots and horsemen from Syria of Mesopotamia and from Syria of Maachah and from Zobah⁹.¹⁰
 7 And they hired for themselves¹¹ thirty-two thousand chariots and the king of Maachah and his people, and they came and camped opposite Medeba. And sons of Ammon gathered from their cities and came to battle.
 8 And David heard and sent Joab and all army of mighty men.
 9 And sons of Ammon came out and drew up for battle by the gate of the city, and kings who came camped by themselves in the plain.
 10 And Joab saw that front of battle had come against him before and behind, and he chose from every young man of Israel, and they drew up against Syrians.
 11 And the rest of the people he gave into the hand of Abishai his brother, and they drew up opposite sons of Ammon.
 12 And he said, If Syrians prevail over me, you shall be for salvation to me, and if sons of Ammon prevail over you, I will save you.
 13 Act like a man, and let us strengthen ourselves for our people and for the cities of our God, and the Lord will do what is good in his eyes.
 14 And Joab drew up, and people with him, opposite Syrians for battle, and they fled from him.
 15 And sons of Ammon saw that Syrians fled, and they too fled from before Joab and from before Abishai his brother and came into the city. And Joab came to Jerusalem.
 16 And Syria saw that Israel routed him¹², and they sent messengers and brought out Syrians from beyond river, with Shophach¹³ commander of force of Hadarezer before them.
 17 And it was reported to David, and he gathered all Israel and crossed Jordan and came against them and drew up against them. And Syria drew up opposite David¹⁴ and fought him.
 18 And Syria fled from before David, and David killed from Syria seven thousand chariots and forty thousand footmen, and he killed Shophach commander of force.
 19 And the servants of Hadarezer saw that they had fallen before Israel, and they made covenant with David and served him. And Syria did not want to help sons of Ammon anymore.

Chapter 20

1 And it came to pass in following year, at time when kings go out, Joab led all force of army and ruined land of sons of Ammon¹⁵ and came and besieged Rabbah, while David stayed in Jerusalem. And Joab struck Rabbah and tore it down.

2 And David took crown of Molchol their king from his head, and its weight was found to be a talent of gold, and in it was precious stone¹, and it was upon the head of David. And he brought out spoils of the city very many.
 3 And the people in it he brought out and cut with saws and with iron picks², and thus David did to all the sons of Ammon. And David and all his people returned to Jerusalem.
 4 And it came to pass after these things, there was still war in Gezer with Philistines. Then Sibbecai the Hushathite struck Saph from the sons of giants, and he humbled him.
 5 And there was yet war with Philistines, and Elhanan son of Jair struck Lahmi³ brother of Goliath the Gittite, and wood of his spear was like a beam of weavers.
 6 And there was still war in Gath, and there was an oversized man, and his fingers were six and six, twenty-four, and he was a descendant of giants.
 7 And he reproached Israel, and Jonathan son of Shimea brother of David struck him.
 8 These were born to Rapha in Gath; all were four giants, and they fell by the hand of David and by the hand of his servants.

Chapter 21

1 And slanderer stood up against Israel and stirred David to number Israel.
 2 And King David said to Joab and to the chiefs of force, Go, number Israel from Beersheba to Dan, and bring to me, and I shall know their number.
 3 And Joab said, May the Lord add to his people a hundredfold as they are⁴, and are not eyes of my lord the king seeing that all are servants to my lord? Why does my lord seek this, so that it should not become sin for Israel?
 4 But the word of the king prevailed over Joab. And Joab went out and passed through every border of Israel and came to Jerusalem.
 5 And Joab gave number of mustering of the people to David, and all Israel was one million one hundred thousand men drawing sword, and Judah was four hundred eighty thousand⁵ men drawing sword.
 6 But Levi and Benjamin he did not count among them, because word of the king overpowered Joab.
 7 And thing appeared evil before God concerning this matter, and he struck Israel.
 8 And David said to God, I sinned greatly because I did this thing, and now please take away evil of your servant⁶, because I acted very foolishly.
 9 And the Lord spoke to Gad, seer of David, saying,
 10 Go and speak to David, saying, Thus says the Lord, I lift three things upon you; choose one of them for yourself, and I will do it to you.
 11 And Gad came to David and said to him, Thus says the Lord, Choose for yourself:
 12 either three years of famine, or three months for you to flee from before your enemies while sword of your enemies destroys, or three days sword of the Lord and death⁷ in the land, and angel of the Lord destroying in all inheritance of Israel. And now see what word I should answer to one who sent me.
 13 And David said to Gad, All three press me very hard. Let me now fall into the hands of the Lord, because his mercies are very many; but into the hands of men I shall not fall.
 14 And the Lord gave death in Israel, and seventy thousand men fell from Israel.
 15 And God sent angel into Jerusalem to destroy it, and as he destroyed, the Lord saw and relented over evil⁸ and said to angel destroying, It is enough for you; let go your hand. And the angel of the Lord was standing at the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.
 16 And David lifted his eyes and saw angel of the Lord standing between earth and between heaven, with his sword drawn in his hand, stretched out over Jerusalem. And David and elders clothed in sackcloth fell on their faces.⁹
 17 And David said to God, Was it not I who said to number among people? And I am one who sinned; I acted evilly with evil¹⁰. But these sheep, what did they do? Lord God, let your hand be on me and on the house of my father, and not on your people for destruction, Lord.
 18 And the angel of the Lord said to Gad to tell David to go up and set altar to the Lord at the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.
 19 And David went up according to the word of Gad, which he spoke in the name of the Lord.
 20 And Araunah turned and saw king, and his four sons with him were hiding themselves¹¹, and Araunah was threshing wheat.
 21 And David came to Araunah, and Araunah came out from threshing floor and bowed to David with his face to the ground.
 22 And David said to Araunah, Give me place of your threshing floor, and I will build on it altar to the Lord. For silver at full worth¹² give it to me, and plague will stop from people.
 23 And Araunah said to David, Take for yourself¹³, and let my lord the king do good in his sight. Behold, I have given calves for whole burnt offering, and plow and wagons for wood, and wheat for sacrifice; I have given all.
 24 And King David said to Araunah, No, because by buying I will buy for full worth in silver, because I shall not take what is yours for the Lord, to offer free whole burnt offering to the Lord.
 25 And David gave to Araunah in his place six hundred shekels of weight in gold.
 26 And David built there altar to the Lord and offered whole burnt offerings and offerings of salvation, and cried out to the Lord, and he answered him with fire from heaven upon the altar of whole burnt offering and consumed whole burnt offering¹⁴.
 27 And the Lord spoke to angel, and he put sword into sheath.
 28 At that time, when David saw that the Lord answered him at the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite, he sacrificed there.
 29 And tent of the Lord which Moses made in the wilderness, and altar of whole burnt offerings, were at that time at high place in Gibeon.

Chapter 22

1 And David said, This is the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for whole burnt offering for Israel.
2 And David told them to gather all sojourners in the land of Israel, and he appointed stonecutters to cut dressed stones to build a house for God.
3 And David prepared much iron for the nails of doors and gates and hinges, and bronze in abundance without weight, 4 and cedar woods without number, because Sidonians and Tyrians brought cedar woods in abundance to David.
5 And David said, Solomon my son is tender youth¹, and house to build for the Lord must be for greatness beyond, for name and for glory in all the earth; I will prepare for him. And David prepared in abundance before his death.
6 And he called Solomon his son and charged him to build a house to God of Israel.
7 And David said, Solomon, my child, it was upon my heart to build a house for the name of the Lord God,
8 but the word of the Lord came upon me, saying, You poured out blood in abundance² and made great wars; you shall not build a house to my name, because you poured out much blood on earth before me.
9 Behold, son is born to you. He shall be man of rest, and I will give him rest from all enemies around, because Solomon shall be his name, and peace and quietness I will give upon Israel in his days.
10 He shall build a house to my name, and he shall be to me for son, and I to him for father, and I will set upright throne of his kingdom in Israel forever.³
11 And now, my son, the Lord shall be with you and prosper you, and you shall build a house to your God as he spoke concerning you.
12 Only may the Lord give you wisdom and understanding, and strengthen you over Israel, to keep and to do the law of the Lord your God.
13 Then you shall prosper if you keep doing ordinances and judgments which the Lord commanded Moses for Israel. Act like a man and be strong; do not fear and do not be dismayed.
14 And behold, in my poverty⁴ I prepared for the house of the Lord one hundred thousand talents of gold and one thousand thousand talents of silver, and bronze and iron without weight, because it is in abundance, and wood and stones I prepared, and to these add more.
15 And with you are workers in abundance, craftsmen and builders of stone and carpenters of wood and every wise man in every work,
16 in gold, in silver, in bronze, and in iron there is no number. Rise and do, and the Lord be with you.
17 And David commanded all rulers of Israel to help Solomon his son:
18 Is not the Lord with you and has he not given you rest all around? Because he gave inhabitants of the land into hands, and land is subdued before the Lord and before his people.
19 Now set your hearts and your souls⁵ to seek the Lord your God, and rise and build a sanctuary to the Lord your God, to bring the ark of the covenant of the Lord and the holy vessels of God into the house being built for the name of the Lord⁶.

Chapter 23

1 And David was old and full of days, and he made Solomon his son king in his place over Israel.
2 And he gathered all rulers of Israel and priests and Levites.
3 And Levites were numbered from thirty years old and upward, and their number by heads, men, was thirty-eight thousand.
4 From these, overseers over the works of the house of the Lord were twenty-four thousand, and scribes and judges six thousand,
5 and four thousand gatekeepers, and four thousand praising the Lord with instruments which he made for praising the Lord.
6 And David divided them into courses for the sons of Levi: to Gershon, Kohath, Merari.
7 And to Gershon, to Laadan and to Shimei.
8 Sons of Laadan: chief Jehiel, and Zetham⁷, and Joel, three.
9 Sons of Shimei: Shelomith and Jeiel and Haran, three. These were chiefs of fathers for Laadan.
10 And to the sons of Shimei: Jahath and Ziza and Joash and Beriah; these were four sons of Shimei.
11 And Jahath was chief and Ziza second; Joash and Beriah did not multiply sons, and they became one father-house in one reckoning.
12 Sons of Kohath: Amram, Izhar, Hebron, Uzziel, four.
13 Sons of Amram: Aaron and Moses. And Aaron was set apart to be sanctified as holy of holies⁸, he and his sons forever, to burn incense before the Lord, to minister, and to bless upon his name forever.
14 And Moses, man of God, his sons were called into the tribe of Levi.
15 Sons of Moses: Gershom and Eliezer.
16 Sons of Gershom: Shebuel⁹ chief.
17 And sons of Eliezer: Rehabiah¹⁰ chief. And Eliezer had no other sons, but sons of Rehabiah increased greatly.
18 Sons of Izhar: Shelomith chief.
19 Sons of Hebron: Idoud chief, Amariah second, Uzziel third, Ikemias fourth.
20 Sons of Uzziel: Micah chief, and Jesiah second.
21 Sons of Merari: Mahali and Mushi. Sons of Mahali: Eleazar and Kish.
22 And Eleazar died, and he had no sons but daughters, and sons of Kish their brothers took them.
23 Sons of Mushi: Mahali and Eder and Jeremoth, three.

24 These were sons of Levi according to the houses of their fathers, chiefs of fathers according to their mustering, by the number of their names, by head, doing works of service of the house of the Lord from twenty years old and upward¹.
 25 Because David said, the Lord God of Israel gave rest to his people, and he dwelt in Jerusalem forever.
 26 And Levites were no longer carrying tent and all its vessels for its service.
 27 For in last words of David is number of sons of Levi from twenty years old and upward.
 28 Because he set them by the hand of Aaron² to minister in the house of the Lord, over courts and over storerooms and over the cleansing of all holy things and over the works of service of the house of God,
 29 for the bread of presentation and for the fine flour of offering and for unleavened wafers and for griddle and for mixed dough and for every measure,
 30 and to stand morning by morning to praise and give thanks to the Lord, and likewise at evening,
 31 and over all whole burnt offerings offered to the Lord on Sabbaths and on new moons and on feasts, by number according to ordinance upon them continually before the Lord³,
 32 and they shall keep charges of the tent of testimony and charges of the sons of Aaron their brothers, to minister in the house of the Lord.

Chapter 24

1 And for the sons of Aaron, divisions: sons of Aaron were Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.
 2 And Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and they had no sons, and Eleazar and Ithamar, sons of Aaron, served as priests.
 3 And David divided them, and Zadok from the sons of Eleazar and Ahimelech from the sons of Ithamar, according to their mustering for their service by the houses of their fathers.
 4 And more sons of Eleazar were found as chiefs of mighty men than sons of Ithamar⁴, and he divided them: for the sons of Eleazar, sixteen chiefs by father-houses, and for the sons of Ithamar, eight by father-houses.
 5 And he divided them by lots, these with those, because they were chiefs of holy things and chiefs of God among sons of Eleazar and among sons of Ithamar.
 6 And Shemaiah son of Nathanael, scribe from Levi, wrote them before the king and rulers and Zadok priest and Ahimelech son of Abiathar and chiefs of the father-houses of priests and Levites, one father-house taken for Eleazar and one taken for Ithamar.⁵
 7 And first lot came out to Jarib, to Jedaiah second,
 8 to Harim⁶ third, to Seorim⁷ fourth,
 9 to Malchijah fifth, to Mijamin⁸ sixth,
 10 to Koz⁹ seventh, to Abijah eighth,
 11 to Jeshuah¹⁰ ninth, to Shecaniah tenth,

 17 to Jachin twenty-first, to Gamul¹⁵ twenty-second,
 18 to Delaiah¹⁶ twenty-third, to Maaziah¹⁷ twenty-fourth.
 19 This was their mustering for their service to enter the house of the Lord according to their ordinance by the hand of Aaron their father, as the Lord God of Israel commanded him.
 20 And for the remaining sons of Levi: for the sons of Amram, Shebuel; for the sons of Shebuel, Iadia.
 21 For Rehabiah, chief was Isshiah¹⁸.
 22 And for Izharites¹⁹, Shelomith; for the sons of Shelomith, Jahath.
 23 Sons of Hebron: Amariah second, Jahaziel²⁰ third, Iokom fourth.
 24 Sons of Uzziel: Michah; sons of Michah: Shamir.
 25 Brother of Michah: Jesiah; sons of Jesiah: Zechariah.
 26 Sons of Merari: Mahali and Mushi; sons of Uziah: sons of Bonni.
 27 Sons of Merari for Uziah: his sons Isoam and Zaccur and Abdi.
 28 For Mahali: Eleazar and Ithamar; and Eleazar died and had no sons.
 29 For Kish: sons of Kish, Jerahmeel.
 30 And sons of Mushi: Mahali and Eder and Jeremoth. These were sons of Levites by the houses of their fathers.
 31 And they too received lots, like their brothers sons of Aaron, before the king and Zadok and Ahimelech and chiefs of the father-houses of priests and Levites, elder fathers like their younger brothers²¹.

Chapter 28

1 And David assembled all rulers of Israel, rulers of judges and rulers of courses around body of the king¹² and rulers of thousands and of hundreds and treasurers and those over his possessions and mighty lords and fighters of army, in Jerusalem.
 2 And David stood in the midst of assembly and said, Hear me, my brothers and my people. It came upon my heart to build the house of rest for the ark of the covenant of the Lord and footstool of our Lord¹³, and I prepared fitting things for dwelling.
 3 But God said, You shall not build me a house to have my name called upon it, because you are man of war and have poured out blood.
 4 And the Lord God of Israel chose me from all house of my father to be king over Israel forever, and in Judah he chose kingdom, and from the house of Judah house of my father, and among sons of my father he desired in me to make me king over all Israel.
 5 And from all my sons, because the Lord gave me many sons, he chose in Solomon my son to seat him upon the throne of the kingdom of the Lord over Israel.
 6 And God said to me, Solomon your son shall build my house and my court, because I chose him to be son to me, and I will be father to him.
 7 And I will set his kingdom right forever, if he is strong to keep my commandments and my judgments, as this day.
 8 And now, before all the assembly of the Lord and in the ears of our God, keep and seek all commandments of the Lord our God, so that you may inherit¹⁴ good land and leave inheritance to your sons after you forever.
 9 And now, Solomon my son, know God of your fathers and serve him with complete heart and willing soul¹⁵, because the Lord examines all hearts and knows every thought. If you seek him, he will be found by you; and if you forsake him, he will forsake you to end.
 10 See now, because the Lord chose you to build him house for sanctuary. Be strong and do.
 11 And David gave to Solomon his son pattern of the temple and of its houses and its treasures and upper rooms and inner storehouses and house of propitiation¹⁶.
 12 and pattern which he had in his spirit of the courts of the house of the Lord and all storerooms around, for treasures of the house of the Lord and treasures of holy things,¹⁷

Chapter 29

1 And King David said to all the assembly, Solomon my son, in whom alone the Lord chose, is young and tender, and work is great, because building not for man but for the Lord God.
2 With all my strength I prepared for the house of my God¹ gold, silver, bronze, iron, wood, shoham stones and filling stones and precious stones and varied stones and every precious stone and much Parian stone.
3 And still, because I delighted in the house of my God, I have gold and silver which I kept for myself, and behold, I gave it for the house of my God in addition to what I prepared for the house of holy things²,
4 three thousand talents of gold from Ophir and seven thousand talents of refined silver to overlay walls of sanctuary with them,
5 by the hand of craftsmen. And who is willing to fill his hands³ for the Lord today?
6 And chiefs of fathers and rulers of sons of Israel and commanders of thousands and of hundreds and leaders of works and stewards of the king were made willing.
7 And they gave for the works of the house of the Lord five thousand talents of gold and ten thousand gold pieces⁴, and ten thousand talents of silver, and eighteen thousand talents of bronze, and one hundred thousand talents of iron.
8 And those with whom stone was found gave it to treasuries of the house of the Lord by the hand of Jehiel the Gershonite.
9 And the people rejoiced over their willingness, because with full heart they were made willing to the Lord⁵, and King David rejoiced greatly.
10 And King David blessed the Lord before assembly, saying, Blessed are you, Lord God of Israel our father, from age and unto age.
11 Yours, Lord, are greatness and power and boasting and victory⁶ and strength, because you rule all things in heaven and on earth; before your face every king and nation is troubled.
12 From you are riches and glory; you rule all things, Lord, ruler of every beginning, and in your hand are strength and lordship, and in your hand, Almighty One, to magnify and strengthen all things.
13 And now, Lord, we give thanks to you and praise the name of your boasting.
14 And who am I, and who are my people, that we grew strong to be willing to you in this way? Because all things are yours, and from your things we gave to you.
15 Because we are sojourners before you and temporary residents, as all our fathers were. Our days on earth are like a shadow, and there is no staying.
16 Lord our God, all this abundance which I prepared to build a house for is from your hand, and all things are yours.
17 And I knew, Lord, that you examine hearts and love righteousness. In simplicity of heart⁷ I was willing for all these things, and now I saw your people found here willingly giving to you with gladness.
18 Lord God of Abraham and Isaac and Israel our fathers, keep these things in thought of heart of your people forever, and direct their hearts toward you.
19 And to Solomon my son give good heart to do your commandments and your testimonies and your ordinances, and to bring building of your house to completion.
20 And David said to all the assembly, Bless the Lord your God. And all the assembly blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowing knees they worshiped the Lord and the king.
21 And David sacrificed sacrifices to the Lord and offered whole burnt offerings to God on next day after first day: one thousand calves, one thousand rams, one thousand lambs, and their libations, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel⁸.
22 And they ate and drank before the Lord on that day with joy, and they made Solomon son of David king a second time, and anointed him to the Lord as king and Zadok to priesthood⁹.
23 And Solomon sat on the throne of David his father and prospered, and all Israel listened to him.
24 Rulers and mighty lords and all sons of King David his father submitted to him.
25 And the Lord magnified Solomon exceedingly before all Israel and gave him royal glory such as did not happen on any king before him.
26 And David son of Jesse reigned over Israel.
27 Forty years: in Hebron seven years and in Jerusalem thirty-three years.
28 And he died in good old age, full of days, riches, and glory, and Solomon his son reigned in his place.
29 And the rest of matters of King David, first and last, are written in the words of Samuel seer and in the words of Nathan prophet and in the words of Gad seer,
30 concerning all his kingdom and his mighty rule and times which came upon him and upon Israel and upon all kingdoms of the earth.

2 Chronicles

Chapter 1

1 And Solomon son of David was strengthened over his kingdom, and the Lord his God was with him and magnified him on high.
2 And Solomon spoke to all Israel, to commanders of thousands and of hundreds and to judges and to all rulers before Israel, to the chiefs of fathers.
3 And Solomon and all the assembly with him went to high place in Gibeon, because there was the tent of testimony of God¹ which Moses servant of the Lord made in the wilderness.
4 But David brought up the ark of God from the city Kirjathjearim, because he prepared tent for it in Jerusalem.
5 And bronze altar which Bezaleel² son of Ourios son of Hur made was there before the tent of the Lord, and Solomon and assembly sought it.
6 And there Solomon brought up upon bronze altar before the Lord, the one in tent, and brought up upon it one thousand whole burnt offerings.
7 In that night God appeared to Solomon and said to him, Ask what I should give you.
8 And Solomon said to God, You did great mercy with David my father and made me king in his place.
9 And now, Lord God, let your name be made faithful upon David my father, because you made me king over numerous people like dust of the earth.
10 Now give me wisdom and understanding, and I shall go out before this people and come in, because who can judge this great people of yours?
11 And God said to Solomon, Because this came to be in your heart, and you did not ask wealth, riches, or glory, nor life of your adversaries, nor many days, but asked wisdom and understanding for yourself so that you may judge my people over whom I made you king,³ 12 wisdom and understanding I give to you, and wealth and riches and glory I will give to you such as none among kings before you had, and after you there shall not be thus.
13 And Solomon came from high place in Gibeon to Jerusalem, from before the tent of testimony, and reigned over Israel.
14 And Solomon gathered chariots and horsemen, and he had one thousand four hundred chariots and twelve thousand horsemen, and he placed them in the cities of chariots, and people were with the king in Jerusalem.
15 And the king made gold and silver in Jerusalem like stones, and cedars in Judah like sycamines in lowland in abundance.
16 And the export of horses for Solomon was from Egypt, and merchants of the king were trading and buying at price.
17 And they were bringing up and bringing out from Egypt chariot for six hundred silver and horse for one hundred fifty, and thus for all kings of Hittites and kings of Syria they brought by their hands⁴.
18 And Solomon spoke of building a house to the name of the Lord and a house for his kingdom.

Chapter 2

1 And Solomon gathered seventy thousand men and eighty thousand stonecutters in mountain and three thousand six hundred overseers over them.
2 And Solomon sent to Hiram king of Tyre, saying, As you did with David my father and sent him cedars to build a house for to dwell in it,
3 behold, I his son am building a house to the name of the Lord my God, to sanctify it to him, to burn incense of spices before him and perpetual presentation⁵ and to offer whole burnt offerings continually morning and evening and on Sabbaths and on new moons and on feasts of the Lord our God. This is forever upon Israel.
4 And house which I am building is great⁶, because our God is great above all gods.
5 And who will have strength to build him house? Because heaven and heaven of heavens do not bear his glory. And who am I building him house, except to burn incense before him?⁷
6 And now send me wise man, one knowing how to work in gold and silver and bronze and iron and purple and scarlet and blue, and knowing how to carve carving⁸, together with wise men with me in Judah and in Jerusalem, whom David my father prepared.
7 And send me cedar woods and juniper woods and pine woods⁹ from Lebanon, because I know your servants know how to cut woods from Lebanon, and behold, your servants are with my servants,
8 to prepare woods for me in abundance, because house which I am building is great and glorious.¹⁰
9 And behold, for workers, those cutting woods for food, I gave grain to your servants, twenty thousand kors¹¹, and barley, twenty thousand kors, and wine, twenty thousand measures, and oil, twenty thousand measures.
10 And Hiram king of Tyre answered in writing and sent to Solomon, Because the Lord loved his people, he gave you king over them.¹²
11 And Hiram said, Blessed is the Lord God of Israel who made heaven and earth, who gave to King David wise son, knowing understanding and knowledge, who will build a house to and a house for his kingdom.¹³
12 And now I have sent to you wise man, knowing understanding, Hiram my father.¹⁴

15 And we shall cut woods from Lebanon according to all your need, and we shall bring them on rafts by sea to Joppa, and you shall bring them up to Jerusalem.²

16 And Solomon gathered all sojourning men in the land of Israel, after number by which David his father numbered them, and they were found to be one hundred fifty-three thousand six hundred.

17 And he made from them seventy thousand carriers of burdens³ and eighty thousand stonecutters and three thousand six hundred overseers over people.

Chapter 3

1 And Solomon began building the house of the Lord in Jerusalem on the mountain of Moriah⁴, where the Lord appeared to David his father, in place which David prepared at the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.⁵

2 And he began building in the second month, in the fourth year of his reign.

3 And these are foundations which Solomon laid for building the house of God: length by first measure, sixty cubits, and width twenty cubits.

4 And vestibule⁶ before the house, length according to breadth of the house, twenty cubits, and height one hundred twenty cubits, and he overlaid it inside with pure gold.

5 And great house he paneled with cedar woods and overlaid it with pure gold and carved upon it palms and chains.

6 And he adorned house with precious stones for glory, and with gold, gold from Pharouaim.

7 And he gilded house and walls and doorposts and ceilings and doors with gold, and carved cherubim on walls.

8 And he made the house of the holy of holies, its length according to breadth, twenty cubits, and its width twenty cubits, and he overlaid it with pure gold, for cherubim, six hundred talents.

9 And weight of nails, weight of one, fifty shekels of gold, and upper rooms he gilded with gold.

10 And he made in the house of holy of holies two cherubim, work from woods, and gilded them with gold.

11 And the wings of cherubim were twenty cubits in length; one wing five cubits touching wall of the house, and other wing five cubits touching wing of other cherub.

12 And wing of one cherub was five cubits touching wall of the house, and other wing five cubits touching wing of other cherub.

13 And the wings of cherubim spread out were twenty cubits, and they stood on their feet, and their faces were toward house.

14 And he made veil of blue and purple and scarlet and fine linen, and wove cherubim in it.

15 And he made before the house two pillars, thirty-five cubits high, and their capitals five cubits.

16 And he made chains in debir and put them on the heads of pillars, and he made one hundred pomegranates and put them on chains.

17 And he set pillars before the temple, one at right and one at left, and he called name of right one Uprightness and name of left one Strength.

Chapter 4

1 And he made bronze altar, twenty cubits long and twenty cubits broad and ten cubits high.

2 And he made cast sea, ten cubits across, round all around, and its height five cubits, and its circuit thirty cubits.

3 And likeness of calves under it around encircled it, ten cubits surrounding laver all around, two kinds having cast calves in their casting.⁷

4 Which they made: twelve calves, three facing north and three facing west and three facing south and three facing east, and sea was above them, and their hind parts were inward⁸.

5 And its thickness was a handbreadth, and its rim like the rim of a cup, carved lily blossoms, holding three thousand measures, and it was finished.

6 And he made ten lavers and set five on right and five on left, to wash in them works of whole burnt offerings and rinse in them, and sea was for priests to wash in it.

7 And he made ten gold lampstands according to their ordinance and set them in the temple, five on right and five on left.

8 And he made ten tables and set them in the temple, five on right and five on left, and he made one hundred golden bowls.

9 And he made court of priests and great court and doors for court, and their door-panels plated with bronze.

10 And he set the sea from the corner of the house on the right, toward east, opposite.

11 And Hiram made flesh-hooks and firepans and grate of altar and all its vessels, and Hiram finished making all work which Solomon the king made in the house of God:

12 two pillars, and upon them bowl-capitals on the heads of pillars, two, and two nets to cover two bowl-capitals which were on the heads of pillars,

13 and four hundred golden pomegranates for two nets, two sets of pomegranates on one net to cover two bowl-capitals which were above pillars,

14 and he made ten stands and made lavers upon stands,

15 and one sea and twelve calves under it,

16 and footstools and forks and cauldrons and flesh-hooks and all their vessels, which Hiram made and brought to King Solomon for the house of the Lord, of pure bronze.

17 In the region of Jordan the king cast them in the thickness of the earth, in the house of Succoth and between Sirdatha.

18 And Solomon made all these vessels in very great abundance, because weight of bronze did not fail.

20 and lampstands and lamps for light according to ordinance and before debir, of pure gold,

Chapter 5

1 And all work which Solomon made in the house of the Lord was finished, and Solomon brought in the holy things of David his father, silver and gold and vessels, and gave them into treasure of the house of the Lord.²
2 Then Solomon assembled elders of Israel and all rulers of tribes, leaders of fathers of sons of Israel, in Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord from the City of David, this is Zion.
3 And every man of Israel was assembled to the king at feast, this seventh month.
4 And all the elders of Israel came, and all the Levites took the ark.
5 And they brought up ark and the tent of testimony and all holy vessels in tent; priests and Levites brought them up.
6 And King Solomon and all congregation of Israel, those fearing and gathered with him before the ark, were sacrificing calves and sheep which cannot be numbered and cannot be reckoned from multitude.
7 And priests brought in the ark of the covenant of the Lord to its place, into debir of the house, into the holy of holies, under wings of cheroubim.
8 And cheroubim were spreading out their wings over the place of the ark, and cheroubim were covering the ark and its carrying-poles above.
9 And carrying-poles projected, and heads of poles were seen from holy place before debir, but were not seen outside, and they were there until this day.
10 There was nothing in the ark except two tablets which Moses put in Horeb, when the Lord made covenant with the sons of Israel as they came out from the land of Egypt.
11 And it came to pass when priests came out from holy place, because all priests found there had sanctified themselves; they were not arranged by courses.
12 And Levites, singers, all sons of Asaph, Heman, Jeduthun, and their sons and their brothers, clothed in linen robes³ with cymbals and harps and lyres, were standing opposite altar, and with them one hundred twenty priests blowing trumpets.
13 And one sound⁴ came to be in blowing trumpets and in singing psalms and in sounding one voice, to give thanks and praise to the Lord. And as they raised voice with trumpets and cymbals and instruments of songs and said, Give thanks to the Lord, because he is good, because his mercy is forever, house was filled with cloud of the glory of the Lord.
14 And priests were not able to stand to minister from the presence of cloud, because the glory of the Lord filled the house of God.

Chapter 6

1 Then Solomon said, the Lord said he would dwell in thick darkness.
2 And I built holy house to your name for you, ready for dwelling forever.
3 And the king turned his face and blessed all the assembly of Israel, and all the assembly of Israel stood there.
4 And he said, Blessed is the Lord God of Israel, who spoke with his mouth to David my father and with his hands fulfilled it, saying,
5 From the day when I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I did not choose city from all the tribes of Israel to build a house for to be there, and I did not choose man to be ruler over my people Israel,⁵
6 but I chose Jerusalem for my name to be there, and I chose David to be over my people Israel.
7 And it came upon the heart of David my father to build a house to the name of the Lord God of Israel.
8 And the Lord said to David my father, Because it came upon your heart to build a house to my name, you did well that it came upon your heart.
9 Nevertheless, you shall not build a house, but your son who shall come out from your loins, he shall build a house to my name.
10 And the Lord raised up his word which he spoke, and I came to be in place of David my father and sat upon the throne of Israel, as the Lord spoke, and I built a house to the name of the Lord God of Israel.⁶
11 And there I put ark, in which is the covenant of the Lord which he made with Israel.
12 And he stood before the altar of the Lord in presence of all the assembly of Israel and spread out his hands.
13 For Solomon made bronze platform⁷ and set it in the midst of court of sanctuary, its length five cubits and breadth five cubits and height three cubits, and he stood upon it and fell on his knees before all the assembly of Israel and spread out his hands toward heaven.
14 And he said, Lord God of Israel, there is no God like you in heaven and on earth, keeping covenant and mercy⁸ for your servants walking before you with all their heart⁹,
15 what you kept for your servant David my father, what you spoke to him saying, and you spoke with your mouth and fulfilled with your hands, as this day.
16 And now, Lord God of Israel, keep for your servant David my father what you spoke to him, saying, Man shall not fail for you from before me¹⁰ sitting on the throne of Israel, if only your sons keep their way to walk in my law as you walked before me.
17 And now, Lord God of Israel, let your word be made faithful, which you spoke to your servant David.
18 For will God truly dwell with men upon the earth? If heaven and heaven of heaven are not sufficient for you, then what is this house which I built?
19 And you shall look upon the prayer of your servant and upon my petition, O Lord God, to hear the petition and the prayer which your servant prays before you today,

20 that your eyes may be open upon this house day and night, upon this place where you said your name would be called there¹¹, to hear the prayer which your servant prays toward this place.

21 And you shall hear petition of your servant and your people Israel, whatever they pray toward this place, and you shall hear from place of your dwelling, from heaven, and you shall hear and be merciful.

22 If man sins against his neighbor and takes oath upon him to swear him, and comes and swears before the altar in this house,

23 then you shall hear from heaven and do and judge your servants, repaying lawless one, to return his ways upon his head², and justifying righteous one, to give to him according to his righteousness.

24 And if your people Israel are crushed before enemy when they sin against you, and they turn and give thanks to your name and pray and entreat before you in this house,

25 then you shall hear from heaven and be merciful to the sins of your people Israel and return them to the land which you gave to them and to their fathers.

26 When heaven is shut and rain does not come because they sin against you, and they pray toward this place and praise your name³ and turn from their sins because you humbled them,

27 then you shall hear from heaven and be merciful to the sins of your servants and your people Israel, because you will show them good way in which they shall walk, and you will give rain upon your land which you gave to your people for inheritance.⁴

28 If famine comes on the land, if death comes, if blight and jaundice⁵ come, locust and caterpillar, if enemy afflicts them before their cities, according to every plague and every pain,

29 then every prayer and every petition which happens to every man and to all your people Israel, if a man knows his own touch and his own weakness⁶ and spreads out his hands toward this house,

30 then you shall hear from heaven, from your ready dwelling, and be gracious and give to each man according to his ways, as you know his heart, because you alone know the heart of sons of men,

31 so that they may fear your ways all days which they live upon the face of land which you gave to our fathers.

32 And every foreigner who is not from your people Israel, and comes from far land because of your great name and your strong hand and your uplifted arm, and comes and prays toward this place⁷,

33 then you shall hear from heaven, from your ready dwelling⁸, and do according to all things whatever a foreigner calls upon you for, so that all the peoples of the earth may know your name and fear you as your people Israel do, and know that your name is called upon this house which I built.

34 If your people go out to battle against their enemies on way where you send them, and they pray to you by way of this city⁹ which you chose and house which I built to your name,

35 then hear from heaven their petition and their prayer and do their justice.

36 Because they will sin against you, for there will not be man who will not sin, and you will strike them and hand them over before enemies, and those taking them captive shall take them captive to the land of enemies, far or near,

37 and they will turn heart¹⁰ in their land where they were taken, and indeed turn and entreat you in their captivity, saying, We sinned, we acted unjustly, we acted lawlessly,

38 and turn toward you¹¹ with all their heart and all their soul in the land of those who took them captive, and pray by way of their land which you gave to their fathers and city which you chose and house which I built to your name,

39 then hear from heaven, from your ready dwelling, their prayer and their petition and do judgments and be merciful to your people who sinned against you.

40 Now, Lord, let your eyes be open and your ears attentive to petition of this place.

41 And now rise up, Lord God, into your resting place, you and ark of your strength¹². Let your priests, Lord God, put on salvation, and let your sons rejoice in good things.

42 Lord God, do not turn away face of your anointed one; remember mercies of David your servant.¹³

Chapter 7

1 And when Solomon finished praying, fire came down from heaven and consumed whole burnt offerings and sacrifices, and the glory of the Lord filled the house.

2 And priests were not able to enter the house of the Lord at that time, because the glory of the Lord filled the house.

3 And all sons of Israel saw fire coming down¹⁴ and the glory of the Lord upon the house, and they fell upon face to ground on pavement and worshiped and praised the Lord, because he is good, because his mercy is forever.

4 And the king and all the people were sacrificing sacrifices before the Lord.

5 And Solomon sacrificed sacrifice of twenty-two thousand calves and one hundred twenty thousand cattle, and the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And priests stood at their charges, and Levites with the instruments of songs of the Lord, of David king, for giving thanks before the Lord, because his mercy is forever¹⁵, with hymns of David by their hand, and priests were blowing trumpets before them, and all Israel stood.

7 And Solomon sanctified middle of court¹⁶ in the house of the Lord, because there he made whole burnt offerings and fat of offerings of salvation, because bronze altar which Solomon made was not able to receive whole burnt offerings and grain offerings and fats.

8 And Solomon made feast at that time seven days, and all Israel with him, very great assembly, from the entrance of Hamath and as far as river of Egypt.

9 And on the eighth day he made dismissal, because dedication of altar he made seven days, feast.

10 And on twenty-third of seventh month he sent people to their tents rejoicing and with good heart over good things which the Lord did to David and to Solomon and to Israel his people.
 11 And Solomon finished house of the Lord and the house of the king, and all things which Solomon desired in his soul to do in the house of the Lord and in his house prospered.
 12 And God appeared to Solomon by night and said to him, I heard your prayer and chose in this place for myself as a house of sacrifice.
 13 If I shut heaven and rain does not come, and if I command locust to eat tree, and if I send death among my people,
 14 and my people upon whom my name has been called¹ are put to shame², and they pray and seek my face and turn from their evil ways, then I will hear from heaven and be merciful to their sins and heal their land.
 15 Now my eyes shall be open and my ears attentive to the prayer of this place.
 16 And now I have chosen and sanctified this house for my name to be there forever, and my eyes and my heart shall be there all days.
 17 And you, if you walk before me as David your father and do according to all things I commanded you and keep my ordinances and my judgments,
 18 then I will set up throne of your kingdom as I covenanted with David your father, saying, Man leading in Israel shall not be removed from you.
 19 And if you turn away and forsake my ordinances and my commandments which I gave before you and go and serve other gods and worship them,
 20 then I will lift you out of land which I gave them, and this house which I sanctified to my name I will cast away from my face and give it for parable and tale³ among all nations.
 21 And this exalted house, everyone passing by it will be astonished and say, For what reason did the Lord do thus to this land and to this house?
 22 And they shall say, Because they forsook the Lord God of their fathers, who brought them out from the land of Egypt, and laid hold of other gods⁴ and worshiped them and served them, therefore he brought upon them all this evil.

Chapter 8

1 And it came to pass after twenty years in which Solomon built the house of the Lord and his own house,
 2 and cities which Hiram gave to Solomon, Solomon built them and settled sons of Israel there.
 3 And Solomon came to Hamath-Zobah⁵ and prevailed over it.
 4 And he built Tadmor⁶ in the wilderness and all strong cities which he built in Hamath.
 5 And he built Bethhoron the upper and Bethhoron the lower, fortified cities, walls, gates, and bars,
 6 and Baalath and all strong cities which belonged to Solomon and all cities of chariots and cities of horsemen and whatever Solomon desired according to desire⁷ to build in Jerusalem and in Lebanon and in all his kingdom.
 7 All the people left over from Hittite and Amorite and Perizzite and Hivite and Jebusite, who were not from Israel,
 8 from their sons left after them in the land whom sons of Israel did not destroy, Solomon brought them up as tribute until this day.
 9 But from the sons of Israel Solomon did not make servants for his kingdom, because they were men of war and rulers and mighty men and rulers of chariots and horsemen.
 10 And these were chiefs of officers of King Solomon, two hundred fifty overseeing work among people.
 11 And Solomon brought daughter of Pharaoh up from the City of David into the house which he built for her, because he said, My wife shall not dwell in the City of David king of Israel, because holy is the place where the ark of the Lord entered.
 12 Then Solomon brought up whole burnt offerings to the Lord on the altar which he built opposite temple.
 13 And according to the matter of each day⁸, for offering according to commandments of Moses, on Sabbaths and on new moons and on feasts three times of year, in the feast of unleavened bread and in the feast of weeks and in the feast of tents.
 14 And he established according to the ordinance of David divisions of priests according to their services, and Levites in their charges to praise and minister before priests according to each day's matter on its day⁹, and gatekeepers in their divisions for gate and gate, because thus were commandments of David man of God.
 15 They did not pass by commands of the king concerning priests and Levites in every matter and concerning treasuries.
 16 And all work was prepared from the day the house was founded until Solomon finished the house of the Lord.
 17 Then Solomon went to Eziongeber and to Elath by sea in the land of Edom.
 18 And Hiram sent by the hands of his servants ships and servants knowing sea, and they went with the servants of Solomon to Ophir and took from there four hundred fifty talents of gold and came to King Solomon.

 2 And Solomon declared to her all her matters, and no matter passed from Solomon which he did not declare to her.
 3 And the queen of Sheba saw the wisdom of Solomon and the house which he built,
 4 and foods of his tables and seating of his servants and standing of his ministers and their clothing and his cupbearers and their apparel and whole burnt offerings which he offered in the house of the Lord, and she was beside herself.
 5 And she said to the king, True was word which I heard in my land concerning your matters and concerning your wisdom.
 6 And I did not believe words until I came and my eyes saw, and behold, half multitude of your wisdom was not reported to me. You added beyond report which I heard.
 7 Blessed are your men; blessed are these servants of yours standing before you continually and hearing your wisdom.

8 Blessed be the Lord your God, who delighted in you to set you on his throne as king for the Lord your God¹. Because the Lord your God loved Israel to establish him forever, he gave you over them as king to do judgment and righteousness².
9 And she gave to the king one hundred twenty talents of gold and spices in very great abundance and precious stone³, and there were no spices like those which queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon.
10 And the servants of Solomon and servants of Hiram were bringing gold to Solomon from Ophir and pine woods and precious stone.⁴
11 And the king made from pine woods stairways for the house of the Lord and for the house of the king and lyres and harps for singers, and such things were not seen before in the land of Judah.
12 And King Solomon gave to the queen of Sheba all her desires which she asked, besides all which she brought to King Solomon, and she returned to her land.
13 And weight of gold brought to Solomon in one year was six hundred sixty-six talents of gold,
14 besides what subject men and traders brought, and all kings of Arabia and satraps of land brought gold and silver to King Solomon.

16 And three hundred beaten-gold bucklers; three hundred golds went up on each buckler, and the king put them in the house of the forest of Lebanon.
17 And the king made great ivory throne and overlaid it with refined gold.
18 And six steps to throne, fastened with gold, and armrests on this side and on that side on the seat of throne, and two lions standing beside armrests.
19 And twelve lions standing there on six steps, on this side and that side. Thus it had not been done in any kingdom.
20 And all vessels of King Solomon were of gold, and all vessels of the house of the forest of Lebanon covered with gold; silver was not reckoned in the days of Solomon as anything.
21 Because ships went for the king to Tarshish with the servants of Hiram; once every three years ships came from Tarshish to the king full of gold and silver and ivory and monkeys.
22 And Solomon was magnified above all kings in wealth and wisdom.
23 And all kings of the earth were seeking the face of Solomon to hear his wisdom which God gave in his heart.
24 And they were bringing each his gifts, silver vessels and gold vessels and clothing, myrrh and spices, horses and mules, year by year.
25 And Solomon had four thousand mares for chariots and twelve thousand horsemen, and he put them in the cities of chariots and with the king in Jerusalem.
26 And he was ruling all kings from the river and as far as land of Philistines and as far as border of Egypt.
27 And the king made gold and silver in Jerusalem like stones, and cedars like sycamines in lowland in abundance.
28 And the export of horses from Egypt was for Solomon, and from all the land.
29 And the rest of matters of Solomon, first and last, behold, written in the words of Nathan prophet and in the words of Ahijah the Shilonite and in visions of Iddo the seer concerning Jeroboam son of Nebat.⁵
30 And King Solomon reigned over all Israel forty years.
31 And Solomon slept, and they buried him in the city of David his father, and Rehoboam his son reigned in his place.

Chapter 10

1 And Rehoboam came to Shechem, because all Israel came to Shechem to make him king.
2 And it came to pass when Jeroboam son of Nebat heard, while he himself was in Egypt, since he fled from before King Solomon, and Jeroboam dwelt in Egypt, and Jeroboam returned from Egypt,
3 and they sent and called him, and Jeroboam and all the assembly of Israel came to Rehoboam, saying,
4 Your father made our yoke hard, and now lighten from hard service of your father and from his heavy yoke which he put upon us, and we will serve you.
5 And he said to them, Go for three days and come again to me. And people departed.
6 And King Rehoboam gathered elders who stood before Solomon his father while he lived, saying, How do you counsel to answer word to this people?
7 And they spoke to him, saying, If today you become for good to this people⁶ and are pleased and speak good words to them, then they will be your servants all days.
8 But he left counsel of elders who counseled him and took counsel with young men brought up with him, who stood before him.
9 And he said to them, What do you counsel, and what word shall I answer this people who spoke to me saying, Lighten from yoke which your father put upon us?
10 And young men brought up with him spoke to him thus: Thus you shall speak to people who spoke to you saying, Your father made our yoke heavy, and you, lighten from us. Thus you shall say: My little finger is thicker than loins of my father.
11 And now, my father disciplined you with heavy yoke, and I will add upon your yoke. My father disciplined you with whips, but I will discipline you with scorpions.
12 And Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam on third day, as king spoke saying, Return to me on third day.
13 And the king answered harshly, and King Rehoboam left counsel of elders.
14 And he spoke to them according to the counsel of younger men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, and I will add upon it. My father disciplined you with whips, but I will discipline you with scorpions.
15 And the king did not listen to people, because turn came from God, so that the Lord might raise up his word which he spoke by the hand of Ahijah the Shilonite concerning Jeroboam son of Nebat.
16 And all Israel saw that the king did not listen to them, and people answered the king saying, What share do we have in David and inheritance in son of Jesse? To your tents, Israel. Now see your house, David. And all Israel went to his tents.⁷
17 But over the men of Israel dwelling in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.
18 And King Rehoboam sent Hadoram over tribute, and sons of Israel stoned him with stones, and he died. And King

Rehoboam hurried to go up into chariot to flee to Jerusalem.
19 And Israel broke covenant with the house of David until this day.

Chapter 11

1 And Rehoboam came to Jerusalem and assembled Judah and Benjamin, one hundred eighty thousand young men making war¹, and he fought against Israel to return kingdom to Rehoboam.
2 And the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah man of God, saying,
3 Speak to Rehoboam son of Solomon and to all Judah and Benjamin, saying,
4 Thus says the Lord: You shall not go up and shall not fight against your brothers. Return each to his house, because this thing came from me. And they listened to the word of the Lord and turned back from not going against Jeroboam.²
5 And Rehoboam dwelt in Jerusalem and built fortified cities in Judah.
6 And he built Bethlehem and Etam and Tekoa,
7 and Bethzur and Socoh and Adullam,
8 and Gath and Mareshah and Ziph,
9 and Adoraim³ and Lachish and Azekah,
10 and Zorah and Aijalon and Hebron, which are of Judah and Benjamin, fortified cities.
11 And he fortified them with walls and gave leaders in them and stores of foods, oil, and wine,
12 city by city, shields and spears, and strengthened them very greatly, and Judah and Benjamin were his.
13 And priests and Levites who were in all Israel gathered to him from all borders,
14 because Levites left tents of their possession and went to Judah, to Jerusalem, because Jeroboam and his sons cast them out from ministering to the Lord.
15 And he appointed for himself priests of high places and for idols and vanities and calves which Jeroboam made.
16 And he cast out from tribes of Israel those who gave their hearts to seek the Lord God of Israel, and they came to Jerusalem to sacrifice to the Lord God of their fathers.
17 And they strengthened kingdom of Judah and strengthened Rehoboam son of Solomon for three years, because he walked in the ways of David and Solomon three years.
18 And Rehoboam took for himself Mahalath daughter of Jerimoth son of David, Abijah daughter of Eliab son of Jesse.
19 And she bore him sons, Jeush and Shamariah⁴ and Zaham⁵.
20 And after these things he took for himself Maachah daughter of Absalom, and she bore him Abijah and Attai and Ziza and Shelomith.
21 And Rehoboam loved Maachah daughter of Absalom above all his wives and concubines, because he had eighteen wives and thirty concubines, and he fathered twenty-eight sons and sixty daughters.
22 And Rehoboam appointed Abijah son of Maachah as a ruler, as a leader among his brothers, because he intended to make him king.
23 And he increased above all his sons in all borders of Judah and Benjamin and in fortified cities, and he gave them food in great abundance and sought multitude of wives.

Chapter 12

1 And it came to pass, when kingdom of Rehoboam was prepared and as he grew strong, he forsook commandments of the Lord, and all Israel with him.
2 And it came to pass in the fifth year of the reign of Rehoboam, Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, because they sinned against the Lord,
3 with one thousand two hundred chariots and sixty thousand horsemen, and there was no number for multitude coming with him from Egypt: Libyans⁶, Trogodytes, and Ethiopians.
4 And they seized fortified cities that were in Judah and came to Jerusalem.
5 And Shemaiah the prophet came to Rehoboam and rulers of Judah, those gathered into Jerusalem because of Shishak, and said to them, Thus says the Lord: You forsake me, and I also will forsake you⁷ into the hand of Shishak.
6 And the rulers of Israel and the king were put to shame and said, the Lord is righteous.
7 And when the Lord saw that they were put to shame, the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah saying, They were put to shame; I will not destroy them, and I will give them a little salvation⁸, and my wrath shall not drip upon Jerusalem.
8 For they shall be servants, and they shall know my service and service of kingdom of earth.
9 And Shishak king of Egypt came up and took treasures in the house of the Lord and treasures in the house of the king. He took all⁹, and he took golden shields which Solomon made.
10 And Rehoboam made bronze shields instead of them and set over them Shishak chiefs of runners guarding gate of the king.
11 And whenever king entered the house of the Lord, guards and runners entered and then returned to chamber of runners.
12 And when he was put to shame, the wrath of the Lord turned away from him and not for destruction to end, and indeed in Judah there were good matters.
13 And Rehoboam was strengthened in Jerusalem and reigned. Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, in the city which the Lord chose from all the tribes of the sons of Israel to have his name called there¹⁰, and his mother's name was Naamah the Ammonite.¹¹
14 And he did evil, because he did not direct his heart to seek the Lord.
15 And matters of Rehoboam, first and last, behold, are they not written in the words of Shemaiah the prophet and Iddo the seer and his acts? And Rehoboam fought Jeroboam all his days.¹²

16 And Rehoboam died and was buried with his fathers and was buried in the City of David, and Abijah his son reigned in his place.

Chapter 13

1 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Jeroboam, Abijah reigned over Judah.
2 He reigned three years in Jerusalem, and the name of his mother was Maachah daughter of Uriel from Gibeon. And there was war between Abijah and Jeroboam.
3 And Abijah drew up battle with a force of mighty warriors¹, four hundred thousand mighty men, and Jeroboam drew up battle against him with eight hundred thousand mighty warriors.
4 And Abijah stood up from mount Zemaraim², which is in the mountain of Ephraim, and said, Hear, Jeroboam and all Israel.
5 Is it not for you to know that the Lord God of Israel gave kingdom over Israel forever to David and to his sons, covenant of salt?
6 And Jeroboam son of Nebat, servant of Solomon son of David, rose up and rebelled from his lord.
7 And pestilent men³, lawless sons, gathered to him and stood against Rehoboam son of Solomon, and Rehoboam was younger and timid in heart and did not stand against him.
8 And now you say you will stand against the kingdom of the Lord⁴ by the hand of sons of David, and you are many people, and with you are golden calves which Jeroboam made for you as gods.
9 Did you not cast out priests of the Lord, sons of Aaron, and Levites, and make for yourselves priests from the people of the land? Everyone coming to fill hands⁵ with young bull from cattle and seven rams became priest to what was not god.
10 But we have not forsaken the Lord our God, and his priests minister to the Lord, sons of Aaron, and Levites in their courses.
11 They burn to the Lord whole burnt offerings morning and evening and incense of compounded spices⁶ and presentations of bread upon pure table, and golden lampstand and its lamps for burning to light at evening, because we keep charges of the Lord God of our fathers, but you forsake him.
12 And behold, with us at beginning is the Lord⁷, and his priests and trumpets of signal to sound against you. Sons of Israel, do not fight against the Lord God of our fathers, because it will not prosper for you.
13 And Jeroboam turned ambush to come upon them from behind, and battle was before Judah and ambush behind them.
14 And Judah turned and behold, battle was before and behind them, and they cried out to the Lord, and priests sounded trumpets.
15 And the men of Judah shouted, and it came to pass when men of Judah shouted, the Lord struck Jeroboam and Israel before Abijah and Judah.
16 And sons of Israel fled from before Judah, and the Lord gave them into their hands.
17 And Abijah and his people struck among them great blow, and five hundred thousand mighty men fell wounded from Israel.
18 And sons of Israel were humbled in that day, and sons of Judah prevailed, because they hoped in the Lord God of their fathers.
19 And Abijah pursued after Jeroboam and seized from him cities: Bethel and its villages, and Isana and its villages, and Ephraim and its villages.
20 And Jeroboam had no more strength all days of Abijah, and the Lord struck him and he died.
21 And Abijah grew strong and took for himself fourteen wives and fathered twenty-two sons and sixteen daughters.
22 And the rest of matters of Abijah and his deeds and his words are written in the book of prophet Iddo.
23 And Abijah died with his fathers, and they buried him in the City of David, and Asa his son reigned in his place. In the days of Asa, land of Judah was quiet ten years.

Chapter 14

1 And he did good and upright⁸ in the sight of the Lord his God.
2 And he removed altars of foreigners and high places and broke pillars and cut down groves.⁹
3 And he told Judah to seek the Lord God of their fathers and to do law and commandments.
4 And he removed from all the cities of Judah altars and idols, and land was at peace.
5 He built fortified cities in the land of Judah, because land was at peace, and there was no war with him in these years, because the Lord gave him rest.
6 And he said to Judah, Let us build these cities and make walls and towers and gates and bars, while we master land, because as we sought the Lord our God, he sought us and gave us rest all around, and he prospered us.
7 And Asa had force of shield-bearers and spear-carriers in the land of Judah, three hundred thousand, and in the land of Benjamin, peltasts and archers, two hundred fifty thousand. All these were mighty men of force.¹⁰
8 And Zerah the Aithiopian came out against them with force of one million¹¹ and three hundred chariots and came as far as Mareshah.
9 And Asa went out to meet him and drew up battle in ravine north of Mareshah.¹²
10 And Asa cried to the Lord his God and said, Lord, with you it is not impossible to save¹³ with many and with few. Strengthen us, Lord our God, because in you we trust, and in your name we came against this great multitude. Lord our God, let not man prevail against you.
11 And the Lord struck Ethiopians before Judah, and Ethiopians fled.¹⁴
